DISCLAIMER

The information in this book was compiled and presented to the best of my ability. I apologize for the omission of any individuals or families and for any errors in the listings. I plan to include any corrections submitted in a future edition.
This book is dedicated to the memory of my father, Denver Leo Mills, 1930 - 1991. His advice and support for this project was very helpful in the early stages, but sadly, he passed away before he could see the results. I'll always remember Dad's smile and his ever-present, though sometimes corny, sense of humor. He was a quiet, intelligent man who preferred to be home with his family and hobbies over anything else. It seemed to my brothers and me that he knew everything and could fix anything.

Dad didn't give praise very often, but when he did you knew you had done something special. I think this helped encourage me to try to do my best in life's endeavors, because I believe Dad wanted his sons to achieve more than he did.

I remember his many hobbies and interests as I grew up. He spent time on his electronic projects, gardening, beekeeping, model airplanes, military vehicle collecting, knife collecting, and most recently, antique motor scooter restoring. I can't recall visiting him and Mom when he didn't pull me aside to show me, with much pride, his latest project. I guess I'll miss those times most of all.

The book is also dedicated to my wife, Debra, whose patience, computer expertise, and editorial assistance helped immeasurably toward completion of this edition.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I offer thanks and appreciation to everyone who provided advice, information, and support in this effort. They are too numerous to list them all. However, I acknowledge the following, listed in no particular order, for providing special assistance:

Rodney Mills, my brother, for his expertise in computer programming to convert my data files from Personal Ancestral File format to a format that was used to generate this book. This saved many hours of retyping time and enabled me to edit and add entries right up to printing time.

Debra Mills, my wife, for her expertise in coordinating with Rodney to convert the files and write the final program to generate this book. In addition, I thank her for her patience and assistance in spending many hours at libraries and court houses researching files with me, and for urging me to publish the results. She also figured prominently in preparing the preliminaries to this book.

Golden Mills of Pride, Louisiana, for providing me with the bulk of the information on the descendants of Farmer C. and Emily (Adkins) Mills.

Victor Mills of Randle, Washington, for providing me with descendancy information for Columbus C. and Mary (Scalf) Mills.

Fred Mills of Tomahawk, Kentucky, for assisting me in locating old graves for Mills family members in Martin County, Kentucky, and for showing me the location of the old Mills homestead in Tomahawk. He also gave me a first hand account of the only known Mills murder (his mother Lucinda).

Carroll B. Mills of Kenwood, California, for providing me with numerous details on the descendants of Thomas William and Sarah (Ewing) Mills. He also provided his computer data files to merge with my files to save rekeying of information.

Mae Gravely of Huntington, West Virginia, for information on the descendants of James "Banty" Mills.

Elva Whitham of Dunbar, West Virginia, my aunt, who provided much information on the descendants of Farmer C. and Emily (Adkins) Mills.
FOREWORD

This project was started soon after the death of my paternal grandmother, Rachel (Clay) Mills, as I realized that many of that generation were now gone but little of the history of my Mills ancestors was known. In fact, I could find no one who knew for sure the identity of my great-great-grandfather. My original goal was to determine if any of my Mills ancestors had fought in the Civil War, and on which side. As I started to pursue the family line, I became very interested in going back as far as I could and to determine if all of the Mills in Wayne County were actually related.

I found that indeed most of the Mills in western West Virginia and eastern Kentucky were descendants from the sons of one man, William Mills. I also found that many of the Mills descendants were no longer just names but real people who had moved to find better land and futures for their families, to avoid guerilla attacks after the Civil War, and to be closer to other members of their families. I discovered Mills relatives who were farmers, doctors, lawyers, engineers, nuclear scientists, craftsmen, and even a guard at Alcatraz Prison. There were also people who were "distant" relatives that were able to contribute to the collection of family stories and to the feeling of the Mills family.

I planned originally to bring all of the known lines of Mills relatives down as far as possible to the present before publishing a history, but the death of my father in the spring of 1991 changed all that. I decided that it was important to publish a book as soon as possible, to allow the older generations an opportunity to see their relationship to other Mills lines.

Therefore, this book is being issued as a "First Edition" to allow many of the people whom I've contacted a chance to see what I've compiled with their assistance. It will also allow others an opportunity to provide me with feedback on their lines. I regret not being able to include photographs in this edition. However, I plan to issue another, more comprehensive edition in the future that will include photographs, more descendants, and more of the stories that make the Mills family come to life.
INTRODUCTION

When I started this project, I thought there were at least two different lines of Mills in Wayne County, West Virginia. I had never even heard of any Mills lines in eastern Kentucky. However once I found the link to Washington County, Virginia, I soon concluded that most of the Mills in western West Virginia and eastern Kentucky are descended from one man.

In tracing my direct line back, I discovered that my great-great-great-grandfather, William "Billy" Mills, had stated in one of his marriage records that he was born in Washington County, Virginia. From census records, I believed his birth date to be about 1806. I then began searching Washington County records for this time period for clues to his parents' identities.

According to 1805 tax records a William Mills was living in Washington County. This was the only Mills living in the county at that time, and there is no record of him in this county prior to that date. According to the 1810 Washington County census records William's family consisted of 1 male between 26 and 45, 1 male between 10 and 16, 3 males under 10, and 1 female between 26 and 45. The 1820 census shows William's family, still the only Mills family in the county, consisting of 1 male over 45, 2 males between 16 and 26, 2 males between 10 and 16, 1 male under 10, 1 female over 45, and 1 female under 10. By comparing these records it is possible to determine the approximate ages for family members. I concluded that this William was the father of Billy. From land records, we know the following about William. In 1813, he purchased 94 acres in Washington County for $55.25. In 1828, he and his wife Betsy sold their land in two parcels, one to a Thomas Mills and one to a William Combs. By 1830 William is no longer in Washington County, but Thomas and his family are now listed as the only Mills family in the county.

Through land transactions, I was able to trace Thomas to Floyd County, Kentucky and then on to Wayne County, West Virginia. From Thomas' age (born ca. 1800) and his purchase of land from William, I concluded that Thomas was most likely another son of William. While I was not able to find a marriage record for Thomas, land transactions indicate that his wife's name was Sarah. Massie's Ferguson Family Genealogical History says that her name was Sally Ewing.

I had also discovered a marriage record for a John Mills and Polly Price in 1825 in Washington County. I traced him to Lawrence County, Kentucky and then on to Wayne County, West Virginia, owning land there not far from the Thomas Mills family. His age and the facts that both he and Thomas had stated in census records that they were born in North Carolina, and that they had both lived in Washington County, Virginia, allowed me to conclude John was probably the eldest son of William. Although I have yet to prove this with documented evidence, it's most likely the case.

At this point I then needed to determine where William and the remainder of the family had moved and the names of the remaining children. William had apparently sold out to Thomas in 1828 and left the county. Since Thomas eventually moved there, I started examining the Floyd County, Kentucky records in more detail. In the 1830 Floyd County census, the only Mills listed is a William Mills who was the right age to have been in Washington County ten years before. This William was a natural born U.S. citizen. The family is now considerably smaller, and includes an older member, perhaps a relative of his wife. Floyd County marriage records show a George Mills marrying a Molly Crum and Polly Mills marrying Jesse Crum, both on May 9, 1930. Both George and Polly listed William Mills as their father on the marriage license and in later census records listed Virginia as their place of birth. Polly’s death listing on December 18, 1856, in Wayne County showed her parents to be William and Elizabeth (Betsy, perhaps?) Mills. I believe these to be the youngest children of William. William most likely died sometime between 1830 and 1840, since by 1840 no record can be found for him.

Through the combination of land, census, and marriage records detailed above, the assumed family is William, born between 1765 and 1775; his wife Elizabeth (Betsy); John, born about 1798; Thomas, born about 1800; William (Billy), born about 1806; George, born about 1810; and Polly, born about 1813. Further details on the families and moves of each of these children can be found in their individual chapters. Three of these children and descendants from the other two lived in Wayne County. Descendants from all except Polly, who apparently died childless, still live in Wayne County.

I have yet to identify the remaining child for William. One theory is that William’s other son was a man named James Mills who lived in Lee County, Virginia, in the early 1800’s. Lee County is in close proximity to Washington County in the southwestern corner of the state. Margaret (Mills) Frazier, in her book Mills, Frazier, and Allied Families, mentions family stories about James’ descendants living in Wayne County. I have not been able to verify this information. James is of the right age (born ca. 1800) to be another son of William. However, evidence is lacking that would support this.

Who was William Mills? Where was he prior to 1805? Since both Thomas and John stated in census records that they were born in North Carolina, it’s reasonable to assume that he was living in North Carolina sometime prior to 1805. Unfortunately, census and marriage records are difficult to find for that time period. A search of marriage records of northwestern North Carolina, western Virginia, and eastern Tennessee revealed no mention of a William Mills marrying a Betsy between 1770 and 1805.

One possibility is that William is the son of Richard and Hannah Mills, a Quaker family that once lived in Guilford, North Carolina, then moved to the Stokes County area of North Carolina, which is close to Washington County, then settled in Jefferson County, Tennessee. The Quakers of this time period are famous for their record keeping, but many of the records for this part of North Carolina have been lost. We do know that Richard and Hannah had a son named William of the right age (born June 15, 1773), but he disappears from Quaker records after the early 1790’s. From reading the Quaker records of this time period we find that they are a very strict people and members could be shunned for many things, including marrying "out of the church", fighting, or carrying a weapon. While the Quaker’s records do show marriage and death records for most of Richard’s children, nothing is found for William. According to Washington County history there was a group of Quakers living in the county in the early 1800’s; however, no detailed records for this group of Quakers exists. More detailed information on Richard and Hannah can be found in a book by Paul Mills, Mills and Related Lines.

Another theory is that William is related to one or more of several Millses living in Henry County, Virginia, on the North Carolina border, in the late 1700’s and early 1800’s. There were several Williams in this area, but I have not been able to identify a specific William of the right age. Coincidentally, a descendant of this family, James Peyton Mills, moved into Wayne County, West Virginia in the 1870’s. Most of this family later moved to Cabell County, West Virginia.

I continue to research the family line back. If any readers would like to offer their theories, family stories, or additional information on the ancestry of William, I would be glad to hear from you.
GUIDE TO USING THE BOOK

The book is arranged in five chapters, one for each of the known children of William and Betsy Mills. At the beginning of each chapter will be text describing the life of that child. Following that will be the family listings which bring the lines down as far as presently known. The listings are arranged so that it is easy to follow a direct line straight down. In a listing for a family the parent is assigned a family number. Each child is listed with a Roman numeral, indicating their birth order in the family. If a child was married, then a number indicating that child’s family number is listed before the Roman numeral. To find the listing for that child as a parent, scan the family numbers until the entry for that child is found. A number in square brackets immediately follows the family number which indicates the number of generations from William.

EXAMPLE

Children:
282 i Mills, Roger Lee
   ii Mills, Rodney Dee
283 iii Mills, Gary Leo

In the above example, Denver has the family number of 281, and he is the sixth generation from William. Two of his sons have marriage information, found at family numbers 282 and 283. The other son is not married, and thus has no family information.

If a person has more than one spouse, the listing for other spouses and any children follow immediately after the child listings for the first spouse. The order of the spouse is indicated by a number after the "m" in the listing.

Occasionally, children were found for a descendant who was not married. In order to arrange the listings for descendancy, the families are listed as if the mother and father were married.

Sometimes a Mills descendant would marry another Mills descendant. If the two descendants are from the same line (i.e. chapter), each is listed under their respective parents, but their offspring are listed only once, under the first descendant encountered, and the second descendant will have a family number reference only. If the marriage is between descendants of two different lines (i.e., chapters), then complete family information will appear in the respective chapter for each descendant.

This book was generated utilizing several computer programs. Certain appearances in the book are the result of those programs. As much as possible, last names are printed in capital letters. However, due to programming quirks, some first names that are also last names for other people will also be in capital letters, and some last names that are also first names will be lower case.

An index is provided to locate specific people within the book. To distinguish between people with the same name, birth dates if known will be listed after the name in the index.

JOHN MILLS

John is believed to be the eldest child of William and Betsy Mills. Most of John's information concerning his three known marriages and travel from Washington County, Virginia to Wayne County, West Virginia comes from marriage, land, and Census records.

From Census records it is believed that he was born in about 1798 in North Carolina. He was first married on July 22, 1825 in Washington County, VA to Polly Price. They had only one child that can be identified, Martin, born around 1826. John purchased land in Washington Co. on January 20, 1829 for $140 and purchased another 36 acres on September 12, 1837.

By 1841, John was living in Lawrence Co., KY, when he married Ruth Sammons and they subsequently had several children together: Thomas, William Carter, James M., Randolph, Emily, Polly, and Mary E. John was listed on the tax roles for Lawrence Co. from 1840 through 1852 with land ranging from 550 acres to 1100 acres. On October 24, 1853 he and Ruth sold the land he had originally purchased in 1837 in Washington Co., VA. On November 26, 1850, he sold part of the land he had purchased in 1829, and sold the remainder on October 12, 1872, by this time living in Wayne Co., WV.

On November 10, 1859 John married Elizabeth Copley from Giles Co., VA. He purchased land on Beech Fork in Wayne Co., WV on April 14, 1866 from Sarah Fraley. He later sold this land to his son Randolph on February 12, 1873. This is the last known record for him. His death date and burial place are unknown.

vii ELSWICK, Walter David. When Walter was a baby, his mother Nancy became ill and was placed in a hospital. His father could not care for all the children, especially Walter since he was so small. He was placed in a foster home which was supposed to be temporary, until his mother was well again. However, the Elswick family, in whose home he had been placed, wanted to keep him. They then adopted him without his mother's knowledge. When his mother recovered, there was nothing she could do to get him back. The Elswick family would not let Walter know who his real family was. It was not until he was an adult that he traced his family and contacted his mother. He now lives in California. This information from his niece, Tranquilla Whitt.

THOMAS MILLS

Thomas Mills is believed to be the second son of William and Betsy Mills. Thomas stated his birthplace as North Carolina in U.S. Census records, born around 1800. Sometime before 1805, he and his older brother John had moved with their parents to Washington County, VA. Thomas first shows up in Washington Co. records in 1825 by purchasing 150 acres from Henry Pippen on Moccasin Gap on March 24. On July 12, 1828, he purchased 47 acres from William and Betsey Mills in Little Moccasin Gap for $100, and sold the land on September 29, 1835 to Mary Ewing, believed to be a relative of his wife, Sarah.

He married Sarah Ewing sometime before 1827. His oldest son Oliver listed his own date and place of birth as 1827 in Washington Co., VA. Thomas and his family moved to Floyd Co., KY, sometime before 1831 since his second son James said he was born in Floyd Co. in 1831 and Thomas shows up on the tax list there in 1837. We know that this is the same Thomas who lived in Washington Co., VA, because Washington County land transaction records show a Thomas and Sarah Mills of Floyd Co., KY, selling 94 acres in Little Moccasin Gap to a John Countess for $75 on January 7, 1839. Thomas was listed in the Floyd Co., KY, tax records from 1837 to 1844, and in 1844 he's listed as owning 165 acres on Johns Creek.

Thomas and family moved to Wayne County, WV, sometime between 1844 and 1849 because on March 15, 1849, he purchased 99 1/2 acres on Beech Fork, Wayne Co., VA, from Caleb Clay for $225. West Virginia land grant records indicate that a Thomas Mills was granted two parcels of land on Beech Fork in 1846, one for 125 acres and one for 220 acres. He was listed in the 1850 and 1860 U.S. Census records for Wayne County.

Thomas and Sarah had five known children: Oliver, James, Nancy Jane, Thomas Scott and Mary. Thomas died about 1869. His wife Sarah died about 1880. Their burial sites are unknown. Many of his descendants still reside on Beech Fork.

2 [ 2] MILLS, Oliver N., b 1827 WaC VA. d 11 AUG 1864 Fort Delaware, NJ. buried Finn's Pt. NJ. m 1848, WC WV FRALEY, Mary Jane b 1831, VA. The following on Oliver obtained from James R. "Sammy" Hall. Oliver enlisted in the 8th Virginia Cavalry of the CSA in September 1862 for three years. The 8th became or was also known as the Guyandotte Battalion and/or Ferguson's Battalion which eventually became the 16th Virginia Cavalry. In late December 1863 a detachment of the 16th, the regiment at that time belonging to A. G. Jenkins' brigade which was composed also of the 14th and 17th Virginia regiments, the latter operating in southwest Virginia, was sent by Major General Sam Jones, commanding the Department of Western Virginia, on a raid/scout to Wayne County. Jones instructed Col. M.J. Ferguson, then commanding the expedition, to ascertain the locations of hogs, cattle and sheep in the border counties of Kentucky and the practicability of removing them to Virginia to supply Lee's army. This was done seemingly at the request of Lee, there being a reply from Sam Jones to Lee on this subject. While engaged in this activity, Ferguson dispatched a detachment from his group in Wayne County under the command of Major James H. Nounan on January 26 toward the Kanawha River via Putnam and Mason counties. On February 3 Nounan and his detachment of 40 men captured the steamboat Levi at Red House. On board was General E.P. Scammon and some of his staff. The general and attending officers were sent to Richmond. In the meantime, company G of the U.S. Third West Virginia Cavalry, operating out of Louisa, Kentucky, apparently made contact with some of Ferguson's men near Wayne Court House (Wayne) in the vicinity of Twelve Pole Creek on January 27. Oliver Mills was captured on this date. No Federal losses were recorded. Oliver eventually died as a POW at Fort Delaware in New Jersey, and is buried at Finn's Pt. on the New Jersey shore.

WILLIAM MILLS

William Mills was perhaps the most difficult person to trace, but also the one for which we now have the most information. From the record of his marriage to his second wife Julia Barnard, we know he was born in Washington Co., VA, circa 1806. When his parents moved to Floyd Co., KY, in the late 1820's, William moved to Clay Co., KY and lived there until about 1841. While living there William and his wife Mary had at least 4 children: John L.H., America, Columbus C., and George Washington. In 1841 William obtained a land grant for 100 acres on Johns Creek of Floyd Co., KY, where his parents and brother Thomas were living. His parents died soon after and Thomas moved to Wayne Co., VA, in 1844. Soon after this William's children started marrying and setting up their own households nearby. The family was living on the border between Floyd and Pike counties and records are found in both counties. Mary died in December of 1853 from consumption.

William was married to Julia Barnard in January of 1854. Their daughter Elizabeth was born in October, and Julia died soon afterward in May of 1855.

William's third marriage was to a widow, Sarah James, in September of 1855. Sarah had two children, Mary and Sidney, from her earlier marriage and had four children by William: Millie, Thomas, Richard C., and Abraham Lincoln Mills. Sometime between 1861 and 1865, William left his farm of 1806 acres and found refuge for his family in Johnson Co. (this part of which later became Martin County), to avoid the raids and ambushes occurring in the area due to the Civil War. William appeared to have had a son fight for each side; John L.H. was in the 68th Kentucky Infantry (Enrolled Militia), while it is believed that George was in the 8th Virginia Calvary. After the war, William sold his land in Floyd Co. on May 25, 1867. He did not stay long in Martin County, before becoming disenchanted with Kentucky and, with wife Sarah and their children (including Elizabeth), moved back to Virginia. In 1871 he sold his 1100 acres in Martin Co. on the Rockhouse Fork of Rockcastle Creek and on March 9, 1871 and April 13, 1871 bought a total of 982 acres on Cumberland Mountain in Wise County. In 1880 this farm became a part of Dickenson Co., VA.

William joined and was baptized in Pound Fork Church of Regular Baptist Church of Jesus Christ on August 20, 1875. Less than 3 weeks later on September 6, 1875, William died. It is believed that he was buried somewhere on his land, which is still owned by his descendants.

Very little is know about William the person. He appeared to disdain the single life for he married very soon after his first and second wives died. He was a wanderlust who did not remain anywhere longer than 10 or 15 years. From Census records and land transactions we know that he couldn't write, but was able to read, at least late in life. He was baptized into a Baptist denomination right before he died, but any earlier religious affiliations are unknown.

His grandson Victor Mills of Randle, Washington, said that he was told that Columbus died shortly after an illness sustained when he was caught in a severe winter storm while returning home by foot from serving on a jury in Inez, KY. Victor also said that his grandmother Mary Scalf Mills came with his family to Washington in 1909, but she never adjusted to the climate and soon returned to her home in Kentucky where she lived to be 92 plus years old. In his book, Chronicles of the Scalf Family, Henry P. Scalf said, "Columbus and Mary Mills sent to housekeeping on Johns Creek, the exact location undetermined but it was somewhere in the section between the present postoffice of Gulnare and the mouth of Dick's Creek. If they owned land, no record exists of it. Their first child, Henry, was born there, Feb. 22, 1859. The family withstood the vicissitudes of civil war, and its attendant horrors of guerrilla anarchy until the year 1864. The Civil War was slowly ending on the battlefield but peace was not returning to Johns Creek for the renewed fury of guerrilla activity had reduced the valley to hatred, murder, pillage and arson. Guerrillas robbed the family several times. How to survive became the most pressing of problems and Columbus sought a haven somewhere in Eastern Kentucky which guerrillas were overlooking. He found it on Rockhouse Creek, a long tributary stream of Rockcastle Creek that flows into Tug River. Few settlers had entered the long valley and free land and game abounded. Columbus and Mary, she now pregnant with her second son, Laban, decided to move there. As the crow flies it is no great distance but considering the rugged terrain over which they would have to travel it would be a trek of magnitude. Gathering their household furnishings and farm tools they loaded a farm wagon and moved. Down Johns Creek they wended their way, the family cow, which had escaped the guerrillas tied to the tail gate of the wagon. They came to the mouth of Johns Creek, descended the Big Sandy River. Turning north, they crossed several mountains onto Rockcastle Creek, ascended it a distance of several miles and finally after another mountain over which there was scarcely a road at all, they arrived on Rockhouse Creek. Neighbors were several miles away. Columbus and Mary built a rude cabin for the approaching winter. Site of the new home was near the mouth of a little, Trace Fork, a few miles from the present post office of Tomahawk, in the present Martin County."

b ABT 1859. d 7 FEB 1932 Tomahawk, MC, KY. Lucinda died while involved in a religious cult experience. Henry P.
Scalf wrote, in his book Kentucky's Last Frontier, "February snow blanketed the countryside when the Mills family and their adherents assembled in a schoolhouse near Thomahawk(sic) on a Saturday night. Leader of the strange new cult was John H. Mills, 32, son of Mrs. Lucinda Mills, 72, who accompanied her relatives to the services. Several children also attended the night rites. The meeting broke up at a late hour and all went to the home of Mrs. Mills on Rockhouse Creek. Here services were resumed and continued through the night, into and including Sunday, Sunday night, Monday and through that night until Tuesday morning. The story of the weird rites being practiced by the Mills cult spread and officers went on Monday to investigate. They took the children away, but allowed the others to continue their mad invocations. Tuesday morning a man approached the Mills home and broke open the door. He saw the aged Mrs. Mills lying dead on the floor, a chain twisted around her neck and a votary of the cult kneeling upon her body, holding an uplifted knife. Officers were summoned and all of the eight remaining worshippers were taken to jail in Inez. A spokesman said that they were going to resurrect Mrs. Mills from the dead in three days. Eight others were also slated for sacrifice."

From what can be gleaned from available documentation, George Mills had a relatively short and uneventful life. Born about 1810, the first record we have of him is his marriage on May 9, 1830 in Floyd Co., KY, to Martha "Molly" Crum. His sister Polly was married on the same day to Martha's brother Jesse. In 1840 George bought 25 acres of land for $1.00 from Frederic Crum in Lawrence Co., KY. George and Martha had at least eight children before George died: Elizabeth, William, Mary Ann, Martha J., John, George W., Jesse, and Amanda. Two of George's sons, George W. and Jesse, fought during the Civil War on the side of the North in the Kentucky infantry. George is listed on the Lawrence County tax list for 1840 through 1851. It is believed that George died in late 1851 or early 1852, because in May of 1852 a William Dingess sold a tract of land to George's heirs.
