LOCATING THE GRAVE SITE OF CAPT. JOHN DANIELS (1685-1765)

This scene is looking west in Putnam, Conn. into Pomfret Township and known as "Pomfret Level". This picture was taken in August of 1955 and the rampaging Quinebaug River swept away the aproaches to the Pomfret St. Bridge. See article on inside pages.
With this issue of "THE NOTES", as announced in the November 1974, Vol. 7, No. 4 issue we are going to a much larger number of pages, each issue, but only TWO issues for the year. There will be a Spring-Summer issue, which this is and a Fall-Winter issue. As you can see where in the past each issue numbered from 8 pages to sometimes 12, there is all of double that in this issue - well over 30 pages.

As we also announced in Vol. 7, No. 4, there will be no subscription price stated from this point on. Any money received will be considered "A Contribution, or Donation" toward the cost of printing and mailing, Libraries, Historical and Genealogical Societies, excepted. Any one, including, Societies who value the "NOTES" enough to want them will you please send 'a donation" and we will bill Societies at $4.00 per year.

Connected with the grave site of JOHN DANIELS (1751-1832) and the work Mrs. Virginia C. Clohset has done in getting the D.A.R. to recognize that he served in the American Rev. War, I said, "Mrs. Clohset is a descendant of John Daniels". She tells me that she isn't. She certainly worked long and hard at obtaining this recognition to be considered a descendant. She has said, "All I ever wanted was to see justice done to this man". While, neither am I a descendant of John, but of an older brother, Samuel, we certainly appreciate the lengthy and determined efforts this grand woman has gone to, in winning this recognition of John. Thank you Mrs. Clohset, you fought like a Daniels (descendent) although you may not be one. (This should have been in the November, Vol. 7, No. 4, issue).

This letter was printed with the above date and intentions were to mail it along with the Order Form also attached at that time. It never got done, reasons for which need not be given here. The special offer of one book free (Vol. 1) with each order for Vol. 2 is being extended through the balance of 1975. Order Vol. 2 @ $16.00 and we will send FREE a copy of Vol. 1. But do it now while the supply lasts. You can not expect an offer like this to be repeated.

NAPERVILLE (Ill.) HERITAGE SOCIETY (historical) and the Local Park District of the city are working together in the process of creating the NAPER SETTLEMENT. This is of interest to many Daniels descendants (or should be). The settlement will be on an 11-acre site upon which stand the old home originally belonging to the Martin-Mitchell family. The goal is to attempt to recreate as nearly as possible with accuracy and authenticity, a village similar to that which Naperville and other middlewest communities once were. The old home of HAMILTON C. DANIELS, M.D. will be (in fact has been) moved to the Naper Settlement. A committee is in the process of studying and planning restoration to the original condition. One member of the committee has been in touch with the editor. I shall give any assistance in any way that I can.

(See page 28 for more on this subject)
It was back in the summer of 1955 (or 6), I can not recall the exact year, the writer and wife visited the Putnam-Pomfret- Killingly area and searched several cemeteries in a determined effort to locate the grave sites of Capt. John Daniels (1685-1765) and wife Eleanor (Verin) Daniels. We were unsuccessful and if it was after August of 1955 we can understand now why we were not directed to the cemetery of their burial. After that date that cemetery no longer existed.

Mr. John B. Threlfall of Madison, Wisconsin in addition to his extensive research on the VERIN family, also tried with no success to locate the grave site. Then last summer he got in touch with an old timer living in "Pomfret Center, Conn." Mr. Harry Chase. The picture on page 1 along with a letter tells about the flood and how the oldest cemetery in the Putnam-Pomfret area was destroyed following the flood, to rebuild the approaches to the Pomfret Street Bridge. We quote from Mr. Chase's letter: He refers to the picture.

"The white building at the right is where John Daniels' house and barn was. I say this as I have found where it reads, his house and barn were at the falls, on west side of the river in Pomfret. Pomfret level came to the river Quinebaug up to 1855 when at that time Putnam became a town and took quite a chunk of Pomfret level." (a town in the New England states is what is called a Township in the western states. J.H.D.)

"On the farside of the bridge (you can see the bridge reeling above the waters); you will see cars & at this point a street goes to the right (church street)."

"In back of these cars you can see a high brick wall. This wall bears to the left for 3-4 hundred feet. As it becomes less high at the end etc, a small cemetery was started. The level of the cemetery was 4-5 feet above the street level. This was a family affair in the beginning & later on 12 or 15 more were buried. It is in this cemetery that Capt. John Daniels was buried."

"There is no doubt but David Howe is buried here. He was the one Daniels bought his place of Dec. 1731. David Howe's real estate was appraised by assessors for 21 pounds."

"Now comes the sad part. When the flood came in 1955 each side of the bridge was washed. The places was washed out 18-20 feet wide & 8-10 feet deep. So fill was needed & needed quick so traffic could get through to Providence and Boston. John Dempsey, who was Mayor of Putnam gave orders Army Engineers to dig up fill (dirt) & vehicles took (from) the cemetery, & so it was done & so all of the grave stones & remains of corpses was dumped into the washed out places by the bridge."

"Today where the cemetery was is a parking lot for cars at the Putnam Catholic Academy. The cemetery was as I remember it as I passed by was approx. 75 ft. long and approx. 50 feet wide. The earliest burials where a sure record is known was in 1773." (Burials certainly were made earlier than this though. Both David Howe and John Daniels died before 1773, as did Eleanor (Verin) Daniels, w.f. of John, JHD)

"And so as I said there is no question, in deed that Capt. John Daniels was buried here & his wife, since the cemetery is only 500 or so feet from his house."

With this the writer can fully agree. Even if only known records of burial in this cemetery start with 1773, that in no way proves or discounts there being burials there much before 1773.

The writer would also like to add, that the disrespect for the dead and their resting place (bodies in a cemetery) such as John Dempsey, Mayor of Putnam showed, speaks very lacking in quality. A cemetery should be the last place to go for fill dirt as he authorized be done. Such a person to this writer rates lower than any creature on this earth. He certainly wasn't qualified for the office he held.

We are indeed, grateful to both Mr. Threlfall and Mr. Chase for furnishing us with this information on the grave site of John and Eleanor (Verin) Daniels. We suggest that for more history of John, Eleanor and their son, Nathaniel, that pages 53 (another picture of the Mill site of John & Nathaniel), pages 57, through be read in Vol. II.

OTHER OF THE DANIELS LIKELY BURIED IN THE SAME CEMETERY.

Nathaniel Daniels, Sr. s/o of John, m. 2nd Sylbil Leavens at Pomfret, Conn. before removing to Worthington, Mass. His 1st wife, Ann Grosvenor, d. 3 Feb. 1762 and would be buried in the Putnam (Pomfret) area. We believe that this same cemetery is were she would have been buried. Her grave could not be located in a cemetery located in the town & on present day map as POMFRET, a short distant north of Pomfret Center. It was at this community that the Grosvenor family lived, Ebenezer and Ann Marcy Grosvenor. Their graves are well marked in this cemetery, but not Ann (Grosvenor) Daniels. Daniel (b. 30 Aug. 1766, d. 11 Mar. 1768) youngest child of Nathaniel, Sr. & Sybil (Leavens) Daniels is also very likely buried in the same cemetery as, John, his wife, Eleanor (Verin) Daniels. (See pages 95 & 97, of Vol. II).

Claud M. (Hazel Clara Weaver) James, wrote, "Now in the Family
Bible which belonged to my Great Grandmother, Cynthia Daniels (wife of Asahel Rowe), she has recorded the information on Asahel and her children on a page in the front. Facing this page, in a different handwriting and I believe to be my Grandmother's is a "Weaver" record. Between the Old and New T. is this name: George Daniel, b. 21 Dec. 1845. The handwriting is the same as that listing the "Daniels" on the first page. I do not know his (meaning George) relationship to Asahel and Cynthia"
(later research and records revealed the relationship, J.H.D.)

Mrs. James then continued, "I was only 14 when Grandma died, so do not recall all I wish I could. She spoke of her brothers and half brothers of which I am confused. I though she had a half brother named "Ward" and see "Warren" in your book (see Vol. II

BIOGRAPHY IN BRIEF OF CYNTHIA IDNELL (DANIELS) WEAVER

Cynthia, with her husband and their three sons, Ora, Dycie and Lennie (Orlen Daniels) left Coldwater, Michigan about September of 1893 and moved to Nebraska. This was followed with a move to Wisconsin for a short stay and then back to Nebraska.

William Henry Weaver, Cynthia and their three sons took up residence on farm land near Valparaiso, Nebraska. It was here that Norman, a forth son, was born. Later the family moved to another location, near Gothenburg and North Platte. William was a farmer as were his sons. Cynthia, or Ida the name she always used and preferred, was no stranger to hard work and helped also with the farming.

It was about 1915, when their oldest son, Ora moved to Wisconsin at Superior. He went into business there as a Merchant. Later and in 1929 he moved to Klamath Falls, Oregon.

Orlen (or Lennie as he was better known) moved with his family to Oregon in July of 1923. Then in the fall of the same year (1923) Ida and her two other sons, Dycie and Norman, with their families moved west, meeting near Eugene, Oregon. These three families, with the mother Ida, because of work from time to time lived at various places, including Redding, California. Ida's husband, Wm. H. died in February 1922.

In March of 1926 Lennie with his family moved back to Klamath Falls, Oregon. He bought property there and settled down. Later, Ida, with Dycie and Norman and their families also moved back to Klamath Falls, Oregon with their families. It was here that Ida lived until her death on April 11 1934. It was her desire that she be buried in Redding, Calif. beside an infant grand-daughter who had preceded her in death, by some six years. Her wish was granted.

After the death of Mertie, the wife of Dycie and Ralph their son in 1927, Dycie moved to Tillamook, in northwestern Oregon. Here he worked as a dairyman. Their older son, Clarence never left Nebraska, at North Platte. Continued on page 14.

For years, Lennie, Ora and Norman worked in the Lumber Industry. Ora and Norman worked in sawmills until their retirement. Lennie took up the ministry of the Gospel. While still living in Nebraska, Lennie felt the urge to turn to the ministry. When he moved west he made plans to attend the Northwest Nazarene College in Nampa, Idaho. Times were hard and the family met with many hardships which made it impossible to go to college. This was not to defeat him and he took up a home study course, 1st under the Nazarene church and later with the Pilgrim Holiness church (now known as the Wesleyan Church). After completion of his "course of study" he was ordained in the Pilgrim Holiness Church, on July 16, 1935. He continued in the ministry until his untimely death, July 6, 1954. Only Heaven can reveal the full worth of his ministry, but we who remain will not forget his fine sermons that were "Bible" messages. He was honest, upright and sincere, never flinching from the truth. He was loving and kind, spent much time in calling on his parishners as well as those outside of his church. He always had time for those who needed him and he could rejoice with those who rejoiced. Use of "Prayer" was his great talent. He was often called upon to make public prayer, but his secret was the time he spent alone with God, in his own private place.

William Henry Weaver, s/o Calvin & Lany (Spurbeck) Weaver, was of Canadian and Pennsylvanian Dutch parents. In the home of his mother the language spoken was German (Pennsylvanian Dutch). Calvin was French Canadian and when a small boy he was bound out to a family named Weaver. He took the surname Weaver and this is where the Weaver surname came into usage for the family and his descendants. It was not his surname by birth and Mrs. James doesn't know what it was, other than it would be of French origin.

William Henry Weaver was born 28 June 1851 in Canada (near N.Y. line). He died 14 February 1922 at Broken Bow, Nebr. and on 17 Oct. 1875 in Obid Twp., Branch Co., Mich. was married to Cynthia Idnell (Ida) Daniels. She was the daughter of Asahel Rowe & Cynthia Idnell (Greenma) Nearpass (widow of Sam'l Nearpass). Cynthia Idnell (Daniels) Weaver, died 11 April 1934 at Klamath Fall, Ore. and is buried at Redding, Calif.

Brief Biography of Mabel Rose (Weaver) Greenstreet.
Mrs. Greenstreet attended High School (Klamath Union H.S.) for two years. Then she went to Colorado Springs, Colo. where she attended the Pilgrim Bible College for two years and graduated. This College included a H.S. She graduated in 1940. Mrs. Greenstreet is a member of the Wesleyan Church, formerly Pilgrim Holiness. Some few years back the "Pilgrim Holiness Church" and the "Wesleyan Methodist Church" merged taking the name "Wesleyan". The church doctrine is that of Charles Wesley, but is not a split from the Methodist Church. Mrs. Greenstreet, had a part with her sister, Mrs. Hazel James and their mother in gathering the material for the Asahel Rowe Daniels and William Henry Weaver history and genealogy in this and the November 1974 issues of the Daniels-Daniells Family Notes.

Brief Biography of Asahel Henry Weaver.
He served in the U.S. Army during W.W.II. He served 25 years in the U.S. Navy "Construction Battalion" Reserve, and is still in the Reserves. He is a Chief Equipment Operator. For Military purposes, a Platoon Commander. His rating qualifies him to operate any piece of construction equipment, or be able to supervise any earth moving job. This includes a crew on rock crushers, asphalt batch plants, paver's, etc. He was trained in a Navy School of Construction Engineering. This has prepared him to work in this specialty in case of war or to lead a Platoon of men in a combat situation. (Mrs. Hazel James, says, "sounds like a "Daniels").

To Whom It May Concern:

I, Hazel Clara Weaver James, daughter of Orlan Daniels Weaver, aka Lennie D. Weaver and Lennie Weaver, do declare under penalty of purgery that Orlan Daniels Weaver and Lennie D. Weaver was the same person. Even though his name is listed in the Family Bible as Lennie D. and on his Birth Record as Lennie Weaver he always said his correct name was Orlan Daniels Weaver and that the name "Lennie" was only a "nickname" given him as a baby. He was known as Orlan Daniels Weaver all his life and signed all legal papers as such as well as personal papers.

Don't ever forget, History is Genealogy and Genealogy is History. You an I are a part of both. Why not get interested in both and be useful to present & future generations?

Dr. Hamilton C. Daniels, M.D. (1818-1897) was a long time resident of Naperville. Pages 338-340 of Vol. 2, Daniels-Daniells Family Genealogy has a biography, with a picture of he and his 2nd wife, and his children by both marriages. Naperville, Ill., and surrounding area is where SETH DANIELS (1779-1856), his eldest daughter, SARAH and her husband JOHN DANIELS (1809-1842), a 1st cousin, homesteaded in the middle or late 1830's. Naperville was the county seat of DuPage Co. when the county was formed, and until a group of citizens from Wheaton, descended upon the Court House one night, stealing the records to set up business in Wheaton. Wheaton has been the County Seat ever since.

How does your editor know so much about Naperville? Well my grandfather grew up and attended school in the general area. He went to school for a while in Downers Grove Ill. He was married at St. Charles, Ill. before going to Iowa to homestead. All this will of course be found in the pages of Vol. 1 & Vol. 2, with pictures. This is history as well as genealogy. But back to the NAPER SETTLEMENT.

The committee on the "Daniels House research" is interested in hearing from descendants of Dr. Hamilton C. Daniels with any information and help they might have to give. Mrs. Mary P. (John W.) Hammersmith, 1424 Lark Lane, Naperville, Ill. 60540 is the person to write to at this address.

I should add that copies of the Daniels Family Genealogy, Vol. 1 & 2 have been given to the committee for display in the Doctor's house when it will be open to the public, at a later date.

Below is a picture of the Doctor's home as it appeared at the original setting in Naperville. This picture was taken by the editor in 1961, while in Naperville searching for the grave of my Great-grand father JOHN DANIELS (1809-1842) who is buried in a cemetery in the Naperville area. I have not found the grave location, yet I know the following Epitaph is on his gravestone:

"A Soul out of prison released
And freed from its bodily pain
Our loss is his eternal gain"

The Naperville Settlement is located about 2 blocks directly west of the original site of the Doctor's house. Mrs. Hammersmith has written that, "If any Daniels come this way, I'd be pleased to act as guide." So remember folks, and your surname doesn't need to be Daniels. This is good for any Daniels descendant, direct or otherwise of the Doctor. Stop and take a guided tour through the NAPERVILLE SETTLEMENT.

Daniels and related families buried in this old cemetery, located on part of the General, Grosvenor Daniels Farm. Your editor visited it last back in the early 1960's. I know not the condition the cemetery might be in at this time. It was strictly a family cemetery, with few of any descendant living in the general area at this date. This cemetery is located on left side of State Hiway # 63 between Ridgeway and Lyndonville, going north from Ridgeway.

Pieces of Genealogical Information found among my old research records.

Seth P. Church, wife, Julia A. Berry.
dau. Emma Jane (Church), m. 18 Dec. 1894, age 43 to Charles G. Britt of Ridgeway.
age 46.

LAND RECORDS—

Asahel R. Daniels, & wife, Ruby. March 23, 1838, Book 17, Page 169

The above is interesting as it is evidence, before overlooked that the 1st wife of ASAHEL ROWE DANIELS, was Ruby _______. Also that they lived in Orleans Co. Twp of Gaines at a period around 1838.
WILLIAM COCHRANE was born in Pembroke, N. H. in 1781. He married RHODA MUDGETT, of Pembroke, N.H. They settled in Ridgeway 1819. They had four sons and three daughters. Wm. Cochrane, of Waterport is eldest of the sons.

* * * * * * *

SETH, GROSVENOR, ISAAC and WILLIAM CHURCH.

Seth, Grosvenor, Isaac and William Church came to Ridgeway with his parents when eight years old, and moved thence in 1831, to Yates, settling on a farm in the east part of the town. October 27, 1831, he married Jane, daughter of Richard Barry, and died April 26, 1863. He was a Justice of the Peace and a trustee of Yates Academy, and during his life was one of the towns most eminent men. His widow now resides in Lyndonville and has gained considerable prominence by her exquisite needle work.

William Church was born June 8, 1812 and died July 19, 1893. October 25, 1837 he married Sena, daughter of Richard Barry. He was Justice of Peace and Overseer of the poor many years, and was long an active member, Class leader, Steward and Trustee of the M.E. Church. Like his brother Grosvenor, he lived first in Ridgeway and later in Yates. His widow survives him and resides at Yates Center.

NOTE by the Editor. The Church and Cochrane family inter married with the Daniels. Members of both families are buried in the Daniels' Cemetery, between Ridgeway and Lyndonville, N.Y.

Mr. Harry Chase, Putnam-Pomfret, Conn. (furnished picture of page 1)
Mrs. John W. Hammersmith, Naperville, Ill.

Mrs. Hazel James was assisted in her work by several of the Weaver cousins and their names I am not sure of, but credit should be given to them also for their work, though not named. Also we must recognize those who have placed their Queries. If any one has been missed, it has been an oversight we regret.
NOAH HOBERT WEAVER (1919 - 1954), see page 25. This is a supplement pertaining to his World War II, Army Service.

A copy of his enlisting record and report of separation was furnished your editor, but the Xerox copy if reproduced would be unreadable and therefore would serve no purpose to speak of. Instead, we can give the most important and interesting data along with a newspaper clipping and a picture taken while he was in France. His Service Record is most unusual. I know of only one other of the Daniels and/or descendants that could possibly compare in any way to it. I refer to the Civil War service of my Great Uncle, Harrison C. Daniels (1836-1927), see page 111 and 112 of Vol. I of the Family Genealogy.

Noah enlisted at Portland, Ore. Oct. 1, 1941. His discharge (or Separation) was at the Separation Center of Fort Lewis, Washington, July 31, 1945. Noah was an Expert Combat Infantryman. He served in Co. D, 7th Infantry and saw action in the following areas:

- Southern France, Rhineland, Central Europe, Algerian-French Morocco,
- Tunisia, Sicilian, Naples-Foggia, Rome-Arno Qo33 WD45.

Noah was awarded the following Badges and Medals. One Bronze Service Arrowhead, Distinguished Unit Badge Co 44 WD 45, European African Middle Eastern Service Medal, Good Conduct Medal, American Defense Service Medal, Croix Of Guerre OD 1st French Army.

Noah fought in every Front in Europe and returned home without a scratch. I am told, that of his Platoon, only he and 5 others made it across the Rhine river. It was a very proud moment for him when he was among those who stood parade for President Roosevelt in Casablanca.

Credit and appreciation is due Mrs. Clara May (McClellan) Weaver and her daughter, Mrs. Hazel James for making available the additional material on Noah Hobert Weaver. Noah's picture was taken in France during WW II. See clipping on following page.
3rd Fought On Every Front In Europe

By NEA Service

On VE-Day the third infantry division was at Salzburg, and was using as a mess hall the dining room of the Schloss Klessheim, where Hitler once housed his more important guests. But the doughboys of the third had walked a long and bloody trail to reach Salzburg. This division, which earned the nickname "Rock of the Marne" because of its impregnable stand in World War I, is the only American division which fought the Nazis on every front in Europe—North Africa, Sicily, Italy, France and Germany. It had more casualties—nearly 35,000—than any other division, and it holds the record for high combat citations, no fewer than 29 of its officers and men having won medals of honor.

The third's first D-Day came in 1942, when it spearheaded the landing near Casablanca. The division's capture of Palermo, after a D-Day landing in Sicily, was sensational.

When the Anzio campaign was launched, the third again drew the "short straw." Its men slashed ashore in the first wave, and it was here that the third established the record for the most casualties suffered in any one day. In its first 24 hours on French soil the division took more than 1000 prisoners. It raced to Avignon and the Rhone River, and breached the Vosges Line. Then, as a major unit in the seventh army, the third drove across the Rhine and deep into Germany.

Should any one find other corrections, that haven't been caught as these were, please feel free to write and let your editor have them. We always try to avoid such as are shown above, but in spite of our best efforts, mistakes will sometimes creep in and we welcome corrections. JHD.

On the following page will be found a group picture of those who were so helpful in furnishing your editor with the pictures and genealogical material in this issue of the DANIELS-DANIELLS FAMILY NOTES & NEWS. It has always been the thinking of your editor that pictures add much to a genealogy and therefore should be included as much as could be made possible. This is the reason for having many pictures in "THE NOTES" and likewise the many that are in both books, Vol. I and Vol. II. It should also be recognized that pictures in any publication increases the cost of the publication, $75.00 is the added cost to this issue of the "Notes", had I not used the pictures. But I feel that the value to the "NOTES" is well worth the added expense. Will anyone disagree?
Farm Official Will Address Daniels Clan

MANTEO—James A. Graham, commissioner of Agriculture, is to be the featured speaker at the annual gathering of the Daniels clan on Aug. 19 at 4:30 p.m., according to Melvin R. Daniels Jr. The clan will meet at the Methodist Church ground at Wanchese, on Roanoke Island, the homeplace of the clan.

Graham, who has served as commissioner of Agriculture since 1964, is a native of Rowan County and a farmer.

"Daniels Day," as the gathering is now known, was started some 40 years ago by the late Josephus Daniels and the late Melvin R. Daniels. Through the years the event has grown to be one of the nation's largest family gatherings.

Archie Daniels of Eden, the head of the clan, will serve as master of ceremonies for the program. Mrs. Rena Tillett and Mrs. Pearl Scharff will direct the music and entertainment.

The clan meeting and picnic is open to the public.

This Daniels' gathering is indeed a big event at Manteo, N.C. each year. Your editor and family was invited to attend once, also take in the "Outdoor Play" 'The Lost Colony'. The late Melvin R. Daniels, Sr. was our host.

The date, Aug. 19 is also the birth date of Virginia Dare the 1st known white child born in North America.

There has been no established relationship between the William Daniell (1677 - 1668) of Dorchester & Milton, Mass. and the Roanoke Island, N.C. Daniels. Neither has there been any extensive research made to establish a relationship. However, your editor and the late Melvin R. Daniels, Sr. did do enough research that a relationship appeared to be possible and most likely. It is a shame that someone of the Roanoke Island Daniels family hasn't made more of a research study of their family History for a Genealogical Record. A few years back your editor offered to assist in such a project, but no one seemed to care enough to head up the work in the Manteo area.

Here is what has been learned, and we will start with the Lineage record of the late Melvin R. Daniels, Sr. as given to your editor by Melvin.

A WILLIAM DANIELS, SR. came to Roanoke Island sometime between 1700 & 1720. A deed & will record in the Currituck Co. Court House at Currituck, N.C. gives the following as his children, but there could have been more.

William, Jr.; Joseph; Woods and Balcher.

The lineage follows:

In 1741, according to the Colonial Records in the Clerk's Office in Currituck Co. William Daniels, Sr. purchased one half (½) of Roanoke Island from the heirs of Dr. Noyes of Boston. The heirs were: Annie, Nathan and Belcher Noyes. (I should add here that the names, Belcher and Noyes are early surnames of families in the Dorchester and Boston area, neighbors and business associates of my Daniels forebears in Dorchester).

In 1951 (May 2nd), the above Melvin R. Daniels Sr. wrote me - "My great grandfather, 8 removed, William Daniels, Sr. came to Roanoke Island from Mass. around 1750 and settled on the beach near Roanoke Island. A little later his sons came down and bought ½ of Roanoke Island. I am living on the same land today". Melvin was of the opinion they came from Salem, Mass. Melvin had no proof of where in Mass. his William Daniels forebear emigrated from to Roanoke Island, N.C. I never found, in all my research, a substantial basis for a belief that any of the few Daniels in Salem, Mass. was named William. However, the name William was a common name with my Dorchester and Boston Daniels family. Also, a number of the William Daniels have not and I was unable to further trace their line of descent when I was compiling both Vol. I and Vol. II of my books. I will give an example and one who could very well have been the William who came to Roanoke Island. The dates are right to have it possible.

Page 83, Vol. II at the bottom of the page will show a WILLIAM DANIELS, s/o William and Dorothy (Budd) Daniels. This William was b. 16 Sept. 1702 in Boston and was a Shipwright by trade (a builder of ships). He was in New London, Colony of Conn. in 1734. His whereabouts after that could not (that is I couldn't) be learned. Being a ship builder by trade, it is just possible, Roanoke Island attracted him. Also, remember, the Roanoke Island land was purchased from Boston owners. People in the North Carolina colony favored the Massachusetts people with their business transactions. They had as little to do with Virginia people as they could.

There is also another Boston, WILLIAM DANIELS unaccounted for in Vol. II, as will be seen on page 85. William, b. 5 Feb. 1925, s/o Zebediah and Elizabeth (Leamon) Daniels. What is on page 85 is all that I and the others who worked with me in compiling Vol. II, was able to find.

Dare County, with Manteo as the county seat was formed in 1870 from Tyrrell, Currituck and Hyde counties. Roanoke Island was a part of Currituck County until 1870. The early land records (deeds & wills) for the Island as well as Marriage Bonds are to be found in the Colonial Records of Currituck at the Clerk's Office. These your editor copies back in the early 1950's.

The spelling of the name Daniel or Daniels should not disturb anyone, because the person who recorded deeds, wills, etc. wrote the name as he heard it or thought it was spelled. Many early land records will show the name Daniels, written as Danel, Dannell, Danold as well as Daniel and Daniell. In Mass. from 1630 to 1700 the spelling can be found Daniell, Daniel generally and the "s" was added with the 3rd and 4th generation, but still records show a great variation in the land records into the mid-1800's.

In North Carolina there are both DANIEL and DANIELS families. They descend from different immigrants, but at the time of immigration one spelling (Daniel or Daniell) was common two both. Those with the spelling Daniel can very largely be traced to the immigrant, WILLIAM DANIEL, b. ca1625 in England, d. 20 Feb. 1698 in Middlesex Co., Va. His descendants spread out west and south throughout Virginia and North Carolina, then further west and south. In 1959 Mr. & Mrs. Robert Neville Mann, Cedar Bluff, Ala. compiled and published a Genealogy of 244 pages, well indexed, titled, "Middlesex, Virginia Daniel Descendants". Your editor has a copy. I could not say if there are more copies available, or if either Mr. or Mrs. Mann is now living.

In North Carolina, those with the spelling Daniels can very largely be traced to the immigrant WILLIAM DANIEL from Mass. to the Island. The name became DANIELS by descendants in a short time, as happened in Mass, descendants of William Daniell, who came to Dorchester in 1630, as well as, the descendants of Robert Daniell, to Watertown, ca1636. A relationship between William and Robert has not been established, thou there very well could be, both coming from England.

SOME DEATH NOTICES, by Mrs. Josie S. Daniels, Faison, N.C. (1957)

I have ten (10) more pages of these notices. The next issue of "THE NOTES" will have the additional ten pages. Anyone working on the Roanoke Island, N.C. Daniels family will find Death Notices very helpful in their Reconstruction of the family. Someone, with the help of others, I suggest set to work doing a Genealogical Reconstruction of the Roanoke Island Daniels Family. I might help some, but not head it.
Greetings from Maryland and the focal point where, over the past 35 years, a large collection of historical and genealogical records of the Daniels-Daniells and related families have become QUITE ABUNDANT. Much of this material has been published, either in the two books, or the Quarterly, "Daniels-Daniells Family Notes".

Some of you may have seen or own the two volume History and Genealogy. You may have also seen copies of, or been receiving the "NOTES", being published as a Quarterly. The "NOTES" have been published and mailed on a subscription basis, which some paid the $ 4.00 a year; and others accepted copies without acknowledgment or paying. Many have written telling how much they have enjoyed both the books and the "NOTES".

Here is just one of the many written comments received on the books.

"This book is the result of the persistent untiring efforts of the author. It is both by Heritage and manner of Life that the Daniels Family contributes to American Ideals, and adds momentum to them" - Mrs. Olive V. Daniels Baxter.

It will thrill you, it will thrill your children to read and learn about the Life and Times of your Daniels Pioneer Forefathers. You will never have a better opportunity than right now, to give your children and grand-children this wonderful HERITAGE. Order now when you can receive Vol. I, FREE, with just the price of Vol. II, $ 16.00.

The number of Daniels-Daniells descendants to whom this letter and offer is being mailed is limited, because the writer doesn't have the names and addresses of all. So, do your cousins and other relatives a favor by helping to make this offer known to them. You can do this: (1) write and tell them of this Vol. I Free offer; or (2) send the writer the names and addresses of relatives, that a notice of this offer may be mailed to them.

Most Sincerely yours,

J. Harrison Daniels

P.S. It should be understood that there are Daniels in this country not descendants of William Daniells. He came in 1630 and other immigrant Daniell-Daniels have come since.
