Credits Given

To Ruth Barrickman of Bloomington, Illinois, who not only diligently typed most of the following records, but helped in filling in family groups.

To Mary T. Raftery, who helped me assemble material, handled some of my correspondence, and also faithfully typed on the West Virginia line.

To Marian Collor, who supplied all paper materials and ditto materials, and ran off one-hundred copies of the West Virginia book.

To DeCota Barrickman Varnado, who worked so hard and long on her branch of the West Virginia Barrickmans. Mrs. Varnado spent untold hours of research and letter writing, not to mention long distance calls. Mrs. Varnado is given full credit as the compiler of the John S. Barrickman family.

To Earl L. Core. His book on the "Core" family not only listed Barrickmans too numerous to mention, but also listed sources of information that helped greatly in locating and fitting in families into which the Barrickmans married.

To Frank M. Brand. His letters to me and his book on the "Wade" family added greatly in my research.

To the library of the University of West Virginia for its help.

To the Department of Archives and History of the State of West Virginia.

To Mrs. Beryl Amos of Fairmont, West Virginia. Mrs. Amos checked the census for various counties looking for marriages, deaths, etc.; also court house and library records.

To Mrs. Vivian Barrickman Shoemaker of Indiana--now deceased. Her research on the West Virginia Barrickmans were of great help in locating many families.

To the James M. Barrackman family for a complete line of Barrackmans.

To the Orvil O. Barrickman family for their complete history.

To the William Barrickman family of Pennsylvania for their complete Barrickman line.

To the Barrickman families in Iowa, California, Canada, Oregon for their wonderful help.

And lastly, full credit and thanks to everyone who aided by filling in census forms and answering my letters.
Michael Barrickman in Washington County.

A large group of Barrickmans lived in Westmoreland Co. 1783 PA.

Barickman in Morgantown, West Virginia.

The Barrickman-Barrickman group settled mainly along rivers: the Monongahela, Youghgheny, and Allegheny rivers.
Henry Barrackman and his son, John, left Chambersburg, Pennsylvania—went into Fayette County, Pennsylvania; and by 1802 had moved into Monongalia County, Virginia. Here Henry Barrackman's son, John, farmed and raised his large family.
The map shows the following key areas:

- Ohio River
- Monongahela River
- Allegheny River
- Great Kanawha River
- Little Kanawha River
- Elk River
- Mountain Range
- Morgantown, W.Va.
- Clarksville, W.Va.
- Cumberland, M.D.
- Barwick, in Maryland

Notable locations and features include:

- Virginia
- Tennessee
- Barwick, in Morgantown
- also near the Little Kanawha River

The map indicates a region of the Northwest Territory.
Henry Barrickman built the first log house in what is now the village of Core, Monongalia County, West Virginia.

This entire area of West Virginia was a vast wilderness. In this huge territory there was not a single Indian Wigwam.

The Indians came into West Virginia from Ohio, Western Pennsylvania. At times even from far off Canada, Indiana, or Illinois.

This wilderness of Virginia—later to be called West Virginia was an ideal hunting ground. There were wolves, bears, buffaloes, deer, elk. In abundantly large numbers smaller fur-bearing animals such as, minks, skunks, otters, muskrats, beavers could be hunted.

The soil was fertile and easily cultivated, so it was small wonder that the Barrickmans, always among the first settlers in any area opening up westward could be found planting-hunting and fishing and playing their part in the civil affairs of the community.

Henry Barrickman was the first Barrickman immigrant to settle at Chambersburg, Franklin County Pennsylvania. Franklin County having been formed Sept. 9, 1784, of a part of Cumberland County, Pennsylvania.

It is reported that while in Chambersburg Pennsylvania, Henry Barrickman born ca. 1745 in Germany, married Abigail Swan of Pennsylvania.

Henry Barrickman hearing of land opportunities in Fayette County—which in Sept. 26, 1783, had been formed of a part of Westmoreland County Pennsylvania, left for Fayette County, Pennsylvania.

Fayette County was at this time the goal of the pioneers who sought new homes in South Western Pennsylvania. Most of the pioneers were English-followed by Welsh-Scotch-Irish and German. They were largely protestant and mainly presbyterian.

The Germans rapidly built themselves into rural communitie and were very "Kin conscious". The Barrickmans generally settled as close to water as possible.

Tales were heard of land down the Monongalia into what is now West Virginia. At the time settlements were being made in Virginia, it must be remembered the boundary lines between the colonies were in dispute. Virginia claims were to land as far north as Pittsburgh. William Penn had claimed land for Pennsylvania that would have extended into the Monongalia region as far to the south as West Virginia.

In Morgantown, West Virginia in 1768, the first permanent settlement was made by the Morgan family. Michael Core settled in the Dunkard Creek area of Western Monongalia in 1772, and in 1774, Warman Wade settled in Dunkard Creek.

It was into these three family groups the Barrickmans were to marry time and again.

The Barrickman family in German town Fayette, County had earlier married into the Core family—and this may have proved to be the connecting link between the Barrickman in Fayette County who did remain there as a large family group, and the very large family of Barrickmans who live in West Virginia today.

Henry Barrickman was granted a tract of 178 acres in 1783, at a point where Pedlar's Run joins Dolly's Run, and here Henry built his log cabin. His neighbor Michael Core, and an inlaw to Henry Barrickman was eventually to have the "Village of Core", so named.

The original land surveyed October 8, 1802 for Henry Barrickman ass of Thomas Laidley ass, of James Maurey and John Lewis 178 acres of land in Monongalia County on part of a land office warrant for 500 acres of land no. 20488 dated the 10th day of November, 1783 and entered the 9th day of September 1802 on Pedlar's Run, Book 5—P-162.

On May 10, 1806 Henry Barrickman and his wife, Abigail sold 164 acres of this tract to Michael Core. Michael was the son of Christopher Core early pioneer in the area.
In April of 1806, Henry Barrickman had sold 60 acres of another tract of land to Samuel Davis. There is a possibility here that Hannah the wife of Samuel Davis, was a daughter to Henry and Abigail Barrickman.

History does not tell us when Henry or Abigail Barrickman died. The year of 1806 is our last record. Undoubtedly they had many children born to them. To date, I can prove only one child—that of a son, John Barrickman, and the following is a record of his direct lineage.

John Barrickman was born in 1775, in Pennsylvania. John married in West Virginia, to Barbara Plokenpaugho. Barbara was born in Virginia, in 1774. It is believed that she had an earlier marriage. Her parents were, or where she was born is unknown. Following is a list of the children of John and Barbara Barrickman. John died 8-15-1851. Barbara died 9-24-1857. They are buried in Barrickman Cemetery, No. 1, Blackville West Virginia.

Following is an interesting letter from Mrs. Cleo Williams.

Dear Miss Barrickman:

I have some memories which came from my mother; she used to tell us her people were Pennsylvania Dutch who came to Iowa and she always claimed Iowa as her "home state". Her mother died when she was my mother.
was twelve years old. Mother went to live with her aunt then at Seymore, Iowa, not far from Memphis, Missouri where her brother lived and where in later years she met and married my father. James, her twin brother was also in Memphis and came to North Dakota where he and his family stayed eight or ten years. He then returned to Missouri. We moved to Alberta some fifty years ago and of them I have lost all trace. Her other brother and wife also lived in Dakota and both died there. Their son, Roy, is a well-established business man in Devil's Lake, North Dakota.

My mother and father were married in Memphis, Missouri and went to Dakota. My father on a freight train where horses and household goods were being shipped, my mother with her new in-laws on passenger train. They unloaded at Devil's Lake, the end of the rail and drove horses the rest of the way to their "Homesteads". Of those days I cherish memories--of some I remember, others as told to me.

We had two of our sons serve in World War II-- in the Canadian Army, of course. They were among the first to enlist and went through the full time of the duration. Never seriously injured to body but so changed.

They both came home with a wife and children--lovely girls, after all of the war, one was using a tractor which turned over and he was found dead underneath.

This Keokuk, Iowa interests me, for often have I heard my mother speak of that place and tho I haven't a record to prove the fact, I fell that is where her parents lived and where she was born.

Do you have the address of any of the Barrickman's who live in Salt Lake? I do wish I had some information worth-while to give you.

I teach in a private school in a "Hutterite Colony", perhaps you have no idea what that is, but it is a religious group of people who live in colonies and have everything in common, and in this part of Canada we have, I'd say, at least 25 to 30 colonies numbering in size from 100 to 140 men, women, and children. They are a kindly people and are very, very good to me. This is my eleventh year in this colony and it almost seems like home--but, oh, how glad I am, I am not a Hutterite.

We--I--have a home in Magrath and go in Friday nights and stay until Sunday; but to be always on the move is beginning to tell on me.
I was 71 years old last August.

Hoping I have been of just a little help.

I am yours most sincerely,
om W. Williams

HENRY BARRACKMAN

On the following pages will be found copies of legal papers from Lewis and Barbour Counties, Virginia, loaned by the County Court of Philippi, West Virginia. Henry Barrackman and his younger brother, Nimrod Barrackman, in chancery versus Lathum over deed to land.

Henry Barrackman, born in 1802 in Virginia, married Catherine Scott in 1826. Record of this is to be found in the court house at Morgantown, West Virginia.

For a period of some thirty years researchers on both the Barrackman and Scott families have searched in vain for much information on the whereabouts of Henry and Catherine Barrackman in the later years of their lives.

Unfortunately to date—we do not know when they died, or where they are buried. But as their son, John S. Barrackman, lived in Upshur County, West Virginia; it is possible that they are buried in this county.

Upshur County was formed in 1851 from Randolph, Lewis, and Barbour Counties, Virginia. The 1860 census of Upshur County, Virginia lists Henry, Catherine, and the following children.

1. John S. Barrackman, age 26. John married late in the year of 1860 in Greene, Pennsylvania. His wife was Sarah E. Loudin. John had been born in July 7th, 1833 in Cassville, in Monongahelia County, Virginia. But he lived most of his life in Upshur and Braxton Counties.

John is the only child of Henry Barrackman and Catherine Scott Barrackman that we have been able to trace. His complete line of kin will follow after his father’s legal documents.

The other children at home for the 1860 census are: Mariah, age 21; Hannah, age 19; Mary, age 14; Malissa, age 10. The twins, Strather (Strawter), and Francis Ann are not listed, so undoubtedly they died as small children. The three older children: Maranda, Rachael, and David Barrackman may have married and moved away.

I can find no records to fit David Barrackman, the son of Henry and Catherine Scott Barrackman. It is possible that David married and moved West as did so many of the younger Barrackmans.

NOTE:—MISS HELEN WESP OF INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA HAS THIRTY YEARS OF RECORDS ON THE SCOTT FAMILY—IF ANYONE WISHES TO PURSUE THE SCOTT LINE.

On various dates over the months the case of Barrickman and Lanham appeared and was continued from 1842-1845 at Barbour County, Virginia. Following is an account of the appearance of Henry Barrickman before Judge Edwin S. Duncan. The date of appearance does not show on copy of court recording for that day.

To the Honorable Edwin S. Duncan, Judge of the Circuit Superior Court of Law and Chancery of Lewis County:

Humbly—comes into your court—Nimrod Barrickman (note: — name was spent in proceedings in several ways) of the County of Monongalia and Henry Barrickman of the said County of Lewis, that on the 24th day of January, 1842, your orators Henry Barrickman purchased of George B. Lanham of the said County of Lewis a tract of 127 acres of land near Buckhannon River in the said County of Lewis adjoining lands of Isaac Nager and to include the improvements and house in which the said Lanham lived, at the price of $400.00 and the said Lanham executed his hand to make to your orator a deed for said land with—and of general warranty (which Henry Barrickman signed over to Nimrod on the 4th day of January, 1843) against the first day of April of 1842, which land is filed as a part of this bill. That the said Lanham put your orator Henry Barrickman into the possession of said land under said contract, and your orator Henry Barrickman has had the possession ever since; but the said Lanham has failed and refused to make to your orators a deed for said land according to his contract and the condition of his bond, and refused to sell said land and to return to your orator Henry Barrickman possession—your orator Henry Barrickman knows he has made considerable improvements on said land that his feeling is anxiety to have a specific execution of said contract—that he cared not well he compensated in damages for the failure of said (deed) land—Lanham to make able such compensations which your orators say he is wholly unable to do; being in circumstances—your executors show that they are at common law and only relievble in equity to which they pray that the said George B. Lanham be made defendant to the bill and he be compelled to answer all its accusations under oath. That the _______? be considered by your honor (unreadable) compel the said Lanham to make to your orator Nimrod Barrickman a deed for said land and that your honor have such other _______? as may seem right.

Appearing to the court that all the part is in the cause beside with in the County of Barbour, it is ordered that this cause be transferred to the Circuit of Barbour, and that the Clerk of this court transmit the papers in the cause, together with a transcript of the proceedings had therein to the clerk of said County of Barbour.

To the Honorable Edwin S. Duncan, Judge

The answer of George B. Lanham to a bill in chancery exhibited against him in this honorable court by Nimrod Barrackman and Henry Barrackman. The respondent, George B. Lanham, says he will make proper such information as deals with said land in question. He answers he sold to Henry Barrackman 127 acres of said land as the bill claimed, and that he also executed to Barrackman the bond mentioned in said bill. George B. Lanham denies that he refused to make a deed for said land according to his contract and conditions of said bond. But on the contrary, Lanham and his wife went to the house of Major Roger to make the deed at the request of said Henry Barrackman.

Lanham then claims while at Major Roger’s house Henry Barrackman presented him with a deed drawn for the conveyance of 130-1/4 acres, which Lanham refused to sign, saying he had executed his bond for 127 acres. George B. Lanham said he would sign deed for 127 acres according to his hand. This Henry Barrackman refused to sign, and receive.

The respondent (George B. Lanham) states by contract of sale Henry Barrackman was to have made a payment on the 1st of March, 1842. This was to have been made before the making of the deed. Yet said Henry Barrackman failed to pay the same; nor has he paid George B. Lanham anything but the $125.00 which was paid in horses.

George B. Lanham claims Henry Barrackman insolvent, and that he has no property either real or personal out of which the purchased money have alluded to could be made, and now having assigned said title bond—Lanham the respondent submits whether equity will decree a deed to said Nimrod Barrackman and leave free to look to said Henry Barrackman from whom George B. Lanham can get nothing, unless he makes the same out of the land mentioned.

George B. Lanham denies he is insolvent—as Barrackmans claim, and he is ready to make the deed according to his title bond and comply in all things with his contract whenever Henry Barrackman pays him—Lanham the above sums yet due and unpaid on said land.

George B. Lanham, having answered Henry Barrackman in chancery—prays to be hence dismissed with his costs.

(signed) George B. Lanham

Before the undersigned, a justice of the peace in the county aforesaid personally appeared George B. Lanham and made oath that the foregoing answer contains the truth to the best of his knowledge and belief. Signed unto my hand this 9th day of October, 1843.

(It is not known what happened to the case in Chancery Court—other than it was dismissed. No records can be found showing it to be disposed of in another suit. That this dispute went in and out of court for a length of time is known, as elderly members of the barakman kin living in Braxton County, West Virginia, recall vaguely hard feelings, even among the Barksamans as a family.
The Barksamans were and are a tenacious and close mouthed people.
They were little given to social intercourse with others not of their own family group. This holds true of Barksamans in all areas of the United States.)
JOHN S. BARRACKMAN

Henry Barrackman, born in 1802 in Virginia, was a son of John Barrackman and Barbara Pickenpaugh Barrackman. Henry was the first male child born to John and Barbara Barrackman in Virginia; the older boys having been born in the state of Pennsylvania. Henry was named after his grandfather, Henry Barrackman, who was a very early settler in Monongalia County, Virginia.

After Henry's (II) marriage to Catherine Scott, they moved into Lewis, Barbour, and Braxton Counties, West Virginia; while they had many children, we are able to trace only the line of John S. Barrickman. John was born at Cassville, Virginia on July 7th, 1833 and married Sarah E. Loudin in Taylortown, Pennsylvania on December 7th, 1860.

Our records from here on are from authentic sources, births--deaths, --wills--deeds--etc., and they have been submitted by these Barrickman kin: carefully screened by direct kin of John S. Barrickman and his wife, Sarah E. Loudin. This relative is Mrs. DeGeta Barrickman Varnado.

Of David Barrickman, brother to John S. Barrickman, we have no knowledge—nor of a much younger brother, Henry, who had a son Clyde Barrickman.

All news or records on these missing men while not anticipated would be greatly appreciated. So if you can add to this line of kin please contact me.

Henry Barrackman, brother to John S., also had a daughter, Sarah Barrackman, who married Henry Simons. They lived near Hemlock, West Virginia. Henry Simons taught school.

NOTE:—THROUGHOUT THE BOOK IT WILL BE NOTICED THAT THE NAME OF BARRACKMAN IS ALSO SPELLED BARRICKMAN—EVEN FOR THE SAME PERSON. THESE TWO SPELLINGS OF THE NAME SEEM TO PREDOMINATE—THERE ARE, HOWEVER, MANY OTHERS—BAREKMAN, BARICKMAN, BARECKMAN, BARKMAN, BARGMAN, BERGMAN, BARGEMAN, BERGHMAN, ETC.
Genealogy of the John S. Barrickman Family of West Virginia

Randolph County in West Virginia was formed from Harrison County in 1787. It then included all of what is presently known as Tucker County, part of Barbour County, and parts of Upshur, Pocahontas, and Webster Counties. Despite the later loss of considerable land in the formation of new counties, Randolph is still the largest county in the state.

Randolph County has always been regarded as the historical center of West Virginia. Men who were to influence the entire country were born and lived in Randolph. The first white men in West Virginia made their homes there. Great battles between the whites and the Indians took place within its boundaries.

When the French and Indian War had concluded, a new and greater tide of settlers pushed westward. This tide came in three streams: one was by way of the Cumberland into the lower Monongahela Valley, a second was by way of the Greenbrier into the Kanawha Valley, and the third (which has been ignored by most historians) travelled along old Indian trails into Randolph County and on westward. This third avenue of expansion has never received the acclaim which it deserved.

It was here that the Morgans settled and where we find the marriage record of David Barrickman and Pleasant Morgan. There is also a deed recorded in Randolph County, West Virginia to Pleasant Barrickman in 1899.

Decota Barrickman Varnado of Washington, D. C. is the compiler of the following records on the John S. Barrickman family. Without her help none of the following information would have been made available to me. I wish to thank Mrs. Varnado for her unusual interest shown in her family and for the records which will be of help to so many others.
Braxton County, West Virginia, was formed from Lewis, Kanawha, and Nicholas Counties in 1836. It was in the vicinity of Braxton County that John S. Barrickman was born. The area was near Fall Run. The countryside here is rolling hillside, beautifully decorated with stately trees. Truly a natural paradise.

John S. Barrickman was born on July 7th, 1833. He died on June 29th, 1914. He is buried in Fall Run Cemetery. John married Sarah Elizabeth Loudin (born October 6th, 1837, died December 13th, 1904). Sarah lies next to her husband in the Fall Run Cemetery.

John S. Barrickman was one of the early settlers in his community. Not too far away is the town of Gassaway, West Virginia. Gassaway today centers about the shops and yards of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The town itself was not founded until 1904—as a division point on the railway between Elkins and Charleston, West Virginia, and named for United States Senator Henry C. Gassaway Davis.

Also nearby is Sutton, West Virginia, county seat of Braxton County. Sutton is a trading town for an extensive farming section. John D. Sutton settled here in 1810. The Barrickman family made many marriages with the Sutton family of West Virginia.

John S. Barrickman and his wife, Sarah, raised eight children: David Henry, Lloyd, Oatis, Mary Elizabeth, Josephine, Loretta, Lily, and Columbus.

Following is the line of David Henry Barrickman—the first born child. David Henry Barrickman was born on February 14th, 1863, at Fall Run, West Virginia. David died on January 4th, 1897, and is buried at Weston, West Virginia. He was murdered by persons unknown. A minister, who was a close friend of the family, tried to find David's murderer, but evidently he was threatened and was afraid to continue his investigation. Earlier, a farm hand, who worked with David Henry Barrickman, had poisoned his two horses. He was jealous, and wanted David's job in a lumber camp.

David Henry Barrickman married Pleasant Morgan on June 13th, 1885. She had been born on May 9th, 1866, in Randolph County. Pleasant Morgan Barrickman remarried after the death of David Henry Barrickman. She married Elias Zickefoose and they had three children. Pleasant Morgan Barrickman Zickefoose died on May 29th, 1942.

Pleasant Morgan was the daughter of Charles Morgan (born on June 12th, 1827) and Ellen Morgan. Pleasant is a direct kin to Morgan ap Morgan, who is credited with being the first white man to build a permanent home in what was then Virginia. Later Berkeley County, the home of Morgan ap Morgan, became a part of West Virginia.

Morgan ap Morgan received patent to 1000 acres of land in Western Virginia. In 1726 and 1727 he built a log cabin near Bunker Hill on Mill Creek, in Berkeley County, West Virginia. He did not settle there with his family until 1730. Morgan ap Morgan was born in 1688 in Wales. He came to the colonies as a young man. He was a captain of the militia, served as a justice, and was active in affairs of the state. Morgan ap Morgan built the first established road in the state of Virginia. This road was built along an early Indian and buffalo trail.

The first Protestant Episcopal Church was built by Morgan ap Morgan in the year of 1740. It was called the Mill Creek Church.

Many Germans from Pennsylvania came into this region, and when George Washington was surveying land for Lord Fairfax in 1748 and 1749, '50, and '51, he reported many squatters of German origin.

In Berkeley County, Virginia, during the time of the Revolutionary War we have record of Michael Barrickman, also spelled Bargman, and Barrickman. While in Berkeley County, Michael furnished supplies for the men engaged in freedom's fight against the British. He supplied provisions and helped transport the sick and the injured. Michael Barrickman and his family will appear in "The Barrickmans of Maryland" edited by my partner, Mr. Hank Jones.

Serving from the state of Virginia during the Revolution was John Bayrockman (Barrickman) in 1777. He served under Captain James Sullivan of the 13th Virginia regulars commanded by Colonel William Russell.

John Barrickman deserted on November 14th, 1777. It was undoubtedly because of his family that he deserted, he probably went home to help them provide for the long winter ahead. We have further record of John serving from a unit in Pennsylvania.

Jacob Barrickman served from Jefferson County, Virginia—later a part of Kentucky. He was a private during the Revolutionary War—served under Captain Michael Humble in one of Colonel George Rogers Clark's units. Jacob had 100 acres of land in Berkeley County, Virginia in the year of 1784. The record on this is found in the Martinsburg Court House in Virginia.

Jacob and John Barrickman are sons of Michael and Eva Barrickman who moved into Maryland.

Jacob Barrickman and his family moved into Kentucky. His story will appear in "Barrickmans of Kentucky and Pioneers of the Early West".

There seems little doubt that the Morgans and the Barrickmans knew each other well from early days in Berkeley and surrounding countryside.

Zachquill Morgan was a son of Morgan ap Morgan. "Zach" reached what is now the site of Morgantown, West Virginia, in 1767. He and the other men in his party cleared land and erected two forts and some log houses. The forts were Fort Kern and Fort Morgan.

By 1781 land belonging to Zach Morgan was laid off in lots for a town. In 1783 the seat of Monongalia County was moved here. George Washington came to Morgantown in that year to confer with Colonel Zach Morgan as to the possibilities of building or producing an inland water way or land route to the west through Virginia territory.

Charles Morgan, the father of Pleasant Morgan, was a grandson of Zachquill Morgan.

David Henry Barrickman and Pleasant Morgan Barrickman had five children: Oscar L., Thomas Weedon, Lulu Blanche, Lewis Morgan and David Henry Barrickman Jr.

Oscar L. Barrickman, the son of David Henry and Pleasant Barrickman, and grandson of John S. Barrickman, was born on March 29th, 1888, at Fall Run, West Virginia. Oscar married Blanche Lillian Jones on January 5th, 1917. Oscar served in World War I. He was the cashier of the Picken Bank, later did bank work in Elkins, West Virginia. Prior to that Oscar Barrickman taught school.

Oscar L. Barrickman and Blanche Lillian Jones Barrickman had three children: Evelyn, Charles, and Thelma.
The second son of David Henry Barrickman and Pleasant Morgan Barrickman was Thomas Weeden.

Thomas Weeden Barrickman was born on April 4th, 1890 in Weston, West Virginia. He married Fannie Wegman on April 1st, 1923. Fannie Wegman was born in Zurich, Switzerland, the daughter of Henry Wegman and Fannie Bachman. They had eleven children, all born in Adolph, West Virginia. David Scott (Seal)
In Virginia the people west of the mountains had long wished for a state of their own. By late 1801, Virginia had lost the territory lying between the Alleghenies and the Ohio River. The west portion of Virginia was poor and the people were over-taxed.

Life was hard in western Virginia and the people wanted more land. Most of them were illiterate, even the clerks could not spell with accuracy. They had to depend on itinerant preachers, and there were no schools. In spite of many adverse circumstances the people were not given to drink, and there was little drunkeness.

The west Virginians wanted schools, roads and public buildings of their own. In the eastern part of the state new roads, bridges, and public buildings were being built; and all important positions were filled by men in the eastern part of Virginia.

When the Civil War came—the west portion of Virginia wished to take advantage of the ready opportunity: it seceded from the eastern part of the state.

The sons of West Virginia enlisted in the Union Army and fought with the soldiers of the North!

Hu Maxwell states:

West Virginia furnished 36,530 soldiers for the Union Army—and 7000 for the Confederacy.

West Virginia had "home guards"—32 companies in all—of state troops. These home guards defended the counties to which they belonged. Thus West Virginia owes its existence as a separate state to the occurrence of the Civil War. Unfortunately many county records were lost due to the burning of court houses.

President Abraham Lincoln proclaimed on April 20th, 1863: that West Virginia would be admitted to the Union. The surrender of Lee at Appomattox ended organized resistance to the authority of the Federal Government!

Berkeley County and Jefferson County, Virginia were added to West Virginia in late 1863. From these counties Jacob and John Barrackman had served during the Revolutionary War period; as had Michael. The latter's services, however, had been non-military in nature. The lower end of the valley of Virginia was watered by the Shenandoah and Potomac Rivers. Here we have knowledge of the landholdings of Peter Barrackman and Fredrick Barrackman—and of Andrew Bergman (Barrackman).

The first inland fight was a surprise attack made on the Confederate camp in Phillipi, Barbour County.

After the end of the war wherever possible records of original land grants of West Virginia with the numbers of valuable books, documents, and papers relating to land holdings in the state prior to the formation of West Virginia were transferred to Charleston, West Virginia. These documents had been in the office of the auditor and registrar in Richmond, Virginia. An act of legislature gave the authority for this transfer of original records to West Virginia. This transfer then made the records for the state of West Virginia fairly complete.

Medals of Honor were to be presented to over 25,000 men who served in the West Virginia Army. This medal contained on one side the name of the soldier with his regiment, battalion or battery—surrounded by a wreath. On the reverse side was an appropriate design and inscription. The medal was to be suspended by a piece of tri-colored ribbon (cost not to exceed $1.00). There were four variations of medal:

1. For those in volunteer army honorably discharged from service.
2. For those killed in battle.
3. For those who died from wounds received in battle.
4. For those who died of diseases contracted in battle.

The medals for the men killed or who died of wounds or diseases in service, were to be delivered to their families.

The engraver—A. Demarest was from New York. The artist who finished the dies was J. Segal. The medals were of copper finely bronzed. Of 26,099 medals, 3,000 were on hand unclaimed in 1881. Most of the men who did not pick up their medal, did not know that they were entitled to them—and were now living for the most part in western states.

Miss June B. Barricman
7222 Farmland Ave.,
Pico Rivera, California

My Great Grandfather—Benjamin or John Barricman (there is some doubt which name is correct) Also the spelling of Barricman. We now pronounce it as if there was an "h" in it—So no doubt it must of been that way at one time.

Anyway—Benjamin Barricman came from Virginia (whether it was West Virginia or not we do not know. He ran away from home and went to sea as a sailor. He came from a very proud family, so much so, that they disinherited him. A sailor in those days were not thought of as they are to-day. His father was a Judge and a very proud man. There were brothers and sisters, but that is all we know.

Benjamin Barricman married twice—The first marriage was to a Mary Magdalene Brady and they had one child Charles Brady Barricman born Aug. 13, 1818 at New Orleans, La. His wife died 3 weeks after his birth, he left the baby with friends by the name of Fuller, who raised him till he was around 16 yrs old.

Benjamin married again and had two sons (who he married or the sons names we do not know) On one of his visits to his son he only told him that he had re-married and that he had two half-brothers. He promised that on his return from his next voyage to sea that he would give him the address of his people in Virginia, and would try to reconcile with them for the boy's sake.

Benjamin Barricman went to sea (we understand he was Captain of his own ship) and never returned. The report was that the ship burned at sea and if anyone was saved we never knew.

Charles Brady Barricman moved to Paduach Ky in the 1870's and married a Miss Sarah Francis Gldson (born Nov. 5, 1851 in Henry County Tenn.) They were Married Nov. 1, 1875 at Paducah Ky. by Rev. R. S. McLean, Minister of Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

They had 7 children
1 Daisybud Barricman May 28, 1876 Ferrell Texas
2 Flora Dean Barricman Sept 4, 1877 Paducah Ky died May 10, 1916
3 Frances Estella Barricman Jan 14, 1879 Paducah Ky

Barricman served in World War I and retired in 1927 as Chief Gunner's Mate after 20 yrs. service. He then moved to Princeton, Ky., where his sister Estella lived. He worked for the Illinois Central Railroad, as a storekeeper until 1931 when he moved to California, for his wife's health. He arrived in Los Angeles, Calif. September 1931, just a few months before the big earthquake of 1933. The U. S. Navy called him back to active duty in 1939 and he served out the World War 2 as Chief Gunner in the Naval Armory at San Pedro, California. He retired again after the war in 1945 and bought a home and settled down in the city of La Puente, Calif. where he died at the age of 69 Nov. 1953. His wife and all his children are still living.

5 Dorothy Louise Barricman: (Twin to George) married Stanley P. Daniels in 1939 in Montebello California. Had children, and now lives in La Puente, California.

Well June that seems to take care of the Barricman family as we know it. I have never, in all my worldly travels, ever run across anyone with a name like mine, until I received your inquires.

I read quite a bit, and a few years ago, I was reading "A Pictorial History of the Wild West" by James D. Horan & Paul Sann, and on page 122 I read of a Alex Barrickman, who was shot to death by a posse of Texas Rangers, because he was a cousin to John Wesley Hardin, and believed to be in with him in his crimes. Also another cousin was shot with him, a Ham Anderson. This happened in 1877.

I also read the same account in another book "Famous Sheriff's & Outlaws" by William MacLeod Rains. Only he spelled the name Alex Barrickman.

In looking back over our family, I notice that my Grandfather's first child, Aunt-Daisybud Barricman was born in Texas in 1876 in the town of Ferrel. I have not yet been able to locate it on the map of Texas yet, but Alex or Aleck Barrickman was killed in or around Comanche, Texas. So there could be and might be some connection, because, my grandfather's second child Flora Dean Barricman was born back in Paducah Ky (where he had married) in Sept 1877.

I am sorry you have waited so long to hear from me, but I had to do a little research of my own.

I am and will be anxious to have a copy of your book when it is completed.

Thanking you very kindly

Old Deeds Series, 4, p. 104. (Sept. 1807)
Quit claim deed for 100 acres made by John Barrackman Jr. To James Morris to correct an error in a deed made by John Barrackman Sr. (John Jr. gave back the 100 acres), for John Barrackman is since deceased.
In this case John Sr. can be John Henry Barrackman who first had claim to land in 1873 in western Virginia—in Monongahela County. Henry also had division of land over various years on other tracts of land. By 1805-1806 he was severely in debt—and this is the last record we have on him. His son would be John Barrackman born in 1775 in Pennsylvania. John Jr. also had land in Monongahela County, Virginia. His son John was not born until 1813. These are the only West Virginia Johns we know of.

John Barrackman of Fayette County, Pennsylvania was married to Catherine—last name unknown. Their son-in-law was a Core. These Core families went into West Virginia and had a village named after them. This John of Pennsylvania also had a son named John. They may have lived for a time in West Virginia.

John Barrackman served in the Revolutionary War from Virginia—who he actually was—we do not know. He also may have lived in the area, and had a son named John Barrackman Jr. These men lived in the Berkeley County Virginia area.

Old Deeds Series, 12, p. 398. (11-15-1832)
Elizabeth, Christian John, and Rebecca Barrackman made deed to Richard Holland for 159 acres on White Day Creek, being part of a tract patented to Samuel Hanway and Thomas Miller. This deed made by above "by state of inheritance".

We are anxious to learn the connection of this family with other Barrackman families. Rebecca Barrackman’s maiden name was CHAMPER. She was the widow of Henry Barrackman. This family lived also in Maryland and moved into Belmont County, Ohio.

(This was signed in german by Andrew using his mark and Susanna using her mark--Bergman)
From the transactions that took place between Lord Halifax and Peter Barrickman it seems fairly obvious that Peter Barrickman was a widower. Grants from Lord Halifax generally included the entire family. At this time it included only Peter and his two children, Fredrick and Elizabeth Barrickman.

Peter Barrickman leases his land to John Dalrymple; this lease included the names of his children Fredrick and Elizabeth Barrickman.

The third deed is in what is now Hampshire County, West Virginia. This deed went through the superior court and said for Berkeley County, and Shenandoah County, but more likely it should read Hampshire County, West Virginia.

We find Peter Barrickman and children living in Fredrick County, Virginia; and Andrew Bergman (Barrickman) living in Shenandoah County, Virginia.

It is likely that these families came from Pennsylvania to the Shenandoah Valley where there was a huge settlement of German people.

It must be remembered that Fredrick County, Virginia was cut from Augusta County in 1732. Then Shenandoah, Berkeley, and part of Hampshire were cut off from Fredrick County, Virginia in about 1772.

This interesting theory on where these Barrickmans came from and where they eventually settled will be recorded in full with accuracy by Hank Jones.

NOTE: Maxwell and Fast—authors of books dealing with early West Virginia and Virginia history claim that the descendants of the settlers in the Shenandoah Valley were among the pioneers who later crossed the Alleghenies, and build cabins on the Kanawha, Monongahela, and Ohio Rivers. Some Virginia soldiers returning home after Dunmore's War in 1774 used the old Seneca Trail—sometimes called Shawnee Trail into Hampshire County and into the valley of Virginia.

This statement then can show that there may be a possible connection between Henry Barrickman of Morgantown, West Virginia, who had land from Lord Halifax at an earlier date; and Peter Barrickman of Shenandoah County, Virginia.
