PREFACE
PREFACE

In this most crucial period of our country's history, we as descendants of patriots must more than ever render unselfish and devoted service to our country. The greatest service the Daughters of the American Revolution can render the government today is to give of their time and talents to the Americanization work, earnestly endeavoring to instill into the minds of foreign-born people that citizenship entails duties and responsibilities that must be met as well as the privileges which they enjoy, in this manner seeking to perpetuate the ideals for which the men of the American Revolution gave of their lives and fortunes.

“See No.”—indicates a reference to that number in the same volume.

“Also No.”—indicates the National Number of a “Daughter” who has entered the Society on the same ancestor and whose lineage has been published in a former volume. This is done to link together widely scattered families. If the number should be 4006, it will be in the fifth volume; if 5005, in the sixth volume, etc.

“Real Daughters” are those whose fathers rendered service in the cause of Independence, and their names are printed in italics in the text and index. There is one “Real Daughter” in this volume.
