A Word of Explanation

Before her death Mrs. Denham had done so much work on this Family Tree, and had shown so much interest in it, that I felt I should complete her work. The research was hers, as well as most of the work of putting the material in shape for printing. I sincerely trust it will prove of interest to all whose contributions have made it possible. At the beginning of the work I have included several copies of documents which I thought would be of general interest. In these copies the spelling is as it appears in the originals.

Dedication

Mrs. MYRTLE LANE DENHAM

DEDICATED to all those loved ones who have gone on before and have had their share in making this America a wonderful place in which to live.

To our Fathers who cleared the forests, tilled the soil, and fought to give us our many freedoms.

To our Mothers who spun the yarn, wove the cloth, and suffered every hardship possible to rear their families. To all those who will follow, trusting that we may understand and appreciate the price paid for our country and freedom, the teaching of love, loyalty, faithfulness, truth, honesty, and sincere yielding to and following the Lord Jesus Christ, Who paid the price of our sins on the Cross, established the Church, and gave us the open Bible with the task of spreading the Gospel to all the world.

JOHN 3:16. “FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD THAT HE GAVE HIS ONLY BEGOTTEN SON THAT WHOSOEVER BELIEVETH IN HIM SHOULD NOT PERISH, BUT HAVE EVERLASTING LIFE.”

The best and happiest life is found when we take the Lord Jesus Christ as our Master and Guide during this life, looking forward to the time when we will meet Him and our loved ones who have gone before and are in the Glory Land with God the Father.
The Name Neill

From "The Surnames of Scotland," Black, 1946, Page 625. "Neil, Neill, Neal, G. Niall, E.G. Niall, Latinized (gen) by Adamson. (v.c., 1, 49) Nellis, is a diminutive of Irish "Nia," 'Champion.' Niall was borrowed by the Norsemen, and appears in their language Njall and Njal. Among the Normans in France the name became Nesle or Nele, and by them it was introduced into England and appears in Domesday Book. In England the name was Latinized Nigellus on the supposition that it meant Black, and in this form is the source of the Scottish 'Nigel.'

The family of Neill of Barnwell, Ayrshire, claim descent from a cadet of McNeill of Barra, c. 1550, who is said to have settled in Ayrshire. In Galloway, it is said. Neil was sometimes used as a shortening of McNiellie."
"The first Friends' Meeting organized in Ireland was held at Wm. Edmundson's house in Lurgan, in the year 1654. . . . Another meeting was begun at Cavan in 1655, and to this meeting a Wm. O'Neill joined himself in 1656. Dropping the 'O' from his name, he ever afterwards wrote himself as 'William Neill.' Sewell speaks of him as William Neill. . . .

In the year 1730, Lewis Neill and his two brothers, John and William, took passage from Lurgan, Ireland, and landed in Pa., and family tradition says settled near Lancaster. Pa., Finding the lands mostly taken up, and few opportunities offering for getting on in the world, John and Lewis were early attracted to the beautiful Shenandoah Valley. . . . They were the grandsons of the above William Neill. . . . About the year 1733 they left Pa., in company with a number of Friends and permanently took up their residence in the Valley of Virginia."

Geo. Duckworth Neill, of Kingston, Madison Co., Ark., was in our city on Saturday, Sept. 28, and spent the evening with your correspondent. He is a remarkable man in many respects and a short sketch of his life may be of some interest to some of you readers.

He was born in Burke Co. N. Carolina, May 17, 1817, came to Madison and settled near Kingston in the spring of 1852, and has lived there ever since. His height was six feet three inches, his weight was 214 lbs. He has worked on a farm all his life. In the year 1882, when 65 years of age, he broke and laid off, each way, twenty seven acres of land and planted it in corn, and gathered 1,600 bushels of corn off the twenty seven acres. In addition to this he turned eight acres of land, which he sowed in oats, which made a large yield. He did all the work himself, hiring no help except one hand to cover the corn when planted in the spring, which took 2 and one-half days. In addition to this he attended to a herd of cattle, which he had in the range of eight miles away from home, making weekly visits to them to give them salt. He had forty head of cattle. He informed your correspondent that he did not know the taste of coffee nor brandy, as he had never tasted either since he was a child. He never drank as much as a teaspoonful of whiskey at one time in his life. He never had a headache or backache, and never knew what it was to feel sleepy or drowsy in his life. Has gone to the Masonic Lodge and assisted in conferring degrees all night, several times in his life, and never felt any worse for it.

Coming home from Little Rock several years ago he rode horseback forty miles in the daylight and twenty two miles after dark, reaching home after midnight, slept the balance of the night, but rose at his usual time early dawn, and did a good day's work next day. He had all his life risen at daylight winter and summer. His habit was rise at daylight, hitch to his plow at 6 a.m. turn out at 11, rest until 1 p.m. precisely at 1 p.m. he hitched to his plow turned out at 6 p.m. and went to bed at 7:30 p.m. He has smoked his pipe from his boyhood never had the whooping cough. His education was limited, but he did learn to read when a small boy, and yet has in his possession his first speller, in which he learned his A.B.C.'s. The first books he read through were the Old Bible and the Testament. He then read the revised statutes of North Carolina, then Potter's Justice of North Carolina. After that he read several medical works and then studied Scott's Military tactics. He then studied vocal music until he was able to compose his own music, singing and playing it on his fiddle at the same time. He has been an elder in the "Cumberland Presbyterian Church" thirty seven years, and Master and Royal Arch Mason since 1854, or thirty five years. He served several years as County and Probate Judge.

His wife died in 1859 and he has lived a widower thirty years. He is yet an active, sprightly man, can ride fifty miles a day on horseback, has ridden this year... over 750 miles on his horse, besides other riding through the woods looking after his stock, never saw the mule or horse that he was afraid to ride, except it be a Mexican mustang. He can even yet stand straight on his horse’s back when he is in a gallop and keep two apples tossed up, catching them as they fell like a Chinese juggler. But he saw something on our streets today that beat him, and he acknowledged the corn. It was a man riding a bicycle the first he ever saw, and he gave it a wide berth.

I offered to pay for his night’s lodging and give him $1.50 if he would ride it across one block. But he begged to be excused. He never saw an electric light until they blazed up on our streets this eve, and he expressed his surprise and admiration in fitting language.

He never wore a pair of spectacles, and can see to read fine print with his natural eyes and yet shoots his rifle gun, killing squirrels out of the top most branches of the tallest trees, and can see and distinguish his cattle at a distance of one mile. He has played a fiddle for many years, but never was much for dancing.

He has now in his possession, and always carries in his vest pocket, several pieces of old continental money, some dated in 1775 and 1776 and 1778 and some 1780, which his grandfather, John Neill, received in payment for services rendered as a soldier in the Revolutionary War, and also has at his home a hay fork which his grandfather brought from Ireland, about the year 1764.

He says his Father, William Neill, weight was 264 lbs., and his brother 275 lbs.

Ever loving Daughter and grandchildren all

I once more take my pen in hand to write you a few lines to let you know we are both still in the land of the living and in moderate health at this time hoping these lines may find you all in good health of body and of mind we received your letter of May and was truly glad to hear from you and to hear you was all well and doing well I have neglected writing to you till now One reason was three of your sisters was in the family way. Vina was brought to bed the 5 of June and had a daughter ded born but she done very well and Jane was brought to bed the 20 of June and had a fine daughter and is doing well. Becca was brought to bed the 1 day of August and had a fine daughter and is doing well. Matta Duck is still in bad health but she can still go about. She was here a few weeks back and was better than a week. Thomas Duck and the two boys is well and Mary Duck is still living with Tom and she has her health moderate.

We heard from the MBriers this week. They was well with the exception of the youngest girl and she was better.

You wanted to know how old we are, I was 72 years old the 21 of June. Your mother was 72 years old the 31 day of May. I was born 1782 June the 21. Your mother was born 1782 May 31. I have had my health better this summer than some years past. Till lately my health has not bin very good. I am much better at present. Your mothers health is tolerable good but her breath is short and she makes a bad out of walking. She can make out to walk over to Beccas and back. We make our home at James Sloops. Your mother has not been to where Jane lives as yet, but talks of going soon. Jane has seven children 4 boys and 3 girls. Vina has 4 children 2 boys 2 girls. Becca has 10 children 7 girls 3 boys all well and harty. There is a great deal of sickness in our County and a great many deaths. Still we are all spared to the present. O how thankful we ought to be. We had a frost in the Spring that hurt the wheat crops very much and we have a drouth that have cut the corn crops very short. Wheat is worth a dollar per bushel and it is thought corn will be worth a dollar per bushel from the heap. Bocan is worth from 6 to 7 cents per pound. Micayah Southard has sold out here and moved to White County and took his father and mother with him. The old folks was in moderate health.

We heard from Ute this summer and he was well and teaching school in bracket town. We have not heard from union georgia for some time. We are looking for a letter from there now. They was all well when we heard from there last. I want you to wright to us as soon as you get this letter and wright about old brother Demcy if you no any thing about him and try to let him see this letter and tell him to wright to me. Direct his letter to Athens, Tennessee, if you cant go to see him let som of the boys go to see him and try to git acquainted as you are at a great distance from all your kin. Chism Arrowwood had not — back from —affirma when we heard from Liza. She stated she would look for him this fall. We are both as well sattisfied as the nature of the case will admit as our children is so scattered that we cant see them as we would wish but we must try to be patient. We can say what many others cannot say — ten children and all alive as fare as we no and we 72 years old. James Sloop raised 158 bushels of wheat which will bread us I year and bacon is so low he has nearly enough to do him another year. So I shall conclude my letter by remembering our love to all.

Levi Perkins and Hopy Perkins to Anna Linebarger and grand children all.

TRACING THE NEILL GENEALOGY

Tracing the Neill genealogy has been a difficult task. In records of North Carolina History, and of the Revolutionary and Civil Wars are numerous lists of names and details of incidents which contain the name of Neill. Mostly, however, since only the names are given, without any family connections, it has been impossible to identify them, and they have been omitted from this Tree.

The genealogies given have been secured from family records and memories of those in the various lines, and seem to be correct. This, of course, applies to the erlier records. Later records are correct so far as the information has been available. In some cases it has been impossible to secure it in time for it to be included.

Appreciation is expressed to those who have supplied the information that has been included.

Six lines of descent from Capt. John Neill are included. Information as to others has not been available.

Of Capt. John Neill's birth, marriage and death we have not been able to secure dates, nor of the name and dates of his wife. He appears to have had four children, William, James, John and Frankie, a daughter. The oldest, William, mar­ rried Elizabeth Mackey, and was the Father of Nancy, John, Thomas, William, James and George Duckworth. Of the families of John and Thomas no data has been available.

The second son, James, married Margaret Morrison, and was the Father of William, James, Thomas, Andrew and Sarah. Of these information has been found only of Thomas and Andrew.

Of the third Son, John, no certain record was found.

The daughter, Frankie, married a Robert Scott, but that is about all that could be found about her family. The Father gave her a sum of money when he deeded his land to his sons.
Family tradition says that John Neill and John Duckworth, cousins, came from Ireland by way of Pennsylvania, through the Shenandoah Valley, into North Carolina in the early 1700's.

John Neill and John Duckworth, who fought in the Revolutionary War, were probably sons of the above cousins, who seem to have married after reaching America, and reared their families en route to North Carolina. The John Duckworth who fought in the Revolutionary War, had two brothers, William, and Samuel (the latter of whom married Mary Irwin in Burke Co., North Carolina), and a sister Lucinda.

Records show that Neills and Duckworths were among the earliest settlers in Burke County.

The history of the Presbyterian Church at Morganton says the first Meeting House in all Western North Carolina was a little chapel on the Western border of the State, long before the Presbyterian Churches at Morganton and Quaker Meadows, and the Neills were associated with it, or at least worshipped there. The name was spelled Neill, (Avery's History of the Presbyterian Churches at Quaker Meadows and Morganton), tho' it seems to have been pronounced Nail. It would seem therefore that the name had always been spelled Neill in our branch of the family.

Our Capt. John Neill must have been a young man at the time of the Revolutionary War. He would have had to be at least Twenty in order to receive the grant of land. His children were born soon after he received the grant, William in 1771, and James in 1775. This would establish his birth date at about 1740.

The children would have been too young to fight in the War, but the war records have much to say about William, Andrew, Thomas and James Neill in that section of Burke County.

It would seem certain, therefore, that the parents of all these boys came into North Carolina early, and reared their families, including John, our Great, great, Grandfather. He was probably the youngest son of his father, and his brothers would naturally have taken a larger place in the war. The names William, James, Thomas, John and Andrew have been handed down to this day in the Neill families. In an article in the Arkansas Democrat, which is included in this Tree, the editor states that he had a conference with George Duckworth Neill, who stated that he had been born in Burke Co., North Carolina, on May 17, 1817. Page 110 of the 1790 census of Burke Co., N. C., gives under: "Over 16 years of age or head of family," John Neill, 2, 2, 2, Morganton District. "Roster of North Carolina Soldiers in American Revolution," page 483, gives "John Neill of North Carolina Militia." Family tradition says he registered at Quaker Meadows when the neighborhood men met for war, near Morganton, N. C., joining in the battles of King's Mountain, Ramsour Mill, and others, in McDowell's regiment. The family has his war cap, wooden canteen, etc. He is known to his descendants as Capt. John Neill.

"The Archives and History of North Carolina, Salisbury District, No. 6790" states that John Neill was allowed 9 pounds, 2 shillings, for military service. Capt. John Neill's birth was approximately 1740, death after the 1790 census. He was buried in Revolutionary Cemetery, Quaker Meadows, with only a rock for a marker. A broadcasting station is now located on the hill where the old cemetery stands.
All records at the Morganton Court House were burned during the War between the States.

Five generations of Neill children were born and reared on the land granted to John Neill. Some are still living at this date. The grant of land in Burke Co., was made in 1765. A copy of this grant is attached. The original grant and other relics are in the possession of Mrs. Lou Marsteller of Glen Alpine, North Carolina.

Those were difficult days for the early settlers. The French-Indian War began as early as 1735. The portion of Burke County extending from Morganton to the Tennessee line, (Burke County was much larger then than it is now), was not considered safe until 1765, and the hills were studded with forts kept in readiness as places of refuge in case of an Indian incursion. The last of the Indian raids was as late as 1777, and was made memorable by the tales of cruelty visited upon many families, including scalping in some instances.

History and tradition leave a blank where we would expect to hear of the preaching of the Gospel from this early settlement. The Western part of Burke County was settled by the Scotch-Irish, from Morganton to the Mountains. They were Scotch-Irish Presbyterians. Our ancestors were in this group. No doubt prayer and worship services were first held in the houses. One of the earliest Meeting Houses was called Silver Creek Chapel, located near or on the Capt. John Neill grant of land. As has been stated, all records, if they were ever kept, have been lost.

There is a record of Thomas Neill and Elizabeth Neill joining Silver Creek Chapel, Sept. 10, 1836. They were children of James, Son of Capt. John. Presiding at the meeting were Elder John Duckworth and Elder Alfred Perkins.

(1) Patricia Louise Forrest. Born Nov. 18, 1939. Walla Walla, Wash.
(2) Gary Lane Forrest. Born June 28, 1941. Colfax, Wash.

G. Charter Ellsworth Lane was born on a farm near Purdy, Mo. As a young man was a fireman on the Frisco R. R. Later moved to Galena, Kan., where he bought a part interest in the Cave Springs Lead & Zinc Mine. Later he sold this interest and purchased a farm in Christian Co., Mo., north of Ozark, Mo. He was active in founding the Missouri Farmers' Association, of which he later became President. A list of his activities reads: President Producers' Produce Co. of Springfield, Mo., helped organize the Producers' Creamery, Springfield, Mo., and was its first president. Helped organize the M.F.A. Milling Co., and was its first president and always a director. Was a member of the Board of the Farmers' Livestock & Commission Co. of East St. Louis, Ill. Helped organize the M. F. A. Oil Co. Was vice-president of the M. F. A.
Stockyards in Springfield, Mo., and director of the M. F. A. Grain & Feed Co. of Kansas City, Mo.

He was a sound business man, a man of stubborn principles and a sustained enthusiasm to support his principles. He was a man of uncommon vision and faith, and it was his vision and faith, sometimes almost alone, which sustained some M. F. A. activities during the difficulties of early days.

He had a great capacity for sticking to a matter when it looked bad, and pulling it through to success, and when he had done that he was very proud of it. Though no man was stronger and more consistent in his fighting support of the M. F. A. and its program and projects he was not radical in any hair-brained sense. He had a reasonableness and an almost conservative temperament which was often a steadying influence.

Born Feb. 18, 1875. Died Oct. 16, 1940. Buried Hopedale Cemetery, near Ozark, Mo.
