Supplementary Record to The Family Record of John Bateman Webster 83

Anawalt: Town of Anawalt, McDowell County, West Virginia. Established in 1907, by Solomon Basch of Pocahontas, Virginia. 1928 population, 400. Industry - Coal Mining. Surrounding country, mountainous. Plenty of good coal and timber. The town has a bank, "The Anawalt National Bank", a number of excellent stores, a theatre, etc. The town is surrounded by large coal operations and there is within a radius of five miles or less, a population of several thousand. The town was named for James W. Anawalt of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, President of the Union Supply Company, and of the United Supply Company, both organizations being subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation.

This is the only known town or post-office in the United States carrying the name of Anawalt.
NAME AND ORIGIN

"Von St. Annewaldt"; Valentine Anewald; Anawalt; Anewalt.

Much interest has been manifest as to the origin of the family of this name. The legend is the old German, and the name is of the place from whence they came. The name originally was "Von St. Annewaldt" meaning from or of St. Anne's Wood, the "Von" in the German indicating gentility and place, and position.

The internecine feuds in family and tribal life in those early and troublesome days, in the sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries, caused loss of place, titles, and fortunes and a scattering of peoples to distant and safer places of abode, evidenced by migration from the German Provinces Seignories, down the river Rhine, to the more peaceful and friendly Holland.

It therefore seems entirely reasonable to give full credence to the legend, and accept it as being true and in fact.

There is a town or village named Annenwald in the Province of Brandenburg, Germany, but the town records do not exist prior to 1734, and the "Von St. Annewaldts" were of an earlier period. Valentine Anewaldt was born in 1732, but whether in Germany or in Holland is not known, but it is certain that he had lived in Holland for a long period before deciding to emigrate to America. He married in 1753, and it is practically certain that this marriage was held in Holland, and that he and his wife had a large acquaintance and many friends, possibly some relatives, there. Many of his wife's (Kurtz) name are found today in that section.

The name, or some variant of it, is not rare. In 1920, Fremont Anawalt, a merchant in Fairfield, Nebraska, encountered a salesman, who when entering an order and learning the merchant's name, remarked, "There is a 'Von' to it, is there not?" and said that some years previous he had been connected with the United States Consulate in Germany, and had there known of the name "Von St. Annewaldt". Mr. Anawalt regrets that his lack of curious interest did not prompt him to pursue the subject and learn more of particulars. Again; a relative of Miss Mary Louise Anawalt of Uniontown, Pa., told of having met a Purser of an Atlantic Steamship, while a passenger, who, when hearing the name, exclaimed, "Why, I know people of that name in Germany!"

In 1855, Captain John W. Anawalt of Brownsville, Pa., Captain and owner of Steamboats on the Ohio river, received a letter, of which the following is a copy:

"Southampton, England, March 31st, 1855

"Sir:-

Heirs are wanted to show claim to the large estate of the late John George Anawalt, merchant, at White Friars, London. I, being attorney to the executors, having given public notice in the British papers for some time past of such being the fact, but no owners or legal representatives appear. The property is estimated at 170,000 Pounds, partly in the British funds, and in some valuable real estate in Hamburg and Bremen. The secretary to the American Consul port has advised me of a family of the name of Anawalt in western Pennsylvania, and should you or yours be able to substantiate any claim, you will address me here as soon as possible, it being very desirable to be able to pay all dues and claims in the estate as soon as possible.

Yours obediently,

John Anawalt, Esq.,
Brownsville, Penna.

Charles B. Simmons, Attorney to the estate."
Captain Anawalt took the matter up with various members of the family and it was submitted to the American Minister to Great Britain, at London, England. Hon. James Buchanan, later President of the United States, reported that after a more or less exhaustive search, no trace of such fortune could be found.

A "Fake" fortune, An Unscrupulous Attorney, perhaps?

These and other instances, the fact that the name "Von St. Annewaldt" and Anawalt, were not uncommon, that there were others than the immigrant Valentine Anewald, who bore it. It is evident that Valentine, even if duly entitled to the use of the "Von", had no use for it in Holland, and therefore used the simpler form of the name.

In those earlier periods, writing was not common in the writings and in the family correspondence leading to the spelling of names, places and objects in different ways, more often by the sound, rather than by the official forms. Variance in the spelling and pronouncing of family names were common, in all walks of life, in the early days, both in Europe and in England.

In America, the children of Valentine Anewald, the first in America, do not all use the same spelling. John Anawalt, the eldest son spelled it Anawalt. Peter, the third son, spelled it Anewalt, and these spellings have been followed by each of their descendents.

John and Peter were the only sons of Valentine who had children.

Conclusions: The writer's conclusions are that however true it may be that the original name of the family was "Von St. Annewaldt"; being changed and simplified during the generations, it is yet the desire of all of the descendents to follow the initiative of our forebears, and use the name and its spelling as it has been handed down to us, disregarding whatever rights we may have to the use of an antiquated and higher sounding one.

We, now here, are all Americans.

* * * * * *

If the hallowed traditions, sturdy principles and venerated institutions of America are to be perpetuated, it must be mainly by the descendents of the founders of the Nation and of those early patriots whose devotion to principle and whose loyalty to country made the Nation possible.

The founders of the Nation and also the early patriots represented true Americanism; and their descendents, who have consecrated their noblest efforts, generation after generation, to the perpetuation of the Nation's high principles, constitute the "FIRST FAMILIES OF AMERICA."

During the period between 1756 and 1761, England and France were engaged in serious wars, and emigration to America was suspended. In the first ship to arrive in Philadelphia, Penna., on October 21st, 1761, after the cessation of hostilities between those countries, was the ancestor of the family in America.

The ship was the "Snow Squirrel", John Benn, Master, and had sailed from Rotterdam, Holland, stopping at Portsmouth, England. In taking the Oath of Allegiance, as all emigrants were required to do, he signed his name "Fallhoden Annawald". (The records of the Port of Entry, at Philadelphia, Penna., in the published list of passengers, gives the name as "Valentin Annawald"). He was born on January 12th, 1732, and was, therefore, 29 years of age when he arrived in America. He married Johanna Margaret Kurtz in 1753, and he brought his family with him to the new country.

Valentine Annawald settled in Allen Township, Northampton County, Pennsylvania, where he purchased from Thomas Boyd, on July 1st, 1773, for 670 Pounds (English) a tract of 103 Acres and 36 Perches of land, it being a part of a tract of 6000 Acres known as the "Indian Tract", on the west branch of the Delaware River. He also purchased a tract of 20 Acres and 10 Perches for 100 Pounds, in specie, on November 24th, 1784, from Frederick Beck. These transactions indicate that he brought with him to America, a considerable sum of money, in specie, and was not an impecunious immigrant. On these purchased lands he built a large and substantial two story residence. I have a Kodak picture of this home, taken in 1926, showing its substantial and lasting character, though now sadly in need of repairs. (This property has long since passed out this family's possession.) He was a Farmer and Weaver, a substantial Tax-payer. He was a Revolutionary War soldier, his record as such, is as follows:

"Class Roll of the 8th Company, 3rd Battalion, Northampton County Militia, dated September 6th, 1780
Captain Paul Enasue
Felty Omawalt, Private.

"Class Roll of the 2nd Company, 4th Battalion, Northampton County Militia, dated May 4th, 1778
Colonel Siegfried, Lieut. Col. Nicholas Kern, Captain George Edelman
"Feltre Onewalt, Private.

Valentine Anawald died on February 6th, 1802, aged 70 years 3 weeks and 5 days.

His wife, Johanna Margaret (Kurtz) Anawald was born on November 13th, 1733, and died on July 31st, 1793. The inscription on her tombstone, written in German, reads that she was married to Valentine Anawald for forty years, and that they had twelve (12) children, six boys and six girls as follows:
Valentine and Johanna Margaret (Kurtz) Anawalt had twelve children, of whom but nine attained maturity. The record of those nine so far as has been ascertained is as follows - very brief as to most of them:

(1) Catharine Anawalt, came to America with her parents. Married Heinreich Goerster (Henry Gerster) Moved to Franklin County, Pennsylvania.

(2) Anna Margaret Anawalt, born in Holland. Married David Jahns, (Jones).

(3) John Anawalt, born in 1762 in America. Died on September 15th, 1826. Married Susanna Hoffner in Holland. Moved and settled in Somerset County, Penna. Both buried in the City Cemetery in Somerset, Pa. A full account of him and his descent is given in this record.

(6) Christina Anawalt, born on October 19th, 1770. Married Jacob Stapp. (Later Stopp)

(7) Peter Anawalt, born on November 12th, 1772. Married Anna Barbara Woltmann, who was born on June 5th, 1775, died on August 4th, 1855. He died on July 20th 1825. Both buried, Zion Stone Churchyard, Kreidersville, Northampton County, Penna. I have much data, but very incomplete, in regard to Peter and his descent, which I hope, may be collated and published later.

(8) George Anawalt, born in 1802 he was reported as living in Towamonsing Township, Pa.

(9) Conrad Anawalt, born on February 14th, 1778.

According to the Last Will and Testament of Valentine Anawalt it will be noted that the above named children were all that were then living. Also, that he had married again and the second wife was named Barbara. A copy of the said Last Will and Testament of Valentine Anawalt follows. An interesting document.

"If I could ever suppose that family pride was in any case excusable, I should think a descent from a line of virtuous, independent, New England farmers for a hundred and sixty years was a better foundation for it than a descent through royal and titled persons ever since the flood."

Copy of the LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT of VALENTINE ANAWALT, as Anglicized form the original in German, a photostat copy of which is available. Original will recorded in Book 4, Page 82, at Easton, Penna.

"In the name of the Holy Trinity, Amen,"

As all men are mortal, but the hour of death is uncertain so, I, Valentine Anawalt, taught by my experience in life, have resolved because I do not know when God will call me from this world, to and do make the following, my Last Will and Testament, to make known how my earthly estate shall be divided after my decease;

FIRST: I commit my immortal soul into the hands of the Father, that he may receive in Grace, through Christ's Will.

Concerning my earthly estate, I will and desire and it is my last will and Testament that my living nine children; Catherine, married name Gerster; Margaret, married name Jones; John Anawald; Jacob Anawald; Susanna, married name Dippi; Christina, married name Stapp; Peter Anawald; George Anawald; Conrad Anawald; shall be my sole heirs of my joint estate and it shall be divided into equal parts.

HOWEVER: my daughter Margaret, married name Jones, shall have twenty-six pounds deducted from her share for her son Michael Erb, since she holds this for him. It shall be delivered, when it is suitable that her share shall be delivered, and she shall not hold the same until she can prove that she has invested, or will invest, the same in a piece of land or lot. As long as I live I will hold my earthly estate in my powers, after my decease, the same shall be my children, who shall have the right to take my plantation at the appraisement, in this manner;

ONE YEAR after my death, and every year thereafter, shall be paid to one of my children, so much of the amount of the appraisement as shall fall to him, and it shall be begun at the eldest, and every year continue until the last shall have received his share; but if none of the children wishes to take the plantation, then the same shall be sold to the highest bidder.

MY SON JACOB, shall draw the interest of fifty Pounds, drink money, which shall be taken from the personal estate, as long as he lives, and shall receive his share as the others brothers and sisters. After my death he shall have my mare, which I now ride, with the saddle and bridle. After his death the 150 Pounds, of which he receives the interest, shall be divided in equal parts among the remaining brothers and sisters, or their heirs.

MY PRESENT WIFE, Barbara Anawald, shall have free lodging in the room she now occupies, after my death, as also the use of cellar and attic as long as she lives, and the occupier of the Plantation shall cut for her, every year, the necessary firewood and carry as much as she desires and he shall give her fodder for a cow and also space for the fodder. She shall receive every year, four bushels of wheat, eight bushels of corn, six bushels of buckwheat, four rows of potatoes in the tract, and six apple trees, which two last points, the choice shall be given to her to take which she desires, and the occupier of my place must carry in her potatoes and apples to the place where the same are now kept. She shall have every year, eight pounds of hookled hump, and the fourth part of the garden to which the occupier must give the necessary attention and carry in when necessary what she desires.
ALL OF THE HOUSEHOLD GOODS which my present wife, after my decease shall have received from me, shall remain in her use as long as she shall live, but all in money or household goods that she brought to me, shall remain in her ownership and she can do with it as she thinks best.

As to this, my Last Will and Testament; I will and desire that it shall be carried out in every point and clause after my decease.

Therefore, I appoint Peter and Conrad Answald executors of this my Testament that they may see that this My Last Will and Testament may be faithfully carried out and made effective.

I have, with my own hand and with due consideration and full understanding, signed and sealed this my Last Will and Testament.

Done in Allen Township, November 22, in the year of our Lord, 1801.

"We cannot know ourselves unless we know our ancestors. Most people know but little of their ancestors, beyond those with whom they have had a personal acquaintance, do not possess even a laudable curiosity which would lead them to make inquiries about them. This is more a fact of carelessness than for want of reverence or affection, or of desire for knowledge of ancestry."
INTRODUCTORY

Introducing the genealogical record of John Anawalt and Susanna (Hoffner) Anawalt, of Somerset, Penna. and their descent. He was the eldest son and third child of Valentine and Margaret (Kurtz) Anawald, who emigrated to America in 1761.

Many years since, my interest in family genealogy was temporarily occupied in the study of the "Wakefield Memorial," a record of the "Wakefields of the World," collected by Judge Wakefield of Sioux City, Iowa, and Dr. Cyrenius Wakefield of Bloomington, Illinois, collated and published by Dr. Homer Wakefield of Bloomington in 1887. This gave my antecedent origin on my father's side of our family. There my curiosity rested. However, wandering thoughts as to my forebears on my Mother's side - of whom I knew practically nothing, beyond my grandfather and that was but little - aroused hope that sometime I might have more knowledge of them. Why not of the Anawalts as well as of the Wakefields?

Early in 1924, an inquiry from Miss Mary Louise Anawalt, of Uniontown, Penna., who, having noticed an article in the Outlook, written by an Anawalt, sought through the writer of the article, to learn something more of the Anawalts than she then knew, came by circuitous routes to my sister, Miss Idessa Wakefield of Rock Island, who referred it to me. Miss Anawalt's inquiry and interest really aroused and energized my latent interest, and I thereupon started a search for more information and records. This search continued with persistent patience and determination through the years 1924-1930, and until early in 1931, by correspondence, personal investigations, and considerable costs, has resulted in the following records, as complete and comprehensive as has been possible to secure at this late day, owing to deaths of the earlier members, the reluctance of some and the inability of others living to supply the information.

This record closes with the data obtained up to the early months of 1931. A serious accident and other compelling causes have prevented prosecution of the purpose, except incidentally, until this present, when the project has again been taken up, the data collated, in the hope that it may be put into printed form and thus be available to all of this descent, for their laudable interest and for reference. It may be hoped that other and more able interests will later continue the search and add later data, and also include the fuller record of the other branches of the Anawalts. This record refers only generally to the origin of the American family, and particularly to the elder son of the immigrant, Valentine Anawalt.

I have a very large collection of data in respect to the other children of the first American Anawalt, but it is not complete, nor as full as can be obtained. It can be searched for and results included in a separate, or in a later printing of this particular record. It is my purpose, if I live and circumstances permit, to use every endeavor to collect and complete the fullest record of the other branches of the family, if I am not able to do this, my collection of data will be available for the use of other and abler collectors.
In the collection of this data, I have been materially and ably assisted by Miss Mary Louise Anawalt, of Uniontown, Penna., O. S. Martin, of Newark, New Jersey, Fremont Anawalt, of Los Angeles, California, Ben B. Anawalt of Wichita, Kansas, C. N. Anawalt of Louisville, Ky., H. Fred Anawalt of Montrose, California, Charles P. Holderbaum of Somerset, Pa., Chas. P. Boggs of Detroit, Michigan, Mrs. C. V. Cromwell of Somerset, Pa., Miss Minnie Hale of Weston, West Va., Miss Anna C. Spiker of Oklahoma City, Okla., and others, and to each of them I desire to express my thanks for their encouragement and valuable assistance.

In the hope that these results may be of value and benefit to those of this descent, upwards of five hundred, as of 1930, these records are,

Respectfully submitted,

John Anawalt, third child and eldest son of Valentine and Johanna Margaret (Kurtz) Anawalt, was born on the home farm near Kreidersville, Northampton County, Pa. in 1764. He was Confirmed at the Zion Stone Church (Lutheran) at Kreidersville, on Nov. 5th, 1780. Died on Sept. 15th, 1826, near Somerset, Pa. He and his wife buried in Somerset Cemetery, Somerset.

He lived with his parents on the home farm until reaching maturity. Later on he journeyed to Holland, where his parents resided for some considerable time before coming to America. There, in 1788, when he was 24 years of age, he married Susanna Catherine Hoffner of Amsterdam. She was born in 1770 in Holland, died May 16th, 1824 near Somerset, Pa. They were both buried in the City Cemetery in Somerset, Pa. Researches in Holland disclose that she was a descendent of Anthony Hoffner, Surgeon of Rotterdam, and left an estate of 12,500 Florins. The Hoffners were of the Huguenot Protestant persuasion. Susanna Catherine Hoffner was a sister of John and Jacob Hoffner who had emigrated to America in 1765 and had eventually found their way to Cincinnati, Ohio, where they became very prominent in Mercantile pursuits.

John and Susanna C. Anawalt removed from Holland to England in 1789 and on April 12th, 1790, their first child, Jacob, was born.

Shortly thereafter they came back to America and settled in Somerset County (then a part of Bedford County) Pa., where they remained for the rest of their lives. He soon became a leading citizen in that section of the State. He was a contracting Carpenter and Builder and was a Bridge Builder of considerable note. Many of the early bridges in Somerset and Bedford Counties were build by him. He sold his interest in his father's estate to his brother, Peter, in 1802. The consideration was 150 Pounds, (the money of that period).

He is credited with services in the Revolutionary War as witness:

SAMUEL ANAWALT, (Valentine 1, John of Somerset 2, Samuel 3,) born March 8th, 1801, at Somerset, Pa. Married Agnes Webster, daughter of Eleanor Webster and Captain John Bateman Webster, on December 20th, 1825, by the Rev. Henry Meyer. Agnes Webster was born on September 9th, 1804, at Somerset, Pa.

Samuel Anawalt was a carpenter by profession. They settled in Somerset where their first three children were born. Thereafter they resided for various periods in Robstown, (later named West Newton) Williamsport, Elizabeth Township, Brownsville, and Monongahela City, Pa. About 1862 they moved to New Brighton, Pa. to be near their daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Wakefield. About 1878 they moved again to Rock Island, Illinois, and made their home with their son, Mr. Elias H. Anawalt, until 1887. Mr. Anawalt having moved to Wichita, Kansas, and their daughter, Mrs. Wakefield having moved to Rock Island, they took up residence with the daughter and her family and lived there until death called them. Agnes (Webster Anawalt died on January 30th, 1888. Samuel Anawalt died on May 8th, 1888. Aged 84 and 87 years respectively. To this union were born eleven children, as follows:

(1) John Webster Anawalt
(2) Eleanor Anawalt
(3) Agnes Anawalt
(4) Elias Hoffner Anawalt
(5) George Bateman Anawalt
(6) Susan Katharine Anawalt
(7) William Lemon Anawalt
(8) Josiah Martin Anawalt
(9) Harriet Anawalt
(10) Jacob Henry Anawalt
(11) James Parkinson Anawalt (Jacob and James were twins)

Before proceeding to record the descent of these children, it will be well to insert some information concerning the parentage of Samuel Anawalt's wife, Agnes Webster. She was the daughter of Captain John Bateman Webster and Eleanor Graham Webster. Eleanor was the daughter of John Graham and Agnes (Walton-Brown) Graham of Somerset County, Pa. They were early pioneers in that section.

Captain John Bateman Webster was born in Yorkshire, England on March 4th, 1753. He emigrated to America and settled in Carlisle, Pa. Served in the war of the Revolution, in Col. Thomas Proctor's Fourth Artillery Regiment, Pennsylvania Line. He enlisted at Philadelphia on October 30th, 1775, and on the third day of November his company was received into the barracks at Philadelphia and was furnished with the bedding lately belonging to the Royal Artillery Company. Captain Webster served until some time in 1783, when the Army was disbanded. A part of this time he served as Quarter-Master of the Regiment and received his discharge finally at Lancaster, Pa. He was a member of the Society of the Cincinnati and his signature appears on a list of the Pennsylvania Signers, published in fac-simile in the Pennsylvania Archives. His Certificate of Membership in the society of Cincinnati, signed by George Washington, together with his sword, Family Bible and Snuff
Box, were left to his daughter, Lucretia Webster Neff, who gave them to her grandson then living in Johnstown, Pa. and in the disastrous "Johnstown Flood" of 1889, these articles were lost with the exception of the Snuff Box. Captain Webster's watch also was possessed by Mr. F. G. Parker, an official of the Cambria Iron Works. Shortly after the close of the War, Captain Webster located in what is now Somerset County, then a part of Bedford County, and for many years was engaged in Tavern Keeping in Somerset, on the site later and now occupied by the Hotel Vannear. Tavern Keeping was a business, by the way, resorted to by many who had served as Officers in the Continental Army. He was a leading citizen and was a "Collector" under the famous excise Laws which brought on the noted "Whiskey Insurrection". He was for many years Post-Master of Somerset and lived there until 1834. His grave, marked by a plain old fashioned head-stone, may still be found in the "Reformed" Cemetery (now known as Ankeny Square) in Somerset. The inscription on the head-stone reads:

In Memory Of
who was born on the 4th day of March 1753 and departed this life on the 19th day of March 1834 aged 81 years and 15 days
A Member of the Cincinnati Society
And
Captain in the American Revolution.

Captain Webster was a devout Episcopalian, he refused to attend a Wedding at which the Book of Prayer was not used.

His first wife was Agnes Fitzgerald, of whom nothing is known.

His second wife was Eleanor Graham, who was the mother of all his children.

His third wife was Agnes (Graham) Parker, widow of John Parker, who had children by his first marriage. Agnes (Graham) Parker was the next younger sister of Eleanor (Graham) Webster. In the Ankeny Square in Somerset, Pa. the following inscription on the head-stones may be seen.

In Memory of
Mrs. Eleanor Webster
Wife of
Mr. John B. Webster
Departed this life September 14th
In the year of Our Lord 1815
Aged 47 years, 6 months.

Eleanor (Graham) Webster, born May 1768, died September 14th, 1815. She married Captain John Bateman Webster. They lived during her life in Somerset, Pa.

The women of these early pioneer days were not only fine Christian mothers, devoted to their families, but were also skilled in domestic economies. The great distances from markets required the making of all possible home necessities. As an illustration of the capabilities of these pioneer women, note the following article from a Somerset paper.
"Industrious Somerset Women"

The following double quoted language is an exact copy of an item appearing in No. 1215, Vol. XIII, of the United States Gazette, published in Philadelphia, Pa. in the issue of Wednesday, January 13th, 1813, under the title of "Domestic Manufactures". The Mrs. Webster in question, (nee Eleanor Graham, daughter of John and Agnes Walton Graham, among the earliest settlers in that part of Bedford County, Pa. which now comprises Somerset County), was the wife of Captain John Bateman Webster, an Officer in the Continental Army, who conducted an Hotel in Somerset for many years after the close of the war. He was the great-great-grandfather of Webster B. Parker of the firm of Parker and Phillips of this City. A few persons now living remember having seen the old Captain when they were lads, and recall the fact that he always wore a wig and queue.

"It is with pleasure that we give to the public, from a correct source of information the following account of articles manufactured by Mrs. Webster of Somerset, Pa. since the first of January last, as an example of laudable female industry and economy".

John Webster Anawalt, eldest child of Samuel and Agnes (Webster) Anawalt, born at Somerset, Pa. on December 29th, 1826. Baptized April 12, 1829, by Rev. Hyluck. Married Miss Kate Putman, a lineal descendant of General Israel Putman of Revolutionary War renown, at McKeesport, Pa. on January 18, 1853. He was engaged in river transportation throughout his life, which was lost while in the pursuit of his duties on February 20th, 1873, during a terrific storm, near Peckenpaugh's Landing, eighty miles below Louisville, Ky., on the Ohio River. He was in charge of the Steamboat Mary Davage and a group of barges, when in the darkness of night a heavy gale with snow blowing, he went out on the barges to see that all was tight and right, when he was blown overboard or was knocked off by an overhanging tree limb. He was 47 years of age, five feet tall plus eight inches, of dark complexion, with full beard and moustache.

Captain Anawalt commenced boating in 1848 as second clerk on the Atlantic on the Mononghela river. Captain James Parkinson was her Commander, and Captain—I. M. Mason, first clerk. Captain Mason later resigned and Captain Anawalt was promoted to the vacancy which he held for several years. He was also in his time, Commander of the Steamer Wild Duck, Davanport, Kate Putman, Exchange, General Gaines, Bay City, and many others. He was well and widely known and was highly esteemed by all in the river service. All steamers on the river in ports were at half mast in honor of the deceased. "He was a fine specimen of man, large hearted, good natured and as a gentleman and an officer none surpassed him."

After some days the body of Captain Anawalt was recovered and was removed to the family home on Wylie Avenue, Pittsburgh, where funeral services were held and the remains taken to Brownsville, Pa. for interment.

With a companion named Briggs, he was passing the building when in response to agonized cries for help from those within, he entered the building to aid in their rescue. He thereby lost his own life. In 1927, after 49 years of continuous service she resigned her position as teacher and retired to have a long rest in her declining years. Miss Idessa
Wakefield to leave Rock Island after 46 years teaching in schools here.

"I've always had pleasant times, enjoyed myself, but now I intend to have plenty of leisure time in which to enjoy myself further," dolearmed Miss Idessa Wakefield, 828 Nineteenth St., who after completing 46 years of service as a teacher in the Rock Island public schools, tendered her resignation to the board of education at a meeting last night. Miss Wakefield, who observed it was not her habit to make plans looking too far into the future, said that she will visit Illinois this summer, going afterwards to Beaver Falls, Pa., "across the river from New Brighton, her birth place to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. Gertrude Douds.

"Yes, I'm retiring permanently," she said, "No, I have no comments to make. Of course I've enjoyed teaching. I have had many pleasant experiences and have met many fine people. Please don't ask me to tell of my experiences. I couldn't, there have been so many."

Miss Wakefield has taught in three Rock Island schools. When she first came here, it was June, 1881. She taught first year pupils in the Kemble school. She taught in the old high school until the Lincoln school was built. She first worked in the seventh grade at Lincoln, later in the eighth grade and during more recent years she has been teaching mathematics in the junior high school.

Refuting the popular opinion of the modern child, Miss Wakefield declared that, "youngsters are much the same here and everywhere and the passing of years shows little difference."

Dear Madame:-

I have your favor of 14th inst, with check for $3.50, for copy of the Anawalt record, if and when published. Thank You.

I am pleased to have the additional data which you supply, and have noted it all for the record.

May I ask if you can supply the needed data, indicated in the following;

In getting the research, it has always been one of the difficult details to get the birth and wedding dates, where born; where married; where died and buried; occupations; and the places, where all these occurred. The whole process has been rather tedious one.

The subscriptions are coming in very slowly, and I fear they will be much too few for the purpose. Yet, I have hopes. Perhaps it is to early yet to judge.

Thanking you in advance for your helpful aid. I am,
Very Sincerely.

TO THE ANAWALTS OF AMERICA AND THEIR DESCENT:-

You may remember that years ago I was collecting the genealogy of the Anawalts and the descent. I certainly was until early in 1931 when various unavoidable and untoward causes interrupted the work and caused a stoppage since that period.

During the present year I have collated the records up to that date as regards, particularly, John Anawalt, eldest son of the immigrant Valentine Anewald, and it is now in shape to be printed in sufficient supply and in durable form, so that all of the descent, more than 600 in number, may, if they choose, have copies for their edification and reference.

If you will give me the full memoranda of deaths, marriages, births, and other notable occurrences in your family, happening since 1930, I will be able to incorporate it in the records, prior to publication.

The securing of this data, through the years and at a considerable cost, has, I think, covered my full share of the expense, and the further costs of printing, etc., should be optional to the other descendents.

Therefore; I have obtained printing costs and am putting it up to the descendents for them to determine whether they want it printed, and will subscribe and pay for copies in sufficient number to cover the said costs. If so, it will be printed, and, if not, it will not.

The cost per copy will be $3.50, delivered by U.S. Mails.

If the subscribers desire the inclusion of pictures of any one or more of their ancestors, or of themselves, the only added cost will be 75 cents per square inch, (copy to be supplied) with the subscription.

The first part of this record relates the descent of Captain John B. Webster and Eleanor (Graham) Webster, only through the descent of the daughter, Agnes Webster who married Samuel Anawalt. The full record of all of the other children of Captain John Bateman Webster and Eleanor (Graham) Webster, is given in supplemental form, yet, as full and complete as any other part, and, perhaps in a preferable form.

Personally; I have typed copies of this full record, sufficient for my personal uses, yet I would much like to see it printed, and I will hope that it may be, that all the descendents may thus be enabled to hold documentary evidence as to whence they came and from whom.

If you are favorable to this proposition, please advise me as soon as possible with subscription and check for the greatest number of copies you can use, as I hope to conclude the work at an early date. The smaller the number of copies printed, the higher the cost per copy.

Yours fraternally,

John A. Stakefield

Note:-Should the subscriptions aggregate 200 or more copies, which I think they should, the price per copy would be reduced to $2.50 per copy. If the total subscriptions are not sufficient to cover publishing cost, the checks will be returned to the senders.

December 15, 1935.

Dear Mrs. Jones;

Relative to your favor of October 14th, enclosing check for $3.50 for copy of Anawalt record. I beg to advise that the record has now been completed and a copy will be sent you within the next few days. The price was set at $3.50 a copy, it being necessary to have that price and a subscription for 100 copies to have the record printed. Only about 20 subscriptions were received on that basis. Thus it was necessary to adopt other methods and the record now has been mimeographed and the cost at $2.50 per copy. I am enclosing currency $1.00 being your credit against reduced price. I hope the copy will reach you safely and be of interest and value to you.

I wrote you for additional data but have not been favored with a response therefore the record in the completed work is as it was previously collected and collated.

I wonder if others of your immediate family would like to acquire another book or two at the price of $2.50 ($2.50) a copy.

Cordially yours,

John A. Wakefield

Married John Holderbaum of Bedford County, Pa. on . (He was a brother of Martin Holderbaum, who married Katharine Anawalt, the two brothers having married the two sisters.) They lived in Somerset for a time, then removed to Cincinnati, Ohio. They lived in Cincinnati for a considerable period and had numerous children. He was probably connected with the business of his brother-in-law, Elias Ehler, for his wife when walking down the railway track toward the Mills was struck by an engine and was instantly killed. She was quite deaf and thus not able to hear the whistle of the engine, which was blown for her. She was buried in the Cumminsville Cemetery in Cincinnati. Some time thereafter the family moved to Nebraska. The Nebraska location and the record of the children is not known. It is known, however, that some of the Somerset relatives visited at their Nebraska home, stopping in Cincinnati en route both ways, to also visit with the Ehlers, but the ones who did so visit are all gone long ago, and the living ones can only tell of their parents, mentioning items in connection with the family and these recollections are embodied in the above. Diligent and persistent efforts through the Post Office record and City and County directories have failed to discover any of the descent, though there are many of the name, Holderbaum, scattered throughout the Middle West.

It is regretted that only this scant record of Sarah and her family is available, for, from all the information available, Sarah Anawalt was a very lovable character.

Died on December 25th, 1878, at Fairfield, Iowa, and buried at Hamilton, Ohio, beside his first wife. His parents died when he was quite young and he made his home with a married sister. He was "Bound-Out" to serve an apprenticeship and learned the Sadlers' trade. It is not known if or for how long he followed this trade. When quite a young man he moved west, as was the habit of many of the young men of that day, first to Mount Pleasant, Ohio, and later to Hamilton, Ohio, where he married firstly, Jane Fleming, daughter of a Scotch-Irish Unitarian Minister. She was born, 1812. Died on January 21st, 1855, at Hamilton, Ohio, aged 43 years. He engaged in business in Hamilton, probably as a compiler and publisher of the City Directory, for it is certain that the publication of City Directories was almost his sole business (1857-1878) during the remainder of his life. He compiled and published directories in various cities and towns in Ohio, Illinois, and Iowa, but in the last ten years of his life he confined his work to the City of Burlington, Iowa, getting out a new issue each year. He did all this work single handed, and it is believed that the arduous labor and exposure connected with this purpose caused the suffering and paralysis which caused his death long before his time. He was a long and consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. At the time of his death and for many years previously, he maintained his home in Fairfield, Iowa. During his earlier life and until after the demise of his first wife, he spelled his name as "Annawalt", then in his later life, he accepted the spelling of his father and family and spelled it as did the others, "Anawalt". He went to Cleveland from Chicago, Illinois, where he had been in the directory publishing business. At the time of his death he was a past president of the American Association of Directory Publishers. He was a Civil War Veteran, having served four years in the Union Cavalry. His wife died in 1912. There were no children. He was married in 1866 in Rock Island, Illinois. (Company "F", 3rd Iowa Cavalry).

SUPPLEMENTARY RECORD
To The Family Record Of
JOHN BATEMAN WEBSTER

Inasmuch as the preceding records give the descent of but one of the children of John Bateman Webster and Eleanor (Graham) Webster, namely; Agnes Webster, who married Samuel Anawalt - it seems fitting that the records of the other children, - so far as they have been learned, - should also be included herein, thus completing the data as regards the WEBSTER family.

"In England, when the weaving of cloth was a new and important industry "WEBBER" was the masculine and "WEBSTER" the feminine, indicating the occupation. Thus the origin of the name "WEBSTER".
(The Rise of American Civilization, by Chas. and Mary R. Beard,) (Volume 1; 1927.)"

Captain John B. and Eleanor (Graham) Webster had born unto them; Nine (9) children, as follows:

(1) John Bateman Webster, Jr.
(2) George Webster
(3) Eleanor Burns Webster
(4) Bateman Webster
(5) Agnes Webster (Her record otherwise recorded.)
(6) Harriet Webster
(7) Nancy Webster
(8) George Webster (2nd of the name)
(9) Lucretia Webster

(1) John Bateman Webster, Jr. Have been unable to locate him, or of any descendants. He is reported to have left home at maturity, and settled somewhere in the west, presumably in Ohio.

(2) George Webster, born at Somerset, Pa. on October 19th, 1799. Died on October 19th, 1809, aged 10 years.

(3) Eleanor Burns Webster, born at Somerset, Pa., on Oct. 7, 1797. Married Dr. Norman Murdock Bruce, who had located in Somerset about 1810. As a Physician he was widely known over most of Somerset County. This was particularly true in the region between the Negro Mountain and its ridge and Laurel Hill. In this section there were but few families in which his name was not as a household word. About 1850, he moved to Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. But few men ever lived in Somerset County enjoyed the distinction of having had so many children named after him. Even at this present day, it is not uncommon to meet young men who bear the Christian name "Norman Bruce".

(1) Barbara Bruce - L. May 4, 1822, Somerset, Pa.
(2) Dr. Andrew Bruce - J. W. 23, 1846
(3) Eleanor Bruce - Q. 30, 1849

Wheatstone once said of him "I would rather go to Mr. Neff for advice, he has a clearer perception of business affairs than any man I know." John Neff dealt extensively in real estate in Somerset County, and the records show that he had title to many acres of land. His last business was the venturing contract for the building of the railroad between Somerset and Rockwood. He became blind some three years before his death, which occurred on March 26th, 1878.
