ADAM TO CHRIST;
WITH
THE GENEALOGY OF
ADAM HEINECKE
AND
HENRY VANDERSAAL,
FROM 1747 TO 1868.
TO WHICH IS ADDED,
A BRIEF ACCOUNT OF THE AUTHOR'S TRAVELS AS AN EVANGELIST, WITH SOME INTERESTING INCIDENTS APPERTAINING THERETO
WITH
TEN SERMONS COMPOSED BY HIMSELF.

BY REV. SAMUEL HEINECKE, ELDER.

PHILADELPHIA:
COLLINS, PRINTER.
1869.
Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1869, by

Rev. Samuel Heinecke,
In the Office of the Clerk of the District Court of the United States, in and for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania.
Having long since wished to see the Scripture proofs compiled, so as to connect the periods of good men named in the Bible, I will direct the reader to the 5th Chapter of Genesis, where he will find the names and periods of Ancient Worthies from Adam to the Flood, a period of 1656 years; then to the 11th Chapter of Genesis, where there is another to the birth of Abraham 292 years more; then to Moses and through the Prophets. Then we find in the 1st Chapter of Matthew the sum of the different generations to Christ, which I have divided into periods of time; and in the 3d Chapter of Luke we find an unbroken chain of names from Father to Son, and his Son and so on, which I have divided into Generations, and brought into the same period, namely, 4004 years from Adam to Christ.

Then it affords me great pleasure to have it in my power to record mostly the names, ages, and marriages of Grand Father on father's side, and Grand Father on mother's side of a period of 121 years.

I feel that by so doing I only discharge a duty I owe to my connections and friends. And when I am dead and in my grave the sermons may direct the reader to Christ our Living Head; and finally bring us to Himself to live in Glory, for ever and ever, Amen.

SAMUEL HEINECKE,
Elder.

The maiden name of Joshua’s Kenegy’s first wife was Ann Sharrick. She died June 15th, 1828. I was present at the funeral, near Shippensburg, Cumberland County, Pa.—Samuel Heinecke.

(And it came to pass that Joshua Kenegy, Sr. and his son Samuel (No. 199), with family, removed to Stark County, Ohio. As I passed through Greenville, Stark County, an incident occurred. I stopped at Father and Aunt Susy’s, as she was called; just then up rode a stranger, and inquired for Mr. Kenegy. Said the stranger, “My name is Mitchell; I am the son of the Rev. Mr. Mitchell. Mr. Kenegy, do you remember, when you were a young man, that at a certain Camp Meeting wicked persons came to molest the meeting, and were about taking my father from the stand and abusing him, that you knocked the ringleader of them down, and that they then all went off?” “Yes,” said father Kenegy, “I remember it well; I was not then religious.” “Well,” said Mr. Mitchell, “I have always esteemed you for that act. If I now can do you a favor, I will do so.”—Samuel Heinecke.)

MY JOURNAL.

PERSONAL HISTORY.

Having now closed the genealogy of Christian Heinecke, and Henry and Elizabeth Vandersaal, I will proceed to give a few items of my origin.

I was born near Reamstown, Lancaster County, Pa. I am Samuel Heinecke, No. 11, of the genealogy. When seven years of age, I went to live with Uncle Abraham Vandersaal (No. 10), near Binkley's Bridge. Here I lived nine years. When I was fourteen years of age, one of the most wonderful incidents occurred here that ever I had seen or heard of. My grandfather, Henry Vandersaal (No. 1), was, at the time I speak of, seventy-three years old, and was severely afflicted with dropsy. He was unable to walk or lie down, consequently, he had to sit in an arm-chair day and night, and to rest his head upon a small table standing before him, with a bookcase within easy reach, so that he could read if he desired to do so. Thus he passed away time, as best he could, for five long, painful, wearisome years.
His second wife, and Catharine (No. 18), his only daughter by her, besides himself, constituted the family. I might have been regarded as the fourth, as I assisted them a good deal. I lived just across the road, perhaps one hundred yards off, with Uncle Abraham (No. 10).

Catharine was now past twenty-one years of age, and wished to learn mantuamaking or the millinery business. To accomplish that object, she went to one Sussy Schmock, a member of the Evangelical Association. There was a camp-meeting during the summer in that vicinity, and Sussy Schmock and Catharine went to it. Rev. John Erb was in charge.

Catharine (No. 18), embraced religion. Bro. Erb told her that his next appointment would be at her brother's, John Vandersaal (No. 7), near Shippensburg, Pa., and that if she wished, she could go with him and his wife. He promised to return her, when they returned. So they consulted Sussy Schmock, and obtained leave to go. They went, and on the second day after they got there, Catharine was taken sick, and grew worse daily, until the eighth day. She informed Mr. Erb that she had a presentiment from God that she would die the next day, and she wished him to write a letter for her to her father and mother, which he did. She then exhorted all around her to seek religion, and told them their old formality would not save them; that they must be converted. She told Bro. Erb to leave the letter open until she was dead, and then to preach her funeral sermon, and afterwards to make mention of these circumstances in the letter, and take it to her father and mother, instead of returning her. This fact the Rev. John Erb told me himself after I got into the State of Ohio.

I, however, was aware of the facts in the case myself, as I was at Uncle Abraham’s when the letter was brought and delivered to him, with the request that he would take it to his father.

This letter had the desired effect upon the parents. It brought them to a sense of their condition by nature, and to a determination to seek the Lord while he might be found. Accordingly, grandfather, not being able to go out to any meeting, sent for a minister to come and preach for him in his house.

The report of the death of Catharine soon spread far and wide. The news of the letter created a general talk; and the appointment of a meeting of this description was something new under the sun.

At the appointed time, the minister came. The house was filled with people. The minister preached with effect! About the second day, grandfather professed faith in Christ; then grandmother; then Uncle Abraham. Thus the meeting progressed for several weeks, by which time between forty and fifty were converted to God! They then formed a class at grandfather’s house, and had regular stated preaching there while he lived—a period of over two years.

Grandfather had a presentiment the day before his death, that his time on earth was ended, that the Master would call for him.

There was something very remarkable in his case! From the day of his conversion to his death, he had additional strength and power to rest on his bed whenever he wished, which he had not been able to do for five years before, to my knowledge. Then, where Catharine died, the work of the Lord also broke out, and numbers were brought from darkness to light, and from sin and Satan to the true and living God. Thus we see that the Lord works in marvellous ways, his wonders to perform.

There was another singular incident connected with this revival at grandfather's house. There were three men, violent enemies to this way of God's work. They attended this meeting for no good. After the formation of a class, the converts, with other members, celebrated the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Those three enemies were there, too.

They then invited their comrades in wickedness to come to Moyer's Tavern on next Sunday, where; they promised them, they would have some fun. So, when the time came, they met there, and bought a bottle of wine. They got a swill-bucket, and poured the wine into it, and in mockery stood around the bucket. But fear and dread came upon them. They instantly fled for home. One had to cross the Conestoga River on a foot-log, fell in it, and was drowned. The second ran home, took sick, and in three days died the most horrible death ever known in that community. The third fled home, took sick, and for three weeks it was not known what minute he would die. But he began to pray to the God of heaven for mercy, and continued until God had mercy upon the poor sinner. He never would tell what he and his companions had seen. An eye-witness to this circumstance was John Ream, of Reamstown, Lancaster County, Pa.

SAMUEL HEINECKE,

Elder.
MY FIRST JOURNEY.

I STARTED from the city of Lancaster, Pa., July 24, 1824, for Reamstown, where my sister lived, who was married to Christian Echternach.

August 13th. I went to my brother Jacob (No. 7), who lived near Hummelstown, Lebanon County, Penna.

19th. I went to Christian and Henry Young's, at Petersburg, Perry County.

24th. I visited Daniel Hain, near Liverpool. His wife was sister to the Youngs, and full cousin of mine.

September 2d. I went to Uncle Daniel Mohler in Cumberland County.

5th. I visited Uncle Christian Kendig, near to the same place.

On the 17th, I went to Uncle John Vanderaasal (No. 7), my mother's brother. During my stay here, his oldest daughter, Mary, and Samuel Kenegy were married.

October 7, 1824. I remained about here till the 30th of November; then went to Chambersburg; from there to Hagerstown, Washington County, Md., and stayed there over winter.

July 28, 1825. I took a new start, and passed
Frederick City, Md., toward Georgetown. On this road I got the first shock on the subject of slavery. I saw fifty colored men tied, two by two, to a rope stretched from the front to the rear, and fastened to a horse at each end.

I arrived in the city of Washington on the 28th day of July, 1825. I visited Alexandria; then passed through Baltimore city to Lancaster; then to the city of Philadelphia; and returned and visited my father near Lenglestown, Dauphin County, Pa. Then I passed through York, Gettysburg, Adams County, Pa. Then I visited Emmetsburg, Frederick City, and passed thence to Washington City, the second time.

At Washington I remained through the winter. On June 11, 1826—a day long to be remembered—I embraced religion, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. Wm. Ryland in charge. Then I entered the Sabbath school. I witnessed a successful revival of religion among the children, and a great one among the citizens.

At this city I was married, and after the lapse of eighteen years, I started, on the 14th day of February, 1843, to see the West. I passed through Frederick and Wheeling, and came to Cadiz, Harrison County, Ohio, where Matthew Kennedy, my wife's uncle, resided. He had thirteen sons. Then I passed New Philadelphia by canal to Dover, and visited Uncle Jacob Vandersaal (No. 8), my mother's brother.

This uncle was one of the most thoroughgoing righteous men in this section of the country. He told me some very interesting incidents of his life. He lived in Stark County, Ohio. He embraced religion in 1809. His first convictions, that finally led him to repentance and faith in Christ, were due to a dream he had one night! He dreamed that he was so near hell that he felt the embankment yield (for he believed in a literal lake of fire and brimstone). He thought the bank of the lake was giving way, and he was sinking down; and he struggled so hard to keep out of the fiery lake, that when he awoke he was all in a sweat. He awoke his wife, and told her what an awful dream he had. He now determined that he would seek salvation; and he said, "I went at it in good earnest." And he never stopped till he found pardon and peace. He became a local minister in the Evangelical Association.

He also at this time told me another of the most interesting incidents I ever heard. One evening, as we were sitting at the supper table, he said to me: "Sammy, I want to tell you something."

"Well," I replied, "speak on; I am here."

He then related the following incidents:—

I was once sitting around this table, with five boys, who were unthankful to God and me for what they ate, drank, or wore! I had prayed for them ever since they were born, and as yet they had no religion. I concluded I would pray but once more. If the Lord did not answer, I would conclude that it was wrong to pray for them, and would quit. I went to prayer, and prayed in earnest, and I got an answer; but how it would come, I did not know. But I soon found how it was going. Joseph, my best boy, was taken sick, and soon got so low that mother or I had to stay by his bedside! One morning, after breakfast, the table being cleared off, and mother doing her work in the kitchen, I was sitting by the bedside, Joseph said: "Father, I want you to call mother, I want to see her." I went and called her. Mother came. Joseph said, "Mother, I want you and father to pray for me. I am to die to-morrow, and I have no religion yet." I said to him, "We will pray for you, but you must pray for yourself." So we knelt down and mother prayed, and I prayed—and mother prayed, and I prayed again, and I heard Joseph pray, too. It was but a short time before God blessed Joseph powerfully, and he was shouting and happy. After his first ecstasy subsided, Joseph said, "Father, call the boys, I want to see them." So I called them in. Joseph took one by the hand and told him what the Lord had done for him, that he was now ready to die, and would go to-morrow; and he wanted him to promise to seek religion, and meet him in heaven. His brother promised him that he would try. He then let him go, and spoke to the second; then to the third; then to the fourth. He spoke to all about in the same way. He then seemed perfectly happy for a while. Then Joseph said, "I am to die to-morrow, and I have not seen the neighbors yet. Will you send the boys out, and tell the neighbors to come in, I want to see them." I sent the boys in different directions, and soon the neighbors began to come from all points, until the front room and the bed-room were full. Joseph exhorted them to seek religion, and meet him in heaven. There was a wonderful time. Joseph told them to come to-morrow, and see if he did not die. So the people retired.

The next day, soon after breakfast, the people began to come, and by 11 o'clock the front room was full, and the bed-room was full, and the kitchen was full. And just as the clock struck the hour of twelve, he went off like a candle—that is, he died so easy and sudden. I now made arrangement for the funeral the day after the morrow at 10 o'clock. The funeral sermon was to be preached at this place. The people went home. And when the time came for the funeral, the people came from every direction, till they could not all get into the house. The porch was full too. The preacher took his stand at the door of the front room, and delivered a powerful sermon. We then buried Joseph. After the burial, I invited all that wished to, to return and get their dinner at my house. Many came, and the preacher came. They all took dinner. After the table was cleared off, quite unexpectedly to me, one of the boys got up and said, "We promised Joseph before he died that we would seek religion, and that we would seek it soon. If you are willing, I am, to go at it right away; here are the people, and here is the preacher. So they all agreed to it, and they went at it. Such a time I never saw before—singing and praying, weeping and shouting.
And before that meeting was finally over, the boys were all converted.

And when he closed his narrative, my uncle sprang from the table, shouting glory, glory, glory, in the room in which we were eating. And after he ceased, he returned to the table, and told me that this was not all yet, for scores more were converted.

Joseph (No. 308), died September 8, 1842. Uncle Jacob (No. 8), related these circumstances to me in presence of his family, in March, 1843, when I was on this first visit to his residence.

SAMUEL HEINECKE,
Elder.
JOURNEY IN THE WEST.

In March, 1843, I passed through Wooster, Wayne County, Ohio, Mansfield, Richland County, and Bucyrus, Crawford County. My family arrived on the 13th of October, 1843.

I was licensed to exhort in 1845. I had a successful revival at the Blowers Church. There were 12 converts. J. H. Hutchinson assisted me.

In 1849, I joined the United Brethren in Christ. I labored diligently in their fold until the 17th of August, 1850, when I was licensed to preach the gospel of Christ.

About the 1st of January, 1853, I received a call for to become a Bible agent, which I accepted, and travelled through Sandusky, Seneca, and part of Huron County.

In 1855, I took a trip west; passed Maumee City, Lucas County, Ohio, and through the south end of Michigan, Adrian, Lenawee County, Hillsdale, and north end of the State of Indiana—Elkhart County, Porter County, Valparaiso, Laport County, and Lake County. Then I went into the State of Illinois—Joliet, Will County, then to Plainfield, where a cousin, Rev. Daniel Vandersaal (No. 309), resided. I then visited the Will County Mission, Rev. Fred. Diltze in charge. I then went to Chicago City; thence to Bloomington City, where I spent the winter.

In the spring of 1856, I went to Lexington, McLean County. Here lived the Rev. A. Wimset. He had begun a protracted meeting at Salem. It was a great success. We had 50 converts in 10 days. Here I got a call to travel the Bloomington Mission, the charge of which was resigned by Rev. John Carter, which call I accepted, with the consent of Elder John Hoobla, and Rev. A. Wimset, who baptized me by immersion on the 9th day of March, 1856, in the Mackinaw River. I then travelled this mission until the session of the Annual Conference at Lexington, McLean County, Illinois.

I was licensed to preach by the Conference, and took a transfer to the Rock River Conference, and moved with my family to Plainfield, Will County. In the spring of 1857, I obtained leave from Elder S. Healy to travel the Paw Paw Mission, which I did until the next session of the Annual Conference, which met at Hazel Green, September 4, 1857, in Ogle County, Illinois. I was reappointed to the same mission, with leave to travel jointly the Paw Paw and St. Charles Mission, with the Rev. Clark Adams. We were very successful, having revivals at different points—Pleasant Hill, Chartergrove, Malugin Grove, Twinngrove, and Somanauk Station (or near to it). We started about 150, who professed faith in Christ.

The next Annual Conference met September 9, 1858, at Adaline, Ogle County, Illinois. There was now a new mission struck off, called the Ottawa Mission, and I was appointed to it. I travelled it this year, and formed one class of 8, and another of 10 members. Conference convened September 14, 1859, at Geneseo Grove, Ogle County, Illinois. I was appointed to the Kankakee Mission, and moved my family to Kankakee City, where they have remained since.

Conference convened August 24, 1860, at Spring Hill, Whiteside County, Illinois, Bishop Glossbrenner in attendance. Here I took a transfer to any conference I wished to join! J. K. M. Looker was secretary....

I now took a trip to the State of Iowa. I started from home September 29, 1860. I crossed the Mississippi at Muscatine City. I obtained leave of Elder Wm. Eckels to travel the Red Rock Circuit, which I did till the 6th of May, 1861, and with success. We took into church fellowship 65 members, having travelled to Muscatine, Louisa, Keokuk, Washington, Mahaska, Marion, Jasper, Polk, Dallas, Madison, Jefferson, Boon, Story, and Des Moines counties. I returned to the city of Burlington on my way home-ward.

I attended the Annual Conference, which convened in September, 1861, in Warren County, Illinois. I was examined on the subject of reading, and passed the examination. Then I was examined for elder’s orders before a committee composed of Elders Isaac Kretsinger, John Enstine, and Joseph I. Robinson. I passed this examination, and was recom mended to be ordained. On the Sabbath, after the services, three others, with myself, were publicly ordained to the office of elder. The following is a copy of a certificate signed by the bishop:

This is to certify to all whom it may concern: That Samuel Heinecke is an approved preacher of the gospel in the Church of the United Brethren in Christ, so long as his conduct and doctrine are conformable with the gospel of Christ, and has been solemnly ordained by the laying on of hands by the bishop and elders, to the office of an elder. Given at an Annual Conference held in Warren County, and State of Illinois, this 14th day of September in the year of our Lord 1861.

Signed in behalf of said Conference.

DAVID EDWARDS,

Bishop.

It may be important to give a reason why it was that I was ordained to the office of an elder at so late a day of my life.

After I embraced religion, I felt it my duty to call sinners to repentance, and I had access to young people in calling their attention to this important matter! But I put this subject off. Nevertheless, I had labored at camp-meetings and revivals, and became teacher of a Sabbath-school class, and seen a number of children converted, and had led class for years. But getting married before I had acquired the suitable qualifications, my increased responsibilities made it next to impossible for me to attain them in good season. But, by the help of God, I have graduated; and though, as you may see by reference to the genealogy of No. 92, we have raised a family, half of whom are now in the glory world, yet I would say to young men who feel it their duty to call sinners to repentance, stay single until you have made the suitable improvements, and have been ordained to the office of an elder. Then you may expect to prosper in God's vineyard.

Having now been appointed to the New Michigan Circuit, I travelled it with some success.

The next Annual Conference met at New Maysville, Pike County, Illinois, September 18, 1862. I here asked and obtained leave to travel as an evangelist, having travelled the previous year 3475 miles, and preached 150 times!
TRIP TO THE EAST.

October 11, 1862, I started from home for Pennsylvania on horseback. I passed through Indiana, Michigan, and Ohio, to Eleria.

31st. Sold my horse; went to Cleveland in the cars.

Nov. 1st. Went to Wellsville; here I had the misfortune to lose my money. I got a free ticket, for my ticket was lost with my money. I got safe through to Harrisburg. Then I visited my brother Jacob, who lives in Lykens Valley, Dauphin County, Pa. Here friends made up the money I lost, and I was enabled to buy a horse, saddle, and bridle again. I then travelled into Cumberland County and Perry County, visited some of my friends, and preached in various places.
JOURNEY IN PENNSYLVANIA IN 1862.

I visited Christian Gippes, my brother's son-in-law; David Lebo, another of his sons-in-law; John Verner, a brother in Christ who was struck with the palsy, and full of faith and the Holy Ghost, ready to die, and willing to live. I went to fill an appointment for Rev. George Mark while he preached Bro. Hoy's child's funeral sermon. I had to cross the Mochantonga Mountain to see Rev. Mr. Geist.

November 26, I visited Revs. Joseph and Jacob Keefers. Here, also, I became acquainted with Rev. A. Manship, Tract Society Agent, of the city of Philadelphia, at Millersburg. We went to Harrisburg together. I went into Cumberland County to see Aunt Barbara Yessler (No. 14) and Esther Vandersaal (No. 15), near Mechanicsburg, a thrifty country village in Cumberland County. I visited John Hoover, and John Mohler, cousins.

22d. I went with Bishop Erb, George Gilbert, and Mr. Enterline, to hold quarterly meeting near Springville, Boiling Springs. I preached several times.

28th. I filled the appointment for the bishop, he being unable to preach for want of voice. On this trip, having the bishop's horse and carriage, one of the tugs, or holding-back straps, broke, and the carriage ran against the animal's legs and scared her.
She ran off with me; and in turning into a lane the wheel ran against a stake, and threw me between the wheel and the carriage-box, and bruised my shoulder dreadfully. However, as good Providence would have it, no bones were broken, and I got over the accident, though my arm is not sound to this day.

29th. I passed Carlisle, to visit John Lackey's.
Preached at night. This proved to be a brother who is married to my cousin Henry Young's daughter Margaret (No. 164).

30th. I returned the carriage to Rev. Bishop Erb, at Shiremanstown; I stayed over night.

January 2, 1863. I took the cars to Harrisburg, then back to Carlisle, then to John Lackey, who took me over to his father in his buggy. On the Sabbath I heard Rev. Bro. Wentz preach in the morning; I preached at night in the Youngs' church.
I stayed over night at my cousin, Rev. Henry
Young's, whom I had not seen for 37 years.

4th. Returned to John Lackey's; then passed
Harrisburg to Bro. Walmer, at Hummelstown, where I preached.

8th. Went to Lebanon, to Benjn. F. Swartz, who was married to my niece. I visited Sherrick's, Sneibley's, and assisted Rev. Mr. Stirewaldt in a protracted meeting.
16th. I went to Shafferstown to Bro. Beemaderfer, and preached there.

17th. I went to John Heinecke, my nephew.

19th. And visited Noah Sharp.

20th. I visited my brother, Benjamin Heinecke; I preached several times at the Blue Stone Church.

26th. I went to Reamstown, where resided my sister and brother-in-law, Christian Echternach; I assisted Rev. Mr. Secrist; he preached the funeral sermon for Samuel H. Echternach's child.

February 1st. I preached at Jesse Pennybecker's church.

3d. I left my horse with my nephew, John Heinecke; took the cars at Messmer's Station, and passed Reading to the city of Philadelphia, where I visited my nephew, Daniel Echternach. I preached in the city six times to good effect; Rev. Geo. Shoman was the pastor in charge.

11th. I returned via Reading to Klinefeltersville, and preached once.

17th. I returned to Reamstown, and preached; then I went to Fairville, where I preached one week with success. I stayed at Abner Clime's.

March 2d. I went to cousin Jacob Grube's.

June 4th. I visited Christian Deam, in Warwick; then to New Haven, and saw Geo. B. Shober (No. 148), and Uncle Jacob Grube, Sen. Then I went to Benjamin Donovan's, Manheim (No. 200), where I preached.

13th. I went to Mechanicsburg, to Jacob Vander-saal's cousin's.

17th. I visited Solomon Vandersaal's (No. 311) widow, now married to Warwick.

20th. Went to cousin Levi Mohler's, Ashland County, Ohio.

23d. Returned to Lancaster city, sold my horse, passed Pittsburg, Wellsville, Cleveland, and came to Freemont. I went 391 miles in the cars.
JOURNEY IN OHIO.

March 27, 1863. I visited John and Jacob Van- dersaal, in Sandusky County, Ohio, who were cou- sins. I visited their mother and their sister—Mary Ann Hollinger and Samuel in Summit County. Preached twice.

Went to cousin Jacob Kendig's.

May 1st. Visited my old friend William Maclain in Morrow County.

3d. I went to quarterly meeting in the Shaw Set- tlement, Elder S. Lindsey in charge; passed Union County.

8th. Passed Urbana, Champaign County, Ohio, to Mr. Ciscel's, where I spent the Sabbath. Preached twice! He was a Methodist; Troy, Miami County.

9th. I passed Terra Haute, Ind. I went to Ad- dison; spent the Sabbath; preached twice.

12th. Went to Wm. Buch's, Dark County, Ohio.

14th. Went to the city of Dayton, then to the city of Cincinnati, Ohio, to Benjamin T. and Henrietta Redman, whom I had not seen for 35 years. Re- ceived the kindest treatment I ever did receive in this world; may God bless and keep them faithful until death, and then receive them with Willie, and the rest of the little family to glory. Amen!
20th. Returned to Dayton, settled the claims of the Book Concern against me; saw Bishop Markwood there. Then to Arcanum, Dark County, to Wm. Buch's.

26th. Passed Winchester, Randolph County, Indiana. Then Mansey, county seat of Delaware County, Indiana, passed Marion, county seat of Grant County, Indiana, to Mr. Starbuck's, with whom I spent the Sabbath. Preached twice.

30th. Peru, Miami County, Indiana.

3d. Crossed the Tippecanoe River, via Francisville, to Rev. W. H. Morris's, where I remained over night.

4th. Passed Rensselaer, Newton County, Indiana.

6th. Passed St. Ann, then Aroma, to Kankakee City, Illinois, home, where I found all well.

In this trip I had travelled 2954 miles, and preached 83 times. I had a successful journey, with the exception of the loss of my money at Wells-ville.
JOURNEY IN WILL COUNTY.

16th. Moses Young, David Barrett’s, Will County.
20th. John and Levi Shaffner’s, Alsbroek’s, at Plainfield, via Joliet.
23d. Lockport, Frankfort, Rich Station, Mr. John Hewes.
29th. Jonathan Fenders; first-rate folks.
30th. Kankakee City, home.
14th. To Levi Tucker, Magregor’s, Lewis Fairchild, Lee County, Illinois.
18th. Troristen, Ogle County, to cousin David Martin, and Catharine Cannon.
23d. Lene Station, Rev. Geo. Schneider. Freeport, Rev. Mr. Witter, Stevenson County.
24th. Shoulzburg, to Mr. Emmerson.
25th. Fairplay. I killed the largest rattlesnake I ever saw to-day. Went to Dunlieth, J. R. Redman, at Dubuque, Iowa. Passed Delaware County, Iowa, Blackhawk County, Iowa, Waterloo, Cedar-fall, Adam Wise.

Aug. 3d. David Mitchell, Butler County, Iowa.
5th. Webster City, Hamilton County, Iowa, Fort Dodge, Webster County. Saw C. Cummings.
8th. Boon County. Was with John Burman over Sabbath.
9th. Rev. Josiah Hopkins, Polk County.
12th. Elder Wilson over Sabbath.
13th. Daniel Fry, Jasper County.
15th. Preached at Rochester, the funeral sermon of Lydia Lambert, the prettiest corpse I ever saw. Passed Oskaloosa, Mahaska County.
18th. Daniel Myer, eye doctor.
26th. Keokuk, Lee County, Iowa, to H. Scott Howell, B. T. Redman's son-in-law. I was treated as kindly as possible.
29th. A general frost, which cut off the corn crop in Iowa and Illinois.
31st. I crossed the Mississippi River, McDonough County.

Sept. 1st. Passed Farmington, to Peoria, Peoria County, Illinois.
5th. Washington, Tazewell County.
7th. Levi Clay, Livingston County. Visited Jacob Phillips and Jacob Hooble.
11th. New Michigan, William Untz.
12th. Kankakee City, home, having now visited my neighbors, Worrrels, A. W. Scotts, and Mr. Sines, and summed up my labors of the first year as an evangelist to the 18th day of September, 1863; I find that I travelled 4628 miles, and preached one hundred times.

SAMUEL HEINECKE,

Elder.
VISIT TO CHICAGO AND SEVERAL PLACES IN OHIO.

September 19th. Went to John Denison's, in the Dashiel Settlement, and preached on the Sabbath.
21st. Went to Peter Stabler's, then to John Hews over night.
22d. Passed Blue Island to Mr. Cave's, over night.
23d. To Chicago, to J. A. J. Kendig's (No. 157), Randolph Street; stayed at the Shaul House over night.

10th. Went to Marion City, Marion County; saw cousin Isaac Young, and stayed over night.

11th. Visited Mr. Biggerstaff.

14th. I preached at Mount Union; visited Richard Baxter Davis, who is married to a cousin Hain.

21st. Sabbath; I preached twice in the city of Marion.

22d. Visited the widow of cousin Jacob Young, deceased. She is one of the salt of the earth. On my return I visited David Holm, one of my Bucyrus friends; stayed over night.

23d. Went to Upper Sandusky, and visited Rev. Geo. Bender; stayed over night.

24th. Went to Jacob Ridley's and preached here once more. His first wife was awakened and converted by these meetings. She died in the triumphs of a living faith in Christ. His children embraced religion. He married again—a Mrs. Sheets. I stayed over night.

25th. Went to Bettsville again. The work of the Lord broke out, as I had told them it would, if they did their duty! They had continued the meeting from the time I left them before until now, and a glorious revival was still in progress, without any preacher. I preached once more.

29th. Went to Fremont; sold my horse.

March 1st. Took cars and went to Chicago, 243 miles.

2d. Took cars to Kankakee City, home.

3d. Went into the Hertz Settlement; preached there.

7th. Returned home.

8th. Went to John Worrell's.

10th. Preached in the Dashiell Settlement.

18th. Wife and Clara Bell returned from Washington City, D. C.

20th. I preached in South Kankakee City.

21st. Went to Rock Creek; stayed with Jacob Harsh over night.

22d. Visited Rev. Luke Barrett, Will County; stayed over night.

23d. Went to Cashabaum, to John Shaffner's; stayed over night.
24th. Went to Andrew Shreffer's, Lockport; visited Joseph Brown, and stayed over night.

25th. Went to Naperville, and saw Christian Kendig, my cousin. Preached here; stayed and visited until the 1st of April, when I went to Levi Shaffner's, and visited Rev. Vanzant. Agreed to fill four appointments for him on Sabbath, as he wished to visit his brother who was home from the army, near Rock Island, on furlough.

1st. Union School House.
2d. Providence Ridge.
3d. Jackson Centre.

4th. Near Gilbert Eib’s, which I filled; stayed over night at Eib’s.

5th. Passed Wilmington, to Mr. Taylor’s.
6th. Returned to Kankakee City, home.

9th. Went to Momence, to Jonathan Fender’s—a first-rate family; stayed over night.

11th. Visited Albert Waldron, who was sick. His father and mother were there on a visit. I had been in his room and shaken hands, and spoken a few words to him. Seeing that he was weak, I had gone into the adjoining room, leaving his parents with him. Soon after, his mother opened the door, and called me, saying, “Albert wants you to pray for him.” So I went into his room, and the old folks and myself knelt down, and I invoked the blessing of God upon us! The parents sobbed and cried.

Albert prayed, too, and God blessed him then and there! and he shouted “Glory, glory, glory,” and clapped his hands, saying, “Now I am ready to die.
Now I am willing to die." He lived about two weeks more, and then died in the triumphs of a living faith in his Redeemer. He had professed religion in our revival, near David Cramer's. But various things combined, and he let his religion slip from him. I stayed over night with Josephus Hamilton, a cousin.

18th. I went to Kankakee City, home.
20th. Visit to Drayer's and back.
21st. Went to Rockville. It was Vanzant's appointment. Being rainy, he had no meeting!
28th. Went to Myer's, Shoup's, and Elyea's.
May 1st. I preached twice at Rockville.
2d. Went to Kankakee City, home.

TRIP TO WISCONSIN AND MINNESOTA.

May 3, 1864. I reached Goodin's by noon, and Richie's by night; stayed over night.
4th. Went to Mr. Ryan's, on the Morris Bridge; stayed over night.
5th. Visited widow Parr. Stayed over night with Levi Tucker, La Salle County.
7th. Went to Lewis Fairchild's, remaining over Sabbath, and preached twice.
9th. Visited Peter Flemming, and stayed over night. His wife embraced religion at the Malugin Grove revival, six years ago.

11th. Went to Cortland Station; then to Sycamore, county seat of De Kalb County. Visited Abraham Van Dusen—a family converted to Christ at Charter Grove revival, same year. They remain faithful.

12th. Visited Rev. James H. Young; stayed over Sabbath. I preached about Charter Grove three times.

16th. Went to South Grove, and visited James Decker, the first convert through my labors in Ohio, in the Blowers’ Church in Crawford County.

19th. Passed Poplar Grove, to Hiram Baily’s; stayed over night.

JOURNEY IN WISCONSIN, MINNESOTA, AND IOWA.

20th. Passed Darien, Walworth County, Wisconsin, to Delavan. From here I sent, by cars, my winter clothes home, boxed up; stayed with Mr. Low over night, near town.

21st. Stayed with Mr. Wells over Sabbath; preached twice.

23d. Passed near Whitewater, on the county line of Rock and Jefferson Counties, to Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin, Crawfish Creek, and the Rock River, Bellville Station, to Bro. Ward.

24th. Passed Watertown, Dodge Centre, to John Holtz; stayed over night.

26th. Passed Fond du Lac City, Fond du Lac County. At Lamarath, there was the likeness of a spread eagle, of large size, hewn out of a rock, as a sign at a hotel.

27th. Passed the State line into Winnebago County, to Osh Kosh, the county seat of a population of 7000. Then to my old friend, Abraham Kniesley, three miles west of town. Here I met with five families from Bucyrus, Ohio, namely, Geo. Comodore and Humphrey Rogers, and their sisters, married to Solomon Spore and A. Kniesley, married to their sisters; Bro. Kniesley having embraced religion at Bro. A. Biddle's protracted meeting, at which I assisted. We formed a lasting friendship.

June 1st. I visited Solomon Spore; this man is nearly blind with inflammatory sore eyes.

2d. This morning Bro. Kniesley and myself went to Martin S. Belknap's, 6 miles west of Fox River, which flows into Lake Winnebago, at the city of Osh Kosh. Here I preached once, and left two Sabbath appointments for on my way to Minnesota. Then we returned via Osh Kosh. Bro. Kniesley took me to the main saw-mill, that works with fifty saws, when all in motion, and cuts forty thousand feet of lumber daily. This place is only about 20 miles from the great pineries, where thousands of logs are made, and rafted down the Fox River to this place, to be sawed. There are 20 mills here—mostly saw-mills; all are moved by steam power. We then returned to Bro. Kniesley's residence, and on Sabbath I went with him to his Sabbath schools, one in the fore, and one in the afternoon, and I preached at each place after school was out. Then we had class at each place, too, for he is leader of both. So, we see the fruit of one man's labor, who was but a lay member here, and stood alone for some years, but was faithful, and God owned his labors abundantly. The two places of meeting—one is 2 miles, the other 5 miles from home, and he meets them as regularly as may be. May God bless him still more and more.

5th. I preached at Belknap's, and stayed over night with him.

6th. I started on my journey to Wankau, Berlin, Green County, to Charles Burns's: stayed over night.

7th. Went to Blackman's Mills, Washara County, to Mr. Metcalf; stayed over night.

8th. I passed Decoda to S. C. Viniger, Adams County, on very dry, barren soil; thence to Fordham, to Rev. Adriel Bean; dined; then went with him into the country to Mr. Lockwood's two miles, and preached once.

9th. Returned.

10th. Passed Friendship, to Mr. Valentine, a colored local preacher. Dined and fed; then to Wm.
D. Niles'. Here is a mound 300 feet high, looking like the Capitol of the United States, only very antique. Here is the Wisconsin River; I went to Mr. Hamlin's, Juneau County. Passed New Lisbon. Here flows the Lemonwier River. I stayed with Mr. Pierce over Sabbath, and preached twice. Here is a valley 2 miles wide, and 15 miles long, where the sand, to the depth of 180 feet, must have been washed at some time by high water into the Wisconsin, and thence into the Mississippi River, and left piers of rocks standing, upon which are now growing pine trees! Here, also, at this time, 12th of June, 1864, are thousands of locusts, singing "Pharaoh, Pharaoh."

13th. Went to David Little's; stayed over night.
14th. Went to Sparta, county seat of Monroe County. Here flows the La Crosse River. Went to Mr. Jones's, a Baptist preacher. Had poor fare.
15th. Went to the town of La Crosse, on the banks of the Mississippi River, and crossed into the State of Minnesota. Passed 4 miles on bottom land to Mr. Splinter's. Dined and fed. While here, I learned that his wife's name had been Heinecke—the first of the family name I have met with in America, outside of my own relations. We had a pleasant time. Here flows Root River, a rapid stream. Here I received direction how to go further, by taking the Ridge Road.

I travelled on the Ridge Road 10 miles, constantly ascending a mountain, till I arrived on level ground. Here lived Mr. Hyett; owns a good farm; had the best prospect for wheat of any I had met with this spring, on the ground. Stayed over night; Vinona County.

16th. I saw the greatest ranges of mountains I had ever beheld; passed Centerville, to Mr. Parmley's over night.

17th. Passed St. Charles; here is a railroad; went to E. G. Young's over night.

18th. I went to Rochester, the county seat of Olmstead County, Minnesota, to Louis Miller's, who is married to cousin Susanna Vandersaal, daughter of John No. 7.

19th. I preached in the Methodist church in Rochester.

20th. Went to Silas Howard's; dined; then to Rev. Mr. Furguson's, at Marion; to Rev. John Haney; I preached here. Stayed over night at Bro. Haney's.

23d. Returned to Rochester.

24th.Visited Harrison S. Ludwig's. Stayed over night.

25th. Stayed with Bro. Tabor, in Filmore County, over Sabbath; preached twice.

27th. Went to Carmoni; then to Waukokee; then to Elliotaria, near the State line between Minnesota and Iowa, half mile. Stayed with Mr. Elliot, who is the proprietor of this village. Here are many pits, from 10 to 20 feet deep, without water, and mostly scrub oak timber.

28th. Passed Frankville and Harding, in Luanna County, Iowa, to Moses S. Teeter's, for the Sabbath.
30th. Passed Luanna Station.

July 4th. I started from this place, well pleased, to Manona, then to Farmersburg, to Garnivillo, which is quite a town.Visited Mr. Hiney, an evangelical family; stayed over night.

5th. Passed Millville, Little and Big Turkey Creeks, to Mr. Farris. I preached here. Had a good time.

6th. Passed the Holy Cross, a Catholic Church, to John Crowder; then to Dubuque, to J. R. Redman, for the Sabbath.

8th. Crossed the Mississippi River, at Dunleith. Went to Galena, to Mr. Hallett, for the night.

9th. Passed Bonavista, to Peleg McIntire, for over Sabbath, in Joe Davies County, Illinois.

11th. Passed Patty Grove, to Mr. Emmett's. Here boarded a man whose name was Gotobed; all the people here were Dunkards.

12th. Passed David Martin's farm, Carroll County; then to Forreston, Ogle County; stayed over night.

13th. Passed Polo, to Joseph Rhodes; to Inlet, Lee County, Bro. Tripp's.

15th. To Samuel Fairchild's; Mr. Beemer's; stayed over night.

16th. Twinn Grove's to Comming's, McWalter Noe; stayed over night. Here the Rev. Mr. Harshey and Deardorf baptized two persons by immersion in the Dunkard form. They knelt in the water, and dipped the candidates three times head foremost down stream.
19th. To Ottawa City, Mr. Purley's; then to Chas. Kelly.
20th. To Joseph Yeager's over night.
21st. Passed to Dayton, in the Shaver Settlement; stayed with O. Potter over night.
23d. To John Freyer's; to Adam Frey's for over Sabbath. I preached twice.
25th. Passed Dwight's to Wm. Untz; stayed over night.
26th. Jacob Bossart's; then to the city of Kankakee, home, having travelled on this trip 1049 miles, and preached 24 times. My motive in going to Wisconsin this trip was to settle an old debt, and see the State, and do what good I could. The God of heaven signally blessed the effort.

TRIP TO BLUFFTON, INDIANA.

July 30, 1864. Went to Yellowhead, David Cree-mer's; then to John Myers for over Sabbath; preached twice.
August 4th. To David Shrontz over night; then to A. W. Scott, and preached.
10th. Went home.
11th. To Rarich's over Sabbath, near Morocco. Here I lost my way twice. I travelled into the barrens 10 miles, and came back to the same place where I had inquired the way. I now found there was a Brethren class here, and I agreed to stay over Sabbath and preach for them.

16th. Went to Seth Baker, near Rensselaer, Newton County, Indiana, with whom I was acquainted sixteen years ago in Ohio. Stayed over night.

17th. To Rev. Loyd Webster; stayed over night.

18th. To Bennettsville, to Rev. J. A. Lamb; stayed over night.

19th. To Thomas Barns, Cass County, Indiana.

20th. To Peru, Miami County, to Jacob Shawman; stayed over night.

21st. Sabbath; I preached twice at Bro. Crider’s Church.

22d. Passed to Peoria, Indiana, Missinewe River, to G. W. Price, Grant County.

23d. Passed Marion to McNerpany, Huntington County.

24th. To Bluffton, to Samuel Kenegy’s, whom I saw married to my cousin Mary Vandersaal, on the 7th day of October, 1824, near Shippensburg, in the State of Pennsylvania, Franklin County. She is the oldest daughter of uncle John Vandersaal (No. 7). Bluffton is one of the most disloyal county seats in the State of Indiana. But this cousin’s husband, Samuel Kenegy, is an exception; he is one of the salt of the earth. We find no better men in this day and age of the world. By their fruits ye shall know them. I preached once there in the Methodist Episcopal church; but I suppose I was too plain. The minister declined to have any preaching at night. On the evening of the same day I arrived here, cousin Elizabeth Hamilton, from Wadsworth, Medina County, Ohio, arrived here also. She was sister to Mary Kenegy.

29th. I started on my journey to Huntington, seat of Huntington County.

30th. Passed Springfield, Indiana, and Summit, into Whitley County.

31st. Passed Webster, Syracuse, and Turkey Creek, to Mr. Strome's; stayed over night.

September 1st. To Goshen, Elkhart County, Indiana; then to Mr. Knorr, Mottville, St. Joseph County, Michigan.

5th. Passed Carlisle, Leport County, through Valparaiso, to A. E. Green, for over night.

6th. Passed Westville to Hebron, Porter County.

7th. Visited widow Reed's, Lake County, Indiana; stayed over night. Rev. Bro. Philip Reed had volunteered into the army, was taken sick, started for home, got to Crown Point, Lake County, Indiana, and died!

8th. I went to Jonn Worrell's; stayed over night.

9th. Went to Kankakee City, home, having travelled 470 miles, and preached five times.

11th. Visited Manteno, and John Myers', and preached there.

13th. Went to Kankakee City, home.
17th. Went to Wm. A. Day's in Livingston County. Preached twice.

18th. Another year up, travelled 3864 miles, and preached 113 times.

23d. Home; started on a trip to

DANVILLE, VERMILION COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

This afternoon it hailed most tremendously; knocked the window lights out of many windows in the country between Kankakee City and Chabance. I stayed in Mr. Stiles's barn over night, the lights of the house having been broken.

24th. The hail this morning might be gathered by the bushel full, in the road! I went to Spring Creek, and made arrangements to have preaching on next day—Sabbath.

25th. I preached twice; stayed at Bro. Braden's over two nights.

26th. Went to W. O. Koon's; stayed over night.

27th. To Bulkley, Lodi, and Paxton Stations; then to Bro. Whittimyer's, 2 miles south of Paxton; stayed over night.

28th. Went to Pleasant Point, Sugar Grove, Champaign County, to John Cooder's; made arrangements for meetings next Sabbath.
29th. Went to Rev. Daniel Fairchild’s; stayed over night.

30th. Went to Danville, Vermilion County, to John’s; stayed over night.

October 1st. Went to Knight’s Branch; preached at night.

2d. Returned to Bro. John Cooder’s, to fill the appointment on the Sabbath, as agreed on, when I passed on my way down. I preached four times with good effect.

12th. Went to Paxton, Lodi, Bulkley, and Onarga Station, to Rev. Mr. Hops, at Chabance.

13th. Went to Kankakee City, home.

VISIT TO ROCK CREEK.

14th. To Joshua Hersh’s.

15th. Visited John Shaffner; then to Joliet, Will County, to A. Shreffer’s over night.

17th. Went to Lockport; then to Plainfield, to Mrs. Margaret Vandersaal, Rev. Daniel’s widow.

18th. To Green’s Corner.

19th. To Rev. Josiah Kenegy’s, nephew to Samuel Kenegy, of Bluffton, Indiana. Returned to Green’s Corners. Preached twice on Sabbath.
24th. Went to Elijah Johnson's; stayed over night.

26th. To cousin Luther D. Hamilton's, Yellowhead, Kankakee County, to Peter Stabler's; stayed over night.

27th. To John Dennison's; then Kankakee City, home. Found James William had returned from the army, and taken the typhoid fever! For a week or more we despaired of his recovery! Doctor Dun-cansan was in attendance for several days. James was utterly helpless! But he began to amend, and finally recovered. I then started on business to Chicago. Went to Vanderbilt's; stayed over night.

November 4, 1864. Got to Chicago, Wm. V.
Johnson's; stayed over night; sold my horse.

5th. Took cars to Kankakee City, home.

8th. Day of the presidential election; our son Charles V. T. was here, from Washington City. We voted for A. Lincoln.

TRIP TO EGYPT AND OTHER PLACES.

November 10, 1864. I took cars for Arbana,
Champaign County, Illinois; then to Decatur, Macon
County, to Abraham Cramer's; stayed over night.

11th. To Sandoval, the crossing of Ohio and Mississippi Railroad over the Central; stayed at C. W. Stern's over night.

12th. Went to Salem, seat of Marion County, Illinois, to cousin Daniel Hain's, whom I had not seen since he moved from Ohio. We had a pleasant time. I preached in the Methodist church here.

14th. To Mr. Berry's; then to Mr. Harvey's; stayed over night.

15th. To Central City, to Rudolph Eohn (German Evangelical minister); then to Rev. Silas Leonard; stayed over night; made arrangements for meetings over Sabbath. Stayed at Matthew's over night. Preached here several times. Stayed at Thomas Fowler's, U. B. Stayed at Preston's.

20th. Went to Shuck's School House and preached, and stayed at Bro. S. W. Burr's over night.

22d. Passed Oden Station; then to Salem, to Rev. Mr. Walker's; stayed over night.

23d. To Middletown; preached twice; stayed at Russell's one night; the other night at Partmas's.

25th. To Dena McGiffin's over night. He is a wealthy merchant. To Flora Station; then to Ziph, to Rev. Jeremiah Creamer's, whom I used to know at Yellowhead when I travelled the Kankakee mission. Here I preached twice. Stayed at Jeremiah's over night.

28th. To Mount Erie; preached once; stayed with Rev. Samuel Kaky, United Brethren minister on this mission, Wayne County.

December 2d. Passed Enterprise, a poor-looking village of a few old houses. Then to Holthouse; stayed over night.

3d. To quarterly meeting at Jeffersonville; Elder, Wm. R. Gibbins, of Indiana (Centre Point, Clay County), 8 miles south of Brazil. Bro. Jeremiah M. Creamer's license was here renewed.

8th. I went to Six-Mile Prairie, to assist in holding a protracted meeting, having preached four times at Jeffersonville, after the quarterly meeting was closed. Six-Mile Prairie is some 15 miles from Jeffersonville, bounded by Stroud's timber, and inhabited by several families. Stroud, the father, moved here in an early day, and the children are settled round him. They all live in a plain manner, and would not live otherwise. Here I met with Bro. Cardwell, assistant preacher to Bro. Kaky, of this mission. He is blind; never did see; he is intelligent, considering his opportunities. I stayed over Sabbath; had a tolerably good meeting. I preached several times. We added two to the class.

15th. Two were baptized by immersion.

16th. I went to Ziph, to Bro. Moore's, for over night.

17th. Then to Clay City, Clay County. At noon took cars for Cincinnati, Ohio; arrived there at half past 1 in the night. I inquired for and found the residence of Benjamin T. Redman, my old friend of Washington City, D. C. Stayed the balance of the night, and over Sabbath.

20th. I passed Dayton, Montgomery County, Ohio. Then went to Arcanum, Dark County, to uncle
Peter, and saw cousin Wm. Buch. Here I visited some friends. I preached in the village of Arcanum on the first day of January, 1865. Stayed at Henry Albright's over night.

2d. Went to Caleb Brown's; stayed over night.

3d. Went to Jayville; then to Nineveh. This is a country place, noted for its wickedness. I promised to stay and give them two weeks' preaching. I tried to impress upon their minds the warning to the Ninevites of ancient days; that if they repented now, they might yet be saved: "But he who, being often reproved, hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy." (Proverbs xxix. 1.) I administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper to them that believed.

30th. Went to Greenville, the seat of Darke County, Ohio, to Mr. Porter's; stayed over night.

31st. To Rev. John Riggle's, cousin to Benjamin Riggle, of Lykens Valley, Pennsylvania. Stayed over night.

7th. Went to Uniontown, with Bro. Whitecar, with a wagon; stayed over night with a farmer.

8th. Took cars for Andersonville Station; passed to Pennington, 8 miles, and had to return on foot. Then went to Logansport, Indiana. After we passed Nevada, a rail broke on the car track, and the two hindmost cars fell off, and wrenched the coupling-pin, and jerked the third car, in which I was, perhaps, one foot up from the track, but returned safe; while those in the other cars were more or less bruised, though none were killed. After having been detained long enough to care for the bruised and wounded, we were all packed into the remaining cars, and we passed to Logansport. Here I remained over at Mrs. Lewis's boarding-house. I got acquainted with Mr. Wilshier M. Davis, an insurance agent, who informed me of a protracted meeting in progress.

9th. He showed me the way, and I went out for over Sabbath—Rev. Mr. Winegardner in charge. Stayed over with Bro. Wippleman and Adam Yost, cousin to the Yosts of Bucyrus, Ohio. I preached here several times; I visited different families, and was well satisfied with my finding this place.

14th. Returned to Logansport; took cars for Watseka, near Middleport, Iroquois County, Illinois. Stayed over Sabbath; preached twice; stayed at Mahlon Longshore's.

20th. Took cars at Watseka for Gillman Station, and then to Kankakee City, home, having travelled this trip 1103 miles, and preached 63 times from the 10th November to 20th February. I found my family well.

23d. Visited Drayer's family.

28th. Visited John Dennison, John Worrell's, Sherman's, and Dashield's.
April 9th. Preached at Dennison's. Went to Swihart's and David Creamer's, in Yellowhead.

11th. Went to Martin Lashley's and Wm. Watkins's; stayed over night.

12th. To Luther D. Hamilton's.

13th. To Jeremiah Creamer's; then to Jonathan Fender's, and stayed over night.

14th. Went south of Momence to David Shronce's; stayed over night.

17th. Went to Kankakee City, home; then to Ashcraft's, and bought a pony!

---

TRIP TO MICHIGAN AND OTHER PLACES.

April 21, 1865. Went to Albert Farr's; stayed over night.

22d. To Sherbornville, to Abitha G. Britten's. I preached on Sabbath.

24th. To widow Reed's; stayed over night; Lake County, Indiana.

25th. Passed Crown Point; then to Jacob Wise's, and Deeter's. Stayed over the Sabbath, and preached.

May 1st. Passed Valparaiso to Westville, to Albert Williams's. Stayed over night.
3d. Passed Laporte, seat of Laporte County, to Henry Brown's, and stayed over night. This is a first-rate family.

4th. Went to Joseph Peffley's, a nephew of aunt Barbara Vandersaal, uncle Jacob's wife. He is of United Brethren here. I stayed over Sabbath.

7th. Went with Joseph to fill an appointment on Pleasant Ridge, and had a very interesting time. He had his family and some of the neighbors along. We returned to Brother Peffley's home; stayed over night.

8th. Passed South Bend to Abraham Livengood's, Elkhart County, near Elkhart, Indiana.

9th. To Mr. Meter's; stayed in this settlement over Sabbath, and visited Mr. Rush, a brother to Mrs. Farr, of Kankakee County.

15th. Went to Knorr, St. Joseph County, Michigan.

16th. To Three Rivers, to Bro. Kern's for over night. Preached here several times. Saw Bro. Henry Crout and his son, and their families; they moved here from Sandusky County, Ohio.

24th. I passed Kalamazoo, seat of Kalamazoo County, Michigan, to Mr. Cobb's; stayed over night.

25th. Went to Galesburg, to Joseph Tuttle's for the night. This evening my pony kicked me, and tramped me fearfully. My eyes, arms, and body were more or less bruised. I then had to remain till next week, to have my wounds healed. I used five or six two-ounce vials full of jarigan, which is the best liquid I ever used for flesh wounds. My clothes had been badly torn, which I got mended.

29th. I passed Battle Creek, to Levi Mills'; stayed over night. They were well acquainted with Elder Mack, of Kankakee City.

31st. I arrived at the residence of Samuel Garber, of Seneca County, Ohio. He had enlisted in the army! His wife had gone to a neighbor's house. One daughter, about 16 years old, saw me coming, with my face yet tied up! She took the back track to a cornfield, where a younger brother was hoeing corn. They then went to the next neighbor, and got him to come with them, to find out who I was. By this time I had taken my saddle-bags and overcoat on the porch, and let pony graze in the lot! I seated myself on the cabin porch. My friends came up, thoughtful. I introduced myself to them, and told them of our acquaintance in Ohio. Then all was right. I stayed over Sabbath, and visited and preached several times. I visited Charlotte, Eaton County, Michigan. Here I met with Dr. Martin, who used to be a farmer and brickmaker in Ohio.

19th. I started homeward, via Olivet, Bellevue, Battle Creek, Galesburg, to David Young's; stayed over night.

20th. Passed Kalamazoo, to Daniel Payne's.

21st. Passed Paw Paw, the seat of Van Buren County.

22d. To Joseph Spencer's, Cass County, Michigan.

23d. To Elder Surran's, Berrien County. Stayed over night. I agreed to fill his appointment for the coming Sabbath, which I did.

27th. Passed Niles, to Bro. Vantilburg's; stayed over night.

28th. Passed Three Oaks, to Rev. Mr. Bloomer's.

29th. Passed New Buffalo to Michigan City, Indiana. Here I received a very welcome letter from Dorsey, our son in the army.

30th. Passed Westville.

July 1st. Passed Crown Point, Indiana, to Samuel Buzzart's; then to widow Reed's. Preached here at Bunkum School House. Stayed over night.

3d. To F. Swihart's; then to John Worrell's for over night.

4th. By noon, to Kankakee City, home. The citizens and neighbors were celebrating the day in the grove. My family were over. Mr. Gains Worst, from Ohio, had just arrived, as I had. He went over the river to see the people. He was on his way to Memphis, Tennessee, doing business for the government, there! He had embraced religion. He was home on a visit to his parents, who had not seen him for six years. May he prove faithful to the end. I had now travelled 722 miles this trip, and preached from April 21st to July 4th 21 times, notwithstanding the misfortune I had.
VISIT TO THE BOSSERT SETTLEMENT.

JULY 8, 1865. I preached for them.
10th. Went to Kankakee City.
12th. Went to John Worrell’s; then to Jonathan Fender’s over night.
13th. Visited John Mitchler’s, at the big Kanka-kee marsh.
16th. Preached for them; visited A. W. Scott.
17th. Went to Kankakee City, home.
18th. Went to Rock Creek, Will County.
19th. Went to Rev. Luke Barrett’s; stayed over night.
20th. Went to Cushabaum; then to Gilbert Eib’s. Here I preached on Sabbath.
25th. Went to Kankakee City, home. I now made ready for a TRIP TO MY NATIVE STATE, PENNSYLVANIA.

JULY 27th I started; went to Albert Farr’s; then to Sherbornville; then to Mrs. Allen’s; stayed over night.
28th. To widow Reed’s; then to Lowell, Mr. Thorn’s; preached once.
29th. Went to Crown Point; then to Samuel Buzzard's for over Sabbath. Preached twice.
31st. Went to Valparaiso, to E. D. Wolff's; stayed over night.

August 1st. Passed Westville to David Bush's, Laporte County, Indiana.
2d. To Henry Brown's; stayed over night. At Pleasant Ridge with Bros. Graves and Ritter.
3d. Passed South Bend, Missiwaka River, to Mr. Baker's; stayed over night. Then went to George Armiller's, Elkhart County, Indiana.
4th. Went to Bristol; then to Mottville, St. Joseph County, Michigan, to Mr. Knorr's; stayed over night. At White Pigeon, with Mr. Moist.
5th. Went to Joseph Wren's for over Sabbath; preached twice.
7th. To Mr. Watkins' for over night.
8th. Passed Hillsdale, the seat of Hillsdale County, Michigan, to S. and J. Gillmore's, kind hospitable men; I stayed over night; they were Methodists.
9th. Passed into Lucas County, Ohio, to Mr. Weible's; stayed over night; then to John McNutt's; then to his son-in-law, Nathan Parker, a very kind, righteous family, from Wood County, Ohio, where we had some glorious meetings while Bro. Parker yet lived at Bro. John McNutt's. Here I preached twice, and here I saw Bro. J. P. Butler, whom I had not seen for some twelve years! He acknowledged that he had lost ground, because he had determined not to entertain ministers any more. He was thereby going to save something! And ever since he formed that resolution, he was getting poorer all the time. He now invited me to dinner, and made this frank confession, and said he would invite any gospel minister hereafter that needed care, so help him God! Amen.

14th. I passed Maumee City and Perrysburg, to Mr. Pennywell's; dined. Then to Amos Rogers'; stayed over night.

15th. Went to Millgrove, to Geo. McCormick's; dined. Then to David Vandersaal's, Sandusky County. In the evening we went to camp-meeting, close by, and returned.

16th. To Vellette's; then to Rev. M. Long's over night.

17th. I dined at Mrs. Parker's, where Bishop Seipert died.

18th. I went to Sandusky City, to John V. Brost's; dined. Then to Aaron Hanly's. Then to Bro. Minkley's for the Sabbath. Preached twice.

23d. Went to Cleveland, to Dr. Hurt's, and stayed over night. His wife is a sister of Rev. Josiah Kenegy.

24th. Went to Elder James Carter's over night, Cuyahoga County.

25th. To James Smith's, Geauga County.

26th. To Mr. Tinney's, Ashtabula County. New line; preached twice on Sabbath.

28th. Passed Andover, to the State line of Ohio and Pennsylvania, to Esbyville, to Mr. Marshall's. Here I saw the first derrick.
29th. Passed the city of Meadville, the seat of Crawford County. Passed Connaught lake and canal—to Jas. Wertz's, Crawford County, Pennsylvania.

August 30th. I was called to preach the funeral sermon of Mrs. Kitelinger, aged 24 years; text Rev. xiv. 13. Took dinner at her brother's house. After the services, then passed to Mr. Oaks' for over night.

September 1st. Passed Pleasantville, to Rev. Geo. Peters'. We made arrangements for me to go with him to Pleasant Valley, Warren County, to hold meeting.

4th. We returned to Venango County.

5th. I went to Pithole, where the great curiosity of the world is—three wells: one flows 500, one 800, and one 2000 barrels of oil every 24 hours. There are 97 more wells being dug, upon about 160 acres of land. There are about 300 shanties to live in, and for offices, storing oil, and other purposes. Crude oil is sold at $6 per barrel at the tank. A tank is a large tub holding twelve hundred barrels each. There are five tanks in a row. When one is full, it is conducted by a pipe into a second and third, and so on. The wells are all sunk six hundred feet before the oil is reached. The oil is hauled to Titusville, six miles, and there it is refined. Then it is worth $1 per gallon, forty-two gallons in a barrel. The oil stream flows twenty-five feet up in the air, against a platform, fixed there for that purpose, five feet above the tank, the tank being twenty feet deep. When they first struck the oil stream, it flowed sixty-five feet above the surface of the earth, fifteen feet above the derrick; all derricks are fifty feet high. A derrick is constructed with four strong posts, twenty feet apart on the ground, and four feet apart at the top, where a platform is fixed, in which hangs a pulley, upon which runs the rope, on which the auger is fastened by screws. The cost for one-quarter of an acre of ground, for the engine, and for all the fixtures, and for sinking one well six hundred feet, and pay for three hands to attend to the work, amounts to $9000. But, then, they lay it out into shares of $50 to $500, and sell these out before they know whether oil will be found or not, like the lotteries. If such are the arrangements to amass wealth from God's earthly storehouse, how much more may we expect to realize in that heavenly world, where an inexhaustible storehouse is reported to be! After having seen these curiosities of nature, I started on my journey to Mr. Lovell's for dinner, three miles from the flowing wells. The landlord fed my pony, and I dined. While we were called to be seated, two gentlemen and two ladies seated themselves at the table. One of the men looked at me so intently, that I took the liberty to inquire whether they had been to see the great oil fountains. He replied that they had. He then said, "Mr. Hein- ecke, where do you live now?" I replied, "My family live in Kankakee City, Illinois, but I am on my way to my native State, still calling sinners to repentance; and, if you please, what may be your name, and where did you know me?” Said he, “My name is Irie Locke; I knew you in Bucyrus, Ohio.” “Oh, yes,” I replied; “now I know.” Said he, “This is my wife—Mrs. Coats, that was—and this is her brother’s son, and his wife.” “And where do you live now,” said I. “I do business in New Orleans. But my wife and nephew live in Indianapolis.” So we contrasted situations. I acknowledged that he had the advantage of me as to this world’s means, but told him that I was aiming to acquire those true riches which would never perish, and here inquired whether they attended to this. Said he, “As for myself, having so many other things to occupy my attention, I neglected this.” As we shook hands to part, he dropped a $1 bill into my hand, and bid me Godspeed! The landlord charged me nothing for dinner and feed; so I went on my way rejoicing. I crossed the Alleghany River on a ferry boat for 30 cents. I now was in the village of Tionesta, with a population of about 500 people. I rode up before the door of a large hotel, and inquired whether there lived a minister in this place. After a moment’s pause, a man rose and walked hastily, saying, “Come with me, come with me,” and led my pony, with me on him, to his stable, inquiring if I was a minister. I told him I was. He said he wished to do all the good to ministers he could, as he knew they had a hard time of it. And he had a brother and two cousins ministers, and they were off, he knew not where. He put my pony in the stable, gave him oats and hay, and bid me come into the house. We went into a large room, all shelved on one side, it being full of bottles. "Oh," said I, "you are a doctor." "Yes," said he, "that's my business. He now went to call his wife, and in a short time returned, saying, she was called to dress a lady who was to be married that night. "So I cannot have her come in," he said; "but I know what to do with you. We will return to the hotel." And went there, and approaching the landlord, he handed him $5, saying, "Take your pay out of that for his supper, bed, and breakfast." The landlord took three dollars, and handed two dollars to the doctor, who turned to me, saying, "Take this. You will need it before you get over the mountains." I took it, thanked him, and we went out on the porch, where I first saw him. We talked over the matter of his relations, who are ministers, and of various other things. I informed him that I used to see the name of Rev. Mr. Winance in the South. "That," said he, "is my brother, and I have not heard of him since the war broke out." It had been raining that afternoon, and I was stretching out my feet, saying, "It is a fine thing to live in a free country. We can wear low-quartered shoes, if one's socks do get muddy." The doctor looked at my shoes, and in a moment jumped up, saying, "Come with me;" and we went into a store. Said the doctor to the merchant, "Please let this man have a pair of boots, and I will pay for them." He then left, and I selected a pair worth $6, and went to the hotel; stayed over night, took breakfast in the morning, and then went to the doctor's house. He was in a good humor, saying, "Did you get the boots?" I lifted up my foot, saying, "Yes; here they are." "What is the price of them?" said he. "Six dollars," said I. "All right; I will soon call and pay for them," said he. We then got out the pony, and I thanked him very kindly, and directed him to look to the God of heaven for his divine care! Said he, "If you wish at any time, come and board two years with me free." I thanked him, and started on my journey rejoicing, having received in these gifts $12 50, including pony keeping, with an offer of more money, if I needed it. Thus ends my providential oil region visit.

6th. So God opens the hearts of rich men to assist his servants. I soon overtook a German, who was glad to find some one that could talk that language. He handed me 25 cents, and bade me goodbye. Went to Gottlieb Hinderer; dined and fed; stayed at Wm. Chambers'.

7th. To Clarion, the seat of Clarion County; dined at Mr. John Hannah's. Passed Strattenville. A Methodist minister overtook me (by name T. J. Baker), on his way to camp-meeting. He took me to Mr. Amos Hinderliter's, a very kind Methodist family; stayed over night.

10th. Went through Jemoka into the pine timber on a wrong road. Went to Bro. Pierce's. Preached at night. It had been raining all day; stayed over night at Bro. Job Pierce's.

11th. Indiana County; went to Merchantsville, to Thomas Allison's; went to Mr. Hood's hotel; stayed over night free of expense.

13th. Passed Indiana, the county seat; then to Fredericktown; stayed with Mr. Camaron over night.

15th. Went to Ebensburg, crossed the Alleghany Mountains, 12 miles across. Upon the centre of this mountain a village is erected, named Summit, inhabited by Catholics. They have a large church house. Blair County, to Mr. Funk; stayed over night.

16th. Passed Martha Furnace; the bellows is blown by water power through a pipe of about 12 inches in diameter, and 200 yards long, laid upon posts some 10 feet high. This is the hottest looking place I ever saw. The walls of this furnace are 10 feet thick; the heat is intense! Here they cast pig iron, 3 feet long by 3 to 4 inches thick. This is in Morrison's Cove. Here also is a forge. Here is also another furnace, named Rodman's Furnace; I dined and fed with Mr. Law, Lutheran. Went to Woodbury, Bedford County, Pa., to Rev. J. H. Wilkinson's. Here I stayed over Sabbath, and preached twice, with good effect! Enjoyed the friendly interview and kind entertainment of this Methodist family.

18th. Passed Patant to Alexander Davis'; dined. Then to Bloody Run, to Mr. Barndollar's for over night. This day closes another year, in which I have travelled 3513 miles, and preached 146 times.

19th. To-day went to John McElwaine's, on Rising Hill, Fulton County; then to Abraham Stauffer's for over night. From this farmer the rebels took four good horses without pay, with $600, near McConnelsburg.

20th. Went to Loudon, to John Holler's; then to Chambersburg, Franklin County, Pa., to Bro. Lamaster's. Here I saw the awful remains of the burned city. Some 400 houses were burned to ashes by the rebels in their frantic raids toward their own destruction.

21st. Went to Green Village; dined at Mr. Keller's; then visited cousin Maria Vandersaal, widow of cousin Jacob, son of uncle John Vandersaal (No. 7), whom I visited 42 years ago, and not since, near Shippensburg, Pa.

22d. Visited John Gish, who was married to cousin Lydia Vandersaal, daughter of uncle John.

23d. Went with Rev. John Schlichter, United Brethren minister, to a protracted meeting held by Rev. Hommelbaugh. To Joseph Holler's, a first-rate man. The meeting was held at a small village named Buzzard's Glory. Here I preached several times with good effect.

25th. I visited uncle John Vandersaal's old homestead, with the small graveyard in the corner of the orchard, where uncle John and his youngest sister are buried, and no one else! It is two panel square—that is, 22 feet square. The farm has gone into other hands.

26th. Passed Fairview, to John Clippinger, who is married to one of cousin Jacob and Maria Vandersaal's daughters; dined. Returned to the meeting; stayed with Bro. Hershey over night.

27th. Attended meeting here, having preached once at Bro. Snook's, night before last. Went to Samuel Holler's for over night.

28th. Went to Shippensburg, to N. R. Hutchinson's; then to David Wingerd's; their wives are cousins, daughters of Jacob and Maria Vandersaal.

29th. To Jacob Coover's, father of Maria: stayed over night.

October 1st. I heard Rev. Mr. Soul preach, and I preached at night.

2d. Went to Leesburg and Centerville, to Daniel Keller's; then to John Lackey's, son-in-law to cousin Henry Young, near Carlisle, Cumberland County.

3d. Visited Mrs. Hippie and Crumlich; preached near Lackey's.

4th. Went to cousin John Mohler's at Roxbury, for over night.
5th. Went to aunts Vandersaal and Yessler for over night.

6th. Went to John Hoover; then to Dillsburg; then to cousin Henry Yessler's for over night.

7th. I returned via John Hoover's; then to Mechanicsburg, to Mr. Jacob Nisley's; here resided Martha Yessler for many years. On Sabbath I preached for the Rev. Mr. Raber, of the United Brethren, minister in charge. This town is one of the most thrifty in this county. I stayed over night with Jacob Coover, cousin to Maria Vandersaal's father.

10th. Returned to Carlisle; then to Wm. R. Hays'; to cousin Yessler's.

11th. I passed Sterrett's Gap, to cousin Rev. Henry Young's; stayed over night.

12th. Passed Duncannon, to Mr. Reese's; then to Rev. Mr. Ryland's for the night.

13th. To Millersburg, to Mr. Bower's; then to David Lebo's for over night.

14th. To my brother, Jacob Heinecke's. I preached at the Emmanuel church. Here is Yeager's Mill, near the United Brethren church, a fine settlement in Lykens Valley, Dauphin County.

15th. I preached. There is a flourishing class here. Brother Forney is one of the chief members.

16th. I went to Millersburg, to George M. Brubaker's, one of the best men of this place, and a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. I made arrangements for Sabbath meetings.

17th. I preached once in town, and once six miles up the Susquehanna River. Bro. Brubaker took me to his appointment for Sabbath school.

18th. I preached at Jonas Jury's.

21st. In the Evangelical church; went to Daniel Jury's for over night.

22d. Visited and preached in Millersburg.

24th. Passed Harrisburg, to Mr. Hohn's; preached at a revival.

25th. Went to Mr. Brostle's in the country; preached once; stayed at Mr. Garman's over night.

27th. To Manheim; preached.

28th. To Geo. B. Shober's for the night. Visited uncle Jacob Grube, sr. Then went to his son's on Gravel Hill; then to Reamstown, Lancaster County, Pa., to Christian Echternach's, my brother in-law. I heard the Rev. Mr. Linebach preach at night. I preached at the Evangelical church.

30th. Went to my brother Benjamin Heinecke. My sister and her son Samuel went with me. They returned, and I stayed over night.

November 1st. I went to Jesse Pennybecker's; he was sick. I preached in the Blue church.

3d. Went to Noah Sharp's, and to John, son of Benjamin; stayed over night. On Sabbath I preached for the Rev. John Binkley's, at the Pennybecker church.

6th. Went to Reamstown, and transcribed the fearful loss of soldiers in the rebellious war: 199 battles, killed, 77,465; wounded, 196,075; missing, 118,142; grand total, 391,682, of the north. This is a proof of the treachery of human nature. I then went to Rhineholdsville, and preached there.

8th. I visited Bro. Brunner and Bro. Binkley; went to Bro. Knockscott's, in West Cocalico township, on top of a mountain. Dined, and had a very pleasant visit to some brethren living up there. We returned to the Rhineholds' church, and had preaching, and some penitent seekers of religion. We stayed at Henry Bruner's over night. I then agreed to fill some appointments for Bro. Binkley.

10th. I went to Mr. J. McCullum's and preached at night, and had a good time.

11th. I went to Reading, to my nephew, John H. Echternach's; dined; then went to Samuel Romig's, Bromfieldville, Berks County; to Enntyville, for over night.

12th. Sabbath I preached twice; stayed at Romig's over night.

13th. I returned to Reading; then to Henry Bruner's for over night.

14th. To Reamstown.

15th. Returned to Reading, and assisted Rev. Ezekiel Light over the remainder of the week and Sabbath, at a protracted meeting, with good effect. During the week I visited the cannon manufactory. This is an extensive work. There were 12 cannons in progress of construction; the largest was the calabra, about fifteen feet in length, and five feet at the breech; it carries a ball of 325 lbs. weight. At night I preached in the United Brethren church.

18th. Mr. Rowland accompanied me to see the gas works, by which the city is supplied with light; the population is 23,171. There are fifteen furnaces in which the coal is stewed, from which gas is extracted, and put into a tank holding three thousand barrels at once. From this tank pipes are laid to every part of the city, where light is wanted, and by pressure forced out into every part. We then went into the Liberty Engine house. This place is very handsomely furnished with such articles as hair-seated sofas and looking-glasses, like those in the President’s house at Washington City. It has full-sized statues of Washington, Gen. Marquis de Lafayette, and President Lincoln. There are ten young men employed at stated salaries here, whose duty it is to be ready at a moment’s warning, at the ringing of a bell, to spring to the engine, and have it in the place needed. Those men in attendance were very kind, gentlemanly, and accommodating. May the Lord bless them! They showed us a full-rigged miniature ship; a full-sized, stuffed alligator, and a variety of other things, like those in a museum. We then visited the German Reformed church. Here were several persons practising music. They have here a very large organ. At the opposite end of the church is a very impressive view of the ascension of our Lord and Saviour. He is modestly dressed, in a large robe of a pale-yellow hue, and is accompanied by a multitude of the heavenly host. It is a magnificent sight to look upon. The church is a spacious building; the seats are all cushioned alike. On the one side of the main building is a large room for council meetings, and prayer-meetings. I returned to Rev. Ezekiel Light's, pastor of the United Brethren church.

19th, Sabbath. I addressed the Sabbath school children. Bro. Light preached, and opened the door of the church for such as wished to join. My nephew, John H. Echternach, and his wife, joined. I preached at night to a full audience. This was one of the most interesting occasions I recollect; I was treated very respectfully, and rewarded very liberally; and we parted with reciprocal good feeling. I returned with my nephew, John H. Echternach, for the night. My nephew has kept faithful to this date—the closing of the manuscript of this volume. We have reason to praise and adore the God of all grace for his loving kindness to us. May he preserve us unto everlasting life, and bring us safely home to glory. Amen.

20th. I went to Reamstown, to Christian Echternach's; then visited Benjamin Keiper; stayed over night.

21st. Went to Samuel Echternach's; stayed over night.

22d. Returned.

23d. Went to Shaneck, to Ezra Becker's; made arrangements for Sabbath meetings. I preached twice. Stayed at Becker's one night.

27th. Went to Eliza Weitzel's, at Reamstown; then passed Ephrata to cousin Jacob Grube's, Jr.; stayed over night.

28th. Went to the city of Lancaster, to cousin
Samuel Vandersaal's; stayed over night. Visited Wm. Diller.

29th. Returned to Reamstown.

December 1st. Went to Fairview, to Abner Clime's; dined and fed. Went to Blairstown, to Mr. Christian Sensanich's of the Evangelical Church; stayed over night.

5th. Went to Sadsburyville, to cousin Jacob Vandersaal's, whom I have known since he was born. I lived with his father nine years.

6th. Left pony, and took cars at Chandler Station, and went to the city of Philadelphia—Daniel Echternach's (No. 511), Chestnut Street between 5th and 6th Streets—40 miles. This is my nephew, my sister's son, married to Jennie Stewart, one of four sisters, orphans; they live together; own good property here.

10th. I preached at the corner of 8th and Parrish Streets; stayed at Rev. Bro. Salman's over night, on Girard Avenue.

12th. Nephew and I went to see the United States Mint—Mr. Packer in attendance. He showed us samples of coin of all known nations. At 1 o'clock I took the cars, and went to Chandler Station, to the widow of cousin Peter, Levina Vandersaal; stayed over night. Several of her children are living home. The widow owns a small farm near Chandler Station, Chester County, Pa.

13th. I returned to cousin Jacob's, where I had left my pony.
14th. Visited Abraham, cousin Peter's son. He is married to Samuel Brecht's daughter, whom I used to know 45 years ago. Abraham lives at Parkesburg, Chester County, Pa. This is a small village on the Lancaster road to Philadelphia.

This Samuel Brecht has become a physician of considerable eminence, and lives near Oregon, in Lancaster County, Pa. I then went to cousin Jacob Vandersaal's.

17th. Sabbath; I went in cousin's carriage, with his wife, and one of the daughters, to Octorora church, two miles from Sadsburyville (Lutheran and Presbyterian jointly), known as the Big Church. Heard Rev. Mr. Pomroy, the pastor, who was a young man about 21 years of age. It was cold, and the members of the church turned out in their winter costume of furs and mufflers, and other extravagances. One might have filled a cart with such things. I felt myself out of place, sure! In the afternoon and evening I preached at Sadsburyville; had good attendance, and marked attention.

18th. I passed the Compass, a hotel so called, to New Holland, to Geo. Milton Schmooker's, married to one of cousin Peter Vandersaal's daughters; stayed over night.

19th. Went to John Bard's; dined and fed. This was one of my schoolmates here. Then passed through the city of Lancaster, to the first toll-gate here. I met the Rev. John Binkley home; I assisted at Rhineholdsville. He wished me to return into the Lahn Settlement, and help him at a protracted meeting in progress in the Zion church, which I did. This place proved to be near Oregon, where Dr. Brecht resides. I visited him; dined with him. Here also lives one Jacob Shissler, who is married to Catharine Stark (that was), intimate with my sister. Here I formed acquaintance with Rev. John Staman; heard him preach from Luke xi. 32; he invited me to come and help hold watch-meeting; I preached several times at the Zion church with good effect. Stayed mostly at Bro. Andrew Lahn's. I filled several appointments, one at Pennybecker church.

23d. I passed Litiz, Warwick, and Brunnersville.
25th. I filled the appointment.
26th. I returned, via Litiz. Dined and fed with Charles Grosh. Saw Christian Emich; had quite a conversation with him. He still tastes liquor, is not willing to quit it. I then went to New Haven; then to Bro. Shissler's, and returned the horse and buggy Bro. Binkley had loaned me to fill his appointment. I preached at Zion this night. While I was speaking, a young man came up the aisle in great haste. He laid his hat upon the stand, stepped over the banister and knelt down, crying at the top of his voice, "O Lord, have mercy upon me a sinner!" telling the Lord what a great sinner he was, and promising that he would do better.
27th. Bro. Binkley preached. That same man came forward again, and after praying earnestly for a while, the man found peace through faith in Christ. His name was Crothers, and he belonged to a respectable family.

28th. I passed the city of Lancaster; dined with Bro. Killion, of Reamstown; Mr. Fralich fed my pony. I then went to see cousin Samuel Vander-saal, and bid him farewell! Then went to Rev. Jno. Staman's, eight miles from the city. Here we commenced a protracted meeting. I preached thirteen sermons, with favorable results; some sound conversations.

January 9, 1866. I started for Columbia, to Rev. M. Riger's over night.

10th. Went to York, to Rev. Jacob Erb's; stayed over night. He, with two nephews, Eberly and Markle, had bought college property to the amount of $12,225.

11th. Went to Appleman's; stayed over night.

12th. Went to Gettysburg; saw the cemetery where lay 3555 of our boys who fell in that memorable battle of July 1, 1863. J. L. Schick paid my bill. Went to McGuichy's; stayed over night.

February 2d. Went to Hagerstown; assisted Bro. Ackerman; stayed with Geo. Summers; then went to David Beeler's.

7th. Went to Clear Spring; J. T. Matthews' over night.

8th. Went to Hancock, Washington County,
Maryland. Stayed over Sabbath, and preached twice.

12th. Went to Mr. Hartly’s.

14th. To Boyd Bowden’s, to Cumberland; stayed at Ridgley’s over night. Here I saw Rev. Mr. Crone.

15th. Went to Everstein’s; it was intensely cold.

16th. To John M. Porter’s for over Sabbath; preached twice.

19th. Went to Geo. S. Leman’s; stayed over night; there was snow and storm.

20th. Passed Grantville to Henry Ross’s; stayed over night.

21st. Passed Petersburg, to Dr. Fechtner’s; dined and fed; then went to Gabriel Seace’s, Fayette County, Pa., having passed Jocky Valley.

22d. To Monroe, to Rev. Mr. Chapman’s; then to Rev. Mr. Patton’s, a fashionable Protestant Methodist. I assisted him over Sabbath; I preached twice. He took thirteen into church fellowship.

26th. Went to Brownsville, Washington County, Pa. Here flows the Monongahela River. Here they build steamboats; three were on the stocks. Went to Hiram Winnett’s; stayed over night.

27th. Passed Belleville, Hillsboro, Pankaketown, to Mr. Mount’s hotel; was entertained free of charge.

28th. Passed Cold Island, one of the poorest looking places I met with; then passed Triadelphia, into Pleasant Valley, to Geo. Shellhouse’s, for over night; this is in Ohio County, Virginia.

12*
March 1st. I passed the city of Wheeling, on the splendid wire bridge, into Belmont County, Ohio, Jefferson, and into Harrison County, Ohio, to friend Hall's, Q. R.

2d. Return to Matthew Kennedy's, near Morefield; stayed over.

3d. To citizen James Kennedy's; they are my wife's cousins; stayed over Sabbath. Here was a pretended revival in progress, with all the pride common in those days, unreprieved by priest or people. The Rev. Mr. Dennis's child died suddenly, and Thos. Simington filled his appointments. I stayed at Mrs. Kennedy's over Sabbath; had a pleasant time here; he is dead.

5th. I passed Mastersville, to A. Dosson's; stayed over night.

6th. Went to Carrolton, Carroll County, Ohio, to Richard Baxter's, an old neighbor of my cousin Jacob Mooney, for whom I was inquiring; stayed over night.

7th. I went to Malvern, where lives one of Jacob Mooney's daughters, who was married to John Eagy; she is full cousin to me. They had three children, as recorded in the genealogy; one of them of the same age as our James William. I spent the Sabbath here; preached twice.

12th. I went to Hosea Hawkins'; stayed over night.

13th. Went to Alliance, Stark County, Ohio, to the Rev. J. H. Brown's, Lutheran; stayed over night.
14th. I accidentally fell into Mr. Brown's cellar, and sprained my ankle, and bruised my right arm, so that, the roads being very muddy, I could scarcely walk nor ride. I then disposed of my pony, and took cars for Massillon, to Mrs. Steffy's over night.

15th. Took cars for Crestline; then to Galion, to Rev. J. C. Bright's for dinner, and cousin Christian Young's for over night.

5th. Visited Miller's, Clark's, Cheesum's, Porter's, to Vorhies' for over night.

6th. Went to John Ream's, sr., for the last time; preached at night at the Dobbens school house; stayed at Mr. Kendig's, relative to Ream's; they are perhaps second cousins to our Kendigs; they are from Pennsylvania.

7th. Returned to widow Vorhies' for Sabbath; preached twice at the Hamilton school house.

9th. Passed Pella, to Idabron, a Hollander, for noon; to Leonard Airs' for over night.

10th. Passed Galesburg, to Shrelkeld's noon: to Elmenteller's for over night; his wife had woven three hundred yards of cloth at 20 cents per yard, since 1st of April, proceeds for five months $60; good for one woman, who besides had done her house work.

11th. Passed through Newton, seat of Jasper County, to Wm. S. Bosworth's. Near here lives Andy Failor, of Crawford County, Ohio. Went to Hiel Heath's for over night; here is first-rate land.

12th. Went to Joseph Gillespie's noon, and to John Gorely's for over night.

13th. Passed to Marshalltown, seat of Marshall County; then to Isaac W. Randall's for over night; here I learned where Martin's and Cannon's live.
14th. This morning I crossed the line between Marshall and Grundy Counties, to John Hamilton Cannon's by noon; then to David Martin's (Catharine Cannon's son-in-law); here, at Conrad's Grove, lives cousin Catharine, uncle Jacob Vandersaal's daughter. I preached twice here.

16th. Went to Doughet's; it commenced to rain very hard, so I stayed over night, though crowded in a small house; he believes in the Campbellite system.

18th. To John Dixon's, to Albion; to Frederick Core's for the night; a fair was held here to-day.

Thus ends my fifth year's journey as an Evangelist, having travelled three thousand miles, and preached seventy-six times. I had passed this year through Indiana and Ohio east, as far as Tuscarawas County, and back through Illinois into Iowa.

19th. Passed Marietta, to Stephen Jackson's, a Quaker whom I knew in Crawford County, Ohio. He recognized me, though we had not seen each other for more than twelve years.

20th. To Mr. Lane's, of the State of New York, noon. This afternoon I sold my pony to Messrs. Cross, and walked to State Centre; here I took cars, and went to Nevada, the seat of Story County; I preached; stopped over night with Mr. Ferner at Rev. Mr. Jones's; one night at Mr. Potter's; and one night with Tobias Kinderspire, whom I knew near Stout's Grove, in Illinois, eleven years ago. We had a very pleasant time. He has located him-
My Journal.

Myself comfortably in the druggist business, and is doing well. No one is more deserving of success.

23d. I set out on foot, and had just reached the bridge outside of the town, when Rev. Mr. Warren, a Methodist minister, overtook me with a covered buggy bound for Cambridge. I asked and obtained leave to ride; we had a pleasant jaunt of nine miles together. Then I went to Palestine, to Wm. H. Hopkins's, a former acquaintance, for over night.

24th. Went with John Carr to Rev. Mr. Pierce at Pierce Grove, Polk County, part of the way on horseback and part on foot, for noon; then to Sweet Point, Boone County; I preached once; bought a horse; stayed at John Hopkins's over night.

to Mr. Bird's for over Sabbath; preached twice; saw a hermit, who lived under ground.

7th. To P. B. Matthews', noon; to Harden's over night.

8th. To Council Bluffs, to Jacob Bechtel's.

9th. I preached at his house.

10th. Visited Rev. Surface; Rev. Duffield, Claw-son, Haver; this place is improving fast; seat of Pottawatomie County; quite a business place.

11th. I went to Mr. Joseph Gaghen's, left my horse at his stable, and he took me across the Missouri River free—as he is the captain of the steamboat—to the city of Omaha, Nebraska. I went to Elder Lemmon, a Methodist minister; he introduced me to the Rev. Elder Shinn, who was conducting a protracted meeting in the mission-house. He wished me to preach that night, which I did, and returned to Elder Lemmon's for the night.

12th. I visited the city of Omaha, which is in Douglas County, Nebraska, and contains a population of about eleven thousand. I returned to Council Bluffs, four miles across bottom land.

13th. I preached twice at Bro. Surface's house; Bro. Burt exhorted; I stayed at Jacob Bechtel's over night.

14th. I went on the Iowa side down the river to Mr. Primmer's for noon; then passed through Glenwood, the seat of Mills County, to Luke Wiles's for over night.

15th. To Joseph M. Dosh's for noon; then I crossed the Missouri River free on a steamboat to Plattsmouth, Cass County, Nebraska, to Mr. Samuel Eichelberger's for the night.

16th. This morning I went to Elder Robert Logan's; then visited Rev. Coles, Rev. Shepherd, and father Horning, who was acquainted with my father in by-gone times. I stayed over night; remained in the settlement over the Sabbath; preached twice. Stayed at Dr. Shieldknecht's.

28th. Passed Falls City, the seat of Richardson County, Nebraska, to widow Stambaugh's for noon; then crossed the line between the two States, into Brown County, Kansas, to Mr. Ordway's for over night; poor fellow, he had his feet frozen, so that all the toes came off. He is a young man with family.

29th. I passed Hiwathy, the seat of Brown County; passed Claytonville, to Mr. Bartlow's for over night.

30th. To Eliezer Irwin Small's, of Nineveh, Darke County, Ohio, where I held a protracted meeting two weeks; had a revival of religion. The people remembered me; they had just been here a few weeks; I dined with them, and passed on to Mr. Ham's for over night.

31st. I passed within sight of the Kickapoo Indian Mission house, to Muskota railroad station, which runs 150 miles west, and 50 miles east; went to John Marshall's for noon, on straight timber.

November 1st, 1867. I went to Holton, the seat of Jackson County, Kansas, to Rev. Christian Zook's and to Bro. Worley's for the night; here I preached.

4th. To Bro. Dever's; he let me have a pony for my horse; then to Rev. Joseph Rodgers', noon; to Bro. Tripp's, a very pious man, for over night; his post-office is Mount Florence, Jefferson County, Kansas.

5th. To Wm. Wash's for noon; then to Medina, where Rev. Solomon Weaver edits a paper, the "New Era." A railroad runs through this village. I passed on three miles to the Kansas River, on a ferry boat, to Lecompton; then to the residence of Bro. Weaver, where I stayed over night. Here I heard of the death of the Rev. Josiah Hopkins; a well known and useful minister of the gospel has gone to rest. This place was nearly destroyed by the rebels; has undergone a change. A building that cost between twenty and thirty thousand dollars was bought by the United Brethren for six thousand dollars. It is now in use for college purposes, Rev. D. Shuck, Principal.

16th. I went to Lawrence, the seat of Douglas County. This place was also damaged by fire; but is now being rebuilt by loyal citizens. It is quite a business place; I went south of the city, to Rev. Bro. Gingrich's for over night.

7th. To Mr. Gill's by noon; to Mr. Helm's for over night.

8th. I arrived at the residence of my old friend, Rev. Samuel Kretzinger, whom I met in Illinois twelve years ago; found him unwell, scarcely able to be up; his post-office is Black Jack, Douglas County, Kansas. I preached once at Black Jack.

10th. Passed Slipup, to widow Marley's, noon; then to Mr. Moss's for over night; they belong to the sect of Disciples.

11th. I went to Kingston, the seat of Caldwell County; then to my old friend, Chas. Kelly's. They are doing well.

12th. Went to D. Bennett's Crabapple Grove; preached here five times. From here to Black Oak Grove, to Squire Orem's. I preached five times at this place, with good effect; the Rev. Mr. Atterbun had one appointment here.

23d. I went to D. D. and Job Michael's; to Jas. Russell's; then to Thos. Bennett's, in Davis County, and improved Christmas day by preaching twice.
Then returned to Russell's, and held one meeting. Then went to Hamilton Station, on the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad, Caldwell County. Here I found my kind friend, Wm. Bowman, from Livingston County, Illinois. I assisted him to hold watch-night meeting. Rev. Mr. Anderson (Methodist in charge). Also saw father Calder and family. Striving for the good world.

January 3d, 1868. I passed Brackenridge Station into Davis County, to doctor Dewey's. preached here again, where I had been on Christmas day.

4th. Went to Chillicothe, seat of Livingston County; here I received a letter from P. B. Matthews, in answer to one I sent him in regard to his brother, who was killed by the bushwhackers four years ago. Then went to Christian Kennedy, my wife's cousin—post-office Farmersville, Livingston County. Stayed over Sabbath; preached twice; was well pleased.

8th. Went to Rev. Reed's for over night; it was intensely cold.

8th. Went to Mr. Reams' in Grundy County, Missouri.

10th. Crossed Grand River, to Edenburg, to Mr. Miles's; preached twice here on Sabbath.

19th. Went to Mr. Harrison's by noon, Cuyahoga County; then to Cleveland, to Rev. Mr. Streich's, German United Brethren, Loraine Street (No. 291).

20th. To-day I visited Rev. W. W. Orwick, ex-Bishop of the Evangelical Association, agent of their printing establishment there; dined with them. To Mr. Stephens' for over night.

21st. To Menter Centre, Martin Gray's, Lake County.

22d. To South Perry Township, Mr. Ceterly's; I heard Rev. Mr. Robinson, Methodist, preach; he said there were four million more worlds like this. I preached once.

24th. I passed Madison, to Ambrose Sheltz's over night; U. B. Ashtabula County.

25th. Passed Geneva to Geo. Medcoff's, a whole-souled Methodist.

26th. To Mr. Greenlee's, noon; then to a bush-meeting, Mr. Smith in charge. I preached in his stead; stayed at Rev. Mr. Allen's over night, near Amboy.

27th. Passed Connaught, then the State line between the States of Ohio and Pennsylvania, into Erie County.

28th. To-day I saw a glimpse of Lake Erie, having travelled some distance off from the lake; Girard villages here.

29th. I passed Erie City, of 75,000 people; has numerous oil refineries in it. To Ira Veteto's for over night.

30th. I heard Rev. Fernander Pierce preach; I preached once.

31st. Went to Mr. Morehead's noon; to Rev. Robinson's for over night.

September 1st. I passed the State line of Pennsylvania and New York to Mr. Skinner's for over night. Here I had some difficulty in finding a stopping place in Chautauqua County. Excuses were common. One had too many boarders. The other had the things of the house torn up to clean; one's wife had no help; another's family were not very well; and the last had thirty-five cows to milk.
But I told them the cows did not interfere with me, nor I with them; I was calling sinners to repentance. But there was poor accommodation.

2d. Passed Brockton to Milford, to Lucius Tuttle's, noon; then Fredonia to Sheridan Centre, to Otis Ensighn's for the night.

3d. Passed Silvercreektown to Irwing village, to H. Josline's, noon; to Evans Centre, to Rev. Mr. Chamberline's, Erie County, N. Y.

4th. Slate soil, very dry near the lake shore; Mr. Erman's, noon; then to Leonard Crocker's, Methodist—first-rate—for over Sabbath. I was now only two miles from the city of Buffalo.

5th. Mr. Crocker took me in his buggy through the city to the cattle-yards, which he supplied with hay through the year; thousands of tons are required for this purpose; he has got rich by this business.

6th. Sabbath, he took me into the city, and introduced me to his minister, who was very courteous, and asked me to preach in his stead, which I did. He introduced me to his congregation, and wished them to give me the morning collection. We then returned to Mr. Crocker's home.

7th. I passed through the city of Buffalo, containing a population of 100,000, to Osterhout's for the night; on the side of the Niagara River.

8th. Went to Mr. Trott's at noon; then saw the great curiosities of this place; this lies twenty miles east of Buffalo City. The Niagara River is studded with thirty-seven islands, including Grand Island and Goat Island. The Rapids begin probably half a mile above the falls, with sixty feet descent over terrible rocks; then two hundred feet at once, with one hundred million tons of water every hour. This enormous mass of water, falling upon huge rocks below, makes a roar which can be heard five to ten miles off. The suspension bridge is two miles further down from the falls. It is eight hundred feet long, twenty-four feet wide, all iron, and is suspended upon four cables, constructed of wires, ten inches in diameter, resting upon four towers, eighty-eight by seventy-eight feet high. The bridge is two stories; the cars run over the top, and wagons over the lower story. The floor between the stories is iron. The bridge is two hundred and fifty feet above the surface of the water. I passed over into Canada on the lower floor, and returned on the second story. There is a footway on both sides; the car track is in the centre; then went to Rev. Theophilus Snyder's for over night, ten miles south, Niagara County, N. Y.

9th. To Rev. Henry Wisers; then to Geo. Goodlander's for over Sabbath; preached three times in this settlement; some brethren here are full of the Holy Ghost.

14th. Went to Mr. Packham's, Genesee County, N. Y.

15th. To Batavia, county seat. Here was the county fair in session; music and dancing in daytime—the devil's works in full force. To Mr. Fargo's over night.
16th. To Mr. Bennett's for over night, Livingston County, N. Y.

17th. Pass Moscow and Mount Morris, to Mr. McNeir's, a wealthy farmer; had prayer-meeting and exhortation.

18th. To-day closes my sixth year as an Evangelist, having travelled this year 3500 miles, and preached 117 times.

19th. Passed Honnellsville and Adrian, Steuben County, N. Y., to deacon Knapp's, for Sabbath; preached once.

21st. Passed Cameron and Woodhull to Wm. Carpenter's, in Steuben County, N. Y.

22d. Went into Tioga County, Pa., to Joel Johnson's over night; Knoxville.

23d. To J. Lyon's; very hilly country; to Mr. Steppins's over night.

27th. I preached; stayed at Sebring's.

28th. Passed Blockhouse, to Henry Waggoner's, at Sawyer's mills; I preached here.

29th. Lycoming County, Pa., Trout Run Station, to Samuel Lash's.

October 1st. I passed Williamsport, a very notable place for saw-mills; I was informed that one hundred were in constant operation. I saw more sawed lumber than I had ever before seen. It is a large town. Went to Mr. Dentler's for over night.

2d. Passed Munning, Whitehall, Jerseytown, Columbia County, Pa.; very mountainous.

3d. To Bloomsburg, to Jasper Cressler's; his wife is full cousin (No. 485); was Fanny Kendig; I had not seen her for forty-four years. This is a county seat, and has a railroad to Philadelphia. I travelled 1060 miles from home to this place; I preached here twice.

5th. Passed Esleyville, Mr. Bomboy’s.

9th. Passed Danville; Northumberland bridge over the North Branch of the Susquehanna River, Sunbury County, seat of Northumberland County to Millersburg, Daniel Jury’s, Dauphin County.

10th. To widow Lebo’s, my niece.

11th. I preached in Millersburg, Lykens Valley.

12th. Went to Bro. Jacob Heinecke’s.

13th. C. Gipple’s.

14th. Jonas Jury’s.

15th. Fisherville to Halifax, to Jacob Young’s, at Petersburg, Perry County, cousin to Henry Young.

16th. To Eli Young’s (No. 162), connection.

17th. Passed Bloomfield County, seat of Perry County, to Joseph Young’s (No. 159), for over Sabbath; I preached at Ellet’s church.

20th. To Enoch Young’s (No. 163), then to Reuben’s (No. 168); stayed over night.

21st. Crossed Sterrett’s Gap, to John Lackey’s.

22d. Carlisle, to John Mohler’s, full cousin, for over night. Heard that aunt Esther Vandersaal had died April 12th, 1868, in Cumberland County, Pa., my mother’s sister.

23d. Saw aunt Yessler, her sister.

25th. I preached at Churchtown.
26th. Passed Mechanicsburg, Harrisburg, to Bro. Reitzel's.

27th. Passed Middletown, to Mr. Hershey's over night.

28th. Passed to Lancaster City, Pa., Samuel Vandersaal's, noon, cousin; then to New Haven, Geo. B. Shober's; Emanuel Grube's for over night. A. Shober's child had died, Lancaster County.

29th. I attended the funeral, then to J. Grube's, jr.

30th. Went to Reamstown, where sister lives.

Nov. 1st. I preached in the Evangelical church seven times.

6th. Went to the city of Reading, preached several times; returned.

11th. Passed Becker's, noon, to my brother Benjamin Heinecke's.

12th. To Noah Sharp's, and returned.

13th. Returned to Reamstown, visited, preached again.

23d. To Jacob Noll's.

28th. To Mr. Fry's; then to Fairview, to Abner Cline's for Sabbath, and preached.

December 1st. Visited Dr. Brecht, near Catfish, with whom I have been acquainted over forty eight years.

2d. To Jacob Vandersaal's cousin, Sadsburyville, Chester County, Pa.

3d. To Levina Vandersaal's, Peter's widow; and Parksburg, to see her son Abraham; and Schmooker's; stayed over night at A.'s.

4th. Went to the city of Philadelphia, to my nephew’s, D. Echternach, preached on Sabbath in Eighth and Parrish St.; class; brethren. Visited Tolans and Flinn’s.

9th. Returned to Pomroy Station, to Jacob Vandersaal’s, Sadburysville; I preached here on Sabbath night.

14th. Went to Intercourse, to Samuel Campbell’s, for over night.

15th. To Lancaster City; I preached here for the Evangelicals; stayed at Bro. Killian’s over night, and with my old friend Wm. Diller, with whom I have been acquainted for forty-nine years. He, like myself, has passed through many afflictions, yet hopes with his kind, though afflicted companion, to get to the glory world. May the God of all grace bless and preserve, and finally save us in that better world. Amen.

17th. I passed Millersville, to Rev. John Ste- man’s; had a pleasant time; preached for them; visited Whisler’s, and others.

23d. Passed Lancaster City, to New Haven; G. B. Shober’s for over night.

24th. Passed Litiz and Warwick, to S. Reener’s, noon; then to Michael Zeller’s for night.

25th. To Annville; then to my nephew’s, Samuel H. Echternach. This being Christmas day we started a meeting, which wound up with good results. We protracted it till New Year; souls were waked up to a sense of their lost and ruined condition, and finally converted to God. I pray that the good work may go on, until many shall be brought from darkness to light. Samuel H. is practising in these meetings to some good effect. May the Lord make him instrumental in doing much good! and may we finally all be brought, with our families, and our charge, to that blissful abode where we need not be troubled with the cares of this life, but enjoy an eternity of glory.

In summing up my labors in the vineyard of the Lord from 1853, I find it adds up thus: I travelled in 20 States, besides the District of Columbia and Canada West, embracing 255 counties. Length of journey, 49,805 miles, and preached altogether up to 31st December, 1868, 2119 times, and circulated Bibles, Testaments, and good religious papers to the sum of 22,291. I have thus endeavored to scatter the good seed of the kingdom.

SERMONS.

SIN OF IDOLATRY.

"And Elijah came unto all the people, and said, How long halt ye between two opinions?"—1 Kings xviii. 21.

Idolatry is very heinous in the sight of God. It embraces nearly all the classes of sins. Hence it is the first sin prohibited in the Decalogue, or the Ten Commandments: Exodus, 20th chapter. Man was created to have dominion over the beasts of the field, the birds of the air, and the fish of the sea; he was to honor, worship, and adore his Maker, and live forever. But in an unguarded hour, the devil—the enemy of God and man—who had been cast out of heaven (Rev. xii. 9th verse), deceived our mother Eve, who, with her husband, knew God's law, and had power to keep it; and yet volition of mind to transgress (Gen. iii. 1); hence the temptation. And Eve yielded, and drew Adam into sin! for sin is the transgression of God's law! Then guilt, then death spiritual, then death natural, then death eternal ensued; and all their posterity suffered by the dreadful fall. Although there is an idea of worship about human beings, it is earthly, sensual, devilish. Hence you see it demonstrated in the case of Ahab upon Mount Carmel, where there were 450 false prophets and 400 false priests, who offered sacrifices to their gods, and proved themselves false, and were destroyed the same day to the number of 850. Elijah called upon the God of Abraham, of Isaac, and Jacob, and obtained an answer so as by fire.
Also Nebuchadnezzar ordered an idolatrous worship (Daniel iii.), 580 years before Christ. Darius also was tempted to have himself honored (Daniel vi.), 538 years before Christ. But let us leave ancient times, and come to Christ and the apostles' times. Idolatry does not only consist in worshipping stocks, and stones, and reptiles; but Paul tells us that covetousness is idolatry (Colossians 3d chapter, 5th verse). "Mortify, therefore, your members which are upon earth;" "fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, which is idolatry." (1 Corinthians, 10th chapter, 7th verse.)

The world has passed on 1868 years; and how stand matters now? The earth rings with the shouts of applause by the world—with church members along with the rest! Is not this idolatry? with the Harpers, Godey's, and Peterson's fashion-plated pamphlets monthly? Is not this idolatry? Then the dance, the theatre, the horse-race, grog-shop, the billiard table, and midnight revelry, and the thousand other things. See Isaiah the prophet, 3d chapter, from the 16th verse to the end. Then the grinding the face of the poor; Ezekiel xviii.

But there is another side to this subject, thank God. While we acknowledge idolatry to be sin of the deepest dye, there is yet a remedy that will cure the foulest stain sin has made; "God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten—his well-beloved Son, that whosoever believeth on him should not perish, but have eternal life." The terms on which salvation may be had are easy, so that none need be lost. St. John says: "At this ignorance God winked, but now commandeth all men everywhere to repent." (Acts xvii., 30th verse.) The Saviour asks this question—"There were present at that season that told him of the Galileans that Pilate mingled blood with their sacrifice: think ye these are sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such things. I tell ye Nay; but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish. And those eighteen upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them; think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwell at Jerusalem? I tell you Nay; but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish." (Luke 13th chapter.)

What is implied by repentance?

First, repentance implies a sense of our lost and ruined condition. Secondly, a sorrow for sin. Thirdly, a forsaking of sin. Fourthly, the exercise of faith in the atoning merits of the shed blood of our Lord Jesus Christ—belief in the death, the resurrection, and ascension of our Saviour, as a present Saviour, an all-sufficient Saviour to save to the uttermost all that will come unto him by faith. "Thus, being justified by faith, we have peace with God, through our Lord Jesus Christ; and not only so, but we glory also in tribulation, seeing that tribulation worketh patience, and patience experience, and experience hope, and hope maketh not ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in the heart by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us." (Romans, 5th chapter, 1st to 5th verse, inclusive.)

This experience, then, is clear and full, so that none need be lost, or mistaken on this subject, and all mankind are invited—the young and the old, the rich and the poor, the white and the colored—with all kindreds, tongues, and people; the poet said,

"Come, all the world! come, sinner thou,
All things in Christ are ready now."

John, the Revelator, said: "The Spirit and the Bride say come, and let him that heareth, say come, and let him that is athirst come, and whosoever will, let him come, and take of the water of life freely." (Rev. 22d chapter, 17th verse.) And what shall we have, if we come? The apostle Paul says, "Eye hath not seen, ear hath not heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man to conceive what God hath in reservation for them that love and serve him;" they shall enter in through the gates into the city, where

"Sickness and sorrow, pain and death,
Are felt and feared no more;"

where we need no candle, neither light of the sun, for Christ shall be the light of that city. And
"When we've been there ten thousand years,
Bright, shining as the sun;
We've no less days to sing God's praise,
Than when we first begun."

And another one said that when we had seen Christ in his beauty, with the saints and angels, the prophets and apostles, we might pass out through one of those twelve gates into the vast expanse of immortal glory, and eat off the ambrosial fruit of the tree of life, and drink of the sweet waters of life forever and ever, and meet our friends in the bowers of glory, and rest from our labors, and our works may follow us. Those who have labored long and hard, will now receive the reward of their labor,

"Where the wicked cease from troubling,
And the weary are at rest."

May the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and the God of Elijah, give us grace to hold on to the end of our pilgrimage a few days longer, till we hear the Master say, "it is enough, come up higher." And may we, with Paul, be able to say, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, therefore there is laid up for me a crown of glory, which the righteous judge will give me in that day. Amen."

SAMUEL HEINECKE.

THE RESURRECTION.

LUKE, 20th chapter, 37th and 38th verses.

Why does Easter occur on different days in different years?—Easter is the day on which the Christian church commemorates our Saviour's resurrection. It is a word of Saxon origin, and imports, a goddess of the East. This goddess was Astarte, in honor of whom sacrifices were annually offered—about the passover time of the year—the spring; and hence the Saxon name Easter became attached, by association of ideas, to the Christian festival of the Resurrection.

Now, that the dead are raised, even Moses showed at the bush, when he called the Lord, the God of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Jacob, "For he is not the God of the dead, but of the living, for all live unto him."

First, We will inquire when Moses was at the bush? Second, What is implied by reference to the bush? Third, When did Abraham live? 1948 years from A. M.

Fourth, When did Isaac live? 100 years A. M. from Abraham.

Fifth, When did Jacob live? 60 years A. M. from Isaac, showing thereby that the prophets had foretold the sufferings, and death, and resurrection of Christ.

First, then, when was Moses at the bush? Moses was the son of Amram and Jochebed, Hebrews, in bondage under King Pharaoh, who ordered all children to be destroyed. The parents of this child made an ark of bulrushes, near Egypt, and put him in it, in order to preserve his life. Pharaoh's daughter, with her maidens, went to bathe, and saw this little ark. And she said to one of her maidens, "Fetch it to me, that I may see what it is." It was brought, and opened; and lo, and behold! a beautiful child was therein; and it wept. And the sympathies of the king's daughter were moved. She said, "This is one of the Hebrew children; I will take it and adopt it for my son. Now the little sister Miriam was near among the flags, and knowing that the king's daughter would not be troubled to raise the child herself, but would need a nurse, she ran, and inquires, "Do you want a nurse?" Pharaoh's daughter said, "Yes, go get me a nurse." And the little girl ran home, almost out of breath, saying, "Mother, mother, go get the little brother, for Pharaoh's daughter said she will raise him, and adopt him for her son, and wants a nurse. So, the mother went, and Pharaoh's daughter bargained with her to raise him to a certain age, and return him, and she would pay her the wages. (Exodus, 2d chapter, 4th to 7th verse inclusive.) So the mother brought him up, and returned him, and received her wages (A. D. 2433, A. M.). Moses was now educated in all the wisdom of the Egyptians (Acts, 7th chapter, 29th verse), until he was 40 years old (Hebrews, 11th chapter, 24th verse), when he refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter. He now went to live with Jethro, the priest, in the land of Midian. Here he learned of all the acts and doings of his own Hebrew brethren for 40 years more (Acts, 7th chapter).

And now, at the age of 80 years (2513 years, A. M.), we are brought to the second inquiry in regard to the bush God appeared to Moses in—a bush all on fire, and still the bush did not consume. He told Moses that he should be the deliverer of his people out of bondage literally. God had made provisions to save all mankind spiritually; "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten, his well beloved Son, that whosoever believed in his coming, his sufferings, his resurrection, need not perish, but have eternal life." Now, by the command of God Moses delivered the Hebrews through the Red Sea, and led them in the wilderness yet 40 years more, making in all 120 years to the end of his life.

Then these people were governed by judges 390 years, making 430 years. First king, Saul, reigned 40 years; then king David reigned 40 years; then Solomon reigned 40 years. Then the prophetic age was ushered in—Isaiah, 180 years; Jeremiah, 131 years; Lamentations, 41 years; Ezekiel, 14 years; Daniel, 40 years; Zechariah, 16 years; Malachi, 122 years—to Christ, 397; in all 4004 years.

Christ now grew up in favor with God and man, and at the age of 30 years he came to John the Baptist, to be initiated into the office of prophet, priest, and king, for these three offices he came to fulfil. This was the mode, according to the Jewish law. He now preached his own everlasting gospel, and gave the most undeniable proof of his divinity by the greatest miracles ever wrought, such as opening the eyes of the blind, unstopping the ears of the deaf, curing palsy, leprosies, fevers, and raising the dead. But the Jews, descendants of Judah, denied him.
They said he blasphemed, calling himself God, when he was only a man. They tried him, condemned him, nailed him upon a cross, and hung him between heaven and earth. They spit upon him, they mocked him, they pierced him in his side. He hung three hours in daylight. The sight was so awful that the sun refused to shine, and darkness covered the face of nature. The earth shook from its centre to its circumference. He hung three more hours in darkness, and then cried, "It is finished:" the plan of salvation is completed, for which I agreed to suffer and die nearly 4000 years ago. He gave up the Ghost; Joseph, of Arimathea, and Nicodemus took down the body, embalmed it, and laid it in a new sepulchre; and the king set a guard of 60 men round it to secure it. But on the morning of the third day he rose, and was seen by Mary; then by two on their way to Emmaus; then by the twelve disciples. (Luke 24th chapter.) He was among and with them yet forty days. He instructed them to go to Jerusalem on the day of the Feast of Tabernacles. He then took about 500 brethren out upon a mountain, and ascended up into heaven in their presence. They went to Jerusalem as he directed, and while they were all of one mind—according to promise—the Holy Ghost fell on them, as with cloven tongues of fire, and sat on every believer. And they spake as with other tongues. There had been 16 different languages at this time; they now understood one another, and praised God with one voice. And the multitude ran together, and were confounded, and some said one thing, and some another. Some thought they were drunk with new wine. But Peter stood up among them, saying, "These are not drunk with new wine, as ye suppose; but this is that which the prophet Joel spoke of, that in the last days the old men shall dream dreams, and the young men shall see visions." And Peter now charged home upon those wicked Jews who crucified the Lord of life and glory, and put him to an open shame. And while Peter was preaching, they cried out, "Men and brethren, what shall we do? We are verily guilty." And Peter exhorted them to believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, that they might be saved; and three thousand were converted, baptized, and added to the church. Soon after five thousand more believed. (Acts, 4th chapter.)

So we fully establish the resurrection of Christ, and by it the resurrection of all mankind at the last day; for the dead shall rise, both great and small, and appear before the bar of God, to account for the deeds done in the body, whether they be good or bad. May God assist us to live aright, that when we have finished our course, we may live with him in heaven with saints in the good world, where we may honor and adore him forever and ever. Amen.

THE GOOD RACE.

"Wherefore, being encompassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin that doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race set before us, looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith."—Hebrews xii. 1.

This is the language of St. Paul. We will inquire, in the first place, who were those witnesses; and, Secondly, what did they testify.

First, we will find in the 5th chapter of Genesis, a number of the names of ancient worthies—such as Seth, Enos, Cainan, Mahalaleel, Jared, Enoch, Methuselah, Lamech, Noah, to the flood, 1656 years; then in the 11th chapter of Genesis you will find Arphaxad, Salah, Eber, Peleg, Rue, Serug, Nahor, Terah, Abraham, a period of 292 years to the birth of Abraham; then Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Kohath, Amram, Moses—2433 years to the birth of Moses. Then the judges, 430 years. Then the kings, Saul, David, Solomon, 120 years. Then all the prophets through a period of 941 years more, making in all, to the coming of Christ, 4004 years.

Secondly, what did they testify. In the first place, the fall of Adam; in the second place, the plan of salvation through the promise of a Saviour, repentance towards God, and faith in a coming Messiah, in the fulness of time! Then Christ came, entered upon the duties of the offices which he was appointed to fulfil, namely, prophet, priest, and king. He led a suffering life for three years. He proved his divinity by performing many miracles, such as opening the eyes of the blind, and raising the dead to life. The Jews condemned him and crucified him. But he rose again from the dead, and after the expiration of forty days he ascended into heaven. He shed forth the Holy Ghost on the day of Pentecost, on the disciples! He endowed them with power from on high, and said, “Go ye into all the world, and preach my gospel to every creature; he that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; he that believeth not, shall be damned.” There were not above 520. There were 3000 converted that day, and soon after that 5000 more believed (Acts, 4th chapter), for Peter had charged it home upon the wicked Jews that they had killed the Lord of life and glory. “Repent ye,” said he, “every one of you, that your sins may be blotted out, and the time of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord, for the plan of salvation is completed; sinners of every class may come and find pardon.” The text says, a cloud of witnesses. A cloud is composed of mist drawn up into the air by the wind, and denotes an incalculable multitude. Again, he says: “let us lay aside every weight.” This refers to the Olympic games. Those who intended to run a race would practise by hanging weights on themselves, so that when the time for the contest came, they would be enabled to run with greater swiftness. In those races only one could run to win the prize. But in this heavenly race all that run to the end of it will obtain a crown of glory; and the conditions are repentance toward God and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ. “Being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ;” I say all such shall obtain an inheritance which is incorruptible, undefiled, and fadeth not away. That is, if afflictions—if losses come, bear them patiently; bear them without murmuring.
Again, we are to forsake our besetting sins, which are various—covetousness, and pride, and self-will, and love of the world, and dancing, and drinking intoxicating liquors, carousing, and whoremongering. We are to lay these all aside, or never commence them, if we were not guilty of them before. Read no spurious books, such as Harper’s Magazine and Godey’s Lady’s Book, but look unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith. Why, by feeding the hungry, by clothing the naked, by visiting the sick and those who are in prison, and by ministering to their wants. (Matthew, 25th chapter.) And great is the reward of such as do those things.

Paul said, “Eye hath not seen, ear hath not heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man to conceive, what God hath laid up for them that love him and keep his commandments.” They that are wise shall shine as the sun forever and ever. Oh, the fulness of joy, the inexpressible glory, the incomprehensible beauty, the inimitable beauty and delight of the city into which the righteous shall be permitted to enter; they shall walk the golden streets of the New Jerusalem, and bask in the sunshine of eternal day—day without night, joy without sorrow, health without sickness—and shall drink of the river of life, clear as crystal, flowing out from under the throne of God and the Lamb. They shall wear white robes, which were washed in the blood of the Lamb, and shall have for their associates all the righteous, from righteous Abel, down to the last saint. They shall explore the heaven of heavens, and see the King in his beauty, for “we shall be like him,” and “we shall see him as he is.” (1 John, 2d chapter, 3d verse.)

Now, what must we do to inherit these joys? We answer, turn to the Lord with full purpose of heart, while time and opportunity are afforded, for “there is no wisdom nor device in the grave whither we go.” “But strait is the gate and narrow is the way that leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it. While broad is the way, and wide is the gate that leadeth to destruction, and many there be that go in thereat.” Let us therefore watch and pray that we may walk in the way of self-denial, in the way of holiness, that we may wear the crown of life and glory which the righteous judge will give unto all such as love his appearing. This is a glorious invitation.

"Come, all the world, come sinner, thou,
All things in Christ are ready now;
There need not one be left behind,
For God hath bidden all mankind."

Matt. 20th chapter.

Come, brethren, let us seek an interest in Christ; let us "walk in the light, as he is in the light, that we may have fellowship one with another, that the blood of Jesus Christ may cleanse us from all unrighteousness." For if we neglect these excellent things, fearful will be our loss, for we shall miss heaven, and be turned into hell, with all the nations that forget God—with the antediluvians, with the Sodomites and Gomorrahites, and the Babylonians, and the Ninevites—and millions more who have lived, or do now live, or who may forever live hereafter. There will be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

I will ask one question, that is: If we are lost, whose fault will it be? Surely not God's! Surely not good people's. It is because they will not come unto Christ that they might have life. It is then upon the will is suspended our soul's salvation for time and eternity. Oh, the excellency of the plan of salvation, full of mercy and good-will to man. Let us love him supremely, and then live joyfully with him forever. Amen.

FAITH IN CHRIST.

"And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, so must the Son of Man be lifted up, that whosoever believeth on him should not perish, but have eternal life."—St. John, chapter iii. 14th verse.

This was the language of our Saviour recorded by St. John. It is a part of that memorable instruction given to Nicodemus, who came to our Saviour by night to learn the way of salvation. After informing Nicodemus that a man must be born again, he presents the parable of Moses lifting up the Serpent in the wilderness. We will therefore inquire:

1st. How that was.
2d. Who those people were in the wilderness.
3d. What was the effect upon those who obeyed the command.

In the first place, the Israelites were descendants of Jacob, the son of Isaac, the son of Abraham. They became very wicked and disobedient in the wilderness under the leadership of Moses, about 2530 years A. M. Moses prayed to God to punish them. In answer thereto, He sent fiery flying serpents among them, and many were bitten, and must have died, unless some remedy had been provided. So the people called upon Moses to intercede for them with the Lord, and he prayed to the Lord in their behalf. God commanded Moses to prepare a brazen serpent, and erect a pole and put the brazen serpent upon the top of it, and to bid those Israelites who were bitten to look upon the brazen serpent, and they should be healed. It was done; and all those that looked upon it were healed. So the Saviour was crucified upon the cross, died, and on the morning of the third day rose... again from the dead, as recorded by the prophets, "That whosoever believeth in him need not perish, but have eternal life;" and all who are bitten by sin, of every kind, pride, anger, self-will, Sabbath-breaking, dancing, drinking, swearing, lying, stealing, and all transgressions of God's law, may, if they will heartily repent, and be sorry and forsake their sins, have their sins forgiven, and be adopted as the sons and daughters of Christ Jesus.

In the second place, we are to inquire who were these people in the wilderness. They were those who were in bondage under Pharaoh; they were the people whom God had delivered out of bondage by the hand of Moses, and had led across the Red Sea dry shod, though the waters were piled up on either side, while the Egyptians who had essayed to cross, were drowned. Now, Moses led them from place to place for 40 years. They were fed by manna from heaven. When they were thirsty, God ordered Moses to smite the rock, and water gushed out sufficient to satisfy the wants of six hundred thousand people. To these was the land of Canaan promised. But they grew worse and worse, until God sent the serpents among them. By the time the 40 years were expired, there were but two of the original number who got into the promised land, namely, Caleb and Joshua. Now, for the fitness of the parable to the present generation. The people of this age of the world have been bitten by sin. They are without God and without hope in the world. This they prove by their actions and fruits. See the wickedness and crimes in the land, in towns and cities; see the theatres, circuses, and gambling-halls, drunkenness, dancing, whoremongering, and stealing—Sabbath-breaking by fishing, by hunting, by visiting for pleasure rides, fraud, pride, worldly fashions, and all unnecessary costly attire. Now, sin is the transgression of God's law, and all those things named are forbidden in God's word. Then, again, consider the waste of time in fixing up ornaments for the head and body. See Isaiah, 3d chapter from the 16th verse to the end of the chapter. Then, again, the word saith, "He that knoweth how to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin." Hence the word saith, “the whole head is sick, the whole heart is faint, and from the crown of the head to the sole of the feet, there is nothing but wounds and bruises, and putrefying sores.” And God said, when he looked from heaven just before the flood, that the thoughts of their hearts was only evil, and that continually. And so it is now. Hence, as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, so must the Son of Man be lifted up, that “whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.”

The gospel minister must show sinners their sins, and point them out to them; and then tell them that if they repent of their sins, and forsake them, and believe that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners—even the chief of sinners—they may be saved. He will save you, save me. He will save to the uttermost all that thus come unto him. He will impart unto them the joys of his salvation, and shed his love abroad in their hearts by the Holy Ghost which he will give unto them. (Romans, 5th chapter.) And still more, he will give us grace to live happy here, and when the hour of death comes, he will give grace to die the death of the righteous. And then with that hundred and forty and four thousand, with that innumerable company of the redeemed and sanctified, and with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, Enoch, Elijah, Noah and Moses, and all the patriarchs and prophets, he will enable us to sing the song of Moses and the Lamb forever, and when “We’ve been there ten thousand years,

Bright, shining as the sun;
We’ll have no less days to sing God’s praise,
Than when we first begun.”

We shall walk the golden streets of the New Jerusalem, and there meet Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith, and see our fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, husbands, wives, saints and angels, and cherubim and seraphim, and drink fresh from the river which flows out from under the throne. (Rev. 22d chapter.) We shall dwell in that city whose maker and builder is God, and see the King in his beauty, with all the radiance of the midday sun in its splendor.
But, on the other hand, if we neglect these privileges; if we refuse to come to the light as he is in the light; if we turn a deaf ear to all the gospel calls, to all the calls of the righteous, to all the calls by the death of our children and the death of our neighbors, and run into sin of every kind; and if the grim monster death overtakes us unprepared, unconverted, unholy, impure, how fearful will that sound be, “Depart from me, ye workers of iniquity! I called, and ye refused; go away into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels.” (See Rev. 22d chapter, 15th verse), for without the city are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and liars, and the wicked of every class, who defile, without any hope of ever getting to the glory world. Now, then, let us be wise, let us wake up, and seek the Lord while he may be found, and call upon him while he is near; for time is fast passing away, and eternity is near at hand. Let those who have started in the service of the Lord be faithful soldiers of Christ; fight the good fight of faith; lay hold on eternal life, for the crown of glory will be yours. Press on towards the mark, for the prize shall be yours. May the good Lord aid us in the discharge of every duty. Feed the hungry, clothe the naked, comfort the distressed, visit the sick; and in so doing the Lord has said, “Wherein ye do these things unto the least of these my disciples, ye do it unto me.” Let us then be found doing good to our neighbors, our families, our fellow-citizens, wherever and whenever opportunity offers. Live happy here, that when we come to the close of natural life, we may die in peace, and in the morning of the first resurrection come forth and be caught up in the air, and so be ever with the Lord, who has given himself a ransom, that we with him might be like him, for we shall see him as he is. (1 Epist. John, 3d chapter, 2d verse.)

SAMUEL HEINECKE.
THE TRUE RICHES.

"For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich."—2 Cor. viii. 9th verse.

We will inquire, in the first place, in what sense he was rich.

In the second place, in what sense he became poor.

In the third place, whether we as human beings are poor.

And in the fourth place, in what sense we may become rich.

This was the language of St. Paul 60 years after the coming of Christ. He had been a violent persecutor of the infant church, but became a convert, and for about 30 years a strong advocate for Christ and his cause.

First, then, we inquire in what sense was Christ rich.

In order then to show who he was, and what he did, we refer you to St. John, 1st chapter, in which you may find written that "in the beginning was the word, and the word was with God, and the word was God; all things were made by him, and without him was not anything made that was made." So that he was maker of heaven and earth, and all things that therein is. So, then, he was rich in possession. Again, he was rich in power, for if he could create heaven and earth, and all things therein, he was rich in power. Again, he was rich in wisdom, for he knows all things. Again, he was rich in mercy, for when no eye did pity, nor no arm could save, Christ offered himself a living sacrifice, in order to open a plan of salvation—first, by promise; second, by his own person upon the cross.

We inquire, in the second place, in what sense he became poor. We answer first, at his birth; see him in the manger, a helpless babe. The poet has said,

"His birthplace was a manger,
And his softest place was hay."

Again, he was poor as to property, for when a certain young man said he would follow him wheresoever he went, the Saviour said, "The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man hath not where to lay his head." He then was poor as to property. Again, he was poor as to money, for when the tax-gatherer called upon Peter for his tax, Peter went to the Saviour saying, "Master, what shall I do? for the tax-master has called on me, and I have none, and had no time to earn any, as I have been following thee." The Saviour said, "Take thy hook, go to the sea, cast it in, and the first fish comes take it, open its mouth, and thou shalt find a piece of money, That take, and pay for me and thee." See how poor he was as to money. Again, he was poor as to friends. See him arraigned before Pilate's bar, tried, condemned, nailed upon the cross, and the cross erected between the heavens and the earth, as though he was unfit for either! See how friendless—no friends with him but the beloved John and the Saviour's earthly mother, Mary! But what could they do, surrounded as they were by the Roman guard of sixty soldiers, and a large rabble, with the law of the land against them? Thus he suffered and died, saying, "It is finished." What is finished? The plan of salvation is finished.

But in the third place, we are to inquire whether we are poor. And first we find that no creatures are more helpless at their birth than human beings. They cannot help themselves in the least. They are poor morally; they are without God and without hope in the world; depraved by nature. Hence they seek happiness in the things of this world—the lust of the eye, the lust of the flesh, and the pride of life, their mind being dark. They are poor, wretched, and lost; hence the necessity of a Saviour to make an atonement, to satisfy the broken law, and to arrange the plan by which a transgressor of the law may repent, and be saved through the atoning merits of the Lord Jesus Christ. Repentance implies four things; first, a sense of our guilt; second, a sorrow for sin; third, a forsaking of sin; fourth, the exercise of faith in Christ as an able Saviour; as a willing Saviour, to save me from my sins, now, not at some other time, but now!—to set my soul free from sin. "Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. And not only so, but we glory in tribulation also, seeing tribulation worketh patience, and patience experience, and experience hope, and hope maketh not ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in the heart by the Holy Ghost given unto us." (Romans, 5th chapter.)

But in the fourth, and last place, we are to inquire in what sense we may become rich. And first, we may become rich in faith, grow in grace, and in the love and knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. But, again, we may be rich in good works; being poor, yet making many rich. Again, we may be rich in mercy, forgiving our enemies. We may do good to them that persecute us, and despitefully use us, and say all manner of evil against us. And, lastly, we will be rich, if we endure hardness like good soldiers of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; if we lay hold on eternal life. St. Paul says, "Eye hath not seen, ear hath not heard, neither hath it yet entered into the heart of man to conceive what God hath laid up for them that love him." Those riches imply all the enjoyments of the glory world, summed up by the term of a city, the celestial city. Christ will be the light of that city, where they need no candle nor light of the sun; where the wicked cease from troubling, and the weary will be forever at rest. The term riches implies that we have the company of all good people from righteous Abel to Enoch, Elijah, Noah, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, with ten thousand more; yea, all the good of every land and nation, tongues and people, in all ages, to the last righteous person who may live in this world. But the neglect of these things will be fearful. It will be dreadful to be left outside of this city, where are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and drunkards, and thieves, and murderers, and gamblers, and horse-racers, and dancers, and revellers, and backbiters, and the envious, and the slanderers, and every other class of wicked forbidden in the word of God, such as the proud, haughty, high-minded, none of whom shall obtain eternal life, or the true riches. Those only who do his commandments shall have right to the tree of life. Hence, said St. Paul: "Ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, he became poor, that we through his poverty might be rich," rich in possession, rich in glory, rich in immortality and eternal life, and able to sing the song of Moses and the Lamb forever and ever. Amen.

SAMUEL HEINECKE.

GODLINESS.

"Godliness with contentment is great gain, for we brought nothing into this world, and it is sure we can take nothing out."—1 Timothy vi. 6th and 7th verses.

We will inquire: 1st. What godliness is.
2d. What gain we may obtain.

By nature we are without God and without hope in the world. All mankind are in pursuit of happiness, but we all seek happiness where it cannot be found. We seek it in the pleasures of this world—some in riches; some in fine clothing; some in the theatre; some in the dance; some in the intoxicating bowl; and some in the horse-race and gambling saloon. But all these lead towards destruction, and there is no contentment there. What, then, must be done to obtain godliness? First: Man, consider, reflect, think. What am I? where am I going? To a long eternity. Am I ready? When we thus realize our lost and ruined condition, we then will inquire what we must do to be saved.

The command is repent, and believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved. First, then, be sorry for thy sins; forsake thy sins; and believe that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, to save me. And when we thus come, God is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and cleanse us from all unrighteousness. "Being justified by faith we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ." (Romans, 5th chapter 1st and 2d verses.) Here, then, commences godliness; and now ask daily, or three times per day, like Daniel (6th chapter, 10th verse). Thus grow in grace, and in the love and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, by feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, by visiting them that are sick and in prison. (Matthew, 25th chapter.)

Godliness with contentment is great gain, having the promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. Contentment! The godly are contented with the situation in which they are placed, whether in poverty's vale, or sickness, or abounding in wealth and health, by day and by night, saying, "Thy will, O Lord, be done, not mine."

But, in the second place, we will consider the gain. And first, in a temporal point of view. The godly see no use, and have no desire to run into all or any of the extravagances of decorating this decaying mortal body. Hence, here is much gain as to dollars and cents. But again, the godly gain the good-will and favor of all good people. Again, the godly gain the good-will and favor of their Heavenly Father—"a peace that passeth all understanding." Godliness is great gain, having the promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come—that is, eternal life beyond the grave, "where the wicked cease from troubling, and the weary are at rest." This truly is great gain. But the text says, "Having brought nothing into this world, and it is sure we can take nothing out." There are those who labor early and late to amass wealth; and when they obtain it they are in a continual fear lest they may lose it, while the godly are not troubled. Godliness is great gain, because it will secure heavenly blessings beyond all calculation—joys immortal, eternal, inimitable, glorious, with saints and angels, with cherubim and seraphim, with patriarchs and prophets of all ages, generations, tongues, and people; and will secure that inheritance which is incorruptible, and fadeth not away. Should we then not use all the means put in our reach to get to the glory world?

On the other hand "There is no peace to the wicked, saith my God. The wicked shall be turned into hell, with all the nations that forget God." "These shall go away into everlasting punishment, prepared for the devil and his angels, where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched." The ungodly are like the troubled sea, ever casting up mire and dirt. And how difficult: If the righteous are scarcely saved, where shall the ungodly and sinner appear?

Who are the ungodly? Every one who is not Godlike. Works of the flesh are these—adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, pride, such as outward adorning of gold and embroidered hair, horse-racing, gambling, dancing (Galatians, 5th chapter 19th and 20th verses); in short, all transgressions of God’s commandments are classed amongst the ungodly (2d Timothy, 3d chapter), with the numerous dishonest transactions in business, cheating, lying, stealing, grinding the face of the poor, overcharging in trade, wrong representations, giving wrong weights, measures, &c. &c.; spending money for idolatrous purposes, such as erecting enormous edifices, under pretence of building churches, and putting up monuments in honor of statesmen and rich men, where hundreds of thousands of dollars are wasted, and the thousands of dollars paid for liquors, that only ruin the souls and the bodies of men; and the theatres, shows, and gatherings of all sorts, where is picked up the surplus change that would comfortably supply all suffering poor.

Let us, then, sum up all fruits that godliness does produce, such as love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance, against such there is no law. (Galatians, 5th chapter 22d and 23d verses.) Then add John the Revelator’s encouragements to it, saying, "Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may enter in through the gates into the city," (Rev. 22d chapter, 14th verse), there to dwell with all the celestial hosts, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob; with that innumerable company of the church of the first-born, to sing the song of Moses and the Lamb, with Jesus, who hath loved us and washed us in his own blood, and made us kings and priests unto God forever and ever. When we contemplate the length of eternity, for

"When we've been there ten thousand years,
Bright, shining as the sun;
We've no less days to sing God's praise,
Than when we first begun."

When we regard the myriads of angels who join the glad song, and the saints of all ages since righteous Abel to the last one that will live righteous; when we bear in mind that sickness and death never come there; that then all aches will be over, and that there will be no night there, for Christ shall be the light of that city, we say, then, "Come, one, come all; the invitation is for all;" the way of salvation is free and full; the atonement was made once for all. If any will not be godly, it will be because (as Christ said), ye will not come unto me that ye might have life, eternal life. The water that I shall give, shall be as a well of water springing up unto eternal life. "For godliness with contentment is great gain, for we have brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out."

SAMUEL HEINECKE.
"And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars forever and ever."—Daniel xii. 3.

This is the language of the prophet Daniel, who proved himself the servant of the living God, for God wrought several of the mightiest miracles to prove that he was with him to enlighten and deliver. Daniel was one of the captives taken from the kingdom of Judah, and carried to Babylon by King Nebuchadnezzar. Here, when the king ordered idolatrous worship, three of the Hebrews refused to fall down and worship the idol which the king had set up. Because of their refusal, the three were thrown into a furnace of fire heated seven times hotter than before. The king gave the order to fall down and worship the idol. The three Hebrews refused to obey. (3d chapter of Daniel, 21st to 24th verse.) Here is an evidence of the change of mind of the king towards the God of Daniel (20th verse). A second proof Daniel gave to the king: Nebuchadnezzar dreamed a dream, and it passed from him, so that he could not remember what the dream was. He, the king, called for all the wise men in his kingdom who, under the penalty of death, were required to interpret the dream, but they could not. Now, this Daniel was called for, and he interpreted the dream, and though the interpretation was not such as the king desired, yet he acknowledged its correctness, and recommended Daniel to his successor next to the throne! When Darius ascended the throne, he appointed one hundred and twenty princes, and three presidents, of whom Daniel was chief. These princes became envious of Daniel, on account of his office, and endeavored to find aught against him, but could not, he was so wise, diligent, punctual, and faithful. Nevertheless, Daniel had time to pray to the God of heaven three times a day. These princes watched Daniel, and laid a plan to entrap him. They drew up a writing that no man should call for or ask a petition, save of the king, for thirty days, and got the king to sign it. So, when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he called upon his God as before. Then these men laid their charge against him. The penalty was to be thrown into a lion's den. This was done, and the king's seal set upon it. And here the king discovered that he was caught by intrigue. But it was too late; he exhorted Daniel, saying, "The God whom thou continually servest, he will deliver thee." The king had no music brought before him that night. Early in the morning he went to the den, and called on Daniel to know if he was yet alive; Daniel answered in the affirmative. Then was the king exceeding glad, ordered him taken out, and directed that those one hundred and twenty-two, their wives and children, should be taken and thrown into the den. (Daniel, 6th chapter 24th verse.) Thus God signalized Daniel in his preservation, and punished his accusers. This is that Daniel, the author of my text. "And they that be wise, shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness, as the stars forever and ever."

First, then, we will inquire: Who is wise? Second. Who turn many to righteousness? Third. How shall they shine?

First, then, we are to inquire: Who is wise? We answer, all men from righteous Abel to Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Kohath, Amram, Moses, King Saul, David, Solomon, all the prophets, 16 regular ones, with the incidental ones, to Christ—the 12 apostles, and all their successors, to the present day, with all the truly converted from sin and Satan to the true and living God. "For the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." (111th Psalm, 10th verse.) And all men who have believed in the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ, who have lived and died in that faith.
Secondly. How will they turn many to righteousness? I answer, by being faithful to do his commandments; by their holy walk and chaste conversation.

In the third place, How shall they “shine forever and ever?” We answer, Christ being the true light, they who are his are blessed with him to enjoy eternal life. This, in part, will be the reward of their doings. They shall be like him, for they shall see him as he is (1 John, 3d chapter 2d verse), and enjoy the crown of glory, which St. Paul spake of, and with all saints and angels, cherubim and seraphim, old and young, small and large, should shine like the stars. How? Why, some stars shine brightly, some stars shine dimly. As one star differeth in the firmament from another, so shall the difference of saints be. Some of the saints were old, successful in winning souls, many souls, while others, as the infant babe, of short duration, yet the latter is a saint in glory for the same length of eternity as the other—forever and ever! Do you see that fair, bright sky, full of stars, all shining in a dark night; a vast difference in brilliancy, and yet the same length of time. So, with all good men; such were Luther, Melancthon, Wesley, Otterbein, and numbers of others; they all keep shining. As the poet says:

“When we’ve been there ten thousand years,
Bright, shining as the sun;
We’ve no less days to sing God’s praise,
Than when we first begun.”

Let us, then, make a choice like Moses (Hebrews, 11th chapter 24th, 25th, and 26th verses), that we may die a happy death, and enter through the gates into the city, “Where congregations ne’er break up,

And Sabbaths never end.”

Where parents and children may meet to part no more; brothers and sisters, pastors and people, all will enjoy each other’s society eternally, singing “Praise, and honor, and glory, to him who hath loved us and washed us in his own precious blood, and made us kings and priests unto God and the Lamb forever and ever. To him be glory, power, victory, to the Lamb that was slain, but liveth again.”
With him may we eat of the sweet fruits of Paradise. With him may we drink of the river of life which flows from under the throne, clear as crystal. This river never dries up. The water of this river never becomes impure. It is exhaustless, invigorating, sweet, satiating, purifying; in short, it is incomparable, incomprehensible, unfading, bottomless, unfathomable. Thus have we set forth the ideas suggested from Daniel's lofty view. "And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars forever and ever!" Amen.

SAMUEL HEINECKE.

SALVATION OF THE SOUL.

"The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple."—PSALM xix. verse 7.

We will inquire, first, What is the soul? Second, Why must it be converted?

In answer to the question what the soul is, we would answer, we are informed in the word, that when God created man he formed him out of the dust of the earth, and breathed into him the breath of life, and he became a living soul. Hence you see this soul is divine. Then God gave him a law, and power to keep that law. Then God created him an helpmeet to add to his happiness, and put the pair into the garden of Eden. But they transgressed that law, and were driven out of the garden, and as the law was divine, there was no sacrifice upon earth that could atone for their sin; for the penalty was death, in a threefold sense. First, spiritual death, that is, disunion from God; hence, fear came upon them. Second, natural death, that is, the soul severed from the body, and the body decomposed into earth. Third, banishment from all holy and happy society forever; this was the result of transgression. There was, therefore, a consultation in heaven in regard to what could be done. And the result was, that the Son agreed to be offered up as a sacrifice, as without the shedding of blood there could be no remission for sin! So that all who should believe that the coming Saviour was the Son of God, should he accepted, for it is said, “God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten, his well-beloved Son, that whosever believeth on him should not perish, but have eternal life!” So with all who believed in the promised coming Saviour. Such were Seth, Enos, Enoch, Methuselah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Methuselah, the patriarchs and prophets, 16 in number; these all testified their faith, offering sacrifices of oxen, sheep, and lambs, in token of the great sacrifice that should come in the fulness of time; and in the space of 4004 years came at Bethlehem of Judaea. A child was born, a son was given; the wise men of the East went, “For they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.” (Matt. 2d chapter.) They presented gold, frankincense, and myrrh, to Joseph and Mary. And behold, they saw the child, and worshipped.

We hear no more of any special note until he is twelve years old. We find him among the Jewish lawyers and doctors in the temple, reasoning with them. And when he was thirty years old, he came to John the Baptist to be baptized. But John forbade him, saying, “I have need to be baptized of thee, and why comest thou to me?” But he said, “Suffer it to be so now, for thus it behoveth us to fulfill all righteousness.” And then John attended to it; and now Christ entered upon the offices which he came to fulfil, namely, prophet, priest, and king. And for three years he showed by the mighty miracles which he wrought, that he was the Son of God, the Saviour of the world; for he opened the eyes of the blind; he unstopped the ears of the deaf; he raised the dead, and many other mighty miracles did he. But the Jews, the descendants of Judah, mocked him, derided him, spit upon him, accused him of blasphemy, condemned him, and nailed him upon a cross. He suffered three hours in daylight. Then the sun refused to shine. He hung bleeding three hours more, and then cried, "It is finished;" the plan of salvation is completed for all coming time. Whosoever will repent and believe in my atoning blood, may have remission of sins, be justified by faith, and obtain salvation. They put his body in a new sepulchre. But on the morning of the third day he arose, and showed himself to the twelve disciples. He was with them 40 days. Then in presence of upwards of 500 he ascended to heaven. (See Luke, 24th chapter.) Having left directions for them to go to Jerusalem on the great feast day, they went there, and were together with one accord; and suddenly there appeared as with cloven tongues of fire, and sat on each of these believers. There was thanksgiving and praise; the multitude came together, some said these men are drunk with new wine! But Peter, standing up with the eleven, said, "No; these men are not drunk with new wine, as ye suppose. But this is that of which the prophet Joel spake, that in the last days the Holy Spirit shall be poured out, the old men shall dream dreams, the young men shall see visions, and I will pour out of my Spirit upon my servants and my handmaidens in those days." And Peter now charged home upon the wicked Jews, saying, "Ye have crucified the Lord of life and glory, and put him to an open shame!" And while Peter was charging these crimes upon them, they, the wicked Jews, cried, "Men and brethren, what shall we do? We are verily guilty." Then Peter exhorted them to believe on the Lord Jesus Christ; and that day, three thousand believed and were baptized (Acts, 2d chapter), and soon after that, five thousand more believed. (Acts, 4th chapter 4th verse.) The work now continued to spread, and there were added to the church daily such as should be saved.

Thus the work has gone on from generation to generation, until this 19th century we find it in North America. And blessed be God, under the labors of Wesley, Otterbein, Albright, and others, who promulgated this law of the Lord, thousands upon thousands more have been awakened, and brought from darkness to light, and from sin and Satan to God. This law, then, that converts, is love to God and love to all mankind. But it is a dreadful thing to live thoughtless and careless until we leave time. Then hear the sentence “depart, for I was an hungered, and ye gave me no meat; I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink; naked, and ye clothed me not; sick and in prison, and ye administered not unto me. Depart, ye accursed, into everlasting punishment prepared for the devil and his angels.” (Matthew, 25th chapter 41st verse.) In this gospel day we have much more light, and the terms of salvation are much easier than in ancient times, for then oxen, sheep, and lambs, were required to be offered up in token of the great sacrifice that should come. Now we are to offer our souls and bodies as a living sacrifice. (Romans, 12th chapter 1st verse.) One more fact is in our favor; that is, we need not go to Jerusalem, to learn the law of the Lord. Every family may not only have it in each house, but every member of every family may have this law of the Lord written upon his heart. Let us, then, improve these privileges. Let us enter in through the gates into the city of the New Jerusalem, whose sickness and sorrow never come; where pain and death are felt and feared no more; but where cherubim and seraphim, angels, and saints of all ages are swelling the notes of salvation to him that loved and washed us in his own precious blood, and made us kings and priests unto God and the Lamb forever. To him give praise and dominion, and power, and glory, with the Father and the Spirit, world without end. Amen.

JOSEPH’S PROMOTION.

“Can we find such an one as this is: a man in whom the Spirit of God is?” Pharaoh.—Genesis xli. 38.

This is one of the most interesting incidents mentioned in the Bible; and is believed to be typical of Christ. It occurred 2216 years A. M., and 1788 B. C.
We shall endeavor to consider, first, the depravity of man.

Second. God's overruling Providence for our good, to bring man to repentance.

Jacob was the son of Isaac, and had twelve sons; Joseph was the eleventh, and remarkable for his natural wit and obedience; consequently the father loved Joseph best, and made him a coat of many colors. Joseph also manifested a gift of interpreting dreams. These things caused envy between him and his brethren. Jacob was a farmer, and raised stock, there being abundance of pasturage in that country. So ten of his brethren were herding cattle near Dothan, when their father sent Joseph with some provisions to them, and to see how they were; when they saw Joseph, they said, "There cometh that dreamer, let us kill him, and we then will see what will become of his dreams!" But Reuben said, "Let us not kill him; what will we gain to shed innocent blood? But let us put him into a pit, and thus get rid of him." And they were content. They then put him in a pit, and sat down and eat bread. Then came three Ishmaelites from Midian, with spices for market in Egypt. Those boys sold Joseph for twenty pieces of silver. And he was taken to Egypt, and sold there to one Potiphar, the highest officer in the kingdom next to the king. Here he soon gained favor, and was put in charge of all family matters. But Potiphar's wife tempted him to sin, which he refused to do. He thus offended her, and she reported him to her husband as offering to insult her, and he was put into prison. Here, too, he gained favor with the jail-keeper, and he got Joseph to deal out their portion of food. One gloomy morning, as he thus attended to this duty, two of the prisoners looked very sad. He inquired the cause. They informed him of a dream each had, and he interpreted them. The one was favorable, the other was unfavorable. Both were fulfilled, one was restored to his office, the other hung in three days.

After the lapse of two years, the king dreamed a dream, and no one could interpret it. So the prisoner, who had been restored, said, "Now I remember my fault. Two years ago, when I was released from prison, a young man who had interpreted my dream, said to me, when it goes well with you, remember me to get me out of this prison, for I am innocent." The king now sent for Joseph. He shaved himself, and put a clean suit of clothes on, and stood before the king, and interpreted his dream. The import was that there would be seven years of plenty, in which time the king should gather the fruits of the earth, so as to supply the wants of seven years of famine which would follow. "This do," said Joseph, "appoint a man to gather in these fruits, one who is wise and discreet." Then said the king, in the language of my text, "Can we find such an one as this is, a man in whom the Spirit of God is?"

And he appointed Joseph overseer of all the land in Egypt; and Joseph gathered corn, till there was no measuring any more, for abundance. The seven years of plenty passed by, and two years of famine had prevailed. The corn failed in Canaan, and Jacob said, "Boys, I have heard that there is corn in Egypt; I will furnish you money, and you must go to Egypt and buy corn, for the famine is sore in the land. All ten of you go; and you will be safe. Each one of you take an ass and a sack, and act honorably. Pay for the corn what they demand." So they started for Egypt, and in due time they arrived all safe, and called upon the governor of the country, and stated their case—that the famine was sore in Canaan, and that their father had heard that there was corn in Egypt, and had sent them here to obtain it; that they had money to pay for it; that there were twelve sons of their father; that one, the youngest, was at home, and that one was not. Here Joseph assailed them, and charged them with being spies. They said, "No; but we are true men. We need corn, and we must have it, or starve." "Well," said Joseph, the governor of the land, "this you can do, and if you are true men, you will prove yourselves so. Leave one of your number with me, and when you come again, bring that youngest brother of whom you spake, and you need not come again, for by the life of Pharaoh you shall see my face no more." So he ordered nine of their sacks to be filled, and the money put in each sack, and the sacks put upon their asses, and sent them off. They now travelled homeward, and finally arrived at home, and reported the trouble they met with; that the governor of the land treated them roughly, called them spies, and that all they could say or do could not convince him to the contrary, and that he held one of the boys as security until they should come again. So the father fretted on account of one being left behind as security. Time passed on, until the corn was used. There was now another trouble; the money was found in the mouth of every man's sack; this added additional weight to the old man's troubles. Jacob said, "Boys, I tell you what it is, we must have corn, or famish. You must go again. Take money and that which was in the sack's mouth, and offer it first; peradventure it was an oversight." Then said one of the boys, "We cannot go, except Benjamin go with us; for the man said, by the life of Pharaoh, you shall see my face no more, except you bring your youngest brother, of whom ye spake." The father then remonstrated with the boys; "you should have said nothing about the lad." Finally, one of them offered to give his two sons, if he did not return Benjamin. "Well," said Jacob, "if I must be bereft, I must be bereft. Joseph is not, one is left as security, and ye will take Benjamin; all these things are against me."

So the boys started again for corn into Egypt. In due course of time they arrived there and went to the governor and apologized for the money found in their sacks' mouth, and offered to return it, and pay other money for corn. The lord now ordered all to be put into ward, that is, the same as jail with us. After a while, it was whispered round that the lord of the land was having a fine dinner prepared. All these things were inexplicable to them. Joseph knew them; but they did not know him! Well, dinner time came, and all were invited, and respectively seated, and portions dealt out; and on Benjamin's plate was put five times as much as on any of the others. This astonished them. But none dare say a word. When they were all done, he ordered them into ward again. He then ordered his servants to fill their sacks with corn, put all the money into each sack, and the silver cup into Benjamin's sack, unknown to any of them. The governor now ordered their asses to be laden, and brought out; and he now released them from ward, and him who had been kept as security till they came again, and bid them all start for home. They were now starting; some relieved; fancying that their father would once more rejoice in seeing them all safe. But their bright prospects were soon blasted. They had scarcely got out of the suburbs of the city, when an officer came in haste, and called upon them to stop. The officer charged them with having stolen his lord's silver cup. They all remonstrated against this charge, declaring they would not do such a wicked act. So they all agreed that if the cup was found in any one's sack, that one should be a servant to his lord for life, they being so sanguine that none had it. The officer now opened the sacks, beginning with the oldest, and to their utter astonishment the cup rolled out of Benjamin's sack. Now all the difficulties were so great that they did not know what to do. They all went back to the city; talked with the lord of the land, and still persisted in their innocence. The boys said among themselves, "We are verily guilty of the abuse of our brother, when we saw his anguish, and we heeded not. Hence these evils befall us." While thus in the deepest imaginable trouble, Joseph, in his kindness, saw the overruling hand of Providence in the whole matter, and his sternness gave way. He withdrew a little to one side, and wept! After wiping off the tears, he returned, and said, "I am your brother. Be not grieved. It is the Lord's doings." He now communed with them, and showed how God in his wisdom had used him as an instrument to save his father's family from starvation—75 in number (now including himself). He now ordered eleven teams and wagons to be brought. When they got home, and told their father that Joseph was yet alive, and was governor of Egypt, he fainted; and when he recovered, and saw the teams and wagons, he cried, "Joseph is yet alive, and I will go and see him."

They now gathered what things they could haul in the eleven wagons, their families, and their cattle, and started for Egypt, for the famine was sore in the land. And on their arrival, Joseph and his father had such a meeting as was never before known—kissing each other, and telling of the goodness of God in thus arranging matters for them. The news soon spread, and the king heard that Joseph's father had come with his family, and was well pleased, and sent for the old patriarch. The king asked him how old he was; Jacob replied that the years of his pilgrimage were 130 years. The king gave him leave to locate his family and effects where it suited his convenience. So Jacob lived yet 17 years in the land of Goshen, and then died and was buried in the land of Canaan. This was the greatest funeral ever known before. (See 40th chapter of Genesis, 4th to 9th verse inclusive.) Thus ends one of the greatest events that ever transpired in this history. SAMUEL HEINECKE.

THE STAR OF BETHLEHEM.

"When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy."—Matthew ii. 10.

We will inquire:
1st. Who were those men?
   And, in the second place, what they rejoiced for.
In the first place, then, we inquire who those men were. We answer: All good men, such as Seth, Enos, Cainan, Mahalaleel, Jared, Enoch, Methuselah, Lamech, Noah—1656 years to the flood. (Genesis, 5th chapter.) Then from the flood to Arphaxad, Salah, Eber, Rue, Peleg, Serug, Nahor, Terah, Abraham, 292 years. Then Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Kohath, Amram, Moses—all together, 2433 years. These were the Hebrew descendants, and all rejoiced in the promise of a coming Saviour. Then there were three kings in this genealogy, namely, Saul, David, and Solomon; then sixteen regular prophets; all predicted the coming Messiah, with all the righteous people who were looking for the fulfilment of those promises.

In the second place, what did they rejoice at? We answer: That, after the fall of Adam, God in his wisdom devised a plan of salvation, and gave "his only begotten, his well-beloved Son, that whosoever believed on him should not perish, but have everlasting life." This Son volunteered to come in the fulness of time. This fulfilment was to be known by the departure of the sceptre from the tribe of Judah, and a lawgiver from under his feet. The second sign was to be that a star should appear in the east, and stand over where this child should be born. The sceptre did depart from Judah; the star did appear in the east; the wise men did rejoice with exceeding great joy at the sight of the star, and they went and found the infant Saviour, and worshipped him, presenting to the parents gold, frankincense, and myrrh. Now, we say, if those wise men were so overjoyed at the sight of the star, should not we also rejoice, who have not only heard of the star, but read of his mighty miracles which he wrought, in opening the eyes of the blind, in unstopping the ears of the deaf, in curing leprosies and palsy, and in raising the dead? And we have read of his shameful sufferings and death upon the cross; we have read of his interment in a new sepulchre; we have read of his resurrection; of having been seen by more than five hundred at his ascension to heaven; we have read of the Holy Ghost being poured out upon the disciples on the day of Pentecost; we have read of three thousand being converted and baptized on that day; and since then hundreds of thousands have received the baptism of the Holy Ghost, have died happily, and have triumphed over death, hell, and the grave, and gone to glory, where they may swell the anthem of redeeming love. And surely, we may rejoice with exceeding great joy that this atonement, made by Christ, stands open for all that now live, and all that ever will live, upon the condition that they repent and forsake their sins, and have faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. They will thus secure a peace "which passeth all understanding." Hence the apostle Paul says, "We stand and rejoice in hope of the glory of God."

This, then, was the plan by which light, life, and immortality were brought forth by the gospel. The anticipation of meeting the Saviour in that upper and better world, with all the redeemed of all ages, will afford room to rejoice with exceeding great joy. There is also exceeding great joy in the prospect that we may meet our friends who had left us long ago, with the saints and angels, "And that innumerable company which no man could number, singing praise, and honor, and salvation to him that loved us, and washed us in his own blood, and made us kings and priests unto God, to him be majesty, and dominion, and power, and glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

But fearful will it be if we neglect this great salvation, and take a course in life which tends to gratify the lust of the flesh, the lusts of the eye, and the pride of life, which are these—adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, heresies, envyings, murders, wrath, strife, seditions, drunkenness, revellings, and such like, of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance; against such there is no law. (Galatians, 5th chapter, from 16th to 23d verse inclusive. To these may be added such other sinful recreations and practices, as dancing, worldly festivals, visiting theatres and circuses, saloons. All of these tend toward destruction. I say, then, stay away from all such; touch not, taste not, handle not, the unclean thing, and the Lord will receive you. Once more in regard to the pride of life, see Isaiah, 3d chapter, from the 16th verse to the end of the chapter. And now, then, to sum up the whole matter; first, to the young. Let your aim be to seek the Lord in the days of your youth, and then keep faithful until death, and you have the promise of that glorious immortality to which the wise men of the east directed their attention when they saw the star, and rejoiced with exceeding great joy. Oh that you and I, and all mankind may be wise, and choose that better part which Mary chose, that shall never be taken away. And to the middle-aged. If you have been standing idle, start up, delay no longer; seek and find the Lord, and enter into his vineyard, and work, for there is much to do. And, lastly, if this meets the eye of any who have been standing idle until the eleventh hour: start up, delay no longer; thy time is short. Be up and doing, lest thou shalt be weighed in the balance, and found wanting. See Matthew, 25th chapter, from 32d verse to the end of the chapter, inclusive. Let us be like the wise men of the east, that we may rejoice with exceeding great joy. Amen.
