In early 1966, we became interested in tracing the family history. This was a very difficult task at the outset because the early contacts by mail produced few results. Finally, we learned that it was necessary to make personal visits to obtain the desired information. This became the most enjoyable part of the family research since we could get acquainted with so many of our previously unknown relatives. We have traveled twice to the west coast and sought relatives in California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho. Many forays were made throughout the midwest. We also visited relatives in Virginia, eastern Tennessee and Florida. Research was conducted in courthouses in Rockingham County, Patrick County and Lee County, Virginia; Claiborne and Hancock Counties, Tennessee; Kanawha and Greenbrier Counties, West Virginia; Pulaski and Clinton Counties, Kentucky. Additional time was spent in the Virginia State Library and Archives and in other genealogical libraries. We have traveled in this quest an estimated 30,000 miles. The result is data on ten generations of the Moles family going back to 1727.

It is regrettable that some of the family lines do not contain complete information. We were unable to locate everyone or to make personal visits to all. Some did not return the charts which were sent them in an effort to get information on their families. However, we are pleased to have found some information on 1,542 descendants of Edward Moles, Sr.

 Possibly in this family there will be someone interested in tracing the ancestry of Edward Moles, Sr. to learn about the earliest generations in this country. We suggest that these individuals look into the early records of Maryland where the names Mold, Molle, Moll and de Moll are found in the records. Some information could probably be found in the early records of Pennsylvania, also. There are Moles found in great numbers in the Charleston, West Virginia area. They are also in the records of Pulaski and Clinton Counties and in the bordering counties of Tennessee. It has not been possible to determine how they fit into this family, but surely they belong to some of the early incomplete lines. There are numerous records found in Lee County, Virginia which we have been unable to place. They are probably descendants of William S. and Elizabeth Lewis Moles. We hope some future family genealogist will attempt to complete this phase of the family history.

It is necessary at this point to explain the numbering system used in this book. Each individual is given a number beginning with "1" Edward Moles, Sr. and then numbered consecutively through all the generations. Edward Moles, Sr. is the first generation, his children the second generation and his grandchildren are the third generation, and so on. Beside each name are numbers in parenthesis (1,7,13). These indicate the ancestry of the individual, the last number given being that of his parent, then grandparent, then great grandparent, etc. back to "1" Edward Moles, Sr. At the end of the write up on each individual is a numbered list of his children, if he had any. By following the numbers backward, it is possible to determine the ancestry of the individual; following the numbers forward one can determine the descendants of the individual. If the number and name of a child of a couple are followed by this sign # there will be found additional information further on under the number of the child. If the sign is not shown following a name, then no further information is available on that child. For example:

55 Hiram Sampson Moles (1,2,7,13,28)

28 Hiram Sampson Moles, Sr. is his father.

13 James Moles is his grandfather.

7 Joseph Moles is his great grandfather.

2 Jeremiah Moles is his gr. great grandfather.

1 Edward Moles, Sr. is his gr. gr. great grandfather.
Many persons are responsible for this book being in your hand. We wish to thank each of you for contributing your family records. Mrs. Maurine Richards, Amarillo, Texas supplied information to get us started on the early generations in Rockingham and Patrick Counties, Virginia. Mr. B. Carlisle Bowling, Willard, Ohio did an immense amount of work in a brief period of time on the descendants of Nancy E. Moles Bowling so they could be included in this book. Many other persons assisted in countless other ways.

We hope you will enjoy learning about your ancestors and relatives.

The Moles Family comes from the ancient Kingdom of Arragon formed in the Middle Ages by the Catalan-Aragonese Confederacy, also known as "The Arragon Crown." At least the first document existing is the passport King Peter the 3rd "The Formal" (Pedro III El Ceremonioso) (1336-1387) gave to "his servant Mr. Peter of Moles" (Don Pedro de Moles) to enter England and other countries (original document in the Arragon Crown Archive, Barcelona, Spain. Nobiliary. Chancelry. Reg. 389. Folio 182). It is also said the King himself named as his Counselor Mr. Mattias of Moles (Don Mattias de Moles) and sent his brother John (Don Juan) as a Royal Officer to the Ducat of Gerona then recently formed. The family is so divided into two big branches: the Aragonese and the Catalan.

I. The Aragonese Branch

The branch remaining in Arragon was a landowner particularly in the actual Province of Teruel (Figuera Valley in the counterfort of the Genebrosa Sierra) was given as a present to Mr. Dauli of Moles (Dauli de Moles) by the King; (Arragon Crown Archive Reg. 220-1 fo. 171). There are also ecclesiastics and jurists, among them two writers on Arragonese Right who lived in the 16th and 17th centuries.

Arm shield of the Aragonese Branch: A silver mill wheel on an azure field with sable irons and added a silver cross with two arms.

II. The Catalan Branch

Its center was in Gerona (Catalonia) where we find Mr. Peter of Moles (Don Pedro de Moles), named appeal Judge in the Gerona Ducat by King Peter the 3rd (title in Arragon Crown Archive. Volume 11 Folio 10).

The persistence of this patronymic in the family of course shows its gratitude for Peter the 3rd. This branch also includes ecclesiastics, among them Berenguer of Moles who received from the King personally a favor in the Barcelona Cathedral - jurists, one writer on Catalan Right and Landowners, like Anthony of Moles whose possessions were in Sarreal.

Arm Shield of the Catalan Branch: A gold chevron with three silver mill wheels on an azure field and also with sable irons. The chevron or crane in heraldic language is a piece named "honorable" formed by the low part of a cross or like a carpenter's square whose sharp end extends up to the highest part of the shield. Azure means blue and sable is the black color.

The Catalan Branch extends in its turn in three sub-branches: the Urgel branch, the French branch, and the Italian branch.

A. The Urgel Sub-Branch

It established in the Urgel region adjacent to the Andorra Valley (French frontier). They were landowners and owners of smelting iron furnaces, in Catalan language named "Fargas." The entrance to Andorra by Spain is just named "Fargas de Moles" and the customhouse is actually there. Then it was a feudal industry (14th and 15th centuries) especially working for armament. There are a lot of ecclesiastics, Jurists, magistrates, erudite men and some scientists in this sub-branch.

B. The French Sub-Branch

The same Catalan branch coming from Gerona spreads all over south France. Ecclesiastic dignitaries appear in the documents in Perpignan (actually department capital of the eastern Pyrenees). A prominent figure in this sub-branch is Arnold of Moles (Arnault de Moles), the glazier master who made the famous large windows in Auch Cathedral (16th Century) in whose square is the statue erected in his honor (Auch is the actual French department capital of Gers). They suppose that, for phonetic reasons, the family name has lost the final "s" in order to change it to "Mole," name of a distinguished French magistrates' generation from the 16th to the 19th century.
The original name however persists, like in the case, among other ones, of Antoine Moles actual Professor at the Strasbourg University, a mathematic logician specialist.

C. The Italian Sub-Branch

The transfer of a Moles' member from Gerona to Naples happened when that kingdom was conquered by Alphonse the 5th or Arragon in 1443 and several Catalan and Valencian families established there.

The first news date from 1483 when John of Moles (Juan de Moles) was nominated Cardinal by Pope Innocent the 8th. There are after that a lot of jurists, writers, personages like Hannibal (Anibal) the Regent of the Italian Counsel, Francis (Francisco) the Magnificent Counselor of King Philip the 2nd (Felipe II), the Marquis of Moles, later Duke of Parete, last Ambassador of Charles the 2nd (Carlos II) of Spain in the Imperial Court of Vienna and after the King's death leader of the Succession War where the Spanish Crown was contended between Sir Charles the Archduke of Austria and the great-grandson of Luis the 14th of France, who, after winning, became King of Spain as Philip the 5th (Felipe V) enthroning there the Bourbonic dynasty.

Some members of the Italian sub-branch had come back to Spain at the time of Philip the 4th (Felipe IV), of the anterior Hapsburg dynasty (Austrian) Charles the 2nd. The Italian sub-branch was always loyal to this dynasty from the first King, Charles the 1st (Carlos I), following during the Kingdom of Philip the 2nd, the 3rd, and the 4th up to Charles the 2nd.

It is then natural that when Hapsburg dynasty extinguished, the Italian sub-branch dispersed and only remain some descendants in Milan, Parma, and from whom come back to Spain, in Valence, Granada, and Madrid.

Arm shield of the Italian sub-branch: Three mill wheels with sable irons on an azure field; the same like for the Catalan sub-branch exceptuated the... gold chevron that in heraldic language usually indicates the stem or the origin household.

The patronymics of the Catalan branch are very varied, but persist Peter, John, Francis and Anthony.

(The above facts are proved by the notes existing in the Crown Archive of Arragon, Imperial Archive of Vienna and family documents. There are other references left out because they can't be proved. Among these the reference appearing in the Heraldic Treaty by James Febrer (Jaime Febrer) where they mention a Peter Moles as coming from Denmark from where he would have arrived to Arragon in order to serve James the 1st (Jaime I) siad Conqueror (1213-1276) ad with whom he was in the conquest of Valence, then belonging to the Arabs (1238) and by whom he received great favors and donations in Burriama, Nules, Ainaroz and Benicarlo (Valence ancient kingdom incorporated to Catalonia). Any confirmative documents were not found, but this does not prove that they do not exist.

(The foregoing information is from the files of Antonio Moles Caubet, in 1966, a resident of Caracas, Venezuela.)
THE COAT OF ARMS

A coat of arms is a design used to distinguish individual families. The use of such symbols generally came into prominence during the Crusades of the 13th Century. A knight in his suit of armor could not be identified, so his emblem was embroidered on the surcoat worn over the armor to distinguish friend from foe.

After the invention of gunpowder and other more modern methods of warfare, the suit of armor became obsolete. Other uses for the identifying symbols came into use. Most persons did not know how to write, so the symbols were made into seals which were used to identify and authenticate official documents. In effect, the seals became a person's or a family's signature. The coat of arms soon became an honorary token awarded those who in some way served to benefit the King, exclusive to the grantee or owner of the coat of arms. As time passed and more than one member of a family was granted a coat of arms, additional symbols were added to the original family shield to distinguish between the family members.

A complete coat of arms consists of a shield, crest and motto. Some of the oldest coats of arms do not contain a motto.

The coat of arms shown in this book for the Moles family is accepted as the earliest issued for the family name whose principle national origin is Norman English. It is among the earliest grants on available records.

The symbols on the shield are done in the following tinctures (colors):

The shield is colored "argent" (silver).

The "bend" (the diagonal band across the shield) is colored "sable" (black).

The lions' heads are colored "gules" (red).

(The search and attestation for the Moles coat of arms was made by Holmes - Corey, Ltd).
MOLES
ORIGIN: Norman English
CLASSIFICATION: Nickname
MEANING: Derived from the French word mole, meaning the small animal. This name was brought over to England from France in the 12th century. It then was located in Scotland and a noble family of Moles owned estates in the Lowlands. The 's' ending on the name indicates 'son of.'

TITLED LINES: Several Moles families were knighted in Medieval times and one of these prefixed the name with 'de' thus; deMoles.

ARMS: Argent a bend sable between two lions' heads erased gules.

FIRST GENERATION

Edward Moles, Sr. was born about 1727. It is not known whether he was the immigrant ancestor or if he was born in America and in Rockingham County, Virginia where the first record we have of him is found.

On Feb. 4, 1786, Edward Moles received a grant of land as follows: Patent Book 16, p. 151 - "Edmund Randolph, Governor of Virginia grants to Edward Moole, Assignee of David Andrews, 216 acres of land lying in the County of Rockingham on the head branches of Smith's Creek beginning at Robert Williams' line and joining lands of Henry Armentrout and Charles Divers."

There are two deeds of later dates which refer to this land and which offer proof of two sons of Edward Moles, Sr.: (dated 17 June 1800) "Jeremiah Moles and Edward Moles of Rockingham County to David Golladay of the same County for $210, a parcel of land containing 40 and 3/4 acres and 16 poles, being a part of 216 acres granted Edward Moles by Patent on February 4, 1786 who devised the same to his two sons, Jeremiah and Edward Moles, Jun., said land lying in the County of Rockingham on the head branches of Smith's Creek joining Armentrout." Signed by marks (X) of Jeremiah & Edward Moles. (Rockingham County Deed Book 00, p. 406).

(Dated 1 March 1801) Samuel McWilliams of the County of Rockingham to Jeremiah Moles of the same County...."Whereas, the said Jeremiah Moles on the 23rd day of November 1799 under a Deed of Trust conveyed to Samuel McWilliams one half of a certain tract of land containing 216 acres on the head springs of Smith's Creek which was devised to him and his brother, Edward Moles by the Will of their father, Edward Moles Sen., which said land was conveyed unto the said McWilliams as a Trustee to secure a debt of $87.31 together with Interest and costs due to James Laird and George Roland on the first day of March 1800. James Laird and George Roland have been fully paid and satisfied and now Samuel McWilliams conveys said land back to Jeremiah Moles and his heirs forever." (Signed by name) Samuel McWilliams. (Rockingham County Deed Book 00, p. 462).

Rockingham County, Virginia was formed in 1778 from Augusta County. Part of the territory was earlier in various other counties. The first settlements by white people were made in the Shenandoah Valley by 1730. A majority of the settlers, Germans, Scotch-Irish and Welsh Quakers, came into the valley from Pennsylvania and Maryland, crossing the Potomac River at Shepherdstown, Williamsport and Harper's Ferry as well as other places. The Germans made the first settlement, followed by the Scotch-Irish who were later joined by some Scots directly from Scotland. In the upper valley, about 70% of the early families were German. Southward from Staunton, Virginia the Scotch-Irish and Scots were most numerous. A few English came from the older Settlements of eastern Virginia, but these settled mostly on the eastern boundary of the valley. The Blue Ridge Mountains formed a barrier against much settlement from the east.

Most of the English were members of the Episcopal Church; the Scotch-Irish and Scots were Presbyterian; the early Germans were Reformed, Lutheran or Mennonites (German Quakers).

Smith Creek, which was named as a landmark in the deeds of the Moles family in Rockingham County, must have been the site of an early settlement. There was a Friends Meeting (Quaker Church) on Smith Creek near the present village of Tenth Legion as early as 1738. The Baptists had a meeting house on Smith Creek near the present town of New Market by 1756. Both of these towns are located on U. S. Highway #1 which follows the path of the old Indian Road of pre-settlement days, a trail used by the Indians and improved by the settlers as they came into the Valley of Virginia.

Smith Creek enters the North Fork of the Shenandoah River near the town of Mt. Jackson in present-day Shenandoah County. Somewhere along this creek, Edward Moles received his grant of land in 1786. Further search of the records of older counties might reveal whether he had land earlier than his grant of 1786.

The name of the wife of Edward Moles, Senior has not been learned, nor any reference to her. Edward Moles, Senior died before the date February 27, 1796 when the marriage bond of Sarah Mole to Daniel Oliver referred to him as "Edward Mole, deceased." He evidently died in Rockingham County, Virginia.

The known children of Edward Moles were: 2-Jeremiah Moles, Sr. #; 3Edward Moles, Jr. #; 4-Nancy Moles #; 5-Sarah Moles #; 6-Peggy Moles #.

SECOND GENERATION

2 Jeremiah Moles, Sr. (1) was born about 1747, probably in Rockingham Co., Virginia. He married Lydia Smith there on July 18, 1776. Nothing is known about her, but she may belong to the family for which Smith Creek was named. She was still living in 1810 when the following deed was executed: (Dated 25 Sept. 1810) Jeremiah Moles, Sr. to Jeremiah Moles, Jr. for one ($1) dollar, a tract of land lying in Patrick Co., Virginia on Gibblinton Creek joining Lackey's line, Slaughter's line & the line of James Moles; land sold to Jeremiah Moles, Jr. and his heirs forever, but not to take effect until the decease of Jeremiah Moles, Sr. and his wife, Lydia Moles. Witnesses were David, Abner and Josey Harbour (abstracted from Patrick County, Virginia Deed Book 3, p. 356.).

Jeremiah Moles, Sr. evidently moved to Patrick Co., Virginia about 1800 as his name is first included in the personal property tax lists for the year 1801, along with that of a James Moles who could be another of his sons. (James Moles married Nancy Foley, April 24, 1801, Patrick Co., Virginia.) Jeremiah's name continues on those tax lists through the year 1825. He probably died about that time.

Jeremiah was apparently a soldier in the Revolutionary War, but his name has not been found in the records of the Adjutants General's Office in Washington, D. C. However, many of these records for the Revolutionary War period were destroyed when the British burned the Capitol during the War of 1812. Jeremiah Moles did apply to the Federal government for a pension for his service in the war, but it was rejected. The reason is not known, but it was probably rejected because he could not satisfactorily prove his military service. He then applied to the Virginia legislature for a state pension and this was also rejected. In order to qualify for a pension of this type, a former soldier had to prove that he lived under conditions of poverty. Jeremiah's attempts to qualify for a pension will be better understood from the following documents which were found in the Virginia State Library, Richmond, Virginia.
"At a Court Holden for Patrick County at the Courthouse on Thursday the 11 day of December 1823."

"Jeremiah Moles Senr. personally appeared in Open Court aged seventy six years, a resident in the said County of Patrick Virginia and being first duly sworn according to law doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the provision made by the late act of Congress entitled 'an act to provide for Cerrtain persons engaged in the land and Naval service of the United States in the revolutionary War' that in the fall of the year 1775 he enlisted in the service of the United States in the Company commanded by Captain Joseph Crockett of the 7 Virginia Regiment with whom he served 12 months. that the said Regiment was commanded by Colo. Dangerfield. that during his enlistment aforesaid he was at the siege of Gwinns Island. that at the expiration of the aforesaid 12 months he was discharged and a written discharge furnished him signed by the said Capt. J. Crockett which discharge was lost by reason of the burning of his house. that he was afterwards during the Revolutionary War in the Militia service from 4 to 5 years successively under the commands of Colo Goode and Falkner and some other commandants whose names and the numbers of whose Regiment he has forgotten. that he was in an engagement at Sudberrys near the Town of Manchester in Virg. that he was afterwards in an engagement near Petersburg in Va. under Colo. Falkner & that he acted in the capacity of waggoner in the American Army at Gates Defeat near Camden S. C. and that he is in reduced circumstances and stands in need of the assistance of his Country for support. that he has not one piece of property of whatsoever description and that he has no other evidence now in his power of his said service.

Richard Thomas, esquire, came into Court and after being duly sworn according to law states that he is a neighbor of the above named Jeremiah Moles. that he has no visible property and believes he is not worth one dollar. that he is very old and entirely dependent upon the bounty of the County and the charity of Individuals for his bread. All which is ordered to be certified to the Secretary for the Department of War.

In testimony whereof I Abram Staples, Clerk of the County Court of Patrick have hereunto set my hand and affixed the public seal of my office at the said office this 2d day of January in the year of our lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty four and of the Commonwealth the 48th.

The Legislature of Virginia

The petition of Jeremiah Moles of the County of Patrick Humbly represents that he served from 18 months to two years in the War of the Revolution as will be seen by reference to the accompanying documents, that although his discharge is lost he has abundant proof of his Service as will be seen by reference to the affidavit of Colo. R. Sayers, yet his application at the City of Washington for a pension under the Act of Congress of 1818 has been rejected and he has been advised to apply to your Honbl. body for that relief which he Humbly thinks his Country ought to give him. In the absence of positive proof of the particular nature of his Service occasioned by the hand of Time and the loss of his discharge by fire many years since, he finds himself with no subterfuge to which to resort for support but the known liberality and magnanimity for which your Honbl. body is characterized. It is then in distress and with starvation staring him in the face that he makes this last appeal to the bounty of that Country for which 40 years ago he fought & bled. Is it possible that this appeal will be in vain. Is it possible that the representatives of a free people will turn loose upon the cold and heartless charity of this friendless world a poor old Veteran 77 years of age, very infirm with no house to shelter him or friend to protect him. Is it possible that this appeal will be made in Vain & your petitioner suffered to sink into his grave in wretchedness & misery.

Your petitioner avers that he subsists now & has for some years back upon the small pittance of $15 given him by the County of which he is an Inhabitant & the bounty of a few individuals whose patience is exhausted with an almost extinguished hope that the Government will take your petitioner off their hands.

Your petitioner prays therefore that your Honble. body will give him such relief as in your wisdom you shall deem meet & in duty bound he will ever pray &c. Jeremiah Moles

The known children of Jeremiah Moles, Sr. were: 7-Joseph Moles#; 8-John Miles #; 9-Jeremiah Moles, Jr. #.

3 Edward Moles, Jr. (1) about whom no data is known. However, an Edward Mold is listed on the 1810 tax list of Greenbrier Co., Va. (now West Virginia). He may be this Edward Moles, Jr. and is probably the ancestor of the Moles families who now live in the area of Charleston, West Virginia.

4 Nancy Moles (1) married James Manaca on November 9, 1789 in Rockingham County, Va. with James Manaca and Edward Mole, bondsmen. There is no other data.
5 Sarah Moles (1) married Daniel Oliver on February 27, 1796 in Rockingham Co., Va. - "Sarah Mole daughter of Edward Mole Deceased." Bondsmen were Daniel Oliver and Jerry Mole. There is no other data.

6 Peggy Moles (1) married Peter Riley on March 24, 1798 in Rockingham Co., Va. - "Peggy Mole daughter of Edward Mole Dec'd of Rockingham Co.," Peter Riley and Jeremiah Mole, bondsmen. Jeremiah Mole also made oath that "Peggy Mole his sister" was above the age of twenty-one.

THIRD GENERATION

7 Joseph Moles (1,2) was born about 1777, probably in Rockingham Co., Va. The name of his wife is not known and she must have died before 1842 since she was not named in her husband's will. Joseph Moles made his will on February 23, 1842 (Patrick Co., Va. Will Book 3, p. 240). His bequests included: three shillings each to his grandchildren, Jeney Ann and Sally Branch; one dollar each to son Samuel Moles, son James Moles, daughter Nancy Boiling, daughter Mary Moles; balance of estate to daughter Caty Moles who was also named executrix of the will. Witnesses were: James Via, Jesse Corn, Marshall Waid and America H. Waid. Caty Moles made bond and was granted a certificate of probate at the October 1842 term of Patrick County court.

His children were: 10-Caty Moles born about 1794 in Patrick Co., Va.; she never married; 11-Lydia Moles #; 12-Samuel Moles #; 13-James Moles #; 14-Mary Moles #; 15 Nancy Moles #.

8 John Moles (1,2) married Nancy Bridges on November 18, 1805 in Patrick Co., Va. The dates of their births and deaths are not known. Their children were: 16-William S. Moles #; 17-Catherine Moles #; 18-Esther Moles #; 19-John Burrell Moles #; 20-Mary J. Moles, born 1829 in Patrick Co., Va.

9 Jeremiah Moles, Jr. (1,2) was probably born in Rockingham Co., Va., the date unknown. His first wife was Elizabeth Scott whom he married on June 20, 1801 in Augusta Co., Va. On January 12, 1809, he married his second wife, Millie Reynolds in Patrick Co., Va. Nothing is known about his children.

FOURTH GENERATION

11 Lydia Moles (1,2,7) was born about 1805 in Patrick Co., Va. There she married Oliver Branch on May 29, 1824. She probably died before 1842 since she was not named in her father's will though her children were mentioned. Her children were: 21-Jeney Ann Branch; 22-Sally Branch.

12 Samuel Moles (1,2,7) was born about 1807 in Patrick Co., Va. He married Mary "Polly" Parker on October 26, 1842 in Patrick Co. She was born in Patrick Co. about 1810. On October 30, 1847, Samuel Moles received a grant of land from the Commonwealth of Virginia "on the south waters of Goblintown Creek" (recorded in Bk 99, p. 510) and another grant on June 30, 1848 (Bk. 100, p. 170). Samuel and Mary Parker Moles both died in Hancock Co., Tenn. They had one son: 23-Andrew R. Moles, born about 1843, Patrick Co., Va.

13 James Moles (1,2,7) was born about 1811 in Patrick Co., Va. He married Elizabeth Keaton on April 19, 1832 in Patrick Co. She was born about 1811. In 1856, they moved by ox wagon to Hancock Co., Tenn. along with his brother, Samuel and his family, and four other families— the Jeffersons, Dotsons, Keatons and Foleys. They settled about eight miles west of Sneedville in what is now known as the Seventh District. The farm on which he settled remained in the family until 1910.

In 1860, James and Samuel Moles returned to Virginia to sell James’ farm there. They walked the entire distance and the trip (one-way) took them three weeks. This transaction is on record in Patrick County Deed Book 17, p. 220, dated December 20, 1860—“James Moles of the County of Hancock, State of Tennessee” sells to Daniel Smith “a certain parcel of land lying and being in the County of Patrick, containing 250 acres, for the sum of $400 payable as follows: $100 payable in cash this day and the remaining $300 payable the first day of November 1861.” The land was on a branch of Goblintown Creek and bordered lands of Martin Slaughter and William C. Lackey. Witnesses to the deed were Jas. C. Moir and Tazwell Thomas.

14 Mary Moles (1,2,7) was born in Patrick Co., Va., date uncertain. Nothing of certainty is known about her except that she died in Hancock Co., Tenn. Hiram Sampson Moles, Jr. recalled that his grandfather had a sister, Mary, who married a Keaton. The 1870 census of Hancock Co., Tenn. shows a Sampson Keaton b. 1812, Va. and wife, Mary b. 1827, Va. If this is the Mary Moles, daughter of Joseph Moles, the names of her children were (not numbered because of their uncertainty): Martha S. Keaton b. 1843; Mary Ann Keaton b. 184__; Rebecca Keaton b. 1846; Granville Thomas Keaton b. 1853; Lucinda Ruth Keaton b. 1854; Samuel Jacob b. 1860; Doctor Keaton b. 1862; Josiah Keaton b. 1865.

15 Nancy E. Moles (1,2,7) was born about 1813 in Patrick Co., Va. She married there on August 14, 1833 William G. Bowling, a son of James Bowling. William was born in Patrick Co. about 1809. Their children were: 31—Benjamin J. Bowling, b. 1834; 32—Mary Bowling, b. 1836; 33—James Tyler Bowling #; 34—Minerva Bowling, b. 1840; 35—Harriett E. Bowling #; 36—William Ol Bowling #; 37—Nancy Caroline Bowling, b. May 1850 and died Sept. 30, 1927 in Patrick Co., Va.; buried in Bowling Cemetery, Stuart, Va. She never married.

16 William S. Moles (1,2,8) was born in Patrick Co., Virginia. He married Elizabeth Lewis there on February 21, 1831. According to family information of Mrs. Maurine Lumpkin Richards, Amarillo, Texas, they had one son. After the Civil War, they all settled in Indiana, then some moved to Louisiana and Mississippi, one or two went to southwest Missouri and one or two went to Nebraska. William S. Moles moved to Lee County, Va. about 1841 when his name disappeared from the personal property tax lists of Patrick Co.

On October 23, 1857, "William S. Moles and Elizabeth, his wife, of Lee Co., Va." sold for the sum of $1050 to Jacob Wolfenbarger, Sr. "a certain tract of land lying in Lee County on the waters of Martin's Creek, being the same land that I now live on bounded as follows; on the South by said Wolfenbarger, on the Southeast by the lands of James Bartley, on the East by a tract of land. that said Moles purchased of the heirs of Charles Speak and on the North and Northwest by the land of Henry C. Tyler dec'd containing 170 acres more or less. Also one other tract lying in Lee County on the waters of Martin's Creek, it being the same land formerly belonging to Charles Speak adjoining the aforesaid tract containing 35 acres with all appurtenances belonging, etc..." R. M. Bales and Fielding Seale, Justices of Lee County, witnessed the signing of the deed. (Lee Co., Va. Deed Book 14, page 94).

We have not been able to locate all the traditional nine sons of William S. Moles. It is probable that Elihu Moles of Lee Co. who married Harriett Grubb is one of the sons. The known son is: 38-William H. Moles#.

17 Catherine Moles (1,2,8) was born about 1815 in Patrick Co., Va. She married there on November 27, 1850, John W. Ratcliff. No further data.

18 Esther Moles (1,2,8) was born in Patrick Co., Va. about 1818. No further information has been found.

19 John Burrell Moles (1,2,8) was born October 21, 1821 in Patrick Co., Va. He married there on March 6, 1855, Susan Corn. For information on this family, contact Mrs. Maurine Lumpkin Richards, 1615 Travis Street, Amarillo, Texas 79102.

55 Hiram Sampson Moles (Jr.) 1,2,7,13,28) was born Feb. 18, 1882 in Hancock Co., Tenn. on the farm of his grandfather, James Moles. He died Jan. 23, 1966 in Kingsport, Tenn. while a resident of Church Hill, Hawkins Co., Tenn. He was buried in Rogersville, Tenn. He married on Sept. 8, 1901 in Hancock Co., Minerva Williams. She was born April 1, 1885 in Hancock Co., died Aug. 5, 1949 in Church Hill, Hawkins Co., Tenn. and was buried also at Rogersville, Tenn. She was a daughter of John and Lydia Ross Williams.

Hiram Sampson Moles was known by the nickname of "Harmey," and he usually signed his name "S. H. Moles." His early years were spent logging and running his own sawmill in Hancock County. In 1907 or 1908, he spent about a year in Harland Co., Ky. cutting timber for crossties used in building the L & N Railroad which follows the Cumberland River between Pineville and Harlan, Kentucky. He then returned to his family in Tennessee and spent the next four years logging and running sawmills in Hancock Co. He often floated his logs down War Creek in Hancock Co. to the Clinch River where the logs were made into rafts. He often rode the rafts all the way to Chattanooga, a distance of about 140 miles. Many times he had to run the rafts after dark, knowing War Creek and the upper Clinch River so well that he could navigate his log rafts at night.

The years between 1912 and 1915 were spent running a general store in the northeast corner of Hancock Co. In February 1915, he moved his family to White Co., Ark. where he bought a farm near El Paso. In 1917, he leased his farm and moved the family to Reyno, Randolph Co., Ark. where he rented a farm. In the fall of 1918, he moved to Mansfield, Mo. where relatives were living and again rented a farm. About a year later, in the fall of 1919, he returned his family to El Paso, Ark. where he purchased a sawmill and cut timber.

In 1922, he bought 480 acres of timber land near Griffithville, White Co., Ark. and moved his family and his sawmill there. He cut timber until 1924, when he decided to try farming again. He moved his family, this time, to Sikeston, Scott Co., Mo. and rented another farm, remaining there until 1927 when he moved to Akron, Ohio.

Unable to find work in Akron, except as a day laborer, "Harmey" Moles returned to his farm in El Paso, Ark. in November, 1928. In 1929, he sold that farm and returned to Tennessee, purchasing a farm four miles west of Morristown, Hamblen Co., Tenn. He farmed at various places around Morristown until the early 1940's when he bought a quarry and some grazing land at Whitesburg, Hamblen Co., Tenn. At this place he raised beef cattle until his wife died in 1949. He then sold the cattle land and returned to near Morristown where he bought a small farm and house. He lived there for seven or eight years, until moving in with his daughter, Lydia Moles Price, in Church Hill, Tenn. He remained with her until his death in 1966.

Sill, Oklahoma for further training being attached to the 129th Field Artillery Headquarters Company 35th Division of the Army.

Finishing training in the United States, the Division was shipped overseas, sailing from Hoboken, N. J. and landing in South Hampton, England for a few days rest after a 28 day boat trip, thence to LeHarve, France and serving on the following fronts - "The Varges Sector," St. Mihiel, Argonne and last on the Verdun Sector where I was on duty at the time the Armistice was signed at 11:00 A. M. on November 11th, 1918.

Returning to the United States sailing from Breast, France to Hoboken, N. J., thence to Camp Funston, Kansas where I was discharged from the armed service on May 6th, 1919, returning to my home in Mansfield, Missouri and after a few months there with odd jobs, on September 3rd, 1919, I claimed Ollie Opal Lati­mer as my bride and we immediately left for Nebraska for a short stay until May 1920 we moved to California where I entered the service of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company in July 1920. Working various positions until February 1924, when I was assigned the position as Ticket Agent for the company at Trace, remaining in this capacity until my retirement on January 1st, 1960. We expect to make our home here in Tracy, Calif."
