The compiler of this genealogy spent many of the earlier years of his life far away from the place of his birth. After the noon-time of life had passed he found himself again where he had passed his early years. At that time he had a general knowledge of his parents and grandparents, for he had seen them. His parents died when he was a child. Beyond those he knew but little of his ancestors. He found that the church in which he had worshipped was founded by his people, the Urner, and had been sustained continuously by their preaching for seven years. This put him to investigating and to making inquiries among his people. Some years after, he was surprised to find that all credit for starting and sustaining the church was being claimed, and that in print, for others much lower down the stream of time, the early history of the Urner being entirely unknown or ignored. In response to this he had a small monument erected in the old graveyard of the church, on which he had the names of the early Urner preachers, with the dates of their services, carved. PREFACE.

The compiler of this genealogy spent many of the earlier years of his life far away from the place of his birth. After the noon-time of life had passed he found himself again where he had passed his early years. At that time he had a general knowledge of his parents and grandparents, for he had seen them. His parents died when he was a child. Beyond these he knew but little of his ancestors. He found that the church in which he had worshipped when a boy was founded by his people, the Urners, and had been sustained continuously by their preaching for eighty-seven years. This put him to investigating and to making inquiries among his people. Some years after, he was surprised to find that all credit due to the Urners for starting and sustaining that church so long was being claimed, and that in print, for others much lower down the stream of time; the early history of the Urners being entirely unknown or ignored. In response to this he had a small monument erected in the old graveyard of the church, on which he had the names of the early Urner preachers, with the dates of their services, carved. With this refutation he felt content, he did not expect to publish his gatherings, but intended to place them in the hands of his son. Unexpectedly, suddenly, his son, his last child, sickened and died. He then concluded to have a small number of copies of his work printed, to be privately distributed among some of those who bear the name Urner, as the only way of preserving in the family what he had gathered.

There is a well-preserved tradition in the family, partly in print, that, according to a custom common to persons of Swiss descent, there were papers long preserved in the family containing its early history, extending back into Europe. There being, however, only one copy extant, that was lost in passing from the fourth generation from Ulrich Urner to the fifth.

Many people think that genealogies should not be written, that they show more or less of weakness, but others take a different view. We carefully record the pedigree of our horses, of our cattle, of our sheep, and of our dogs, because there may be gain in it. Stranded nations and barbarians care nothing for their history; but all energetic, progressive nations encourage the writing of their history and build monuments and mausoleums to their dead, not because they will do the dead any good, not because they necessarily gratify the vanity of the living, but because they act as an inspiration to higher living, to nobler efforts, to the making of history.

Nobody will be more impressed with the incompleteness of this work than the author, but such works are always incomplete. No one person, or dozens of persons can make such a work complete. Such a first attempt only makes a beginning. Others may take up the work in the future and make it more and more complete, as often happens. Much of the material has been furnished by persons now dead, and, if lost, could never be recovered again. Put in print and distributed among members of the family, we may hope that some copies at least may be handed down to future generations of the Urners.

As the Urners were the founders of the Coventry Brethren Church, and its preachers and bishops for the first eighty-seven years of its existence, a sketch of its history seems the proper introduction to the genealogy of the Urner family.

The Coventry Church took its name from the township in which it is located, and the township is supposed to have received its name through Samuel Nutt, an early settler and iron-master, who came from Coventry, in Warwickshire, in England. The township first took the name Coventry in the year 1724, the same year in which the Church was organized. Previously the district was known in the assessment lists, which contained the names of Jacob, Hans, and Martin Urner, as “Skoolkill District” in 1719, and as “Scoolkil” in 1722. At its formation, the township of Coventry comprised not only the land along the Schuylkill River, now North Coventry, East Coventry, South Coventry, but all of the upper part of Chester County, and even a part of the present county of Lancaster.

See “Futhey’s History of Chester County,” page 172.

The Brethren, as the members have always called themselves, have sometimes been called the First Day Baptists, to distinguish them from the Seventh Day Baptists; sometimes they have been called the German Baptists, to distinguish them from the Baptists; and sometimes they are called Dunkers, and Tunkers, from an attempted transliteration of the German word meaning Baptist.

In the latter part of the seventeenth and the beginning of the eighteenth centuries vigorous attempts were made by the Protestants of Germany and Holland to reform some of the errors of the Churches. These efforts produced violent opposition and persecutions. They also resulted in heavy emigration of the common people and of many of the learned to America. Of those who did not immediately emigrate, many moved into districts whose rulers had themselves been awakened and so granted to the refugees liberty to worship as they pleased. At Schwarzenau, in the Province of Wittgenstein, the first Brethren Church ever organized was started in 1708, with the following eight constituent members: Brethren George Grebe, of Hesse Cassel; Luke Vetter, of Hesse Cassel; Alexander Mack, of Schriesheim in the Palatinate; Alexander Bony, of Basle, Switzerland; John Kipping, of Bareit, Wirtemburg; and Sisters Johanna Noetinger Bony, Anna Margareta Mack, Johanna Kipping.

By studying the Bible these people were led to believer’s baptism and Congregational church government, and this in a place where Baptists had never been known. As they increased in numbers, persecutions followed. Some were driven into Holland, some to Creyfeld in the Duchy of Cleves; and the Mother Church at Schwarzenau moved to Serustervin, in Friesland; and in 1719 they emigrated in a body to Pennsylvania, and settled at Germantown; a few scattering to Skippack, Falckner’s Swamp, and Oley. This colony consisted of about twenty families.

Though very zealous for the truth, they had bickernings and jealousies even during their sojourning in Europe, and while this first colony of Brethren was crossing the ocean, trouble broke out afresh among the members. So for several years after their arrival there were no religious efforts put forth by them. But in the fall of 1722 several of the Germantown Brethren,—Becker, Gommere, Gantz, and the Trauts, visited the scattered Brethren. In the fall of the following year there was an occurrence that finally bridged over their separation and brought them to organize themselves into a church. This event was the application of six "persons on the Schuykill" for baptism. These "persons on the Schuylkill" lived thirty-five miles up the river, and comprised Martin Urner and his wife and four neighbors. This organization of the Germantown Church and baptism of these first six converts took place on the 25th day of December, 1723. In the "Chronicon Ephratense," pages 22 and 23 of the translation by J. Max Hark, D.D., this happening is referred to in the following words:

"In August of the year 1723 a rumor was spread through the country that Christ. Libe, a famous Baptist teacher who had long been in the galleys, had arrived in Philadelphia. This moved some newly awakened persons on the Schuylkill to go forth to meet him. The whole thing, however, was a fiction. These persons were persuaded by the Baptists [Brethren] to go with them to their meeting, during and after which they heard so much of the Germans' awakening that they went home very much edified. Soon after a second visit was made to Germantown, by which both parties were so much edified that the Germantown Baptists [Brethren] promised them a visit in return, which they made four weeks afterwards with great blessing. The newly awakened ones were thereby stirred up still more, so that they begged to be received into their Communion by Holy Baptism. This was the occasion of important proceedings among the Brethren in Germantown, for they still had in mind the misunderstandings which had arisen between them and their Brethren at Creyfeld. Besides, they were indeed a branch of a congregation but yet not a congregation that dared to presume to administer the sacraments. The worst was that they were divided among themselves and had only lately commenced to draw nigh to one another again. After they had seriously pondered over all these things in the spirit, they finally agreed to consent to the request. Accordingly after the candidates for baptism had chosen Peter Becker to be their baptizer, they were baptized in the stream Wiskohikung [Wissahickon], near Germantown, on December 25th, of the year 1723. And as these were the firstlings of all baptized among the high Germans in America, their names shall be here recorded and given to posterity, namely: Martin Urner and his female house-mate, Henry Landis and his house-mate, Frederick Lang, and Jan Mayle. The evening following they held the first love-feast ever celebrated in America at John Gommere’s, which created a great stir among the people of that neighborhood; Peter Becker, mentioned before, ministering at the same.

At the organization of the Germantown Church, in addition to the six who had just been baptized, were the following seventeen members: Peter Becker, Henry Traut, Jeremiah Traut, Balser Traut, Henry Holzapfel, John Gommere, Stephen Koch, Jacob Koch, John Hildebrand, Daniel Ritter, George Balser Gansz, John Preis, John Kaempfer,—thirteen brethren; and Magdalen Traut, Anna Gommere, Maria Hildebrand, and Johanna Gansz,—four sisters.

In the spring of 1724 they resumed their meetings with great success, particularly among the young. During the summer the fame of their awakening spread abroad, and there was such an increase of attendance that there was not room for their accommodation. They also now deemed it well to make a full report of their reunion and success to the Brethren in Germany. They also resolved on a general visitation of all the Brethren in the country. They started out on the 23d of October, and visited Skippack, Falckner's Swamp, and Oley; holding meetings with breaking of bread at these several places. They then visited "the newly baptized Brethren on the Schuylkill," where two persons were baptized, and on November 7, 1724, the COVENTRY BRETHREN CHURCH was there formally organized; being the second Brethren church in America. The following were the nine constituent members: Martin Urner and his wife, Catharine; Henry Landis and wife; Daniel Eiker and wife; Peter Heffly, Owen Longacre, and Andrew Sell. Martin Urner was made preacher, and when Alexander Mack arrived in America, in 1729, Martin Urner was ordained bishop by him.

The visiting Germantown Brethren then proceeded up to Conestoga, now a part of Lancaster County. Here they also had a successful meeting, and, after baptizing seven, on the 12th day of November, 1724, they organized the Conestoga Church, which was the third Brethren church in America. This Conestoga Church is often spoken of as the Ephrata Church, as it was near where the town of Ephrata was subsequently built.
The members of this new church made Conrad Beissel, who was one of the seven who had just been baptized, their preacher. This Beissel was a man of considerable ability, but of a dreamy, visionary turn of mind, and gave the Brethren churches much trouble during the remainder of his life. He died in 1768. By his peculiar views he divided the Conestoga Church, in 1728, in two parts,—the Brethren, who remained true to their faith, and the Seventh Day Baptists, his followers. He went off into Sabbatarianism, Monachism, and the advocacy of celibacy. He also built at Ephrata a monastery and a nunnerie. The Conestoga Church was by this greatly weakened. The Germantown Church also lost many members, who moved up to Ephrata. The Coventry Church, owing to the good sense and conservatism of Martin Urner and his members, suffered the loss of but few.

In the year 1729, Alexander Mack, before mentioned as one of the founders of the Brethren Church, with the rest of the Brethren still remaining in Europe, emigrated also to Pennsylvania. This colony was composed of about thirty families. This large addition greatly stimulated the Brethren in America, and largely counteracted the deleterious effects of the Beissel secession. The following churches were soon after organized: The Oley Church, in 1732; Great Swamp, in 1733; Amwell, New Jersey, in 1733; Cocalico, in 1735; White Oakland, in 1736; Conowango, in 1738; and others soon after.

Owing to the location of the Germantown Church in a town, it never made much progress in numbers. The practice of feet-washing, of trine immersion, and the efforts of some to force a peculiarity of dress upon the members, in imitation of the Quakers, may have been felt as burdensome to persons living in a town. And many of the more emotional of the members found joy in burying themselves in the cloisters of Ephrata and in the wilds of Conestoga.

In the Coventry Church a more healthy sentiment always prevailed. While it had many accessions, its growth in number was retarded by heavy colonizations from the Church. The members were mostly farmers, and while the land was good, the lands in other localities were better. Some moved to what was then called the Conecocheague, now embraced in Franklin and Perry Counties, in Pennsylvania, and Washington County, Maryland; some to the Shenandoah Valley, in Virginia; and some to Carroll and Frederick Counties, in Maryland, where the Urners, the Wolfes, and the Crumbachers are still found. This migration, while it greatly reduced the church in number, made its influence, on the denomination at large, very great. While the Germantown Church was historically and by some ten months priority of organization the mother church, the Coventry Church was practically the mother church.

But for the schism in the Conestoga Church caused by Conrad Beissel, that church might have divided honors with the Coventry Church.

See article of A. H. Cassel, in the “Christian Family Companion” of April 9, 1872, pages 228, 229.

The Brethren churches in America now number one hundred thousand members.

MARTIN URNER, SR.

Martin Urner, the founder of the Coventry Brethren Church, and its first bishop, was born in Alsace, then a Province of France, in the year 1695. The family had been driven by religious persecution out of the Canton of Uri, Switzerland, whence the name Urner, and took refuge in Alsace. About 1708, Ulrich Urner, with his three sons,—Jacob, Hans, and Martin,—emigrated to Pennsylvania, and is said to have settled for a while at Roxborough, near Philadelphia. In 1712 the name of Martin Urner appears among the settlers of Lancaster County.* In 1718 he bought a tract of four hundred and fifty acres of land of the Penns, in what is now called Coventry Township, Chester County, Pennsylvania, on the Schuylkill River immediately opposite the present town of Pottstown. On this property, now called Belwood, he and his descendants lived long years afterwards, and on part of the land the Coventry Brethren Church and the Coventry Brethren Graveyard are located. He died in 1755, and was buried in the Coventry Brethren Graveyard.

The following account of this Martin Urner is found in the work called "Materials toward a History of the American Baptists," published, 1770, by Morgan Edwards, then Fellow of Rhode Island College and Overseer of the Baptist Church in Philadelphia.

"Martin Urner, Sr., was born in Alsace about the year 1695, and was bred a Presbyterian. He came to America in 1715. [Earlier, about 1708.] He embraced the Principles of the Baptists in 1722; was ordained by Alexander Mack in 1729, at which time he took upon himself the oversight of the church. He died in 1755 and was buried in the graveyard at Coventry. His wife was Catharine Reist, by whom

* See Rupp's "Thirty Thousand Names," Appendix III., ed. of 1876.
The second bishop of the Coventry Church was Martin Urner, Jr., son of Jacob Urner and nephew of the first Martin Urner. He was born 1725, one mile northeast of the present town of Pottstown, Pennsylvania. He early joined the church, and was active in all its offices. On the death of Martin Urner, Sr., in 1755, the entire charge of the church fell on him. He was ordained bishop in 1756. He continued preaching to the church with marked success until the time of his death in 1799. After the death of his uncle, Martin Urner, Sr., he bought the homestead and made it his permanent home.

In the year 1772, during his ministry, the first house of worship was built for the Coventry Church.

Prior to the building of this first meeting-house the members met by turns at the homes of different Brethren, though generally at the home of Martin Urner. It was customary to stay and take dinner after preaching, and spend the afternoon in conversation, singing, and prayer. This proved so edifying that it drew many into the church. The Germantown Brethren did the same, but in 1770 they built their meeting-house.

As the Coventry Church was at that time very closely connected with the Germantown Church, two years after, in 1772, they also built a meeting-house.

This Martin Urner died in 1799, and was buried in the Coventry Brethren Graveyard.
The following anecdote is told of this Martin Urner by David (105)°Urner, of Springfield, Ohio, of the fifth generation, in a letter to the writer of this sketch, dated October 14, 1872.

"I never saw my grandfather, Martin Urner, as he died a few years before I was born. I learned, however, from an old friend, that he was esteemed by his brethren in the church and ministry, as a preacher of more than ordinary ability; so much so, that at their yearly meetings he was always one of the number that were called upon to preach. My friend said that on one occasion when the Yearly Meeting was held in Philadelphia, as the preachers from the country were jogging along on horseback, going to that meeting, one of the preachers said to my grandfather, 'As you will no doubt be called on to preach at this meeting, I want you to preach particularly against the wearing of fine clothes, as the brethren and sisters of Philadelphia are becoming entirely too fashionable in their dress.' And although he urged the matter lengthily, he thought my grandfather did not give all heed to what he said, and asked, 'Did you hear what I said?' and the answer was, 'Yes.' The next question was, 'Will you do it?' when my grandfather replied, 'If I am called on to preach, I hope I shall have something of more importance than to talk to the people about the rags with which they cover themselves.'"

Morgan Edwards gives the following account of this Martin Urner.

"The next and present minister [1770] is Rev. Martin Urner, Jr. He is nephew to the forementioned Martin Urner. He was born in 1725, in New Hanover Township and County of Philadelphia. Was ordained in 1756, at which time he took on him the care of the congregation. His assistant is Mr. Peter Reinhart. Mr. Urner married Barbara Switzer, by whom he has children, Mary, Joseph, Martin, and Elizabeth."

In the Brethren's Almanac of 1873, page 15, published by H. R. Holsinger at Dale City, Pennsylvania, we have the following fuller account by Abraham H. Cassel, of Harleysville, Pennsylvania, the historian of the Brethren Church.
MARTIN URNER, JR.

Martin Urner, Jr., was a very popular preacher among the ancient worthies. He was a brother's son, or nephew, of the before-mentioned Martin Urner, Sr., and was born in New Hanover Township, then in Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, but now in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, in the year 1725. He became a member of the church at Coventry while very young in life, and after serving in her different offices with exemplary piety and disinterested zeal, he was finally promoted to the office of bishop, being ordained in 1756. From that time on, the sole care of the church devolved upon him, until released by death. He died in May, 1799, in the seventy-fourth year of his age. He was married to Sister Barbara Switzer, of Coventry, by whom he had children, Joseph, Mary, Martin, and Elizabeth, who have raised him a numerous progeny, many of whom are still in fellowship with the Brethren.

This Brother Urner appears to have been somewhat of a revivalist, as the church flourished greatly under his ministerial labors. He was also the bosom friend of Alexander Mack, as their correspondence manifests the most intimate terms of love and friendship between them during life, and the record of his death, also, is in language that bespeaks great tenderness and affection for him.

JONAS URNER.

The Urner family gave a third preacher to the Coventry Brethren Church, Jonas Urner. He was the son of the second Martin Urner, and, beginning to preach to the church at an early age, he continued to preach to it down to 1811, when he moved to Carroll County, Maryland, and labored with the Pipe Creek Church.
He died in 1813, and his remains were buried in the Wolfe Graveyard, in Carroll County.

LETTER OF ABRAHAM H. CASSEL AS TO WHEN THE FIRST HOUSE WAS BUILT AND WHEN REBUILT.

"Harleysville, Pa., March 18, 1800.

"Isaac N. Urner:

"Dear Sir,—Yours of the 15th inst. just to hand. I am sorry that I cannot give you absolutely certain dates, but corroborative incidents seem to settle it satisfactorily in my mind that the present building was erected in 1817. Many years ago, when I first commenced writing sketches of the early churches, I made considerable inquiry of those who assisted in the building, and never heard of any other than 1817; and I was also informed that when they resolved on building the new house, they bought a half-acre of ground from Daniel Urner, I think, to enlarge the meeting-house lot, which was in 1817, according to the conveyance; which I think should settle that point beyond a doubt. James Wells being the architect, I think you might find some papers among his descendants that would substantiate that date.

"You are correct about the church being founded in 1724, but they had no meeting-house for a long time, as the old Brethren were opposed to having a meeting-house. They held their meetings in a kind of rotation, at Martin Urner's and at four other places, and the custom then was that where the meeting was most of the people stayed for dinner, and the afternoons were spent in private conversation, singing, and prayer, which was so edifying to the people that it was the means of drawing many into the church. The Germantown Brethren did the same, and it there also brought many into the church. In 1770, however, the Germantown Brethren built a meeting-house, which was the first that the Brethren had in America. For all of this I have original documents. As the Coventry Church was then a branch of the Germantown Church, they took example of them, and also built a meeting-house soon after. I have an old list of the members that belonged to the Coventry Church in 1770, in which it is said that they still had no meeting-house, and that they still held their meetings in the above-mentioned rotation. But for various reasons, I feel sure it was built soon after. I think in 1772.

"Very respectfully,

"Your friend,

"Abraham H. CasseL"
A SHORT SKETCH OF THE COVENTRY BRETHREN CHURCH.

Mainly from the writings of Morgan Edwards.

"The Coventry Church is so called from the township in which it is located. It was organized in 1724, when Martin Urner and wife, Henry Landis and wife, Daniel Eiker and wife, Peter Heffly, Owen Longacre, and Andrew Sell did unite to celebrate the Lord’s Supper and to walk in unity and love, having called Elder Peter Becker to their assistance.

"The first minister that they had was the above-named Martin Urner. He was born in Alsace, then a province of France, in 1695, and was bred in the Presbyterian faith. He came to America before 1715, and embraced the principles of the Brethren in 1722, and was baptized in 1723. He was ordained to the office of bishop by Elder Alexander Mack in 1729, at which time he took on himself the entire oversight of the church. He died in 1755, and was buried in the Coventry Brethren Graveyard. His wife was Catharine Reist, by whom he had three children, Mary, Martin, and Jacob. They married into the Wolfe, Edis, and Light, or Lichty, families. His assistant was Casper Ingles.

"The church increased fast, and in 1770 would have been a very large congregation had not so many gone away to get better lands elsewhere, as they were mostly husbandmen. Numbers went to what was then called the Conecocheague, in Franklin and Perry Counties, in Pennsylvania, and some also to Maryland, Virginia, and the Carolinas.

"The next minister was Martin Urner, Jr. He was nephew of the older Martin Urner. He was born in 1725, in New Hanover Township, then in Philadelphia, now Montgomery, County. He was ordained in 1756, at which time he took on himself the care and oversight of the church. His assistant in the ministry was Peter Reinhart. This Martin Urner was married to Barbara Switzer, by whom he had four children, Mary, Joseph, Martin, and Elizabeth.

"The Coventry Church always had a very efficient local ministry, as their early preachers were all men of talent and ability, and were often visited by able preachers of other localities and of other denominations, such as Morgan Edwards, Elhanan Winchester, George De Benneville, Peter Keyser, and others. Peter Keyser was baptized by Martin Urner in 1784. The following list of members in 1770 may seem small, but we must remember that great numbers moved away, that some joined Conrad Beissel's Fraternity at Ephrata, and that several also were led astray by the Moravian Count Zinzendorf, and that many were carried away by death.

"From corroborative facts known to me, I have no doubt but that the Coventry Church had hundreds of additions between its organization in 1724 and its census in 1770.

As many of the facts connected with the early history of the Brethren Church in America, and of the early history of the Coventry Church, and of the connection of the Urners with these organizations, are found in Morgan Edwards's work, and as copies of this book are becoming very rare, those parts of the history relating immediately to the subjects under consideration are here appended.
"Treats of the Germans in Pennsylvania who are commonly called Tunkers, to distinguish them from the Mennonites, for both are styled Die Täufer, or Baptists."

"The first appearance of these people in America was in the fall of the year 1719, when about twenty families landed in Philadelphia and dispersed, some to Germantown, some to Skippack, some to Oley, some to Conestoga, and elsewhere. The dispersion incapacitated them to meet for public worship, and therefore they soon began to grow lukewarm in religion. But in the year 1722, Messieurs Baker, Gomery, Gantz, and the Trauts visited their scattered brethren, which was attended with great revival, in so much that societies were formed wherever a number of families were within reach one of another. But this lasted not above three years. They settled on their lees again, till about thirty families more of their persecuted brethren arrived in the fall of 1729, which both quickened them again and increased their number everywhere. These two companies had been members of one and the same church, which originated at Schwarzenau in the year 1708. The first constituents were Alexander Mack and wife, John Kipin and wife, George Grevy, Andreas Bhoney, Lucas Fetter, and Joanna Nethigeim. These had been bred Presbyterians, except Kipin, who was a Lutheran, and, being neighbors, they consorted together to read the Bible and edify one another in the way they had been brought up; for as yet they did not know that there were any Baptists in the world. However, believer’s baptism and a congregational church soon gained upon them, in so much that they were determined to obey the Gospel in these matters. They desired Alexander Mack to baptize them; but he, deeming himself, in reality, unbaptized, refused. Upon which they cast lots to find who should be administrator. On whom the lot fell hath been carefully concealed. However, baptized they were in the River Eder by Schwarzenau; and then formed themselves into a church, choosing Alexander Mack to be their minister. They increased fast, and began to spread their branches to Merienborn and Epstein, having John Naass and Christian Levy to their ministers in these places. But persecutions quickly drive them thence, some to Holland and some to Cryfelt. Soon after, the Mother Church voluntarily moved from Schwarzenau to Serustervin, in Frezland; and from thence migrated to America in 1719. And in 1729 those of Cryfelt and Holland followed their brethren. Thus we see that all the Tunker Churches in America sprang from the church of Schwarzenau, in Germany; that that church began in 1708, with only seven souls, and that in a place where no Baptist had been in the memory of man, nor any now are. In sixty-two years that little one has become a thousand, and that small one a great nation.

“BEGGARSTOWN. [GERMANTOWN.]

“This takes its name from a village of the above name, in the township of Germantown, eight miles north by west from that city. The meeting-house is of stone, thirty feet square, erected this year [1770] on a lot of eighty rods, the gift of one Peter Shilbert. On the same lot stands their old building, erected by one John Pettikoffer for his dwelling in 1731; and because it was the first house in the place, and erected by a beggar, the village assumed the name of Beggarstown. The families belonging to the congregation are about thirty; whereof fifty-seven persons are baptized and in the communion of the church. This was the state in 1770. For their beginning we have no farther back to look than December 25, 1723, when the following persons (some baptized in Germany and some in this country) formed themselves into a society having Peter Baker to their minister; and had the Lord’s Supper and Love-feast, etc., for the first time they were celebrated in the Province. [For names, see pages 10 and 11.]

“REV. PETER BAKER.

“He was born in 1687, at Dilsheim, in Germany. Educated a Presbyterian. Embraced the principles of the Baptists in 1714. Arrived in this country in 1719. Settled with the church of Beggarstown in 1723. Went to Skippack in 1747, where he died and was buried March 19, 1758. He married Dorothy Partman, by whom he had two daughters, Mary and Elizabeth, who married into the Harley and Stump families and have raised him fifteen grandchildren. Whatever his real character was, yet this may be said of him, he labored more abundantly than all of his contemporaries. His successor, who had also been his colleague, was

"REV. ALEXANDER MACK.

"He was born in the year 1680, at Schrisheim, in Germany. Was educated a Calvinist. Embraced the Baptist principles in 1708. Arrived in this country with many of his congregation in 1729, and became a minister of Beggarstown the same year. Died in 1735 and was buried at Germantown. He married Anna Margareta Kling, by whom he had children, Valentine, John, Alexander (now minister of Beggarstown), who married into the Hildebrand, Sneider, and Nice families, and have raised him many grandchildren. His fourth child was Anna, now a single sister at Ephrata. Mr. Mack was a man of real piety. He had a handsome patrimony at Schrisheim, with a profitable mill and vineyard thereon, but spent all in raising and maintaining his church at Schwarzenau, whereof he was father and the father of all the Tunkers. His successor is his son,

"REV. ALEXANDER MACK.

"He was born at Schwarzenau, January 28, 1712. Baptized in 1728. Arrived in America in 1729. Ordained in 1749, at which time he took on him the care of the church. He married Elizabeth Nice, by whom he has children, William, Sarah, Hannah, Lydia, Elizabeth, Margaret. Mr. Mack is a sincere, good man.

"COVENTRY CHURCH.

"This takes its distinction from the township where most of the members reside, in the county of Chester, thirty-seven miles northwest by west from Philadelphia.
These people have no public place of worship, but hold their meetings in a kind of rotation at five private houses. The present minister is Mr. Martin Urner, who has to his assistance Mr. Peter Reinhart. The families belonging to them are about twenty-two, whereof forty persons are baptized. [Here in a foot-note the names of the forty members are given, as found on page 20, preceding.] This was their fate in 1770. For their original we must look back to 1724, when one Daniel Eiker and wife, Henry Landis and wife, Peter Heffly, Martin Urner, Owen Longacre, and Andrew Sell (who had been baptized before) did unite to celebrate the Lord's Supper and to walk together in love, having Rev. Peter Baker to their assistance. They increased fast, and would now be a very large society had not so many families gone away to Virginia, Carolina, and other parts. The first minister they had was

"REV. MARTIN URNER.

"He was born in Alsace about 1695, and was bred a Presbyterian. He came to America in 1715. [Earlier.] He embraced the principles of the Baptists in 1722. He was ordained by Rev. Alexander Mack in 1729, at which time he took on him the oversight of the church. He died in 1755 and was buried in the graveyard at Coventry. His wife was Catharine Reist, by whom he had children, Mary, Martin, Jacob. These married into the Wolf, Edis, and Light families. Assistant to Mr. Urner was one Casper Ingles. The next and present minister is

"REV. MARTIN URNER.

"He is nephew to the forementioned Martin Urner. Was born in 1725, in New Hanover Township and “EPHRATA.

“This church was distinguished by the above name, which is the name of the village where it exists, in

Cocalico Township and Lancaster County, sixty miles west-northwest by west from Philadelphia. The same village is frequently called Tunkerstown. It consists of about thirty or forty buildings, and stands on a parcel of land containing one hundred and fifty-five acres.

“They had their existence as a society on November

12, 1724, when Conrad Beissel, Joseph Shaffer, John

Mayer and wife, Henrich Hahn and wife, and Veronica

Frederick were baptized in Pequea River by Rev.

Peter Baker. On the same day these seven incorporated into a church and chose Conrad Beissel to be their minister. After this they continued some time at Mill creek, and then removing about three miles northward, pitched on the land of Rudolph Neagley, in Earl Township. Here they continued about seven years; and hither resorted many to see them, some of which joined the society. Here they began their economy, the men living by themselves on the forementioned lands, and the women also by themselves on the adjoining lands of John Moyley. Here Conrad Beissel appointed two elders and a matron to preside over his church in the wilderness, binding them by a solemn promise (and at the same time giving to each a testament) to govern according to the rules of that book. Then he with-more. This was done in the year 1733. He travelled northward till he came to the spot where Ephrata, or Tunkertown, now stands, and with his hoe planted Indian-corn and roots for his subsistence. But he had not been long in the place before his society found him out and repaired to his little cot; the brethren settling with him on the west bank of the Cocalico, and the sisters in the east, all in sight of one another, with the river running between them. The next year they set about building their village, beginning with a place of worship. The village is enclosed with a ditch and fortified with posts and rails and quicksets. The founder of this people and their minister was

"REV. CONRAD BEISSEL.

"This was his real name; but when he became a Baptist he assumed the name of Friedsam Gottrecht, and gave new names to all the brethren and sisters. He was born in 1690, at Eberbach in Germany. Bred a Presbyterian. Arrived in Boston in 1720. Thence he and his two companions, Stunts and Steiffel, travelled westward to Pennsylvania and lived as hermits about Millcreek and Swedesprings, in Lancaster County. He embraced the principles of the Baptists in 1724. Died July 6, 1768, and was buried at Ephrata. As for his character, I give it in the words of one who knew him well.

"He was very strict in his morals and practised self-denial and mortification to an uncommon degree. Enthusiastic and whimsical he certainly was, but an apparent devoutness and sincerity ran through all his oddities. He was not an adept in any of the liberal arts and sciences except music, in which he excelled. He composed and set to music (in three, four, six, and eight parts) a folio volume of hymns and another of anthems. He published a dissertation on the fall of man in the mysterious strain; also a volume of letters. He left behind several books in manuscript curiously written and embellished. It is expected that his life will be published by his successor and the present minister of Ephrata.”

[The expected “life” or work just referred to has been published, and is called “Chronicon Ephratense.” An extract from this work, referring to Rev. Martin Urner, appears on page 9, preceding.]

FIRST GENERATION.

1. Ulrich Urner.

Came from Europe, Alsace, about 1708, certainly before 1712, as the name of Martin Urner, one of his three sons, is found among the settlers of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, in that year. See Rupp's "Collection of Thirty Thousand Names," Appendix III., page 437, edition of 1876. Originally the family belonged to the Canton of Uri, in Switzerland as the name unmistakably shows. The inhabitants of that Canton are called Urners as the inhabitants of the Canton Schwyz are called Switzers, of Maryland are called Marylanders, or of New York are called New Yorkers. The name is common in Uri and in Switzerland as a geographical designation; as Urner Lake, or sea, Urner Boden, Urner Lock, or tunnel, also a range of Alps and the lofty peak called Uri Rothstock.

The name Urus, plural Uri, with the Greek forms ωυρος, ωυς, originally designated a species of wild mountain ox that was common among the higher Alps. So a free definition of the word Urner might be, "a dweller in the land of the mountain ox."

The Canton Uri is celebrated for the sublimity of its scenery. Historically, it was one of the three original cantons of Switzerland, and was, with its capital, Altorf, the scene of the exploits of the traditional Swiss hero, William Tell. Schiller's drama of William Tell gives in an attractive form the story of the mythical hero, with the Urners and the Switzers as prominent actors. The banner under which the warriors of Uri, the Urners, fought bore a representation of an ox, or the head of an ox.

There are people in America, with no known connection with the Urners, who write their name Orner, possibly after the Greek form of the word. The family name Urner also appears in several early wills and deeds, spelled Orner and Ourner, from an attempt probably to give the German sound of the initial "U" in English.
SECOND GENERATION.

Children of Ulrich (1) Urner.

2. Jacob
   m. Ann ——.
   d. Aug. or Sept. 1744. d. 1758.
   Lived in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, then Philadelphia County, one mile northeast of the present town of Pottstown; a farmer. Died young and was buried originally in Sprogel's graveyard in Pottstown, close by the works of the Pottstown Iron Company. For monument, see Coventry Brethren Graveyard, one mile south of Pottstown and half a mile south of Mount Zion Cemetery, on the old Urner homestead. Ann Urner was buried in the Coventry Brethren Graveyard by the side of her daughter, Elizabeth, wife of Jacob Frick. Her name is also on one of the monuments. His will is recorded in Philadelphia, Book G, page 144.

3. Rev. Martin
   m. Catharine Reist.
   b. 1695. d. April 1752.
   d. March 29, 1755.
   Both buried in Coventry Brethren Graveyard. See names on monuments.

   m. 2d Barbara ——.
   Second wife was buried in Union Graveyard, now Oak Grove Cemetery, at Parkerford, Pennsylvania. No children by second marriage. He was the first owner of Belwood farm, the old Urner homestead, which he bought of the Penns in 1718. Belwood lies on the south side of the Schuylkill River, immediately opposite Pottstown. He was the founder of the Coventry Brethren Church in 1724, and its first bishop down to the time of his death. See "Materials toward a History of the Baptists," by Morgan Edwards, then Fellow of Rhode Island College, and overseer of the Baptist Church in Philadelphia, published

4. Hans or John

He was the first person buried in Coventry Brethren Graveyard. See his name on monument there. The Coventry Brethren Graveyard was established in 1743, at the time of the death of Hans Urner. The deed for the half-acre of land of the graveyard was recorded at West Chester, Pennsylvania, April 16, 1818, N 3, vol. 61, pages 517, 518. It was donated by the Urners to the Coventry Brethren Church with the following restrictive clause: "For the benefit of a burying ground forever."
THIRD GENERATION.

Children of Jacob (2) Urner and Ann.

Lived in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, one mile northeast of Pottstown.

5. Elizabeth m. Jacob Frick.
   b. 1724.
   d. 1757.

Elizabeth was buried in Coventry Brethren Graveyard; Jacob was buried at Union Meeting-House, Parkerford, Pennsylvania, in Oak Wood Cemetery.

The will of Jacob Frick was probated at West Chester, Pennsylvania, March 19, 1799; K, vol. 10, page 79.

A grandson, Hon. Benjamin (73) Frick, of Limerick Bridge, now Linfield, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, in a letter of March 10, 1864, to Colonel Jacob G. Frick, says, "Your ancestor, I presume, is the Conrad Frick mentioned in the third volume of Colonial Records. I cannot claim as near an affinity as I wish. My grandfather's name was Jacob Frick; he died in 1799, aged 82 years. He and his brother John Frick, four years his senior, came into this country about 1740 from Switzerland. John Frick never married, but settled in Bucks County, where he acquired a farm, and died in 1794, aged 81 years. My grandfather, on marrying, settled about one mile east of Pottstown, where my father was born; but in his early boyhood they moved to Chester Valley, about two miles from Valley Forge camp ground, where they lived during the Revolution, near the scene of the Paoli massacre, their place affording an encampment for some days for the British and Hessians after the battle of Brandywine."

In the Colonial Records of Pennsylvania, among the immigrants landing at Philadelphia between 1732 and 1774, the name of Frick occurs seventeen times; the first seven as follows:
1. John Conrad Frick, landed Sept. 11, 1732.
2. Jacob Frick, landed Sept. 18, 1733.
3. Ludwig Frick, landed Dec. 11, 1739.

There is some probability that the Jacob Frick, named second above, is the Jacob Frick who married Elizabeth Urner. This Jacob is entered in the Colonial Records as under sixteen when he landed, and that would correspond pretty well with the dates of his age and death as given above. If this supposition is correct, then his brother John, who was buried by his side, is probably one of the three Johns mentioned as immigrants, Nos. 5, 6, and 7. Morgan Edwards, in his account of the Greatswamp Church, in Bucks County, organized in 1733, says that its second preacher was John Frick.

   b. Sept. 4, 1725.
   d. May 18, 1799.

   Was the second owner of Belwood farm; was the second bishop of the Coventry Brethren Church. He was accounted a wealthy man; he owned lands in different parts of Pennsylvania and also in Maryland. He is represented as quite a successful preacher. See Morgan Edwards's "Materials toward a History of the Baptists." For his will, see Register's office at West Chester, Pennsylvania, K, vol. 10, page 104. He and his wife were both buried in the Coventry Brethren Graveyard, one mile south of Pottstown and half a mile south of Mount Zion Cemetery. See names on monuments.

   b. Sept. 20, 1740.
   d. March 24, 1813.

   Both buried in Coventry Brethren Graveyard. For will, see Register's office at West Chester, Pennsylvania, P, vol. 15, pages 10, 11, 12.
   For will of Matheis Schweitzer, father of Ulrich Switzer, see H, vol. 8, pages 398, 399, at West Chester, Pennsylvania.
Children of Rev. Martin (3) Urner and Catharine Reist, Chester County, Pennsylvania.

8. Martin
   d. 1747. m. Elizabeth Edis, or Addis.

   The wife seems to have been a widow when she married Martin Urner, her maiden name having been Grubb: see deed of Jacob Grubb, George Grubb, John Grubb, Abraham Grubb, and Elizabeth Orner, alias Addis, widow, of one part, and Conrad Grubb, of the other part; recorded at Philadelphia, April 6, 1749, vol. 36, page 52.

   Martin was buried in Coventry Brethren Graveyard.

9. Jacob
   d. Feb. 21, 1753. m. Barbara Light.

   Buried in Coventry Brethren Graveyard.

10. Mary
    d. Sept. 27, 1747. m. Andrew Wolff.

   Mary Wolff was buried in Coventry Brethren Graveyard. After her death, Andrew Wolff, with their three sons, moved to Carroll County, Maryland. Andrew Wolff was buried in the Wolfe Graveyard, named after him, in Carroll County, Maryland. He died at the age of ninety-four. No tombstone marks his grave. He came to America, September 21, 1732, in ship “Pink Plaisance,” John Paret, master, from Rotterdam, last from Cowes, see Colonial Records, vol. iii., page 459.

   Andrew Wolff owned a farm one mile south of Pottstown, adjoining Belwood farm on the south side. The place was called Wolf’s Hole.

10½. Catharine m. never.

   Buried in Coventry Brethren Graveyard.

10¾. John m. never.

   d. 1747.

   Buried in Coventry Brethren Graveyard.
FOURTH GENERATION.

Children of Elizabeth (5) Urner and Jacob Frick, Chester County, Pennsylvania.

11. Elizabeth m. — Switzer.

   b. June 23, 1750.
   d. Sept. 29, 1823.

   The father of John Reinhart, Ulrich, came to America, Philadelphia, August 28, 1733, in ship "Hope," of London, Daniel Reid, master, from Rotterdam, last from Cowes. He was married three times. By his first wife he had four sons, Rev. Peter (who was assistant to second bishop, Martin Urner), Frederick, Ulrich, and John, who married the above-named Hannah Frick. By his second wife he had, as far as is known, two children, Rev. Martin Reinhart and David Reinhart. Nothing is known as to children by the third wife. He settled on a farm on the right side of the Schuylkill River in Coventry township, which passed subsequently to his son, Rev. Martin Reinhart, then to John Baugh, and now is owned by Levi Updegrove. He was buried in Union Graveyard, in Parkerford, with the following inscription on his tombstone:

   U. R.
   Feb. 12, 1787.
   A. 82½.

15. John m. Catharine Grumbacher.
   b. April 8, 1757.

16. Christiana m. Enoch Jones.

17. Mary m. Nathaniel Jones.

18. Rebecca m. Nathaniel Miles.

19. Jacob m. — Cornick.
   d. aged 21 years.

20. David m. never.
   d. aged 12 years.

Children of Rev. Martin (6) Urner and Barbara Switzer, Belwood Farm, Chester County, Pennsylvania.

   d. 176—.

   Inscription on tombstone in Coventry Brethren Graveyard is in part obliterated.

22. Mary m. Barbara Baugh.
   b. May 2, 1755.
   d. May 3, 1813.
   Carroll County, Maryland.

23. Martin m. Barbara Baugh.
   b. July 28, 1762.
   d. Feb. 4, 1838.

   Coventry Township, Chester County, Pennsylvania. Farmer. Both buried in Coventry Brethren Graveyard. When Martin, the older son, married, the father, Bishop Martin Urner, bought a body of land adjacent to the Urner homestead, and adding to it a part of the homestead farm, so as to equalize it with the remainder, he gave this to his older son. The homestead the bishop retained for his own residence, and ultimately for his younger son Jonas.
24. Elizabeth m Abraham Titlow.
Lancaster County, Pennsylvania.

b. Dec. 25, 1772.
d. May 13, 1813.

b. Aug. 30, 1771.
d. Aug. 13, 1845.

On the death of his father, Bishop Martin Urner, he became owner by will of Belwood Farm. He continued living on it for eleven years. In 1810 he sold it, and moved to Carroll County, Maryland, in 1811. He was buried in the "Wolfe Graveyard," near Pipe Creek Brethren Church, Maryland.

The following is told of him by his son David: "There was an epidemic of typhus fever prevailing in that country at that time, and Uncle David and Aunt Mary Reinhart were both down with it and both were given up by the doctors, and my father was accustomed every evening to ride over there and stay with them all night. Aunt Mary died and, a very few days after she was buried, my father was taken down with the same disease, and five days after he died.

"A day or two before he was taken sick, my mother, while we were at supper, said that somebody had remarked of something that had occurred, that it betokened a death in the family; when my father replied, that if such a thing should occur, he hoped that it would be himself that would be called; and I never saw mother so startled, as she quickly asked why he said so? and he quietly replied that he did not think that any of the rest of us were as well prepared to go as he."

On the death of Bishop Martin Urner, he left by will his English and German Bibles to his son Jonas, the preacher. The family papers also passed to his young son Jonas, as they had lived together. The following is mentioned by the before-named son, David. "I recollect that once, when a boy, I was rummaging among some of my father's filed-away papers, and came across some papers (I think wills or extracts of wills), from which I learned that my great grandfather's name was Jacob, and that his father's name was Owen [in German, Ulrich]. I think I saw a will of Owen Urner, or it may have been an abstract of the part of the will that devised a certain part of his property to his son Jacob."

[N.B.—After his death these Bibles and papers were all lost.]

As stated above, Rev. Jonas (25) Urner, in the year 1810, sold Belwood farm and moved to Maryland. The purchaser of the old Urner homestead was Rudolph Stover. After holding Belwood Farm for some years he sold it to his son, Owen Stover. At the executor's sale of Owen Stover, in 1889, Isaac Newton (454) Urner and his wife, Eliza...
Stover Grubb, became the purchasers. Eliza Stover Grubb was niece of Owen Stover, and grand-daughter of Rudolph Stover. The farm was bought for John (807) Rudolph Urner, to whom the line of descent of the property was continuous in his family from the Penns in 1718. His death in 1890 broke the line.

John Rodolph Urner was born in Mississippi, his father being President of Mississippi College at that time. He was prepared for College at Williston Seminary, Massachusetts, 1876–80. He graduated at Princeton University in 1884 and at Columbia College Law School, of New York City, in 1886.

After being connected with a law firm for a few years in New York City, he and another young lawyer, in the spring of 1890, took a trip West with a view of possibly locating there. They got as far as Spokane Falls, Washington, where they both found themselves dangerously sick from accidental exposure on the journey. His friend’s sickness developed into typhoid fever. Mr. Urner, badly broken down in health, was urged by the physicians to leave that sickly locality immediately and try to save himself, leaving in their care his sick and dying friend. But he thought that duty required him to stay and take the chances. After the death of his friend, he took the remains back to relatives in New York, and then went to his own home in Pennsylvania, where he lingered three months and then died on October 30, 1890, aged 29 years, 2 months, and 9 days, a martyr to duty.
