PREFACE.

In 1884, I paid the tribute of filial love and piety, to the memory of my mother, Maria Marshall, by a memorial volume, entitled "The Marshall Family." Since that time it has been my ambition to erect a monument to my father's name, by gathering the disjecta membra of the Paxton race, and forming them into a pyramid whose apex is lost in the clouds of antiquity.

All of us in Scotland, England, Wales, Ireland and America, whether spelling the name Paxton, Paxson or Pax- on, trace our lineages to the same source.

My index names 1500 Paxtons and 5000 of the blood, but bearing other names. It shows they are living in 700 different places, in 49 states and territories. They are scattered from China, on the East, to the Sandwich Islands, on the West. But those named are a mere fraction of the entire family.

I therefore proudly place on my title page as a family greeting, and as a motto for the race, "We Are One."

Of course there are numerous inaccuracies on my pages; but my people will pardon them.

How many of this vast host will meet in family reunion at St. Louis the three days commencing with the last Tuesday in June, 1904? My correspondents, with enthusiasm, approve the meeting. They will greet each other, the first day, with cold hands of politeness, but will part, the third day, with warm tears of love, and tender embraces of affection. Though I will be in my 86th year, and am deaf, and dim of vision, I hope and pray that God will permit me to meet my children with a parental tenderness, and part from them with my patriarchal blessing. A month prior to the reunion, all will be notified, by circular, of further arrangements.

When I entered on my labors I expected to issue a book of half the size of this volume, without index or embellishments; but new genealogical discoveries, and my determination, regardless of expense, to make a volume we would be proud of, doubled both labors and outlay; yet I shall, until the reunion, sell the book at $2.00.

I take this last opportunity to show the reader how, under my system, to construct a lineage. Let him remember that all lines commence (or end) in No. 1, James Paxton (ancestor). Also he may find the number (No.) of any name, by tracing down, from the beginning to the end of the volume, the last numbers to the right at the tops of the pages. Those numbers will be found in numerical order. Now let us run back a lineage from the 10th to the 1st generation. On page 244b we find:

1 (1) Ella A. White, in the 4th column. Run back
2 (a) Lavenia A. Long = White. Run back
3 1 Virginia E. Paxton = Long. Run back on page 243, and strike:
4 VI J. Houston Paxton. Run back
5 (B) Thompson Paxton = Potts. Now look to the last number at top of 241:
6 No. 62 Samuel Paxton. Next to the left
7 No. 60 Samuel Paxton. Next to the left
8 No. 4 John Paxton
9 No. 2 John Paxton
10 No. 1 James Paxton (ancestor).

Here Ella A. White traces her line back 10 generations.

To my publisher, Mr. W. T. Jenkins, and his foreman, Mr. Max Jones, I tender my gratitude. The difficulty in getting printers caused several months' delay, but enabled me to enlarge the work, and to add many valuable features. Their uniform courtesy, and ready compliance with my desires, call for commendation.

The Paxtons—Their Origin

The name Paxton is of Saxon origin. Our ancestors, as early as the sixth century, crossed from the continent, and settled in what is now Berwickshire, Scotland. A few centuries later, we find that, by enterprise, they have acquired wealth, influence and title.

A Distinguished English Herald writes: The name Paxton is derived from a Saxon word meaning gardiner. The laird, or head of the family, established himself in a territorium in Berwickshire, Scotland. The name of his land was, first, Pac-cingas-town, then Packingtown, then Packston, and since A. D. 1250, has been written Paxton. In Berwickshire, Scotland, there is a mansion still known as Widderburn & Paxton Castle.

The Armorial Bearing of the Paxtons, A. D. 1250, were:

Shield: Ermine; two chevrons, one sa., the other, az., between three mullets, in pale of the last.

Crest: An eagle’s head erased, az.; charged on the neck with two chevrons, or., between pair of wings, ar., semee of mullets gules.

Motto: Industria ditat. (Industry enriches)

An Early Seal of David de Paxton bore an eagle displayed; that of William de Paxton, A. D. 1350, a pelican, in her piety, in her nest. John de Paxton, in 1430, uses a cross and, in the following year, he, or one of the same name, sealed with a lion rampant.

Robert de Paxton was prior to St. John of Jerusalem, in Scotland, in 1296; and in the same year, both Robert and Nicol de Paxton did honor to Edward II.

It seems that William de Paxton owned a large estate in Northumberland, England,—for during his absence in Scotland, his land was siezed by the King. It was afterwards restored to Lucy, wife of Roger de Paxton.

Adam de Paxton held one-third of Paxton, in Scotland, in the reign of Alexander III; and held Edrington, by a charter from Robert I. In 1337, his lands were taken by forfeiture, by Edward III, and granted to John de Roos.

The Coat of Arms described above is still borne by the Paxtons of Wales, as well as of England, and the legend is precisely the same. It appears at intervals, from the dawn of British history to the present day. The notices we have recorded are copied from ancient manuscripts, by experienced heralds.

The Paxtons in Central England.

We next find the Paxtons in Bedford, Buckingham and Oxford Shires. Ever the victims of religious persecution and enemies of tyrants, they were driven from their ancestral home, in Berwick, Scotland, and found refuge in Central England. Several centuries of Scottish life had endued the Paxtons with a love of liberty, and with the heroic faith and piety of John Knox. Of course, they cast their lives and fortunes with Cromwell. One of the family officiated at the execution of King Charles I. This may been James, our ancestor. After the restoration, in 1660, James Paxton fled to County Antrim, in the north of Ireland, and found friends in the Scotch-Irish inhabitants. A part of the English family gave their adhesion to William Penn, became Quakers, and, in 1682, came to America. The larger part of these changed their name to "Paxson"; but some of them spell the name as of old. The Paxtons and Paxsons are undoubtedly of the same blood; and we are proud to claim them as cousins:—yet they are not included in the pale of this volume. Our branch is the Irish offshoot of the Paxtons.

I hold in my hand a record of the Paxtons written by the late S. S. Todd, who was of our blood, and made diligent inquiries into the traditions of the family. I copy a paragraph.

FROM DR. S. S. TODD'S PAPER

"James Paxton, of Ballymoney, County Antrim, Ireland, was one of the many Presbyterianists who took refuge in
The North of Ireland, during the persecutions under Charles II. Three of the sons of James seem to have come to America about 1735: 1, William, 2, Thomas, and 3, Samuel. The last named, Samuel, was born about 1670. These brothers had land surveyed to them on Marsh Creek, Lancaster, now, Adams County, Pa. Samuel had, with, perhaps, other children, a son William and a son Samuel, Jr., who was born about 1705. This Samuel was father of Col. Thomas Paxton.

I will have occasion to refer to this record frequently, and now quote enough to show that Dr. Todd's researches convinced him that we came from England. Dr. Egle, the Nestor of Penn'a genealogists, always claimed that the "father of us all" was named James, and that he did not come to America.

The English Paxtons of To-day

The little colony of Paxtons in Central England, still flourishes; and in surgery, architecture, botany, and the arts, have made the name illustrious. Sir Joseph Paxton was born in Bedfordshire, and the lovely gardens of Chatsworth placed him among the most distinguished of horticulturists. His magnificent Crystal palace of glass and iron, erected for the great exhibition of 1851, attests his proficiency in art and design.

Booklets: In 1887, J. C. Bloomfield, A. M., Rector and Rural Dean of Launton, Buckinghamshire, England, issued a booklet of ninety pages, entitled "History of Finmore," the ancestral home of the Paxtons. I quote from page 17: "Contemporary with these, and chief among the yeomen of Finmore, was the family of Paxton. The first member of this family known to have been a resident of Finmore, was Peter Paxton, whose name first appears in 1581,—several children of his being baptized in the parish church, between the years 1581 and 1598. A descendant, probably a son, William Paxton, died in 1677, and is described in the register as the "head of the people of our place."

It appears in this little volume, that Peter Paxton died
December 12, 1673, aged 77 years; that Elizabeth Paxton, daughter of Peter of Barton, was baptized January 24, 1649, and his daughter, Maria, was baptized July 3, 1631. Others of the Paxton name resided at Bycot House, near Buckingham.

In Warner's History of Bucks County, Pa., there is a notice of the Paxton family, by Henry D. Paxson, 506 Walnut St., Philadelphia. He writes: James, Henry and William Paxton, brothers, came to Pennsylvania in 1682, in the ship Samuel, of London, England. Henry came from the parish of Stowe, Oxfordshire. He was a member of the society of Friends and brought a certificate from Biddleston, in the County of Bucks. He called his home Bycot House, which is believed to be the ancestral home of the family for many generations. Judge Paxton, of Pennsylvania, on his recent visit to England, went to Bycot House, and found it in possession of a Henry Paxton. James and William Paxton came from the parish of Marsh Gibbon, which is in the vicinity of Stowe. They were also Friends and brought certificates from Coleshill meeting. They spelt their name Paxton, and those of their kindred who still remain in England, adhere to that spelling. At what period they changed it in this country does not appear. A few, living in Catawissa, Pa., still spell the name with a 't.'

Residence of the Paxtons in Ireland.—Researches.

Between the years 1889 and 1892, Judge William Paxton Houston, a gentleman of energy and ability, determined to solve the problem of the origin of the Paxtons. He enlisted the interest of the Lyles, Stevensons and others, in the research. Money was freely supplied. I encouraged the enterprise and gave them my feeble assistance. The connecting link was not discovered; and yet the labor was not in vain. It demonstrated that the Paxtons are an English family, and, in Ireland, they were landed proprietors, and large and wealthy manufacturers; yet Judge Houston regarded the work as a failure, and he washed his hand of the whole matter, by issuing a superb little manual on the Rockbridge Paxtons. Seeing that all would be lost unless some one else undertook the labor and expense, I determined, notwithstanding age and bodily infirmities, to prosecute the work. At my solicitation, Judge Houston kindly turned over to me his letters and papers, which I have found of inestimable value. But his Irish correspondence casts but feeble light upon our origin. Yet it must be remembered that James Paxton spent only his declining years in Ballymoney, County Antrim, Ireland, and upon his death, all his family moved to America. The residence of a half generation would scarcely leave an impression that would be remembered for two centuries; and it must be considered, too, that they were hiding from persecution.

Judge Houston’s correspondence has opened to us a lovely field of Irish life and genealogy, which I would like to describe; but I must content myself by copying a few epitaphs:

THE FAMILY MONUMENT in the cemetery of the Presbyterian church in County Down, contains the following epitaphs. The family names attest a relationship to us,

In memory of James Paxton, who died April 22, 1812, aged 80 years, and his wife Christiana Moore, who died July 15, 1829, aged 80 years. Erected by their daughter, Jane Irvine, who died February 1st, 1856, aged 71 years.

“Mememto Mori”: Beneath this tomb lie the remains of Prudence Jane and Robert Paxton who died young: also the remains of Prudence Paxton, who departed this life July 22, 1801, aged 22 years; likewise her sister, Dorathea Paxton, who departed this life, May 27, 1802, aged 4 years.

Here also lie the remains of Mrs. Elizabeth Paxton of Ballycashone, mother of the above children, who departed this life April 27, 1806, aged 56 years. And to whose memory this tomb is erected by her son William Paxton, as the last tribute of regard to one of the best of mothers.

Beneath this stone lieth the remains of Robert Paxton, late of Ballycashone, who in the bloom of youth departed this life, December 31st, 1811, aged 19 years.

Died, on the 25th of February, 1827, William Paxton, of Benagh, a J. P., in the 54th year of his age.

Died, on the 2d of December 1851, John Cowan Paxton, of Hillsborough, surgeon, brother of the above William Paxton, in the 69th year of his age.
Died, on the 14th of August, 1855, aged 80 years, Elizabeth Ann McKee, otherwise, Paxton. She was a kind and affectionate wife, and tender mother!

These epitaphs are on the same monument at Ballycashone, Down County, Ireland. I might copy many other inscriptions in Down County, but none in County Antrim. Here is a lineage handed down by tradition:

Col. Paxton, a young man in 1645, was murdered in 1685. He had, among other children, three sons:

(A) Samuel Paxton, d. 1741 = Janet Johnston,
   1. John Paxton, b. about 1712.
   II. James Paxton, b. 1714: d. 1736; unmarried.
   III. Richard Paxton, d. 1747 = a Baxter.
      1. Richard Paxton = a Cowan.

(B) James Paxton, d. 1738.
   I. John Paxton.
   II. William Paxton.

(C) John Paxton.

A will of James Paxton dated January 13, 1736, is of record. His parents are Samuel and Janet. His brothers are 1 John, 2 Samuel, 3 Richard. John had children: 1 Jean, 2 Margaret. Among the witnesses to the will, are William Paxton and John Paxton.

Here is another will that is peculiarly suggestive:

James Paxton, dated 1757. His sons: 1 John, 2 William. A daughter, Mrs. McCuly, and her two daughters. The witnesses are Samuel Paxton, Sr., and Samuel Paxton, Jr. They must have been so far off, at least, as cousins of the testator. This James may possibly have been the ancestor of Captain Thomas Paxton of the Revolution, and the Samuels his grandfather and father, who emigrated to America, and settled on Marsh Creek, where they surveyed and received warrants for land, in 1741.

The Paxtons of West Penna., without a doubt came from Antrim or Down County, Ireland; but when and how they came is unknown. In the Down County family, 1 James,
2 Samuel, 3 William and 4 John, are common family names. Robert is also of frequent occurrence, but Thomas is almost unknown, and Hugh and Nathaniel never appear. It is very certain that all did not come together. Hugh was in Maryland as early as 1674. Thomas is on the tax list of 1722, and Nathaniel surveys land prior to 1735. Here is room for speculation; but "the truth is at the bottom of a well."

The Absence of All Early Records.

Why is it that there are no archives, no records and no traditions of the Paxton family in England, Ireland and America, for an hundred years after the Restoration in 1660? Can it be, because they they were Protestants—advocates of political and religious freedom,—friends of Cromwell, and deeply implicated in the execution of King Charles II. In Ireland the Down County Paxtons were wealthy land holders and manufacturers But James Paxton and his sons lived in Antrim. Dr. Egle, the Penn'a. antiquarian, names him, and Dr. S. S. Todd, the descendant of Col. Thomas Paxton of the Revolution, and of Wayne's army, makes James Paxton of Ireland our ancestor, Dr. Todd was possessed of sound judgment, energy and enthusiasm; and traced, successfully, the meagre traditions of a worthy ancestry. His paper will be recorded in full as a valuable archive.

Early records are usually embellished with legend, and adorned by romance; but imagination has cast no glamour on the Paxton family. Facts that are undoubted, have lurked in shadows, or have hidden in darkness. We ask in vain for the date of their departure from Ireland, the ship that brought them to America, the port at which they landed, their companions on the voyage, and the events of their settlement in the wilds of Pennsylvania. Why did they seek safety under the mild and tolerant rule of the Quakers? Why this reticence of both records and traditions? No family Bible attests the early settlement of the family in Pennsylvania. Two generations of Paxtons lived and died in Pennsylvania.
and none of their names appears in any family record. I think it was because they were hunted as regicides and protestants, and hid themselves, first in Ireland and subsequently in the wilds of Pennsylvania, that they might save their lives and fortunes. To secure immunity no records were preserved.

Settlement of the Paxtons in America.

No chronicle records the settlement of the Paxton's in the Western World, but tradition, in unvarying terms, assures us they were from the north of Ireland, and their love of liberty, their protestant zeal and Calvanistic faith confirm the testimony of tradition. Yet all who have investigated the matter agree in the opinion, that they are of English blood. The knightly family of Sir Joseph Paxton, acknowledge us as their kindred.

Hugh Paxton of Talbott County, Md., was on Western soil prior to 1674. He was married twice. His first wife was Grace, and his second was Martha. He owned several tracts of land, and seems to have been a man of wealth and influence. His will was made in 1709, and names his children John, Ann and Elizabeth. All the names are common in the Pennsylvania family. It is unknown what became of these children. There seems to have been no citizen of Maryland by the name of Paxton for a century. Lancaster County, Pa., is but a day or two's journey from Talbott County, Md., and John may have joined his kindred in Pennsylvania. He may have been one of the numerous John Paxtons we find in Lancaster County, Pa., about 1750. Hugh may have been a brother of James of Ireland. In the absence of evidence, we may indulge in conjecture.

The Home of the Paxtons in Pennsylvania.

Chester County was one of the original counties into which Pennsylvania was divided. It embraced what are now Lancaster, York and Adams counties. These three counties lie on the central and Southern border of the state. Lancaster lies East of the Susquehanna, York is West of Lancaster and the Susquehanna, Adams is West of York. Lancaster was organized in 1729, York in 1750, and Adams in 1800. The residences of the Paxtons extended from Bart township on the East of Lancaster to Cumberland township on the West of Adams. The distance East and West was about fifty miles; and North and South about twenty-five miles.

The shifting lines of the counties make it difficult to determine localities; but the townships have retained their original names, and fix places of residence. We thus learn that Andrew Paxton of Chanceford township, lived on the Eastern line of the present York County; and that Samuel Paxton of Cumberland township, lived on the Western line of Adams County. But John Paxton of Rockbridge County, Va., in his deed dated 1750, describes himself as "late of Lancaster County, Pa." At that time Lancaster included both York and Adams counties; and the deed does not tell us where John had resided.

The Paxton Heraldry

Whether citizens of Scotland, England, Ireland, Wales or America, the Paxtons were, and still are of the patrician class. Of deep religious convictions, they were often persecuted. All of the name were Protestants, I have not found one in the Catholic church.

The Arms: As a frontispiece to this volume I have given the Paxton Coat of Arms. It has been borne in every generation for eight hundred years. It is found in the books of British heraldry. I have had it examined by the most learned heralds of Cincinnati, and they pronounce it genuine.

Oscar K. Lyle and the Paxton Arms

In 1889-92, Mr. Lyle and others made an exhaustive search into the Paxton ancestry. In one of his letters to Judge Houston the following passage, from an English book of heraldy, occurs:

HERALDIC

The Paxton Arms: Erms, two chevrons.—the one sa., the other az., between three mullets in pale of the last. Crest: An eagle's head erased, az., charged on the neck with two chevrons, or, between a pair of wings, ar. Semee of mullets, gu.

Granted to Arch. Paxton, Esq., of Walford Herefordshire, and his younger brother, Sir William Paxton, Knight, of Middleton Hall, near Llandillo, Caermarthenshire, May 13, 1805, and borne by William Gill Paxton, Esquire, of the Adelphi, London 1828.

Mr. Lyle remarks: I give this entire, as I found it. Its significance lies in locating some of the name in Wales.

It will be observed that the description is a literal copy of the legend preserved in the family of Col. Thomas Paxton. The Latin motto, "Industria ditat," is translated "Industry Enriches". It is peculiarly appropriate to our family. Some of them have acquired wealth, and they have gained it by industry. They are men of moderate fortunes, and poverty is almost unknown.

A Paper by a Cincinnati Herald: Mr. Henry S. Teetor, a distinguished herald, employed professionally, to examine the books of heraldry for the Paxton name, after a careful investigation, returned the following, which has been approved by other heralds:

HERALDRY OF THE PAXTONS.

Berwickshire is a maritime county of Scotland, forming its Southeast extremity, being separated from England by the Tweed. It is chiefly noted for the renowned Berwick Castle, which sprung into importance, during the long struggle between the Scots and Saxons for its possession. It was around, and in sight of, and under the protection of this castle, that the Paxtons located their territorium as one of the original families that colonized England, after the departure of the Romans. There are many large mansions throughout the county, one of them being the Widderburn & Paxton castle.

Armorial Bearings of the Paxton Family, A. D. 1250

Shield: Ermine, two chevrons, one sa., the other az. between three mullets, in pale of the last.

Crest: An eagle's head, erased, az., charged on neck with two chevrons, or,—between pair of wings, ar. Semee of mullets, gules.

Motto: Industria ditat. [Industry enriches]

An early seal of David D. Paxton bore an eagle displayed; that of William de Paxton, A. D. 1250, is a pelican in her piety, in her nest. John de Paxton, in 1430, used a cross; and in the following year, he, or a namesake, sealed with a lion rampant,

The Paxtons in Scotland

Robert de Paxton was prior of St. John of Jerusalem, in Scotland, in 1296; and in the same year, both Robert and Nicol de Paxton did honor to Edward II.

It seems that William de Paxton owned a large estate in Northumberland, England, for, during his absence in Scotland, his land was siezed by the king. It was afterwards restored to Lucy, the wife of Roger de Paxton.

Adam de Paxton sold one-third of Paxton, Berwickshire, in the reign of Alexander III, and held Barrington, by a charter of Robert II. In 1337, his lands were taken by forfeiture, by Edward III, and granted to John de Roos. William Paxton died in 1598, possessed of Anchin Craw, and parts of Paxton, and left a son, Nicol de Paxton.

The Paxtons in England

Sir Joseph Paxton (1803-1865) the distinguished architect and ornamental gardener, was a native of Bedfordshire, England, and became Superintendent of the Duke of Devonshire's gardens and grounds at Chatsworth, and manager of his Derbyshire estates. Paxton's remodelling of the famous gardens at Chatsworth awakened the general admiration of landscape gardeners. This grand conservatory formed the model of the great exhibition building of 1851.

It is said that the happy suggestion of Paxton solved a difficulty that threatened to render it impossible to hold the exhibition; and in recognizance of his great services, he received the honor of knighthood. * * * * [The herald next takes up the "Paxsons" and the remainder of his paper possesses little interest]

Early Penn'a Records

The reader will be surprised at the meagre evidence upon which my Paxton genealogy is built. Yet he must remember that nearly every statement is supported by tradition with its thousand tongues.

Assessments

On the list of taxables for Chester County, Pa., Thomas Paxton's name appears for 1722–26, and Samuel Paxton's for 1732. This Thomas could not be the same who was born in 1713, and came to Pennsylvania in 1725. It must be remembered that prior to 1729, Adams County was a part of Chester, and that both Thomas and Samuel may have lived in Cumberland Township, near Gettysburg. See No. 288.

Entries of Land

There are no deeds of record until after the Revolution, and only an occasional warrant was issued. There were differences between settlers and proprietors, and patents were withheld. It seems, however, that the Paxtons in some instances, succeeded in getting titles to parts of their lands.

John Paxton, No. 366, took up lands in Sadsbury (Bart) Township, in Lancaster County, Pa., April 21, 1735, adjoining John Douglas and James Robertson. He also took up lands March 1741 and May 29, 1765.

Samuel Paxton, Sr., No. 2, and Samuel, Jr., and John Paxton, Nos. 144 and 4, took up land on Marsh Creek, Adams County, Pa., in 1741, and Thomas Paxton, No. 88, took up land in Adams County, on Marsh Creek, May 23, 1738.

Nathaniel Paxton, No. 246, took up land in 1743.

Dr. W. H. Egle, the most noted of Pennsylvania genealogists, in 1888, after investigation, writes: Samuel Paxton, Sr., No. 2, an aged man, settled on Marsh Creek, Adams County, Pa., at an early date, and in March 1741, with his three sons, Thomas, Samuel, Jr., No. 144, and John, No. 4, took up different, but adjoining tracts of land. A Thomas Paxton, No. 88, took up 400 acres of land, May 25, 1738. A John Paxton entered land in Bart Township in 1765.

Wills of Early Penn’a Paxtons

I shall list the wills by counties where they are recorded, and show only such parts as interest the genealogist. There are no wills recorded in Chester, because no death of a Paxton had occurred in the county prior to the organization of Lancaster, in 1729.

Wills Recorded in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania

Samuel Paxton's, No 248, will, probated August 5, 1755. His wife's name was Agnes, and his children, 1 Mary, 2 Samuel, 3 Margaret, 4 Jean, 5 unborn.

This Samuel was probably a nephew of Samuel Paxton, No 2, for another Samuel fills the place of his son — Samuel, No. 144.

John Paxton's, No. 368, will, dated March 16, 1822, and probated July 19, 1823. Children, 1 William, No. 370, 2 John, No 382, 3 Mary, 4 Samuel, No. 396. (This is Capt, John Paxton of the Revolution, He had quite a houseful of children, but only four survived him, His sketch will be No. 368.

John Paxton, Sr., No. 366, father of the last, is dated December 23, 1768, probated August 7, 1769. His widow was Grizel (Grace) and his only child was John. See No. 366 where this will is copied in full _Wills Recorded in York County, Pa._

John Paxton's, No. 132, will, probated June 17, 1784. His widow, Mary, and son, Isaac, were executors. Assets—personal assets $1,785. Children: 1 Isaac, 2 Sarah, 3 John, 4 Mary, 5 Martha, 6 Elizabeth. He describes himself as John Paxton of Mont Joy Township [which is now a part of Adams County, South of Gettysburg, and East of Cumberland Twp].

Andrew Paxton's, No. 258, will, of Chanceford Township, probated March 28, 1792; Jannett Paxton, widow and executrix; personal assets $750. *Children: 1 Janet Ann Paxton and 2 Margaret, by first wife; 3 James, No. 260, and 4 Andrew by second wife. [Chanceford Twp. lies on the the Susquehanna River, on the Eastern border of the present County of York].

Samuel Paxton's. No. 144, will, of Cumberland Township, probated March 8, 1793; Nathaniel Paxton is appointed executor; personal assets $507. *Children: 1 John, No. 146, 2 Samuel, No 150, 3 Thomas, No. 154, 4 Jane, 5 Isabella, 6 George, 7 Benjamin, 8 Nathaniel, 9 Hugh, 10 Robert, 11 Moses, 12 David, 13 Joseph, 14 Grazelle, 15 Margaret, 16 Jonathan, No. 206, 17 Lesley, 19 Mary. [Cumberland Township now lies in Adams County, a few miles Southwest of Gettysburg. Marsh Creek forms is Western boundary.]

_Wills Recorded in Adams County, Pa._

Ann Paxon’s will, of borough of Gettysburg, probated July 28, 1826. Children: 1 Isaac, 2 Elizabeth. Executor, George Sweeney. [She was probably the daughter of Andrew, No. 258].

Nancy Paxton of borough of Gettysburg, probated April 2, 1828. 1 Isaac, son, and Polly, daughter. The former was executor. Ann and Nancy were, doubtless, descendants of No. 258.

James G. Paxton, No. 124, of Franklin Township [ten miles West of Gettysburg] probated February 1, 1843. Beneficiaries: I William Paxton, 2 Nathaniel, sons; and James G. Paxton, Jr., grandson.

Rev. William Paxton, D. D., No. 370. His will made in Hamiltonban Township, Pa. [some fifteen miles West of Gettysburg] was probated May 7, 1845. His wife was Jane and his children: 1 James D. Paxton, No. 372, son and executor, 2 John Thomas Johnson, grandson.

Isaac Paxton, No. 134, of Mount Joy Township [some fifteen miles South of Gettysburg] was probated May 7, 1856. Children: 1 John, 2 Robert Letters of administration granted September 10, 1821, on James McGinley’s estate, No. 394.

Letters granted February 10, 1841, on Dr. John D. Paxton’s estate, No. 374.

Wills Recorded in Washington County, Pa.

At the August term, 1802, a guardian was appointed for William, Alexander and Eliza Paxton, minor children of James and Jane Paxton.

At the August term, 1804, a guardian was appointed for James, Polly, Peggy and Nancy Paxton, children of John and Peggy Paxton to take charge of a legacy of William Houston to the children of his daughter, Peggy Paxton. Houston’s will was probated in 1803.

Mary Paxton’s, No. 132, will probated May 9, 1809. The beneficiaries were her daughters: 1 Sarah Fergus, 2 Mary Fergus and Martha Paxton, and her grandson Isaac, son of John Paxton. No. 138, deceased.

Joseph Paxton’s will, probated July 2, 1813; widow, Margaret. Children: Samuel Paxton, Jane Thompson, Margaret Bingham.

Nathaniel Paxton’s, No. 122, will, probated December 27, 1816. Children: James G., No. 124, and Nathaniel Paxton, No. 128.

John Paxton’s, No. 338, estate; administrator appointed June 27, 1818. His widow was Martha. Letters were issued to Hugh Fergus.

Thomas Paxton’s, No. 288, will, probated June 19, 1819. Children: 1 Martha Campbell, No. 290, 2 Thomas Paxton, No. 336, 3 Elizabeth McCune, No. 310, 4 Margaret McGregor, No. 314.

Nathaniel Paxton’s, No. 128, will, probated March 12, 1844. Widow, Eliza B. Children: 1 Andrew H., 2 James, 3 Sarah Eliza, 4 Margaret Erskine.

Sarah E. Paxton’s (daughter of No. 128) will, probated April 15, 1845. Step-mother, Eliza B; step-sister, Harriet Irvine; niece, Mary J. Gault; brothers, Andrew and James; sister, Margaret Erskine.

Mary Paxton, probated February 14, 1854. Beneficiaries: 1 Rev. James Ramsay and nieces, Esther Ann Paxton, and Jane and Margaret Scraggs.

Thomas Paxton, probated June 13, 1887. Widow Jane Paxton and son, Thomas.

Wills in Mercer County, Pa.

Thomas Paxton (son of 350), probated July 30, 1850. Children: 1 William Paxton, John, James, Jane and Maria.

Traditions, Histories, Letters and Conjectures

In my "Marshall Family," I made, in 1884, the first attempt to set in order our family. In 1892, Judge William P. Houston, of Lexington, Va., printed and circulated, his Rockbridge Paxtons. But it is my purpose to embrace the whole American race of Paxtons, and to show that "We Are One" in blood, as well as name.

Col. Thomas M. Green, the most eminent of Southern genealogists, in his Hist. Fam's. of Virginia and Kentucky, page 107, thus notices our family: "The Paxton's were among the earliest settlers of Rockbridge, and were of the same Scotch-Irish race as the McDowells, McClungs, Stuarts, Lyles and Houston's, with whom their descendants have frequently intermarried. Speaking of the Paxtons, Gen, Alex. H. H. Stuart pronounced them the most gallant and the proudest of the families of the Valley. Their names will be found figuring abundantly and conspicuously, among the soldiers who fought in every war from 1755. They occur as frequently in the lists of Presbyterian members, elders and ministers, and on the rolls of able lawyers."

Hon. William Paxton Houston, a Paxton in blood, and one of the most experienced genealogists of the day, living in Lexington, Va., the headquarters of the Virginia Paxtons, in 1892, issued and distributed a pamphlet of 16 pages, entitled the "Rockbridge County, Va., Paxtons." I copy a few paragraphs:

"Among the families of this name in Rockbridge, it is stated that three brothers of the name, came from Ireland to America, between 1730 and 1740, and that the families of two of them came to Virginia, and the other brother remained in Pennsylvania. I find the same tradition among the Paxton family, to which the Rev. W. M. Paxton, L. L. D belongs.

Rev. John R. Paxton, D. D., of New York City, says that the tradition in his family is, that a Paxton came about the time of the Penns, prospered, and sent for his three three brothers; and from them all the Paxtons are descended.

"There is a large family of the "Paxsons" in Pennsylvania, descended from three brothers of the name of "Paxton," who came to Pennsylvania from Buckingham County, England. They were Quakers, and no relationship can be traced, though, some generations back, I am informed, it was claimed.

"The Paxtons who came to America from Ireland, were of English origin, as was stated by Joseph Paxton, No. 66, son of William Paxton, [No. 64], to his granddaughter, the late Isabella Cummings, from whom I had the statement.

"I have had much correspondence with the Paxtons of Ireland, but have not been able to trace this family certainly"

Dr. S. S. Todd's Letter

Of April 15, 1895, addressed to Hon. H. W. Paxton, of Mentor, Ohio, is entitled to special regard. He was of Paxton blood, and was, at the time of his death, preparing for publication, a genealogy of the Todds. This work, I am sorry to say, was left incomplete. I copy the full letter:

"Your letter dated April 12th, is received. I will cheerfully give you what I believe is all that is known of the Paxtons who left Europe and settled in Pennsylvania. The facts have been gleaned from many sources, deemed reliable, and will be incorporated with my history of the Todd family—a book of so much labor and cost, that I shall not be able to get it before the public for many months.

"James Paxton, [No. 1], of Ballymoney, County Antrim, was one of the many Presbyterians who took refuge in the North of Ireland, during the persecutions under Charles II, of England. Three of the sons of James, seem to have come to America, about 1735; 1 William, 2 Thomas, 3 Samuel. Samuel was born about 1770. These brothers had land surveyed to them on Marsh Creek, Lancaster (now Adams) County, Pennsylvania. Samuel had, with other children perhaps, a son, William, and a son, Samuel, Jr., born about 1705, who was father of your great grandfather, Colonel Thomas Paxton, [No. 154], born 1739. Colonel Thomas, with other children, had a son Robert. When the Revolutionary war broke out, Thomas was living in Bedford County, Pennsylvania. I do not know the exact locality. While living on Marsh Creek, he married Isabella Quate, whose father was an Englishman, and a Tory. An estrangement ensued between him and his son-in-law, Thomas Paxton, who was a zealous Patriot. At the close of the war, a reconciliation took place, and the old man visited his children. This I had from my father's oldest sister, Aunt Maria Jane Madison, who died many years ago, at Marshall, Illinois.

"Thomas Paxton, [No. 154], was commissioned a Captain in the First Battalion of Pennsylvania Militia, commanded by Colonel George Wood.

"Sarah Paxton, widow of William Paxton, who was one of the immigrants, after the death of her husband, in Lancaster County, migrated, with her three sons, John, Thomas and William, to Augusta (now Rockbridge) County, Virginia, in 1750. These brothers, John, Thomas and William, seem to have been the ancestors of all the Rockbridge County Paxtons, many of whom moved to Kentucky, and some are living in this vicinity, (Kansas City, Missouri). One of them, a lawyer, is living at Platte City, Missouri. He has published quite an elaborate history of the Paxton family, but it makes no mention, whatever, of the Pennsylvania Paxtons, except to say that the Virginia Paxtons came from Pennsylvania. His book gives nothing of the ancestry of the Paxtons, as I have here done.

"I have spoken of Isabella Quate, as the wife of Colonel Thomas Paxton, [No. 154]. I refer to his first wife, for, as you well know, he was married twice. He lost his first wife in Pennsylvania, and married Martha White, your great grandmother, in Kentucky. Now, as Colonel Paxton left his family in Bedford County, Pennsylvania, and went to Kentucky in 1789, his family followed in 1790, coming down the Ohio river with a fleet of flat-boats, in charge of his oldest son, Robert, whose record I have never learned.

"My grandmother, Maria Jane Paxton, No. 164, was a daughter of Colonel Thomas Paxton, by his wife, Isabella Quate. Your great-grandmother, White, was born in this country of Irish parents."

Dr. Todd's genealogy may be thus set in order:

James Paxton, ancestor.
(A) William Paxton, son.
(B) Thomas Paxton, son.
(C) Samuel Paxton, born 1670, son.
  I. William Paxton, grandson.
  II. Samuel Paxton, born 1705, grandson.

Dr. Todd makes Sarah the mother of all the Rockbridge family, and the widow of William. It is probable that he refers to Sarah, widow of Thomas of South River, No. 88. Yet, Sarah is a family name, and "William" is more common than any other. While I shall follow Dr. Egle, and others, in my chart, I do not discard, indignantly, Dr. Todd's derivation of the Virginia families from William and Sarah.

SAMUEL EVANS, a local Historian, November 28, 1889, writes:

"From the year 1749, to 1760, a large emigration of Scotch-Irish Presbyterians moved from the Eastern and Southeastern section of Lancaster (now Adams) County, Pennsylvania, to Virginia and North Carolina.

"In 1755, John Paxton was elected constable for Bart Township, which was cut off from Sadsbury Township. Between the years 1751 and 1758, the following were in Bart Township: Samuel Parton, Andrew Paxton and three John Paxtons.

"Colonel Robert Thompson of the Revolution, resided also in Bart Township. He established a country store, and the “Green Tree Tavern.” He died about the close of the war. His brother, Colonel James Thompson, resided in Sadsbury, a few miles away from Robert. He married Lydia Bailey, December 10, 1772, daughter of a sterling patriot. Their tenth child, Elizabeth, married James Paxton. This Paxton belonged to the Bart family, and had one child. He was a Captain in the Revolutionary Army.

[It was John, not James, who was a Captain. He married a Neely, and not a Thompson; and had a number of children; but was, himself, an only child, But may we not believe there was a James, No. 406, who married a Thompson, and was, according to tradition, progenitor of the Monmouth Paxtons, No. 408. James was probably the son of William, mentioned by Dr. Todd, page 20. It is not likely that James, No. 1, of Ireland, had no James among his numerous sons.]

[Mr. Evans continues]: “There was a John Paxton who took out a patent for 200 acres of land, in Sadsbury (now Bart) Township, in this [Lancaster county in 1765. In the year 1751, there were in the same Township [Bart] three Johns, a Samuel, and an Andrew. The Thompsons were Presbyterians, and I presume Captain Paxton was of the same faith. I think he married a daughter of Colonel James or David Thompson. After the Revolution Captain Paxton kept a country store. My information is that this family moved from Bart eighty years ago [that would be 1805]. If there were any Paxtons members of Assembly in 1787, it is likely they were Quakers, as they controlled the Assembly, then.”

THE PAXTON BOYS, Mr. Evans says: “They did not derive their name from a family, but from Paxtang (corrupted to Paxton) Township, a name derived from an Indian tribe. Paxton Township is in Dauphin County, Pennsylvania, where no Paxtons of the Irish family ever resided, and forty miles away from any Paxton home. [The Paxton Boys were a military company, and there was not a Paxton in it. A judicial investigation of the matter was made, and none of the name was found in the murderous band, and none was accused. The imputations that have been made, were based on no other foundation than the coincidence of name]."

Dr. W. H. Egle, the late Pennsylvania State Librarian, and the most eminent of genealogists of that state says,
Augusta County, Virginia, died 1787. His wife, Polly Blair, was probably his second, as she survived to 1810. He had two brothers, Thomas and William. This John came from the North of Ireland in 1735, and took up land prior to 1741 on the West Side of Susquehanna River—sold and removed. Other Paxtons were Samuel, Sr, and Samuel, Jr.
One is supposed to have gone to Washington County, Pennsylvania, and was ancestor of Rev. Dr. John R. Paxton."

In 1885, Dr, Egle wrote to me:

"I find that Samuel Paxton, Sr., [No. 2,] settled on Marsh Creek, now in Adams County, Pennsylvania, prior to 1740. He, and three of his sons, took up different, but adjoining tracts of land, which were warranted to them in March, 1741, and possibly just preceding a disposal; I mean they received their titles. These sons were Thomas, Samuel, Jr., and John. There were other children, but I am not in possession of their names. Samuel was an old man when he came to America. Of this family, Thomas, or his son Thomas, settled in Western Pennsylvania, and from him descended the Rev. John R. Paxton, D. D., now of the City of New York. The Rev. Wm. M. Paxton, LL. D., descended from a brother of Samuel Paxton. These were the children of James Paxton. John, [No. 4] the son of Samuel Paxton, Sr., disappears from the records, and this may be the John you are after. He either died or left the settlement, when he had received and sold his warrants. Rev. Wm. M. Paxton's ancestor settled in the Octorora region, East of the Susquehanna, in a Scotch-Irish settlement."
Dr. Egle, in a more elaborate paper, made for me, and dated March 10, 1900, just before his death, writes:

"I. Samuel Paxton, Sr., with his family, settled in the Marsh Creek Valley, about 1730, for land was applied for within two years after the Land Office was opened for settlers West of the Susquehanna. It is probable that Samuel Paxton, Sr., died in the early forties. There is no record of wife or daughters. Of sons there were at least.

"1. John, who took up land, 200 acres, April 21, 1735. [No. 4].

"2. Thomas, took up 400 acres of land, May 25, 1738. [No. 26].

"3. Samuel, Jr., took up land in 1741. [No. 144].

"4. Nathaniel, No. 120, took up some small tracts of land adjoining his own, July 28, 1743. He remained in Pennsylvania, and died March, 1781, leaving a wife, Hannah, and the following children, besides others, not named in the will:

"1. Nathaniel Paxton, No. 122.

"2. John Paxton's, [No. 132], will is dated April 16, 1784, and probated June 17, 1784. His wife was Mary, and his children, 1 John, 2 Isaac, 3 Sarah, who married Thomas Fergus, 4 Martha and 5 Elizabeth.

"3. Andrew Paxton, [No. 258], son of the first Nathaniel, died March 1790. He was twice married. By his first wife he had, 1 James, [No. 260], 2 Andrew; by his second wife, Janet, he had, 3 Jean, 4 Ann and 5 Margaret.

"4. Samuel Paxton, No. 248, son of the first Nathaniel."

Hon. C. C. Baldwin of Balcony Falls, Rockbridge County, Virginia, who had diligently investigated the genealogy of his wife, a Paxton, wrote me in 1887: "I have always heard that the ancestor of the Rockbridge Paxtons was John Paxton and his wife was named Elizabeth, that they came from Ireland a few years prior to 1740, and setttled in what was then Chester County, Pennsylvania. John died in Pennsylvania, and his widow, with five sons, about 1740, removed to Rockbridge. I do not remember ever hearing the surname of the widow, nor do I know anything of John's ancestors, except that they were true-blue Presbyterians of Scotch descent." [I have followed these statements in every particular].

Miss Mary Davidson, late of Lexington, Virginia, was untiring in her genealogical researches, and accurate in her conclusions. She was a Paxton by blood, and was proud of her descent. In a number of letters to me, she announced her conviction that the full name of our ancestress was Elizabeth Alexander, and her husband was named John. She supported this conclusion, not only by tradition, but by the long list of Johns and Elizabeths found in their descendants, and added that the intimacy of the early families confirmed the opinion. The second death in the Paxton family of North River, was that of Samuel, No. 60, and Dr. Archibald Alexander appears as a witness to the will. It was probably written by his hand. That will is the only record that notices the widow, or provides for her support.

THE DISTINGUISHED EDWARD MCPHERSON writes October 17, 1890, from Gettysburg, Pennsylvania: "There is evidence here that Samuel Paxton, Sr., [No. 2], Samuel Paxton, Jr., [No. 144], and Thomas, No. 88, took out warrants in this settlement, in March, 1741, and that John Paxton took out a warrant May, 1765, for 140 acres. As difficulties arose, at once, between settlers and the proprietors, patents were not issued for those who came between 1741 and 1765, till after Independence in 1787. Mean time divisions of estates were made with difficulty; and this fact accounts for the absence of deeds. The title was not perfect in any holder till 1792, except a few who privately settled with the proprietors. * * * There are no marriage records of that period, and the oldest graveyards contain no stones for that generation of Paxtons. They may have left Pennsylvania on account of the defective land titles.

The Migrations of the Penn'a Paxtons

In 1740, we find the Paxton families occupying three stations in what was then Lancaster County, Pa. 1 The Eastern station was Bart Township, some twenty miles East of the Susquehanna; 2 The Middle station was Chanceford Township, upon the Western bank of the Susquehanna, and ten miles Southeast of the City of York; 3 The Western station was the Townships of Cumberland, Mt. Joy and Hamiltonban, lying South and West of Gettysburg, Lancaster County, embraced at that time York and Adams. But the first Station is now in Lancaster, the second in York, and the third in Adams County, Pa.

Mr. Evans tells us that in the Eastern settlement there lived an Andrew, a Samuel and three Johns. The wife of the elder John was Grazelle, or Grace, and their only child was John, afterwards a captain in the Continental army. John the elder, No. 366, died in 1769. They were evidently an aged couple; for the husband's will intimates that they had ceased to keep house, and were living with their son. All were Presbyterians and worshipped at Middle Octorara church. They were men of eminent piety, patriots, and stalwart farmers. Samuel may have been the husband of Agnes and the son of Nathaniel, Nos. 246 and 248. Andrew was probably his brother, No. 258. The Thompsons, Douglasses, and other Presbyterian families were their neighbors. When the Revolutionary war commenced, John, No. 368, was in the prime of manhood, and the glow of patriotic zeal. But it seems that he did not raise his company at his own home, but went fifty miles West, to the settlement on Marsh Creek, in Cumberland Township, where his Uncle Samuel Paxton's posterity resided. See the sketch of Captain John Paxton,
No. 368, William, the son of Captain John, was then a youth of sixteen. He entered the army, and, after serving one term, enlisted again. We know not how many of the Paxtons served in the war; but we know that the fire of patriotism burned on every heart. Captain John Paxton seems to have ended his days in Bart Township, for there his will is dated in 1822. His wife had gone before, and two-thirds of his children he had buried. The old home in Bart Township, belongs to strangers. His son, William, removed to Marsh Creek Church, and the others seem to have left the old soldier to die in his ancestral home.

Little is known of the Second Station, in Chanceford Township, on the West Bank of the Susquehanna. We know that Andrew Paxton died there, and it was probably the home of Nathaniel the elder, No. 246. The old home in Chanceford has passed from the family.

The Western home was in Cumberland Township, South and West of Gettysburg. Here the aged Samuel, No. 2, died. His household was large, and the family possessed a controlling influence in the community. They gathered closely around their old Presbyterian Church on Lower Marsh Creek. But land titles were precarious. Patents could not be obtained. The future was dark. No improvements were made. There was nothing that encouraged industry. Quaker dominion did not suit Presbyterians and soldiers. In 1737-43, the Borden Grant, in Augusta County, Virginia, was brought into market, and good land titles were offered to settlers. Thomas Paxton, No. 88, in 1742, crossed into Virginia, and settled on South River. A few years later, his brother, John, No. 4, dying, his widow and five sons removed to the Grant, and settled on the North River. The County of Rockbridge was subsequently cut off from Augusta, and nearly all the Paxton families were embraced in the new County. Towards the close of the Eighteenth century, the Rockbridge families removed to the South and to the West, until but few are left.

The next migration was from Cumberland Township, on Marsh Creek, to Washington County, Pennsylvania, and thence to Mercer County, Pennsylvania. This took place between 1780 and 1800. From Washington and Mercer many families removed to Ohio, and thence to other more Western States. About the same time, a second detachment left Marsh Creek, and after spending a few years in Rockbridge, went to Kentucky and Ohio, and thence further West. The old homestead on Marsh Creek was broken up, and passed to strangers. The whole West is now our home, and the wide world is becoming our heritage.

The Paxtons of Rockbridge County, Virginia

In writing sketches of one family, I am not disposed to trespass on the province of History. Augusta County, Virginia, embraced Rockbridge for many years after the Valley was settled. Two Histories of Augusta County have been published—one by Peyton, and the other by Waddell. The name Paxton is not found in either.

Borden's Grant

Was nearly co-terminous with Rockbridge County. The first settlements were made upon the Grant in 1737. For many years there was a rapid influx of settlers; but as one came, another left for the South or West. Pennsylvania sent its thousands. They were chiefly Presbyterians.

Borden's will is dated 1742, and was probated December 9, 1743. Borden, in his lifetime, sold land to the two Thomas Paxtons of South River, Nos. 88 and 96. This is proved by a recital in the deeds made by Borden's executors to the Paxtons. The South River Paxtons bought land in Rockbridge County as early as 1742. The North river Paxtons came several years later.

Presbyterian Churches in Augusta County, Virginia.

Nothing interests a people more than the religion of their ancestors. The Virginia Paxtons were all Presbyterians, and I will notice only Presbyterian churches. Timber Ridge Church was organized in 1746. In the Record of the County Court of Augusta County, Virginia, for May 20, 1848, is the following entry:

"On the motion of Mathew Lyle, it is ordered to be certified, that they have built a Presbyterian Meeting house at a place known as Timber Ridge, another at New Providence, and a third at Falling-Spring."

The first house at Timber Ridge was built of logs, and was nine miles South of Lexington, and two miles from the present building. In 1753, Timber Ridge congregation asked the ministerial services of Rev. John Brown. Believing the list of names appended to the call will interest many families, I name them in alphabetical order:

Alexander, Archibald; Allison, Francis, Robert; Beatty, Francis; Berry, Charles, Thomas; Borden, Magdelin; Buchanan, Samuel; Caruthers, William; Coalter, James; Davidson, John; Davis, Samuel, William; Douglas, John; Dryden, David, John; Dunlap, Samuel; Eakin, James, Walter; Edmondson, James; Fitzpatrick, Andrew; Gamble, Robert; Gaor, Edwin; Gray, Jacob, Samuel, William; Greenlee, James; Hamilton, William; Hay, Joseph, Samuel; Hawley, John; Henderson, George; Hearkin, Edward Henry, Robert; Hill, Thomas; Houston, John, Sr., John, Jr., Matthew, Robert, Samuel; Kennedy, Joseph; Kerr, John; Keys, John, Roger; Kirkpatrick, Robert; Lockridge, William; Logan, John; Lowry, John; Luck, William; Lusk, James; Lyle, Daniel, John, Matthew, Samuel; Mackey, John; McAnelly, John; McCluer, Halbert, Alex, John, Nathaniel; McClung, James, Sr., James, Jr., widow; McCrosky,

The elders of the Timber Ridge Church in 1753, were Archibald Alexander, John Davidson, John Lyle, Daniel Lyle, Alex McCluer, William McClung and John Mackey.

In a year or two Rev. John Brown accepted a call to New Providence Church, and, after a long interval, Timber Ridge church, in 1776, called Rev. William Graham. In that year, Presbytery met at Timber Ridge Church, and inaugurated the great work of education, that has culminated in Washington and Lee University. Their new institution was called Liberty Hall. In 1777 Rockbridge County was organized out of parts of Augusta and Botetourt and a company known as Liberty Hall Volunteers, was placed in the command of William Graham. This little fold of Presbyterianism became the temple of education, and the fortress of liberty.

Falling Spring Church was another Spiritual fold of the early Paxtons. Three sites and as many buildings are embraced in this name. The present house is large and handsome, surrounded by spreading oaks. Around the second building are gathered many sacred memories. It was square, and the roof ran to a central point. The pulpit was below a sounding board, and was mounted by a flight of steps. Galleries were entered by an outside stairway. A session house was in the yard, and a spring under the hill. Dr. W. F. Junkin was pastor, 1854-68. Dr. David W.
Shanks succeeded. He remained until 1881. Then came Edwin McCluer, Mr. Gains and Mr. Waller followed, and now Mr. Stribling is pastor. In the old or second church, Rev. John D. Ewing officiated about forty years, commencing 1814. The tombs of the Paxtons are found in the yards or all these churches.

The Old Stone Church and Tinkling Spring were also Spiritual nurseries of the Paxtons; and their dust and crumbling tombs are found there also. Those who inherit the Paxton blood, though far away in the West and South, often revert in memory to those sacred churches, and hallowed graves, with tears of intense feeling. Prof. Alex S. Paxton, in a late letter, writes: "In the summer of 1896, I made a pilgrimage to my old home. Strangers were there, but gave me a hearty welcome. I went out to the graves of my father, mother and brother. Kneeling by their mounds, I thought of my past life and my old home—of my beloved parents and their blameless Christian lives. I thanked God for my precious parental training, and Spiritual inheritance. Drying my tears, I returned slowly away to commence a new and better life. My father and mother were the best Christians I have ever known."

Presbyterianism.

The Paxtons are born in the Church. In all their tents you will not find an infidel. Instinctively they enter the Presbyterian Church. But several families have, through marriage, been carried into the Methodist Church. There are rare cases of Baptists and Disciples.

Patriotism.

Not a Tory was found among the Paxtons in the Revolutionary war. All capable of bearing arms offered their services to the cause of Independence. In the war of 1812, many of the name shed their blood for the American cause. The Mexican war had representatives from the family, and in the Civil War, nearly all were in arms, and more than a hundred fell in battle. Nearly all of these were for the South, yet the North had a few noble soldiers from the ranks of the Paxtons. Whichever side they chose, their motive was patriotism.

We are One.

Though scattered from New York to San Francisco, the Paxtons all hail from Pennsylvania. The Omaha Paxtons are not embraced in my charts, because I could not specifically locate them; yet they claim to be, and are, of our blood. Physical forms and features agree with mental and moral characteristics in declaring "We are One." Their stalwart frames, their truth, rectitude, courage and faith, claim a common origin. Devoid of personal ambition, they prefer to elevate others, rather than to exalt themselves. None has tarnished the name by crime, and none has passed an hour in penal servitude. Patriotic and courageous by nature, they were the first to respond to the call to arms. Few of them aspired to command. Their names are mostly found with the "rank and file." Their blood stained many a gory field, and scores of honored graves attest their valor. The warrior is generally religious. He believes in destiny. He embraces the Calvinistic creed. Nine out of ten of the Paxtons were Presbyterians. Few of them attain majority without joining the Church. Infidelity and immorality are unknown. A few have attained distinction as statesmen, orators and military officers. But many are found in the pulpit, and in the learned professions. Others are farmers, diligent and attentive readers, quiet country gentlemen, given to hospitality, upright citizens, considerate husbands, and lovely and accomplished wives. Few families can count more sons at college, or more daughters at female seminaries. They are zealous supporters of the Church, and its enterprises of benevolence. Missions and temperance enlist their active support. Not one in a thousand is intemperate. The Church is their home. By sound judgment, consecrated lives and untiring zeal, some have earned the love, confidence and gratitude of mankind, and names that will not perish. The females are educated, accomplished and refined ladies. They are all members of the Church, and leaders in every good work. I have found them admirable correspondents. Those I have met were intelligent, vivacious and charming.

The Paxton Genealogical Chart of Five Generations.

We have thus far noticed the Paxtons as a family; we are now to regard them as individuals. There must be some order adopted for the sketches. There are twelve generations to number, and six thousand names I have sketched; and yet there are as many more of the blood of the Paxtons, chiefly of other names, who are not in my catalogue. These long lost members of the family are daily coming to my knowledge. If I should number all I know today, consecutively, tomorrow's discoveries would throw the whole column into confusion. I shall therefore take James Paxton as the first generation, calling him No. 1. His children will be the second generation; his grandchildren the third; his great grandchildren the fourth; and his great great grandchildren the fifth generation. These five generations will come in genealogical and consecutive order. The figures will be only the even numbers, and husband and wife will count but one number. The Chart will be a convenience for reference, and will enable me in the early pages to refer to names subsequently printed. In the multiplicity of Johns, Samuels, Williams, etc., I can be specific.

On the opposite and subsequent pages will be found the Paxton Chart. The numbers in the Sketches will correspond with the numbers in the Chart.
Chart of Five Generations of the Paxton Family.

Genealogies

We now have the chart as a guide for both author and reader. We will follow the chart numbers through the fifth generation. The name, whether male or female, will serve as a heading. The type used for the head names, will be graded from the first to the fifth generation, until the smallest will only slightly exceed what is called "large caps."

The sixth to the twelfth generation will be distinguished as follows:

The sixth generation by [A], [B], [C], etc., in left hand margin, and the name in large caps.

The seventh generation by Roman numerals I, II, III, etc., placed one-third of an inch to the right, and the name in small caps.

The eighth generation by Arabic numerals 1, 2, 3, 4, etc., placed one-third of an inch still further to the right, and the name in an Italic type.

The ninth generation by small letters [a], [b], [c], etc., placed one-third of an inch still further to the right.

The tenth generation by numericals [1], [2], [3], etc., placed a third of an inch still further to the right.

The eleventh and twelfth generations will not be set in columns, but designated in the text by ordinary numerals.

The names of children will follow the names of their parents, without further designation.

The numbers in the Chart and the Sketches are alike in the first five generations. The sixth, seventh and eighth generations will be distinguished by three columns cut off from the left of the page, by three perpendicular rows of colons. The ninth and tenth generations will, in like manner, be designated by perpendicular columns of numbers.
and letters, but the lines will be so short as to render rows of colons unnecessary. The reader can find a name by consulting the index; and, if he desires to trace the lineage, he can do so by tracing back, or up, the columns on the left of the page. Suppose the name is designated by [a], [b] or [c] in the ninth generation—he will run back the column of the eighth generation until he strikes a figure which will represent the parents. He will then follow up the column representing the seventh generation, and the first figure he strikes will be the grand parents. In like manner, the great grandparents may be discovered by running up the sixth generation column. He can then use the Chart to discover prior generations.

The Headlines of each page will be found of material assistance in the genealogical part of the book. After some experience, the reader can run back the genealogical line to James, No. 1, our common ancestor, often without turning a page.

No. 1, JAMES PAXTON.
Ancestor, of England.

Dr. Egle and Dr. Todd, by independent traditions find our progenitor's name was James. He was born in central England, attached himself to the army of Cromwell, and was probably the Paxton who officiated at the execution of King Charles. After the Restoration, James and his family fled to Ireland, and settled at Ballymoney, in County Antrim, Ireland. Here he found aid and comfort from his Presbyterian allies. Hugh Paxton was probably his brother, and, in 1674 fled to Maryland and may have been the father of John, of Lancaster County, Pa. Hugh's will is dated 1709, and his only son was named John, perhaps No. 366. James died in Ireland. The dates are a matter of conjecture. If born in 1640, he was eighty in 1720; and it was about this time that his children are found in Penn'a. Thomas, No. 88, son of Samuel
No. 2, or possibly his brother, was taxed in Chester County, Pa. in 1722, and the other Thomas, No. 288, son of Nathaniel, came with his parents in 1725. After the death of James, his sons came to America. Hugh, their uncle, had died in Maryland, in 1709, and John, his only son, preferring Quaker jurisdiction to Catholic dominion, had probably, removed to Lancaster County, Pa. As the brothers arrived, they took up land, successively, to the West. In my chart, I make James the first generation, and his number is 1.

No. 2. SAMUEL PAXTON, Sr.

Immigrant.

Son of James (No. 1), was born in Ireland in 1670 and died in Cumberland Township, in the present County of Adams, Pa., about 1746. He was an old man in 1741, when warrants were granted for his lands. He paid taxes at least as early as 1732. His home on Marsh Creek seems to have been the nucleus of the family. He came about 1730. The name of his wife is unknown. He was probably a brother or nephew of Hugh Paxton of Maryland. The Thomas Paxton who was taxed in 1722, is supposed to have been his brother, and the Thomas born in 1713 and married Jane Aston may have been his nephew. No. 288.

Samuel brought his family to a wilderness. He brought his Presbyterian faith and his love of freedom to the very verge of civilization. The hardy pioneers were gathered into a small church, with its adjuncts of a graveyard and a Schoolhouse. Here he, his wife, and, doubtless, some of their children, lie in lonely and unmarked graves. To that old Church, Rev. William Paxton, D. D., afterwards preached the faith of his progenitors for 49 years; and often claimed that the Paxtons were one in blood, as well, as in faith. Like the grave of Moses, the resting place of Samuel is unknown. It is well, for if his epitaph could be read by his ten thousand descendants, pilgrimages would be made to his grave.
No. 4, JOHN PAXTON.

was a son of Samuel Paxton Sr. No. 2 and married Elizabeth Alexander. They were born in Ireland about 1692, and came to America about 1730. There were so many Johns in the family, that it is hard to identify them. There were two, Nos. 366 and 368, in Bart Township, Lancaster County, Pa. and at least two, Nos. 4 and 132 in Mont Joy and Cumberland townships, in Adams County. It is equally uncertain whether John No. 4 was a brother or a son of Samuel No. 2. My chart makes him a son.

I have already (p. 24) expressed my reasons, in part, for believing that the Rockbridge North River five Paxton brothers were children of John Paxton and Elizabeth Alexander. Tradition, as I have shown, points to this end. A John Paxton of Adams County, took out warrants for his land in 1741, and disappears. The Penn’a genealogists say he went to Virginia. I have the posterity of John Paxton of Mont Joy Township, but have searched in vain in Penn’a. for the posterity of John of Cumberland. If the 5 brothers were not his children, then whose children were they?—and where is the posterity of John of Cumberland Township? There were five brethren came to Virginia, about 1746. One, Joseph No. 58, died unmarried; another, Samuel, No. 60, had but one child, named for himself, and each of the three others had a child named John. The oldest child of No. 4, was named John (No. 6); the oldest grand child was named John, and the oldest gt gd child was John. Thomas Paxton’s No. 26, oldest child was named John, and William Paxton’s (No. 64) second son was John. This catalogue of Johns makes it reasonably certain, that the father of the 5 brothers was named John.

I have already shown authority of tradition that the mother of the five brother’s of North River, Va., was Elizabeth Alexander. I will add that we know the name of no daughter of the widow, though she had at least one; but the second daughter of her son John was named Elizabeth, and her other two sons, Thomas No. 26, and William No. 64, had daughters of that name.

We have no record of the death of John, No. 4, but it is generally supposed that it occurred in Penn'a, about the time, say 1746, of the migration of the children to Virginia. The widow came to Virginia about 1747, and died about 1756. Her son Joseph in his will, made in 1755, names her, and grants land to his brother Samuel, incumbered with a trust for her support. But Samuel, No. 60, by his will made in 1756, disposes of the land as if relieved of the trust. The inference is drawn that she died in the interim. She lies buried at Buena Vista, but no stone except the tomb of her son William, points out her grave.

No. 6 JOHN PAXTON.

son of John Paxton and Elizabeth Alexander, b. 1716, d. Feb. 13, 1787, = in Lancaster County, Pa., about 1742, Mary Blair, b. 1726, d. Aug. 12, 1821. She was a daughter of Rev. Robert Blair. Both were buried at Timber Ridge Presbyterian Church. His epitaph, on a brown stone slab, lying in the garden of Mr. Brady, reads: "Here lies interred the body of John Paxton, who departed this life Feb. 13, 1787, aged 71." There is of record a deed from Henry Kirkham to John Paxton, dated July 9, 1750, in which the grantee is described as John Paxton, late of Lancaster County, Penn's. Tradition derives the Virginia Paxtons from Lancaster; but here is record evidence of the fact, that cannot be doubted. Quaker supremacy, and imperfect land titles, caused thousands of the Scotch Irish settlers to desert Penn'a for Virginia and North Carolina. No deeds, nor marriage records were made, or, if made, are lost; and only an occasional land patent, or a will, has been preserved. There were at least three John Paxtons in Lancaster, in 1750. The emigrants carried with them nothing but their Calvanistic faith, with their sturdy integrity, their love of independence, and their Christian zeal and piety. John Paxton lived a short distance south of the present site of Lexington, and his homestead was known as the "Green Tree." See page 21a.

John Paxton's Will

is dated January 3d, 1787, and was probated April 3, 1787. It is long, and I will give only the substance of it:

"I give and bequeath to my wife, Mary, a sufficient support out of the crops raised on the plantation whereon I now live, with my dwelling house and furniture, during her natural life; also a negro man named Boatswain, and a negro woman named Bina,—fifty pounds curt money of Virginia, to be disposed of as she may think proper, at her decease, the furniture to go to my two daughters, Hannah and Mary,—a saddle horse and two milk cows for her own use during life, to be always kept up by my son James.

To my son John, a negro man named Dick, and thirty pounds curt money.

To my son Joseph, the plantation whereon he now lives, in Botetourt County, of 540 acres; a negro man named Stared, & one hundred pounds curt money.

To my daughter, Mary, a half acre lot, described.

To my grand daughter, Esther Lyle, a half acre lot, and 100 pounds curt money.

To my son, William, I give the plantation whereon he now lives in Rockbridge County, and 100 pounds curt money.

To my son in law, Samuel Houston, I give a negro woman, named Peg, and 300 pounds curt money.

To my daughter, Hannah, I give 400 pounds curt money, a feather bed, horse and saddle, a negro woman Luce, 3 cows, a half acre lot on the west side of the great road, and a support out of the plantation I now live on, while she remains unmarried.

To my daughter, Mary, a negro boy named Jack, 400 pounds curt money, a feather bed, furniture, a horse and saddle, and a support out of the plantation I live on, while she remains unmarried.

To my son, James, I give the plantation whereon I now live, excepting four acres adjoining town, two small tracts of land in Poplar Hills, a negro man named Mike, a feather bed, furniture, two good work horses, and all the plantation utensils.

He gives to his grandsons, James Houston, John Houston, Robert Lyle, John Paxton, son of John, each, a half acre adjoining Lexington.

The remainder of his estate to be equally divided among his seven children.

The witnesses were John Boyer, J. Buchanan, and Thomas Paxton.

The following account found among the papers of the estate and duly allowed, is suggestive of an Irish "wake;" but it must not be supposed that the deceased took part in the "solemn ceremonies."

The Estate of John Paxton, Sr., to Wm. Alexander, Dr., Feb. 13, 1787. Funeral charges, viz: (in modern currency).
To ½ oz. nutmegs, 75c; 3 lbs. loaf sugar, 75c.............. $ 1.50
To 12 lbs. brown sugar, $3; to 3 nutmegs, 75c.................. 3.75
To 4½ yds linen, $4.50; to 11 gals. rum, $16.50............... 21.00
To 1 day's wagoning, $3; ferriage, $1.25............... 4.25

$30.50

This settles the question! It must be granted the Paxtons were from Ireland.

John Paxton settled on Wood's Creek, and his home was known as "The Green Tree," which embraced part of what is now the City of Lexington. He was known in early records as "Captain" John Paxton.

No. 8, Capt. John Paxton.

was the first child of John Paxton and Mary Blair, b. 1743, d. Oct. 3, 1787, from the effects of a wound received at the battle of Guilford C. H. May 15, 1781. He=April 15, 1767, Phoebe Alexander, b. Aug. 21, 1749, d. Feb. 13, 1821. One stone covers their graves, and reads: "John Paxton, who died Oct. 3, 1787, aged 44 years; Phoebe Paxton, who died Feb. 13, 1821, aged 76 years." Capt. Paxton was a gallant son of Va, and was noted as a patriot in the Revolutionary war. He raised a company of militia, in Rockbridge, and, at the battle of Guilford, March 15, 1781, was distinguished for bravery, and was severely wounded by a musket ball. The wound was the cause of his death. The old hair trigger, flint-lock, rifle, that he bore in battle, was long preserved in the family, but finally lost and almost forgotten. But, a short time since, the gun was found in the office of the Leland hotel, Springfield, Ill., with the following legend: "This rifle was carried by H. M. Paxton, who was mortally wounded at the battle of Guilford, N. C., March 15, 1781." The circumstance is thus explained by Judge Houston. The old rifle of Capt. John Paxton, became the property of his son, Alexander, who never married; and bequeathed his estate to his niece, Margaret Paxton, who married C. C. Baldwin. When they were about to cast the statue of Gen. Andrew Lewis, now in the Capitol square, at Richmond, Va., a call was made for a Continental rifle, to be used as a model; and the Paxton rifle was sent and used. It was then presented, by John Paxton Baldwin, the grandson of Capt. John, to the Virginia Military Institute. When Gen. Hunter made his raid up the Valley of Virginia, the Military Institute was burned, and everything of value destroyed, or carried off. I have no doubt the rifle was stolen, and now appears at Springfield. I never heard of any H. M. Paxton."

Phoebe Alexander was the youngest child of Archibald Alexander and Margaret Parks, both of sain'ted memory.

An aged female relative, living in the West, who had just returned from a visit to the graves of her ancestors in Virginia, thus wrote to me a few months ago: "In the old cemetery near Glasgow, in a cluster of trees, there stands an ancient monument of dark sandstone, rudely inscribed: 'Sacred to the memory of John Paxton, who died October 3, 1787, aged 44 years. Also, to his wife, Phoebe Paxton, who died Feb. 13, 1821, aged 76 years." My correspondent continues: "Let the reader remember that this hero and patriot died from wounds received in battling for Freedom; and that his widow mourned his untimely fall for 34 years in solitude."
JOHN PAXTON, son of Capt. John Paxton, No. 8, was b. in Rockbridge County, Va., May 16, 1768, d. in Lincoln County, Ky., June 29, 1814 = Jan. 1, 1789, Elizabeth Logan, b. Dec. 5, 1765, d. Aug. 24, 1841. She was a daughter of John Logan and Ann McCluer, of Botetourt County, Va. About 1807, they moved to Kentucky, and settled on a farm in the vicinity of Stanford. He possessed a good landed and personal estate, and was an influential citizen. His will, recorded at Stanford, is dated June 25, 1814, and was probated July 11, 1814. His wife, Elizabeth, is provided for. As children, he names 1. Joseph; 2, William; 3, James; 4, Peggy, and 5, Phoebe. He was buried in the old graveyard, two miles from Stanford. His first deed to part of his farm, is dated March 15, 1793; which suggests that he visited Lincoln County, Ky., some fourteen years before he made his final settlement there.

I, James Alex. Paxton, son of John Paxton and Elizabeth Logan, was b. in Rockbridge County, Va., d. in Mo. Oct. 10, 1827 = March 17, 1816, in Shelby County, Ky., Mary E. Huff, b. Oct. 14, 1795, d. in Mo. After living until 1827, in Shelby County, Ky., they removed to Missouri.

1. Elizabeth E. Paxton, b. in Shelbyville, Ky., May 13, 1817, d. in Missouri, March 22, 1853, = Dec. 8, 1834, Rev. Samuel G. Patterson, son of Peter, of the M. E. Church, South; b. in N. Hampshire, May 31, 1811, d. Dec. 23, 1894. He possessed the courage, energy and zeal that bring success; and, whether engaged in the work of the ministry, or the pursuits of secular life, he displayed an indomitable spirit. Reared and educated in Scioto County, Ohio, he was ordained, at the age of twenty-one, and removed to Missouri. Here, he was assigned to the Merrimack Circuit. His zeal and energy knew no bounds, and in ten years, four hundred entered the church under his ministry. In 1837, he was sent to the Jasper County Circuit, which was so large, and so sparsely inhabited, that it required six weeks to go round. In 1842, he was sent to the Quapaw Indians, among whom he spent ten years of toil and privation. In 1852, he returned to Jasper County, Mo. Feeling the necessity of a better support and education of his family, he erected a small mill, which was much needed in the newly settled country. The mill grew into a large and profitable concern, and a store was added. He prospered, and when the war broke out, in 1861, his real and personal property was valued at $70,000. In the meantime his wife had died, and he had married Sarah A. McDowell. But his sympathies were with the south, and his life was endangered. In all his worldly enterprises, he continued to preach. In 1862, he went to Kentucky. In his absence Jayhawkers looted his store, drove off his cattle, and his real estate was confiscated. His family went to Fulton, Ky., which is still their homestead. The remainder of his life was spent in preaching. His death was generally lamented, and his memory is revered. His second wife still lives, and is much beloved by her step-children.

[a] Dr. Andrew Monroe Patterson, b. at Auburn, Mo., Oct. 19, 1835, = Dec. 15, 1858, Mary Ann Hughes, daughter of William S. Hughes, of Harrison County, Mo., and a niece of Gen. John T. Hughes. She d. March 16, 1873, and Dr. Patterson = 2d in 1878, Harriet C. Sigler, of Mexico, Mo. Dr. Patterson's early years were spent among the Quapaw Indians, and he was educated by his father. He became an Indian interpreter, and, as such, his services were often invoked. After his removal to Jasper County, Mo., he prepared himself for the medical profession. Taking his degree from the medical department of the University of Penn'a, he entered on the practice. But the war called him into the Confederate Service, as a surgeon, and he attained distinction. At the close of the war, he settled at Mexico, Mo., where he maintains a high reputation in his profession.

zeal. After graduating at St. Charles, Mo., Mr. Patterson finished his education at Concord, Mass. Returning West he was ordained to the M. E. Ministry, and became an active and successful preacher in Tenn. In 1878, he was sent as a missionary to Mexico, and labored for nine years, with extraordinary success. His next field was Venezuela, where, in the service of the Bible Society, he had scarcely entered on his work, which was both arduous and dangerous, before he fell a victim to the climate, and died a hero and a saint. No children.

Missouri University for three years, graduating in 1853. In 1853-5, he filled the chair of Mathematics and Natural Sciences, in William Jewell College, at Liberty, Mo. In 1855-65, he was principal of Clay Seminary for Young Ladies, at Liberty, Mo. His funds were invested in the Clay County Savings Association, which was robbed by "bushwhackers," and he was one of the principal sufferers. Prof. Love then settled on a farm near Liberty, Mo., where he has since lived. In 1881, he made an excursion to the Holy Land, and is preparing a book of travels, which he proposes to pub-
II. 1 lish. His portrait, in this volume, shows him as he appeared in traveling garb at Beyrout, Syria. He is a man of literary and political distinction, and was at one time the nominee of the Republican party for Congress. I copy from the local history of Saline County, the following somewhat exaggerated sketch: "Archibald Paxton was born in Prince William[? ] County, Va., June 21, 1810. When eight years [?] of age, his father, who was a veteran officer of 1812, [?] moved to Lincoln County, Ky., where he farmed on an extensive scale, having about 100 slaves. [? ] Mr. Archibald was educated at Transylvania University, [?] at Lexington, and graduated before reaching manhood's estate. He enlisted under Har- rison during the war in Florida against the Blackhawk Indians, and was stationed at Fort M'igs. He served until the close of the war. In 1840, he was married to Mary J. Davidson, a native of Ky., who died Dec. 6, 1857, leaving seven children: 1, Nancy E., wife of James C. Davis; 2, William L.; 3, John A.; 4, Mary A., wife of Thornton Lyons; 5, Joseph S.; 6, Emma C., wife of Jacob Harris; 7, Rebecca J., wife of T. P. Hackley. In 1850, Mr. Paxton came to this county (Saline) and entered 460 acres of land, now owned by Alex. Price. He afterward purchased all of Sec. 17. He was married second, in May, 1860, to Mrs. Miranda C. Martin, nee Cole, by whom he had two children: 1, Mary C., wife of William P. Tate, and 2, Tillie A. Mr. Paxton died March 29, 1878, of heart disease." The children are thus set in order:

III. John Paxton, son of Joseph and Elizabeth, was born Jan. 7, 1812, and died July 24, 1835; he was a lawyer of Burksville, Ky.

IV. Isaac Paxton, born Oct. 22, 1814, was murdered for his money, with his cousin, Alexander Paxton, May 7, 1849, at Independence, Mo., on their way to California.

V. Hannah M. Paxton, daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth, was born Feb. 2, 1818, and died May 16, 1895. Her step-mother's son, George H. McKinney, was born Jan. 30, 1818, and died Jan. 15, 1899. He served in the Union army as a quartermaster, was a railroad passenger agent, and a gentleman of character and influence. His letters to me display literary culture and commendable family pride.

[a] Charley McKinney, is in the office of the chief of police of New York City.

[b] Jesse d. in Louisville, Ky., while keeping books for a wholesale house.

[a] Isaac A. A. McKinney, born Aug. 31, 1878. He lives at Montgomery, Ala. A. A. McKinney = 2d, April 25, 1894, Pokey T. Courts. He was assistant cashier of the 1st Nat. Bank, of Stanford, Ky.

Calloway, are finding admirers wherever melody and sentiment are appreciated. We have her portrait in this volume, and only lament that the camera cannot give expression to her golden hair, her brilliant eye and opaline cheek.

   [c] Panthea Royston, b. Jan. 27, 1883. The family live on a farm at Point Leavel, Ky.

VI. James Paxton, son of Joseph and Elizabeth, b. Aug. 15, 1819, d. March 15, 1886=1st, March 31, 1852, Hannah J Hoffman, b. Sept. 9, 1833, d. Sept. 14, 1863. James Paxton=2d, Jan. 16, 1866, his first wife's sister, Martha Frances Hoffman, b. Dec. 2, 1842. Hannah J. and Martha F. Hoffman were daughters of James M. Hoffman and Martha E. Logan, daughter of "Tall" Hugh Logan and Hannah Briggs, niece of Gen. Ben. Logan. "Tall" Hugh Logan was a brother of Elizabeth and Nancy (Logan) Paxton. Hannah Briggs was a daughter of Samuel Briggs, who married a sister of Gen. Ben Logan. James Paxton was a patriot, a soldier and a Christian. He was an elder in the Presbyterian church at Stanford for over 30 years; a soldier in the Mexican war, a beloved husband and father, and an esteemed and trusted citizen. Children by first wife:

2. Bettie Briggs Paxton, b. Aug. 23, 1854, the rival of her sister in loveliness.

James Paxton had no children by his second wife. The family are zealous Presbyterians and leaders in literary circles.

2. William G. Burton, b. Aug. 27, 1871. He is a physician in Peck, Kansas. He = and has:

ISABELLA PAXTON, daughter of John (No. 8) and Phoebe, was b Oct. 17, 1782, d. Oct. 13, 1835 = Oct. 20, 1802, Hugh Paxton, b. Jan. 17, 1777, d. Nov. 4, 1838, son of Thomas Paxton, No. 26, and Mary Barclay. Their epitaphs at Glasgow, read: "Isabella Paxton, wife of Hugh Paxton, was born Oct. 17, 1782, and died Oct. 13, 1835. Hugh Paxton died Nov. 4, 1838." The wife was much beloved, as the endearing name of "Aunt Ibby" attests. The name "Hugh" comes from the Barclay family. He was an important citizen—widely known and universally esteemed.

I. Lucinda Paxton b. Aug. 27, 1804, d. Sept. 20, 1840 = 1st, Feb. 8, 1821, Thomas C. Poague. No issue. After his death, she = 2d, Dec. 9, 1830, William B. Sterritt, who was father of all of her children.

1. Isabella Sterritt, = Joseph G. Steele, Jr., son of Martha Paxton and Jos. Steele, Sr.
   [a] Emma Steele = Parry McCluer.
   [b] Mattie Steele = Dr. Hamilton Campbell.

2. Emaline Sterritt, = Prof. Chas. Dodd, living.
   1 child.

4. Aurelia Sterritt, = Douglas McCorkle, both living.

Lucinda Sterritt is said to have been beautiful in person and lovely in disposition. I copy in full her epitaph: "Here lies Lucinda, consort of W. B. Sterritt, who departed this life Sept. 20, 1840.

The hour of my departure's come;
I hear the voice that calls me home;
At last, O Lord, let trouble cease,
And let Thy servant die at peace.
I leave the world without a tear,
Save for the friends to me so dear.
To heal their sorrows, Lord, descend,
And to the friendless, be a friend.
II. Aurelia R. Paxton, b. March 21, 1806, d. June 12, 1882=1st, Peter A. Salling; =2d, Jacob Mohler.

IV. Margaret Paxton, b. Sept. 27, 1813, d. April 13, 1847=Nov. 16, 1837, Cor. C. Baldwin, b. 1810, d.
IV. She possessed a sweet confiding nature, that called for love. Mr. Baldwin was at one time an editor.

He came of a distinguished race, and inherited a strong, but un chastened mind. He thought for himself, and possessed independence to a fault.

He = 2d, Sept. 2, 1858, Sue A. Sale. Margaret’s ch’n:

3. Dr. Joseph Salling Baldwin, b. Sept. 1, 1846 = Nannie Bissell.

Dr. Joseph is a successful practitioner of Maryland.

Children by 2d wife:

Margaret Baldwin was buried at Glasgow, and her epitaph, after name and dates, reads: “Margaret sleeps here by her sister’s side, and in her mother’s lap.”

V. Hannah C. Paxton, b. May 17, 1817, d. Sept. 17, 1838. So it appears from her epitaph at Glasgow.

VI. John A. Paxton, son of Hugh and Isabella, b. June 3, 1819 = Hannah McClelland. They went to California, and he became a wealthy banker.

He died about 1886, leaving two sons.
VII. Elizabeth Ann Paxton, daughter of Hugh and Isabella, was b. Oct. 2, 1821 = B. J. Jordan.

1. Harry Jordan was killed in the civil war.

Polly Paxton, daughter of Capt. John, No. 8, was b. May 16, 1784, d. July 13, 1859 = Dec. 20, 1804. Col. William Paxton, of the U. S. Army, son of William, No. 64, and Eleanor. He was b. 1777, d. May 27, 1853. Nature had endowed him with talents, and an energy that never tired. As a learned surveyor, he found employment in locating wild lands. As an engineer, he was engaged on many public enterprises, as well as on roads and turnpikes. He served in the legislature, and as superintendent of public works. As a citizen, he enjoyed universal confidence and esteem. Their epitaph at Glasgow reads: "In memory of William Paxton, who died May 27, 1853, aged 76 years, and of Polly Paxton, his wife, who died July 13, 1859, aged 75 years. Blessed is the memory of the just."

I. Archibald H. Paxton. After graduating at Washington College, he studied law, and went to Mississippi, and there soon died.

II. Mary Eleanor Paxton, daughter of Col. William = Col. Alex. T. Barclay, his third wife.

1. Agnes M. Barclay, = Judge James Patton.
2. Sallie Barclay, = Metellus Woods.
3. Hannah Barclay, second wife of Judge William P. Houston, whom we will notice under his own sketch. I met cousin Hannah in 1884, but both of us were deaf, and our conversation, I have no doubt, was amusing to others present. She has no children.
4. Alex T. Barclay, Jr., = Virginia Moore.
5. Elihu Barclay, b. Feb. 9, 1847, d. Feb. 8, 1902 = Margaret Rowan. He was an alumnus of
II. Washington College, class of 1862, edited the Lexington Gazette, a warm Democratic paper, for thirty years. Was a member of the Va. House of Delegates, from Rockbridge County, in 1899. A member of Co. C, 1st Va. Cavalry, on the Confederate side. Lost an arm in the service. His wife survives. They had two children: Dr. M. Rowan Barclay, and Mrs. Carl Schotz, both of St. Louis, Mo.

6. Dr James Barclay, = Emma Payne.

III. Col. James Hays Paxton, b. in Rockbridge County, Va., Oct. 7, 1812, d. at his ancestral home near Buena Vista, Va., March 3, 1902= Dec. 23, 1862, Katharine A. Glasgow, b. Nov. 2, 1835, who survives. For years Col. Paxton was the patriarch of the Paxton family, and enjoyed otium cum dignitate, in the home of his birth. The widow, Mrs. Kate Glasgow Paxton, is a daughter of the late Robert Glasgow, and at the family homestead, the “Green Forest,” she was born, reared and married. The ancient structure is still in good repair. Her home is now, in her widowhood, near the early home of Major William Paxton, No. 64, where her husband was born, lived and died. Some of the old catalpas yet bloom for his posterity. In ante bellum times, Col. Paxton commanded a militia regiment. But his career of life was in the line of education. After graduating at Washington College, in 1833, he was professor of languages in that institution for some years. He then opened a classical school, at his own home, and for twelve years prepared the Virginia youth for the Senior year in college. He next entered the political arena, and served eight years in the State Senate, from 1851 to 1859. He was much interested in the Virginia school system, and ardently supported whatever he deemed for the public good, without heeding the dictates of party. Though mellowed by age, his soul still burned with patriotism, and his spirit exulted with chivalry. But in his latter days, the classics were his delight. The table of his memory was laden with choice morsels from Horace and Homer—from Virgil and Plato. Col. Paxton was proud of his name, and wrote me he hoped he would live to see my volume in print. But the sage, soldier and saint went to his eternal home, just as I was winding up my genealogy. The name of his home was "Mountain View," and that of his wife was "Green Forest," and we may apply the lines from Scott's "Coronach:"

"He has gone from the Mountain;
He is lost to the Forest."

1. Eleanor Paxton, b. Oct. 14, 1863, was a graduate of Mary Baldwin's Seminary.

2. Lieut. Robt. G Paxton b. Sept. 19, 1865, received a military education at West Point, in 1887, and entered the army. In the war with Spain he commanded a company of volunteers. He is one of the few of our name, I have ever met. In 1890, he attended our golden wedding, and we were delighted with his military bearing, his gracious deportment and his interesting conversation. He is now with his command in Cuba.

3. Katharine Anderson Paxton is a graduate of Mary Baldwin's Seminary. She was b. Jan. 28, 1868.

[a] Katie Fontaine Paxton, b. Sept. 29, 1897.
III. 5. James Hays Paxton, b. Jan. 30, 1871. Took the degree of M. A. at the University of Va., and is now Professor of Ancient Languages in the University of New Mexico.

6. Gordon Paxton, b. Dec. 1, 1872, graduated at the University of Virginia, and, after filling the chair of Ancient Languages in Central University, of Richmond, Ky., he has entered on the practice of law at Norfolk, Va.

7. Archibald H. Paxton. b. Nov. 10, 1874. He is raising stock on his father's farm.

The venerable and erudate father, the courtly and refined mother, the intellectual and accomplished daughters, the chivalrous and scholarly sons, with a charming sister-in-law, and a prattling babe, made, indeed, a happy family.

Mrs. Kate Paxton was descended from the Grigsbys, McNutts, Andersons, and other illustrious families. Her grand parents were Arthur Glasgow who = Rebecca McNutt. Their son, Robert Glasgow = Kate Anderson, and they were parents of Mrs. Kate Paxton.

IV. Phoebe Alex. Paxton, b. Jan. 1815, d. Oct. 1, 1898 = 1864, Dr. James W. McClung, his 2d wife. She became almost blind from cataract. Dr. McClung was eminent in his profession. He lived at Lexington, Va. No children. A daughter of his first wife was the first wife of Judge W. P. Houston.

V. Margaret Parks Paxton, b. May 25, 1817, d. Aug. 27, 1892 = 1841, Rev. Samuel Rutherford Houston, D. D., his 2d wife. He was b. March 12, 1806, d. Jan. 18, 1887. In 1884, with my daughter, Phoebe Paxton, I visited, for two days, "Wigton," in Monroe County, W. Va., the humble but hospitable home of the since sainted servants of God. Both were then standing on the river's bank, casting longing eyes to the land of rest. With filial devotion, their children gave them affectionate regard and ready obedience. His thoughts and prayers were for the little flock under his care, and his words and pen were pleading for the cause of missions abroad. I had much conversation with the old people. I shall never forget the heartfelt attentions of their heavenly minded daughters.

The lineage of Dr. Houston is thus traced:

1. John Houston = in Ireland, Margaret McClung, whom Dr. Houston calls "the mother of us all"

2. John Houston (immigrant) (1695) = Miss Cunningham

3. John Houston, (1724) = Sarah Todd

4. Rev. Samuel Houston (1758) = Marg't Walker

5. Rev. S. R. Houston, D D, (1806) = Margaret P. Paxton

Dr. S. R. Houston was b. at "Rural Valley," near Natural Bridge. He was graduated at Dickinson College, in 1825, completed his theological course at Princeton, and at Union Theological Seminary of Va. He was ordained as an evangelist in 1834. = 1st, Mary Russell Rowland, daughter of William Rowland, of Botetourt County, Va. She was b. 1809, d. at Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 19, 1839. Dr. Houston, in 1834, was sent as a missionary of the American Board, to Asia Minor, where he labored for seven years. Two children of his first wife were born abroad, one of whom died in early childhood. After his return his second marriage took place, to Margaret P. Paxton, in 1841. Finding now that it was not advisable to return to his missionary field, he settled as pastor of Union and Mount Pleasant Presbyterian churches, near Pickaway, Monroe County, Va., where he labored 45 years, until his death. He was tall, stately and dignified, and his presence inspired esteem and confidence. Mrs. Houston was more sociable, and was active in her schemes of literature, charity and religion. Her daughter, Janet, was, at the time of my visit, in Mexico, as a missionary to some half-civilized natives, and the mother's heart was interested. Mrs.
Houston was large and handsome in person, and exceedingly agreeable in manners. Dr. Houston had been long praying for a revival in his churches and just before his death, the gracious outpouring came. Many were added to his churches. His drooping spirit was refreshed, and like Elijah he ascended in glory to his reward.

Rutherford Rowland Houston, son of the first wife, was b. in Smyrna, Asia Minor. He was educated in the United States, and took his theological course at Union Seminary, in Va., was licensed to preach in 1863, and has reached distinction as a pulpit orator. He = Maggie Steele, of Illinois, and is the father of nine children.

Dr. Houston, to purity of heart added the accomplishments of literature. About 1882 he published a valuable volume on the "Houston Family, which I often consult.

1. Judge William Paxton Houston, b. April 18, 1843, graduated at the literary and law departments of Washington College, and now stands at the head of the Lexington bar. He is Judge of the Rockbridge County Court, and enjoys the confidence and esteem of all acquaintances. He has, like his parents, interested himself in genealogical research, and I owe much to him for the aid he has given me. He is a laborer in the church at home, and has sent his only child to Mexico and to Cuba, to help win them to Protestantism and to God. Judge Houston = 1st, April 27, 1871,

[a] Edith M. Houston, b. June 18, 1873. She was the comfort and blessing of her grandparents, while they lived, and the idol of her father. But she has left the circle of admiring friends, and devoted relatives, and has joined her aunt Janet Houston, at Cardenas, Cuba, and is holding up the lamp of gospel truth to the benighted natives.

2. Samuel Adger Houston, b. May 29, 1845, is unmarried. He possesses superior business qualifications; was a zealous promoter of the Grange movement; has served as a Justice of the Peace, member of the County Court, and represented Monroe County, W. Va., in the State Legislature. He is an elder in the Presbyterian Church, at Union.

3. A. Corey Houston. b. Feb. 15, 1847, unmarried. Has diplomas from the law and collegiate departments of Washington and Lee University. Has served as County Attorney, and is successfully practicing law in Monroe and adjacent counties. As an orator he has few superiors.

4. Mary Margaret Houston, b. March 11, 1849.
5. Helen Alex. Houston, b. March 13, 1851.
6. Elizabeth (Bessie) Moore Houston, b. April 12, 1853.

These three young ladies are industrious in their domestic duties, zealous in their Christian labors, beautiful in their lives and persons, and forward in good works.

7. Janet Hays Houston, b. May 2, 1855. At an early day she renounced the world and gave her life to the cause of foreign missions. For twenty years, as agent of the Southern Pres.
7. By the Presbyterian Church, she labored among the Mexicans on the Rio Grande. Her soul is enlisted in the cause of the Lord, and we at home, through her published letters, have learned to love and bless her. Her proficiency in the Spanish language and the difficulty of finding good laborers for Cuba, have caused the Board to remove her to that island. Through her earnest messages, she is organizing in the United States, missionary bands, whom she names after the light houses of Cuba. Her address is Cardenas, Cuba.

8. James Barnard Houston, b. June 15, 1858. After a thorough course in medicine, he is in a successful practice in Monroe County, W.Va.

9. Hubert T. Houston, b. March 7, 1861. Has received a finished education.

The family all opposed secession, at first; but when war was inevitable, they cast their lots with the South, and the three older brothers fought to the end. Dr. S. R. Houston was proud of his noble Presbyterian ancestry, and preserved their memory, and commended their virtues, in a volume of 420 pages, published in 1882, entitled "Brief Biographical Accounts of Many Members of the Houston Family." His name will not perish and his deeds will live after him.

VI. Dr. William B Paxton, son of William and Polly, b. March 7, 1820, d. April 14, 1888, at their home in Paris, Ky. = 1849, Frances Eliz. Offutt, b. Jan. 20, 1829, d. Nov. 6, 1901, at Mt. Sterling, Ky., daughter of Otho Offutt. Dr. Paxton was an alumnus of Washington and Lee University, class of 1840. Went to Kentucky, and spent his later years as a druggist, and in the practice of medicine, at Paris, Ky. His medical diploma was granted in 1844, by Jefferson College, Philadel-
VI. phia. He spent the year 1848 at Memphis, during the yellow fever scourge; settled, 1856, at Paris, Ky., and joined the business of a druggist with his practice as a physician; but ill health afflicted him for the last twenty years of his life.

ALEXANDER PAXTON, son of Capt. John, No. 8, was b. in Rockbridge County, Va., Aug. 31, 1787. d. May 15, 1847. He was what is called a crusty old bachelor. The farm on which he lived with his negroes lay on James River, near Glasgow. His epitaph: "Alexander Paxton, a warm-hearted, honorable and generous man, died May 15, 1847, aged 60 years." C. C. Baldwin was his administrator, and Mrs. Baldwin his beneficiary. His will, dated May 11, 1847, is peculiar. He orders his farm to be appraised, and offered to his friend Peter A. Salling, at the appraisement; but if it is not accepted by him, it shall be publicly sold to the highest bidder, on the premises, "with this express condition, however, that Joseph Glasgow is not to be the purchaser of the said land, or any part thereof, either directly or indirectly, now, or at any future time; neither is he to have any control over it, as lessee or agent, or in any other character, whatever, at any time during his life. For reasons satisfactory to me, I direct that my land shall be sold upon this express condition."
[I] The will continues: "In consequence of Col. William Paxton's (No. 80) unkind and injurious conduct towards me recently, I expressly prohibit him from having anything to do with my estate in any contingency, or under any circumstances whatever."

No. 10, Capt. William Paxton.

No. 14, James Paxton.

Child of John Paxton and Mary Blair, was born in Rockbridge county, Va., March 15, about 1762, = March 23, 1786, by Rev. John Brown, to Phoebe McClung. She was a daughter of John McClung and Elizabeth Alexander.

Phoebe McClung's Lineage.

1. Archibald Alexander of Manor Cunningham, Scotland.

James Paxton's Death.

He was found dead on his farm, near Lexington, Va. He had gone hunting with a companion in 1788, named David Grinstead, who returned with the report that, by the accidental discharge of his rifle, he had killed James Paxton. Grinstead was tried for murder, but there was no evidence against him except his own statement, and he was acquitted.

James Paxton's Lands.

A deed from James Alex Paxton, my father, dated 1810, is of record in Rockbridge county, Va., conveying to James McDowell, a farm of 418 acres, on part of which a portion of the city of Lexington is built. Part of the land was patented to John Paxton No 6.

James Paxton served in the Revolutionery army.

The only fruit of this marriage was my father.

[A] JAMES ALEXANDER PAXTON, only child of James No.14, was b Sept. 13, 1788, d. Oct. 23, 1825, =May 2, 1811, Maria Marshall, b. July 20, 1795, d. Feb. 6, 1824, in Columbus, O. My mother inherited the beauty and loveliness of the McDowells and the intelligence and spirit of the Marshalls. Her fragile form and delicate health were compensated by tenderness of heart and amiability of character.

Sketch of James A. Paxton.

My father received a classical education, chiefly from private tutors. In 1801, he accompanied his uncle, Judge William McClung, who had married Susan Marshall, a sister of Chief Justice John Marshall, to Mason Co., Ky. He studied law with his uncle, and entered on the practice, attending the various courts of his circuit. Well read in history, philosophy and law, handsome, genial and eloquent, he built up a lucrative practice. In 1822, his ambition led him to remove to Columbus, the young and promising capitol of Ohio. But here his wife died, and here stands her monument. He then married his first wife's cousin, Mary Keith Marshall, daughter of Capt. Thomas Marshall, a Revolutionary soldier. My father died and the widow was consolated by the birth of a daughter, but it lived but a year. The widow, in 1845, married Judge John Green, of Danville, Ky, and was mother of Col. Thomas Marshall Green, the distinguished author of "Historic Families of Virginia and Kentucky," and of "The Spanish Conspiracy" of Burr and others.

My father's tomb is at Washington, Ky, and his epitaph, written by Dr. Edgar, afterwards of Nashville, Tenn., reads:

"Reared to the memory of James A. Paxton, son of James Paxton and Phoebe McClung, b Sept. 13, 1788, in Rockbridge Co., Va, d Oct. 23, 1825, aged 37 years. No one has fallen a victim to death of more incorruptible integrity. To pre-eminent talents and attainments, he united the social and domestic virtues, in a degree seldom, if ever, surpassed, by a friend or husband, by father or brother. Though learned and eloquent as a jurist, yet his main attractions were found in his sympathetic heart, his disinterested benevolence, and his moral delicacy of sentiment and action.

His home was the retreat of peace and plenty, where, supporting and supported, polished friends and dear relations met and mingled into bliss."

Phoebe Paxton, the widow of James, married, 2d, Samuel Moore, who, about 1815, came West, and, after spending a year with my father, went on to Tennessee. They had two children, Jane and William Moore.

CHILDREN OF JAMES A. AND MARIA PAXTON.

1 MARY PAXTON, b in Washington, Ky, Oct. 22, 1813, d in Flemingsburg, Ky, March 5, 1868 = Dec. 5, 1831, Benjamin Harbeson, b in Philadelphia, Pa, July 18, 1810, d in Flemingsburg, Ky, Oct. 25, 1860. After the death of our parents, the four orphans were reared by their aunt, Lucy Marshall.

We were left to shift for ourselves, until our stepmother formed us into a private school. She possessed the ability to teach, but lacked the tact, temper and tenderness to govern children. Upon Sister Mary's marriage in 1831, we were scattered. The older children went to Cincinnati and I was kept dangling to my stepmother's apron strings, so she expressed it. In her widowhood I was kept close at her side.
Mr. Harbeson was a grandson of Benjamin Harbeson, the distinguished Philadelphia patriot, who, with Franklin and others, labored for, and won, our independence.

Benjamin, Jr., was not handsome, but mirth rippled on his features, and his black eyes closed with hilarity. He was short of stature, but strong and active. Little, short and emaciated oaths dropped, harmlessly, from his lips, and added spice to his conversation. Everybody loved Ben Harbeson; and when he was prevailed upon to run for the legislature, he went in with a hurrah. But one term satisfied his ambition. He could not be prevailed upon to run again. After living a year or two in Cincinnati, Mr. Harbeson returned to Mason Co., Ky, and purchased a farm two miles West of Washington. After ten years, he purchased the Crawford farm, adjacent to Flemingsburg, Ky, where, for many years, he dispensed generous hospitality. Sister Mary was beautiful of person. A smile of contentment rested upon her lips and her hand was ever busy in works of charity. A zealous member of the Presbyterian church, she was never absent from preaching or prayer-meeting. She taught her children the catechism, and her son, Judge Jim Harbeson, says it is a better law book than Blackstone.

1 John Marshall Harbeson, b in Mason Co., Ky, Feb. 11, 1834, d in Augusta, Ky, Sept. 2, 1901 = Aug. 28, 1856, Fannie Metcalfe, b Jan. 25, 1836. She lives at her old home, in Augusta, Ky. In 1844, he removed, with his parents, to Flemingsburg. He entered the Circuit Clerk's office, when a youth, and was elected subsequently to that office. In 1868, he removed to Augusta, Ky, and, with Mr. F. W. Allen, commenced a broker's office, which developed into the Farmers' Na-
[A] 1 tional Bank of Augusta, of which he was president, up to the time of his death. Late in August, 1901, he received a slight wound on one of his feet. Blood poison followed, and, though the foot was amputated, he died twenty-four hours later. He was a man of sterling integrity, and admitted honor. He was buried at Flemingsburg, where his parents lie.

2 Judge James Paxton Harbeson, b Jan. 4, 1838, near Washington, Mason Co., Ky = June 30, 1866, Mrs. Mary E Shreve (nee Shepard), of Lancaster, Co., Va. She d Dec. 1870, leaving one child, Jas. P. Harbeson, Jr. He = 2d, Dec. 12, 1876, Miss Alice Andrews. In the spring of 1844, James Harbeson, Sr., moved, with his parents, to the vicinity of Flemingsburg, Ky. There and under the tutelage of Elder Seley, of Maysville, Ky, James received a liberal education. At 18 years of age, he went to Platte City, Mo., and spent a year with his uncle, William M. Paxton, He made two trips to Kansas, with the Missourians (then called Border Ruffians), and was at the capture of Lawrence, and the battle of Ossawatomie, In the spring of 1857, he returned to Kentucky, and attended the law school of the university, at Louisville, received his diploma in the spring of 1859, and commenced the practice of law at Flemingsburg, Ky. In Oct. 1861, he raised a company and was elected captain, then joined the regiment of his uncle—the 16th Kentucky Infantry, U. S. A.—was promoted to the rank of major, and served until Jan. 7; 1863. He then resigned and formed a partnership with his cousin, Thomas A. Marshall, and commenced the practice of law in Louisville. In 1865, the partnership was dissolved, on account of Judge Marshall being appointed to fill a vacancy in the bench of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, and Harbeson being appointed judge of the city court of Louisville. Returning to Flemingsburg, Judge Harbeson was elected, 1890, judge of the Fleming county court for a term of four years; but in 1892, he resigned, and was elected judge of the 19th district of Kentucky, for five years. At the expiration of this term, in 1893, he was re-elected for six years, which position he still occupies.

JOHN PAXTON,
Sketch, Page 236c. of Pierce City, Mo.
PHOEBE ANN PAXTON, b. in Washington, Ky.; Feb. 2, 1818, d. April 10, 1901, = Sept. 12, 1833.

He was b. on "The Hill," near Washington, Ky., May 2, 1809, d. in Washington, Ky., Feb. 12, 1896.

My sister's married life was spent at "Walnut Grove," in the old brick house (now burned) built by our grandfather, Alex. K. Marshall, on a farm of 400 acres. In early life, she possessed beauty, vivacity and intelligence. Fond of flowers, she made her garden an Eden. Before my marriage, her house was my home. She was the ruler of her household, her table was crowned with delicacies, and her parlor was seldom without company. Her untiring energy and skillful management made for her large family a happy home. In her old age and widowhood, she lived in Washington, Ky., with her unmarried daughter, Fannie, that she might have a home for her numerous posterity, where she could enjoy their society. She saw her children, except Fannie, with families, and happy homes. I drop a tear for Fannie, when I picture her in this empty world, with nothing to do but to die. And I am the patriarch of our race; and there is no other descendant of James Paxton No. 14 and Phoebe McClung, that bears the name of Paxton. When I die, the name of my father becomes extinct in our family.

Col. Marshall was a son of Capt. Thomas Marshall and Fannie Kennan. He was educated by his uncle, Dr. Louis Marshall, at "Buckpond," and in the most literary and refined society of the heroic age of Kentucky; tall, handsome, brave and chivalrous, he stood peerless among his associates. Like all the Marshalls, he acquired learning by systematic reading. History was his delight, and in the science of government he was proficient. Though capable, he was not ambitious. Only
III. once did he accept civil office. He represented Mason County, Ky., in the state legislature, as an "American," and was distinguished by his advocacy of every reform. Descended from a long line of patriots, he condemned secession, and opposed a division of the union. A leader by nature, and a soldier by inheritance, he was selected to raise and organize the 16th Kentucky Regiment; but after a few months of active service, his Southern blood and fraternal sympathies demanded his resignation. But in his warfare, he displayed courage and generalship. At the battle of Big Sandy, his horse was shot under him, and his cap and clothing (still preserved) were perforated with bullets.

The remains of Col. O. A. Marshall and his wife lie in the family graveyard on "The Hill," near Washington, Ky. Beside him repose his grandfather, Col. Thomas Marshall, the friend of Washington and a hero of the Revolution, and his own father, Capt. Thomas Marshall, and both their wives. My father's tomb is also there.

My early home was at Col. Marshall's house. I revered him as an elder brother, and in my "Marshall Family" I dedicate to him a poem, from which I select a stanza:

Your firm decision, faith and zeal—
Your truth and self denial—
Your love of right and nerve of steel,
Have won in many a trial.
In times that made the strongest quail,
You did not cringe nor waver;
You never learned to catch the gale,
Of shifting public favor.

Their oldest child is:

I. Thomas Marshall, b. at "Walnut Grove," the grand old baronial estate of my grandfather, Aug. 25, 1834, = Nov. 27, 1855, Sarah Jane Hughes, b. Aug. 14, 1837, in Clay County, Mo., d. at Salt Lake City, Utah, May 1902.
III. 1. She was a daughter of Hon. James M. Hughes, who represented our district in Congress at one time, and afterwards became a leading wholesale merchant in St. Louis. Mr. Marshall is a lawyer of Salt Lake City, and is tall, handsome, dignified, courteous and complacent. His practice is large, and he is regarded as one of the most learned jurists of the West. Their only child is Nannie Marshall, who = Arthur B. Witcher, of Salt Lake City.

2. Fannie Maitland Marshall, b. March 5, 1839. She waited on her widowed mother, and was her solace and comfort, to the last. She lives at the old home in Washington, Ky.,

3. Lizzie C. Marshall, b. at “Walnut Grove,” July 27, 1841, = Oct. 12, 1871, Rev. Maurice Waller, D. D., b. in Maysville, Ky., April 7, 1840. Lizzie is tall, handsome and accomplished. Mr. Waller is a son of the distinguished Chicago lawyer, Hon. Henry Waller, and of the lovely Sarah Belle Langhorne. He took degrees from Center College, Ky., Highland University, Kans., (D. D.); McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, Ill., (D. D.) was ordained 1871, served churches in Maryland, Illinois, Arkansas, Ohio, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. His address is Lebanon, Ky.

[a] Sarah Belle Waller, b. Dec. 29, 1878, is now taking a post graduate course at the University of Illinois.

[b] Henry Waller, b. Aug. 1, 1874, lives in Milwaukee, Wis.

[c] Phoebe Waller, b. June 2, 1876, is teaching.

[d] Elizabeth L. Waller, b. Sept. 12, 1881.

[e] Lucy M. Waller, b. May 3, 1888.
III. 4. Major William Louis Marshall, b. June 11, 1846, at "Walnut Grove" = June 8, 1886, at Edgewood, Ga., Lizzie Hill Colquitt, daughter of Senator A. H. Colquitt. Capt. Marshall was educated at West Point; was commissioned 2d Lieutenant of Engineers, June 15, 1868; made extensive explorations and important discoveries in the mountains of the West; surveyed and improved a number of ports and rivers, and is regarded as one of the most scientific engineers of the world. His discoveries and improvements in his department, alone, would have made his fortune, if an of-ciwer might patent his inventions. Mrs. Marshall is lovely and beautiful.

[a] Fannie Marland Marshall, b. Sept. 1, 1889, is just budding into womanhood.

cousin, Hester Marshall, b. at "Edgewood," Fauquier County, Va., July 20, 1852. She is the accomplished daughter of Capt. ("Navy") John Marshall, of Virginia. "Paxton," as he is called, is a successful farmer on a splendid tract adjoining "Walnut Grove."

6. Lucy Coleman Marshall, b. Sept. 22, 1851, = Nov. 29, 1877, John B. Bentley, b. in Essex County, Va., May 16, 1843, d. Lucy is now teaching in Missouri, and is one of the most accomplished of women. Mr. Bentley was of literary turn, and his life was devoted to education.

[a] Charles M. Bentley, b. in Virginia, July 30, 1881, is a railroad officer, and an accomplished gentleman.

[b] Frank M. Bentley, b. in Kentucky, April 10, 1888.

7. Sallie Hughes Marshall, b. Nov. 24, 1358, = June
III. 7. 17, 1885, Edmond Wilkes, Jr. He died at Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 19, 1891. He was a gallant lieutenant in the United States army.

8. Ben Harbeson Marshall, b. Aug. 28, 1861. He was the youngest, and is owner of "Walnut Grove," the farm of his father. He owns the lands, but the antiquated building is in ashes. He has built a more modern structure, and Nov. 15, 1893, he=Orra Moore Calvert, a descendant of the noble Baltimore stock.

IV. William McClung Paxton, b. in Washington, Ky., March 2, 1819,=Oct. 1, 1840. Mary Forman, b. in Mason County, Ky., Sept. 6, 1819. "By reason of our strength," our years are four score and four, and not without "labor and sorrow." Left an orphan, I had no home until my marriage. I received a good classical and scientific education, at various schools, and from 1834 to 1838, I received my finishing course at Center College, Danville, Ky. I then read law at Washington, Ky., under the tutelage of Dr. John A. McClung. In 1839, I came West, and settled in the forest where I have since lived. After practicing a few years, I settled on a large farm, sold it in 1850 and tried the mercantile and milling pursuits. The war came on, and I was ruined by my friends, for whom I had indorsed. I resumed the practice of law, and succeeded. But in the midst of a successful practice, I became hard of hearing. I had to retire; but I had made an abstract of titles of Platte Coun'y lands, which supported my family comfortably.

My business left me leisure, which I improved by literary pursuits. In 1884, I started, with a daughter (Phoebe), and visited as many of the
IV. Marshall family as we could find. From house to house, I gathered the material that forms my "Marshall Family," a volume of 425 pages, with a chart, showing at one view, every member numbered and indexed.

My next attention was to poetry. After publishing two volumes, I entered upon a vast and new field, of research, which resulted, 1898, in my "Annals of Platte County." in one large volume of 1,200 pages. Not only the history of the County, in chronological order, is given, but sketches and genealogies of 2,000 families.

And now I am at work on my father's family; and am even looking forward to a record of my wife's family—The Formans. She comes from New Jersey families, who settled in Mason County, Ky., more than a century ago. She is a sister of Dr. Charles W. Forman, the sainted missionary of the Himalayas, who left a large family, who are now entering into his labors. Another brother was Rev. Ezekiel Forman, D. D., who found rest a few months ago.

1. Annie Maria Paxton, b. Feb. 12, 1847, d. July 22, 1901. Her life was a precious offering to her beloved Master. Her only pleasure was to bless others. She never left her home except on some mission of love. My pen trembles with emotion as I think of the sacrifices made by her for me, for the family, for the Church, the Sunday School, and for humanity. I would like to dwell on her virtues, her labors and her reward. But I must desist.

Her Epitaph: "A pilgrim on Earth—A Saint in Heaven. Prayer was her vital breath, the Word her daily food. She lived not for herself, but for others. Like her Savior, she went about doing good."

IV. 2. = May 7, 1868. Dr. A. Sidney Tebbs. Beautiful in their lives, my two daughters were not in death divided. Tillie was spirited and lively. She found pleasure in society, and delighted in flowers. Handsome, gay and lovely, she was untiring in her labors for the Church. The infant class in Sunday School was hers, and she will be long remembered.

Her Epitaph: "Beautiful in person, lovely in disposition, pure in heart, diligent in Christian service, an heir of Heaven"

[b] Mary (Mamie) Paxton Tebbs, b. Aug, 23, 1872. Educated at Daughters’ College, and at the Missouri University, April 14, 1897, Dr. Henry Menifee Clark. They live within a stone’s throw of our house. Dr. Clark was a professor in the Medical School at St. Joseph. He is now practicing medicine in Platte City.

3. Phoebe Marshall Paxton, b. at Platte City, Mo., Jan. 16, 1853. Though intelligent, accomplished and self reliant, she feels the emptiness of earth, since her two sisters have gone to their eternal home. She realizes that she is alone. Yet her aged parents call for her love and care. She feels that her duties at home, at church and at Sunday School, are augmented threelfold, and call for unremitting attention. She is all that is left to us. I lost two sons in their childhood, and have none to bear down my name to future time.

THE FORMAN FAMILY OF NEW JERSEY.

In my "Marshall Family," page 239, I gave the descendants of Ezekiel and John Forman, ancestors of my wife, Mary Forman Paxton. And now, by the courtesy of Hon. William Henry Forman, late of New York City, I am possessed of the genealogy of the Formans from their arrival in America. The Formans are proud of their progenitors, who were men of dauntless courage that knew no bounds but the dictates of conscience. Their Christian faith was implicit, and in the performance of duty they responded to God alone. Whether Loyalist or Patriot, their lives and labors were enlisted boldly for the cause they espoused.

ROBERT FORMAN, a native of York, England, flying from tyranny and persecution, landed on Long Island, early in the 17th century, and settled at Hempstead. His wife was named Johanna.

SAMUEL FORMAN was the oldest child of Robert. His wife was named Mary. He seems to have had six sons and three daughters, whom we will notice in the order of their births.

No. I SAMUEL FORMAN

was the oldest son of Samuel and Mary. I have a copy of his will dated "Oct. 17, 1732, and in the 6th year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord, George II, over Great Britain, France and Ireland, etc.," and probated Nov. 4, 1746. It commences: "I Samuel Forman, of Free-town, in the County of Bristol, in the Province of the Massachusetts Bay, in New England, yeoman, being somewhat weak in body, etc." He gives his carpenter's tools and tool chest to Samuel, his brother Jonathan's son: makes provision for Mary, his beloved wife, and, without naming children, grants the remainder of his estate to his brothers and sisters, naming them, as in the following pages. Samuel and Mary were the first of the Forman Family to settle in Monmouth County, New Jersey. All the family followed them. Their home was at Freehold, and there they erected their church, and buried their dead on Wikoff Hill, and at the Yellow Church.

Nov. 29, 1695, Samuel Forman, gentleman, was commissioned High Sheriff for Monmouth County, N. J. The spirit that moved him was courage, intrepidity, humanity and patriotism. We are told, in local history, that on one occasion, when tyranny and injustice were about to triumph and to inflict unmerited punishment, Samuel joined a posse of determined freemen, entered the court at Middletown, with fife and drum, and seized the governor, justices, king’s attorney, secretary and other officers of the crown, and kept them as prisoners for four days—the old sheriff, himself, standing guard with musket and sword. The officials were released on their promise of good behavior.

Samuel seems to have left no posterity, but his collateral kindred revere his name.

No. 2. JONTHAN FORMAN, was the second child of Samuel and Mary. He was b. 1688, d. Dec. 28, 1762—Margaret Wikoff. He possessed a large estate, and, in 1787, was Judge of the Court of Common Pleas for Monmouth.

[A] ELEANOR FORMAN—Abraham Van Dorn. She was buried in the old Scott cemetery near Freehold, where her epitaph reads: "Eleanor, wife of Abraham Van Dorn, and daughter of Jonathan and Margaret Forman, died May 22, 1733, aged 20 years."

I. Eleanor Van Dorn.

II. Col. Jonathan Forman, son of Samuel and Helena, b. Oct. 16, 1755, d. May 25, 1809,—Mary Ledyard, sister of his sister's husband. She d. May 31, 1806, and was buried at Pompey Hill, N. Y. He was distinguished as an eminent officer in the Continental Army and a General in the New York Militia. His military record is found in the Roster of the "New Jersey Cincinnati" and is as follows: 'Lieut. Col. Jonathan Forman; Capt. 4th Bat. 2d Establishment, Nov. 23, 1776; Capt. 1st Reg. Sept. 28, 1780; Major 3d Reg. Nov. 20, 1781; Lieut. Col. 3d Reg. Feb. 11, 1783; discharged at the close of the war. Also 1st Lieut. Capt. Burrows, Co. 1st Reg. Monmouth; Capt. ditto. Capt. Bat., Heard's Brigade, June 14, 1776, in Militia. Vice President of the Society (Cincinnati) at its organization in 1783. Brig. General in the Militia of New Jersey, died 1809. The memory of Gen. Jonathan Forman is still fresh in the hearts of an appreciative posterity.'
II. 1. Mary L. Forman—January 5, 1807, Henry Seymour.
   : [d] Helen C. Seymour, b. March 1, 1818,—Linklin.

V. Eleanor Forman, b. May 2, 1763, = Philip Fronean, the poet of the Revolution.

VI. Samuel Forman, b. July 6, 1767, = Sarah McCarty.

[C] John Forman, son of Jonathan and Margaret, d. 1798, leaving a will in which he names a son and several daughters.

[D] Peter Forman, son of Jonathan and Margaret, b. May 1718.
   He was twice married, and left children: 1. William, 2. Jonathan; 3. Samuel; and five daughters.

[E] Jonathan Forman, son of Jonathan and Margaret, married and left posterity.

[F] David Forman, son of Jonathan and Margaret, b. 1733, was a prominent citizen, and 1778 was sheriff of Monmouth County, N. J.

No. 3. Hannah Forman, dughter of Samuel and Mary, b. Dec. 24, 1690, d. Sept. 30, 1730, = William Maddock. Their tombs are found on Wikoff Hill, Monmouth County, N. J.

No. 4. Mary Forman, dughter of Samuel and Mary, b. 1692. She = a Romme.
No. 5. REBECCA FORMAN, daughter of Samuel and Mary, b. 1695, d. Sept. 19, 1748, = Isaac Van-Keel. She was buried at Wikoff Hill, and her epitaph is: "Here lies the body of Rebecca VanKeel, daughter of Samuel and Mary Forman, who departed this life Sept. 19, 1748, in the 53d year of her age."

No. 6. AARON FORMAN, son of Samuel and Mary, b. May 22, 1699, d. Jan. 13, 1741, = April 30, 1736, Ursula Craig, b. 1704, d. 1768.

The Craigs: Among the Scotch Presbyterians who found refuge in New Jersey from tyranny and oppression, was John Craig. He brought with him his son Archibald, then seven years of age. Ursula was the daughter of Archibald, who names, in his will, on record at Trenton, N. J., his well beloved daughter, the widow, Ursula Forman. Aaron Forman was buried on Wickoff Hill and his epitaph reads: "Here lieth the body of Aaron Forman, who died the 13th of January, 1741, in the 53d of his age." Like all the family, Aaron was wealthy. His executors account for over $10,000 of personalty, besides a large amount of real estate. Ursula survived him 27 years, which were spent at Middletown, N. J., with her son, Lewis Forman. She was buried beside her husband, at Wikoff Hill. On her tomb is inscribed: "Here lies interred the body of Ursula, wife of Aaron Forman, who departed this life the 4th of April, 1768, in the 64th year of her age." Her will is recorded at Trenton, N. J.

[D] LEWIS FORMAN, son of Aaron and Ursula, was b. Nov. 24, 1730, d. 1804, = Oct. 13, 1756, A. VanEmburg, of Middletown, N. J. They settled at Middletown, and helped to establish the Presbyterian Church. Before the Revolution he removed to New York City and became a merchant. He there worked for Presbyterianism. After the war, he returned to New Jersey, and settled at New Brunswick. Again he went to New York City, where he died, but was buried at New Brunswick. He did not take up arms, but was from conscience a Loyalist.

I. AARON FORMAN, son of Lewis, followed his father to New York City, and established a printing and publishing house. He died single.

II. WILLIAM FORMAN was b. May 22, 1767, = May 10, 1789, Eleanor Pool, of a New Jersey family of distinction.
II. 1. Lewis Forman, b. April 3, 1797, d. in New York City March 17, 1881, Caroline Cruger of a Knickerbocker family. He was educated at Rutgers College, N. J., settled in New York City, with his uncle Aaron, and helped to build up a large printing house.

[a] William Henry Forman, son of Lewis and Caroline, Louise Godey of Philadelphia. They had a child, Howard, an idol of their hearts. All are dead. William H. was a lawyer of New York City, and though our epistolary correspondence ended only with his death, he failed to give me any data of his life. I never had his equal as a correspondent. His letters manifested an erudition that few acquire, and his pen, dipped in the oil of kindness, obeyed the dictates of love, truth and piety.

[b] Charles Edward Forman married and had a son, William L.

[c] Mary Forman, David P. Lord, of a family that founded Hartford, Conn. They live in Duchess County, N. Y., and have no children.

No. 7. CAPT. JOHN FORMAN, son of Samuel and Mary, was b. Sept. 23, 1701, d. Nov. 25, 1748, Jane Wikoff. In my "Marshall Family," page 229, I wrongly call her Elizabeth Wickoff.) He was quite wealthy and his will is interminable. It is dated May 13, 1741, in the 20th year of the reign of His Majesty, King George II. He describes himself as John Forman of Freehold, in Monmouth County, N. J. It is full of pious ejaculations, and was proved March 9, 1737. He makes ample provision for his wife, Jane, and names, 1. his daughter Mary, wife of Joseph Throckmorton; 2. his eldest son John, when he becomes 21 years of age; 3. his son Samuel and his five daughters; 4. Eleanor; 5. Hannah; 6. Margaret; 7. Rebecca; 8. Anna.

Capt. John Forman had a sawmill, several smithies, and his business pursuits were large and varied. He was highly esteemed for his energy and rectitude.

II. John Throckmorton, d. Oct. 1797. His will is of record at Trenton, N. J.

III. Samuel Throckmorton.

IV. Hannah Throckmorton—Samuel Forman.

No. 8. Joseph Forman, son of Samuel and Mary, was b. 1703,—Sept. 22, 1732, Elizabeth Lee. He went to New York City and became a merchant. They were buried at Tennant Church, Monmouth County, N. J.

[A] Joseph Forman, b. Oct. 27, 1734. I have not the name of his wife.

I. William Gordon Forman—1st Sarah Marsh Forman, and

II. Ezekiel Forman, b. Oct. 10, 1736, d. May 29, 1796,—Elizabeth Marsh. His monument stands at Natchez, Miss.

   1. Gen. Thomas Marsh Forman was an officer in the Continental Army.
   2. Joseph Forman was United States Consul at Amsterdam.

III. Elizabeth Forman b. March 28, 1740,—her cousin, Samuel Forman.

IV. Stephen Forman b. May 10, 1743, went to Mississippi.

   3. Emma Forman = Robert Cummings. son of Samuel and Mary, b. Nov. 1, 1706, d. Oct. 3, 1746. = Elizabeth Seabrooke, b. 1712, d. March 16, 1791. These dates are from their tombs at Yellow Meeting House, Monmouth County, N. J. Elizabeth was a daughter of Thomas Seabrooke, who was killed Dec. 17, 1765, by Indians. Ezekiel's will is before me, dated Sept. 80, 1746, and proved Oct. 22, 1746. He was of Upper Freehold, Monmouth County, N. J. He uses words of implicit faith and piety, and after making provision for his wife, Elizabeth, names his children: 1. Samuel. 2. Thomas. 3. Aaron. 4. John. 5. Mary. 6. Hannah and 6. Elizabeth. He also makes provision for 7—Ezekiel, yet unborn.

[A] MARY FORMAN, b. 1734, = Michael Mount.

[C] SAMUEL FORMAN, b. Oct. 27, 1733, d. Aug. 6, 1817, = Margaret Forman, who d. July 17, 1824. Samuel was a Revolutionary Soldier, in Waddell's Comp'y., Monmouth County, N. J. Militia.

[D] THOMAS FORMAN, b. Dec. 18, 1740, d. in Mason County, Ky., about 1825. = Jane Throekmorton, daughter of Joseph and Mary, b. Jan. 22, 1750, d. Nov. 24, 1812. They were married in New Jersey, and in 1689, came to Mason County, Ky., with his cousin Thomas, and they became the progenitors of the large and distinguished family of Formans in Kentucky. The little town of Washington, Ky., is the nucleus of the family. Ezekiel and Thomas are both ancestors of my wife, Mary Forman, and for further descendants see my "Marshall Family," page 229.

[E] ELIZABETH FORMAN.

I. ROBERT E. FORMAN = Martha B. Robertson.

: : Mortimer P. Forman = Sarah S. Gardener.

[G] EZEKIEL FORMAN, posthumous son of Ezekiel, Sr., and Mary, was b. 1767, and d. Dec. 15, 1808. = Feb. 7, 1771. Catharine Wickoff, b. Mar 11, 1746, d. Sept. 12, 1818. He possessed remarkable bodily strength and mental power. His courage knew no bounds, and in disposition he was overbearing. A Loyalist from conscience he espoused the cause of his King, was tried for treason at Monmouth, N. J., by a Patriot Court, and sentenced to death. But he was pardoned by the clemency of the court.

1. Dr. Charles Scudder of St. Louis, Mo., whom I visited in 1839.

No. 16. Isabelle Paxton, daughter of John Paxton No 6 and Mary Blair, was b. Oct. 17, 1746= Capt. John Lysle, son of Matthew. Isabella was his first wife.

The Lyles were of Scotch Irish lineage and Presbyterian faith. They appear in Virginia as early as 1742, and are intimate associates of the Paxtons, Alexanders, McClungs, McDowels and Houstons. In the list of signers to the call of Rev. John Brown, in 1753, to Timber Ridge Church.
found on page 28, of this volume, the names of 1. Mathew, 2. Daniel, 3.
John. 4. Samuel Lyle appear. Their grandfather was Samuel Lyle of County Antrim, Ireland. He had two sons 1. James and 2. Robert, Samuel, who signed the call, was probably a son of Robert, but the others were brothers and sons of James Lyle.

1. John Lyle, = Flora Reed. He was distinguished for his piety, and was known as Elder John Lyle of Timber Ridge. His son, Rev.
John Lyle, was the celebrated teacher of Paris, Ky. Another son, Joel Reed Lyle, was the founder of that influential newspaper. The Western Citizen.

2. Daniel Lyle, d. 1807, = a sister of Rev. Joseph Glass. He was father of Rev. John Lyle, and was an ancestor of Rev. Geo. Tate Lyle, and of Judge John Newton Lyle.

3. Samuel Lyle, = 1751. Sarah McClung, a half sister of John Mc-Clung, and daughter of the first William McClung. They were parents of 1. William Lyle, who = a Stuart; 2. of James Lyle, who = Margaret Baker; 3. of Mary, who = John Dalhouse; 4. of Jane, who = Dr.
James Ramsey; 5. of Elizabeth, who = Michael Graham; 6. Sally, =
Rev. Matthew Lyle.

4. Matthew Lyle is the immigrant in whom we are now interested.
As already stated, he was a son of James and a grandson of Samuel Lyle, of Ireland. He = in Ireland, Sept. 18, 1731. Esther Blair, who is supposed to have been a sister of Mary Blair, who = John Paxton No. 6.
He came to Lancaster County, Pa., about 1735. We find his name to a petition to Gov. Gooch, dated 1742. He was father of Capt. John Lyle, an officer of the Revolutionary Army, who = Isabella Paxton, the subject of our sketch; and Mary Lyle, who = Col. James McDowell, was his daughter by one or other of his wives. After Isabella’s death, Capt.
John Lyle = Fannie Stuart. A will of one of the numerous John Lyles, dated Feb. 1, 1758, is of record at Staunton. He names his wife, Jean, and his children 1 John, 2 William, 3. Martha, 4. Elizabeth, 5. Sarah, Posterity of Capt. John Lyle and Isabelle Paxton.

[A] JOHN LYLE, son of Capt. John Lyle and Isabelle Paxton, went to Kentucky. After leading a somewhat reckless life, he removed to Knoxville, Tenn., then a frontier village. There he raised a company, which he commanded at St. Clair’s defeat. He was wounded, and his life barely saved by a faithful orderly. This experience satisfied his military ambition, and he settled near Lexington, Ky. At the age of forty, he married a dughter of John and Ann Tompkins, from Virginia.

No. 18. ELIZABETH PAXTON, sixth child of John Paxton No. 6, = Major Samuel Houston, son of Robert Houston and Ann Dunlop. He was a Brigade Inspector, and died, suddenly, away from home. He was handsome and of military bearing. Elizabeth was a lady of rare accomplishments, and reared her children with diligence and judgement. Upon the death of her husband, about 1807, she left her home on Timber Ridge, Rockbridge County, Va., and accompanied some of the Houston family to Blount County, Tenn., where her influence was felt in planting Presbyterianism in that region.

[A] PAXTON HOUSTON, first child of Major Samuel Houston, died soon after attaining his majority.

[B] ROBERT HOUSTON was an officer in the army of 1812, and distinguished himself by military talent and strategy; but being disappointed in love, took his own life.

[C] JAMES HOUSTON, after pursuing the calling of a merchant in Blount County, removed to Nashville, where he married and died.

[D] MAJOR JOHN HOUSTON went to Memphis, Tenn., where he married and died, leaving several daughters.

[E] GEN. SAM HOUSTON, fifth child of Major Sam Houston No. 18, b. March 2, 1793, d. at Hustonville, Tex., July 25, 1863, = Ist Eiiza A. Allen. He went, 1807, with his mother, to Blount County, Tenn., and helped to open her farm. In 1812, he entered the army, under Andrew Jackson. His youthful courage was attested by the three severe wounds he received, in different engagements. After peace returned, he entered upon the study of law, with Judge Trimble, and was soon admitted to the bar. He was elected to Congress in 1823, and stood among his associates, in the foremost rank. In 1825, he was re-elected to Congress. In 1827, he was chosen Governor of the state of Tennessee. In 1829, he married, and three months later left his wife and retired among the Indians of Arkansas. The cause of his separation from his wife was a secret both carried to their graves. In 1832, he joined the Texas patriots. He was made General of the Military district east of the Trinity. In 1835, he was chosen Commander-in-Chief of the Texan army. President Santa Anna, 1836, invaded Texas, massacred 170 at the Alamo, and 357 of Col. Fannin's army. But the Mexicans, April 21, 1836, were met by Houston, at the head of 783 volunteers. Before them, the 1,600 Mexican soldiers fled. Six hundred and thirty were killed, and the remainder made prisoners. The Texan loss was eight killed and twenty-five wounded. Texas was then independent, and Gen. Houston was made the first president. He was inaugurated Oct 22, 1836. In September 1841, he entered on a second term. Texas was admitted to the Union in 1845, and Houston was one of the first senators. He was re-elected, and continued in office until March 1859. He was a "Know-Nothing," and the friend of the Indians. He was next chosen Governor of the state of Texas. He opposed secession, and resigned, rather than take the oath required by the State Convention.

We are now through with the genealogy of John Paxton No. 6. On page 46, we have stated that in early records, he was known as Captain John Paxton. His services were render ed in York County, Pa., in the Indian wars, prior to the Revolution, Dr. Egle's certificate of his services in the Colonial wars, is in the hands of J. H. McCord, of St. Joseph, Mo., and on it, Mr. McCord has membership in the Colonial Society.

NO. 26. THOMAS PAXTON, son of John Paxton and Phoebe Alexander No. 4 was b. in Ireland in 1719, d. in Rockbridge County, Va., Sept. 27, 1788, = 1st 1746, Elizabeth McClung, b. 1724, d. March 3, 1773. He = 2d, June 17, 1774, Mary Barclay, who d. Sept. 1, 1828. After her husband's death, Mary = 2d, James Woods, who d. Jan. 28, 1817, leaving her, a second time, a widow. Mary was a daughter of Hugh Barclay. Foote, in his sketches, speaks kindly of the family.

Nothing is known of the early life of Thomas Paxton, nor of the circumstances of his first marriage. He came from Pennsylvania about 1747, and settled on North River, at the mouth of Buffalo Creek. Hence he was distinguished from his cousins, of the same name, as "Buffalo" Thomas Paxton. He kept a boat yard, and had flour and saw mills. He was also a thrifty farmer, and acquired wealth and influence. Presbyterian in faith, he was an elder in the old Falling Spring church, and there his dust reposes. His epitaph is but his name and dates: "Here lies the interred body of Thomas Paxton, who departed this life Sept. 27, 1788, aged 69 years." His first wife lies at his side. Her epitaph reads; "Here lieth the body of Elizabeth Paxton, who departed this life March 3, 1773, her age being 49 years."

THOMAS PAXTON'S WILL
is dated Sept. 13, 1788, and was probated Dec. 2, 1788. It is long, and I will give only a synopsis. He first commits his spirit to God, orders his debts paid, and states that he has given to his children, 1 John, 2 Samuel, 3 William, 4 James, 5 Thomas, 6 Sarah and 7 Mary, their full shares. He therefore gives to each $25, Mary's share to be in clothing.

1 To Jean, he gives a negro and $100.
2 To Mary, his wife, he gives a negro, $250 in furniture, and maintenance out of the home plantation, during her widowhood.

3 To Joseph, his homeplace, subject to the maintenance of the widow, also his live stock and farming utensils, requiring him to support the minor children, including one unborn.

4 To Hugh, a farm, and a negro

5 To Isaac, 170 acres of land at the forks of James River, and land in "Caintucky," located by Nathaniel Evans, and two negroes.

6 To Hannah, a negro and $250.

7 To Elizabeth, a negro, a horse and $250.

8 To his sons, Hugh, David and Isaac, a horse, each.

9 To his unborn child he gives an unborn negro. The remainder of his estate is to be divided equally among his last wife's children. He appoints his widow, his son, Samuel, and David Edmondson, his executors. The witnesses are William Paxton, John McNutt and Eleanor Paxton.

THE MCCLUNGS.

For the following genealogy, I am indebted, chiefly, to the Rev. William McClung, of Knoxville, Tenn. No man has given more time and attention, than he, to the McClung family. His chart is of only four generations, but I have taken the liberty to make additions where they led to the Paxtons.

JAMES McClung

was one of three brothers, or a descendant of either: 1 John, 2 Robert, or 3 James, who came from Ireland about 1744.

No. 28. JOHN PAXTON, son of Thomas Paxton No. 26 and Elizabeth McClung, was b. in Rockbridge, in 1747. d. Aug. 8, 1832, = Sarah Walker, b. June 20, 1750, d. Nov. 24, 1839. Rev. Dr. John D. Paxton thus notices his parents: "My father's plantation was on the south side of James River, near its junction with the North River, in what was called 'The Forks,' in Rockbridge County, Va. My father, John Paxton, was the oldest son of Thomas Paxton No. 26, who owned the boatyard at the junction of Buffalo creek with the North River. My mother was Sarah Walker, oldest daughter of Joseph Walker, who lived on Kerr's Creek, a little north of where Lexington now stands. Mr. Walker was b. in Ireland, July 1722. He was brought to America when a youth, and married, March 1749, Nancy McClung, in Augusta County, Va. He was a ruling elder in the Monmouth church, which embraced what afterwards formed the churches of Lexington, Monmouth, Oxford and others. Later in life, he moved, as did most of his family, to Kentucky, and finished his days at Cherry Creek. My grandfather, Thomas, and his brother, William, were ruling elders of the Falling Spring Presbyterian church, before the time of the American war. After the death of my grandfather, my father succeeded as ruling elder of the same congregation, which office he held above fifty years."

John Paxton was a farmer in moderate circumstances, but he was able to raise a large family of distinguished sons and daughters, and his memory is revered. He was like all of the name, a patriot and a soldier. He served under Jackson in his Southern Indian wars.

Sarah (Walker) Paxton is remembered as a lady of marked intelligence and piety. Her courage and faith in frontier life, when Indians were lurking at her door, and the bread for her large household had to be earned by her daily labor, have been commended; but her chief virtue consisted in the zeal and diligence she displayed in instructing her children. Their lives of faith and works are a monument to their mother's love and fidelity.
John's epitaph at Falling Spring is as follows: "John Paxton, who departed this life Aug. 8, 1832, in the 85th year of his age."

Dr. David Rice Holt, b. March 8, 1803, d. Dec. 17, 1840, = 1820, Isabella White, daughter of Maj. White of Washington County, Va. After a course of study at home, he entered Washington College, Va., and graduated. He then studied theology, and was licensed to preach. Later, he studied medicine. Coming West, he preached at Columbia, Mo. He was elected to the state senate, and served a term. We next find him in Saline County, and in 1838, he is settled on a farm, two miles north of Platte City, Mo. Tall, handsome and commanding in person, and gracious in his manners, he won public favor, and in 1840, was elected to represent Platte County in the state legislature. He was our first representative. In 1840, he was IV selected to make the Fourth of July oration, at Platte City. I was then a youth, and enjoyed the honor of reading the Declaration of Independence. When the legislature convened at Jefferson City, Mo., in Dec. 1840, his urbane and social demeanor won for him the esteem and confidence of all hearts, and he was unanimously chosen Speaker of the House. But he had scarcely entered on his duties, ere he was stricken by disease, and died. The legislature named the county of Holt in his honor, and made a generous appropriation for a monument at Jefferson City, upon which we read: "Sacred to the memory of David Rice Holt, M.D., late a representative of Platte County, Mo., who was born in Greene County, Tenn., the 8th day of March, 1803, and died the 17th day of Dec., 1840. Erected by an act of the General Assembly."

I was intimate with him for a lifetime, and we always claimed relationship. He was a gentleman by nature, a scientific physician by education, and a Christian by grace. His benignant countenance wore a smile, his address was urbane, and his words gracious. It required but a glance to discover a kind hearted gentleman. Without a desire for office or preferment, his virtues were most observed in the private circle. His pleasant voice and kindly demeanor, won friends: and his loving heart and generous hand earned the blessing of the poor. He would accept but little compensation for his services. He owned a powder mill near Donaldsville, Rockbridge County, Va. and that village takes its name from the family. He was a man of energy and influence. I have learned but little of the family. Their children were:

I Paulina. II Calvin. III Henry Ruffner Donald

[D] JOSEPH PAXTON, son of John Paxton and Sarah Walker, No. 28, was born in Rockbridge County, Va., Jan. 25, 1779, d Nov. 6, 1839 = Sept. 13, 1803, Sarah Edmondson, daughter of Major Edmondson. She was a twin with Capt. David Edmondson, and b 1782. She died Dec. 10, 1849. They lived on a farm near Fancy Hill. Subsequently owned by his son, Thomas Preston Paxton. It is five miles from Natural Bridge and two from Balcony Falls. Joseph, after his father's death, was the stay and support of his widowed mother, and the younger children. He was an elder in Falling Spring Presb. Church and was esteemed for his Christian deportment. He served for a time as a soldier in the war of 1812. Joseph and Sarah were cousins. She was remarkable for her piety and familiarity with the Scriptures, and read the Bible through once a year. Scott's Commentaries was her daily food. Their monument stands in the graveyard near Glasgow.

I Thomas Preston Paxton, son of Joseph and Sarah, was born on his father's farm, near Fancy Hill, Sept 27, 1803, d Aug. 29, 1893 = 1st, Dec. 12, 1833, Phoebe McCluer, daughter of Alex. T. She died Nov. 10, 1834, and he = 2d, Dec. 18, 1838, Elizabeth H. Sterrett, b May 28, 1812, d April 3, 1882. She was a daughter of Alex. Sterrett and Mary Hutchinson. Thomas was an elder in Falling Spring Presb. Church, and there, with his wives, he is buried. He was one of the purest of men, and I his name is reverred, not by his posterity only, but by all who knew him. Both his wives were beautiful in person, and lovely in spirit.

1 Sarah Phoebe Paxton was the only child of Phoebe McCluer Paxton. She was born Nov. 10, 1834, d 1894. The mother died the hour the child was born. Sarah Phoebe=Zachariah F. Calbraith, June 18, 1852. They lived in Augusta County, Va.

2 Alex Sterrett Paxton, son of Thomas P Paxton, b June 14, 1840, was the first child of the second wife. He=1st, Aug. 3, 1870. Mamie Hall, who d March 14, 1887, He=2d, Sept. 2, 1890, Mary F. Tapscott. Prof. Alex. S, Paxton was born and reared on his father's farm near Fancy Hill. He graduated at Washington College in 1861, and immediately enlisted in the Stonewall Brigade and endured hard service for the lost cause. His subsequent life has been devoted to the cause of education. After conducting high schools in Nashville and other cities, he has settled at Newport, Tenn. Oratory is his special department, and he is now preparing, for publication, a collection of recitations to be entitled the "Boy's Speaker." Our correspondence has convinced me he is not only a rhetorician, but a valuable helper in my heraldic work. Both wives presented him children.

She was a daughter of Hampden-Sidney Venable and Amelia Goggin, of Richmond, Ky. She was beloved by her neighbors, and her children called her blessed. Mr. Paxton graduated at Washington College, 1840, and took his theological course at Union Theological Seminary, of Va.

He was ordained Apr. 6, 1846, by the Presbytery of Houston, Tex., being the first candidate ordained in that state. In early life he took an active part in the discussions with the disciples of Alex. Campbell. I met him at the Synod of Missouri about 1855, and in his declining years maintained an interesting correspondence with him. About 1889, he wrote: "My wife died more than ten years ago and I have since lived alone." He was a faithful and consecrated minister, of firm convictions, and was earnest, tender and true. His letters are full of pathos, showing a spirit that walked with God.

His thoughts were not so much of earth as of heaven. With folded arms, and lips trembling with prayer, his eyes were turned above, awaiting the summons. His field was Missouri, Arkansas, Texas
VI and Louisiana. He preached at Arrow Rock, Longwood and many other places.

[E] MARY (POLLY) PAXTON, daughter of John Paxton and Sarah Walker, No. 28, was born near Fancy Hill, Rockbridge Co., Va., Nov. 12, 1780. died in Tennessee, Nov. 27, 1811 = in Rockbridge, Aug 28, 1804, David Rice, b 1774, d Oct. 2, 1868. He was a son of David Rice and Catherine Holt; was possessed of sound judgment, liberal education and Presbyterian faith. He was an elder in the church, and zealous in good works. He married four times, and left children by each wife. But we have to do, especially, with the children of his first wife. He lived for sixty years near Greenville, Tenn., upon a farm of 400 acres. He was tall, athletic and of commanding presence. His intelligence, zeal and enterprise gave him a following in every improvement he advocated.

I Judge George Duffield Rice, b July 13, 1805, d Dec. 11, 1878=Oct. 5, 1830, Ann Eliza Rogers, daughter of Jas. P. Rogers and Winfield Lane. She died Jan. 19, 1892. He studied law and became an eminent jurist; went to Georgia in 1828, and settled at Marietta, where he lived for thirty years. He then removed to Northeast Georgia. From 1856 to 1865, he was judge of the Blue Ridge circuit. He was a Mason of high rank, and at one time was Deputy Grand Master of his district. Though well grounded in the Presbyterian faith, he went with his wife into the Methodist Church and carried his religion into the minutest affairs of life. His character in the sight of all men was pure and blameless.

THE RICE FAMILY

Thomas Rice (immigrant) inherited the blood of a princely house of Wales. The family removed to Bristol, and, about 1680, Thomas removed to the colony of Virginia, with a large family. On the death of his father, he returned to England, to receive his portion. With his inherited wealth he took ship to America, and was lost at sea. Reports of mutiny, piracy, robbery and murder were circulated, but discredited. Some of his family remained in Virginia, while others went to New England, and to the Carolinas. Five of his children are named:

[A] MATTHEW RICE had a son, Nathan, who was an officer in the Revolutionary army, and his (Nathan’s) son, Gabriel Rice, was the father of Rev. Dr. Nathan L. Rice, the distinguished theologian and controversialist, who held the memorable debate with Alex. Campbell, on Baptism, and served Presbyterian churches at St. Louis, at Cincinnati, and at New York City. Dr. Rice was born in Garrard County, Ky., Dec. 29, 1807, and died at Chat- ham, Ky., June 11, 1877. His son, John J. Rice is a professor in Westminster College, Mo.

[B] DAVID RICE—a Searcy.

IV Franklin Cowan. V Joseph Cowman.

The three brothers, James, Franklin and Joseph, Cowan, went to California in 1849, and on their return in a sailing vessel, were captured by pirates and murdered.

Dr. John D. Paxton, in his journal, page 81, describes his adventures in 1828, on his return with his sister, Sarah Cowan, to visit their aged mother in Rockbridge Co., Va.

JOHN D. PAXTON, D. D., was the fourth son and seventh child of John Paxton and Sarah Walker. His parents named him John, but he added D, the fourth letter of the alphabet, to distinguish himself from others of like name. He was born in Rockbridge Co., Va., Sept. 28, 1784, died at Princeton, Ind., Oct. 8, 1868. He married, 1st, July 19, 1822, in Goochland Co., Va., Elizabeth Carr, b Aug. 22, 1791, d Aug. 27, 1827, in New Jersey, leaving a son, John Garland Paxton, b April 6, 1826, d Oct. 24, 1831. He married, 2d, in Danville, Ky., Dec. 7, 1831, Mrs. Margaret McFarland, nee Todd, b Nov. 26, 1796, d Aug. 3, 1833, of cholera. He married, 3d, Feb. 23, 1837, in Syria. Mrs Martha M. Dodge, widow of Dr. Asa Dodge, missionary at Jerusalem. She was b March 6, 1810, d 1886.

His father, John Paxton, was in moderate circumstances, having nothing but his farm to support a large family. His boys had to work on the farm. John, Jr., occasionally found employment from home and earned small sums. In 1803, he went to Bedford County, Va., and in the great revival of that period, united with the Presbyterian Church. It then became his ambition to get an education. In 1807, he was able to spend one session at Washington Academy, at Lexington, Va. He now had a burning desire to preach the Gospel; but fears, perplexities and discouragements, brought him to the verge of despair. In 1810, he graduated at Washington Academy, with the degree of A. B. He had, as his patrons and associates, many of the grandest and holiest men of the age. Dr. Baxter was president of the academy, and preached at Lexington and Monmouth,—Dr. Bane at Timber Ridge and Oxford,—Dr. Samuel Houston at Falling Spring and High Bridge. Besides these, there were Logan, Calhoun, Wilson, McCray, Brown, and Montgomery. He felt as if in an inspired circle. He pursued his studies and, in 1812, was licensed to preach by the Lexington Presbytery, which met at Timber Ridge, He proceeded at once on a missionary tour through the valley. May 17, 1813, he was ordained by Hanover Presbytery, at Petersburg. His ministerial labors commenced at Norfolk. But his views on slavery, and his advocacy of colonization, gave offense to Southern slaveholders. It was at this time he wrote his little volume on slavery, published at Lexington, Ky., in 1833. After his first marriage, he spent a year in New Jersey, where the people approved his views on slavery. After a visit to New England, he returned to his old home in Rockbridge. In 1828, he was called by the church at Danville, Ky., and in 1834, resigned his charge. Six months were spent as agent of the American Board of Foreign Missions, and he was sent to the Holy Land as a missionary. There three years were spent.

His second wife died, and he married Mrs. Dodge, who was his faithful and loving companion for thirty years. She survived him and, gathering his journals, printed his memoir in a handsome volume. Returning from his missionary work he settled at Mulberry Church, Ky., and for sixteen years, his labors were unceasing. He published a volume of travels through Syria, Palestine and Egypt, and, notwithstanding his open condemnation of slavery, he was one of the most popular men of the times. His friends affectionately called him "Father Paxton."

In 1855, Dr. Paxton resigned his charge at Mulberry, Ky., and accepted a call of the church at Princeton, Ind. Here he preached for five years. In 1860, he visited Kansas, and was principal of a school at Highland. In 1864, he returned to Princeton, and resumed his labors for the church. But age and disease ended his career October 2, 1868, at the age of 85.

His works on slavery and the Holy Land have been mentioned. Besides these publications, many tracts and sermons were printed. His life was a blessing to mankind, and his works do follow him.

His widow possessed the piety towards God, the veneration for her husband, and the literary ability to edit his writings; and a memorial volume preserves his name. She has given us a book of 358 pages, entitled, "A Memoir of J. D. Paxton, Late of Princeton, Ind," published 1870, with a likeness of the patriarch. It consisted chiefly of extracts from his daily journal. To these are added some pages of love and tenderness, from his widow and only surviving daughter, Fannie.

Though possessed of the riches of grace and truth, Dr. Paxton was always poor in worldly goods. He knew not to-day where tomorrow's bread would come from. His yearly salary was usually $600 and, after the expenses of travel, little was left. He adopted the two daughters of Mr. Dodge, both of whom preceded him to the grave,—Matilda died young and Mary left two children. Of his eight children only two survived him—Fannie and Thomas. Fannie has joined her father on [G] high, and Thomas is now a successful lawyer in Princeton, Ind.

His ministry lasted forty years, during which, as appears from his journal, he preached 5,769 sermons. His labors extended to four continents, and thousands of converts bless the name of "Father Paxton."

No. 30, SAMUEL PAXTON.
Son of Thomas Paxton, No. 26, and Elizabeth McClung, was born at the mouth of Buffalo Creek, in Rockbridge Co., Va., July, about 1748, d about 1807. His tomb-stone is obliterated and all that remains of his epitaph is, "born July 11, 174—, d aged —9." Samuel Paxton, No. 60, in his will dated 1756, makes a donation to "my brother Thomas Paxton's second son, Samuel." This shows that Samuel was next in order to John, No. 28. Samuel married Sarah Coalter. They lived near Fairfield; Rockbridge Co., and his old brick house, one and one-half mile South-east of Fairfield, yet stands. He was a wealthy and aristocratic farmer; had a mill, and was an elder in the Presbyterian Church. He owned many negroes, and gave one to each child on marriage. The first Mrs. Paxton was a leader in fashionable society. She dressed in the latest style, and a servant followed to bear her train. Samuel served as a soldier in the Revolutionary war. After Sarah's death, he married Miss Jane Smiley, a sister of Susan Smiley, who married his son, Samuel. He was seventy, and she was thirty. But he was still vigorous, and seemed not over fifty. His children were all by his first wife.

: April 20, 1840. He lived at Greenlee's Ferry, and was a : son of John Greenlee and Hannah McClanahan. John
: Greenlee was a son of James Greenlee, and Mary E.,
: daughter of Ephraim McDowell. Hannah was a daugh: ter of Elijah McClanahan.

I Hannah McClanahan Greenlee, b Dec. 14, 1812,
: July 7, 1889 = May 24, 1832, James D. Davidson, b
: Nov. 7, 1808, d Oct. 14, 1882. Hannah was born at : the old Greenlee Ferry, on James River. She re: ceived the most advanced education of her day and : those accomplishments that placed her in the high: est circles of society. Col. Davidson was a son of : A. B. Davidson and Susan Dorman. After gradu: ating at Washington College, he studied law with : his uncle, General Dorman, and, for thirty years,
I was prominent at the Lexington bar as a chancery lawyer. He was highly esteemed for his courtesy and humor. He possessed literary taste and scholarship, and indulged in interesting verse.

1 Col. James Greenlee Davidson, b June 21, 1834, fell at Chancellorsville, in Letcher's Battery, May 3, 1863. Mrs. McCormick wrote of him: "In his reins flowed the blood of the Davises, Greenlees, Grigsbys, Dormans and Paxtons—names alike distinguished in the Revolution, in the war of 1812, and the Civil war."

2 Frederick Davidson, b March 18, 1836, fell at First Battle of Manassas, July 21, 1861, and at his own request was buried on the bloody field.

3 Mary Davidson, b Feb. 1, 1849, d at Lexington, Va., Jan. 17, 1894. Bodily infirmities left her heart pure and loving. She was proud of her illustrious lineage, and her heroic brothers. It was her delight to gather and communicate genealogical lore. Her researches, especially in the McDowell family, were of much value to me in composing my Marshall Family. I have scores of her valuable letters, which I often refer to. To a brilliant mind she added rare culture. When health permitted, her heart, hand and pen were devoted to works of love and mercy.

4 Col. Charles Andrew Davidson, d Feb. 25, 1879. He graduated at the Virginia Military Institute in 1860, entered the Southern army at the first call, and his military ardor was displayed in many engagements.

RACHEL PAXTON, twin sister of Sally Templeton, b Dec. 20, 1794, d 1871. Though beautiful, amiable and pious, she never married. The Hannah More of the family, the young of both sexes looked to her for care, counsel and education. She lived to do good, and many grateful hearts cherish her name. Her memory was remarkable,—her talents varied,—her patience inexhaustible, and her love embraced all she knew. Like her Master, she went about doing good: Miss Mary Davidson praised her beauty and accomplishments. Prof. Alex. S. Paxton says her nephews and nieces were made wise and pure by her lessons. And Mrs. Bettie Fisher tells of her faith, love and piety.

THOMAS PAXTON, son of William, No. 32, and Jane Grigsby was born Jan. 15, 1796, d Aug. 1, 1881—1833, Amelia Anderson, b Feb. 7, 1897. d June 11, 1898, daughter of James Anderson and Ann S. [I] JOHN PAXTON, son of William Paxton, No. 32, and Jane Grigsby, it is said, went with his brother, Joseph, and others to Kentucky, and died unmarried. He was born Oct. 2, 1798.

[J] SAMUEL PAXTON, son of William Paxton, No. 32, and Jane Grigsby, was born March 13, 1800. He is said to have been remarkably handsome. When young men, he and his brother, Ben. Porter Paxton, went South, and became largely interested in a sugar plantation, in Louisiana, and were wealthy. Samuel became engaged to a young lady whose parents objected to their marriage. She became disconsolate, pined away, and died. On learning of her death Samuel left his ready money with a servant, to be given to his brother, Benjamin, and went off, as he pretended, to hunt. His dead body was found, a short distance from his home, with a bullet through his brain. The coroner’s jury found a verdict of suicide. His property was divided amongst his brothers and sisters.
BENJ. PORTER PAXTON, born Aug. 2, 1801, died 187—, of yellow fever in Vermillion, La. (See his Brother Samuel’s sketch, p 195c). He visited Rockbridge in 1853. He married late in life, and left a son named Benjamin. The father is said to have been generous, and noble in every trait.

"SQUIRE" WILLIAM PAXTON, son of William Paxton, No. 32, b Sept. 1, 1803, d Nov. 2, 1879 = Dec. 7, 1837, Sarah Pettit Burks, b March 30, 1816, d June 4, 1876. She was a daughter of William L. Burks and Elizabeth Pettit. Sarah was beloved while she lived, and now her name is hallowed by her posterity. "Squire" William, as he was called, was respected for his sound judgment and good common sense. Without the polish of a classical education, his native intellect and profundity of thought gave him influence throughout his county. He lived at "River Vale," South of James River, at the old Paxton homestead and was a patriarch among his kindred. But his moral and religious character, and his office of ruling elder in the Falling Spring Presbyterian Church, enabled him to do much good in his day. His truth, charity and piety brought him veneration. See portrait.

I William L. Paxton, b Jan. 15, 1839, fell at the First Battle of Manassas, July 21, 1861. When the war broke out he was a student at Washington College. He, with many associates, entered Liberty Hall company, under Capt. White, a professor in the institution. He was a corporal and while life permitted, did heroic service. Many of his comrades with him, fell in battle.

II Jane Elizabeth (Bettie) Paxton, b July 8, 1841—beautiful, gay and spirited. She = 1st, Nov. 28, 1868, W. R. Seymour, of West Virginia. He died without issue, Aug. 1877, and she = 2d, Jan. 6, 1881, Jesse Fisher—his second wife. Mr. Fisher is a large and enterprising farmer and stock-raiser of Moorefield Valley, West Va. He is a son of George.

Fisher and Mary Ann Harness, grandson of Dr. Jacob Fisher and great-grandson of Adam Fisher, who came from Germany about 1720, and died about 1783, leaving three sons, 1 John, 2 Jacob and 3 Adam. Mrs. Bettie Fisher is now in the prime of age, beauty, intelligence and vivacity. She keeps abreast of the times in literature, religion, politics and general information. With no children of her own, she finds her chief delight in the happiness of her step-daughters, children of the first Mrs. Fisher—Jennie E. Milton. Her home and her church demand daily attention; and company and social correspondence employ her vigorous thought. Her's is the pen of a ready writer, and I owe her much for her zealous labor in gathering and transmitting to me, genealogical data, and biographical sketches, of our family. Mr. Fisher possesses public spirit and his name is known in the gates. They live at their country seat, "Wateredge," near Moorefield, West Va., in a lovely valley, of the South branch of the Potomac.

III Joseph Samuel Paxton, b Jan. 1, 1843 = April 11, 1871, Roberta Emaline McCluer, b in Rockbridge Dec. 20, 1847, daughter of Robert C. McCluer and Mary E. Parry. She is the second daughter of Robert Campbell McCluer and Elizabeth Parry, and=her cousin, David Edward Laird, Nov. 15, 1859. Her husband, David Edward Laird, was b at "Locust Grove," Rockbridge Co., Va, Oct. 22, 1832, and was a son of David Laird and Mary Edmondson. He was educated at Fuller's High School, and Washington College, Lexington, Va, graduating in 1856, third in his class, with the degree of A. B. and the award of one of the "John Robinson Prize Medals," notwithstanding his progress had been greatly retarded by ill health. He adopted teaching as his profession and taught in Sparta and Atlanta, Ga. Immediately upon the call for troops, in 1861, he espoused the cause of his native state, entering the military service as a member of the Rockbridge Rifles, (Company H, 27th Virginia Infantry, Stonewall Brigade), where he served as a private for one year. Possessing a delicate constitution, he became unable to stand the rigors of field service, and was detailed to act as private secretary to General Thos. J. (Stonewall)
Jackson, and afterwards was transferred to the quarter-master's department, and located at Lynchburg, Va, where he remained until the close of the war. Returning from the war, Mr. Laird established a classical school, at Fancy Hill, Rockbridge Co., Va, which grew and developed to most gratifying proportions, and was continued by him for about nineteen years—in the meantime, having associated with him as co-principal, Col.Wm. T. Poague, now treasurer of the Virginia Military Institute, for two years, and afterwards Capt. W. H. Kable, for several years—with an intermission of three years, during which he resided at "Riverside Farm" in Rockbridge Co., Va, and did not teach. In 1884, leaving Fancy Hill, he established a classical school at Lexington, where he prepared young men for college—particularly for Washington and Lee University. He continued his school until his death, which occurred June 18, 1890. Mr. Laird was a born teacher, was thoroughly equipped and possessed, in an eminent degree, the faculty of imparting knowledge. He was a rigid disciplinarian, and yet retained and commanded the respect, confidence, affection and admiration of his scholars and patrons. He was an elder in Falling Spring Presbyterian Church, and an humble, fervent christian. His wife survived him, and now resides with her son, Edwin Laird, in Richmond, Va.

No. 58, JOSEPH PAXTON

born in Ireland or in Pennsylvania, about 1726, d in Rockbridge Co., Va, 1755. He was one of the five brothers that came, about 1747, from Lancaster County, Pa, to the Borden Grant, now Rockbridge Co., and settled on North River. The events of his life faded long ago from memory, and his will is the only record he left. It is not dated, but was probated Nov. 19, 1755.

Joseph Paxton's Will.

Be it known to all men that I, Joseph Paxton, of the County of Augusta, being sick and weak of body, but sound in judgment and memory, and knowing that I must shortly lay down my body in the dust, do make this my last will and testament, hereby disannulling and making void all former wills:

First, I recommend my soul to God, who gave it. and my body to the dust, to be decently interred at the discretion of my friends. And for what worldly estate, whereunto it hath pleased God to bless me, I order it in form following:

First, I order that my debts and funeral expenses be paid and discharged by my executor.

Imprimis: I desire, in the first place, that my plantation and all the effects that I have, be divided between my two brothers, Samuel and William, they only allowing my mother a good living out of it, keeping a horse, two cows and five sheep for her, and half an acre of land to be sown with flax, during her life. I likewise order that my brother, Samuel, shall pay to my brother, William, the sum of twelve pounds, Pennsylvania money, out of a bond of four and twenty—then the bond to be void, and of none effect. And I allow my sister's two children one pistol each, to be paid the first opportunity.

Likewise, I desire my brother, John Paxton, to be one of my executors, and my cousin, Thomas Paxton, the other executor.

Witnesses Present: James x Eakin.

Joseph Paxton,

There are several points established by this will. 1st, That there was another Joseph Paxton, who could be no other than the son of South River Thomas Paxton, No. 88. 2d, A James Eakin appears, who was probably the husband of No. 92. 3d, He makes his cousin, Thomas Paxton, No. 96, his executor. So, we infer that Thomas Paxton of South River, No. 88, was the uncle of the five brothers, 1 John, 2 Thomas, 3 Joseph, 4 Samuel and 5 William Paxton. 4th, We have a clear view of the widow, and evidence that she was living November, 1755; and we may infer that she died a few months later, because Joseph puts a charge of her support on the plantation bequeathed to Samuel; and yet Samuel, who makes his will a few months later, disposes of the plantation, without noticing the charge upon it. It is presumed she was living in 1755, and died in 1756. 5th, That the widow left a MRS. LOUISE ROGERS,

of Cameron, Mo.
JARVIS S. ROGERS,
OF CAMERON, MO.
daughter in Pennsylvania, and only one; and she had at least two children. 6th, The phraseology of the will, and the mention of Pennsylvania money, suggest that Joseph and his mother had lately left that state. 7th, the mention of cows, sheep and flax, shows the widow was a frugal matron, and that she probably lived with Joseph.

No. 60, Samuel Paxton

Son of John Paxton, No. 4, was probably the third son, and fourth child, of John Paxton and Elizabeth Alexander. The married daughter left in Pennsylvania, may have come between Thomas and Samuel. Samuel was, therefore, born about 1726. His will was made August 11, 1756, and probated Nov. 17, 1756. He=about 1754, Mary Moore.

The Moore Family

Mary was a daughter of James Moore, a native of Scotland, who came, about 1746, by way of Ireland, to Pennsylvania, and thence to Augusta Co., Va. His wife was Jane Walker, daughter of John Walker, of "Wigton," Scotland, whose mother was Catharine Rutherford. The sons of John Walker, of "Wigton" were: 1 John, 2 James, 3 Samuel, 4 Alexander, and 5 Joseph Walker. (See p 140). The last (Joseph) married 1747, in Augusta Co., Va, Nancy McClung, and they were progenitors of many Rockbridge families. Mary, one of the daughters of Jas. Moore, =1st, Samuel Paxton, and 2d, Maj. Alex. Stuart. About 1775, after Mary's second marriage, her father, James Moore, removed to "Abb's Valley," in Tazewell Co., Va, where was enacted the first scene of the thrilling tragedy of the "Captives of Abb's Valley." By Maj. Alex. Stuart, Mary had children: 1 James, 2 Priscilla, 3 Alexander, 4 Elizabeth and 5 Benjamin Stuart. (See p 140c). Maj. Stuart's first wife was Mary Patterson; his second was Mary Paxton, and his third was Anna (Miller) Reid. His posterity were soldiers, statesmen and jurists.

Samuel survived his brother, Joseph, but a few months,
Joseph, by his will, gave his land to his brothers, Samuel and William, subject to a trust for their mother's support for life. But Samuel's will makes no provision for his mother; yet he disposes of the same land, as if there were no charge upon it. The widow, probably, died in the interim, or about 1756.

Samuel Paxton's Will

This document is peculiar; but its characteristics of faith and hope are found in all the wills of the early Paxtons. Indeed, all the writings of the family, that have come down to us, are replete with piety. I give a full copy:

In the name of God, Amen!

I, Samuel Paxton, of the County of Augusta, and Colony of Virginia, being sick and weak of body, but of perfect mind and memory;—thanks be given to Almighty God therefor,—considering the mortality of my body,—knowing it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this, my last will and testament; that is to say, principally and first of all, I recommend and commit my soul into the hands of Almighty God, who gave it, and my body to the earth, to be decently buried at the discretion of my executor, doubting nothing but that I shall receive the same again, by the mighty power of God, at the general resurrection. And as touching what estate it hath pleased God to bless me with, in this life, I give, devise and dispose of the same, in manner and form following:

Imprimis: It is my will, and I so order, that all my debts and funeral charges be fully paid, and satisfied. I order that the plantation called the Broad Spring, containing 163 acres, be sold by my executors, and reckoned among my movables, at what time they shall see proper; and that they make a sufficient title or conveyance in fee simple, to the purchaser of the same; and that the rest of my goods and chattels shall be sold by my executors soon after my decease.

Item: I give and bequeath unto my beloved wife, one third part of my movable estate, also her riding mare, saddle and bridle;—likewise her bed and bed clothes, over and above the third part of my movables.

I give and bequeath to my brother, Thomas Paxton's second son, Samuel, the sum of Two pounds. to be paid out in his schooling.

I give and bequeath to my son, Samuel, whom I constitute sole heir to the remainder of my estate, the plantation I live on, containing 212 acres, with all my whole estate in goods and chattels, that remains after discharging all my just debts and legacies, and the same to be laid out to the best advantage and use of the child.

I likewise constitute and appoint my brother, Thomas Paxton, and James Trimble, sole executors of this, my last will and testament.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, this 11th day of August, 1756.

Witnesses: James Moore, Archibald Alexander

SAMUEL PAXTON

Probated Nov 17, 1756.

The witnesses' names are suggestive. James Moore is the father of Samuel's wife; John Moore is her brother; and the presence and attestation of Dr. Alexander sustains the theory that Samuel's mother was an Alexander. Dr. Alexander may have drawn the will; and we may possibly give to him the credit for its terms of faith and piety.

THE STUART FAMILY AS CONNECTED WITH THE PAXTONS

The Stuarts are of Scotch-Irish blood and Presbyterian faith.

Alexander Stuart, Sr, born in Londonderry, about 1700, married Janet Brown, and was the father, among other children, of

1. Thomas Stuart

The family, flying from persecution, settled in West Pennsylvania, about 1727, and, about 1738, removed to Augusta County, Va. Thomas=Elizabeth Moore, and, among other children, there were born to them:

[A] JULIA STUART=Capt. William Lyle. Their children:
   I ELIZABETH LYLE=Maj. John Alexander.
   II SALLIE LYLE=Rev. Henry Ruffner.
   III JULIA LYLE=John B. Hart.

[B] ELIZABETH STUART, daughter of Thomas=Capt. Wm. Paxton.

See No. 10 for their posterity.

2. Major Alex. Stuart was the second son of Alex. Stuart, Sr, and born in Pennsylvania, about 1733. He was major of Col. Samuel McDowell's regiment, and served through the Revolutionary war. His first wife was Mary Patterson, to whom was born: 1 Judge Archibald Stuart of Staunton, 2 Robert, 3

Frances, 4 Mary, 5 Elizabeth, and 6 Eleanor Stuart. Major Alex. Stuart's second wife was the widow of Samuel Paxton, née Mary Moore, No. 60. By her he had four children: (See p 140c)

[A] JAMES STUART = Eliza Stocton. Four children.
[B] PRISCILLA = Benjamin Hall, (cousin).
[C] JUDGE ALEX. STUART, was a genial, learned and accomplished gentleman, and held many positions of honor and trust, in Virginia, Illinois and Missouri. He d 1832. He married three times, and was father of an illustrious posterity.

No. 62, SAMUEL PAXTON

son of Samuel, No. 60, and Mary Moore, was b in Rockbridge Co., Va, about 1754 = about 1777, Margaret Thompson, a native of Ireland, who came to America when she was ten years of age.

Through the courtesy of Dr. Ben Fowler Paxton, of St. Paul, Minn., I have the original papers left by Samuel and Margaret Paxton. The signature of Samuel shows a business hand, and his writing indicates unusual scholarship.

CHURCH LETTER

State of Tennessee, Blount County.

This is to certify, that Samuel Paxton, his wife, Margaret, and daughter, Polly, have lived in the bounds of this congregation, for several years past,—have supported a good moral character,—were admitted to the communion of the church, and now leave it free from public scandal or church censure, known to us. Given by order of the session of New Providence congregation, this the 28th day of August, 1802.

Gideon Blackburn, L. D. M.

N. B, The rest of the family, as far as grown, have behaved discreetly, but have never applied for, nor were admitted to privileges.

This letter shows the time, approximately, when the family left Virginia. Dr. Blackburn, about 1802, went West, and may have been in Tennessee, when the letter was given. A year later, we find the family in Adair Co., Va;—for Samuel and Margaret, Oct. 14, 1803, made and acknowledged in Adair Co., Ky, a Power of Attorney authorizing James Carruthers to sell their land in Rockbridge. Another original document is a bond of Hugh Dougherty (his mark) to Robert Thompson for nine hundred pounds, dated Sept. 9, 1779, attested by Robert Harris and Samuel Paxton. The latter name shows an expert penman. This Robert Thompson may have been the father-in-law of Samuel Paxton. The bond is assigned by Thompson to Joseph Moore, Esq., and by Moore to Samuel Paxton.

This bond is for a large sum, and there is no evidence of its payment. The next paper is a deed from

Richard Hightower to Samuel Paxton, dated July 18, 1810, for one hundred acres of land in Giles (Giles) Co., Tenn., in consideration of $225. James M. Paxton attests the deed. From this instrument we learn that, in 1810, Samuel Paxton was living in Giles County, Tenn., which is found on the central part of the Southern line of the State. I next notice:

Samuel Paxton's Bond for a Deed of Aug. 24, 1816, to George Oliver, for the above 100 acres, whereon the granter lived. The whole bond is in Samuel Paxton's own hand, and is a business-like document. Another instrument is a contract for feeding stock, between Samuel Paxton, of Williamson Co., Tenn., and Wm. Morrison, of Madison Co., Ky, dated Oct. 6, 1808. This indicates that Samuel Paxton removed from Adair Co., Ky, to Williamson Co., Tenn, prior to 1808.

Other instruments show that Samuel Paxton made his will appointing A. Redding his executor, and died 1824. The bill for burial goods, is dated Columbia, without naming the State. There is a Columbia in Adair Co., Ky, and another in Maury Co., Tenn., which adjoins Giles Co., and as the executor lived in Maury Co., I infer that Samuel Paxton died in Giles Co., Tenn. And it is certain that the widow, Margaret, lived and died in Giles County, about 1830. The sale bill of the estate of Samuel Paxton, is dated Sept. 16, 1824. Horses sold for $50 to $80, cows $10, sheep $2, hogs $1.25, and corn at two cents per bushel.

By the courtesy of J. Redding, of Fountain Creek, Tenn., I have an original patent, issued Oct. 18, 1815, to Samuel Paxton, by Joseph McMinn, governor of Tennessee, for land in Giles Co., Tenn.

Letters testamentary on the estate of Samuel Paxton were issued Aug. 1824, to Armsted Redding, by the clerk of Giles County, Tenn.

Other papers showing Samuel Paxton had an improvement in Giles County, Tenn., prior to 1809, are in my hands. There are some indications that he was a local attorney.

"In the month of March, 1780, at night, a small body of Indians, surrounded the cabins (near Logan's Fort) which were built close to each other, and rather in a square. On the succeeding morning, between daylight and sunrise, William Montgomery, the elder, followed by a negro boy, stepped out of the door of his cabin. They were immediately fired at, and both killed by the Indians,—the boy's head falling back on the door-sill. Jane, the daughter, then a young woman, afterwards the wife of Col. Wm. Casey, late of Adair Co., sprang to the door, pushed out the negro's head, shut the door, and called for her brother Thomas' gun. Betsy, her sister, about twelve years of age, clambered out of the chimney, which was not higher than a man's head, and took the path to Pettit's Station; distant about two and a half miles. An Indian pursued her for some distance, but she was too fleet for him, and reached the station in safety. From Pettit's Station, messengers were immediately dispatched to Logan's Fort."

In the war of 1812, Robert Paxton, raised a company, and served under General Jackson, with distinction; but at New Orleans, after participating in the glory and success of the 8th of January, 1815, he was stricken with fever and died. His body was brought back to Adair for interment. Robert was an athlete, under six feet and weighing 180 pounds, and a champion racer and wrestler.

William Casey Paxton, b in Adair Co., Ky, May 8, 1807, died April 10, 1885,=1827, Pamela Stotts, d 1866. William C. represented Adair Co., Ky, in the State legislature, 1841–2, moved to Missouri in 1850, and returned in 1865. The following year his wife died. In 1867, he moved to Texas, with his younger children, and there, in 1872=Mrs. Pauline Atkins, a sister of his first wife. He died near Whitewright, Tex., April 10, 1885. His widow still lives. The children were all by the first wife. Pamela Stotts was a daughter of Thomas Stotts and Martha Gilmer, daughter of Alex. Gilmer, a pioneer settler of Adair. Mr. Stotts represented his county, in 1830, in the Kentucky legislature.

Hattie Allen Garnett, of Columbia, Ky, widow of Robert Garnett, and daughter of Col. William Austin Allen, from Lexington, Virginia. Mrs. Garnett's mother, was Eliza Price. Sept. 1891, the family returned to Pierce City, which is now their home. No children by his second wife.

3 Robert Paxton, son of Wm. C. Paxton, was born in Adair County, Ky, Oct. 20, 1833—came to Missouri, 1850=1866, Sallie Dalton, of Illinois, and located in Bonham, Tex. They went to Denver, for their health, and both died in 1877. No children.

4 James Paxton, b Nov. 18, 1835, in Adair Co., Ky, moved, with his father, to Missouri, in 1850, served in the Confederate army throughout the war, removed to Texas in 1866=Aug. 27, 1868, Hattie E. Chenoweth, daughter of Dr. J. W. Chenoweth. She d July 14, 1885. They lived at Anson, Texas, where he has a large stock-farm. In 1901, he removed to Tulia, Swisher Co., Texas, which is his present post-office. Mr. Paxton possesses executive ability and an enterprise that knows no fatigue. He is a man of liberal education, and has put into print an interesting account of his pr on life, of eighteen months, at Camp Morton, near Indianapolis, Ind., in 1863 and 1864. He answered Gov. Jackson's first call for volunteers for the Southern cause, and entered the 11th Missouri Infantry. But in 1863, he was betrayed, captured and confined on half rations at Camp Morton. The incidents of his confinement are given in detail, and form a chapter of interesting history. The scanty fare, disappointments, failures of well concerted plans of escape, and the severe punishment, made life a burden and death a reward. On account of ill health, he was paroled, found an asylum with his uncle, Green Paxton, at Louisville, Ky; married and settled in Texas. See portrait.

No. 64, Major William Paxton,

Son of John Paxton and Elizabeth Alexander, was born in Ireland or in Pennsylvania, 1733, died in Rockbridge Co., Va, Sept. 30, 1795 = Eleanor Hays, born in Scotland, 1743, died Aug. 13, 1815. These dates are attested by their grave-stones, found in the cemetery at Glasgow, Va. His mother, the widow, No. 4, lies at his side, but no stone marks her grave.

William Paxton was a man of wealth and enterprise, and his influence was felt in society, church, state and army. His wife was a lady of patrician birth and, by sound judgment and discretion, managed her private affairs with success. Both possessed the best education that the highest schools of their day afforded, and moved in the most refined circles of society. He was on the first grand-jury of his county, and served on the first board of vestrymen for his parish, which at that time attended to roads, the poor, etc. His fellow vestrymen were, Samuel McDowell, Charles Campbell, John Gilmore, Alex. Stuart, Samuel Lyle, Capt. John Lyle, John Trimble and James Buchanan. He was appointed. June 10, 1788, a justice of the peace—a position, at that time, of great honor. He was a ruling elder in Falling Spring Presbyterian Church. In April, 1779, he took out license as an "ordinary," or inn-keeper, and his house was noted for hospitality, fashion and pleasure.

EARLY TIMES IN ROCKBRIDGE.

I quote from a letter written a generation ago, by J. H. Paxton, of North Carolina: "My great grandmother, Paxton, I think her name was Nellie,[?] a widow, with five sous, came from Pennsylvania. William, my grandfather, settled on a farm in the "Forks," and built the first hewed log cabin. It was located about 200 yards North of the present residence. The original settlement was on the point of the ridge, four or five hundred yards North, between the two streams of water, which flow together just above the bridge, near the meadow. It was doubtless so located, as to command a view of the trail on the left of the river. It is a tradition that, in this hewed log house, my grandfather, William, kept entertainment; and that, on one occasion, the governor (perhaps Dinsmore) with his aide, spent the night there. When he retired, with his tallow-dip candle, he passed through the small room, to his apartment, and saw the five boys, in bed, and said to his aide, "See those d---d little rebels." Thomas Paxton, brother of William, settled at the mouth of Buffalo Creek, on a farm now owned by Thompson. Many of his descendants settled further down, near the mouth of North River. John settled at the "Green Tree," one mile South of Lexington, afterwards belonging to William Taylor. My father, Col. William Paxton, and his brother, Elisha, succeeded to the lands of their father, [No. 64] by purchase from the other children: 1 John, 2 Joseph, 3 James, 4 Polly Greenlee, 5 Pryor, 6 Sawyer, 7 Gilmore, and 8 Isabella Alexander."

A FRENCHMAN'S VISIT TO CAPT. PAXTON'S TAVERN, 1781.

Through the courtesy of Judge W. P. Houston, I have an extract from "Travels in America, 1781-3, by the Marquis Chastellux," giving an interesting account of a visit the Marquis made to "Capt. Paxton's tavern." He gives a graphic account of his trip to Natural Bridge, his labors in scaling the mountains in the darkness of night, crossing streams swollen by recent storms, his canoe voyage over two rivers in pitch darkness, etc. But when he reaches the famous tavern, the Marquis finds the family had gone to a wedding. But on their return at midnight, a good supper is served. The young ladies in their glaring caps, do not charm him; but in the morning, he is delighted with their native loveliness and beauty. He thought the men of the interior wilds were fresher and handsomer than the residents of the coast.

Military Services.

As a military officer, Capt. William Paxton served below Richmond, in the Revolutionary war. He was at the battle of Hot-water, and by the governor's commission, he was raised to the rank of major. By this latter title he was generally known. His men earned pensions by their service.

Eleanor Hays

was the handsome, courageous, and independent daughter of David Hays. After her husband's death she superintended her farm in person. Her father's will is interesting, and I here give a synopsis of it:

David Hay's Will.

It is dated Feb. 27, 1775, and was probated Aug. 21, 1776. He gives to his wife, Isabella, one-third of his "move-ables," a negro girl, Agnes, and so much land as his executors may think proper. He gives to his children: 1 Joanna Buchanan, 2 Eleanor Paxton, 3 Hannah Sawyers, and 4 Mary Lapsley five shillings each. The remainder of his property is to be equally divided among his sons: 5 David, 6 William, 7 Joseph, 8 Robert, and 9 John Hays. He appoints as executors, his wife, Isabella, with William Paxton and James Sawyers. The witnesses are Andrew Kinnear, George Berry and Agnes Kinnear.

Controversy over William Paxton's Estate.

Wm. Paxton left no will. Administration was granted to Eleanor Paxton and Joseph Gilmore,—bond $1,500; sureties. Hugh Barclay and David Edmondson. Differences arose, and a suit in chancery was instituted, but was settled and dismissed. The parties were: 1 James Paxton, 2 Elisha Paxton, 3 James Pryor, and 4 David and Bettie Sawyers, plaintiffs, vs. Eleanor Paxton, widow, 5 Joseph Paxton, 6 Samuel Greenlee, 7 Joseph Gilmore, Madison, Paxton and James Gilmore, 8 William Paxton, 9 John Paxton, and 10 Isabella Alexander. It thus appears, in 1806, that Polly, wife of Samuel Greenlee, was dead, that Nicholas and Sallie Pryor, and Susanna Gilmore were dead, and, further, that deceased had 968 acres of land in Rockbridge, and 485 acres in Amherst County.

No. 72. JOHN PAXTON,
Son of William Paxton and Eleanor Hays; never married. He was a soldier in the Indian wars of the South, and died in the service. His remains were brought back to Rockbridge, and lie near the dust of his parents, in the cemetery at Glasgow.

No. 74, SUSANNA PAXTON,
 Daughter of William Paxton and Eleanor Hays, was born 1772, d Nov. 11, 1800=June 5, 1793, Joseph Gilmore, Sr,—his first wife. He was one of the administrators of his father-in-law, Major Wm. Paxton, and was a prominent and highly honored citizen of Rockbridge. He was a brother of Thomas Gilmore, ancestor of the Kerr's Creek family of that name.

[A] MADISON GILMORE, b May 5, 1894, d June 7, 1859, =Jennetta More Houston, a lovely christian woman, b 1800. She was a daughter of Rev. Samuel Houston, of Rural Valley. She is said to have had a heart overflowing with kindness, and a hand ever open to the needy. Mr. Gilmore, though not a member of any church, was possessed of outward virtues and graces. For forty years he was a justice of the peace, and was twice elected to the State legislature, from Botetourt County. His fath-
[A] er's will gave him valuable lands, but provided that in case of his death, childless, they should go to his brothers and sisters. He had no child, and his widow was left destitute; yet, by her own father's will, she had a home for life, at Rural Valley.

[B] PAXTON GILMORE, b Feb. 10, 1796, d July 4, 1864, at "Sidney Vale," = Feb. 20, 1827, Sarah Porter Irvine, They lived at Gilmore Mills, near Natural Bridge, their ancestral homestead. Paxton, and was an executor of David Hays' will. This James may have been the father of David Sawyers. If so, David and Elizabeth were cousins

Traditions

Three brothers of the Sawyers name came to America, from England. One settled in Virginia. His son, David= Elizabeth Paxton, and they kept an inn near Natural Bridge. Being a patriot, David was broken up by the English, who liberated his slaves, and confiscated his property, including twelve horses. But David possessed independence, courage and great physical power, and, with his family, removed to Tennessee. A predatory band, know as the "Duck River Crowd," infested his county, and the people, knowing his nerve and fearlessness, elected him sheriff. His first act was to put down the public enemies; but in the pursuit of the band, he was drowned. An old Tennessean described him as a "stirring fellow," and "a regular cuss on wheels, and fond of public business."

No. 82, Maj. James Paxton,
Son of William Paxton and Eleanor Hays, was born in Virginia, June 6, 1781, died at his home in Botetourt Co., Va, known as “Soldiers’ Retreat,” June 13, 1866 = Jan. 17, 1817, Catherine Jordan, who died Nov. 1858. She was the daugh-

When the war of 1812 broke out, he raised a company at Fincastle, Va, and offered it to the State. The company was assigned to the 21st Regiment, Va. Volunteers, and was sent to the Canada frontier. It did good service, and Capt. Paxton was advanced to the rank of Major. After the war, he still continued in the army, and March 6, 1818, was placed in command of a detachment of the State Guard and entrusted with the care of the arsenal, at Lexington, Va. By his efficiency, he became generally known and respected. He added to experience and executive ability, a commanding presence and personal dignity. His commands were imperative and were implicitly obeyed. After ten year's service at the arsenal, he resigned, and repaired to his estate at the forks of Jackson and Cowpasture Rivers, in Botetourt County. To a good education, he joined a habit of reading, that made him a scholar and a gentleman. In his latter years, he became interested in religion, and served as a ruling elder in Locust Bottom Presbyterian Church. He was at one time sent to the General Assembly. His family was large, and his religious influence was widely felt.

[A] JOHN JORDAN PAXTON, son of Major James, was born June 12, 1818, d on his farm near Lexington, July 19, 1893 = June 22, 1852. Eliza Jane Layne, b 1835, and is still living at her old home. He was tall in person, and genial in his manners. A graduate of Washington College, his mind was well stored with useful knowledge, and in conversation he was interesting. All his children were literary in their tastes, and were fond of society. I visited the family at their home, in 1884, and met, for the first time in my life, a relative of the name of Paxton. At that time all the children were living, and a fond father presented each to me with commendations; but ere many years, he was in his grave, and half of his household were lying at his side. Mrs. Paxton prefers a quiet life and will not leave "Summer Side," the old family seat.
I Kate Paxton, born April 3, 1853—1884, Hon. H. B. Gilkeson, a distinguished lawyer, of Romney, W. Va, b June 6, 1850, son of R. W. Gilkeson, a merchant of Romney. I met cousin Kate just before her marriage. She was in her prime of beauty and loveliness. She had just returned from a protracted visit to Washington City. I have received many letters from her. Mr. Gilkeson is a graduate of Yale. His special course was civil engineering. His education was completed in Germany. He is interested in political questions, and has served a term in each branch of the West Virginia Legislature. I observe that he was a member of the late General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, of which he is a zealous member.

II James Douglas Paxton, b 1855, d Sept. 29, 1882.

After graduating at Washington & Lee University, he studied law, and entered on the practice at Mobile, Ala. But disease and symptoms of death caused his return home in a special car, that he might die surrounded by friends. His lovely sister, Cora, who has since joined him above, thus notices him:

"Young and ambitious, he lay on his dying bed, planning for a bright future and laurels of fame; yet, at that moment, angels were gathering leaves from the Tree of Life, to weave for him a crown of glory. It was his desire to see again his native hills, and to breathe Virginia's healing atmosphere—but my dear brother was permitted to cast but one glance on the landscape, before it was announced that he was at rest. When his physician came from his room, and said that he might not live until morning, there were hushed voices and muffled footsteps around him. Noticing this
II he called to his sister, and said: 'You think I am dangerously sick; now hear me sing 'Sweet Bye and Bye.' And he sang the hymn with surprising strength, to a sorrow stricken audience.

III Cora Clifton Paxton, b 1860, d May 31, 1896=
William S. Hungerford, a lawyer and a successful manufacturer of iron, at Jersey City. A friend thus notices her: 'Her nature was a wonderful union of gentleness and sweetness, with firmness and determination. Bright and quick in her perceptions, her conclusions were marvelously correct. She inherited a taste for literature, and she became a forcible, as well as a charming writer. Her imagination was brilliant, and she possessed the heaven-born gift of clothing her fancies in the garb of reality and beauty. Originality gave a charm to her writings; and if health and life had been given, she would have reached a brilliant sphere in literature." Her pen was rapidly introducing her to the American public, through the columns of the Century Magazine and the N. Y. Herald. She left no issue.

IV Samuel Rutherford Houston Paxton, M. D., b 1857=Oct. 15, 1894, Bessie L. Moore. He holds a medical diploma from Baltimore College. For his health, he went West, and settled in Florence, Colo, where he has found success as a physician.

He was reared in Rockbridge Co., Va; graduated at Washington College; removed West, 1835; formed a partnership with his brother, William H. Paxton, in the practice of law, at Vicksburg, Miss.—a zealous promoter of education; a quarter-master in the Southern army, with the rank of major, and an advocate of progress and enterprise in the State of Mississippi. His intelligence and public spirit made him a leader in every good cause.

He graduated at the Virginia Military Institute, July 4, 1860. Removing to Mississippi, he entered the Southern army, as a private, and, after four years arduous service, attained the rank of Major of Cavalry. He was with John Morgan in his raid through Indiana and Ohio, became familiar with prison life, and was several times exchanged, and finally discharged at the close of the war. He was a commissioner for Mississippi, for the Centennial Exhibition, and afterwards for the New Orleans Exposition. But, as a Mason he reached his highest distinction. As grand commander of his state, he enjoyed the highest honor the craft could confer. He asked no civil office of the State, but as a zealous Methodist, was often honored by the church. His home was at Vicksburg.

[F] GENERAL ELISHA FRANKLIN PAXTON, son of Elisha and Margaret, was born in Rockbridge Co., Va, March 4, 1828, fell at Chancellorsville, May 3, 1863. His education was thorough. He received diplomas from Washington College, Va, from Yale, and from the law department of the Virginia University. After commencing the practice of law, in Lexington, Va, he = Nov. 20, 1854, Miss Elizabeth Hannah White, b Oct. 12, 1831, d Feb. 16, 1872, daughter of Matthew White. In 1860, owing to a disease of his eyes, he gave up the practice of law and bought Thorn-Hill, a valuable estate near Lexington. He was a States-right Democrat, and felt a deep interest in political affairs; and when the first call for volunteers for the South was made, in 1861, he marched as a lieutenant of the "Rockbridge Rifles," to Harper's Ferry. At the first battle of Manassas, he was commended for gallantry on the field, in bearing the colors of a Georgia regiment, whose standard-bearer had been shot down. After serving a short time, he was advanced to the rank of Major of his regiment, the 27th Virginia, and was placed on Jackson's staff; and, by Jackson's recommendation, was made Brigadier Gen-
[F] eral, and led the Stonewall brigade in the most memorable conflicts on Virginia's blood-stained soil. The dangers, hardships and anxieties of the campaign, told upon his health, and turned his mind to thoughts of God. A premonition warned him that he would never return to his home. He united with the Presbyterian Church, rose in his tent every morning before daylight, for contemplation and prayer, and by day carried the Bible upon his heart. On the night of the first day's fight, at Chancellorsville, he expressed an assurance that he would be killed on the following day, and in the morning, in his tent, held his usual private devotions. Maj. Randolph Barton, one of his staff officers, thus describes his death: "After Gen. Paxton had replaced his Bible, a staff officer from Gen. Stuart, who had succeeded Gen. Jackson, hurried us to the right of the plank road, and we were immediately engaged in a terrific battle. Our brigade faced the enemy, and were slowly advancing, firing as we progressed. I was within a foot or two of General Paxton, on his left. Both of us were in front, and in the line of our men. Suddenly I heard the unmistakable thud of a ball. My first thought was that it had struck a tree; but, in an instant, Gen. Paxton reeled and fell; he raised himself, with his arms extended, and as I bent over him, I understood him to say, 'Tie up my arm.' In a moment he was dead." Maj. Douglas, another staff officer, writes: "General Paxton was a man of intense convictions, and the courage of them. Though kind-hearted, he was often brusque to rudeness. He was of excellent judgment, slow and sure, yet fond of dash in others. He was esteemed by the officers, beloved by them, and respected by all—an excellent commander, faithful, brave and conscientious."

No truer patriot ever breathed than Gen. Paxton. He worshipped Virginia, and died at her altar. He believed his allegiance was due, rather to his State, than to the Union. Loyalty to Virginia was an article of his faith. I have read his letters to his wife, written from the bloody field. They should be published, to show how a soldier can be a christian. I have not the space for them, but here is the way the young soldier writes in the hour of victory:

"July 23d, 1861: We spent Sunday last in the sacred work of achieving our nationality and independence. The work was nobly done, and it was the happiest day of my life—our wedding day not excepted. I think the fight is over forever. I received a ball through my shirt sleeve, slightly bruising my arm; and others whistling round my head, made fourteen holes through the flag I carried in the hottest of the fight. It is a miracle I escaped. Many fell dead around me. We buried our comrades on the field. God bless my country, my wife and my little ones."

Shortly before his death, he wrote, in sadness: "I am content to accept whatever fate God's justice and mercy has in store for me. It is my prayer that He may give me such faith, repentance and conformity to the law of His holy gospel, as is required of the sinner. I feel that I can say, 'If it be possible, let this cup pass from me; but Thy will be done.' Sooner or later, I must drink of it, and if in this war I am to die, I am content. My life can never be given to a better cause. But I may survive; and, if so, I trust that His law may guide me in what remains of life. If, my darling, the ties that bind me to you, and the children of our home, must be severed by my death, it will be your duty to teach them that it was their father's conviction and experience, that honor and happiness is found only in the path that God points out to the humble and contrite christian. Outside of this path there is no success, wealth or distinction, that does not bring wretchedness in the end. But there may be years of happiness for us yet, dark and bloody as the future seems to-day. May God in his mercy end the struggle."

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Paxton was a woman of many virtues. She was a daughter of Matthew White, born in Londonderry, Ireland, and came, with his brother, Robert White, and settled in Lexington, Va, in 1800. He brought ten pounds as his capital, and a Bible as his confession of faith. He engaged in the mercantile business, and, by industry, frugality and integrity, prospered and acquired wealth. He married Mary McChesney, whose mother was a daughter of Zachariah Johnston, a member of the Virginia Legislature. See portrait I John Gallatin Paxton, b Sept. 17, 1859=Sept. 9, 1885, Mary Gentry, b Nov. 29, 1857. She is a delicate and lovely woman, with a mind well cultivated and refined, a soul endued with sentiment and poetry, and a heart replete with love and tenderness. Mrs. Paxton is of a family distinguished for bravery, patriotism and chivalry.

General Lineage.

1 General Richard Gentry, b in Virginia, 1763; enlisted in the Patriot army, at the age of seventeen, and did not end his military career until he had witnessed the surrender at Yorktown. He removed to Madison Co., Ky, and Kentucky’s historian, Collins, places his name among the Revolutionary officers living in 1840.

2 The Immortal Col. Richard Gentry, of the Florida war, was born in Kentucky, 1788, and fell in battle, Dec. 1, 1837, at Okochobee Lake. He was a Maj. General of Missouri Militia and was selected to command the 1st Missouri Regiment, on account of his gallantry.

3 Richard Harrison Gentry, born in Kentucky, Oct. 12, 1812, was at one time a candidate for governor of Missouri. He was father of Mrs. Paxton.

John G. Paxton is large and handsome of person, and his intellect and acquirements place him in the fore rank of members of the Kansas City bar. He is an alumnus of Washington & Lee, class of 1880. He lives in Independence, Mo., but has an office in Kansas City. He was at one time mayor of Independence, and for several terms, city attorney. He deals but little in politics, but is regarded as one of the rising young men of Missouri. See portrait.

[G] JOHN GALLATIN PAXTON, son of Elisha and Margaret, was born Nov. 9, 1832, died. at Greenville, Miss., Sept. 15, 1859. He was a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute.
The South River Paxtons

This term is applied to the descendants of Thomas Paxton, No. 88, who removed, in 1742, from Lancaster Co., Pa, to the "Borden Grant," in what is now Rockbridge Co., Va. Thomas settled on South River while his nephews, the five sons of his brother, John Paxton, No. 4, settled, a few years later, on North River. The two families were distinguished by their localities, as "South River," and "North River" Paxtons. From the time of the organization of Rockbridge County, there was but little intercourse between the families—no intermarriages. and, until the last ten years, they could not trace their relationship.

No. 88, THOMAS PAXTON,

Son of Samuel, No. 3, was born in Ireland prior to 1700, d in Rockbridge, in 1762= in Ireland, Sarah ———, who sur-vived him. Their graves are to this day unknown. His chil-dren were probably all born in Erin. About 1725, they joined the caravan to America. Samuel, No. 2, was an old man, or possibly had died, in 1742, when his son Thomas, left Penn-sylvania for Virginia. The time of the migration is clearly settled by the

Deposition of Samuel Paxton,

No. 100, son of Thomas, No. 88, taken in Lexington, Va, April 5, 1806. We copy an interesting passage: "Samuel Paxton, aged 73 and upwards, makes oath and says: That his father, Thomas Paxton, deceased, (No. 88), came into "Borden's Grant," and bought land. Some time afterwards, say a year, he moved his family into the Grant, and settled on South River. He owned the land where Robert Stuart, Jas. Laird and Thomas McCulloch now live. This deponent heard his father (No. 88) say that the Spring, a year or eighteen months before he came to the purchase, there had been a battle with the Indians [Dec. 25. 1742] in which John McDow-ell was killed. Deponent states that his father gave part of the land now owned by Robert Stuart to his son-in-law, Thomas Taylor, (who married his daughter, Elizabeth), four or five years after he moved his family. I think my father's land was laid off a year before he moved his family.

The Deeds from Borden's Executors,

To Thomas Paxton, Sr, No. 88, and Thomas Paxton, Jr, No. 96, are found of record at Staunton, Va, deed book, No. 1, pages 493 and 470. Borden's will is dated April 3, 1742, and was probated the same year. Both deeds recite that said Borden, in his lifetime, sold the lands described to the grantees, and received full payment, etc. We learn from these recitals, that Thomas Paxton, Sr, and son, were on the Borden Grant as early as 1742, and that the son was then of age, and must have been born in Ireland, prior to 1720, and the father prior to 1700.

The Will of Thomas Paxton, No. 88

Is dated May 25, 1760, and was probated Nov. 16, 1762. The witnesses are Matthew Lyle and Alex. Smiley. The testator mentions his wife, Sarah, and makes small legacies to his son, Samuel; to his son-in-law, Matthew Robinson and his son, John Robinson, and to his granddaughter, Elizabeth Eakin. The remainder of his estate is given to his son, Thomas, who seems to have been his oldest son; yet younger than his sisters. The surities on the executor's bond were Andrew Hays and Matthew Lyle.

No. 90, Elizabeth (Bettie) Paxton,

Was probably the oldest child of Thomas, No. 88, and we may set her birth, approximately, at 1715. Her first husband was Thomas Taylor, who is mentioned in her brother, Samuel's, deposition. Taylor was killed by a falling tree, and seems to have left no children. Bettie then married Matthew Robinson, and they had a family. Her husband, Matthew Robinson, and their son, John, are named in the will of her father, No. 88. The Robinson family went to Nelson Co., Va., and we hear of their occasional visits to Rockbridge. Thomas Robinson, who married Nancy Paxton, was Bettie's grandson.

No. 92, MRS. EAKIN

Mrs. Eakin is not remembered. Thomas Paxton, No. 88, grants a legacy to his granddaughter, Elizabeth Eakin, (See No. 94), and the mother was probably dead in 1760.

No. 94, ELIZABETH EAKIN

Is named in the will of Thomas Paxton, No. 88, as his granddaughter. Nothing further is known of her. A James Eakin signed the call of Rev. John Brown (See p 28c), and was a witness to the will of Joseph Paxton, No. 58.

No. 96 THOMAS PAXTON, JR,

Was probably the oldest son, though the third child, of Thomas, No. 88. He is supposed to have been born about 1720, in Ireland. A deed dated in 1751, shows he was then a married man, (See No. 88). He married Rebecca Robinson, a sister of Matthew Robinson, husband of his sister, Bettie, No. 90.

No. 98, SAMUEL PAXTON,

Son of Thomas, No. 96, and Rebecca, was born in Rockbridge County, Va, March 16, 1766, and died March 30, 1841 = Aug. 8, 1791, Catherine Atkinson. He purchased the interests of his brothers and sisters in the family homestead. There Samuel and Catherine lived and died. They were buried at the old Neriah Baptist Church. They left a large family.
[A] THOMAS PAXTON, son of Samuel, No. 98, was born in Rockbridge, March 30, 1792 = Oct. 9, 1814, Dicie Cartwright. About 1825, they joined the caravan to Kanawha Co., now W. Virginia. Thomas possessed sound judgment and a good education, and, by enterprise, became a leading citizen of his county. We know nothing of his posterity.

Migrations.

After the death, in Pennsylvania, of Samuel Paxton, No. 144, in the year 1793, all his younger children seem to have removed to Rockbridge, and to have settled on South River. They do not seem to have associated with their cousins on North River. About 1820, the South River Paxtons, with their kindred from Pennsylvania, removed West. Some went to Kanawha Co., W. Va, and sent their children to Cooper County, Mo. Others went to Knightstown and Crawfordsville, Ind. Another detachment removed to Anderson and Nicholas Counties, Ky, and to Preble Co., Ohio. The older children of Samuel, No. 144, went by several routes to Ohio. The North River Paxtons went to the Southern States.

[B] ELIZABETH PAXTON, daughter of Samuel, No. 98, was born May 18, 1793 = Nov. 19, 1812, Charles Cartwright. They went to Miami County, Ohio.

No. 100 Samuel Paxton, Jr,
Was born in 1733, son of Thomas, No. 88. His wife is not known. His deposition as copied, page 278c, reveals about all we know of him.

No. 102, Captain Thomas Paxton,
Son of Samuel, No. 100. was born in Rockbridge, Jan. 10, 1764, d 1839 = May 9, 1781, Martha Steele, b 1764, d Oct. 6, 1846, in Crawfordsville, Ind. Several of the children had removed to Indiana, and when the husband died, in 1839, the widow followed her children, and ended her life in Indiana. The present generation at Crawfordsville never saw their grandfather, Capt. Thomas Paxton, but venerate the name of their grandmother, for her christian graces and affectionate disposition. Some years before his death, Capt. Thomas gave half of his homestead to his son, David, who subsequently bought out his mother's right, and the interest of the other heirs; but in a few years, he sold the property, and moved to Indiana. Captain Thomas served as a drummer boy in the Revolutionary army, and witnessed the surrender at Yorktown.

[A] COL. THOMAS PAXTON, son of Capt. Thomas, No. 102, and Martha Steele, was born in Rockbridges, May 30, 1801, d Dec. 23, 1885 = Polly Edley. He was a colonel of militia, and a man of distinction. A Deed is of record for land on South River from Joseph Paxton and Nancy, his wife, to Samuel Paxton, dated Jan. 3, 1803, for the one-seventh interest in said tract, subject to the widow's dower, he, the said Joseph, "being one of the seven legitimate heirs of Thomas Paxton, deceased."

Was this Joseph Paxton the son of Thomas, No. 88, who witnessed the will of his cousin Joseph in 1755; or was he a son of Thomas, No. 96, who married Rebecca Robinson? If the latter, Rebecca was still living, in 1803, and had seven living children. I have given but one, Samuel, No. 98. Where are the other six?

Letter of Joseph Paxton, of Kanawha.
The following letter from Joseph Paxton, of Kanawha, Co., Va, to Capt. Alexander Paxton, of Rockbridge, will interest, and perhaps perplex the genealogist:

       June 11, 1827.
       Alexander: I now take the opportunity of letting you know we are all well, and I have very little news to write to you; for the bearer of this letter can inform you all about the neighbors. I wrote you shortly after the death of brother William, and expected to get one from you, long since. I have very good prospects for "crops;" but it seems it is not worth while to raise more than one needs. Every kind of produce is low. First-rate tobacco sells at 15 shillings per hundred; whiskey from 15 to 20 cents per gallon, and other products are low in proportion.

Alexander, if you would sell your farm, and come out here, you could purchase much better land with half the money. I would be glad if you would move out, for you could get into a much better neighborhood than where you now live. Ask mother-in-law what sort of neighbors we have. Nancy's family are well, and doing much better than I expected. Archibald has done very well, and the negroes have done better than I expected at first. I have administered on brother William's estate, and I wish you were here to relieve me of some of the trouble. You must give my love to sisters, and to old mother, and receive the like for yourself.

Joseph Paxton.

Now, what Joseph is this? He could not have been the son of Thomas, No. 88, for if living in 1828, he would have been over ninety years old; and besides, Thomas, No. 88, does not name him. There is scarcely a possibility that he was a son of Thomas. No. 96. He certainly was not a son of Samuel. No. 100. With many doubts, I express the opinion that there were two Josephs, father and son. The former is my No. 112, and I give to Joseph, No. 112, a daughter, Jane Paxton, who married Samuel McVeigh.

Lost Paxtons.

To aid the genealogist, I will append a list of marriages found of record, for which I cannot find a place.

Marriages of Lost Paxtons in Rockbridge.
1 Elizabeth Paxton to John Stephenson, July 29, 1788, by Rev. William Graham.
2 Sarah Paxton to Thomas Dunaway, Nov. 15, 1792, by Rev. William Graham.

The Pennsylvania Paxtons

No. 120, Nathaniel Paxton,

Son of Samuel, No. 2, and grandson of James, No. 1, of England and Ireland, was born about the close of the seventeenth century, in Ireland, and died in York (now Adams) Co., Pa, March 1761, leaving a wife, Hannah, and the following children, named in his will: 1 Nathaniel (122), 2 John (132), 3 Andrew (140), and 4 Samuel.

The name of Nathaniel Paxton often occurs in the early records of Lancaster and York Counties, and it is with difficulty they can be individualized. The recurrence of the name in all branches of the family, suggests that a Nathaniel may have been the father of James Paxton, No. 1.

No. 122, Nathaniel Paxton

Son of Nathaniel Paxton, No. 120, was born in Chanceford or Cumberland Township, in what is now Adams Co., Pa. in 1746, died in Washington Co., Pa, Sept. 11 1816=1768, Jane Gibson, a native of Cavin Co., Ireland. She was a lady of education and refinement. Three brothers came with her, who were six feet, four inches tall, and extraordinary in strength and activity. Two of them entered Braddock’s army, and were admired for military bearing and prowess. Nathaniel, after marriage, settled in Franklin Co., Pa, but was dissatisfied, and returned to York, and located on a farm of 170 acres, five miles West of the present site of Gettysburg, on Marsh Creek. Here his children, and some of his grandchildren, were born. He purchased and gave to each of his children, one hundred acres, adjoining his own estate. About, 1802, Mrs. Jane Gibson Paxton died, and was buried in the old Sanders graveyard. The children, about 1812, removed to Washington Co., Pa. The old man followed them, and died Sept. 11, 1816. His will is of record in Washington County, but reveals nothing new.

The early Paxtons were men of kind and generous spirit, undeviating integrity, and heroic in their Calvinistic faith. They were members of the Associate Reformed Church. They believed in Providence, were sincere in prayer, and acted from principle. They moved from place to place, to secure better church privileges, and would ride hundreds of miles, through forests, to attend their presbyteries and synods. Their education was limited to the curriculum of the round-log schoolhouse. Their children were taught at home.

We are now no longer depending upon vague tradition. We have an authentic record for our sketches. Andrew Hart Paxton and his brother, James, sons of Nathaniel, have left us an authentic narrative, of 18 pages, of their father's life. Unfortunately, it goes no farther back than their grand parents. The Adams County History mentions the meeting of the Gettysburg debating club at Nathaniel's house in 1809, to consider the question, "Is the Prodigal or the Miser the Greater Enemy of Society?" Nathaniel's marble tomb still stands in the cemetery of Pigeon Creek Presbyterian Church and is kept in good condition.

No. 124, JAMES GIBSON PAXTON,

Oldest child of Nathaniel, No. 122, and Jane, was born in Franklin Co., Pa, 1771, d Jan. 17, 1842= Betsy Adair, who d March 25, 1831, aged 52. James lived all his days on the farm his father gave him, near Gettysburg, Pa. He served as a private in the whisky war of 1795. Like his uncles, the Gibsons, he was six feet, four inches tall. He was highly esteemed by his neighbors. His will was probated Feb. 1, 1843. He names his sons, Nathaniel and William, and his grandson, James G. Paxton, Jr.

[A] NATHANIEL PAXTON, went to Darke County, Ohio.
No. 126, SARAH PAXTON,
Daughter of Nathaniel Paxton, No. 122, and Jane Gibson, was born at the Paxton homestead, near Gettysburg, Pa, June 1, 1774, d in Washington Co., Pa, July 18, 1830=1798, David Hart, b Nov. 28, 1775, d in Sumerset Township, Washington Co., Pa, Oct. 1, 1852. In 1807, the family left the parental home on the battle ground of Gettysburg, and opened a way through a wilderness to Washington County. Many of their friends followed and a strong Calvinistic settlement was established. David Hart possessed sound judgment, undeviating truth, fixed principles and Calvinistic faith. The tombs of David and Sarah are found in the cemetery of Pigeon Creek Presbyterian Church, in Washington County, Pa.

The Hart Family

The Harts are closely related to the Paxtons. Nathaniel Hart, the earliest known ancestor, came from Scotland, about 1730, and settled near the site of Gettysburg. In 1892, we find four of the family—Andrew, Edward, Elijah and William Hart's—names signed to the call of Dr. William Paxton to the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church, situated five miles West of Gettysburg. These were, doubtless, the sons of the immigrant, Nathaniel Hart. The Kentucky Nathaniels Hart are of the same family. Nathaniel of Adams County, Pa, lived and died on the farm he located in 1730. We find, to-day, in the old Marsh Creek Cemetery, the monuments of two Nathaniels, father and son. The junior Nathaniel had two sons: Micah, who went to Norwich, Ohio; and Andrew, who remained in Adams County.

[A] ANDREW HART, son of the second Nathaniel, =1768, Mary Montieth. She died in 1785, and Andrew died in 1792, the same year he signed the call for the services of Dr. Paxton, at Marsh Creek Church. They left a family of children, of which David Hart was the oldest. Though only seventeen years of age when his father died, he took charge of the family and the estate, and managed with extraordinary judgment. In 1798, he married Sarah Paxton. In the Spring of 1807, quite a caravan journeyed to Washington Co., Pa, and settled in Sumerset Township. Among other emigrants, was Mary, the widow of John Paxton, No. 132, with her daughters, and the Fergus; and, subsequently, a second caravan followed. See Nathaniel Paxton, No. 122.

After the death of Sarah, in 1830, David Hart, No. 126, = Margary (Dunning) Butler, who died Jan. 2, 1871, leaving: 1 Margaret, 2 Eliza, and 3 Dunning Hart. The latter was a soldier in the Union army, and was wounded at Gettysburg.

Through the courtesy of David Hart, of Cannonsburg, Pa, I am able to give the following reliable data:
1 Samuel T. Hart, son of Andrew, d May, 1892.
2 Amanda J. Hart, b Oct. 3, 1823.
3 David Hart, b Jan. 10, 1826.
4 Mary M. Hart, b March 4, 1828.

These four were children of Andrew Hart, who d 1861. His wife, Mary, d 1863.
5 J. G. Hart, d July 5, 1885.
6 Sarah Hart, b May 24, 1830, d 1860.
7 Andrew Hart, Sr, d April 19, 1775, aged 55 years.
8 Samuel McCullough Hart, d May 5, 1878.

JANE HART, daughter of David and Sarah, was born Jan. 28, 1801, in Ohio, 1854=March 14, 1818, Henry Newkirk, b Sept. 24, 1789. d Feb. 21, 1854, in Wayne Co., Ohio. In 1819, the family removed to Wayne Co., Ohio, and opened a large farm. A church was erected, a schoolhouse established, and, ultimately, a graveyard was dedicated. There the dead of the family sleep, awaiting the Resurrection. Here is the sacred earthly home of the Newkirks; and the well kept graves, and granite tombs, attest the piety of the living. Mr. Newkirk possessed sound judgment and unblemished integrity. His public spirit promoted every laudable enterprise, and favored political and religious progress. Henry and Jane Newkirk, by their lives, illustrated the excellency of the christian character.

I Sarah Paxton Newkirk, b April 18, 1819, d at Fort Madison, Iowa, Feb. 4, 1841=Jan. 1837, George Bell, a merchant of Millersburg, Ohio. They removed to Fort Madison, Ia. Their only child, Henry, died in his sixth year.

No. 128, NATHANIEL PAXTON
Son of Nathaniel Paxton and Jane Gibson. No. 122, was born in what is now Adams Co., Pa, Feb. 23, 1783, d in Washington Co., Pa, March 6, 1844 = Nov. 15, 1804, Margaret Hart, b June 10, 1782, d June 18, 1840. They were married at the old Hart homestead, near Gettysburg, Pa. After marriage, Nathaniel removed to Franklin Co., Pa, but in a year or two, his father gave him a hundred acres of land adjoining his farm, near Gettysburg, and the son settled upon it. But his sister, Sarah, with her husband, David Hart, in 1807, removed to Washington Co., Pa, and they advised a removal. In 1812, Nathaniel, on horseback, went to Washington County. He made the trip in four days. He was delighted with the country, and bought a farm of 168 acres for $13.00 per acre. The next year he brought his family West. His father (No. 122), now a widower, could not bear a separation from his children and followed them to Washington County. Polly Hart McCulloch joined the colony and settled, with Nathaniel Paxton, on Pigeon Creek. But here they did not have the church facilities they desired, and, in 1828, sold the farm and removed to West Middletown, in Washington Co. Pa, where they could enjoy the preaching of Rev. William Wallace, of the Associate Reformed Church. The family were enthusiastic Calvinists, and Nathaniel was a ruling elder of that church, and travelled as far as Chillicothe, Ohio, to attend a meeting of synod.

After the death of Margaret, Nathaniel married Mrs. Eliza B. Irvine, a widow, with several daughters. In Aug., 1839, Nathaniel visited Ashland Co., Ohio, and purchased land, which still belongs to his descendants. In 1843, he made arrangements to remove to Ashland County, but died in Washington County, Pa.

Nathaniel’s will is recorded in Washington Co., Pa. He names his widow, Eliza B., and his children: 1 Andrew, H. Paxton, 2 James G., 3 Sarah E. and 4 Margaret.

Through the kindness of Nathaniel’s granddaughter, Mrs. Calhoun, I was permitted to examine a faded and discolored family record, kept by Nathaniel. Others, since his death, have filled in many blanks, and I copy the whole. The book is 5x2½ inches, and the backs are pasteboard. It is stitched by hand.

"NATHANIEL PAXTON’S RECORD, BOUGHT AUGUST 3, 1787"

Nathaniel Paxton married by Rev. William Paxton November 15, 1804.

Andrew Hart Paxton, born Sept. 12, 1805, married Mary Welch, Feb. 2, 1832.

Jean Paxton, born April 28, 1807, married March 3, 1830, died April 4, 1833.

Polly Maria Paxton, b Dec. 18, 1808, d April 3, 1843.
Margaret Paxton, born May 1, 1811, married Sept. 9, 1841, Samuel Gault.

Nathaniel Paxton, born July 10, 1813, d Sept. 11, 1816.

James Paxton, born May 27, 1817.

Nathaniel Paxton, 2d born Dec. 25, 1819, died March 1, 1843.

Mary Jane Gault, born April 3, 1831.

The leading characteristic of the Nathaniel branch of the family was, and is, their heart-felt piety. Calvinistic to the core, they made the glory of God their chief end. They saw God's providence in every event, and prayer was their confidence. It arose, as incense, without ceasing.

[Andrew Hart Paxton, son of Nathaniel Paxton of Washington County, was b on Marsh Creek, Adams Co., Pa., Sept. 12, 1805, d at Savannah, Ohio, March 18, 1870 = Feb. 2, 1832, Mary Welch, d Nov. 27, 1873, daughter of James Welch of Washington Co., Pa. He came in 1812 with his parents to Washington County, and the same year removed to Ashland Co., Ohio. He possessed a good education and literary attainments. His history of his ancestors attests sound judgment, intellect and piety. His wife survived him. Andrew united with the Associate Reformed Church, at West Middletown, Washington Co., Pa, in 1828, then under the pastoral charge of Rev. Wm. Wallace, He was a reader of useful books, but gave his attention chiefly to the scriptures. He was a fearless and outspoken opponent of slavery, and the advocate of social, religious and political reform. Like his father, he was a Presbyterian elder.

Nathaniel Paxton, b Nov. 5, 1838 = March 15, 1866, Marv A. Kirkton, b May 13, 1844. He lives at Garnett, Kansas, and is engaged in the fruit and nursery business. He is active and enterprising, as well as intelligent, though of uncertain health. He clings to the faith of his progenitors, and, for forty-three years, has been a zealous member of the Presbyterian Church; and for twenty years has been

: [a] John W. French, b Dec. 24, 1897.
: [b] Estes M. French, b June 4, 1899.

: Since Mr. French's death, the family have returned to Garnett, Kans.

2 Emma F. Paxton, b July 3, 1868, at New London, Ohio. She is now in charge of the vocal and instrumental music department, of the Indian school, at Phoenix, Arizona.

: [a] Ruth Adams, b March 12, 1894.
: [b] Frank V. Adams, b June 12, 1900.

4 Charles H. Paxton, b July 8, 1872, at Savannah, O., = May 18, 1896, Ella Black. He is a jeweler, at Paola, Kans.

: [a] Walter M. Paxton, b 1901.

5 William Andrew Paxton, b April 25, 1874, at Savannah, O. He is in the hardware business, and lives with his parents, at Garnett, Kans.

6 John Victor Paxton, b Dec. 4, 1876, at Savannah, O., = Aug. 28, 1901, Tracy Stokes. He is in the dry goods line, at Emporia, Kans. He was an officer of Company E, in the famous 20th Kansas, and was a mounted orderly under General Funston.

7 Edward Coleman Paxton, born Dec. 18, 1882, at Garnett, Kans; is attending Emporia College.

These seven children are graduates of Garnett city school. All are members of the Presbyterian Church.
II James W. Paxton, son of Andrew H., was born June 7, 1841, is unmarried. Lives at the old homestead, near Savannah, O. I have good letters from him.

III Andrew R. Paxton, born Sept. 7, 1844, living with his brother James, at the old homestead, near Savannah, O. He was 1st, Nov. 18, 1875, Sylvia J. Jameson, who died April 29, 1879, leaving:
   1 Lloyd S. Paxton, born March 15, 1879.
   2 Andrew H. Paxton, born April 19, 1883.
   3 Rebecca E. Paxton, born Aug. 11, 1884.
   4 Mary Anna Paxton, born March 25, 1886. The children are graduates of Savannah Academy.

IV Joseph C. Paxton, born July 15, 1847—July 23, 1870, married Helen Arnold. They live in Toledo, O.
   1 Maude E. Paxton; 2 Claude L; 3 Vincent J.

[B] Jane Paxton, daughter of Nathaniel, No. 122, was born April 28, 1807, died April 4, 1833—March 3, 1830, Samuel Gault. In 1832, they removed from Washington Co., Pa, to Ashland Co., Ohio.

I Mary J. Gault, born April 3, 1831, d Sept. 25, 1900; married Samuel Gamble, of Ashland Co., Ohio.
   1 Charles Gamble.

[C] James Paxton, son of Nathaniel, No. 122, and Margaret, of Washington County, was born May 27, 1817, died Nov. 4, 1874—Oct. 14, 1845, Jane Padon, born Feb. 22, 1816, d Aug. 16, 1888. His education was superior, and his supplement to the history of his brother, Andrew, displays literary accomplishments of a rare order. He made a trip to Adams Co., Pa, to gather the heraldry of the family; but the work was left unfinished. He and all his family were, and are, United Presbyterians, and are farmers.

[E] SARAH McCULLOUGH = James Fowler.

[F] ELIZABETH McCULLOUGH = Wm. Reed.

No. 132, John Paxton,

Was a son of Nathaniel, No. 120, and grandson of Samuel Paxton, No. 2. He married Mary —— . His will is found in York County, Pa, and was probated June 17, 1784. The widow is named Mary, and the children are: 1 Isaac (executor), 2 Sarah, 3 John, 4 Mary, 5 Martha and 6 Elizabeth.

The will of the widow, Mary Paxton, probated May 9, 1809, is of record in Washington County, Pa. Her beneficiaries are her daughters, 1 Mary Fergus, 2 Sarah Fergus, and 3 Martha Paxton, and 4, her grandson, Isaac, son of John.

It seems from these wills that in 1809, Elizabeth and Isaac had died unmarried, and John had married and died, leaving a son, Isaac. It further appears that the widow, Mary, with her children, had removed, with the Paxtons and Harts, from Adams to Washington County, Pa. John, Isaac and Elizabeth are not named in the widow's will, and the three daughters are married. John must have been born in America, for his children were young and unmarried when he died, in 1784.

No. 134, Isaac Paxton,

Son and executor of John, No. 132, was drowned, accidentally, in the Susquehanna River, prior to the removal of his mother to Washington County.

No. 136, Sarah Paxton,

Daughter of John, No. 132, accompanied her mother, Mary, to Washington County, and there married Thomas Fergus, brother of Samuel.

[A] Hugh Fergus = Sarah Fergus, a cousin.
[D] Sarah Fergus = a Donehey. No children.
No. 138, John Paxton.

From the wills of his parents he seems to have married, and after the birth of a son, died. See No. 132. It is probable that he never left Adams County.

[A] Isaac Paxton, b probably in Adams County, Pa, about 1800; died at his home in Adams County, in 1856. He = Nancy Kerr. His will is of record in Adams County; see page 15. daughter of John and Mary No. 132, = John Paxton, the "mighty jumper". See his sketch.

No. 144, SAMUEL PAXTON, JR,

Son of Samuel Paxton, No. 2, immigrant, is supposed to have been born in Ireland, 1705; came to America, in 1725 or 30, and settled on Marsh Creek, in Cumberland Township, now part of Adams Co., Pa. He came, no doubt, with his father (No. 2). He was twice married. The name of his first wife is unknown, but his second wife was Rachel. His will, and the eighteen children named therein, have been noticed, (p 14c). But tradition avers that he had twenty-two, and that four, not named, reached maturity, but died before their father. At all events, this will shows eighteen living when the father died. Jonathan Paxton No. 206 and the last three named daughters are said to have been the children of Rachel, the second wife. Samuel died in 1793. His son, Nathaniel, administered on his estate. Of the children, we have some trace of 1 John, 2 Thomas and 3 Jonathan; but of the others, little is known. Several went to Rockbridge County, Va. Jonathan, and his full sisters, after marriage in Rockbridge, removed to Western Ohio. Thomas, after sojourning in Virginia, removed to Bedford County, Pa, thence to Nich-
Mary A. Van De Boe.

olias County, Ky., and finally settled in Clermont County, Ohio. Samuel Paxton’s lands in Cumberland township were warranted to him in 1741. But there were but few warrants granted, and those long after the settlement and survey were made. I find no trace in Pennsylvania of any of Samuel’s (No. 144) children, except Thomas, No. 154, and John, No. 146. Samuel’s executor (Nathaniel) accounts for very little property, and his children inherited nothing.

No. 146, JOHN PAXTON,
Was the oldest of the eighteen children of Samuel Paxton, No. 144; at least, he is the first named child in his father’s will. He was born in York Co., Pa., about 1742. His mother’s name is unknown. Late in the eighteenth century, he removed to Washington Co., Pa, and there died in 1807. Among his children, tradition names: Nathaniel and William. They seem to have settled in Cross Creek Township, some ten miles West of Cannonsburg. I have but two children named in my chart: 1 Nathaniel and 2 William; but he had a daughter, who married a Stewart.

No. 148, NATHANIEL PAXTON
Son of John Paxton, No. 146, was born in York Co., Pa, Feb. 4, 1769, d in Wayne Co., Ohio, Oct. 6, 1849=Oct. 25, 1796, Isabella McFarland, b in County Tyrone, Ireland, Feb. 11. 1774, came to America at the age of fifteen, and d in Wayne Co., O, May 16, 1848. They removed from York County to Washington County prior to 1800. The family record names the wife, Isabella Menoch; but tradition asserts that the family, in Ireland, to avoid persecution and confiscation, for their Calvinistic faith, assumed the name of Menoch.

Nathaniel is supposed to have lived in Cross Creek Township, some ten miles West of Cannonsburg; and all of his children were born there, except the youngest. Prior to 1816, Nathaniel removed to Mercer Co., Pa, and some years later, settled in a part of Wayne Co., Ohio, now embraced in Ashland County. He was a man of enterprise, religious zeal and public spirit. His influence was extensive, and his name is still remembered with veneration. He was an advocate and supporter of every scheme of improvement, education and progress. For a time he taught a high school, and practiced law. I remember hearing, in my youth, of Nathaniel Paxton, as a man of state-wide distinction. Mr. Douglas, of Wooster, Ohio, the historian of Wayne County, refers to him as an eminent citizen as early as 1827.

Well-kept family records, in Ohio and Missouri, attest the data of a part of Nathaniel's posterity.

[A] JOHN PAXTON, son of Nathaniel Paxton, No. 148, was born in Washington Co., Pa, Jan. 4, 1794. He went to Kosciusko Co., Ind., married, reared a family and died.

[B] NATHANIEL PAXTON, son of Nathaniel, No. 148, was born in Washington Co., Pa, March 9, 1799, went to Indiana, married a Luce, and died, leaving a large family.

[C] HUGH PAXTON; was born in Washington Co., Pa, Feb. 15, 1801, d in Hayesville, Ashland County, Ohio, in the winter of 1880 He=Nancy Parr, and left no children.

[D] JAMES PAXTON, son of Nathaniel, No. 148, was born in Washington County, Pa, March 31, 1803, d in Iberia. Morrow Co., Ohio, June 24, 1874. He was a physician; married, and left posterity.

[F] WILLIAM PAXTON, b in Washington Co., Pa, April 4, 1807, d in Hickory Co., Mo., in 1862=1828, Rebecca Shinabarger, in Wayne Co., Ohio. In 1834, the family removed from Wayne to Hickory County, Mo. He was possessed of native intellect, and liberal education. For one term, each, he filled the offices of 'County and circuit clerk of Hickory Co. He was a diligent reader and was proficient in law theology and political economy; but, in mathematics he was particularly versed.
[F] Hospitable, genial and generous, he was beloved, as well as esteemed. Nature had made him a mechanic and he became an architect and millwright.

I Ethan Paxton, son of William, was born in Wayne Co., O, Dec. 31, 1829, d in Hickory Co., Mo., Jan. 9, 1898. V Amos Marvin Paxton, b in Hickory Co., Mo., Dec. 8, 1845, d Jan. 27, 1902= July 27, 1881, Hattie Jenkins, nee Cully. Like his father, Amos was a man of excellent mind. He filled the positions of Assessor and Collector of Hickory County, Mo., and at the time of his death, was U. S. appraiser of lands in the Indian Territory. His education was superior and he was regarded as the most valuable contributor to the press, in Hickory County.

1 Maud Cecil Paxton, b June 4, 1882.

VI William J. Paxton, b in Hickory Co., Mo., Sept. 28, 1849, d, unmarried, June 1, 1875.

[H] Amos Paxton, son of Nathaniel, No. 148, was born in Washington Co., Pa, Aug. 6, 1811, d 1902= Rebecca Quigg, b near Harrisburg, Pa, Oct. 2, 1819, d in Hickory County, Mo Jan. 11, 1893. Amos, like several of his brothers, was a millwright. The family removed from Wayne County, Ohio, in 1840, to Hickory County, Mo, then almost an unbroken wilderness. He built the first mill in that part of the State. His business often called him from home, and sometimes detained him for six months, from his family. During these intervals, the noble and courageous wife lived in a rude log-cabin, and cared for her two little children, with nothing to break the solitude but the "wolf's long howl," and the panther's shriek. At times she knew not where she would find to-morrow's food. Mr. Paxton was a member of the second County court of Hickory County.

I William Quigg Paxton, son of Amos, was born in Wayne Co., O, Sept. 17, 1837=1st, Oct. 1, 1867, Mary J. Halbert, who d Sept. 11, 1868, childless. William Q.=2d, Jan 11, 1872. Mrs. Harriet E No-land; nee Tillery, b March 2, 1841, near Knoxville, Tenn. William Q. was reared in Hickory County, Mo., on his father's farm, until he attained the age of twenty-two years. The old log schoolhouse afforded him a primary education. When the Civil war broke out, he helped to organize the first company of Federal Home Guards, in Hickory County. In 1863, he enlisted as a private, in Company I, Eighth Missouri State Militia Cavalry; was promoted to First Sergeant in said company; was assigned to duty in the recruiting service for the 14th Missouri Cavalry Volunteers, in 1865, with authority to raise a company. But approaching peace put an end to the recruiting service. He was commissioned second lieutenant in the same regiment, in May 1865. After an expedition into Kansas, to quiet the Indians, the regiment was mustered out, at Fort Leavenworth, Oct 1865.

After the war, Mr. Paxton returned to his home in Hickory County, Mo., and in 1866, was elected circuit clerk and ex-officio recorder of the county. When his term expired, four years later, he was re-elected. In 1874, he was elected to the Missouri senate, from his district. At the expiration of his term, he removed, with his family, to Humansville, Polk County, Mo., which is still his home. After a few years experience in the mercan- tile line, he built and equipped the finest mill plant in Polk County, which he still owns. He was a promoter of the Hickory County Bank, the first in the County; has held many offices of trust, and is now mayor of Humansville. Mr. Paxton is a model citizen, progressive and liberal, but is a great sufferer from disease. See portrait.

[I] JESSE PAXTON, b in Mercer County, Pa., May 16. 1816, married, and possibly lived in Indianapolis, Ind.

WILLIAM PAXTON.

Tradition claims that Nathaniel Paxton, No. 148, had a brother, William. He is said to have gone to Rockbridge County, Va, and became a merchant. I have found no trace of him in Rockbridge. This William may have been the same as No. 414; but tradition asserts that James Paxton, No, 406, was father of William, No. 414, and I have followed this tradition.

NO. 150, SAMUEL PAXTON, son of Samuel Paxton, Jr., No. 144, and grandson of Samuel Paxton, Sr., No. 2, is the second child named in his father's will, made in 1793. He was born about 1746, in Cumberland Township, now in Adams County, Pa. We know neither his mother nor wife. He probably married, lived and died in Penna. His children went to Rockbridge County, Va, and thence west to Kentucky and Ohio.
No. 152, SAMUEL PAXTON,

son of Samuel Paxton, No. 140, was born in Pennsylvania about 1774, was a saddler by trade, removed to Rockbridge, and there died Dec. 27, 1798, Rachel Whiteman. They lived on South River until 1822, when, with his children and son-in-law, James Ochiltree, he removed to Preble County, Ohio, where his uncle, Jonathan, and his aunt, Sarah, had been living for several years. About 1830, he moved to Rush County, Ind., where he and his wife died, about 1840. They worshiped at the old Shiloh Associate Reformed church, and some of their old friends from Preble County, Ohio, joined them. But, in 1850, many removed to Oregon.

[A] JAMES PAXTON was the oldest child of Samvel No. 152, and Rachel Whiteman. He was born in Rockbridge County, Va, in 1799. He came West with his parents, and removed, about 1850, to Oregon. Three of his children are remembered; 1 William, 2 Graham, 3 John Paxton.

No. 154, Col. Thomas Paxton

Son of Samuel Paxton, Jr., No. 144, was born in York Co., Pa., in 1739, died in Clermont Co., Ohio, March, 1813. He = 1st, Isabella Quate, of Bedford Co., Pa., about 1765. She d in Pennsylvania, about 1780, and Col. Paxton = 2d, about 1782, Martha White, and came to Nicholas County, Ky., where several of his brothers had already settled. She survived him and died in Clermont Co., Ohio, March 10, 1835.

Col. Thomas was the third child named in the will of his father, Samuel Paxton, Jr., No. 144, which was probated 1793, in York County, Pa. (See p. 14c). Thomas seems to have married prior to the Revolutionary war, and to have settled in Rockbridge Co., Va., near to Natural Bridge. But when the war broke out, he returned to Bedford Co., Pa. He was an experienced woodsman, and skilled in Indian tactics. He raised a battalion of horsemen and entered the Continental army. A man of courage and physical prowess, as well as a decided patriot, he became a scourge to the savages, and a terror to the British. His military record is found in Vol. 14, Pennsylvania Archives, pages 648-41-47. Marvelous stories are told of his gallantry and heroism. On the 10th of Dec., 1787, he was commissioned commander of the Second Battalion of Bedford County, Pa. Militia. On page 19, of this volume, Dr. Todd tells of Col. Paxton's wives, and his removal to Kentucky. His home, for a few years, was on the waters of Elkhorn, in Nicholas County, Ky. But when Gen. Wayne, in 1794, was organizing a force to subdue the rebellious natives on the Miami, in Ohio, he selected Col. Paxton as the leader of his van guard, composed of fifty Indian scouts. To this intrepid band, with its heroic leader, much of the honor of the signal victory at "Fallen Timber" is due.

This expedition made Col. Paxton acquainted with the lands of Western Ohio; and, immediately on the restoration of peace, in 1795, he brought his family to Clermont County, Ohio, and, after opening a farm, he engaged in buying and locating land warrants, and in speculating in real estate. He acquired much land and left his family a large estate. His home farm, near Loveland, is still owned by his descendants. The remains of Col. Paxton and his second wife lie in the old cemetery of Miamiville, Ohio. His descendants take pride and pleasure in keeping the tomb of their illustrious progenitor bright and lovely. His epitaph is: "A soldier of the Revolution." I clip from the "History of Clermont County, Ohio," as follows:

"The first house built between the Little Miami and the Scioto Rivers, was built in the Spring of 1795, by Col. Thomas Paxton—the first permanent settler in Clermont Co., O. He was also the first white man to raise a field of corn in the Virginia Military Reserve, comprising the lands between these rivers. * * * * He was a noble type of the soldier and pioneer. Born during the French and Indian wars, in Pennsylvania,—the companion and sub-altern of Wayne, he seemed in his native element when contending with the enemies of civilization."

From the "Clermont Advance," March 1887: "The first actual settler of Clermont Co., Ohio, was Col. Thomas Paxton, who had served through the Revolutionary war. He was an officer of a Pennsylvania regiment; was born in Pennsylvania, about 1739, and after the war, removed with his family to Nicholas County, Ky. In 1794, when Wayne was organizing his expedition against the Indians on the Miami, his experience, courage and intrepidity, secured him the place of leader of the advance guard of the army. His extraordinary ability, was here displayed, and he is entitled to much of the honor of the victory at 'Fallen Timber.'"

From R. J. Bancroft, in the "Clermont Sun" of March, 1891: "At the Baltimore Convention (Dem.) of 1832, James Buchanan, afterwards president, thus addressed Col. Thomas Paxton, Jr, of Miami Township: 'I knew the splendid military record of your father, who served with honor in the Pennsylvania line, in the Revolution, and, later, with Wayne at the defeat of the Indians. Your grandfather (No. 154) and mine were neighbors, in the Paxton settlement, in Lancaster County, Pa, and the name of 'Paxton' was ever one around which the hardy pioneers would at once rally to fight with the Red men or the British.'"

Many anecdotes have been published of Col. Thomas Paxton's gallantry; but I have no space to record them.
No. 156, ROBERT PAXTON,

Oldest child of Col. Thomas Paxton and his first wife, Isabella Quate, was born in Bedford County, Pa, about 1766— in Kentucky, about 1790, Adoris Archer. In 1789, after the death of his mother, Isabella, and while his father, Col. Thos. Paxton, was in Kentucky, he brought the other children, and the household property, from Bedford County, Pa, down the Ohio in flat boats, and delivered them in Nicholas County, Ky, at the farm two miles from Carlisle. Robert became a citizen of wealth and influence. He died about 1830, at the home of his daughter, Isabella Kincart, near Carlisle. His wife seems to have preceded him to her grave. His children were reared in Nicholas County, Ky, and several of them inherited the courage and independence of their grandfather.

[A] JOHN PAXTON, was the oldest child of Robert, No. 156, but died in youth.

[B] SINGLETON PAXTON, second child of Robert, =1st; Martha J. Pettis, who was mother of his children. He = 2d, Sallie Fulton. He was remarkable for courage, strength and activity. A Southerner in every trait, he spoke his sentiments with freedom. As a politician, he advocated slavery, and yet was kind to his opponents. He followed escaping slaves even into Canada, and, singly and alone, brought them back. In 1851, he removed to Cooper County, Mo., and settled near Pilot Grove. In response to the first call for volunteers for the South, he enlisted. He was at Lexington, Wilson Creek and other conflicts in Missouri and Arkansas. He died at Pilot Grove, leaving eleven children, only four of whom I have discovered. In my youth, before the war, I often heard of the daring exploits of Singleton Paxton.

I Benjamin Dye Paxton, b Dec. 6, 1840, near Carlisle. He served under General Price in the Confederate army, in Missouri and Arkansas. He writes me from Rolston, Okla, and is much interested in my work.

No 174 SAMUEL PAXTON,

son of Col. Thomas Paxton and Martha White, was b Aug.
7, 1793, d Dec. 25, 1880; = June 14, 1821, Eliza M. Weller, b in New York, Oct. 22, 1803, d in Clermont Co., O, Dec. 23, 1886, both buried at Miamiville cemetery, near Loveland, Samuel was a babe when his parents removed from the mouth of Elkhorn, in Kentucky, to Clermont Co Ohio. He was a man of thrift and enterprise. In his day, a large trade was carried on in produce and merchandise, by covered flat boats that floated down the Ohio and the Mississippi rivers, to New Orleans. After trading at all intermediate towns, what remained of the cargo was sold, with the boat, and the adventurers returned by steamboat, with their profits, to reinvest. Three or four such trips were made by Samuel. His profits were large, but on one occasion he was robbed of $5,000.

Col. Thomas Paxton died at the beginning of the war of 1812, and Samuel returned to Clermont, and made three enlistments. The first was to go on an expedition to Detroit. He served under Capt. Hansbrook. Later in the war, we find him, again, at the post of duty, and the Pension office records show that Samuel Paxton served as a private in Lieut. Andrew Guthrey's Company of Mounted Infantry, from Sept. 20, 1814, to Nov. 19, 1814. He again served on a third expedition.

No. 178, Jane Paxton

No. 180, Isabella Paxton

No. 182, Nathaniel Paxton, son of Samuel, No. 144, was the executor of his father's will, (p 14c). With others of the eighteen children of his father, he removed to Rockbridge Co., Va, and settled near Natural Bridge. Mrs. Alex. Paxton, No. 238, remembers a visit paid her father-in-law, Jonathan Paxton, by his half-brothers, Nathaniel Paxton, No. 182, and Col. Thomas Paxton, No.
154, while all were living in Virginia. There is some recollection of Nathaniel visiting Clermont, O., but his home was near Carlisle, Ky.

No. 184, HUGH PAXTON,

 Tradition does not name Hugh Paxton; but a record of Rockbridge Co., Va, shows that April 5, 1798, a Hugh Paxton married a Julian Moore. I have made diligent inquiry for this pair, and have learned nothing of them.

No. 186, GEORGE; No. 188 BENJAMIN.

No. 190, ROBERT PAXTON,

 A Paxton, a soldier in Leslie Combs' company of Kentucky militia, in the war of 1812, was killed by the Indians on the Canadian border. It was probably Robert or one of his brothers.

No. 192, MOSES PAXTON,

No. 194. DAVID PAXTON, is well remembered in the family of Jonathan Paxton, No. 206. Shortly before the death of Jonathan, he was asked to suggest a name for one of his grandsons. "Call him David," replied the old man, "for David was always so kind to me in early life.' It seems that David never married, but followed his brethren to South-west Ohio.

No. 196, Joseph Paxton

son of Samuel Paxton, Jr, No. 144, followed the tide of emigration from York Co., Pa, to Rockbridge Co., Va, thence to Nicholas Co., Ky, and finally, to South-west Ohio. He was born about 1760, and married in Pennsylvania. The name of his wife is unknown.

No. 197, Samuel Paxton

son of Joseph, No. 195, was born in Pennsylvania, and on the wave of emigration was borne to Virginia, thence to Kentucky, and finally, to Warren Co., O. Here he married Esther Wilson, who is still affectionately remembered by her posterity. He settled in Warren Co., O. His wife survived him.

[A] Samuel Paxton, son of Samuel, No. 197, perpetuates the name. He was probably born in Virginia, in 1805, d at Lebanon, O., June 22, 1842; came West with his father, and settled, in 1822, at Lebanon, O. Here he engaged in the manufacture of edged tools. March 12, 1829, he married Mary Hutchison, of a New Jersey family, moving in the best society of the day, and extensively connected with the Paxtons and other distinguished people. Samuel seems to have been a man of wealth and influence.

I Harriet Paxton, oldest child of Samuel Paxton and Mary Hutchison, was b in Lebanon, O., Dec. 23, 1829, and yet lives there=Aug. 15, 1847, John Wood, b in Lebanon, Oct. 17, 1824, son of Wm. Wood, who came from England, in his youth.

John was a man of culture, and gave his children a classical education. The old people still live on a lot, near Lebanon, of a few acres, and make an easy living, keep a home for their children, who lovingly try to make them happy. They enjoy the esteem of a large circle of acquaintences. See portrait of Harriet.

went, after her father's death, in 1793, to Rockbridge Co. Va
No. 206, JONATHAN PAXTON,

son of Samuel and Rachel Paxton, No. 144, and grandson of Samuel No. 2, was b in York (now Adams) Co., Pa, in 1777. The family lived in Cumberland Township, a few miles south of Gettysburg. In this ancestral home, Jonathan Paxton was born. Samuel's will is dated Feb., 1793, and 18 children are named. Tradition avers that 22 children attained maturity, and 18 were living at his death. Samuel left a widow, Rachel, who was the mother of Jonathan, and three sisters. John, the first of the 18 children of Samuel, must have been born about 1734, Jonathan was probably the only son of Rachel. He was a full brother of Sarah No. 200, who = a Whiteman, and settled in Preble Co., and of Polly (Mary) No. 204, who = Torbit, and went to Darke Co., O. Samuel died Feb., 1793, when Jonathan was 16 years old. His portion in the estate was small. He died in Preble Co., O., Jan. 5, 1852. One of these 18 children of the 3d Samuel, was the celebrated Col. Thomas Paxton, the daring and heroic Indian scout, and the leader of the van of Gen. Anthony Wayne's army.

Jonathan took with him all his living to the waters of South River, in Rockbridge Co., Va. But he did not waste his substance in riotous living, but by industry was enriched, He became overseer of the farm of Robert Gilmore, and like Joseph of old, all that he did prospered in his hand; insomuch that Gilmore gave him his daughter, Agnes, to wife. Tradition says emphatically that her name was "Agnes," but the bungling record has it "Nancy." I will venture the solution, that her name was "Nancy Agnes Gilmore." However, both record and tradition affirm that they were married Feb. 7, 1798. An obituary thus notices him: "Jonathan Paxton was born in Pennsylvania in the year 1777. When 17 years of age, he removed to Rockbridge Co., Va, where he was, later, united in marriage to a Miss Gilmore. In 1817, he removed to Franklin Co., O., and the following fall, to Preble Co. His posterity is found in numbers in that and adjoining counties. He left 17 children, all of whom are now dead."

Jonathan adhered to the faith of his fathers, was an ardent member of the Associate Reformed Church, and he and his posterity, that have died, lie in the cemetery at Hopewell Church, in Preble Co. In January and February, 1852, typhoid fever prevailed, and six members died in less than two months. Jonathan, himself, died Jan. 5. and his wife followed Feb. 2. At that time the aged couple had 17 children, 62 grand children and 7 great grand children. The progenitors were venerated by their posterity, and highly esteemed by the community where they dwelt. He owned a section, or 640 acres, of land, and possessed great influence in his county.

seventeenth child of Jonathan, d Feb. 3, 1852 = Thomas McQuiston, who now lives at Morning Sun, O.; no children. He has married again.

No. 246, NATHANIEL PAXTON,

son of James Paxton No. 1, and younger brother of Samuel, No. 2, was born in Ireland, near the close of the 17th century, and died in York Co., Pa, in March 1761. He took up lands in what is now Adams Co., Pa, "adjoining his other lands," July 28, 1743. This description shows that he had located his land at an earlier date. He probably came, with other members, as early as 1725 (see No. 288). Little is known of him. The frequent recurrence of the name "Nathaniel" suggests that the father of James Paxton, No. 1, was Nathaniel.

No. 248, SAMUEL PAXTON,

son of Nathaniel No. 246, was born in Ireland, about 1710. He was an older brother of Thomas, No. 288, born 1713, and, doubtless, came with the family in 1725. His will is the first of record in Pennsylvania. It is dated July 18, 1755. He names his wife, Agnes (see p. 23 c), and his children, 1 Mary; 2 Samuel; 3 Margaret; 4 Jean, and 5 unborn.

No. 250, MARY PAXTON,

No. 252, SAMUEL PAXTON,
No. 254, MARGARET PAXTON,

No. 256, JANE PAXTON,

These 4 children of Samuel, No. 248, are lost to their relatives.

No. 258, ANDREW PAXTON, son of Nathaniel, No. 246, and grandson of James Paxton, No. 1. His first wife is unknown. His second wife was Jannet. Andrew died March 1790, and his will names, 1 James, and 2 Andrew, as children of his first wife, and 3 Jean, 4 Ann, and 5 Margaret, of his second wife. The family lived in Chanceford Township, some ten miles east of Gettysburg. Andrew is frequently mentioned in early records of York Co., Pa, and appears to have been a man of influence. His will is dated March 28, 1790. See pages 14 b and 23 c.

No. 260, JAMES PAXTON.

(Anderson County, Kentucky, Paxtons.)

was known as James Paxton of Anderson Co., Ky. He was the first mentioned child in his father, Andrew Paxton's, No. 258, will, and a son of his first wife, whose name is unknown. He was b in York Co., Penn., Feb. 14, 1769, and d in Kentucky, of cholera, July 15, 1833. He = in Pennsylvania about 1790, Nancy Biggerhead, b in Pennsylvania, Nov. 24, 1774, d in Anderson Co., Ky., Oct. 15, 1838. Some of their children were born in Pennsylvania. James is said to have been a man of superior judgment and energy. After leaving Pennsylvania, he spent a few years in Rockbridge Co., Va. About 1800, James and his family removed to the vicinity of Lexington, Ky, but finally settled on a farm, in Anderson Co. His descendants are generally Baptists and merchants. By enterprise and honest dealing, they have prospered. They are all of temperate habits, and reliable in their dealing. Few have been lawyers or politicians, but find pleasure and profit in trade.

An old family record has been carefully preserved, and supplies us with reliable data.

I. Annie Louise Paxton, b June 13, 1893.

No. 288. Thomas Paxton,

the Centinarian, was b 1713, in Ireland, d in Washington Co., Pa., 1818, at the age of 105 years = in America, Jane Aston.

Early records show that from 1722 to 1726, a Thomas Paxton paid taxes in Chester Co., Pa, which included what is now Adams Co. In 1741, a Thomas Paxton took out a warrant for land.

In 1901, J. Paxton Kerr, of Ottawa, Kas, wrote me that he "had it from the mouth of his grandfather, Thomas Paxton, No. 336, who married Jane Crawford, that his father, Thomas, No. 288, who married Jane Aston, was born in Ireland, in 1713, and, at the age of 12 years (1725), came to America." Mr. Kerr's grandfather, Thomas Paxton, No. 336, passed his declining years with his daughter, Mr. Kerr's mother, The will of the first Thomas, No. 288, who came to America in 1725, was probated June 19, 1819, and is of record in Washington Co., Pa. He names no widow, but provides for children: 1 Martha Campbell, No. 290; 2 Thomas Paxton, No. 336, 3 Elizabeth McCune, No. 310, and 4 Margaret; McGregor, No. 314. These children were all born in America, for their father was but 13 years old when he came. There were several Thomas Paxtons; for he that came in 1725, could not be the same who paid taxes in 1722. The latter was probably Thomas No. 88.

About the close of the 18th century Thomas, the centinarian, No. 288, and his family, removed from Adams (formerly York) Co., to Washington Co., Pa, crossing what proved an almost trackless wilderness. The children were carried in wicker baskets, at the horses' sides.

There was a close, but unexplained relationship between: 1 John Paxton, No. 132, who died 1784; 2 Thomas, Paxton, No. 288, who married Jane Aston; 3 Nathaniel, No. 122, who married Jane Gibson; 4 the Harts, No. 126, and 5 the Ferguses, No. 136. Their posterity intermarried and their migrations were parallel. They, to-day, form one community, and yet they can't tell how they were united. All of them came from Adams Co., Pa, to Washington Co., Pa.

When the old people removed West, they first settled in Allegheny Co., Pa., but soon joined their friends in Washington Co. They were ardent members of the Associate Reformed church and, by consistent lives, assisted in establishing their faith. They are interred at Old Mingo church. Wherever Thomas, No. 288, lived, he became an elder in the church. He is said to have been a man of thought and judgment, and possessed of business habits, and interesting conversational power.

Nathaniel Paxton, No. 246, probably came from Ireland in 1725, with his son, Thomas, No. 288, and I am disposed to fix that epoch as the proximate date of the migration of the other members of the family.

Thomas, when 95 years of age, was active, and sometimes walked 60 miles to visit his children.

No. 290, Martha Paxton, daughter of Thomas, No. 288, and Jane Paxton, was b 1753, and d 1853 = April 15, 1881, Robert Campbell, a Christian and a Patriot. He served in the Revolutionary war, and drew a pension. The old family Bible was used to procure the pension, and was lost. Martha survived her husband, and reached the age of a hundred years. Their lives were spent in Washington Co., Pa, and, at Pigeon Creek church, their crumbling tombstones are yet standing.

[A] ELIZA McILVAINE, b 1818, now living at New Wilmington, Lawrence Co., Pa= Dec. 30, 1838, John Kerr, b 1810, d 1885. Though in her 84th year, Mrs. Kerr possesses a vigorous intellect, and a retentive memory. I am indebted to her pen for much valuable information. In her widowhood, she lives with her son, David Kerr, on a farm.

I DAVID KERR, lives on the home farm, with his mother, near New Wilmington, Pa.

II JANE MARY Kerr, = a Coulter; they live at Slippery Rock, Pa.

III GREER M. KERR, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Candor, Pa, was b 1843=1883, Eliza Jane Stevenson, graduated, 1867, at the Western Theological Seminary; ordained, June 14, 1871. by Presbytery of Pittsburg. His letters show sound judgment.

Daniel McGregor was a ruling elder in the Presbyterian church at Chambersburg, Pa, and when he came to Washington Co., Pa, he became an elder at Mingo church. I have always heard him spoken of as a man of sterling worth, and unblemished character. His wife, Margaret, my grandmother, moved in social, as well as religious circles. She exhibited Christian graces, and educated and trained her children for useful lives. As a child, I remember her stately form, reduced to her old armchair, in which she sat for twenty years, without walking a step. Though afflicted with rheumatism, she was patient and uncomplaining. She was a great reader, especially of the Bible. Her lovely Christian spirit made her a general favorite. In her widowhood, she lived with my father, until he died, and then with her sister, Martha Campbell.

The Chambersburg records show that Daniel McGregor was a member of the Presbyterian church in 1784, and paid taxes there, in 1786. He came to Washington Co., Pa, prior to 1800.

No. 360, WILLIAM PAXTON
son of Thomas, No. 336, and Jane Crawford, was born in Washington Co., Pa, June 30, 1803=1st, in Ohio, about 1825, Rebecca Rorcroft. After the birth of four sons and eight daughters, she died about 1870, and William=2d, Sarah E. Moore. He went to Mercer County with his father, Thomas. At the age of 16, he went to Ohio, and engaged in tanning. After spending 31 years in Jefferson and Carroll Counties, in Ohio, he went to Illinois, where he spent two years, and then removed to Boone Co., Iowa. He has a fine farm of 160 acres on the banks of the Des Moines River. Two of his sons live near him, and one of them, John B. Paxton, has a family of seven sons and two daughters, all of whom are grown. His post-office is Moingona, Boone Co., Iowa. I have received several letters from him written by his own hand.

No. 366, JOHN PAXTON, OF LANCASTER

Son or nephew of James Paxton, No. 1, was born in Ireland, or Maryland, about 1700, died in Bart Township, Lancaster County, Pa, 1768=Grazell, or Grace,—, who survived him. Tradition claims that about 1740, the family, then consisting of the parents and a four-year-old son, afterwards known as Capt. John Paxton, (No. 368), came from Ireland and settled in Bart Township, on the Eastern line of Lancaster County, Pa, and some 25 miles East of the Susquehanna River. (See my conjectures, p 8c). There was at that time a Scotch-Irish settlement in Bart Township, who worshipped at Middle Octorara Church. In 1755, a John Paxton, was elected constable of Bart Township. At that time the father was too old and the son too young for the office. This shows there were at that time three John Paxtons in Bart Township, as stated by Mr. Evans, p 20d. The will of the elder John Paxton strongly intimates that, in 1768, the old people had ceased to keep house and were living with their son. Other Paxton immigrants evidently came to America prior to 1735, and some of them as early as 1722. John, No. 366, settled 50 miles East of the Paxton settlement South of Gettysburg. This may have been because Bart Township was but a short distance from his Maryland home; or because he was the first of the family to go to Pennsylvania, and at that time lands West of the Susquehanna were not yet open to settlement. John Paxton, No. 336, seems to have been a man of wealth and influence, and probably an elder in the church. The old home was occupied by both father and son, and there they died. It has passed to strangers.

The Will of John Paxton, No. 366.

"In the name of God, I, John Paxton, of the County of Lancaster, and the township of Bart, being weak of body, but sound of mind and memory, blessed be God, do this 23d day of September, 1768, publish this my last will and testament in manner following, that is to say:

1. I give and bequeath to Grazell, my dearly beloved wife, a full and sufficient maintenance off my estate, during her lifetime, either to live as formerly, with my son, John Paxton, or otherwise, as she shall choose, together with £8 to be paid her yearly, of my estate. if she requires it, and, at her decease, what she has not expended, to my son, John Paxton, and his heirs, together with all her clothes, and one bed and bed-clothes.

2. I give and bequeath to my dearly beloved son, John Paxton, all the rest and residue of my goods chattels and personal estate whatsoever, together with all and singular my lands, messuages and tenements, fully to be possessed and enjoyed by him, his heirs and assigns forever. And further I will and allow my said son, John Paxton, full power to sell and convey, after my decease, or to hold it in possession, which he pleases. And further I make, constitute and ordain my dearly beloved son, John Paxton, and Joseph Miller, to be my executors of this my last will and testament.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal, the day and year above written. JOHN PAXTON.

Bart Township for a century seems to have been the nucleus of a small circle of Paxtons. Mr. Evans, page 20d, names not only three Johns, but an Andrew and a Samuel. There was a Samuel Paxton who commanded a company of militia, raised in 1778, on Wells' Creek, in Lancaster Co., Pa,—(now Adams County, Pa.)

No. 368, CAPT. JOHN PAXTON,

of the Revolution, was the only child of John Paxton, of Lancaster, No. 366, and his wife, Grazell, or Grace. He was born in Ireland or Maryland, in 1736, and, with his parents, settled, in 1740, in Bart Township, Lancaster Co., Pa. He was about 1759, Jane McNeely. He died in Lancaster Co., Pa, in 1823, aged 87 years. His wife died before him, and he interred quite a number of his children. After the war, he seems to have retired to his old home in Bart Township, and ended his life where he was reared. But nothing is known of his last days.

John Paxton, No. 368, was a captain in the continental army. Though living in Bart Township, in Lancaster Co., Pa, his command was raised in and credited to Cumberland Township, in York (now Adams) Co. As Cumberland was the central home of the Paxton family, it is probable their influence secured to John Paxton his military rank.

July 28 and 29, 1775, York County, then embracing Adams, was divided into five districts, and a battalion raised in each. The second battalion embraced Cumberland Township, and was commanded by Col. Robert McPherson. The field officers were elected by ballot. John Paxton was chosen captain of Company D, of 2d Bat., York County Militia. His 1st lieutenant was Thomas Gilchrist. This company was frequently called into active service, and took part in the battles of Brandywine and Germantown. In the latter, Capt. John was severely wounded. Receipts, signed by Capt. John, amounting to $1,010, are still on file, for the pay in part for the services of his 73 men.
The Will of Capt. John Paxton is of record in Lancaster Co., Pa, and the following is a condensed copy:

In the name of God, Amen: I, John Paxton, of Bart Township, Lancaster Co., Pa, miller, being weak in body, but of sound mind and memory, blessed be God for the same, do this 16th day of March, 1822, make and publish this, my last will and testament.

I recommend my soul to God, who gave it, and my body to the earth, to be buried in decent christian manner, at the discretion of my executors, hereinafter mentioned; and as to such worldly estate as I stand in possession of, I dispose of in the following manner, viz:

To each of my following children, I give ten shillings, in full of their remaining share, in my personal and real estate: 1 John Paxton. 2 James Paxton, 3 my son-in-law, John Coughey and 4 Joseph McGinley.

I give and bequeath to my daughter, Mary Paxton, $600; but not to be paid to her for seven years after my decease—only the interest thereof, if required, together with one bed and her furniture, and all other personal property she may require for her personal accommodation, and one room in the dwelling house, and privileges of the kitchen, during her natural life.

I give and bequeath to my son, Samuel Paxton, my estate, both real and personal, to-wit: Lands and mills, goods and chattels of every kind, subject, nevertheless, he paying the bequest above mentioned, to my sons and daughter, to remain in the hands of my executor, for the term of seven years after my decease, he paying to them the yearly interest if so requested; and it is also my will that my son, Samuel Paxton, shall have full power to sell and convey the lands herein mentioned, at any time he may think proper, for his advantage.

And I do constitute and appoint my son, Samuel Paxton, my whole and sole executor, of this my last will and testament, revoking and disannulling all other wills whatever, ratifying and confirming this, my last will and testament.
In witness, etc.

[SEAL]
JOHN PAXTON.
Witnesses: DANIEL ECKMAN, JNO. KIDD.

Capt. John Paxton was a miller, a worthy citizen and an elder in Middle Octorara Presbyterian Church.

No. 370, REV. WILLIAM PAXTON, D. D.

Son of Capt. John Paxton, No. 368, and Jane McNeely, was born in Bart Township, Lancaster Co., Pa, April 1, 1760, died on Marsh Creek, Adams Co., Pa, April 16, 1845 = Jan. 20, 1794, Jane Dunlop, daughter of Col. James Dunlop, of Cumberland Co., Pa. Dr. Paxton's earlier years were devoted to agriculture. His father, Capt. John Paxton, was a farmer, distinguished, not so much by wealth nor learning, as by integrity of character, soundness of thought and practical good sense. Dr. McConnaughey says that these mental attributes were the common characteristics of the Paxton family. William received the rudiments of an education at home. He served in the Revolutionary war, in two companies, at different times, in one of which he was present at and participated in the battle of Trenton. Subsequently, he sought a higher education, and at the age of 24 attended Strasburg Academy. In his classic, scientific and theological studies he was under the direction of Rev Nathaniel W. Sample, then pastor of Lancaster and Middle Octorara Churches. By native mind and diligent study, he rapidly advanced and was taken under the care of New Castle Presbytery, and licensed April 8, 1790, and ordained Oct. 3, 1792. After a few months preaching, he accepted a call from the Presbyterian congregations at Lower Marsh Creek and Toms Creek, made vacant by the transfer of Rev. John McKnight to New York City. But Marsh Creek Church demanded all his time, and his life work was devoted to that church. For 49 years he preached to that congregation; and, even after ill health had required his resignation, in 1841, he continued to supply the congregation for the remaining four years of his life.

In 1826, Dickinson College conferred the degree of D. D. on Mr. Paxton. He was a trustee of that institution.

In person Dr. Paxton was six feet in height, and his whole frame was in due proportion. His features expressed benignity and intelligence. He was a great reader and thinker. He gave attention to every department of literature, embracing not only theology, but also philosophy, science, history, and domestic and political economy. But his prayers and his labors were chiefly for his people. He was eminently a pastor. He seldom attended the courts of the church, because of a chronic complaint of the bowels. His preaching was affectionate, and but few cases of discipline disturbed the harmony of the church. He was greatly beloved by the Paxtons settled around him.

Mrs. Paxton was a lady of marked intelligence, and came of a distinguished lineage; but she was not only an expert manager of the household, but a zealous worker in her parish, and carried material and spiritual comfort to the homes of her people.

After preaching continuously for 49 years, to one congregation, age and bodily infirmities demanded rest, and his resignation, dated Oct. 19, 1841, was handed in. He still preached to his people, as strength allowed, until death closed his earthly career, April 16, 1845.

In the third volume, page 554, Sprague’s Annals of the American Pulpit, Dr. David McConnaughy has left us an admirable sketch of Dr. Paxton, written con amore.

Mrs. Jane Paxton survived her husband, and died in Gettysburg, in 1862. Her father, Col. James Dunlop ended his days in Bellefonte, Centre Co., Pa. He had six daughters, who married men of distinction, in Pennsylvania.

No. 372, COL. JAMES DUNLOP PAXTON Son of Dr. William Paxton, No. 370, and Jane Dunlop, was born a few miles South-west of Gettysburg, Pa, June 11, 1796, d Feb. 10, 1864—March 18, 1819. Jane Maria Miller, of Fairfield, Pa, b Jan. 18, 1797, d April 29, 1870, daughter of Hon. William Miller, who was a prominent politician, and represented Adams County for 20 years in the Pennsylvania legislature. James D. Paxton possessed intelligence and enterprise, and was proficient in mining and manufacturing iron. He erected the Maria furnace, in Adams County, Pa, and was a partner of Hon. Thadeus Stevens, in a rolling mill and furnace, in Caledonia, Franklin Co., Pa., which was destroyed in the war. He visited the Valley of Virginia, in the interest of iron mining, and met a number of Paxtons. Their characteristics and resemblance in form and feature to his own people convinced him that the Pennsylvania and Virginia Paxtons were of kindred blood.

The tombs of Mr. Paxton and wife are found in good keeping, in Evergreen Cemetery, at Gettysburg, Pa. The Maria furnace was situated at the foot of South Mountain, ten miles from Gettysburg.

[B] REV. WILLIAM MILLER PAXTON, D. D. L. L. D., of Princeton Seminary, was born in Adams Co., Pa, June 7, 1824=Aug. 11, 1852, 1st, Hettie V. B. Wickes, daughter of Col. Wickes, of Chestertown, Eastern shore of Maryland, who d Aug. 13, 1854, leaving an infant who died Sept. 7, 1854. He=2d, Nov. 8, 1855, Caroline S. Denny, daughter of Hon. Harmer Denny of Pittsburg, Pa. He graduated at Pennsylvania College, and Princeton Seminary, 1848—has received the degrees of D. D. and L. L. D. He was pastor of Greencastle Presbyterian church, and at Pittsburg, Pa; professor of sacred rhetoric in the Western Theological Seminary, 1860-5: pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of New York City, 1866-83; and professor of ecclesiastical, homeitical and pastoral theology in Princeton Seminary—resigned in May, 1902. He was moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States in 1880; since 1866, has been a member of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions; and for two years president of the Board. He is a trustee of Princeton College; has published many sermons and essays, and is author of "Life of Rev. Francis Herron, D. D."
Dr. Paxton is a divine of world-wide reputation. Though his name is emblazoned on the walls of literature, science and theology, and elicits our admiration, yet he is rather to be loved for his purity of heart, humility of spirit, and tenderness of sentiment. The identity of our names has, perhaps, drawn us into closer relationship. We have never met, but our social epistolary correspondence has drawn us together as brothers. I owe to him a feeling of tenderest gratitude, not only for his encouragement, but for his material assistance, in this genealogical work. Dr. Paxton's countenance beams with benignity, his hand is generous and his heart is pure. See portrait.

The Paxton Settlement on Marsh Creek

Let us pause in our genealogical work, to contemplate the old Paxton home, to look upon the ancient structure where they worshiped, and to kneel at the crumbling tombs where their dust reposes. Yet I have never been within a day's journey of the locality, and have to depend on the unreliable statements of strangers.

Uncertain Land Tenures

The first settlers West of the Susquehanna surveyed their land, but no titles were granted until 1736, when the land office was opened at Harrisburg. Even then, controversies arose, and land titles were precarious, until the close of the Revolutionary war. The Scotch-Irish migration to Pennsylvania commenced with the 18th century, and reached its flood about 1745, when the leases in Ulster generally expired. Until titles of land were secure, there was little encouragement for substantial improvements; and only temporary shelters were used for places of worship.

The First Marsh Creek Log Meeting House

was built at the organization of a Presbyterian church in 1748. It was situated in Highland Township, near the junction of the big and little Marsh Creeks, and a mile or two North-East of the present stone structure. It overlooked the present beautiful valley of Marsh Creek. Near it is situated the graveyard, sometimes called Sanders' Cemetery, which must have been selected the same time the log church was built, as the earliest monuments attest no graves prior to 1749.

Marsh Creek Stone Meeting House

When the Revolutionary war had ended, when land titles were secure, and freedom proclaimed, the Marsh Creek congregation, in the assurance of a glorious future, deter mined to erect a large and substantial stone edifice, in which they and their posterity, for untold generations, might worship the God of their fathers. No master workman drew the design on a trestle board, but, with willing hands they quarried the rock, burned the lime, squared the timbers, ripped the boards and wrought the nails. With primitive square, level, plumb and compass, a large house was built and cemented by a mortar as firm as stone. The house is located some five miles West of Gettysburg, and is near the shallow, pure and pebbly stream, known as Marsh creek. The road runs in its rear. Aged oaks afford a cool and refreshing shade. The church was incorporated in 1805, and is now in control of a board of trustees.

The First Centennial of Marsh Creek Church was celebrated Sept. 25, 1890. On that day, the descendants of the early Presbyterian immigrants from Ireland gathered from far and near, to enjoy a grand reunion in the house built by their great grandfathers, and to join in ascriptions of love and gratitude to God, for political and religious freedom. A pamphlet of 42 pages records the pleasant exercises of that centennial day. Among the attendants on that occasion were Rev. William M. Paxton, L. L. D., of Princeton Seminary, a grandson of Dr. William Paxton, of Marsh creek, No. 370; Rev. J. D. Paxton and Rev. A. R. Stevenson, D. D., two distinguished great grandsons of Dr. William Paxton, No. 370. All of them made interesting addresses on the occasion. At the time of the celebration, the interior of the ancient house of God needed repairs. But since that time the congregation has refitted the house with a new pulpit, beautiful pews, etc., from their own native oak.

The Ministers Who Have Served

1 Andrew Bay, 1748-58; 2 John Slemmons, 1765-74; 3 James Martin, stated supply, 1779-80; 4 John McKnight, D. D., 1783-89; 5 William Paxton, D. D., 1792-1841; 6 David D. Clark, D. D., 1843-57; 7 John R. Warner, D. D., 1858 67;
The Original Call for Dr. William Paxton's

ministerial services at Marsh creek and Toms creek churches was read at the centennial by Dr. Stevenson. It was dated Nov. 28, 1791, and 97 names are signed. Among them, the following are, perhaps, related to the Paxtons: Andrew, Edward, Elijah and William Hart, George Kerr, William McDowell, Donald McKinney, William Miller, James and Robert Slemmons and John White. But let none be surprised that the name of Paxton is not found on the call. They were not in the Presbyterian church at that time, but were members of the Associate Reformed Presbyterin church, and belonged to another organization. It would have been out of place for them to have signed the call. They may have worshiped in the same church. Besides, prior to the date of the call (1791) many Paxtons had left western York County for Washington County, Pa, or for Rockbridge County, Va. Samuel Paxton, No. 144, died in 1793, and all of his 18 children left. John, No. 132, and Nathaniels, Nos. 122 and 128, a few years later removed West. But all were members of the Associate Reformed church.

The Marsh Creek or Sanders Graveyard is situated on a hillside, five miles North-West of Gettysburg, and near the location of the original log meeting house, near the junction of Big and Little Marsh Creeks. The public road runs along one side of it. It is situated in a beautiful agricultural region, and the graves are well kept. The tomb, or cromlech, of Dr. William Paxton stands near the top of the hill, and consists of a heavy stone slab, supported at sides and ends by monolithic pillars. Near by is the tomb of his son, James Dunlop Paxton.

The history of Adams County names the citizens of Gettysburg in 1817-27, and among them, 1 Dr. John Paxton, an eminent physician of his day; 2 William Paxton; and 3 William Wesley Paxton, who removed to Franklin County, and became an associate judge.
No. 404, WILLIAM PAXTON

Son of James Paxton, is mentioned by Dr Todd, by Dr. Egle, and others. But his form is shadowy, his home is in doubt, and his career is a myth. Yet, there certainly was a William Paxton in Lancaster County, Pa.

No. 406, JAMES PAXTON

Is also apocryphal. Mr. Evans mentions a James in Lancaster County, Pa, who married a Thompson. James, son of Andrew, married a Biggerbead. It is strange that Samuel, No. 144, had neither William nor James in his 18 children. But the Monmouth, Illinois, Paxtons tenaciously claim that their ancestor was named James, and that he was born in Pennsylvania, removed to Rockbridge County, Va, and died there. His descendants are Presbyterians. See p 15c, where James and William Paxton appear.

No. 408, SAMUEL PAXTON

Son of James, No. 406. Born in Pennsylvania, he probably accompanied his parents to Rockbridge, and thence went to Illinois. But little is known of him.

No. 410, SARAH PAXTON

Daughter of James, No. 406, emerges into clear light, March 22, 1795, when she is married to John Shaw, in Rockbridge County, Va., by Rev. John Brown. They settled at Monmouth, Ill., and left posterity.
No. 412, Hannah Paxton,

Daughter of James, was married Oct. 6, 1797, in Rockbridge County, Va, to John Moore, by Rev. John Young. I find no further trace of them.

No. 414, William Paxton,

Born in Pennsylvania, 1779, d in Monmouth, Ill, March 17, 1861= in Ohio, Margaret Struthers, a native of Scotland, of Presbyterian faith. William was a farmer and builder, and removed to Rockbridge Co., Va. In 1812, he removed to Ohio, whence, in 1831, he removed to Warren Co., Ill, and settled six miles North of Monmouth. Margaret was b in 1783, and d Jan. 22, 1845. See No 149 and 416.

No. 416, William S. Paxton son of William Paxton, No. 414, and Margaret Struthers, was b in Rockbridge Co., Va, Dec. 22, 1811, d at Shelton, Neb., May 27, 1900=1854, in Birmingham, O., Almira N. Harris, who d in Nebraska, April 19, 1897. He served in the Blackhawk war, and enjoyed a pension of $8.00 per month. He removed to Shelton, Neb., in 1891. The history of Warren Co., Ill., thus notices William and his father:

"William S. Paxton, a pioneer carpenter, contractor and builder, at Monmouth Ill., was b in Rockbridge Co., Va, Dec. 22, 1811. His father, William Paxton, was a native of Pennsylvania, and of Scotch-Irish ancestry. His mother, Margaret Struthers Paxton, was born in Scotland The senior William Paxton was a farmer, and brought up his sons to agriculture. The family removed from Virginia to Ohio, in 1812, and resided there up to 1831, when they came to Monmouth, and settled six miles North of the town, where the old gentleman died March 1861, in the 82d year of his age."

William S. Paxton received a fair education at Xenia, O., and from the age of 16 to 18, worked at milling. He then learned the carpenters trade, and followed it until 1854. As a carpenter and contractor, he erected the first court house in Warren Co., Ill., and roofed the first hotel. He returned to Ohio, in 1854, and lived for ten years in Erie County. While there, he enlisted in the 3d Ohio Cavalry, but before he was mustered in he was thrown from his horse, and crippled, and consequently saw no service. He was at the time of the accident a candidate for captain of his company. He was a Whig, and afterwards a Republican. He was an adjutant in Illinois militia.

[ A] ELLA PAXTON, only child of William S. Paxton and Almira N. Harris, is an accomplished teacher in the Shelton, Neb., high school. I am indebted to her for many courtesies. She was the stay and support of her aged parents. Their death has left her alone in the world.
