HEADLINES - "Disabled Miner Charged With Murder of Brother"

Wayne Brown is charged with the fatal shooting of his half-brother, George Washington Brown, 38, Monday night at the home of their father, A. J. Brown, 87 of Cyclone. Wyoming County Sheriff Lelan Phillips said the shooting resulted from an alleged beating by George Brown of their 87 year-old father, by the younger man. Investigating officers reported that Wayne Brown said that George, who had been drinking, slapped and kicked him. Becoming frightened, he went to the home of a neighbor. After he left, Brown continued, the brothers apparently continued to argue and scuffle until George hit Wayne on the head with a poker. Wyoming County corner Dr. Ned C. Rogers reported that the victim's back was peppered with shotgun pellets fired from a weapon at a distance of 56 feet. Rogers stated that both the victim's lungs were punctured in the back and at least 107 pellets lodged in Brown's body. The sons lived with their parents. Officers reported that George was unemployed and that the mother is a patient in a Logan hospital.

October 14, 1894. She was born January 18, 1875, and died February 1953.

Notes for Nelson Brown:
Nelson Brown was the son of Rachel Brown and Ace (Ase) Aliff. According to grandfather his mother Rachel was not married to and would not marry his father. And it was her wish that he be known by her name Brown.

Some time before grandfather was born due to criticism from her family because of her indiscretion. Rachel left home and went to live with her brother Evan Brown. Grandfather said for all practical purposes his uncle raised him. They lived at the mouth of Huff Creek, at least for the period of time my grandfather spent with them.

Granddad said his uncle Evan was good to him but Evan's wife Margret resented him or the fact that he lived with them and consequently treated him very bad. When his uncle Evan was not present she would throw his food on the floor and make him eat it of the floor while her own children sat at the table. Of course his uncle found out about all of this and it caused problems between him and his wife.

At about the age of twelve it was arranged for grandpa to be apprenticed out to work for others for room and board. I believe the name of the man to whom he was sent was Thomas Jackson. According to Grandmother this was not unusual for those times as other families did the same thing. If memory serves me correctly I believe George was also farmed out as a laborer.

Rachel Brown, her son Nelson and Evan Brown were all illiterate perhaps other members of the family were also, I do not know. However, Nelsons wife Elizabeth (Bettie)Perry and at lest two of her sisters were school teachers. Her father Andrew Jackson Perry was a Banker, farmer and Business man. To sum it up, Grandfather the little country boy who had such a hard life growing up did alright for himself.

Story given to me by Joseph Thomas

J. ALBERT TOLER. From the elevated plane of public service down through the fields of its usefulness to the community and its honorable connection with a leading profession and into the privacy of his family circle the career of J. Albert Toler has been characterized by a constant and consistent integrity born of high principles. His professional life has been marked by constant action, and as an official and citizen he has displayed public spirit exemplified
Mr. Toler was born in a little log cabin near Oceana, on Big Huff Creek, Wyoming County, West Virginia, November 28, 1883, and is a son of Henry Paris and Darthula (Brown) Toler. Henry Paris Toler was born at Sun Hill, Wyoming County, in 1857, and died November 18, 1918. He was a son of John and Elizabeth "Polly" (Cline) Toler, and a grandson of Zachariah Toler, who was born in Ireland and as a young man immigrated to America, settling in what is now West Virginia, where his son John was born. When John was still a child the family returned to Ireland, but again came to America when he was nineteen or twenty years of age and located below the mouth of Big Cub Creek, where Zachariah Toler died at the remarkable age of 102 years, after a career spent in farming. A number of interesting anecdotes are related of the prowess, strength and endurance of this sturdy old immigrant, as well as of his son John, also a farmer, who lived to be ninety-four years of age, and of the latter's wife, Elizabeth, or "Polly," who was nearly 100 years of age at the time of her demise. Henry Paris Toler passed his life in farming, in addition to which he dealt in the timber which he cut from his land and which he contracted to deliver at the river bank. He was a leader in the Missionary Baptist Church, and, like the other members of the Toler family, as well as the Browns (who lived on Big Huff) was a stanch adherent of the democratic party until 1892, when all became republicans. Aside from Henry P. the members of the family belonged to the Primitive Baptist faith. At Oceana, West Virginia, Henry P. Toler was united in marriage with Miss Darthula Brown, who was born on Big Huff Creek, Wyoming County, a daughter of Jack Brown. She survives her husband and for the most part makes her home with her son, J. Albert. Of the eleven children of Henry P. and Darthula Toler nine are living, four of these being sons, all self-educated: W. R., who is a justice of the peace at Mullens; J. Albert, of this notice; John H., a graduate of Concord Normal School and West Virginia University, who is now principal of the Mullens District High School; and Buren H., a graduate of Concord Normal School, who also attended the State University, served in the World war, and is now superintendent of schools of the Slab Fork District.

In his youth J. Albert Toler attended the schools of the community in which he lived, including the Laurel Branch school house, a log structure of one room, and when still little more than a lad entered upon his career as an educator, a vocation to which he devoted, in all, four years. His first trip outside of the county occurred when he was twenty years of age, when he went to the Concord Normal School at Athens, attending that institution for a part of two years. He then resumed his teaching activities, and while thus engaged borrowed law books and began to pre-
