PREFACE

No particular apology is offered for presenting this little volume at this time. I feel that with no very great delay much additional data might be supplied and many details be made more complete. Nevertheless, those who have so kindly aided me in gathering the information deserve some consideration and I know that they are unanimous in wishing to see the fruit of their efforts take permanent form. Moreover, I believe that it is not frequent to see genealogical tables embracing so long a period so complete as my cousins have made this work.

The dates are well authenticated. In many instances they have been copied from the various family Bibles but in the older ones recourse to the county records has been necessary.

Without the assistance of the Rev. James Peery Schell the work would not have been possible. Not only has he personally gathered and turned over to me a great deal of the data, but his interest, his wonderful inspiration and his tireless energy has kept up my interest and directed my efforts. As the years roll by and our family becomes more scattered, I hope that the various branches keep in contact with each other and make an effort to keep alive some of those traditions that our colonial ancestors brought with them from the old country.
During the recent war, while I was in France, I had the pleasure of becoming acquainted with some of our English cousins and I took the opportunity of visiting La Manche where the Chateau of our Norman ancestors was located. In those days my time was less my own than it is even now. I am looking forward with pleasure to the day when I shall be able to go back to those foreign shores and personally complete the work of which this is only the first chapter.

EARLY HISTORY

RIESTAP’S “Armoreal General” shows the Coat-of-Arms illustrated on the frontispiece as being that borne by the Counts Peeri of Italy, having been granted to them about the fifth or sixth century. It bears no motto which is the case with many of the most ancient Arms. The quarterings indicate marriages with other families bearing Coat-Armor. The pear is distinctly the insignia of the Perry family and the name was derived probably from the Latin word for pear, pirum. The French word for pear is poire; the Danish, paer; and the Old English, pern. The French word, pierre, means a stone. This might indicate that the Pierres were of a different origin but I have not observed any Perry arms which did not bear pears.

The Counts Peeri subsequently migrated to France and settled in Normandy where they lived three or four centuries. Their chateau, a part of which is still standing, was named “Piron.” During this time, there were no family names as we understand them; people were given a Christian name and further identified by stating to what fief or castle they belonged, as “John de Piron.”

When William the Conqueror went to England in 1066, many of his Knights came from La Manche, Normandy. Some of these came from Piron and they adopted the name of their chateau as their family name when land was distributed to them in that part of England now known as the shires of Somerset and Devon. The descendants of these Norman knights migrated over Great Britain and Ireland during the next six hundred years until in the seventeenth century, when the settlement of America began, we find isolated families in widely scattered localities throughout the kingdom. Many lived in Somerset, Cornwall, Gloucester, and Essex, and we find some in Devon, Berkshire, Hertford, Nottingham, Stafford, and Worcester as well as in Ireland.

The family has furnished many members of the House of Lords. Nearly every generation has contributed a quota of men prominent in professional, literary, business, or public affairs in the mother country.

During this period, and during the first couple of generations of American residence, the name was spelled Peery, Perry, Perey, Pirey, Pirry, Pirie, Pierii, Pirrie, and Peary. It is spelled Pery and Peree on the roll of Battle Abbey and Peret as tenant-in-chief in Domesday Book. I have no doubt but that Perrine, Perrin, Perine, and Prine come from the same source although my researches have not disclosed any names spelled this way. James Peery of East Nottingham Township, Chester County, Pennsylvania, a soldier of the Revolutionary Army, in his will dated May 3, 1811, spelled his name Perey, designated some of his children as Pirey, and signed the will Peery. William Peery of Alloway, Salem County, New Jersey, in his will dated July 1, 1740, spelled the name Perey and signed it Pirey. Formerly, he witnessed the will of Ephraim Seelye spelling his name Pirry. For several generations the lineal progenitors of my immediate line spelled the name Peery and we frequently refer to this as the old way of spelling the name. Most, if not all of the living members of our line now spell the name Perry.
EARLY AMERICAN ANCESTORS

A COLONY was placed at what is New York City by the Dutch in 1614. It is safe to say that emissaries for the purpose of trading with the Indians were sent to New Jersey very shortly after. Some of these Indian traders were seen by Captain Hendrickson in 1616 on what is now known as Burlington Island in the Delaware River. Trading posts and fortifications were established and an extensive Indian trade built up.

When the Swedes established their colony on the Delaware river (then called the South river) by Peter Minuet, in 1638, the Dutch had developed a very profitable Indian trade in the vicinity of Philadelphia. The Swedes established their headquarters on Tinicum Island with fortified outposts up the Schuylkill river, at what is now Philadelphia, on the west bank of the Delaware as far south as Port Penn, and on the east bank at the mouth of Salem creek (Fort Elfsborg). The reports of Governors Prinz and Rising contain a census of heads of families for the years of their incumbency. These reports contain the names of the English families, giving their occupations, under their jurisdiction. This census was one of the earliest in America. Long before New Jersey was taken by the English (1664) the New London colony in Connecticut had been endeavoring to establish a permanent settlement near the mouth of the Cohanzy Creek. A little later a Quaker colony was established at Salem, New Jersey, and we have reason to believe that there was a Quaker community at Port Penn, Delaware, about this time.
A branch of the Peery Family Tree

John Fenwick came to Salem in 1675. Subsequent to the final Dutch occupation of New York, New Jersey, and Delaware (1673-4) Penn received his grant from the crown (1681) and sent settlers to Philadelphia in 1682.

There is on record a deed dated October 1, 1696, from John Hooke to John Pike of Weddington, gentleman, William Vaughan of Clonmell, merchant, and John Perry of Knocklofty, gentleman, all of county Tipperary, Ireland, for five-eights of a share of land in West Jersey. A share was 10,000 acres and at that time New Jersey was divided into two colonies East and West by a line running roughly from what is now Egg Harbor to Port Jervis. On September 22, 1697 they gave Jeremiah Bosse and Samuel Jennings a power-of-attorney to take up and improve this land. Revel made a return of the survey of this 6250 acres, October 30, 1699.

It was the custom of some to purchase land before sailing from the old country. Considerable dealing in American real estate was carried on abroad at this time and it might be possible that some, or all, of these contracting parties were not in America at this time. We see, however, that John Pike had been a member of the Governor's Council of East Jersey in 1672, 1675, and 1679, twenty years before, so it is safe to say that he, at least, was a relatively old settler. I have been unable to find the names of either of these men on any sailing list, neither do I know the dates of their births, deaths, or who their wives were. That they were in New Jersey and were dealing in real estate in 1696 is certain. Inasmuch as one of this firm was in America prior to 1672, I am led to believe that, if they were acquainted before coming to America, they were possibly regicides. As they were Presbyterians, it is possible that they had been living in Ireland under favors from the Cromwell government; if this is the case, they may have left when Charles II came on the throne. I find a John Perry who sailed from Bristol, England between 1663 and 1679. That he was our original progenitor would be a plausible assumption.

During this period and for some years afterward, public offices for the registration of wills and for the recording of land titles were not as common as they are today. The deed was the title to land and the owner kept it, without recording it, in his house until the land was disposed of. Then he merely passed the deed to the purchaser, sometimes endorsing it. Most of such documents have been lost or destroyed. Local Historical Societies have reclaimed a large number of such deeds and wills and they constitute a valuable original source for the historian.
John Perry purchased or patented land prior to or about this time (1696) along Alloway creek, Salem County, New Jersey, where he lived and presumably died. He was not a member of Fenwick’s Colony, nor of the Quaker Colony at Salem, nor was he one of the emigrants from Connecticut. He seems to have been one of a small colony of large land-owning settlers so prevalent in West Jersey at that time. There must have been a number of such Irish and Scotch-Irish settlers in this vicinity for they established a Presbyterian Church at Greenwich near the mouth of Alloway creek which is one of the very earliest congregations of that faith in America. Of the size of his family we cannot be positive. He probably had a number of daughters and we know of at least three sons. Contrary to the popular notion, even wills in those days did not always enumerate all of one’s children living at the time the will was made. I place John, whose wife was Mary, as the oldest of these three sons, Samuel as the youngest. Whether or not William, whose wife was Margaret, inherited the homestead, I do not know, but he lived on a part of it and he was a lifelong member of the congregation his father helped to establish. From William, the records that have been preserved in my branch of the family are fairly complete and are shown in the genealogical tables following. There is some evidence that Thomas (Pery) who died in Charles County, Maryland, in 1718 was another brother to William. He left at least five grown boys and two girls. At least two of these sons were living on the Eastern Shore of Maryland at the time of his death. One of these was the progenitor of William Perry, soldier in the Revolutionary Army and President of the Maryland State Senate, who owned Perry Hall in Talbot County. I have not made any effort to trace the descendants of John and Samuel. Whatever information herein contained about them has been merely observed and preserved in my searches for data on other lines.

Benjamin's will was proven in Queen Anne County, September 27, 1755. He left no issue. Another Benjamin, age 4, came to Virginia with his father Thomas, age 34, and mother Dorothy, age 26, from London January 2, 1634 on the ship "Bonaventure." George patented land in Archers Hope, James City County, Virginia, cleared and put it into cultivation in 1626. The same year William patented 100 A. in Henrico County, Virginia. A list of the residents of James City, Virginia, of 1623 contains "Mrs. Perry and infant." James (Parry) of Chester County, Pennsylvania, whose will is dated December 28, 1725 has no male descendants living. He lived on Welsh Tract and bequeathed some of his estate to the Presbyterian Church at Haverford.

The next generation was born about 1710-30. The above mentioned William of Alloway, Salem County, New Jersey in his will made July 1, 1740, names his wife Margaret; James, his eldest son; Samuel, his second son; Rebecca McKnight, his daughter and wife of James McKnight; as well as Mary, daughter of his son James. In this will he bequeath five shillings to James, twenty pounds to James’ daughter Mary, and the home plantation, implements, animals, slaves, etc., to his second son Samuel. Of the descendants of Samuel and Rebecca (Peery) McKnight, I have been unable to learn anything. The Perrys now living in Bridgeton, N. J., are likely of this line.

The reason James was bequeathed such a small part of his father’s estate is that he was married and had moved away and had probably received some help from his father during his lifetime. Very likely he did not exhibit very much enthusiasm for plantation life. He lived in Somerset County, Maryland (afterwards Worcester County, and finally Sussex County, Delaware).

Worcester County, Maryland, was organized in 1742 and a large part of the land in Sussex County, Delaware was taken up on patents issued by the Baltimores for the line dividing the two states was in dispute. After Mason & Dixon’s line was run in 1766, and the boundary fixed, many Marylanders found that they lived in Delaware. More than half of Sussex County, Delaware came under the jurisdiction of the Penns at this time.

Although James was financially interested in marine property and engaged in the shipping industry, I have no evidence that he was a sailor or master of any ship. He is referred to as “James Peery of Alloways, New Jersey” and never as captain or as master of any vessel. In addition to Mary, his eldest child, he was the father of at least two boys, James (1735-1800) and William (1743-1800) and there is some evidence that John who died in 1801, probably without issue, was his son. His wife was named Mary. (Family tradition says Mary Reeves but I have been unable to establish this to my satisfaction).

Christian patented 150 acres of land in Chester County, Pennsylvania, January 31, 1734 and 50 acres more October 17, 1751. John patented 100 acres in the same county May 4, 1734 and Nicholas 100 acres in Lancaster County, August 25, 1742. About the year 1740 or 1742 James, John, Thomas, George, and Joseph settled in Augusta Co., Va. A complete list of the descendants of these men has been published in the Utah Genealogical and Historical Magazine, January, 1919. Charles lived in New Castle County, Delaware, contributed to the reconstruction of Old Drawyers Presbyterian Church near Odessa and died in 1759. He was the son of John and Sarah and was born in Philadelphia, January 23, 1714. Obadiah and Phoebe Perry were living in Philadelphia 1730-1746 and had a number of children. Most of these spelled the name Peery the same as the New Jersey Peerys.

Among the Virginia settlers, James and John are known to have been brothers and it is possible that Thomas and George were also. Considerable doubt seems to exist concerning the relation of Joseph to the other four. All of these names except Joseph are common in the Delaware-Maryland branch of the family. I have devoted considerable time and effort in endeavoring to collect documentary evidence that they were sons or nephews of William of Alloway, New Jersey. Tradition is that they went to Virginia from Pennsylvania or New Jersey. As there were no Peerys known to have been in Pennsylvania prior to about 1734, they probably went from New Jersey but I have been unable to prove it to my satisfaction. More data are gradually coming to light, however, and probably the future will bring forth someone more thorough in his researches and who will be able to establish this link.

Beginning in 1649, Lord Baltimore, in an effort to populate Maryland, offered special favors to immigrants from other colonies. This granting of favors lasted over a period of many years. Captain Thomas Adams established himself on the Eastern Shore and organized trading stations and transportation facilities between Accomack County where Colonel Edmond Scarborough was dominant, and the Swedish Colony on the Delaware while John Prinz was Governor (1654). This might be termed the first "land-boom" in America and I have not the faintest doubt but that these offers of land and religious freedom with a stable proprietary government was the primary cause of some of the Peerys leaving New Jersey and settling on the Eastern Shore peninsula.
THE COLONIAL LINE

THE figures in parentheses indicate the generation from the first settler. Those after children’s names denote paragraphs where further data are located. When no surname is given Perry is to be understood.

1. John Perry of Knocklofty, county Tipperary, Ireland, gentleman, d. about 1703. Lived and died in New Jersey.

Children:
   i. John m. Mary
   ii. William (2)
   iii. Samuel
       Probably others.

2. William (2) [John (1)] married Margaret, lived at Alloway, Salem Co., N. J., b. about 1682; d. 1740.

Children:
   i. James (3)
   ii. Samuel Served as Capt. of a Philadelphia Company raised for the Expedition against Quebec 1758.
   iii. Recebba, m. James McKnight
       Probably others.

3. James (3) [William (2), John (1)] married Mary (probably Mary Reeves) known as “James Peery of Alloways, N. J.” lived for many years in Somerset Co., Md. (now Worcester Co.) and probably in that part which is now Sussex Co., Delaware; b. about 1705 in New Jersey, died in Delaware, about 1764.
Children:

i. Mary, m. Samuel Davis
ii. John (4)
iii. James (5)
iv. William (6)

Perhaps others who died without issue prior to 1800.

4. John (4) [James (3), William (2), John (1)].

He and Lazarus Turner were administrators to William’s estate, 1800.

Served in the Revolutionary War as a member of the Lieutenant Colonel’s Company, Delaware Regiment, Col. David Hall, 1779.

A return of recruits raised by Capt. Benj. Noxon at Dover, Del. for service in the expedition against Quebec bears the name of John Perry, age 25, born in Maryland, enlisted May 3, 1758. In this expedition, this command did not reach Quebec. It was quartered on Lake Champlain during one winter and finally mustered out of the service.

We have no record of his ever having been married.

5. James (4) [James (3), William (2), John (1)].

Lived near St. George’s, Del. and in North Milford Hundred, Cecil Co., Md. Wrote his name “James Peery jun.” (See Census of 1790). Served in Delaware militia during the Revolutionary war in the New Castle Co., Capt. John Clark (afterward Israel's Co.) 1780.

Married Jane Davis, died October 22, 1803 in her 66th year.

Jane Davis was the daughter of Sarah Davis and a sister to Benjamin Davis. They lived near Welsh Tract in New Castle Co. We do not know who her father was.

This union may explain why James left his father's home in (what is now) Sussex Co., Del. and migrated to New Castle Co. It is possible that living with his wife's family indicated more promise for the future than in remaining nearer his birthplace.

Children:

i. James (7)
ii. Mary (64)
iii. William (65)
iv. Sally (144)

All of these children were baptized by the Rev. Thomas Reed who was at that time pastor of Old Drawyers Presbyterian Church, near Odessa, Del.

6. William (4) [James (3), William (2), John (1)].

He was the first of the Peerys that went to Lewes, Del. to live. The exact date of his first residence in Lewes is obscure; he began the purchase of land in the vicinity of Cool Spring, Lewes and Milton as early as 1764. He was a very young man at this time and from this date until his death was very active in the practice of his profession (Law), in politics, in his church, was the owner of a great amount of real estate and a money lender with real estate security. To what extent he was a direct beneficiary of his father's estate, we do not know; neither do we know what influence governed him in selecting Lewes as his home. His marriage might have done so. Tradition is that he was at least partly educated in England; of this I have no proof, except the word of his descendants one generation younger than he. He married, first Mary. She died without issue May 11, 1787, in the 40th year of her age. Beyond this we know nothing of her. After her death he married Margaret Wilson. She brought into his home culture and refinement and gave encouragement and inspiration to his already demonstrated abilities. Some idea of his appreciation of his second wife can be obtained from his will written by himself in his own hand when he was in good health, evidently immediately after his return from his brother James' funeral. This will was never signed nor probated but is now on file in Delaware Hall of Records at Dover. He was evidently pleased at the marriage connections of his two nephews and one niece. Probably he encouraged those unions. At any rate, his will indicates his confidence in Lazarus Turner whose career was cut short by death in 1809.

After the "Tea Party" a "Boston Relief Committee" was appointed by the freeholders of Sussex Co. at a meeting July 23, 1774. This committee consisted of William Peery, Rev.
Nathaniel Wilson, John Rodney and David Hall (afterwards Colonel and governor) and others.

About March, 1776, William Peery raised a company at Lewes for war service. The bill for wages and board for this company was sent to Congress July 5, 1776 and amounted to £134.65.0. Another bill to December 19, 1776 amounted to £156.65.0. Up to this time this company seems to have been a militia company. At any rate, it was sponsored by Delaware State and the bills sent to Congress. December 18, 1776, another company seems to have been organized at Lewes directly under the control of Congress. Capt. Peery commanded this unit also and later the militia company was mustered out of the service. A part of the officers and personnel were identical in both companies. An official under authority of Congress inspected this company and presented the commissions to the officers, April 23, 1777; Captain, William Peery; Lieutenant, John Westly; 2nd Lieutenant, John Hazard; Ensign, William Hall.

This company, or the militia company on duty at the same place and at the same time, seems to have been present at the battle of Trenton, December 26, 1776. If this is true, they were likely on duty at the battle of Princeton, January 3, 1777. A morning return of the Delaware batallion of Militia commanded by Col. Thomas Collins, is dated at Trenton, N. J., January 20, 1777. It includes the commands of Captain William Peery and others.

That this company was in the service all through 1777 and 1778 is shown by appropriations of money by Congress for “Captain Peery’s Company of Foot at Lewistown.” March 30, 1779 is the last payment of record. I have been unable to learn what the disposition of this company was, between then and the time another militia company was organized and stationed at Lewes. As Congress would not likely have left the port ungarrisoned, it was probably quartered at Lewes for another year. Captain Peery was commissioned Major in the Delaware Militia, June 30, 1782 by Gov. John Dickinson.

In 1779 he was elected to the Delaware House of Representatives and served continuously in that body until 1784 inclusive. He was a member of the Second Continental Congress in 1785-6, again elected to the House of Representatives in 1787 and in 1793 and 1794. The election of 1787 was declared illegal. He was admitted to the bar at the October term 1785, was Treasurer of Sussex Co. 1785-96, and seems to have acted in that capacity as early as 1780. He was appointed Justice, which approximates what is now a county Judge, by Gov. Van Dyke, June 30, 1783 and was a member of the committee that selected the site of the present county seat of Sussex Co.—Georgetown.

Major Peery was always interested in politics and with his colleagues, Robert Houston and George Adams seems to have been a dominant political figure from the outbreak of the Revolutionary War until his death, December 14, 1800 in the 57th year of his age. He is buried at Cool Spring Presbyterian Church of which he was ruling elder, near Lewes, Del. beside his first wife and the following epitaphs appear upon their tomb stones:

Here lies all that is mortal of

William Peery, Esq.,
Attorney-at-Law
Who died December 14th, 1800

In 1776 he went Captain of a company to oppose the invader of his country and continued a firm patriot to his death. He was of distinguished talents; natural and acquired. Eminent as a statesman lawyer and Christian and a zealous supporter of religion.

“Our Fathers, where are they, Happy those who are followers of them and who by faith inherit the promises.”

Sacred to the memory of

Mary Peery wife of

William Peery, Esq.,
Who departed this life the 11th Day of May, 1787
in the 40th year of her age
In her were united the prudent humane and amiable friend affectionate wife and sincere Christian

“To Life’s dull scenes she bid adieu, Called by her God to live above,
 In flowery groves where pleasures dwell,
 By crystal streams of heavenly love.
 The mortal part she left behind
 Sleeps in the tomb beneath the skies;
 But when the archangel wakes the just,
 She’ll in her Saviour’s image rise.”

His second wife was Margaret Wilson, daughter of the Rev. Matthew Wilson, pastor of the Lewes Presbyterian Church, and sister of James Patriot Wilson who succeeded his father to the pulpit and afterward served the First Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia. Her mother was a Frazier and her grandmother an O’Hara. She lies at the feet of her father in the Presbyterian churchyard at Lewes under a stone bearing the following inscription:

Margaret Peery
Died December 24, 1822
Age 57
Prudent, amiable, pious.
She was an ornament of her sex, respected, beloved, lamented.

Major Peery did not sign his will, and does not seem to have adopted his two nephews. Therefore, his widow and all of his nieces and nephews shared in the division of the estate. John Peery, who I assume was his brother, and Lazarus Turner both of St. George’s Hundred,
New Castle Co., qualified as administrators. John died the following year and Lazarus Turner died in 1809. William Stewart qualified as administrator to the estate of Lazarus Turner and in this way about half of the Major’s estate came under his control. He lived to the ripe age of 72 and died at Port Penn, Del., February 26, 1844. No children.
THE DESCENDANTS OF JAMES PEERY OF JAMES

Married (1st) Harriet Marsh of Lewes, Del. She was the daughter of Thomas Purnell Marsh and Ann Mackey. Her grandparents were Peter Marsh and Esther Purnell.

      d. unmarried
  iv. Ann (9)
  v. John M. (10)
  vi. Mary (11)
  vii. Elizabeth (12)

Married (2nd) in 1827 to Elizabeth McCollery of Milford, Del. Of the McCollery's, we know little. J. T. Scharf in his history of Delaware states that Trustron P. McColley who lived at South Milford and who was President of the Constitutional Convention of 1852 was born March 9, 1793. I am informed by Mr. John P. McColley of Philadelphia that John McColley had three children; namely, Trustron P., Andrew J. and Elizabeth. The latter married James Perry. The children of Trustron P. were William Henry, Hiram, Hetty Angelina, (married Dr. William Marshall), James H., T. P. Jr., Annie and Joseph. He (John P.) is the son of Andrew J., and George Bayard Perry was the only child of Elizabeth. The McColley’s intermarried with the Potters, Loflands, and Bayards.

The Biographical and Genealogical History of Delaware checks some of this and further states that John McColley’s father was Robert Watson McColley who came to this country from Scotland in 1730.

James H., was consul to one of the South American Republics under Lincoln and died down there. Annie married Judge Geo. P. Fisher and had issue. Joseph had nine children. Andrew J. McColley was state auditor Nov. 28, 1863 to Nov. 23, 1865.

Children:

i. One son. Killed in Civil War.

After the death of Henry Boulton, she married a Mr. Sweeten and lived and died at Bridgeton, N. J. No children.

She was the daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Wooten) Adams. The original progenitor of the Adamses on the Eastern Shore was Captain Thomas Adams who came to Virginia in 1636 and as early as 1654 was establishing trade relations between Delaware and Virginia. He settled along the Nanticoke River and raised a family. Among his sons was Roger who went to what is now Northwest Fork Hundred and took up large tracts of land which some of his children, Roger Jr., Richard and Nutter sold to Constantine Cannon Feb. 4, 1777. Thomas Adams was a member of the Constitutional Convention of 1831, the son of Isaac and one of twelve children, eleven of whom raised large families.

The first Wooten of whom we have record was Edward. He came from England, purchased some 2000 acres of land in Little Creek Hundred and raised a large family among whom were Isaac, John, William, Peter, Nellie, and probably others. We find Isaac, Elijah, and John among those assessed for taxation in Sussex Co. in 1785. John, son of Edward, had the following children:

Lavinia, Maria, Peter, Millie, Elizabeth, and John.

Elizabeth married Thomas Adams and had a number of children among whom were:

Isaac John, Elizabeth, Mary Eleanor, William, Hester, and Emma.

Judge Edward Wooten, a cousin of Elizabeth (Wooten) Adams was born in Laurel in 1810 son of the first mentioned Peter G. Wooten. He was admitted to the bar in 1830, was a member of the Legislature several times and appointed Judge in 1847 by Governor Tharp. He died in Georgetown Mar. 1, 1887 and was buried beside his wife in St. George's Chapel, Indian River Hundred. He was married, in June, 1833, to Mary, the daughter of Judge Peter Robinson. She bore him one child:

Alfred P. R. Wooten, b. Dec. 12, 1834; d.

Geo. B. Perry was originally a designer and builder of water power plants and at one time conducted a private school. After the introduction of steam, his interest in saw and grist mills continued. Later he was a farmer, and vessel owner.

He was raised a Methodist by his mother, who was a McColley, and was the first of our branch to leave the Presbyterian fold.

THE DESCENDANTS OF MARY PEERY

64. Mary (5) [James (4), James (3), William (2), John (1)]; b. 1772 in St. George's Hundred, New Castle Co., Del.; m. Lazarus Turner.

Children:
  i. William Peery Turner
  ii. Olivia Turner
  iii. Nancy Turner
  iv. Mary Turner
    Probably others.

They lived in St. George's Hundred on a farm purchased for them by the Major, who mentions the above named children in his will written in 1800. I have been unsuccessful in my effort to locate any of their living descendants.

Lazarus Turner died in 1809 and William Stewart (see 144) qualified as administrator to his estate. As the Turner children were much older than the Stewarts they must have come of age shortly after their father’s death and they must have inherited considerable property. The New Castle county records have not disclosed the disposition of this property. It is possible that after the death of Lazarus Turner, Mary moved back to Sussex Co. with her brothers for her only sister, Sally, who lived in New Castle Co., was dead. The fact that Lazarus Turner was Coroner of Sussex Co. in 1844 leads me to the belief that he was a native of Sussex Co. and that his descend¬ ants have returned to that county. Both John and Isaac Turner were assessed as taxables in Lewes and Rehobeth Hd. in 1785 and we find Isaac still assessed in 1813.

He was associated with Major Wm. Peery and Robert Hunter, a son of a Presbyterian clergyman (known as a "gentleman from Dublin, Ireland"), on the Board of Trustees of Cool Spring Church. He operated a tannery on the bank of the Broadkill creek near the family residence. He died May 4, 1811 in the 73d year of his age.

A Burton genealogy would be a History of Sussex County. In 1677 William Burton received a warrant from Governor Andross for a survey of 1000 acres called “Long Neck” of which he sold half to Thomas Bagwell, Oct. 9, 1679. This tract afterward came into the hands of Bagwell Burton. Wm. Burton had eleven sons, all of whom settled along Indian River, mostly on Long Neck where the family owned thousands of acres. From them have descended the Burtons of Delaware. The leading Christian name was John and at one time there were more than thirty Burtons bearing that name.

The ancestral home of the Burtons was along the river and was called “White House,” built about 1722. Later it was owned by Mrs. John M. Houston who was a daughter of John Robert Burton.
William Robinson, tanner, purchased 450 acres of land in Angola neck called "Robert, his fortune" in March, 1693. It had been patented in 1677. The estate was gradually enlarged and for many years the home of the Robinsons. Benjamin Robinson devised this property to his sons William, Benjamin, Parker, John, and Peter. The upper, or William's farm of 138 acres came by marriage and inheritance to Peter Robinson Burton.

In 1763 Thomas and Peter Robinson, merchants, bought 232 acres of land on the north side of Herring Branch and Thomas opened a store in the vicinity of St. George's Chapel. During the Revolution he was a Tory and his property was confiscated in 1779. He then went to England. Later he came to Canada but finally returned to Indian River Hundred after peace was declared and spent the remaining years of his life there. A son of Peter, born in 1775, became an attorney and judge and the other son, Thomas, was a member of the Legislature. The first mentioned Peter lived and died at the head of Angola, a well-known farmer and business man. He was appointed Justice of the Supreme Court in 1793.

Peter Waples and John How purchased a tract of land called "Warwick" in Indian River Hundred below Millsboro, Sept. 3, 1693. Waples had also purchased land on the Indian River from John Barker, Nov. 10, 1692 and added to his holdings by purchase from William Clark, Apr. 24, 1694; in all 1000 acres. His home was at “Ferry Landing” and he petitioned for a ferry Sept. 2, 1696. He had three sons William (“Ferry Billy”), Peter and Paul. From these the Waples family of Delaware are descended.

The 1785 list of taxables includes Benjamin and Burton Waples for Indian River Hundred and that of 1822 includes John, Robert, Robinson, Joseph, Isaac and William D. Waples (afterward Colonel).

They lived on a farm adjacent to Port Penn. He is buried at Hickory Grove Cemetery with his second wife and mother-in-law. It is probable that his first wife was placed there also.

Descendants of William Stewart say he was from Lewes. Of this I have no proof although it may be true. There were Stewarts in Lewes and Rehobeth Hundred during the very early days and indeed, some now. There were two families of Stewarts in St. George's Hundred not claiming to be related. As Sally Peery was born and raised in St. George's Hundred, it seems logical to think that she probably married one of the neighbors although none of her brothers or sisters did. Probably William Stewart was a descendant of some of the New Jersey Stewarts.

In the foregoing genealogical tables are the names of 157 relatives.

2 were in the Expedition against Quebec 1758 (1 officer—1 soldier).

2 were in the Revolutionary War (1 officer—1 soldier).

2 were in the War of 1812—both soldiers.

6 were in the Civil War—4 Union (1 officer and 3 soldiers, 2 soldiers killed) and 2 Confederate (1 officer and 1 soldier).

6 were in the World War—4 commissioned, 2 enlisted.

Among these relatives we find

6 Lawyers
4 Doctors
4 Artists
3 Authors
7 Teachers
2 Congressmen
2 Candidates for Governor
2 Judges
1 Attorney General
4 Ministers (Presbyterian)
29 Engaged in Agriculture or Horticulture
7 Engineers
1 Bank President
12 Engaged in manufacturing and distribution, two of whom were merchants.
4 Corporation Presidents
3 Expert Accountants

This nets a total of 92, most of whom were the male members, the women busying themselves with household duties and helping to dispense the hospitality for which the line is so well known. Some will say that there are duplications in a list of this type. Of the adult living members, mostly of the 8th and 9th generations, there are listed 58 men and 27 women.

Of these, the vocations are, insofar as the author knows, as follows:
3 Lawyers
4 Doctors
1 Artist
4 Teachers
2 Ministers
10 Engaged in Agriculture and Horticulture
7 Engineers
5 Retired
9 Manufacturers and salesmen
1 Merchant
2 Corporation Presidents
3 Expert Accountants
2 Insurance Brokers
1 Railroad Foreman
1 Aviator
7 Unknown

a total of 62 including 58 men and 4 women.
The other women are either busying themselves gracing their households or living in retirement with their children.

It is seen that our branch of the American Peerys has been kept too busy to get into trouble and if this little book shall become an inspiration to any of our line to spur themselves on to greater efforts to nobler goals, the author will feel that his time, expense, effort, and patience have been well spent.

Last Will and Testament of William Peery, Esquire

In the name of God Amen, I William Peery of the County of Sussex in the State of Delaware being in my usual health and of sound and disposing memory and judgment, do make and ordain this my last Will and Testament, and dispose of all such worldly estate wherewith it has pleased God to bless me in manner and form following, that is to say,

I give to my loving Wife Margaret Peery, my mansion house and plantation whereon I now live, that is to say, all the land lying on the South side of a line beginning at a post standing by the edge of Mill Creek Branch, and running from thence south sixty-five degrees east to a small white oak sapling standing in the head line of the whole tract containing about three hundred acres on the south side of the aforesaid line, for and during the term of her natural life only, except my half of the saw mill thereon erected.
I further give to my said wife, all that plantation and tract of land which I purchased at the sheriff's sale as the property of John Little, lying and being on the northwest side of the aforesaid Branch, containing about two hundred and ninety acres, so long as she shall continue sole and unmarried, and no longer.

I further give to my said Wife Margaret the sum of two hundred and fifty pounds to be raised out of my personal estate; which sum is to include a debt due to me from the Estate of Doctor Theodore Wilson deceased and to be considered as part of the said two hundred and fifty pounds; and the said sum when so raised to be laid out in the purchase of land, which said land when purchased, I give to my said wife for and during the term of her mortal life only; and if my said wife should ever marry again and have lawful issue, I give the said land so to be purchased to such lawful issue after the death of my said wife, their heirs and assigns forever; but if my said wife should leave no such issue behind her at the time of her death, then and in that case I do empower my said Wife by any instrument of writing under her hand and seal executed in the presence of two witnesses at least, to dispose of said land so to be purchased to any of the children of her brother Theodore Wilson or of her sisters, Polly Marsh and Nancy Marsh, children that shall be living, at her pleasure. And it is my intention that this power shall operate only as a naked power, and not so as to enlarge the life Estate which I have devised to my said Wife in this land, into an Estate in Fee simple in her. And I also give to my said Wife my Riding Horse and Chair, my Gold Watch and all the household furniture she brought to my house at the time I intermarried with her. And I further give to my said Wife my Negro Man Messech for one year after my decease and also my two negro boys Ambrose and Tack until they severally arrive at the age of twenty-five years and my Negro girl Amoret until she arrives at the age of twenty-two years.

I give and devise to my adopted son James Peery son of my brother James, all that plantation and tract of land lying on the north side of the hereinbefore mentioned line, that is to begin at the before mentioned post standing by the edge of Mill Creek Branch, and running South sixty-five degrees East to the head line of the hole to the beforementioned white oak sapling. And I likewise give and devise to my said adopted son James all that plantation and tract of land whereon Thomas West now lives, and all that tract of land and plantation which I have devised to my Wife so long as she shall continue sole and unmarried, after the determination of my said Wife's Estate in the same. And I do further give and devise to my said adopted son James my Mansion House and Plantation whereon I now live which I have devised to my Wife during her natural life after the decease of my said Wife: all which four plantations and tracts of land in this Clause before mentioned, I give and devise to my said adopted son James for and during the term of his natural life, it being my intention that he should have only a life estate in these lands; but if it should so happen that my said adopted son should die before his present Wife Harriet Peery then and in that case, my will intention and devise is that the said Harriet Peery should hold and enjoy her Dowry in all the said four tracts of land in as full and ample manner as she could have done if I had devised the Fee simple of the said four tracts of land to the aforesaid James Peery; and after the decease of my adopted son James, I give the said four tracts of land to any child or children he may have except his present wife's Dowry thereon during her natural life, to be equally divided among them if more than one, their heirs and assigns forever, and if but one, then to such child its heirs and assigns forever.

I give to my adopted son James Peery my young negro man George until the said negro shall arrive at the age of twenty-five years, he being by me now adjudged to be eighteen years old, and I also give him all of the household furniture I have purchased for him and one bed and furniture which my Wife shall make choice of.

I give and devise to my adopted son William Peery, one other son of my brother James, all that tract of land Plantation situate at the head of Broadkill Creek, and all the house stores and other buildings thereon to me belonging; and I also give to the said William all that tract of land situate in St. George Hundred New-Castle County which I purchased of the Rev. John Burton all of which said two plantations and tracts of land I give and devise to the said William Peery for and during the term of his natural life only, it being my intention that he should have only a life Estate in those lands, but if it should so happen that my said adopted son William should die before his present wife Polly Peery, then and in that case my will and intention is that the said Polly Peery should hold and enjoy her Dowry in the said two tracts in as full and ample manner as she could have done if I had devised the fee simple of the said two tracts of land to the said William Peery and after the decease of my said adopted son William I give and devise the said two tracts of land in the clause above mentioned to any child or children he may have, except his present Wife's Dowry therein during her natural life, or to be equally divided among them if more than one to them their heirs and assigns for ever, and if but one to such child its heirs and assigns forever.

I also give to my said adopted son William Peery the sum of three hundred pounds which I have already advanced to him for two hundred and fifty pounds of which I have his judgment bond which I desire my Executrix hereinafter named should deliver up to him; and I further give to said William Peery all the Household furniture I purchased for him and now in his possession.

I give to William P. Turner son of Lazarus Turner the sum of one hundred and eighteen pounds which his father owes me and as a security for which sum I have the Alienation Bonds for the lands which his father purchased of John Fisher, John Conwell and Elias Jones assigned to me and which I empower my Executrix to reassign to the said Lazarus Turner upon his paying to her the said sum of one hundred and eighteen pounds and not before and if the said sum of money is not paid within seven years after my decease and legal Interest therefor, I give the land in the said Bonds mentioned to the said William P. Turner his heirs and assigns forever.
I give to Olivia, Nancy and Mary Turner daughters of Lazarus Turner the sum of sixty pounds which their father owes me and for securing the payment of which sum I have a mortgage on the Negro man Caesar to be equally divided among them; and if the said Lazarus Turner should not pay the money due on the said mortgage within the time mentioned in the said Mortgage for payment thereof, I give the said Negro to the said Olivia, Nancy and Mary Turner share and share alike.

I give to my niece Mary Turner my Negro boy Jacob now in possession of Lazarus Turner until he arrives at the age of twenty-five years.

I do hereby manumit and set free my negro man Messech at the end of one year after my decease; and I do also manumit and set free my negro boys George, Jacob, Ambrose, and Jack as they severally arrive at the age of twenty-five years and my Negro Girl Amoret when she arrives at the age of twenty-two years. I have heretofore verbally manumitted and set free my Negro Woman Comfort and her children Nance, Tessy, Solomon and Sarah which manumission I hereby ratify and confirm.

It is my will, and I do order that all my Law Books be carefully packed up in a case to be provided for that purpose and delivered unto the hands of my adopted son William Peery by him carefully to be kept until a son of his or a son of my adopted son James Peery shall be capable of using them, that they should be delivered to such son of either of my said two adopted sons James and William as shall be first capable of using them, as his own property.

I give my half of the saw mill herein before mentioned and my half of Negro Tack that usually attends said mill equally to be divided between my Wife Margaret and my adopted son James, and it is my will and desire and I do hereby manumit and set free the said Negro Tack so far as I have a right to him at the expiration of twelve years from the time the said saw mill first began to run.

All the residue of my personal Estate whether goods chattels Debts due to me or Money, it is my Will and desire should be brought to a just and concionable appraisement and that my Wife retain the use of them so long as she shall continue sole and unmarried without paying any interest thereon but if my said Wife should think fit to marry again, then and in that case my Will is that she pay over to my two adopted sons James and William Peery one half of such appraisement value without interest within one year after she shall so marry, which sum so to be paid over I give to the said James and William Peery to be equally divided between. The other half of the appraised value of such residue of my personal Estate my will and desire is that my wife retain the same during her natural life without paying any interest therefor; and that immediately after her decease the said last mentioned half of the appraised value of such Residue of my personal Estate be paid over to and equally distributed amongst all my legal Heirs that shall then be living excepting always from any share of such distribution my niece Sally daughter of my brother James Peery it being my solemn determination that neither she nor any children she may have by William Stewart her present Husband shall ever enjoy one farthing of my estate either real or personal. And I do hereby make constitute and appoint my loving Wife Margaret Peery the whole and sole Executrix of this last Will and Testament, hereby revoking disavowing and making void every other former Will by me at any time hereunto made ratifying allowing and confirming this and no other to be my last Will and Testament.

In Testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal affixed this ______ day of ______ in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred.

Cornelius Paynter, Register

Autographed Letter Found in a Scrap Book Presented By Judge Henry C. Conrad to the Delaware State Archive Commission

Sir

I have received your Return, and Recommendations and have paid great regard to the latter. I have made one alteration, suggested to me by the reasonableness of it and supported by such weighty Considerations, that I found myself compell'd by a sence of Duty to adopt it that is the appointment of Mr. Perry to the majority—

I understand that he was a Captain in the Regiment at the Beginning of the War, that he left it for a more active office in the Public Service, and that he is very acceptable to the officers and Privates his Abilities his Zeal and Firmness in the Cause of his Country, his military Turn and Knowledge, added to the motives already mentioned point him out in a particular manner for the Post he now holds. I am well persuaded of the merit of Captain Marsh, and shall receive Pleasure in expressing my sense of his Merit.

I have sent down to Gen'l. Dagworthy by the speaker of the House of assembly, fifty copies of the last Militia Law—and 150 Copies of an Abstract of Baron Steuben's Treatise to be distributed among the Militia of your Country—

I propose to be at Lewis Town on Wednesday the 16th
Day of October next, and on the three following Days to review the Regiments of Sussex, at which time I wish to have an exact and regular return of the Musquets, Bayonets, and Cartouch Boxes, Private Property, in each Company, fit for service. I can assure you, that I expect to receive a very particular satisfaction from the appearance and Behaviour of the Militia of Sussex County.

I am with Great Regard Sir

(Addressed)
