INTRODUCTION.

The publication of genealogies, in which all the branches of a large family are traced down to the latest generation, is an American idea which has obtained its greatest development in New England, and almost wholly within the last half century. The fourth work of the kind, and the largest up to that time, was the Sharpless Genealogy, containing 132 pages of small size, published in Philadelphia in 1816. But one or two others appeared in Philadelphia prior to 1850, and of those published elsewhere the aggregate bulk would scarcely exceed that of single genealogies of recent date. Now these publications number thousands, while numerous genealogical societies and magazines foster a spirit of research among the generations long since turned to dust.

The late Samuel L. Smedley appears to have commenced the collection of information about his ancestors as early as 1857, and obtained much from persons then living which otherwise would not have been accessible at this day. After a few years he became acquainted with the compiler of this volume, then actively engaged in genealogical work, and a very pleasant and congenial intimacy continued between them during the remainder of his life. In 1882 he was among the most interested in the bi-centennial gathering of the Sharpless Family, and of the association afterward formed to guarantee the publication of a revised family history, of which he was the leading spirit. The accomplishment of this large work appears to have been so satisfactory to him that he decided to entrust the completion of his cherished desire, a Smedley Genealogy, to the same author, though his intention was a secret until after his death. Under this view it was thought best to make the Smedley a companion-work to the Sharpless Genealogy. Though somewhat smaller, it is otherwise almost identical in make-up with the larger book.

Future generations and the average reader of the present will have but a vague idea of the difficulties encountered in the prosecution of such a work, and, without going into details, it may be remarked that only in a comparatively intelligent and moral state of society are large genealogies possible.
INTRODUCTION.

The printing of this work was commenced before the collection of the information was completed, and has proceeded slowly since the beginning of the year 1900. Consequently many changes have taken place, of which no mention will be found in these pages.

EXPLANATIONS.

The arrangement is by generations, and the names of the children in one generation, if married, are carried forward as parents in the next, where they may be readily found by their corresponding numbers. For the sake of economy in space this order is not strictly adhered to in the later generations.

The small figures attached to names, as George^, indicate the generation to which the individuals belong, counting the earliest immigrant ancestors as No. 1.

The line of ancestry given at the head of the page is not always correct as to all the descendants on that page, yet will frequently be found an assistance in tracing descent.

Abbreviations: b. for born; d. for died; m. for married; bur. for buried; dau. for daughter; gr. for grand; Mo. Mtg. for Monthly Meeting.

From Minutes of William Penn's Commissioners of Property.

14th of 11 mo., 1701: "George Smedley, of the Township of Providence, being seated on a tract of land in the County of Chester, reputed and laid out for 250 acres, purchased of the Prop'ry when first here and paid for since his last arrival, had the same resurveyed by Hen. Hollingsworth, under whose hand he produces an acc't of the resurvey, making it to contain 295 acres, upon which said Survey he requests a Patent and agrees to pay for the Overplus Seven pound ten shillings."

20th of 2 mo., 1702: "George Smedley, having in Page 60 agreed to pay £7 10' for 20 Acres of Overplus Land, in which he Complains he was much Mistaken in the agreem't, affirming the land to be wholly Barren, and also produces a Certificate under the hands of Joseph Baker and others of the Neighbours, that his Land in General is not worth above £10 10' 100, craves that he may be redressed and that the said agreement be cancelled, for he will never Stand to it. All which being Considered, and several proofs of the said Barrenness produced. Ordered that the s' George shall pay only after the rate of £15 12' 100, Viz: £3 for the said 20 Acres, which he now pays."

SMEDLEY FAMILY.

A study of the migrations of the human race is worthy of our attention, even when we are not directly concerned, and when the movements of our progenitors are under consideration we should take a lively interest in all the details. The repeopling of the New by colonists from the Old World has been of the most momentous importance to us, and, whether in its immediate or remote results, deserves more than a passing thought. Perhaps, in the ordering of creation, the world is destined to witness successive waves of civilization and race migration, following the course of the sun, and crowding out the older, more stagnant and less energetic forms. It might be supposed that those individuals who invade new fields possessed more than the average of energy, yet, on the other hand, the struggle for existence in the older centres might be expected to develop those qualities essential to the perpetuation of the race.

In these days of rapid strides it seems almost strange that for more than a hundred years after the discovery of America there were no successful attempts at colonization, except in the tropical or sub-tropical regions. The first English colony was established at Jamestown, Virginia, in 1607, and the second at Plymouth, Massachusetts, 1620. The Dutch settled at New Amsterdam, now New York, in 1626, and the Swedes on the Delaware in 1638; but the latter colony did not flourish and their occupation extended little beyond tide-water. They had for rivals the Dutch, who claimed the territory on the South River, as they styled the Delaware, and finally, in 1655, overthrew the Swedish rule here. Little attempt was made at colonization, however, and New Amsterdam having been captured by the English, in 1664, its dependency on the South River naturally fell to the victors. A temporary possession was again obtained by the Dutch, in 1673-4, but this had little influence on the colonial life in what is now Pennsylvania.

Up to this period but few Englishmen had sought permanent homes on the Delaware, and these had doubtless been connected with the military occupation of the country and found wives among the Swedes or Dutch. Such was the case with James Sandilands, of Upland, now Chester, who married the daughter of Jurian Keen, a Swede. The commerce of the river was insignificant and vessels seldom arrived, so that a highway of immigration could scarcely be said to exist.

King Charles II. had granted to his brother James, Duke of York, the territory now embraced in the states of New Jersey and Delaware, even before it had been wrested from the Dutch, and the Duke had conveyed what is now New Jersey to Lord Berkeley and Sir George Carteret. The Society of Friends, or Quakers, founded in England by the teachings of George Fox, about 1654, had suffered much persecution, and were looking toward the New World as an asylum. In 1673 John Fenwick, one of their number, as trustee of Edward Byllinge, purchased the interest of Lord Berkeley, which, by a division agreed upon with Sir George Carteret, formed the province of West New Jersey. There was an understanding by which Fenwick was to have one-tenth of the province, and in 1675 he led a colony of Friends who formed a settlement at Salem. Disputes arose between Fenwick and Byllinge, which by the kind intervention of William Penn were at length adjusted, and Byllinge conveyed his nine-tenths of the province to William Penn, Gawen Lawrie and Nicholas Lucas, for the benefit of his creditors. These divided the ownership into one hundred shares or "proprieties," for which they found purchasers among Friends in Yorkshire and others in London. Certain "Conditions and Concessions" were agreed upon between the trustees and purchasers for the government of the colony, and in 1677 the ship Kent arrived with 230 passengers, who formed a settlement at Burlington. Other ships arrived in 1678 and 1679, and the success of the colony was assured. Some who thus came as settlers in New Jersey crossed over to the western shore of the Delaware, where courts had been established among the Swedes and Dutch, at New Castle and Upland, and prominent among these was Robert Wade, at the latter place.
SETTLEMENT OF PENNSYLVANIA.

It was, perhaps, by his association with the affairs of the province of New Jersey that William Penn's attention was drawn to the establishment of a colony to the westward of the Delaware, and on the 4th of March, 1680 (1681, N. S.), he obtained from Charles II. a charter for that object. This was granted partly in consideration of a debt from the Crown to Admiral Sir William Penn, deceased, father of the grantee. The latter would have called the province Sylvania, but the king insisted on the prefix "Penn," and on April 2, 1681, issued a proclamation directing the inhabitants of the said province to yield all due obedience to William Penn, his heirs and assigns, as absolute proprietaries and governors thereof. On April 10th Penn commissioned his cousin, William Markham, deputy-governor of the colony, the government thereof having been previously exercised at New York, at which place Markham had arrived June 21st, on his way to the Delaware. William Penn issued a prospectus in regard to the disposal of lands in Pennsylvania to such as designed to remove thither, and also prepared certain "Conditions and Concessions," prescribing rules for the survey and settlement thereof, treatment of the Indians, and other matters, probably preliminary to a frame of government. These consisted of twenty articles, of which the first seven relate especially to the taking up of the land, as follows:

I. That so soon as it pleaseth God that the above persons arrive there, a certain quantity of land or ground plat shall be laid out for a large town or city, in the most convenient place upon the river for health and navigation; and every purchaser and adventurer shall, by lot, have so much land therein as will answer to the proportion which he hath bought or taken up upon rent. But it is to be noted, that the surveyors shall consider what roads or highways will be necessary to the cities, towns, or through the lands. Great roads from city to city not to contain less than forty feet in breadth, shall be first laid out and declared to be for highways, before the dividend of acres be laid out for the purchaser, and the like observation to be had for the streets in the towns and cities, that there may be convenient roads and streets preserved, not to be encroached upon by any planter or builder, that none may build irregularly, to the damage of another. In this custom governs.

II. That the land in the town be laid out together, after the proportion of ten thousand acres of the whole country; that is, two hundred acres, if the place will bear it; however, that the proportion be by lot, and entire, so as those that desire to be together, especially those that are by the catalogue laid together, may be so laid together both in the town and country.

III. That when the country lots are laid out, every purchaser, from one thousand to ten thousand acres, or more, not to have above one thousand acres together, unless in three years they plant a family upon every thousand acres, but that all such as purchase together, lie together, and if as many as comply with this condition, that the whole be laid out together.

IV. That where any number of purchasers, more or less, whose number of acres amounts to five or ten thousand acres, desire to sit together in a lot or township, they shall have their lot or township cast together, in such places as have convenient harbours, or navigable rivers attending it, if such can be found; and in case any one or more purchasers plant not according to agreement in this concession, to the prejudice of others of the same township, upon complaint thereof made to the governor or his deputy, with assistance, they may award (if they see cause) that the complaining purchaser may, paying the survey-money, and the purchase-money, and interest thereof, be entitled, enrolled, and lawfully invested in the lands so not seated.

V. That the proportion of lands that shall be laid out in the first great town or city, for every purchaser, shall be after the proportion of ten acres for every five hundred acres purchased, if the place will allow it.

VI. That notwithstanding there be no mention made in the several deeds made to the purchaser, yet the said William Penn does accord and declare, that all rivers, rivulets, woods and underwoods, waters, water-courses, quarries, mines and minerals (except mines-royal), shall be freely and fully enjoyed, and wholly by the purchasers into whose lot they fall.

VII. That for every fifty acres that shall be allotted to a servant at the end of his service his quit-rent shall be two shillings per annum, and the master or owner of the servant, when he shall take up the other fifty acres, his quit-rent shall be four shillings by the year, or if the master of the servant (by reason in the indentures he is so obliged to do) allot out to the servant fifty acres in his own division, the said master shall have, on demand, allotted him from the governor the one hundred acres at the chief rent of six shillings per annum.

The incidental manner in which allusion is made to the granting of fifty acres to servants and the like quantity to their masters, at a small rent, indicates that it was a colonial custom not peculiar to Pennsylvania.

Finding that by a strict construction of his charter the southern boundary of his province would strike the Delaware river above the mouth of the Schuylkill, Penn purchased, August 20, 1682, from the Duke of York, a circle of twelve miles around New Castle, and the remainder of the territory now forming the State of Delaware, by deed of August 24, 1682. On the 30th of the same month he sailed for Pennsylvania, in the ship Welcome, with about one hundred passengers, and arrived at New Castle, in the Delaware, on the 27th of October following. Prior to leaving England, on the 22d of 3d mo. (May), 1682, he forwarded a list of persons to whom he had sold unlocated lands in Pennsylvania to the amount of more than 500,000 acres, in order that the same might be surveyed. The Swedes and other settlers in possession at the date of William Penn's charter were, of course, undisturbed.

The method of conveyance in use at that day, and for many years afterward, was by lease and release; the lease placing the purchaser in possession, and the release, dated the day following, divested the former owner of all right and title to the property. After the survey of the land it was expected that each owner would obtain a patent, giving a description thereof by metes and bounds; but there was considerable neglect in this respect, or if obtained they failed to be placed upon record. Whether William Penn actually signed many of the deeds of lease and release is uncertain, but an examination of some of them shows that his name was placed thereon by his secretary by the use of a stamp. In the list above mentioned the names were grouped together in purchases to the amount of 10,000 acres, which seems to indicate an intention of placing each group in a separate township. This was found to be impracticable, however, and there was great irregularity in the shapes of surveys and townships.

Prior to the arrival of William Penn the settled part of the province was known as Upland County, with the seat of justice at Upland, now Chester, where courts had been held at least from 1676. "A letter addressed to Ephraim Herman, in respect to summoning a Court to be held at New Castle on the 2d of November, and dated at Upland on the 29th of October, shows that William Penn had then arrived at his seat of government. He may have arrived the day before. The fancy of the artist has portrayed the landing of Penn at Upland; but neither the hour, the day, nor the manner of his landing, is certainly known." Dr. George Smith, in the History of Delaware County, continuing and quoting from Clarkson, says:

"He landed at Upland, but the place was to bear that familiar name no more forever. Without reflection Penn determined that the name of the place should be changed. Turning round to his friend Pearson, one of his own Society, who had accompanied him in the ship Welcome, he said, 'Providence has brought us here safe. Thou hast been the companion of my perils. What wilt thou that I should call this place?' Pearson said 'Chester,' in remembrance of the city from whence he came. William Penn replied that it should be called Chester, and that when he divided the land into counties one of them should be called by the same name. 'Thus, from a mere whim the name of the oldest town, the name of the whole settled part of the province, the name that would naturally have a place in the affections of a large majority of the inhabitants of the new province, was effaced to gratify the caprice or vanity of a friend.'"

The division of the province into the three counties of Chester, Philadelphia and Bucks probably occurred within a month of this time, but the boundaries were not very definite at first.

FRIENDS' MEETINGS.

Many of those who had purchased land in Pennsylvania while still in England, as well as others, now began to arrive in considerable numbers. As they were mostly Friends or Quakers, a number of meetings were established by them in 1683 and 1684. William Edmundson, a minister from Ireland, visited America in 1675, and in that year held a meeting at the house of Robert Wade, at Upland. A meeting was probably held here regularly after 1677, by which time some other Friends had arrived in the neighborhood.

It may be explained that the meetings of Friends are classified as for worship and for discipline. The latter are again divided into preparative, monthly, quarterly and yearly meetings. One or more meetings for worship may form a preparative meeting. One or more preparative meetings may form a monthly meeting. Two or more monthly meetings may form a quarterly meeting, and several quarterly meetings may form a yearly meeting. In the early days these regulations were not so closely adhered to as later, and we find that some monthly meetings called every third meeting a quarterly meeting. The monthly meetings are the principal executive branch of the Society and keep the most voluminous records. New meetings are established by these, with the approval of the quarterly meetings.

The Friends at Upland were for a time members of Burlington Monthly Meeting, of which a session was "held at Upland, in the house of Robert Wade, the 15th of the 9th month, 1681," but the first meeting of the kind, held by Friends of the Western Shore alone, is set forth in the following minutes:

"the 10 day of ye 11 month, 1681.
   "A monthly meeting of frends belonging to marcus hooke & vpland held then at Robert Wad's house."
   "the 14 day of ye 12 month, 1681.
   "A monthly meeting heeld by frends at marcus hooke."
No other meeting is mentioned until
   "the 9th day of ye 3d mo. 1682.
   "A monthly meeting held then by frends belonging to marcus hooke & vpland at Robert Wad's house."

Up to this time no business appears to have been transacted by the meeting. The next date is "the 3 day of ye 6th month 1682.
   "A monthly meeting held then by frends belonging to marcus hooke alis Chechester & vpland and ye adioyning Inhabetants, at Robert Wad's house.

   "At this meeting William Clayton juner and elezebeth bezor, both living at Chichester, have declared their Intentions of marriage: & its ordered by the meeting that morgan druet & Robert Wade doe make enquirey concerning them & give it in to ye next monthly meeting."

"Large paper booke, unruled, being fitt for the servise of monthly and quarterly meetings is to be procured against the next monthly meeting, & Robt Wade is desired to get the said booke.

"It was then agreed y' a meeting shall be held for y' service & worship of god every first day at y' court house at Vpland.

"And also agreed that there be three meetings in the week time the westerne part to meet at Chichester the 5th day of the week and the midle meeting at Harold at Wm. Woodmansons the 4th day of the week and the Eastern meeting at Ridley at John Simcocks the 5th day of the week untill otherwise ordered.

"The monethly meetings for men & women to be the first second day of the week in every month at Robert Wades house.

"Wm Clayton & Elizabeth Bezor did again present their former intentions of marriage but friends findeing that her parents were absent and had not their consent for such proceedings, nor certificate of her clearness from other men, did advise these parties to waite further untill all things be cleared according to the practise of friends and good order of truth."

The following are the headings of the monthly minutes succeeding the above:

"At the men's meeting at Upland the: 2: day of the 8: month: 82." "At the men's meeting at Vpland the 6th of 9 mo. 82." "At our men and women's meeting at Chester the: 1: of: 11 month: 82."

The old book from which the foregoing entries are taken appears to bear this inscription, though very dim with age: "The Register Booke belonging to Marcus hook and Upland Meeting; y' 3d of y' 6 month 1681." About 1711 the minutes were transcribed by Thomas Chalkley, who changed the word Upland to Chester, beside making other variations from the original.

On the 1st of 11th month, 1682, "it was condescended to that frinds at chichester may hold a meeting there on the first day of the weik for the servis of god untill the next monthly meeting, then to have further aprobation conserning it." At the next meeting; 5th of 12th mo., 1682-3, this matter does not appear on the record, but "Its concluded by y' s[d meeting y't Tho: Brassic & James Kennerly speake to John Blunston or some of Derby meeting to joine w'th us in our months meeting to considder of & order y' necessary affaires belonging to y' same." This is the first allusion to Darby Meeting, which had probably been recently established independently of any other. They may have joined with Chester Friends in a monthly meeting capacity for a time, but on the 2d of 5th month, 1684, Darby Monthly Meeting held its first session. Haverford Monthly Meeting, composed of the meetings in Haverford, Radnor and Merion, was established the same year, the record beginning with the 10th of 2d month (April, O. S.), while the monthly meeting of Chichester and Concord (later known as Concord Monthly Meeting) was first held on the 17th of 1st mo. (March), 1684. As the settlements progressed other meetings were set up, of which further mention will be made hereafter. The connection of the Smedley family with the Society for more than 200 years, as well as of those with whom the Smedleys have intermarried, justifies a detailed history of these meetings.

The Darby Meeting has occupied a somewhat unique position in the history of the Society. Unlike Chester Monthly Meeting, which at one time had seven branches, Darby Monthly Meeting was composed of the one congregation, which never established any offshoots. This was owing to the fact that they were hedged about with the monthly meetings of Chester, Philadelphia and Haverford, and there was no unoccupied territory to colonize.

SETTLEMENT OF DARBY TOWNSHIP.

The settlers in this township were mostly from the English counties of Derby and Leicester, with a few from Nottingham, and appear to have been of a high order of respectability and intelligence. They kept the best township record known to the writer, and the following extracts copied from notes collected by the late Dr. George Smith, of Upper Darby, author of the History of Delaware County, 1862, are of much interest to genealogists:

ARRIVAL OF GEORGE SMEDLEY.

As will be shown later, George Smedley probably came from Derbyshire about the year 1682, and found a temporary home in Upper Providence township. While here he purchased from William Penn 250 acres of unlocated land, the deed for which seems not to have been preserved, nor was it placed on record. The land was surveyed in the adjoining township of Middletown by virtue of the following warrant:

William Penn, Proprietary and Governor of the Province of Pennsylvania and the Territories thereunto belonging: At the Request of George Smedley, late Purchaser of two hundred and fifty acres, that I would grant him to take up the same in the County of Chester and a Lott in the City of Philad.\textsuperscript{a}, These are to Will and require thee forthwith to Survey unto him the said Number of acres in the aforementioned County where not already taken up, according to the Method of Townships appointed by me he seating and improving the same within one year from the date of Survey; also a Lott on schoolkill in any of the Streets set out for Purchasers of the like Quantity, he fencing it in and building upon the same within 6 months from the date of Survey, and make Returns thereof into my Secretary's office.

For Thomas Holme, Surv\textsuperscript{a} Generall.
4th 9th Month 84: ordered C. A. to lay it out not above the line till further orders.

Wm. Penn.

The expression, "Method of Townships," appears in all warrants, and doubtless has reference to the "conditions and concessions" agreed upon in England, yet these were but partially adhered to. The line, above which the survey was not to be made, is supposed to have been the south line of a survey of 40,000 acres for the Welsh purchasers, but this was afterward ignored.

JOHN GOODWIN AND SARAH KITCHIN.

We will now turn to Lower Dublin township, Philadelphia county, now the northeastern part of the city of Philadelphia, where several Friends had settled, who were members of a meeting established in Oxford township, now Frankford Meeting. They also belonged to Abington Monthly Meeting, from the records of which the following entries are taken:

“At a Mo. Meeting ye 5th of 3 mo. 1684, at ye New Meeting house at Oxford.

“Whereas John Goodin and Sarah Kitchen, booth belonging to this Meeting, having declared their Intentions of Marriage with each Other: and Enquiry being made by persons Appointed, and found Clear from all others on ye account Were permitted, and accomplished their Marriage accordingly.”

By a false construction of the minutes when they were transcribed some years later, it would appear that the parties had accomplished their marriage prior to the above date, but this is doubtless the meeting at which they were given permission to accomplish their marriage, and the ceremony probably took place about a week later.

Sarah Kitchen is supposed to have been the daughter of Thomas Kitchin, senior. The following items respecting the Kitchins contain all that is known of them:

“At a Mo. Meeting ye 29th 7th mo. 1685. Whereas Thomas Kitchen of Oxford Township and Mary Mace of Philadelphia, widdow, having declared their Intentions of Marriage with each other before two Mo. Meetings, Enquiry being made by persons appointed and found Clear from all others on ye account of Marriage; Did accomplish their Marriage in ye Unity of friends, as is Signified by their Marriage Certificate.”

“Thomas Kitchen senior, in Oxford Township, in ye County of Philadelphia, & Mary Mace, widdow, Living near Skoolkill,” were married 8th of 10th Mo. 1685. No witness of either name recorded.

“Tho: Kitchin and Jo: Goodin were witnesses to the marriage of Richard Worrell and Rachel May, 6 mo. 11, 1685. Tho: Kitchon was a witness to marriage of Thomas Kimber and Elizabeth Chalkley, 26th of 8 mo. 1686, at Oxford Meeting: Also to the marriage of Edward Eaton and Ann Kirby, 18th of 3d mo. 1686, at the same meeting.

“Thomas Kitchin Sen’ Deceased ye 15th of ye 10 mo. 1694,” but no will or administration on his estate has been found.

John Saltar, son of Henry and Anna Saltar, died 9 mo. 7, 1688. He made a nuncupative will, of which Mary Kitchin and Ann Kitchin were witnesses, making their marks.
THE SMEDLEY FAMILY.

Thomas Kitchen was baptized 3d of 12th month, 1696, according to records of the Pennypack Baptist Church. An examination of these records shows that several of the early members were those who had been identified with Friends, but who were doubtless led off by the schism of George Keith.

The will of Thomas Kitching, of Dublin township, Philadelphia county, yeoman, is dated July 16, 1706, and was probated Aug. 24, 1706, in which he appointed his wife, Ann, sole heir and executrix. The witnesses were Thomas Kimber, Joseph Barton and Henry Stirke.

Hannah Lambert, of Philadelphia, spinster, in will, Dec. 7, 1719, mentions her kinswoman, Hannah, daughter of Thomas Kitchin.

No will or administration on the estate of John Goodwin has been discovered. The late Samuel L. Smedley made the following memorandum:
"My uncle George Smedley told me, about 1850, that during his great uncle Ambrose Smedley's last sickness he sat up with him at night, and uncle Ambrose said that George Smedley, his grandfather, and John Goodwin, were intimate friends (and worked together in Philadelphia?); and when George was urged by John to marry, as he was getting to be on the bachelor order, George replied that he would if he could get as good a wife as he, John Goodwin, had."

At a Monthly Meeting held at the meeting house upon the front of Delaware [Philadelphia Monthly Meeting], the twenty-seventh of the third month 1687:

Melissant Hodgkins and Elisabeth Frampton presents George Smedley and Sarah Gooden, who published their intentions of marriage, it being the first time, friends appoint William Southerby and William Boulding to Enquire into the mans clearness, and also to assist them in securing something for the womans Child, and make report thereof to the next monthly meeting.

The fact that inquirers were appointed by Philadelphia Monthly Meeting indicates that George Smedley was residing within the limits of that meeting, as well as his intended wife. No evidence has been discovered to show that he had fully identified himself with the Society of Friends before coming to this country, otherwise he should have brought a certificate from a meeting in England. However, the following recommendation was presented to Philadelphia Meeting:

"This may Certifie all whom it may Concerne y^t whereas Georg Smedley the bearer herof who Came ouer A Single man w^th many of vs he was alsoe A neare neighbor to Seuerall of vs And soe farr as wee ever knew or heard he Came Cleare from Any Engagment Concerning women A Likwis

  "George Wood
  Richard Bonsall
  John Wood
  Tho: Worth
  John Marshall
  John ball

  John Blunston
  Joshua fcarne
  John Bartram
  John Smith
  Thomas Hood."

This document, of which the original is in the handwriting of Thomas Worth, appears to have been signed at Darby Meeting a week later than the regular monthly meeting, and no mention thereof is made on the records of this meeting.

At our Monthly Meeting held at the meeting house upon the front of Delaware this Twenty fourth of the fourth month 1687.

George Smedley & Sarah Gooden presented themselves the second time, and published their intentions of marriage, Friends that were appointed to Enquire into their clearness from this meeting and also from the womens meeting, Report that they know of nothing to obstruct their proceedings, But that before the Consummation thereof friends desire the said George to give a Bond unto Thomas Kitchen for what is due unto Sarah Gooden's Child by a former husband.

It is to be regretted that the certificate of the marriage was not recorded, but it probably occurred within a week or ten days of the last date above. The child of John Goodwin must have died soon after, as a deed executed in 1700 represents that the father died without issue or heir.

The Darby certificate gives us a very important clue to the place of nativity of George Smedley, as well as to the date of his arrival. It says that he "came over a single man with many of us: he was also a near neighbor to several of us." Of the eleven signers six or eight appear to have come over in 1682, and not more than two or three of the others in any subsequent year; while nine of the number came from Derbyshire, including all but one of those who came in 1682. The following analysis will make the matter clearer:

SIGNERS TO GEORGE SMEDLEY'S CERTIFICATE, 1687.

George Wood, with his wife and children, brought a certificate from the Monthly Meeting of Friends belonging to Matlock, Monyash and Ashford, Derbyshire, dated 5 mo. 27, 1682.

Richard Bonsall "now removes with his whole family to America: he is and hath been since he came amongst friends of honest life and conversation." From our meeting at Ashford, 22d of 12 mo. 1682.

John Wood, son of the above George Wood, doubtless came with his father.

Thomas Worth and Samuel Bradshaw brought a joint certificate from Farnfield, in the county of Nottingham, dated 20th of 1st mo. 1682. An entry in Thomas Worth's Bible says: "Left England ye 21st day of ye 2d mon: 1682. Landed In Pennsilvania In ye begininge of ye sixt month In ye same yeare."

John Marshall came from Elton, in Derbyshire, 1682 or 1683, and settled in Darby in 1687.

John Ball came from Derby, in the county of Derby, 1682 or '3, and settled in Darby township, 1689.

John Blunston, of Little Hallam, in the county of Derby, brought a certificate from the monthly meeting at Breach House, dated 13th of 5th mo. 1682.

Joshua Fearne came with his mother, Elizabeth Fearne, bringing a certificate from the monthly meeting of Matlock, Monyash and Ashford, dated 5th mo. 27, 1682.

John Bartram came from Ashburn, in the county of Derby, 1683. He was the grandfather of John Bartram, the botanist.

John Smith came from Harby, in the county of Leicester, 1684.

Thomas Hood, of Breson, in the county of Derby, brought a certificate from Friends at Breach House, dated 12 mo. 8, 1682.

Whether George and Sarah Smedley settled at once upon the land in Middletown is matter for conjecture. He signed the Yearly Meeting's testimony against selling rum to the Indians, which was entered on the minutes of Chester Monthly Meeting in 1687, but there is evidence that this was signed by different persons at different times subsequent to this date. In the assessment of Middletown township, made in 1693, the following taxes were levied:

FURTHER PURCHASE OF LANDS.

We now come to the most unsatisfactory record connected with the family of George Smedley, to wit, the births of his children, as recorded by Chester Monthly Meeting. It may be explained that prior to 1752 the civil year began on March 25th, which was called the First month, yet the historical year began on Jan. 1st, and between these points it was customary to give the number of both the old and the new year, but in this instance the recorder has used the double form improperly and also made an error of a decade in some of the dates. The original record was copied into a new book several years later, but with the same errors.

"Thomas Sone of Geoarg Smedly & Serah his wife was born one ye 15 day of ye Second month 169\frac{3}{4}. [1688?]"

"Mary daughter of Geoarg Smedly & Serah his wif was born on ye 3d day of ye Second Month 169\frac{3}{4}. [1690?]"

"Geoarg ye son of Geoarg Smedly & Serah his wif was born on the Second of ye first Month 169\frac{3}{4}.

"Serah daughter of Geoarg Smedly & Serah his was born on ye Second day of ye Eight mon 1695.

"Alice ye daughter of Geoarg Smedly and Serah his wif was born on ye Second day of ye third mon 1696."

Having a growing family on his hands George Smedley thought proper to add to his landed possessions, and thereupon purchased from his brother-in-law (?), Thomas Kitchin, a tract in Dublin township, by the following very brief conveyance:

"This 24th day of September 1699.

"Received by me Thomas Kitchin of George Smedley £6, 14s for 100 acres of Land situate lying & being in the County of Philadelphia. I say received by me Thomas Kitchin this being the full discharge for the same.

"Witness Richard Wansell, Mary Wansell."

This land had been surveyed to Thomas Kitchin but he had not received any good title thereto. George Smedley next proceeded to obtain a satisfactory title by having the land resurveyed in order for confirmation by patent.

RETURN OF RESURVEY.

Pursuant to a warrant under the hands and seal of the Proprietary and Governor to me directed, bearing date the 16th day of the 10th Mo: 1700, I do hereby certify that I have caused to be resurveyed unto George Smedley a Tract of Land in the Township of Dublin in the County of Philadelphia which was formerly laid out in two several tracts to Thomas
Kitchen and John Goodwin by virtue of two several warrants under the hands and seal of the Proprietary and Governor, directed to Thomas Holmes, then Surveyor Generall; that to Thomas Kitchen bearing date the first day of the eighth month 1683, and that to John Goodin the nineteenth day of the Fourth month 1684; each for one hundred acres, now in the possession of the said George Smedley, one moiety thereof by right of the said John Goodin's widow and the other moiety by purchase from the said Thomas Kitchen: begining at a corner stake set in the ground, being a corner dividing it from the land of Thomas Maddocks, bought of Thomas Fairman; from thence by a line of marked trees northeast 510 Perches to a stake set in the ground in the line of Joseph Fisher's land; from thence by the said Fisher's line of marked trees southeast 67 P to a stake set in the ground, dividing it from the land of Richard Hillyard; from thence by the said Hillyard's line of marked trees southwest 510 Perches to another stake set in the ground; from thence by a line of marked trees northwest 67 Perches to the place of begining, containing and laid out for 213 acres and 90 Perches of land. The quaint methods of two hundred years ago, the primitive state of society, and the condition of the country—all of which can never be duplicated or reproduced—justify the presentation of details which would be inadmissible if relating to recent occurrences. They enable us to picture in our minds the situation of our ancestors in their struggles for the comforts and necessities of their families, while laying the foundations of our present civilization. Though vehicles were few, yet roads were needed to pass from neighborhood to neighborhood; and here is the story of one which touched the Smedley homestead about the time the owner brought his bride to be a helpmeet in the wilds of Middletown.

December y* 11th 1687.
Laid out a High way from Edgmond to y* Kings High way in Chester, being a sixty foote road, by vertue of an order of Court bearing date y* 4th of October 1687; laid out by vs whose hands are vnder Written as followeth (viz)
REMOVAL TO WILLISTON.

WALTER Merten ) George Willard
John Beales ) Wm. Coborne ) Edward Pritchard)

This is what is known as the Edgmont and Chester Road, and is said to have been laid out on the line of an old Indian trail. It was subsequently extended to the Brandywine, at Downingtown. John Bowater owned two tracts of land in Middletown, through both of which the road passed. Middletown Meeting was first held at his house, on the first of these above mentioned, and was known as Bowater's Meeting till about 1702. Perhaps this was about the time that John Bowater removed northward to a tract of land in what is now Willistown, although it was then said to be in Westtown township. Here he made his will on the 20th of 5th month, 1705, which was probated Sept. 17, 1705. He devised to each of his daughters, Mary, Elizabeth, Anne, Alice and Phebe, £40 at 21 or marriage, and the residue of his estate to his wife, Frances, whom he appointed executrix. Overseers: John Bennet and Joseph Baker. Witnesses: John Turner, Robert Baker and Joseph Baker, Jr.

PURCHASE OF LAND IN WILLISTOWN.

George Smedley appears to have removed from Middletown to the above land of John Bowater, in Westtown, prior to the close of the year 1706, having purchased it from the widow by the following deed:

Acknowledged 26th May 1706, before Caleb Pusey, Esq., and Peter Evans, Deputy of the office of Inrollment.

The foregoing deed intimates that George Smedley was still of Middletown, which was possibly the case, but another deed refers to him as of Westtown in the 11th month, 1705. It must be remembered that March 25th was New Year's day and that it was 1705 until that day, after which it was 1706. By a deed dated the 11th of 1st month (March), 1705, George Smedley, of Middletown, in the County of Chester, Husbandman, conveyed to Alitie Lucken, of Bristol township in the County of Philadelphia, Spinster, for £120, the 213 acres of land in Dublin township, patented to George Smedley Mar. 22, 1700. See Exemplification Record, No. 7, p. 644, Phila. The receipt for the consideration money, on the same date, was witnessed at Germantown by Cornelius Severts and Francis Daniel Pastorius.

An unrecorded deed was shown to Samuel L. Smedley by Charles K.

At a Court held at Chester 13th of 10th month 1698:
The new Grand Jury weare Called that was Summoned To Appeare Att This Court whose names are as followeth: Thomas Worth, John Bennitt, Nicholas Pyle, John Beales, William
George Smedley was one of a sheriff’s jury, 1 mo. 6, 1698–9, to appraise the estate of John Calvert, which was taken in execution. He, with others, was appointed 7 mo. 10, 1700, to lay out a private road from Abraham Beaks’ house to Edgmont Road, of which they made return 8 mo. 14, 1700. He was one of a jury, 8 mo. 28, 1702, which laid out a road from John Goulding’s corner to Edgmont Road, by the land of Abraham Beaks and others; was a petit juror, 3 mo. 25, 1703, in a case of Butterfield vs. Worrall; and in August, 1706, was again a grand juror. Feb. 24, 1707–8, he was appointed constable for Willistown, to which township the Bowater tract purchased by him had been transferred from Westtown. On the 29th of August, 1710,—

Daniel Hoopes, Aaron James, Joseph Phips, Evan Lewis, Randal Malin and George Smedley made Return of a Road which by virtue of an Ord’ of y’r Last Court they Lay’d out for ffrancis Yarnall and a Township of Indians, And the Court Orders that the s’d Road be not Confirmed until they have farther Considered of it, which is to be Done y’r next Court, and If [no] Just objections be made against it then the same to be Confirmed and Entred on Record.

There is no further reference to this road on the record, but by an order of court, dated 28 Nov., 1710, there was laid out a road across the Indians’ land from the central part of Willistown township to the Edgmont Road, and this may have been in lieu of the former. About 1701, some Indians of the Okehocking or Okanickon tribe, who had been living on Crum Creek, were removed by William Penn’s orders and settled on a tract of land in Willistown, formerly granted to Griffith Jones, but not held by him. A warrant was granted, 15th of 10 mo., 1702, by which a tract of 500 acres was surveyed for their use so long as they or their descendants should continue to occupy it. This lay on the east side of Ridley Creek, less than a mile to the eastward of George Smedley’s land and adjoining Francis Yarnall’s land. After the Indians had abandoned it Amos and Mordecai Yarnall, sons of Francis, obtained patents for it, in 1738.

There being vacant land to the eastward of the Bowater purchase, George Smedley obtained a warrant to take up a part of it, as follows:
ADDITIONAL PURCHASE OF LANDS.

PENNSYLVANIA SS. BY THE COMMISSIONERS OF PROPERTY.

Upon an agreement made with George Smedly of the County of Chester for (Seal) two hundred acres of Land or thereabouts of that vacancy left adjoyning to his other Land in Willis Town in the County of Chester, for which he is to pay to the Proprietor's use five and forty Pounds upon or before the nine and twentieth day of September next, with the Common Quit-rent of the Province forever hereafter. These are to authorize thee to survey or Cause to be surveyed to the said George Smedley in the Place aforesaid the said Quantity of two hundred acres or more if he desire it in Proportion to the Rate above mentioned, to be Cutt off from the rest of the vacant Land there by a Straight Line extending to both sides of the said vacancy and running parallel, or nearly so, to the outer Line of the Land he holds, and make a return thereof into the Secretaries office: Which Survey, in Case the said George comply with the Aforesaid agreement (on or before the first day of November next) shall be valid; otherwise the same shall be void as if it had never been made nor this Warrant ever granted. For some reason the land surveyed in pursuance of the above warrant was patented to George Smedley and his son Thomas jointly, as follows:

This was signed by Richard Hill, Isaac Norris and James Logan, 18 November, 1713, and recorded in Patent Book A., Vol. 4, page 373.

After George Smedley's removal to Willistown he still continued to attend Middletown Meeting, and frequently represented that meeting at the monthly gatherings for business. He was also frequently appointed on committees, but does not appear to have held any official position of longer duration.

On 2 mo. 2, 1694, Frances Bowater and Sarah Smedley were appointed to inquire concerning Elizabeth Woodear's clearness of marriage engagements; and on 9 mo. 30, 1696, Sara Smedly and Martha Ogden were appointed to make a similar inquiry respecting Susanna Tunicliff.

Tenth mo. 29, 1701, "Sarah Smedley and Marthow Ogden are chosen overseers for John Bowater's Meeting;" and on 9 mo. 30, 1702, Frances Worrall and Sarah Smedley are chosen overseers for Middletown Meeting. Sarah Smedley was appointed 8 mo. 30, 1704, to make inquiry respecting Rachel Woodward, who desired a certificate to another meeting. Sarah Smedley and Mary Ashbridge were chosen overseers for Middletown Meeting, 1 mo. 26, 1705. Frances Bowater and Sarah Smedley were appointed, 4 mo. 30, 1707, to inquire concerning Rachel Taylor's clearness in order for marriage. In the accounts of the treasurer of the women's meeting we find that on "ye 26th of ye 11th mo., 1704, Disburst for widow Readman twenty shillings; part of which was paid to feby peckow for a shift & the Remainder was put into the hands of Frances bowater, Sarah Smedle & Mary Ashbridge to Lay out for her as they se occasion."

By deed of April 7, 1717, George Smedley, Sr., conveyed to his son, George Smedley, of Middletown, the tract of 295 acres, 136 perches of land in the latter township, "lately purchased by the s[a] George Smedley Sr. from William Penn," excepting 30 acres formerly sold to Thomas Barnsley.

For a few of the last years of his life, after all of his children were married, George Smedley possibly made his home with his son Thomas.

GOSHEN MONTHLY MEETING ESTABLISHED.

In 1722 Chester Monthly Meeting was divided and Goshen Monthly Meeting established, as set forth in the opening minute thereof:

Whereas the Monthly Meeting of Chester, Consisting of the particular Meetings of Chester, Providence, Springfield, Middletown, Newtown, Goshen and Uwchlan, taking into Consideration the Large Extent thereof and the numerous appearance of friends belonging thereunto, with the Inconvenience that Several underwent in attending the same, It was thought suitable in the Wisdom of Truth (the prosperity of which being the principal motive,) to have the said meeting divided into two Monthly Meetings; And accordingly it was mutually agreed that a motion should be made to the Quarterly Meeting held at Providence the 12th day of the 12th month in the year 1721–2, that friends of Goshen, Newtown and Uwchlan might keep a monthly meeting by themselves & the other meetings Remain as before which motion the said Quarterly Meeting approved of, so that a monthly meeting is settled under the name of Goshen Monthly Meeting, to be held on the sixth day of the first week in every month untill further order, the first whereof was held at Goshen the sixth day of the Second month 1722, where friends proceeded as followeth.

At Chester Monthly Meeting, 3 mo. 28, 1722: “Aaron James, George Smedley & Thomas Smedley appeared here with the Consent of Middle-town Preparative Meeting, Desiring the consent of this meeting to be Joyned to Goshen Particular Meeting, and Monthly Meeting likewise, which this meeting Consents to.”

The women’s records say: “Eliz: James & Sarah Smedly Requesteth to belong to Goshen weekley & Monthly Meeting and this meeting Consents.”

At Goshen Monthly Meeting, 5 mo. 6, 1722: “A Minute of Chester Monthly Meeting dated ye 28th of ye 3rd month 1722, signifying their Consent with Aaron James, George Smedley and Thomas Smedley’s joyning themselves to this Monthly Meeting, was Read here and accordingly they and their families are Received as members of this Monthly Meeting.”

This matter is not referred to by women till 9 mo. 2, 1722. George Smedley represented Goshen Preparative Meeting at the monthly meeting, 9 mo. 2, 1722, and 1 mo. 1, 1722–3.

From the dates of will and probate we may suppose that the testator's death probably occurred in the 3d month (May), 1723, and the fact of his making his mark would indicate physical inability to write his name at that time. The original will bears the endorsement, "George Smedly's Last Will and Testament, not To Be opened Till after his decease."

fil\(^a\) y\(^a\) 15\(^th\) Aug\(^i\) 1724.

A part of the estate of George Smedley which does not appear in the foregoing account, and was probably not thought of when his will was made, was a lot in the city of Philadelphia to which he was entitled on account of his first purchase of 250 acres of land in 1684. There is no evidence to show that any attention had been paid to the matter, owing no doubt to the fact that in that day it was worth little, though now in the heart of the city. The following proceedings relate to this subject:

THIS INDENTURE made the fourth Day of May in the Year of our Lord one Thousand Seven hundred and Sixty four, Between George Smedley of the Township of Middletown in the County of Chester of the first Part, And John Yarnall of the Township of Willistown in the County of Chester and Mary his wife, Sarah Williamson of the Township of Newtown, widow, Sarah Smedley of the Township of Willistown, widow, Francis Smedley, Thomas Smedley, John Smedley, George Smedley junior, John Minshall and Sarah his wife, Thomas Downing and Jane his wife, Richard Downing and Mary his wife, Robert Valentine and Rachel his wife, David Reese and Sarah his wife and Jacob Edge and Nathaniel Newland & Jane his wife, of the Second Part: Whereas the said parties of the Second part by their Indenture bearing date the Day before the Date of these Presents, for the Consideration Money therein mentioned did grant and Confirm unto the said George Smedley of the first Part, All their Right Title
Interest use Possession, property Claim and Demand whatsoever of in and to A certain Lot of ground mentioned in the said recited warrant, situate lying and being on the North side of Mulberry Street between the fourth and fifth Streets from the River Schuylkill, at the distance of Two Hundred and Thirty nine feet from the said fourth Street eastward, in the City of Philadelphia, Containing in Breadth on the said Mulberry Street fifty feet or thereabouts, and in Length or depth Three hundred and six feet: And whereas there are several owners and Proprietors in the said Grant every one for himself have consented granted and Confirmed the said Lot or Piece of Ground unto the said George Smedley in Fee upon the following Terms and Conditions to the End the same may be Patented. NOW THIS INDENTURE WITNESSETH that the said George Smedley of the first Part as well as the other Persons of the Second Part in consequence of the aforesaid recited Grant, the said Parties do mutually Covenant, promise and agree to submit the valuation of the said described Lot or Piece of Ground unto Jacob Shoemaker junior of the City of Philadelphia, Merchant, and Joseph Gibbons of the Township of Westtown, in the County of Chester Yeoman, and after all costs and Charges of Writings, Time and Trouble of the said George Smedley of upon and concerning the premises, shall be deducted from the valuation of the said Lot so by them fixed, the nett Sum or Remainder thereof shall be allotted and divided amongst the several owners and Proprietors of the said Lot according to their respective Shares and Portions to them belonging as by the Law of Intestates appointed. And it is further agreed and the said George Smedley shall and will pay unto all and every of them their respective Shares and Portions which shall be so fixed assigned and allotted by them the said Jacob Shoemaker and Joseph Gibbons according to the true Intent and Meaning thereof. IN WITNESS whereof the said Parties have interchangably set their Hands and Seals hereunto. Dated the Day and Year first above written.

QUIT-RENTS.

As quit-rents have become obsolete, and many persons are ignorant of their nature, a short explanation may not be out of place here. They appear to have originated under the feudal system in England, when all the lands were supposed to belong to the king, and those who occupied them were allowed to do so in consideration of personal services of various kinds, but chiefly those of a military character. These were not always rendered immediately to the king, but often to an intermediate class, as the barons, who in turn were tenants of the king. From this arose the custom of paying a fee or fine in lieu of personal service, and by a quit-rent it is to be understood that the tenant goes quit or free of further service. In the course of time this institution, like many others, lost its original significance, and at the time William Penn sold lands in Pennsylvania quit-rents were probably regarded as the best means of securing a permanent income to himself and family. He says, in his proposals to the early purchasers:

"The shares I sell be certain as to the number of acres; that is to say, every one shall contain five thousand acres; the price one hundred pounds; and for the quit-rent, one English shilling, or the value of it yearly, for a hundred acres; which such as will may now, or hereafter, buy off to an inconsiderable matter; but as I hold by a small rent of the King, so all must hold of me by a small rent for their own security;" etc.

The charter for Pennsylvania prescribed the payment to the king, his heirs and successors, "two beaver skins to bee delivered att our said Castle of Windsor, on the first day of Januarie, in every yeare; and also the fifth parte of all Gold and Silver Oare, which shall from time to time happen to be found within the Limitts aforesaid, cleare of all Charges."

The privilege of buying off the quit-rent to a small amount was embraced by some of the early purchasers of large amounts of land in Pennsylvania, but does not appear to have been continued by William Penn's successors. The "London Company" purchased 60,000 acres, on which the quit-rent was to be two beaver skins per annum, while the "Free Society of Traders" obtained 20,000 acres, and other purchasers 101,760 more, at a quit-rent of one shilling for each thousand acres. By the patent-books it appears that the land in Chester County was patented, under various quit-rents, in the following amounts: At one shilling per hundred acres, 262,031; at one shilling per thousand acres, 13,524; at one penny per acre, 3,933; at a half penny per acre, 86,612; at a bushel of wheat per hundred acres, 5,904; various tracts of 200, 93, 73, 202, 201, 200, 400, 200 and 10 acres at one shilling each; 900 acres at a peppercorn; 124 acres at three bushels of wheat; 491 acres at 10 bushels per annum.
THOMAS SMEDLEY.

A list was kept of all owners of lands, with situation, number of acres, etc., and this was called the rent-roll. A special officer, styled the Receiver General, had charge of this branch of the Proprietary interests, and at stated times visited the different counties to receive the quit-rents. In the very early times, when money was scarce, the rents were often paid in wheat or other grain, and when colonial paper money came into use it was at a discount, so that a nominally greater sum was required to be equivalent to the sterling English money specified in the patent.

The quit-rents were regarded as a grievance by the landholders, who avoided payment as much as possible, so that it was frequently necessary for the collectors to appeal to the law to gain what was due. After the Revolution the State of Pennsylvania paid a large sum of money to the heirs of William Penn to compensate them for the loss of the quit-rents, which were then abolished.

1. George Smedley, born in Derbyshire (?), England, came to Pennsylvania about 1682; died in Willistown township, Chester county, Pa., 3 mo., 1723; married at Friends' Meeting, Philadelphia, 5 (?) mo., 1687, to Sarah Goodwin, widow of John Goodwin and daughter of Thomas (?) Kitchin, of Dublin township, Philadelphia county. She died in Willistown, 3 mo. 16, 1709; both probably buried at Middletown Meeting. Issue:

Owing to the great neglect to record deeds in former times the genealogist is deprived of what would be a fruitful source of information. Thomas Smedley was a patentee, with his father, of 200 acres in Willistown, and subsequently appears to have been possessed of the 400 acres purchased by his father in 1705.

By deeds of lease and release, 17th and 18th Oct., 1681, William Penn conveyed to Samuel Jobson, of the parish of St. Mary Magdalen Bermondsey, in Surrey, woolstapler, 1000 acres of land in Pennsylvania. This was surveyed 24 Feb., 1684, in Willistown, to Griffith Jones, as agent for Samuel Jobson, and patented to the latter 9 July, 1687, who by deed of 3 Feb., 1699, conveyed the same to his son Michael Jobson. He in turn devised the land by will, 3 Feb., 1709, to his sons Samuel and Michael.
when 21 years of age. Samuel Jobson, of Philadelphia, merchant, grandson of the original purchaser, for £240, conveyed his undivided moiety thereof to Thomas Smedley, of Willistown, yeoman, 6 April, 1726. Division having been made, Michael Jobson, of Willistown, yeoman, confirms unto Thomas Smedley 503 acres by metes and bounds, 25 Oct., 1726.

Thomas Smedley, of Willistown, and wife Sarah, for £120, convey to his brother, George Smedley, of Middletown, yeoman, 250 acres in Willistown, being one-half of the Jobson purchase, 17 May, 1726. Thomas Smedley also purchased from Michael Jobson, 30 Dec., 1729, one-quarter of an acre—probably for the sake of getting water. John Taylor, the county surveyor, in his note-book, made a memorandum of a deed from Joseph Darlington and wife Mary, to Thomas Smedley for 200 acres of land, about 1735(?). The location of this tract has not been discovered. Thomas also obtained a patent on a small tract of 22 acres in Willistown, in 1735. By deed of 3 Oct., 1750, he purchased 25 acres of William Kennison and wife Elizabeth, situated in Whiteland township. The remainder of Kennison's land, 175 acres, was seized by Isaac Pearson, sheriff, and conveyed to Thomas Smedley, 20 Mar., 1754. Francis Smedley and wife Anne, of Willistown, Thomas Smedley, of the same place, and wife Lydia, John Smedley, of the same place, and John Minshall and wife Sarah, of Middletown, heirs of Thomas Smedley, deceased, conveyed the two tracts of 25 acres and 175 acres, in Whiteland, to Thomas Harris, of Whiteland, Dec. 30, 1770.

Thomas and Sarah Smedley were active members of their meeting and often appointed on committees or represented their preparative meetings at the monthly sessions. They attended Middletown Meeting until 1722, when they changed their membership to Goshen, on account of its being more convenient. So far as can be determined at this time the evidence points to the homestead now owned by Eli J. Lewis as the first Smedley home in Willistown, passing from George to Thomas and then to John Smedley, whose son John succeeded him in 1793.

[Filed April 24th 1758.]

The will of Sarah Smedley, widow of Thomas, of Willistown, is dated 2 mo. 25, 1765, and was probated May 28, 1765. She devised to her son Thomas Smedley £60, to her grandson Abiah Taylor £5, and the residue of her estate to be divided between her other sons and daughter, Francis, John and George Smedley and Sarah Minshall. Her mulatto woman, Nell, and her two children were to be set free. Sons John and George to be executors. Isaac Garrett and Joshua Hoopes, witnesses.

THE BAKERS OF EGMONT.

John Baker, Sr., of Edgmont, Shropshire, England, died 2 mo. 25, 1672, as recorded by the Friends’ Meeting there. No information is given as to his wife or children, but it is suggested that he may have been the father of some brothers and sisters who came to Pennsylvania in 1684. A member of the family from Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, who visited England and made some investigations there, came to the conclusion that the above John Baker was born in 1598, and was the son of Sir Richard Baker, born 1568, died Feb. 18, 1645. Of this we have no satisfactory evidence and the stretch is too long from 1598 to 1684, when some of the supposed children of John were young and unmarried women. These children were as follows:

John Baker, who married in England but lost his wife before or during the voyage, and was perhaps sick when he landed in Philadelphia, where he made his will.

Joseph Baker, who married Mary ——— in England. They settled in Edgmont township, Chester (now Delaware) county, where he became a large landholder and probably suggested the name for that township.

Mary Baker, married about 2 mo. (April), 1686, William Cobourn, eldest son of Thomas Cobourn, of Chester. He married a 2d wife, Sarah Flower, 12 mo., 1721–2.

Hannah Baker, married 8 mo., 1686, Francis Yarnall. They settled in Willistown township and had several children.

Sarah Baker, married 3 mo., 1687, to Charles Whitaker, of Ridley township. He married, in 1698, a 2d wife, Hannah Hoskins. By his will, dated Feb. 12, 1707–8, he devised to his two daughters by his former wife, viz., Sarah and Mary Whitaker, various articles of household furniture, etc., “to be divided betwixt them by & with the advice of their uncle Joseph Baker & their ants Mary Coubourn & Hannah Yarnall.”

Mary, Hannah and Sarah Baker took up 50 acres each in Edgmont township, by warrants dated Nov. 25, 1684, by which it appears probable they came over in the capacity of servants in order to obtain this land.

Of the children of John Baker, Dorothy was married in 1694 to Philip Yarnall, a brother to Francis Yarnall. Sarah was probably killed by lightning. The verdict of an inquisition held by Jacob Simcock, coroner, at Edgmont, on the 6th of 5 mo. 1699, on the body of Sarah Baker, was that “wee can find noe other but that it pleased Almighty God to vissit her with death by the force of Thunder.” Of her sisters Rebecca and Mary no further information has been obtained.

Joseph Baker, Sr., was a member of the grand jury in March 1685-6, and June 1686, and in December 1686 was chosen constable for Gilead, the name by which that locality was then called, but in December 1687 “Joseph Baker returned John Hoollestone Supervisor of ye High wayes for ye Township of Edgmon for ye next ensuing year.” In 1688 he and Thomas Worrellaw were appointed to collect the county levies in Edgmont, and he was again a grand juror in 1690. In the years 1700, 1703, 1706, 1710, 1711, and 1713, he was elected to the Assembly from Chester county. In the affairs of the meeting he was also active, and in 1695 he and John Bowater were appointed overseers for Bowater’s Meeting, afterward known as Middletown Meeting. On the 1st of 11 mo. 1693, “Ordered by this meeting that Tho: Worrellaw and Joseph Baker take care for the monthly collection in their meeting.” But on 8 mo. 1st, 1694, “there being no collections brought in to this meeting for some months past from John Bowater’s meeting. This meeting desires Robert Pennell & James Swaffer to inquier of Tho: Worrellaw & Joseph Baker, who were appointed to collect & receive ye same, and to know ye reason thereof & bring their answer to ye next months meeting.”

His will is dated 12 mo. 19, 1714-5, and proven 7 mo. 24, 1716, in which he names his wife, Mary, and four children, as follows:
THE BAKERS OF EDGMONT.

Joseph, d. 1717; m. Mary Worrilow, daughter of John and Ann, 3 mo. 18, 1709, and had children, Sarah, m. Isaac Strode; Hannah, m. Joseph Talbot, and Joseph, m. Mary Chamberlin. The widow married John Taylor, county surveyor, sheriff, iron-master, and one of the most prominent men of his day in the county.

Sarah, m. Thomas Smedley, 8 mo. 26, 1710, as already stated.

The male descendants from Joseph Baker, Sr., are comparatively few, but in the female lines they are numerous.

Joseph Baker, Jr., who is believed to have been a nephew of the last, appears among the taxables in Edgmont in 1696. He married Martha Woodward, daughter of Richard and Jane Woodward, of Middletown, about 1698. On 9 mo. 24, 1702, he purchased 100 acres of land in Upper Providence from Samuel Robinet, and appears to have lived there a short time, but returning to Edgmont, he sold the above land to Charles Booth, of Marple, for £110, by deed of Feb. 29, 1703–4. He died in Edgmont, January 17, 1735–6, aged 62 years and 16 days, according to the family record. Martha, his widow, died December 13, 1775, aged 98 years, 11 mos., 13 days. These were the ancestors of a host of Bakers, and several of their descendants intermarried with descendants of the Smedley family.

"Att a Monthly Meeting held att Middletown on The 29th Day of the 6th Month 1709."

John Edg, son of John Edg, of Providence, and Mary Smedly, Daughter of George Smedly, of Westowne, Declared their intentions of Takeing each Other in Marriage, this being the first time; this meeting appoints Thomas Minshall and Joseph Sharplis to make Inquirey into his Clearness and Conversation and make Reporte thereof to our next monthly meeting.

Women's meeting appointed Hannah Yarnall and Elthew Golding to inquire as to Mary Smedley's clearness of other engagements.

At a Monthly Meeting held at Springfield on the 26th Day of the 7th Month 1709.

John Edg and Mary Smedly Declared their intentions of Takeing each Other in Marriage, this being the second time, and nothing appearing to obstruct they are left to their Liberty to accomplish their Marriage according to the Good Order of Truth. The meeting Requests Francis Yarnall and Aaron James to attend the above 5th Marriage and see that Good order be keep there and make Reporte to the next mo: meeting.

8 mo. 31, 1709: "The friends appointed to attend the Marriage of John Edge Reports that things were well and orderly There."

The marriage certificate was not recorded. It appears that at that date no such record had been opened and it was not until 1718 that a book was obtained for the purpose. Several certificates of earlier date were subsequently placed on record.

John Edge, Sr., with Jane his wife, came from St. Andrews, Holborne, in the county of Middlesex, England. He had purchased from William Penn 125 acres of land, by deeds of lease and release, dated March 21, 22, 1681-2, and which was subsequently located in Nether Providence township, whereon they settled. They were active members of Friends' meeting and the monthly meeting was held at their house at different times, in 1695-8. John Edge is mentioned 3 mo. 6, 1689, as an arbitrator between John Worrall and Ann Johnson. He and Robert Vernon were "made choyce of for overseers of Providence Meeting" 1 mo. 25, 1706. Jean Edge and Phebe Peckow were chosen overseers for that meeting 10 mo. 29, 1701. Jean Edge and Mary Sharpless were chosen to that position 9 mo. 25, 1706: Jean Edge and Mary Malin, 4 mo. 26, 1710, in place of Elinor Vernon and Sarah Crockson, but were succeeded by Elinor Vernon and Rebecca Minshall, 7 mo. 24, 1711. "Jean Edgg is chosen overseer for Providence meeting along with Mary Sharpells, instead of Abigail Woodard," 1 mo. 29, 1714, but was succeeded by Rebeckah Minshall, 3 mo. 26, 1718.

John Edge died 5 mo. 10, 1711, aged about 65 years. Mention is made in the women's minutes, 3 mo. 27, 1734, that of the collections brought in, £1:5s were paid to Jane Edge. This was probably the widow of John Edge, now living at an advanced age and all her children deceased. Joseph Edge, a brother to John, came to this country and both were members of the grand jury in March, 1686-7. Joseph appears to have remained unmarried. One Sarah Edge, who married Thomas Bowater 8 mo., 1686, and died 2 mo. 26, 1692, was perhaps a sister.

In Besse's "Sufferings of the Quakers," under date of 1680, we read that "In Trinity-Term this Year, Sir Hugh Windham, one of the Justices of the Common Pleas, brought into that Court at Westminster several Informations in the Name of Thomas Moore, as Informer, against Thomas Farmborow, of London, Chairmaker, Henry Waddy, John Edge of St. Andrews, Holborne, in the County of Middlesex, and John Jones of St. Andrews Holborne, Glover, for £260 each of them, alledged to be forfeited for their not coming to hear Common-prayer for thirteen Months past preceding the Information, on the Statute of 23d Eliz. made against Popish Recusants." Some other Friends being in the like circumstances a statement of the case was published and presented to the King and Parliament, and the House of Commons resolved that such prosecution of Protestant dissenters was dangerous to the peace of the kingdom, but failed to provide a remedy. In 1683 a warrant was granted against George Whitehead for preaching at a meeting in the parish of St. Margaret, Westminster, in pursuance of which a constable and assistants “came with much Fury and Violence, and broke open the Shop, Back door, and several other Doors belonging to the Chambers of George Whitehead, and seized all his Beds and Bedclothes, a large Looking-Glass, a Scrutore, Cane-Chairs, and other Household Goods, also Currants and Sugar out of his Shop, moderately valued by the Owner at £32, but were taken and carried away without suffering any Inventory, Weighing, or Appraisement. It happened during the Time of this Seizure that two of George Whitehead’s Friends, John Edge and Joseph Peckover, being accidentally Spectators of the breaking open his Doors, spoke civilly to the Constables to keep the Peace, and desired that an Inventory of the Goods might be taken, for which the Constables of meer Malice swore a Riot against them, and caused them to be bound over to appear at the next Sessions; at which they were fined and committed to Newgate, and there strictly detained ten Weeks, to their great Loss, being men of considerable Trade and Business, and the said Joseph Peckover above eighty Miles from Home.” In this same year Richard Butcher, John Edge, Christopher Sibthorp, Anthony Ellwood and John Denton suffered distrains of their goods to the value £9:15s, for refusing to bear arms.

Children of John and Jane Edge:
Mary, d. 2 mo. 17, 1698; m. James Sharpless, 1 mo. 3, 1697–8.
Abigail, d. 9 mo. 27, 1716; m. Edward Woodward, 3 mo. 24, 1705.
John, b. about the beginning of the 5th month, 1685; m. Mary Smedley.
Jacob, b. 3 mo. 8, 1690; d. 2 mo. 7 (?), 1720; m. Sarah Jones, 1712, and had children, Hannah, b. 6, 18, 1713; d. 12, 24, 1750–1; m. John Lea: Jane, b. 9, 3, 1715; d. 3, 28, 1784; m. Thomas Parke and James Webb: Abigail, b. 8, 28, 1717; d. 1781, unmarried: Sarah, b. 9, 19, 1719; d. 7, 23, 1728.

It will be seen that all the descendants of this family, bearing the name, are also descended from George Smedley.

John Edge, Jr., and Mary his wife, settled on land which his father had purchased, in Upper Providence. He was chosen overseer of Providence Meeting, 9 mo. 30, 1713, in the room of James Sharples, and was succeeded by Randal Malin, 6 mo. 29, 1715. Becoming dissatisfied with certain members of Providence Meeting, about 1721, he changed his attendance to Middletown Meeting. In addition to farming he was by trade a blacksmith. He died intestate, possessed of 328 acres of land in Upper Providence, and letters of administration were granted to Mary Edge, his widow, May 6, 1734. A synopsis of the title to this land will be given later.
MARY EDGE.

At the Orphans' Court, Aug. 30, 1739, Jacob, Mary and Rachel, three of the children of John Edge, petitioned for guardians, and their uncles, Thomas and George Smedley were appointed. At the same time the widow asked for an order to sell some of the land, and was given permission to sell 35 acres next to Crum Creek and the land of Henry Howard. On Oct. 15, 1739, report was made of a sale by vendue, 7 mo. 22, 1739, of the 35 acres, to James Albin, of Newtown, tailor, at £2: 6s per acre.

Mary Edge was appointed overseer of Middletown Meeting, 11 mo. 29, 1738-9, in place of Mary Pennell, and was succeeded by Hannah Howard, 9 mo. 26, 1739. She and John Yarnall declared their intentions of marriage 6 mo. 27, 1739, at which time Cadwalader Evans and William Pennell were appointed to see that her children's rights were secured. They did not appear at the next meeting, owing to her indisposition, but on 8 mo. 29, 1739, they were given permission to proceed in the accomplishment of their marriage. Cadwalader Evans, Thomas Goodwin, Sarah Lewis and Ann Goodwin were appointed to see that the marriage was orderly accomplished. John Yarnall, being a resident of Willistown, was a member of Goshen Monthly Meeting, to which his wife's membership was transferred by a certificate from Chester, dated 11 mo. 28, 1739-40, and signed by Caleb Cowpland, Clerk, and twenty-four women. Those who signed the marriage certificate 9 mo. 7, 1739, at Newtown Meeting, were these:

John Yarnall was first married, 9 mo. 21, 1722, at Newtown Meeting, to Ann Coppock, of Willistown, daughter of John Coppock. By this marriage he had four children, Sarah, Amos, John and Ann, the last dying young. He was married again, 8 mo. 31, 1728, at Newtown Meeting, to Jane Thomas, daughter of Evan Thomas, of Easttown, by whom he had five children, Ann, Nathan, Isaac, Joshua and Caleb. In 1764 he was assessed with 125 acres of land, 3 horses, 3 cattle and 4 sheep, but it is pretty certain that young stock were omitted. In his will, dated 8 mo. 26, 1765, proven April 25, 1775, he provides for his wife, Mary, and divides his lands between his sons, Joshua, Caleb and Isaac. From the fact that the heirs of John Edge execute a deed, 3 mo. 21, 1772, for 50 acres of land which had been assigned to his widow as her dower, we may suppose that her death had recently occurred. She appears to have been an overseer of Newtown Meeting for a time.

At the next meeting, 2 mo. 29th, they again declared their intentions, and nothing appearing to obstruct, were given permission to accomplish their marriage. George Smedley and Mary the Daughter of William Hammans appeared and Declared their Intentions of marriage with Each other, this being the first time. Ephraim Jackson and Daniel Williamson are appointed to inquire into his Clearness and Conversation and Make Report thereof at our Next Meeting.

The women appointed Dorothy Yarnall and Sarah Minshall to make inquiry about Mary Hammans. At the next meeting, 9 mo. 27th:

George Smedley and Mary Hammans appeared here and Declared their Intentions of Marriage with each other and the persons appointed to enquire report they find nothing to obstruct their proceedings, they having Consent of parents and Relations Concerned, are left to their Liberty to Consummate their said intentions according to good order, and Ephraim Jackson and Daniel Williamson are appointed to attend the said Marriage to see that good order be kept and make report thereof at our Next Meeting and bring the Certificate to be recorded.

The women appointed Dorothy Yarnall and Sarah Minshall to have oversight of the wedding. At the next meeting, 10 mo. 25th:

The friends appointed to attend the Marriage of George Smedley and Mary Hammans Report they was there and saw nothing But what was orderly and have Delivered the Certificate to be Recorded.

11 mo. 30, 1720: "The Representatives of Middletown Meeting Proposeth to this meeting to have George Smedley Ju' an overseer of their meeting in the Room of Joseph Pennell who Desires to be released from that Service at present, which this meeting Consents to till further order."

George Smedley was appointed 3 mo. 27, 1723, with Samuel Levis, Ju', to visit the families of Chester Monthly Meeting: was succeeded by Daniel Williamson as overseer, 5 mo. 27, 1724. On 7 mo. 26, 1725, "Middletown Meeting requests that William Hammans and George Smedley may be Joyned to the meeting of ministers. Ephraim Jackson and Daniel Williamson are appointed to make the needful Enquiry and draw a Certificate."

It may be explained that in the Society of Friends or Quakers the ministers, who received no pay for their services, held meetings for the consideration of the affairs of the church, and these have been termed "select meetings." In 1714 it was thought advisable to appoint some of the elderly and most judicious members to sit with them in their meetings, and these were styled Elders. It has been the duty of elders to have an oversight of the ministry and the spiritual welfare of the church, while the overseers looked after the moral conduct of the members. The same person might fill more than one of these positions at the same time. When a member was thought to have a gift in the ministry he or she was recommended by a certificate from the monthly meeting to the quarterly meeting of ministers and elders. The term of office of an elder lasted while the proper qualifications remained, but overseers were appointed at first for no definite period and changes were often made at their own requests. At length a rule was established by which reappointments of overseers should occur at stated periods. No singing or other music was heard in the assemblies, and the term "church" referred to the organization and not to the building in which they met. With the belief that true worship was "in spirit and in truth," meetings were frequently silent; and when preaching or prayer was heard it was at the promptings of the spirit and could not be predicted in advance. To have referred to a minister as "Reverend" would have been shocking irreverence, and the idea that he could join people in marriage, rank heresy. In some parts of the United States there are congregations still claiming the name of Friends who have reverted to the practices of other denominations, and have their minister who is expected to speak at stated times and for pay, while a choir fills up the time not occupied by other exercises, and silent worship is scarcely a tradition to the younger members. For the information of the latter, so far as they are descendants of the Smedley family, it may be said that Quakerism as they see it bears no resemblance to that of their ancestors one hundred years ago.

While the appointment of elders by the men's meeting dated from 1714, it was not till 1740, that the Yearly Meeting declared the practice equally applicable to women. At Chester Monthly Meeting, 2 mo. 26, 1742: "The women friends acquaints this meeting that Pursuant to the directions of ye Quarterly Meeting for appointing women to sit in the Ministers Meeting they have Chose Grace Lloyd for Chester, Hannah Levis for Springfield, and Mary Smedley for Middletown for that purpose." Of the ministry of George Smedley we have no further account, and it was probably confined to his own meetings and his services to the visiting of families. It is mentioned, 3 mo. 23, 1764, that he was a subscriber to George Fox's Journal (3d edition).

By deed of April 7, 1717, his father conveyed to him the Middletown tract of 295 acres, excepting 30 acres formerly sold to Thomas Barnsley. He also purchased, May 17, 1726, from his brother Thomas, 250 acres in Willistown; and from Richard Barry, Dec. 26, 1728, 75 acres more in that township. Of the 250 acre tract, he and his wife conveyed to their son George 147 acres, 8 mo. 2, 1749, and to their son Joshua, 9 mo. 1, 1750, 95 acres more. The remaining 8 acres, with the Barry tract, they conveyed to their son Caleb, Jan. 12, 1761. The homestead, in Middletown, was disposed of by will.

John Sharples, baptized at Wybunbury, Cheshire, England, Aug. 15, 1624, died near Chester, Pa., 4 mo. 11, 1685; son of Geoffrey and Margaret (Ashley) Sharples; married 2 mo. (April) 27, 1662, Jane Moore, born 1638; died near Chester, Pa., 9 mo. 1, 1722. They became members of the Society of Friends in Cheshire, whence they migrated to Pennsylvania, arriving at Upland, now Chester, on the 14th of 6th month (August), 1682. Their children were Phebe, John, Thomas, James, Caleb, Jane and Joseph, of whom Thomas died on the passage and Phebe, Caleb and Jane within a few years after their arrival.

John Sharples, Jr., born at Blakenhall, 11 mo. 16, 1666; died near Chester, Pa., 9 mo. 7, 1747; married 9 mo. 23, 1692, at a meeting at John Bowater's house, Middletown, Hannah Pennell, b. 7 mo. 23, 1673; d. 10 mo. 31, 1721; dau. of Robert and Hannah Pennell, of Middletown. Jane, their 2d child, married George Smedley, Jr.

William Hammans, son of Henry Hammans, of the parish of Nimpsfield, in the county of Gloucester, England, and Margaret Staples, daughter of William Staples, of the parish of Minchinghampton, in the said county, were married at a Friends' meeting at Naylsworth, 30th of 4th month, 1709.

At Concord Monthly Meeting, 6 mo. 8, 1715: "William Hammans produced a Certificate from the monthly meeting held at Painswick in the County of Gloster in the Kingdom of Great Britain the 8th day of the 2d mo. 1714, to the satisfaction of this meeting." It is somewhat singular that this certificate did not include his wife, and it was not till 3 mo. 7, 1722, that "Margrat Hammans produced a few lines of recommendation from friends of Nailsworth in Gloster sheir, dated 9th of 1st month 1721." They resided for a time in Concord township, but in 1722 removed to Upper Providence, taking a certificate to Chester Monthly Meeting, dated 7 mo. 3, 1722. Here he was recommended as a minister, in 1725, and Margaret died 9 mo. 4, 1731, aged 46 years. Their children were:

Mary, b. 1 mo. 28, 1710; d. 2 mo. 18, 1774; m. George Smedley.
Martha, b. 7 mo. 6, 1713; m. Thomas Yarnall, 9 mo. 21, 1734. Their youngest child, Sarah, b. 1751, probably lived with her aunt, Mary Smedley.
Sarah, b. 3 mo. 28, 1720; m. Roger Pugh.
William, b. 6 mo. 31, 1723.
Hannah, b. 12 mo. 26, 1727-8.
Thomas?

William Staples, senior, died 1 mo. 9, 1715-6, according to the records of Nailsworth Monthly Meeting. William Hammans, of Upper Providence, widower, and Lowry Lewis, of Newtown, widow, were married 10 mo. 27, 1732, at Newtown Meeting. In 1738 they removed to Duck Creek, in Kent county, on Delaware, where Lowry died. William was married a 3d time, 5 mo. 6, 1752, at Concord Meeting, to Lydia Mendenhall, of Concord, widow of Benjamin Mendenhall. She died on the 4th of the following 7th month, but he could not have remained long a widower, for when his own death occurred, 4 mo. 8, 1755, he left a widow, Mary, formerly wife of Abraham Potter, of Sussex county. Her death took place about 1773. All of his wives, except the first, were ministers.

A Testimony from Duck Creek Monthly Meeting, in Kent County on Delaware, concerning William Hammans.

He was born in Old England, in the year 1683, and educated in the profession of the church of England; but as he grew up he became uneasy with the ways and ceremonies thereof; and being a diligent seeker after the true way of worship, in a short time joined with Friends; soon after which he left his native country, being but a young man although married, and coming over to Pennsylvania, settled in Chester County, and after some time received a gift in the ministry. By keeping low and humble, and attending thereto, he became an able minister, having a particular gift in quoting the scriptures and explaining them clearly to the understandings of the people. About the year 1738, he removed within the limits of our monthly meeting, where his service was very considerable, being well qualified for the discipline of the church, and very exemplary in attending meetings, both for worship and discipline, and an humble waiter therein. Divers within the bounds of our monthly meeting were convinced by his ministry, and others who had been convinced before, were thereby further confirmed in the truth of the gospel.

Living in a public place, he had much of Friends' company, whom he was very hearty in entertaining, and so continued to the end of his time; and departed this life the 8th day of the fourth month 1755, in the seventy-second year of his age. On the 11th of the said month, was inter'd in Friends' burying-ground at Duck Creek.

SARAH WILLIAMSON.

THE WILLIAMSON FAMILY.

In the account of the sufferings of Friends in Cheshire, Eng., we read that in November, 1663, Thomas Buckley, Dorothy Deane, William Burtonwood and Ellen Williamson were imprisoned by Writs de Excommunicato capiendo upon Prosecutions in the Ecclesiastical Court for Tithes. In 1683, Thomas Williamson and others were committed to prison for being at a meeting at Newton.

On the 31st of the Month called January, Thomas Needham and Philip Egerton, Justices, came to a Meeting at Newton, and finding a Person at Prayer, Justice Needham fell upon him, beat him on the Head, and punched him on the Breast with his Cane, pulled his Neck-cloth in pieces, and threw him down and kicked him. He also struck several others so that their Heads were swelled with the Blows. The other Justices desired him to forbear, saying, Let us prosecute the Law upon them, but not abuse them. Thus checked he forbore striking, but continued railing, telling them they were Dogs and no Men, no more Christians than their Horses, &c. Then they took their Names, fined them, and granted Warrants for Distress, by which was taken from John Williamson of Creewood-hall, a mare worth £8. [&c.].

Daniel Williamson came from Cheshire to Pennsylvania, in 1682, as a servant with Robert Taylor, of Little Leigh, in that county, whose daughter he calls "cousin" in his will. His sister Ellen (also written Helen and Eleanor,) was married to Bartholomew Coppock, of High Leigh, and another sister, Mary, was the wife of John Howell, of Budworth, all in Cheshire. Howell and wife came over in 1683, in company with Robert Taylor's wife and children, and settled in Marple township. Bartholomew Coppock and wife settled in Springfield. By agreement with Robert Taylor, Daniel Williamson was to receive 50 acres of land for his services, in addition to the 50 acres granted by Penn to servants. The whole 100 acres were laid out Oct. 22, 1683, by warrant of Oct. 20, 1683, along with 300 acres, the purchase of John Howell, in Marple, and all patented to Howell July 25, 1684. The latter, by a codicil to his will, directed his executors to confirm the 100 acres to Daniel Williamson, to whom it was subsequently patented, Jan. 10, 1708.

Among the passengers on the "Endeavour," of London, George Thorp, master, which arrived here the 29th of 7 mo., 1683, beside the Howells and Taylors above mentioned, were Thomas Pearson and Margery his wife, the grandparents of Benjamin West, who came from Pownall, in Cheshire; also John Pearson, his brother, and Mary Smith, his wife's sister. These two doubtless came as servants in order to get their 50 acres each, and a warrant for that amount was granted Oct. 6, 1683. The land was located in Marple.
Daniel Williamson and Mary Smith declared their intentions of marriage at Chester Monthly Meeting, 7 mo. 7, 1685, and Robert Taylor and Thomas Pearson, Grace Stanfield and Ellen Coppock were appointed to make inquiry as to their clearness. On their second appearance, 8 mo. 5, 1685, they were given liberty to accomplish their marriage. Issue:

Robert, b. 10 mo. 3, 1686; m. his cousin Hannah Coppock.
Daniel, b. 8 mo. 6, 1688; m. Hannah, daughter of Randal Malin.
John, b. 7 mo. 11, 1690; m. Sarah Smedley.
Mary, b. 7 mo. 25, 1692; m. Myrick Davies.

A patent was granted Jan. 29, 1684, to Thomas Rudyard for two tracts of 450 acres and 50 acres, in Newtown township. On July 15, 1685, Rudyard conveyed the same land to Andrew Robeson, of Philadelphia, and he to Daniel Williamson, Nov. 24, 1692. The latter appears to have settled in Newtown and there remained till 1723, when he removed to Edgmont township, taking a certificate from Goshen to Chester Monthly Meeting, dated 4 mo. 7, 1723, in which he is spoken of as “having been a man for peace and Quietness among his friends and Neighbours; and also free and Liberall on Truth's account, and we are Loath to part with him but that we hope the altering of his Circumstances may be for his more Comfortable satisfaction for the future; so we Recommend him unto you, thinking it not needfull to Enlarge because allready Known to you,” &c. This was signed by thirty-one of the members.

Application being made to the women's monthly meeting, 7 mo. 6, 1823, for a certificate for Mary Williamson, to Chester, “this meeting thought that she most Properly belonged to that meeting already.” Hannah Yarnall, Mary Lewis and Mary Ashbridge were appointed to go to Chester Monthly Meeting to ascertain their view of the matter. They reported that Chester recognized her as their member. The following proceedings relate to the marriage of their eldest daughter, and show the spirit of the time. At Chester Monthly Meeting, 11 mo. 28, 1711–2:

Springfield friends have spoke with Mary Williamson at their preparative meeting about going to her Daughter's maridge that was married contrary to friends orders, & she seemed to be sorry for it & desired friends would bare with her a litell Longer, soe friends Letts it Rest to see what she will doe of her selfe.

Mary Williamson.

The will of Daniel Williamson, of Edgmont, is dated March 7, 1725–6, and proven March 8, 1727–8, in which his wife and all his children are mentioned.

Although John Williamson became a steady Friend and a minister later in life, the evidence shows that he was somewhat "frisky" in his earlier years. At Chester Monthly Meeting, held at Newtown, 6 mo. 30, 1714, "John Williamson appeared at this meeting and acknowledged himself to blame for running at a Horse Race at Chester faire, and is heartily sorry for it and hopes to never to do the like again."

Tradition says that he paid his respects to one Priscilla Thomas as well as to Sarah Smedley, and had decided in favor of the former, but being at a vendue buying goods for housekeeping, Sarah came to him and said she should die if he married Priscilla. In some perturbation of mind John went to Priscilla to find out what to do about it. She advised him to marry Sarah, adding that it never should be said that she, Priscilla, died for any man. It is further stated that a Maryland gentleman, hearing of the circumstance, and admiring Priscilla’s independence, sought her hand in marriage. John Williamson was at this time an attender of Springfield Meeting. At the monthly meeting, at Providence, 2 mo. 25, 1715,—

Springfield meeting complains against John Williamson for being one of the Chief acters in Dresing a man, Pretending him to be a dead man or Corps, at Daniel Calvert's, and bringing of him into the house to affright the People: he being by some of them there Reproved for it, and was asked how he would answer it to the monthly meeting: his Reply was, it was but Giving in a paper, and they might Get a Box and Call it Williamson's Box: for which Presumptuous action and slight answer this meeting taking into Consideration and appoints francis Yarnall and George Ashbridge to speak with him to be at our next monthly meeting to answer the above complaint.

For the Preservation of our Youth and others at the fair at Chester the meeting appoints Caleb Pusey, John Sharples, Tho̊ Vernon and William Swarford to attend the fair and report to next meeting of their care.

At Middletown, 3 mo. 30, 1715: John Williamson appeared and promised amendment, whereupon he was recommended to the care of Newtown Meeting, to which he desired to belong. "The friends that were appointed to attend Chester faire in order for the Preservation of Youth, Reports Although there was some undesent or Disorderly Carriages by some that was there, yett in the maine they Believe they were of some servis."

By deed of Sept. 29, 1713, Daniel Williamson, of Newtown, yeoman "as well for the Consideration of the natural Love and affection that he hath and beareth Towards John Williamson of Newtown afforsd yeo. (third son of the 4th Daniel), as also for and in Consideration of the full and Just sum of Seventy five pounds of good and current silver money of pensilvania," conveyed to the latter 315 acres of land in Newtown. This was a part of the 450 acres purchased from Andrew Robeson, and included 114 acres which had been laid out to Daniel Williamson as overplus land. As witnesses the names of Mary Williamson, Charles Brooks, Thomas Williamson and Mirick Davies appear. A memorandum was endorsed, that Peaceable & quiet possession and Seisin was had and taken by John Williamson, Feb. 12, 1713-4. This deed was not acknowledged or recorded, except that on Nov. 27, 1770, Abel Green affirmed as to the signature of Thomas Williamson, before H. H. Graham, Esq.

By another deed, dated Dec. 10, 1718, Daniel Williamson and Mary his wife convey to their son John Williamson, all of New Town, 4 acres, 100 perches additional land, adjoining the above. The witnesses were Thomas Williamson, Joseph Williamson and John Allin. Abel Green again affirmed as to the signature of Thomas Williamson, but the deed was not recorded.

With the establishment of Goshen Monthly Meeting, in 1722, Newtown Meeting ceased to be a branch of Chester Monthly Meeting. At Goshen Monthly Meeting, 4 mo. 19, 1732, the representatives of Newtown Meeting requested that John Williamson and Sarah his wife might be recommended to the meeting of ministers and elders. Lawrence Pearson and John Yarnall were appointed to prepare a few lines for that purpose. On 5 mo. 17, 1732, the recommendation was produced, approved and signed. On 12 mo. 17, 1734-5, Sarah Williamson laid before the meeting a concern she had felt to visit the meetings of Friends in New England and on Long Island. A committee was appointed to make inquiry and prepare a certificate for her use, which was signed 1 mo. 10th. On 4 mo. 16, 1735, she produced a return certificate from the Yearly Meeting at Flushing, L. I., and one from the monthly meeting at Mamaroneck, N. Y. At the first session of Goshen Monthly Meeting, 2 mo. 6, 1722, "Sarah Williamson is Chosen overseer of Newtown Meeting along with Lowry Lewis, Instead of Elizabeth Thomas." In this office she was succeeded by Esther Pearson, 6 mo. 4, 1727. She and her husband were frequently appointed on committees to visit families and for other services.

6. Alice Smedley° (George'), b. 3 mo. 2, 1696, according to the record, but this conflicts with that of her sister Sarah, and perhaps should be 1697; d. prior to 1743; m. 12 mo. 18, 1718-9, at Middletown Meeting, John Allen, of Newtown, d. 2 mo. 12, 1720; son of Nehemiah Allen and Mary Earlisman, who were married in Bucks county, Pa., 8 mo. 29, 1683: 2d m. 3 mo. 23, 1722, at Providence Meeting, to Edward Woodward, d. 1754; son of Richard and Jane Woodward, of Middletown. Issue (by last husband only):

When John Allen and Alice Smedley declared their intentions of marriage the first time, at Providence Meeting, 10 mo. 29, 1718, Joseph Pennell and Joseph Sharples, Rachel Jackson and Alice Pennell were appointed to make the usual inquiry as to their clearness, and at their second appearance, 11 mo. 26, 1718, Ephraim Jackson and Aaron James, Rachel Jackson and Sarah Howell were appointed to have oversight of the wedding. The marriage certificate, being recorded, shows that "John Allin, of Newtown, in the County of Chester and Province of Pensilvania, and Alice Smedley, daughter of George Smedley, of Willistown in the said County of Chester, Having declared their intentions of marriage with each other before several monthly meetings of the People of God called Quakers, according to the good order used amongst them," were married on the 18th of the 12th month, 1718-9, "in a publick assembly of the aforesaid people and others met together for that end and purpose at the meeting house in Middletown." The signers to the certificate, as recorded, were these:
The will of John Allin, of Newtown, is dated 2 mo. 8, 1720, and proven 2 mo. 22, 1720, in which he devised to his sister, Sarah Ashton, £20; to Robert Heath, John Cloose (Clews?) and Joseph Beaker articles of wearing apparel; to wife, Alice, residue of estate, real and personal. Executors, wife and John Williamson. Witnesses, Daniel Williamson, Thomas Smedley and Sarah Harry.

Edward Woodward obtained from his father, Richard Woodward, 100 acres of land in Thornbury, by deed of Dec. 10, 1698, to which he added 100 acres more by purchase from John Simcock, 12 mo. 23, 1702-3. By deed of May 30, 1704, he sold both tracts to Philip Taylor, late of Middletown, then Edward's residence, and on the same date obtained from Thomas Taylor, brother to Philip, 200 acres in Middletown, near the southern end of the township. At Court, 9 mo. 30, 1703, "Edward Woodward's ear mark is a slit and a half crop on the near ear, and his brand is E. on the near shoulder and W. on the near buttock." He was one of the grand jury Sept. 27, 1709.

Edward Woodward, son of Richard and Jane, of Middletown, husbandman, and Abigail Edge, daughter of John and Jane Edge, of Providence, were married 3 mo. 24, 1705. The certificate of marriage is recorded by Chester Monthly Meeting, and shows among the witnesses three Richards, Thomas, William, Joseph and Rachel Woodward. While residing in Middletown Edward Woodward was a member of Providence Meeting, of which he and Thomas Minshall were appointed overseers 11 mo. 9, 1710, in room of Randal Malin and Peter Taylor. He was succeeded by Randall Croxton, 5 mo. 28, 1712. "Abigail Woodward is chosen overseer for Providence Meeting, along with Rebecca Minshall, instead of Elinor Alice Woodward received a certificate from Goshen to Chester Monthly Meeting, 7 mo. 7, 1722, signed by nineteen women, stating that she "hath been of a sober orderly conversation." Edward Woodward was again appointed overseer of Providence Meeting, 10 mo. 27, 1731, in place of Isaac Minshall, deceased. He and others were appointed 7 mo. 25, 1732, to visit all the families belonging to the monthly meeting. He and his wife received a certificate to Goshen Monthly Meeting, 3 mo. 27, 1734, and he was succeeded by William Sankey as overseer.

By the will of her first husband Alice became possessed of two tracts of 128½ acres and 45½ acres of land in Newtown. By deeds of September 24 and 25, 1733, Edward and Alice Woodward conveyed this land to John Williamson, who immediately reconveyed it to them again. There they settled and became members of Newtown Meeting, of which he was appointed an elder 6 mo. 21, 1738, in the place of Lawrence Pearson, but was succeeded by John Yarnall 4 mo. 15, 1741. The date of death of Alice Woodward has not been discovered, but she was living March 4, 1741, and her husband was married a third time, 4 mo. 15, 1743, at Newtown Meeting, to Elizabeth Taylor, widow of Peter Taylor, of Providence.

By his first wife, Abigail Edge, Edward Woodward had children, Margaret, who m. Aaron Vernon; Edward, m. to Sarah Sharples; Abigail, PROVIDENCE (OR BISHOP'S) MILLS.

The following history of these mills, as collected by the late Minshall Painter and printed by his brother Jacob, at their home in Middletown, is here given as an instructive side-light on the customs of former times, in which the Smedleys and their associates were directly interested:

In the early settlement of the country, after the timber had been greatly reduced, which was the work of some years, the raising of grain had become a principal business. The soil was then rich with the remains of the forest, and required but little more than putting in the seed to insure a crop. The mills were then places of importance, being necessary as a means of putting the crops into a condition for market, and from which the inhabitants derived a considerable part of their revenue. We have taken some pains to look up the history of this old mill as having a local importance. While some landed estates have descended from age to age in nearly the same line, this mill property has been one for speculation; frequently changing ownership, and the more so by being divided into shares.

William Penn, Proprietor of Pennsylvania, by a patent under the hands of his Commissioners, Samuel Carpenter, Robert Turner, and John Goodson, did grant, on the 24th of June 1690, to James Swaffer, 500 acres of land situated in Providence, Chester County; and the said James Swaffer, by two several deeds, dated 13th of September 1693, and 11th of December 1695, did grant the said 500 acres to Jeremiah Collett; and Jeremiah Collett, by indenture dated 11th of June 1696, did grant the same 500 acres to Josiah Taylor; and Josiah Taylor, by deed, 14th of June 1696, did grant the said 500 acres to John Edge; and John Edge made his will, 10th of 5th mo. 1711, by which he gave to his son John 300 acres of land, to be taken off the upper part of said 500 acres, and gave to his son Jacob the residue of his land. John Edge, the son, purchased of Philip Yarnall a small piece of land on the west side of Ridley creek, in Edgmont, to secure a right for a mill pond, and which was ever after conveyed with the mill property.
THE SMEDLEY FAMILY.

The said John Edge, Jacob Edge and Henry Miller, by mutual agreement, erected a water corn mill on a part of the above mentioned land of John Edge, who allotted for that purpose about 20 acres in addition to that purchased of Philip Yarnall. John Edge and Mary his wife, by deed dated 17th Dec. 1719, conveyed in fee to Henry Miller one-third part of the said corn mill, and one-third part of the two recited parcels of land whereon the mill stands, containing in the whole 22 acres, 3 roods and 10 perches: and the said Henry Miller made his will, 14th 12 mo. 1731, and gave to his son George Miller his share of said corn mill and lands belonging thereto, now called "Providence Mills:" and George Miller conveyed, on the 16th Dec. 1740, to Roger Pugh the undivided one-third part of the said mill and land. Roger Pugh and Sarah his wife sold the one-third part of said water corn mill and land to Lawrence Cox on the 8th 5th mo. 1746; and Lawrence Cox and Sarah his wife conveyed said share to their eldest son John, on the 25th 1st mo. 1752; and John Cox and Mary his wife conveyed, on the 22d Feb. 1755, their share to Thomas Bishop.

Again, John Edge granted to Jacob Edge, 17th Dec. 1719, one-third part of said mill and two tracts of land, and Jacob Edge made his will 3d of 2d mo. 1720, and gave to his wife Sarah his share of Providence mills, being the one-third part, during her life, and afterwards to be divided between his four daughters, Jane, Hannah, Sarah and Abigail. Hannah and Sarah died before their mother, and their shares descended to Jane and Abigail. On the 2d Jan. 1771, James Webb and Jane his wife, John Lowes [who had married Agnes Cowpland, daughter of Caleb Cowpland by Sarah, widow of Jacob Edge], Owen Biddle [who had married Sarah Parke,] and Robert Parke conveyed to Thomas Bishop the one-sixth of said mill and tracts of land; and on the 21st Mar. 1771, Abigail Edge conveyed to Thomas Bishop the one sixth of the same premises also.

On the 29th of Nov. 1721, John Edge and Mary his wife conveyed to William Hammans one-third part of mills and two parcels of lands, the same as to Jacob Edge and Henry Miller; and said William Hammans, by will, gave one-third part of said mill and tracts of land to his son Thomas, who devised the one-third part of said mills and tracts of land to his wife, Susanna, and son William; and Susanna dying intestate, the whole descended to the said William; and on the 28th Mar. 1781, William Hammans sold the third part to Thomas Bishop; so the whole of the mill and two tracts became united in Thomas Bishop.

On the 29th of Nov. 1785, by Proceedings in Partition, the above described mill and tracts of land were adjudged to Thomas Bishop, eldest son of Thomas Bishop, deceased, and Thomas Bishop, by will, dated 23d of 2d mo. 1833, bequeathed to his wife, Priscilla, this mill property with other real estate. Priscilla Bishop, by will, 12th of 3d mo. 1845, bequeathed to her son Amor Bishop that portion of her real estate designated as the mill property, and on which he then resided; and Amor Bishop, by will, 28th July 1856, bequeathed this same property to his son Washington; and Washington Bishop and Louisa his wife conveyed, 21st Mar. 1862, the mill and a portion of his land to Joseph D. Velotte, and which has since been conveyed to William L. Lewis.

William Hammans leased, 16th Sept. 1746, to Lawrence Cox one-third part of the Providence mills for 21 years; which lease, by endorsement, was transferred to Thomas Bishop for the residue of the term. Lawrence Cox, by lease, 25th April 1751, did let to Thomas Minshall, John Minshall, Thomas Yarnall and John Cox, for 14 years, a certain Saw mill adjoining the Grist mill.

On the 17th of 2 mo. 1753, John Cox leased all the Grist and Merchant mill, with two pairs of stones, three bolting chests, &c., to John Williamson, Henry Howard, Henry Caldwell, Lawrence Cox, Edward Farr, James Sill, Nehemiah Baker, Philip Dunn, Robert Regester, James Scott, Aaron Baker, Abel Green, Thomas Minshall, John Scott, Jesse Woodward, James Massey, John Baker, Joseph Black, Nathan Lewis and William Wall, for the term of seven years.

We cannot understand who so many farmers thought it necessary to rent the Grist and Merchant mill, unless to gain precedence in having their grain ground as early as they might desire, and who were perhaps their own shippers. We notice that John Minshall sent his flour to Barbadoes, in 1746, and to Jamaica, by the brig Dolphin, of Wilmington, in 1749, in charge of his brother Moses, who was a sea captain, and received sugar, in part, in return.

By indenture, 22d of Feb. 1755, Caleb Cowpland and Sarah his wife [late wife of Jacob Edge], Thomas Parke and Jane [Edge] his wife, and Abigail Edge did let their share of the water corn mill, and lands thereto belonging, unto Thomas Bishop for the term of ten years. During the time of Thomas Bishop, the younger, there was erected in addition to the other mills a rolling mill for the manufacture of sheet iron, but after being operated for a time it was suffered to fall into decay. The coal used was brought from the Schuykill mines in wagons.

The better to secure a passage across the creek at all times, a subscription was entered into, in 1763, for the purpose of raising means to erect a bridge immediately below the mills. It proved a great inconvenience not to be able to pass and repass to a place of such importance as that where they had their grain manufactured into flour for shipment.

A circulating Library was established at these mills, which for a time was prosperous, but more recently, when cheap periodicals became so common, the Library began to languish, and it is now entirely broken up.

7. Francis Smedley (Thomas, George), b. Willistown, 7, 12, 1712; d. there, 9, 18, 1773; m. 4, 24, 1742, at Middletown Meeting, to Ann Hunter, d. 1794; dau. of Jonathan and Margery Hunter, of Edgmont, and granddau. of Peter and Ann Hunter, who came from county Wicklow, Ireland, about 1717. They left no issue.

At Chester Monthly Meeting, 11, 28, 1739-40, "Ann Hunter requests to Come under the Care of this meeting & this meeting Excepts of it." After marriage she received a certificate to Goshen, 5, 25, 1743. She was chosen overseer of Goshen meeting, 6, 6, 1760, instead of Ann Goodwin, and was succeeded by Elizabeth Hoopes, 11, 6, 1761.

By deed of 6, 18, 1747, Francis Smedley obtained 30 acres of land in Willistown from James Treviller and Catharine his wife, who had purchased 229 acres from Samuel Pennock and Elizabeth his wife, of Philadelphia. From the same parties he obtained 60 acres more out of the same tract, 9, 27, 1753. Richard Battin and Elizabeth his wife, March 20, 1749-50, conveyed to Francis Smedley 52 acres, 93 perches, formerly of John James; and on Oct. 1, 1764, David Reece and wife, Sarah, of Newtown, and John Cox, of Chester township, executors of Lawrence Cox, conveyed to Francis Smedley 209½ acres in Willistown, whereon said Lawrence Cox lived at the time of his death. Francis also inherited from his father 223 acres of the Bowater tract, and was living thereon at the date of his father's will, but leaving no issue this land passed to his brother John. In 1766 he appears to have engaged in tavern-keeping; an unusual occupation for a Smedley, and as a sample of such documents his first petition is here given:

The above petition being granted, Francis Smedley continued to keep tavern the few remaining years of his life. Like many others who have entered upon this business, he became too good a customer at his own bar, and was disowned by Friends, 1, 8, 1773. In 1764 he was assessed with 340 acres and buildings, beside 100 acres of woodland, 5 horses, 6 cattle and 6 sheep. By his will, dated 8, 16, 1773, proven Sept. 25, 1773, he

LANDS DEVISED BY THOMAS SMEDLEY, 1757.
To devised the homestead, containing about 223 acres, which he had inherited from his father, to his brothers, Thomas and George, at the death of his wife: To brother John £5; To sister Sarah, wife of John Minshall, £15; To cousin Abiah Taylor £5; To cousin Hannah, dau. of Isaiah Matlack, £10 at 18; To wife Ann the plantation formerly belonging to Lawrence Cox, James Travilla and John James, containing about 353 acres.

By his father's will he had only a life estate in the homestead, and had his brother John died without issue it would have gone to Thomas and George, as Francis appears to have desired; but John after a lengthy bachelorhood had married and a daughter Elizabeth was born a few weeks prior to the date of Francis's will. At Goshen Monthly Meeting, 8, 5, 1774, John Smedley brought complaint against Ann Smedley, widow of Francis, for keeping him out of his rights. A committee appointed to examine into the matter reported that it was a case concerning title to lands, wills and executorship, in which several persons not members were concerned, and it was thought best to allow the parties to try the matter at law.

Ann Smedley removed to Edgmont township, taking a certificate from Goshen to Chester, dated 1, 6, 1786. By deed of Aug. 30, 1786, from William Gibbons, sheriff, she purchased 10 acres adjoining her other land in Willistown, lately belonging to William Robinson. In her will, dated 4, 10, 1794, she describes herself as under weight of years and weakness of body. Her plantation in Willistown, called the Rising Sun, was to be divided into two parts. To her cousin (niece) Ann Scott, wife of John Scott (and daughter of Peter Hunter), the southern part, reserving the 10 acres purchased at sheriff's sale, which she devised to her kinsman, Francis Smedley, son of George and Hannah: To her cousin (niece) Mary Smedley, wife of Jesse (and daughter of Isaiah and Mary Hunter Matlack), the northern part of the land: Ann Scott and Mary Smedley to pay each £100, and Francis Smedley, £30, to the executors. To Willistown Meeting £50 for repairs of house and graveyard: To Priscilla Green, wife of George, £10: To Sarah Smedley, daughter of George, deceased, £10: To cousin Sarah Starr, daughter of John Minshall, £10. There were several other legatees on the Hunter side. As executors she appointed Josiah Lewis (father of Judge William Lewis, of Philadelphia,) and Jesse Smedley.

The Rising Sun tavern was kept by John Scott, 1773-5; by Joshua Smith, 1776; by Richard Thornbury, 1782-3; by John Scott, 1785-7; by Benjamin Matlack, 1788-91; by John Scott, 1793-1800, and perhaps later.

JOHN DAWSON, hatter, and wife Dorothy, are said to have come from London in 1710 and settled in Moreland township, Philadelphia (now Montgomery) county, where, beside his trade, he carried on tavernkeeping at the “Crooked Billet,” now Hatboro. He removed to Philadelphia before his death, which occurred 11, 27, 1742.

Children of John and Dorothy Dawson:

John, d. in Philadelphia, 1740; probably unmarried.

James (?).

Widow Dorothy Dawson lived with her daughter, Ann Tomkins, in Charlestown, Chester county, in the house which the latter built on the hill by Mason’s tavern. Whilst on her death-bed, hearing that water frequently rose in the graves at Providence, she requested that they would not drown her after she was dead, but take her corpse to Pikeland, which was just established. She was the first one interred in that graveyard and her granddaughter, Elizabeth Starr, wife of Joseph Starr, planted an apple tree at the head of her grave, which blew down a few years since, and the place is now supplied by a Lombardy poplar.—D. Longstreth, 1831. See Dawson Genealogy.

Benjamin Dawson’s wife, Elizabeth Fussell, b. about 1727, was the daughter of Solomon Fussell (b. in Yorkshire, Eng., 1704, emigrated to Penna., and settled in Philadelphia about 1721, where he was a merchant; son of William and Elizabeth Fussell) and wife, Susanna Coney, daughter of Jacob Coney and wife Barbara, daughter of William Clinkenbeard, who d. about 1753, in the 104th year of his age. Benjamin and Susanna Dawson were Friends and resided at Smyrna, Del., where she d. 9, 8, 1792, in her 66th year. They had twelve children, John, Susanna, Dorothy, Solomon, Sarah, Benjamin, William, Elizabeth, Isaac, Jacob, James and Elizabeth.

It is related of William Clinkenbeard that upon the birth of Susanna Dawson he said to his daughter Barbara Coney, "Arise daughter, go see thy daughter, for thy daughter's daughter has a daughter." This Susanna Dawson, having seen her gt. gt. gr. father, lived to see her gt. gt. gr. children, making nine generations that came under her observation. She was first m. in 1765, to Thomas Cowgill, who d. 1766, by whom she had a dau. Sarah, b. 2. 24. 1766, who m. Richard Cox, of Willistown, about 1784. She and her mother received a certificate from Duck Creek, which was produced at Goshen, 3. 11. 1774.

John Smedley inherited the homestead, in Willistown, together with 400 acres of land, to which he added 20 acres in Goshen by purchase from George Ashbridge and wife Jane, Feb. 22, 1760. His brother Francis dying without issue, in 1773, he inherited the land of the latter, being 223 acres. In 1766 his brother George Smedley was disowned by Goshen Monthly Meeting, to which proceeding John took such decided exceptions that he became subject to the discipline and was disowned 12, 9, 1768. He appealed to the Quarterly Meeting and thence to the Yearly Meeting, by both of which the judgment of the monthly meeting was confirmed. He finally made an acknowledgment, which was accepted 3. 5. 1773, and he was received again into membership.

The will of John Smedley, of Willistown, is dated 4, 1. 1793, and proven Aug. 26, 1793. After making provision for his wife he devised to his son Thomas the land formerly of his brother Francis, 223 acres, out of which Thomas was to pay £100 to his sister Esther, at 19: To son John the home and 160 acres, paying to dau. Susanna £100 at 19: To son Benjamin 91 acres, 88 perches in Willistown and 20 acres in Goshen, he paying to dau. Mary £100 at 19: To son Isaac 70 acres, 104 perches: Residue of lands to sons John, Isaac and Jacob: Wife and sons, Thomas and John, executors.

The will of Susanna Smedley, of Radnor township, Delaware county, is dated 6, 22. 1830, with codicil, 6, 8. 1833, and probate, Dec. 5. 1834, by which she gave to her gr. dau. Susanna Litzenberg, and gt. gr. dau., Sarah Harrison and Elizabeth Cox, $15 each: Residue to three children of dau. Esther and daus. Susanna Hood and Mary Lamborn: Son Jacob executor.

Thomas Minshall, son of John Minshall, of Lachford, Cheshire, Eng., with Margaret, his wife, came from the parish of Stoak, in Cheshire, 1682, and settled in the upper part of Nether Providence. Before leaving England he had purchased 625 acres in Pennsylvania, by deeds of lease and release, dated March 21, 22, 1681-2. By warrant of Sept. 9, 1682, there was surveyed to him 300 acres in Nether Providence. He also took up 315 acres in Middletown and purchased from Henry Hollingsworth 127 acres more in that township. Providence Meeting was held at first at his house, and afterward at a house erected for the purpose on his land. On the 16th of 6 mo., 1707, he conveyed the land in Nether Providence to his son Isaac, and at the same time that in Middletown to his son Jacob. His wife d. 3. 27, 1727, aged 74 years and 8 mos., but the time of his death has not been noticed.

Jacob Minshall, b. 5, 1, 1685; d. 5, 15, 1734; m. 1707, Sarah Owen, dau. of Dr. Griffith Owen, of Philadelphia, and settled in Middletown. Their children were Thomas, who married Agnes Salkeld, Sarah, Margaret, John, who married Sarah Smedley, Moses and Ann.

John Minshall was frequently appointed on committees or represented Middletown Meeting at the monthly gatherings, and on 2, 9, 1763, was appointed with others to pay a religious visit to such as were delinquent in attendance of meetings. At Chester Monthly Meeting, 4, 25, 1757, "The women friends have acquainted this meeting that they have proposed Agnes the wife of Thomas Minshall and Sarah, the wife of John Minshall, for Elders to sit with the ministring friends in their meeting, in the room of Mary Smedley, which is approved of till further order." 5, 31, 1762: "Esther Bickerdike being about to Remove from this meeting has put Friends under a necessity of Chouseing a Clark which is Sarah Minshall." Jane Yarnall, wife of Nathan, was appointed an elder for Middletown Meeting, 3, 23, 1770, and Agnes and Sarah Minshall released. Phebe Miller, Agnes Minshall and Martha Sharples were appointed, 9, 25, 1772, to correct the women's minutes, and Sarah Minshall to transcribe them. "Sarah Minshall desires to be released from being Clark & Rebekah Sharples is chosen in her room," 6, 24, 1776.

In 1764 John Minshall was assessed in Middletown with 240 acres and buildings, 128 acres of uncultivated land, 5 horses, 12 cattle and 11 sheep, and his tax was £2-16-9. By his will, dated 12, 27, 1783, proven May 27, 1784, provides for his wife, Sarah; gives to dau. Jane Longstreth the money her husband owes me, about £200: To dau. Sarah Starr all the money her husband owes me, about £200: To dau. Mary Hall, £200 in gold or silver: To sons Thomas and Moses all the lands in Middletown and all residue of estate, except that after wife's decease each daughter was to have £100. Sarah Minshall, in will dated 2, 23, 1799, gave to Middletown Meeting £5 for the use of the poor.

10. Mary Smedley^3 (Thomas^2, George), b. 10, 22, 1719; d. between 6, 20, and 7, 10, 1739; m. 11, 12, 1737, at Goshen Meeting, to Samuel Taylor, d. 1759; son of Abiah Taylor and Deborah Gearing, of East Bradford township, Chester County. He was married again, 10, 16, 1741, at Birmingham Meeting, to Deborah Darlington, b. 7, 13, 1719; buried at Goshen Meeting, 2, 10, 1803; dau. of Abraham Darlington and Elizabeth Hillborn, of Birmingham. The burial of the second wife at Goshen was probably because the first was interred there, though the Taylors did not belong to that meeting. Issue of Samuel and Mary Taylor:

57. Abiah, b. 9, 29, 1738; d. 12, 3, 1801; m. Ann Trimble.

From the large number of witnesses signing the marriage certificate, as recorded, it would appear that the wedding of Samuel Taylor and Mary Smedley was an important event of the neighborhood, there being 88 names. By his 2d marriage Samuel Taylor had children, Samuel, Deborah, Abraham, John, Isaac, Mary, Elizabeth and Rachel.

Abiah Taylor, yeoman, son of Abiah Taylor, of Didcot, in Berkshire, and Deborah Gearing, spinster, daughter of John Gearing, of Stanford in the Vale, in the same county, were married at Farringdon in the County of Berks, aforesaid, on the 18th of the Second Month, called April, 1694. The bride signed her maiden name to the certificate of marriage. Tradition says that Abiah Taylor, Jr., made some voyages to Virginia for tobacco, prior to his settlement in Pennsylvania. Deeds of lease and release, dated March 4 and 5, 1701, between John Toovey, of Henley upon Thames, Oxford, citizen and grocer, of London, and Abiah Taylor of Harwell in Berks, mercer, show that Abiah Taylor, having a reversionary interest in the estate of Joane Dew, consisting of a messuage or tenement in Stanford in the Vale, heretofore in the possession of Thomas Langley, and John Toovey, having 1250 acres of land in Pennsylvania, they made an exchange. Abiah Taylor arrived here in 1702, and obtained a warrant, dated 1, 19, 1702–3, to take up 500 acres in Chester County. Another warrant was granted 2, 6, 1703, for 475 acres, the remainder of Toovey's purchase after deducting 25 acres for "Liberty Land" in Philadelphia. He had perhaps sold 250 acres unlocated, or otherwise obtained a warrant for that amount which has not been noticed. Accompanying the second warrant the following letter was sent to the surveyor:

In pursuance of the above a tract of 430 acres was laid out in what is now East Bradford township, through which the east branch of the Brandywine flows, from a little above "Deborah's Rocks" to a point about a mile and one-eighth below. Near the upper end of this, on a pretty mound, Abiah Taylor erected, in 1724, a brick house which is still standing with its quaint narrow windows, which formerly contained lead sash and small panes of glass. A branch of the Brandywine, from the eastward, flows close by and has been known as Taylor's Run, but recently the name of Lady Creek has become more popular. Abiah Taylor erected a mill upon this as early as 1722, of which the ruins only remain. His brother Joseph came from England in 1708, and built a mill on Pocopson Creek about 1724.

Abiah and Deborah Taylor had children: Ann, who m. Richard Barnard; Abiah, who died unmarried; Alice, m. to Daniel Hoopes, Jr.; Deborah, m. to Jonathan Parke, and Samuel. The father died about October, 1747, and Samuel inherited the homestead, which by his will, dated 1, 24, 1759, he directed to be divided between his sons.

Thomas Smedley and Lydia James declared their intentions of marriage at Goshen, 9, 20, 1749, and Amos Yarnall and Joseph James (of Westtown), Phebe Hibberd and Alice Hall were appointed to make the usual inquiry as to their clearness. At their second appearance, 10, 18, 1749, the inquirers were appointed to have the oversight of the marriage. In the women's meeting, 11, 15, 1749, those appointed to attend the marriage "reports not so clear as could be desired, some of the young men that were guests behaving in an unbecoming manner to one of them; which affront this meeting do not think proper to pass by with Impunity, therefore laid ye same before ye men's meeting, who have taken it under their notice."

Morgan James, of Radnor, and Elizabeth Prytherch, of the same township, were married 11, 1, 1694, at Radnor Meeting. No other James signed the marriage certificate, and it is probable, according to the Welsh custom, that he was the son of some one whose first name was James. A brother, Thomas James, lived in Whiteland township but left no children. Elizabeth Prytherch was the daughter of Evan Prytherch (also written Prothero and Protherah) and Elizabeth (Thomas?) his wife. George Thomas, the owner of 200 acres of land in Newtown, devised the same to his cousin (niece?) Elizabeth, afterward wife of Morgan James. The latter subsequently married a 2d wife, Mary, and died in Newtown about June, 1737, leaving children by last wife, Thomas, Aaron, Jonathan, Martha and Hannah James.

Thomas Smedley3 inherited by the will of his father 253 acres of the Jobson tract in Willistown, together with 22 acres which had been patented to his father. To this he added by deed of March 14, 1768, from John Morton, sheriff, 150 acres in the same township, with grist and saw mill thereon, late the property of Samuel Grubb. From Joseph Potts and wife Sarah, of Pottstown, he obtained, Jan. 10, 1771, 110 acres, 20 perches more in Willistown, part of 253 acres devised to said Sarah by her father, Samuel Powel, of Philadelphia.

By deed of Aug. 7, 1784, Thomas Smedley and Lydia his wife, of Willistown, conveyed to their son Joseph Smedley, of the same place a tract of 15 acres, 94 perches, and a half interest in another tract of 17 acres, 16 perches, with grist and saw mill, being parts of the Grubb's Mill property. Oct. 18, 1784, they conveyed to Caleb Maris 30 acres, 80 perches of the Potts tract; and on Jan. 31, 1785, to Gen. Anthony Wayne, the 22 acre patent.

Becoming financially embarrassed, Thomas Smedley and Lydia his wife executed a letter of attorney, June 10, 1786, to Daniel Smedley, Thomas Smedley, Jr., and Nathaniel Grubb, "to enter into & take possession of all and singular their Messuages, Lands, Tenements & Hereditaments, situate lying and being in the County of Chester . . . . and in their names to grant, Bargain, Sell and absolutely dispose of, either together or in parcels, by private contract or public sale." These attorneys executed conveyances as follows: To Joseph Davis, June 26, 1786, for 177 acres: To Griffith Jones, Nov. 27, 1786, 37 acres 99 perches of the Potts tract: To Caleb Maris, 2, 17, 1787, 25 acres of the same: To Joshua Smedley, Nov. 27, 1786, 26 acres, 85 perches of the Jobson tract devised by Thomas Smedley*: To Thomas Smedley, Jr., 4, 28, 1790, for 156 acres, part of the 253 acres devised by Thomas Smedley*: To David Willson, of Tredyffrin, 10 acres, 3, 15, 1790, part of the Potts tract: To Daniel Smedley, 5, 23, 1807, 54 acres of the devise from Thomas Smedley*: To Robert McClemmons and wife Susanna (Smedley), on the same date, 2 acres, 30 perches of the Jobson tract, and 4 acres, 153 perches of the Potts tract.

George Smedley obtained a certificate from Goshen to Concord Monthly Meeting, 7, 10, 1750, in order for marriage, and Patience Smedley produced to Goshen a certificate of membership, from Concord, dated 12, 4, 1750–1, but not signed until the next meeting, 12, 4, 1750–1, “by reason of the extremity of the weather & smallness of the meeting.” It certified that “her Life and conversation hath been in a good Degree Orderly, and a Diligent frequenter of our Religious meetings,” and was signed by William Trimble, clerk, and sixteen women.

Thomas Mercer, from Aynoe-on-the-Hill, in the county of Northampton, England, with Mary, his wife, settled in Thornbury township, where he purchased 238 acres of land, 1, 12, 1699–1700, immediately east of the present Westtown Station. His will is dated 3, 17, 1715, and proven 9, 13, 1716. His widow died in 1723. Their children were: Thomas, m. Hannah Taylor, dau. of Josiah and Elizabeth (Pennell) Taylor; Mary, m. William Pennell, 1710; Elizabeth, m. 1712, Joseph Woodward, and 2dly(?), in 1716, William Vestal; Ann, m. 1713, Joshua Peirce; Joseph, m. 1719, Ann Wickersham.
THE SMEDLEY FAMILY.

Thomas Mercer, Jr., settled at first in Marlborough, but after a few years removed to Westtown, close by the Thornbury homestead, where he died about Jan., 1758.

Children of Thomas and Hannah Mercer:

Rachel, b. 6, 12, 1712; m. Evan Davis, Dec. 23, 1728.

Thomas, b. 1, 18, 1734; d. 3, 18, 1816; m. Jane Hunt and Lydia Harlan.

George Smedley inherited from his father a fulling mill on Ridley Creek, together with 255 acres of land. An adjoining neighbor on the west was George Ashbridge, with whom he had a controversy as to their respective lines. At Goshen Monthly Meeting, 7, 11, 1766, complaint was made of George Smedley for removing a landmark, a corner of George Ashbridge's land, and cutting and taking a tree away. A committee appointed to examine into the case reported that he claimed the land where the tree and landmark stood, and the assistance of the Quarterly Meeting was invoked to settle the dispute. This meeting appointed Peter Worrall, Samuel Sharpless, Abram Bonsall, John Davis, Robert Mendenhall, Samuel Osborne, Daniel Byrnes, James Robinson, Thomas Milhous and Thomas Lightfoot, none of whom were members of Goshen Monthly Meeting, and after a hearing they decided that George Smedley was at fault. The latter was unwilling to accept the decision and was disowned 12, 5, 1766.

In the western gable of the stone house, now the residence of his great-grandson, John G. Smedley, is a stone, bearing the initials and date, G. P. 1766.

In the assessment of 1777 George Smedley appears to have held 260 acres of land, 2 horses, 4 cattle, 6 sheep, and a fulling mill. He died intestate and letters of administration were granted Oct. 3, 1783, to Patience Smedley, his widow. In 1786 the property appears to have been assessed in the name of John Smedley, Jr., and consisted of 275 acres, 2 horses, 2 cattle, a fulling mill and a tan-yard.

At the Orphans' Court, Sept. 18, 1787, Thomas Smedley, the eldest son, presented a petition, representing that his father died intestate, leaving a widow and seven children, and seized of a messuage, Fulling Mill, Tanyard, and about 270 acres of land in Willistown, and asking for an inquisition to divide the property amongst the heirs, or otherwise to place a valuation upon it. It was therefore ordered by the Court that the sheriff should take twelve good men with him and go to the said messuages and lands, and divide or value the same. On Dec. 18, 1787, Ezekiel Leonard, sheriff, made return that he had taken James Gibbons, Joshua Evans, Charles Dilworth, Joshua Ashbridge, Enoch Yarnall, George Davis, Nathaniel Grubb, Isaac Massey, Joseph Davis, Jacob Vogdes, William Garrett and Caleb Hibberd, who on Dec. 5th, had viewed the premises and found they could not be divided without prejudice to or spoiling the whole; wherefore they had valued the Messuage, Fulling Mill, Tanyard and 344½ acres of land at the sum of £1438 : 3 : 9. This report being satisfactory, it was confirmed, and Thomas Smedley petitioning that the property might be awarded to him at that valuation, it was so ordered, he giving security for the shares of the others. In that day the eldest son was by law entitled to a double share of a parent's estate.

We have seen that Thomas Smedley, by will, devised to his wife, a mulatto woman, Nelly, and her child; and Sarah Smedley, by will, gave their freedom to Nelly and her children, Hannah and Rachel. As a further sequel to the case, the following appears among the family papers:

Whereas A Dispute hath for some time Existed amongst the Smedleys Respecting the Maintainance of a Molatto woman Called Nelly and the Disputants having Mutually agreed that we the subscribers shall settle said Dispute between or amongst them, We do therefore ajudge and award that the said Nelly shall be supported and Maintainted by and Equally between the Estates of John Smedley and George Smedley (Deceased) as long as a Certain sum of money Called reversions (left to them by their Mother) shall last for that use if so long the said Nelly should live; As witness our hands the 21st Day of July 1803.

Providence Meeting is also mentioned, 3, 4, 1685.

At a monthly meeting held at Walter Faucit's, 2, 2, 1688: "It is desired by the meeting that all friends belonging to this meeting bring in their Certificates to the next monthly meeting; and those that have none to come to the said meeting and satisfy friends the reason thereof; and that these friends following doe publish the same at the respective meetings following, the first day before the next monthly meeting, viz., George Maris for Bartholomew Coppock's meeting, John Boweter for his meeting, Randal Varnon for Chester meeting, Thomas Minshall for his meeting."

At a Quarterly Meeting held at Walter Faucet's, 9, 2, 1691: "Ordered by this meeting that from henceforth a monthly Collection be settled in each particular first day's meeting, and two appointed to receive them and give account to the quarterly meeting."

At Chester Monthly Meeting, 10, 7, 1691: "It being agreed by the Last Quarterly Meeting that a monthly Collection be settled in each particular first day's meeting, w'h is to be upon the Last weekly first day of each month by order of this meeting, the persons to receive it are, for Chester, Randell Vernon, Caleb Pusey; and Thomas Minchall & Bartholomew Coppock for their meeting, and Robert Burrow, John Boweter for their meeting."

First mo. 7, 1691-2: "Ordered by this meeting ye' from henceforth Walter Faucit receive all ye' respective collections belonging thereto, & that ye' persons ye' receive it at each meeting either bring or order it into his hands to every monthly meeting, and ye' ye' said Walter pay away none of it but by ye' consent of this meeting, and that an account be kept by him in this Book, of what he receives and what he payes, and give an account thereof to every monthly meeting."

This custom, so common in other churches, of making collections in First-day meetings, was continued by Friends here for at least fourteen years, but there are probably very few of the present generation who are aware that it ever existed. From the accounts of Walter Faucet, treasurer, and his successor, Randall Vernon, we learn the amounts contributed by the different meetings, and it appears that in the 11th month, 1692, Thomas Minshall's collections were six shillings, seven pence. After this date the receipts from "Thomas Minshall's Meeting" are regularly reported until 12, 24, 1700-1, when the name of Providence is substituted.

At a Quarterly Meeting held at Thomas Vernon's, 3, 4, 1696, "This meeting consents yª the meeting at Bartholomew Coppocks be Settled every first and 3ª day, and at Thomas Minshall’s every first & 4ª day, and at John Bowater’s every first and 5ª day.” Third mo. 2, 1698: “Chester monthly meeting being called, Chester friends desiring the weekly meeting to be at Randell Vernon’s the second 5ª day of each month This meeting doth alowe it. Its also agreed that the meeting at Thomas Minchalls do joyne with them that day. Its also agreed that the meeting at Bartholomew Coppock’s on the 3ª day be on yª 5ª day.”

Twelfth mo. 6, 1698–9: “The friends belonging to Thomas Minshall’s meeting propose their Intention of building a meeting house at the burying ground by Tho: Powell’s: This meeting upon Consideration thereof think fitt to deferr the matter untill the next Quarterly meeting, It being the sence of this meeting that no meeting house be hereafter built upon any new situation without yª advice & Consent of the Quarterly meeting.”

“This meeting appoints Caleb Pusey, Thomas Worth, John Hood, George Peirce, Nicholas Pyle & Robert Carter to meet with those friends belonging to Thomas Minchall’s meeting, to view & consider of the most convenient place where to sett the above proposed meeting house.”

Third mo. 1, 1699: “According to the order & request of yª Last Quarterly meeting The friends appointed to inspect into & consider of the most Conveniant place to build the meeting house, to answer that of Tho: Minshall’s, Do make return under their hands that it is their sence that at the farther end of Thomas Minchall’s Land, by yª high roade side, is the most Conveniant place for that service & accordingly this meeting approves of yª same.”

Sixth mo. 5, 1700: “Ordered that the next Quarterly meeting be held at the new meeting house in nether Providence.”

Ninth mo. 4, 1700: “Nether Providence friends request that their first days & week days meeting be removed from Thomas Minchall’s to their new meeting house, which this meeting alowes off.”

Third mo. 12, 1701: “Providence meeting requesting that whereas their weekly meeting being the second 5ª day of each month at Randal Vernon’s, it may be removed to the new meeting house, which this meeting doth allow off.”

The first house was probably of logs. In 1723 a committee was appointed to enlarge the building for the accommodation of the Quarterly Meeting, they being David Lloyd (Chief Justice), John Wright, Richard Maris, George Maris, Henry Miller, Philip Yarnall, John Mendenhall and William Pennell. Perhaps this was not accomplished very soon, but on 6, 29, 1726, John Wright requested to have the accounts examined, and from the report there appeared to be due to John Owen eight pounds, twelve shillings. On 11, 30, 1726–7, David Lloyd, Thomas Vernon, Samuel Levis, Jun'., Isaac Minshall, Peter Dicks, Daniel Williamson, George Smedley and Bartholomew Coppock were appointed to have a gallery erected for the accommodation of large gatherings.

Eighth mo. 26, 1754: "It appearing to this meeting that this meeting House Is very much out of Repair, and in order to Have it Repaired it is agreed by said meeting That John Sharpless, Joseph Hoskins, Isaac Howell, William Fell, Peter Dicks, Peter Taylor, John Haycock, George Smedley and Nathan Yarnall be appointed to agree with Workmen to build y^e Old End with stone and such necessary Repairs on y^e Inside as They shall Think proper, and to make Report of y^e cost and Charge when Done,—Providence friends agreeing To pay a Quarter part Thereof; and this meeting agrees to keep y^e next monthly meeting at Chester at y^e usuall Time."

At the next meeting the masons had sent in their account, which was not satisfactory, but on 11, 25, 1754, it was reported settled at £15 : 17 : 9.

On 8 mo. 30, 1773, it was agreed "to repair the part of the Meeting House where the Men Friends now hold their Monthly Meeting, during the summer season, to make it more suitable for Winter, as followeth: To lay a Floor overhead, provide a stove, set it up in the said apartment, and likewise that part of the Roof over the same," &c.

Third mo. 28, 1814: It was proposed to build a meeting house at Providence, 65 by 35 feet in size, at an estimated cost of $1500, by using the old materials; and on 5, 30, 1814, "It is now agreed to fix the back wall of the House midway on the present boundary of the Grave Yard." Afterward it was concluded to have the building three feet higher than at first proposed, at the additional cost, by contract, of $106. The Monthly Meeting was held at Middletown during the time of rebuilding, but in the new house again, 1, 30, 1815, when it was reported that the work was completed except a small proportion of the painting. The committee reported that they all, except one, "met at said house and viewed the work and united in directing the treasurer to pay to the undertaker, Mahlon Parsons, the balance due him of the sums contracted for, with the addition of three dollars for some extra work done by their order, which makes the whole amount of the expense of said house to the meeting Thirteen hundred eighty nine dollars. The committee also report that they united in the expediency of providing one new stove, with new pipe, for said house, at the expence of this meeting and that they had endeavoured to procure one but without success owing to the scarcity of the kind agreed upon. The committee are now released and Mahlon Parsons and Enos Sharpless are appointed to provide the stove as agreed upon as soon as it can be had and draw upon the treasurer of this meeting for the amount."

On 5, 29, 1815, it was further represented that the whole cost of the new meeting house, including $12.12 paid to Enos Sharpless for a stove, pipe, &c., was $1401.12, which was paid by the meetings thus: Chester, $322; Springfield, $308.25; Providence, $154.12; Middletown, $616.49. "We have also directed the gallery rails in the south end of said house to be lowered three inches, and in the north end to an equal heighth."

Thomas Minshall and wife Margaret, Nov. 19, 1726, conveyed to Henry Miller, James Sharples and Edward Woodward, one acre, on which the meeting house was located; and their son Isaac Minshall, with Rebecca his wife, on the following day, conveyed to the same trustees an acre of land adjoining; for a burial ground. These three trustees executed a deed Nov. 24, 1726, for the two acres, to John Camm, Peter Taylor, Peter Dicks, James Sharpless, Junr., Caleb Cowpland and William Surman. In 1783 these were all deceased, and Providence Meeting appointed Thomas Smedley, Roger Dicks, Ambrose Taylor and Samuel Malin "in their steads of & for both the said Lotts of Ground so long as they shall continue in Membership with our religious Society." The title to the two lots being found defective, an Act of Assembly was passed March 28, 1814, vesting the property in certain trustees.

The place proposed in 1698, for building, near Thomas Powell's, was at what is called "Sandy Bank Graveyard," in Upper Providence, close by the present water reservoir of Media, the county seat of Delaware County. This graveyard was bought from Powell, and had he not joined in the Keithian schism perhaps the meeting house might have been built there. The earliest deed has not been found, but on 1, 25, 1717, Randall Malin and Peter Taylor, trustees, conveyed the ground to James Sharples, Isaac Minshall, Henry Miller, Jacob Edge, Jacob Vernon and Edward Woodward. The last named and survivor of these is said to have executed a deed to new trustees, 1, 7, 1748–9, but on 1, 27, 1783, it was represented that the former trustees (of 1717) were all deceased, and Thomas Smedley, Roger Dicks, Ambrose Taylor and Samuel Malin were appointed to succeed them.

George Edge died intestate, and letters of administration were granted, Oct. 6, 1750, to Ann Edge and Robert Pennell, with Lawrence Cox and William Pennell as sureties.

Robert Pennell, with Hannah, his wife, settled in Middletown township as early as 1686. He came from Boulderton, in Nottinghamshire, England, having obtained a certificate from "Friends at Stulbeck," dated 3d of 5th mo. 1684, in conjunction with Thomas Garrett, Hugh Rodnell, Henry Pennell and Richard Parker, with their wives and children, intending to transfer themselves beyond the seas into East Jersey, in America. Of these Robert Pennell, Thomas Garrett and Richard Parker appear to have reached Chester County, and Robert Pennell was a member of the grand jury in September, 1686. At a court held 1st mo. 1687-8, "Robert Pennell was fined 5s for not appearing to be attested vpon ye grand Inquest." At the same court he was appointed constable of Middletown, an office all of the landholders had to serve in their turns. In 1691 he purchased 250 acres of land in Edgmont township, and 264 acres more in 1705, on the north of Philip Yarnall's land and extending from the present Gradyville to the Willistown line. His wife died 12, 4, 1711, aged 71 years, and he about 1728; both active members of Middletown Meeting.

He purchased, by deed of March 1, 1711, from Richard Crosby, 270 acres in Middletown, immediately east of Glen Riddle and adjoining 100 acres previously sold by Crosby to Robert Pennell, in 1685.

As shown in the history of Providence Mills, John Edge, Sr., purchased 500 acres in Upper Providence, by deed of 4, 14, 1698, and by will devised the same to his sons, John and Jacob. Perhaps division was not made till after the death of Jacob, whose widow released to John Edge, Jr., 278 acres, Nov. 25, 1721. The latter purchased, 4, 16, 1726, from Evan Lewis and wife 3 acres, 90 perches, and at the time of his death was possessed of 328 acres out of the original 500. His widow, with her 2d husband, John Yarnall, and eldest son, George Edge, conveyed to James Albin, 7, 22, 1739, a messuage and 35 acres. Albin and wife, Jane, daughter of John Edge, conveyed this, Nov. 11, 1740, to George Morgan, whose executor, George Ashbridge, conveyed the same to George Edge, 8, 18, 1746. The other heirs of John Edge also convey to George Edge 228 acres more of the homestead, and the latter, at his death, appears to have held 313 acres. He died intestate and letters of administration on his estate were granted, Oct. 6, 1750, to Ann Edge, the widow, whose sureties were Lawrence Cox and William Pennell.

The original surveys of land were rather carelessly made, and, as land was cheap, mostly contained very good measure. This led to a general resurvey of all the lands in Chester County about the year 1703. Then or subsequently it was ascertained that the 500 acre tract of John Edge contained 116 acres, 20 perches of overplus land, and on the 30th March, 1763, George Miller and James Pennell, guardians of the children of George Edge, obtained a patent for this in behalf of their wards.

Ann Edge, now of the borough of Chester, widow, and James Worrall, of Marple, widower, were married 1, 11, 1759, at Providence Meeting. He was the son of Peter and Elizabeth Worrall, of Marple, and was married 5, 24, 1735, to Hannah Calvert, by whom he had several children, of whom Lydia married Benjamin Hoopes, son of Mary Williamson (No. 32).

14. Sarah Edge (Mary, George), b. about 1713; d. 12, 6, 1805, “aged 92 years;” m. 2, 5, 1739, at Middletown Meeting, to Lawrence Cox, of Willistown, yeoman, d. 1760. Second m. 2, 17, 1762, at Newtown Meeting, to David Reece, b. 9, 21, 1711; d. Newtown, 1794; son of Lewis Rees and Grace Row, of Newtown. Issue (by 1st husband only):

81. Jane, b. 2, 17, 1758; d. 11, 17, 1831; m. James Yarnall.

Lawrence Cook (Cox?) appears as a single man in Providence township, 1722. Lawrence Cox, as a married man, was in Edgmont township, 1724-6; in Willistown, 1730-1746; in Upper Providence, 1747-1750, and in Willistown, 1753-1760. The name has been thought to have been originally Lawrence Cock, of a Swedish family, but his grandson, Reuben Yarnall, thought he was English. His first wife was named Ellen, by whom he had two children, Mary, b. 10, 29, 1726, m. Isaac Haines, and John, b. 9, 3, 1729, m. Mary Farr.

Lawrence Cox became a member of Goshen Meeting prior to 12, 21, 1736-7, when he represented that meeting at the monthly meeting. In early times no record was made of the reception into membership of those who became such by conviction. Lawrence Cox received a certificate from Goshen, 1, 12, 1738-9, to Chester Monthly Meeting in order to marry Sarah Edge, and after the marriage she received a certificate to Goshen, 4, 25, 1739, which said “She has been of a sober and Orderly behaviour & Pretty diligent in frequenting our Religious Meetings.” One Robert Cox was admitted into membership at Goshen, 7, 10, 1739, who was perhaps a brother to Lawrence. He married Deborah Norbury, 1741, and had a son Lawrence and other children.

Lawrence Cox was appointed an overseer of Goshen Meeting, 4, 18, 1744, in the room of Samuel Garrett. On 9, 17, 1746, he received a certificate to Chester Monthly Meeting, for self, wife and children, and produced one thence to Goshen, dated 3, 24, 1755, for self, wife and five younger children, Martha, Rachel, George, Sarah and Hannah. This says of them:
"Some years past they came well Recommended to us by a Certificate from your Meeting: . . . their Lives and Conversations hath since been sober and Orderly, Diligent in Attending meetings and Serviceable amongst us; their affairs setled to satisfaction as far as appears; their Children being young needs little be said of them." This was signed by 22 men and 14 women.

By deed of Nov. 10, 1727, Lawrence Cox purchased 106 acres of land in Willistown from George Garrett and wife, Ann, and 92 acres more from William Garrett and wife, Lydia, Oct. 10, 1734. Upon this land, near Willistown Meeting, he died, and his executors sold it, Oct. 1, 1764, to Francis Smedley. By his will, dated 8, 28, 1760, and proved Jan. 12, 1761, he directed his wife and son John to sell the plantation in order to pay debts and legacies: To wife, Sarah, £130: To dau. Rachel Cox, £55 at 18: To dau. Hannah and Jane, £50 each at 18: To dau. Mary Haines, £30: To son John, £15, &c. Remainder at death of wife to Rachel, Hannah and Jane.

David Rees, of Llandewi, in the county of Pembroke, Wales, by deed of Oct. 2, 1686, purchased from Francis Howell, of LLancilio, in the county of Cærnarthen, 200 acres of land in Pennsylvania, part of 500 acres purchased by Howell from William Jenkins, Sept. 3, 1686. David Rees, with Elinor his wife, settled in Newtown township, where he died in the winter of 1705-6. In his will he mentions his wife and two sons, Thomas and Lewis Rees, between whom he divided his lands.

Lewis Rees, of Newtown, son of David Rees, and Grace Row, dau. of William Row, of Haverford, were married at the house of David Rees, 10, 25, 1705. Grace died (or was buried) 9, 22, 1740, and Lewis died in Newtown, 11, 10, 1775, in his 91st year. He had children: Mary, b. 7, 16, 1706, m. Joseph Buzby and George Maris; Rebecca, b. 1, 7, 1709, m. Morris Morris; David; Elinor, b. 10, 7, 1715, m. Joseph Edwards; Hannah, b. 2, 27, 1719, m. George Garratt.

David Reece, of Goshen, son of Lewis Reece, of Newtown, and Mary Garrett, dau. of William and Mary Garrett, deceased, of Darby, were married 4, 22, 1743, at Darby Meeting. They had children: William, d. 2, 10, 1790, m. 12, 4, 1765, Mary Lewis, dau. of Mordecai; Elizabeth, m. Richard Downing; Sarah, m. Nathaniel Grubb; Hannah, m. —— Caley; Jesse. For 2d wife David Reece m. Sarah Cox, as already stated. He resided in Newtown at the date of his will, 8, 30, 1787, which was proved Dec. 4, 1794. He mentions his wife, Sarah, and the above children, devising the homestead to his son Jesse, he paying £100: Also mentions grandson, Lewis Reece.

15. Jane Edge³ (Mary², George), d. 1, 23, 1779; m. about 1737. James Albin, b. Ireland, about 1700; d. West Marlborough township, Sept. 29, 1750, and buried at St. John's P. E. church, Concord township. No issue. She made acknowledgment to Chester Monthly Meeting, 1, 27, 1738, for marriage by a "priest" and without her mother’s knowledge, which acknowledgment was ordered to be read at a First-day meeting at Middletown. James Albin is believed to have been a brother to Margaret Hunter, wife of John Hunter, who came from Ireland and settled in Newtown about 1722–3. He was a tailor, and by deed of Nov. 12, 1736, purchased a house and 21½ acres in that township. This he conveyed, Oct. 14, 1740, to John Williamson. He also purchased a house and 35 acres of the Edge land, in Upper Providence, by deed of 7, 22, 1739, and conveyed this to George Morgan, Nov. 11, 1740. Jane Albin received a certificate from Chester to Goshen, 10, 31, 1739, and thence to New Garden, 4, 15, 1741, about which time they removed to West Marlborough. She produced a certificate to Goshen, 4, 15, 1754, from New Garden, dated 3, 30, 1754, in which she is styled "our well Esteemed Friend," and it states that "her conversation hath been orderly and in unity amongst us and Clear from marriage Engagements as far as we know, and the few words that she had to dropp among us as advise or caution was well Received." She was appointed, 4, 19, 1756, to join with others in visiting families, and was recommended as a minister, 7, 19, 1756, at which time she was a member of Uwchlan Meeting, residing in East Caln township. She was married again, 12, 15, 1756, at Uwchlan Meeting, to Thomas Downing, as his second wife. They continued to reside in East Caln, where he died 1, 15, 1772, and she 1, 23, 1779.

He appears to have arrived in this country soon after, and settled in Oxford township, Philadelphia County, where he died in 1717. His wife's name was Margaret, and they had children, Ann, m. John Knowles, Henry, John, James and Joseph.

Richard Downing and Mary Edge declared their intentions of marriage at Chester Monthly Meeting, held at Providence, but it was doubtless on account of her being an orphan, without a home of her own, that her marriage was solemnized at Uwchlan, the meeting to which her husband belonged. She received a certificate from Chester to Goshen, 6, 31, 1741.
which says “She has been of an Innocent & orderly conversation & Behaviour & Diligent in frequenting our Religious meetings whilst among us.”

This was part of 975 acres, the remainder of which was purchased by Jonathan Parke, Amos Boake and Thomas Downing, 11th and 12th Nov., 1747. She was an elder of Uwchlan Meeting at the time of her death.

Her parents came to Chester county in 1723, and Thomas Valentine and wife about five years later. In 1729 and 1730 Thomas was assessed in New Garden township, death of his wife, to John Edge. In 1764 he was assessed in East Caln with a house and 28 acres, beside 195 acres in Pikeland township, 2 horses, 3 cattle, and his business as a storekeeper. He and five others refused, from conscientious motives, to make any return of their property, and in consequence had their tax doubled.

At Uwchlan Monthly Meeting, 1, 5, 1764: "The Preparative Meeting

Meeting, and Evan Jones, Joshua John, William Kirk and William Lewis

At the next meeting, 2, 9, 1764, "The Friends appointed on the Proposal to recommending Robert Valentine as proposed at our last; but that he ought not to be discouraged in his appearances among us; wherefore the matter is left under their Care at present."

Fifth mo. 10, 1764: "the meeting appearing easy with it agrees to recommand him to the Meeting of Ministers & Elders as a young Minister."

On 10, 8, 1772, Robert obtained a certificate in order to pay a religious visit to the Southern Provinces, and having performed the visit, returned the certificate 4, 8, 1773. The following minutes of Uwchlan Monthly Meeting illustrate a feature in the ministry of Friends in that day:

(1, 4, 1781:) Our Friend Robert Valentine returned a Minute of this Meeting which he obtained two Months ago in order to visit Fairfax Quarterly Meeting, with an Endorsement by that Meeting, certifying that his religious Labour was truly acceptable to them.

He also informed this Meeting of a Concern that had attended him at times for several Years past, of visiting Friends in his Native Land; and as it appears to be a Matter of Importance we appoint Thomas Lightfoot, Robert Milhous, Evan Jones, Joshua Baldwin, Simon Meredith, William Lightfoot and Isaac Jacobs to take a solid opportunity with him on the occasion and report their sense of the Propriety of such an undertaking, to our next, and prepare a Certificate suitable to the occasion.

(2, 8, 1781:) The Friends appointed to confer with our Friend Robert Valentine on the subject of his going on a religious visit to Ireland, and some part of England, report they had done accordingly and have prepared a Certificate, which was read here and weightily considered; (and tho' it appears to be a perilous Time we think it most safe to leave him at Liberty to proceed in his said Concern as Best Wisdom may direct his steps). The same was approved and signed on Behalf of the Meeting by a Number of Friends.

He did not depart at once upon his voyage, but on 5, 10, 1781, received a minute to attend Salem Quarterly Meeting, N. J., and the General Meeting at Eggsharbor, &c. It may be explained that ministers proposing to visit other meetings within their own Yearly Meeting, generally received copies of the minutes giving them permission to do so, thus showing that their visits were approved of by their own meetings.

(1, 6, 1785:) Our Friend Robert Valentine now returned the Certificate granted him by this Meeting in the 2nd Month 1781, and gives an Account of his having visited the Meetings of Friends in England and Ireland, pretty generally, agreeable with his Prospects at that Time, having experienced a Degree of heavenly support in his various services & Exercises therein. He also produced Certificates from the national half-years Meeting held in Dublin in Ireland in the 5th Month 1783, and from the yearly Meeting of Ministers and Elders held in London in the 5th & 6th Months 1784, expressing their unity with his Gospel Labours amongst them; which with his safe Return is acceptable to this Meeting.

By his will, dated 9, 26, 1779, proven Sept. 11, 1786, he devised all his estate to his daughters, Rachel, Phebe and Susanna, of whom the first was to have one-half. He desired his friend Abiah Parke and son-in-law Abraham Sharpless to assist his two sons in settling affairs with his brother Jonathan Valentine.

MIDDLETOWN MEETING.

At a Quarterly Meeting held 3 mo. 3, 1686: "Agreed y's a meeting be kept at John Boiters upon y's same first day it used to be at Bartholomew Coppocks, for y's ease of such y's live westerly in y's woods, and y's rest of friends living y's other way, upon y's same day, to meet at francis Stanfields [Marple] until further consideration."

Third mo. 4, 1696: "This meeting consents y's the meeting at Bartholomew Coppocks [Springfield] be settled every first and 3d day and at Thomas Minshall's [Providence] every first & 4th day and at John Bowaters [Middletown] every first & 5th day:"

Ninth mo. 6, 1699: "The ffriends of John Bowater's meeting Lay their Intentions of Building a meeting house. This meeting constitutes & appoints Philip Roman, Robert Pyle, Nathaniel Newlin, George Robinson, John Hood & John Wood to determine the place for that service, and make report to ye next Quarterly meeting, under all their Hands, that it may be entred in this meeting Book."

At Randall Vernon's, 12 mo. 5, 1699-700: "Whereas the friends belonging to the meeting that is kept at ye house of John Bowaters have an intention to build a meeting house for the service of Truth but not wholy agreeing where to sett it, ye friends concluding to Lay it before ye Quarterly meeting for ye determination thereof; accordingly it was done ye 6th of ye 9th month 1699. And after some debate & consideration this meeting did nominate & constitute six friends, whose names are under written, to goe up to ye house of John Bowater, there to meet friends concerned in the business afore mentioned, and to hear & determine the same, and to make returne thereof to the next Quarterly meeting: and now we haveing heard & seriously considered to ye best of our understanding, for ye service above mentioned, doth give our sence & judgment as followeth,—That ffriends belonging to the said meeting shall build a meeting house, for the service of ffriends and Truth, upon the Land or Lott belonging to ye said meeting's Burying place. Given under our hands ye 20th of ye 9th mo. 1699.

"Philip Roman Nathaniel Newlin
John Hood John Wood
Robert Pyle Geo: Robinson."

In the treasurer's account of collections received this is called "Bowater's Meeting" until 5 mo. 27, 1702, when the name of Middletown is substituted, and it is likely the house was then completed. A survey of the land belonging thereto, made by Isaac Taylor 4 mo. 10, 1700, represents that it contained five acres, in the form of a square, bounded by land of John Bowater on one side, of Joseph Baker on another, and of John Turner on the other sides. The last named had purchased from Joshua Hastings, for whom 472 acres had been surveyed by warrant of Jan. 16, 1684.

The first building was doubtless of wood, to which an addition of stone was afterward placed at the southeast end. In 1770 subscriptions were made to the amount of £215, to put up a stone addition in place of the wooden part.
As a place for Burying the Dead is a Decent and Necessary thing if kept Inclosed so as to prevent Swine and other Creatures getting in it, for which reason we the Subscribers have thought proper to bind our Selves and our Executors or Administrators to pay the Several Sums annexed to our names to such person or persons as the preparitive Meeting of Middletown Shall order or appoint to receive the same for Building a wall of stone or Brick about the Burying Ground there or such part as shall be thought proper to be done to be paid on the day that the s' wall is finished provided that the said Wall is Built within three years from this date Being the Tenth Day of the third month Anno : Dom : one thousand seven hundred & sixty two, in witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands.

The foregoing is a true Copy of the original that was Delivered into the hands of Nathan Yarnall, taken the 12th of 1st mo. 1763.

This attempt not being successful, another subscription was entered into in 1773, and the work finally accomplished. In 1783 the sum of £106 was raised in the same way to build a school house upon the lot.

At a monthly meeting held 2 mo. 24, 1783, "Middletown Preparative Meeting informs that the friends who had the care of the Lott of Ground whereon their Meeting House stands are all Deceased, and they have appointed William Yarnall, Jacob Minshall, John Hill & Thomas Evans, Trustees, for the said Lot of Ground in their stead."

Sixth mo. 24, 1822: "Middletown Preparative meeting informs that they have obtained a Deed from the Heirs at Law of Joshua Hastings, the original Proprietor (under William Penn) of their meeting-house Ground, who put them in possession thereof about the year 1690; confirming and conveying the same unto Enos Painter, James Emlen, Peter Worrell, William Yarnall, George Smedley, Joseph Pennell & Samuel Hibberd. In Trust for the benefit and use of middletown Preparative Meeting of Friends: which said Deed they have had recorded in the office for recording Deeds, in and for the County of Delaware, in Deed-book O, vol. 1st, Page 591, &c., the 30th day of the 4th month, A. D. 1822; which said Deed is deposited in the monthly meeting book case."

In the fifty years, commencing with 1787, there were over nine hundred interments in the graveyard belonging to this meeting.

At the time of the unfortunate division in the Society of Friends, in 1827, those called "Orthodox," being in the minority, held their meetings for a time at a different hour, but in the 5th month 1828 withdrew to a house belonging to James Emlen, a short distance westward of the old meeting house. In 1834 Joseph Pennell donated a lot to the southward, containing half an acre, upon which a meeting house was erected the following year. He subsequently gave an additional half acre for school and burial purposes. A school house was erected close by the meeting house, in which a school is maintained under the care of the meeting.

About 1860 Thomas Pratt, the owner of the land between the two meeting houses, founded Cumberland Cemetery thereon, which is a popular place of interment for the neighborhood.

19. George Smedley2 (George3, George), b. Middletown, 6, 2, 1719; d. Willistown, 12, 1, 1765; m. 12, 22, 1757, at Goshen Meeting, to Hannah Matson, widow, b. 6, 25, 1724; d. Willistown, 10, 15, 1810; dau. of Jacob and Alice Norbury, of Middletown. Issue:

109. Jeffrey, b. 5, 23, 1761; d. 10, 28, 1847; m. Amy Hoopes.

111. Francis, twin with Joshua; d. 12, 18, 1821; m. Dinah Lewis and Sarah Jones.

Thomas Norbury, late purchaser of 125 acres of land, obtained a warrant, 9, 21, 1683, to take it up between Crum and Darby Creeks. This land was located in Newtown township. About a year later he married Frances, widow of Stephen Hugh, who, by her first husband, had a daughter, Martha Hugh, b. 3, 11, 1684. Stephen Hugh, of Springfield, d. 11, 21, 1683. When Thomas Norbury and Frances Hugh declared their intentions of marriage the 2d time, 12, 2, 1684, "The said Thomas Norbery doth hereby Ingage himselfe to ye meeting to Endeaver to bring up ye child of ye sd frances Hugh as his owne in ye feare of God & accord: to ye ord & manner of Truth as also to secure & pay quitt rent for ye land (taken up in its fathers name) untill ye child come to the Age of sixteene yeares to wch he subscribes his name. Thomas Norbury."

The 50 acres taken up in right of Stephen Hugh was doubtless "head land," on account of his coming to this country as a servant, and it was located with the 125 acres of Thomas Norbury. The latter appears to have been rather unsuccessful in his struggles for a livelihood, and in need of some assistance from his friends. At Chester Monthly Meeting, 8, 2, 1693, "The friends appointed by the Last meeting to goe to vieu the Land Thomas Narbery dwels on, gives their Judgment that it is better for him to staye there then to remove, and with Less Charge to friends, And the

His father conveyed to him, 9, 1, 1750, 95 acres of land in Willistown, part of 250 acres bought from Thomas Smedley. Joshua also purchased 26 acres, 85 perches of his cousin Thomas Smedley's land, 1786. He does not appear to have removed to Willistown for some years, and it was not till 10, 27, 1783, that he received a certificate transferring his membership to Goshen Monthly Meeting. At Chester Mo. Mtg., 9, 30, 1805, it was minuted that he had deposited five pounds in the hands of his brother Ambrose Smedley, to be placed at interest and the interest to be applied in repairing the graveyard at Middletown. Robert Pennell was appointed to have care of the money.

The will of Joshua Smedley, of Willistown, is dated 3, 15, 1806, and proven May 4, 1812. At Chester Monthly Meeting, 2, 26, 1753: William Smedley, son of George, and Elizabeth Taylor, daughter of Peter Taylor, deceased, declared their intentions of marriage for the first time. Thomas Pilkington and Robert Pennell, Elizabeth Sharples and Margaret Camm were appointed to make inquiry as to their clearness of other engagements. At the next meeting, 3, 26, 1753, they appeared the second time and were given permission to proceed to the accomplishment of their intentions. Richard Bowman, Thomas Pilkington, Elizabeth Sharples and Margaret Camm were appointed to attend the marriage and see that good order was observed.

William and Peter Taylor, both of Sutton, in the County Palatine of Chester (England), husbandmen, purchased from William Penn, by lease and release, March 2d and 3d, 1681-2, 1250 acres of land in Pennsylvania, for £25. They arrived in Pennsylvania in 1682, and took up 350 acres each in Upper Providence township, at the present site of Media. Margaret, the wife of William, died on the 3d of the 1st mo., 1682-3, and her husband three days later. He made his will on the day of his death, in which he mentions his son Joseph "and other children." The witnesses were Peter Taylor, Mary Stevenson and Allen Robinett. As executors he appointed John Simcock and Thomas Minshall.

At a court held at Chester the 6th of 11th mo., 1684: "Ordered that Peter Taylor and Robert Vernome be received into the Grand Jury in the Roome of John Child and Thomas Minkshaw, And Thomas Colborne in the Roome of John Sharply."

Peter Taylor and Sarah Houlston declared their intentions of marriage at Chester Meeting, 1, 2, 1685, and 2, 6, 1685, and were married soon after the last date. Her sister Elizabeth "passed meeting" on the same date, with James Swaffer, and another sister, Rebecca, with William Gregory. They were the daughters of John Houlston, of Upper Providence. In 1712 Peter Taylor removed from Upper Providence, leaving his eldest son, of the same name, at the homestead, and settled in East Caln, where he was a member of Goshen Meeting. He died 9, 15, 1720, and of his will, dated 5, 4, 1720, appointed his wife and son Peter to be executors.

Children of Peter and Sarah Taylor:

Peter, b. 3, 20, 1686; d. 1739-40; m. Elizabeth Jerman.
John, b. 12, 1, 1687; d. 8, 25, 1720, unmarried.
Sarah, b. 5, 6, 1690; m. Robert Thornton, 1718.
William, b. 4, 19, 1694; m. Mary Atherton.
Samuel, b. 12, 13, 1696-7; m. Ann -----, 1720-1.
THE SMEDLEY FAMILY.

Peter Taylor, Jr., was married 2, 28, 1712, to Elizabeth, dau. of John and Margaret Jerman, of Haverford. They settled at the homestead in Providence, where he died 1st mo., 1739–40. His widow m. 4, 15, 1743, Edward Woodward, of Newtown, and, having survived him, died at the residence of her daughter, Elizabeth Smedley, in 1784, aged nearly 94 years, being born 9, 16, 1690.

Children of Peter and Elizabeth Taylor:

Mordecai, b. 12, 7, 1713; d. 1747; m. Esther Sharples, 3, 18, 1738.

Nathan, b. 1, 29, 1715; d. 1801; m. Ruth Evans, 9, 5, 1746.

Sarah, b. 12, 2, 1718; m. 7, 19, 1739, John Heacock.

Margaret, b. _____; d. _____; m. 12, 14, 1742, Peter Thomas.

Peter, b. _____; d. 1802; m. 2, 17, 1746, Elizabeth Hall. They had several children, of whom Mary m. Ambrose Smedley.

John, b. _____; d. _____.

Joseph, b. _____; d. _____.

Elizabeth, b. 1731; d. 2, 22, 1789; m. William Smedley.

William Smedley was apprenticed to John Taylor to learn the “art, trade or mystery” of a carpenter, from the 25th of 1st mo., 1748, for the term of three years. His account book, still preserved, shows that in addition to ordinary carpenter’s work he made coffins, bedsteads and cases of drawers. The charge for a coffin varied from 10 shillings, for a child, to £2 5s, for an adult, with six handles. Joseph Edwards was Dr., “1759, 1st month 24th, to makeing of a Black Walnut Coffin for his mother, with two handles, £1 15s.” “1759, 4 month 12th Day, James Wilcox Dr. to a Black walnut Coffin for his Child, 10s.” In that day carpenters made the shingles they used, and he charged 3s 6d per hundred for making 350 at the meeting-house yard.

By deed of Oct. 13, 1753, George and Mary Smedley conveyed to their son William three tracts of land in Middletown, containing respectively 60 acres, 6 acres and 2 acres. In addition to these the latter purchased 146 acres from James and Mary Bennett, May 16, 1759; and from Joseph and Hannah Edwards 63⅓ acres, by deed of Oct. 21, 1765. Besides his other duties, his account book shows that he served in the office of constable. He died in his 38th year intestate, and letters of administration on his estate were granted May 14, 1766, to his widow. She appears to have carried on the farming and brought up her children in ways of usefulness, giving them such education as the neighborhood afforded, and they became worthy members of their meeting. Her sons, Joseph and Samuel, who died in early manhood, were appointed, 1, 25, 1790, to record the minutes of Chester Monthly Meeting.

Willistown, 3, 19, 1806; m. about 1762, Elizabeth Blue, of whose family nothing has been ascertained; 2d marriage, 6, 27, 1771, St. Paul’s Church, Philadelphia, to Mary Newberry (?), as given in the license, though the church record says Newerry. Her name has also been given as Norbury. Issue:

118. Jane, b. 8, 22, 1763; d. 3, 11, 1847; m. Robert Andrews.
119. Mary, b. ———; d. ———; m. William Bittle.
120. Caleb, b. 11, 12, 1765; d. 6, 17, 1851; m. Sarah Green.
121. George, died young.

Complaint was made of Caleb Smedley, by Middletown Meeting, 10, 31, 1763, for marriage “by a priest” to one not a member. For this he was disowned 12, 26, 1763. His father and mother conveyed to him, Jan. 12, 1761, two tracts of 83 acres and 8 acres of land in Willistown; part of the 250 acres of the Jobson tract, and of 75 acres purchased from Richard Barry and wife, Dec. 26, 1728. Caleb also purchased from the sheriff, Ezekiel Leonard, May 28, 1789, 26 acres in Newtown, late the property of John Butler, deceased, who received conveyance from John and Sarah Griffith, April 1, 1774. He conveyed 13 acres, 83 perches of this last to Thomas Bishop, of Easttown, March 15, 1806.

The will of Caleb Smedley, of Willistown, is dated 3, 13, 1806, and proven May 19, 1806, in which he gives to son Caleb the homestead, containing 80 acres, together with 15 acres adjoining, in Easttown; he paying legacies: To dau. Jane Andrews £30, having heretofore advanced her: To dau. Mary Bittle’s children, Caleb, Frederick, Abraham and William, 10s each, having advanced their parents according to my ability: To gr. dau. Thomas Wilson came to Chester County about 1773, from Duck Creek, Del., with children by former wife, Ruth, namely, Sarah, Ezekiel, John, James, Mary, Susanna and Thomas. He was complained of by Chester Meeting, S, 28, 1775, for purchasing a negro slave, but after considerable labor on the part of Friends the freedom of the negro was secured. In 1781 they removed to Upper Chichester, and in 1783 he was married a third time, to Hannah Dutton, of Aston, widow of Thomas, and mother of Thomas Dutton, the centenarian.

Simon Hampton was taxed in Edgmont, 1729–1740, and in Thornbury, 1747–1771, and died in Concord March 1, 1774, leaving wife, Sarah, and children, Walter, Rebecca, wife of Robert Pyle, Thomas, and Sarah, wife of John Baldwin. His will, written on the day of his death, does not allude to his son Samuel’s children.

Samuel Hampton was admitted into membership at Middletown, 12, 25, 1750–1, and his sisters Rebecca and Sarah, 2, 26, 1753. Samuel was complained of by Middletown Meeting, 9, 26, 1757, for assisting at a marriage where one of the persons was not a member, and failing to make any acknowledgment for the offence, was disowned 12, 26, 1757. He appealed to the Quarterly Meeting, which confirmed the judgment of Chester Monthly Meeting. His wife and sister Sarah made acknowledgment, 10, 31, 1757, for attending a marriage by a justice of the peace, where one of the parties was a Friend. Samuel and family removed to Philadelphia, 1758, and a certificate for his wife and children was signed at Chester Mo. Mtg., 5, 29, 1758.

John Moore, weaver, and Margaret his wife had arrived in this country as early as 1717, with children Daniel, Thomas, John, Margaret, Elizabeth, Mary, Samuel and Ann, and settled in Thornbury.

Thomas Moore was married as early as 1717, to Mary Worrall (?), and settled in Newtown, where he died 1752. About 1748-9 he married a 2d wife, Susanna. His children were Thomas, Nathan, Joseph, William, James, Mary, Elizabeth and Sarah, who were all, except possibly the last two, by his first wife.

Thomas Moore, Jun^, of Newtown, weaver, and Sarah Pratt, of Edgmont, spinster, dau. of Joseph Pratt, were married 3, 27, 1741, at Newtown Meeting. He died in 1750, leaving five children, and his widow, now of Radnor, was married again, 10, 11, 1752, at Newtown Meeting, to David Yarnall, son of Moses and Dowse Yarnall, of Willistown. They removed to the northern part of Chester county and became members of Uwchlan Monthly Meeting, whence her son Joseph Moore took a certificate to Philadelphia, dated 9, 6, 1764, in order for marriage with Sarah Hampton; and another, dated 6, 6, 1765, in order for settlement. He was by trade a shoemaker. By deed of March 25, 1774, he purchased the half interest of his brother-in-law, Thomas Smedley, in the city lot heretofore mentioned, the other moiety being already in his wife's possession.

28. Thomas Smedley^3 (George^2, George), b. Middletown, 1, 21, 1742-3; d. Upper Providence, 1, 22, 1791; m. 6, 20, 1776, at Springfield Meeting, Elizabeth Rhoads, b. ———, d. ———, 1821; dau. of John Rhoads and Elizabeth Malin, of Marple township. Issue:

134. James, b. 2, 24, 1777; d. 11, 8, 1837, unmarried.
135. Isaac, b. 12, 7, 1778; d. 2, 12, 1864; m. Hannah Cox.

John Rodes, or Rhodes, of Winegreaves, Derbyshire, England, and Elizabeth his wife, had children, Adam, b. 1660, Mary, John, Elizabeth, Jacob, Abraham, Sarah, Hannah and Joseph. Of these Adam and John came to Pennsylvania in 1684, and the father, with Jacob and Joseph, some years later. John Rodes, senior, died in Darby township 8, 27, 1701.

Joseph Rodes, or Rhoads, of Marple, son of John and Elizabeth, was born in Derbyshire, 2, 5, 1680; m. 7, 2, 1702, Abigail, dau. of Richard and Mary Bonsall, of Darby, and died in 1732. His widow d. 11, 9, 1750. They owned 400 acres of land in Marple. Their children were John, Mary (m. Robert Powell), Elizabeth, Abigail, Rebecca (m. Mordecai Massey), Joseph, Jane, Benjamin (m. Katharine Pugh) and James (m. Elizabeth Owen).

John Rhoads, son of Joseph, m. 2, 15, 1731, at Goshen Meeting, Elizabeth Malin, dau. of Isaac and Elizabeth (Jones) Malin, of Whiteland township. They resided in Marple, where John d. 1751, and she in 1789. They had children, John, Joseph, Isaac, Elizabeth (m. Thomas Smedley), and Mary.

Thomas Smedley received a certificate from Chester to Concord, 3, 24, 1758, probably as an apprentice, and brought one back to Chester 8, 29, 1763. He presented an acknowledgment to the meeting, 4, 24, 1780, for paying part of a fine for not bearing arms, and also part of a tax for the support of war. He was appointed, 1, 27, 1783, one of the trustees of Providence Meeting and graveyards, and on 12, 28, 1789, to have the oversight of burials, with Samuel Malin. He was appointed overseer of Providence Meeting, 2, 22, 1790, in place of Roger Dicks, and, being deceased, was succeeded by Richard Nuzum, 5, 30, 1791.

His father devised to him a piece of land in Middletown, on the south side of "the great road," and half the lot in Philadelphia, together with £100. His brothers James and Ambrose were each to pay him £50 when they came into possession of their lands, and in case of James's death in his minority the 98 acres of land in Upper Providence devised to him, should pass to Thomas. This did happen and Thomas settled upon the land in Upper Providence. March 25, 1774, Thomas Smedley, of Upper Providence, carpenter, conveyed to Joseph Moore, of the city of Philadelphia, cordwainer, his undivided half interest in the city lot, for £20. Elizabeth Smedley, widow of Thomas, and her surviving children, entered into an agreement with Leavin Cornish, 6, 24, 1815, to convey to him a piece of land in Middletown, formerly belonging to Thomas Smedley, deceased.

obliquely across the pathway of the others. They had a large tract of 40,000 acres laid out for their use, known as the "Welsh Tract," of which some of the lines remain, including Lower Merion, Tredyffrin, the Whitehills and Goshens, but the coalescing of the two streams obliterated the south line of their proposed barony. The townships of Haverford and Radnor were quickly occupied by the Welsh, who were constituents of Philadelphia Quarterly Meeting.

At Haverford Monthly Meeting, 11, 14, 1696: "William Lewis and some other friends having proposed to this meeting to settle a meeting at Newtown, they are left to their freedom therein." Afterwards Thomas Jones was ordered "to acquaint friends of Chester Meeting that the meeting lately settled at Newton is done with ye consent of this meeting, in order to have their approbation therein."

At Chester Quarterly Meeting, 3, 12, 1701: "This meeting being dissatisfied that a meeting is sett up at Newtowne without the approbation of this Quarterly meeting, the meeting therefore orders John Blunston & Walter ffauet to go to Haverford months meeting and request that the said meeting be not Continued without the approbation of this Q'tly meeting."

Sixth mo. 4, 1701: "The two friends appointed by the last Q'tly meeting to attend the months meeting of Haverford make report that they would acquaint their Quarterly meeting with it, upon which this meeting orders John Blunston & Caleb Pusey to meet the friends of Haverford at their Q'tly meeting, and if satisfaction be not there given to the s'd friends that then application be made to the yearly meeting."

Third mo. 4, 1702: "By the minutes of the last Yearly meeting sent to this meeting we finde among other things that they have determined the business of Newtowne Meeting &c. in these words following:

"It being lay'd before this meeting by ye members of Chester County that ye Welsh friends belonging to Philadelphia Q'tly meeting haveing sett up a meeting at Newtown which they say ought to belong to Chester Quarterly meeting: After the matter being debated it was thought fitt to continue ye s'd meeting as they are & ye' those friends may have their Liberty to belong to Philadelphia Quarterly Meeting, but ye for the future ye said Welsh friends may set up no meeting further within the said county of Chester without ye approbation of ye said meeting."
With the idea that there should be a quarterly meeting for each county, Chester Quarterly Meeting had already urged the Friends of Haverford and Radnor to join with them, but these preferred to belong to Philadelphia Quarterly Meeting.

At Chester Monthly Meeting, 1, 25, 1706: "William Lewis of Newtown appeared att this meeting with Daniel Williamson, signifying in the behalfe of their meeting their desier of being joyned to our monthly and quarterly meeting: Ordered that Caleb Pusey and Joseph Baker do attend their next monthly meeting to signifie our willingness if they consent to it." Second mo. 29, 1706: "Caleb Pusey and Joseph Baker makes Report to this meeting that they have been att Haverford monthly meeting According to the order of the Last Monthly Meeting to show our Willingness & to know theirs in Joyning friends of Newtowne meeting to our monthly and Quarterly Meeting and that the friends of Haverford Refers it to farther consideration."

At Chester Quarterly Meeting, 6, 5, 1706: "Agreed between Philadelphia Q^"ly Meeting & this that Newtowne friends shall for the future belong to Chester Monthly Meeting and to this Q^"ly Meeting."

At Mo. Mtg., 6, 26, 1706: "This meeting Received a Generall Certificate from Mirion monthly meeting Recomending to the Care of our Monthly Meeting Those Particulars following.—William Lewis, Sen'^ Lewis Lewis, Evan Lewis, William Lewis, Rice Howell, William Bevan, William Thomas as members of Newtowne meeting, with Recomendation for Peter Thomas."

Fifth mo. 28, 1707: "Newtowne meeting desireth that their meeting now kept att Lewis Lewis's may be held att Evan Lewis's which this meeting agrees to and that the friends appointed to attend the Quarterly meeting move itt there for their approbation."

Eighth mo. 30, 1710: "Newtowne meeting Laid before this meeting their Intentions of building a meeting house by friends burial yard in Newtow which this meeting approves of and Requests the approbation of the Quarterly meeting."

Eighth mo. 29, 1711: "They also signifie that their meeting house is neare finished and Desire that their meeting may be Removed from Evan Lewis's to the meeting house which this meeting approves of, and in order thereunto this meeting think fitt to lay it before the Quarterly meeting for their approbation."

In 1764 Abraham Hoopes was assessed with 170 acres of land, 3 horses, 5 cattle and 6 sheep. In 1786 he had 77 acres, having probably divided the farm with his son Isaac, who had 83 acres. Edward Churchman

The foregoing will was proven Oct. 10, 1795, by the first two witnesses, the other being absent. Letters testamentary were not granted till June 23, 1796, and the will was filed but not recorded. The inventory amounted to £782 : 14 : 2\(\frac{3}{4}\), and the executors filed accounts Oct. 20, 1796, showing a balance of £153 : 13 : 7\(\frac{1}{4}\) after paying debts and legacies.

33. Sarah Williamson\(^3\) (Sarah\(^2\), George), b. 5, 28, 1718; d.——; m. about 1739, Thomas Calvert, of Upper Providence. The following are supposed, from various circumstances, to have been their children:

160. Rebecca, received a certificate to Philadelphia, 11, 29, 1762.
161. John, “son of Thomas,” m. about 1763, Jane, widow of Joseph Mercer and dau. of Edward and Sarah Swayne, and was disowned 2, 27, 1764.
162. Daniel, “son of Thomas,” disowned 11, 25, 1765, for neglecting the attendance of meetings and leaving the parts.
163. Isaac, “son of Thomas,” disowned 11, 27, 1769, for marriage by a priest.
164. Thomas, d. 1781. His nuncupative will, proven Aug. 9, 1781 by Deborah Calvert and Sarah Calvert, gives to brother William Calvert a mare and colt and all wearing apparel except a hat to bro. Isaac's son Robert. Money to brothers and sisters. Bro. William to pay debts, collect money, &c.

165. William, m. Jean Craig, Nov. 23, 1775.
166. Deborah, disowned 6, 28, 1779.

William Penn granted, 1, 13, 1683, to Thomas Calvert, 300 acres; to John Calvert, 300 acres, and to Margaret Calvert, 100 acres, all laid out together in Upper Providence, 1, 25, 1683. On 2, 11, 1691, it was ordered that a patent for the whole should be made to John Calvert, to whom it was made appear to belong. Perhaps the others were his children. At Chester Monthly Meeting, 4, 6, 1687, mention is made of a difference between Thomas Hollingsworth and John Calvert, about dividing their lands in Upper Providence. Valentine Hollingsworth, father of Thomas, had married for second wife, Ann Calvert, and John Calvert was probably a brother. There was a presumption of relationship in that day to Lord Baltimore, the Proprietor of Maryland. The children of John and Judith Calvert, born in this country, were Daniel, b. 5, 6, 1685, who m. about 1709, Elizabeth Pritchett; and Mary, b. 12, 19, 1687. Judith, another daughter,
m. 10, 8, 1725, Daniel Broom, of Marple. Ruth Calvert, who m. about 1697, Edward Paviour, of Upper Providence, was probably an older child.

At a court held 6, 25, 1702, the sheriff made return of an execution on the estate of John Calvert, which was sold to Thomas and Joshua Calvert for £243. These were probably sons of John. Joshua was constable of Upper Providence in 1704. Thomas bought a lot in Chester in 1700, and sold it in 1702. After this the land in Upper Providence appears to have been held by Joshua and Daniel Calvert, of whom the first had 370 acres in 1724. It seems, however, to have been patented Feb. 6, 1739, to John Worrall (608½ acres), who, with Ruth his wife, conveyed a part to Daniel Calvert.

Joshua Calvert, m. 1709, Deborah Harlan, dau. of George and Elizabeth Harlan, and it is conjectured that they were the parents of Thomas Calvert, the husband of Sarah Williamson. The latter presented an acknowledgment to Goshen Monthly Meeting, 6, 20, 1739, for marriage by a magistrate, and on 8, 16, 1756, received a certificate from Goshen to Chester Monthly Meeting, with her children, who are not named. They appear to have lived after this in Edgmont, and perhaps he is the same Thomas Calvert who was in East Marlborough, 1762–3–4, and perhaps later. He does not appear to have been in membership with Friends, and when or where he and his wife died has not been discovered.

John, b. 5, 4, 1715; d. 3 mo. 1748; m. 2, 21, 1736, Hannah Vernon.

Joseph Brinton was for many years a justice of the courts of Chester County. His first wife, and the mother of his children, was the daughter of George and Ann (Gainer) Peirce, of Thornbury, who came from Winscom in the county of Somerset.

John Brinton and Margaret Williamson accomplished their marriage “before a priest”—probably an Episcopal minister, for which deviation they made acknowledgments to their respective meetings, and she received a certificate from Goshen to Concord, 9, 21, 1743. She was recommended as a minister 2, 4, 1784, but of her ministry no account has been noticed. In 1764 John Brinton was assessed in Thornbury township with 208 acres, 3 horses, 6 cattle and 10 sheep. In 1786 John and Joseph Brinton had 158 acres of land, grist mill, malt house and brewery, 5 horses, 6 cattle and “one Riding Chair.”

On 3 mo. 26, 1779, complaint was brought by Springfield Meeting, of Alice Lownes, now Buckley, for marriage by a priest, for which she was disowned 5, 31, 1779. Her second husband was John Buckley, a widower, son of Adam Buckley, of Brandywine hundred, New Castle County, and brother to the wife of John Williamson.

Hugh Lownes, of Gawsworth, in Cheshire, England, and Jane Stretch, of Roade, in the same county, were married 10, 2, 1658, at William Davenport's house, in Leeke parish. Hugh died, leaving his widow and children in Cheshire. Jane Lownes was an original purchaser of land from William Penn, to the amount of 150 acres. In 1678 she suffered persecution in the distraint of her goods for attending Friends' meetings at Newton and Selsby. Her land was surveyed in Springfield township, Nov. 10, 1682, and patented to her 2, 10, 1685. The family is said to have occupied a cave for some time, the site of which was marked by a stone planted by her descendants in 1799, which bears the date of the patent. Her will was filed at Philadelphia, but not recorded.

Children of Hugh and Jane Lownes:

James, m. 1692, Susanna Richards, dau. of Joseph and Jane Richards, of Chichester, and removed to Philadelphia about 1711.

George, of whom presently.

Joseph, a juror at Chester Court, 4 mo. 1686, and appointed constable for Springfield, 1, 6, 1687-8. No further record.

Hannah, perhaps a daughter, m. 1689, at Darby Mtg. to Thomas Collier.

George Lownes and Mary Bowers declared their intentions of marriage at Chester Monthly Meeting 5, 28, and 6, 25, 1701, and were given permission to accomplish their marriage. He was a taxable in Springfield, 1693, and appears to have become the owner of the homestead by deed of November 18, 1715. The will of George Lownes, of Springfield, yeoman, is dated Aug. 8, 1740, and proven Dec. 5, 1740. To son George, 80 acres of land where he now dwells: To son Benanuel, 150 acres where I now live: To daughter Esther, wife of Samuel Ogden, £50: To daughter Anne, wife of George Maris, the interest of £100 during life, and the principal to be divided amongst her children after her death: To daughter Mary Lownes, £100: To grandson, Richard Maris, £5.

Mary Bowers, b. May 20, 1679, was daughter of Benanuel Bowers, of Charlestown, Mass., and granddaughter of George and Barbara Bowers, of Scituate, Mass., 1637; of Plymouth, 1639, and soon after of Cambridge, where George died 1656. Benanuel m. Dec. 9, 1653, Elizabeth Dunster, a niece of the first president of Harvard College, Henry Dunster. Their children were George, Barbary, Elizabeth, Mary (died young), Henry, Anna, Bathsheba, Jonathan and Mary. The father died about 1698.

Children of George and Mary (Bowers) Lownes:

Benanuel Lownes inherited the homestead, in Springfield, with 150 acres of land, to which he added by purchase two small pieces, containing 3 acres, 109 perches, and 7 acres. At the Orphans’ Court March 19, 1771, on petition of Joseph Lownes, the eldest son, Henry Lawrence and Thomas Levis were appointed guardians for the three younger children, then under 14 years of age. Sept. 17, 1771, Benanuel and Hugh, being over 14, petitioned for the same guardianship, which was granted. Dec. 15, 1772, Alice Lownes produced her account for the maintenance and schooling of the three younger children, amounting to £85:3:8, which was allowed, and it was further considered that in the final settlement she should be charged £80 for four years rent of the real estate. She and the children now petitioned for an inquisition to value the property, which was granted, and on March 16, 1773, the sheriff returned a valuation of £882; at which sum it was awarded to Joseph Lownes, the eldest son.

36. Esther Williamson (Sarah², George), b. 2, 22, 1723-4; d. before 1764; m. 2, 24, 1745, at Newtown Meeting, Samuel Mendenhall, b. 9, 22, 1722; d. about 9 mo., 1787; son of Benjamin Mendenhall and Lydia Roberts, of Concord. Issue:

180. Amos, took a certificate from Concord to Wilmington, dated 4, 3, 1771, as an apprentice. In 1777 he was assessed in Concord with one cow.

181. Samuel, disowned by Concord Monthly Meeting, 11, 8, 1780, for taking part in military exercise.

182. Sarah, mentioned in her father’s will, perhaps died unmarried.

Samuel Mendenhall was married the second time, 4, 21, 1768, at Kennet Meeting, to Mary Harlan, b. 6, 17, 1735, widow of Thomas Harlan, of Kennet, and dau. of John and Elizabeth Baldwin, of Christiana hundred, Del. By her he had children, Abner and Beulah.

Esther Mendenhall received a certificate from Goshen to Concord Monthly Meeting, dated 4, 17, 1745; was appointed an overseer of Concord Meeting, 10, 3, 1758, in room of Mary Speakman, and was succeeded by Ann Peirce, 1, 9, 1765. Samuel Mendenhall and John Brinton were appointed overseers 4, 3, 1758, in room of John Townsend and Richard Parks, and were succeeded by William Trimble and Caleb Peirce, Jr., 6, 5, 1760.

In 1764 Samuel Mendenhall was assessed in Concord township with 280 acres of land, 6 horses, 8 cattle, 10 sheep and one bound servant. In 1786 Dr. Samuel Mendenhall—doubtless the same—had 180 acres, 2 horses, 2 cows and a riding chair. In his will, dated Sept. 23, 1776, proven Sept. 8, 1787, he gives to his wife £100, a silver watch, teaspoons marked T. M. H., and furniture of various kinds: To son Benjamin two tracts of land, parts of the plantation, in the whole 102 acres, 70 perches: To son Amos three small lots, on one of which he had built a coal house; also £70: To daughter Sarah, £80: To daughter Edith Cheyney, £50: To son Abner £100 at 21: To daughter Beula, £50 at 18: To son Samuel the residue of land at 21.

Benjamin Mendenhall, father of Samuel, was the son of Benjamin Mendenhall, from England, and Ann (Pennell) his wife, of Concord.

37. Jane Williamson (Sarah*, George), b. 6, 30, 1725; d. Edgmont, 11, 1, 1797, and buried at Middletown, 11, 3, 1797; m. 9, 9, 1743, at Newtown Meeting; Robert Regester, d. 1753; son of David and Lydia Regester, of Edgmont. Issue:

183. David, d. 1781; m. Margaret Black.
184. John, d. 1774; m. Rebecca Green.
185. Sarah, m. Mordecai Massey.
186. Daniel, d. 1816, unmarried.
187. Lydia, b. 4, 17, 1753; d. 11, 22, 1820; m. Thomas Minshall.

Jane Regester received a certificate from Goshen to Chester Monthly Meeting, 1, 12, 1744. Robert Regester, of Edgmont, died intestate, and letters of administration on his estate were granted to his widow, May 25, 1753, her sureties being Abraham Hoopes and John Williamson, Jr. She produced an acknowledgment to Chester Monthly Meeting, 7, 28, 1755, for marriage out of meeting to Abel Green, son (supposed) of Thomas and Sarah Green, of Birmingham or Concord. He died in Edgmont and was buried 12, 3, 1788, at Middletown Meeting. Issue:

188. Abigail, b. 5, 15, 1755; m. —— James (?). Her father devised £20 to his granddau., Mary James, at 18.
189. Margaret, b. 1, 10, 1757; d. 2, 26, 1815; m. Isaac Burn.
190. Esther, b. 1, 10, 1757; d. 3, 27, 1812; m. Daniel McGowen.
191. Abel, b. 10, 10, 1759; d. 1, 31, 1829; m. Prudence Sidwell.
David Regester purchased 200 acres of land in Edgmont from Robert Barber, of Chester, attorney for George Deacon and Daniel Leeds, of New Jersey, by deed of 7, 16, 1699. The court records show that Robert Barber, as attorney for John Williamson, executed a deed to him about the same time for 200 acres more in Edgmont. John Hoskins, sheriff, acknowledged a deed to him for 210 acres, dated April 26, 1702. This was in the eastern part of the township. John Broomall and wife Ann, and Mary Broomall, widow of John Broomall, Sr., conveyed to David Regester a messuage and 100 acres in Nether Providence, by lease and release, June 9 and 10, 1731; and David Regester and wife Lydia conveyed the same, March 8 and 9, 1733-4, to William Gorsuch. George James, of Spring- field, in his will, 1720, mentions his kinsman, David Regester, as one of his executors. The will of David Regester, of Edgmont, is dated Jan. 13, 1750, and proven April 24, 1751. His wife was probably then deceased.

Children of David and Lydia Regester:

Mary, m. 9, 21, 1733, at Middletown Meeting, Ephraim Jackson.
Ann, m. about 1735, Jesse Baker.
Lydia, m. about 1741, Nehemiah Baker.
Robert, d. 1753; m. 9, 9, 1743, Jane Williamson.
Jane, m. about 1743, John Scott.

William, m. Swedes' Ch., Phila., Nov. 12, 1759, Abigail Hoopes.

So far as discovered, all of the descendants of this family, bearing the name, are also descended from the Smedley Family.

Others of the name, doubtless related to these, were settled in Talbot County, Md. Robert Regester married Sarah Neall, 11, 4, 1704. Their son John Regester, b. 5 mo. 1709, m. 12, 23, 1742, at Little Creek Meeting, Kent County, on Delaware, Sarah Cowgill, dau. of John Cowgill, of Kent County, being perhaps his 2d wife, as his children were, Samuel, b. 7, 6, 1739; John, b. 9, 23, 1743; Lydia, b. 5, 10, 1746; Robert, b. 2, 15, 1749; Joshua, b. 10, 12, 1750; David, b. 1, 17, 1752; Sarah, b. 1, 27, 1754. The father died 2, 17, 1758. These dates are furnished by Anne Sinclair Regester, of Lansdowne, Pa., daughter of Samuel's (Robert, John, John, Robert) and Mary (Denny) Regester, of Philadelphia.
"The ship Delaware From Bristol in old England, John Moore Commander, arrived here the 11th of the 5 month 1686." Among the passengers were—

"Thomas Greene, husbandman and Margaret his wife:
"Thomas and John their sons:
"Mary Guest his servant for 7 years to come from the third day of May 1686:
"Richard Moore, Brickmaker, & Mary his wife and children Mary and John:
"Sarah Searle his servant for 4 years to come from the 3rd of May 1686:
"Henry Guest, sawyer, and Mary his wife & Henry his sone.”

The wife of Richard Moore was the daughter of Thomas and Margaret Green. There is some reason to suppose that these persons came from the neighborhood of Birmingham, England. Thomas Green, Sr., purchased 400 acres of land in Concord and gave 200 acres at the east end to his son Thomas, and the other to his son John. The latter, by will dated Dec. 14, 1691, gave all his estate to his mother, Margaret Green, whom he appointed executrix. Her will is dated 7, 7, 1708, proven Oct. 6, 1708, in which she mentions sons Robert and Thomas Green, and grandson Henry Green; also cousin Henry Guest and other relatives.

Thomas Green, Jr., married Sarah ——(?)—possibly Sarah Searle, as such matches between fellow passengers were not uncommon. His will is dated Feb. 17, 1712, and proven Aug. 10, 1713, of which he appointed his wife executrix; also gives to his son John a mare colt as soon as it could be taken up: To the rest of children, Robert, Henry, Edward, Samuel, Abel, Margaret and Sarah, each a mare colt. To son Thomas a mare which runs about Elk river.

Robert Green, son of Thomas and Sarah, m. 9, 18, 1724, at Concord Meeting, Rachel Vernon, dau. of John and Sarah (Pyle) Vernon. She d. 2, 17, 1751, and he 3, 20, 1779, in his 85th year. They lived in Birmingham and had fourteen children, of whom Rebecca married John Regester.

It is assumed that Abel Green, son of Thomas and Sarah, was the Abel Green who married Jane Regester, widow. If he were the youngest child his age must have been at least 42 years when the marriage took place. However, there seems to have been but one Abel among the taxables at that time. By deeds of Dec. 28 and 29, 1735, he purchased 2763/4 acres of land in Thornbury township, part of 500 acres formerly of William Bostock. Of this he sold 100 acres to Stephen Ogden, Jan. 30, 1735—6. From Thomas Williamson and wife Ann he obtained 109 acres, 115 perches in Edgmont, Feb. 9, 1742, and removed to that township. In 1764 he had 180 acres. He was not in membership with Friends, though he probably attended their meetings.

The will of Abel Green, of Edgmont, is dated 11 mo. (Nov) 25, 1788. He devised to wife, Jane, £100, horse, saddle and bridle, a bond for £50 against Daniel Regester; also a home and maintenance: To son Abel Green, £5: To son Robert 150 acres in Edgmont, bought of Jacob Yarnall, and 30 acres of another tract, bought of the executors of Peter Worrall, he paying £9 per annum to his mother: To son Abel 150 acres in Thornbury during life and then to be divided amongst his children: To dau. Margaret Burn and her children £50: To dau. Esther McGowen £70: To dau. Jane Baker £100: To dau. Sarah Green £80: To gr. son Joseph Pratt £30 at 21: To gr. dau. Mary James £20: To Jesse Reese, son of Lydia Minshall, £20: Sons Robert and George, executors.

The will of Jane Green is dated 3, 17, 1796, in which she gives to her daughter Lydia Minshall a note for £10 against her husband, and to her son Daniel Regester five shillings, but does not otherwise remember her Regester offspring: To her grandson Joseph Pratt she gave "my old Big Bible" and £5: To gr. dau. Jane Green, dau. of Robert, some silverware: To gr. dau. Abigail Baker a spinning-wheel and some pewter plates, and to sons Abel, Robert and George Green, five shillings each, &c., &c. The old Bible is now in possession of Mary Pratt, dau. of Joseph, living in West Chester.

LINE OF GEORGE¹, SARAH².

John Buckley, Jr., of Melksham, in the county of Wilts, England, purchased from William Penn 250 acres of land in Pennsylvania, by deeds of lease and release, dated Sept. 5 and 6, 1681. This land was surveyed Nov. 8, 1684, in Birmingham township, and included the present Brandywine Summit Station, P. W. & B. R. R. John Buckley probably arrived in 1682, but did not settle on this land, making his residence instead on the Delaware River and Naaman's Creek, in Brandywine hundred, where he took up 100 acres by a warrant dated 4, 30, 1683. To this he gave the name of "Trouble Field," as returned by the surveyor. He subsequently obtained additional lands at this place. Tradition says that he returned to England and married Hannah Sanderson, dau. of Dr. Sanderson, of Ferry Bridge, Yorkshire; also that his mother was Mary Empson. It is certain that his neighbor, Cornelius Empson, came from Yorkshire; that one of his wives was Mary (?) Sanderson, and that in 1689 he married her sister Elizabeth Sanderson. John Buckley died Nov. 27, 1732, leaving children, Rachel, m. John Grubb, Jr.; Hannah, m. Thomas Clayton; Sarah and Adam.

Adam Buckley, b. May 8, 1697; d. (according to his tombstone) "y° 29th of ye 10th Mo. 1760, in ye 64 year of his Age;" m. Jan. 8, 1718, Ann Marten, b. Jan., 1698, dau. of Walter Marten, of Chichester, from Westminster in Middlesex, by Jane, his wife, dau. of Joseph Bushel, of Bethel. They resided in Brandywine hundred and had issue:

John, b. Oct. 16, 1719; m. Hannah Clemson and Alice (Williamson) Lownes.

Jane, b. Oct. 13, 1723; m. S. Hilyard.

Walter, b. Feb. 14, 1725; lost at sea.

Elizabeth, b. Sept. 21, 1730; d. 7, 22, 1805; m. John Williamson.

Adam, b. Feb. 6, 1736.

Ann, twin with Adam.

Adam Buckley, Sr., was buried in the Grubb Family burial ground, near Carpenter's Station, Brandywine Hundred. His will was dated Aug. 23, 1732, but both it and the book in which it was recorded have been lost.

John Williamson inherited the homestead, subject to the use of his mother during her widowhood and to the payment of an annuity to his brother Daniel, during life. In 1764 he was assessed with 180 acres and buildings, 20 acres of woodland, 7 horses, 9 cattle, 10 sheep, 1 negro and two-thirds of a saw-mill. At the same time his mother was taxed for 90 acres and buildings, 10 acres of woodland and one horse. In 1786 he had 150 acres and saw-mill, while John Williamson, Jr., had 90 acres.

At Goshen Monthly Meeting, 6, 5, 1761, Newtown Meeting informs that John Williamson, as executor of his father-in-law, has been concerned in selling one or more Negroes for Term of Life; and he appearing here apprehends himself clear of blame. Amos Yarnall, Aaron Ashbridge, Daniel Brown, Tho^* Milhous, Tho^* Massey and Isaac Thomas are appointed to hear his reasons and report how the case appears. At the next meeting, 7, 10, 1761, they reported him faulty in not asking friends' advice before proceeding; and Thomas Lightfoot, John Milhous and Thomas Downing were appointed to labor further with him. On 8, 7, 1761, the case was continued in care of Thomas Goodwin and Richard Jones, and on 9, 11, 1761, Nathan Lewis, Isaac Thomas and Thomas Massey were requested to visit him. At length, 12, 11, 1761, he appeared and made a verbal acknowledgment, but that not being sufficient he produced one at the next meeting in writing, and this was accepted. On 4, 9, 1779, he was complained of for paying his son’s substitute fine, for which his acknowledgment was accepted 11, 5, 1779. He does not appear to have incurred any further censure from his fellow members on account of his conduct.

By deed of Sept. 15, 1772, he and Elizabeth his wife conveyed to Richard Dutton, of Upper Chichester, 8 acres of marsh land, in Lower Chichester, which Adam Buckley had devised to her.

The will of John Williamson, of Newtown, is dated 8, 13, 1794, and proven Dec. 2, 1794. To wife, Elizabeth, part of the land devised to me by my father and of that purchased of Henry Caldwell’s heirs, about 85 acres, she paying one-half of £200 which my father directed to be paid at the death of brother Daniel; also to wife £100 out of the personal estate and £100 to be paid by son Enos, together with various household furniture and privileges during life: To son Adam my tract of 40 acres in Brandywine hundred, purchased of William Grubb, he having been amply provided for heretofore by his grandfather, Adam Buckley: To son John the residue of the land devised to me by my father and of that purchased from Caldwell’s heirs, about 155 acres: To son Enos the plantation whereon I dwell, containing 200 acres, he paying £100 to his mother and £100 to use of brother Daniel: To sons John and Enos my share of the saw mill, which is two-thirds: To son Walter £70, and three notes I hold against him: To dau. Sarah Pratt, £10, she having been heretofore amply provided for: To dau. Ann Williamson £120, with the like reason: To dau. Elizabeth Garrett £20 only, for the like reason: To dau. Ester Garrett £66, ditto: To dau. Jane Williamson £150: Wife and son Enos, executors.

The will of Elizabeth Williamson, of Newtown, is dated 6, 26, 1805, and proven Aug. 12, 1805. To dau. Ann Williamson my plantation in Newtown, 85 acres, as devised to me by late husband, during life she paying £150 to my executors and £100 to be a lien upon the land during the life of dau. Esther Garrett, who is to receive the interest, and at her death the principal to be divided amongst her children. After death of dau. Ann the plantation to become the property of my grandchildren, John and Rebecca, children of son Walter, they paying £300 to be disposed of as the estate of dau. Ann: To dau. Esther the bond given me by her husband, Jonah Garrett, for £42; also bed and bedding, &c.: To daus. Sarah Pratt, Elizabeth Garrett and Jane Hibbard, £150 each: To gr. daus. Eliza Garrett, Elizabeth Hibbard and Elizabeth Garrett £20 each at 18: Residue to five daughters: Executors, sons-in-law Abraham Pratt and William Hibbard.

40. George Woodward (Alice, George), b. perhaps in Middleton; d. Newtown, Jan., 1757, unmarried. By the will of his father he inherited 200 acres of land in Newtown, which had belonged to his mother. His will is dated 12, 13, 1756, and proven Jan. 20, 1757, by which he devised to his sister Jane Woodward the said plantation, on which he then lived: Also mentions his mother-in-law (step-mother), Elizabeth Woodward, sisters, Margaret, Abigail and Hannah, cousin Edward Woodward, and Nathan Vernon, son of sister Abigail: To servant boy, John Bradley, £5: Executors, sister Jane and friend William Lewis.

41. Jane Woodward (Alice, George), m. Nov. 30, 1757, Swedes' Church, Philadelphia, Nathaniel Newlin, son of John Newlin and Mary Woodward, of Concord. Issue:

207. Alice, b. about 1762; d. 8, 10, 1852; m. Joseph Fawkes.

At Goshen Monthly Meeting, 3, 20, 1758: Francis Yarnall was appointed to assist women Friends in drawing a testimony against Jane Woodward for marriage by a priest to her first cousin, but at the next meeting she offered an acknowledgment, which was left under consideration. Two months later her acknowledgment was accepted, and Lewis Reece was appointed to read it in a First-day meeting at Newtown, according to the custom of that day.

Nathaniel Newlin received a certificate from Concord Monthly Meeting, 9, 4, 1751, to Bradford, and resided in the township of Newlin, so named for his grandfather, but returned to Concord about 1754, without changing his membership. He made acknowledgment to Bradford Mo. Mtg., 3, 16, 1758, for his marriage by a priest to his first cousin, and on 12, 21, 1759, obtained a certificate to Goshen. He doubtless settled on the land of his wife, in Newtown. In 1777 he was assessed with 175 acres of land, 1 horse, 2 cows and 2 sheep. He does not appear in 1786 and was probably deceased. His widow was living in 1810, when she conveyed about 30 acres of land to her son-in-law, Joseph Fawkes. She died intestate, but no letters of administration appear to have been granted, and her daughter succeeded to the estate.

The subject was continued under consideration for some time, but the Quarterly Meeting decided, 12, 2, 1707, that the meeting-house should be built at the burial ground near Robert Williams', and that a meeting for worship should be held once in six weeks at the house of James Thomas, in the Great Valley, beginning in the month following. The new meeting-house was ready for occupancy 8, 31, 1709, and permission given for the meeting then held at Robert Williams' to be removed thereto, and held on the First and Sixth days of the week.

At Chester Mo. Mtg., 5, 30, 1716: "The Representatives of Goshen meeting Requests that the six weeks meeting kept att James Thomas be laid aside att present and settled att Goshen and Youghland untill further order, which this meeting thinks well of and Requests the approbation of the Quarterly meeting,” This was approved by the Quarterly Meeting in the following month.

James Thomas, at whose house the valley meeting was held, was a nephew of David Jones. He lived in what is now East Whiteland, but the meeting so held had no connection with the Whiteland Meeting established in 1816. In 1736 a new house was erected at Goshen which remained for more than a century, when it was supplanted by another on the same site. Among the early members of this meeting were Robert Williams, Ellis David, Cadwalader Ellis, David Jones, James Thomas, Thomas Garrett, William Garrett, George Ashbridge, John Cadwalader, Edward Kinnison, Isaac Malin, David Davis, John Haines, Isaac Haines.

Yorkshire, England, 8, 24, 1679, came to Pennsylvania in 1699, bringing a certificate from Settle Monthly Meeting, dated 1, 1, 1698-9, and signed by twenty Friends, certifying that he was "clear from any engagements or entanglements with any person on the account of marriage, so that so far as we know if he hereafter be concerned in order to marry, this may certify our friends that may be therein concerned accordingly that as he hath been of a pretty good behavior since the time that he hath frequented our meetings, so his removing is with ours as also with his father's consent and approbation," &c. After his arrival he worked as a laborer until he had laid up about £400. Half of this he ventured on a trading voyage to Tortola, in the West Indies, but his shipment was lost at sea and upon his arrival there by another vessel he was taken sick and narrowly escaped with his life. Mtg., dated 11 mo. 1762, and on 4, 5, 1764, declared intentions of marriage with Rebekah Taylor, dau. of Peter Taylor, deceased. Her death from small-pox just a month later prevented their marriage. On 8, 26, 1765, he and Jane Minshall declared their intentions of marriage before Chester Monthly Meeting; but some obstruction appearing likely to delay their procedure, they accomplished their marriage as indicated by the following certificate, now in possession of Sarah L. and Mary Jane Jones, of Kernstown, Va.:

Abiah Taylor inherited a mill and about 98 acres of land in E. Bradford. To this he added 99 acres by purchase from Mary Empson, by deed of April 9, 1761. This lay on the north side of what is known as the Strasburg Road and on the east side of the Brandywine. On this tract, close by the road, and not far from the mill, he erected a substantial stone house, which is still standing and bears the initials of himself and wife, with the date, 1768. His sons, Samuel and Abiah, added to the estate by the purchase, in 1797, of the brick house built by their great-grandfather, together with 76 acres of the original tract. In the years 1795–1801, Abiah Taylor was elected to the Assembly, which then met at Lancaster, Pa., and his death occurred at that place during a session of the legislature. grind corn and barley. Carrying the produce of the neighborhood to market was another industry which became profitable to the family. While taking a sack of grain up the steps of the mill Joseph Smedley slipped and fell on the edge of the door sill, receiving an injury which caused his death after many months' suffering. His widow carried on the work of the farm and mills and superintended the combing, spinning and knitting of the wool and flax; which not only supplied the clothing and linen for the household, but also some for the market. The malt house burned down and was not rebuilt. She built a new brick house for herself and the remainder of the family, down by the mills, in 1822; and when a new meeting house was erected, in 1823, the family contributed the brick of their own manufacture as their share in the work. When Eli, Joseph, Jr., and Rebecca were married they successively started house-keeping for a short time in the spring-house, which was fitted up for a dwelling, and so occupied by others afterward.

Thomas Smedley obtained 156 acres of land in Willistown, 4, 28, 1790, from the assignees of his father, and continued to reside thereon till his death. By his will, dated 2, 15, 1835, he made provision for his wife and gave to son Bennett the homestead, with 106 acres of the land; the latter paying $1600 to his mother and sisters: To daughter Elizabeth a riding chair that Thomas Norris made, together with privilege of residence while unmarried. To step-son Peter Yarnall the land on which he lives, containing 40 acres, he paying his mother and sisters $500.

The will of Abigail Smedley is dated 3, 8, 1836, in which she gives to son Bennett her clock: to grandson Thomas Smedley Cox $15; to grandson Smedley Darlington $15: to granddau. Abbie Cox $6: to granddau. Abigail Yarnall $6: to Martha Taylor $50: residue to four children, Peter Yarnall, Mary Cox, Elizabeth Smedley and Edith Darlington: Executor, son-in-law, Thomas Cox.
Thomas Smedley was appointed an overseer 2, 7, 1794, in the room of Jeffrey Smedley, released, and was succeeded by Aaron Garrett, 4, 11, 1800: was appointed 7, 6, 1798, to read marriage certificates, in which service he was succeeded by Jeffrey Smedley, 11, 6, 1807: was appointed an elder 10, 8, 1802, but released from this position 8, 10, 1806, at his own request, and on 3, 6, 1807 was recommended as a minister. He received a minute, 11, 11, 1803, to accompany Roger Dicks, a prominent minister, on a visit to the Southern Quarterly Meeting, in Maryland; and again, 11, 10, 1809, to visit the meetings in that Quarter, in which he was accompanied by Jeffrey Smedley. In the fall of 1813 he visited the meetings of Abington Quarter. Beside these visits to other meetings he exercised a concern to call upon the aged and infirm of his own meeting. In the following obituaries, from the "Village Record," the dates of death of himself and wife differ somewhat from those in the records of the meeting.

Died,—in Willistown township, Chester County, on the 25th inst., Thomas Smedley, aged 77 years. This intelligent, benevolent and worthy man was for many years previous to his decease a public preacher in the Society of Friends. It is believed that no person could with more propriety than he utter the consolatory language used by St. Paul, when that beloved apostle was about to close his earthly pilgrimage: "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course; I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day, and not to me only, but to all them also that love his appearing."

Died, on the 25th of 4th mo. 1836, at her residence in Willistown, Abigail, the widow of Thomas Smedley, in the 75th year of her age. The deceased was one who for a long course of years pursued the path of the Christian, and the blessing pronounced on the peacemaker might well be applied to her,—it appearing to be her concern to live in peace with all men,—a dutiful wife, a kind mother, and affectionate friend.

62. Susanna Smedley† (Thomas, Thomas, George), b. 10, 22, 1760; d. 1, 20, 1850; m. about 1807, Robert Clemens, or McClemons, b. Ireland, d. about Jan., 1834. No issue. She was disowned by Goshen Mo. Mtg., as Susanna McClemins, 9, 11, 1807, for marriage by a minister to one not a member, and her father devised some land to his daughter Susanna McClemons, yet she wrote the name Clemens. Robert Clemens, of Willistown, died intestate, and letters of administration were granted, at the widow's request, to Joshua Evans, Jan. 20, 1834. He had a sister Jane, wife of Matthias Parker. His personal estate amounted to $3684.37, and was appraised by Jeffrey and Bennett Smedley; beside which he had several tracts of land, amounting to about 112 acres. The will of Susanna Clemens, of Willistown, is dated 6, 6, 1842, by which she devised her plantation to Robert C. Smedley, son of her nephew, Abiah T. Smedley, at 22 years of age; out of which was to be paid to Mary Cox, $200; to Elizabeth Gray, $50; to Edith Darlington, $50; they being daughters of her brother Thomas Smedley, and $50 each to William and Susanna Smedley, children of Abiah. Articles of furniture were given to nieces. Thomas Cox was appointed guardian of Robert C. Smedley.

He took the real estate of his father at the appraisement and retained the homestead, fulling mill, and more than half the land, his brother John taking the other part. The fulling mill occupied the site of the east end of the present dwelling of John G. Smedley. In 1801 he was assessed with 100 acres, fulling mill, saw mill, house and barn. He did not take a very active part in the affairs of the meeting, but was occasionally appointed on committees. His will, dated 10, 3, 1814, gives to Susanna, his wife, the plantation in Willistown, containing 134 acres, during life, and then to his nephew, Hunter Smedley: also to wife $2000 and household goods, stock, &c.: to nephew Hunter Smedley $400: to brother John Smedley $100 and

Mary Smedley (Seal)

By deed of May 1, 1812, John Smedley obtained from his brother Thomas a messuage and two tracts of land in Willistown, parts of their father's estate, for £500. The larger tract, upon which was the mansion, contained 87 acres, and the other 26 3/4 acres. He probably occupied the property several years before getting title to it. He was a tanner as well as farmer. A statement by his mother, as administratrix of George Smedley, shows that John's share of his father's personal estate was £149:10:10, and that he received "By the amount of thy Vendue Account, £31:14:11: By the amount of sundry Farming utensils with the Bark, Leather & other Appurtenances taken by thee at the appraised price amounting to £190:19:9: By one third of thy Father's wearing Apparrel at the appraised price, £6:1:0." A bond given by John Smedley of Willistown, Tanner, to Thomas Harris of East Whiteland, Innkeeper, for the sum of £8:14, represents that all the heirs of George Smedley except Sarah, the youngest, a minor, had executed a deed to said Harris, Jan. 25, 1790, for five acres of land in East Whiteland, and provided that if the said Sarah Smedley should execute a deed or release immediately upon becoming of age, then this bond should be void.

The will of John Smedley, of Willistown, tanner, is dated 7, 22, 1815, by which he devised to his wife the homestead, with 91 acres of land, and a lot of woodland, 22 acres, until son Richard Baker Smedley should be 21, and then to said son, he paying legacies as follows: To wife, $300; to daus. Eliza Ann, Sarah, Mary and Christian, $300 each.

By deed of April 2, 1838, Mary Smedley, the widow, purchased from the assignees of Cheyney and Amos Nields two houses and a lot of ground in West Chester, and removed thither. March 30, 1855, she received title to a farm of 99 acres in West Cain, and on April 3d of same year conveyed this to her daughter Mary Ann Nields, of West Chester. She died at the home of her said daughter, at Wagontown, in West Cain, in the fall of 1855.

Phebe White received a certificate from Goshen Mo. Mtg. to Hopewell, Va., dated 5, 7, 1784. It is said that her husband lost his property in Virginia by endorsing for a friend. Between 1811 and 1818 they removed to Greene Co., Ohio, and settled in Xenia township. Some voluminous letters written at this place by Phebe White, to her friends in Chester county, are preserved. They are almost wholly in a rambling religious strain, and while one of them incidentally mentions her husband’s death, she makes little allusion to the rest of the family.

Isaiah Matlack was married at the old Swedes' Church, Wilmington, to Mary, dau. of Jonathan and Margery Hunter, of Edgmont; for which marriage to one not a member he made an acknowledgment to Goshen Mo. Mtg., 8, 19, 1754. On 3, 5, 1779, he was complained of by Goshen Meeting for paying his son's substitute fine with receipts for forage, and his acknowledgment was accepted 5, 7, 1779. His wife not being in membership with Friends, their children were not looked upon as birthright members. There were at least seven of them, Benjamin, m. to Ruth Bowen; George, m. to Anne Smedley; Hannah, m. to Nathan Scholfield; Jesse, m. to Sarah Phillips; Ann, m. to Richard Fawkes; Jonathan, m. to Sarah Smedley, and Mary, m. to Jesse Smedley.

Isaiah purchased 100 acres of land from John Burroughs and wife Phebe, 6, 20, 1746, to which his parents added 50 acres by deed of 5, 6, 1762, and these, with 4 acres, 140 perches purchased from his brother Jonathan, Nov. 15, 1781, he and wife conveyed to their son George, Feb. 23, 1785, for love and affection.

Isaiah Matlack also purchased at sheriff's sale, by deed of Feb. 22, 1768, a farm of 150 acres, which formed the N. E. quarter of the future borough of West Chester. When the county-seat was established at this place, in 1786, he built the Green Tree tavern at the S. W. corner of the farm. He and his wife, by deed of 5, 22, 1793, conveyed to their son Jesse, then of Christiana hundred, Del., 117 1/2 acres of this land, together with the tavern. By will, dated 4, 28, 1794, Isaiah devised the homestead on which he then lived, containing 117 acres, to his son Jonathan; also 21 acres in West Chester.

Anne (Smedley) Matlack was disowned by Goshen Mo. Mtg., 9, 5, 1788, for her marriage by a magistrate to one not a member. George and Anne Matlack settled on the farm given to him by his parents, which adjoins the S. E. corner of the borough of West Chester.

348. William Penn, b. 10, 1, 1805; d. 9, 6, 1883; m. Larissa D. Ladd.

Sarah Smedley being a minor at her father's death, her brother John was appointed her guardian, and to him she received, Dec. 6, 1794, for £177:16:23½, her share of the personal property, with interest thereon, and for £119:11:3:2, with interest from Dec. 18, 1788; it being her share of the real estate, exclusive of her mother's dower. She was disowned by Goshen Mo. Mtg., 9, 8, 1797, for marriage by a magistrate to one not a member.

Jonathan Matlack inherited the homestead, in Goshen, and continued to live there. About 1803 he erected the "Spread Eagle" tavern at the N. W. corner of Gay and Walnut streets, West Chester, but never occupied it himself.

As a considerable number of the descendants of the Smedley Family are also descended from the Pims, it may be of interest to them to read the following copy of a letter written by an uncle of the emigrant, William Pim, to his grand-nephew, Joshua Pim, of Usher's Island, Dublin.

TULLYLAST, Co. KILDARE, 11th of 11 mo. 1768.

Joshua Pim,

Loving Cousin,

In answer to thy request mentioned in thine of the 9th instant I send thee this: I can go no further back than to my great grandfather Richard Pim, who before his marriage lived a considerable time, a cook, with (I think he was called) Sir John Stanhope, ancestor to the Earl of Chesterfield. I heard of but one brother that he had, called Robert Pim, who he said came into Ireland when young, of whom he heard no more. We suppose he was that Robert Pim that Sir John Temple mentions to have been murdered by the Rebels at Graigue-ne-manch, in the County of Kilkenny. Richard Pim, before his marriage, had acquired what they call three livings: I suppose that to be three small pieces of land with each a dwelling house on it.

He took a liking to a neighbor's daughter, a comely young girl of thirteen years of age, and as he and his fellow servants rode out on a merry-making, one of his fellow servants took a pillow behind him and found her playing ball with other girls and asked her to go with them, which she did (it is probable that this was by conceit) and the said Richard married her and sent her to a boarding school for two years and then took her home at fifteen years of age. By her he had my grandfather, William Pim, and several daughters; one married to Godfrey Cantrell and one married to William Neale.

My grandfather, William Pim, married Dorothy, the sister of William Neal, and dwelt, if I remember right, at his grandfather Neale's house in Castledunnington, in Leistershire, in the year 1641; and in the year 1653 Godfrey Cantrell and family came into Ireland and Richard Pim, then very old, came with him and some time after died at Godfrey Cantrell's house, near Rosenallis (in the Queen's Co.), and was buried in the Church at Rosenallis. The same year my grandfather, William Pim, and William Neal and their families came over and settled in the County of Cavan, where after some years my grandfather died and was buried in his orchard at his own request, tho of the profession of the church of England; about which time William Edmundson and Richard Jackson and some other Friends removed to the Queen's Co. William Edmundson settled near Rosenallis, Richard Jackson and my father near Mount Melick. My father had his mother to take care of, and one sister, Ellen, afterwards the wife of Thomas Nevitt. My father joined partnership with Richard Jackson in the Butchering trade, and at Mount Melick became acquainted with my mother, Mary, the daughter of William Pleadwell, who was born at Normanton upon Sere, in Nottinghamshire. My grandfather, William Pleadwell, and his wife came into Ireland in 1655, they being Baptists, and settled near Killaloe. He had by his first wife Tobias Pleadwell, and by a second wife John Pleadwell, and by a third wife Thomas Pleadwell and my mother and two other daughters, one of whom was married to William Neale; and some time after my grandfather settled near Killaloe he was convinced by the ministry of Edward Burroughs and died not long after; and as his son Tobias Pleadwell was convinced some time before his father and settled at Mount Melick, my grandmother and her children came to dwell at Mountmelick, and in the year 1663 my father & mother married and settled at Mountmelick; but in the year 1665 my father & several other friends were sent prisoners for Tythe to Maryborough Gaol, where they continued prisoners for several years, though he had nothing titheable but a garden; so he got a house in Maryborough for my mother to dwell in and by favour of the Gaoler or Gaolers followed some business in his trade at Maryborough, and after they were discharged from the prison he took a farm at Coalnecart, part of the lands thy father now holds, and in 1678 or 1679 he went to live at Mountrath. As to the time and place of the births of my brothers & sisters I refer thee to the abstract of the monthly meeting records of births and burials of Mount Melick Monthly Meeting, which abstract, so far as relates to Mountrath meeting is mostly in my handwriting. I suppose it is in the hands of John Clendenon.

THOMAS PIM

P. S. Richard Jackson, before mentioned, had three sons, John, Thomas and Robert, and one daughter, Sarah, the wife of Nicholas Gribble. John I had no acquaintance with; Thomas, thy grandfather, lived at Killenare, and Robert at Mountmelick: thy grandmother, Sarah Pim, was born at Killenare. Thou may get all their genealogies out of the records of births and burials of Mountmelick monthly meeting.
THE SMEDLEY FAMILY.

Thomas Pim, the writer of the above letter, was the 6th son of John and Mary Pim. He resided in Mountrath until about 1753, when he went to live with his son's family at Tully last in the Co. Kildare. He died a few months after he wrote the letter, in his 86th year. He had two sons who had large families: my mother was his son Robert's eldest child. She was 16 years old when he died and often spoke of him with great respect. His last grandchild, John Pim, died last summer in his 89th year; his sister Hannah died in her 91st year in 1849. There are now not any of his descendants of the name of Pim among Friends.

1852.

Robert Goodbody.

John and his sister Hannah both remembered their grandfather, Thomas. His family of the name have estates of his purchasing.

From the records of Mount Melick Monthly Meeting some additional facts are presented. Dorothy Pim, mother of John Pim, died 9, 1, 1685, and was buried at Tinnul, near Rosenallis. John Pim died 5, 29, 1718, at Mountrath, and his widow, Mary, 2, 5, 1726; both buried there. Moses Pim, their eldest child, b. 7, 19, 1664; m. Ann Raper, dau. of Christopher and Philippa, b. 1, 9, 1664, at Ivan Mills, near Ballenakiil, Queen's Co.; died 3, 18, 1743; buried at Mountrath. Moses had a rope mill and was killed by the machinery 1, 5, 1715. Their fourth child was William Pim, who came to Pennsylvania.

John Edge learned the milling business with his uncle, Richard Downing, at Downingtown, and when of age executed a release to his late guardians, 2, 8, 1766, for his share of his father's estate. In 1768 he was operating the "high mill," now of Jacob V. Edge. On March 21, 1772, Jacob Edge and wife, Jane Downing, widow, David Reece and Sarah his wife, Richard Downing and Mary his wife, and Robert Valentine and Rachel his wife, heirs of John Edge (2d), convey their interest in 50 acres in Upper Providence, allotted to the widow as her dower, to John Edge, only son of George Edge, deceased. Ann Parke, widow, conveyed her interest in the lands of her father, in Upper Providence, being 344 acres, to her brother John Edge, 4, 21, 177-; and on Nov. 12, 1786, William Baldwin and Mary his wife conveyed their interest to the same. John Edge divided the Providence lands into four parts, and by deed of 4, 30, 1793, conveyed the N. E. lot, containing 118 acres, 40 perches, to Thomas Bishop; the N. W. lot, 91 acres, 46 perches, on the same date to Joseph Bishop; the S. W. lot, 107 acres, 100 perches, on same date, to Gideon Dunn, and the remainder, 78 acres, 56 perches, to William Eachus, May 10, 1797.

John Edge purchased from his uncle Robert Valentine, Feb. 7, 1780, a messuage and two tracts of land in East Caln, containing in both 29 acres, 46 perches, and succeeded his uncle as storekeeper at Downingtown. In 1790 he petitioned for a tavern license, representing "That your Petitioner, Having for a Number of Years followed the Business of Store keeping in a large Commodious house, nearly opposite Rich'd Downing's Mill in Downings Town, On the great road from Lancaster to Phila. and nearly where the road from Harrisburg intersects the same and Crosses to West Chester. But finding y^e Bisness of Store-keeping (since the late Custom of Tavern Keepers opening store has taken place) is by no means sufficient to raise and support his family according to their former and usual Custom, Hope Therefore you will be pleased to recommend him to the Executive Counsil as a proper person to keep a publick house of Entertainment," &c. This was signed by twenty-two of his neighbors. A counter petition, in the interest of other tavernkeepers, intimates that John Edge's design was to suppress a store lately set up by Hunt Downing, a tavernkeeper, and that the moderate prices at which they were now enabled to buy goods justified the latter. However, John Edge's application was successful, and the place was called the Half-Way House. In 1796 he was succeeded by his daughter Sarah Reese, as landlady, and on 3, 20, 1812, John Edge and wife conveyed the house, with 72 perches of ground, to their daughter Sarah (now) Hannum.

By deed of April 10, 1791, John Edge purchased from James Hood and wife Catharine, a tract of 65 acres, 9 perches, in East Caln, and another of 32 acres, 100 perches, in West Bradford, called "Laurel Nap." From Dr. Thomas Parke, of Philadelphia, he purchased, April 5, 1792, the Parke homestead of 222 acres, in East Caln, on which the "Ship" tavern had been kept for many years. Here he enlarged the mansion to double its former size, and continuing to add to his lands, purchased from John Hoopes and wife, June 30, 1798, a meadow lot on the Brandywine, containing 12 acres, 51 perches; and from Thomas and Robert Woodward, Nov. 21, 1800, 32 acres, 120 perches in West Bradford. On the western half of the Ship Farm he erected a house for his son George. By his will, dated 7, 27, 1814, he made provision for his wife and unmarried daughters; devised to his son Thomas the greater part of the purchase from James Hood, with that obtained from John Hoopes, and one-third of the Woodward purchase, with some small addition, making in all nearly 118 acres; to son George 115½ acres of the homestead, and the residue of lands to his son John, being about 125 acres. To his five daughters he gave $2133 each, beside a town lot.

He is represented as having possessed great force of character and an active enterprising temper, and was fortunate in business. A keen observer, he was given to sallies of humor or wisdom for the benefit of his neighbors, many of which were current long after his death.
In 1787, when articles of luxury were heavily taxed in order to raise a revenue, four citizens of East Caln were possessed of riding chairs, they being William Trimble, John Edge, Richard Downing and Hunt Downing, who paid £1 : 10s each for their aristocratic pre-eminence.

The parents with all the children except Mary and Susanna, came to Pennsylvania as passengers on the Sizargh, of Whitehaven, Jeremiah Cowman, master, which after a rough voyage of three months arrived in Delaware Bay Aug. 21, 1724. They purchased 500 acres of land in the Great Valley, in East Caln township, whereon they settled. Thomas Parke brought a certificate from the meeting at Carlow, Ireland, dated 2, 15, 1724, which stated “that he hath lived since his Convinement, which is nigh 40 years, amongst us, and hath been of an orderly Conversation and of good report amongst his neighbors, and well Esteemed by his friends,” &c.

Thomas Parke, Jr., m. 2, 26, 1739, Jane Edge, b. 9, 3, 1715; d. 3, 28, 1784; dau. of Jacob and Sarah Edge (p. 48), who after his death m. 8, 10, 1763, James Webb, of Lancaster County. The children of Thomas and Jane were Robert (m. Ann Edge), Sarah, Rebecca, Hannah, Thomas, Jane and Jacob.

Joseph Taylor, son of Abiah Taylor, of Didcott, in Berkshire, England, was married March 16, 1700, to Elizabeth Haines, of Harwell, in the same county. They arrived in Chester county in 1708, bringing a certificate from Friends in their native place, and settled on the Brandywine, in Kennet (now Pennsbury) township. Later he built a mill on Pocopson Creek. Elizabeth Taylor died 6, 21, 1743, and her husband 3, 30, 1744; both probably buried at Birmingham Meeting, of which he was one of the trustees. Their children were Joseph, Richard, Jeremiah, John, Hannah (m. William Temple), Benjamin and Sarah (m. John Jones).

Benjamin Taylor, b. 1, 27, 1710; d. 7, 1, 1775; m. 5, 5, 1733, at Birmingham Meeting, Sarah Nookes, d. 8, 20, 1789; dau. of William Nookes, from Bromsgrove, in Worcestershire, Eng. marriage he removed to East Caln, where, in 1787, he was assessed with 250 acres of land. In 1793 they removed to West Whiteland, and in 1799 had 140 acres of land, grist and saw mill, which he obtained from his father by deed and will.

WILLISTOWN MEETING.

By deed of 4, 12, 1753, Francis Smedley, of Willistown, and Ann his wife, conveyed to Thomas Smedley, Amos Yarnall, Benjamin Hibberd, Lawrence Cox and Thomas Massey, all of Willistown, one acre of land in that township, in trust for the use of them the said Thomas Smedley, Amos Yarnall, Benjamin Hibberd, John Hibberd, Francis Yarnall, John Yarnall, Moses Yarnall, Joseph James, William Garrett, John Smedley and divers other Freeholders and Inhabitants of the said Township of Willistown, joined together in a company or society to build a commodious School House upon the same acre of Land and to employ a capable Master to teach their children and youth in necessary learning. The “free Liberty and Privilege of the highest spring of water” was also included in the grant.

Upon this land a school house was erected and here, it is supposed, the first Friends' meeting in Willistown was held by special indulgence from Goshen Monthly Meeting, but the date is wanting. The marriage certificate of Benjamin Hibberd and Mary Garrett, dated 10, 19, 1769, states that the marriage took place at a meeting appointed for the purpose in a meeting house in Willistown.

At Goshen Mo. Mtg., 4, 9, 1784: “The ffrd who have usually held a meeting During the Winter Season at Willistown now Request, with the approbation of Goshen & Newtown preparative meetings, to have a meeting settled there & to hold a preparative meeting, which is left for further solid consideration.” The subject was referred from month to month until 10, 8, 1784: “The Request for having a meeting settled at Willistown, having been for some time before this meeting & there not appearing sufficient uniting in sentiment for it to Go forward it is Dropt at present.”

6, 8, 1787: “The friends who have usually attended the Willistown Meeting Requests to have a meeting settled there to be held on first and fifth days except the day before Goshen Mo. Meeting, which is left under consideration another Mo.” At the next meeting, 7, 6, 1787, “The Request for having a meeting settled at Willistown coming under weighty consideration & after much time spent thereon it is concluded to be laid before our next Quarterly Meeting.”

12, 5, 1788: A minute of the Quarterly Meeting was produced, as fol-

"Taken from the minutes of Chester Quarterly Meeting held the 11th month the 10th 1788.

At Goshen Mo. Mtg., 4, 11, 1794: "Friends of Willistown particular meeting Requests to have a preparative meeting settled there, which is left under consideration." 5, 9, 1794: "The Request for having a preparative meeting settled at Willistown being now resumed & after some time spent thereon it is united with & agreed to be layd before the Quarterly meeting."

This request was granted by the Quarterly Meeting held at Concord, 8, 11, 1794. In 1801 the place of holding the monthly meetings was changed from Goshen to Willistown, as being more central. This had been anticipated by the building of a new meeting house in 1798, which is thus certified on the minutes, 2, 8, 1799: "A new meeting house is built at Willistown to supply the place of the old one."

Ann Smedley, widow of Francis Smedley, the grantor of the lot for school purposes, by deed of 6, 6, 1793, conveyed an addition of three-quarters of an acre to the "lot of ground belonging to Willistown Friends' Meeting House," to William Garrett, Amos Garrett and Jeffrey Smedley, for the purpose of erecting a house thereon and for a place of burial of the dead. No explanation is made as to the transference of the original lot from the school trustees to the use of the meeting. By her will, dated 4, 10, 1794, Ann Smedley devised the adjoining land to her niece Ann Scott, wife of John Scott, and these made a further addition to the grounds by deed of 2, 4, 1803, for 1 acre, 18 perches of land to Nathaniel Grubb and Jeffrey Smedley, who transferred the same to the trustees of the meeting, in 1811, as a gift. John Scott and wife conveyed to the trustees 46 perches more land, at a later date, and Anna Scott, widow, by deed of 6, 10, 1819, added 97.6 per. Benjamin Hibberd conveyed 145 perches to the trustees, 3, 18, 1816; so that the present property is made up of six separate conveyances, amounting to 4 acres, 35 perches.

Whereas we the members of Willistown Preparative Meeting, having had in Contemplation the Building a stone Wall Round our Burials Ground, after having several times conferd on the Occasion, unite in proposing a Subscription to meet the Expence of Building a Wall of about one Hundred & Seventy Perch, Estimated to cost near Four Hundred Dollars:—Giving to the subscribers an Opportunity of defraying a portion of their subscriptions by the delivering of Materials. Therefore that this laudable Intention may be completely carried into Effect We the undernamed subscribers do Bind ourselves our Heirs, Executors & administrators to pay the several sums anexed to our Names (or its equivalent for that purpose) into the Hand of Nathaniel Grubb when wanted or demanded, who is appointed Treasurer for the same & the said Treasurer is Required to keep a clear account of all Receipts & Disbursements Respecting the s't Wall in order for settlement when the work is done:—dated this first day of the 6th month 1809.

On the 10th of 9th Month 1898, the Centennial of the old house was commemorated by a large gathering of the members and descendants of families formerly in membership, with appropriate exercises of historical, social and religious character.

William Garratt and Samuel Levis, both of Harby, purchased 1000 acres of land in Penna., by deeds of lease and release, Aug. 9 and 10, 1684, and having obtained a certificate of membership from Friends at Harby, dated 5, 20, 1684, they came over the same year. William settled in Upper Darby and was a serviceable member of the meeting for about thirty-seven years. He was also elected to the Assembly in the years 1706 and 1707. below the present road from West Chester to Philadelphia. By his first wife he had children, Daniel, Amos, Mary, Aaron and George.

Rachel Cox received a certificate from Goshen to Uwchlan Mo. Mtg., 6, 10, 1763. After her marriage she received one from Uwchlan back to Goshen, dated 2, 8, 1770. She was appointed an overseer at different times, and later an elder, of Willistown Meeting, which position she occupied at the time of her death.

Aaron Garratt, her husband, was an overseer and an active member of the meeting. In 1787 he was assessed with 100 acres of land. By the will of his stepfather, Amos Yarnall, dated 4, 20, 1788, proven Feb. 6, 1790, he inherited the farm of the latter, containing 100 acres, subject to the payment of legacies of £50 each to four children of the testator. When his youngest son was about to marry, he built an addition to the old Yarnall mansion in order to accommodate two families. A stone in the western gable bears the initials, G. A. R., the first being above the others, and date, 1812.

Joseph Richards was a purchaser of 500 acres of land from William Penn, a part of which was surveyed in Aston township, 6, 26, 1682, but the deeds not being recorded we are not informed as to his place of residence in England. He was present at a court held at Upland, now Chester, Sept. 12, 1682, and it has been claimed on the authority of Hazard (Annals, p. 604) that he was a member of the first Assembly held in Pennsylvania, but the evidence is not conclusive. A deed from John Bristow to Jasper Yeates recites that David Lloyd, on Sept. 8, 1693, had conveyed to Joseph Richards, "of the town and County of Chester, Physician," a parcel of meadow or Cripple, containing three acres, in Chester township; and that the latter had conveyed the same to John Bristow, Jan. 16, 1702-3.

William Cecil, of Longcomb, Oxfordshire, having purchased 250 acres of land from William Penn, his widow, Ann, and son Thomas conveyed a moiety thereof to Joseph Richards Junior, "of New Yate in the parish of Whitney in the said County of Oxon, masson," Feb. 25, 1685. This indicates that the son did not come over with his father, but was probably from the same place. By a deed dated 10, 5, 1688, Joseph Richards, Senior, conveyed to Joseph Richards, Junior, 200 acres in Aston.

Jane Richards, wife of Joseph and mother of his children, was alive in 1689, but the time of her death is unknown. The family appear to have been in membership with Friends, yet took little part in the affairs of the meeting. The will of Joseph Richards, of Chichester, is dated 7, 6, 1705, and proven Feb. 16, 1710-11. In this he devised to his son Joseph 5 shillings, and to his two elder children, Susanna and Joseph, 5 shillings each: to son Nathaniel's three children, William, Nathaniel and Elizabeth, 25 each: mentions son-in-law Humphrey Scarlet and daughter Ann Scarlet, daughter Susanna Lownes and her four children, Joseph, James, Hannah and Susanna Lownes.

Nathaniel Richards married Mary Mason, dau. of Richard Mason, and lived in Aston. His will, dated 12, 6, 1699-1700, proven Oct. 10, 1700, shows that he was a blacksmith: mentions his father, Joseph Richards, wife Mary and four children, William, Nathaniel, Elizabeth and Mary. His widow married Thomas Rowland, and they made an acknowledgment to Concord Mo. Mtg., 12, 10, 1706, for their outgoing in marriage against the advice of friends. They settled in the Toughkenamon Valley, where Thomas died in 1708, and Mary married again, 8, 30, 1813, Evan Powell, of Nottingham. By her 2d husband she had children, Ruth, Mary and Rachel, and by the 3d had Sarah Powell. Of the children by Nathaniel Richards, Mary probably died before her grandfather, and William before 1715. Elizabeth married Roger Kirk and a genealogy of her descendants has been published.

Nathaniel Richards, Jr., married Margaret Wiley, dau. of Allen (and Sarah?) Wiley, from Ireland, and settled in New Garden, where he died about 1730, leaving children, William, m. Joanna Jenkins and Jane Miller; Nathaniel m. Hannah ———, and Isaac. Margaret married a 2d husband, William Carpenter, from England, whom she survived, and died in West Bradford, 12, 5, 1796, aged 90 years, and leaving 113 descendants.

Isaac Richards m. 1, 17, 1753, Mary Gregg, b. 12, 12, 1729; dau. of Thomas and Dinah Gregg, of Kennet. They resided in New Garden and had children, Thomas, Nathaniel, Isaac, William, Mary and Lydia.

Hannah Cox took a certificate from Goshen to Uwchlan, dated 10, 11, 1776. Thomas Richards took one from New Garden, 10, 6, 1778, to LINE OF GEORGE^1, MARY^2, SARAII^3.

Uwchlan, and thence to New Garden, 5, 6, 1779. She was residing in East Caln township at the time of her marriage, and received a certificate to New Garden, 12, 9, 1779. They returned to Uwchlan with a certificate dated 2, 3, 1781, and obtained one 5, 6, 1784, back again. In 1787 Thomas Richards was assessed in New Garden with 200 acres of land, a log house and log barn, 2 horses, 3 cattle and a grist mill. He and his wife were very serviceable members of New Garden Meeting. On 4, 7, 1798, “Thomas Richards is appointed to write & read all Marriage Certificates in future that may be accomplished at New Garden untill further appointment.” The family received a certificate from New Garden, 6, 1, 1799, to Nottingham, and settled at Rising Sun, in West Nottingham, Md.

Francis Yarnall and his brother Philip came from Claines (or Cloines), a small village in Worcestershire, near the city of Worcester. They first settled on 100 acres of land in Springfield township, adjoining George Maris, about a mile from Springfield Meeting, on the road to Clifton. This land was surveyed to Francis Oct. 17, 1683, and patented 12, 6, 1685. They were at first members of Darby Meeting. Francis Yarnall, “of Stone Creek head,” and Hannah Baker were married 8 mo. 1686. He afterward purchased 510 acres in Willistown, adjoining Edgmont line, and died there in 1721.

Philip Yarnall m. 2 mo. 1694, Dorothy Baker, dau. of John Baker from Edgmond, in Shropshire, Eng., and settled in Edgmont township, where he had purchased 480 acres of land from George Maris, in 1687. He also purchased 240 acres more in 1713, which he conveyed to his son Philip, and 250 acres in Ridley, in 1723, which he devised to his son Job. His will is dated 6, 16, 1733, and proven May 20, 1734. His wife was recommended as a minister, 5, 31, 1727, and died in 1743. Issue:

Isaac Yarnall, son of John and Abigail, was complained of by Middletown Meeting, 8, 27, 1753, for marriage out to one not a member, and without his mother’s consent, for which he was disowned 10, 29, 1753. His wife was Mary, b. May 10, 1733, dau. of James and Elizabeth (Albin) Bennett, of Middletown. On Aug. 25, 1761, he petitioned for license to keep tavern, representing “that your Petitioner’s House is very conveniently Situated for a publick House of Entertainment on Edgemont Great Road leading to the great Valley, &c., about Eight Miles nearer Chester than the Sign of the Boot, where Jonathan Davis lately kept publick House, and about four Miles above Talbot’s Tavern.” This was also signed by sixteen of his neighbors, and his request was granted. It is believed that the tavern was kept in the present residence of James Thorp. After the death of Isaac Yarnall, in 1765, his widow continued the business until her death, about the 1st of Nov. 1766. John Hoopes (No. 150) rented the property and kept tavern till 1771, when John Neal succeeded him for six years. William Dunwoody was perhaps the landlord (at this place?) for two years, after which it does not appear that the license was renewed. The children of Isaac and Mary Yarnall were:

Jane (Cox) Yarnall was disowned by Goshen Mo. Mtg., 11, 5, 1779, for marriage by a priest to one not a member, but an acknowledgment was accepted 1, 10, 1783, and a certificate to Chester Mo. Mtg. granted her 7, 11, 1783. Her husband and children, Mary, Isaac, Sidney, Rachel, James and Albin, were admitted into membership 8, 26, 1799. She was appointed an overseer of Middletown Meeting, 6, 29, 1807, and again in 1810, for three years longer. In 1787 James Yarnall was assessed with 250 acres of land in Edgmont, 4 horses and 4 cattle.

RICHARD AP THOMAS, of Whitford Garden, Flintshire, Wales, was a purchaser of 5000 acres of land from William Penn, by deeds of lease and release, dated July 24 and 25, 1681, for the sum of £100. Tradition says that while he inclined towards or joined with Friends, his wife adhered to the established church, and for this reason was unwilling to accompany him to Pennsylvania. Leaving his wife and daughter behind him he brought his son Richard, and reached Philadelphia in the year 1683. He was probably taken sick soon after his arrival, as his will is dated 9th mo. 18, 1683, in which he styles himself as “late of Whitford Garden, in Flintshire, and now being arrived in the province of Pennsylvania.” He devised his lands here to his son Richard ap Thomas, and appointed his friend, Dr. Thomas Wynne, executor and guardian. To his wife and daughter he devised the personal estate left with the former in Wales. Although he died soon after this the will was not registered until Jan. 15, 1695–6, by which time the son became of age. Thomas Wynne resided for a time at Philadelphia, and afterward at Lewis, in Sussex County, on Delaware, and died in 1692. It appears that Richard Thomas, the son, was living at Lewis in 1693. Col. Richard Thomas, writing of his ancestors, says:

The family of Ap Thomas appears to have been many generations land-holders in Whitford Garden, having a freehold of £300 a year, and of course being within the grade of gentlemen and the game act. Whether the surname was uniformly Thomas, or changed occasionally according to Welsh practice, cannot be ascertained, though by recurrence to books of heraldry it appears that a family of Thomases in that country was ancient. Richard ap Thomas being in years, and grown tired with the dissipation of his compeers, embraced the tenets of the Quakers and joined in Penn’s first migration to Pennsylvania, bringing his only son, Richard, a boy about ten years of age and a number of dependants. These, after his death, made use of the stock of provisions and perishable articles of their late master, under pretext of supporting the orphan, until all was exhausted, and then turned him off to find his sustenance from his landed estate. Thus left forlorn, he selected Dr. Lloyd, Lieutenant Governor, and some other legal guardians (the guardian and trustee under his father’s will being deceased), and was by sales of some rights of land provided for and educated,—studying physic with the doctor, his guardian. Arriving at legal age he procured letters of administration in his own name, and located his remaining lands about the year 1695. The lapse of near a dozen years of minority lost him the advantage of locating in the vicinity of the seat of commerce, and he had the necessity of going into the wilderness (as then thought) for good land. He found a tract of about 600 acres in Goshen, now part of the seat of West Chester, but the principal tracts were in the gloomy dale then and since called the Great Valley.

About the year 1699 he visited his native land in Wales, where he found his only sister reduced to indigence, his mother having intermarried with a man who dissipated all their joint property (willed them by Richard ap Thomas), and his mother then deceased. He brought over his sister, or she followed soon after, who was married to Llewelin Parry, and became the mother of a family, some of whose descendants are still living in Chester County, viz., Nancy Hunter, the wife of Thomas Bull, Esq., and several other sisters, all of whom have issue. Returning again to Pennsylvania, he married Grace Atherton and settled in the Valley at a place called by the Indians (settled on it) Cata-moon-shink, meaning hazlenut grove, now West Whiteland township, a name probably derived from Whitford, the seat of the family in Wales.

We have seen that Richard, in 1693, was living at Lewis, in Sussex County. In 1704 he was styled "of Meirion, in the County of Philadelphia, Carpenter," and in March, 1711, was of Blockley. Of his 5000 acres of land he sold 1786 acres to various persons, unpatented. July 12, 1703, he obtained a patent for two tracts, one of 1065 acres, of which the southwest corner is in the centre of West Chester, and another of 600 acres in Newtown, which was afterwards given up because it interfered with other surveys. May 17, 1704, he received another patent for 1548 3/4 (by resurvey, 1869) acres, in Whiteland, making, with the city lots, his full complement of 5000 acres.

He was married at his own house, in Whiteland township, 11, 15, 1712-13, by Friends' ceremony, to Grace Atherton, late of Liverpool, daughter of Henry and Jennet Atherton, who had not then come over to Pennsylvania. It does not appear that he was then, or later, considered to be in membership with Friends. He died in Whiteland, 1744, being survived by Grace, his wife, and both were buried in what has been called "Malin's Graveyard," in East Whiteland. Issue:

The Colonial Records of Pennsylvania from 1774 until the close of the Revolutionary War are replete with notices of the active services, both civil and military, of the 4th Richard Thomas of Chester County. He was a member of the first association in the county formed to carry out the views and effect the purposes of the Continental Congress. In September, 1775, he was lieutenant-colonel of a regiment of volunteers, being the first regiment raised in Chester County. April 19, 1776, he was appointed colonel of the 5th battalion of Associators, in the county of Chester. The commission, dated that day, is signed “By order of the Assembly, John Morton, Speaker.” Col. Thomas was a member of the Provincial Conference or Convention, composed of the county committees, which met June 18, 1776. This Conference appointed the Pennsylvania delegates who signed the Declaration of Independence; and also adopted measures for organizing six thousand militia, the number assigned to Pennsylvania by Congress as her quota of ten thousand militia, who were directed to form a flying camp for the middle colonies. Col. Thomas commanded the Chester County regiment of this flying camp in a campaign across New Jersey, as far as Amboy, for the protection of Philadelphia. His duties as a militia officer of Chester County in procuring and distributing arms and munitions of war, were of the most arduous and responsible character. His breach of some of the fundamental principles of Friends did not pass unnoticed by his fellow members.

Whereas Richard Thomas, who was Educated in Religious Profession with us the People Called Quakers, yet for want of taking heed to the gift of Divine grace in his own heart, hath been of late concerned in putting in Execution sundry things of a Public Nature which in their tendancy are Repugnant to our principles & also hath further Deviated from our peaceable Testimony against wars & fighting in accepting of the Command of a party of Men in learning the Art of War, for which we have frequently laboured with him in Christian love in order to Convince him of his Errors, which having not had the Desired Effect we therefore think it necessary for the clearing of our Religious society to Declare to the World that we can no longer Deem the said Richard Thomas to be a Member Thereof until from a true sight & sense of his Errors he condemn the said Misconduct to the Satisfaction of this Meeting, which is our desire for him. Signed by order of the said Meeting by

THOMAS LIGHTFOOT, Clk.

In September, 1777, the British sent a party to Col. Thomas's house in hopes of capturing him, but he being notified escaped. The enemy put a rope around his wife's neck and threatened to hang her to the lintel of the door if she did not tell where her husband was concealed. Thomzin D. Thomas, of Whitford Hall, with one exception the oldest living grandchild, tells of a similar incident.

Col. Thomas was with his troops near Lionville, in Uwchlan, when his family were startled by an alarm of the English soldiers in the immediate vicinity of the house. They had previously been careful to conceal all the silver ware not needed for use, and the residue was hastily removed from the breakfast table and thrown into the bottom of an old tall clock. The marauders found it, however, and were provoked at not finding more, so they broke the case of the clock and injured the works to some extent. One of Col. Thomas's sisters remained in the house, and they tried to make her reveal the hiding place of the valuables, which she, like many of the women of that day, refused to do. In the old-time kitchen there were several strong wooden pegs or meat hooks, and one of iron. In order to make her tell they tied a rope around her neck and strung her up to one of the wooden pins, but she being a heavy person her weight broke them in succession. She was afraid they would notice the iron pin, which she knew would hold her, but fortunately they did not, and becoming tired or fearful of being surprised they desisted. The old clock was afterward repaired and is now one of the best time-keepers in the neighborhood.

In the years 1786 to 1789, inclusive, Col. Thomas was elected a member of Assembly, and in 1790, to the State Senate. In April, 1793, he was appointed a brigadier-general of militia by Governor Mifflin, but declined to accept. In the years 1794, 1796 and 1798 he was elected a member of the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Congresses, being the first representative from his native county under the Constitution of the United States.

Richard Thomas and his brother George inherited their father's lands, and in 1777 were assessed with 250 acres each, in West Whiteland, beside which Richard had a grist mill. As they had been "plundered by the enemy" they were excused from paying tax that year. It has been stated that at the outbreak of the rebellion Richard conveyed his land to his peaceable brother to prevent its confiscation in case the Americans were unsuccessful. The old mansion, which stood close by the present residence of his grandson, Richard Ashbridge, was accidentally burned in 1895. About 1782 he erected a new house on the Lancaster Road, of dark red brick, which was painted fifty or more years ago a drab or light brown. But little change has been made to the outside, while the interior has undergone considerable alteration, and under the name of Whitford Lodge it is used as a summer vacation house for women and girls from Philadelphia. It contains twenty-two or 'three desirable rooms. Richard Thomas died at the residence of his daughter, Thomazine Ashbridge, in Philadelphia.

PETER WORRALL, of Crudelanes, and JOSHUA WORRALL, of Newton, in Cheshire, Eng., were purchasers of 500 acres of land from William Penn, of which 300 acres were located in Marple township. Whether Joshua was the brother or father of Peter, or what became of him, is not clear, but the latter seems to have become the sole owner of the land, which he divided between his sons John and Peter, Dec. 11, 1699. Peter, the son, who died in 1749, by Elizabeth his wife, had children, John, Jonathan, James, Joseph, Peter, Benjamin, Mary and Patience. Of these, Jonathan m. 7, 21, 1727, Mary Taylor, dau. of Jonathan and Martha, and granddau. of Robert and Mary Taylor, and d. in Marple about 1775, leaving children, William, Ann, Mary, Patience, Samuel, Jacob, Elijah, Elisha, Joseph, Benjamin, Seth and Martha. He is styled a fuller in the records and in 1799 he was assessed with the fulling mill and 70 acres of valley land. He purchased 27½ acres from the estate of his brother Samuel, and this he devised to his sons, William and Samuel, equally, while to the first he gave 15 acres, 54 perches of the paternal inheritance, and to Samuel 12 acres, 97 perches of the same. The residue he devised to his youngest son, Charles, together with 5 acres in East Brandywine.

In 1771 Abraham Sharpless, of Concord, joiner, and Robert Hall of Concord, innkeeper, purchased 131 acres of land in Aston. There was then or soon after a grist mill on the property; and in 1775 they are both of Aston, and millers. Not long after this he became interested in the manufacture of iron, at Sarum Forge, in Aston (now Thornbury), in partnership with Norris Jones; afterward with Isaac Lloyd, and later with Francis Wisely. From 1810 till his death he conducted a rolling and slitting mill; and also, for the greater part of the time, a grist mill and saw mill. In this business he acquired a considerable estate. In 1836 the property was purchased by James M. Willcox, and the making of paper substituted for that of iron. The works have since been known by the name of Glen Mills, and here, during the Rebellion, was made a great deal of paper for the U. S. Government.

Isaac Lewis and David Owen each left a small legacy, in 1771, towards walling the graveyard, and the work was commenced on the side next the road in the following year; at which time Thomas Evans donated some land to enlarge the ground and Joseph Phipps devised £10 for repairs and improvements thereon. John Salkeld, son of Thomas Salkeld, of Coldbeck in Cumberland England, was born in 1672, and as a minister in the Society of Friends, visited Ireland, 1698, America, 1700, and Ireland again in 1703. He was married 9, 8, 1704, to Agnes Powley, dau. of Edmond Powley, of Whinfield in the county of Westmoreland, and on the 9th of 7th mo. 1705, took passage from London to Philadelphia. They settled at Chester, where he was a farmer and maltster. Beside 400 acres in that township he purchased 1000 acres in Westtown and other tracts elsewhere. He traveled considerably in the ministry, was of a jovial character, and numerous anecdotes are handed down of his wit and humor. He died 9, 20, 1739, and his wife, 11, 12, 1748, aged 70 years, 10 months, 26 days. They had eleven children, Joseph, Mary, John, Thomas, Agnes, Edmond, William, David, Samuel, Jane and Jonathan. Sarah Hampton received a certificate from Philadelphia Mo. Mtg which was presented to Chester 3, 23, 1770, and at the time of her marriage was living in Upper Providence.

At Chester Mo. Mtg, 8, 28, 1780: Middletown Meeting informs that "William Salkeld hath had a creature taken from him for a substitute Fine & that he did consent that a certain person should redeem it, & also did receive from him some further consideration for said creature." He was visited by committees who endeavored to convince him of the inconsistency of such conduct, but in the 11th mo. 1780, William “informed them he proposed to continue the payment of such demands as may be made on him in future.” He was accordingly disowned 1, 29, 1781.

Sarah Salkeld, wife of William, and children, John, Samuel, Mary and Sarah, received a certificate from Chester to Pipe Creek Mo. Mtg., Md., 7, 31, 1786. No living descendants have been located, but from the minutes of the last named meeting some items have been obtained. Samuel Salkeld made an acknowledgment, 10, 19, 1799, for training in the militia, fiddling and dancing: Mary Salkeld made an acknowledgment, 5, 19, 1798, for dancing, but on 7, 17, 1802, was complained of for marriage to a man named Fishbourn, and disowned two months later: Sarah Salkeld was disowned 2, 13, 1808, for joining with the Methodists, and David Salkeld was disowned for the same offence a short time before.

The late Samuel L. Smedley made the following memorandum: “The above names were given me about 1860, by Mary Haig, a half-sister of Eliza Suss, who lived with Samuel and Eliza and others at that time: 3, 4, 1879, Eliza and her sister Sarah refused to give any information.”
The Philadelphia directory for 1830 locates widow Elizabeth Hampton and Joseph M. Hampton, saddler, at 12 North alley. The marriage certificate of Samuel Hampton and Sarah Smedley was given by Mary J. Breed to Joseph M. Truman, Jr., and by him to Elizabeth Suss many years ago. She was for years care-taker at the Academy of Fine Arts; afterwards at the Academy of Natural Sciences.

Some additional information respecting Joseph Moore, father of Phebe Truman, has been obtained since that on page 110 was printed.

He was a shoemaker by trade but in conjunction with his wife opened a dry goods store on Bank Street, where they were enabled to realize a competency, notwithstanding their hospitality. It is said that at Yearly Meeting time they lodged thirty Friends,—the men in one room and the women in another,—though the house was not a large one; and when Friendly looking persons came into the store Sarah was very apt to find they were relatives and insist on their taking a meal with them.

The lot on Arch Street which they held by purchase and inheritance, was sold during the Revolution to Samuel Wetherell, for £50, Penna. currency. In later life, when he saw the great advance in real estate, Joseph Moore much regretted their having made this sale.

After the Revolution, at the reorganization of the Pennsylvania Abolition Society, in 1784, Joseph became a member, and for some years was on the committee to visit the prison in search of such colored persons as might be committed there, legally or otherwise, on the charge of being fugitive slaves, and to insure them a fair trial. At the organization of the Prison Society he became identified with it also.

He always made his own shoes, taking plenty of time that they might be well seasoned; and after Congress removed to Washington he usually paid a visit to that city during each session. On such an occasion he entertained some of the members by stating that his shoemaker was his barber, and his barber was his tailor, and probably mentioned some other accomplishments; so that they thought his shoemaker must be a very useful man. He had patterns by which he cut the materials for his coat, vest and pants, and made these up himself. His white beaver hat, according to a fashion with many Friends, had the fur immediately above the brim brushed smooth, and the upper part rough.

When his grandchildren were left orphans they were brought to his home and cared for, and he was likewise attentive to his stepchildren. He died 12, 25, 1817, in his 77th year.

Richard Truman, with Martha his wife, and some children, came from England about 1715 and settled in what is now Montgomery Co., Pa. By deed of Nov. 17, 1716, Stephen Jenkins, of Springhead, in the township of Abington, yeoman, and Abigail his wife, and Elizabeth Jenkins, widow of William Jenkins, of Springhead, yeoman, conveyed to Richard Truman, of Cheltenham township, weaver, for £105, all that said messuage or tenement and plantation known by the name of Springhead, together with one hundred and forty acres of land thereunto belonging, in the township of Abington. This was close to Abington Meeting. March 9, 1716–7, Richard Truman, of Abington, weaver, and wife Martha, mortgaged this property to William Harmer of Springfield, yeoman, as an indemnity. In the 5th mo. 1722, Richard Truman took a certificate from Abington to Gwynedd Mo. Mtg. for himself, wife and mother-in-law (who is not named), and probably settled at this time in what is now Berks County, where he purchased 212 acres of land on "Menokejee Creek," in the township of Oley. Here he made his will, 11, 20, 1729–30, which was proven March 14, 1729–30. Soon after his death his widow, Martha Truman, removed to Philadelphia with some or all of her children, and there died about the 22d of 6th mo. 1758, at the age of nearly 85 years, and was buried in Friends' ground. The children of Richard Truman were:

Thomas, b. perhaps about 1705, in England, supposed to have been a half-brother to the other children; m. 9, 29, 1733, Ann Bolton, and in 1751 settled in Sadsbury, Chester County.

James Truman, Jr., engaged in the business of a coppersmith, but this being so much connected with distilling he changed to the tin-plate and tin roofing business. He was of a mechanical turn and inventive genius, and took out two patents for a stove and a steam washer.

When the market houses were extended westward from 4th Street James Truman drafted a plan which included a box in which the hooks &c., were stored after market hours to guard against accident. This plan was accepted by the city. He and his brother Evan were among the original members of the Harmony Fire Company, organized 8 mo. 24, 1784, in Friends' Fourth Street Meeting House. The original members were Daniel Drinker, Richard Frice, Abraham Liddon, Thomas Harrison, Arthur Howell, Jesse Williams, John Townsend, Jonathan Evans, Jr., Thomas Savery, James Truman, James Starr, Robert Coe, David Evans, Ellis Yarnall, John Poulteny, Joseph Richardson, Jr., John Letchworth, John Elliott, Jr., John Oldden, Thomas Lawrence, Solomon White, Zachariah Jess, Evan Truman, Jacob Shoemaker, Jr., Joseph Budd, Samuel Jones, Solomon Dawson and Samuel Carver, a number of whom became quite prominent as ministers and otherwise among Friends.

In 1681, Henry Maddock, of Loom Hall, Cheshire, England, and his brother-in-law, James Kennerly, purchased 1500 acres of land from William Penn, and arrived here some time before the Proprietary, in 1682. In 1683, part of this joint purchase, supposed to be 800 acres, but really more than 1100 acres, was located in Springfield township, adjoining Ridley, and James established his residence upon it. After a few years he died, when his share of the joint purchase passed to Henry Maddock, who, returning to England, conveyed the whole to his eldest son, Mordecai Maddock. Jane Maddock, daughter of Henry, m. 1690, George Maris, Jr.

Mordecai Maddock was appointed a trustee for Chester Meeting, 10, 5, 1687; and 8, 13, 1690, to receive subscriptions in Marple township towards building a meeting house in Chester. After this he returned to England, but was again in this country, 1701 to 1703, at which time there is no evidence of his being a married person. In 1727 he produced a certificate for himself and wife, Sarah, from Nottingham Monthly Meeting, England. Mordecai Maddock, of Springfield, and Dorothy Roman, of Chichester, widow of Philip Roman, were married Nov. 8, 1733, at Springfield Meeting. In 1736 Friends of Chester meeting sold their old meeting house to Edward Russell, and Mordecai Maddock, as surviving trustee, was requested to execute a deed for the same. No further mention of him appears on the records, nor can any will or administration on his estate be found. He had probably disposed of all his property prior to his second marriage, reserving only a life interest therein. His children, so far as known, were Henry, John, Benjamin, Elizabeth and James. To Henry he conveyed 200 acres of land, Sept. 29, 1733, and to his son John 300 acres more on the same date, including the present site of Swarthmore College. He had previously, 1698–1702, disposed of the residue of the Springfield lands.

Benjamin Maddock m. 1734, Elizabeth, dau. of John Hart of Philadelphia, and continued to reside in Springfield. Beside a son Benjamin they had a daughter Elizabeth who married Thomas Manley. Benjamin Maddock, Jr., received a certificate from Chester to Philadelphia Mo. Mtg., 8, 25, 1766, and is supposed to have been the father of William L. Maddock.

134. James Smedley† (Thomas², George, George), b. Upper Providence, 2, 24, 1777; d. there, 11, 8, 1837, unmarried. He took the homestead, in Upper Providence, containing 98 acres, and devised the same to his brother Isaac and sisters, Elizabeth and Jane. He was appointed an overseer of Providence Meeting, 4, 28, 1817, in place of Thomas Dutton, who had removed to Concord Meeting, in which position he continued by reappointment for several years.

In 1805 Isaac Smedley purchased a small farm in Upper Providence, immediately east of and adjoining Sandy Bank graveyard, and there carried on the business of a cabinet-maker and undertaker, which he appears to have commenced in 1801, and continued till 1855; during which time he buried over eleven hundred persons. After the death of his brother James he became possessed of 34 acres of the homestead by the will of the latter and division with his sisters. He was appointed an overseer of Providence Meeting, 5, 31, 1813.

By her will she devised her real estate to her nephew, Thomas Smedley, with legacies to the other children of her brother Isaac. She also gave to Rebecca Edwards $500: to Philip Kirk, $100, and to Sarah, wife of Thomas Russell, $100.

559. Enos Smedley, b. 4, 22, 1808; d. 9, 22, 1863; m. Sarah Thompson.

Some of the dates here given are from Timothy Hopkins, of San Francisco, Cal., who has been collecting the genealogy of the Kelloggs of New England. It is probable that Enos R. Kellogg came to Delaware County as a teacher, and that he fell in love with one of his pupils. In a letter written by him 9, 4, 1830, to his brother-in-law, Ambrose Smedley, he says, “it seems but as yesterday when I watched thee playing thy sportive tricks on thy school fellows at Blue Hill.” The school at Blue Hill, in Upper Providence, was an important educational institution in that region, having been opened as early as 1777, on land of George Miller, who, in 1794, devised one acre and two perches of land in trust for the use of the school, under care of Chester Monthly Meeting. His relative, James Turner, had devised his house and lot adjoining, for the same use, in 1787, and in 1799 Ambrose and James Smedley were among the new trustees appointed for the two properties.

Elizabeth Kellogg was complained of by Middletown Meeting, 10, 27, 1800, for marriage by a magistrate to one not a member, but her acknowledgment was accepted 2, 23, 1801. Some old letters, written by her and other members of her family, and now in possession of her nephew, John H,
THE SMEDLEY FAMILY.

Smedley, on the old homestead, show that the Kelloggs had removed to Mifflin County as early as 1811, where their struggles for a livelihood were evident. One of these, without the year of date, mentions the death of the mother. The son Enos was a shoemaker in 1830. He is said to have had five children, Elizabeth, Sarah Josephine, Amanda Elmira, Rebecca Jane and Hannah Matilda, and his widow to have been at York, Nebraska, in 1877, but inquiry there failed to find trace of the family.

142. Sarah Smedley† (Ambrose³, George, George), b. 2, 28, 1774; d. Chichester township, 9, 1, 1837; m. 6, 6, 1793, at Middletown Meeting, William Griffith, d. 5, 6, 1820, in Edgmont; son of William Griffith and Hannah Yarnall, of Aston township. Issue:

560. George, b. 4, 11, 1794; buried 5, 6, 1822; married.
561. Jesse, b. 2, 11, 1796; d. 2, 9, 1831, unmarried.

566. Sarah, b. 9, 4, 1811; bur. 3, 13, 1844; m. John Young Thomas.

The family were nearly all buried at Middletown Meeting. In 1803 the parents received a certificate from Chester to New Garden Mo. Mtg., but returned it 5, 27, 1805, with endorsement by the latter meeting.

William Griffith was of Bethel, 1715, but perhaps not a Friend. In 1728, William Griffith, Jr., married Susanna Cassell, b. 9, 8, 1706, dau. of Arnold and Susanna Cassell, of Philadelphia, and settled in Edgmont on the Kingsman tract of 135 acres. He also purchased 100 acres there from Thomas Goodwin, and died 1763, leaving a widow and four children, William, Joseph, Alice and Susanna. The widow died about 1779. William Griffith, the son, m. 4, 13, 1757, at Newtown Meeting, Hannah Yarnell, dau. of Moses and Dowse Yarnall, of Willistown, and settled in Aston, where he died in 1782, leaving children, William, Enoch, Thomas, Joseph, Susanna, Priscilla, Phebe and Hannah.

John Hinkson and wife came from Ireland as early as 1764. By deed of March 20, 1764, in which he is styled "of the city of Philadelphia, yeoman," he purchased from Charles Norris and wife two adjoining farms in Nether Providence, for £860. Towards the close of that year he was assessed with 200 acres of land and buildings, worth £16 per annum, 3 horses, 4 cattle, 10 sheep and 2 servants. At Chester Mo. Mtg., 1, 27, 1766, his wife produced the following certificate from Friends in the county of Cavan, Ireland:

Mary Chance (Jan. 30, 1760,—St. Michael's and Zion Church record, Phila.), for which marriage his acknowledgment was accepted 1, 26, 1761, but his wife did not become a member till 7, 28, 1783. Ezekiel Yarnall, son of William, was admitted 1, 27, 1783, and m. 5, 6, 1784, at Middletown Meeting, Sarah Hall, dau. of Samuel and Sarah (Norbury) Hall, of Goshen, and granddau. of Thomas and Mary (Kendall) Hall (pp. 103, 142).

John Yarnall was a farmer, owning a farm in Middletown, bordering on Ridley Creek, south of the present railroad bridge, near Media.

150. John Hoopes⁴ (Mary³, Sarah, George), b. 10, 10, 1733; d. after 1792; m. Phebe Williams, b. 6, 20, 1731; dau. of Rees and Elizabeth Williams. Issue:

593. Abraham, b. 10, 24, 1755; d. 6 mo. 1807; m. Susanna McNees.
594. Daniel, b. 11, 27, 1756; d. 1, 21, 1829; m. Hannah Reese.
595. John, b. ———; d. 5, 8, 1812; m. Rebecca Myers.
596. Elizabeth, b. 4, 17, 1760; d. 12, 18, 1847; m. Jesse James.
597. Phebe, b. ———; d. ———; m. Joseph Hunt.
598. Sarah, b. 3 mo. 1767; d. 10, 15, 1852, at the residence of Joseph L. Taylor, near West Chester, unmarried.

Rees Williams, of Plymouth township, Philadelphia (now Montgomery) County, and Elizabeth his wife, had children, David, Rees, Mary, Catharine, Elizabeth, Isaac, Ruth and Phebe. About 1743 the family removed to Chester, where it is presumed that the father died about 1748. The widow and her children, Isaac and Phebe, received a certificate from Chester to Kennet Mo. Mtg., 2, 24, 1755, and Phebe was disowned by the latter, 7, 5, 1755, for marriage by a magistrate. Her husband, John Hoopes, made an acknowledgment to Chester Mo. Mtg., 3, 31, 1756, for his deviation, and was continued in membership.

In 1764 John Hoopes appears to have held 150 acres of land in Upper Providence, but his residence was in Newtown, where he had 5 horses, 7 cows and 5 sheep. From 1767 to 1771 he kept tavern in Edgmont, on the Yarnall property (p. 176), after which he probably resided on rented farms. As a result of keeping tavern he made too free use of spirits and was disowned by Chester Mo. Mtg., 3, 22, 1771.

151. Sarah Hoopes⁴ (Mary³, Sarah, George), b. Edgmont; m. about 1756, William Williamson, of Thornbury, b. 6, 5, 1731; d. 2, 13, 1815; buried the 16th at Middletown; son of Thomas Williamson and Ann Malin, and grandson of Daniel and Mary (Smith) Williamson. Issue:

599. Abraham, b. 1, 29, 1757; d. 2, 4, 1807; m. Esther James.
William Williamson was a first cousin to the mother of his wife, and marriages in that degree of kindred were not approved by Friends in that day, for which reason they accomplished their union before a justice of the peace. A committee of the women's meeting having waited on Sarah reported that "she thought she could not in truth make friends satisfaction least she should wrong her conscience." They did, however, make an acknowledgment which was accepted 10, 31, 1757. After her death he m. 2, 5, 1789, at E. Nottingham Meeting, Phebe Passmore, b. 9, 11, 1763; d. 11, 13, 1815; by whom he had Sarah, m. Abraham Hoopes (No. 646); Passmore, Phebe, William, Thomas, Cheyney and Augustine. Of these William was a prominent lawyer and influential citizen of West Chester; represented his district in the State Senate, 1846-8, and was Speaker of that body in the session of 1848. His brother Thomas was a leading conveyancer in Philadelphia for many years, and was the father of Passmore Williamson, who achieved notoriety through his efforts in the anti-slavery cause.

152. Abraham Hoopes' (Mary³, Sarah, George), b. Edgmont, d. Newtown; buried at Middletown, 1, 26, 1825; m. Elizabeth Worrall, buried at Middletown, 5, 13, 1817; dau. of John Worrall and Priscilla Lewis, of Edgmont. Issue:

600. Priscilla, b. ———; d. 1 mo. 1812; m. John Regester, (No. 709).
601. Sarah, b. 5, 4, 1785; d. 10, 18, 1852; m. Jabez Lewis.
602. John, living in 1820. No further record.
603. Mary, living in 1820. No further record.

John Worrall, probably from Cheshire, Eng., settled in Middletown and m. 1683, Frances Taylor, widow of Thomas Taylor. She d. 10, 13, 1712, and he m. again, 4, 9, 1714, Sarah Goodwin, dau. of Thomas Goodwin, of Edgmont, to which township he had removed. He visited Cheshire, 1709-1712, and d. 2, 19, 1742, in his 85th year. His widow was a minister and died at Cork, Ireland, 1755, when on a religious visit to that country. Their son John, b. 8, 26, 1719; d. Edgmont; buried at Middletown, 1, 5, 1800; m. 4, 18, 1741, Priscilla Lewis, and 2, 20, 1771, Sarah Newlin.

Abraham Hoopes was complained of by Middletown Meeting, 3, 30, 1761, for accompanying members of the meeting to their marriage by a priest, and refusing to make a written acknowledgment, was disowned 8, 31, 1761. Complaint was made of his wife, 7, 29, 1765, for marriage by a justice to one not a member, though precautioned. Her acknowledgment was accepted 11, 25, 1765.

The will of Abraham Hoopes, of Newtown, is dated Oct. 28, 1820, and proven Feb. 23, 1825, in which he devises to dau. Mary Hoopes $400; to dau. Sarah Lewis $300; to son John Hoopes $280; to children of dau. Priscilla Regester, deceased, $150; residue to three living children: Son-in-law Jabez Lewis and grandson Abraham Regester to be executors.

153. Abigail Hoopes1 (Mary3, Sarah, George), m. Nov. 12, 1759 according to records of Gloria Dei (Old Swedes') Church, Philadelphia, to William Regester, son of David and Lydia Regester, of Edgmont (p. 128). Issue:

612. Robert, b. 12, 24, 1779; d. 8, 5, 1838; m. Abigail Rigby.

The quaint church record states that William Rechester and Abigail Hubs were married at the date given. For their outgoing in marriage they made an acknowledgment to Chester Mo. Mtg. 6, 29, 1761. They resided in Upper Providence till 1763, when they removed to Newtown, where, in 1764, he was assessed as a mason, with 50 acres of land, 1 horse and 2 cows. He was not there in 1774. The parents and all the surviving children except the eldest received a certificate from Chester to Bradford Mo. Mtg., 5, 26, 1783, and thence back to Chester, 7, 16, 1784. On 9, 27, 1802, William and Abigail Regester obtained a certificate to Westland, Washington Co., Pa., accompanied by their sons Thomas and Robert. Their residence after this has not been ascertained.

MARRIAGE CERTIFICATE OF GEORGE SMEDLEY AND HANNAH MERCER, 1785.

LINE OF GEORGE 1, SARAH 2, MARY 3.

619. Alice, b. 10, 29, 1783; d. 9, 30, 1864; m. Gideon Baker.
620. Parthenia.
621. Esther, b. 11, 7, 1789; d. 6, 20, 1863; m. Thomas Black.
622. Abigail.
624. Joseph.
625. Rachel (?), m. — De Bue (?). Named by Elizabeth I. Dibble.

In 1774 Joseph Robins (as he wrote his name,) was assessed in Edgmont township with 170 acres, 2 horses, 4 cattle and 6 sheep. He was not there in 1774, but he appears again in 1787, with 100 acres, probably rented land, 3 horses and 6 cattle. He was one of the executors of his father-in-law, 1796, but when or where his death occurred has not been noticed. The following account was written by a grandson and printed several years ago, though without date:

Our grandfather, on the mother's side, was named Joseph Robbins, and was, I believe, a native of New Jersey, and was, I think, a tailor by trade. He married a lady whose name was Hoopes, of Chester or Delaware county, and resided in Edgmont, Delaware county and the neighborhood, for many years, but removed to New Jersey before his death. I have often heard him spoken of as a remarkably active man, and among other feats as such, could leap out of one hogsfhead into another. They had eleven or twelve children. I recollect the names of eleven, (perhaps all,) as follows:—Leah, Margaret, Alice, Sarah, Jane, (our mother,) Lydia, Esther, Parthenia, Abigail, Richard and Joseph; two of whom I have no recollection of having seen, namely, Margaret and Alice, they removed to what was called the "backwoods," about the year 1800: Alice afterwards removed to Ohio. The "backwoods," at that time, was Redstone (now Brownsville, Penna.). All of these left children, except Leah, who was never married: their descendants are very much scattered, being residents of Philadelphia, Chester county, Delaware county, and Montgomery county, Pennsylvania: New Jersey, Washington city, D. C., Ohio; Chicago, Illinois, and Atchison, Kansas, and perhaps elsewhere. I was named "Joseph" after our grandfather, and my brother was named "Robbins," our mother's maiden name.

Grandmother Robbins lived to the age of about ninety-eight years. Robbins and I paid her a visit in (I think) the year 1820. She resided at that time not far from Freehold, New Jersey, on the road leading from Camden to Longbranch. Her daughter Leah and she lived together. We, at the same time, visited a number of relatives in New Jersey, of whom I do not know anything, except as to aunt Abigail's family. Among the families (relatives) that we visited was one (I have forgotten the name) who resides at Shrewsbury, near the ocean, between the Neversink Hills and Longbranch. There was a member of this family, an interesting young lady, who was considered by Robbins a great beauty (she was a pretty girl too), and so much was he pleased with her, that the following year he paid her a visit alone, and at the same time paid a visit to Longbranch, at which place he made the acquaintance of the family of John Quincy Adams, and especially of the son, probably Charles Francis Adams, of Massachusetts. There was at the time of this visit a family by the name of Robbins, a relative of grandfather's, residing on this side of the Delaware, which we could not make it convenient to visit.

Benoni Griffith, doubtless from Wales, m. Catharine Owen, dau. of Thomas and Elizabeth Owen, of Whiteland, members of the Great Valley Baptist Church, also from Wales. They settled in Willistown, where he purchased 100 acres of land from William Hudson, in 1716, and there he died about 1760. His widow was living 1785. They had children, Elizabeth, Nathan, Hannah, Sarah, John, Ezekiel and Rachel. There were possibly two Nathans, as the meeting records give his birth as 7, 21, 1722, and his own family record, 3, 2, 1724.

Nathan Griffith "Departed this life 7th Mo. 9th Day, and was Intered the 11 Day of the same, 1790." Rachel Griffith, his wife, b. 12 mo. 1727, d. 3, 2, 1794, was the dau. of Daniel and Hannah Williamson, and granddau. of Daniel and Mary (Smith) Williamson, and of Randal and Mary Malin. Both were buried at Goshen Meeting. They resided in Goshen for several years, but his death occurred in Edgmont. Issue:

Susanna, b. 12, 21, 1766.
Elizabeth, b. 9, 22, 1772; m. Mordecai Yarnall.

Isaac Hoopes and Mary Griffith were second cousins, but it is scarcely likely that there was any objection to their marriage on that account by the meeting. However, they were married by a magistrate, for which misconduct she was complained of by Goshen Meeting, 8, 11, 1769, and her acknowledgment accepted 12, 8, 1769. Isaac was complained of by Middletown Meeting, 5, 28, 1770, and his acknowledgment accepted 7, 30, 1770. It was not till 10, 10, 1777, that she received a certificate from Goshen to Chester Mo. Mtg. In 1787 Isaac Hoopes was assessed in Edgmont township with 83 acres, 2 horses and 2 cattle. He and wife received a certificate from Chester to Concord Mo. Mtg., 5, 7, 1793, with six of their children, Isaac, Jacob, Rachel, Mary, Deborah and Sidney. The children who were of age received certificates separately to the same meeting. In 1797 they returned within the limits of Chester Mo. Mtg. By deed of March 30, 1807, William Hayman conveyed to Isaac Hoopes and his son Abraham a farm of 112 acres in Goshen, a short distance east of Milltown, and by division between them Isaac owned 62 acres, 37 perches at the time of his death. His residence was on the "Boot" road just north of the West Chester and Philadelphia road.

He was assessed in Edgmont, 1777, with 170 acres, 3 horses, 4 cattle and 5 sheep. In 1787 he was not there. They were disowned by Chester Monthly Meeting, 4, 29, 1771, on account of their marriage by a magistrate. She d. 1, 27, 1840, and was buried at Middletown Meeting. Edgmont, was complained of by Middletown Meeting, 12, 28, 1778, for marriage by a "hireling priest" and other disorderly conduct, for which he was disowned 3, 26, 1779. Mtg., dated 1, 25, 1779. He had one thence to Chester, 2, 7, 1781, and to Kennet as an apprentice, 7, 29, 1782. Her seven children were admitted into membership at Concord, by her request, 5, 5, 1784. After her husband’s death she received a certificate to Goshen, 6, 8, 1803, and thence to Baltimore, 11, 8, 1805. The land devised to Benjamin Mendenhall by his father was only a life estate, after which it was sold for £1168:16:10, by Caleb Peirce and George Brinton, trustees, and the proceeds divided among the five surviving children. In his will, dated 8, 19, 1800, Benjamin Mendenhall devised five shillings to each of his children, and £10 each to his grandchildren, Beulah and Orpha Mendenhall and Phebe Pyle, presumably children of his daughter Esther, who were debarred from a share in the real estate by the death of their mother.

The family record states that Edith was born Nov. 16, 1750, and she was said to be 83 years of age at her death, 1833, yet her disownment by Concord Mo. Mtg., 6, 5, 1765, for marriage "by a priest," indicates that she was little over 14 when that event occurred. She made an acknowledgment, 10, 7, 1801, and was admitted again into membership.

John Cheyney was a resident in Middletown township, (now) Delaware County, Pa., as early as 1715. He died in 1722, leaving all his estate to his sons, John and Thomas Cheyney, except £5, which was to be paid to Cheyney Balderson, in England. The two sons soon after this returned to England, presumably to their native parish, and on Jan. 16, 1724, John Bellers, of London, merchant, conveyed to John Cheyney and Thomas Cheyney, late of Middletown in the County of Chester, but now of Upper Lamborne in the parish of Chipping Lamborne, county of Berks, England, 1500 acres of land in Pennsylvania, for £360. This land had been purchased from William Penn, perhaps as a speculation, and the owner had never come to settle thereon. It was located in Thornbury township, at and near the present Cheyney Station. The new purchasers returned to Pennsylvania to occupy the lands, and early in 1726 Thomas Cheyney married Elizabeth Hickman, the daughter of their neighbor, Benjamin Hickman, of Westtown, just north of the Cheyney purchase. He died in 1728, leaving two daughters, Mary, who died young, and Ann. The latter married James Jefferis, and they with their children were living at Jefferis's Ford, on the Brandywine, at the time of the Revolution.

John Cheyney, Jr., married Nov. 3, 1730, at Christ Church, Philadelphia, Ann Hickman, b. 12, 14, 1713, sister to Elizabeth Hickman, and settled on a part of the land in Thornbury, where he died about 1745. The Hickmans were members of Concord Meeting, and were disowned for marrying those not members by the assistance of a minister. After John's death his widow made an acknowledgment and was received into membership again, 9, 6, 1749. Issue:

Thomas, b. Dec. 12, 1731; d. Jan. 12, 1811; m. Mary (Riley) Taylor and Mary (Bennett) Vernon.
John, b. June 20, 1733; d. Oct. 8, 1806; m. Deborah (Jones) Townsend.
Richard, b. Mar. 23, 1739; d. June 17, 1791; m. Mary Hannum.

John Cheyney, 3d, was admitted into membership at Concord Meeting, 3, 5, 1761, and so continued till his death. Joseph Cheyney, unlike his older brother, Thomas, who was an active and earnest advocate of independence, was credited with being somewhat of a Tory. Some of his stock having been taken by foraging parties for the use of the British army, then in possession of the city of Philadelphia, his wife went boldly to the officials there to demand compensation, and having satisfied them that her husband was not inimical to the crown she was paid the money. In going from the room where she received it she passed through an entry in which stood a barrel of flax-seed, and hastily thrusting the money into its depths she left it there temporarily, fearing she might be robbed if she attempted to carry it home that day. She subsequently returned and found it safe.

In 1777 Joseph Cheyney was assessed with 150 acres of land, 1 horse, 2 cattle and 3 sheep. In 1787 his stock consisted of 4 horses and 8 cattle, young animals not being included.

Susanna, Dec. 4, 1745, 162½ acres of land in Edgmont. He dying intestate the land was taken by John, as the eldest son, and upon his death without issue the same was inherited by his eldest surviving brother, David Regester, who, with Margaret his wife, conveyed 49 acres, 82 perches thereof to Daniel Regester, his brother. The latter died intestate, unmarried, and was buried at Middletown, 4, 14, 1816. The above land was sold by the sheriff to Jonathan Hunter, who, by will, 1793, devised it to his cousin Samuel Mackelduff and sister Martha Barrington, but the first dying before the testator that moiety descended to all the heirs of the testator, who released to Charles Barrington, April 3, 1804. The latter, a merchant of Philadelphia, with Martha his wife, conveyed the 49 acres, 82 perches to Daniel McGowen, April 28, 1804.

these to be sold, and devised the homestead, containing "about 125 acres," to his son Abraham, subject to his mother's maintenance and the payment of $5,333 to his sisters.

Josiah Hibberd doubtless came from England, but the exact place of his nativity has not been discovered. He settled in Darby township, Chester (now Delaware) County as early as 1692, and on 9, 9, 1698, was married before John Blunston, Esq., to Ann Bonsall, dau. of Richard Bonsall, of Darby, and Mary his wife. Daniel Hibberd, possibly a brother of Josiah, had married, in 1697, Rachel Bonsall, a sister to Ann, but the father of the latter interposing some objection to the second marriage, it could not be accomplished in the usual way of Friends, hence before a magistrate. The children of Josiah and Ann were:

JOHN, b. 11, 18, 1699; d. 9, 25, 1766; m. Deborah Lewis.
JOSEPH, b. 11, 20, 1700; d. 6, 11, 1737; m. Elizabeth Fearne.
JOSIAH, b. 7, 28, 1701; d. 11, 13, 1727-8, unmarried.
ABRAHAM, b. 9, 28, 1703; died young or unmarried.
MARY, b. 6, 29, 1705; d. 12, 12, 1782; m. Benjamin Lobb.
BENJAMIN, b. 2, 27, 1707; d. about 1785; m. Phebe Sharples.
ELIZABETH, b. 12, 11, 1708-9; d. 3, 19, 1738, unmarried.
SARAH, b. 3, 19, 1711; d. 2, 24, 1795; m. Samuel Garrett (p. 172).

Josiah Hibberd, senior, in addition to his land in Darby, purchased 500 acres in Willistown, by lease and release, May 16-17, 1722, from Martha Barker, of London, widow of Thomas Barker, to whom a survey of 1000 acres had been made in that township. This land he divided between his sons, John and Benjamin, the deed to the latter being dated Feb. 26, 1731. Josiah d. 6, 16, 1744, and his widow just five years later.

There is a tradition that Phebe Sharples was under engagement of marriage to Josiah Hibberd, Jr., who at his death devised to her a token of his love in the form of £30, and that she invested this in a silver cup; in evidence of which a silver cup or tankard having the letters P. S. on the side, has been handed down in the line of the Josihas to the present day. If the said Josiah made a will it must have been verbal and never registered; and if he gave her £30 it is likely that only a part of it was thus expended.

Benjamin Hibberd m. 2, 25, 1732, at Chester Meeting, Phebe Sharples, b. 11, 9, 1701-2; d. 3, 29, 1772; dau. of John and Hannah (Pennell) Sharples, of Ridley. He took a certificate from Darby to Goshen Mo. Mtg., dated 6, 2, 1732, and his wife one from Chester, dated 4, 26, 1732. They settled in Willistown and became active members of Goshen Meeting. He built a brick house in 1742, to which an addition of stone was afterward made. In 1857 the brick part was torn down, at which time a large brick house was built a few rods northerly from the old one. The children of Benjamin and Phebe were Josiah, m. Susanna Owen; Jane, m. Amos Yarnall; Hannah, m. Caleb Sheward; Joseph, m. Jane James; Benjamin, m. Mary Garrett; Caleb; Phebe, m. Allen Farquhar.

Caleb Hibbard, b. Willistown, 12, 1, 1742; d. 1, 18, 1829; m. 11, 18, 1767, at Newtown Meeting, Phebe Thomas, b. 2, 21, 1746; d. 11, 22, 1827; dau. of Isaac and Mary (Townsend) Thomas, of Willistown. They had children, Mary, m. Thomas Hall; William, m. Jane Williamson; Phebe, m. John Lloyd; Elizabeth, unmarried; Hannah, m. James Massey; Rhoda, unmarried; Caleb, m. Mirtilla Stowe; Isaac, Martha, Esther and Samuel, unmarried.

Caleb Hibbard substituted an “a” in his name for the “e” used by his father and the others of the family, and his descendants follow his example. He learned the tanning business and established a tannery on his farm. His father gave him 50 acres of the homestead, by deed of Jan. 11, 1774, and 5 acres of another tract the day previous. In 1784 he bought his brother Joseph’s farm, out of which the 5 acres had been taken. His father also devised to him about 101 acres in two tracts.

William Hibbard was a farmer and tanner, in Willistown, and he and family were members of Willistown Meeting.

207. Alice Newlin\(^1\) (Jane\(^2\), Alice, George), b. about 1762; d. Newtown township, 8, 10, 1852, in her 90th year; m. about 1784, Joseph Fawkes, d. Newtown, 1814; both buried at Newtown Meeting. She was complained of by Newtown Meeting, 9, 10, 1784, for marriage by a magistrate, but her acknowledgment was accepted 12, 17, 1784. He was perhaps a son of William Fawkes, of Newtown, and grandson of John and Ann Fawkes, from England. In 1786 Joseph Fawkes was assessed with 138 acres of land, 3 horses and 4 cows. This was probably his mother-in-law’s land. Their residence is now the home of George W. Reece, a short distance S. W. of the tavern at Newtown Square. In 1810 Jane Newlin conveyed to Joseph Fawkes 26 acres, 52 perches, and another lot of 4 acres, 71 perches, parts of homestead; and Joseph and wife conveyed the last to Eli Ottey, of Newtown, cabinet maker, April 4, 1814. The will of Joseph Fawkes is dated June 16, 1814, and proven Oct. 8, 1814, in which he gave to Eliza Pineset $50, and the residue to Alice, his wife.

The will of Alice Fawkes is dated 11, 26, 1841, with codicils in 1846, 1847, 1848, 1849 and 1852, by which she devised the most of her estate to Sarah, wife of Joseph Lindsay, and to her children, of whom she named Jane N., Mary, Alice F., James, Sarah, Robert, Joseph and Elizabeth. Other legatees mentioned were William Hunter and his sister Elizabeth Bishop, Benjamin Orr and son John, William and Jonathan Hood, Alice, Daniel and Mary Mendenhall, Jane N. Peirce, Sarah Kennedy, Mary Fawkes, daughter of Richard and Jane Fawkes, and Newtown Meeting; to which she gave $40. No relationship to any of the legatees is shown. Jane N. Lindsay married Eli Reece and died before the testator, leaving two children, Alice Ann and George W., of whom the latter occupies the old homestead.

Benjamin Smedley lived about two years on the farm of his uncle Thomas D. Smedley, but in 1829 removed to that formerly of his uncle Benjamin Smedley, containing 106 acres, 85 perches, mostly in Willistown. The uncle conveyed it to William Hicks, April 14, 1810, and the latter, with Abigail his wife, March 26, 1814, to William Griffith, of Radnor, for $11,000. Jonathan Jones, sheriff, executed a deed for the same property to Benjamin Smedley, the nephew, Nov. 3, 1828, and the latter continued to live thereon during life. The barn was erected by his uncle, in 1804, but some addition was made in 1850, and the house was remodeled in 1855. Benjamin and Jane Smedley were exemplary members of Goshen Meeting.

Enos Smedley learned the trade of a potter with Aaron James, a neighbor, in Westtown, being his last apprentice. This was an important industry in that day, when but little tinware was used, and his master, who died about 1822, left a valuable estate. He had learned the business with one Curtis, near Front and Walnut Streets, Philadelphia, and always used Philadelphia clay.

In 1828 Enos Smedley succeeded Jesse Kersey at a pottery near Downingtown, but removed to West Chester the next year and established himself on Gay Street, west of New, where he carried on the business successfully for twenty-five years or more. He discovered the porcelain clays of Chester and Delaware counties, now so extensively used in the Trenton potteries, and also a mine of manganese at Osborne's Hill, from which a brilliant black glazing for pottery was made. The Franklin Institute gave him a very flattering diploma for articles of his manufacture, glazed with this material.

In addition to this business he entered into speculation in real estate, both in town and country, and built several houses in West Chester. There are more than a hundred deeds, to or from him, on record in Chester County. He also became interested largely in property at Towsontown, a suburb of Baltimore, and with several others acquired the Second and Callowhill Street market house, Philadelphia. He finally purchased the interests of the others in this last and became the sole owner. In 1855 he disposed of the pottery and removed to a farm of 169 acres in Easttown, which he had purchased from the administrators of Samuel Low, Feb. 6, 1851. This he sold in 1861 to James A. Hill, and removed to a farm of 252 acres in Willistown, which he conveyed to James L. Paiste, April 8, 1863, and then returned to West Chester. For several years they resided on South High Street, near the State Normal School, of which he was one of the board of directors. A few years before his death they removed to the home of their daughter Philena, at Germantown. The Windsor Hotel, formerly the Smedley House, on Filbert Street, between 12th and 13th, is a valuable part of his estate. His wife became blind several years before her death.

By deeds of lease and release, July 26, 27, 1681, William Penn conveyed 500 acres of land in Pennsylvania to "Thomas Coborne of Lamborn Woodlands in the County of Berks, Carpenter." The residue he divided between his eldest son, William, and son-in-law, Francis Baldwin (whose wife's name appears to have been Cicely).

At the early age of twelve years Reuben was sent by his father to the Philadelphia market to sell butter and other produce of the farm, which he took in what was called a light cart, in company with neighbors. While many of his companions were accustomed to stop at wayside taverns to drink, he resolutely abstained then and thereafter from this evil. He was required to give a strict account of his receipts, and often said in after life that it was a good discipline for him. Upon the death of his father he was placed an apprentice with Titus Chamberlin, miller at the Westtown Boarding School property, with whom he removed to New Garden to complete his apprenticeship; during which he was allowed a short time in the winter to attend school. He often spoke with respect and affection of his teacher, Jehu Broomhall.

He started business in a small saw and grist mill on a part of the homestead, devised to him, but after marriage sold this to his brother James. It now belongs to Enos Baker. After this he bought a farm in Thornbury, and moved there in 1831. Here he built a house with stove and lumber taken from the farm, put on a dairy and resumed his old business of going to market. Ten years later he sold this farm to George Thomas and removed to one of 180 acres in Edgmont, adjoining Middletown, formerly belonging to Eli Yarnall, and one of the finest farms in Delaware County. This he sold to Passmore Howard in 1870. In the meantime he bought an adjoining farm on which his son Bennett settled at marriage. In 1855 he bought property on Chestnut St., West Philadelphia, and removed thither, continuing to sell the produce of the farms occupied by his sons Bennett and Davis. This Chestnut street property now belongs to the trustees of the Drexel Institute, which stands on the opposite side of the street.
After brief residences on Cherry street and on Gray’s Lane he removed to his final home, 329 N. 40th street, where he lived for nineteen years. In 1884, while still enjoying good health, he and his wife celebrated the 60th anniversary of their marriage, at which she wore her wedding dress, while some of their original company were also present. Rachel Yarnall was educated at Westtown Boarding School, and she, with her husband and family, were members of the Race street branch of the Society of Friends. In 1887 Reuben was stricken with paralysis, from which he never recovered.

By inheritance and purchase he became possessed of the homestead and 317 acres of the land of his father. He was elected a director of the Bank of Chester Co. in 1839, in which position he was succeeded by his son about 1852. The marble from which the bank was built was procured from his quarries. From obituary notices the following summary is taken:

The deceased was one of our oldest and most energetic citizens; was in West Chester only a week previous to his death, attending actively to his business affairs. He died from an attack of congestion of the lungs, and was buried at Friends' Meeting House, Downingtown, attended by a very large concourse of friends and relations. Being in liberal circumstances he was enabled to seek his happiness in good works and acts of public beneficence. He sought neither public applause nor positions of notoriety, but for many years was a valuable director in the Bank of Chester County. In whatever position he was placed his judgment was controlled by enlightened principles. He neglected no political duty which the patriotic citizen owes his country, was a constant reader of the public journals, and on all measures of National or State policy his opinions were firm and enlightened. He was a friend of education, public improvements and of the general welfare of the great family of man.

J. Preston Thomas placed a tombstone at the graveyard of Uwchlan Meeting, 8, 25, 1844, to mark the grave of George Thomas, 1st, and another for Elizabeth Downing Thomas, wife and father of John R. Thomas, as near the proper spots as could be determined.

By the will of his father, Richard Thomas should have inherited the homestead erected about 1782, with the mills and 55 acres of land, beside 88 acres of woodland; also 370 acres on Chest Creek, Cambria Co., surveyed in the name of Samuel Bond. Owing to his death occurring before that of his father, the devise was transferred to his son, Richard M. Thomas. The following is taken from an obituary notice:

About a month ago Mr. Thomas went into his mill to give some directions, when, stooping down, he received an accidental blow over the left eye from a stick, which was not at the time felt to be very severe, nor did it create much uneasiness or alarm. Being in the city some days afterward he fell suddenly from his chair, but recovered almost immediately, and for two weeks attended to business as usual; yet, however, without increasing complaint of a painful sensation in the head. About a fortnight since he became sensibly and dangerously ill, the brain being evidently affected. The best medical skill was called in, but was exercised almost hopelessly; and he soon fell into a lethargic state, in which he continued until pulsation ceased. Thus, from a state of perfect health, from the midst of life and usefulness, one of our most valued citizens is suddenly and fortuitously taken from us. Mr. Thomas has been, for the last ten years, President of the Chester County Bank. The eminently prosperous state of that institution speaks more distinctly than the most labored eulogy his merits. Under his liberal and intelligent administration of its affairs, aided, certainly, by able assistants, the stock has risen to an hundred per cent. above par, a thing unprecedented, we believe, in the United States. It was the object of his ambition to render the institution useful and prosperous. To this end he devoted himself with untiring zeal. With a mind remarkably clear, quick and practical, and directed to that object, we may be allowed to say (if uninterrupted and extraordinary success will warrant the assertion) that he was one of the ablest financiers in the State. All the duties in life of son, husband, father, brother and friend were fulfilled by Mr. Thomas in an exemplary manner; in the domestic circle he was beloved, as in public life he was universally esteemed. On First-day his remains were removed to Friends Burying-ground at Downingtown; near an hundred carriages and more than an hundred horsemen, notwithstanding the inclemency of the day, accompanying them to their place of final repose.

Goshen, 8, 2, 1773; d. Philada., about 1842-3(?); son of George Ashbridge and Rebecca Garrett, of Goshen. Issue:

1466. Mary, d. 12, 19, 1893, at her brother Richard's, West Whiteland, in her 84th year, unmarried.
1467. Jane, d. 11, 2, 1888, at 823 Arch St., unmarried.
1468. Richard, m. Mary B. James, 5, 20, 1845.

William Ashbridge received a certificate from Goshen, 2, 10, 1786, to Chester; thence, 5, 25, 1789, to Darby, and 7, 3, 1794, to Uwchlan. Early in 1795 he made a trading voyage to Dublin, but did not remain long, and was back by 6, 4, 1795. He received a certificate from Uwchlan to Philadelphia, 2, 9, 1797, and his wife one, 9, 8, 1808. He engaged in mercantile pursuits in the city, and with success.

The author of "Clovercroft Chronicles," a granddaughter of a sister to William Ashbridge, gives some pleasant reminiscences:

My grandmother's brother and sister who survived her kept up their affectionate intercourse with her children as before. It was an event of some importance when Uncle George and Aunt Rachel Ashbridge drove down from the Valley in their roomy carriage, with colored coachman, to make a circuit among their relations at the old place, Chestnut Bank, and at Ashley Farm. On some fine summer morning our aunt Thomazine Ashbridge would drive out in handsome style from her home,—in Arch Street, near Ninth, Philadelphia,—with her son William or Richard and her daughters Mary and Jane, to spend a day or more among their country cousins.

I seem still to have before me my Aunt Susan Fairlamb's lively eye and slight figure, enveloped in brown fur cape and muff of ample size. And Aunt Jane Downing always brought with her an atmosphere of spirited sociability; her Friends' costume of silk gown, clear cap and kerchief relieved of all stiffness by the touch of her own individuality.

This is a short distance eastward of Whitford Lodge, where he was born. The house was erected, of stone, in 1796. Issue:

William A. Thomas learned the milling business in his father's mill, and at the age of 17 years rented a mill on Beaver Creek in his own name. With George Valentine and brothers he went to Maryland and started the Enterprise Iron Works, but this not succeeding they returned to Chester Co. The Valentines started a little foundry or cupola on property adjoining the mill of Jacob Edge, then owned by the Valentines and since by Joseph M. Downing. About 1817 the Valentines and W. A. Thomas went to Bellefonte and purchased the Dunlap property; the last named being the capitalist and putting about $15,000 in it. They commenced making charcoal iron under the firm since widely known as Valentines & Thomas, and accumulated large fortunes. It was wild, thinly settled backwoods country when they went there, and the product of their manufacture had to be sent to market in arks or flat boats down the Bald Eagle to where Lock Haven now stands, on the west branch of the Susquehanna, and then floated down to Columbia or Port Deposit. They also had a good trade west to Pittsburg and Louisville, Ky., where one of the firm resided or had an agency. The History of Centre and Clinton Counties, by the late John Blair Linn, of Bellefonte, says:

"Mr. Thomas was so variously connected with the business interests of Centre County, so actively concerned in advancing its material prosperity by public improvements—turnpikes, canals, railroads, in the development of its bituminous coal region—that his biography would be a mere repetition of what will be found in those connections in this history. As a business man he had no superior in ability and enterprise in Central Pennsylvania, and he has left his impress in the training he gave some of our most distinguished business men.”

He inherited the original Thomas homestead, in Whiteland, with 94 acres of farming land and 49 acres of woodland; together with 286 acres and grist mill on Chest Creek, Cambria County. By deed of May 7, 1833, he and wife conveyed the old mansion farm and woodland to his nephew, Richard M. Thomas, for $12,000.

Whiteland, whence they removed to a farm in E. Fallowfield, where their son was born. Lydia’s health failing, she returned to the home of her childhood, died there and was buried at Uwchlan Meeting. DOWNINGTOWN MEETING.

At Uwchlan Monthly Meeting, 5, 6, 1784: "Some Friends in the Valley proposing the holding an afternoon Meeting at the School-house near Milltown, it is referred for further Consideration at next Meeting."

6, 10, 1784: "The Proposal of holding an Afternoon Meeting in the Schoolhouse at Milltown coming under Consideration, after being weightily attended to, it is allowed of, to be held on the First First day of the week in every Month during the summer season (except the present Month to be on the Second First day); to begin at the 4th Hour Afternoon; and Joshua Baldwin, Isaac Jacobs, Evan Jones, William Lightfoot, William Cooper, Isaiah Kirk, Robert Hatton, Reuben John, George Thomas and John Butler (Rachel John, Hannah Milhous, Mary Lightfoot, Ann Milhous, Susanna Jones, Martha Whelen, Mary Baldwin, Rebeckah Hilles and Grace Lewis) are appointed to attend as often as they conveniently can, and report their sense of the service of said Meeting at the Close of the Season."

In the years 1785–89, a meeting was allowed twice a month in the afternoon, during the summer. In 1795 and 1798 similar meetings were held, and in 1800 an earnest effort was made to establish a permanent meeting at Downings Town, but this met with opposition. A renewed effort in 1801 was also unsuccessful, and in 1802 the matter was referred to the Quarterly Meeting, which, by a committee, recommended the compromise of an indulged meeting instead of a permanent one, to be held both winter and summer. This was continued under care of committees until

1, 9, 1806: "Jehu Roberts, on behalf of friends composing the meeting at Downing Town informs that they, on conferring together, agreed to request the establishment of that meeting; which on being attended to, & a general concurrence therewith expressed, is directed to the ensuing quarterly Meeting." A minute of the Quarterly Meeting was produced, 7, 10, 1806, approving of the establishment of the meeting, "to be held on the first and fourth days of the week, to begin at eleven."

12, 8, 1808: "This meeting being informed by friends composing Downing Town meeting that upon a conference being had amongst themselves they had agreed to propose Jesse Kersey, Joseph R. Downing, John R. Thomas & Richard Thomas Jtf. as Trustees to hold the Lot of ground & premises upon which their meeting House is built, for the use of the friends composing said meeting; which being considered is approved, & the above named friends are directed to receive a Deed for the said Lot of ground with the appurtenances, & hold the same for the uses aforesaid; and in order that the trust shall be clearly defined it will be expected that the said friends, after receiving the Deed aforesaid, will execute an instrument of Writing, declaring the uses for which the Estate is held: the said Deed and declaration of Trust to be lodged amongst this monthly meeting's papers."

A preparative meeting was established here in the 4th month, 1811, and for several years Uwchlan Mo. Mtg. has been mostly held at this house, which stands by the Lancaster Pike, at the eastern end of the town, just outside of the borough limits. Joseph R. Downing (No. 97,) sat at the head of the meeting for several years, and it may be claimed that the majority of the influential members have been descendants of the Smedleys.

In the days prior to the adoption of the public school system, Friends' schools, in their localities, supplied the principal part of the education for the neighborhood. In this connection the following advertisement from a newspaper possesses a quaint flavor:

Gayen Miller, with Margaret his wife, daughter of Dr. Patrick Henderson, came to Chester county and, by deed of Aug. 17, 1702, purchased 200 acres of land in the Manor of Staineing, now Kennet township, close by the present Kennet Square. It has been thought they came from Ireland, but the evidence is not conclusive. Gayen (as he wrote his name) died in 1742, and his wife in Jan. (11 mo.), 1743–4. Issue:

In 1712 Gayen Miller purchased 700 acres of land in New Garden township. On Dec. 9 and 10, 1723, he purchased 500 acres in East Caln, from Elizabeth Webb, and on Sept. 23, 1729, he purchased 500 acres on Pequea Creek, Lancaster Co., which he devised to his sons Benjamin and John. In 1714 he was elected to the Assembly to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John Miller, of New Garden, who certainly came from Ireland and has been supposed a brother to Gayen.

Robert Miller was married in 1725 to Ruth Haines, b. 8, 23, 1709; d. 1797; dau. of Joseph and Dorothy Haines, of West Nottingham. They settled on one-half of his father's land in East Caln, and had seventeen children:

Abraham Sharpless Valentine was a member of the original firm of Valentine Iron Works at Bellefonte, Pa., in 1815, and revolutionized the mining industries of the country by inventing the ore-washing machine, since in general use.

He was possessed of great business ability and foresight, and it was due largely to his inventions and improvements that the Valentine charcoal iron achieved its widespread reputation.

At the outbreak of the War of the Rebellion he was one of the liberal contributors to a subscription for the support of the soldiers' families, and his sons Abram S., Jr., and Bond were in the service for a time.

In the year 1832 the Valentine brothers, George, Bond, Abraham, Reuben and their partner, W. A. Thomas, erected at their own expense, upon their own land, a meeting house for the use of Friends. The Society has flourished uninterrupted since then and the worshippers include upwards of fifteen families, largely composed of the descendants of those who established it.

A writer says: "The rise of the Friends' Meeting House seems worthy of notice. It was established by five men, who, making no especial profession of religion, yet yielded to a simple apprehension of duty and built a house for the worship of God. All of them became faithful, humble followers of the Lord Jesus, and to one of them, Bond Valentine, was committed the ministry of the Gospel of Christ."

The meeting house has been undergoing repairs and restoration to the original idea, and the stone porch and steps are made like the first one.

Bond Valentine was educated at West Chester, Pa., and studied law with Being a birth-right member of the Society of Friends, he became, with advancing years, more convinced of their principles, and gave up a lucrative practice from conscientious scruples, after which he was an earnest minister in that Society. He was a member of the firm of Valentines and Thomas, having inherited the interest of his older brother, Jacob, who died unmarried. His last wife was also a minister among Friends.

W. corner of Church and Chestnut streets, upon which they erected a meeting-house, the owner generously agreeing to pay for the improvements, at an appraised value, when Friends should select another location. This they did in 1844, and erected the present meeting-house on the opposite side of Church street. Children of George G. and Rachel V. Ashbridge:

George Moore and his wife, Jane (Jordan), came from the north of Ireland about the year 1760, and settled in Philadelphia, on Market Street, between Second and Third Sts., where he died Dec. 27, 1787. Their son, Charles Moore, b. Philadelphia, 1, 30, 1771; d. West Vincent, Chester Co., 7, 17, 1847; m. He united with the Old Swedes’ Church, in Philadelphia, where he served as clerk for several years. In 1797 he removed to Concord and connected himself with the Episcopal Church, in which he frequently officiated as lay reader and exhorter, but in 1802 he was baptized as a member of the Brandywine Baptist Church, and in 1812 was licensed to preach. In 1819 he became pastor of the Vincent Baptist Church, where he labored faithfully and acceptably till 1844, when owing to infirmities he retired.

Robert and Rachel Moore settled on land which belonged to her father, of which she obtained about 89 acres, and in 1859 they purchased the homestead of her father, containing 126 acres, where their son Gideon now resides. Their own home now belongs to the family of their son Leonard, deceased. Their sons have been noted as careful and successful farmers, whose neat residences and well tilled fields are conspicuous in the delightful scenery of Upper Uwchlan.

This farm and another tract of 68 acres, part of the Bennett farm purchased by his grandfather, were devised to George Smedley by his father. He followed farming and attended the Philadelphia markets with the produce. While in the city on this occasion he was taken suddenly ill and died at the house of Samuel Edwards. He was appointed recorder of marriage certificates for Chester Mo. Mtg., 12, 31, 1821, in place of Joseph Evans; a trustee for Middletown Meeting in the deed from the Hastings heirs (p. 101), in 1822; an overseer 5, 30, 1825; an elder 11, 28, 1842; assistant clerk 8, 26, 1833, and later clerk. Among the papers of the youngest son the following biographical sketch appears:

Samuel L. Smedley, (second mature) son of William and Deborah Smedley, was born the 9th day of the 4th month, A.D. 1798, in Middletown township, Delaware county, Pennsylvania, in the house now (1863) occupied by his brother William. This house is situated on the west side of the road leading from the Chester Road, near the Black Horse hotel to the Rose Tree hotel and Springfield Meeting-house, about one hundred yards east of the junction. Although a large portion of the farm was part of the original purchase by his ancestor, from William Penn, the house itself is erected on a narrow strip of 6 acres adjoining, which was purchased by George Smedley from John Edwards in the year 1742. The site is one of great elevation, apparently higher than any other in the vicinity, and commanding a magnificent view of the surrounding country. The Delaware River, seven miles to the southward, is distinctly visible, and vessels may be seen passing up and down upon it; while beyond the level fields of New Jersey, gently rising as they recede from the river, may be traced for many miles, until their hazy limit blends with the horizon. The northeastern view extends beyond Newtown Square, and the northwestern to the extreme limits of Thornbury.

The facilities for obtaining a thorough schooling were very much less at that day than what the present generation enjoys; nor was it customary or thought necessary to give very much attention thereto. The young of both sexes, of an age sufficient to make themselves useful, were generally kept at home during the summer months to assist in the farm duties, so that the school days were limited to a few months in the winter season. Such were the opportunities which fell to his lot, and although there is abundant evidence of his studious disposition and aptness at learning, yet in consequence of the long time which elapsed from one school season to another, when compared with the shortness of the term devoted to study, his progress does not appear to have been unusually rapid.

From his fourteenth to his eighteenth year his studies were of the usual course from decimal fractions to the completion of (Gummere's?) surveying. A part of that time he attended at a log school-house situated on his father's premises, at the junction of the roads before mentioned, and a part of the time at the Blue Hill school, under the tuition of Thomas Megarge, and still another part at the Middletown Friends' school, near the meeting-house.

His common school education closed about the time of his completing his eighteenth year, but the thirst for knowledge which he had by this time acquired, induced him to devise means for its gratification. His father had a good sized farm of about 277 acres, and by industry was making a comfortable living for his family, besides directing his efforts toward the purchase of a farm for each of his four sons. His son George, being less robust than the others, was sent to Ennion Cook's boarding school (at the Brandywine battle-ground) to acquire a more thorough education; but Samuel being considered strong enough to grapple with the world, it was not thought necessary to grant him that privilege; so he set himself to work and by his energies soon earned sufficient money to secure himself a term at Joseph C. Strode's boarding school, near West Chester, Pa., a very popular institution at that day. He there soon gave evidence of his industry and application in the enthusiasm with which he pursued his studies. His genial disposition and correct deportment won for him the warm attachment of his preceptor, who, with his family, took great interest in his welfare and advancement. During the term he made rapid progress in his studies, particularly in mathematics, in which he had succeeded in calculating a number of eclipses, and also in solving many abstruse problems in algebra and geometry. After leaving the school he and his preceptor frequently enjoyed themselves in communicating to each other such mathematical questions as required deep thought for their solution.

The vocation of a teacher offering opportunity for study and improvement, he adopted it, and commenced 12 mo. 17th, 1817, at the school-house adjoining the Friends' old meeting-house, near his native place. Here he continued during the winter. On the 15th of the 6th month, 1819 (at the age of 21), he took charge of the school near the "Yellow House," now called Thorntonville, in Thornbury, Delaware county. He commenced with fifty-four scholars, averaging thirty-seven daily for three months; having the Brintons, Mercers, Speakmans, Dilworths, etc., in that neighborhood for his patrons. While he remained here he acquired quite a reputation for teaching, and won the affection of his pupils and the confidence of the community, which the many years that have since elapsed have not obliterated. His services were frequently called into requisition in surveying, writing deeds, and making out various documents for persons in the neighborhood. Nor did he neglect opportunities for adding to his store of knowledge and thus improving his mind. He, with several others, securing the instruction of a teacher, devoted considerable time to the study of the French language, in which he became quite proficient.

A diary which he kept for a part of the time gives evidence of his Christian virtues and of his watchfulness and endeavor to walk consistently and void of offence towards God and man. Being naturally of a lively and affable turn of mind he was induced frequently to deny himself for fear of being led into frivolity, and often practiced reflection in retirement for the purpose of strengthening his mind and gaining power over his own will, so that he might thereby become the better qualified to control others and set them an example worthy of imitation. He adhered to the principles and practices of the Society of Friends, of which he was a faithful member,—not from habit, but from heartfelt conviction of the truth of their doctrines. His school was closed on such days as were fixed for disciplinary meetings of the society, nor did he at any time of his life deviate from the plainness of dress and address which is one of their marked characteristics.

FROM ASH'S MAP OF DELAWARE CO., PA., 1848.
His father having purchased from Samuel Lewis a farm of nearly one hundred acres in Edgmont, in the 4th month 1822, and requiring the attention and assistance of his sons, he gave up his school in Thornbury the 6th of 3d month 1823, having been engaged there nearly four years. For the greater part of that time he resided with Thomas Peirce, a prominent man in the neighborhood. The compensation to teachers at that time, being 3½ cents per day for each scholar, amounted in his school to about $1.30 per day, or thirty-two dollars per month; a sum which gave but poor encouragement to a man of domestic inclinations, desirous of settling down in life. He appears at this time to have given up all desire for continuing the vocation, and having returned to his old home he there diligently employed himself upon the farm, and assisted in conducting the new one in Edgmont, and in preparing for the erection of buildings upon it, as this portion of the place was entirely without them.

This gave employment for the summer season, but he with a number of his friends of literary inclinations concluded, for the winter months, to have a debating and literary society for their profit and amusement; and accordingly, with his brothers George and Jacob, Homer Eachus, Joseph Edwards, Minshall Painter, Joseph Plankinton, Abm. R. Temple, Samuel Hibberd, Joel Edwards, Caleb Peirce, Joseph Worrall, Nathaniel Vernon, and perhaps a few others, met together and on 12 mo. 24th, 1823, adopted a constitution, naming themselves the Middletown Literary Association. He was elected recorder, and several times was chairman of the association. Many of the essays contributed are well written,—Samuel's writings over the signature "Hali" frequently taking the prize. As he was gifted with a rhyming inclination which he had been in the habit of exercising, several of his contributions to the society were in poetry; some of them being quite meritorious. This society remained in existence for several years, and most probably was the first established in the county of that class, which has since become so numerous and successful.

In the beginning of the year 1826, a vacancy having occurred among the teachers at Westtown Boarding School, application from some of the committee was made to Samuel Smedley to supply the place, but having at that time a prospect of marriage he declined, but recommended to them his intimate friend, Davis Reece, who received the appointment and remained there very acceptably engaged for more than thirty years.

Samuel L. Smedley settled at marriage on the Edgmont farm, for which he received a deed from his father, 4, 2, 1832. He was appointed assistant clerk of the monthly meeting, 8, 28, 1826, and clerk, 10, 2, 1829, in which position he served until 8, 26, 1833. He made a verbal will, which appears thus on the records:

Samuel L. Smedley, his will by word of mouth, made and declared by him on the 18th day of the 10th month 1834, in the presence of us who have hereunto subscribed our names as witnesses hereto: "Take notice that my nuncupative will is, I give to my beloved wife all the goods and chattles that she brought with her, and a horse: there is the children: I give her all to bring up the dear children, to have as long as she remains my widow."

Land of William Smedley (no. 494), in Middletown; surveyed 1566.

The central portion is part of the original purchase of George Smedley, Sr., from William Penn. The northeast portion is part of the Bennett tract, purchased by Augustus, Jr., in 1709, and the remainder is part of the patent to John Edwards, whose son Joseph conveyed 50 acres to EDM Smedley, 1766. The above land, south of the Pine Tree road, is now owned by Edward E. Smedley (no. 167), and the remainder by the heirs of his brother, William Smedley, Jr.
testamento annexo (with the will annexed), were granted to Hannah Smedley, his widow. The will was made the day before his death, when he had reached a critical condition, and without legal advice, and could scarcely have been looked upon as a very important document.

The widow carried on the farming with the aid of competent overseers until her sons were old enough to take charge themselves. It appears that Thomas Yarnall was manager from 1835 till 1844.

William Smedley inherited the homestead in Middletown, by the will of his father, beside which he purchased some small properties in the vicinity, and some lots in the new county seat, Media. He devised his estate to be divided equally amongst all his children. They conveyed the meadow on Ridley Creek, containing about two acres, to Elizabeth Ann Smedley (No. 580) and her sister Ahinoam, on 7, 14, 1866. This was part of the Edwards patent. On the same date the other heirs conveyed their interests in the homestead to Thomas and Edward G. Smedley, their brothers, who held it jointly during the life of Thomas. In 1869 they sold 9 acres, 62 perches to Minshall and Jacob Painter; a messuage and 3 acres, 135 perches to John Garnett, and 9 acres, 88 perches to Thomas Pratt. After the death of Thomas Smedley, his administrators conveyed his half interest to his brother William Smedley, then of Bryn Mawr, Pa., by deed of 4, 1, 1876. On the same date Edward G. Smedley and William Smedley, with their wives, executed deeds of release to each other by which the first became the owner of 67 acres of the southern part of the homestead, and his brother of 71 acres, 2 perches, including the old mansion house but not the barn belonging thereto. A house and lot of 4 acres, 115 perches, in which Harriet J. Smedley, widow, had a life interest, is still held jointly by Edward G. Smedley and the family of his brother Thomas.

William Smedley was appointed an overseer 6, 29, 1840, and an elder by Concord Quarterly Meeting, 5, 10, 1858. He was treasurer of the Mo. Mtg. from 8, 26, 1839 till his death; was for many years a director in the Bank of Delaware Co., at Chester, and for a number of years a director of the Training School for Feeble Minded Children, at Elwyn, near Media.

George Shaw, father of Sarah Truman, was a Scotchman, born at Craigtoun, near Glasgow, parish of Down, Scotland. His father, Alexander Shaw, was a blacksmith, and is said to have worked in the shop where Watts' engine was built. George Shaw was a cabinet-maker and came to America about the beginning of the Revolution, and at the battle of Germantown so exposed himself in cooperating with the Americans as to impair his health and eventually cause his death from consumption. He was a strict Presbyterian, and while thinking Friends were a good moral people, did not hesitate to say their salvation was impossible; nevertheless, on his death bed was so far convinced as to consent to his widow going among Friends if she so desired. After the Revolution he sent for his brothers and sisters, whose descendants are numerous in Western Pennsylvania.
His wife, Mary Toplin, was the daughter of David Toplin, who with his family emigrated from Germany and settled in Virginia, and his mill being swept away by a freshet, they came to Philadelphia, where he and his wife died soon after, leaving very little means. Mary Toplin found a home in the family of Isaac and Sarah Parrish, and became very much attached to them. The health of the wife being somewhat impaired after the birth of her son Joseph (who became an eminent physician) he was placed with Mary Shaw to nurse, along with her own first-born.

Joseph M. Truman, when young, attended the school of Benjamin Cathrall, on Mulberry (now Arch) Street, which prepared him for early entering his father's shop to learn tin-plate working; and being of an enquiring mind and having a good memory, he read considerably in scientific and mechanical works, and was well versed in Chaptall's chemistry. Soon after reaching his majority he joined the Harmony Fire Co., and for some years was quite active; being at his death the senior honorary member. In 1816 he planned an engine which the company ordered built by Perkins & Jones at a cost of $900, and when the company became members of the Fire Association, in 1820, Joseph Truman and Benjamin C. Parvin were chosen delegates. He took an active interest in other bodies; was one of the earliest members of the Franklin Institute, and in 1818 united with the Pennsylvania Abolition Society, in which his grandfather, Joseph Moore, had been so useful.
When the more modern movement of Wm. Lloyd Garrison was started he engaged in it with much earnestness; was president of one of the societies about 1834, and his wife was one of the original members of the Female Anti-Slavery Society. He was chosen a manager of the Pennsylvania Hall when its erection was decided upon, and so continued till its affairs were settled—it having been burned by a pro-slavery mob. Although a great admirer of Henry Clay's financial policy, yet in 1844 he found he could not support him—a slaveholder, and therefore voted for Birney and Morris, and continued on the side of freedom till his death. He as well as others of the family had an inventive talent. He originated a peculiar shaped nail, extensively used by tin-plate workers, and in 1831 took out a patent for leaded tin for roofing purposes, but directly after it was announced British manufacturers shipped leaded sheets at a greatly reduced price.
He and his brother George, who had become his partner, patented a lamp, the original of the solar lamp, which had a very extensive sale about 1840–50. They being also associated in the expressing and refining of oils and lard, experimented on cotton seed, producing an oil sweet and nice as olive oil, and had it on exhibition at the Franklin Institute’s exhibit; about which time the Free Trade convention met in Philadelphia, and Chief Justice Marshall and other southerners attending were elated over the discovery, and it was quickly heralded through the South. A company was projected in Camden, N. J., and a lawyer named Foxall dispatched to make arrangements for a supply of the seed, but his report was that while hitherto the seed had been considered a nuisance it could not now be purchased at any reasonable price for manufacturing. One of the bottles of oil was stolen from the exhibition and deposited in the Patent Office, evidently to prevent the issuance of a patent. Numerous inquiries were made as to the process of manufacture, but as no compensation was offered the secret was not divulged.

Joseph M. Truman served as a member of the Guardians of the Poor, the board having charge of the almshouse as well as the out-door relief. When residing in Spring Garden he was elected by the Whig party to fill an un-expired term in its board of commissioners.

Jeffrey Truman learned the business of a silversmith, and in 1819 removed to Waynesville, Ohio, where he taught school for several years and then engaged in merchandising; moved his store to Bellbrook and next to Transylvania, where he engaged in tavernkeeping. In 1834 he removed to Franklin, O., where he followed silversmithing for three years; then returned to Transylvania, where he laid out a town on some land he had purchased, but when the railroad was built on the other side of the Little Miami it took the town across the river to Spring Valley. At intervals he kept the tavern which he owned, worked at his trade and taught school. In 1848–9 he was a paymaster in the army and aided in settling claims arising out of the Mexican War. He lost his membership with Friends by his marriage; was a Democrat in politics at the time of his death, but an anti-slavery man, as well as a strong advocate of temperance. He attended a course of medical lectures at the Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky., and received a medical diploma, but never practiced much. He was named for Jeffrey Smedley, but did not use the middle name.

Josiah Elam was born in Culpepper Co., Va., 1753; was a soldier in the Revolution, after which he removed to Kentucky, where he married Sarah A. Porter. During the troubles with the Indians he was engaged in several expeditions against those of the Miami Valley and was captain of a company under Gen. St. Clair. On one of these expeditions he selected 1000 acres of land on Caesar’s Creek, and in 1802 removed his family to this place, where his daughter Jane was born, about two and a half miles east of Spring Valley, Greene Co., O. She was the last survivor of five brothers and five sisters.

George Truman, at the age of fifteen, was apprenticed to William Garrigues to learn the carpenter trade, and when of age joined with a number of Friends to form a settlement on the borders of Lake Ontario, N. Y., but returned to Philadelphia two years later. Subsequently he carried on his trade in New York City, but his health there was not good, and about 1826 he had charge of the Friends' school at Abington, Pa. He was acknowledged as a minister by Green Street Monthly Meeting, Phila., 10 mo., 1829, after which he made many religious journeys, including his interesting visit with John Jackson to the West India islands. His business engagements between 1828 and 1837 included a partnership with his brother Joseph in the manufacture and refining of oils, and subsequently in tin-plate working and roofing. About 1837 he studied dentistry, and subsequently began the practice of that profession, and about 1845 he graduated as a physician. A memorial of him, issued by Philadelphia Monthly Meeting, says: "His practice as a physician—a profession which he entered about the middle period of his life—introduced him to the homes of many of the poor and lowly, to whom his services were freely rendered, and to these he was especially a ministering spirit, both to their physical and spiritual necessities. His intercourse with these tended to broaden and liberalize his views and sympathies, and led him often to the acknowledgment that 'in every nation, he that feareth God and worketh righteousness is accepted with Him.'"

Joseph Plankinton wrote as follows: Jesse Plankinton, when married, became a resident of Concord, Delaware county, where I was born. He afterwards removed to Brandywine Hundred, in the State of Delaware, near the line of Delaware county, where my brother Robbins was born. Here I digress to relate an incident: When our father removed to the State of Delaware he was in want of a barn on his place, and his brother Samuel, being a carpenter, was employed to build one for him. He (Samuel) had an apprentice at the time, of about 18 or 19 years of age, a very eccentric young man, and withal a genius of a peculiar character, who composed a number of verses which purported to describe the place, the people, and their manners, customs, &c., only one whole one of which I remember, which was:

"They would gear up a bull and an old broken cart,
And with a quarter of wood to town they would start,
Make sale of the wood, then home they would come,
With a quarter of flour and a gallon of rum."

John Grubb was among those who appear to have come over from England, as New Jersey colonists, and is supposed to have been a brother to Henry Grubb, of Burlington and a son of Henry and Wellmet or Wellmot Grubb, of Stoke Climsland, Cornwall, who suffered persecution with other Quakers, in 1663. John Grubb, with his wife, Frances, soon located on the western side of the Delaware, prior to the arrival of William Penn, and became the owner of lands both above and below the present circular line of Delaware. He was a tanner as well as farmer, and died in 1708, leaving children, Emanuel, John, Charity, Phebe, Joseph, Henry, Nathaniel and Peter, of whom the last was the owner and developer of the Cornwall iron mines and furnaces, in Pennsylvania. Frances Grubb, widow, appears to have married Richard Buffington, the head of that family in Penna.

Emanuel Grubb, b. July 19, 1682; d. Aug. 9 or 10, 1767; m. in 1708(?), Ann Hedge Cock, b. Sept. 27, 1691; d. Jan. 24, 1772; by whom he had children, John, Edith, Joseph, Thomas, Henry, Frances, Nicholas, James, Benjamin, Emanuel, Peter and Ann. The following obituary was published in the Philadelphia papers of the day:

On the 10th instant, at Brandywine Hundred, in New Castle county, died Emanuel Grubb, in the 86th Year of his Age, and the next Day was Interred in St. Martin's Churchyard, at Lower Chichester, in Chester County, attended by a large Number of his Relations Neighbours and Acquaintances. He was born in a Cave, by the side of Delaware River, not far distant from where he always lived, and died, and was the first Child born of English Parents in this Province. His Constitution was remarkably healthy during his whole Life, having never been afflicted with any Sickness till a few Days before his Death. His strength and Activity were surprising to a Man of his Age; he could mount and ride a Horse with as much Dexterity as a Lad of Twenty. A few Months ago he rode from his own House to this City, and back again in one Day, which is upwards of 40 Miles. His Memory was equally surprising, and not in the least impaired till his Death; he could remember Transactions of a late Date equally well with those which happened in his younger Days. He was exceeding temperate in his Living, seldom making use of Spirituous Liquors; and for his friendly Disposition was highly esteemed by all that knew him. This instance, among many, is a Proof of the Longevity of People born here.

The claim of being the "first born" appears not well founded. Emanuel Grubb, the younger, b. Dec. 10, 1729; d. Aug. 8, 1799; m. Aug. 16, 1751, Ann Ford, b. Oct. 1, 1735; d. He was a cornet in a troop of horse in the war of 1812; studied law with Caesar Rodney, a Signer of the Declaration of Independence from Delaware; at Wilmington he held the office of alderman in 1832; was mayor for 12 years and postmaster for 21 years, till the time of his death. He was one of the oldest Masons in the State of Delaware; a man highly respected and loved by all who knew him; was never known to refuse assistance to any worthy person who called upon him. On account of his connection with Friends he occasionally attended their meetings. Issue:

He was a physician and resided at N. E. corner of 11th & Filbert Sts., Philadelphia.

From a memorial sketch of Dr. Williamson it appears that he began the study of medicine in his twentieth year, in the office of Benjamin Rush Erwin, M. D., and in the same year entered the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania, becoming soon after the private pupil of William E. Horner, M. D., the distinguished professor of anatomy in the University. He received his degree of doctor of medicine on the 27th of March, 1833, and entered into partnership with his former preceptor, Dr. Erwin, in Marple, Delaware county; but a year later Dr. Erwin removed to another locality, leaving Dr. Williamson with a large practice, which was still further increased by the purchase, on April 1, 1835, of the residence of Dr. Richard Gardiner, in Newtown. In 1836 the new school of Homœopathy was brought to his attention and after a careful examination he became a convert to its doctrines. His health failing under a large and laborious practice he relinquished this, in 1838, to his former preceptor, Dr. Erwin, and removed for a brief period to Maryland; by which change his vigor was restored, and in 1839 he located as a physician in Philadelphia, where he soon acquired a large practice. He was one of the founders of the Homœopathic Medical College, in 1848, and was chosen to fill the chair of Obstetrics and the Diseases of Women and Children; afterward that of Materia Medica and Therapeutics, besides being dean of the faculty from 1848 to 1851. In 1868 he was elected president of the State Medical Society. The last labor of his life was the preparation of a history of Homœopathy in Philadelphia. Issue:

Andrews' Bridge, Lancaster Co., 10, 22, 1835; d. West Chester, 5, 13, 1873; dau. of Benjamin Kent and Hannah Simmons, of Chester Co. Her father was the son of Daniel and Esther (Hawley) Kent, and grandson of William and Ann Kent, of Limerick, Ireland. He was a woollen manufacturer and farmer, and an earnest worker for temperance and the anti-slavery cause, as well as a preacher among Friends. Hannah Simmons was the daughter of Henry Simmons and Rachel Preston, the latter being a preacher for more than sixty years.

Robert C. Smedley worked on his father's farm till 21; then taught school in Newtown nearly three years, during which time he began to study medicine with Dr. John P. Lewis, of the allopathic system. He also taught a winter in E. Goshen and another at Grove, in W. Whiteland. Before entering college he read works on hydropathy and homœopathy, and being impressed with the truth of the latter gave it his especial attention, graduating from the Homœopathic Medical College, Philadelphia, March, 1860. He settled at Oxford, Chester Co., in May, and steadily gained a large practice, but preferring West Chester as a permanent residence removed to this place in 1863. Here he gained a large and respectable practice. He had purchased the homestead in Willistown, together with adjoining lands, making in all about 102 acres, which he sold in 1863 to J. Ellwood Worrall, of Nether Providence. He subsequently purchased real estate in West Chester, and his last residence was on the east side of Church Street, near the Mansion House hotel. He left in manuscript a history of the Underground Railroad in Chester and the neighboring counties, a work of much interest and research, which was published a few months after his death in a volume of over 400 pages.

Esther Kent was engaged for several years in teaching and in writing for the press—chiefly poetry. In 1866, after her marriage, she was induced, by the solicitation of several members of the Society of Friends, to edit a periodical of useful reading for Friends' children, and on the 1st of 5th mo. issued the first number of "The Children's Friend." This was a magazine of exceptional moral purity and exalted intellectual character, which won the approval of many in other denominations. After her death it passed into the hands of her sister, Annie F. Bradley, and later into those of Mary Y. Hough, of Philadelphia. Issue:

Dr. William M. Brinton was graduated from Jefferson Medical College, Phila., March, 1875, and settled at Sharpsburg, where he became the leading physician for the borough and surrounding country. At the time of his death he was president of the Allegheny Co. Medical Society, the youngest person who ever held that position. He was of striking personal appearance, fully six feet in height, perfectly proportioned and weighing about 220 pounds, with a full beard, darker in color than his hair, which was inclined to curl. A Republican in politics, he was frequently elected a member of council and of the board of school directors. He was a man of advanced ideas, practical in his views, aggressive on the lines of progress, of sterling honesty, and had a high regard for the ethics of his profession. Before his death he gave the sum of $1000, of which the interest is to be used annually to purchase a set of surgical instruments for the student making the best record in surgery at the Western University, Pittsburgh. In religious convictions he was much in sympathy with the Quakerism of his ancestors, but he was neither bigoted nor intolerant as to other sects. His death was caused by typhoid fever.

She held a special pass from Gov. Curtin which enabled her to visit the hospitals at any time, day or night, and her self-sacrificing devotion to the sufferers won their undying gratitude. The last years of her life were spent in blindness.

Dr. George Thomas was graduated from the University of Penna. about 1830, after which he studied a few years in Paris, yet he never practiced medicine, devoting his time and attention to farming and the cultivation of rare trees and flowers. He inherited the homestead of his father and grandfather, on the Lancaster Pike, and succeeded his father as director of the Bank of Chester County, from which position he resigned in 1870, and was in turn succeeded by his eldest son. While not a politician, he took an active interest in public affairs. His death was caused by heart disease, in which the lungs finally became involved. His funeral was a very large one, there being over sixty carriages in the procession. At the residence a very appropriate address was made by his kinsman, Rev. William Bull, and at the graveyard by Rev. Dr. Collier, of Downingtown. An obituary notice contains this language: "It was his delight to relieve distress, and the quiet, unostentatious manner in which he did his deeds of charity showed that he was prompted by nobler aspirations than the praises of his fellowmen. The poor for miles around will have just cause to mourn his loss. His beautiful home was surrounded with magnificent old trees, many of them coexistent with the house itself, which was built more than a century ago, and rare exotics filled his greenhouses or adorned his lawns; while his library was stocked with a rare collection of valuable scientific and classical works, which marked him as a man of more than ordinary learning and culture. He was generous to a fault, and his sociable qualities endeared him to a sorrowing community." Issue:

He was educated at Bolmar's School, now known as the Convent, West Chester, and studied conveyancing with his guardian, Thomas Williamson, at 7th and Arch Sts., Philadelphia; being there at the time that Passmore Williamson, son of Thomas, was imprisoned in Moyamensing Jail, charged with the abduction of the Wheeler slave. THE SMEDLEY FAMILY.

Jones, of Penn, Cass Co., Mich., a distant relative, of whom he had no previous knowledge, he addressed a letter to her, and this led to an interchange of visits, by which he found a colony of living and loving relatives in that distant State. After attending the Manual Labor School, at Whitestown, N. Y., he taught a district school one winter, and then, about 1850, opened a boarding school in E. Nottingham, which he named Jordan Bank Seminary. In the fall of 1853 he gave up his school and went to Europe, where he spent four years in the Universities of Leipsic, Gottingen, Heidelberg, and in Paris, and receiving the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at Gottingen. Early in 1857 he entered the laboratory of J. B. Lawes, the well-known agricultural chemist of England, and there spent two years; during which he prepared valuable papers, which were read before the British Association for the Advancement of Science, and which procured him an election as a Fellow of the Chemical Society of England. Returning home in the autumn of 1859, he assumed the presidency of the Farmer's High School, near Bellefonte, Pa., the name of which was afterwards changed to that of the Agricultural College of Pennsylvania. He had visited and carefully studied the chief agricultural academies and schools of Europe, and his idea of what an American agricultural college should be was as definite as it was comprehensive and just. For over five years he labored untiringly in establishing the college on a broad and enduring basis, when he was suddenly cut off in the prime of life, leaving a reputation for ripe scholarship, genial temper, and high-toned purity and rectitude in thought, word and deed. His widow resides at Bellefonte. No children.

George S. Webster was educated at Friends' Select School and at the University of Penna., from which he was graduated 1875, as a civil engineer. In 1877 he entered the office of Samuel L. Smedley, Chief Engineer and Surveyor, and in 1880 was chosen surveyor and regulator for the Tenth Survey District of the City. On Feb. 1, 1892, he was appointed by the Director of Public Works, James H. Windrim, as principal assistant to Samuel L. Smedley, whose health had failed him, and this was followed by the position of Acting Chief, May 1, 1892, and of Chief, Feb. 1, 1893. It may be remarked that these successive advances have been based on merit alone and not upon political influence. Since his incumbency he has had the supervision, not only of the greatly increased volume of public improvement, but also of some of the most expensive works ever undertaken by the City, including the "Reading Subway," costing nearly six millions, the widening of Delaware Avenue and the erection of bridges over the Schuylkill.

He is a member and treasurer of Frankford Meeting of Friends, and one of the managers of Friends' Asylum for the Insane, at Frankford: is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers; of the Engineers' Club of Phila., of which he was president in 1895; of the Franklin Institute; of the Historical Society of Penna., and of the Union League. Brown and Catharine P. Morton, of 754 N. 40th St., Phila. Her father was the son of John and Mary Thornton Brown and was born at Dover, N. H., 5, 16, 1827. For many years he resided at Haddington, Phila., where he was a successful woolen manufacturer, but about 1884 removed to 754 N. 40th St. Catharine P. Morton was the dau. of John S. Morton, of Morton, Del. Co. (and Susanna Crosby), son of Major Sketchley Morton, son of John Morton, the Signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Samuel L. was educated at Westtown Boarding School, and on 4, 1, 1882, entered the office of his uncle Samuel L. Smedley, then Chief Engineer and Surveyor of Philadelphia, in the new city hall, then in course of erection. The profession of civil engineering, though congenial, was given up at the end of a year, and he engaged in the manufacture of wall-paper at Hancock and Putnam Sts., which at first was unsuccessful, but the firm being reorganized under the name of the Keystone Wall Paper Co., continued in a prosperous condition till 1896, when it was absorbed by the National Wall Paper Co.; after which he devoted his attention to the development of real estate.

In 1895 he and his cousin Walter Smedley interested George B. Roberts, president of the Penna. R. R., and a number of his friends, in the purchase of over 100 acres of land just west of Fairmount Park, on the Penna. and Schuylkill Valley R. R. An association was formed for the improvement of the tract, with S. L. and W. Smedley as managers. A new station was erected on the property and called Wynnesfield Avenue in memory of the family of Dr. Thomas Wynne, the physician of William Penn, and in whose descendants the title to about half the property had remained till this purchase. This tract is now becoming one of Philadelphia's most attractive suburbs.

THE SMEDLEY FAMILY.

St., for about five years, when they built on a lot on the west side of Bryn Mawr Ave., 500 ft. east of City Ave., Bala, which was a portion of the ground purchased by his grandmother, Hannah Smedley, about 1872. They have children: Helen Morton, b. N. 40th St., 3, 13, 1890; Samuel L., Jr., b. Bala, 12, 25, 1894.

4318. Mary Ella, b. 9, 6, 1875; living in Media, Pa., unmarried.

1642. Samuel L. Smedley⁶ (Samuel⁵, William, William, George, George), b. Edgmont, 12, 29, 1832; was named Robert Pennell, but his father dying when he was less than two years old his mother changed his name to that of his father. He was carefully educated in select schools until his thirteenth year, when he entered Westtown Boarding School. Here he made such rapid progress that at the end of eighteen months he stood at the head of the senior class. He was then sent to Isaac Morgan's school in Germantown to perfect himself in the classics, but close application so injured his health that he was forced to return home, where he remained for several years upon the old homestead. Convinced that his health required an active out-door occupation, he determined to adopt the profession of surveying, which was congenial to his tastes and a love for which he inherited. Accordingly, in the spring of 1853 he engaged with Joseph Fox, a noted city surveyor, who had laid out most of the northern portion of the city, and had then recently been engaged to extend the city plan on the west side of the Schuylkill. Possessed of mathematical talent, and being an apt draughtsman, he soon mastered the minutiae of his profession, and his promotion was rapid. In 1856 he was engaged by the commissioners of Blockley to lay out the streets in that township. He also carried on conveyancing, and entered largely into the purchase and sale of real estate. About this time he published a complete atlas of the City of Philadelphia, a laborious and expensive undertaking, but one which was very successful, and the book remains to this day a standard work for conveyancers, and is highly prized by them. In 1858 he was elected a member of the Board of Surveyors, and was subsequently chosen by the people of the district for three terms of five years each.

In 1871 his name was presented to the Republican State Convention as a candidate for the position of Surveyor-General of the State. The novelty of naming a professional surveyor for that position met with much favor, but the policy of placing soldiers upon the ticket prevailed, and General Robert B. Beath was nominated and elected, being the last to hold the office, as by the provisions of the new Constitution it was merged into that of Secretary of Internal Affairs. In 1872 Samuel L. Smedley was elected by the City Councils to the responsible office of Chief Engineer and Surveyor for the term of five years. His feelings on this occasion are indicated by the following letter to his brother:

Philaclphila, Mar. 15th, 1872, 3 p. m.

My Dear Brother,

The election of Chief Engineer & Surveyor came off yesterday, and resulted in my election. I received the full Republican vote of 60, with 22 votes for Alfred Young and 4 for T. Hastings Dupuy. Some communications from the Reform Association occasioned discussion, but the vote resulted triumphantly in my favor. This morning I resigned my position on the Park, and also as Surveyor & Regulator of the 11th District. I took my qualification at 1 o'clock, before the Mayor, with cousin Samuel W. present. My certificates were made out and at 2 o'clock I took possession and am now regularly installed Chief Engineer and Surveyor of this great City of Philada.

I grieved because I lost the nomination of Surveyor General last Spring, but I can now see that the words of my consolers, “that it would all be for the best,” is really true. My political experience at that time has been of great value to me in becoming acquainted with men and measures, and I can in a great measure attribute my success to my experience and notoriety at that time. Less than two weeks ago I never dreamed of this, and here I am. Taking it altogether I think it one of the most remarkable of successes under considerable adversity.

Affectionately, thy brother,

To Wm. P. Smedley.

Sam' L. Smedley.

To this position he was re-elected by Councils in 1877, 1882 and 1887, soon after which the office, by a change in the law, became subject to the appointment of the Director of Public Works; but at the end of his fourth term he was continued in office by Director James H. Windrim, who desired to retain his services as long as possible. Failing health, doubtless caused by his arduous labors and the accompanying mental strain, necessitated a rest, in 1892, and this was followed by his resignation of the position, 1, 21, 1893; whereupon his first assistant, George Smedley Webster, was appointed to succeed him.

During his incumbency Samuel L. Smedley had charge of many extensive public works, among which were the building of the Penrose Ferry bridge, the iron cantilever bridge at Market Street, and the Fairmount and Girard Avenue bridges; of which the last is one hundred feet wide, one thousand feet in length, and cost $1,500,000. He also planned the Walnut Street bridge, which has been completed by his successor.

In 1865 he visited Europe on a tour of recreation and study, and returned impressed with the thought that Philadelphia, to keep pace with other great cities, should avail herself of her great natural advantages for establishing a grand park for the enjoyment of the people, and he entered with enthusiasm into the prospect of securing Lansdowne, an estate of one hundred and fifty acres, from its English owners, as a nucleus for the park, and was largely instrumental in bringing about the purchase of that beautiful section of land as a pleasure-ground for the public. He was appointed by the Park Commissioners to make the original surveys of the territory embraced in the Park, and many of the walks and drives therein were designed and laid out by him. After 1872, as a Park Commissioner by virtue of his office, he was active in securing improvements to the territory under the control of the board. A pet scheme of his was the construction of a gravity railroad in the Park, by which people could be conveyed around and through the western section so as to bring the grand views within the reach of the masses. For this the surveys were made and the project seemed near realization, but owing to financial disturbances it failed of success at that time. This was before the advent of the trolley roads, one of which, the Park Trolley, follows substantially the lines then laid down.

It was largely through the suggestion and earnest solicitation of Samuel L. Smedley that Jesse and Rebecca George, the owners of "George's Hill," gave to the city this beautiful addition to Fairmount Park. Among other benefits which the city owes to him, was the tunneling of an underground passage for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad in front of Fairmount Park, thus securing the safety and beauty of the Green Street entrance to this grand pleasure-ground.

Largely under his direction there were built four hundred and seventy-six miles of sewers, including the Cresheim Creek aqueduct, with the extraordinary span of one-hundred-and-sixteen-foot stone arch, which is next to the largest in this country. He planned the Manayunk intercepting sewer, commencing below the Fairmount Water Works, and following the east bank of the Schuylkill to Manayunk and the Wissahickon Creek to Germantown. He also raised the grade of Market Street west of the Schuylkill, thus bringing that beautiful part of West Philadelphia within easy access of the centre of the city.

He was a member of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania since 1857, and for fourteen years was its recording secretary. He took much interest in local history and genealogy, and began the collection of records of the Smedley Family, thus forming the ground-work of the present volume. He was also a member of the Numismatic and Antiquarian Society of Philadelphia; honorary member of the Delaware County Institute of Science; member of the Academy of Natural Sciences, the Franklin Institute, and of the West Philadelphia Institute; of which last he was for many years a director and secretary. In addition he was a member of the American Public Health Association, of the executive committee of the Philadelphia Social Science Association, the Engineers' Club of Philadelphia, the American Society of Civil Engineers, and of the Union League and other political clubs.

For perhaps thirty years he made his home in West Philadelphia, in the vicinity of 33d and Powelton Avenue, and for a great part of this time boarded with Mrs. M. E. Dunsmoor. His death took place at her home, 118 N. 34th Street, and the interment at Middletown Meeting (Orthodox), Delaware Co., Pa., on the 25th of 7th mo., 1894; those in attendance proceeding by rail to Media, and thence by carriage to the grounds.

His membership in the Society of Friends had been transferred from Chester Monthly Meeting by a certificate which was received at the Monthly Meeting for the Northern District, Philadelphia, 7, 24, 1855, and one from the latter, dated 6, 21, was received at the Western District, 7, 20, 1870. While not taking an active part in the affairs of the church, he was a regular attendant at meetings on the first day of the week. Earnestness of purpose and a conscientious performance of his duties were strong characteristics which led to success, and his affable manners endeared him to those with whom he had business or social relations. The ties of consanguinity with him were strong, and in all family gatherings he was a leading spirit.

The resignation of the office of Chief Engineer and Surveyor by Samuel L. Smedley was received with regret by the city officials, and resolutions of eulogy and of friendship and esteem were passed on February 6th, by the Board of Surveyors. These were followed on Feb. 16, 1893, by a highly appreciative series of resolutions by both branches of City Councils, which spoke flatteringly of his efficient and faithful services. Those coming from the Board of Surveyors, with whom he had been so long and intimately associated, were especially gratifying to him, and being beautifully engrossed on several sheets and handsomely bound into a volume, formed a valued memento of the closing of his official career. Reduced to plain type they read as follows:

Pottstown, Montgomery Co., 12, 3, 1897; buried in East Coventry, Chester Co.; m. there, 6, 10, 1837, Eliza Harley, b. West Nantmel Twp., 6, 3, 1815; dau. of Abraham Harley and Catharine Grubb. He settled in East Coventry; was a cooper by occupation; moved to Pottstown in 1885. Not long before his death he wrote down for his son an account of his maternal grandfather, Stephen Agard, the son of an English planter in Barbados. The son came to Philadelphia, engaged in the wholesale and retail grocery business, and married the daughter of Judge William Lewis. Upon the death of his father he went to Barbados to settle up the estate, and with a large cargo of merchandise set sail for Philadelphia, but when near the capes they were captured by pirates, who murdered all on board except Stephen Agard and the captain. These they carried to a foreign port and cast them into a dungeon, from which they were released after their captors had sailed away. With broken health young Agard managed to reach his mother's home at Barbados and there died a few weeks later, leaving his widow and two infant daughters, Martha and Louisa Agard, in Philadelphia. Judge Lewis took care of his granddaughters and gave them a good education, after which they accompanied their mother to visit her uncle in Edgmont; and here they became acquainted with George Green, Jr., and his cousin Samuel Green, who fell in love with the young women. George Green, Sr., was a wealthy farmer for that day but thought a city lady was not suited to be a farmer's wife, and forbade his son George to marry Martha Agard; having selected the daughter of his neighbor, Joseph Bishop, for his son's wife, and threatened to give him nothing if he persisted in his desire. Judge Lewis opposed the match for similar reasons, and the result was an elopement. The stern father adhered to his vow till near the close of his life, and the young couple had to struggle with the world as best they could.

Frank H. Cheyney has a remarkable faculty for mental calculations; can add up ten columns of figures at one time, either from left to right or right to left, or commence in the middle and go both ways; can mentally multiply a number of ten figures by a like number; can mentally calculate interest on $100, at any rate per cent. for any given time, instantaneously. side and doing the work backwards, as readily as can be done by an ordinary person multiplying by one figure in the usual way; can extract square root and cube root mentally and will carry on a conversation on indifferent topics at the same time. Frederick Smedley was an inmate of Goshen township, Chester County, according to the tax list for 1764.

Christian Smedley and Hannah Miller were married at St. Paul’s Church, Philadelphia, Sept. 11, 1795.

These look like German names, but nothing further has been learned of the individuals.

THE SMEDLEYS OF NEW ENGLAND.

In the History of Concord, Mass., we find the following:

Smeadley. Two brothers came to Concord before 1639. Baptiste d. Aug. 16, 1675. His son Samuel mar. Hannah Wheeler 1667, and was killed at Brookfield Aug. 2, 1675. Mary, and James, who married Mary Barrett, 1671, were also his children.

John Smedley, brother to Baptiste, had a son born 1646, who married Sarah —— and d. Oct. 1675. This name has long since been extinct. Isaac Shepherd married Mary Smedley, 1667.

The History of North Brookfield, Mass., gives more details in regard to the killing of Samuel Smedley by the Indians. It appears that Capt. Thomas Wheeler, of Concord, with about twenty men, went to Brookfield to look for the enemy and were fired upon from an ambush, with the result that eight were slain and others wounded.

The history of Williamstown, Mass., by Arthur Latham Perry, LL. D., whose wife was a Smedley, gives many items of family history, as follows:

When the Rev. Peter Bulkeley, of the parish of Odell, Bedfordshire, in the diocese of the Bishop of Lincoln, emigrated to this country with a considerable number of his English congregation, and settled with them in Concord in 1636, there were two brothers in his church, both admitted freemen in Concord in 1644, namely, John and Baptist Smedley. John was the elder, and became the more prominent in church and state. He was representative to the General Court in 1667 and 1670, and was senior selectman in 1680. A colony went early from Concord to Fairfield, Connecticut; and Samuel Smedley, undoubtedly a son of John, appears in Fairfield in 1690. The name soon became extinct in Concord, so that the historian of that town knew nothing of any Smedleys anywhere; but this Samuel, of Fairfield, preserved the seed of a large family in Connecticut. His son, Samuel 2d, was born in 1702, married Esther Kilborn Feb. 1, 1729, and died Feb. 16, 1756. He had moved from Fairfield to Woodbury, and from Woodbury to Litchfield, and bought a farm in 1741, "at ye south End of ye Great Pond" (now Bantam Lake in Morris), of fifty-four acres, from which all of his eleven children with one exception, Joshua, the youngest, became sooner or later residents of Williamstown: the sons, John, Nehemiah, Jedidiah, Samuel 3d, Moses and Aaron; and the daughters, Esther, Jemima, Ann and Lucina.

Samuel 1st, of Fairfield, had certainly one other son. Ephraim, and Ephraim had Ephraim, Junior, who was born in 1746, and married Ann Gibbs Jan. 28, 1767, and died May 20, 1821. He was the ancestor of the New Haven Smedleys, expressmen there, some of whom have strikingly resembled in physiognomy the Williamstown Smedleys. The Gibbs family, with which the Smedleys much intermarried, were neighbors of theirs on Bantam Lake. The most distinguished scion of the Smedley name in America was Captain Samuel Smedley, of Fairfield, perhaps another son of Ephraim 1st, who was a fighting sea-captain during the Revolutionary War. Major Hincks, in some sketches of the men of the Revolution, says of him: "Capt. Samuel Smedley sailed upon the Atlantic as commander of the brig Defense, perhaps the most successful vessel in the Colonial Navy. He captured many prizes, among them the British ship Cyrus, mounting eighteen guns and laden with a cargo that sold for about £20,000, one of the most valuable captures made during the Revolution. After the war Capt. Smedley was for many years Collector of Customs for this district, residing and having his office at Fairfield." He was a Democrat in politics. President Jefferson appointed him to this office in 1801. He left some valuable papers, now in possession of the city of Bridgeport. In England, too, the Smedley family have continued to be somewhat notable in the eastern and northern counties. Frank E. Smedley, author of the "Colville Family," and other tales, is a writer of reputation at the present time (1894); and we are told that the family circle in the sanctuary at Westminster Abbey have been Smedleys for several generations.

As a sample of many more, we will just trace the fortunes for a few years of house lot No. 1, whose front is now covered by the beautiful stone building of the Delta Psi Society, and ran along South Street as far as the present land of Deacon James Smedley. In the original drawing this lot fell to Samuel Brown, Junior, of Stockbridge, who belonged to one of those four English families first brought thither by the action of the General Court for the encouragement and support of the Indian Mission. Brown held the lot but a short time, and then sold it to Ezekiel Hinds, a resident of Stockbridge and a soldier at Fort Massachusetts, who sold the same to Samuel Smedley, of Litchfield, Connecticut, Oct. 31, 1752, for £27. Consequences important to Williamstown in the sequel followed upon this sale of No. 1 from Hinds to Smedley, "husbandman" to "husbandman;" for one result of it was that three young men from Litchfield, Nehemiah Smedley and William Horsford and Josiah Horsford, the first the son and the two others later the sons-in-law of Samuel Smedley, came up here probably in 1753 to look the ground over. They liked it, but they did not like the increasing signs of a renewed French and Indian war. They returned to Connecticut, and not very long after enlisted in a military company raised by that colony to protect itself from Indian incursions, by helping Massachusetts garrison the "West Hoosac fort," so called. Afterwards all three of these young men became very prominent in the settlement. It was believed and reported by his eldest son, Levi, in his old age, that Nehemiah Smedley set out the first orchard in town on No. 1 in 1754; it was at any rate in full bearing in 1765. After the death of the father, Samuel Smedley, No. 1 was deeded to Nehemiah by the widow and eldest son, John, March 21, 1758. Precisely when Nehemiah Smedley built the house on No. 1, whether it were before or after he became the sole possessor, cannot now be told; it was a "regulation" house, and its sills were of white oak; it had been incorporated early in this century into a larger gambrel-roofed house, which had become old itself and was taken down in 1884 to make room for the Delta Psi Lodge; the present writer found there and there pieces of two of the old oaken sills, and bits of them are preserved in the historical museum in Clark Hall; and he hazards little by the opinion that those sills had lain there at least one century and a quarter undisturbed.

No. 1 continued to be the homestead of Nehemiah Smedley till after 1765, when the next stage of our story will begin, since that is the date of the incorporation of West Hoosac under the name of "Williamstown," and in the mean time five brothers and four sisters of Nehemiah came up from Litchfield to become dwellers in West Hoosac.

John Smedley, eldest son of Samuel of Litchfield, was born Jan. 4, 1731. By 1768 he had become so prominent and prosperous a citizen of Williamstown as the proprietor of the chief saw-mill of the place, and of the two best pine lots, and several meadow lots on the Lower Hoosac as well as of house lots Nos. 29 and 48. By a concession in 1763, the proprietors permitted him to take the water for his saw-mill out of Broad Brook at the north end of the present bridge, and to carry it across the public road. In the warrant for a proprietors' meeting, issued in February, 1768, one of the items of business was, "To chuse a Committee to Sew John Smedley for Not making the Bridge when he turned the Brook." But at the meeting itself, in March, it was "Voted not to sew John Smedley."

He married Deliverance Humphreys, and they had eight children, three born in Litchfield and five in Williamstown. One only was a son, John; the seven daughters all lived to be married; Deliverance to Joel Baldwin, Amy to James Fowler, Amelia to Samuel Hawkins,—these three continued to live in Williamstown: Mary to John Boynton, who moved to Cornwall, Vermont; Huldah to Warren Gibbs, who moved to Middlebury, Vermont; and Tryphena to Richard Kinney, and Olive to Moses McMastet, and both of these families removed to Georgia, Vermont. Mrs. Baldwin lived here to old age, and went by the name of "Aunt Dill" in the neighborhood where she dwelt, but finally migrated with her grandnephew, Lemuel, to Great Bend, Pennsylvania, within the memory of some now living.

John Smedley, Junior, married Elsie Williams, dau. of Nehemiah Williams who lived by the big rock near the Pownal line, on the Northwest Hill, and witnessed some of the surrendering soldiers of Burgoyne filing down the opposite Pownal Hills. Smedley's home was not far from his father's, on fifty-acre lot No. 6, of the first division, which holds the famous Sand Spring; and the second John Smedley was the first known owner of that watering-place, which has had a vicissitudinous history as such; and the tradition is still stirring, adown its appropriate lines, that old Aaron Smedley, born in 1750, who was a vagrant hunter, living mostly in Vermont, used, on his visits to his relatives in Williamstown, to frequent his nephew's rude bathing-place for the benefit of his eczema. A third John Smedley, son of John, Junior, born April 21, 1780, married Mary Morse, moved afterwards to Clinton County, New York, returned to Williamstown in 1822, and then moved to Allen County, Ohio, where he died. This Smedley is more interesting on account of his posterity than from anything in his own biography. His daughter Lois, born March 12, 1783, was married to Reuben Stetson at Cornwall, Vermont, in July, 1801, and thirteen children were the fruit of that union. Mrs. Stetson died the last day of August, in 1866. One of her sons, named Lemuel Stetson, after one of her brothers, Lemuel Smedley, the same who took "Aunt Dill" in her old age, from Williams-town to Great Bend, Pennsylvania, became the father of Francis Lynde Stetson, born April 23, 1846 (Williams College, 1867), distinguished as a lawyer in New York, and particularly as bringing into his law firm President Cleveland, at the close of his first administration. F. L. Stetson's mother was Helen Hascall; and his father was in political life in the State of New York all the time (nearly) from 1835 to 1862.

When the new meeting-house was built and seated, in 1768, the youngest member of the building and seating committee, Nehemiah Smedley, was thirty-five years old. The enterprise and business capacity and general good judgment of this comparatively young man were recognized by the proprietors in his selection to serve upon these two important committees. No portrait or other likeness at all of this Smedley has been preserved to posterity. Strange to say, no headstone was ever erected over his grave, and even the place of his burial, within the limits of the graveyard, is unknown. He was not even a member of the church, in which his son and grandson served an aggregate of seventy-five years as deacons, and in which one of his great-great-grandsons is now a deacon. His personal education was slight, as is manifested in his personal papers, all of which are preserved, and are the property of the writer; and yet, it may well be questioned whether any one of the original proprietors of Williamstown—save only each of his two senior colleagues of the church-building committee—exerted upon the town a more wholesome and pervasive influence. He made such an opening here as rendered feasible and desirable the subsequent coming and settling of five brothers and four sisters. He acquired property easily, and both retained and increased it. He built his first house and planted his first orchard on the front of house lot No. 1, and the next door to the west of him was the first tavern-stand of the little hamlet; and it is quite possible, perhaps even probable, that the first five or six families who settled in Bennington (about twenty persons in all) in June, 1761, who certainly came over the Hoosac Mountain on horseback in that month, and passed through West Hoosac, and so on through Pownal, tarried over night at this tavern and in the small houses adjacent to it. At any rate, Mary Harwood, then just sixteen years old, was in that little company, which was led by Peter Harwood, her brother, ten years older than herself. Another Brother, Eleazer, two years younger than Peter, was also along; and two brothers Robinson, Leonard and Samuel, Junior, from Hardwick, and Samuel Pratt and Timothy Pratt from Amherst, were the only other adults in the party. It is much more likely than not that a part of these persons lodged one night in the tavern, another part in the West Hoosac Fort opposite, and still other persons in one or more of the houses on Hemlock Brook close by.

It is possible that Nehemiah Smedley opened his bachelor hall to one or more of these pioneers into the regions beyond, and that thus, or otherwise, he gained, at this time, a speaking acquaintance with Mary Harwood. If not, then such acquaintance was not long delayed; for in two years time, at most, Mary Harwood became Mrs. Smedley, and mistress of the “regulation” house on No. 1. Levi Smedley, their first-born, enlivened the scene in the aforetime bachelor hall on Oct. 8, 1764. Seven other children rapidly followed, about half of them born in the new and large house (still standing) near the junction of the Green and Hoosac rivers. Indeed, the heavy oak timbers of this new house were lifted into their place on the eighth birthday of little Levi; that is to say, Oct. 8, 1772, and Harwoods and other friends from Bennington came down to the “raising.” The war was drawing on; and Captain Smedley, twelve years older than his wife, was away from home much of the time for several years, which, of course, in such times, increased the cares and anxieties of the mother with her little flock; and just eight days before she became thirty-seven years old, she passed away into a realm unvexed by wars, and leaving her youngest born, Samuel, but nine months old. In less than a year thereafter, Captain Smedley married an old acquaintance and neighbor of the Smedleys in Litchfield, Mrs. Lyman Gibbs, and one son crowned this marriage also, James, born Dec. 23, 1783.

Nehemiah Smedley made several purchases of land at different times, and at his death, in 1789, in the fifty-seventh year of his age, the "Homestead Farm" contained 177 acres; beside which he had a sixty-acre lot and a pine lot of three acres. His whole estate was valued at £1566:13s. His children were Levi, Elijah Moses, Elisha, Samuel and James.

After the father's death the two eldest sons carried on the large farm for many years in company, and both brought up large families under the one roof in harmony; but they finally resolved to divide between themselves the farm which they had jointly increased by considerable purchases of land, and especially by the "Luce lot," at the same time resolving to take no outside counsel over the division, and to make no after complaints about it in any case. This mutual understanding was carried out in the letter and spirit of it to a good old age of both parties. Levi naturally took the homestead and died in 1849, aged eighty-five. He and his wife, Lydia Gibbs, from Litchfield, united with the church in 1792, and he became a deacon in 1828, and served twenty-one years. Elijah Smedley and his wife, Lucy Gibbs, a cousin of the other, united with the church in 1793. After the division these lived in a house southeast of the old homestead, and both died there in an honored old age. Asahel Foote (Williams College, 1827) married their daughter Mary, assumed the care of the farm, taught a successful private school in the house for many years, became a deacon in the church in 1838, and died in the old house in 1882. Charles Rollin Foote (Williams College, 1859), now a citizen of California, was their only son.

Moses and Elisha, sons of Nehemiah, migrated early to Hinesburg, Vermont. George, the son of Elisha, returned to Williamstown in 1856, and bought the Kellogg farm, next east of the old homestead. Frederic George (Williams College, 1864), now a prosperous lawyer in New York, still owning and occupying in summer the old Kellogg farm, is his only son.

Samuel Smedley went from here to New Lisbon, Otsego County, N. Y., but James, the youngest son of Nehemiah, who married Emily Wheelock, daughter of John Wheelock, who was a drummer-boy in the Revolution, became like his father-in-law, a pious man and a good citizen, both in Hinesburg, Vermont, and in Lockport, New York.
The children of Deacon Levi Smedley, Levi, born in 1795, inherited the farm in due time, lived a long and useful life upon it, represented his town in the General Court for one year, and did good service in forwarding the cause of the Hoosac Tunnel, then before the legislature. He did not, however, show the vigor and enterprise as a farmer and citizen that the good deacon exhibited before him; and the good deacon himself was, perhaps, inferior in those respects to the good Captain Nehemiah. The “Western fever” struck, at last, Chauncey, Levi’s son, after he had owned and operated the ancestral acres for half a lifetime, and he sold out and migrated to Illinois, and his son, Leveus Smedley, is now a farmer in Indiana. The deacon’s youngest son, James, born Dec. 1, 1804, spent his whole life in Williamstown, except for two brief intervals, and died on Good Friday, 1892, in his eighty-eighth year.

Like his fathers before him, he, too, dwelt among his own people. His lot in life was comparatively obscure, not succeeding well in the medical profession, which he learned in his youth, on account of abnormally quick sensibilities, which would not allow him to sleep whenever he had a critical case on his hands. He fell back early on the life of a small farmer and fruiterer. He was chosen a deacon in the church in 1838, and served in conjunction with his father for eleven years, and then onward for forty-three years longer. During the long period of fifty-four years of an unbroken deaconate, this good man was not absent from his place at the memorial table more than two or three times all told. Next to the native church, of which he stood an unblemished member for just seventy years, his interest centred in Williams College, which he watched very closely all his life. He attended the commencement of 1810, and all the succeeding commencements but five up to and including that of 1890. He studied one year in College, and then passed to the medical school at Pittsfield, at that time a department of the College, at which he was regularly graduated in 1829.

Deacon Smedley married Lucy Bridges, a granddaughter of Colonel Simonds, and thus, in one way, these two sturdy stocks were grafted into each other; and her brother, Samuel Bridges, intermarried also with Irene Smedley, a sister of the deacon; and a number of the present families in Williamstown sprang from these two unions. The deacon’s eldest daughter, Mary, married A. L. Perry (Williams College, 1852); and Grace Perry (Wellesley, 1881), Bliss Perry (Williams, 1881). Walter Perry (Williams, 1887), and Carroll Perry (Williams, 1890) are of that line; while Lucy, the deacon’s youngest daughter, was united in marriage to Jonathan Wadhams (Williams College, 1867). Another of Deacon James’s sisters, Lydia, born and bred like him by the riverside, married Noah Sheldon (Williams College, 1815); and two of their sons, Charles and Samuel (both Williams College, 1847), were honored in their graduation, one with the Philosophical Oration, and the other with the Salutatory. Another of these sisters married Manning Brown, a native of Cheshire, and a successful farmer and manufacturer in Williamstown and Adams; and their son, Timothy M. Brown (Williams College, 1859) has long been a prominent citizen and lawyer in the city of Springfield on the Connecticut River. Deacon James Smedley's widow, her son William and wife, who care for her in her extreme age, and two orphan children of her youngest son, Edward, who was in the Signal Corps on Commodore Farragut's flag-ship in the battle of Mobile Bay, a son and a daughter, are the only persons in Williamstown bearing the name of Smedley as the nineteenth century draws to a close. What a contrast in point of numbers as compared with the close of the eighteenth century here!

Elina R. Smedley, born 1827, a farmer near North Lansing, Michigan, writes to the following effect:

"I think I can trace my genealogy back to 1767. Furthermore, I have always been told many years ago that there were three brothers came over from England in 1682. Two of them settled in Mass. and became farmers. Their names were Levi and Elijah: both lived on one large farm very harmoniously for years together. I think George was the one that went to Pennsylvania. My father's father, Samuel Smedley, born in 1767, came from Mass. to Vermont, where he worked a farm, and on that farm my father was born in 1798. He was a blacksmith; married in Weybridge, Vt., in 1819, and came to York State in 1822."

Nathan Smedley, born at North East, Erie Co., Pa., June 6, 1831, and now of 138 Wells St., Chicago, traces his descent from Ephraim Smedley, who, as shown by the records at Litchfield, Conn., was the son of Samuel, and married Concurrence Hurd, of Woodbury, Conn. They had issue: Concurrence, b. 1740; Ephraim, b. 1742; Gideon, b. 1745; Damaras, b. 1747; Nathan, b. March, 1749; Unice, b. 1751; James, b. 1754; Hannah, b. 1755; Mary and Sabra.

RAY N. SMEDLEY, of 339 S. Oakley Ave., Chicago, clerk in a shoe factory, was born in that city, Jan. 4, 1878; is son of Frank Curtis Smedley and grandson of Curtis Newell Smedley, but cannot go further back.

SMEDLEYS OF KENTUCKY.

Aaron H. Smedley, of Hutchison, Bourbon Co., Ky., writes thus:

"My grandfather, Aaron Smedley, with several brothers, came to Ky. some time after the Declaration of Independence, it is said from Pa.; grandfather settling on a tract of land near where the city of Paris now stands, his brother Morgan Smedley locating south of Lexington somewhere in this State; another brother locating still further south, from whom 'tis said sprung the Smedley family of Paducah, Ky. Morgan Smedley’s branch of the family, I think, are located near Fort Spring, Fayette Co., Ky., and there is or was the family of John L. Smedley in Harrodsburg, Ky. The only member of that family I know of is a maiden lady who was postmistress for many years. She would doubtless know something to interest you. My father, Aaron Smedley, Jr., had three brothers, Morgan, Daniel and Samuel. Morgan and Daniel located near Jacksonville, Ill., and but few of their descendants are living; but John A. G. Smedley, of Jacksonville, Ill., if living, could give you some interesting data, perhaps. Samuel Smedley, my father's youngest brother, after leaving Paris, Ky., lived a number of years in Johnson Co., Ky., but we have lost run of his family, as he only had one son, Samuel, and he is long deceased. You might possibly gain some information from Jacob Smedley, of Fort Spring, Ky., or his brother George Smedley. My father once had a record of his family, running back more than a century; but unfortunately his eldest sister, having it in possession after his death, in some way lost it in changing residence, and she never ceased to bemoan her loss, as it was highly prized.

"My father, when a merchant, bought his goods in Philadelphia, and knew and claimed relationship with them and they with him, but that has been a long time and of course they were some of the older Smedleys. My eldest brother, John, is a merchant and visits Philadelphia twice a year, and is acquainted with the merchants of our name."

Aaron Smedley, Jr., son of Aaron Smedley and Rebecca Lear, b. Paris, Ky., 7, 25, 1794; d. Hutchison, Ky., 9, 7, 1860; buried at Carlisle; m. 1st, Martha E. George, 3, 18, 1818, by whom he had children, William E., Mary J., Edward G., Samuel C. and Lucy A., of whom the sons died young. Mary J. m. John Chevis and Lucy A. m. Isaac Howell. Second m., at Carlisle, Ky., 5, 21, 1835, to Mary Catharine Hughes, b. there, 9, 24, 1819; d. Hutchison, 10, 24, 1895; buried at Carlisle; dau. of Jesse Hughes and Priscilla Parker of that place. He first located in Carlisle and became a dry-goods merchant, retiring about 1837 to Hutchison, near Paris, where he purchased Brent's Tavern, a noted hostelry before the days of railroads, on the wagon route between Maysville, on the Ohio, and Lexington, Ky. He continued the hotel but a few years, turning his attention to farming and adding to his landed possessions. He left his family in comfortable circumstances, with a fine farm and a number of slaves. Issue by last wife:

John Graham, b. 2, 20, 1836; m. Martha Boulden, and Lizzie Boulden Raines.
William Edward, b. 5, 12, 1839; see below.
Joseph Samuel, b. 11, 1, 1841; d. 4, 6, 1870; m. Lucy Jameson.
Broaidus Dillard, b. 6, 7, 1843; unmarried.
Susan Elizabeth, b. 5, 21, 1848; d. 10, 13, 1852.
Aaron Hughes, b. 4, 29, 1854; unmarried. He has furnished the information here given of the Kentucky Smedleys.
Catherine Belle, b. 5, 21, 1856; m. Harry P. Forrester.

The father of this family was an intimate friend of Henry Clay, and in 1844 a grand barbecue was held on the Smedley farm in honor of the statesman, then a candidate for the presidency in opposition to James K. Polk.
Owing to the late date at which the foregoing information was received there was not time to make further inquiries. It seems probable that these were a branch of the New England Smedleys.

William E. Smedley, b. Carlisle, Ky., 5, 12, 1839; m. 1st, Emma Howell. Second wife, Elizabeth Cecelia Burnes, b. Missouri, 10, 19, 1848; d. Salt Lake City, 10, 29, 1881. Third m., Chicago, Ill., 11, 21, 1883, to Mary Angela Mantz, b. Baltimore, Md., 2, 10, 1855; dau. of Caspar Mantz and Elizabeth Harriet Elder, of Frederick Co., Md. He was educated at Georgetown College, Ky., and is in the business of fire and life insurance, at Salt Lake City, Utah. By 2d wife he had issue: William Burnes, b. 11, 14, 1872; unmarried: Louis Hughes, b. 7, 19, 1874; d. 12, 22, 1876: Elizabeth Louise, b. 1, 11, 1878; m. Dr. Leroy B. Smith, who is deceased. OTHER RECENT IMMIGRANTS.

The late Samuel L. Smedley, under date of 6, 26, 1861, wrote thus:

Visited William Smedley, an Englishman, fancy hosiery manufacturer, 9th and Prime Streets, Phila. He was born at Melbourne, in Derbyshire, England, anno 1811; came to Germantown, Pa., in 1845; married Hannah ———, in 1832, and has a son William, aged about 17.

His father was Thomas Smedley, who lived and died in Melbourne. His death took place in 1833, aged 44. His grandfather was Theophilus Smedley, born at Long Whaton, Leicestershire, and died in 1835 or '6, over 90 years old. He was five feet eleven inches in height, and a smart active man. His great-grandfather, also named Theophilus, was 5 ft., 11 in. in height, and would read without glasses when over 100 years of age. He was a great reader and arguer on the Scriptures. He was born at Redford and lived at Long Whaton in Leicestershire, and died in the year 1823, about 105 years old.

They were all Baptists and a robust family. His grandfather had brothers, John, Michael, James and Samuel, three of whom lived to be over 70 years old. The latter generations, from intermarriages, are not so long lived.

His father had one brother, Theophilus, who died unmarried, and sisters, Ann, who married —— Wooten (or Hooten), Sarah, who married James Shaw, Mary and Jane, all deceased.

His father thought Smedley to be a Saxon name. William thinks the principal seat of the Smedleys in earlier times was in and about Nottingham. There is an old mansion called Smedley Hall, about two miles N. E. of Manchester, in Lancashire, now much in ruins and occupied by several poor families.

A family, say Thomas and William Smedley, lived at Stableford in Nottinghamshire. When he was a boy he went with his father to visit a Thomas Smedley who kept a hotel at Matlock, in Derbyshire. By tracing their ancestry they found they were distantly related.

About Redford the inhabitants are nearly all farmers. At Nottingham is a Quaker meeting. A Mr. Fox is a leading and influential man among them. At Derby are two Quaker meetings. Robert Longdon is a leading Quaker and with his sons have very extensive silk hosiery manufactories. There is a Quaker meeting at Melbourne.

A relative of his, a fancy hosiery manufacturer, went west, he thinks to Milwaukee: thinks his name was John. He met a Smedley at Trenton in 1856; he came from Newstead Abbey: he was a game-keeper and gardener, a distant cousin of his. His family also came originally from Redford. Another Smedley, an English lace-maker, moved from Kensington to the west some years ago.

1879: Called on Joseph Smedley, grocer, &c., 32d and Market. He came from Ashby-de-la-Zouche, Leicestershire, in 1869; was born there in 1839; son of William, born 1796; grandson of John, who came from Redford, Nottinghamshire. He has eight brothers, two of them in Australia, near Sidney, named William and Samuel. His uncle Samuel was also in Australia and his son is an architect in Hong Kong, China. His uncle Thomas lived at a place near Nottingham and left his son Samuel there. His grandfather lived at Melbourne before settling at Ashby-de-la-Zouche.
Sept. 17, 1890: W. Hillaycock, aged 24, a native of Belper, Derbyshire, England, came to America three years ago; boards at 2315 Sansom Street; has worked on Penna. Rail Road as trackman; came to inquire if I knew Samuel Smedley, an iron-founder, who left Belper back in the 50's, and he understood he lived in Philada. (I knew of no such). He was son of Frederick, whose four sons, Samuel, Frederick, Ebenezer and John, belonged to Congregational Church. The last three, in 1863, started iron foundries and now have two establishments, employing 900 men; make fire-places and machinery for cotton mills and for brickyards. John traveled in America in 1886, and when he came home lectured for the churches. This year he went to Palestine. All three are married. John has no children; the others have. John is about 50 years old and the others are older. They are very well situated financially. John and Ebenezer have been in the municipal council and school board.

ENGLISH NOTES.

Smedley Hall was once the seat and property of the last of the family of Cheethams of Cheetham. It is now owned by James Hilton, Esq., A. D. 1795. See Aiken's History of Manchester, Phila. Library. Note: The Hall is on the Rochdale road, about one and a quarter miles north of Manchester, in Lancashire.

The arms of the Smedley Family are thus described in Burke's Armory: Ermine, a chevron lozengy, azure and or. Crest: an eagle's head, erased, sable.

In no work accessible to the compiler has he been able to find any history of the particular branch of the family using these arms.

Mr. Richard Smedley, in 1744, founded almshouses at Ilkerton, a small market town in Derbyshire, on the borders of Nottinghamshire, 9 miles from Derby, 8 from Nottingham and 128 from London (the market granted A. D. 1251), for six poor persons, and endowed them with pensions of five pounds per annum each. Mr. Smedley gave also ten pounds per annum for the education of 40 poor children, etc. He resided in Risley Parish. See Lyson's Magna Britannia, v. 193.
THE SMEDLEY FAMILY.

In August, 1884, Dr. W. R. Batt copied the following inscription from a tablet in a cloister of Westminster Abbey:

In memory of the Reverend Edward Smedley, A. M., Rector of Powderdale and North Bovey in the County of Devon, and from 1774 to 1820 one of the ushers of Westminster School. Born Nov. 5, 1750; died August 6, 1825.

Also of Hannah his wife, daughter of George Bellas, Esq. Born Aug. 21, 1754; died Oct. 17, 1824. This tablet is erected by their surviving children.

Rev. Edward Smedley was born about 1789, and was the son of the Rev. Edward Smedley who died in 1825, after having been one of the ushers of Westminster School for nearly half a century. The elder Smedley was the author of "Erin, a Geographical and Descriptive Poem," published by subscription in 1810. His son was admitted a King's scholar at Westminster in 1800, and thence removed in due course to Trinity College, Cambridge. He took his degree of B. A. in 1809 as tenth Junior Optime, and having obtained one of the Member's Classical Prizes in 1810, and again in 1811, was then elected a Fellow of Sidney College. He obtained no fewer than four of the Seatonian Prizes for English Poems; the first on the death of Saul and Jonathan, 1814; the second on Jeptha, 1815; the third on the marriage at Cana, 1827; the fourth on Saul at Endor, 1828. In 1829 he was collated by Bishop Tomlin to be prebend in the cathedral church of Lincoln, the value of which, however, was only £14 a year; and this was the only ecclesiastical preferment he ever obtained. Beside his Seatonian prize poems he was the author of a poem entitled "Prescience" and some others; and also of a History of the Reformed Religion in France, in five vols., 12 mo., and of one volume of a History of France, published under the superintendence of the Society for the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge. At the time of his death he was the editor of the Encyclopædia Metropolitana; and he contributed several articles on French biography and English and Roman literature to the earlier volumes of the Penny Encyclopædia. His death took place at Dulwich on the 29th of June, 1836.—From English Encyclopædia, vol. 5, p. 539.

Beech Lodge, Great Marlow, Berks, was born at Marlow, Oct. 4, 1818, and died at Beechwood, near Marlow, May 1, 1864. He sprung from a good old English family who for two or three generations had intimate relations with Westminster School (his grandfather and his cousin were well-known masters there and there his father had been educated). At 14 years of age he was placed under the care of a private tutor, the Rev. Charles Millett, resident at Brighton, but returned home to pursue his studies under the eye of his cousin, Rev. E. A. Smedley, one of the Westminster masters before mentioned. He had a very acute perception of the ludicrous, and his contribution of "Scenes from the Life of a Private Pupil" to Sharpe's London Magazine was so successful that the proprietor of the miscellany suggested an extension of the story, which was finally published under the title of "Frank Fairleigh." His second and perhaps the most popular of his works, entitled "Lewis Arundel, or the Railroad of Life," also first appeared in the same magazine, of which he had assumed the editorial guidance. Subsequent publications were the "Fortunes of the Colville Family," and "Harry Coverdale's Courtship."

He left a considerable estate, of which he devised his residence, Beech Lodge, with the furniture and an annuity of £500 to his mother, and a like annuity of £500 to his cousin Menella Bute Smedley (a distinguished authoress). To his cousin, Mrs. Hart, he gave £2000 towards the building and endowment of a church at Glen Alla, Donegal, Ireland, in lieu of a legacy to her, at her own request. After several other liberal bequests to friends, relatives and his servants, he made his cousin, Menella Bute Smedley, his residuary legatee.

It is said of Frank Smedley, the English story writer, who died recently, that he was so badly deformed that he could indulge in no active exercise, not even walking, and yet by a curious antithesis to his normal invalid condition, the whole bent of his taste was in the direction of manly power, feats of physical prowess, bold action and daring enterprise. Mr. Smedley not only was never on a horse's back in his life, but never even saw a race or a race-course; yet from reading, conversing, and the power of a vivid imagination and a singular skill in reproducing the descriptive facts he gathered from more physically favored people, he wrote the best account of the Derby races that has ever appeared.
Edward S. Smedley, of Sleaford, Lincolnshire, author of "Lost Friends found Again," an officer of Inland Revenue for twenty-five years, wrote to Samuel L. Smedley, of Philadelphia, Nov. 4, 1864, in regard to his knowledge of the family history. His great-grandfather, George Smedley, was the father of Joseph, who lived to be 80 years old. Joseph had sons Edward, John (who had a son John), William (who had sons Thomas and William), and George (who had sons William and Joseph). Edward Smedley, born 1768, d. 1853, lived and died at Stapleford, Nottinghamshire. He was the father of John, Edward S., Fannie and Matthew Smedley, of whom the last died in India. Edward S. Smedley was born at Stapleford, Notts., Nov. 2, 1815, and had two daughters and a son. "Stapleford, where all his family lived, is in Notts., and Sandiacre, in Derby, are only a mile apart, and Smedley is one of the oldest names in that locality."

The Manchester directory for 1863 contained the names of Charles Smedley, salesman, David Smedley, beer retailer, Elizabeth Smedley, householder, Elizabeth Smedley, householder (again), Nathan Smedley, quilt manufacturer, and William Smedley, tobacconist. Also the localities of Smedley Lane, Smedley Bank, Smedley Vale, and Smedley New Hall.

In an article on Hydropathy, in the Encyclopaedia Britannica, it is stated that the need of a radical adaptation of its methods to the weaker class of invalids was first adequately recognized by John Smedley, a manufacturer, of Derbyshire, who, impressed in his own person with the severities as well as the benefits of "the cold water cure," practiced among his work-people a milder form of hydropathy, and began about 1852 a new era in its history, founding at Matlock a counterpart of the establishment at Grafenberg, in Silesia.

W. P. W. Phillimore, the well known antiquary, of London, writing to the compiler within the past year, says:

"I thought Smedley was fairly common, but then I am a native of Nottingham and have often been in Derbyshire, which I should regard as the home of the Smedleys. Smedley's, too, is a huge Hydro at Matlock Bath, or rather at Matlock Bridge, the next village, a very ugly building and in many respects unique. Mr. Smedley built also for the benefit of his visitors a chapel in his grounds, and I was told, when there twenty or more years ago, that the service was compounded so as to meet (if possible) the religious views of all. He built for himself a large house or castle on the top of a neighboring hill, which is a somewhat notable structure."

Miss Matilda Smedly, an Ohio woman living in Paris, has, through great perseverance, established an “American National Institute” in a temporary home at No. 50 Avenue d'Iena, where the inauguration exercises lately took place. The lectures will begin next October. This institute was authorized by the State of New York in 1895, with Miss Smedly as Directrice Fondatrice Generale. The United States Government has made an appropriation towards its maintenance, and the city of Paris has given a site for a permanent building worth $250,000. The object of the institute is to afford American students of both sexes who have graduated from colleges in the United States opportunity to pursue their studies free of expense at the Prix de Paris. The provision for instruction embraces literature, painting, sculpture, architecture, music, science and dramatic art. A number of prominent French professors are interested in the institute, and have consented to take charge of the departments. The new building when finished is expected to accommodate two hundred students.—The Ledger, Philadelphia, June 7, 1900.

This lady writes her name Smedlee—perhaps a French form of orthography. No particulars of her ancestry have been obtained.

The uncertainty as to the native parish whence came George Smedley to Pennsylvania, and the expense of a general search of the records, have prevented such action; yet as many of the old parish records are being printed and indexed we may hope for the discovery of important information in the future, when those of Derbyshire are placed in this durable form. Phillimore & Co., of 36 Essex Street, London, are doing a great and exceedingly valuable work in this line. From one of their publications the following record of marriages is taken:

SMEDLEY WILLS IN DERBYSHIRE.

Having obtained abstracts of the Smedley wills, of Derbyshire, 1524 to 1700, through the assistance of my friend W. P. W. Phillimore, of London, I shall present a few extracts from his letters in explanation of the subject.

July 19, 1900: "I find that in Lichfield Wills there are 15 Smedleys before 1650, and 15 Smethleys. The earliest is John Smetheley of Youlgrave in Derbyshire, 1524. The expense of getting these will be small and it will be safe, I think, to put these in hand at once without waiting for special instructions from you. From 1653 to 1660 I must search in London. The search for these (because S. is a heavy letter) will cost nearly as much as the abstracts at Lichfield. From 1660 to 1700 we shall have (I think) to search the MSS. calendar at Lichfield, but I think it has been improved of late. You ought to have the Smethley wills, for Smedley is but the corrupted form of the older word.

July 30, 1900: "My agent has sent me a list of nearly 40 Smedley, etc., wills, beginning 1524, with spellings of Smedley, Smethley, Smalley, Smaulle, Smyley and even Smedtheley. There were apparently two families from 1524-30; one at Youlgrave, about 15 miles N. W. of Derby, and another at Elvaston, about 4 miles east of Derby. I have ordered abstracts of the first ten on list."

Aug. 1, 1900: "I send you the first ten Smedley Wills on the list which has been supplied me from Lichfield. I trust they will be of sufficient interest to justify abstracts of the rest being made. They were evidently at this time a yeoman family."

Oct. 10, 1900: "I now send you the following additional wills: Wm. S., Spondon, 1650, and 25 others. I am having list made and abstracts also for 1650 to 1700 as regards Lichfield. For 1653-1660 London P. C. C. must be examined. I think this batch will interest you. It is evident that in the Smedleys we have a very local yeoman family. Some of the Smallys are evidently Smedleys, but I know that in some cases the Smallyes became Smalls."

Oct. 23, 1900: "I have pleasure in sending you the remainder of all the wills etc. of Smedley at Lichfield and hope you may find something of interest to you, though I do not see that they show the connecting link. It is evident that the Smedleys were a family of humble rank, tho' the occurrence of so many wills would indicate that they were for their position well to do and therefore we may presume them to have been an industrious people. Of course the registers of Spondon, Elvaston, Youlgrave, etc., would give a great deal more information and we might light upon the baptism of some one whom we could presumably identify with the emigrant. . . . Let me know if you would like the London wills searched for 1650-1700."

INDEX.

In looking for names which are common to many individuals it will be found more expeditious to search for a less common name of a near relative (if known), as for instance, the maiden name of wife or mother of the person sought for. The married names of females will not generally be found in this index; and the same may be said of names on maps or other illustrations printed on a different paper from the body of the book. The Smedleys, under the various spellings of the name, in the early English wills, are also omitted. Important references to a family name will precede the names of individuals in that family.
