(From the Originals in the Virginia State Archives.)

[There are among the Colonial Archives of Virginia, now in the State Library, a number of small volumes, originally in sheets and unbound, which contain the only records, remaining in Virginia, of the proceedings of the Council in its executive capacity during the period 1737-1763. Some of these journals are only rough drafts of minutes, with omissions, while others are full and fair records of the proceedings of the Council. The journals which have been preserved do not cover the whole time between the dates named, as there are some gaps.

These volumes, which, as has been stated, were originally not bound, have been, at some unknown time, bound up in several large volumes; but without much regard to chronological sequence, and mingled with papers dealing with other subjects.

This Society has had accurate copies made of all and will publish without omissions.

The period covered by these journals was one of great interest and importance in the history of Virginia and the American Colonies. At the time they begin Sir William Gooch had been ten years Governor of the colony, an office which he filled until 1749. He was succeeded in 1749–50 by the short administrations of John Robinson, Thomas Lee and Lewis Burwell, Presidents of the Council. Then from 1751 to 1758 came Robert Dinwiddie, who, after an interval of a few months when John Blair, President of the Council, was acting Governor, was succeeded by Francis Fauquier, who was still Governor when this series of journals ends.

The time covered was a period of rapid growth and prosperity in Virginia, and of marked increase in wealth and cultivation. A year before the first date here given, the first newspaper in Virginia was published. Just as these journals begin the movement of the Scotch-Irish to the Valley of Virginia, chiefly through the efforts of Beverley and Borden, was begun. By 1734 the Germans had gained a firm foot-hold in the Valley, in the manner which had been shown by the Council orders recently printed in this Magazine under the title "The Early Westward Movement of Virginia" and edited by Mr. Charles E. Kemper in such a luminous and scholarly way. Throughout the period the great westward movement continued, receiving a check during the French and Indian War, which ended in the same year with the last of these journals. This period is also noteworthy for the establishment or rapid growth of denominations dissenting from the established Church.

In 1740, during the war with Spain, Virginia troops took part in the expedition against Carthagena, and in the same year the first Presbyterian minister, Rev. John Craig, settled west of the Blue Ridge, and Whitfield preached at Bruton Church, Williamsburg, by the invitation of Commissary Blair.

Another institution, which affected the people of Virginia in quite a different way, took formal shape about the time these journals begin. Though racing with saddle horses had been a favorite amusement from the earliest days of the Colony, it was not until about 1737–40, that the importation of the progenitors of the modern thoroughbred began, and that horses were kept solely for racing. In 1754 hostilities with the French began, and with them the war which was to end in their total defeat. The year 1763, which is the last covered by the journals here printed was marked by the treaty of Paris, which gave North America to England, by the royal proclamation of Oct. 7, 1763, which was intended to check the westward growth of the coast Colonies, and, in Virginia, by the "Parsons Cause," in which Patrick Henry, in a certain sense, began the Revolution.]

3By act of Assembly, Feb., 1727, (Hening IV, 221), the governor was authorized from time to time, as there might be occasion, to issue his proclamation prohibiting the exportation of food supplies.

It appears from the Va. Gazette that this proclamation was issued under the authority of the act named. The proclamation was published in the Va. Gazette October 21-28, 1737.

4The parish of Suffolk was sometimes called the Lower Parish. Bishop Meade had but little information concerning it. He states that there were two old brick churches in it, one on the left and the other on the right bank of the Nansemond River, and each about ten miles from the town of Suffolk. For notices of the parish see Hening I, 250, 251; V, 269; VII, 303; VIII, 53, 287, 371. Lands and money were left to the parish by Richard Bennett, the elder, Richard Bennett, the younger, Thomas Tilly. John Yates founded a free school in the parish.

5The Godwins were members of a large and influential family in Nansemond and Isle of Wight. Thos. Godwin of Nansemond was Speaker of the House of Burgesses in 1676. See this Magazine V, 198, &c.

* The legal requirements for admission to the bar varied during the Colonial period. By Act of Assembly, March, 1642–3 (Hening I, 275), it was directed that all attorneys should be licensed by the Court before which they were to plead. Another act of December, 1656 (Hening Several Petitions for Leave to take up his Majesties Land were read & granted as follows, vizt.

1, 419), directed that the Governor and Council should license for the quarter court, and the Commissioners (justices) for the county courts. This act provided that none should be called counsellors at law except those who had qualified thereto by the laws of England. In June, 1680 (Hening II, 478), it was enacted that all attorneys should be licensed by the Governor. None of these acts make any provision for examination; but a law enacted at the session of May, 1732, reciting the fact that the number of ignorant attorneys practising in the county courts had become a great grievance, directed that all persons desiring to practise as an attorney in any county or other inferior court should present their petitions to the Governor and Council, and that they should refer the applicants to persons learned in the law, whom they should designate, who should examine said applicants. These provisions were continued by various, more detailed and stringent acts, until the close of the Colonial era.

The grant to Benjamin Allen, &c., was probably in the southern portion of the present Shenandoah County or the northern portion of the present Rockingham. The north branch of Shenendoah River was called "Ben Allen's River," on Fry and Jefferson's Map, 1751 (information of Charles E. Kemper).

13 John Carter, eldest son of Robert Carter, of “Corotoman,” is believed to have been educated in England, and in 1722 and earlier was residing in London as agent for Virginia. He was appointed Secretary of State of the Colony in 1722, and member of Council in 1724, and held both offices until his death, July 13, 1742. He married Elizabeth, daughter and heiress of Edward Hill, of “Shirley,” Charles City Co.

14 John Tayloe, of “Mt. Airy,” Richmond Co., who was born Feb. 15, 1687, was appointed to the Council in 1732 and held the office until his death in 1747. He was one of the wealthiest planters in Virginia.

15 Thomas Lee (1690-1750) of “Stratford,” Westmoreland Co., was appointed to the Council in 1732-3, and as President of that body was acting Governor from Sept. 5, 1749, to his death on Nov. 14, 1750. He was the father of Richard Henry and Francis Lightfoot Lee, signers of the Declaration of Independence.

16 Kercheval (History of the Valley, 3d ed. p. 47) recites a tradition that before the first settlement of the Valley a man named John Howard, crossed the Alleghany mountains, and descended the Ohio and Mississippi to New Orleans, whence he went to France and England. In England he is stated to have informed Lord Fairfax of the fertility of the South Branch. This order corrects Kercheval’s tradition as to time at least. In Du Pratz’ History of Louisiana (London 1774) John Peter Salling and John Howard are said to have made this trip in 1742 and the authority is said to be a Report of the Government of Virginia. But Salling was at home again in 1742. Evidently the trip was made earlier. See Withers’s Border Warfare, pp. 48-49, Thwaites’ Note.

pany him on such discoverys, but with this caution that he dont offer any Hostility to any Indians or others he may happen to meet with nor go to any fort or Garrison possess'd by the French on the said Lakes or River.

On consideration of the present condition of the Colony with respect to the scarcity of Indian Corn, It is the Opinion of this Board that the further continuance of the Prohibition of the Export of that Commodity is absolutely necessary for supply-

Whereas Mr. Charles Green18 On his application to the Governor obtained some time agoe a Letter of recommendation to the Vestry of Truro Parish to admit him to Officiate as their Minister until further Order but upon his presenting the said Letter hath behaved himself in a very unbecoming manner as appears by two of the Vestry men of the said Parish. It is ordered that the s’d Green attend this Board at the next Court of Oyer & Termer to answer what shall be then objected to him.

On hearing the matter in dispute on the Petition of John Brodie against Henry Wilson for Land in the County of Brunswick, It is the opinion of this Board & accordingly ordered that the said Wilson have a patent for the said land & that if the Survey be not already returned that then Mr. Drury Stith Surveyor of the said County do attend this Board at the next Court of Oyer & Termer & bring with him the said Survey & that he further come prepared to satisfie this Board why he did 18 It appears from Meade II, 225 that Rev. Charles Green was minister of Truro Parish, Fairfax county, 1754-64 and possibly later. As will be seen by a later order, Mr. Green assumed, incorrectly, that Lord Fairfax and not the Governor had the right to present to parishes in the Northern Neck.

19In the Cal. Va. State Papers I, 223, is an order of Council, dated June 11, 1735, which recites that Wm. Byrd, Esq., had set forth in a petition that he speedily expected a number of Switzers and other foreign Protestants to come over, and praying that 100,000 acres of land be granted him for their settlement, to be taken up on both sides of Roanoke River between Birches Creek and the River Irvine, and to be granted on the same terms as other remote frontier lands had been. Col. Byrd’s expectations were to a great extent frustrated by the wreck, in Lynhaven Bay, in January, 1738, of the ship containing the Swiss emigrants and the loss of the larger number of them. The Virginia Gazette of January 12th and 19th, 1738 (reprinted in the Lower Norfolk County Virginia Antiquary II, 37-39), gives an account of the disaster; but states that the 90 survivors proposed to go on to the place of settlement. Lands which Col. Byrd owned in North Carolina, not far from the tract now in question, constituted the “Eden” to which he made the well known journey in 1733.

20The 100,000 acres grant to Benjamin Borden or Burden, a native of New Jersey, was in the present county of Rockbridge. This grant, together with that of 110,491 acres (dated Sept. 6, 1736) to William Beverley, embracing a large portion of Augusta county, about Staunton, were, to a great extent, the occasion of the Scotch-Irish settlement in the Valley. Beverley and Borden were indefatigable in introducing settlers from the North of Ireland. In regard to these grants see Waddell's Annals of Augusta County (new edition), 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, &c., and Peyton's History of Augusta County, 62-74, &c. The original grant for the “Beverley Manor” tract is in the custody of this Society. The connection of William Robertson, clerk of the Council, with Borden is shown for the first time by the order in the text.
William Robertson in behalf of themselves & their partners setting forth the unforeseen accidents & difficulties which have prevented their seating the One hundred thous’d Acres of Land Granted them on the West side the blue Ridge of Mountains on the branches of James River by a former order of this Board & praying further time for setting the said Tract. It is accordingly Ordered that further time be granted the Petitioners for the purpose aforesaid for one Year from the date hereof and that upon their bringing a sufficient number of families to settle upon the said Land within that time Patents be granted them according to the Term of the former order of this Board.

Whereas Information is given to this Board that divers Masters of Vessels secretly take on board Indian Corn contrary to the Proclamation prohibiting its Exportation for the more effectual prevention whereof It is ordered that the Naval Officers of the several Districts do forthwith Nominate proper persons to be Commissioned by the Governor to go on board the several Plantation Vessels & from time to time to search seize and bring on Shore all Indian Corn or meal made thereof which shall be found on board any Ship or Vessel above the quantity of ten barrels (which is hereby allowed to each Vessel for the Sea Store) & where any such seizure shall be made the said Naval Officers are hereby required to cause the Offenders to be prosecuted according to law.

The Acco’t of Materials delivered by Mr. Minson Administrator of Leonard Whiting in discharge of his Debt to the Government together with the Valuation of the House built by the said Whiting at the fort at Point Comfort was this day laid before the Board And It is ordered that the said several Materials be delivered to & charged in the Acco’t of Mr. Baron the present Gunner & Storekeeper of the said Fort that the Surplus of the Value of the said Materials over & above the payment of the said Whitings Debt he paid to Mr. Minson out of His Majesties Revenue of 2s. p. hhd.

Thos. Harris & Thos. Mosely are appointed Inspectors at Warwick Warehouse in the Room of Franc’s Redford & Edward Wilkinson.

On hearing the parties on the Petition & Caveat Entered by James Pittillow against George Tellman & Robert Abernethy Junr. for a Tract of Land lying in Prince George County Surveyed for the said Tillman above Six Years agoe & by the said Tillman sold to the above Abernethy & no Patent yet sued out by either. It appearing by the Evidence of Robt. Bolling Gen’l Surveyor of the said County that the occasion of the said Abernethys not suing out a Patent was owing to the neglect of the said Surveyors Deputy who received Money for the Rights & patent flees from the said Abernathey. It is therefore Ordered that the Caveat aforesaid be dissolved & that a Patent be granted for the Land therein mentioned to the said Abernethy. But forasmuch as it appears to this Board that George Tillman hath for a long time held the said Land without taking a Patent whereby His Majesty hath been defrauded of his Quit Rents divers Years, It is Ordered that the said Tillman pay the Petitioner James Pittillow the Sum of fifty shillings Current money for his trouble & expence in prosecuting his Caveat and Petition 21Samuel Barron, father of the well known Revolutionary naval officers Samuel and James Barron, then commanded the fort at Point Comfort.

& that Robert Abernethy do produce a Rect. for that money before any Patent be granted him by Virtue of this Order.

On the Petition of Richard Tunstall, Benja. Winslow, John Corrie Leavc is granted them to take up & Survey Thirty thousand Acres of Land on the North West side Sherrando River below Jacob Stovers upper Tract upon Condition of seating the same with one family for each thousand acres within two Years from this date it being certified by Wm. Beverley Gent. one of the Lord ffairfaxes Commissioners for running the Boundaries of his Grant that the Land now petition'd for is not within any part of the Land Claimed by His Lordship.

The Caveat Entered by Edmund Carrell, David Pitts & William Thomas for stopping an Escheat Patent sued out by Eliz. Hudson Widow on a motion of the s'd Widow by her Council is vacuated & a Patent ordered her she paying the Composition due to His Majesty & other charges accruing thereon.

Whereas upon the humble Petition of the Vestry of Chuckatuck Parish and of the lower Parish of Nansemond representing their inability seperately to support the charge of maintaining a Minister in each of the said Parishes or the other Parochial Charges, the Governor was pleased to consolidate & unite the s'd two Parishes into one By the name of Suffolk Parish and to continue the then Vestry men until by death or a removal out of the Parish the said Vestry men should fall under the number of twelve. And whereas upon examination & evident proof of the ruinous condition of the Church built on the South side Nansemond River in that part formerly called the lower Parish it was in a full Vestry held the 16 of May 1737 Resolved & agreed to build a new brick Church at a place called Jordans Mill Hill as more convienient for the people on both sides of Nansemond River than the old Church was & persons were chosen & authorized by the said Vestry to agree with workmen for building the same. Yet by the combination of some of the persons so entrusted therein refusing to act & influencing others of the said Vestry to dissent from what was formerly agreed on by them no progress hath yet been made towards erecting the said Church. And whereas upon the humble Petition of the Minister & Church Wardens of the said United Parish, The Governor was pleased to order all parties concerned to attend the Board this day in order to a final determination of the controversys between them touching the building the said Church & now upon hearing the Arguments and allegations of both parties it evidently appearing to this Board that the old Church on the South side Nansemond River is so much decayed and in such a ruinous condition that the People cannot without eminent danger attend the divine worship therein & that the said Order of Vestry for building the said new Church was a just & reasonable appointment both in respect to the Situation & the ease of the Parishoners whose expence will be greatly lessened by applying thereto a considerable donation left for that purpose by John Yates dec'd. It is therefore the Opinion of this Board & accordingly Ordered that the Vestry of the said United Parish do with all convenient speed meet at the lower Church of the said Parish & take care that their said former order be complied with either by appointing other persons in the Room of Mr. Edmund Godding & Thos. Godding Jun'r [Godwin] (if they still refuse except that trust) to be joined with the other Trustees herefore by them named to agree for the speedy erecting the said new Church as they will answer their contempt in a matter wherein the Honour of Religion the respect due to his Majesties Royal Instructions in this behalf and the safety & conveniency of the Parishoners are so greatly concerned. And whereas it hath been represented to this Board that the said Vestry having now got a Majority on the North side of the said River are determined to chuse none of the Inhabitants on the South side the said River whereby as is suggested they intend to continue & encrease the hardships of the said lower Inhabitants which is contrary to that Justice & equality upon which & consolidation of the said two Parishes was first established, It is Ordered that the future choice of Vestry men none of the upper Inhabitants be chosen until there be an equal number of Vestry men on each side of the said Nansemond River & that this Order be entred in the Vestry book of the said Parish.

On the Caveat & Petition of Thos. Bibb against Nath'l Dickinson for a Grant for four hundred Acres of Land in Hanover County Surveyed long since for the said Dickinson & no patent sued out the said Dickinson having been Summoned & not appearing, It is Ordered that a Patent be granted the Petitioner.

James Nowling having entered a Caveat for stopping a Patent to John Lad & Amos Lad for two hundred Acres of Land in Goochland County some time agoe surveyed for them & no patent sued out the said John & Amos having been summoned & not appearing, It is Ordered upon the Petition of the said James Nowling that a Patent be granted him for the said Land.

On the Petition of Joseph Randolph against Clement Reid for a Tract of Land Surveyed for the said Clement in Brunswick County by consent of the said Reid, It is Ordered that a Patent be granted the said Randolph for the said Tract of Land.

Mr. Charles Green Clerk this day appearing before the Board according to order & being heard what he had to offer in relation to the charge against him for speaking disrespectfully of the Governors Recommendation to the Vestry of Truro Parish to admit him to officiate as Minister of that Parish until he had a Licence from the Bishop of London & now acknowledging his error in insisting upon the Lord ffairfaxes Right of Presentation to the said Parish being so persuaded by His Lordship & not out of any disrespect to the Governor to whom he now understands the Right of such presentation is intrusted by His Majesties Instructions & the Laws of this Colony & promising a more decent regard to the Law & Constitutions of this Colony for the future he was thereupon dismis’sd.

Alex’r Traquair having Petitioned for a Grant of four hundred Acres of Land in Hanover County formerly Surveyed for William Smith who hath neglected to sue out a Patent for the same the said having been Summoned & not appearing, It is Ordered that the said Land be granted the Petitioner.

Ordered—That there be paid to Mr. James Skelton22 the Sum of ten pounds Current Money for his trouble in going to

It will be noted that there is a gap in the journals from December 15, 1737 to April 22, 1738. Virginia Gazette covering the interval (of which the only existing volume is in the library of this Society), gives no notice of any event of public interest, except that the paper of April 7, 1738 has the following: "Last Week His Honour the Governor received Information that Two White Men, Inhabitants of Orange County [the original Orange] had been lately kill'd by some Indians; and that further Danger was dreaded from them by the Inhabitants of the Frontiers: Whereupon His Honour was pleas'd to give Orders, that Arms and Ammunition should be sent from the Magazine, for the Use of the Inhabitants of those Parts, which is accordingly done."
till the second Thursday in August next & that a Proclamation issue accordingly.

Whereas the Inhabitants on Sherrando River by their Petition have represented that the Northern Indians frequently passing through their Plantations commit frequent outrages & have lately killed one of their men And have prayed for a supply of Arms and Ammunition for their defence. It is the Opinion of this Board & accordingly Ordered that out of His Majesties Stores there be delivered to John Lewis Gent.\(^4\) who is hereby approved to be Capt. over such of the Inhabitants as live within Beverly mannor thirty Muskets & eight pair of Pistols with a Proportionable quantity of Powder & Ball. But that it should be an Instruction to the said Capt. Lewis that neither he nor any of the men under his command do on any pretence whatsoever offer any violence to any of the said Indians passing quietly through their Plantations nor to any Indians whatsoever unless the said Indians do first committ hostilities on the said Inhabitants, in which case only they are at liberty to defend themselves & to act offensively.

The Governor acquainted the Council that he had lately received a Letter from the President of Pensylvania which he caused to be read at the Board wherein the said President proposed to delay the meeting of the Cherrikee & Cattawbaw Indians with the Northern Indians until the beginning of August next & that accordingly he had sent a message to the said Cherrikee and Cattawbaw Indians desiring them that they shou’d postpone their Journey to Albany till that time.

Anthony Haynes at Gibsons.

Thos. Cobbs at the Capitol & College Landings in the Room of Capt. Peirce dec’d.

Peter Hack at Adderson in the room of Mr. Parker dec’d.

Cave a Tract of Land lying upon Beaver dam Run of Hedgmans River in Orange County Granted to them by Patent bearing date the eighth day of September MDCCXXVIII & that he apprehends there contains within the said bounds a greater quantity then is express’d in the said Patent Praying leave to reservey & take a new Patent for the whole quantity within the bounds.

It is Ordered that the consideration of the said Petition be referred until it be made appear that the said Land doth not lie within the bounds claim’d by the Rt. Hon’ble the Lord Fairfax.

On reading at this the Petition of Joseph Brocke Gent. setting forth that in the Year MDCCXXXIII he purchased of Larkin Chew Gent. dec’d seven thousand four hundred & fifty three Acres of Land being the residue of Nine thousand four hundred Acres lying in the County of Spotsylvania & granted to the said Chew by Patent bearing date the fourth of June MDCCXXXII that the said Larkin Chew having sold several parcels out of the said Patent before the Petitioners purchase pretended that the residue had been exactly Surveyed & gave the Petitioner a paper under the hand of James Taylor then Surveyor of the said County wherein he alleged the several courses of the land remaining unsold were truly set down & exprest, but after the Petitioner had got his conveyance for the said Land & had seated thereon he found that the bounds exprest in the said Chews conveyance were erroneous some of the courses running into elder Grants & others into Pryor sales & leaving out a very great part of the Land intended to be conveyed to the Petitioner & that there was a mistake in the number of Pole in one of the courses of the said Patent but that the Petitioner apprehends the full quantity of Land intended to be conveyed to him is still remaining, And praying that the Surveyor of the said County of Spotsylvania may be ordered to survey the Land intended to be conveyed to the Petitioner by the said Larkin Chew within the bounds of the said Patent for nine thousand four hundred Acres not interfering with elder Grants or Pryor Sales including Eight hundred Acres of Land formerly granted by two several Patents to the said Larkin Chew, Joseph Chew, Rich'd Buckner & Joseph Sutton & comprehended within the bounds of the said Chews Patent & that the course of the said Patent So. 65 degrees East may be extended One hundred Poles further to reach the corner therein mentioned & that he may have a new Patent according to such Survey without paying for new Rights he having already paid the Rights according to his late Majesties directions in that behalf. *It is evident, from the frequency with which Mr. Needler was asked to examine candidates for the bar, that he was an able lawyer. In the Sainsbury Abstracts, (Va. State Library) is a letter introducing Benjamin Needler who was about to settle in Virginia. It states that he had been bred to the bar, was a young man of good character and ability, and was son of Culverwell Needler, clerk assistant of the House of Commons. Benjamin Needler lived in King and Queen county, where he was a vestryman of Stratton-Major Parish, was appointed clerk of the Council in October, 1739, and died before April 3, 1741. He married Alice, daughter of Gawin Corbin of Virginia, and had at least one daughter, who married Rev. Wm. Robinson, of King and Queen, Commissary of the Bishop of London.

His grandfather, Benjamin Needler, son of Thomas, of Lalehan, Middlesex, England, matriculated at St. John's College, Oxford, July 1, 1642, aged 18; fellow, 1645; created B. C. L. 14 April, 1648; admitted to Merchant-Taylor's School 1634; born 29 Nov., 1620; rector of St. Margaret-Moses, Fryday street, London, 1651, until ejected for non-conformity in 1662; died at North Warnborough, Hampshire (where he had been privately conducting religious services) in May or June, 1682; was author of sermons and notes on Genesis. He married a sister of Richard Colverwell or Culverwell, minister. (and probably a daughter of Richard Culverwell, rector of St. Margaret's, Fryday street, 1618, &c.,) and had I Benjamin; II Culverwell, clerk-assistant to the House of Commons.

Dudley Digges Gent. on his application is appointed to supply the Vacancy of Surveyor of the Customs at Cape Charles in the room of Mr. Griffith Bowen dec'd.
On reading at the Board Sundry Letters from Jas. Logan Esqr. President of the Province of Pennsylvania & also a Letter from the Lieut Governor of New York inclosing a representation from the Commissioners for Indian affairs at Albany whereby it appears that the Government of New York expects that this Colony should be at the expence for maintaining the Cherrikee & Cataubaw Indians during the time of their Treaty with the six Nations at Albany. It is the Opinion of this Board that such a demand from this Government is very unreasonable in regard those Nations of Indians live at a great distance from hence within the Province of South Carolina or Georgia & that this Government is no other wise concern'd in the quarrel between the said Nations then to mediate a peace between them which is solely for the Interest of the Provinces of New York & Carolina to which they respectively belong & since the Government of New York thinks fit to insist on these Terms & that it appears the said Indians of the Cherrikee & Cataubaw Nations may Negotiate a Peace upon much easier Terms with the Six Nations (who are equally desirous of the same) without the intervention of either Government, It is therefore Resolved that no further application be made to the Government of New York on that subject but that an Interpreter be sent with the said Cherrikees & Cataubaws to Connestogow there to meet the Interpreter of Pensilvania who according to Mr. President Logans Letter will procure them a conference with the deputies of the six Nations & assist them in settling the Terms of peace between them.

On reading at this Board the Humble Petition of divers Merchants Trading to the West Indies representing that they have great quantities of Indian Corn lying in their Warehouses which they have offered to sell at a moderate rate but can find no purchasers & that if the same continues on their hands until the heat of the Summer increases it will be in danger of spoiling & praying that the Prohibition on the Exportation thereof may be discontinued. It is the Opinion of this Board & accordingly ordered that from & after the twentieth of this Month no further restraint on the Exportation of Corn be continued.

On the Application of Mr. Samuel Baron Commander of the fort at Point Comfort, It is Ordered that a further Sum of One hundred Pounds be advanced him towards finishing the said fort.

Ordered, That the General Assembly which now stands Prorogued to the second Thursday in August be further prorogued to Wednesday the first of November at w'ch time It is intended to proceed on business.

The Several Petitions of Dudly Digges & Philip Prescot Gent. for Licences to practise as Attornies in the County Courts are referr'd to Mr. Attorney General or Mr. Benj'ın Needler to examine the Pet'rs qualifications & make report thereof to this Board.

Ordered, That a new Commission of the Peace issue for James City County & that Mr. Rich’d Booker who has refused to act be left out & Mr. Edm’d Walker & Mr. Leon'd Hendly be Added.

Andrew Wade having entered a Caveat & prefered his Petition for a grant of Fourteen hundred Acres of Land survey’d divers Years agoe for John Smithing as is suggested on hearing the Parties it appearing to this Board that the Deft. hath ob-tain’d a Patent for one thousand Acres of the said Land & that the other four hundred Acres being a seperate Entry hath not yet been surveyed, It is Ordered that the said Caveat be dismis’d.

The Caveat entered by Rich’d Wood against Robert Childers for four hundred Acres of Land in Henrico is dismis’d it appearing that the return of the Survey of the said Land hath been delayed by the death of the Surveyor & not through any default of the Deft. And it is Ordered that the said Childers have a Patent for the aforesaid Land.

The Petition & Caveat entered by Gilbert Elam agt. Wm. Moore & Benja. Branch for seven hundred Acres of Land in Henrico County on hearing the Parties it is ordered to be dismiss’d.

Gilbert Elam having petition’d for a Grant of four hundred Acres of Land lying on Deep Creek in Henrico County survey’d 16 This probably refers to the possibility that it might be necessary for the whole army to go to the rescue of Lafayette, who with 2,000 men was posted at Barren Hill some eight or ten miles in front of Valley Forge, and who was threatened by a force of 5,000 English troops under General Grant. This order shows how prompt and accurate was Washington's information from Philadelphia. Grant's movement was to begin on the 19th, and was intended to surprise the Americans.

VIRGINIA LEGISLATIVE PAPERS.

OFFICERS OF VOLUNTEER COMPANIES AT WILLIAMSBURG, TO THE CONVENTION.¹

July 26, 1775.

[Printed; but without the signatures, in the Gilmer Papers, Virginia Historical Collections, Vol. VI, pp. 98, 99.]

¹The volunteers of the Colony, fresh from civil life, were disposed to take the initiative in many ways improper for soldiers. This is shown by several communications from the officers at Williamsburg to the Conventions. In this case the letter here referred to was laid before the Convention on the 27th, was immediately considered in committee of the whole, and it was resolved that the proceedings of the officers, though they arose from the best motives, could not be approved, and that they be required to desist from carrying their plans into execution.
 NORFOLK BOROUGH COMMITTEE OF SAFETY, TO THE CONVENTION.

Norfolk Borough Committee Chamber, July 28, 1775.

The Committee, being informed that a Resolution has passed the Honorable Convention of this Colony, restricting the exportation of provisions after the fifth day of August next, and being fully sensible of the exceeding great hardships, to which many of our constituents will be thereby subjected, do instruct the members of this Committee, who are members of the Convention, to exert their utmost endeavours to procure a reconsideration of said Resolution, as bearing very heavily upon the merchants, who, reposing full confidence in the latitude for exportation granted by the General Congress, have made large contracts for the articles so prohibited and have now on hand considerable quantities of those perishable commodities—have chartered Vessels in foreign parts and regulated the voyages of their own shipping, so as to suit the continental regulations, without any expectation or reason to expect any such provincial restrictions. The said members are also hereby further instructed to point out the peculiar hardships arising from the short notice between the passing the said Resolution and the said fifth day of August, when it is to take effect: by which means the mer-

Norfolk was at this time a flourishing town, dependent entirely on commerce, and the order of the Convention brought almost certain ruin to the inhabitants. The resolution of the Convention was adopted July 24, 1775, and forbid the exportation of flour, wheat or provisions of any kind after August 5th. On August 4, the Convention took into consideration the instructions from the Committee of the Borough of Norfolk, and the petition from the Committee of Northampton (which is printed below) and declared that they were decent and respectful and merited due consideration, and explained the reasons which influenced the Convention. A petition, however, from the merchants and traders of Norfolk is severely censured. On August 8, as the Maryland Convention had refused to concur in the prohibition of exportation of food-stuffs, the Virginia body rescinded its order, and left exportation open until September 10.

Norfolk was full of Scotch, English and Irish merchants who, in the main, were loyal to the British Government.
chambers, unapprized of any such intention, unprepared for any such event, have had no opportunity to regulate their trade agreeably to this unexpected resolve, but are suddenly prohibited from commerce in the midst of their engagements and to the very great prejudice of their concerns. And further to inform the Convention that we fear this measure will be productive of great disputes between buyers and sellers, as well as between committees and their constituents; and that for our parts we are really under some apprehension that so cheerful an obedience will not be paid to this distressing injunction, as our constituents are ever desirous to pay to all the decisions of that honorably body; and that we humbly request that the said Resolution may be repealed, at least so far as to give time for vessels that are now loading to take in their cargoes, and to allow the merchant some opportunity to order his affairs in the best manner he can to blunt the edge of this sudden calamity.

Ordered that the Secretary transmit a copy of these instructions to Thomas Newton, Junr., James Holt and Joseph Hutchings, Esq’rs, to be laid before the Convention.

Extract from the Minutes.

WILLIAM DAVIES, Sec’y.

NORTHAMPTON COUNTY COMMITTEE TO THE CONVENTION.

To the Honorable the President and Delegates of the people of Virginia now assembled in Convention in the Town of Richmond, in the County of Henrico—the humble petition of the Committee of Northampton County in behalf of themselves & their constituents.

3 William Davies, son of the eminent Presbyterian divine Samuel Davies, was afterwards an exceedingly efficient officer in the Revolution. Entering the service as captain he rose to the rank of colonel and served through the war. As a member of the Virginia Board of War he rendered especially valuable services. After the war he was a successful lawyer in Petersburg. He married Mary, widow of Alexander Gordon, of Petersburg, and daughter of James Murray, and among his descendants was Rt. Rev. Francis M. Whittle, Bishop of Virginia.
Humbly sheweth

That the people of this County have ever been jealous in support of the common cause and have inviolably observed those regulations established by the General Congress for maintaining the Liberties of America—fully convinced that those regulations would be strictly adhered to by all Ranks and orders of men our constituents have formed many engagements and entered into various Contracts in which they have considered themselves as under the Faith and protection of the Country whilst they walked within the line prescribed them by the united voice of all America—amongst other things they have in all their engagements had a particular Eye to that very material clause which prohibits the Exportation of all merchandize from this Country to Great Britain or the West Indies after the tenth Day of September next and have taken their measures in such a manner as may be little burthensome to themselves as possible and at the same time with a full determination strictly to perform that clause of the Continental Association—it is therefore with the utmost Sorrow we are informed that the Convention of this Colony has directed that a total stop be put to the export of Grain and provisions from and after the fifth Day of August next a measure which if strictly enforced will bring the greatest Distress upon many merchants and private families in this place and which hath hitherto subsisted amongst us whilst the Determinations of Congress were received as an invariable rule of Conduct in those points which that very respectable Body have taken under their consideration. Your petitioners beg leave to represent to the Convention that the people of this place raise very large quantities of Indian Corn which is generally unsold late in the Summer and altho we believe there is not so much now on hand as is usual at this season yet there are such quantities as to ruin many persons who have made Contracts respecting the same if the ports are immediately stopped.

Your petitioners therefore in behalf of themselves & the other Inhabitants of this place pray that the exports to the West Indies may be kept open till the 10th of September next and we beg leave to assure the Convention that the greatest care will be taken by this committee to prevent the exportation of any provisions to the Northward where there may be the least Danger of their falling into the hands of the Army and that it will be our constant study to enforce within the limits of our appointment those regulations of the general Congress or Convention of this Colony which are now entered into or may hereafter be adopted in support of the common cause.

JOHN BOWDOIN¹ TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE CONVENTION.

Sir:—
Inclosed I send you a Petition from our Committee to the Convention as we but yesterday heard that the Convention had come to a Resolution to stop the Exportation of Grain & Provisions after the 5th of next month praying that the Export for Indian Corn may be kept open or permitted till 10 September should the Convention make no alteration in their first Resolution, many Traders and Planters will be greatly injured here. I fully Intended to have been at the Convention but the indisposition of my family prevented which was the case with Mr. Burton our other Delegate.

TREATY BETWEEN VIRGINIA AND THE INDIANS AT FORT DUNMORE (PITTSBURG) JUNE, 1775.

[All writers on this period of our history—or at least all whose works are accessible—have been either ignorant of the treaty here printed, or have made only vague allusions to it, which are evidently colored by their opinions of the later actions of John Connolly, who was the principal agent in the negotiations.

The old theory was that from the beginning of "Dunmore's War" Lord Dunmore was treacherous to the Colony, that he desired that Lewis be beaten at Point Pleasant, and that from this time he employed Connolly as a secret agent to incite the Indians against the whites. As far as Dunmore is concerned this idea must now be abandoned. Mr. Thwates states, very correctly, in his preface to Dunmore's War (XXIV), that "a study of contemporary documents will convince any fair-minded student of history that Lord Dunmore acted in this episode with disinterested discretion." And it is probable that the same change of opinion should be made in regard to Connolly's actions up to the summer of 1775.

The history of this treaty is as follows: At the treaty made by Dunmore with the Indians at the close of the war, they delivered hostages to him, and were told that the treaty would be ratified by the Virginia Assembly, and that in the spring of 1775 the Governor would again meet them, settle finally all difficulties and return the hostages.

During his western campaign Lord Dunmore became acquainted with Dr. John Connolly, a native of Lancaster, Pa., and a man of intelligence and energy. The Governor appears to have gone into partnership with him in land speculations and appointed him a major of militia and commandant at Pittsburg, which was then claimed as being in Augusta county, Va. Connolly had orders to rebuild Fort Pitt and to protect the interests of Virginia against Pennsylvania. The fort was rebuilt and named Dunmore. There are among the Virginia State Archives all of the bills for the erection of Fort Dunmore, with attestations headed "Augusta county, Va., to-wit."

Connolly made himself very obnoxious to the Pennsylvanians by the firmness, and, perhaps, indiscretion, with which he insisted on the rights of Virginia over the disputed territory. As the Pennsylvania Archives are in print, and little or nothing has been made public on the Virginia side, Connolly's career prior to the Revolution has suffered from prejudiced statements.

In the spring of 1775 as the Indians heard nothing of any confirmation of the treaty of 1774 and their hostages were still held prisoners, they became restless and threatening.

On June 14, 1775, the Virginia House of Burgesses received a communication from Richard Bland, member of Congress, who acquainted the House that several persons in West Augusta had addressed Congress stating the great dangers from Indians to which they were exposed, and because it was thought that the provincial Assemblies could not take action in time, Congress was asked to appoint commissioners from Virginia and Pennsylvania to meet the Indians. These petitioners stated that they were informed that the commandant (Connolly) for (the English) Government had instructions to assemble the Indians at Pittsburg, where the hostages and prisoners should be given up. The petitioners were jealous of the designs of Government, and therefore asked the intervention of Congress. The House of Burgesses immediately took the matter into consideration, and appointed Thomas Walker, James Wood, Andrew Lewis, and Adam Stephen commissioners to ratify the peace between the Colony and the Indians. On June 15, the House having received further information of the great discontent of the Ohio Indians at the delay in the ratification of the treaty Lord Dunmore had concluded with them in 1774, ordered that the treaty should be immediately entered upon.

It was determined that James Wood who had wide acquaintance and much influence among the Indians should proceed at once to the frontier and engage the attendance of the chiefs at the proposed treaty. He set out about June 25, and was absent nearly two months. In his passage through several tribes of Indians he was informed that General Carleton's emissaries from Canada had urged them to take up the hatchet. He was frequently in danger of his life; but at last was able to remove their prejudices and persuade them to promise to attend the treaty. These facts are ascertained from the journal of the Virginia Convention under date of January 5, 1776, when a reward of £250 was paid him for his services. Extracts from Wood's Journal during this trip are printed in Kercheval's History of the Valley, 3d ed., 136-137.

In the mean time conditions which seemed dangerous to the people in Williamsburg appeared still more critical to the inhabitants of the frontier. Major Connolly, acting under the instructions of the Governor, who very properly desired to fulfil his promise to the Indians made the year before, and also, as will appear later, with the assistance and advice of the Committee of Safety of West Augusta, sent out invitations to the Indians to attend a treaty at Pittsburg. With the exception of the Shawnese, the tribes which were invited came. The conference lasted from June 19 to July 6th and a satisfactory agreement was reached. Connolly was arrested by the Pennsylvania authorities on June 21 but was released before the 29th. This arrest had nothing to do with any charge of disloyalty to America but grew out of the boundary dispute.

Wood, who arrived at Fort Pitt on July 9th, mentions the treaty which had just been made and says it was held "in the most open and candid manner, that it was held in the presence of the committee and that he (Connolly) laid the Governor's instructions before them."

On July 21, 1775 the proceedings of this treaty and certain resolutions of the committee were laid before the Virginia Convention, and on the 25th that body resolved that the committee of the county of Augusta had acted with the greatest propriety and prudence, and that the expenses of the treaty and the money advanced in presents to the Indians ought to be reimbursed by the public. This endorsement by the Convention strengthens the probability that prior to August, 1775, Connolly had not been guilty of any double dealing, nor had he endeavored to incite the Indians against the whites. Up to the time of the treaty printed below Dunmore had hopes of a reconciliation. He presented Lord North's "Olive Branch" to the Assembly which met on June 1, and it was not until the end of June that he showed an intention to commit hostile acts. Connolly visited him at Portsmouth about August 1st, and from this time may really be dated his efforts to bring about an attack by the Indians on the whites. Connolly went to Boston in September, laid his plans before General Gage and returned to Virginia in October. On November 23d, while on his way to Detroit, he was arrested at Hagerstown, Md., incriminating papers were found on his person, and he spent the rest of the Revolutionary period in American prisons.

There is no documentary evidence, of a date prior to Aug. 1, 1775, to show that Dunmore and Connolly were endeavoring to excite the Indians against the Whites. Winsor (Westward Movement) states that in May, 1775, Dunmore informed the English government that Connolly at Pittsburgh had been instructed "to endeavor to incline the Indians to the royal cause." But it is possible that Mr. Winsor construed Dunmore's letter in the light of later events. At that time everybody in Virginia professed an "inclination to the royal cause." It is true that in his plan laid before Gage, Connolly stated that under Lord Dunmore's instructions, he had prepared the Western Indians to act in concert against his Majesty's enemies. There is however nothing in his known actions to confirm this claim.

In the fall of 1775 the Commissioners appointed by the House of Burgesses met the Indians and made a satisfactory treaty with them.

JOHN CONNOLLY TO THE CHIEFS OF THE SHAWANESE.

To the Chiefs of the Shawanese.

Brethren: I am sorry that the Business which has for some time past employed the great Man of Virginia should have prevented his meeting you at this place agreeable to his promise made you when in your Country. But as that great Business yet continues he desires some of the Chiefs of the Shawanese to come up as soon as possible to the forks of the River so that the Chain of Friendship may be brightened and the affairs that were not finally settled with you and the Mingoes may be adjusted to our mutual satisfaction. It is possible the Great Man may be here to meet you, but if not, some person will be appointed by him to speak to you which I hope will be sufficient to convince you his younger Brethren the Shawanese that notwithstanding the great hurry of his affairs he had not forgot their Interest. Your friends who went with the great Man I expect will meet you here.

Given under my hand and Seal this 19th day of May, 1775.

To the Chiefs of the Mingoes.

Brethren: The great Man of Virginia at this time being engaged in very Important Business which may probably prevent his coming as soon as he could wish or you might reasonably expect in order to convince his Brethren the six Nations that he is not however unmindful of the situation of some of your friends who lately have imprudently offended against his people has given me directions to call you together to this place as soon as possible in order to brighten the antient Chain of Friendship and to restore to you in health and peace the young men of your Nation which have remained here with us this Winter. Your Friend the great Man of Virginia will if possible meet you here, if not he will appoint some person for him to shake hands with his Brethren the Mingoes and to renew that Friendship between your people & the Big Knife which he hopes may never again be shaken.

JOHN CONNOLLY TO THE CHIEFS OF THE DELAWARES.
To the Chiefs of the Delawares.

Brethren: The great hurry of Business which has for some time past engaged the great Man of Virginia may possibly prevent him from coming out at this time to see you—yet mindful of the great friendship that was shewn to his people by his Brethren the Delawares he has desired me to call in the Chiefs to this place so that the Chain of Friendship may be brightened and that the regard which he has for his Brethren the Delawares may be shewn to all persons.

It may so happen that the Great Man may not have the satisfaction of personally shaking hands with his Brethren the Delawares. But in case that should happen from the important Business in which he is now engaged he will appoint some person for him to assure them of his steady Friendship and the Remembrance which he has of their late attachment to his people during the late Troubles.

MINUTES OF TREATY AT FORT DUNMORE (PITTSBURGH).

Fort Dunmore, June 19th, 1775.

A number of six Nation Chiefs arrived in consequence of a message sent them to attend a treaty to be held with the Western Indians by the Earl of Dunmore on behalf of the Colony of Virginia.

June 21st.

The above Chiefs met Major Connolly at Col. Croghans where they performed those Ceremonies of wiping the tears away and cleaning their Ears with removing every uneasiness from the heart; after which they informed him that they would wait upon him the next day at the fort and speak further to him.

June 22d.

The six Nations being arrived here in order to have a Meeting with Major Connolly agreeable to their Engagement yesterday were disappointed; This Gentleman having been carried off the Evening before by a number of armed men and taken towards Ligonier the Indians therefore informed me that they would be glad to speak to the Principal Inhabitants here and desired that I would be present.

At a Meeting of the Principal Inhabitants of this place, the six Nations spoke as follows:

Brethren: Yesterday we spoke to our Brother Major Connolly who represents the Big-knife, Coll. Croghan and Keyashuta. We wiped the tears from their Eyes, opened their Ears and cleared their throats that what we might say to the White people might have a due Impression on their minds, but when we came to this place to day to speak again to our Brother the Big-knife, surprised to find nothing but his bed, himself not to be found we are at a loss to account for the reason, but when we look back to the Councils of our wise forefathers our hearts continue to retain the same good sentiments towards you.

Brothers, you know you sent to our Town this Belt and that you allowed us to come here to the Council Fire, we are now come as you see us agreeable to your Invitation to listen to every thing that is good which has been of so long continuation between us.

A Belt.

Brethren: Our Brother the Big Knife and Mr. McKee sent this speech to us last summer advising us in what manner to conduct ourselves in the troubles at that time that as we had no Chiefs among us in the towns we lived in we were to be pitied, therefore you desired us not to take any Notice of the foolish part that some people were acting at that time.

Brothers, tho' we are young we took your advice and recommended the same to our young men and have now met you this day in Council.

A String.

Brethren: The Big Knite and Coll. Croghan sent us up a speech desiring us to be in readiness to come down to a little Council fire and to bring two of each tribe along with us as the times were hard on account of scarcity of provisions; We are now come as you see us with sincere friendship towards you and we hope yours is the same to us.

A Belt.

Brethren; This is all we have to say at this time and we want to know at what time we shall have an answer.

to which the following reply was made:

Brethren: We return you thanks for the kind professions of Friendship you have made to us by your speeches & will thoroughly consider them and give you an answer as soon as possible.

June 26.

A Message to the Six Nations.

Brethren, Chiefs of the six Nations:

As some Chiefs of our Brethren the Delawares are expected here this day: we request that you would also remove and encamp near them opposite to this place as you will then be more convenient when we are ready to speak to you which we hope will be very soon; and we desire you will not be uneasy on that account until those of our friends necessary to be present are collected together.

Chiefs of the six Nations Present.

It gives me pleasure to see so many of you here who have shewn your Wisdom by a strict adherence to the peace of this Country during the last summer, and that I have an opportunity of restoring into your hands those of your Emigrants who have been heretofore led astray who we hope for the future will have the benefit of your wise advice and I would be glad to convince you that it was the sole design of your Brother the Big-knife in ordering them to be brought to this place and that we had nothing more at heart than the general good of the whole which I make no doubt you will be fully convinced of and that you will cheerfully join with us in establishing a lasting friendship.

As we now return you into your former situation in the chain of friendship we are to expect that you will be strong in promoting good and that you will ever for the future have a due regard to the advice and Councils of the wise Chiefs of the six Nations whom you will always find so strictly united in friendship with their Bretheren the English as not to be shaken and they are the only people who study your real welfare. Therefore we make no doubt from the friendly and brotherly treatment you have met with amongst us, that it is our greatest desire to live in peace and amity not only with you but all our Indian Bretheren, in promoting of which from your Knowledge now of our kindness you will have it greatly in your power to promote and to enable you to this good end, We deliver you this belt.

As our younger Bretheren the Shawanese are not yet arrived and we have finished the necessary Ceremonies usual upon such occasions between who are present, we think it best to wait a few days for the Shawanese as it is probable we may in that time see or hear from them; This will convince them we were not unmindful of them.

A String.

This is all Bretheren the Big knife has to say to you at Present.

The answer of the six Nations to the speech requesting their opinion whether the Treaty is to be delay'd for the coming of the Shawanese.

Brother the Big Knife: We like well to hear what you say concerning our younger Bretheren the Shawanese which will convince them they were not forgot by either of us, but as our situation here is well known to both of us with respect to the scarcity of provisions, time cannot be delay'd long, however we are willing to stay three days and if we do not hear from them in that time we shall then be better able to judge how to proceed at our meeting.

A String.

Bretheren: We return you thanks for what we have heard today, we are glad to see from what has passed that our friendship bears so good an aspect, what the six Nations have agreed to with regard to the Shawanese, we are satisfied with.

A String.

Inquiry being made after two remaining Prisoners, the following Message was sent by the six Nations and Delawares to the Shawanese.

Bretheren the Shawanese: As your Brother the big Knife and we are now in Council strengthening the Chain of Friendship and your Brother the Big Knife makes a request to us that you will send up as soon as possible, two prisoners who are yet in your custody; We desire you to be strong and to comply with it and also perform every other promise you have made to the Big Knife at Camp Charlotte last Fall, as they have now complied with our request to them in delivering up our flesh and blood at this time.

Brethren of the Shawanese:

As there has now some considerable time past, since that appointed for you to meet here in Council and that Chiefs from the six Nations and Delawares are and have been waiting for you; I therefore take this opportunity by David Duncan to inform you of those things and that we have also heard that some French men who have been amongst you had called you to a Council; If this is the real cause of your delay I would be glad you would inform me of it as I cannot possibly remain here much Longer and those Nations now met here are desirous of returning home.

To the Chiefs of the Shawanese.

At a meeting held with the Indians at Fort Dunmore the 3d day of July, 1775, in behalf of the Government of Virginia.

PRESENT.

Major John Connolly, Alex’r McKee, Esq’r, Dep’y Agent, Col. George Croghan and the rest of the Gentlemen as before.
INDIANS.

The same Chiefs and Warriors of both Nations as before.

The six Nations spoke as follows:

Bretheren: A few days ago when we met together in Council you then performed the Ceremonies usual on such occasions and also delivered up our flesh and blood for which we are extremly thankful and we can assure you when we report it to the Council of the six Nations it will afford them singular satisfaction.

When you delivered them up you desired them to listen to their own Chiefs; we have told them to be strong and to turn their Eyes towards us which they have promised to do for the future.

A String.

Bretheren: Our Flesh and Blood whom you have delivered up to us, are very thankful for what you have done for them as well as us, and we now accompany the belt you gave them with this string to the heads of those scattering Mingoes* upon Scioto and recommend it to them in Conjunction with you to observe the advice which you gave them on your part and we now desire them to look towards the Chiefs of the six Nations for the Government of their future Conduct.

Shew'd a Belt and a String.

Bretheren: As we cannot well do without a person who understands the Language of the six Nations, We therefore desire that Simon Girty should be appointed to interpret any matters we may have to say to you hereafter upon Public Business; and if it is agreeable to you we desire that your String may accompany ours to the six Nations upon this Subject to let them know of such agreement.

Bretheren: When you first invited us to this Council fire, We expected that Business would not be delayed. We have now waited the three days for our younger Bretheren the Shawanese,

* The original Mingo tribe was conquered by the Iroquois about 1675' and the remnant incorporated in their league. The Mingo of the eighteenth century were a mongrel race, chiefly wanderers from the New York Iroquois stock.
and we would be glad how soon any further Business you may have with us could be finished.

A String.

From the Delawares to the six Nations, spoke by Capt. White Eyes.

Uncles the six Nations—

It gave us your Nephews great pleasure to hear you and your Bretheren the White people relate over matters relative to the friendship which has been established between us at Sir William Johnstons and we congratulate you upon the restoration of your friends and we are obliged to our Bretheren the White People for the good advice which they have given them and we not only desire them to be strong and turn their Eyes towards the Chiefs of the six Nations; but we desire that scattered Mingoes will remove and settle themselves under the Eyes of their Chiefs this will be the right method of taking Pity on your Women and Children and preventing disturbances for the future.

A Belt sent to the Stragling Mingoes on Scioto.

Major Connolly told the several Nations that he was glad they appeared so well satisfied and requested they would be ready tomorrow to appear in Council when they were sent for and that he would then speak further to them.

At a Council held at Fort Dunmore the 4th day of July, 1775.

Present.

Major John Connolly, Alex' r McKee, Esq' r, Dep. Agent, Coll. Croghan with the same Gentlemen as before.

Indians same as before.

Bretheren.

Chiefs of the six Nations present.

As you appeared yesterday in Council anxious of returning home and no certain accounts when the Shawanese are to be expected, therefore at your desire we now proceed to finish the Business that we met upon.
A String to each Nation.

Bretheren: We have hitherto spoke of matters which been always considered at meetings by our wise men; We next by these Belts collect all the bones of our deceased friends who have unfortunately fallen into the late disturbances by the rash conduct of foolish people instigated by the spirit and after burying them deep in the Earth we transplant the tree of peace over them that every Remembrance of them may for ever hereafter be buried in a future Enjoyment of a lasting Friendship.

A Belt to each Nation.

Bretheren: As some foolish people of both sides have found means of getting into their possession Warlike Weapons with which they destroyed one another We now take them out of their hands in behalf of the great Man of Virginia who proceeded into your country last year with this design and after thus convincing them of their folly, he then buried them deep in the earth. With the Belt we press the Earth close upon them that they may never rise again.

A Belt to each Nation.

Bretheren: As we have buried the bones and weapons which our young people held in their hands and used against each other, by this Belt we now remove the Thorns and Briars which have grown up in the path towards the Sun setting during the late disturbances which we now deliver to our Bretheren the Delawares to be handed thro' them to the Shawanese, Weyandots and other Western Nations being best situated for that purpose and that they may now inform our Western Bretheren that the Road is again opened and may now be travelled towards this Council fire with Ease & Safety. That they may be assured that from henceforwards our great people and the six Nations the Road has never been obstructed but has been and yet remains plain and open as ordered by our wise men.

A Road Belt.

Bretheren: As we now have the pleasure once more of entering into our Antient Council house, by this Wampum as usual on such occasions I sweep it clean of all Dusts which it has contracted since we last met into it, and I wipe away all those spotts which may have fallen upon it that no stain of Discontent may remain to trouble us, but when we are seated in it with ease and tranquility we may be enabled to look around us and see every thing appear clear and fair to our view.

A Bunch of White Wampum to each Nation.

Bretheren, Chiefs and Warriors of the several Nations here present.

Listen with attention to what we are now going to say to you. I rejoise Bretheren that it has pleased God to permit so many of you to meet here this day at your old Council fire. It gives me pleasure to see you come with a good design of giving your assistance to repair it and adding such fuel to it that the Blaze will again be beheld by all Nations in friendship with us, and that notwithstanding the bad spirit had got so far the better of some foolish people to disturb it, we have been still able to guard it and preserve it from being totally extinguished by their rash inconsiderate Conduct which we now earnestly desire may be eternally forgot and buried in oblivion so that nothing may remain to interrupt us at this time from renewing the Friendship Covenant made and maintained long by our wise forefathers and that this fire which they have kindled for our mutual advantage may by our prudence burn bright to our latest posterity.

Bretheren: From the Confidence we have all reason to place in the Wisdom of our Bretheren the Delawares as well as their regard for the peace of this Country which they have manifested in many Instances of their Conduct during the late troubles Therefore as a Testimony of our Sincerity on this occasion we deliver into their hands this Belt of Friendship desiring that they would not only hold it up to the view of all here present but to all those linked in the great chain of Friendship with us, that what now has passed between us may be held in constant Remembrance.

A Large Belt representing the chain of Friendship.

Bretheren: As we have now finished every material matter and brightened the chain of Friendship, I have to inform you that your Brother the Big Knife is desirous that you should acquaint your people to refrain from hunting amongst his people who are now settling in great numbers on the South side of the Ohio until we may have an opportunity of regulating their Settlements least any accidents prejudicial to the peace now established should happen.

A Belt.

Bretheren: With respect to the speech you delivered yesterday desiring the Continuance of an Interpreter I shall forward it to Colonel Johnson who no doubt will consider the necessity of allowing one to be continued and so soon as I am favoured with his directions I shall acquaint you of it.

A String.

At a Council held at Fort Dunmore the 5th July, 1775.

Present.

Major John Connoly Alex’r McKee Esq’r Dep. Agent and the same Gentlemen as before—
Also the same Indians of each Nation.

The Chief· Warriors of the Senecas in presence of the Six Nations spoke as follows:

Bretheren the Big Knife: You invited us to a small Council Fire at this place to which we readily repaired and we are extremally glad to hear the good speeches which you have now delivered us. We are now fully convinced that you are our sincere friends and that you are determined finally to settle the late disturbances which happened in this Country. We desire you to be strong and always continue in the same way of thinking. The Warriors and the Women are particularly thankful for this agreeable circumstance and return you their hearty thanks—During the late disturbances the Chiefs of the six Nations were at a loss how to judge of the matter from appearances but they are now heartily satisfied with your conduct and friendly disposition towards them and return you their hearty thanks also.

A Belt.
Bretheren the Big Knife: We are very much obliged to you for calling to our recollection the good speeches which have passed between our forefathers and from what you have said now there remains no doubt of a lasting Friendship.—As the Communication from all Quarters is now open to this Council Fire which you have now prepared we would gladly remind you of one thing which is That you would appoint a Smith to mend our Guns and Tomhawks as usual when we passed up and down this River. And further, that there may be a person appointed for the regulation of trade at this place as it would be very agreeable to all Nations and prevent Impositions on us in our Dealings with you; and as Ammunition is so dear and Game become so scarce that it is out of our power to provide ourselves with that article, We therefore desire you to take Pity upon us and consider of this matter.

A String.

Major Connolly made them the following answer:

Bretheren, The Chiefs and Warriors of the Six Nations:

I would be extremally glad to do every thing in my power to comply with your Request touching the Regulation of Trade, but as the Great Man of Virginia is much engaged in Business of Importance at this present at that being a matter of consequence cannot be directly complied with, but I make no doubt as soon as circumstances will permit, the Great Man will consider of that matter and will do every thing necessary to satisfy you upon that head. As to the Smith that being a Business immediately under the direction of Colonel Johnson, Capt. McKee will write to him upon that Subject and you will do well to transmit a speech to him signifying the same request.

A String.

Capt. White Eyes then desired the Attendance of his Uncles the six Nations and his Bretheren the Big Knife at the Council House tomorrow morning as he had something to say to them.

July 6th, 1775.

The Council met according to appointment when Capt. White Eyes in behalf the DelWAREs spoke as follows:
Bretheren the White People and Uncles the six Nations:

As it was proposed yesterday we have met again in the Council House which has been cleaned and made white; We have reason to thank God for allowing us to meet this day and we hope he will be a witness to what passes between us, as you have given us the Chain of Friendship to hold forth to all Nations you may be assured we shall be so particular in that circumstance, that if a Tomhawk was to be struck into our head it should not disengage our hands from the fast hold which we have taken of that Belt; and that you may depend upon it that our utmost attention shall be constantly employed in reflecting upon the good speeches which have now passed between us, and in strengthening and promoting the Friendship as directed by our wise forefathers.

Two Strings one to the White people and the other to the Six Nations.

It gives us particular pleasure that you call upon God to witness our Transactions as he is present upon all occasions and by his assistance we hope what now passes between us may have a lasting Effect. That what has been said on your parts comes sincerely from your hearts as you may be assured that what you now hear from your Bretheren the Dellawares is intirely so and that our Women and Children may hereafter have reason to rejoice at our present transactions.

A Belt to the White People and another to the six Nations.

Bretheren the White people and Uncles to six Nations: As you have swept out the Council house at your Antient forefathers and lighted up the Council fire We look upon it incumbent upon us to afford you our best assistance in this good work, therefore on our parts upon this belt we wipe clean those Council Seats and that when who are young people are sitting in it, it may call to our minds, and consider the prudent Conduct of our wise people formerly with ease and satisfaction and you may depend upon it that we shall always govern our young people in such a manner as never to disturb the good business which is now so happily brought to a conclusion.

Two belts delivered as before.
Uncles the Six Nations Listen to what I am now going to say to my Brother the Big-Knife.

Bretheren the White People: As you have now put the Chain of Friendship into my possession in the presence of my Uncles the Six Nations I now inform you that I take fast hold of it with both my hands: I am glad you have now told us that God will look down upon what passes between us and this is our desire, it puts us in mind of the friendship cultivated by our Fathers when they first met at the shore side of the great Water and we were so fond of continuing that Friendship, then cultivated that we removed back to give you room to settle as you grew more numerous as we then always understood you were one people and governed by one King: We now desire the Big Knife to put one End of this Belt into the hands of King George our Mutual Father and acquaint him we are settled at Quisoching where we hold fast by the other end being the Centre of a tract of Country given to us by our Uncles the Wyandots where we are ready to hear from our great Father the King of England and as we were first that you were one people and had but one King We hope that since we now have become one people, that matters may continue upon the same peaceable footing as we conceive them to be at that same time and that one King shall continue to govern us.

A Belt.

Capt. White Eyes then addressed his Uncle the Six Nations and desired them to look to the place above mentioned when they had anything to say to their Nephews the Delawares, after which he made the following speech to their Bretheren of Pennsylvania—

Brother the Governor of Pennsylvania—

As I have informed my Brother the Big Knife that I am now settled at Quisoching I take the same opportunity of informing you my Brother of Pennsylvania of our situation; that you may also acquaint our Brother King George of it and that you will put the one end of this belt into his hands and assure him that altho' that antient Friendship which was first made by our Forefathers and yours on their arrival into our Country from the other side of the great Water was for some time disturbed yet no sooner did we recollect that antient friendship and had our Eyes opened and saw our Bretheren, than we determined to hold fast by that antient chain as made by them which has been strengthened at this time and as the first white people acquainted our forefathers that they were all one and governed by one great King we now hope the same order may still continue as we are deeply interested in that matter from friendship and that the King also would do every in his power to promote good amongst all his people—We have delivered you this Belt that what you say may correspond with what we have said to our Brother the Big Knife upon the same subject—

A Large Belt.

Bretheren the White People and Uncles the Six Nations: You have heard what I have said to you and as I have been busily employed last Fall in bringing about the good work that we are now engaged in as well as last spring, We have now prospect of everything being happily concluded.

A String.

Capt. Kilbuck then address'd the Big Knife in behalf of the Delawares.

Brother the Big Knife: We are glad to hear what you said yesterday concerning our young Peoples hunting on your side the Ohio. You may be assured we shall comply with it and we shall inform our young People at the Wabash to refrain from hunting there untill such time as they hear from this place.

A String.

Brother: You have mentioned that the Trade at this place shall be regulated. We would be very glad you would consider of that matter as soon as possible as our young men may as well sit down and not fatigue themselves to hunt whilst goods are so unreasonable.

A String.

Keyashota in behalf of the six Nations present holding the several Belts and strings which had been delivered in Council to them, returned thanks for the good speeches which had been delivered upon them and said that it gave them the greatest satisfaction to find that we had taken so much pity on them and that as none of the very heads of the six Nations were present that We would be friendly enough to excuse their not speaking to you so fully as you might have expected upon this occasion. Be assured that we do heartily join with you in everything that has passed at this meeting and we shall Transmit everything that has been said with the greatest dispatch to the head Council of the six Nations and no Doubt you will hear soon from them of these matters.

Brother: As you have been appointed by the great man of Virginia to desire us to prevent our young people from hunting on your side of the Ohio as there are a great many of the White people settling there now which as you rightly Judge may occasion disturbances, we shall comply with. As you have given the Chair of Friendship to be kept by the Delawares we now recommend it to them to be strong and prevent all the young people from crossing to your side of the river.

A String to the Delawares to inforce this Recommendation.

Major Connolly then answared the Delawares as follows:

Bretheren the Delawares: It has given us great pleasure this day to hear such friendly sentiments from our good Bretheren and we make no doubt of a confirmation of Friendship in this Country and of your assistance in promoting it and you may be assured that the Belt which you have given me to be extended to the hands of our great and good King who as you rightly judge governs us all as one people shall be conveyed to him as expeditiously as possible and I am convinced he will be highly satisfied with the Friendship his Bretheren the Delawares have so warmly expressed for him and there is no doubt that as he has a sincere love for all his white as well as his Indian Friends that he will exert himself to procure happiness to them one and all and as you have by that Belt acquainted him with the place of your intended residence you may shortly expect to hear from him in answer to your friendly speech.

A Large Belt.

Bretheren: With respect to what you mention about the Trade at this place we desire that you would advert to what we said to our Bretheren the Six Nations yesterday on this head and that is a matter that does more properly lay before our Great Men We shall not fail to represent to them what you have said and we make no Doubt but they will consider the matter properly.

A String.

Keyashota then spoke as follows—

Bretheren: We are glad to hear the good speeches which we have before told you we shall forward them directly to the six Nations and you may look towards us for an answer from them in about two months.

A String of Black Wampum.

Bretheren: We have settled every thing now upon a good footing which gives great satisfaction. But one thing you seem to have forgot which is a little Powder lead for our young men to kill provisions on their Way home.

A String of the same sort.

Major Connolly told them he would consider them before he set off.

A Speech from the Committee of Augusta County on the West side of the Laurel Hill.

Bretheren: It has given us your Bretheren and near neighbours the greatest satisfaction to have heard and seen at this meeting the unhappy differences for some time past subsisting between some of your people and us happily Ended. We have heard what the officer directed by the Earl of Dunmore has said to you on the occasion and we flatter ourselves it will be sufficient to convince you that he means no other than to maintain that Tranquility which alone can make us both happy we now assure you that we shall on our parts take every measure and do every thing in our power to preserve and obtain these desirable Ends.

Bretheren: We consider you in the same Circumstances with ourselves—the great Creator of all things made us both a free people and we are determined with all the powers he hath given us to preserve our Lives and Liberties and our property against every one who shall attempt to deprive us of them. Be assured Bretheren that we will also exert ourselves to maintain you in the undisturbed posession of your natural right and we expect the same brotherly friendship from you by your not interfering in any of our disputes.

In Testimony of sincere dispositions and Intentions to cultivate a good understanding and a friendly intercourse with you our Bretheren we present you with this Belt.

A Belt.

John Connolly to George Rootes.*

Winchester, August 1st, 1775.

Jno. Connally to George Rootes, Richmond.

Dear Sir:

I yesterday arrived here from the Warm Springs,† to which place I intentionally conducted three Indians sent with me, to give them an opportunity of seeing as many Gentlemen of Virginia at that place & this season generally bring together. I have finished a treaty with the Shawanese, which I have also brought with me, & I flatter myself it will prove satisfactory to the Gentlemen of the Convention, at Richmond, as it has been particularly so, to the Inhabitants in our Country. You must well know Sir, from a final retrospect upon the necessary business in which I have been for some considerable time past engaged, that I must have been exposed to considerable expense and that the men substituted [addition?] of a Militia officer [office?] in my Rank, could not be sufficient to have indemnified me, add to this consideration the trouble I have experienced from the Government of Pennsylvania & the necessity I was under of conducting the military affairs of this Government, during our late troubles, throughout the great extent of that remote part of Augusta; a due attention to which important business, caused me entirely to relinquish every other pursuit, & devote myself solely to the publick service.—I should have even blushed to mention any of these circumstances, did not I find that the malice of my Enemies pushed them on to every vile step to prejudice my character, & depreciate the value of my publick services.

*George Rootes, son of Philip Rootes, of "Rosewall," King and Queen county, was member of the Convention of July, 1775, for (West) Augusta, and of that of December, 1775, for Fincastle.

† In the present Bath county.

Pecuniary acknowledgment alone would be very unsatisfactory to my mind, did it not also bespeak the care of the Government which I have faithfully served, & must therefore silent effectually, the slanderous tongues of the ungenerous.

It has been diligently propagated thro' this Country that I, as a Ministerial Tool, would be extremely sollicitous to forward their designs; & should be ready to support every measure which Lord Dunmore might recommend to me, I have only to assure you that such insinuations are malicious, & far foreign to truth; & that no person would sooner shun an act, which must draw down upon Him the censure of His Countrymen than myself; & altho' gratitude, & honor call upon me to testify upon all occasions, the good offices which I experienced from His Excellency Lord Dunmore, yet you may be satisfied, that such impression should operate no farther upon me, than it ought to do, & that I justly distinguish between a ministerial officer, & a Friend, a Gentleman in a private character.

I have some business with, & a letter to the Honorable Payton Randolph, as well as a desire to see Jno. Randolph Esqr. & some other my acquaintance at Williamsburg, & must confess that I should also if agreeable, desire to see the Governor & I did not care under whatever restrictions was it judged necessary, I am &

Sir your most obed Servt.

JNO. CONNOLLY.

[Edward Irbie married Ann, sister of Sir George Yeardley, Governor of Virginia. See Brown's Genesis, II, 1065. Mr. Brown states positively that Sir George was a son of Ralph Yeardley, citizen and merchant-taylor of London. Mr. T. T. Upshur in his Sir George Yeardley (Nashville, 1896), says that the Governor was son of William Yeardley, of Yeardley, Staffordshire, but gives no details of proof. From the various references which occur in contemporary writings it is almost certain that Sir George was a son of the merchant-taylor.—Ed.]

[John Chisman, or Cheesman, came to Virginia in 1621, was in 1624 living in Elizabeth City and was aged 27. He was then a lieutenant in the militia. He subsequently removed to York county, where he was a commissioner (justice) in 1633, &c., was a member of the House of Burgesses 1642-5, and appointed to the council in 1652. He returned to England in or before 1661. His brother Edmund Chisman, who was living at Elizabeth City in 1624, aged 22, also settled in York county, where his will was proved Feb. 4, 1678. His son Edmund Chisman, Jr., was arrested for taking part in Bacon's Rebellion, and died in prison. See William and Mary Quarterly, I, 89-98. The will of Mrs. Margaret Cheesman, widow of Col. ROBERT GOSNOLD of Earleshall, County Suffolk, Esq. Will 15 August 1615; proved 1 November 1615. To be buried at Oteley, near my wife. To my executors, towards the performance of this will, lands I bought of my son John Gosnold, unless he pay then £400. Executors: Son Anthony and Mr. Francis Cornwallis of Earleshall. Witnesses: Robert Gosnold, John Cornwaleys, Francis Fowkes, Robert Grimble, Richard Webster.

[Anthony Gosnold, "the younger," was a member of the Virginia Company. Two persons named Anthony Gosnold, doubtless father and son, went with the first planters to Virginia. Brown says (Genesis, II, 904), that the younger Anthony went to Virginia in the first expedition with his father and uncle—Bartholomew Gosnold must have been meant as the uncle. But a "Master Anthony Gosnol" was drowned in Virginia, Jan. 7, 1609. Therefore the son Anthony, to whom a bequest was made in 1615, could not have been the one who went to Virginia in 1606-7.—Ed.]

the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, Vol. lvi, p. 405, (October, 1902), but by some extraordinary slip he missed the reference to the grandson in Virginia. I hope this will help in his search for the great Bartholomew, the patriarch of all Massachusetts pioneers.—L. W.]

CURTIS FAMILY.

Recently I have been interested in tracing the family of Col. Rice Curtis, Burgess for Spotsylvania county, during the XXXII and XXXIII Assemblies and possibly the XXXIV.

I read in the "Va. Mag. of Hist. and Biog.," Vols. V. p. 344 and XIII, 59-62, the notice of Maj. Thomas Curtis, the emigrant, and therefore send you some notes I took about thirty years ago.

Col. Robert Curtis, of Gloucester county, Va., who died some sixty-five years ago, had a MS, giving his direct descent from Maj. Curtis. Col. Curtis's brother-in-law, the late Maj. John Henry Fitzhugh, of Austin, Texas, had a copy of this MS. The time I saw it, it was mutilated and so badly damaged by water that only the first page could be deciphered.

The paper showed that Major Thomas Curtis had five sons and two daughters as follows: Children of Maj. Thomas Curtis, of Gloucester county, Va., and Avarilla his wife.

Giles, Charles and James moved to Middlesex county.

Giles Curtis had sons, Rice and James and a daughter Jane.

Charles had a son James and a daughter Avarilla. James had sons, Thomas and James and a daughter Agatha.

I could make nothing more of this paper, it was so faded and blotted by water stains. Major Fitzhugh, who was born and raised in Middlesex county, Va., told me that he had made this copy of Col. Curtis' MS when he (Fitzhugh) was a young man and did not remember its contents.

NOTES AND QUERIES.

DAWSON FAMILY.

EDITORS VIRGINIA MAGAZINE:

Three names in the Census of Gloucester county attract my attention: Leonard, Thomas and James Dawson.

I am anxious to find the ancestors of a James Dawson, of Virginia, place of residence unknown until 1808. The birth of one of his children is recorded as at Lynchburg, Va., 1808.

Having reason to hope that the father of James, of the inclosed list, is one of the persons whose names appear in the Census, I will be greatly favored if you will insert this in your Query Column, or shall be greatly indebted for a reply from your Genealogist, identifying the two: James Dawson, born in Virginia, October 11, 1781; wife, Phebe Walker, born in Virginia, April 20, 1788.

The family moved to Danville, Kentucky, 1812 or 1814, where Josephine Dawson married William H. Strong, June 7, 1832; issue, nine children.

James William Strong married Eliza Jane Hedenburg, June 24, 1856, whose descendants are trying to find their Virginia ancestors on their Dawson line. Any information very gratefully received in the Query Column of Virginia Magazine.

MICHAEL MUSGRAVE’S WILL.

In the name of God. Amen. I, Michael Musgrave, of the Parish of Pienketank, on the River Rappahannock, in the county of Middlesex, Virginia, being in very good health, perfect memory and understanding, praised be to Almighty God for the same, considering with myself the frailty of human life, and that all flesh must yield to death, but the time thereof being very uncertain, do thereof, whilst I do continue in my perfect memory and understanding and to avoid controversy that may otherwise after my decease arise, constitute, ordain and appoint these parties to be my true last will and testament in manner and form following, viz.:

Imprimis. I recommend my soul into the hands of Almighty God, my Saviour and Redeemer, and He who created me and all mankind. Hoping through the alone merits and mediations of Jesus Christ my alone Saviour and Redeemer to be raised at the General Day of Resurrection, and to be received into His heavenly mansion, where there is fullness of joy and bliss forever. Amen.

As to my worldly estate I dispose of it as follows, viz.: I doe order and appoint that my just debts be first paid and satisfied, and if there be any overplus, do give and bequeath the same unto my daughter, Elizabeth Musgrave, who troubles me to think of what poor condition she is here in England, leaving her here in the city of London, in the house of John Holmes, Plumstreet Court, near Holbourne Ridge, in the Parish of St. Andrew, there to be nursed, taught, and brought up, and I shall while I am in the present world, use my utmost diligence in maintaining my aforesaid child whilst I have life, and in case I dye whilst going over the sea to Virginia or doe otherwise that well I desire my aforesaid daughter, Elizabeth Musgrave, may be possessed with all my worldly estate, both real and personal, both in Virginia and elsewhere, after all my aforesaid lawful debts are fully satisfied, being able to do littel more for her in this present world, leaving her to the care and protection of that God with whom I shall shortly be.

And, lastly, I doe make, so constitute and ordain, and appoint my dear and loving brother, Mr. Thomas Musgrave, minister of Woolbed, in the county of Sussex, near the towne of Midhurst, and my well beloved friend, Mr. Will Newbon, Grocer, situated in the Parish of St. Giles, Cripplegate, full and sole executors of this my last will and testament, not doubting in the least but that having been so extraordinarily kind to me and mine whilst living they will not prove otherwise to my dear child after my decease. And further I do annul, frustrate and make void all former wills made by me, either by writing or by word of mouth, and doe pronounce and declare these presents to be my only last will and testament. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal this one and twenty day of December, one thousand six hundred and ninety-seven, (?) one thousand six hundred and seventy-nine.

MANOR HOUSE OF LARK STOKE.
It is stated in the Brent genealogy and borne out by the memorial tablet in Ilmington Church.* and by other evidence, that Robert Brent, son of Robert Brent of Cossington by Margaret, came to Stoke near Camden in Gloucestershire about the year 1487 and lived concealed under the name of John Buston. The reason for concealment can be only conjectured but was probably political. The battle of Bosworth field had been fought only two years before, and England for a long time had been rent by internal dissentions. However, there were various reasons for changing names then as at the present time. Fuller in his "Worthies" mentions some of them as follows:

_Fuller's Worthies_, Vol. I, p. 70.

Altering Surnames—Reasons for—

1. Concealment in time of civil wars.

2. For Advancement, when adopted into an estate.

Whatever the reason in this case for concealment, there was evidently

*That the Brents of Gloucestershire and Warwickshire were descended from the Somersetshire family is clearly indicated in several ways, but the Woodstock genealogy is the authority for the statement that the ancestor who came from Somerset in 1487 or thereabouts was named Robert, that he was the son of Robert and Margaret, and the brother of John Brent who married Maud Poncefoot. The will of this John Brent does not mention a brother Robert nor does his father's will mention a son Robert. Collinson does not refer to this son Robert, but he does not give all of the descendants, as may be seen in the case of the will of John Brent, above mentioned. A note to the Oxfordshire pedigree indicates the connection between Sir Nathaniel Brent and the Cossington family, which is corroborated by his published biography, and his father, Ancar Brent, is shown by the wills of William Brent and his brother Nicholas to have been their cousin, though in what degree it does not appear. The dates of their deaths are not inconsistent with the account given in the Woodstock genealogy. There are some discrepancies, however, which indicate that the Woodstock genealogy is an independent account, perhaps derived from more ancient sources, and that its author was not acquainted with the Ilmington inscription. Anthony A. Wood, the historian of Oxford University, states that Sir Nathaniel Brent was the son of Anchor [Ancar] Brent of Little Woolford in Warwickshire, a younger son of Richard Brent, gentleman, eldest son of John Brent of the house of Cossington in Somersetshire. He also mentions a William Brent, whose great grandfather, William Brent, of Stoke Lark, in Gloucestershire, was younger brother to Richard Brent, grandfather to Sir Nathaniel Brent. The William Brent first mentioned above was evidently the son of Richard Brent and Elizabeth Reed.
no stigma at taching to the act, as the name of Brent was soon resumed and the family acquired large estates of which they remained in undisturbed possession for many generations.

The place of burial of this family was in the church at Illmington in Warwickshire, where a memorial tablet in brass gives an account of their marriages and deaths, of which the following is a transcript:

The Brents of Stoke have had a place of burial here since the coming of their ancestor out of Somersetshire about the year 1487 by the concealed name of John Buston, who married Margery, daughter of George Colchester, then of Stoke and Admington, Esq., about the year 1498 and died 1531.

Their son William Brent Lord of Stoke and Admington dyed 1595 with Elizabeth his wife here buried. Their son Richard Brent married Mary daughter of John Huggeford and Katherine Hennage his wife, 1572, and died 1587. Here buried. Their son Richard Brent married Elizabeth daughter of Giles Reed Esquire & Katherine Grevill his wife Anno 1594 and dyed 1652. He was here buried but his wife at Bredon with her father. Their son Richard Brent married Margaret daughter of Sir John Peshall Baronet and Anne Sheldon his wife Ano 1622. Four of whose children (viz) Frances, Mary, Elizabeth, and Giles lye here buried Anno 1657. The sd. Margaret Brent died June 20th, 1666. Here buried.

Illmington is eight miles from Stratford, and lies on the hillside overlooking the vale of the Red Horse.

The church consists of a nave, western tower, north and south transepts, and a chancel with a small vestry on the north side. A considerable portion of the church appears to be of the Norman period, including part of the tower, the south doorway, some of the north wall of the nave, and the chancel arch. Most of the windows of the chancel, and also a priest's doorway on the south side are of early English date. The church was considerably restored about 1840. Upon the walls and floor may be noticed monuments to the Brents, Cannings, Overburys and Palmers. Richard Palmer married the daughter of that family of Borton, one of whom was the famous Sir Thomas who fell a victim to the malice of the Countess of Essex in the time of James I.*

Lark Stoke in Gloucestershire is four miles north-east of Chipping Campden. Admington is six miles north-east of the same place and two miles from Lark Stoke.

This region at the junction of Warwickshire, Gloucestershire and Worcestershire is of peculiar interest in many ways. It is the Shakespeare neighborhood; Stratford is not far away. Warwick Castle, Charlecote, the home of the Lucy's, and the forest of Arden are within easy distance, and many of the local and family names are connected either directly or indirectly with the memory of the poet.

Many of the old Catholic families were located here, and in some of the villages the old faith was never entirely extinguished, despite the most stringent penal laws and political and other disabilities imposed upon recusants, and not removed until the beginning of the last century.

Admington and Lark Stoke are described by Samuel Rudder in his "New History of Gloucestershire" (1779). Under the head of Queinton he gives the following account:

Robert Marmion who in the time of Henry III held one of the manors of Queinton "took away the abbey of Polesworth from the nuns of that place and drove them to Oldbury. But when Marmion was in bed at Tamworth," says the legendary story about that matter, "Saint Edyth to whom the abbey was dedicated, appeared to him with her crozier and told him that unless he restored the abbey to the nuns, he should have an evil death and go to hell; and then striking him on the side with the crozier, vanished. Upon which under great anxiety, he confessed to a priest, restored the abbey immediately and was well." * *

Hamlets.—There are six hamlets in this parish.

3. Adminton, or Adderminton, or more antiently Edelminton. Among the lands belonging to the abbey of Winchcomb, in Domesday Book, are the following particulars:

"The same church (Winchcomb) holds Edelmintone in Celflede hundred. There are three hides and a half. In demean are two plow-tillages and thirteen villeins with six plow tillages. There are four servi and two ancilæ. It was worth 4s 6d. now 3s. 6d. Domesday Book, p. 71.

The abbey purchased a charter of free warren in Adelminston 35 Henry III, which privilege was allowed in a writ of quo warranto 15

Edward I. The abbot of Winchcombe assigned this manor to the abbey of St. Ebroul in Normandy, 1 Edward II, but it reverted to the monks of Wichcombe, who were the proprietors of this manor till their house was dissolved. Tithes in Adelminton, which belonged to that abbey, were granted to Sir Thomas Seimour, 1 Edward VI. The manor and chapel of Adminton, and lands called Wind-Cerney, &c., formerly belonging to the abbey of Winchcombe, were granted to William Brent, alias Burston, 7 Edward VI (1554). Earl Brooke is the present Lord of this manor and has a large house here.

John Witchurch granted ten librats of land in Adelminton to the abbey of Evesham 6 Edward II.

Lark Stoke.

This place is a hamlet in the parish of Ilmington, or Ilmington, in Warwickshire, but the hamlet itself is in Gloucestershire. It is mentioned as a distinct manor in the ancient survey, of which the following is a translation:

"The same church (St. Mary of Evesham) holds Stoch in Widelei hundred. There are two hides and one plow-tillage in demean, and seven villeins and two bordars with two plow tillages. There is one servus. It is and was worth 40s." Domesday Book, p. 72.

The manor anciently belonged to the family of Bishopstones. John de Bishopsdon died seized of Lark Stoke with free warren therein, 13 Edward II (1307). Sir William Bishopston levied a fine of this manor to the use of divers persons for life the remainder to himself and the heirs of his body by Philippa his wife, 11 Henry 7th (1494). John de Vall was seized of Lands in Lark Stoke and Queinton 36, Edward III (1363). This estate was afterwards in possession of the Brents who were seized of it when Sir Robert Atkyns compiled his account of Gloucestershire, in which he has fallen into several mistakes concerning it and has placed the abstract from Domesday Book under Stoke Archer in the parish of Cleeve. Larke Stoke has been lately purchased by John Hart, Esq., who is the present Lord of the manor and proprietor of a fine estate there.

The manor house of the Brents at Lark Stoke is still in existence. It is a large stone house of massive construction and is said to date from the time of James I or perhaps a little later.

Upon an archway near the house may still be seen carved in stone the crest of the Brents, the wyvern.

It is owned by Canning Howard, Esq., of Corby Castle, Carlisle and of Foxcote House, Shipston on Stour. It is used as a farm house and occupied by a family by the name of Wilson.

The house at Admington is probably a more modern structure.

Sir Thomas Atkyns, writing in 1712 says of Lark Stoke: "This manor is now in the family of the Brents who are the present possessors thereof and have an ancient seat in this place.'

Sir William Dugdale in his "History of Warwickshire" states:

"About a quarter of a mile North West from the town (Ilmington) there is a strong chalybeate spring. The ground about it was generously given to the public forever by Sir Henry afterwards Lord Capell, then Lord of the Manor, and by Robert Brent of Larkstoke Esqr., who were the owners thereof."

The Brents of Stoke and Admington.

Afterwards it was finished by Wm. Brent, Esq'r, and printed at London, 1677 (being the same person that had before wrote (sic), a book entitled, "A discourse upon the nature of eternity and the condition of a separated soul according to the grounds of reason and principles of Christian Religion," London, 1655, written while he was a prisoner in the Gatehouse at Westminster. It was afterwards printed there again in 1674.)

By the way it must be known that though we have had several Brets who have been students of the University (Oxford), yet this Will. Brent was not, but educated when a youth in Coll. of English Jesuits at St. Omers. Afterwards being entered into the Society of Grey's Inn, he became a barrister and a solicitor or such like officer under Thomas Earl of Strafford, when he was Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. He was born at Stoke Lark in Gloucestershire, in the Parish of Illmington in Warwickshire, and having suffered much for his religion by imprisonment, payments of money, and I know not what, lived privately several years at Foxcote in Warwickshire, and in his last days in London. He died near Little Turnstile, in Holborn in the Parish of St. Giles, in the Fields near London, 21 May, 1691, aged 80 years or more." 5. Edward, unmarried; 6. THE MALLORY FAMILY.

Note.—By accident the pages of the last instalment of this genealogy were transposed. The correct order in which they should be read is 441, 443 (which should be 442), 442 (which should be 443) 444, and 445.

Thomas Mallory, 6th son of Sir John Mallory, of Studley (see this Magazine XIII, 442), was born about 1566. He was B. D. of Cambridge, and was instituted June 27, 1599, to the important living of Ronaldskirk in the North Riding of Yorkshire. He also held the livings of Mobberley and Davenham in Cheshire; was instituted Archdeacon of Richmond,

* Concerning him the following is quoted from the Harleian Society Publications:

John Litcott—A Soldier of fortune in Scotland in the time of King Charles I.

Sir John Litcott, knighted by —— in France, 1702. No child living.

Anne, daughter of Robert Brent the famous Prosecutor of King James II, time.

Bridget unmarried.

James, died young.

†George Brent was twice married afterwards, had children by both marriages and left a son Richard who went to France.
Nov. 6, 1603, and on July 25, 1607, was presented to the Deanery of Chester. On Oct. 11, 1619, he purchased the advowson of Mobberley Church and became its parson in 1621. During the Civil wars Dean Mallory and his sons became active adherents of the King. In 1642 he was obliged to fly from his rectory house at Mobberley, and according to Walker (Sufferings of the Clergy, II, 305, 311), found refuge in Chester. He died at Chester, April 3d, 1644, and was buried in the quire of the Cathedral.

By his marriage with Elizabeth, daughter of Richard Vaughan, Bishop of Chester, he had issue:

I. Richard,⁶ of Mobberley, eldest son, married and had issue. The estate of Mobberley descended in his family. His estates was sequestered by Parliament, and he made composition for £193.16.

II. Sir William,⁶ baptized at Davenham, Aug. 4, 1606. He was of Bishop Auckland, was a Captain in the army of Charles I; was knighted Feb. 1, 1642-3, and died in 1643, without issue. On Oct. 26, 1643, Philip Mallory, of Norton, clerk, administered on his estate. Sir William was either killed or died in service.

III. Thomas⁶ (of whom later).

IV. George⁶, curate of Mobberley in 1632, married Alice, daughter of Thomas Strethill, of Mobberley, settled in Ireland, and had many children.

V. John⁶, baptized at Davenham, May 4, 1612.

VI. Avery⁶.

VII. Everard⁶.

VIII. Rev. Philip⁶, "son to the Right Wor'll M'r Thomas Mallory, Dean of Chester, baptized April 29, 1618," (Register of St. Oswald's, Chester). He emigrated to Virginia. For a sketch of his life and an abstract of his will, which mentions his nephews, Roger and Thomas Mallory, then in Virginia, see this Magazine XII, 398-402.

IX. Francis⁶, baptized Jan. 13, 1622.

X. Jane, wife of John Halford, of Davenham.

XI. Katherine⁶ (Martha?) married John Batte, of Okewell, Yorkshire, who emigrated to Virginia.

XII. Elizabeth, wife of Rev. Thomas Glover.

XIII. Mary, married Rev. Edward Wirley.

Rev. Thomas⁶ Mallory (son of Dean Mallory), was father of the emigrants to Virginia. A sketch of his life and a copy of his will are given in this Magazine XII, 400-401. In addition, however, the following, derived like most of the other information in regard to the Mallorys of Cheshire, from The Cheshire Sheaf, will be given.

Thomas Mallory, the younger, was the fourth son of the Dean, and was born about 1605. On the 15th October, 1624, he matriculated at New College, Oxford. By his brother, Richard Mallory of Mobberley, Esq., and Wm. Forster, Gent.; he was in 1634–5 instituted to the Rectory of Northenden, Cheshire, (15 February) and was re-presented by the King, 6th August in the same year (Earwaker's East Cheshire) i. 292-3) The death of his wife Jane occurred at Northenden, 12th February, 1638–9, but he seems to have re-married before 1643.

On the breaking out of the war, he, like his father, was compelled to forsake his benefice; and he fled to the adjoining garrison of Withenshaw, which had been fortified by Mr. Talton, as described in some interesting and original papers in East Cheshire, pp. 314-5. In that stronghold Mallory met with another determined anti-Parliament parson, Mr. Pollitt, the Curaté of Choalton-cum-Hatvrey who had made himself obnoxious to his leading parishioners by attending horse races at Barlow Moor, and by other proceedings which they deemed unclerical.

In giving evidence against this clergyman, John Barlow, one of the villagers swore (10th February, 1647–8) that he had heard Mr. Pollitt confess to Mr. Hyde of Dentor that he went to Withenshaw, then a garrison, to speak with Mr. Mallory, of Northenden, a malignant parson. Withenshaw house was finally attacked and taken (25th February, 1643–4) by Col. Robert Duckenfield, and Mallory was one of those whose names were taken down as being then present. His living was sequestered about Aug. 1644, and others served the Cure.

His possessions consisted of a parsonage house and a little glebe land thereto. His wife claimed and received her fifths out of the Rectory.

Where the family resorted to does not appear. But in 1648, 6th July, Henry Newcome, afterwards the well known Minister of Manchester, was married "at Mr. Mallory's house at Davenshaw (qu. Davenham?) to Mistress Elizabeth Manwaringe." Autob. pp. 295 and 10. At Davenham the elder Mallory had been incumbent 43 years. Mallory in some way obtained in the year 1661, a title to the Rectory of Eccleston, in Leyland Hundred, Lancashire, (Baines New Ed. II, 148), an appointment which occurred in the very year in which Edward Gee, the energetic Presbyterian placed there by the local classis, was imprisoned.

Gee, however, returned from his incarceration; and he dated his prison book, A Treatise of Prayer, Lond. 8vo, from Eccleston which indeed he continued to occupy. The circumstances attending Mallory's presentation to this rectory are not on record, but his right to it at the Restoration does not seem to have been called in question.

The next important event in Mallory's life was his engaging with Sir George Booth in the Cheshire Rising. On the passing of the Act in 1661, Mallory entered into possession both of Northenden and Eccleston, for both livings had become vacant by the deaths of those who had been appointed during the interregnum.

Mr. Earwaker (I 295) states that Mallory was re-instated at Northen-den in the year 1662; but no authority is cited for that date, which seems about a year too late. Alluding to the preceding rector, Henry Dunster, who was buried there 20th March, 1661–2, Calamy says that Mr. Mellory (i.e. Mallory) was remarkably grateful to him. On April 17, 1662, Mallory received a dispensation to hold the rectories of Ecleston and Northenden. In some way Mallory became possessed likewise of the Advowson of this Rectory; for in the Chester Chapter Books there is an entry, 31st October, 1662, that the Advowson of Northenden for one term only was to be altered, on Dr. Mallory's behalf, from his own name to those of Sir Jeffrie Shakerly, Sir John Nederne and Edward Hyde, Esq. The next vacancy, which did not arise through Mallory's death, occurred about five years later, when John Cooke was instituted Rector, 25th February, 1667–8, on the presentation of Edward Hyde of Hyde Esq. (Ewanker I. 295).

In the year 1660, when there were many applications for the vacant ecclesiastical patronage in the King's gift, Mallory was active for his own further advancement. On the 6th July that year he drew up a petition for the rich Rectory of Houghton—On-the-Side—i.e., we presume, Houghton-le-Spring, soon to be void by the removal of Dr. John Barwick to the Deanery of Durham, in which he was installed 1st Nov. Mallory's petition is as follows Slate Papers. Dom. Chas. II, vol. VII, No. 58:

‘To the King's Most Excellent Ma'ty:

The humble peti'on of Tho. Mallory, Clerk, Sheweth that y'r pet'r hath served y'r Royall father throughout ye Warre and y'r royall selfe in ye late (though abortive) endeavors of ye Cheshire Gentlemen, hath ever beene conformable to ye Government and Discipline of ye Church of England; and whereas ye Rectory of Houghton On the Side, in the Bishoprick of Duresme, is now voyd and in y'r Mat'y Donac'on.

‘May it therefore please y'r gracious Mat'y to grant y'r royall present'a'n unto ye said Rectory unto ye pet'r
And y'r pet'r shall ever pray, &c.'

‘At the Court at Whitehall ye 6th of July 1660:

‘His Ma'tie is graciously pleased to referre this Petition to Doctor Shelden Deane of the Chappell, Dr. Earles Deane of Westminster and Doctor Morley Deane of Christ Church or any two of them, who are to inform themselves of the Pet'rs merit and due qualisacaco' for the said preferment and report the same to his Ma'tie together with their opinions.

‘Whereupon his Majesty will signify his further pleasure.

Edw. Nicholas.

This Petitioner is capable of ye favour he desires.

G. Sheldon,

Geor. Morley.

(Note Endorsed).
The dignitaries named in the King's direction were those who managed the ecclesiastical business at the Restoration.

To this paper is annexed a Document Humbly Certifying “that ye Bearer hereof Tho: Mallory M. of Arts, Episcopally ordained, is of a holy life and Conversation, orthodoxe in Judgm't conformable to the Antient Doctrine and Discipline of ye Church of England, and hath bene in these late revoluc'ons of times faithfull and loyall to his Sacred Ma'tye, and to his father of ever blessed Memory.” This Certificate is signed by Bruno Ryves, Deane of Chich (ester); George Hall, Arch-deacon of Cornwall; Thomas Hyde, Can. D'ni. Epi. Sarum; and Geo. Wilde, LL. D. All were firm and active royalists. Ryves was the author of Mercurius Rusticus and other writings in the interest of the King. Hall, son of the celebrated bishop of that name, had been beneficed in Cornwall during the troubles, was consecrated Bishop of Chester in 1662, and as such was, according to Martindale, p. 165, "brisk with his significavits." Hyde belonged to the family of the Chancellor Clarenden, and held other preferments in Salisbury Cathedral. Wilde became Bishop of Londonderry.

Some of these clergymen were amongst those who ministered to loyal congregations in London during the troubles; and an indication of Mallory's presence with them is obtained.

The petition for the Rectory of Houghton was not successful; for Dr. William Sancroft was appointed 7th December, 1661, on the resignation of Barwick (Surtees Durham, i 157). Mallory next tried to obtain other preferment in the north, and in July, 1660, addressed the following to the King (Ibid, Vol. VI) No. 104:

"To the King's Most Excellent Ma'ty:

The humbe petic'on of Thomas Mallery, Clerke Sheweth:

"That ye pet'r is and ever hath bene a faithfull sonne of ye Church of England, a Loyall and obedient Servant & Sub't of y'r royall father & y'r Ma'ty; that besides his personall Sufferings for his Loyalty, which were eminent, he hath lost 5 Brethren, of whom some dyed, others were slain in his late Majestyes service.

"And whereas ye Prebend of Stillington belonging to the Cathredrall Church of Yorke is now voyd, & in your Ma'tys Gift by vacancy of that See. May it therefore please your sacred Mat'y to conferre ye s'd Prebend upon y'r Pet'r.

And ye pet'r shall as in duty bound pray."

"At the Court at Whitehall ye 13th of July 1660 His Ma'tie referres this petic'on to Doctor Sheldon, Doctor * * * *"

The piece of patronage went, however, into the hands of Henry Bridgeman (brother of Sir Orlando) who afterwards succeeded to the Deanery of Chester and Bishopric of Man.
At length Mallory's pertinacity was rewarded by a Prebend, viz., the Sixth Stall in Chester, being presented to it on the 30th July, 1660 (Le Neve, III 271; Kennet, 333; Omerod, I, 271). It has been said that he held this stall 'till 1662, probably resigning it on leaving Chester for Northenden. But this date wants modifying. The next Prebendary in Le Neve's list (Evans) was indeed instituted in 1662; but it does not follow that he passed into Mallory's Stall, for Le Neve has put all the six prebends in one list, chronologically arranged; but Omerod (i 271) has more properly divided the names into six lists, from which it is ascertained that Mallory's successor in the Sixth Stall was appointed in 1664. According to the new edition of Ormerod (i. 271), there is a doubt whether this Prebendary was the same person as the Rector of Northenden.

On 19th Sept., 1660, Mallory, then called M. A., was further admitted to the Prebend of Wolvey, in the Cathedral of Lichfield (Kennet, p. 333; Le Neve, I, 642). He probably had an early promise of this preferment, for on the 4th August in the same year he signs his name as Preb. de Lichfield to a document advancing the claims of Francis Mosley, Minister of Bunbury, in Cheshire, to a Fellowship, in Manchester Church, his (Mallory's) associates in that kind office being Dean Henry Bridgeman, D. D., Dean of Chester; Rich. Heyricke (Warden of Manchester); Tho. Case (of London); Joan. Cole, D. D.; B. Eaton, D. D.; and Richard Johnson (Fellow of Manchester).

About this time Mallory would seem to have obtained his degree of S. T. P. In 1661–2 (Feb. 25) Dr. Mallory was nominated by the Chapter of Chester to the Rectory of St. Mary's, Chester, on the avoidance thereof by Mr. Richard Hunt, in order to a certain agreement between him and Capt. Richard Brereton, of Chester.

Mallory died at Brindle, near his Rectory of Eccleston, where he was buried on 8th September, 1671.

Rev. Thomas Mallory names in his will, his wife Francis, his sons Thomas and Roger in Virginia, his son John, in London, and daughters Jane Stampe, Mary Forde and Susanna.

VIRGINIA STATE LIBRARY. CALENDAR OF TRANSCRIPTS, Including the Annual report of the Department of Archives and History. John P. Kennedy, State Librarian, Richmond, Va., 1905, pp. 658, xlv (index).

The State Library has rendered a very great service to students of Virginia history by the publication of this admirable catalogue of the public records of the State. This volume covers far wider ground than its title would indicate, for it not only contains a calendar of the transcripts from the English Public Record Office, which are now in the State Library; but also gives a list of the legislative and council journals, and of the great mass of original Colonial and State records, which still remain to us, in spite of so many and so serious losses.

For the first time the wealth of our records is at all properly shown.

The work of preparing this catalogue and calendar was of course very great and the Librarian and his assistants are to be congratulated on the successful result.

The volume begins with a summary of the archives in the Library, and this is followed by the various lists and calendars. Perhaps the best way, in the limited space we have, to give an idea of the character and value of the volume is simply to list its contents. They are as follows: Pages 14-40 Journals and Minutes of Council. Most of these refer to the Council in its executive capacity; but there are records of thirty-five sessions of that body sitting as upper house of Assembly. These are most valuable aids to the study of bi-cameral legislation in Virginia. The earliest Journal of the Upper House (that of 1685, a copy in the McDonald Papers) shows that all the legislative methods of an upper chamber had fully developed by that time. The Executive Journals of Council of 1776-83 throw much light on Revolutionary history.

Pages 41-65 Legislative Journals, Minutes, and other cognate records. The lack of Journals of the House of Burgess is the weak point in the collection of records; but it is one which the Library is rapidly filling. It will not be many years before copies of all remaining journals (probably but few, if any, prior to 1680), will be accessible at the Library and in course of time all will be printed. As is well known there are many serious gaps in the printed Journals of the House of Delegates. Fortunately the manuscript Journals seem to be in an unbroken series down to 1809, and the rough minutes come down much farther.

Pages 65-68 give a list of the Journals and other records of the various Conventions. Pages 68-72 give the executive (gubernatorial) journals, 72-79, Governor's Letter Books, and 79-80 Executive Minutes. 80-81 include various civil lists (justices, &c.), 1775-1860, while 81-93 are devoted to the very valuable military records. These include the ten priceless volumes relating to the conquest of the Northwest Territory, a collection, which is almost unknown, and whose value to the historian can hardly be over estimated. It is to be hoped that this great collection will soon be placed by the Library in such condition as to be easily consulted by students. The original papers were placed in these volumes, probably at the time the commissioners made their final report, and are arranged in a most disorderly way.

94-101 contain lists of the transcripts from the county records, Accomack, Elizabeth City, Essex, Henrico, Old Rappahannock, Surry, York and Warwick (none complete) and a tentative statement of the records existing in the various counties. No accurate statement will ever be obtained in regard to the latter without a special inspection. The county clerks, as a rule, are too indifferent and have too little knowledge of the records in their custody for their reports to be of much value.

The volumes of Auditor's accounts which are in the Library are listed on pages 101-105. The thirty-eight folio volumes covering the period 1775-91 are of great value in regard to the Revolution.

Omitting matters of minor interest, we come to the abstracts and transcripts from English public records, the calendar of which begins on page 112 and continues to the end of the book. Among these is the calendar of the Sainsbury Abstracts, which notes each document in the twenty volumes of that collection. It is true that the documents in this collection are also included in the English Calendar of Colonial State Papers (as far as that publication has been issued), but it should be borne in mind that the Sainsbury Abstracts are on the average, one-third fuller than those published by the English authorities—a very important matter in ascertaining the sense and contents of a paper.

In addition there are calendars of the copies in the McDonald, De Jarnett, Winder and other collections of papers.

It will be seen from this brief summary that this volume must prove an indispensable guide for all work in Virginia history.

No one could have been better adapted than Dr. Graham to write the history of the founding of Presbyterianism in the lower Shenandoah Valley, and in Northern Virginia generally. He has investigated thoroughly all remaining sources of information and has weighed his evidence carefully. After treating of the settlement of Presbyterianism in the lower Valley (which he places as early as 1720), the author takes up the various Churches in the order of their organization, Potomac, Opequon, Bullskin, South Branch, Cedar Creek, Tuscarora, Back Creek, Cape Capon, Falling Waters, Patterson's Creek, Shepherds-town, &c., in the various counties which came within the limits of his work.

The book contains a great deal of valuable and interesting historical and biographical matter, and should have a place in all collections relating to Virginia.

LOPEZ’S EXPEDITIONS TO CUBA, 1850 AND 1851. By Anderson C.
Quisenberry, member of The Filson Club, author of “The Life and Times of Humphrey Marshall” [&c., &c.,]. * * * Illustrated.
* * * Louisville, Ky., 1906, Filson Club Publications No. 21, pp. 172.

Col. Durrett says, in his introduction, “I am not familiar with any previous work in which these expeditions have been so fully and faithfully recorded.” As Kentuckians bore such a conspicuous part in these once noted attempts, it is suitable that a Kentuckian should write, and that the Filson Club should publish in its usual sumptuous manner a worthy history of them.

Mr. Quisenberry has carefully investigated all available sources of information and has prepared a work of real interest and value. It is handsomely illustrated with portraits and maps.

John Meriwether McAllister, Atlanta, Ga., and Lura Boulton Tandy, Illustrated.

This book on the various families of Lewis in Virginia, and including many connected names, is the result of years of painstaking and labor-ous research, and must be of much interest and value to all who are related to the families treated of. The various families of the name Lewis tracing to Gloucester county, to Zachary Lewis, “Planter John Lewis,” and John Lewis of Henrico, Jno. Lewis of Donegal, John Lewis of Hanover, are treated of at length. Genealogies of Reade, Warner, Washington, Dr. Breuil or Dibrell, Lee, Russell, Fearn, Cobbs, Meriwether, McAllister, Boulton, Estes, Hickman, and many others also are given in varying degrees of completeness as they happen to come within the scope of the work.

The work of the compilers, one of whom, Mr. McAllister, is now dead, can be highly commended, though some may not agree with them as to the existence of General Robert Lewis, as to the claim that the Lewises and not the Warners first owned "Warner Hall," that the parentage of Col. Clement Reade has been definitely established, or in thinking that Dr. Lee was in error in rejecting a lineage which (according to this author's belief) goes back to the Norman Conquest, or indeed various other disputed matters. These things have all been often discussed, and materials on which to form an opinion are accessible to most persons who are interested.

POCAHONTAS. By Virginia Armistead Garber. Illustrated by the

Mrs. Garber has told very prettily, and at the same time accurately, in Hiawathan verse, the romantic story of Pocahontas. At this anniversary period, when the public mind is turned so greatly to the early days of Virginia, a wide popularity can safely be predicted for this little book.
The exquisite colored frontispiece portrait of Pocahontas (copied from the original) will make persons desire to own two copies of the book—one to preserve in the library and the other to be deprived of the frontispiece for framing. Mrs. Garber has very appropriately dedicated her poem to the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities.

PLANTATION TALES. By George E. Wiley, M. D., Bristol, Va. Illus-

It is stated in the Publisher's Note that the profits of this book will be devoted to the maintenance of a home for old worn-out ex-slaves, and quotes letters commending the plan from ex-Governors Montague and Tyler and a number of other prominent citizens. The volume contains fifteen negro dialect stories, taken from the lips of colored people who related them. It is thus an interesting and valuable addition to our Southern folklore.

IN MEMORIAM.

John Peyton McGuire.

Born September 30, 1836. Died April 29, 1908.

The Executive Committee of the Virginia Historical Society desiring to record in permanent form its high esteem and affection for its late member, and its sense of sorrow at his death, has ordered this memorial to be published in the Virginia Magazine of History and Biography.

John Peyton McGuire was born at "The Rectory," Essex county, Virginia, September 30, 1836, and was the son of Rev. John P. McGuire, Rector of South Farnham parish, and Maria Mercer Garnett his wife. On both sides he was descended from old and honored Virginia families.

After education at the Episcopal High School and the University of Virginia he began his life-long profession, as a teacher, in the High School, and during a portion of the War between the States was instructor of Mathematics on the Confederate naval school-ship Patrick Henry. In October, 1865, he opened his school in Richmond and was its principal at the time of his death.

Such are the simple facts of Mr. McGuire's life. His true history is in the lives of the 4,000 boys he taught. His character was as simple and straightforward as his life. He was a scholar, a gentleman and a Christian. He loved good books and good men, and in his modest and gentle, but when need be, firm way, he spared no pains in the endeavor to teach his pupils good scholarship and good literature and to become high-minded and God-fearing men.

As no branch of science or art can be truly taught without inculcating devotion to duty, love of truth, and a widely embracing charity, it may be fitly said of him, though no minister, as it was said of one of old:

“Christ's lore, and his Apostles twelve
He taught; and first he followed it himself.”

In every situation of life in which he was placed Mr. McGuire bore himself worthily; but it was as a teacher that his great work was done, and for which he will long be held in honor and loving remembrance by thousands of hearts. Though his work was in a narrower sphere than Rugby, not Arnold himself could have left a deeper impress on his pupils.

On the 14th of June of last year his scholars, old and new, showed the esteem in which they held him by presenting his portrait to the University of Virginia. This honor and affection was more strongly emphasized at his funeral, when a tribute was paid such as no teacher in Richmond had ever before received—a great body of pupils, those of thirty years ago, together with those of to-day, marching in column through the streets as an escort to the remains of their beloved teacher. The eyes of men who had associated with Mr. McGuire in such bodies as our Committee, filled with tears, and little boys, only a short time in his school, wept at his grave.

Such was the life and death of our late associate, whose memory as a most loyal and devoted Virginian, an active and interested member of our Society, a great teacher, and a noble exemplar of all that is highest and best in character, will long be cherished by us.

THE HISTORY OF FAMILIES OF PITTSYLVANIA COUNTY, VIRGINIA.

Pittsylvania County is the largest county in the State of Virginia, and was once even larger, embracing the territory now known as the counties of Patrick and Henry. Being incorporated in 1767, Pittsylvania has had an interesting history of its own for 138 years, covering the turbulent times of the Revolution.

The records and will books of the county are very complete and thorough, and in a perfect state of preservation, giving a list of all officers in the early magisterial courts; many rosters of officers and soldiers of the Revolution and Civil Wars and numbers of declarations of the Revolutionary soldiers.

From this county have gone many pioneers of iron nerve, who settled the vast South and West, and the descendants of these men would find the records of this county of untold interest.

I am in a position to furnish copies of and data from these records at a nominal price, and would be pleased to correspond with any one desiring information concerning them.

Mrs. NATHANIEL E. CLEMENT,
Member of Virginia Historical Society, Chatham, Pittsylvania County, Va.
Gilbert Elam having petitioned for a Grant of four hundred acres of Land lying on Deep Creek in Henrico County Surveyed

*The following corrections should be made to a note in the last number of the Magazine, note 30, p. 30:

Smith's River, which rises in Patrick county, and in the locality of Wart Mountain, was then called the Irvine River, and is altogether a different stream from either the North Mayo or South Mayo Rivers. The two Mayo Rivers unite in the south-western corner of Henry county, and by the name of Mayo River enter the Dan River at Madison, N. C.

Irvine or Smith's River empties into the Dan River at Leaksville, N. C., some fifteen miles below Madison. The Mayo Rivers, if I am not mistaken, took their name from William Mayo, one of the surveyors with Colonel William Byrd in running the dividing line between Virginia and North Carolina in 1738.

The "Wart Mountain," now called Buffalo Knob, is near the Patrick, Floyd and Carroll lines and is very much spoken of by Captain J. F. D.
long since for James Hill & no patent sued out for the same pursuant to the Orders of the Government, the said Hill this day appeared by his Council & insisted that he ought not to answer to this petition because he acknowledges that he hath no patent nor was the Land ever Surveyed for him & therefore he is not within the meaning of the orders of Government but is an intruder on his Majesties Land & ought to be prosecuted as such for as much as it was this day made appear to the Board that the said Land hath been Surveyed & the boundaries thereof plainly mark'd. It is Ordered that the Petitioner have a patent for the same upon his producing in the Secretarys Office a Copy of the Survey & entring Rights.

On hearing this day at the Board the matter in dispute between Richard Moseby & William McKay for four hundred Acres of Land in the County of Goochland Surveyed for the said McKay two Years and a half agoe but the Surveyors fee not paid by him & thereupon reentered by the said Richard Moseby & a debate arising whether a Surveyor is bound to deliver a Platt & Survey until he has received his fee or Security for the same. It was Resolved on the question That where a Surveyor has laid out & Surveyed a tract of Land & make out a Platt thereof he is not bound to deliver such Platt to the Person employing him in order to obtain a Patent without Payment for such Survey or good Security tendered him for the payment thereof where such Officers fees are payable. But for as much as it appears to this Board that the Defdt. McKay hath been by unavoidable accidents Obstructed in suing out his Patent, It is Ordered that he be at liberty to sue out the same until the end of next General Court & that Moseby's Petition be dismist.

On reading at this Board the Petition of Benjamin Walker Gent in behalf of himself & many other Inhabitants of St. Margarets Parish [Caroline county] Complaining that John Brunskill* Clerk Minister of the said Parish hath neglected to perform Service at a Chapple of ease built several Years agoe for the conveniency of a great Number of families living remote from the Church of the said Parish & refusing to preach or read prayers there as by law he is obliged. It is Ordered that Mr. Brunskill attend this Board on the second day of next Gen'l Court to answer the said complaint.

Benja. Walker Gent. having complained to this Board that the Inspectors at Roys & Conways Warehouses in Caroline County have greatly neglected their duty, that they refuse to give Transfer Notes for Stem'd Tobacco & make Sale thereof or oblige the Persons who receive it to allow them ten fifteen & sometimes twenty p. Cent. That the Inspectors at Roys take little care of Tobacco either before or after it is passed, and that one Inspector commonly passes the Tobacco brought thither And praying redress therein. It is Ordered that the Court of Caroline County do forthwith appoint two or more of their Number to meet at such time & place as they judge most convenient to examine into the several matters contained in the said Complaint and make Report of their Proceedings to this Board.

His Majesty's Warrant for granting to Edward Banadale

*William Dandridge was living at Hampton, Va., in 1717, where he was a ship owner and probably a merchant. In 1719 he is described, in a deed, as "late of Hampton, now of King William county, gent." In 1727 he became a member of the Council, and on December 14th of that year was appointed one of the commissioners on the part of Virginia to settle the boundary line with North Carolina. He was for a number of years an officer in the English navy, and probably served before 1737, but of that service we have no record. In the Virginia Gazette, March 11-18, 1736, it is stated that "Its currently reported here by Persons who lately arrived from London, that Col. William Dandridge is very shortly to have the Command of one of His Majesty's Ships." In the issue of Sept. 18, it is stated that Captain Dandridge's sailing from England had been somewhat delayed, and that the Duke of Montagu had presented him with a fine sword. This hand-ome weapon, bearing the inscription on the blade: "April, 1738. This Sword was presented by his Grace John Duke of Montagu, to Capt. Wm. Dandridge," is now the property of his descendants, the family of the late Captain Francis West Chamberlayne, C. S. A., of this city, and, together with Capt. Dandridge's portrait, has been deposited with the Virginia Historical Society. The Duke of Montagu was first lord of the Admiralty. In February, 1741, Captain Dandridge still commanded the Wolf, 12 guns, on the Virginia station; but in November of that year was transferred to the South Sea, 40 guns. He served in Oglethorpe’s attack on St. Augustine, and Vernon’s on Carthagena. Captain (or Colonel) Dandridge died in 1743, at his seat, “Elsing Green,” King William county. He married first Euphan, widow of William Roscow, of Warwick county. She died in 1717, and her tomb bears her arms—Wallace—impaling azure, a lion’s head erased or, between three mascles argent. These are the arms of Dandridge of Great Malvern, England. There appears to have been no issue by the first marriage. Col. Dandridge married about 1719, Unity, daughter and heiress of Nathaniel West, of King William county, a grandson of Governor John West. He has numerous descendants, both of his own and other names.

His brother, John Dandridge, was the father of Mrs. Martha Washington.

*There was a considerable amount of ship-building in Virginia during the Colonial period, but statistics as to its extent are lacking.

Daniel Stonar Gent. is appointed one of the Coroners for the County of Goochland.

Mr. Thomas Howard having been sent to the Allaganie Indians* upon occasion of the murders committed by the Indians last summer on the People settled beyond Sherrando, this day made Report of his Negotiation there and brought in writing an Answer from the said Indians wherein they allege that the said Murther was committed by the French Indians living on the Lakes, with a promise to bring in the persons guilty of that

*The Virginia Gazette, June 23-30, 1738, contains the following: "This week an Express came here from Orange County to the Governor to acquaint his Honour, That some Indians have lately murder'd Eleven White Persons, Men, Women and Children, who were settled far back on the frontiers of that County; and that 'twas believed they were Allegany Indians: Whereupon his Honour was pleas'd to issue Commissions to Persons to go with arm'd Men in Pursuit of the Indians, and also to order a Messenger to go to the Indian settlement at Allegany, to demand the Murderers, if they shall be found among them; and also gave such other Instructions and Orders as his Honour thought necessary for the Protection of the Frontier Inhabitants." And the same paper, July 14-21, adds: "We hear from the Frontier Counties, Prince William and Orange, that since our last Account of the Destruction of 3 Families of White People by the Indians, 4 more Families have been destroy'd by them; and that the whole Neighbourhood are under Apprehensions of greater Danger from the Indians, a great number of them being got together; but of what Nation I am not yet certainly informed." In a letter dated May 21, 1738, and printed in Kercheval, Thomas Chaulkley, the Quaker, speaks of the murder of the eleven persons, and says they were killed by the Indians because they had gone beyond the boundary agreed on between Virginia and the Indians.

This was the most serious massacre in Virginia since the days of Bacon's Rebellion, sixty-two years before. The "Alleganey Indians" were Shawnees. The reply, dated Aug. 4, 1738, which their chief, "living at Allegany," sent to the Governor is printed in the Calendar of Virginia State Papers, I, 231-232. He expresses great friendship for the whites and abhorrence of the massacre; but gives a rather conflicting account of the perpetrators of it. In one part of his letter he says that the scalps were brought to his town by "Chepoays," who lived beyond "Lake Avey" [Erie?], and in another, that he suspects the mischief was done by the Catawbas.
Crime. And upon consideration of the Acco’t of expences exhibited by the said Howard on this Service, It is Ordered that there be paid out of his Ma’tys Revenue the sum of twenty pounds for his personal trouble, Eight pounds to each of the five men that accompanied him besides his Expences and for a horse lost amounting in all to £16.10.

The Acco’t of disbursements for the Governor’s house, and the Acco’t of contingent Charges for the last half year were severally examined and allowed.

Mr. Samuel Baron having laid before this Board the Acco’t of Charges about the Fort* at Point Comfort. It is Ordered that

*A fort called Fort Algernon was built at Point Comfort in 1608. Throughout the seventeenth century this fort seems to have existed in an uncertain fashion—sometimes in repair, manned and equipped, and sometimes falling to decay. Frequent notices of it occur in Hening, I and II. About 1736-38 the fort was again rebuilt and placed under the command of Captain Samuel Barron, who had probably seen military service. It is stated (Virginia Historical Register, I, 24) that in 1749 a great hurricane totally destroyed the fortifications. Among the manuscripts in the collection of this Society is a letter dated March 22, 1847, in which Dr. Robert Archer (afterwards of this city), who as a surgeon U. S. A. was long stationed at Fort Monroe, complied with a request which had been made by the Virginia Historical Society, and gave an account of old Fort George, which had stood on part of the site of the modern fort. Dr. Archer says:

"The front lines only and part of the flanks are now visible, the rear lines having been obliterated by the excavation of the ditch of Fort Monroe: so that it is now impossible even to surmise what the form of the work was. * * * It was built of brick and shell lime, and judging from the quality of the materials and character of the masonry, the contractor executed his work most faithfully. * * * The bricks appear to have been home made, they were well burned but rough, nine inches long, four wide and three thick.

"Fort George consisted of an exterior and interior wall about sixteen feet apart, the exterior twenty-seven and the interior sixteen inches thick. These were connected by counterports ten or twelve feet apart and forming a system of cribs which were no doubt filled up with sand. The foundation of the work is three feet below the present level of the sand at the Lighthouse. * * * The front lines bear a remarkable coincidence with those of Fort Monroe in their rear."

Dr. Archer then describes an iron signet ring lined with silver, which was found some sixteen or seventeen years before he wrote in the rubbish there be paid him at present two hundred pounds, and that the sum of two hundred & six pounds to compleat the whole of his Expences in erecting the breast works and Parapet of the s’d Fort be paid him at the Oyer & Terminer Court next June.

On reading this day at the Board the petition of Wm. Byrd Esq’re praying further time for seating & saving the land granted him on Roanoke River for the settlement of a number of Swiss protestants who he is advised are now at Sea, further time for one year is accordingly him for bringing the said Switzers upon the land aforesaid since it may be impracticable for them to go thither to dwell during the ensuing Winter. [‘‘Granted,’’ written on margin.]

Whereas it appears to this Board that the Inspectors at Roys Warehouse have pass’d a hogshead of Tobacco w’ch is unmerchantable and doth not contain the quantity stamped thereon, and divers other complaints being made ag’t them for misdemeanors in their Office. It is Ordered that the s’d Inspectors be removed from acting any longer in that Office.

Whereas Mr. David Bell this day represented to the Governor & Council that one Mr. John Wilson Merchant some time last Summer purchased of Mr. Daniel Hornby of Richmond County a considerable quantity of Tobacco lying at Wicomico Warehouse & pass’d by the Inspectors there, That upon sending for the said Tob’o in order to be Shipt in James River the said Wilson discovered that the said Tobacco was unfit for any Market being nothing but meer Trash & thereupon Ordered the same to be landed at Maycocks Warehouse on James River where it yet lies. And praying relief therein, It is this day Ordered that the said Tobacco be viewed and examined by the Inspectors at Maycocks Warehouse on the 10th of Nov’r next & that the said Inspectors at Wicomico Warehouse have notice to attend by themselves or such as they shall depute to be present on their behalf at the said Examination. And that a Report be made by the said Inspectors at Maycocks Warehouse in what condition they find the said Tobacco & whether of the old fort. The arms on the seal were: A bear rampant arg, holding in his paws a globe (or heart) surmounted by a cross. Crest. An eye with wings conjoined.
the same be merchantable or not to the end this Board may be enabled to judge whether the Inspectors of Wicomico have been guilty of a breach of their duty & that the person injured may be put in a proper way to obtain a recompence for his damages.

On reading this day at the Board the Complaint of James Wood* Gent. Surveyor of Orange setting forth that Maj'r Robert Brooke† hath lately taken upon him to Survey divers great Tracts of Land on the other side the great Bridge of Mountains within the Bounds of the s'd Woods commission to his great prejudice & loss in his Office. It is Ordered that the Clerk of the Secretarys Office receive no Surveys made by the said Brooke or any other Person beyond the great Ridge of Mountains in order to make out Patents thereon & that no person whatsoever other then the proper Surveyor do presume to make & return any Surveys of Land lying out of the Precincts whereof he is Constituted Surveyor.

On hearing and considering the allegations in the Petition of William — [—to the surveyor of Orange County to inquire if the land be ent’d by any other persons and if not to survey 1600 acres for the p’te.]
Whereas upon hearing the Memorial of Henry Willis Gent. in behalf of ——— Franciscus* ag’t Jacob Stover for stopping a Patent for One thousand Acres of Land sued Out for the said Stover adjoining to a former Tract surveyed for him on Shenando River in the County of Orange, it appears by the testimony of James Wood surveyor of the said County that the former Surveyor being interrupted by a fresh or Flud of water while he was surveying the s’d Stovers land set a course at a Venture to include the dwelling house and Plantation of the s’d Stover and that upon Resurvey the s’d dwelling house and Plantation adjoining is not comprehended within ye bounds of that Survey, but the s’d Stover being ignorant thereof did convey to the s’d Franciscus 3000 Acres of Land including the s’d house and plantation w’ch upon examination are found to ly out of the bounds thereof. Yet that the s’d Stover being desirous to convey his said dwelling house & Plantation to the s’d Franciscus according to his agreement made a new Entry for a Tract to include the said house & plantation to the end he might be enabled to pass the fee simple thereof to the s’d Franciscus according to his agreement Agt. wch the s’d Franciscus by Colo. Henry Willis his Attorney hath caused a Caveat to be ent’d. *Christopher Francisco settled in the present Lancaster county, Pa., prior to 1710. His name indicates an Italian origin. He was a native of Switzerland and is said to have been a man of unusual daring and courage. He was naturalized in 1729. (Rupp, History of Lancaster county, Pa., pp. 79, 86-87, 126).

Two of his sons, Christopher, Jr., and Ludowick, settled on the land mentioned in this Order. The latter was in 1756 a captain of militia in Augusta county (Waddell, Annals of Augusta County, 1902, p. 137).

The tract conveyed to Christopher Francisco commenced at the point where Cub Run empties into the Shenandoah and extended up that stream nearly to present Port Republic. This Order indicates that Jacob Stover’s home was on the Shenandoah in the vicinity of present Lynwood, Rockingham, county, Va.
Land contained in his former Patent as will make the whole three thousand Acres including the s'd dwelling Plantation pursuant to his agree'mt with the s'd Franciscus.

On reading this day at the Board the humble Petition of Wm. By deed dated February 10, 1745 William Thompson conveyed to James Craig 305 acres of land on the northwest side of Middle River, opposite Hugh Thompson's land. (Augusta county records, B. B. 1 1, p. 30.) This locality is in the immediate vicinity of present Mt. Meridian, Augusta county. William Thompson received on September 22, 1739, a grant of 400 acres in Orange in a fork of Sherrando river between Middle river and the north fork of Sherrando. (Va. Land Books, 18, 371, 374.) He also received three other grants of 400 acres each in the same neighborhood.

Extract of a letter from Archibald Ingram, of England, dated Stratford Le Bow, Essex, Aug. 30, 1775, to his brother, James Ingram, of Norfolk:

It is supposed that the forfeited Estates in America will be sold by Commissioners to the highest Bidders in order to defray the expenses of Quelling the Rebellion if that takes place I intend with many others to become a purchaser & spend the Remainder of my Life in a Retirement if possible near to you but if no place is in reach near you, I must go farther to the northward however in that I'll be advised by you and beg the favour of a few lines that is to say if you dare Write on such a subject for we are told here that your Letters are liable to be intercepted by the people calling themselves Committees, if it is so pray hazard no offence or Inquiry on my acct. You will no doubt expect from me something of news but I must refer you to the

*This is the first of a number of letters written to and from Norfolk and Portsmouth merchants, almost to a man loyalists, which were intercepted by the Revolutionary party. They give a valuable light on the state of opinion on the loyal side, and give information in regard to occurrences in the neighborhood of the two towns. The Magazine of History (N. Y.), March and April 1906, contains an interesting series of letters from Norfolk Tories, which escaped capture. They were from James Parker, William Aitchison and Jacob Ellegood, to Charles Steuart, of Edinburgh, who was for many years a merchant of Norfolk. It was in regard to Mr. Steuart's negro Somerset that Lord Mansfield, in 1772, delivered the opinion which freed negroes from slavery in England. In the Lower Norfolk County, Virginia Antiquary II, 24-33, 56-61, 79-81, 82-83, 132-138, in the charming recollections of Mrs. Maxwell published under the title "My Mother," will be found the account by an eye-witness of affairs in and about Norfolk at the beginning of the Revolution.
Newspapers which you have no doubt regularly out, however, I will acquaint you that last week there were held a very full privy Council on American affairs but every thing is kept a profound secret however it is Conjectured that it is resolved if the Rebellion is not Quelled by next spring that a sufficient number of Foreign Troops are to be procured into the Continent, that your Metropolis or seat of Government is to be removed to a seaport, that is, Philadelphia, New York &c are to be made Garrison Towns. 10,000 Hanoverians are already taken into British pay & are to sail next month for Gibralter & Minorca in room of Regiments to be relieved from their Garrisons to Ireland, some says the foreign troops are to be Russians others have it Hanoverians, Hessians Swiss &c and so go on thro' all the Allys of Great Britain but I think it most probable to be Russians because in case of a spanish and French war the Empress may still be able to spare Troops whereas the other powers will want theirs to support their different . . . . of Powers and at present the King of Prusia has the flowers of the Swis in his pay—How this unhappy affair will Terminate God only knows but most people here apprehend much Bloodshed as it appears the Americans are determined for an Independency & the Mother Country seems agreeably determined to reduce them to obedience and compel them by force to return to their Duty. My Manager writes me that we poor—Westindies are threatened with injuries & Inconveniences as well as Mother Country by these Damned American Committees & Associations.—

John Johnson, Portsmouth, Va., To James Ballentine, Glasgow.

To James Ballentine Merc’t. in Glasgow—

It is to be hoped the Parliament will adopt the most vigorous measures for reducing the Americans to their allegiance and subjections should the Governor think he can defend Norfolk with the Forces he has got and the Militia he can command, I, among many others may be obliged to take the Field.
Extract of a Letter from Robt. Shedden, of Virga., dated at Portsmouth, Novr. 21, 1775:

To Andw. Lynn Merch’t in Glasgow—

I beg you will hurry out a Cargo of Goods Instantly. I think it is a favourable time to strike a bold strike just now & beg you embrace this opportunity depend upon it I will run you into no kind of Danger. If you insure the property from the Danger of the seas I will take care of it after it arrives here. I beg you will send me a large Cargo of Goods of all kinds and I will take care they shall turn to good acct. I beg you will hurry out J. Shedden in the Brig and send me as large a Cargo as you choose to adventure in, as Quick as possible.

Extract of a Letter from the same Gentleman, Dated Portsmouth, Nov'r 9th, 1775:

To John Shedden in Glasgow—

I would readily recommend your purchasing immediately on rec'pt of this large Cargo of Goods for the Brig and come out with them as soon as possible they will be in great Demand, I would bring out as many Goods as the Brig could carry at least Ten thousand pounds sterl’g worth if your credit will go so far, you may depend you will be protected and have a ready sale for them this must not be known & you need never let a soul

*Robert Shedden in time suffered for his loyalty. On January 5, 1776, the Convention ordered the confiscation and sale of the sloop Agatha, which was the property of John Shedden of Norfolk and Robert Shedden of Portsmouth, stating that Robert Shedden, in violation of the non-importation Association, which he had agreed to and subscribed, had ordered his agents in Glasgow to ship him large quantities of goods. This was the unfortunate result to Mr. Shedden of his letter being intercepted. On June 10, 1776, a committee reported, with considerable detail, in regard to Robert Shedden, and offered a resolution, which was adopted, that Shedden should be confined to the part of Dinwiddie county, which was ten miles from the Appomattox River.
know but you intend for Bar—— If you were to find matters so circumstanced when you arrive here that you could not be protected and that you would ruin the . . . . you know you could then put for the West Indies——

Rob't Shedden & Co. may be equally concerned in the adventure if it is agreeable to Wm. Lynn and you choose it. I think your will be among the first and depend it will be a favorable opportunity that shou’d not be miss’d to make something handsome. Peyton Randolph president of the Congress Died at Philadelphia of a Fit. J. Parker says he is very sorry for it that he did not Live long enough to be hanged.

C. WILSON, NORTFOLK, VA., TO JOHN McDONALE, GLASGOW.

Extract of a Letter from C. Wilson, Dated Norfolk, 10th Nov’r, 1775, to John McDonale, in Glasgow—

His Lordship conduct has met every approbation at home which must give him great Influence, and much will be in his power to serve his Friends when ever the storm is Blown. Ever oblige me with a few lines under cover to L’d Dunmore who has allowed me to desire my Friends to send under his address.

JAMES BROWN, NORFOLK, VA., TO WM. BROWN, LONDON.

Extract of a Letter from Jno. Brown, Dated at Norfolk, Virg’a, 21st Nov’r, 1775, to William Brown, Merch’t in London—

Norfolk, Virginia, Nov. 7th, 1775.

Dear Brother

I wrote you on the two Sisters Capt. Mafwell 20th Sept. to which please be referred. Since, nor yet long before that time have I received any of your Letters. I impute this to the want of opportunities as no Ships from London has arrived here for some considerable time past. I would willingly embrace every Convenient oppoty. of informing you of my Welfare, indeed I have reason to be thankfull I am in good health at present, as this goes by the last Vessel I know of for Britain (one Expected which may be ready in about a month or five weeks) I thought proper to inform you in what Situation things are now in here, occasioned by these unhappy Contests between the Mother Country & this. I only mean to mention some of the Particulars as to do more would require a long narration & more room than I can spare; you wou'd no doubt hear that in the Month of June last our Governor was obliged to leave his Palace in W'sburg and take refuge on board his Majestie's ship the Fowey, Capt. Montague, laying at that time off York Town, at the time the Fowey left this for Boston his Lordship took into the Government service a Merchant Ship, where he has kept himself mostly since; the many efforts he has made to keep order & good Government in the Colony not pleasing the generality of the Natives of this Contry, they are now risen in Arms ag't Government, their first act of Violence, I think happened on 2d Sept. when Capt. Squeres* of the Otter Sloop of War, was cruising in one of the Tenders near Hampton on that day there was a most severe storm, and the Capt. was so unfortunate as to be driven on shore, the people assembled and in place of giving the aid was due to men in their situation sett fire to the Vessell after taking what Guns &c she had and burnt her, the stores belonging to the King has been frequently demanded, but never granted, about two weeks ago Capt. Square with two or three Tenders he in one himself as the depth of the water wou'd not admitt of taking his ship went to Hampton to desire the people to deliver the materials as already Mentioned, but their being a number of men there and one of the Boats going too nigh the Town not perceiving any body was all on a sudden fir'd upon from out of the windows of whom when unfortunately two men was kill'd & two wounded so that an open War is Commenc'd; their has been at W'sburg for weeks past several hundreds of men collected, theirs is now 'tis said about 13 or 1400, and almost daily increasing, their rights and Libertys they are, they say determined to defend ag't an abandon'd Ministry &c an affair happened lately here I mean in this Town, which has Incensed these lawless Bandits greatly against the inhabitants, some time ago was erected a press, but as it was under the di-

*Campbell, History of Virginia, 632, says that Captain Squires was cruising in James River, plundering the inhabitants and carrying off slaves. Later there were other skirmishes between Squires and the Virginians at Hampton.
rection of a mere Incendiary it was prostitute to the worst of purposes nothing being allowed to be printed but what made against Government in short they paid no respect to any person whatever, after abusing Capt. Square he wrote the printer to desist from such abuse, but he did not chuse to obey him at last... on the Governor which... his Lordship so that he ordered a party of men to come a shore & carry away the Printing Materials which was soon Effected the few natives that assembled on the occasion and took arms not coming to action or making the least resistance. What enranges these people at Williamsburg Va ag't this place is that we woud not join the few that made some shew of Resistance and prevent the types being taken away, a thing we had no concern with, they now look upon us as Enemies and has it seems often threatened to come and destroy the town which indeed their is a great probability off, as they seem to be men without reason and their being little force here to oppose them their is of the Kings ship lying in our River, two, viz. the King Fisher Capt. Montague, & the other Square, as likeways three large Merch'tmen taken into the service Including the one the Governor is in with about a dozen Tenders, the last mostly belonging to people hereabout there is of land forces between 2 & 300 which was sent for from St. Augustine of 14th Regiment. We are in hopes that we shall have more soon from Britain otherways 'tis to be feared we shall be in much danger, they have a great aversion to Scotchmen the natives of Country in general especially at this period, seeing them so backward to join them against Government; this is the sort of description of the distress we are Involv'd in not mentioning any thing of the hardships we suffer on account of the want of Trade &c &c which is at an entire stand— I am sorry I cannot make you Remittance; in short many people will not pay at any rate things with respect to debts being paid is turn'd as desperate as others as 'tis not uncommon for the man that asks to be knocked down or the like—

I am of opinion many of the Custom house officers throughout this Country who is not well affected to Government will be displac'd if I knew what was the proper method to take I woud be glad to make a trial of procuring a place, I believe these things is generally done by Interest at home if you might approve of this please exert yourself on my behalf w'ch I wou'd esteem as a particular favor & I must again beg leave to mention that if it is any way possible [to have the] few things I ordered for my own use, as under, that it may [be done]. A Settlement of matters yet appear to be at a great distance, probably some Transports may be coming here by [ . . . ] by whom p. haps they might be sent, the truth is they cannot be got in this Country at any price, pray if no oppy. offer otherways write me by the New York Packet, in that case it may be necessary to mention that the letters is frequently open'd by the Provincials. Please acquaint my Father that I am well and believe me always to be with the greatest regard.

Yours affectionately
Geo Rae.

THE GERMANS IN MADISON COUNTY, VA.

Translated and Annotated by Prof. William J. Hinke, Ph. D.

[The following documents gathered from various sources, throw some light upon the history of the first German Lutheran Colony in Virginia.

The German immigration into Virginia began, as far as we now know, in the year 1714. In that year a colony of twelve German Reformed families was settled by Governor Spotswood at Germanna, to work his iron mines. They were followed in 1717 by a second colony of twenty German Lutheran families and these in turn by a third colony of forty German families in 1719. The following documents deal with the second and third colonies, consisting mainly of Lutherans. They remained at or near Germanna until their term of indentured service, lasting eight years, was ended. Then, in 1725, they removed to the present Madison County, where they organized a German Lutheran congregation and later built a church, both of which have continued to the present day, and are now known as the Hebron Lutheran congregation and church in Madison County.

This statement settles, in a very natural way, the time and place of Stoever's ordination. On April 8, 1733, the younger Stoever was ordained by the Rev. John Christian Schultz, in a barn at Trappe, Montgomery county, Pa. We now learn that the older Stoever was ordained by the same Rev. Mr. Schultz, in the same year, and most likely at the same place, which served as a meeting-house for the congregation at Trappe. The Rev. Mr. Schultz arrived in Philadelphia with the ship "Loyal Judith," on September 25, 1732, and became at once pastor of the Lutheran congregations at Philadelphia, New Providence (Trappe) and New Hanover. In the summer of the following year he returned with two delegates of his congregations to Germany to collect money in their behalf. He never returned from this trip. See Halle Reports, new ed. [Agreement between the Rev. John Casper Stoever and his wife.]

North Carolina at Graven Precinct, the 10 Day of March, 1734.

Since the holy state of matrimony is not only a holy and Divine Ordinance, But also the Institution of this holy Ordinance earnestly requires that the same should be kept holy and peaceable according to his word, without that we desire to heap on us those heavy punishments & judgments therein threatened. In consideraton of which I, John Caspar Stoever, minister of the Evangelical Lutheran German Congregation in Virginia) and my spouse Maria Magdalena, between whom and

2This document introduces us to the first German Lutheran minister in Virginia, of whom we have any record. He was born in 1685, at Frankenberg, in Hesse. "His father, Dietrich Stoever, conducted a mercantile establishment. His mother, Magdalena, was the daughter of Andrew Eberwein, pastor at Frankenberg. One of his baptismal sponsors was John Christ. Eberwein, pastor and head-master in the Pedagogium at Giessen, which position was held later by a relative of the Stoever's, John Philip Fresenius, one of the most prominent and the warmest friend of the Lutheran Church in America. Already in youthful years, Stoever was a teacher at Amweiler, at the eastern slope of the Härdt mountains, and received from them good testimonials of his descent and character, which were prepared for him by the elders of the congregation. Here he also attended to the playing of the organ, and probably engaged in theological studies. In the year, 1728, he sailed with his son, John Caspar Stoever, Jr., and ninety Palatines on the ship "Good Will," David Croket, master, of Rotterdam, leaving Deal on the 15th of June, and landed in Philadelphia on the 11th of September."

3This agreement, which is taken from the Court Records of Orange Pool, shows that the older Stoever was married twice, because the county, and is part of the papers submitted in the suit of Mary mother of John Caspar Stoever, Jr., was named Gertrudt, her family name is not given. (Schmauk's History of the Lutheran Church in Pennsylvania, p. 248, note 295.) Nor is the family name of the second wife certain. It may be Pool, as her mother's name was Mary Pool. It is, however, possible that her mother was also married a second time, like her husband, John C. Stoever.
me hitherto hath been some difference, I have agreed as followeth, to-wit:

1st. The married persons promise each other to live in this holy state of matrimony (according to God's will till Death shall part them) peaceably and in union as behooves Christians, and totally forget and bury in oblivion all what has formerly past between them, and to travel together to Virginia where ye sd Stoever's congr. is & he lives.

2ly. The husband promises heartily to love and honour his beloved wife, Maria Magdalena, and to provide for her maintenance and clothes according as his station and condition will afford & as behooves Christian husband, also.

3ly. Maria Magdalena promises to love and honour her husband and in all things, & in love & faithfulness to obey his lawful commandments as a Christian wife ought to do.

4ly. In case the husband agt. his wife's will should travel to any other place, and contrary to expectation leave her there, half of his Estate to fall to her share, without that she be the cause of his so leaving her.

5ly. I, Stoever, have promised to give unto my son (John Gasper) & Daughter (Elizabeth Catharina) by the first marriage, a certain part of my estate for their entire exclusion, and to make this present wife & ye son got (together with what children God shall be pleased to give me) by this second marriage, sole heirs of what estate I shall leave, so that they shall have no one to divide it with them.

6ly. Stoever promises during the life of his mother-in-law to maintain & cloath her & to shew her all love and faithfulness due from a child; in consideration of which she promises as well to be careful of not giving offence herself, as to admonish her Daughter to beware from offending & giving occasion of quarrel or strife, especially to leave off all evil speaking, backbiting & slandering which occasion offence, and truly to behave herself so in all things towards her child and son-in-law as becometh a loving & Christian mother. To the end the congregation may not be offended nor no new strife may be raised in the house. And that all these things may be truly kept and performed the married persons & the mother-in-law have hereunto set their hands which is by the hereunto chosen witnesses confirmed. Dated as above.

7th. If the mother-in-law should not be willing, or Stoever rather would chose that she would live in some other place and not with him, then doth he promise for himself and his heirs to pay her yearly for her maintenance five pounds Virginia money as long as she lives. I say five pounds.

Certified to by my own hand,

Johann Casper Stoever.

[Letter of Councillor Koehler of Kolberg, Pomerania, to Professor Francke, dated May 11, 1736.]

That I take the liberty to trouble your Reverence is due to the well known delegates of the congregations in Virginia, who, together with their minister, Mr. Stoever, have arrived here and from here will go to Danzig and Koenigsberg. They have collected a rich harvest, more than 2000 "Thaler," to which this city contributed 200 "Thaler." When I represented to them, that I did not hope that they would disregard the main purpose of their transplantation to America and of the blessing bestowed by the dear Lord, but would take to heart the fact that the calling of the Christians consisted mainly in this, to make known the gospel of Jesus Christ in all places and parts of the earth, they perceived this clearly, and assured me that this would be their principal endeavor. But inasmuch, as their minister is of the opinion that he alone is not equal to this work, he has asked me to inquire of your Reverence whether there is with you a person, equipped by God and filled with a divine impulse, who would be willing to go over with them and co-operate at first in the work of ministry and in the school until divine providence would show them an opening among the heathen. This congregation, he reports, consists of Palatines, whose sad experiences in England, in their journey across the sea, and in the beginning of their stay in America is known. They had no minister till two years ago, when the present pastor, Mr. Stoever, only accidentally came to West India, intending to visit his son. He was before a school teacher, driven away by Catholics, but received gladly by these people who secured his ordination. He has the intention: (1) On his return, to buy twelve negroes as slaves, with whom he intends to clear enough land so that he together with another minister and assistant could live on it, without being a burden to the congregation. He is now paid a salary of 3,000 pounds of tobacco by the congregation. If these slaves be kept better than those among the English people, and be instructed in the Christian religion he thinks that thereby hundred, nay even thousands of slaves, who are compelled to work for Englishmen, will be brought from heathen ignorance to Christ, indeed that much good could thereby be accomplished among the English. (2) Regarding the heathen living in the country, they had been made very timid by the English, and had been driven forty to fifty miles farther into the country. No one concerned himself about them, but left them go in their blindness. However, since their settlement had been fixed at the extreme borders, only forty miles from the Indi-

6This statement, if correct, throws new light upon a dark period of Stoever's life. The question which has puzzled historians very much, is, what became of him after his arrival in Philadelphia, in September, 1728. Some historians, as Dr. Schmauk, (History, p. 247), believe that from 1728-1733 the older Stoever ministered in Philadelphia. But this statement in the letter of Mr. Koehler seems to suggest that he returned to Germany, and in 1733 came back to America. Perhaps he was carried by a storm to Virginia, as the Lutheran immigrants of 1717.
ans, they met them occasionally hunting; indeed they [the Indians] even allowed themselves to be coaxed into their homes, where they [the Germans] showed them much kindness. Hence, the report had spread among the Indians that they were kinder people than the English and Spanish. For this reason much good was to be expected, with the divine assistance, from these heathen people, especially since they recognized, by the light of reason, two beings worthy of worship, the one good, the other evil, the latter of which was served, out of fear, more than the good. Your Reverence will therefore consider this, and report whether a fit and willing person can be found, ready to go over at the expense of the congregation, which now consists of three hundred people. He must also be willing to be content with the necessaries of life until the proper arrangements have been made. As the ships do not go to Virginia till February of next year, they [the delegates] intend to go first from Koenigsberg to Sweden and from there through Denmark to London. They will remain in Danzig four weeks to wait for the answer of your Reverence.7

7Prof. Francke answered this letter on May 23, 1736. He expressed his readiness to co-operate in getting an assistant for Stoever, but he complained that students were attracted by philosophy, that they considered everything from the standpoint of reason, and would not consent to take any place which did not offer an adequate rémuneration. During the last year he had looked for men for Bengal and Trankebar, but had received only declinations, and met with difficulties. He asked to be remembered to Stoever. If he [Stoever] should meet on his journey a suitable person, whom he could use as his assistant, he should not disregard the opportunity to engage him. Meanwhile, he would be pleased to hear from him as to his whereabouts so that, in case he would find anybody, he might notify him.

The writer of this letter was not the great August Herman Francke, the founder of the famous orphans' home, and of the numerous educational institutions at Halle, but his son, Theophilus Augustus Francke, who followed his father in 1727 as director of orphans' home, and of the other institutions. Both he and his father took great interest in the German Lutheran churches in America. In fact many of the IV.

Short Report of an Evangelical German Lutheran Congregation, living in the American Virginia, namely, at the extreme borders of the County of Spotsylvania, prepared by John Caspar Stover, first pastor of this congregation, Hanover, printed by L. C. Holwein, 1737.

In the year 1717, a small number of Evangelical Lutheran Christians from the Alsace, the Palatinate and the neighboring districts, (whose intention it was to go to Pennsylvania) after an unfortunate voyage to the American continent, settled at the extreme borders of the province of Virginia, in the County of Spotsylvania, having undergone many hardships during the first eight years. Their number is at present 300 souls. They

Lutheran ministers in Pennsylvania during the eighteenth century came from the Halle institutions. Dr. Schmauk gives the complete list of twenty-four men. (See History of Lutheran Church, p. 201, note 235.)

8From several sources we know that the colony of 1717 numbered twenty families or about four-score persons. (See Perry, Historical Collections Relating to the American Colonial Church, Vol. I, p. 247, and Journal of the Presbyterian Historical Society, Vol. II, pp. 104, 106.)

From the Court Records of Spotsylvania County, as published by Mr. Charles E. Kemper, (see Virginia Magazine, Vol. XIII, pp. 370-372), it appears that Christopher Zimmerman, Henry Snyder, Mathew [Michael] Smith, Michael Cock [Cook], Andrew Kerker, and Christopher Pavlur or Parlur, arrived in Virginia in 1717, and must therefore be members of the 1717 colony. Three of these, Michael Cook, Michael Smith, and Henry Snyder, appear among a number of eighteen Germans, who were sued by Colonel Spotswood in 1725 (See Virginia Magazine, Vol. XIII, pp. 364-367). It is, therefore, probable that most, or perhaps even all of the persons sued by the Governor belong to the 1717 colony.

9This statement, no doubt, implies that Governor Spotswood held these Germans for eight years as indentured servants. It also fixes the time of their departure from Germanna, as 1725, most probably the fall of that year. Mr. Charles E. Kemper has come to practically the same conclusion on the basis of other evidence. He shows (Virginia Magazine, Vol. XIII, p. 365) that the Court Orders of Spotsylvania County fix the removal between July, 1725, and November, 1726.
are now amply provided in temporal things by the Preserver of all creatures, to whom all honor is due. Because they live fifty German miles from the ocean they are unable to dispose of their superabundant provisions, with the exception of their tobacco, which they exchange for the necessary clothing.

Although this congregation, solicitous for the salvation of their souls, made every effort to secure a pastor, and twelve years ago, by sending two of their men to Europe, intended to accomplish this, yet for full sixteen years they were compelled to be without public worship and a pastor, although they had a very great hunger for the word of grace.

At last the gracious God heard their continual prayers and selected me, unworthy servant, after receiving a call and ordination, to be their teacher and preacher. I have also begun public worship among them, in accordance with the grace granted to me by God, by teaching them and administering the sacraments. I have been satisfied with a yearly salary of 3,000 pounds of tobacco (worth about fifty-five rix-dollars). But the joy over the divine worship now established, the zeal of the people in the same, the anxious fear that the light of the gospel, kindled by the grace of God among men, might again be extinguished after my death and thus reduce them to the same former, spiritual destitution, together with the earnest desire to preserve the Evangelical truth to themselves and their descendants and the eager solicitude of that dear, but poor congregation, all these induced me to undertake this dangerous and difficult journey in God’s name, after having received

10 These men were sent in 1725, as the report was printed in 1737. The two delegates were Michael Cook and Zerachus [Cyriacus] Fleshman. A petition of these two men, laid before the Colonial Council on April 23, 1724 (see Virginia Magazine, Vol. XII, p. 350f) was printed in the Virginia Magazine, Vol. VI, p. 350f. The passage that refers to this trip to Europe reads: "We design to go to England and from thence to Germany, to bring in a minister for us high Germans who are here."

11 That is from 1717-1733. This statement fixes the arrival of Mr. Stoever in Virginia as taking place in the year 1733.
permission from the royal governor\(^{12}\) and taking with me an elder, Michael Schmidt, and a member of this congregation, Michael Hold, the latter returned again to Virginia from Danzig. It is our purpose to gather contributions from the Christian friends in Europe, so as to be able to continue our above-mentioned public worship, to build a church and a school and to establish a fund for the maintenance of the ministers, because this congregation is compelled to contribute its share to the support of the English minister and his services. A confirmation of all this will be found in the original documents, which I have with me from the above mentioned governor, and the German Lutheran ministers in London. God in his abundant grace has not left my undertaking without results, but everywhere on my journey has moved many hearts to contribute liberally. Reports printed at Leibzig give an account of the liberality of the people at Hamburg, while future contributions will be recorded in the original collection book, which I have with me.

Moreover, the power of God, which controls the hearts of men, has induced a candidate of theology, Mr. George Samuel King, born at Elbing, to become a fellow worker in the gospel in this congregation. He has obligated himself to this work by accepting the call extended to him and by receiving ordination through the ministerium at Danzig,\(^{13}\) as has been confirmed by the testimonial of the aforesaid ministerium. In consequence of this he has actually started on his journey to Virginia.\(^{14}\)

\(^{13}\)More about this ordination, which took place on August 30, 1736, is found later on p. 156.

\(^{14}\)Mr. Klug seems to have been delayed in his journey. He took with him a letter of Dr. Ziegenhagen, from London to Pennsylvania, which was dated September 26, 1738. Hence he left London after that date. It was answered by the congregations in Pennsylvania on October 15, 1739. (See Halle Reports, new edition, Vol. I, p. 67.) Hence he arrived before that date. In a letter of Rev. Peter Brunnholtz, dated July 3, 1749, it is stated that Mr. Klug arrived in Virginia "ten years ago." (Halle Reports, new edition, Vol. I, p. 528.)
But whereas, for the support of two ministers (who are needed at this distant place to maintain public worship and the school) many things are necessary so that churches and schools can be built and many other things can be secured which are necessary for the church.

Therefore, the Christian reader is requested to take to heart these needs of the church, compassionately to advance this God-pleasing undertaking, which is for the preservation and spread of the pure Evangelical doctrine in America (in the prosecution of which every effort will be made to lead the heathen, who still walk in darkness, to Christ) and to that end to send contributions across the ocean for the quickening of the poor fellow believers and the conversion of the heathen, in the assured confidence that, as God is earnestly invoked to reward men, he, a God rich in blessings, will graciously reward such alms according to his promise with temporal and spiritual blessings.

[Letter of the Rev. John Caspar Stoever, Sr., to Prof. Francke, dated January 17, 1738.]

Very reverend and devout, very learned Professor, most honored and noble patron:

If I did not know your Reverence's untiring zeal in the propagation of the gospel, I would not dare to trouble you with this letter, the less, since at my departure from London I promised his Reverence, Mr. Ziegenhagen, 15 not to become burdensome to you. This promise kept me last summer, when I was in Leipzig, from paying my respects to you. To this was 15Rev. Frederick Michael Ziegenhagen was court preacher at the chapel of St. James, in London. He was born in Pomerania in 1694. He came to London in 1722. It was through him that Muehlenberg, the patriarch of the Lutheran Church in America, came to this country. He died in 1776. For a picture of this great man, see Dr. Schmauk's History of the Lutheran Church in Pennsylvania, facing p. 13.

added the fact that different friends in Prussia and Pomerania, who assisted my collection in those districts, earnestly advised me, since I had not received a royal permit for the purpose of collecting money, to stay away from the royal lands for fear of complications arising from my visit and also to spare our benefactors there. But inasmuch as I have now returned to my trunk, in which were both the original recommendation from his Reverence, Dr. Arnold, of Koenigsberg, as well as the "programmata,"

16 What these "programmes" were does not appear from the context. They may have been a university dissertation of Doctor Arnold on the Lutheran Churches in America.

17 Prof. Siegmund Jacob Baumgarten was an eminent German theologian. Born March 14, 1706; was made professor of theology at Halle in 1734. He died 1757. His writings are chiefly historical and exegetical.

18 John Anastasius Freylinghausen was the son-in-law of Dr. Francke. He was director of the Halle orphan home. He died in 1739.

and the Rev. Mr. Meyer, the letters enclosed for them, to show them the original letter of recommendation and to forward the same, together with the other enclosures, to his Reverence, Provost Rolof. Your Reverence will remember that in answer to the request of Councillor Koehler, of Colberg, for an assistant in my congregation you were pleased to answer and counsel the same, under date May 23, 1736, that, inasmuch, as it was difficult to secure some one in Halle, I should not disregard any opportunity, if during my travels I should find a suitable person. Now, through divine providence, such a person has been found, in whom I place full confidence (as can be seen from the printed report which is enclosed with the other documents). The same arrived in London in January, 1737, provided with recommendations and letters from me to his Reverence, Dr. Ziegenhagen. But the latter was unwilling to take up this matter, nor did he answer my letter in reference to it, although in the month of May last year I sent some money to my colleague, Mr. Kluge, and requested him to let me know when ships left London for Virginia, so that I could arrange my journey to Virginia and go with him thither. I wrote on this account several times after that to him, as well as to the Rev. Mr. Palm, with whom he lodges, but thus far I have received no answer from London, although I earnestly long for it, so that I do not know the exact state of this matter. If your Reverence have any news I would humbly ask you to communicate the same to me. My address is noted at the end of the printed documents.

Furthermore I take the liberty to ask your Reverence kindly to send a list of the books which you forwarded at the request of Mr. Ziegenhagen, for the congregation, as well as for the congregational library. Also be pleased to mention what moneys have been sent for this purpose by kind-hearted persons, and were transmitted through you to London, so that I may be governed thereby. If your Reverence can do anything else for the establishment of this congregation through your far-reaching influence, it will not remain unrewarded by the Most High. I am convinced that your Reverence will not omit anything which can contribute to the growth of the church of God.

Recommending you with all devotion to the gracious divine providence I remain with submissive obedience,

Your Reverence's, My much honored Professor's, submissive servant, devoted to you, through prayer and service,

Johann Caspar Stoever, pastor, of this congregation in Virginia.19

19Prof. Francke answered with much reserve. He told him that no collection could be taken in Prussia without a royal permit, but that fifty "Thaler," which Captain du Rosay, of Freyewalde, had sent in July, 1736, for Virginia and Philadelphia, had already been announced to Ziegenhagen, and would be placed at his disposal. (This was done in May, 1738, together with forty "Thaler," which court preacher, Allendorf, of Koethen, had sent to Councillor Cellarius in April, and which had been expressly designated for Rev. Mr. Stoever's congrega-
We find besides another Evangelical Lutheran Congregation in America, which since 1717 has been settled there; but now has again become known to us. In the above mentioned year, 1717, a number of Evangelical persons, from the Alsace, the Palatinate and neighboring districts, emigrated from there, because of the then well known, severe persecutions. They went to England, intending to go to Pennsylvania. But since the captain, who took them on his ship before his departure was arrested in London for several weeks, because of his debts, most of the victuals were consumed so that many people died of hunger during this voyage. The rest were sold by the captain to Englishmen for their passage-money. Said Evangelical congregation was settled, especially by the then governor Spotswood, who treated them very harshly, in the province of Virginia, more particularly in the county, named after him, Spotsylvania, which is at the extreme borders of this province, twelve German miles\(^{20}\) from the ocean. There they suffered great hardships, for the first eight years, but they are now sufficiently provided by God with temporal blessings, although they cannot dispose of their crops, except the tobacco, which they exchange for clothes, because of their great distance from the ocean. This congregation, which now consists of 300 souls, suffered especially during the first years, a great want in spiritual things, although they sent for this purpose, twelve years ago, two men to their people in Europe, in order to secure a minister. Nevertheless they were for sixteen years without public worship and a minister, until at last Mr. John Caspar Stoever, born at Frankenberg in Hessia, after being called and ordained, was given to them by God as their first pastor. He has thus far administered the office of an evangelical pastor among them, being satisfied with receiving instead of salary 3,000 pounds of tobacco, which is worth about 55 [German] Thaler. Since, however, the congregation earnestly desires not to lose the Evangelical truth with his death, but to preserve it to them and their descendants, the said Rev. Mr. Stoever, together with an elder, Michael Schmidt, and a member, of the congregation, Michael Hold, has started on a journey to Europe, intending to collect money for the continuation of divine worship, for the building of a church and school and for the establishment of a fund for the support of their pastor.

In testimony whereof we shall insert the certificate of the present governor of Virginia, which he gave to him for his journey.

William Gooch, Esq., Vice-governor of his Royal Majesty and Commander-in-General of the land and province of Virginia, Sends Greeting to all, to whom these presents may come.

At the request of Michael Hold and several other German Protestant inhabitants, at the great mountains in the County of Spotsylvania, of this government, I testify herewith, that the said inhabitants keep and maintain, out of their own means, an Evangelical minister of their religion, namely the Reverend Augustin Stoeaver, for whom they have already acquired a certain tract of land and have built a parsonage and are now about to build a church for their meetings of which circumstances I have not only received credible evidence, but also know that they have very slender means and are altogether unable to bear the expenses of their undertaking without outside assistance. Hence, in order that they may receive help and assistance in Germany from their countrymen, to carry on the building of their church and to maintain and support their minister, they are now sending the above mentioned minister, Rev. Mr. Stoeaver, together with Michael Hold and Michael Schmidt to that country. In order that full credence may be given to these delegates in Germany, in all their endeavors and undertakings, I have given them this written testimonial and have caused the seal of this province to be affixed to the same.

Given at Williamsburg, September 18th (st. v.) in the eighth year of our sovereign, George II, King of Great Britain, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith annoque Domini 1739.

William Gooch.

Thus they came to England and received there not only a good contribution, but also a letter of recommendation to Germany and Holland from the German Evangelical Lutheran ministers in London, Rev. Frederick Michael Ziegenhagen, Rev. Heinrich Alard Butjenter, court preacher at the German court chapel of St. James, Rev. D. Heinrich Walther Gerdes and Rev. Heinrich Werner Palm, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran church in Savoy.

In Germany they came, among other places, in September 1735, to Hamburg, where they received a rich harvest of alms. This money was immediately sent through merchants to England and through bills of exchange to the elders of this congregation in Spotsylvania. The above mentioned Mr. Stoever has also collected a small library of all kinds of spiritual and unobjectional books, especially of the writings of Luther, which are to remain the property of the church. In Elbing they have been fortunate enough to find a candidate of theology, Mr. George Samuel Klug, who, especially on the advice of Rev. Mr. Daniel Rittersdorf, pastor primarius of the church of St. Mary and Senior of the ministerium at Elbing, accepted the call, extended by the congregation to an assistant. This new co-laborer was, therefore, after the usual examination, publicly ordained in the principal church of St. Mary on August 30, 1736 and a testimonial was given to him by the Evangelical Ministerium there. At the same time a certificate about this was also given to Rev. Mr. Stoever. The above mentioned Mr. Klug immediately proceeded from Danzig to England and from there to Virginia, in company of Mr. Michael Schmidt. Mr. Stoever, however, continued his journey in Germany and stayed till the spring of 1738 at Darmstedt with the court deacon Fresenius, a relative of his, after which he started on his return journey to his congregation. Meanwhile Mr. Fresenius assures persons, who desire to send a contribution to this congregation, that he will send it safely to America and will state in public print for his own vindication, how these moneys have been used.

25Elbing is a city of the province of West Prussia, whose capital is Danzig.
VII.

He [Stoever] had so much confidence in me that he asked me for instruction. I took him willingly into my house and devoted to him every hour, which I could spare from my official duties. Although he was more than fifty years of age, yet he studied untiringly night and day, so that within half a year he had penetrated farther into the Christian Science than I anticipated at first. His growth in the active Christian life became evident to me to my greatest joy and I had hope that he would become a very able worker among his flock in America. He himself hoped that he would now be able to administer his office, under divine blessing, better than before. But he died on his return journey and was buried at sea.

VIII.

In the name of the Most Holy Trinity, Amen.

Although the Great God has appointed to all mankind an end, whose manner and time are known to none, yet he sends at times his messengers of sickness, through whom he admonishes us, saying: "Set thy house in order for thou shalt die." I also have experienced this upon my sea voyage to Pennsylvania and thence to Virginia, I have to set in order two important affairs, namely, both of the house of God as well as of my own house. I shall begin with the most important, the house of the Lord.

The agreement with my congregation as well as the certificate of the Royal Britannic Governor in Williamsburg testify by whom I was engaged and what I and my companions shall receive, upon the completion of the collecting tour, as a return for our faithfulness and fidelity, exhibited during this long and most dangerous journey.

As regards Michael Holt, he accompanied us indeed as far as Danzig, but for the wicked villanies he there practised against us, and for the harm he did to our collection on his return to London, through his influence on the ministry there, he cannot make restitution to this congregation with four hundred pistoles:26 indeed through him and his wicked suggestions27 the ministry there [secured] a person, sufficiently pre-

27This seems to be the sense of an exceedingly obscure passage. The verb being omitted it is hard to tell what is really meant. The old English translation, on record in the Register of Wills Office in Philadelphia (Will Book F, pp. 126-128) contains at this point but a confused medley of words: "Yea, how through him and his wicked mouth that blessed Institution when a learn'd man, Master George Samuel Klug, by the heart rending grace of God, hath fully resolved and in Elbingen as a second minister of this congregation the calling accepted, & further in Danzig the confirmation received, for whose maintenance in his journey from thence to London we have paid 400 Elbingish or 200 Dutch Florens according to the currency in the Empire & for Reason of the many recommendations from a great many high Lord both spiritual and temporal as from other great Merch' ts our full and abundant confidence was further confirmed. That the great God would prosper our Collections so far, that constantly two ministers without the least charge to the congregation could be maintained and likewise a church and other unto the worship of God necessary buildings would been erected." I would like to offer this explanation of the difficulty. Mr. Klug was secured by the machinations of Michael Hold, who thereby tried to supplant Mr. Stoever. I infer that he made false representations to the ministers at Danzig, and on the strength of them Mr. Klug was engaged. When Stoever heard of it he was at first very angry, but finally submitted to the inevitable and gave him money to travel to London. That Mr. Klug was not on the best of terms with Stoever seems to be implied in the attitude of Dr. Ziegenhagen towards Stoever, in the continued silence of Klug, refusing to answer Stoever's letters, and in the absence of any reference to him when the older Stoever advises his son about the future of the congregation. In fact it is doubtful whether Klug left England before Stoever did. Both reached Philadelphia in the year, 1739. Not knowing what had become of Klug it is but natural that Stoever should pared, Mr. George Samuel Kluge, who through the overruling providence of God accepted at Elbingen the call of this congregation to be its second pastor, received also ordination at Danzig and then started on his journey to London, for which we gave him four hundred Elbingish or 200 German guilders. We also have the full and perfect assurance, through the recommendations of many distinguished consistories and merchants, that the great God will bless our collection and that two ministers can be maintained continually without the least expense to the congregation, also that a church and other buildings, necessary for the work of the church, can be built. All this has not been mentioned with the intention of myself or Michael Schmidt taking any part of portion belonging to Michael Holt for the time that he was with us, but we feel ourselves compelled through our conscience to deliberate whether or not he should indemnify the congregation for the damage he did to the same. All the tricks he practised to the detriment of the congregation can be sworn to by Michael Schmidt, a conscientious man, and, if I confirm the same with my death, credence will undoubtedly be given to my words as well as to the many letters received from Rev. Mr. Ziegenhagen.

Now my much beloved son, John Caspar Stoever, minister in "Canastoken," I herewith give unto thee and unto Michael Schmidt, who practised for 400 guilders as money wasted, and hence he blamed Michael Holt for this useless expenditure. This, I take to be the force of the above obscure passage in Mr. Stoever's will.

On September 11, 1728, two persons took the oath of allegiance in Philadelphia, who gave their names as "Johann Caspar Stoever, missionaire," and "Johan Caspar Stoever, S. S. Theol. Stud." Their relation to each other was long unknown. They were usually regarded as uncle and nephew, but it is now certain that they were father and son. (See Virginia Magazine, Vol. XI, p. 241.) The will of Stoever corroborates other evidence on this point. The young Stoever was born December 21, 1707, in the Duchy of Berg. He came to America with his father in 1728. He was ordained on April 8, 1733, by Christopher Schultz, pastor in Philadelphia. He organized many Lutheran congregations in the eastern counties of Pennsylvania. He died May 13, 1779, at Lebanon, Pa.
Schmidt full power to use thy earnest endeavor in taking charge of this church, especially with a view to provide them with divine services as we began the same in the Lord, and if this beloved congregation would call thee as its pastor accept its call, if thou canst do it with a good conscience, therefore as soon as thou hearest from this Michael Schmidt go at once to Philadelphia and assist him, according to the best of thy ability, in bringing him, his and my own goods, as well as two other families going to Virginia, to thy house.

This done send at once a messenger to the other three church wardens of the congregation with the request to come speedily to thee to hear the Letters of Attorney, which thou hast received, likewise to listen to my own and Michael Schmidt’s account of the whole collection, in accordance with the statements entered into the collection books as well as other documents not found in the collection books, but especially in a small Hamburg almanac, in which I entered many large and small sums in the Latin language, all of which belong to the receipts.

Then in the presence of the church wardens determine, according to the contract, the portions belonging to the congregation, to me and to Michael Schmidt and from the portion of the congregation assign to each of the church wardens two shillings, Virginia currency, per day., Thou mayest also notify the congregation in Virginia that, if they wish to elect several persons to be present at the settlement of the collected money, they have liberty to do so, provided it can be done without expense to the congregation. Write at the same time a short letter to my wife and children that they may come along with the church wardens, because thou hast full directions what to give to her and to all my children as their patrimony.

There is in hand in cash money in all eight hundred pistoles, in four sealed packages, each containing two hundred pistoles. In determining the amount due to the congregation the sums which I and Michael Schmidt have expended for the congregation, must again be restored. Moreover we ought to have our share of the books collected for the congregation, of the silver cup and of the small plate. I sent from Hamburg to John Henning N. of London, a large chest full of books. I paid for the chest. Within were ten volumes of Luther's works, printed at Wittenberg; I bought another volume, but the last volume I was unable to secure. There were many other books in it for the congregation. For my own use there was in it, Spener's Consilia, three volumes; many new books unbound, for instance, Pfaff's large Bible, a Hebrew Lexicon, Budeus, Morals, in German; Michaelis Hebrew Grammar, Langius Greek and Latin Grammar, and other unbound tracts. This chest had the misfortune to be in a ship that suffered shipwreck. But I received letters from London, from the above mentioned, John Henning, that through the grace of God the chest had been saved, but would be sold in a short time, then he would buy it again for me, which he did for about thirty-six shillings, sterling money. This chest is still in London, write therefore immediately to the aforesaid John Henning, whose sur-name you will find in the letters, asking him that by the first opportunity he would send the chest over to thee with the offer that the one who would bring the chest with him should have all his expenses gratefully repaid to him.

The other books, belonging to the congregation, were all packed up in Michael Schmidt's chest. Furthermore we received many books from the bookdealers at Leipzig and Strassburg, but, inasmuch as they were of no value to the congregation, I exchanged them with a bookdealer at Frankfort for two hundred Frankfort handbooks, which I and Michael Schmidt had bound for the congregation. Other books, which came from Strassburg, we exchanged at Darmstadt for hymn books with large and readable types for the use of the congregation. Regarding these books we ought first of all to be compensated for our expenses and secondly we ought to receive our stipulated portion of the same. This holds good also for the exchanges which we endeavored to make of our money into current money, as I have noted in the collection book at the end of the Hamburg and Lubeck\textsuperscript{35} account. Likewise, it is no more than just that, where we were compelled to make advances, we should have the same restored to us. These began as soon as we came to Leipzig and Lauenburg and extended down to the end of the collecting tour, which advances amounted to at least five per cent.

Finally I and Michael Schmidt bought at Plymouth a hundred pieces of cut window glass and packed it in six boxes together with three hundred pounds of putty, with which to fasten the glass in the wooden frames. We paid for the same, according to the bill, twenty-five pounds and ten shillings, sterling, which sum must likewise be repaid to us by the congregation.

Whatever else is necessary for thee to know concerning this affair thou canst learn from conversation with Michael Schmidt and from the documents, which will give thee in all things the necessary light. To this end call, with a pure heart, upon the God of wisdom and understanding, that he may plentifully fill thy heart with his heavenly wisdom. When the whole matter has been settled then cause a document to be drawn up by the magistrate or notary public, in the presence of witnesses, so that it may have standing before the whole world. Then give to each one his portion, due to him.

Furthermore care as much as possible, for this congregation, its preservation as well as its true interests, write in its behalf to the court preacher, Rev. Mr. Fresenius\(^\text{36}\) and ask him to send if necessary a new minister, also try to keep up a correspondence with the ecclesiastical and secular authorities in Germany that they may send over to thee the collections which from there are yet to be expected. I also bought of him Fresenius besides other books Langen's, "Light and Right," one part of which is still wanting. Write to him he will surely send it.

Regarding the goods, which I and Michael Schmidt have bought, the same belong in part to us jointly, some of them to him, but most of them to me alone. Michael Schmidt will no doubt remember it all correctly.

Finally this power of attorney concerns my wife and children. I nominate thee again truly and faithfully to assign to each the share which I have intended for them. First, concerning my dear wife. Her share shall be whatever she has of cattle, horses, hogs and all other living animals, all furniture, bedding, pewter, copper, iron ware and linen, in short she need not give to any one an account of these things, yet with this condition that during my absence she behaved herself as a good wife and that be she did not slander my office and honor with her wicked tongue and thereby gave great offence. In such a case everything shall be taken from her from the greatest to the least, even including the clothes on her body, since they all came from me, and shall be added to the share of the children. Everything that I leave of money, silver, linen, clothing, bedding and whatever other goods I have, shall be valued as to their total value and shall then be equally divided among my beloved children, but nothing shall be given into the hands of those of the second marriage, until they have reached the requisite age. Thou, my dear son, shalt heartily assist them in their training in the Christian faith as well as in their getting a livelihood. If thou canst not do it in any other way thou shalt give them the yearly interest of their money, which thou hast in hands.

This, my dear Son, is thy full power of attorney, containing what I ask of thee.

May God plentifully grant thee wisdom, understanding and grace for the sake of Jesus Christ and keep thy heart from all falsehood and deceit. Amen, Amen.

Of the Christian congregation in Spotsylvania we have already given an account in Vol. III., of these Acts, p. 1094f. We have now heard that their minister, Mr. Stoever, who made a trip to Europe, died at sea on his return journey. The new minister, Mr. George Samuel Klug, has safely arrived in Orange County, also called Spotsylvania, together with his other companions. They thereupon sent a writing to their benefactors in and outside of Germany, from whom they received contributions. This was published in the "Hamburger Berichten," 1741, No. LXVI, p. 558f., and we shall also insert it here:

Orange County, in America, August 29, 1740.

Letter of Thanks of the Evangelical Lutheran Congregation in Orange County, Virginia, in America, to all our benefactors, high and low, in and outside of Germany:

The remarkable liberality to which persons of high and low birth, in Germany, Prussia and other places were impelled towards us, their poor fellow believers, living in a distant part of the world, in order to improve by their kind contributions our hitherto poor spiritual condition, due to the lack of the necessary temporal means, such liberality puts us and our descendants under lasting obligations to them. Reverence, love and gratitude are the feelings with which our hearts are filled towards our dearest benefactors. We remember them at all times in our daily prayers and are confident that God, who hears when the poor call upon him, will graciously hear our prayer, remember them in mercy and reward here temporarily, and yonder eternally the kindness shown to us, which will only redound to the advancement of his glory and his service. The Lord, whose mercy reaches as far as the heavens, and whose truth as far as the clouds, increase their possessions ten, yea a hundred fold! And may eternity give to them the most perfect increase of that which they have loaned to the Lord. We shall tell it to our children what the Lord has done to us through them and they will tell it to their children so that their memory will be preserved as a continual blessing among our descendants. When at last, on the great day of resurrection, the books will be opened the names of our most valued benefactors, whom we love heartily, revere with due reverence, and for whom we pray, will be found written in the book of life. The Lord, dwelling in heaven, add to our weak wishes his powerful amen, gather us all who are separated in body, into his eternal kingdom and into the company of the most perfect and righteous spirits.

This is the wish and prayer to God of the congregation in Virginia, accepting the unchanged Augsburg Confession.

When we returned from Lancaster, we received a visit from Rev. Mr. Kluge, of Virginia, three hundred and thirty miles from here, who had settled there ten years ago. He wished to see and become acquainted with our organization. We received him kindly. He went away quietly and well satisfied. May God bless this journey to him.

[Extract from Rev. John Frederick Handschuh's Diary of 1749.]40

On June 9, [1749] several members of the Consistory brought Rev. Samuel Kluge, pastor in Virginia, to me, who stayed long with me to my great delight, and who was accompanied by me back to town [Lancaster].

[June 11] third Sunday after Trinity. At noon Rev. Mr. Kluge took dinner with me, who had spent yesterday almost the whole day with me. In the afternoon I asked him to preach for me. On the following day he bade me farewell & continued his journey to Philadelphia.

June 23. Yesterday Rev. Mr. Kluge stopped again on his return from Phila. and to-day he took leave from me.

In this month of June [1749] Rev. Mr. Klug visited us, who for a number of years has been officiating to a German Evangelical congregation in the province of Virginia. From this country, Virginia, also called Spotsylvania, several years ago, a few German men, among whom one named Stoever is specially to be mentioned, went through Germany to collect money. They collected a sum of almost 3,000 pounds, the third part of which they received for traveling expenses and for their labors, for the rest they built a frame church, bought a tract of land and a number of negro slaves. From this land and slaves the minister derives an ample income, so that he is not in the least burdensome to his congregation on account of his support. He [Kluge] complained that he was alone in this extensive district, most of the inhabitants being Englishmen, and that he had no opportunity of being encouraged and edified by intercourse with German associates in the ministry. He also said, that several of the Zinzendorfians had passed through his congregation, without being able to gain a firm foothold; nor could they well find an entrance in the province, because its laws were severe against such vagrants, who could not show a legal call and valid testimonials. He promised to visit us more frequently, if God should grant him life, because he felt stimulated by it, although he was living three hundred miles away from us.

[The testator, Captain Robert Wynne, was, in his day, one of the most influential men in Virginia. Beginning his service a representative for Charles City county at the sessions of March, 1657–8, and March, 1659–60, he was during the entire existence of Virginia's "Long Parliament" 1661–1674, Speaker of the House of Burgesses. It would appear from his will that he married a widow Poythress. The Woodlies are] believed to be descendants of Captain John Woodlief, who came to Virginia in 1620 to take charge of the well-known Berkeley plantation, in regard to which the "Smith of Nibley Papers," now in the New York Public Library, give so much interesting information. Robert Wynne's sons were living and married early in the 18th century. Thomas Wynne, gent., of Prince George county, was living in 1707, and then aged 50. In November of the same year, he, together with Agnes his wife, made deeds, recorded in Surry, to his daughter Mary Melone, and his son Robert Wynne. Major Joshua Wynne and Mary his wife, deeded a tract of land in Surry in 1708. In that year he was a justice of Prince George county. These brothers are believed to be ancestors of the Wynnes of southern Virginia.

[Daniel Parke, doubtless a son of William Parke, whose will was printed in this Magazine XIII, 192, seems to have been in Virginia when a child. He was born, according to a deposition, about 1628, and probably lived for a time in England. He was in Virginia in 1652, was a justice of York county 1653, and sheriff 1659; was a Burgess for York county in 1666 and doubtless at other sessions of that long Assembly; was sworn as member of the Council June 21, 1670, was Secretary of State 1678-79, and was at the same time Treasurer. He married, in or before 1658, Rebecca, widow of Bartholomew Knipe, of Virginia, gentleman, and daughter of George Evelyn. On Nov. 25, 1658, a renewal patent was granted to Robert Bourne and Daniel Parke, gentlemen, for 580 acres in York county on the south side of York River, adjoining the lands of Richard Ford, Thomas Smith, the Rickahock path &c., formerly granted them on Oct. 8, 1655. Daniel Parke, his wife, &c., headrights. On March 24, 1662-3, Captain Daniel Parke was granted 528 acres in James City county on the west side of Rickahock Path, and on the cart path that goes from Mr. Sorrel's to Mr. Barker's, adjoining the land of Col. Pettus, the path that goes to Chickahominy Gate, &c., sold in part to said Parke by Christopher Harris, and in part by Mr. Robert Sorrell.

On the wall of Bruton Church, Williamsburg, is a tablet with the following inscription:

ye Hon'ble Daniel Parke of ye County of Essex Esq who was one of his Mat'ies Counsellors and some time Secretary of the Collony of Virg'a he Died ye 6th of March Anno. 1679
His other Felicityes were crowned by his happy Marridg with Rebecka the Daughter of George Evelyn of the County of Surry Esq she dyed the 2d of January Anno. 1672 at Long Ditton in ye County of Surry and

It should be noted that the counties named in this epitaph are English, not Virginian.

One of the “hopeful progeny” was the noted (or notorious) Col. Daniel Parke, who was born in 1669, was appointed to the Virginia Council in 1692, removed to England where he purchased an estate in Hampshire and was elected to Parliament; but was unseated for bribery, then entered the army and distinguished himself greatly at Blenheim as one of Marlborough’s aids. In recognition of his gallantry the Duke sent him to England with the first news of the victory. A fac simile of the brief note has been published in one of the lives of Marlborough. Parke was then appointed Governor of the Leeward Islands, and was murdered in a riot at Antigua, Dec. 7, 1710. A copy of his will is in the "Byrd Title Book," Virginia Historical Society. Two fine portraits of Daniel Parke the younger, by Kneller, are in Virginia, one at "Brandon," which descended through the Byrd family, and another at Washington-Lee University, the property of the Lees, which came through the Custis family. The younger Daniel Parke married —— Ludwell, and had two children, Lucy, who married Col. Wm. Byrd, of "Westover," and Frances who married Col. John Custis]

The following commission furnishes some ground for supposing that John West may have continued governor as late as the 11th of May, 1636:

"By the governor and captain general of Virginia.

Whereas the instant danger and necessity of the colony exacteth this so strict a course, these are to authorize and further in his majesty's name to will and require Lieut Richard Popely to take his voyage in a —— whereof is owner and master Joseph Stratton and now riding in Charles river alias Pamunky river and with the first fair wind and weather to set sail into the Chesapian bay and into a river or creek thereof in pursuit and enquiry of Captain Henry Fleet¹ and to apprehend him and bring him prisoner to the governor as also to take and bring in a vessel that one David Wittleife² is gone out in with the said David and his company and further to take and surprize any boats and vessels with those in them whom he shall find trading without commission from the governor and in case of resistance either from the said Captain Fleet or any other that he com-pelleth in by force, having first charged him or them in the king's name to yield themselves, by that mean if possible it may be to avoid the effusion of blood, these are also further in his majesty's name to will and require as well the said Joseph Stratton as any other of his majesty's subjects to be aiding and assisting to the best of their power and endeavors to the said Lieut Popely in their execution of the premises. Hereof fail you not as you or any of you will answer the contrary at your perils. Given under our hands at Little Town³ in the co'y of James city this 11th of May 1636.

    John West,
    John Utye, Rich'd Kemp, George Minefye, Henry Brown.

As there is a precept of Sir John Harvey bearing date on the 16th of February, 1637, it may be regarded as certain that he was acting as governor on that day if not sooner.

There was an assembly in 1637 at which it was enacted that it should be adjudged felony in any person or persons to barter with the Indians for pieces, powder, shot or other arms or ammunition or any other commodities whatsoever without commission from the governor. Of this assembly Mr. Hening makes no mention; but the fact of its having been holden and of such an act having been passed, is set forth in the seventeenth act passed at the session of January, 1639, as will be seen hereafter.

There was also an assembly in October, 1638, which Mr. Hening does not mention. It appears however by the twenty ninth act passed at the said session of January, 1639, that there was an act of assembly of the 22d of October, 1638, concerning burgesses charges, and it appears by the thirty first act passed at the said session of January, 1639, that it was enacted at the grand assembly bearing date the 22d of October, 1638, that all innholders and ordinary keepers should be rated at six pound of tobacco or eighteen pence in money for a meal or gallon of beer, to be paid at the discretion of the guests. Commissions are yet extant which were issued by the governor early in 1639 to persons in Elizabeth city county to keep "a common ale house and victualing house." They provide that the party commissioned should not suffer any unlawful games to be used in his house nor any evil rule or order to be kept within the same.

Sir John Harvey continued to be governor during the greater part if not the whole of the year 1638, and bore very hardly upon a clergyman of the name of Anthony Panton*. He received from the church wardens of York and also of the parish of Chiskiack such tobacco and corn as were due unto Panton for 1638, and afterwards pronounced a sentence against Panton of a most extraordinary character. A letter of Harvey is still remaining wherein he addressed the parishioners of Chiskiack in these terms: "You the parishioners of Chiskiack, I desire you to shell the tythe corn in your custody because I shall have occasion to transport it by water for my use to Jamestown.

This serves to give some insight into the character of the man in one aspect.

The sentence of the court given at James city the 8th of October, 1638, exhibits him in another. That sentence was by Harvey the then governor and by the then council. Panton was by them pronounced published and proclaimed an exile and banished man from the colony. He was prohibited forever from claiming or enjoying any part, portion or inheritance within its limits. And he was required to depart from the colony in the first ship and not to return upon pain of death or present execution without further judgment. Of this edict all his majesty’s officers and subjects were commanded to take notice, and in case of his return the court gave authority to all persons whatsoever that they or any one or more of them should or might arrest, take and execute him. We are without information of the charge which was made the pretext for such a sentence. It will be seen hereafter that those who gave this judgment were not sustained either by their successors or by the privy council in England.

Mr. Hening states that Harvey continued governor till November, 1639 (1 Stat. at Large, p. 4), but in this he is certainly mistaken. Sir Francis Witt came in long before November. Amongst many evidences of this fact, may be adduced the following commission and order [not entered].

After the assembly of January, 1639, Mr. Hening mentions no other until 1642. There were however other sessions of the assembly in the interval.

That there was a session in October, 1639, appears by account of the sheriff of Henrico county, wherein Henrico is not only made debtor by the act of assembly of January 6th, 1639, but is also made “Dr by act of assembly October the 21st Anno Dom. 1639” and likewise appears by the receipts to the sheriff for what he paid in discharge of those debits. For example one of those receipts dated 7th of April 1640 specified that the money received is "by the appointment of the burgesses of the assembly in October."

There was also another assembly called soon after the following proclamation, [not entered].

Sir John Harvey was acting as governor after this at least as early as the 16th of January, 1637. For by a patent bearing date on that day, he granted to Arthur Bayley, of Curles, merchant 800 acres of land in the county of Henrico bounded southerly upon the land of Samuel Almond\(^5\) westerly upon the river, northerly towards the falls and easterly in the woods. The adjoining land of Almond was 200 acres about two miles below the falls granted him for the personal adventure of himself and the transportation of three persons into the colony.

From these acts of January, 1639, and other proceedings of the same period, much interesting information may be gathered.

By the 34th act it appears that there were in the colony then 4,621 tithable persons. And the patents which yet remain shew which was done at that time to add to the population and enlarge the quantity of land in cultivation. They also shew what part of the colony the settlers were then occupying.

In March, 1639, there was granted to George Minifie Esq'r one of the council of state 3000 acres on the north side of Charles river for the transportation into the colony of 60 persons of whom 15 were negroes; to Captain Nicholas Martian 1300 acres in the county of Charles river, to wit: 600 for adventure of himself, his wife and ten persons first year to Chiskiack\(^6\) according to order of court bearing date the 8th of October, 1630, and 700 for the transportation into the colony of 14 of whom three were negroes; to Captain Richard Townsend 650 acres in the county of Charles riv'r, to wit, 350 acres for the adventure of himself, his wife and five servants the first year to Chiskiak and 300 acres for the transportation of himself, his wife and 4 persons into the colony; to Robert Felgate 400 acres in the same county for the transportation of 8 persons into the colony; to Henry Perry 2000 acres of land called Buckland\(^7\) in Charles city county, to William Burdett 1050 acres in the county of of Ackomack for his own personal adventure and the transportation of 20 persons into the colony; and to Richard Cocke gent 2000 acres of land in the county of Henrico for the transportation into the colony of 40 persons of whom one was a negro woman, 300 acres of the land being at Bremo and 1700 acres upon the head of Turkey island creek called by the name of Mauborne Hills.

In October, 1639, there was granted to Francis Martin 250 acres in the county of Accomack for the transportation of 5 persons into the colony.

In December, 1639, there was granted to Stephen Webb land in the county of James city at a place called the lower Chipoaks of which 100 acres was for the transportation of 2 persons into the colony; and to Peter Rigbye 100 acres of land in the parish of New Poquoson in the county of Charles Riv’r for the transportation of 2 persons.

In 1640 there was granted the following quantities of land to wit: in April to William Jones 100 acres in Accomack county; in May to William Allen of London Merchant 600 acres in the county of Charles river along Sandy point; in June to John Davis 450 acres in the county of Charles river upon the head of Queen’s creek; in July to Stephen Gill 350 acres in the same county upon the same creek; to Thomas Harvey 950 acres in the county of James city known by the name of Harvey’s neck; to John Felgate 1200 acres in the same county upon the eastern side of Chickohomini river; and to Robert Holt 700 acres in the same county on the same side of that river; in August 1640 to Henry Porter and Raphael Joyner 350 acres in the same county on the same river; to Bridges Freeman 100 acres in the same county; to John Radford 200 acres in the county of the lower Norfolk on the western branch of Elizabeth river and to William Crimage 700 acres in the county of Isle of Wight, 400 acres part thereof lying upon the head of Pagan bay creek and the residue laying upon the head of a branch issuing from the said creek; in October 100 acres in the county of the upper Norfolk upon the western branch of Nansemond river and to

Thomas Isles 225 acres in the county of Charles river; and in November to Randall Crew 450 acres in the county of the upper Norfolk upon the head of a creek which issueth from the southern branch of Nansemond river.

The grants usually provided that the land should be held of the king his heirs and successors as of his manor of East Greenwich in free and common socage and not in capite nor in knight services, yielding and paying seven years after the date of the grant the rent of one shilling yearly at the feast of St. Michael the Archangel to his majesty's use. And they also provided that if the grantee his heirs or assigns should not plant or seat on the land within three years after the date of the grant, it should be lawful for any adventurer and planter to make choice and seat upon the same.

[A title under a patent was frequently transferred by deed. When the grantors were a husband and wife, the deed would express that "they did so in the presence of the court acknowledge a fine and suffer a recovery to be passed and recorded in as large and real manner and to all intents and purposes as is and hath been usual in the kingdom of England." There is a deed in these terms bearing date the 8th of April, 1640. After an assignment of a title under a patent, a new grant was frequently issued to the assignee. Some of the grants before specified were of this nature. It happened too sometimes that at the time of assigning a right, no patent had issued ]

It is proper to remark that the importation of persons into the colony which formed the consideration of a grant was not always immediately before the date of the grant. In making some of the grants just mentioned, Sir Francis Wiatt did what had been omitted by his predecessors. And in some instances a new grant issued in renewal of a patent formerly issued to one person and assigned by him to another.

The private deeds of parties furnish some information as to the course of dealing and mode of transferring rights. There is a covenant of the first of December 1637 from a citizen of London with a planter of Virginia to deliv'r him in a year, three servants viz: two men and one maid servant, to serve the planter his heir or assigns after their arrival in Virginia, for the term of four years, and a deed of the 12th of April, 1640, from an inhabitant of Virginia to a merchant of the same conveying land "in consideration of six servants and a beaver to be delivered unto him at the next year's shipping and four servants more the year after at the said time of shipping."

As indicating the mode in which a wife's interest in land was passed, may be mentioned a deed of the 8th of April, 1640, wherein the husband and wife after granting the land declared that they did "in the presence of the court acknowledge a fine and suffer a recovery to be passed and recorded in as and real manner and to all intents and purposes as is and hath been usual in the kingdom of England." The entry in court in this case was in the following terms: "Miss Mary Utye this day personally appeared in court and acknowledged her free consent to a feoffment and grant of a certain parcel of tract of land from John Utye her husband to William Taylor and hath departed with all claim which she may make to the said land in right of dower or otherwise."

202.–Commence papers relating to Bacon's Rebellion.
144. By the 14th act, it was declared lawful and free for any person yearly to export or sell for exportation to New England or any other neighbouring plantations the seventh head of neat cattell either male or female, and the 15th act declared that when the sale of corn should be under the price of twelve shillings per barrel, it should be lawful and free, by commission from the governor to export corn either to New England or any other neighboring plantations and not otherwise. Under this act a commission issued the 28th of Feburary, 1639, authorizing John Stratton to export corn and cattle not exceeding the exportation allowed by the said act and requiring the captain of his majesty's fort at point comfort and all other his majesty's officers that they should not molest or hinder him in the premises as also that the said captain or any other whom it might concern should take care that the said Stratton should not export any tobacco or any other prohibited commodities, which commission was to continue in force for that voyage and no longer. Two other commissions were issued one the 19th of March, 1639, and the other the 17th of August, 1640, authorizing William Hunt to transport corn, pork or bacon to the neighbouring colony of New England, which commissions were in like terms as the other except that after the words "do not export any tobacco or any other prohibited commodity" there was inserted these words "without certificate from me the governor that he hath entered into bond to his majesty's use to unlade the same at the port of London and not elsewhere according to the order in that behalf at Whitehall the second day of July, 1634, by the right honourable the lords and others of his majesty's most honourable privy Council." In a commission of the 24th of April, 1640, to Edward Robins to export corn, pork and great cattle to New England, the words so inserted in Hunt's commissions were omitted. 148-9.

In the meantime the diminution of the quantity of tobacco was kept steadily in view.

In an order of the 20th of April, 1640, directing a patent to issue for 2000 acres of land within an Inlet to the southward of the capes for the transportation of 40 persons into the colony, a proviso was made that the grantee should put in security to the court that neither he nor his assigns should plant any tobacco upon the land without further order from the board.

The assembly was holden at James city the 25th of January, 1640, and its first act was "that all money debts made originally in the colony from planter to planter since the proclamation dated the 14th day of November, 1639, forbidding all trade for tobacco till after the next assembly shall be payable in tobacco after the rate of 12d. p. lb. either for neat cattle, sheep, goats, corn or any other commodity or provisions raised within the the colony as also workman's wages, servants hired from man to man, lands and houses with all their appurtenances." The act is so recited in an entry at a court helden at James city the 13th of April, 1641, which after such recital proceeds as follows:

"And whereas Sir Francis Wyatt.
No. 1 p. 494.

In the mean time those measures were going on which the assembly of January, 1639, had directed, for the purpose of diminishing the quantity of tobacco. This appears by such certificates as the following:

"These are to certify whom it may concern that we have burned in our limits upon the account of Owen Floyd 24 hhds. of good and merchantable tobacco for which he desireth to have the like quantity spared.

April, 1640.
Nathaniel Warren.

The mark of X Will. Nottingham."

The following order of the 11th of April, 1640, shews also the manner in which the court carried out what it deemed the scope and end of the act.

[Blank.]

At a court holden at James city the 4th of February, 1640:

"Whereas the masters of ships petitioned this board that there might a stay be made of the tobacco put on board the Fleming, the court taking into consideration that the colony was in great want of necessaries when the dutch ship arrives with a large supply of useful commodities did therefore allow that the said ship should have permission to trade for old tobacco. And whereas since the arrival of the said ship, divers other ships have here arrived out of England but very late in the year, the masters whereof pretend themselves and owners much injured by such trade, notwithstanding themselves confess that they have not brought in commodities to supply the colony, neither would they acknowledge any invoice of goods to furnish the present necessities, so that if the said Dutch ship had not been accordingly licensed as all others of New England, the colony had been drawn to a most intolerable exigent. It is therefore ordered that the said leave already granted unto the said Fleming shall hereby be allowed of and confirmed; it being already provided that the kings customs for all tobacco exported in the said ship shall be duly satisfied." (Id. p. 414.)

At a court holden at Elizabeth city the 6th of May, 1640: Upon the petition of Captain Anthony Hobson and Abraham Sheers presenting to the board that they have great quantities of tobacco which they cannot through the want of shipping directly send for the port of London and that therefore they might have leave to transport the same by way of New England which the court upon considerations and provisos hereafter expressed did condescend unto viz: that the owner of the Mary and Barbary where they do intend to export the same should enter into bond to his majesty's use to unlade all their freight of tobacco which they shall receive within the colony at the port of New England and that the said Captain Hobson and Abraham Sheers or any other that shall lade any tobacco aboard the said ship shall enter into bond as aforesaid to transport their several quantities of tobacco according to invoice which is to be brought in upon oath of the owners of the tobacco to the port of London and there to unlade the same, not elsewhere according to the order of their lordships of his majesty's most honourable privy council in that behalf. HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL NOTES AND QUERIES.

LETTER OF PATRICK HENRY TO WILLIAM GRAYSON.

(Communicated by Mr. Wm. Preston Harrison, Chicago, Ill.)

Dear Sir: The appointment of a superintendent of Indian affairs to the South now resting with the president and Senate I am now requested by Brig. Gen'l Joseph Martin to address this to you and to testify whatever I think his past conduct may have merited. From the earliest Date of Hostilities with the British this gentleman was called on as agent for this State, with the Cherokee Indians, to counteract the dangerous Designs then meditated and indeed in great measure matured by the agency Cannon and others. Scanty and uncertain Supplies of goods from us soon gave a preference to the British Interest which nothing but military operations could control or counterbalance. The embarrassments of congress did not permit them to give to Southern Indian affairs the attention which the safety of this country demanded. The management of them therefore devolved on this Government. From the various situations in which I have been placed, I have had particular regard to this subject and from the first to the last of the War and indeed till the End of the late American Government Mr. Martin has conducted the affairs of this State w'ch the Cherokees and Chickasaws some of the little Intercourse which has taken place between the United States & these two Tribes & also with the Creeks & Choctaws. The ascendency which he soon gained over the cherokees induced the State of No. Carolina to give him the agency for that state & from frequent Intercourse with Gent'n of the Executive there, I learned he gave entire satisfaction except to a party whose constant Endeavours have been used to encroach on the Indians and even to drive them away. To a similar description of men in Virg'a this gentleman's conduct has been exceptionable. To the Executive highly satisfactory, at least during my Time & I think during the whole of his agency. British Emissaries offered Rewards for his scalp to the Indians, parties of whom narrowly missed him from Time to Time; partisans of the new State in No. Carolina afterwards found him obnoxious to their views & as I believe often endangered his Life For his Duty called him to discourage their Disorderly conduct & to thwart their favorite Schemes—I think their present declining condition not a little owing to his efforts exerted under my immediate orders. Their frequent Butcheries of Indians & Refinement in cruelty sufficiently characterize these people who are Mr Martins decided Foes—after bearing the Heat & Burden of the Day a gentleman of the profession of physic superseded him & to the astonishment of these people the man who had so many years encountered every Danger & Difficulty in supporting the American Interest & their own Rights was Displaced & the aforesaid gentleman succeeded him. I believe complaints will be made against Mr. Martin but they will come from the new govern't party, I mean Franklinites either in No. Carolina or Virg'a or from some person who wishes to succeed him, now that the Dangers he has braved are past—among his competitors is a Mr. Drumgold I am told whose character I know but very little about but I can say that none can pretend such Length of service & Danger in that Quarter as Mr. Martin, & I am fully persuaded his personal Influence is superior to that of any competition with the Cherokees. If I did not think this gentleman by far the most fit for the agency with these Indians, I should not have troubled you with this long letter and if you will be so good as to use your Influence to procure him the appointment it will be doing him a singular favour for he has I think no acquaintance in Congress. His wife & Family are my neighbours at Leatherwood & I can forward any Letter to him. His last appointment under Congress was for 6 months now expired.

Federal and anti seem now scarcely to exist; For our highest toned Feds say we must have the amendments. but the Enumeration stops at direct Taxtation Treatys Trade &c. &c., so that I perceive it will be a Question of prudence. How far the Temper of the Times will carry the condiscension of party or whether apprehensions will extort concession to any salutary purpose I from my secluded situation cannot guess—You perhaps can tell me how far the appearances tend that way. I hear nothing worth telling you. What Decius says of me, & others say for me the Gazettes have told you. I have not seen them except a few numbers (about 5)—In these he was not lucky enough to hit up on one charge that is warranted by Truth. How lucky it is that he knew me no better, for I know of many Deficiencies in my own conduct, that I can easily conceive myself an unprofitable Servant.—But alas! how difficult is it for human pride to submit to that appellation from others! It is not candid to characterize a system of Government from the men who will ever form the fag end of human society—from the political understrappers who ever follow the footsteps of power and whine and fawn or snarl a bark as they are bid; who ape their Betters & are content with their Leavings, as the wages of the dirty Work assigned them, such men are found in most Govern'ts & no doubt in the American. But whether their superiors will be of a more tolerant spirit is yet to learn. That dirty scribblers will be disowned by their own party I doubt not—But that they are encouraged also as little doubt. To be done with an Invidious subject let me ask you, do the Spaniards really countenance Emigrations to their country beyond the Missipi's or to the Natchiz. If to the latter, pray what Right have they to the soil? The British Treaty gives us to 3° North—Georgia can only go due West from the Head of the Altamaha so that the U. S. have a great & valuable Territory stretching from the Head of St. Mary for its Southern Boundery to the Mississippi & up that River to the Intersection of the due West Line of Georgia, which must go from the Head of the Altamaha) the proclamation of 1743 notwithstanding.

[The copy in Mr. Harrison's possession, for the original is lost, is imperfect. Patrick Henry was at this time living at "Leatherwood," Henry Co. For a notice of the attacks on him in the Richmond Independent Chronicle, signed Decius, see Henry's Life of Patrick Henry, II, 435-439. General Joseph Martin, of Henry county, Va., was a distinguished pioneer. He opposed the establishment of the State of Franklin out of western North Carolina, and also the design of Arthur Campbell and other southwestern Virginians to separate that section of Virginia from the mother Commonwealth. The amendments referred to were those proposed by the Virginia Convention of 1788. This letter it is believed is printed for the first time.]

BROOKE CORRECTIONS.—In the July issue of "The Virginia Magazine of History and Biography" is an account of the Brooke family by Prof. Brooke of W. Va. I wish to correct two mistakes. The first is Mr. R. Baxter Tuggle married Martha Wilson Berkley, not Buckley of Farmville, Va.

The second is Florence Tuggle married Harry Beverley, not Harry Barkley.

THROCKMORTON CORRECTION.

Referring to the will of Lewis Phillips 24 Aug., 1688. prov. 3 M'ch, 1669-70, published on p'g 82 of the July number of the Magazine and the statement on p'g 84, that:

"Alice sister of the testator married Robert Throckmorton Esq. of Ellington, Huntingdonshire, and was mother of John Throckmorton who settled in Virginia, see Magazine XIII, 195."

This statement is an error.

Lewis Phillips was the husband of Judith Throckmorton born July 11, 1608, or 21 Dec., 1665, dau. of Gabriel Throckmorton of Ellington Hunts. & Alice dau. & heir of Wm. Bedell of Stockden, Beds. & Mary Cartwright. Judith was an aunt of John Throckmorton who was in Virginia when Lewis Phillips drew his will.

Lewis Phillips must have been connected in some other way with the Throckmorton family as he refers to Albin, Robt. & John as his cousins, he may have meant nephews, however.

C. Wickliffe Throckmorton.

THE OLDEST EPITAPH IN VIRGINIA.

The stone which bears the following epitaph, the oldest legible one remaining in Virginia, is now in the graveyard at "Four Mile Tree," the old Browne estate on James river in Surry county. It was formerly in the garden there:

"Here lyeth buried the body of Alice Miles daughter of John Miles of Brandon in Hertford Gent. and late wife of Mr. Geo.
Jordan in Virginia who departed this life the 7th of Jan., 1650.
Reader her dust is here inclosed who was of art & grace composed Her life was virtuous, glorious during breath but highly glorious in her death."

Roger Mallory, son of Dr. Thomas Mallory rector of Northenden, Cheshire, and of Eccleston, Lancaster, England, obtained a grant of land in Virginia in 1660. His uncle, the Rev. Philip Mallory, also willed to him all his plantations in Virginia. He settled in that part of New Kent county, Va., which later became King and Queen county and still later King William county.

He was a Justice of New Kent county in 1630, and as late as 1690 (Va. Magazine Jan., 1894, and April, 1899), and of King and Queen county in 1693 (see below) and had the title of Captain. On the 30th of April, 1688, he received by patent a grant of "2514 acres of land sittuate and being ye P'ish of St. John in ye county of New Kent on ye south side of Mattapony River * * * w'ch land was formerly granted to ye said Captain Rodger Mallory by patent and in the late troubles casually lost and is due by and for ye transportation of fifty-one persons," &c.

On the 26th of April, 1693, Roger Mallory referred to as "gent.," received by patent a grant of 300 acres "lying in King and Queen county aforesaid (but lately part of New Kent county)."

In 1704-5 Roger Mallory was a Justice of King William county. (Va. Magazine April, 1901).

Note.—Captain Roger Mallory was probably the son of Jane the first wife of Dr. Thomas Mallory, and if so was born between 1632 and 1638.

Dr. Mallory apparently did not leave Oxford till 1632, and his wife Jane died in 1638. Roger was therefore about 70 years of age in 1705, or less.

William Mallory, son of Captain Roger Mallory, appears to have settled in Elizabeth City county, Va., as early as 1685. He married Ann Wythe, daughter of Thomas Wythe, gent., a justice of that county.

From the book of "Deeds and Wills, 1689-1699 Eliz. City county," page 115, it appears that Diana Moore, wife of John Moore of Gloster county, on the 27th of Nov., 1690, relinquishes quit claims, etc., her right, title, etc., to a certain tract of land in Elizabeth City county, to William Mallory which it appears her husband and Susannah Moore had "on the 16th of August, 1680, sold to the said William Mallory of Elizabeth City county."

On the same page appears the following: "Know all men by these presents that I Ann Malory, wife of Will'm Malory of ye said county of Eliza. City, doe hereby apoint and constitute my Father in law Captain Roger Malory, of King & Queen county, my true and lawful attorney for me & in my name & stead to acknowledge in ye Court of King & Queen county, all my right of dower or third yt. Witness my hand and seale ye 2d, s'd day of May, 1693.

Present:

Mr. Edmund Swansy,
Mr. Tho. Wythe Jun'r,
Captain William Armistead
Mr. Aug. Moore.

The above letter of Attorney was then Prouved by the Oaths of Thomas Wythe and Charles Jenings."

On the same page follows a similar power of Attorney in the case of another tract of land in King and Queen county, sold to one "John fford," Mallory being spelled in this case invariably with two "l's." Executed and proved the same day.

In the same book on page 223, appears the following:

"Know all men by these pres'nts yt. I Wllm. Mallory, Doe Give unto my Sonn Francis Mallory one negro Lad nam'd Will and one Gray Mare & their Increse to him & his heirs for ever. It Being in consideration of forty Pounds Sterling. It Being Given unto my said sonn By his Grand Mother Ann With.

W'll'm Malory.

Acknowledged in Cort of Eliz., City County this 18th of Xbr., 1696.

On the 20th of April, 1687, William Mallory received by patent a grant of 3740 acres of land, "lying in New Kent County in Pominkey
Mallory & to his Heirs & that is my Desire that my said wife may not be hindered from Claiming her Dower on account of this Chaise,' Gives to Henry King one Mourning Ring, Twenty shillings value.
All the remaining part of estate not already disposed of to be equally divided between his two sons Francis and Edward.
Appoints Henry King a Trustee for his son Francis "and that in Case my said son should neglect or waiste his Estate then he the said Henry King shall take the said Estate into his hands untill such time as my said son Francis come of age."
Lastly appoints his wife Diana Mallory and his two sons Francis and Edward Mallory Executrix and Executors.
Witnesses: George Johnson, John Bayley and Francis Parker.
Francis Mallory, eldest son of Johnson Mallory and Diana his wife was married three times; twice before he was twenty one and once just after.
His last wife was Mary King sister of Miles King, Sr. of Hampton afterwards of Norfolk.
He was appointed Lieut-Colonel of Elizabeth City county Militia in June 1776 (Council Journal) and it would appear that he was later promoted to be Colonel.
After participating in various engagements with the British he was killed March 8th, 1781, while commanding a small force of Militia in an action with a largely superior force of British regular troops commanded by Lieut. Col. Dundas, near Newport News. (See account of this affair, with additional personal details in The Virginia Historical Register, Vol. IV, 1851, page 24 et seq. For the British account see letter of Brigadier General Benedict Arnold to Sir Henry Clinton dated Portsmouth, March 8th. 1781, in "Clinton-Cornwallis Controversy growing out of the Campaign in Virginia 1781," Vol. I, pp. 339 340.)
The negroes belonging to the estate of Colonel Francis Mallory, deceased, were in obedience to an order of the court of Elizabeth City county, appraised December 31st. 1788, the valuation being £1444, 10s. and were divided among his widow, Mrs. Mary Mallory, his daughters Diana (Mrs. Geo. Wray,) Elizabeth Mallory, Mary Mallory and his son Charles Mallory, then an infant. (Vol. 34, Deeds Elizabeth City County, 1787-1800).
The will of Mrs. Mary Mallory of Elizabeth City County, widow of Colonel Francis Mallory, dated 20th of January, 1789, was proved in said county April 24, 1789.
To son Charles King Mallory the Marsh adjoining the land whereon she then lived.
Her negro boy James to Mr. Meritt Moore.
The remainder of her negroes to be equally divided among her three children, Elizabeth King Mallory, Mary King Mallory and Charles
I have not here to fore given; also all my Stock House hold Goods and Cash by me and all other Goods or Estate which to me belongs or in any wise appertains, to him the said Johnson Mallory and his Heirs forever. Item whereas I have and there belongs to me the Reversion of certain Tract of Land lying in King William County now belonging to the Indians and other Persons which are now in the possession of the said Indians and those other Persons. It is therefore my will and desire that the said Reversion and all the Rights, Title or Claim that I or my Heirs have or should have if this Will had never been made do go and decend to my said son Johnson and I do hereby give and bequeath the same to him and his Heirs forever."

Francis Mallory, son of William Mallory and his wife Ann (Wythe) Mallory, married Ann, Myhill, as appears from "An Acco't of Marriage Licenses 1719-1720," Elizabeth City county Records. It also appears from the county records that (about the year 1721) Francis Mallory came into court with Ann his wife "formerly wife of Edward Myhill" on business connected with Edward's will.

It seems probable that Francis M. married a second time and that the family name of the second wife was Johnson, his only child being named Johnson.

From a deed recorded in 1738, it appears that Francis Mallory was Church Warden for Elizabeth City Parish in that year.

The following is an abstract of his will which is recorded in Elizabeth City county.

To granddaughter Ann Mallory five negroes named Lucy, Whittey, Nanny Juny and Aggy. To cousin Elizabeth Read fifteen Pounds Current money of Virginia. To my good friend Capt. BOOK REVIEWS.

This is a valuable contribution to the Revolutionary period. Hugh Mercer, though one of the first generals to lay down his life for the patriotic cause, and though he lived hardly long enough to make the great name for himself that he, no doubt, would have done, was a superior general, as evidenced by the trust reposed in him by the Commander-in-Chief. Up to the appearance of this volume little was known of him except that he was killed on Princeton field, and with most people, dying as he did so early in the struggle, he is seldom thought of in connection with the great struggle for independence.

Briefly his life may be summed up as follows: A graduate of medicine from Marschall College; a soldier on the ill-fated field of Culloden; an exile from his native land on account of his loyalty to its native princes (the Stuarts); a country doctor on the Pennsylvania frontier, serving and ministering to the wants of the suffering; a soldier in the French and Indian war, narrowly escaping with his life when wounded and pursued by the savage foe, and barely reaching civilization alive; practicing his profession in his adopted home, Fredericksburg, Va.; the intimate friend of Washington, and one of his trusted generals, and a martyr to the cause of American freedom. As a Scotsman he was loyal to his rightful king, as an American citizen loyal to the cause of liberty; as a soldier, alert and brave, even to the point of daring; as a doctor gentle and patient; as a friend, faithful and true; as a husband and father, tender, affectionate and considerate; as a mason, consistent to the cardinal doctrines of the craft; as a churchman, devout and sincere; in a word, he was a man.

The book also contains short sketches of his friends, Washington, Monroe, John Paul Jones, Gen. George Weedon, and Mary, the mother of Washington, together with a brief account of the Fredericksburg lodge. At the end is also a short genealogy of the Mercer family, the first that has been published, and as such will be of interest. Like all first genealogies, a number of minor mistakes are noted, but they are of no consequence and will be corrected in the next edition. The most essential thing lacking from a genealogical standpoint is an index.
However, as this was not intended as a genealogy, that part of the volume being an afterthought of the author (it was compiled by a member of the family and inserted at their request), this fault can be overlooked. However, the tables are not lengthy and it takes but a short time to run through them. The Mercers intermarried with the Gordons, Pattons, Chews, Forbes, Crutchfields, Cookes, Herndons, Wallers and other Virginia families.

This book is attractively bound, clear print, good paper, with many handsome illustrations, and should be owned by every member of the Mercer family.

Rootes of Rosewall. An account of Major Philip Rootes, of "Rosewall," King and Queen county, Virginia, and of some of his descendants. By William Clayton Torrence.

Phillip Rootes was a wealthy planter and merchant who died in 1756. This is a carefully prepared, handsomely printed and well illustrated account of most of his descendants, including the family names of Washington, Smith, Thompson, Grymes, Thornton, Wedderburn, Dixon, Drake, Eason, Gray, Clayton, Torrence, Jackson, Cobb and many others.

The illustrations include the family arms from old seals and book plates, portraits, &c. The author is bibliographer of the Virginia State Library.

While this book is chiefly of interest to Marylanders it contains much very interesting information in regard to the great Puritan emigration from Virginia to Maryland, 1645-55. The details given in regard to the removal of so many individuals and families, chiefly of Puritan tendencies, from Virginia to the younger colony, is a decided addition to our early history.

THE HISTORY OF FAMILIES OF PITTSYLVANIA COUNTY, VIRGINIA.

Pittsylvania County is the largest county in the State of Virginia, and was once even larger, embracing the territory now known as the counties of Patrick and Henry. Being incorporated in 1767, Pittsylvania has had an interesting history of its own for 138 years, covering the turbulent times of the Revolution.

The records and will books of the county are very complete and thorough, and in a perfect state of preservation, giving a list of all officers in the early magisterial courts; many rosters of officers and soldiers of the Revolution and Civil Wars and numbers of declarations of the Revolutionary soldiers.

From this county have gone many pioneers of iron nerve, who settled the vast South and West, and the descendants of these men would find the records of this county of untold interest.

I am in a position to furnish copies of and data from these records at a nominal price, and would be pleased to correspond with any one desiring information concerning them.

PROCEEDINGS

OF THE

ANNUAL MEETING

HELD IN THE

Virginia Historical Society Building, December 18, 1906,

WITH THE

LIST OF OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF THE SOCIETY.

RICHMOND:

WM. ELLIS JONES, BOOK AND JOB PRINTER.

1907.
The annual meeting was held at the Society's House, 707 E. Franklin street.

President Joseph Bryan called the meeting to order at 8:30 P. M., and requested that Mr. D. C. Richardson act as Secretary.

The President then read the annual report.

The President's Report.

RICHMOND, VA., December 18, 1906.

To the Members of the Virginia Historical Society;

The Executive Committee of the Virginia Historical Society has the honor to submit the following report for the past year:

Our membership, after deducting all who have been dropped for non-payment of dues, resigned, or have died, now numbers seven hundred and fifty-two.

This gratifying number indicates a continuance of interest in the objects of the Society which, being a purely voluntary organization and dependent upon the support of its members, can appeal only to the higher motives which a love of country and its history imparts to maintain its existence.

The return by members of their dues has been fairly good, but the indifference of some is a source of unnecessary trouble, which, it is earnestly hoped, a livelier sense of duty may remove.

TREASURER’S REPORT.

The illness and ultimate death of our Treasurer, Mr. Robert T. Brooke, in July last, required the Executive Committee to impose upon our Corresponding Secretary the duties of Treasurer pro tem.

The accounts of Mr. Brooke were reviewed by a committee of the Executive Committee, and a full settlement was had with the personal representative of the late Treasurer. His accounts were found in perfect form and precisely exact, and a proper receipt was given to Mr. Brooke’s administrator.

The report of the Treasurer pro tem is as follows:

The Acting Treasurer holds, in addition, on account of the "Permanent Fund":

- 3 per cent. Certificates: $455.60
- 3 per cent. Virginia Century Bonds: $100.00
- Mortgage running 3 years at 5 per cent. from May 4, 1904: $4,500.00

Total: $5,055.60

Since the end of the fiscal year, Mr. Byam K. Stevens, a generous friend of the Society, has presented $100 to the Permanent Fund.

A further and handsome bequest has been made to the Society by our lamented colleague on the Executive Committee, Mr. Edward Wilson James, of Norfolk, Va., who, by his will, dated in January, 1900, left the Society fifteen shares of stock of the Citizens' Bank, of Norfolk, now worth about $215 a share, a total value of $3,225. There is now pending some litigation in regard to this will, but no doubt is felt that the Society will ultimately receive the bequest, which is the first that we can recall that this Society has received in its seventy-five years of existence. With the gift of Mr. Stevens and the bequest of Mr. James, our permanent fund amounts to $8,380.

In the spring of this year the Executive Committee determined to make some needed improvements in the Society's house, for which they appropriated $250. Mr. S. H. Yonge was made chairman of the committee in charge of the work. Our good friends, the patriotic ladies of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, and of the Colonial Dames of Virginia, who sometimes honor us by holding their meetings in our building, offered to pay half of any additional amount which might be expended above the appropriation, and accordingly paid $137 towards repairs, for which they have our hearty thanks. The work of painting and papering the house has been well and most tastefully done.

The furniture and pictures and many thousands of books had to be removed and replaced to make way for the workmen. A heavy portion of this burden fell upon our valued Associate Librarian, Mrs. Sally Nelson Robins, who executed her functions to our great satisfaction. Other repairs were made as will appear in the Treasurer's report.

GIFTS AND LOANS.

Among the gifts and loans of objects of historic interest which have been made during the last year to the Society, the following may be mentioned:

From Mrs. Fletcher A. Archer, Petersburg, Va., (loan), a frame drawing of the battlefield of Buena Vista, done by George F. Richards, Saltillo, September 11, 1847.

From Mr. R. B. Munford, Jr., engraved and lithographic portraits of Commodore Maury, President Davis, General T. J. Jackson; a colored lithograph of Washington's tomb, 1858; a photograph of the members of the Richmond City Government in 1870, and a rare armorial book-plate of Theodorick B. Banister.

From Mr. Jeffry Montague, Richmond, Va., a photograph of an old vellum pedigree of the Peyton family, prepared in 1684, and giving the name of Robert Peyton as in Virginia.

From the Jewish Historical Society, a beautiful bronze medal, struck by that Society to commemorate the two hundredth and fiftieth anniversary of the settlement of Jews within the present United States.

From General C. W. Robinson, Beverley House, Ealing Rise, Ealing, England, (a descendant of Christopher Robinson, who left William and Mary College to join the English forces), a photograph from the original at Fulham Palace, London, of the portrait of John Robinson, Bishop of London, within whose diocese Virginia once lay, and whose brother, Christopher Robinson, of Middlesex county, Va., was the ancestor of a well known Virginia family.

From Mr. St. George T. C. Bryan, Richmond, Va., portions of bayonets, gun barrels, etc., from the site of the Virginia Revolutionary Armory, at Point of Fork, near Columbia, Va.

From the heirs of the late Dr. J. B. McCaw, Richmond, Va., an oil portrait (bust size) of General R. E. Lee, painted from life during the Civil War, at Winchester, Va., by E. C. Bruce. The Society is deeply indebted to the family of Dr. McCaw, for allowing this valuable portrait to find a fitting home in the house which was General Lee’s war residence.

From Miss Helen Chambers Bouldin, through Mr. W. W. Scott, State Law Librarian, (loan), a MS copy of General Lee’s last general orders, with his autograph signature. This most interesting document will find a suitable place near the portrait which has just been described.

From Mr. E. P. Valentine, engraved portrait of John P. McGuire, distinguished teacher and member of our Executive Committee.

In writing of additions to our portraits attention should be called to another recently made. At the back of a drawer in an old bookcase was found an engraved portrait of Lord Botetourt. It is stated to be done from a medallion in the possession of John Norton, Esq., is dated London, 1774, and is dedicated by the engraver, H. Ashby, to the General Assemblé of Virginia. This very rare and perhaps unique picture has, of course, been suitably framed and hung.

Other persons who have made donations of books and objects of historic or antiquarian interest have been: Miss Mary E. Sinnott, Miss Susan M. Kingsbury, Mrs. L. B. Tandy, Mrs. Virginia A. Garber, Mrs. Cassie Moncure Lyne, Miss Mary Greenhow, the Marquis Ruvigny and Raineval, Messrs. P. A. Bruce, C. A. Converse, W. Gordon McCabe, A. C. Quesenbery, Edwin Sauter, Edward Wilson James, William Wallace Tooker, James Davis, B. G. Randolph, B. G. Thwaits, R. B. Munford, Jr., J. A. Groves, Samuel A. Green, Joseph Bryan, N. Darnall Davis, (British Guiana), J. F. Crocker, William Clayton Torrence, John T. Goolrick, A. M. Waddell, T. C. Morton, G. F. Judah, (Kingston, Jamaica), W. F. Cooper, and W. G. Stanard.

ADDITIONS TO LIBRARY.

The additions to the library consist of three hundred and eighty-four books and pamphlets, many of them of high value.

Our numerous exchanges with various historical and genealogical societies in the United States, Canada, England, France and Sweden, bring us constantly a very valuable collection of material which is nowhere else to be found in the State. These exchanges are indexed when received, and when the means of the Society will permit their being properly, promptly and regularly bound, their use will be much facilitated.

A number of volumes of newspapers have been bound during the year, and more shelf room is a crying need for these as for other sections of our library.

The binding of pamphlets, chiefly in binding cases, has been done to some extent this year, but the confusion consequent upon the repairs to the building has prevented as much being done as was desired.
As in previous years, our library and manuscript collection has been largely used by students.

Through the work of our very careful and accurate copyist, Miss Anne C. Bentley, we have added to our manuscript collection two large volumes with index, containing all the reference to revolutionary officers and soldiers which appear in the journals of the Conventions, and the first fifteen years of the House of Delegates.

Miss Bentley has just completed an index of names to the Minute Books of the General Court of Virginia, 1670 to 1676. As soon as the slips can be arranged and copied the index will be available to those who desire to consult it.

Reference was made last year to the approaching publication by the Library of Congress, of that monumental record of early Virginia history, the minutes of the London Company. This work has been printed and has been given to the public.

Librarian Putnam and Chief of the MSS Division, Ford, have done a vast service to early American history in the publication of these minutes. The volumes are made more valuable by the learned introduction by Miss Susan M. Kingsbury.

The Virginia State Library has continued its good work of last year by publishing in the same beautiful style the Journals of the House of Burgesses, 1770-1772. The State Library has received a number of copies of MS Journals, some of them previously unknown. The same institution published during the year a valuable catalogue of the State Archives.

In concluding a brief review of historic work in regard to Virginia, it should be stated that it is understood that our present member and former colleague on this committee, Mr. P. A. Bruce, has finished his Institutional history of Virginia in the Seventeenth Century, which concludes his studies of that period. The work will, it is believed, appear during 1907, and will be a book of immense value.

PUBLICATIONS.

The programme mapped out by the Committee for the Magazine at its 1905 meeting has been steadily adhered to, and will be carried out during the coming year. It is gratifying to state that the contents of the Magazine during the past year, especially the subjects relating to the settlement of Western Virginia, and the German emigration, have received high commendations from scholars in many sections of the country.

In January, 1906, was reprinted a very rare (perhaps unique) pamphlet, published in Williamsburg, 1756, and giving an account of the treaty between Virginia and the Catawbas and Cherokees in that year. This treaty was a matter of vital moment to the Colonies at that time. In the same magazine the publication of the Vestry Book of King William Parish, which has been translated from the original French, and edited in such a scholarly manner by Professor R. H. Fife, of Wesleyan University, was concluded. In April ended the very valuable series of extracts from the Council Journal of 1722-1734, which has been published under the title, "The Early Westward Movement of Virginia," and which, with Mr. Charles E. Kemper's most thorough editing, has added so much to the knowledge of the history of the settlement of the Valley of Virginia.

In April was begun the series of Revolutionary Army orders for the then main army, under Washington, which has been, and will continue to be, a very valuable contribution to Revolutionary history.

With the instalment in the January, 1907, Magazine, we will have published all (with the exception of some unpublished laws, which will be printed later) of those precious fragments, which Mr. Conway Robinson gathered from the old Virginia Records, destroyed by fire in 1865.

In the same number of the Magazine the series of abstracts and copies from the English Public Records, which have been in course of publication for several years, was brought down through Harvey's administration. There have been published in this series not only many full copies from the Winder, DeJarnette and McDonald papers, but a series of abstracts prepared by Mr. Sainsbury for the State of Virginia, which are much fuller than those given in the printed English calendar of Colonial State Papers.

It may be well to state here that the publication of the Sainsbury abstracts, etc., had reached the year 1625, when the publication committee was informed in December, 1899, by the late Alexander Brown, that he possessed full copies of all Virginia documents in England from 1607 to 1627, which he proposed to publish. It was then determined to stop the continuous publication of the abstracts, and to begin again in 1628, in order not to interfere with Mr. Brown's plans. Nothing seems to be known of this complete collection of copies since Mr. Brown's death, so that it may be well for the Society to take up and print the documents for 1626-1627.

The Virginia Legislative Papers have been printed throughout the year, and contain an abundant mass of valuable unpublished material for future years. The most valuable of these papers during the year have been the Indian treaty at Fort Pitt (Dunmore) in 1773, the petitions of the various county committees of safety and the intercepted letters of the Norfolk and Portsmouth Loyalists.

With the July number began what our chief historical contemporary describes as a most valuable series of documents, the publication, in as an entire a form as the originals will admit, of the Journals of the Executive Council, 1737-1763.
In this, too, we have abundant material for some time to come.

Professor W. J. Hinke, of Philadelphia, to whom we have been before much indebted, gave in the October Magazine, a most valuable contribution, chiefly from German sources, of the interesting settlement and Church of the German Lutherans, who came to the present Madison county about 1725.

Mr. Lothrop Withington, of London, has continued and promises to continue his "Gleanings" from English wills, relating to Virginia, which have given so much information in regard to the social status, and English homes of emigrants to Virginia, as well as amount of property owned by testators in Virginia. These business relations with England are biographical facts in the lives of prominent colonists.

Of the miscellaneous articles of the Magazine we may mention Commissions to Governors, letters, extracts from county records and genealogies.

In the January, 1907, Magazine, were begun the publication of the papers copied some years ago for the Society from the Virginia Records in the Library of Congress. This first instalment contains several papers of much importance on Bacon's Rebellion.

As has been stated, the programme laid out for the Magazine at the beginning of 1906, provides ample material for publication for 1907. It has also been thought, however, that the committee might deem it advisable to commemorate the year 1907 by a special series of publications in addition and supplementary to the regular issues of the Magazine. If so, it is suggested that this series consist of reprints of what may be called the fundamental documents of Virginia history, and of early pamphlets in regard to the same subject, which are practically inaccessible. It is, of course, known that many of the documents referred to are accessible to students in large cities, but even to them it will be convenient to have these documents so grouped. It is moreover the desire of this Society to spread a knowledge of Virginia history among the many who are not specialists in that subject, and to give them, far away from large cities, as many of them are, an opportunity to have the original sources at hand. The proposed list now given, merely tentatively and not worked out in detail, is as follows:

1. Letters patent to Sir Humphrey Gilbert, 1578.
2. Letters patent to Sir Walter Raleigh, 1584.
3. First charter of Virginia, April 10, 1606.
4. Instructions for Virginia, November 20, 1606.
5. Ordinance and Constitution enlarging the number of Councils, etc., March 9, 1607.
6. Orders and instructions from the King's Council for the Government of the Colony, (printed in Neill's Virginia Company, 4-8).
7. From the King's Council, advice to the Colony on Landing (ib. 8-14).
8. Drayton's Ode to the Virginia Voyagers.
12. Third charter of Virginia, March 12, 1611-12.

The charter of laws and ordinances, dated November 13, 1618, which first granted an Assembly to Virginia, has not been found, but the above is believed to be a copy, with the necessary alterations of names and dates.
15. Edward Waterhouse's Declaration of the State of the Colony, the massacre, etc., London, 1622, (a rare pamphlet not reprinted).
The items which have been given will be sufficient to show the character of the proposed series. Copying the rare pamphlets will be some additional expense, and it is also suggested that the publication be illustrated with portraits, fac-similics of title pages and of documents, views, etc.

REVIEW OF PAST WORK.

The present speaker in his first address in an earlier administration, reviewed the historical work of the Society prior to 1892. It may be well here to state briefly what has been done since that time in the publication of the Magazine.

In addition to the great mass of other material, we have printed more than 3,200 pages of hitherto unpublished manuscripts—original sources on the history and antiquities of Virginia. Taking up our history at an early period, we printed a number of Ferrar papers, the now well known "Declaration of the Old Company," (1625), and followed this with very many commissions, instructions, reports, proclamations, etc. Taking Sainsbury's abstracts from the Virginia records in the British Public Record Office, as a basis, (abstracts much fuller than those given in the printed English calendars), we not only printed them, but also many full copies which were to be found in the McDonald, DeJarnette and Winder papers in the State Library. This series has been carried down to 1640. The invaluable notes made by Conway Robinson from the Seventeenth Century Virginia Records, which were burnt in 1865, have been published in entirety. We gave for the first time the documents relating to the deposition of Governor Harvey, in 1635, and published for the first time since 1652, the letter of that date describing the surrender of Virginia to the Parliamentary forces. The 180 or 190 pages relating to Bacon's Rebellion, comprise all known unpublished matter of any importance, including the very valuable report of the Commissioners. In regard to the stormy administration of Governor Nicholson and the founding of William and Mary College, we have printed much new and valuable material. The details of the running of the Virginia and North Carolina boundary line in 1710 were unknown until our publication of reports and depositions. The Moravian diaries (translated from the German) containing the earliest contemporary accounts of the Valley of Virginia, and all the entries in the Council Journal, 1722-1734, relating to the western portion of Virginia, furnished for the first time real materials for the beginning of the history of that great section. These extracts from the Journal, together with the diaries, give a vast amount of information in regard to the early German element, and we have also published the first accurate account of the founding of the German Lutheran Church in the present Madison county. Intercourse with the Indians has been illustrated by the treaties (often accompanied by letters and journals) with the Virginia Indians in 1677, at Lancaster, 1744, at Logs Town, 1752, with the Catawbas and Cherokees in 1756, with the Cherokees in 1760 and 1770, and at Pittsburg in 1775. The printing of the Executive Journal of Council, 1736-63, now in progress, fills a decided gap in our historical material, and the letters of the Virginia Committee of Correspondence and Montague, the Virginia Agent in England, 1759-67, afford very valuable data for that period. The rosters of Virginia companies in the French and Indian wars gave for the first time some idea of the personnel of the Virginia forces at that time, and Newell's order-book and diary was the longest document which has been published in regard to the Point Pleasant Campaign. Redd's reminiscenses were full of new material in regard to Southwestern Virginia in pre-Revolutionary days, and the 325 pages relating to that struggle contain many important rosters, letters, etc., including the correspondence of General Phillips, commanding the British prisoners at Charlottesville, with Colonel Bland commanding the American force as guard.
In regard to Colonial legislation, we have printed the acts (as far as they survive) of a hitherto unknown session of 1641, and a complete abridgment of Virginia laws prepared in 1694. The very interesting Huguenot element in our population has been illustrated by the vestry book of King William parish, 1707-1750, translated from the French original. The long series of letters of William Fitzhugh threw much light on social and business conditions at the end of the seventeenth century. The "Virginia Legislative Paper," consisting of petitions, letters, etc., sent to the Legislature from 1774 down have proved a fruitful source of information.

These are only some of the subjects which have been treated of in our publication of original documents. To these may be added the John Brown Papers, the series of land grants down to 1636, the extracts from the county records, the great number of wills, giving information in regard to people and property, the letters of Washington, Jefferson, Henry Lee, Lafayette and many others, the extracts from parish registers, the full history of the trustees of Hampden-Sidney College, lists of members of the House of Burgesses, Catalogues of Virginia newspapers in public libraries, genealogies, and other subjects bearing on Virginia history and antiquities, cover a field entirely too large even to be mentioned in the briefest way.

Nor have our larger articles been altogether the publication of documents. Mr. S. H. Yonge’s "Site of Old Jamestown," was first published in the Magazine, and gave students for the first time an accurate knowledge of our famous old capital.

Mr. Robert T. Brooke had been the faithful and efficient Treasurer of this Society since February, 1882.

He was not only precise and punctual in the discharge of his duties, but, belonging to a family which had long been conspicuously and honorably identified with the history of Virginia, he was thoroughly interested in the work of the Society, and his venerable presence was a veritable benediction upon the meetings of the Executive Committee.
John P. McGuire had the zeal of a crusader in his love for Virginia, and all that belonged to her glorious, but tragic past. To this ardent spirit he added the cultivation of a scholar and the training of a distinguished teacher. His enthusiasm was a power "to provoke us to good works," and its influence will be felt to the last by those who had the privilege of being brought under its power.

Edward Wilson James was by nature and long exercise an antiquarian of the most devoted order. Enjoying an ample fortune, he abstained from active business, and employed a life unencumbered with the cares of a family to historical investigation, to illustrate which, he published for many years a magazine of his own, the "Lower Norfolk County Virginia Antiquary." In leaving this Society a legacy worth nearly $3,300, he has not only done us a much needed and highly appreciated benefit, but has been the first to exemplify the fact that this society is by law permitted to receive such bequests.

Alexander Brown had by his patient and laborious research added much to the knowledge of the earliest history of Virginia. He sought the very fountain-heads of information. He was not only an honorary member of this Society, but an honor to the literature of the State.

The names of other distinguished men in our mortuary column give much material for eulogy, but without rehearsing them, it may be said that from this Society in all its history, the great Reaper has never garnered a richer sheaf.

THE TER-CENTENNIAL.

As we approach the great anniversary which completes the three hundredth year of the settlement at Jamestown, and take retrospect from our present place in this nation of unparalleled development and wealth back to the desperate condition of those who strove despite starvation, disease and death to found a home on these Atlantic shores, our eagerness increases to study every step those brave men and women took. There is implanted in every noble heart a reverence for its ancestry, and where that reverence is lacking, the deficiency is marked by a speedy decline and ultimate decay of such people. Where the proper spirit exists in those who are blessed with an ancestry of honorable, patriotic and heroic mould, such a people may expect to attain and maintain a foremost place in civilization. And such is our fortunate condition.

The fullness of our time is upon us, and we are to show in every way in our power that we both understand and rightly appreciate the magnitude of the achievements of those who have made the history of Virginia from her very foundation until now.

While exerting ourselves to do our plain duty in this respect, we are encouraged by the great interest which this ter-centennial is arousing and, indeed, has aroused throughout our country and abroad. The immense part which was performed for this nation by Virginians, upon the soil of Virginia, is becoming more and more understood and appreciated. It seems to have required some striking event to concentrate the minds of men upon the truths of history as to Virginia. This has been done and our State, with the generous and cordial aid of the United States government, and especially of President Theodore Roosevelt, is making elaborate preparation to appropriately celebrate in the summer and fall of 1907, the settlement at Jamestown in 1607.

As a proper subject to be put on the records of this Society, as well as for the immediate information of our members, it seems proper to state briefly some of the more important steps which have been and will be taken at Jamestown to mark the year 1907.

It should be mentioned as a subject of great satisfaction that the United States government has already, at the expense of over $40,000, put a most substantial wall on the north-west end of Jamestown Island, which will effectually and, we believe, permanently check the inroads of the river, and preserve from the wasting waters the most historic and interesting portion of the island. This invaluable and indispensable service was rendered by the government primarily to the Society for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, and was secured through the indefatigable exertions of the late Mrs. J. L. M. Curry, and the late Honorable George Frisbie Hoar, United States Senator from Massachusetts, without whose unfailing interest the work would probably never have been done in our time. These two, above all others who were engaged in this work, should this Society hold in grateful memory.

The United States government has ordered the erection at Jamestown of a granite monument about 100 feet high, of the same design as the national Washington monument. This monument will be near the old Church Tower, and fronting the river. A wharf will be built by the government close by, giving convenient access from the river. The necessary land has been conveyed by the A. P. V. A. The President has very kindly indicated that the inscriptions on this monument shall be satisfactory to that Society.

The reconstruction of the old church has been undertaken by the Colonial Dames of America, and the services of a most accomplished architect engaged for the work.
By a very skillful use of concrete piers and heavy steel beams the old foundations will not be disturbed by the new structure, but will be superimposed without resting on the old brick foundation.

The old tower will remain intact. The Daughters of the American Revolution will erect on the grounds a building of Colonial form.

The descendants of Pocahontas have given a commission to Mr. Partridge to erect a bronze statue to the Indian Princess, and the ladies of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, have contracted with the sculptor, Mr. William Couper, to make a bronze statue of Captain John Smith. All this work, it is expected, will be completed by May, 1907.

This Society will co-operate with the State of Virginia in making a historical exhibit at the Jamestown Exposition, which it should be said for the benefit of those not familiar either with the geography of the place or the plans of the Exposition Company, will be held, not on Jamestown Island, but about forty miles down, at the mouth of James river, on Hampton Roads, opposite Fortress Monroe.

Our exhibit will consist mainly of a great mass of the autographs and manuscripts of distinguished Virginians from and including Sir William Berkeley, down to and including the Revolutionary period.

Besides these there will be numerous documents illustrating old methods of conveying land, Governors' proclamations, Royal vetoes, proceedings in Council and the House of Burgesses, usages of courts, and methods of business and economic conditions, medicine, education and libraries.

It is to be hoped that the stir which this movement will create will bring to light further material of historic interest which has been overlooked, ignored or forgotten by the possessors throughout the State.

In conclusion, I may say that never in its history have the present affairs of our Society been in better condition, or its future so full of fair promise, and while the members of the Society and the Executive Committee have all in their respective spheres contributed to this happy result, yet the principal factor in securing and preserving the excellent position this Society has obtained, both at home and abroad, has been the learning and labors of our corresponding secretaries. The work begun and executed with such distinguished success by our late corresponding secretary, Mr. Philip A. Bruce, was on his resignation taken up and carried forward by our present corresponding secretary, Mr. William G. Stan-ard, with an earnestness and fidelity which has won for him, as he deserves, the confidence and esteem of this Committee, but especially of your President who gratefully acknowledges his indebtedness to Mr. Stanard for indispensable information and material in preparing this report.

It will gratify the friends of the Society to know that the annual address, required by our Constitution, will, on the fourth of January, 1907, be delivered by Mr. Worthington C. Ford. This Society has been singularly fortunate in securing the cordial aid of the best historians of our country in performing this constitutional duty, and in the present instance, we have every reason to congratulate ourselves.

Joseph Bryan, President.

At the conclusion of the report the President announced that the next business in order was the election of officers and members of the Executive Committee for the year 1907.

Jno. Robinson         John Tayloe
Jno. Carter           Phil'p Lightfoot
Jno Grymes            Thos. Lee, Esq.

Francis Hern is appointed an Inspector at Roy's Warehouse.
The Office of Adjutant General being Vacant by the death of Maj'r Ab'm Nicholas, & the Board being sensible of what use the continuance of that Office will be towards the training, & disciplining of the Militia, It is therefore resolved that Capt.
Isham Randolph* a Gentleman well known & universally [be-

*Isham Randolph, son of William Randolph (1st) of "Turkey Island," lived at "Dungeness" Goochland County. He was member of the House of Burgesses for Goochland at the sessions of Nov. 1738, and loved] acceptable in the Country Be & is hereby appointed Adja-utant General in the room of the said Nicholas.

John Custis Esq’r present.

May, 1740. He died in 1742 and was buried at "Turkey Island." His epitaph is as follows:

Sacred to the Memory of Col. Isham Randolph of Dunginess in Goochland County
Adjutant General of this Colony
He was the third son of William Randolph and Mary his wife.
The distinguishing qualities of the Gentleman he possessed in an eminent degree: To justice probity & honour so firmly attached
That no view of secular interest or Worldly advantage, no discouraging frowns of fortune could alter his steady purpose of heart. By an easy compliance and obliging deportment he knew no enmey, but gained Many friends, thus in his life meriting an universal lamentation. He died as universally lamented Nov’r, 1742 age 57
Gentle Reader go & do likewise.

The following is an abstract of Isham Randolph’s will: Have promised Peter Jefferson £200 sterling on his marriage with my daughter Jane. Give to unmarried daughters £200 sterling each, “if my estate will raise so much.” Bequest to three sons. To wife Jane my lands in Goochland and Amelia and slaves. “Whereas, I have in possession (in right of my wife) certain leasehold estate of yearly value and a certain sum of money, jointly with her, by a decree in Chancery chargeable on Kenton, the estate of William Lilburn, Esq., deceased, in the Bishoprick of Durham, and also another sum of money, the legacy, of Elizabeth Lilburn, to be paid by h-r executors when the estate of Kenton is sold, which money my wife, I apprehend, has a right to without my bequest.” William Randolph, Esq., Col. Richard Randolph, William Randolph, Jr., Beverley Randolph and Peter Randolph guardians, to children. Dated April 6, 1741. Codicil: Legacies to Sister Stith, and to my son William a negro left him by my father William Randolph. Witnesses: Tarlton Fleming, Wm. Redford and Hannah
Fleming. Proved in Goochland Dec. 21, 1742.

A petition of David Mossom Jun'r* Praying a License to practise as an Attorney in the County Courts of this Colony being read at the Board is referred to Rich'd Francis Esq'r Barrister at Law to examine the Petitioners qualifications & make report thereof to this Board.

A Petition of John Chapman Praying a License to practice as an Attorney in the County Courts of this Colony being read at the Board is referred to Mr. Attorney General to examine the Petitioners qualifications & make report thereof to this Board.

Sundry Petitions for Land were read & granted as follows Vizt:

To Henry Childs two thousand Acres in Amelia County about two Miles above the Mountains.† To Michael Holland, land. Her will dated Dec. 5, 1760, was proved in Goochland July 21, 1761. She gives her son Isham the land called Dungeness (3000 acres) and makes bequests to her sons William and Thomas and daughter Elizabeth Raley, Dorothea Woodson, Ann Pleasants, and Susanna Randolph.

Their daughter Jane Randolph married in 1738 Peter Jefferson, and was the mother of Thomas Jefferson. There was evidently through Mrs. Randolph a relationship to an English family of Liburn, and it would be an interesting fact for students of heredity if it should be ascertained that Jefferson had any of the blood of John Liburn in his veins.

*David Mossom, Jr., was a son of Rev. David Mossom, of St. Peter's Parish, New Kent County, the minister who officiated at the marriage, of Washington.

†It is difficult to say exactly where the land included in this grant lay, but in the vaguely defined limits of frontier counties at the time, it is probable that it was in the present Cambell County.

The numerous grants, included in this instalment of the journals show the rapid movement of population westward and give, approxi- mately, its limits. At this time the population, very thin it is true on the outskirts, extended from the Potomac to the James quite up to the foot of the Blue Ridge. From the James the boundary seems to have been, approximately, along the western lines of the present Campbell, Charlotte and Mecklenburg Counties. There were doubtless "camps" and squatters farther west, and perhaps a few actual settlers. In the Valley a long thin line of settlers, principally Germans, extended from the Potomac to the present Harrisonburg, and the Scotch-Irish were coming to Beverley Manor and Borden's Grant, in the present Augusta
Henry Chiles, Alex'r Tynson, James Walker & Joseph Walker

ten thousand Acres in Brunswick & Amelia Counties on the head of falling River to begin at the said Tynsons Camp.

To Chr. Clark & Charles Lynch three thousand Acres on

Towtea Creek joining on Maj'r John Bolling's line to extend Northward towards Hardaway River.

To John Pleasants ten thousand Acres on the head branches of Appamattock River in Amelia & Goochland Counties joining to an Entry already entered for with the Surveyor of Amelia County & to have an inclusive Patent for the whole.

To John Ganaway four thousand Acres beginning at a white

Oak on Vaughns Creek in Amelia County mark'd I G thence up the said Creek & over the Ridge to the branches of Cubb Creek.

To Philip Thurmer one thousand Acres on Phillips Creek including one hundred Acres already patented by him & to have an inclusive Patent for the whole in Goochland County.

To Henry Childs eighteen hundred Acres lying on Appamatock River in Goochland County about two Miles above the Mountains* already laid off in several Surveys & to have an in-cclusive Patent for the whole.

To James Nevil two thousand Acres beginning at a great Hill about half a Mile above Elk Island† joining on the lines of Joseph Mayo, ——— Hooper, George Carrington his own line,

James Daniels, Wm. Cannons & Sam'l Glovers & to have an inclusive Patent for the whole.

To Nowel Burton Sixteen hundred Acres joining four hundred Acres already patented being the Plantation where he now lives on Willis's Creek in Goochland County joining the lines of and Rockbridge. It will be noted that there are but few grants in the Valley in this instalment. The settlers there were buying from the grantees of the great tracts which have been previously referred to in this Magazine.

*At this time Goochland also included the present counties of Flu-vanna, Albemarle, Amherst Campbell, Nelson, Buckingham, Powhatan and Cumberland. The mountains referred to were probably the South West Mountains in Albemarle.

†Elk Island in James River in the upper part of the present Goochland.
Thomas Bassett, Jacob Michaux & Joseph Dab—& to have an inclusive Patent for the whole.

To Richard Clough John Key & John Ragland Six thousand Acres in Goochland County on the South fork of James River and Pedlar River.*

To Robert Lewis one thousand Acres on the branches of Ivey Creek† in Goochland County joining his own line & the lines of Mr. Holland & Capt. Hudgson.

To John Mayes Eight hundred Acres adjoining John Ellis's upper line running on both sides flatt Creek in Amelia County & so up the Creek for Compliment.

To Wm. Watson fifteen hundred Acres on both sides of Mallorys Creek beginning at some Marked Trees at the Mouth of a Branch thence up & down the Creek for Compliment.

To Nicholas Davies Leave to have an inclusive patent for three Tracts of Land of Sixteen thousand & eighty, two thousand & twenty & eight hundred Acres to be joined together by one hundred Acres of Land of Richard Parsons on Muddy Creek in Goochland County.

To Charles Burker two thousand Acres lying upon a branch of Sandy River‡ beginning at William Ligings line & running up the Pole branch on both sides for Compliment in Amelia County.

To William Hudson twelve hundred Acres on the head branches of a Mountain Creek joining Abraham Martins Entry at Gravilly Horse Pen in Amelia County.

Whereas notwithstanding there repeated Orders of the Government that no person not having the License of this Board should be admitted to enter for more than four hundred Acres of His Majestie lands Yet divers Persons of small Substances in Combination with the Surveyors have made seporate Entries for large quantities of Land lying contiguous to one another without such License & frequently keep the same on foot for a long time to the exclusion of other His Majesties Subjects who would take up & Cultivate the same.

* In the present Amherst County.
† Ivy Creek in the present Albemarle ‡ Sandy River in the present Prince Edward.
And whereas all such Entries made without the Orders of the Government are illegal & void. It is therefore Ordered by the Governor by & with the advice & consent of His Majesties Council the several Surveyors within this Colony do observe as a general Rule to admit of no Entries for any greater quantity of His Majesties Lands in one or more Tracts lying contiguous to one another than four hundred Acres for any person whatsoever nor Survey any Entries already made for any greater quantity without the License of this Board for so doing as they will answer their Contempt in a matter which His Majesties Interest & the Improvement of this Colony.

Mr. John Mercer* Attorney at Law making humble suit to

*John Mercer, distinguished lawyer and author of the well-known Abridgment of the Laws of Virginia. He was son of John and Grace (Fenton) Mercer, of Dublin, was born in Church street, in that city on February 6, 1704, was educated at Trinity College, and, coming to Virginia, settled at Marlborough in Stafford county, one of the towns which had been authorized by the Assembly, but which had never prospered. Mr. Mercer was an active and energetic man of business, and soon bought up the vacant lots which constituted most of the town, secured long leases for several adjoining plantations, and made improvements, stated in a deed dated 1755, to the amount of £5,000. He is best known by his Abridgment, which was the first digested code printed in Virginia. Editions were published at Williamsburg in 1737, and at Glasgow, Scotland, in 1759. In the Virginia Gazette, April 27–May 4, 1739, is advertised as just ready for the press: “A Continuation of the Abridgment of the Public Acts of Assembly of Virginia. By John Mercer, Gent. Containing the Acts of the last Session of Assembly, and such Precedents as were omitted in the former Abridgment. With Directions for the better understanding of the several this Board to be restored to the liberty of practising at Prince William County Court in consideration of his having much bus-

Tables, and for altering such Clauses of the former Acts as are repealed or in any way interfere with the Laws of the last Session” The same paper of August 31-September 7, 1739, announces that this book had just been published. It is very rare, there being no copy in any library in Richmond.

John Mercer enjoyed a very extensive practice; but for a time preceding the order given in the text, had been disbarred for violent behavior in connection with a case in Prince William County Court. He died at his seat “Marlborough,” which had been converted into a plantation, on October 14, 1768. The Virginia Gazette, (Purdie and Dixon) October 27, 1768, has the following notice of his death: “On Friday, the 14th instant, died after a short illness at his seat at Marlborough, Stafford county, aged 64, John Mercer, Esq., for many years a very eminent lawyer, and remarkable for his assiduity in his profession. He was a Gentleman greatly esteemed, and of consequence is much regretted.” Rind's Virginia Gazette of the same date has this obituary: “On Friday, the 14th instant, died at his house in Stafford county, John Mercer, Esq., who had practised the law with great success in this colony upwards of forty years. He was a Gentleman of great natural abilities improved by an extensive knowledge, not only in his profession, but in several other branches of polite literature. He was of a humane, generous and cheerful disposition; a facetious companion, a warm friend, an affectionate husband, a tender parent, and an indulgent master.”

He was an active member of the Ohio Company, and in addition to large business and landed interests in Virginia, owned property in Ireland. In Westmoreland county is a deed dated June 12, 1742, from James Mercer, of Stafford county, gent., one of the sons of John Mercer, late of Dublin, Ireland, merchant, by Grace his wife, to John Mercer, of Marlborough, Stafford county, eldest son of the said John Mercer, [of Dublin] reciting a suit lately pending in the Court of Chancery of Ireland, when the said Grace Mercer, and James and John Mercer, parties to these presents, and Joseph, Mary and Jemima Mercer, the other children of the said John and Grace were plaintiffs vs. Wm. Alcock and Richard Leigh, surviving executors of Wm. Alcock, deceased, and others defendants, on hearing of which case, June 27, 1738, before the Lord Chancellor of Ireland, it was directed that upon the said plaintiffs paying to the said defendants £1,493, 2, 4, with interest, they were entitled to the redemption of the mortgaged property, viz: one holding in Kilmainham held by the said John Mercer [Sr.] by lease for 41 years from March 25, 1704; a lease of several houses in St. James street [Dublin?]; one fee farm lease of St. James street; one lease from the Poor iness of his own to attend there & several of his former Clients requesting his Assistance in his business, It is the Opinion of House; one in St. James street from James Topham, and all that part of the Strand back of Lazy Hill. All interests conveyed by the deed to John Mercer (Jr.)

John Mercer possessed a large library, of which Mr. R. A. Brock has a catalogue. It consisted of 1,500 volumes, one-third of which were law books.

The family was a highly talented one and various members rendered distinguished public service. James Mercer, brother of John of “Marlborough,” was a resident of Virginia before 1745, and left the colony as an officer of a company raised for the expedition against Carthagena. He returned in 1755 as captain in the 18th regiment of foot, Col. Dunbar, in the expedition against Fort Duquesne, and continued in service until his death in 1758 or 1759, when he was a major. He was unmarried. (French and Indian War Land Bounty Records, Virginia State Land Office.)

John Mercer, of “Marlborough,” was twice married and had issue: I. George, served in the French and Indian war as a captain in the Virginia regiment in 1754, under Col. Fry and continued in service until the regiment was disbanded. In 1755 he commanded an independent company in the expedition against Fort Duquesne. He also had a company in the regiment commanded by Washington and was promoted to lieutenant-colonel of that command by Byrd, and served therein until it was disbanded (Land Bounty Records). He was a Burgess for Frederick county 1761–65. He went to England as an agent of the Ohio Company, but afterwards gained great unpopularity in Virginia by accepting a post as one of the collectors under the Stamp Act. He was appointed Lieutenant-Governor of North Carolina, September, 1768, and died in London, April, 1784. He married in England, August 15, 1767, a daughter of Christopher Nevell, of Lincoln, England.

Among the manuscripts in the collection of this Society are several amusing letters from him at the time of his marriage, which was a runaway match. II. James, an eminent lawyer. Beginning with the session of November, 1762, he represented Hampshire county in the House of Burgesses continuously until 1775, sixteen sessions, and in all the conventions of 1775 and 1776. He was chosen a member of the general Committee of Safety, August 17, 1775, and of the Council of State in 1776; was member of Congress 1779–80; appointed a judge of the General Court November 30, 1781, and of the Court of Appeals, November 18, 1787, and was Grand Master of Masons in Virginia. He was father of the distinguished Charles Fenton Mercer (1778–1858), M. C. 1816–1840. III. John Fenton, ensign 1754, in Fry’s Virginia regiment,

On reading this day at the Board a Representation from the Inhabitants of Lancaster County complaining of the inconvenient Situation of their Court House which is inaccessible to most of the Inhabitants except by Water & that too under the disadvantage of a very bad landing And praying relief therein. The Governor with the Advice of the Council was pleased to Order as it is hereby Ordered that the Justices of the said County do with all convenient speed cause a new Court House to be Erected & built in the Old field where the General Musters of the Militia in that County have been usually convened & that when the same shall be so erected the Monthly Courts for the same County be thereafter held at that place.

*In the will of John Tayloe, dated Jan. 13, 1744, he bequeatheth to his son, 5,000 acres in Prince William county whereon was Neabsco furnace. The example of Governor Spotswood, "The Tubal Cain of Virginia," was quickly followed by the establishment of other furnaces and forges. There is no information available as to who were John Tayloe's associates in the Neabsco furnace. He was apparently not a member of the Principio Company, all of whose members, except Augustine Washington, the father of George Washington, were Englishmen. This latter company was chiefly interested in Maryland; but operated successfully Accokeek furnace in Stafford Co., Va., which was built about 1725. In 1750, 410 tons of pig iron were sent from Accokeek to England. The Pennsylvania Magazine of History and Biography for 1887 contains an interesting history of the Principio Company.

*Dr. John Tennant, of Spotsylvania or Caroline County, was a prominent physician of the time. He gained considerable note by his advocacy of the virtues of the Seneca Rattle-Snake Root as a specific for many diseases; but especially for pleurisy. The Virginia Gazette, 1736-40, contains much matter in regard to him. He appears from a letter in the Gazette to have commenced the practice of medicine in Virginia about 1725, and to have made a visit to England about 1735-6. He there obtained the friendship of such distinguished physicians as Mead and Monro. These gentlemen gave him the following credentials for a doctors degree at Edinburgh:

“We whose names are underwritten, do certify, That having examined and conversed with Mr. John Tennant, and having enquired into his Character, of which he has good Testimonials from Virginia, where he has lived and practised Physick for about Ten Years; We do find him well qualified for the Degree of a Doctor in Physick, and do therefore recommend him to the Professors of the University of Edinburgh, that he may be admitted to that Degree.

Tho. Pellet, Praese,
R. Mead,
Ja. Monro.”

Tennant appears not to have received the degree.
In 1736 he published what was probably the first work on medicine printed in Virginia. In the Virginia Gazette, Sept. 3-10, 1736, it is advertised as follows:

“Just Published,

AN ESSAY ON THE PLEURISY. By JOHN TENNANT. Williamsburg: Printed and sold by William Parks. Price 1s. 10d.½.”

In the Gazette, October 1-8, 1736, in a letter dated Williamsburg, October 1, 1736, to Sir Richard Meade, M. D., giving an account of his success in the use of Rattlesnake Root in cases of gout and pleurisy. In the same paper he advertised for sale 1000 acres in Orange County. In the Gazette of January 30. July 7, 1738, and succeeding dates, appears a lengthy advertisement by John Tennant, giving proposals for printing by subscription “A Treatise on the Diseases of Virginia and The Neighboring Colonies.” It is not believed that this work, which would have been of great interest, was ever printed.

Tennant seems to have had enemies in Virginia, and in the Gazette of September 15-22, 22-29, 29-October 6, and October 6-13, was printed a long “Memorial, humbly, addressed to the learned, impartial, and

In spite of opposition probably from other physicians, Tennant's ideas in regard to the Rattle-snake Root gained popular favor, and the Assembly, which adjourned December 22d, 1738, resolved, "That the Sum of One Hundred Pounds be paid to Mr. John Tennant, for publishing his Discovery of the Use of the Seneca Rattle-Snake Root." As is seen in the text the poor physician reaped no pecuniary benefit from this gift.

John Tennant married in Spotsylvania County (license dated June 1, 1730), Dorothy Paul, and has descendants. Dr. John Tennant, of Port Royal, Caroline Co., a distinguished physician during and after the Revolution was probably his son.

*Dr. John Mitchell was one of the most eminent Virginia physicians of his day. He is stated to have been born in London and to have died there in March, 1768. His Virginia home was Urbanna, Middlesex county. Dr. Mitchell acquired considerable reputation by his researches in botany, and gave much valuable information on American flora to Linnaeus, who bestowed Mitchell's name on the "Mitchella repens." Among his researches in this science are "Dessertatio brevis de Principio Botanicorum et Zoologorum," dedicated to Sir Hans Sloane, and dated Virginia, 1738, and "Nova Plantarum Genera," dedicated to Peter Collinson (1741). These were afterwards collected and published (Nuremberg, 1769). Mitchell was a fellow of the Royal Society and contributed to its "Transactions" "Essay on the Causes of Different Colors of People in Different Climates," in which he argues that influence of climates and modes of life are sufficient to account for differences of color (1744), "Essay on the Preparation and Uses of Various Kinds of Potash" (1748), and "Letter Concerning the Force of Electrical Cohesion." Among his manuscript papers was one on the "Yellow Fever in Virginia in 1737-42," with correspondence with Benjamin Franklin, which was published with additional papers on this subject, by Dr. Benjamin Rush in the fourth volume of the "American Medical and Philosophical Register" (1755). He is also credited with the authorship of "A Map of the British and French Dominions in

On reading this day at the Board the Petition of divers Merchants Traders Inhabitants of the Borough of Norfolk* representing that the greatest part of their dependance & Support arises from their Trade carried on in Ships & other Vessels en-

North America” (London, 1755); “The Contest in America between Great Britain and France” (anonymous, about 1757); and “The Present State of Great Britain and North America.”

*The banks of Elizabeth River and its branches were quite thickly settled at an early period; but the history of Norfolk proper began in 1680 when the legislature passed an act directing the establishment of a town in Lower Norfolk County on Nicholas Wise’s land on Elizabeth River at the entrance of the branch. It was erected into a borough by a charter dated September 15, 1736, and by the 24th Act of Assembly of August of that year (Hening IV, 541) the charter was confirmed. The new borough advanced rapidly in population and wealth. An account by an English traveller published in the London Magazine 1746 says that a great number of vessels were fitted out there for trade to the Northward and to the West Indies.

The future historians of Norfolk and its vicinity will be under a heavy debt of obligation to Edward Wilson James, of Norfolk, late a member of the Executive Committee of this Society whose recent death has been so much regretted. Mr. James for a number of years compiled, edited and published entirely at his own cost, the Lower Norfolk County Virginia Antiquary, and made accessible for the the first time a great mass of documents, chiefly from the records of Norfolk, and Norfolk and Princess Anne Counties. His patriotic work was a notable contribution to our history.
tirely belonging to that Town & that they are under great hardships by reason of the Residence of the Custom House Officers on the North side James River whereby they are under a necessity to employ Boats & hands to repair to Hampton to enter & clear out their Vessels & even for a single Permit to export the Commodities from one District to another & praying that a Deputy may be appointed to reside in the said Borough with power to enter & clear their Vessels & grant them Permits, It is this day Order by the Governor in Council that the Naval Officer & Collector of the lower district of James River do appoint a fitt Person to reside at the said Town of Norfolk & to grant Permits for the lading & unlading of all Ships & Vessels belonging to the said Town & to take Bonds for the duties of Liquors Imported during the present Winter Season & until further Order be given therein upon a full hearing of the Petitioners & the Officers of the said District in Council at the next General Court.

Whereas by an Act pass’d this Session of Assembly there is vested in the ffeefees of the Town of York* a small parcel of

*This old town, made forever historic by the events of the Revolution, had its origin in the early “York Plantation”, whose history has been given by President Tyler in the William and Mary Quarterly II, 3–21. In 1691 the Assembly directed that a town be laid out on York River on Mr. Benjamin Read's land. This was the begining of Yorktown proper. In 1705 an elaborate act for ports and towns was adopted, and York was one of the places included. In 1697 (Hening III, 146), the County Courthouse was removed to the town, and it soon became the seat of a prosperous trade. While the town was never large its merchants did a great business, and a number of handsome fortunes were accumulated.

The traveller whose account was published in the London Magazine in 1746, (and which was reprinted in the Richmond Standard in 1878) gives the following description of the town at that time:

“Yorktown, capital of the County of that name, is situated on a rising ground, gently descending every way into a valley, and tho’ but stragglingly built, yet makes no inconsiderable figure. You perceive a great air of opulence amongst the inhabitants who have (some of them) built themselves houses equal in magnificence to many of our superb ones at St James as those of Mr. Lightfoot, Nelson, &c.

“Almost every considerable man keeps an equipage, tho’ they have Land lying on the River side to be used as a common for the said Town upon payment of One hundred Pounds Current Money to Mr. Gwynn Reid which is to be raised by taxing the several Proprietors of Land in the s’d Town And whereas part of the said common hath been appropriated for Erecting a Fort & Battery for the defence of the Road & port of the said Town.

It is Ordered that the Sum of twenty pounds being proportional to the value of the Land so appropriated be paid out of the Revenue of 2s. p hhd to the Feofees to enable them to satisfy the s’d in full satisfaction for the Land afores’d pursuant to ye s’d Act of Assembly.

Morris [Maurice] Smith is appointed an Inspector at Mantipike in the Room of James Fergusson who upon a Trial in the Gen’l Court is found unworthy to hold the said Office.

The following Petitions for leave to take up his Majesties Lands were read & granted Vizt.

To Charles Lewis One thousand Acres on Green Creek & Rock fish River already Surveyed in Goochland County.

To Chr. De Graffenreed* two thousand Acres joining his own Land in Brunswick & Amelia Countys.

no concern about the different Colours of their Coach horses, driving frequently black, white and chestnut in the same harness. The taverns are many here and much frequented, and an unbounded, licentiousness seems to taint the morals of the young gentlemen of this place. The courthouse is the only considerable publick building, and is no unhandsome structure. The most considerable houses are brick; some handsome ones of wood—all built in the modern taste—and the lesser sort of plaster. There are some very pretty garden spots in the town; and the avenues leading to Williamsburg, Norfolk, &c., are prodigiously agreeable. The roads are, as I said before, some of the best I ever saw, and are infinitely superior to most in England.

"The country surrounding is thickly overspread with plantations, and the planters live in a manner equal to men of the best fortune; some of them being possessed of 500 or 1,000 l. a year sterling."

Yorktown’s existence as a prosperous town was terminated by the seige of 1781.

*The grantees was Christopher De Graffenreidt, son of Baron Christopher De Graffenreidt of Bern, Switzerland, the founder of New Berne, N. C., and Regina Tscharner, his wife. After the failure of the North Carolina settlement Baron De Graffenreidt and his family came to Virginia. The son married Barbara Tempest Needham and his many descendants.

Virginia and Pennsylvania Boundary Line Dispute.

Westmoreland County [Pa].

Personally appeared before me one of the Justices of the Court of Common Pleas for the said County a certain William Crew an Inhabitant of said county living at Jacobs Creek about Six miles north of the Youghiogania River who on his Solemn Oath doth say that on the seventh day October last or thereabout he this Deponent met nine or ten men armed, being acquainted with one of them who was his neighbour, viz Moses White, shook hands with him, then s'd White said he was his prisoner this Deponent asked for what, likewise Enquired what authority he had, White said he had no orders, But only Verbal orders from Col. Stephenson this Deponent said he was willing to go aledging he had always done his duty so that they could have no Legal Charge against him. White said he should be tied agreeable to their Verbal order which they did in a very severe manner and said they Intended to serve Capt. Mason so they took this Deponent to Col. Stephenson's house, Colonel Stephenson Dam'd him and tied him again as tight as he could draw the Cord and put him into his meat house and Bound Edmund Lindsay to his Back some time in the night Col. Stephenson Beat and abused this Deponent and a pen-knife and jobt it at his Eye swearing he would put out his Eye but fortunately mised by this Deponent's Dodging his head but cut his ear a little and then carried him into the Indian Country where he was tried by a Court Martial having no evidence there and sentenced to serve the Present tower of Duty, in the Virginia Militia and further saith not.

WM. CALDERHEAD,* NORTHERN, VA., TO JOHN SHEDDON.

Dear John,—I wrote you by the Eliza, and then I think mentioned to you that my next would probably be the last you would receive from me for some time, owing to want of opportunity, this I believe will be the last as we shall very soon be hem'd in from having any correspondance with the other parts of this Colony—it would be in vain for me to describe the distracted situation in which we now are all over this Colony but particularly at this place. We are now reckoned enemies to American Liberty (would to God the natives would see it in the light we do, as it might save them from inevitable ruin) & are threatened with an invasion by most of the Troops now on pay here, who from report are determined to destroy at least all our Property if they do not go greater lengths, which is much dreaded. The Few Soldiery that are here with the aid of the inhabitants & two Sloops of war will by no means be able even to defend themselves & what the Consequence will be no man can say. Yesterday Lord Dunmore did proclaim Martial Law all over this Colony and has required all the Friends to his Majesty's Crown & Dignity to repair to the Royal Standard which is Erected in this County & that of Princess Anne adjoining. By this you are informed that I have comenced Soldier (and most cheerfully in this cause) indeed two days ago 23 of the Scabby Race† went as volunteers with 200 Regulars against 300 Shirt Men (The name by which the provincials are known here) who stood two or three fires,‡ and then fled with great haste. As they were in the woods but three of them were killed & six made Prisoners—fortunately but one of our People was wounded whether this Skirmish will be attended with Good or Bad consequences we are very uncertain but are hopefull that it may deter the upland Troops from coming down upon us, so much

Robert Sheddon, Portsmouth, Va., to John Sheddon.

Portsmouth, Nov. 20th, 1775.

Dear Jack,—I have yet at this date an opportunity of writting you by the Christie, Capt. James Avery which I am sore for. I wish she had sail'd 10 days ago as I expected, for I apprehend within this few days a great many people has had their Eyes opened and will write now by this Sloop for Goods.

The Governor went this day week with a party of the Troops and some Voluntiers from Norfolk to the Great Bridge landed there and marched to Kemps, where a number of Shirt men from Princess Ann and some of Norfolk Co'y had collected to the number of 3 or 400 men who drew themselves up, and determined to wait the arrival of the Troops and give the Governor Battle. As soon as the Troops appeared the Shirt men begin to fire as far as they could see them, and kept on fireing till the Troops got pretty near them but did no damage the Troops made one fire which made the shirt men all take to the Woods—they kill'd some say 4 or 5 others 8 or 9 and took a number of prisoners amongst them Colo. Hutchings* and Anthony Lawson† who is now confined on Board the Elback—the

*Col. Joseph Hutchings, of Norfolk Borough, which he had represented in the House of Burgesses from 1761 to 1775 continuously, and in the conventions of March and July, 1775. It is worthy of note that while their men appear to have done but little credit to themselves, Colonels Hutchings and Lawson stood their ground. Joseph Hutchings was a member of an old and prominent family of that section of the colony.

† Anthony Lawson, colonel of the Princess Anne militia and a prominent citizen of that county, was born in 1732, and died February 16, 1785. When captured he was sent to East Florida; but in November, 1776,
Governor Immediately Issued his proclamation (Copy of which I enclosed Mr. Sym) declaring all Rebels that did not Immediately repair to the Kings Standard, their Negroes and Servants free that was able and willing to bear arms, since that the whole Countys of Norfolk & Princes Ann to a man has come in to the Standard which is now erected in Norfolk and taken the Oaths of Allegiance to his Majesty—a few Individuals excepted which the Governor would not allow in order to make some examples of some of the Leading men before Saturday night I think Government will have such a party here as the Shirt men dare not face there was a great many Volunteers went with the Governor and his party to Kemps, the greatest part of which has had the offer of Commissions. Amongst the rest George Blair is appointed and has accepted a Captains Commission in one of the Companys that is to be raised Immediately. I hope we shall be allowed to remain in peace and Gudeness now. John Brown who was one of the Volunteers upon the strength of being protected has begun to Load his Scho. with Staves for Jamacca, they bear a high price amongst all the West Indies Islands. I should send Pickets Sloop out immediately but I keep him to hold my goods in case of accident that I may have my property chiefly afloat—As soon as the Reg’t is completed that is now raising, I shall land the whole of my goods and think them very safe in my stores again—let me beg of you to loose not a moment but be as, Expeditions as possible and bring out as many Goods in the Brig as she will hold, now is the time to strike a bold stroke depend upon it you’d never have such another to make money by dry Goods in this Country—Oznubrigs & Canvas a large q’ty course linens, checks, sheetings handf, stockings, and every necessary was paroled. An offer was made by the Virginia Committee of Safety to exchange two of Dunmore's Virginia colonels, Alexander Gordon and Jacob Ellegood, who had been captured by the Virginians, for Lawson and Hutchings; but there seems to have been some hitch in the arrangements, for Ellegood, at least, remained long a prisoner. The Lawson family was one of prominence in Norfolk and Princess Anne counties, and descended from Anthony Lawson, of Londonderry, Ireland, merchant, who came to Virginia about 1673. NORTHAMPTON COUNTY COMMITTEE TO THE GENERAL COMMITTEE OF SAFETY.

Northampton County, 25th November, 1775.

To The Committee of Safety at Williamsburg.

Gentlemen,—Fearing our dispatches to you might be intercepted we have sent an express to the general Congress* of which

*The action of the Northampton Committee here given, the reference in the Chesterfield Petition (ante p. 127), and that in the Northampton Petition (ante 53) are examples showing the feeling of the people of Virginia at this time to the Continental Congress.

The two Eastern Shore counties, Accomac and Northampton, were in the Revolution as in the Civil war, to a great extent cut off from the main portion of Virginia; but during each struggle the mass of their people was devotedly loyal to the State. Within a short time after the date of this action of the Northampton Committee, Virginia took measures to protect the Eastern Shore, and early in 1776 the 9th regiment, Col. Thomas Fleming, was stationed there.
the inclosed is a copy, and we hope our present alarming situation will meet your serious attention. We are much concerned to find we have been blamed by your Board for not having procured the proper supplies of amunition. We think it our duty to inform you that two vessels have been sent from this to the West Indies for that purpose and both were lost. A third sailed just before the late severe Gust, and we fear has shared the same fate. Some of our Body have also applied at Philadelphia for powder but without success, altho’ the application was made to one of the Virginia Delegates, as well as to many of the Merchants in that town. We are impatient to know the result of your deliberation. I am by order and in behalf of the Committee of Northampton,

Your ob’t humble Serv.,

Samuel S. McCroskey.

Northampton Committee of Safety to the Continental Congress.

Gentlemen,—The following information being gathered from intercepted Letters and other authentic testimony, we beg leave to lay the same before you, and hope you will judge it deserving your most serious attention.

That Lord Dunmore on the 14th Instant with a Party of Regulars and a number of Volunteers Inhabitants of Norfolk had attacked a party of provincials near Kemp’s Landing when the latter retreated with the loss of a few men killed and taken amongst whom is Colo. Joseph Hutchings mad prisoner, that his Lordship had erected the Kings standard in Norfolk and proclaimed all slaves free who would join him and take up arms, that a number of about 200 slaves immediately joined him, and were furnished with arms, and crowding to him when the advice came from thence; that the Inhabitants of Norfolk and Princess Anne had every one appeared and taken an Oath of which the inclosed paper No. 1 is a copy in so much says the writer that ‘‘Treason had not one Abetter in the extensive County of Princess Anne’’ that on the 18th forty Volunteers and forty soldiers sett off to take possession of the great Bridge and that 100 men were to join them from Princess Anne, headed by Colo.
Jacob Ellegood,* that Colo. Willoughby† had ordered in all the Princess Anne Malitia, and that the Governor was at the head of 1200 men and it was expected in a few days would have at least 2000 all determined to guard the passes to Norfolk and Princess Anne Counties.

This intelligence has exceedingly alarmed this Committee as we have reason to believe Lord Dunmore will soon pay us a visit here, who we are totally unprepared at present to receive him. Our County from a Peninsula bounded on the East by the Sea and on the West by Chesapeake Bay, with a number of Rivers and navigable creeks for large Tenders, our coast 80

* Jacob Ellegood, a member of an old and prominent Princess Anne family was one of the few Virginians belonging to families of respectability and long standing in the colony, who took the English side. He joined Dunmore as soon as hostilities began and was commissioned a colonel. Later he was captured by the Virginians and was long a prisoner. After the war he settled in Canada, where several of his descendants have been men of prominence.

† Col. John Willoughby, of "Willoughby Point," Norfolk county, was its county lieutenant at the beginning of the Revolution, though then quite an old man. He was chairman of the County Committee of Safety, but on November 17th, 1775, was summoned before Dunmore, and directed to take the oath of allegiance under threat of arrest if he refused. He did, after trying to avoid it, take the oath and even wrote to the captains of militia in the county to assemble their companies in support of Dunmore. Late in 1775 he was arrested and carried to Williamsburg, where his conduct was investigated by the Convention. On January 3, 1776, that body acquitted him from blame as acting under duress. The Virginia Gazette of May 10, 1776, state that, in spite of the lenient treatment he had received from the Convention, Col. Willoughby had a short time before together with his son, and 60 or 70 of his negroes, again joined Dunmore, thereby, says the indignant news writer, "Making himself a vile apostate and black traitor." Some doubt is cast on the entire truth of this statement by the fact that on the margin of the copy of the Gazette (in the Virginia State Library) is written, in a contemporary hand, "A lie." The family of Willoughby had almost from the first settlement of the country been prominent in the affairs of county and colony, and the troubles brought on by his divided affections were too great for the old man to bear, as he died in 1776. His son and other relatives remained in Virginia, and the well-known Willoughby Spit, near Norfolk, derives its name from the family. See this Magazine I, 447-450; IV, 81-85.
miles in Extent; our slaves numerous being more than double the number of whites; our Militia not exceeding four hundred men; our people with few arms and less amunition for which reason we fear few of them would attempt any resistance, and we even have reason to think that if Lord Dunmore was to demand our persons, that the people around us would deliver us up rather than be exposed to the fury of his soldiers and our slaves—A people acting upon such principles certainly deserve but little assistance from the Publick; but we beg leave to represent to you in what manner the possession of this place would effect the common cause and increase his Lordships Influence. Should his Lordship land any troops here we can have no assistance from the western shore of Virginia while the Coast is guarded by his tenders and after making himself Master of his place, he no doubt, as he has done in Princess Anne, would compel the people to take up arms, and lead them against the adjacent Counties—In the mean time the slaves would croud to his standard, and his army become formidable in numbers, and what we conceive to be most material he would have possession of near half a million of Bushels of Grain, by which means he might open Export to the West Indies and the Army at Boston. In such a situation, those who have manifested their attachments to the american cause would first be exposed to his Lordships resentment, and we fear the more numerous body of the people would stand censured by their Country and at a future Day be exposed to its Vengeance. In this critical situation we think it our bounden duty to inform you of our danger and the danger to which the common Interest is exposed, and to pray such immediate Assistance and direction as you in your great wisdom shall think the Importance of the case requires, to courage the friends of America and keep the disaffected in awe.

At the last convention held in this Colony a number of minute companies were directed to be raised in this District, but have never been completed, people in general being averse to the minute service. None of our people have ever been in actual service and therefore have no officers of Experience on whom they can rely. Great pains have been taken to debauch their minds and to keep them totally pacific. Lord Dunmore's Tenders have frequently come upon our coast and have insinuated to the fishermen and all the lower class of people, that they had nothing to fear, that no harm was intended against them, that they would never injure any other than their Committee-men and other principal people, and persuaded many by these means, that those who advised them to take up arms are their greatest Enemies, and perhaps if matters should soon come to an Extremity we should be exposed to the fury of the people, many Gentlemen here in short almost every man of considerable property is well affected to the American Cause, but many forbear openly to declare their sentiments or take an active part till they can see some force ready to assist them, afford a reasonable expectation of succeeding. In such a case we have reason to believe that some Companies of regulars might be instantly raised in these two Counties of Northampton and Accomack and that the greatest part of the Militia might be drawn into service in case of an alarm. But as matters at present stand this committee have very little authority and we should not be surprised if Exports are immediately opened to the West Indies. This the people of Norfolk have already determin'd upon, and that County affords great Quantities of Lumber. This place can and we fear may be obliged to supply them with Grain if some effectual measures are not taken to prevent it. We have in this critical and alarming state in which the general interest of America, the safety of our persons, and all others here who are well affected to the cause are so deeply interested, thought it most proper to lay this Information before your honourable Board, not only, as it is a matter of continental concern, but as troops (in case you should judge it necessary to send any here) can be drawn much quicker and with more safety from the northward than from the Western Shore of Virginia. Untill some active step is taken, this committee must silently put up with several Enormities but when they can be properly assisted or supported your honourable Board may rely upon their acting with Zeal and unanimity, and we hope if any Troops are sent such directions may be given, that it may appear that this committee possesses the confidence of your Body and have acquitted themselves in the best manner their dangerous and critical situation will admit of. His Lordship landed force, exclusive of the Norfolk and Princess Anne Volunteers and negroes is not considerable. His naval force at present consists of four Ships from 16 to 22 Guns each, and a number of Sloops, Schooners and Boats. His small Vessels are often scattered and at a distance from the ships, and since he has attempted expeditions on shore, we learn that part of the men belonging to the Vessels are often absent from their Duty on Board, we impatiently wait the Result of your Deliberations and in the mean time we are with greatest respect.

Gentlemen Your ob't humbl. Servants,

By order of the Committee.

GRIFFIN STITH, Jun'r, Clerk.

LOD DUNMORE'S OATH OF ALLEGIANCE.

[Inclosed in Above].

Whereas a set of factious men under the names of Committees Conventions and Congresses have violently and under various pretences usurped the legislative and executive powers of Government and are thereby endeavouring to overturn our Constitution and have incurred the Guilt of actual Rebellion against our most gracious Sovereign, I, A. B. do therefore abjure all their Authority and solemnly promise in the presence of Almighty God to bear faith and true Allegiance to his sacred Majesty George 3d and will to the utmost of my power and ability support maintain and defend his Crown and dignity against all traiterous attempts and conspiracies whatsoever. JOHN BROWN, NORFOLK, TO WM. BROWN, LONDON.

Dear Brother,—I have not received any of your favors since the first July. I have now the pleasure of informing you of

*This is an example of which there are several other instances, where ministers of the Established Church took an active part on the popular side. Rev. Samuel McCroskey was rector of Hungar’s Parish, Northampton, from 1774 until his death in 1803 (Meade I, 258).
some matters that have happened here which I hope will be productive of restoring peace to this distracted Land. On the night of the fourteenth Lord Dunmore with one hundred & thirty of the Regulars, here commanded by Capt. Lessly, Joined by Thirty Volunteers from Norfolk (one of which I had the honor to be) marched to the great Bridge in order to dislodge a body of about Three Hundred Rebels that had taken a post there. They received information of our intention and all dispersed to the Woods; From thence we marched to the Kemps Town about a half mile from Anthony Walke's Houses. Three Hundred of the Princess Ann insurgents were posted in a Thickett along the edge of the road for half a mile. They fired one Gun at our flanking partee & Two at our advance Guard, which gave us the alarm. This was returned with a heavee fire from the Grandeers, which instantly put the Villians to flight, we killed a few of them on the spott drove them into a river where two of them drowned, took nineteen prisoners, with Anthony Lawson, & Joseph Hutchins Two Field officers, we arrived at Kemps in triumph where the Gov's Proclamation was Published and dispersed throughout the Country. The Kings standard was hoisted. The day after The whole Country flocked to it took Oath of Allegiance abjuring all committees & Conventions and declaring there readiness to defend his Majesty's Crown & dignity whenever called upon by his Excellency for that purpose—

We reached Norfolk the 17th where an entertainment was provided by the inhabitants for his Excellency and those under his Command, and the Standard erected before the Court House and the whole County striving who can get first to the Book, so in a short time I hope to be able to inform you threw the Vigellence and ability of Lord Dunmore that trade will be restored. I can assure you that L. Dunmore is so much admired in this part of the Country, That he might have 500 Volunteers to march with him to any part of the Country.

I have provided 100 M Slaves for the Jam'er market for which I expect £20 p thousand from the last advices especially as shall be the first at market.

The proceeds of those will be remitted home in Bills & they will go principally consigned to Carthcart & Merrill of Kingston.
You are hereby ordered to ship by the first opportunity One Thousand pounds sterl'g Value in Linnen Goods agreeable to a list enclosed, if no opportunity offers quicke charter a Vessell of 150 Tuns for the purpose to Load for Britain Tobo. Navall stores, or Lumber agreeable to our order here in this matter fail not as they will leave a profit of one Thousand pound if they are the first here, all your orders for wheat &c. shall be Attended to. You may depend that I shall push matters with vigor as soon as peace is general restored I am Accomack Committee to the Convention.

Accomack Committee, November 30th 1775.

To the Honorable the President & Gentlemen Delegates of the Convention of Virginia

We the Committee of Accomack County now sitting having much at heart the good and prosperity of our unhappy Country rendered so by our unnatural and unjust Procedure of our Mother County and being earnestly desirous of by all means in our Power to render ineffectual the pernicious attempts of the Tools of Ministry to enforce their long concerted scheme of Destroying American Liberty and thereby smoothing the way to introduce throughout the British Dominions the Same Despotism under which the greatest part of the Universe is held subjected, find ourselves, unhappily obliged to address you on our present situation assuring you at the same time that any Dangers however eminent to which we may be exposed shall never cause us to turn off our eyes from the Glorious cause in which we together with the rest of America are embarked of some of which dangers we are so sensible that it has upon consideration been our unanimous opinion that it would be unsafe, & imprudent for the Delegates of this County to attend the meeting of the Convention on the first of December while our Bay is in the Possession of our enemies & swarms with their Tenders who we have every Reason to believe will be on the Watch to Seize our Delegates on their Passage; in Consequence we shall be on that account unrepresented but we hope you will be assured that we have the utmost confidence in the collected Wisdoms of the remaining part of the Colony and shall hold ourselves sacredly bound by their Ordinances.

We beg leave also to express to you that from our local Circumstances we consider ourselves as much exposed while at the same time we are almost cut off from all Possibility of succour—since while the Bay is in Possession of the Kings ships they will have it in their Power to intercept any assistance you might be Disposed to send us from the Western Shore of this Colony; And as to the Neighbouring Province of Maryland by the regulation adopted by their Provincial and the minute-men of the two adjoining Counties Somerset & Worcester from which Counties alone we could have speedy assistance when formed amount to but two Companies consisting of sixty-eight privates each exclusive of Officers.

Let us now turn our View to our internal force and we are under a necessity of informing you that altho' the County almost to a man are ready to embody themselves as a Militia yet we find insuperable Difficulties in forming our Companies of Minute-Men. Not one is yet compleated whereas the necessity is too apparent that we should have a select number of our Troops better disciplined than the Militia can possibly be in any short time: One great objection the Inhabitants have to enlist as Minute-Men Arises from the time of Encampment being such that it must unavoidably break in upon their whole years Business while they are only allowed pay for the actual time of Duty this renders them much more inclinable to enter into the regular than the Minute Service. We would therefore submit to you whether it might not be attended with more salutary Effects if a greater Number of regulars should be allowed for this District instead of the Minute Companies before Ordained which number of regulars we would submit to your Discretion.
We beg leave also to Transmit to you the Depositions of certain inhabitants of Somerset & Worcester Counties who having fled from Maryland with a certain William Bartlet Townsend on board of the Man of War at Norfolk were lately made Prisoners in this County as they were endeavoring to Effect their Return.

We must likewise inform you that notwithstanding our utmost endeavours to procure Arms and Amunition our County Magazine is still very small; We must therefore ask your Assistance in that particular if you find it Practicable by Any mode to supply us therewith.

By Order of the Committee.

SOUTHEY SIMPSON,* Chairman.

JAS. POWELL, Cl'k.
30th Nov. 1775.

* Southey Simpson was a Burgess for Accomac 1761-1775, and of the Convention of 1776.

At a court holden at James city the 5th of March 1640 the following order was made.

In the proceedings of the 27th of June, 1640, [In relation to the Panton case] it is said Mr. Warren affirmed in court that in the parish of York in the year 1638 there were two hundred ninety four tythable persons so that there was due to Mr. Panton ten pounds of tobacco and a bushel of corn for every tythable person pr poll which is in all 2180 pounds of tobacco and 290 bushels of corn.

From this judgment it may be inferred that Sir John Harvey had previously become embarrassed in his affairs. Such was the fact. At a ——— held the 17th of April, 1640, the following provision was made for Sir John and his creditors:

"That the reversion of Sir John Harvey his dwelling house at James city with the house adjoining and all the edifices thereunto belonging within the pale and of his orchard is to be sold, he enjoying the premises during life, as also a parcel of land near, adjacent, lately belonging to Sir George Yeardly, Knt. All his other lands and edifices to be forthwith entirely sold for the payment of his debts. All his personal estate to be sold at the best advantage for the payment of debts as aforesaid reserving for the subsistence of the said Sir John eight cows which he is to enjoy during life, with all the increase to him and his assigns forever, he making good the principal stock as also that he shall have and enjoy for the consideration aforesaid all the increase which have or shall fall this year for the whole stock, according to the inventory as also four breeding sows forever is also the furniture of the dwelling house during his abode in the country, and in case of his departure for England that he shall have and enjoy such furniture for his accommodation as shall be thought fit by the court. Provided always that such goods and estate of Mr. Anthony Panton as Sir John Harvey hath taken into his hands and what he hath distributed to his use and other officers be delivered over unto such person as the governor and council shall appoint and there to remain untill we shall receive further order from their lordships therein."

A subsequent order of the 6th of May 1640, shews that Sir John Harvey engaged himself to the board to authorize a person who was named to make sale of his estate at York or any other part of the county of Charles river upon a particular day and to authorize another person (Mr. George Ludlow) to make sale of his estate in James city or elsewhere in Virginia upon another day named, and those persons were ordered to give an account of what they should do, And an order of the 14th of April, 1641, directed the creditors to be present upon the fifth day of the next June court that there might be a distribution of the estate among the creditors according to there several proportions.

This last order was made soon after the principal sale by Ludlow. Acting both under the order of the 6th of May, 1640, and a power of attorney from Sir John Harvey of the 22d of July, 1640, he made a conveyance on the 7th of April, 1641, unto the governor, council and burgesses for the consideration of 15,700 pounds of tobacco to be paid the first of January following of "all that capital messuage or tenement now used for a court house late in the tenure of said Sir John Harvey, Knt. situate and being within James city island in Virginia," with the old house and granary, garden and orchard, "as also one piece or plot of ground lying and being on the west side of the said capital and messuage as the same is now enclosed." At a quarter court holden at James city the 14th of April 1641 the following order was entered:

"Whereas it appeareth to the court that Sir John Harvey, Knt., late governor did give and grant unto Robert Barrington 250 acres of land within the corporation of James city which said land as appeareth by the depositions of Peter Stafferton, Cheny Boyse and Capt'n Robert Hutchinson was laid out for the use of the governors successively and that the same hath been seated from time to time by the governor's tenants who have always paid rent for the same to the governor or governors or planted to their use; the court hath therefore ordered that the said patent shall be void and that the orphans of the said Barrington shall have 500 acres of land allotted them in some other convenient place for satisfaction of their buildings and clearing; the same being a precedent usually made and allowed in cases of the like nature: and that the tenants seated thereon shall yield up the possession at or before the last of November next ensuing." (Id. 502.)

On the 16th of November, 1626, a deed was made from two mariners in the behalf of Daniel Gookinge of Carygoline in the county of York within the kingdom of Ireland to Richard Griffin late servant to the said Daniel Gooking resident at Elizabeth city, yeoman conveying 100 acres, being part of the land belonging to the lordship of the said Daniel Gooking situate above Newport Newes at the place called Mary's mount, yielding forever unto Gooking the rent of two shillings current english money at the feast of all saints; the deed concluding with a covenant on the part of Griffin his heirs and assigns at all times to "do suit and service to all such manor court or courts as at any time hereafter shall be kept by the said Daniel Gooking his associates or assigns within the lordship aforesaid" (Deed book in Gen'l C. Office, No 1-79.)

On the first of February, 1630, a deed was made from "Daniel Gooking of Newport Newes in Virginia, Gent. to Thomas Addison late servant to the said Daniel his father" conveying on behalf of his the said Daniel's father 50 acres of land being part of the said lordship, yielding forever to Gooking his heirs and assigns the yearly rent of one pound of tobacco at the feast day of all saints with the like covenant. Id. 80. (Gen'l c't will book No. 1, p. 79, 80, 87, 92, 93, 95, 98, 99, 101, 103.)

There are grants of letters of administration by Sir George Yardley as governor and Captain general of Virginia bearing date the 9th of September, 1st, 5th, 7th and 8th of November and 20th of December in the year 1626, and on the 24th and 26th of January following but no grants of such letters by him of earlier dates.

The first patent by Sir George Yeardly as governor bears date
the third day of February, in the second year of Charles the first. It recites that by the ordinances and constitutions made and set forth by the late company, it was ordained and appointed that such lands and tenements as should be due to any adventurers or planters of what condition or quality soever should be laid out and assigned unto them by the governor and council here, and further notes that the same power and authority is confirmed and granted by his majesty’s letters patent directed to the governor and council bearing date the 14th of March, 1625. (Patents in registers office 1623 to 1643, No. i p 49, 50.)

On the 23d of the same month of February, he gave a commission to Thomas Flint appointing him lieutenant commander of and for the inhabitants and plantations upon both sides of Southampton river at Elizabeth city towards the head of the same and about Charles fort under captain William Tucker esquire commander in chief. Charles the Second by the grace of God King of England,

*The Virginia Manuscripts in the Library of Congress are contained in sixteen volumes, and a number of unbound broadsides, letters, &c. All of the volumes, with the possible exception of the Council Journal 1698-1700, were bought with Jefferson's library. Part of the earlier papers were in bad condition, and have been excellently repaired.

All who are interested in Virginia history, or indeed that of the Colonies in general, are under obligation to the Library of Congress for the interest taken in these old records, and for the most generous way in which students are given facilities to study them. The noble work of the Library in the publication of the Minutes of the London Company, and many other documents relating to Virginia during the era of the Company, is, next to Hening's Statutes at Large, the greatest work which has been done in publishing the sources of our history.

LETTER* FROM THE COMMISSIONERS FOR SUPPRESSING BACON’S REBELLION TO THE GOVERNOR AND ASSEMBLY OF VIRGINIA, FEB. 27, 1676-7.

Most honour'd Gentlemen
Wee doe most heartily Congratulate this yo'r happy convention and returne to your late interrupted liberties, and freedome, from the force fury and constraint of the late wicked and Ruinous Rebellion among you, which the hand of heaven itselfe (in soe generall a defection) hath defeated and confounded, and most mercifully restor'd yo'r former peace (to a good degree) without the aid or assistance of these forces by his Majestie (at his great expence) most gratiously design'd, and sent over to your Releise & Succo'r Beseeching Almighty God of his infinite wisdome to direct Councill and assist you now at this your meeting in all your debates and consultations that they centre in the glorie of god, the Hono'r of his most Sacred Majesty, and the happy restauration, publikue good and long lasting welfare and Resettlement of this soe miserable shatter'd and lacerated Colony That thereby you may deservedly archeive to yourselves the name and memorable Reputacon of the Healing Assemblie and that you may the more truely be Styled soe, we hope & desire that you will be very heedfull (boeth for his Majesties Satisfaction your owne, and our information) throughly to inspect and search into the Depth, and yet hidden roote & Sourse of these late Rebellious distempers, that have broke out and bin soe Contagious, and spreading over the whole Country, Which (when rightly understood and made knowne) will best direct and indicate to his Ma'ter Royall Wisdome, and you own discretions, what apt & wholesome Laws, may be most properlie ap plyed not only to prevent the like evill Consequences for the future but alsoe so effectually to Stanch and heale the fresh and bleeding wounds these unnaturall warrs have caused among you, That there may as few and small Scarres and markes remaine, as you in your prudent care, and tenderness, can possibly bring them to; which cannot be better effected (as wee conceive) then by well and advisedly weighing, and consulting the present dis-temper'd condition and constitution of the generall bodye of the people, and by treating them accordingly.

As for what is incumbent on us to declare and concerne ourselves in, we doe most heartily assure you, that according to his Ma'tie Royall Commission granted to us, under the greate seale of Engl'd and his Instructions therewith given us, we shall (pursuant to the power wee thence derive) most readily assist promote and advise you to the utmost of our understandings, and abilities. And shall conclude ourselves most happy speedily to returne home to his Ma'tie firaught with those burthens, wherewith you have bin at any time oppress'd and groan'd under (the perticulars whereof are yet unknowne to his Ma'tie) which have thus disburs'd that peace and tranquillitie, which his good Subjects here have soe long enjoyed under his Majesties happy government, w'ch you (by reason of the great and remote distance from the usuall place of his Royall residence) could not soe easily make knowne unto him, as other his Majesties Subjects, who live at a neerer distance, may; And therefore his Maj'ties Royall care and concernment for you hath bin such, as to send us his Commiconers purposely over to you, to the end his Ma'tie may be (by us) throughly informed, of your respective greivances, (which caused the distractions aforesaid) which bee they few or many, greate or less, shall be rec'd and most sincerely reported and represented by us to his most gratious Majestie whoe out of his Royall favour & Compassion, has bin pleased to promise you a fitt and Speedy Redress thereof as to his Royall wisdome shall seeme meet.

And since it hath pleased his most Sacred Maj'ty of his owne meere motion (as a matter noe less pleasing to God them emergent to his Ma'ties service) to Commend to our and yo'r care & endeavers the procuring a peace with Neighbour Indians, Wee will in noe wise be wanting, with all earnestness to presse to you the speedy prosecution hereof, and that you will joyne your utmost endeavors with ours that it may be a truely good and just peace, (since such a one is like onely to be most secure and lasting) And that you will please to call to minde how much you owe to the equitable policy and prudence of ye Right honorable Govern'r here present, (next under god) for yo'r preservation and beings here at this day, first by his Successful conquest next by his wise and just peace formerly made with the Indians, ye breach and violation whereof haveing bin still accompanied with soe ill consequences; as well to yourselves in generall by interrupting the freedome, and debarring the benifitt of your owne trade and Labours, as the great detriment and loss which thereby redounds to his Ma'tie in his Revenues & Customs in England.

And for those inconsiderate sort of men who soe rashly & causelessly cry up a warr, and seem to wish and aime at an utter extirpagon of the Indians, (and are yet still the first that Complaine & murmer at the charge and taxes that on any just occasion attends such a warr) wee would wish such to lay their hands on their hearts & seriously to consider with themselves, whether it be not a base ingratitude, a nameless Prodigie of infatuation, and mere madness in such men as would make a breach with, or strive to destroy & extirpate those amicable Indians, who are soe farr from hurting them or us, that we must confess they are our best guards to secure us on the ffrontieres from the incursions and suddaine assaults of those other Barbarous Indians of the Continent, who can never be brought to keep a peace with us, but will still continue our implacable and mortall enimies, And the more there murders & depredations are upon us, the more earnestly it enforce this Argument for the necessity of a peace with the ffrontiere Indians. Therefore we would ffeigne endeavour to perswade these unreasonable sort of men to consider and understand their owne securitie and interest, and to sitt downe satisfied that they can quietlie enjoye soe large & faire a portion of their possessions as now they doe, enough and more then they either will or can ever impoye or cultivate to profitt, and not still Covett & seek to deprive them of more, out of meer Itch of Luxurie rather than any reall lack of it, which shames us and makes us become a Reproach and by-word to those more Morall heathens.
To conclude this particular we shall most earnestly exhort you and them. As you may justly hope and expect the blessing of Almighty God (who is a lover of peace and Justice) and that god should prosper this poor Countrie and your present Consultations that you endeavor to gaine and preserve a good and just peace and correspondence with your Indian Neighbours, that they may not hold up their hands and cry out against you, and call you unjust and perfidious, Least God in his Divine Justice should Againe make them spectators, of our Punishment, and lett y'm (as hee but lately did) look on, while (like Men destroy'd of reason religion, loyaltie, or humanite), wee were murdering, burning plundering and Ruining one another without remorse or consideration.

Gentlemen:

There is another thing which wee must alsoe recommend to your consideration, (i. e.) the Reduceing of the great Sallary of the members of the Assembly to such moderate rates as may render them less grevious and burthensome to ye Countrie, And this wee cannot but earnestlest offer to you for that his Ma'tie hath bin pleased to shew Himselfe soe signally concerned herein, as appeares by his Royall Proclamations & his Private instructions to us.

In order to immediate Redress whereof wee offer to you our joynt opinion as followeth.

1. That an Act of Assembly may pass for the future calling of a New Assembly to be elected and chosen every two yeares (under the quallifications, which the R't hon'bl Govern'r can de. clare you from his Ma'ties late instructions sent him over by us) whereby to make those of the present Assembly more ready to Comply with his Majesties Royall Commands for the Retrenching of their former salaries; Whereas by reason of their constant sitting, they receive onely and pay not, which this alterations will well remedy, and make the charge and expence equall by alternate Receipts and Payments, & consequently alleviate the present Pressure w'ch the people seem soe much concern'd in.

2. Wee are of opinion that for the future noe Salary be payd received, or continued to any member of Assembly for any longer time then he or they shall there personally sitt and shall cease dureing the travelling time of there Comeing & returning to and from the said Assembly.

3. That from henceforth there be noe accounts or Reckonings demanded paid, or allowed for Liquors dranke by any members at Committees there.

4. That every Chairman of the severall Committees of Assembly doe for time to come draw their owne reports themselves, whereby to save the Country that great Charge of Clerks purposely employed and paid for writeing the Same; some haveing (as wee are informed) 4000" weight of tobacco for scarce twentie Lines writeing.

5. That the people of the severall Counties for which you serve as Burgesses may noe longer complaine of the largeness of your Salaries, nor yourselves of the lessening & retrenching of the same, Wee alsoe Commend to your present care the Regulation and abatement of the excessive and unreasonable rates sett by Ordinary keepers upon all sorts of Liquors, especially in an about James-Towne at Assembly times w'ch seems to us the true reason that the Members of Assembly cannot finde there account, or be content with a Reasonable salary because of such excessive rates & prices, which the Ordinary keepers doe arbitrarily and at their owne pleasure & livertie impose upon liquors & the people. For remedy of which exorbitant abuse, we desire you will please speedily to consider of provideing such good acts and Lawes as may best Reforme and redress the same, which must as wee conceive be done by bringing downe the great Prizes, and rates of all sorts of liq'rs and setting such reasonable, and moderate rates on the same as the Retaylers may afford them att, with fitt gains. And y't this Lawe soe to be made, may be the more strictly inforced & observed; Wee alsoe desire you will lay such a penaltie or forfeiture upon the willfull transgressors thereof, as may keep y'm within the just bounds, and Limits to be sett and prescribed them. which wee are of opinion, will be best effected by transmitting that odious name of Informer into that more Genuine one calling Such men Conservators of the Lawe.

This course being taken, the Burgesses will easily apprehend that this will soe farr from being a Diminution of their Salary, that it will rather prove an Augmentation of it, for it is still as ample as before then this lesser allowance shall more then suffice & serve to the same end as the larger did, by Lowering the said extravagant rates, which wasted and expended their former Salaries.

As to such other greivances as are of publique concernment, (as often as they shall come to our knowledge & examination) Wee shall prepare to transmitt them home to his Majestie for his Royall Redress; And for all others that relate onelie to the private interest of partie and partie, we shall returne such to you of the Assembly to consider of (as improp'r for our inspection) and Leave them to the Remedie of your lawes already provided, and hereafter to bee made for their just Releife therein.

Wee shall wind up all, in this one heartie wish, That you may soe unite and accord and proceed in all your enterprizes and endeavours tending to the peace and Resettlement of this distressed Country, that you may putt a timely stopp to his Ma'ties resolves of sending a farr greater force over then what is arrived already, to effect even what your owne ready confirmitie, and dutifull obedience to his Royall pleasure may and ought without it, doe, and can alone prevale for the Recalling home of the Soldiers, that are now here, when his most Sacred Maj'ty shall finde by your due Submission, sincere Repentance, and our true reporte of the quiett & peaceable posture of affaires here, that there is noe more need of his Rigour & Justice but of his Royall grace and favour towards you.

Wee can onely add that Wee are upon all occasions most reddy to manifest ourselves for our Royall Masters, and this his Countryes Service.

Gentlemen

Whereas we have had brought to us certaine papers under the notion of greivances which upon our inspection, proved to be noe better then scandalous libells there being noe names nor prooves to justyfe them, wee have therefore thought fitt to returne y'm (as such as wee shall do all others of the like kind for time to come) to you there Burgesses, now mett at this present Assembly, & w'th all to lett you, and them knowe that for the future wee doe expect and require, that each Countie who shall have greivances to present unto us, doe send the same sealed up and directed to us, at our place or residence at Swanns point in James river, under the hands of such as will be ready to prove, and make out to us each article therein upon their respective oaths, which any two of us his Majesties Comiconers, have full power to administer Therefore to the end that noe man may hereafter pretend ignorance, or want of information for the Right drawing of & presenting their greivances aforesaid, wee doe hereby declare, & expalaine to them that we will receive noe paper of grievance from ye hands of any, but of such onely as are qualified according, as by our late declaration we have expressly (meaning those who shall best deserve his Majesties Royall pardon, and appeare most worthy of this appointment, without diminution to his Ma'ties hono'r, All which wee Leave to you their Burgesses to be the judges and Attestors of.

* The Commissioners sent from England to suppress the rebellion in Virginia were Colonels Herbert Jeffreys, Francis Morrison and Sir John Berry. They arrived in Virginia with the forces under their command on January 29, 1677, to find the rebellion suppressed. As Jamestown had been destroyed they resided and held their sessions at the home of Col. Thos. Swann, "Swann's Point," on James River, nearly opposite Jamestown. They called for presentation of complaints from all parts of the Colony, and many of these "grievances" have been printed in this magazine.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO THE KING, APRIL 2, 1677.

May it please Your Most Exc't Ma'tie.

Wee yo'r most Loyall Subjects the Councill and Burgesses of yo'r Majesties Colony of Virg'a on our Bendedknees implore yo'r Ma'tie to accept of our Sincere and hearty thanks, as for your Royall favours from time to time Conferred upon this Country, soe more especially for your Royall pardon to our last June Assembly, & your Royall proclamation of grace and mercy to all the miserable seduced Commonaltie of Virg'a and most of all for the vast expences your Majestie hath bin pleased to disburse for the Assistance of your Majesties well affected Subjects, & Servants here, whome noe dangers, nor losses could terriffie from their Allegiance, The truth of which (although wee are well assured yo'r Ma'tie hath goodness more abundance then wee can or dare make faults) yett since of late by reason of those frequent violations of your Royall authoritie established in these parts under the Right hono'ble the Govern'r & Majestracie thereof may be Lyable to question, Wee must humbly begg leave to offer to your Princely consideration, which may in some Measure justyfe us few from the generall imputation, who have bin tryed by fire, and did not our povertie hinder (god and our hearts being witnesses) in Respect of our Loyaltie appeare true gold. In order to which your Ma’ties Royall favour. Wee doe represent that your Majesties faithfull Govern’r S’r William Berkeley to demonstrate to the world how much more he tended yo’r Ma’ties hon’r then his owne life, in presence of all the Counciell and severall of the most eminent Burgesses of this Colony did refuse the Peticon of the whole house of Burgesses, requesting an unlimited Commicon to be Signed for that grand Rebell Nathaniell Bacon Jun’r with this Protestation that he would suffer the severest death deviseable, rather then consent to an action of soe pernicious consequences, till such time as the whole Counciell did present him with a supplication to the same effect attested by their several hands upon which conceiveing that opposition to soe earnest a desire of the Representatives of the whole Country with the Counsell your Sacred Ma’tie had been pleased to appoint him, together with the reasons moveing them to it, being to save the effusion of the blood of soe many your Majesties Loyall Subjects, then apparently & violently threatned by an Atheistical General & infatuated Soldiery, would possible have rendered him inexcuseable to yo’r Maj’ty with the greatest Regrett imaginable, he at last signed that power by w’ch this informable Colony for a long time had hardly breath enough left to make her groanings Audible. Further Wee prostrate ourselves to ye same Royall goodness for Leave to offer, that though the Generallitie of this Country after the Death of that Notorious Rebell Nath Bacon Jun’r (out of the sence of their Almost unpardonable villanies) through the infinite mercy of god whose hand was pleased to Correct us, yet as it manifestly appeares, without designe to confound us, And by the unwcaryed paines & prudent managem’t of the R’t Hon’ble yo’r Majesties Govern’r returned to their duty & Allegiance to your Ma’tie before your Ma’ties forces (more earnestly long’d for by us then a Reprieve by a Dyeing man) design’d for the reduceing of this Country were arived: Yet can we never suffitiently pay our thanks for that Signall act of favo’r whereby the Commonaltie of this Colony (prepossessed by that grand Rebell that your Majestie well approved his proceedings, and if your Majestie did condiscend sow low as to cast away a Royall thought upon soe Contemptable a place, it would onely be in favour of him, and for his Assistance) are disabused, and now made highly sensible that yo’r Sacred Majestie hath espoused all the injuryes offer’d yo’r Majesties Authority here as if they had bin done to your Royall Selfe, which we hope will be a great meane for the future to prevent all Treasons and Rebellions.

To this with your Majesties Royall Leave Wee add humble and hearty desires of pardon for these our unpollisht addresses which can have noe other end, but upon our knees to supplicate your Majestie after the example of the King of Kings whoe would have spared a whole Cittie for the sake of ten Righteous persons, for soe many hundred whoe have bin boeth active and passive in your Majesties cause, and your Ma’tie hath already pardoned the whole Country (except whom your Ma’tie and the Govern’r hath excepted) for which we owe our never dyeing thanks soe to receive us & them to your wonted Royall favour.

The Almighty God prosper yo’r Royall Maj’tie in all peace prosperity, & length of dayes, lett yo’r enimyes be cloath’d with shame & confusion, but upon your owne head lett the Crowne flourish, till it shall please God for a reward of your Princely graces to call your Majestie to change it for an incorruptible Crowne of glorie.

Your Ma’ties Most Thankfull most humble, & most obedient Subjects & Serv’ts for & on behalfe of the Councill, yo'r great and gratious Assistance of us the poor Remnant of his Ma'ties Loyall Subjects Signifyed unto us by the R't hon'ble the Govern'rs Lady, who has often assured us that it was by yo'r Royall Highnesses goodness, that we had soe great, and timely Assistance: For though May it please yo'r Royall Highness the Rebels were reduced to their obedience some weeks before the arrivall of his Majesties forces, yet the certaine knowledge of this Approaching Royall Assistance soe terrifyed the Rebels that they faintly prosecuted their Rebellion, And the lesse guilty retired or Submitted to the mercy or our Prudent and good Governo'r.

Nor is this all the Benefitt that this Royall aide gives us but it will Secure us for the future, now the disloyall Sensibly feell & see that his Majestie, and yo'r Royall Highness will never be wanting to Assist your Loyall Subjects, the Contrary of w'ch was insinuated to the Rabble, and the Suceded made beleive, that it was indifferent to his Majestie who had the governm't of the Country, soe his Majestie had the Customes, But this (by us never to be forgotten) gracious assistance will (wee hope) for ever keep them from haveing such Rebellious thoughts for the future & secure the Countrey from Sedition for many ages.

has still been his diligent Concernment to acquaint this County, how much wee all owe to your Lordships favour, for that your Lordshipp was noe Sooner sensible how prejuditiall the grants of lands in this Countrey was to the poore inhabitants here, but of yourselfe you nobly and Spontaniously at the very first motion threw downe and Relinquist the Right of a Royall Patent intitleing yo' r Lords'p to a propriety in certaine lands in this his Ma'ties Colony, And that as Collo. Morrison assures us with an alacrietie and profession before his Majestie and his most hon'ble Councill (more ffree to the Surrender then to the first) accepting of it.

Which is an act of soe honorable a benificence, soe peculiar soe adequate to yo' r owne hon' r and soe unworthy of us that it Surpassed Our humblest gratitude to express, especially since it was a favor unasked of us, unexpected to us, and unmerrited by us, a president of Generosity, soe Superlatively high, that it will be recorded here, (as it justly deserved) to posteritie to preserve your Lordships memory, as most precious most gratefull to us, and that yo' r Lordships name be ever hereafter mentioned but with this Appendant note of hon' r.

What can we say more, what more desire (next to yo' r Lords'ps long lasting prosperitie) then the happy Continuance of your hon'rs inestimable favours to us.

Your Lords'ps most Devoted, most humble & most gratefull Servants, on behalfe of the Councill.

Philp Ludwell, Dep’ty Sec’r.

from the Assembly at Green Spring, James River. Dated the 2d Aprill 1677.

Thomas Ludwell and Robert Smith were sent to England by the Colony to endeavor to secure a surrender of this grant, and succeeded in inducing the grantees to surrender all but the right to the quit rents and escheats. In spite of the obsequious address of the Assembly to Arlington, he and Culpeper only surrendered their claims to these revenues from Virginia in 1684.
General Assembly to Sir Joseph Williamson, Secretary of State (?), April 2, 1677.

Right Honourable:

Wee haveing sent our most humble & unfeigned Submission to his most Sacred Ma'tie and Letters of thanks to his Royall Highness, and the R't Hon'ble Lord Arlington, we held it wholly improper to intermix matters referring to his Majesties Royall interest, and the publique utility of this his Colony in any of the forementioned Letters, But in all humility to acquaint yo'r hon'r therewith, whose province it properly is, to present to his Ma'ty the great inconveniencyes that dayly doe, and for the future must inevitably fall upon this his Majesties Colony of Virg'a by reason of those independent governments bounding it on the North and South as will appeare by the following heads of perticulars.

1st. As to the government of Maryland, which ingrosses to it Selfe soe great and unlimited priviledges and assumes Such Ottoman Tytles, and Arbitrary Powers, as to try and Punish offend'rs in the name of the proprietor, and administering Oathes of Fealtie without any Salvo to the oath of Allegiance to the Kings Majesty.

2. That by this disunion is not only soe much land seperated from the Crowne but soe many Subjects lost to his Majestie. The inhabitants here frequently deserting this Colony, under pretence of gaineing Lands in Maryland, Soe that lands already taken up here (That might else be leased out) continue uncultivated for want of Tennants, and upon any dislike or implacency to his Majesties Royall Commands fly over to Maryland or Carolina, and reside there.

3. Our Servants and Slaves Runn away thither upon any fault Committed, Sullen humo'r & disgust of theire, and though care be taken there for their Apprehension yet the charge and trouble of sending after them, Fees, officers, and unreasonable demands of those that take them, oft exceeds the value of theire time of Servitude.

4. Our Debtors often escape thither, where the Lawes being different from ours, and the Charge of their Courts exceeding high, makes the Costs and charges of Suit oftimes exceed the value of the Debt sued for.

5. The Indians that are soe mortally enimyes to us, are in peace and amity with them, and upon all injuries offer’d us retreate, and are Safe under the protection of their governm’t.

6. The advancement of our Commodity of Tobacco is much depressed, and the prices made uncertaine, by reason (they of Maryland being under another government) wee are not capable of Regulating our trade by such Lawes and restrictions as may be able to keep them within their just bounds.

7. That the Isle of Kent in Maryland granted to, and seated, and planted by Collo. Clayborne Sen’r and formerly a Limbe, and Member of Virg’z as may appeare by our Records (they haveing sent Delegates to sitt in this Assembly) & divers other Indian proofes, and evidences which is since lopt off, and deteyned from us by the Lord Baltamore.

Lastly and cheifly (though Maryland hath bin unconcerned in this late Rebellion), yet if Maryland & Carolina had bin boeth Subordinate to the King, there had bin Little or noe need of sending forces over from England upon this late unhappy occasion, For Carolina, (which has noe River betwixt it and us, but is one broad Road) instead of being a Subterfuge to the late Rebells, Trayto’rs and Deserters of Virginia (as it hath bin, and still is) would have proved a means of quelling securing, and reducing them to their obedience, and might be a means to prevent the like for the future if those provinces were reduced under the same Lawes & immediate influence of his Ma’ties Royall power & Government. And not what we desire to have the proprietie to their Lands taken from them; All which we humbly conceive to be noe Less for his Majesties interest then for our owne Publique safetie and advantage: S’r wee are all sensible that this is noe time for us to ask any thing but pardon, yet hope your hono’r will see some opportune time, when you will please to think fitt to move his Majestie in our behalfe that those most humble Addresses formerly sent over by our Agents may be revised by his Majestie while we endeavor by all wayes possible to deserve yo’r Hono’rs favourable Assistance, and to Regaine his Majesties gracious and Benevolent Aspect towards us.

Your most humble and Devoted Serv'ts.

THE KING TO GOVERNOR JEFFREYS, MAY 15, 1677.

His Ma'ties Letter for Confirmacon of the printed proclamation.

Charles R.

Trustie and welbeloved wee greete you well. Whereas by our Royall proclamacon bearing date at our Court at Whitehall, the 27th day of October last past in the eighth and twentyeth yeare of our Raigne, for the Supressing of a Rebellion, then lately raised within our plantation of Virg'a we were pleased amongst other things to declare that if any of our Subjects who have or shall have engaged with or adhered to Nathaniell Bacon the younger in the said Rebellion, should within the space of twentie dayes after the publishing of that our proclamacon, submitt himselfe to our government, and before the Governor Deputy Governor or other Commander in Cheife of our forces within our said plantation take the oath of obedience, menconed in an act of Parliament made in England in the third yeare of y'e Raigne of our Royall grandfatner, and give such Securitie for the Future good behaviour, as the s'ld Govern'r Deputy Governor, or other commander in Cheife should approve off, then such person, Submitting takeing such oath, and giveing such Security was by our said proclamacon pardoned & forgiven the Rebellion and treason by him Committed, and should be free from all punishments or forfeitures, for or by reason of the same, Wee are now given to understand that S'r William Berkeley Kn't Governor of our Plantacon, hath (as he pretends) according to our gratious proclamacon, and power by us given unto him published another proclamation bearing date at Green Spring in that our plantacon the 10th day of February last past in the nine and twentyeth yeare of our Raigne, whereby he declares full, free and absolute Pardon & indemnitie of life and estate to all persons inhabiting within that Colony for all treasons &c'a Committed &c'a there since the first begining of the s'd Rebellion under, Nathaniell Bacon afores'd Provided every such person should within twenty dayes after the date of his proclamacon repaire to one of our Justices of the peace there, and take the oath of obedience above menconed.  But yet with an exception and exclusion from Pardon of divers and sundry persons in his said proclamation named, for which he hath noe ground or authoritie from our foresaid proclamation, the same being free, and without exception of any person, besides the s'd Nathaniell Bacon who should submitt themselves according to the teno'r of the said proclamation:  In regard therefore the Governors Proclamacon is soe different from ours,* and soe derogatory to our princely clemency towards all our Subjects, which have any true sence of their loyalty or can by any meanes be reduced to it, and for other reasons us thereunto moveing, Wee have thought fitt to abrogate, and revoake, and doe hereby abrogate & revoake the said Proclamation of the tenth day of February last, issued by S'r William Berkeley Governor of that our plantacon as aforesaid, And doe hereby require & authorize you to acquaint our Subjects there with this our Royall will and pleasure hereby declared, that the Governors said proclamation is, and shall be.  Deemed of no validity and that our owne proclamacon of the seaven and twentieth day of October last past shall be punctually obeyed & observed in all points, the Governors said proclamation, or any thing therein to the contrary notwithstanding:  for the doing whereof this shall be your Warrant, And soe we bid you farewell.  Given at our Court at Whitehall the 15th day of May, 1677 in the XXIXth yeare of our Reigne.

By His Ma'ties Comand

The direction is thus                      H. Coventry.

To our Trusty and Welbeloved Herbert Jeffereys Esq,r L't

*Campbell in his History of Virginia, (p. 327,) calls attention to the injustice done the Governor, for the words of the King's proclamation of October are:  "And we do by these presents give and grant full power and authority to you, our said Governor, for us and in our name to pardon, release, and forgive unto all such our subjects (other than the said Nathaniel Bacon) as you shall think fit and convenient for our service, all treasons, felonies," &c., evidently investing the Governor with discretionary powers.

After this treaty was confirmed presents were sent to the various Chiefs from England, together with various badges of authority. The Queen of Pamunkey received a red velvet cap to which was fastened a silver frontlet by chains of the same metal. After remaining long in the possession of the Pamunkeys at Indiantown, Va., it was given or sold by them between 1840 and 1850 to Mr. Morson, of Stafford county, Va., from whose heirs the frontlet was bought by the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities and is now deposited with the Virginia Historical Society. The Historical Society owns a small oval medal of rude design inscribed on one side, "Ye King of" and on the other "Patomecke." This medal was probably given soon after the treaty of 1677.
ffait &c: And the severall Indian Kings and Queens &c Assentors and Subscribers hereunto made and Concluded at the Camp of Middle plantacon, the 29th day of May: 1677; being the day of the most happy birth & Restauration of our s'd Soveraigne Lord, and in the XXIX yeare of his said Ma'ties Reigne.

By the Right Honourable Herbert Jeffreys Esq'r Governour and Cap't Generall of his Majesties Colony of Virginia; Present the Hon'ble S'r John Berry Kn't & Francis Morrison Esq'r his most Sacred Ma'ties Commiconers appointed under the great Seale of England for the Virginia affairs, And the Hon'ble Councill of State of the said Colony.

Whereas his most Sacred Ma'tie hath of his owne Royall grace and meer motion intrusted to my care and endeavours the Renewing management and concluding a good peace with the Neighbour Indians in order whereunto with the advice and Assistance of the hon'ble S'r John Berry Kn't and Francis Morrison Esq'r I have here caused to be drawne up these ensuing Articles and Overtures for the firme grounding and sure establishment of a good and just Peace with the said Indians, and that it may be a Secure and lasting one founded upon the strong Pillars of Reciprocall Justice by confirming to them their just Rights, and by Redress of their wrongs and injuries that soe the great God who is god of peace and Lover of Justice may uphold and prosper this our mutuall League & Amity, It is hereby Concluded, consented to & mutually agreed as followeth:

I. That the Respective Indian Kings and Queens doe from henceforth acknowledge to have their inmediate dependancy on, and Own all Subjection to the great King of England. Our now dread Soveraigne his heires and Successors, when they pay their Tribute to the Right hon'ble his Ma'ties Govern'r for the time being.

II. That thereupon the said Indian Kings & Queens and their Subjects shall hold their lands, and have the same confirmed to them and their posterity by Patent under the Seale of this his Majesties Colony, without any fee gratuity or Reward for ye same, in such sort, and in as free and firme manner as others

III. That all Indians who are in amity with us, & have not land sifficient to plant up, be upon information forthwith provided for, and land laid out, and confirmed to them as affores’d never to be disturbed therein, or taken from them, soe long as they owne keep and maintaine the due obedience & Subjection to his Majestie his Govern’r and Government; & amity & ffriend ship towards the English.

IV. Whereas by the mutuall discontents, Complaints, jealou-ses, and fcares of English and Indians occasioned by the violent intrusions of divers English into their lands, forceing the Indians by way of Revenge, to kill the Cattle & hoggs of the English, whereby offence, and injuries being given, and done on boeth sides, the peace of this his Majesties Colony hath bin much disturbed, and the late unhappy Rebellion by this means in a great measure begunne & fomented which hath involved this Country into soe much Ruine, & misery, for prevention of which injuries and evil consequences as much as possible we may for time to come it is hereby concluded and enacted that noe English, shall seate or plant nearer then three miles of any Indian towne, and whosoever hath made or shall make any encroachment upon their Lands shall be removed from thence and proceeded against as by the former peace made when the Honourable Francis Morrison was Govern’r and the act of Assembly grounded thereupon is provided & enacted.

V. That the said Indians be well Secured & defended in their persons goods and properties against all hurts and injuries of the English, and that upon any breach or violation hereof, that the aggrieved Indians doe in the first place repaque and adress themselves to the Govern’r Acquainting him therew’th without rashly and suddainly betakeing themselves to any hostile course for Satisfaction who will inflict such punishment on the wilfull infringers hereof, as the Lawes of England or this Country permitt, and as if such hurt or injury had bin done to any Englishman, which is but just and Reasonable they owneing themselves to be under the Allegiance of his most Sacred Majestie.

VI. That noe Indian King or Queen be imprisoned without a Speciall Warrant from his Ma'ties Govern'rz & two of ye Councill, and that noe other Indian be imprisoned without a warrant from a Justice of peace, upon Sufficient cause of Committment.

VIII. That noe fforreigne Indian be suffered to come to any Englishman's plantacon without a friendly Neighbour Indian in his Company with such Certificate as aforesaid, And noe Indian King to refuse to send a safe Conduct with the fforraignuer upon any Lawfull occasion of his Comeing in And that noe Indian doe paint or disguise themselves when they come in.

IX. That all Indian Kings, and Queens tributary to the English haveing notice of any march of strange Indians neer the English quarters or plantacons doe forthwith repaire to some of the next officers of the militia, and acquaint him of their nation number and designe, and which way they bend their Course.

* The Queen of Pamunkey was the representative of the Chiefs of the Powhatan group of tribes. Her husband Tottopottomoy had been killed in the fight against the Richahecrians in 1656. She was probably the successor of Nectowance, “King of the Indians,” with whom a treaty was made in 1646. (Hening, I, 323.) In a letter dated September 20, 1683, Lord Culpeper stated that the King of the Pamunkeys and most of his Chiefmen desired to become Christians, and that he (the Governor) had promised to christen the King’s children, James, Charles and Catherine. Governor Spotswood refers to a Queen of the Pamunkeys in 1711.

The Pamunkeys still retain their tribal organization, and reside on the river of that name about 21 miles east of Richmond. A study of the characteristics of this remnant of the Virginia tribes was made by Mr. John Garland Pollard, of Richmond, and published by the Bureau of Ethnology in 1894. For a note on the Virginia Indians see this Magazine, VII, 337-340.
XV. That noe Indian of those in Amity with us shall serve for any longer time then English of the like Ages should serve by act of Assembly, and shall not be sold as Slaves.

XVI. That every Indian King and Queen in the month of March every yeare with some of theire great men tender their obedience to the R’t Honourable his Majesties Govern’r at the place of his residence, wherever it shall be, and then and there pay the accustomed rent of twentie beaver skinns, to the Govern’r and alsoe their quit rent aforesaid, in acknowledg-ment that they hold their Crownes, and Lands of the great King of England.

XVII. That due care be had and taken that those Indian Kings and Queens their great men and Attendance that come on any public business to the R’t hono’ble the Governo’r Councill of Assembly may be accommodated with provisions, and housroome at the publique charge, And that noe English Subject shall abuse revile, hurt or wrong them at any time in word or deed.

XVIII. That upon discord or breach of Peace happening to arise between any of the Indians in amity with the English upon the first appearance and beginning thereof, and before they enter into any open Acts of hostility or warr one against another they shall repaire to his Majesties Governo’r by whose Justice & wis-dome, it is concluded such difference shall be made up and dec-ded, and to whose finall determination the said Indians shall Submitt and conforme themselves.

XIX. That for preventing the frequent mischeifes and mist-takes occasioned by unfaithfull, & corrupt interpreters, & for the more Safetie satisfaction, and advantage both of the Indians, and English, that there be one of each nation of our neighbour-ing Indians, that already can or may become capable of speaking of English, admitted together with those of y’e English to be their owne interpreters.

XX. That the several Indians concluded in this peace forth-with restore to the Respective English parents & owners, all such children servants, and horses, which they have at any time taken from them, and now remaining with them ye said Indians, or which they can make discovery of.
XXI. That the trade with the said Indians be continued, Limited, restrained, or laid open, as shall make best for ye peace and quiett of the Country, upon which affaire the Govern’r will consult with the Counsell and Assembly, and conclude thereon at their next meeting.

XXII. That it is further agreed that all Indians and English in the Province of Maryland are inclined in these Articles of peace, And that neither partie shall offend the other without breach of his Majesties peace.

†At this time the Nottoways lived at Rowantee, Tonnatorah and other places near the Nottoway River. (Virginia Magazine, VII, 34t, &c.)

‡Indiantown on the Appomattox not far above Petersburg was probably the home of this tribe at the time of the treaty. The "Queen of Appamotucke" was present at Powhatan’s village when Smith was landed there a prisoner in 1608. The original seat of the Appamatuck Indians seems to have been at the present Bermuda Hundred, in Chesterfield county, on James river, whence Dale drove them about Christmas 1611. The Relation of the Discovery, &c., Arber’s Smith, xlix, &c., gives account of the meeting on May 26, 1607, of the exploring party with the Queen of this tribe. The meeting evidently was at Bermuda Hundred. There was another tribe of the name residing at Appomattox, now Mattox Creek, Westmoreland county.

§After the massacre of April, 1644, the Weyanokes fled from James river to the present North Carolina. At the time of the treaty they were probably living on Nottoway river. For depositions in regard to them and reference to the Queen, see the Virginia Magazine VII, 249, &c., VIII, 1, &c.

† The Nansemond Indians probably then lived in Nansemond county on the Nottoway river.

‡Nanzatico, a well known plantation in King George county on the Rappahannock, probably marks the site of the village of the tribe of the name. Portobacco, on the south side of the same river in Essex, was no doubt the home of that tribe. “Nanzemum Town” probably somewhere in the present Caroline or King George, is mentioned in patents of 1654 (Virginia Magazine, XIII, 309). Thus there appear to have been two tribes each bearing the names of Nansemond and Appomattox.

§ The Manakins lived on the boundary line of the present Powhatan and Chesterfield on James river. The Huguenot settlement was made at their old home.

["Mr. John Foxhall" was living in Westmoreland county in 1670. There is recorded in that county, under date of 1673, a deed from the wife and attorney of John Foxhall, of Pope's Creek, Westmoreland, to her daughter Martha Foxhall. His wife and child evidently died before] him. His will was proved in Westmoreland March 30, 1678. Though John Foxhall apparently left no descendants, the name has frequently appeared as a baptismal one in the distinguished family of Parker. "Bromingham" of the will was Birmingham, and "Volkes" is intended for the old Westmoreland family of Vaulx, now extinct in the male line. Butler and Elliott were also well known Westmoreland names.]

There is a power of attorney in York county, dated 1713, from Sarah Starke, widow of Thomas Starke, of London, merchant, and Frances Lee, of London, for sale of lands in King William county, formerly New Kent, belonging to John Starke, of London, now on a voyage to the East Indies. REVOLUTIONARY ARMY ORDERS
For the Main Army under Washington. 1778-1779
(From Originals in the Collection of the Virginia Historical Society.)

Head Quarters June 1 1778.

Brigadier to morrow Muhlenburg.
F. O. Colo. Wigglesworth & Major Church.
Brigade Major Minnis.
Inspector from Learnard’s Brig’e.

Colonel Coatland* is appointed to tarry in Camp to superintend the Sick left on the Ground when the Army moves & to send on the recovered men properly Officered to Join their respective Corps & Major Green will repair to the Yellow Springs and the Hospitals near Camp and Superintend the Sick there. They will apply to morrow at the Orderly Office for written Orders. The following will be observed as a standing Model for the Order of March—wether for the whole Army or Divisions, Brigades or Battilions—it may happen that some Change may be necessary in Strength or number of the advance Rear & flank Guards, and in their respective distances to each other and to the main body &c. which are to be determined according to the particular Circumstance which the Officer Commanding will Judge of—But Gen’l principals & Rules here layed down are in all Cases to be practised only with such variations in applying them as different Situations may require—When a Battilion Receives orders to march each Company forms before its own Quarters, the Captains having inspected the Arms & accoutrements conducts them to the Regimental Parade where the field Officers inspects the whole—forms each Battilion into 8 Platoons for Charging agreeable to the instructions given and march by Platoons to their Rendezvous. When only one Battilion marches the Colonel Orders out one advance and Rear Guard each Consisting of a Sub 3 N. C. Officers, 1 Drumer & 20 privates—A Brigade Composed of several Battilions has an advance and

Rear Guard each Consisting of 1 Capt. 2 Subs 6 N. C. Officers & 40 or 50 privates—where several Brigades march together each Brigade furnishes a proportionable number for advance and Rear Guards—when the whole Army marches the new Guard of the Day forms the advance Guard & the Old Guard forms the Rear Guard—The new Guard being assembled on the parade the Brigadier of the Day forms them into a Battilion of 8 Platoons the Oldest field Officer of the day takes Command of it and Marches at the head of the Column—The Brigadier of the preceeding Day haveing assembled the Old Guards forms them in the same manner the eldest Field Officer takeing the Command and marching in the Rear of the Column—each advanced Guard shoud send forwards a Detachment to Serve as an advanced Guard to its self and that detachn’t shoud also send out a patrole in front each 100 paces in front of the other. Thus 1 Captain 2 Subs 6 N. C. Officers 1 Drumer & 50 Men will send out a non Commissioned Officer & 12 Men & that N. C. Officer will advance 4 Men in his front—and advance Guard of a Sub & 20 Men will advance 1 N. C. O. and 8 Men & the N. C. O. will advance 2 Men in his front—the Rear Guard will observe the same Rule in sending its detachments in the Rear as the advance Guards does in front—When a Brigade Devision or the Army marches by the Right its sup- posed the Enimy is on the left on the Contrary each Battilion will therefore send out on the flank exposed to the Enimy 1 Sub 2 N. C. O. & 16 Men as a flank Guard who will march in a platoon by files from the Right oposite the Center of the Battilion at the distance of 80 or 100 paces of the Column—when the Army marches in two Columns the Right Column has its flank Guard on its Right and the left Column on its left—when in one Column and the position of the Enimy uncertain Guards must be sent on both flanks the advance flank & Rear Guards must allways have their Bayonets fixed—when ever the Ground will permit the Battilion must march by Platoons during the March each Colo. must Stay before his Batt’n & each Capt. & Subs before their Platoons—the intervals between the Battilions & Platoons must be Strictly observed during the march—when their is a Creek or defile to pass the Brigadiers must stop till their Brigade has passed & the Colonels till their Respective Battillions has passed—they will take Care that their men pass with as large a front and as quick as possible—the advanced Guard haveing passed the defile should take such a Situation as to be able to see all around & shoud send out Patroles 500 Paces round. The head of the Columns halt before thay enter the defile to let the Platoons * * * at half distance & when half the Column has got thro it halts till the whole has passed & then Continues its march—when the Road will not permit to march by Platoons the march is to be made by Seconds of 4 in front in the following manner each Officer divides his Platoon into Sections for example a platoon of 16 files makes 4 Sections they will brake off by the Right or left and Continue the March each Section 2 paces distance from the other—if a platoon has 15 file the last Section will have 3 file—if the Platoon has only 14 the last will have 4 Men in the Rank—if a platoon 13 file the last will have 5 file—when marching in this Order by the Right the Officers Commanding platoons will be on the left of the 1st Section the Serjeant on the Right stays in his place & the Officers & N. C. Off. that was in the Rear will be on the Right flank if they march in this Order by the left the Comm'g Officer of the Platoon remains on the Right of the first Section and the others on the left flank so that by wheeling the Sections the Platoons will be formed & each Officer & N. C. Officers be in his place during the march, each officer must keep his platoon in Order the Officers & N. C. O. in the Rear must prevent the Soldiers from leaving their Ranks on any account—if the Soldiers have occasion for water the Officer must send a non Comm’d Officer with some men to fill their Canteens, and the N. C. Officer must bring them back to their Platoons immediately, the flank Guard will never suffer any N. C. O. or Soldier to pass them during the march & the Rear Guard will bring up all Straglers.

THE BRENT FAMILY.
Complied by W. B. Chilton, Washington, D. C.

(P. C. C. Act Book 1631-3, fo. 28.)

Elizabeth Brent als. Reade.

16. May, 1631, commission issued to Edward Reade, esq. of Mitton, co. Worcester, brother of Elizabeth Brent als. Reade, deceased, and while she (?he) lived wife of Richard Brent of Admington, co. Gloucester, to administer the goods &c. of the said deceased.

(P. C. C. Admon. Act Book, 1631-3, F. 154.)

William Brent.

2. March 1632-3, a commission was issued to Sir. Nathaniel Brent, Knight and Doctor of Laws, and to Richard Brent, Gentleman, brothers of William Brent, late of Woldford Parva, in the county of Warwick, bachelor, deceased to Administer, etc.

15 March, 1632-3, the said Richard Brent renounced the same.

Dictionary of National Biography.

Brent, Sir Nathaniel, (1573?-1652), Warden of Merton College, Oxford, was the son of Anchor Brent of Little Woldford, Warwickshire, where he was born about 1573. His grand-father's name was Richard and his great grandfather was John Brent of Cosington, Somersetshire. He became "portionist", or postmaster, of Merton College, Oxford, in 1589; proceeded B. A. on 20 June 1593; was admitted probationer fellow there in 1594, and took the degree of M. A. on 31 Oct. 1598. He was proctor of the university in 1607, and admitted bachelor of law on 11 Oct. 1623. In 1613 and 1614 he travelled abroad into several parts of the learned world, and underwent dangerous adventures in Italy to procure the "History of the Council of Trent", which he translated into English (Wood). In 1616 Carleton, ambassador at the Hague, writes to Winwood that he leaves Brent, 'one not unknown to your honour' to conduct the business of the embassy during his temporary absence at Spa. On 13 Oct. of the same year Carleton writes again to Winwood that Brent is bringing home despatches, and hopes to secure an office in Ireland, for which Carleton recommends him highly. On 26 Nov. Winwood replied that the post in question, that of 'Secretary of Ireland'.
had been conferred on Sir Francis Annesley before Brent's arrival in England. Soon after the close of his foreign tour Brent married Martha, the daughter and heiress of Robert Abbot, bishop of Salisbury, and niece of George Abbot archbishop of Canterbury.

The influence of the Abduts secured Brent's election in 1622 to the wardenship of Merton College, in succession to Sir Henry Savile. He was afterwards appointed commissary of the diocese of Canterbury, and Vicar-general to the archbishop, and on Sir Henry Marten's death became judge of the pre-rogative court. During the early years of Laud's primacy (1634-7), Brent made a tour through the length and breadth of England south of the Trent reporting upon and correcting ecclesiastical abuses (Gardiner, Hist. 1884, VIII, 168-17; cf. Hist. MSS. Comm. 4th Rep. 131-147). But Brent chiefly owed his fame to his connection with Merton College. * * On 23, Aug., 1669, he was knighted at Woodstock by the king, who was preparing to pay a state visit to Oxford. On 24 Aug. Brent entertained the French and Dutch ambassadors at Merton, and on 27 Aug. gave a dinner to the king and queen. In 1629-30 he was admitted to the freedom of the city of Canterbury * * * (Hist. MSS. Comm. 9th Rep. 163b.) In August 1636 Brent presented Prince Charles and Prince Rupert for degrees, when Laud, who had become chancellor in 1639, was entertaining the royal family. In 1638 Laud held a visitation of Merton College, and insisted on many radical reforms. Laud stayed at the college for many weeks, and found Brent an obstinate opponent. * * Brent ultimately gained the victory over Laud. The tenth charge in the indictment drawn up against the archbishop in 1641 treats of the unlawful authority exercised by him at Merton in 1638. The warden came forward as a hostile witness at Laud's trial. * * Laud replied to Brent's accusations in his 'History of the Troubles and Trial' (Anglo-Cath. Libr. IV, 194). On the outbreak of the civil wars Brent sided with the parliament. Before Charles I entered Oxford (29 Oct. 1642), the warden had abandoned Oxford for London. On 27 Jan. 1644-1645 Charles I wrote to the loyal fellows at Merton that Brent was deposited from his office on the grounds of his having absented himself for three years from the college, of having adhered to the rebels, and of having accepted the office of judge-marshal in their ranks. He had also signed the covenant. The petition for the formal removal of Brent, to which the king's letter was an answer was drawn up by John Graves, Savilian professor of geometry. On 9 April the great William Harvey was elected to fill Brent's place; but as soon as Oxford fell into the hands of Fairfax, the parliamentary general (24 June 1646), Brent returned to Merton, and apparently resumed his post there without any opposition being offered him. In 1647 Brent was appointed president of the famous parliamentary commission, or visitation, ordered by the parliament 'for the due correction of offences, abuses and disorders' in the university. The proceedings began on 3 June, but it was not until 30 Sept. that the colleges were directed to forward to Merton their statutes, registers, and accounts to enable Brent and his colleagues to really set to work. On 12 April 1648 Brent presented four of the visitors for the degree of M. A. Early in May of the same year Brent showed more mercy than his colleagues approved by 'conniving' at Anthony a Wood's retention of his postmastership in spite of his avowed royalism. Wood tells us that he owed this favour to the intercession of his mother, whom Brent had known from a girl. On 17 May 1649 Fairfax and Cromwell paid the university a threatening visit, and malcontents were thenceforth proceeded against by the commission with the utmost rigour. But Brent grew dissatisfied with its proceedings. The visitors claimed to rule Merton College as they pleased, and without consulting the warden, they admitted fellows, masters, and bachelors of arts. On 13 Feb. 1650–1 he sent a petition of protest against the conduct of the visitors to parliament. The commissioners were ordered to answer Brent's complaint, but there was no evidence that they did so, and in October 1651 Brent retired from the commission. On 27 Nov. following he resigned his office of Warden, nominally in obedience to an order forbidding pluralities, but his refusal to sign 'the engagement', which would have bound him to support a commonwealth without a king or a house of lords, was probably the more direct cause of his resignation. Brent afterwards withdrew to his house in Little Britain, London, and died there on 6 Nov. 1652. He was buried in the church of St. Batholomew the Less on 17 Nov. Wood states that he had seen an epitaph in print on Brent by one 'John Sictar, a Bohemian exile, whom Brent had provisioned' in his lifetime.

Brent's daughter Margaret married Edward Corbet of Merton College, a Presbyterian, on whom Laud repeatedly refused to confer the living of Chartham. Brent's literary work was small. In 1620 he translated into English the 'History of the Council of Trent' by Pietro Soane Polano (i.e. Pietro Sarpi). A second edition appeared in 1629, and another in 1676. Archbishop Abbot had caused the Italian original to be published for the first time in 1619 in London. In 1625 * * * 'Brent edited and republished the elaborate defence of the church of England 'Vindiciae Ecclesiae Anglecanae', first published in 1613 by Francis Mason, archdeacon of Norfolk (Strype, Parker, L. iv 17). * * *

I give thanks to God that I am the son of believing parents and have been instructed in the true faith. I bequeath my body to be buried in the church of Little St. Bartholomew's as near as may be to the grave of my late wife. Whereas a marriage was not long since celebrated between my eldest son Basil Brent and Elizabeth Bennett, daughter of —— Bennett, esquire, formerly of London, deceased, by occasion whereof my manors of Clapcott and Rushcourt were settled upon them by deed quadripartell of 10 June, 1650, I now ratify all that I then granted them.

If my son Basil die without a son living I give the remainder of my lease of the rectory of Long Compton, which I hold of Eton College to my younger son Nathaniel, and if he die before the said Basil then to my daughter Anne, and after her my daughter Corbett and her children.

Whereas divers sums are owing to me by my son Corbett for which I have nothing to show but his bare word which I account to be as good as another man's bond. I freely release him from payment of the same.

I give to my two youngest children Nathaniel and Anne 50½ apiece towards furnishing each of them a chamber at their ages of 16; and I desire my son-in-law Dr. Corbett and his wife to take care of my said sweet children. I appoint my friend John, late Bishop of Rochester, my brother Mr. Richard Brent and my son-in-law Mr. Dr. Corbett to be overseers. To my servants 10½ apiece, being not able to give more by reason of the times.

To Michael Temple my best gown. I give 20 nobles and 4½ to the poor respectively of the parish where I shall end my days and of Long Compton in Warwickshire. Whereas I have always been much obliged to the said late Bishop of Rochester, I give him 20½ in token of my thankfulness; and to my cousin his wife 10½.

I make my son Basil my executor. Memorandum that I have thus far proceeded this third day of November, 1651, meaning it shall stand for my will. This 4th day of November, 1652, I give to my son Dr. Edward Corbett the lease of Emmbton and Pont Island in Northumberland which I hold from Merton College, Oxford, taken in the name of my friend Mr. Philip Owen, citizen of London.

I bequeath to my son Nathaniel the houses in Fleet Street and Temple Bar purchased of Mr. Evet and Mr. Brumstead, trustees for the children of one Mr. Hartburne in Oxfordshire. To my daughter Anne 2500½.

THE MALLORY FAMILY.

[Through an accident the pages of the Mallory genealogy in the October number of the Magazine were so transposed that it is deemed best to reprint the whole instalment.]

Roger Mallory, son of Dr. Thomas Mallory rector of Northenden, Cheshire, and of Eccleston, Lancaster, England, obtained a grant of land in Virginia in 1660. His uncle, the Rev. Philip Mallory, also willed to him all his plantations in Virginia. He settled in that part of New Kent county, Va., which later became King and Queen county and still later King William county.

He was a Justice of New Kent county in 1680, and as late as 1690 (Va. Magazine Jan., 1894, and April, 1899), and of King and Queen county in 1693. (see below) and the title of Captain. On the 30th of April, 1688, he received by patent a grant of "2514 acres of land situate and being ye P'ish of St. John in ye county of New Kent on ye south side of Mattapony River * * * w'ch land was formerly granted to ye said Captain Roger Mallory by patent and in the late troubles casually lost and is due by and for ye transportation of fifty-one persons," &c.

On the 26th of April, 1698, Roger Mallory referred to as "gent," received by patent a grant of 300 acres "lying in King and Queen county aforesaid (but lately part of New Kent county)."

In 1704-5 Roger Mallory was a Justice of King William county. (Va. Magazine April, 1901).

Note.—Captain Roger Mallory was probably the son of Jane the first wife of Dr. Thomas Mallory, and if so was born between 1632 and 1638.

Dr. Mallory apparently did not leave Oxford till 1632, and his wife Jane died in 1638. Roger was therefore about 70 years of age in 1705, or less.

William Mallory, son of Captain Roger Mallory, appears to have settled in Elizabeth City county, Va., as early as 1680. He married Ann Wythe, daughter of Thomas Wythe, gent., a justice of that county.

From the book of "Deeds and Wills, 1689-1699 Eliz. City county," page 115, it appears that Diana Moore, wife of John Moore of Gloster county, on the 27th of Nov., 1690, relinquishes quit claims, etc., her right, title, etc., to a certain tract of land in Elizabeth City county, to William Mallory which it appears her husband and Susannah Moore had "on the 16th of August, 1680, sold to the said William Mallory of Elizabeth City county."

On the same page appears the following: "Know all men by these presents that I Ann Malory, wife of Will'm Malory of ye said county of Eliza. City, doe hereby apoint and constitute my Father in law Captain Roger Malory, of King & Queen county, my true and lawful attorney for me & in my name & stead to acknowledge in ye Court of King & Queen county, all my right of dower or third yt. I have or ought to have of in and to two parcels of land lying in Pomonky Neck in aforesaid county unto Richard Gizage, containyng———acres of land, as by two deeds of sale may appear, sould by my said husband unto ye s'd Richard Gizage & what my said Attorney shall lawfully act and doe in ye Premises afores'd doe hereby Ratifie and Confirm in as ample manner to all Intents and purposes as if I were personally present.

Witness my hand and seale ye 2d, s'd day of May, 1693.

Ann Malory, Seale.

At a meeting of their Ma'ties Justices at ye house of Mr. William Mallory's May ye 3d 1693.

Present:
Mr. Edmund Swansy,
Mr. Tho Wythe Jun'r,
Capt-in William Armistead
Mr. Aug. Moore.

The above letter of Attorney was then Prouved by the Oaths of Thomas Wythe and Charles Jenings."

On the same page follows a similar power of Attorney in the case of another tract of land in King and Queen county, sold to one "John flord," Mallory being spelled in this case invariably with two "l's." Executed and proved the same day.

In the same book on page 223, appears the following:

"Know all men by these pres'nts yt. I Wllm. Mallory, Doe give unto my Sonn Francis Mallory one negro Lad nam'd Will and one Gray Mare & their Incresse to him & his heirs for ever. It Being in consideration of forty Pounds Sterling. It Being Given vnto my said sonn by his Grand Mother Ann With.

As Witness my hand this 18th of Xbr., 1696. W'll'm Malory.

Acknowledged in Cort of Eliz., City County this 18th of Xbr., 1696.
Teste Chas. Jenings, Clerk.

Wm'll (?)
Simon Holliday"

On the 20th of April, 1687, William Mallory received by patent a grant of 3740 acres of land, "lying in New Kent County in Pomunky Neck w'ch land was formerly surveyed by Capt. Wm. Claybourne dec'd for Captain Roger Malory."

On the 2d of May, 1706, he received a patent for 274 acres in Elizabeth City County.

The will of William Mallory is recorded in the book of Deeds, Wills, Inventories and Orders 1715 to 1721, Elizabeth City County William Mallory of Elizabeth City County in Virginia Will dated 17 August, 1719. Proved 15th February, 1720.

To my loving son Francis Mallory the Plantation whereon I now dwell.

To my son William Mallory all the residue of my Lands to enjoy the same at the age of sixteen.

In case of the death of either son without heirs his part to fall to the survivor and his heirs.

Unto son Francis negro man named Will. Also a small brass Kettle. Son Francis to have liberty to get timber over my whole land for his Plantation use.

Executors, sons Francis and William. Mr. Thos. Wythe appointed overseer to see this will proved and performed. Witnesses Jno. B. Bean, Ann Bean.

Francis Mallory, son of William Mallory and his wife Ann (Wythe) Mallory, married Ann Myhill, as appears from "An Acco't of Marriage Licenses 1716-1720," Elizabeth City county Records. It also appears from the county records that (about the year 1721) Francis Mallory came into court with Ann his wife "formerly wife of Edward Myhill" on business connected with Edward's will.

It seems probable that Francis M. married a second time and that the family name of the second wife was Johnson, his only child being named Johnson.

From a deed recorded in 1738, it appears that Francis Mallory was Church Warden for Elizabeth City Parish in that year.

The following is an abstract of his will which is recorded in Elizabeth City county:

To granddaughter Ann Mallory five negroes named Lucy, Whittley, Nanny Juny and Aggy. To cousin Elizabeth Read fifteen Pounds Current money of Virginia. To my good friend Capt. John Tabb a Gold Ring of twenty shillings value. "I give and bequeath unto my son Johnson Mallory and his heirs forever all my Land both in this above-said county and in Warwick county together with all my slaves which I have not here to fore given; also all my Stock House hold Goods and Cash by me and all other Goods or Estate which to me belongs or in any wise appertains, to him the said Johnson Mallory and his Heirs forever. Item whereas I have and there belongs to me the Reversion of certain Tract of Land lying in King William County now belonging to the Indians and other Persons which are now in the possession of the said Indians and those other Persons. It is therefore my will and desire that the said Reversion and all the Rights, Title or Claim that I or my Heirs have or should have if this Will had never been made do go and decend to my said son Johnson and I do hereby give and bequeath the same to him and his Heirs forever.”

Witnesses: John Tabb, Margaret Tabb, Wm. Bean.

JOHNSON’s Mallory only child of Francis’s Mallory married Diana ——. It is probable that the maiden name of his wife was Diana King.

Abstract of the will of Johnson Mallory of the County and Parish of Elizabeth City. Will dated 9 May, 1760. Proved 5 May, 1762.

Gives to Henry King one Mourning Ring, Twenty shillings value.
All the remaining part of estate not already disposed of to be equally divided between his two sons Francis and Edward.
Appoints Henry King a Trustee for his son Francis "and that in Case my said son should neglect or waiste his Estate then he the said Henry King shall take the said Estate into his hands until such time as my said son Francis come of age."
Lastly appoints his wife Diana Mallory and his two sons Francis and Edward Mallory Executors and Executors.
Witnesses: George Johnson, John Bayley and Francis Parker.

Francis Mallory, eldest son of Johnson Mallory and Diana his wife, was married three times; twice before he was twenty one and once just after.
His last wife was Mary King sister of Miles King, Sr., of Hampton, afterwards of Norfolk.
He was appointed Lieut Colonel of Elizabeth City county Militia in June 1776 (Council Journal) and it would appear that he was later promoted to be Colonel.
After participating in various engagements with the British he was killed March 8th, 1781, while commanding a small force of Militia in an action with a largely superior force of British regular troops commanded by Lieut. Col. Dundas, near Newport News. (See account of this affair, with additional personal details in The Virginia Historical Register, Vol. IV, 1851, page 24 et seq. For the British account see letter of Brigadier General Benedict Arnold to Sir Henry Clinton dated Portsmouth March 8th, 1781, in "Clinton-Cornwallis Controversy growing out of the Campaign in Virginia, 1781," Vol. I, pp. 339 340.)
The negroes belonging to the estate of Colonel Francis Mallory, deceased, were in obedience to an order of the court of Elizabeth City county, appraised December 31st, 1788, the valuation being £1444, 11s. and were divided among his widow, Mrs. Mary Mallory, his daughters Diana (Mrs. Geo. Wray,) Elizabeth Mallory, Mary Mallory and his son Charles Mallory, then an infant. (Vol. 34, Deeds Elizabeth City County. 1787-1800).
The will of Mrs. Mary Mallory of Elizabeth City County, widow of Colonel Francis Mallory, dated 20th of January, 1789, was proved in said county April 24, 1789.
To son Charles King Mallory the Marsh adjoining the land whereon she then lived.

Thomas.—John Lilburn Thomas, De Soto, Mo., would like to get into correspondence with the descendants of Norborne K. Thomas, who was a merchant in Richmond, 1814-1818, and died there about 1831. He would also like to know the names and addresses of the descendants of Norborne and Cornelius Thomas, sons of Cornelius Thomas, of Amherst Co., Va. The latter died October, 1775.

Was Cornelius Thomas, who was a member of the Virginia House of Burgesses, 1768-70, and as such signed the articles of Association June 22, 1770, against English trade, a captain in army of the Indian Wars prior to 1775? In 1759 he was called Captain by Wm. Cabell in his diary.

BOOK REVIEWS.

At last the long desired has been accomplished, and we have, in most fitting garb, that great fundamental source of American history—the records of the Virginia Company of London. Messrs. Putnam, Ford, and Osgood, Misses Kingsbury and Stinson, the Public Printer, and all concerned, have every reason to congratulate themselves, and will assuredly receive the hearty thanks of all students of our history for the admirable work they have done.

We are glad to claim for our Society a prominent part in the various efforts to make public the contents of these invaluable documents. Not only were the extracts made by Mr. Conway Robinson, and admirably edited by Mr. R. A. Brock, published in our series of Collections in 1889; but we likewise had made a complete copy of the Randolph Transcript of the records of the Company, in the possession of the Society, with a view to immediate publication. On account of the differences between the Randolph Transcript and that in the Library of Congress, this plan was abandoned. "The Virginia Company," 2 Vols., 1889, has, however, up to this time, been the chief source of information for students of the history of the Company.

There could hardly be anything more useless than a discussion of the historic value of these records. This is a common-place to every student of American history. Beginning on April 28, 1619, and ending June 7, 1624, these minutes and the accompanying papers have been quoted and referred to by every writer on the early Colonial period. To us in Virginia they are of intense interest.

Though the value of the records themselves needs no demonstration, too much emphasis cannot be laid on the admirable character of the publication before us.

Miss Kingsbury states (p. 79) that the Robinson Transcripts used by this Society in 1889 contain little more than half of the original records. The importance of having the whole of the proceedings of the Company, which have been preserved, is obvious, and this importance is enhanced by Miss Kingsbury's introduction with its study of the history of the Company and of the records relating to it. Attention has already been called in this Magazine, to the importance of Miss Kingsbury's work. It has been said above that no discussion of the value of these records is needed. This is, in a sense, entirely true; but the estimate with which Professor Osgood begins his preface is too striking a summary to be omitted. He says:

"The records, and especially the Court Book, of the Virginia Company of London, have long been regarded as among the most precious manuscript treasures which have found lodgment within the United States. Not only is their inherent value as a manuscript source very great, but a sentimental value attaches to them. This has a twofold origin. It arises, in the first place, from the fact that they belong at once to the romantic period of our beginnings and to the heroic period of England's great struggle against absolutism. The men who figured in the pages of this record were at the same time playing their parts, on the one side or the other, in the controversies which were beginning with James I, and which were to broaden and deepen under his son until England was plunged into the agonies of the great Civil war. They were contemporaries, and in not a few cases associates of Coke and Eliot and Hampden, of Bacon and Wentworth and Buckingham. The names of Sandys and the Ferrars stand high on the roll of patriots by which the first generation of the Stewart period is distinguished. The same men also, together with a long list of the merchants and nobles of the time, were deeply interested in discovery and colonization. As successors of Gilbert and Raleigh they were planting a new England beyond the Atlantic. About this enterprise still clung some of the spirit and memories of the Elizabethan seamen and their early struggles with Spain. In the days when Smythe and Sandys were active the prosaic age of English colonization had not yet begun. The glamour of romance, of the heroic, attaches to the founding of Virginia and Plymouth, and makes them fit subjects for the poet. By the time when the other colonies were founded the glow and inspiration had grown faint or wholly disappeared. In the Records of the Virginia Company some reflection may be seen of this early zeal of the plans and ideals to which it gave rise. Even their pages, cast in a style which is quite unusual in records of this nature, make one realize that he is in the company of noble and earnest spirits, men who were conscious that they were engaged in a great enterprise. The Court Book itself, now that it is printed in full, will be found to be a worthy monument of English speech, as it was used at the close of the Elizabethan epoch and by contemporaries of Shakespeare and Bacon."

The glamour of which Professor Osgood speaks will be felt by every earnest student, who, especially if a Virginian, will find these records, the minutes of a commercial company though they be, of absorbing interest. The very names of Southampton, Ferrar, Sandys and others have to him an inspiring sound. To one at all familiar with our early history it is impossible to glance at any page of the beautiful volumes before us without finding something of information or interesting suggestion. Opening for instance the first volume, entirely at random, at pages 500-501, we note the names of Nicholas Ferrar, George Sandys, John Bland, Jadwyn, Woodliffe and Gookin—all names which have meaning for us. And on the same pages are orders in regard to the glass works near Jamestown, the contest between Bargrave and Martin, and Gookin's contract to carry cattle to Virginia.

While the "Virginia Company" published by this Society will always be valuable on account of its introduction and notes, those who are familiar with that work will be surprised to find how much of the records was omitted by Mr. Robinson. "The part of the court book which reveals most in regard to internal organization, commercial activity and inner life of the Company is not included in those abstracts. Thus such data as that which concerns the trouble with Spain over the Treasurer, the suit with William Wye, the accusations against Argall, the Pierce patent, and many other private grants are not included."

The Records are published in two large quarto volumes, attractively bound in gray, with the seal of the Company in gilt on the sides, and contain more than 1300 pages. They are printed on excellent paper, in large and handsome type, with a special font for abbreviations, erasures, etc. There are four fac-similes illustrating the writing of the various copyists.

It is regretted that the praise which can be given to all other parts of the work cannot be accorded unreservedly to the index. It is difficult to see what plan was in view in its compilation.

There is no attempt (as there should certainly have been) to give in the index a reference to every appearance of every name. In hundreds of cases this has not been done. For instance, there appears to be not a single reference to the names of these present at the first meeting, and some of them, Sir Thomas Wilford for example, do not appear in the index at all. There is no question that the student should have been able to trace every mention of these fathers of American colonization.

Testing the index, we find on the second page of the proceedings mention of a suspected deer stealer, whom the King desired to have sent to Virginia. This opens up an interesting subject, but neither "convict" nor "felon" appear in the index.

On the page next preceding is an important motion of Sandys relative to Sir Thomas Smyth; but no reference to this appears.
The Records, of course, contain frequent entries in regard to the important office of treasurer, but the index has but one reference.

One desiring to know something of Virginia's infant industries, will look, but look in vain, in the index for "iron," "salt," and "glass." Each of these was a subject for frequent consideration by the Company, and iron and glass works were established in the colony.

Taking up errors of another sort, we find that Vol. I, p. 31, the reference given after A True Declaration of the Estate of the Colony, is incorrect, 32 being the correct page. And, if the publications beginning with True were to be grouped in the index, why omit Hamor's True Relation.

Neither under "charter," nor "letters patent" is there any notice of the revocation, though of course there is an account of this in the introduction.

In spite of its faults, however, the index may be considered fairly good.

While we should like to see the Records of the Virginia Company of London in the hands of every student of history in the United States, we could also wish that the orders from Virginia alone would be so large that they would exhaust this edition.

It is announced by the Librarian of Congress that the edition is limited. The price is fixed at the wonderfully low sum of $4.00 the set, payable in drafts or postal orders to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington.

Journal of the House of Burgesses of Virginia, 1770-1772.

Edited by John Pendleton Kennedy, Richmond, Virginia, M. C. M.

VI. Library Board, Virginia State Library, pp xxxv, 333.

The second volume of the series of journals of the House of Burgesses of Virginia, which is being issued by the State Library Board, is presented in the same beautiful form as its predecessor. The sessions of Assembly during the years named were not as momentous as those which immediately succeeded and preceded then, but are full of matter of interest to the student of our history.

The preface outlines, with many illustrative documents, the chief subjects which interested the people and their representatives. These were trade with the Indians, the extension of the western boundary of the colony, the treaty with the Cherokees at Locohaber, S. C., the organization of the Ohio or Walpole Company, the Association of 1770, and the prospect for an American Episcopate.

The contest over the question of a bishop for America was a bitter one, but the House of Burgesses took no part in it except to adopt a resolution opposing the scheme.

The real and vital matter in which people and Assembly were interested was the effort to prevent the stopping or checking the westward growth of the colony by too contracted boundaries. This subject is properly and very fully treated in the preface, and a valuable map illustrates the lands acquired by various treaties with the Indians.

The journals also treat largely of matters of less general importance and historic note; but of perhaps more value to the student of Colonial conditions and institutions. The Church, tobacco and vines, towns, roads and fences, courts and vestries, French and Indian war soldiers, the militia, elections, the docking of entail, and many other subjects relating to the life of the time, received frequent mention. Of especial interest are the full reports of evidence given in several contested election cases.

In 1771 appear the proceedings in regard to the statue of Lord Botetourt (now in the campus of William and Mary College), Virginia's first tribute of this nature to one of her distinguished men. Under date of February 12, 1772, appears the first report of the directors of Virginia's first asylum for the insane. It is interesting to note that it then, as now, bore the name of hospital, and did not, as afterwards for many years, have the objectionable title of lunatic asylum. At the same session of As-embly was presented the first bill for a canal. Though politically calmer than other years shortly preceding the Revolution, the period covered by these journals was evidently one of stirring activity and enterprise.

All students of Virginia history are again indebted to the State Library for an important addition to the fundamental material for correct knowledge of our past.

The work of editing is well done, and the same may be said of the index as a whole, though it should be fuller in regard to topics For instance, there is only one reference to "Elections," while, as has been stated, there is much very valuable information on the subject in various parts of the Journals. And, though there is much matter in the text in regard to vestries and parishes, there is only one reference to "Vestry" and two to "Parish."

The Library is rapidly receiving copies of unpublished journals from England, and it is understood that the next volume to be printed is rapidly advancing towards readiness for the press The period b-teen 1764 and 1770 is one of intense interest, and the fact that several of the journals during this period have never been in print, will add to the anxiety of historical students to have the forthcoming volumes.

Society of Colonial Wars in the State of Maryland. Gene-
Edited for the Society by Christopher Johnston, M. A., M. D., Ph.

In this large and handsome volume the Maryland Society of Colonial Wars has not only preserved a full record of the ancestry of its members, but done a most excellent work for Maryland genealogy: The chart pedigrees prepared under the able editorial charge of Dr. Johnston, contain a great amount of information in regard to families in Maryland, Virginia, and elsewhere in the United States. Especially is there much material, hitherto unpublished, in regard to names on the Eastern Shore of Virginia.

It is needless to say anything in connection of Dr. Johnston’s genealogical work. In a few instances, however, where he had to rely on the statements of others, there are errors. In the pedigree on page 37 it is certainly incorrect to state that Samuel Clayton, of Caroline county, Va., was a son of John Clayton, the Attorney-General. The latter’s son, John Clayton the colonist, left a letter, which states that his father had three sons, John, Dr. Thomas, and Arthur.

Mrs. Fairchild has presented in two handsome little volumes much information regarding the lives and travels of two interesting men. Mr. Van Der Kemp while in his native Holland rendered essential services to the young and feeble United States, and afterwards came to reside in this country.

The travels of John Lincklaen illustrate conditions in New York, Pennsylvania and Vermont soon after the Revolutionary War. The editor has done her work in the most thorough and careful way, and has made a real contribution to history.

This is the latest publication in the great series with which the Huguenot Society of London is illustrating the history of the Huguenots. For intrinsic value of contents, scholarly editing and good book-making the issues of the Huguenot Society deserve the highest praise, and should be in the hands of every person of Huguenot descent. The interest of these publications is, however, by no means confined to the descendants of French Protestants. The exiled members of that faith have played too important a part in the world for their records to be of mere genealogical interest. The volume contains marriages and baptisms, and has a perfect index. In the index may be noted many names familiar in Virginia.

This handsome volume contains very complete collections and genealogies of the various families named Pott and Potts in the Old and New Worlds. A number of Virginia families are included, among them that of Governor John Pott.

The work throughout seems to be very carefully done, and will be of great interest to all of the name. There are many illustrations and chart pedigrees and a very good index.

These attractive quarterlies give evidence of the increased interest in historical work in Missouri. The Missouri Historical Society announces that hereafter its collections will appear regularly as a quarterly. The contents of the present number are (1) Oliver Dwight Filley, by Hon. C. P. Johnson; (2) Emigration from the French West Indies in 1848, by Edward de Lauréal; (3) French Emigrés from Guadeloupe, by Mrs. Adèle Hornsby; (4) John Sappington Marmaduke, by John F. Lee, Esq.; (5) Documents relating to the Attack upon St. Louis, 1780; (6) Missouri—Santa Fe Trade—Bicknell's Journal; (7) The Case of Pouré vs. Choteau, by Walter B. Douglas; (8) Notes.

The Review, published by the State Historical Society at Columbia, begins with an editorial salutatory, which is follow-ed by the following papers: (1) The Romance of Western History by Prof. E. G. Bourne; (2) Thomas Hart Benton, by Judge T. J. C. Fagg; (3) Early Settlements in Missouri, by Prof. E. M. Violette; (4) The Beginnings of Missouri Legislation, by Prof. Isador Loeb; (5) The Lincoln, Hanks and Boone Families, by H. E. Robinson; (6) Bibliography of Missouri State Publications, by F. A. Sampson; (7) Bibliography of State Historical Society of Missouri; (8) Local Historical Societies; (9) Notes.

As will be seen each of these publications has an interesting table of contents. Best wishes are tendered both by all students of American history.

THE HISTORY OF FAMILIES OF PITTSYL-VANIA COUNTY, VIRGINIA.

Pittsylvania County is the largest county in the State of Virginia, and was once even larger, embracing the territory now known as the counties of Patrick and Henry. Being incorporated in 1767, Pittsylvania has had an interesting history of its own for 138 years, covering the turbulent times of the Revolution.

The records and will books of the county are very complete and thorough, and in a perfect state of preservation, giving a list of all officers in the early magisterial courts; many rosters of officers and soldiers of the Revolution and Civil Wars and numbers of declarations of the Revolutionary soldiers.

From this county have gone many pioneers of iron nerve, who settled the vast South and West, and the descendants of these men would find the records of this county of untold interest.

John Grymes, Esq’r.

*These orders were, of course, in relation to the war with Spain, which had just begun. The American Colonies were directed by the English government to furnish troops. Virginia raised as her quota 400 men, and the Assembly provided £5,000 for their support. The Colonial contingent, consisting of a regiment of four battalions, was to be commanded by Alexander Spotswood, who was raised to the rank of Major General; but as he died, at Annapolis, Md., June 7, 1740, when about to embark, Governor Gooch took command. The Colonial troops joined at Jamaica those from England under Admiral Vernon and General Wentworth. After a success at Porto Bello the expedition was defeated at Carthagena, and the remnant of the American troops returned home.
The Duke of New Castle's Letter to the Governor dated Jan'ry 5th 1739 was again read upon cons'n. Whereof It is the Opinion of the board That the Men to be listed in pursuance of the said Letter receive 2s.6 when listed that their pay be a Pistole a Month & that instead of two Guineas they receive three Pistoles at the time of their Embarkation w'ch may be assigned. _Present:_

John Grymes John Tayloe &

Phi: Lightfoot, Esq'rs.

_Present James Blair, Esq'r._

The Govern'r acquainted the Board that he had advanced the Bounty Money, to be paid at the time of enlisting, to a considerable Number of Men that have been raised pursuant to a Letter which he rec'd from his Grace the Duke of Newcastle dated the 5th of January last, & that they are now impatient to receive their pay; The Board taking that matter into consideration are of Opinion That it must be very much for his Majesty's Service to subsist the Men that have been so raised & do advise that His Hon'r subsist them upon his own Credit, 'till the arrival of Colo. Blaikney or until such time as he shall be further informed of his Majesty's Pleasure concerning the same.

The Board being informed That Mr. Hutchins had made an estimate of the Expense that Vessels might be hired for to transport the Men that have been or shall be raised in this Colony for his Majesty's Service as had been mentioned to him on Wednesday last, He was called in and after some proposals made to him which he refused to accept at last agreed to provide 350 Ton of Shipping for the Purpose aforesaid furnished with Hearths and Coppers sufficient for dressing Victuals for the said Men, according to the Burthen of each respective Vessel & also to provide & put on board sufficient Water Casks, Water, Candles & Fewel for the Voyage Which Vessels shall be ready to take on board the s'd Men, so furnished & provided as aforesaid by the 15th of July next, and also agree to Victual the Sailors at his own Expense for & in consideration of 15s. Sterling p. Ton by the Month for the first three Months & afterwards at the rate of 14s. Sterling p. Ton by the Month for so long time as the said Vessels shall continue in his Majesty's Service after the first three Months: Which Vessels are to enter into pay (being ready and provided as aforesaid) on the said last day of June [?]. But if before that time the said Hutchins shall have Notice from the Govern'r that such Vessels are not wanted the said Hutchins agreed to accept one Months pay at the rate first mentioned but he is also to be reimbursed what loss he shall sustain by the Water Casks, Furnaces & Hearths by him provided in pursuance of this Agreement. And if the said Vessels shall actually begin & enter upon a Voyage in the Service aforesaid then the said Hutchins is to receive three Months pay at the first mentioned rate notwithstanding such Voyage shall be sooner countermanded. And in case the said Hutchins shall fail to provide Shipping according to his Agree'mt afores'd by the time herein before limited then he agrees to forfeit one Months pay according to the rate at which he is to be paid for the first three Months and that the said Vessels so to be by him provided as aforesaid shall not enter into pay till the Twentyeth day of July next.

The Terms of which Agreement the Board do approve of.

May it Please your most exc’t Ma’ty.

INSTRUCTIONS TO LORD CULPEPER, † 1679.

Charles R.

Right Trustie and Welbeloved we greet you well.

Whereas wee have lately received an Address from the

* These were the soldiers sent to suppress Bacon's Rebellion. They proved a source of much trouble and expense to the Colony.

† Thomas, Lord Culpeper, Baron of Thorsway, son of John, Lord Culpeper, a prominent adherent of Charles I during the Civil Wars, was on July 8, 1675, appointed Governor of Virginia in reversion to Berkeley (see the patent, Hening, II, 565.) After Berkeley's death he showed no inclination to come to the Colony, but in December, 1679, received a rebuke from the King for his delay, and went to Virginia in 1680, taking the oath of office there on May 10 of that year. Culpeper only stayed in Virginia at this time for a few months, returning to England in August. He came again to Virginia November, 1682. In about a year he finally quitted the colony without the King's permission, was arrested on his arrival in England, and his commission was forfeited. He is stated to have been an able, but artful and covetous man. Lady Frances Berkeley, who was the daughter of Alexander Culpeper, was nearly related to him. For his administration see Campbell's Virginia, 328-337, and Hening, II, 458-508, 560-569.
grand Assembly of Virg'a dated the twentyeth of May last in behalfe of themselves, and our Soldiers for the payment of the arreares due to the Countrie, and them, and for omission of all arreares, and Quitrents due unto us, as likewise for the appropriation of such as shall hereafter become due, dureing such terme as wee shall think ffit for the defence of the Country, And whereas the Comiconers of our treasury had by our Command taken care to provide for their full pay untill the first day of July last exclusively. Wee have thought fitt to Signifie our pleasure unto you upon the matter of the said address, and doe hereby direct you to acquaint the Assembly upon your arrivall in Virg'a w'th the care wee had taken at your instance before the receipt of their Address for payment of the Arreares due unto the Soldiers to the time above mentioned, and for the Continuance of the same for the future without any charge, or other trouble to the Country then onely to give creditt for y'r quarters, at two shillings per week each, untill money's for theire discharge can be from time to time Remitted, & as for the quitrents, that upon your Representacon, Wee have alsoe had that matter long before the Receipt of that address under our Royall consideration and will shortly give such orders as shall consist with our service, and the ease of our people there, And lastly you shall acquaint them that we have sent some Lawes to them and given them instructions to Signifye our further pleasure and Commands unto them, to which wee expect a cheerfull, and ready compliyance assureing them on all occasions of our perticular care and kindness for that Colony, and soe wee bid you heartily farewell. Given at our Court at Whitehall the fith day or December 1679 in the one and thirtyeth years of our Reigne.

Speech of Governor Lord Culpeper.

His Excellencies first Speech to the Assembly begunne at James Citty June: 8th 1680.

Gentlemen

It is almost three yeares since it first pleased his Majestie upon the death of S'r William Berkeley to Commiconate me his Lieuten’t Governor Gen’l of this his great and most considerable Colony, though to mee the time hath seemed much Longer haveing bin contrary to my Inclinations detained from you on other services by the Kings express Comands, for nothing less, should have hindred mee, besides the disadvantage of Succeeding such a person, I am fully sensible of my weekness to undergoe soe great a weight, but as dureing my absence in Engl’d I have not bin totally unserviceable unto you soe I shall alwayes continue my utmost endeavours for your wellfaire not onely by hindering oppressions asserting your liberties, and distributing equall and speedy Justice, but by improveing to the utmost all opportunities that may contribute to yo’r prosperitie the effect of which you shall rather finde by deeds, then any more words on that Subject.

Had not my owne desires prompted me to beginne a speedy acquaintance, and Correspondency with you, the King’s Comands of giving him a full state and information of this his Countrey which can by noe means be soe well don as by a Generall Assembly, would have oblied me to call it, but besides those implications I have his particular Commands to ten-nder you the three acts* following, which upon mature consider-con with the advice of the Privy Council he hath sent you by me under the great Seale of England with full power to give the Royall assent to them, By the first intituled an Act of free and generall pardon, indemnity and oblivion, his Majestie hath pardoned all persons whatever except Bacon that dyed, and Lawrence that fled away, and such as were condemned by legall Juries, by which means onely estates are forfeitable with an exclusion of some few Ringleaders from publique employments, To which is annexed a clause to confirme juditiall proceedings, and another to prevent the Licentious defamacon of the government, & Majestracy, I shall add nothing to it, but onely informe you, that as his Maj’ty hath forgott it himselfe, he doth expect this to the last time of yo’r remembering the late Rebellion, and that he shall looke upon them to be ill men that rubb the sore by useing any future reproaches or termes of distinctions whatever, This I hope will entice those chiefly concerned therein to use there utmost endeavors to express their gratitude by their future comportment, and all of you to recover that favourable impression in the minde of the best of Kings, which your unspotted Loyaltie in the time of the Epidemical Rebellion in England and your late Submission to the then ursurped powers (the last of all his dominions) had justly acquired to this Colony. The second is an act for Naturalization to invite persons to come to this place by makeing the Same as Ready and Easy as possible
To which is added a clause to confirme such bad titles as in ye Nonage of this Colony could not be prevented, and which cannot but be very usefull to you.

The third is an additional act about the two shillings p hh’d

* These acts are the first three of the session of June, 1680 (Hening II, 458-469.) The third act continuing the duty of two shillings per hogshead on all tobacco exported was made perpetual, and instead of being accounted for to the Assembly as formerly, was put at the King’s disposal only. From the “second speech” it is evident that the Governor had difficulty in securing the passage of the revenue bill.
The two provisoes added by the Assembly related to the repeal of former acts imposing duties and to the privileges of Virginia owners of ships.

I am further expressly commanded to acquaint you, that his Majestie haveing in Councill Concluded on the necessity of haveing one or more townes, in this Country without which noe other nation ever begunne a plantacon, or any yet thrived (as it ought,) and observed that all other means have bin unsuccesfull, hath in order thereunto Resolved as soon as storehouses & conveniencyes can be provided to prohibit Shippes tradeing here to loade or unloade but at certaine fixed places to be appointed under necessary penalties in the denomination whereof and all other Circumstances, that may make the thing practicall, he thinks fitt to take his Measures by advice from hence he doubts not but in a matter of such consequence, severall difficulties will occurr, and as little, but that on due examinacon, they will be remedied.

In the last place I am Ordered to acquaint you with his Majesties Letter to me (which with the acts shall be forthwith sent you,) by which you will finde care had bin taken before the Address last yeare for the Payment of y'ye quart'rs and Soldiers till the first of July last, for the punctuall execution whereof I have employed two Considerable Justices and now Members of the Assembly to adjust Accounts between Landlord & Soldier, upon whose Returne sometimes this week the money shall be paid. I have alsoe repay'd to Mr. Auditor Bacon those Summes he advanced to the Gunners in their need, and have alsoe pay'd their quarters due any where in the Country amounting to a considerable summe, and dismiss them the Service, being absoltelie necessary to prevent the growing charge to his Ma'tie but ye doeing of that hath disenabled me for the present to pay the arreares due in Nanzemond, and the Isle of Wight Counties but in May next I will see the Country paid out my own Sal-lary, in case by any accident, The Commissioners of the treas-ury should faile therein. You will by the said letter perceive, (notwithstanding the returne and opinion of some persons to the contrary) his Majesties, gratious resolution on my representation of paying his forces himselfe out of his owne purse from time to time, without expecting any thing from hence, but Credit for quarters at two shillings per week to be paid at every yeares end, and yett in that Case too, I shall ease you of one halfe for I will pay the quarters of my owne Company punctually myself. The other part of the Letter concerns the Quitrents, which I had alsoe long since Represented unto his Majestie, wherein as soon as he shall be fully informed of the state you are in, and your Readiness and Cheerfulnes for his Service and yo'r own good I doubt not but such measures will be taken boeth for the past and future, as will be Satisfactory to all interest (that I have therein I shall never stand in Competicon to yo'rs) and conduce to his Majesties Service, and the good of this Colony, to which my utmost endeavours shall be alwayes readie.

I would be glad to be fully informed of the state of affaires in relation to the Indians, to severall of whom on the Returne of S'r Jno. Berry and Collo. Morrison, I am to deliver presents from his Majestie, I have formerly understood it would be for yo'r service to Lay open the trade with them, if you finde it soe I shall most readily concurr, for 'tis my resolution to doe all things may be for the publique good without considering any private interest and therefore I leave it to your consideration.

If you have any greivances you Cannot have a better time to offer them. All in my power shall be forthwith effectually reme-died on the place, and if there be any of a higher nature, you may assure yourselves of his Majesties gratious disposition to do ye like.

I hope in this present cheapness of tobacco you are not unprovided of some proposals for the good of the Country, 'tis a thing I am yett Recent in, and I am sure deserves your most serious Consideration.

Lastlie I require you to be very exact in stateing the publique debts, and to take notice yourselves and soe inform your respective Counties, that the present Levies are for past uses and if you please from hence to drawe a Line. I shall take care that noe unnecessary charge shall be undertaken nor noe necessary one but with the least expence, for some meanes must be used to moderate the excessive Levies by tytheables.

I have nothing more but to desire your speedy resolutions and to consider that I am bound up by instructions, on reporte of the late Commiconers, to admitt you to sitt but a few dayes, & since the Oxford ffregate hath stayed soe long, I would be willing to give his Ma'tie an account by the Capt. thereof of the Commands he sent you, ffor yo'r particular accounts you may take a further time. But Pray Remember the Season of the yeare and entertaine noe Private Causes this Assembly.

Speech of Lord Culpeper to the House of Burgesses, 1680.

His Excellencies Second Speech.

Mr. Speak'r, and you Gentlemen of the house of Burgesses;

Your yesterdayes note is the occasion of my sending to you now, I was sorry to receive your first vote of agreeing but to two of his Majesties bills, but totally surprised with this (that carryes with it the aggravation of admitting a conference to noe other purpose but loss of time) which is totally unparliamentary, and will make the exercise of Assemblyes, (which as most necessary ought to be most easy) wholly impracticable, if not impossible, except the house of Burgesses pretend to the Sole Legislative power, which noe house of Common in England ever did, till first voted away boeth Kings and Lords. It lookes as if you could give noe Reasons (which I am sure you alwayes will doe for all your actions) or as if you were afraid to be Convinced. This concern's futurity as well as the present, And therefore I desire you to lay aside that irregular proceeding, which never can be useful, and therefore I assure myselfe you will resume the debate.

Though the manngers of the last Conference, have I am sure given most strong reasons for the Councills unanimous concurrence to the acts, yet since I am on this Subject, I shall offer mine alsoe, boeth as to the Right of the King, and the prudentiall considerations of this time, that his Majestie hath undoubted right to collect it, and by every ones Consent here is by his Representative the head of the Assembly, And that ye first act is perpetuall, I am sure none will question, now if in Joyntenancy, the King by the Common Lawe in force before Statute Lawe take the whole, much more [shall he have the preference, in different application of uses, for that onely can be the question for you may as well presume, he will take away your free holds, as act contrary to the act which carryes innegative words (To no other use or purpose whatsoever, &c.) Twas with noe small difficultie, I did in your behalves and in some sort my owne too (for my interest is Considerable) obteyne the inserting those words, and boeth in that and the transaction about the Auditor I pretend to have done you service, whether you interprett it soe or not, But to take away all scruples, I offer after the passing of the act, not only to assist you, but to joyne with you as a partie in a petition to his Ma'tie (though in noe sort I question it) that the mony may alwayes remaine here, that it be applyed and accounted for too, from time to time to the Countrey's use as the King shall direct, And that the Auditor be chosen and allowed as formerly, and I doubt not of his Concurrence to your full content, But feare it otherwise for the prudentiall reasons, Consider the affaires of the Quitrents, consider yo'r publique Creditt and levies, consider the King's favour in every thing you may aske even to Cessation or otherwise in this low ebb of tob'o and then reflect if it be Tanti for you not to concurr in a thing that I am Sure the King on mature debate in Councill judges his owne, and will soe use it, and that more freely then if this act past, All these considerations must be layd at the dore of those that oppose it, though I assure myselfe, that in a business soe cleare, neither the ignorance, or too much or too little wisdome of any wilfull persons will prevaile w'th you to obstruct or retard the service of the Country which hitherto, (except by the Lowness of tobacco,) hath never had a more liklyer, and comfortable prospect, And I doubt not but this nights debate of yours will fully settle all business to his Ma'tys content, and the welfare of this Colony which is my Cheifest Concern.

PETITION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO THE KING, 1680.

To the Kings most Exc't Ma'tie

The humble Peticon of the Gen'rll Assembly of Virginia, Sheweth

That your Peticoners have with their hearty thanks embraced your Majesties act of free, and generall pardon & oblivion, and passed the second act of Naturalization.
That they have with the like zeale for your Majesties service w'th all allacritie passed the Act of your Majestie, Entituled an act, for raiseing a publique Revenue for the better Support of the government of this yo'r Ma'tys Colony of Virg'a with such necessary and important Provisoes, as to yo'r Ma'tys generall Assembly here Seemed by the said act intended and most conducing to your Majesties Service, and welfare of this your Country. And we humbly beseech your Majestie y't the said act of indemnitie, the act of Naturalization, and the act of raising a publique Revenue &c, with ye provisoes there mentioned may be confirmed by y'r Ma'ties Royall assent, And your generall Assembly doth furth'r Represent to your Ma'tie that it is absolutely necessary for your service, and the welfare of this your Colony, that the office of Auditor of this Colony being a place of the greatest trust and confidence should be executed by some deserving person, resideing here, in whose fidelities and conduct this Country may be Satisfied and noe other; And haveing bin informed by his Excellency of a grant Surreptitiously obtained from your Ma'tie of that place by one m'r Robert Aleway, which would have bin ruinous to this your Colony, and which by his Lords'ps application to your Ma'ty was rejected and laid aside to our great content, and for which wee returne your Majestie our most humble thanks, for the prevention thereof for the future, and that yo'r Majestie may be freed from the like opportunitie, and none but fitt persons may execute the same in whom yo'r Majesties Colony, may have full assurance, and of whom by reason of the distance of the place yo'r Leiu-tenant and Governor here is the best judge; Your Generall Assembly doth humbly SupPLICATE yo'r Ma'ty that the said Auditor may be first recommended to yo'r Ma'ty by Yo'r s'd Leuiten't and Govern'r Gen'll as formerly out of some of the fittest persons then resident in this Colony for that great trust, and noe others, and afterwards confirmed by yo'r Ma'ty in such manner as hath hitherto bin practizd.

And lest we should seem guilty of a great omission in point of duty, wee beseech yo'r Ma'tie to accept our thanks for dismissing the peticon of m'r Thomas Sands being highly sensible how great a defalcation the grant of it would have made in that small revenue raised for the Support of your Majesties government here and for the gratious concession, that the Governor for ye time being should be acquainted for the future with all matters relateing to this your Dominion, and alsoe an order as favourable and advantageous to our peace against the importacon of the Scotch Convicts.

That God Almighty will grant yo’r Maj’ty hearts desire here, and hereafter, is the Constant prayers of.

ADDRESS OF THE COUNCIL AND BURGESSSES TO THE KING, 1680.

To the Kings most Excel’t Ma’tie.
The humble Address of the Councill and Burgesses of this Gen’ll Assembly in this your Majesties Dominion of Virginia:

Humbly Representing

That the great quantities of our onely Comoditie tobaccoes made here, in Maryland and other your Ma’tys plantations, hath brought the price thereof soe low,* and thereby our necessities soe great, that without applyeing some speedy Remedy for Redress thereof your poore distressed Subjects here cannot much longer Subsist, And after due consideration had of all wayes, and meanes whereby we might releive and ease ourselves from this great pressure and affliction wee at present lye under, can finde none probable or likely but a totall cessation from planting tobaccoes this next yeare which will abate the quantitie and advance the Commod’y, and alsoe for the future preserve your Majestie Customes, which must necessarily abate if wee be throwne upon the necessitie of leaving it of ourselves. Wee therefore humbly pray yo’r Maj’ty will be gratiously pleased

*The low price of tobacco, which continued for several years and caused great distress, led to the "plant cutting" riots of May, 1682. See Hening, II, 561-563; III, 341-351; Va. Mag. Hist. and Biog., II, 408-411.
by your Royall Proclamation to enjoyne a tollt Cessacon from planting tobacco in this Countrie, Maryland and Carolina this next yeare 1681, And that we may better hope to obtaine we have humbly intreated his Excellency Thomas Lord Culpeper your Majesties L’t and Governour Generall here, to present this humble address, and with all to Represent to yo’r Majestie the great distress we lye und’r for the want thereof and the advantages wee shall necessarly gaine thereby by advancement of our Stocks of Cattle &c, and the reduceing us to townes which this vancancie from planting will undoubtedly helpe forward, The method and manner thereof we humbly present to your Majestie by a byll, to which wee humbly Supplicate your Ma’ties Royall Assent and confirmation, Not doubting but yo’r Majestie, whoe from time to time has encouraged us thereunto, will out of yo’r Royall Clemency still encourage us therein, by granting the inhabitants there some immunities, though to a small diminution of yo’r owne Treasure. Wee therefore humbly implore you will be gratiously pleased to Remitt the one penny per pound to all that shall constantly and actually inhabitt in any of the s’d townes, Shipping of their owne proper tabaccoes from thence to any of your Majesties plantations, and one half penny per pound out of your Customes to such inhabitants Shipping tabacco, and sending it to any your Majesties Ports in England, Wales or Towne of Berwick upon Tweed, which immunities granted for seaven yeares, will suffitiently Replenish the townes with many oppulent inhabitants. The true Representation whereof wee hope his Excellency your Ma’ties Governor Gen’ll will send to yo’r Ma’tie and supplicate yo’r Majestie on our behalfe. And for the better advance of trade and Cohabitacon, wee humbly pray your Ma’tie will be gratiously pleased to give your Royall Assent, y’t it may be Lawfull for us to inhance 25: per Cent upon your Ma’ties and all fforreigne Coynes imported hither, over & above their Currant valvle, with a prohibitian for the Exportatian thereof, upon such severe pennisalties as shall be agreed on by the Generall Assembly, the impost of two shillings p hogshead & Castle duties &c: to be paid as formerly.

Our necessities have alreadie forced us to trouble yo’r Ma’tie with soe many and soe greate addresses and peticons, that wee are almost ashamed to make our last addresse, which to begg yo’r Ma’ts pardon for the former.

Your Ma’ties long happy and prosperous Reigne here, and an Eternall Crowne hereafter is the dailie prayers of Your Majesties Most Loyall and Obedient Subjects

Signed by order of the Counc’l Nicho: Spencer: Secr:

NEWPORT'S VIRGINIA'S DISCOVERY, 1607.

A Description of the James River, The Country on its Banks and the Aboriginal Inhabitants.

[This is the earliest description of Virginia, and was probably the first sent to England, as it is dated June 1st, and it is known from other sources that the ship Phoenix (the earliest to return to England), was off the Capes on her homeward voyage on June 2d. The exploration of James river, on which this description was based, was commenced a few days after the arrival of the settlers at Jamestown and lasted until May 27th. These valuable papers have been only once printed, in Archaeologia Americana, Vol. IV, pp. 40–65, in 1860. They are therefore worthy of reprinting at this time. The companion paper, A Relatyon of the Discovery of Our river, &c., was printed as above and also in Arber's Works of John Smith, Vol. I, xl–lvi, and is therefore not reprinted.]
The Description of the Now-Discovered River and Country of Virginia, with the Liklyhood of Ensuing Ritches, by England's Ayd and Industry.

This river we have named o'r King's river extends it self 160 myles into the Mayne land between two fertile and fragrant banks, two miles, a mile, and where it is least a quarter of a myle broad, navigable for shipping of 300 tunn 150 miles; the rest deep enough for small vessels of six foot drought; it ebbs and flowes 4 foote, even to the skirt of an overfall, where the water falls down from huge great Rocks; making in the fall five or six severall Isletts, very fitt for the buylding of water milnes there-on, beyond this not two dayes journey, it hath two branches w'ch come through a high stoney countrey from certain huge mountaines called Quirank, beyond w'ch needs no relac'on (this from the overfall was the report and description of a faithful fellow, who I dare well trust upon good reasons) from these mountaines Quirank came two lesse rivers w'ch runn into this great one, but whether deep enough for shipps or noe I yet understand not, there be many small Rivers of brooks w'ch unlade themselves into this mayne river at severall mouthes, w'ch veynes divide the salvage Kingdoms in many places, and yeeld pleasant seates, in all the country over by moystering the fruteful mould. The mayne river abounds w'th sturgeon very large and excellent good; having also at the mouth of every brook and in every creek both store and exceeding good fish of divers kinds, in ye large sounds neere the sea are multitudes of fish, banks of oysters, and many great crabb's rather better, in fact, than oures, are able to suffice 4 men, and within sight of land into the sea we expect at tyme of yeare to have a good fishing for codd, as both at o'r ent'ring we might p'ceive by palpable conjecture seeing the codd follow the shipp yea bite at the [blank in the MSS.] as also out of my owne experience not farre of to the northward, the fishing I found in my first voyage to Virginia.

It assures deep knowledge for the yeare. For the ground that huckleberries, called cherry carelessly, ground that fruit, wise by and by, we know, we hold never least. The signification in the Turky called terra sigillata. It produced of one come [corne?] of that country wheate some-times two or three stems or stalks on which grow eares above a span long; beset with cornes at least 300 upon an eare for the most part 5, 6 & 700. The beans and peaz of this country have a great increase also: It yeelds two cropps a yeare. Being tempered and tyme taken I hold it natures nurse to all vegetables for I assure myself no knoune continent brings forth any vendible necessaries which this by planting will not afford: for testimony in part, this we fynd by proof: from the west Indies we brought a certaine delicious fruit called a pina, which the Spanyard by all art possible could never procure to grow in any place, but in his natural site, this we rudely and carelessly sett in o'r mould, which fostereth it and keeps it greene. and to what Issue it may come I know not, our west Indy plants of oranges & cotton trees thrive well, likewise the potatoes, pumious & millions: All o'r garden seeds, that were carefully soune p[ro]sper well, yet we only digged the ground half a * * * deep throw in the seeds at randome carelessly, and scarce rakt it. It naturally yeelds mulbery trees, cherry trees, vines abundance, gooseberrys, strawberrys, huckleberrys, Respessis, ground nutts, scarretts, the roote called sigilla christi, certain sweet thym, shelled nutts, certaine ground aplies, a pleasant fruitie any [?] Many other unknown. So the thing we crave is some skillful man to husband, sett, plant, and dresse vynes, sugar canes, olives ropes hemp flax, lycерis pruynes, currants, raysons, and all such things, as the north Tropick of the world affords: also saffran woad hoppes and such like.

The comodityes of the country, what they are in else, is not much to be regarded, the inhabitants having no concerne w'h any nation, no respect of p[ro]fitt, neither is there scarce that we call meum et tuum, among them save onely the Kings know their owne territoryes, & the people their several gardens yet this for the present by the consent of all o'r seamen, meerly o'r fyshing for sturgeon, cannot be lesse worth then 1,000£ a yeare, leaving hering and codd as possibilitys.

Our clapboard and waynscott (if shippes will but fetch it) we may make as much as England can vent: We can send (if we be frends w'h the salvage or be able to force them) 2, 3, 4, or 5,000£ a yeare of the earth called terra sigillata. Saxafroge what store we pleast. Tobacco after a yeare or two 5,000£ a year. We have (as we suppose) ritch dyes, if they p[ro]ve vendible, worth more than yet is nominated; We have excellant furrs, in some places of the country great store; we can make pitch Rozen and Turpentyne; there is a gume w'ch bleedeth from a kind of maple (the bark being cutt) not much unlike a Balsome both in sent and vertue. Hepothicary druggs of diverse sorts, some known to be of good estimacon, some strange of whose vertue the salvages report wonders—We can by o'r industry and plantacon of comodious marchandisze make oyles wynes soape ashes, wood ashes, extract from minerall earth Iron copper etc.; We have a good fishing for musles, w'ch resemble mother of pearle, & if the pearle we have seene in the Kings eares & about their necks come from these shells we know the banks. To conclude I know not what can be expected from a comon wealth that either this land affords not or may soone yeeld.

A Brief Description of the People.

There is a King in this land called great Powhatan, under whose dominion are at least 20ty severall kingdoms, yet each King potent as a prince in his own territory. These have their subjects at so quick command, as a beck brings obedience; even to the restitucon of stolen goods w'ch by their naturall inclinacon they are loth to leave. They goe almost naked, yet in coole weather they weare deare skinns, w’th the hayre on loose; some have leather stockings up to their thighs & sandalls on their feet, their hayre is black generally, w’ch they weare long on their left side, tyed up on a knott about w’ch knott the kings and best among them have a kind of coronett of deares hayre colored redd, some have chaines of long lincks copper about their necks, and some chaines of pearle, the common sort stick long fethers in this knott, I found not a gray eye among them all. Their skynn is tawny not so borne, but w’ch dying and paynting themselves, in w’ch they delight greatly. The women are like the men—only this difference their hayre growth long al over their heads save clipt somewhat short afore, these do all the labo’r and the men hunt and goe at their pleasure. They live comonly by the water side in little cottages made of canes and reeds, covered w’th the barks of trees; they dwell as I guesse by families of kindred & allyance some 4otie or 5otie in a Hatto or small village; w’ch townes are not past a myle or half a myle asunder in most places. They live upon sodden wheat beans & peaze for the most part, also they kill deare take fish in their weares & kill fowle abundance, they eat often and that liberally; they are prop[er] lusty streight men very strong runn exceeding swifly, their feight [fight] is alway in the wood with bow & arrowes & a short wooden sword, the celerity they use in skirmish is admirable. The King directs the battle and is alway’s in front.

Their manner of entertainement is upon mattes on the ground under some tree, where they sit themselves alone in the midst of the matt, and two mattes on each side, on w’ch they[re] people sitt, then right against him (making a square forme) satt we always. When they came to their matt they have another goes before them and the rest as he sitts downe give a long showt. The people steale anything comes neare them, yea are so practized in this art that looking in o’r face they would w’th their foot between their toes convey a chizell knife, peices of any indifferent light: w’ch having once conveyed they hold it an injury to take the same from them. They are naturally given to trechery, howbeit we could not finde it in o’r travell up the river, but rather a most kind and loving people. The sacrifice Tobacco to the Sunn fayre picture or a harmeful thing, as a sword or peece also, they sprincle some into the water in the morning before they wash. they have many wives, to whome as neare as I could p'erceive they Keep constant. the great King Powhatan had most wives. * * * The women are very cleanly in making their bread and preparing meat. I found they account after death to goe into another world pointing eastward & the element & when they saw us at prayer they observed us w'th great silence and respect, especially those to whome I had imparted the meaning of o'r reverence. To conclude they are very witty and ingenius people, apt both to understand and speake o'r language, so that I hope in God as he hath miraculously p'served us hither from all danger both of sea and land & their fury so he will make us authors of his holy will in converting them to o'r true christian faith by his owne inspiring grace and knowledge of his duty.

THE STARVING TIME.

LETTERS FROM LORD DE LA WARE TO THE EARL OF SALISBURY.

[Near the close of the year 1608 Thomas West, Lord Delaware, was appointed Governor and Captain-General of Virginia. The custom of the day was for the Governor-in-Chief to remain in England and the colony to be governed, immediately, by a deputy.

Accordingly, Sir Thomas Gates, Lieutenant-Governor, with Somers and Newport, and a fleet of nine ships left England in the latter part of May, 1609.

The great storm encountered, the wreck of the ship containing the three leaders on the Bermudas (which probably gave the first suggestion for "The Tempest") their lengthy stay at the islands and final escape are events of early Virginia history too well known to require repetition.

Seven of their vessels had, in the first instance, reached Virginia safely, where it was seen that the colony was rapidly becoming disorganized. The "starving time" followed, and when Gates and his companions reached Virginia, May 24, 1610, they found only sixty half-starved wretches, who seemed more dead than alive. They were unceasing in their importunities that he should abandon the colony and return with them to England. After a few days he consented, and on June 7th with all on board, dropped down the river. Early next morning a boat from Lord Delaware was met coming up the river, and the colony was re-established, never again to be abandoned.

On the receipt in England of the news of the supposed loss of Gates, Lord Delaware determined to go Virginia in person, and, as has been stated, fortunately arrived in time to prevent the colony from being abandoned. After staying nearly a year, during which he did much to establish a firm and prosperous settlement, his health gave way, and in March, 1611, he returned to England via the West Indies. On this voyage he entered the mouth of the river, since called in his honor, Delaware. In 1618 he again sailed for Virginia, but died on the voyage.

Lord Delaware wrote, on his return to England, a "Relation," which was published as a pamphlet in 1611, and which was privately reprinted in fac-simile in 1868 by Mr. A. W. Griswold. A copy of the last in the Virginia State Library. The same "Relation" was also printed in Purchas' Pilgrimes.

There is among the Harlein MS. in the British museum a letter, dated Jamestown, July 7, 1610, from Delaware, and the Council, giving an account of affairs in Virginia up to that date. This has been published by the Hakluyt Society (in 1849) and in Neill's "Virginia Company."

The following letters were copied from the originals in the English Public Record Office:

Maie it please your good Lordshippe. Synce I departed from your ho: I have meet w'th much comforte, yet mingled w'th as manie lamentable accidentes, as ever your eares have binne filled w'thall and because S'r Thomas Gates who is the bearer hereof was the first that fownnd our men in miserie, I leave that relation to him as being best able to Informe and [?] and onlie tuche bresifie what mysefle canne Testifie.

The first of Aprill I departed the cowes [Cowes] in the Ile of Wight w'th 3 good shippe and in them an 150 p'rons to land as Plannters in Virginia. The [12 aged p'rons*] I made land, it beinge the Tracra Iland, that night the wynnd came contrarie and it blew hard, the next daie, that wee weare forced to seeke out a rodde unknown unto our best marriners, and wee fared accordinglie, for 2 of my shippes lost theare annkors, and spoyled divers of thear men in seekinge to weye them, and the annkor of my owne shippe came home so that I was forced to sea again, so sonne as my ankor was downne. The 15 daie I lost sight of my Rear Admirall and I continued beating uppe and downne w'th the wynnd contrarie to meete w'th our losse shippe but could not bee so happie the [wind] continued still contrarie, so that I was forced to runne to the southward to the hight of 28 degrees of northerlie Latitude, and untill the 27 of April I had noe wynned to carry me forward one my course; but then the wynnd came fairer, and I went before the wynnd, till I came near the coaste of Virginia, so that time if it had not scannted I had recovered the place in lesse then 8 weekes, but I laye beatinge uppon the coaste that it was neare tenn weekes before I made the lannd, for it was the 5 of Junne beefore I sawe lannd, and that night I came to anne annkor at Cape Henrye, havinge the blessinge (wherein was Sir Ferdinando Wenman) in my companie. The next daie the wynnd beinge faier, I was faynne to take the opportunitie of the tide, to turnne uppe the river, and a little after noone I descried a sayle contringe in at the poynnte, and then I presentlie blae uppe w'th her, and when I came to make what shee was I fownnd her to bee my owne consort that had binne missinge neare 8 weekes. The 6 of Junne I came to ann annkor under Cape Comfort, where I met w'th muche coould comforte, as if it had not binne accompanyed w'th the most happie newes of S'r Thomas Gattes his arrivall,
It had binne sufficient to have broake my hart and to have made mee altogether unable to have donne my kings or contreys anie service, Sir Thomas Gattes likewise beinge in dispairre of anie present supplie prepared himselfe and all his companie for England & mente to quite the countrye; uppon which advertisement I presentlie sent my skife awaie, to give him notice of my arrivall. w’ch newes I knewe would alter that resoluton of his, my selfe w’th all possible speede followed after, and meet him cominge downe the the river havinge shipped the hole companie and colonie in two small pininesses with a determination to staie some tenn daies at Cape Comfort to expect o’r cominge and otherwise so to goe for Enngland havinge but 30 daies virtualles left him and his houngrie companie, soe upp’n the tenth of June I landed at James’ Town beinge a verie noysome and unholsome place, occationed much bie the mortallatie and idle-ness of owure people, so the next daie I sett the sailors a worke to unlade shippes, and the land men some to cleanse the Town, some to make cole for our forges. I sent fishermen out to provide fishe for our men, to save other provision, but thae had ill succeese, likewise I dispached S’r George Sommers backe againe to the Bermudas, this good old gentleman, out of his love and zeale not motioninge. but most cheerfullie and resolutelie undertakinge to p’form so dangerous a voiagge, and if it please God hee doe safelie returne he will store us w’th hoggges fleshe and fishe enoughe to serve the hole colonie this wynter. Thus bie Godes assistance I will goe forward, imploying my best indeavors in settlinge and managinge these affairs. * * *
Although theaie weare never so weake and so farr out of order as nowe I founned them I make noe question if God restore mee to health and give me a blessinge to my labours I shall verie shortlie in some measure recompense the great care and charge the companie hathe binne at, and returne something valuable unto the adventurers, who have so [well?] beganne & constantilie seconded, these but as yet unfortunat proceedings, I make no question but your Lo: wilbee a favorer and a furtherer here-in unto us, and make it your ownne couse, synnec it is undertaken for godes glorie, and our contries good; to both of w’ch you have binne so zealous and so faithfull a professor; assuringe your Lo: you shall ever finde me readie to execute all your comandements and to do you all the faithfull service that liethe in my power.

STATE PAPERS, DOMESTIC; JAMES I.—Vol. 64, No 63.

May it please your Lo'p:
I would gladly have wayted on your Lo'p the last night as soone as I came to toune; but I understoode from S'r Walter Cope that your advice was otherwise; first to have a care of my health, then to attend his Ma'ty, and afterward your Lo'p: for my health I thank God I finde myselfe perfectly recovered though something weake in regard of my long sicknes; ever since my first arrival at the Island I have recovered dayly and arrived at fiall [Fayal, one of the Azores] the 18th of Aprill or thereabouts so that I dare bouldly say that I have no touch of my disease remayning on me, and if your Lo'p shall think it fitt I would presently attend his Ma'ty. This long and paynefull sickness of myne hath no whit discouraged me to procede w'th the business I have undertaken if it be now prosecuted as it is begun; neither had my retourne hither been so suddayne, if the windes had favored myne intention for the West Indies, at my departure from Virginia: for I dare bouldly say, there was never more hope then at this present and when it shall please your Lo'p; I doubt not but to give you full satisfaction to every doubt or scandall that leyeth upon that contry fearing nothing less then an honorable and profitable end of all, if now it be not let fall, thus attending your Lo’p: further advice I humbly take my leave this 22th of June 1610. [This date should be 1611.]

ARCHIBALD BROWN TO JAMES WOODDROP, 1775.

Arch’d Brown To Mr. James Woddrop, Merchant, Norfolk.

Favoured by Capt. Scarvant.

Dear James:

Capt. Samuel Scarvant sailed this evening in the Sloop Mary bound for Turks Island there to purchase a load of Salt in consequence of your Letters, should he fail in getting he proceeds immediately to Hispanula & takes in Molasses for N. Carolina, but am in hopes he can get salt enough which I know is far the best & safest voyage. The Sloops Mast & boom are both sprung which obliges me (after having a survey taken) to replace them new, part of the corn is damag’d some of the bread & all the flour, have sold the last at Vendue, let the underwritters know of this, cannot as yet ascertain exactly the loss, her disbursements is more this time than usual in order to put her in the very best order to preserve the salt. If you can possibly send her out again with anything in, do it & that immediately a load of staves would sell for £25 p M, and is rising every day is there no chance of providing her out with a load from N. Carolina consistent with the rules of the Congress, should it be impracticable would haul her up in a fresh creek: & let her lie till better times, you are the best judge tho' therefore act as you please, but act with safety. Corn will soon rise here expect 5 or 6 p soon for all I've got. Cannot say when I'll be with you, believe some time in Feby, but not certain. I am, D'r James Arch'd Brown.

Warwick County Committee to the Convention.

To the hon'ble the President & Delegates now met in Convention.

The Committee for Warwick having seriously considered the situation of the County together with a small Number of its Inhabitants who can by an ordinance of the late Convention be deemed as Militia, Humbly beg Leave at this present critical and dangerous Time to make the following Representation.

It is with the utmost Concern we behold the Depredations already committed in this & neighbouring Counties by the cruel and inveterate Enemies to the Liberties of America and the Rights of Mankind in General.

Were we in number sufficient to protect our County we should contemn the Devastations already committed and with vigor oppose the tyrannical and barbarous measures of our Enemies. But when the situation and Extent of our County comes to be considered and that our present Malitia including officers do not much exceed one hundred men & those but badly armed our application will we presume merit your attention.

Our County lies on James River near thirty miles there are more over Warwick River and several navigable Creeks which make out of these Rivers so that the greatest part of this County is accessible to the Enemy: Our slaves stocks and every valuable effect are hourly subjected from this our exposed and defenceless estate to be taken away or otherways destroyed; but these Losses tho’ great are trifling & are insignificant when we come to consider how Ourselves, Our wives and children * * to expatiate on this tender Point is unnecessary.

From this calamitous state of ours what can we do? Experience declares it impracticable for us to guard our shores & make any Provision for the ensuing year: We are however desirous (now struggling in a glorious cause) to risque our Lives & Fortunes in support thereof.

Nothing but dire necessity shall compel us to quit our Habitations whilst the least shadow of hope remains: But should we be thus compelled surely our stocks Grain &c. with the deserted plantations must be thought as a great acquisition to the Enemy & gives such a Footing as may prove dangerous to the common cause.

Many have already left the County and more we are persuaded will follow their example unless some assistance be given us.

Under these circumstances we apply to you for Relief and we doubt not but that with an additional Force of one hundred & twenty five men and our Militia we shall be enabled to prevent this county from falling into the Enemy’s Hands. We therefore pray you will tender us this or such other aid in your wisdom shall think fit so.

By order of the Committee for Warwick County Decem’r 6th, 1775.

Rich’d Cary [Illegible.]

W. R. W. Curle to the Committee of Safety.

Hampton Dec’r 12th 1775

The Hon’ble the President of the Committee of Safety.

Sir: Still in expectation of meeting with a salt merchant, and determining to prevent if able all Provisions being carried to our Enemy’s, some of our people yesterday boarded below the Fort and brought to the mouth of the River, a new large schooner an exceeding fine Vessel, the property of Max’n Calvert of Norfolk, commanded by one Francis Haines of said Place, 39 Days passage from St. Vincents: Her Cargo 1 Hhd 1 Tierce & 8 barrels brown sugar; 2 Hhd & a Tierce Rum and 2700 Dollars all brought on shore.

This we think of Consequence, and as we by these steps multiply on our hands disaffected Persons and negroes (3 of the latter being a board this vessel besides whites) we are the more anxious for the Direction or orders of the Committe of safety or Convention respecting those matters therefore send this up by Express.

The Inhabitants of this County and all here are greatly in want of the Article of Sugar having no opportunity to supply themselves, we wish and hope therefore that we may be now supplyed upon paying down an ample Price for the same.

Capt. Haines informs us that an Old Snow badly man’d mounting 14—4 Pounders, chartered by one Colo. Dalrymple, fited out at London, private Property Kenndy a Scotchman Master, sailed 4 or 5 days before him from St. Vincents, where she called on her way to Boston with 60 or 70 Pipes of wine, from Madeira which vessel he thinks He seen Sunday last off our Capes who fired several Guns as if in Distress, if we had but Powder and orders to fit out an armed Vessel I think we shou’d give a good acct. of some of those Gentry.

I have the honor to be Your very h’ble Serv’t

W. R. W. Curle.

The Let’rs by this Vessel we now send up to be dealt with as shall be thought right.

Edmund Pendleton Esqr.

Dear Sir: This is no doubt but a certain John Daw will appear before you as a Culprit for attempting to induce some Soldiers to desert from Capt. Morgan Alexanders' Company & go over to Lord Dunmore, his conduct in that case is certainly highly blamable & what no person ought or can justify but I hope our cause is too good to be prejudiced by any person of his Insignificiency & what cou'd induce him to behave in that manner is most extraordinary as I have known him ever since he came to the Country & he has been always remarkable for being very Industrious, Quiet & saying little to any person on almost any subject. I have presumed to mention this to you as facts that I know well & perhaps it may in some measure be a mitigation of his punishment which by some here is thot to extend to the loss of life or member and if I have said too much I hope you will excuse the freedom of Dr. Sir.

Depositions.

Capt. Alexander being (Illegible) on oath saith that he recd. no money to advance to his men who on that account are not well supplied with necessaries: they nevertheless behaved very well and made no complaints for the want of them til Sunday morning the tenth of this month when the men appeared very mutinous & on enquiring into the cause was informed they had been the evening before on board a vessell belonging to John Dew lying at Fredks. who had represented to them that the King found his soldiers better cloathing than the Country did & advised them to goe to the Governor the Deponent thinking it proceeded from some small debts they had contracted at

*Falmouth in Stafford county, near Fredericksburg.

†Morgan Alexander, born January 10, 1746, was son of David Alexander, of Gloucester county. He was Captain 2d Virginia Regiment, November 27, 1775, Major December 23, 1776, transferred to 8th Virginia, March 22, 1777, resigned May 16, 1778, and died 1783.
Fredericksburg contrived to get some money & distribute among them, after which they all appeared easy, except two who the deponent believes deserted on that account. That he was next morning desired by Fielding Lewis & Charles Dick to bring the s'd Dew to the comm. of safety & in the journey at Mr. Pages one Geo. Hamilton assistant to Garvin Lawson owner of the Vessell in which Dew sailed came and desired to speak with the prisoner which he was allowed to as in the Deponents presence he blamed Dew for his conduct in declaring his sentiments before matters are ripe.

Morgan Alexander.

Charles Woods a Corporal in the Compa. of Morgan Alexander being ex'd on oath saith that on Saturday morning the 9th of this month he & Richard Partridge another Corporal in the s'd Company went on board a Vessell of which Jno. Dew the prisoner was Skipper to eat oysters, & being in the cabin Dew mentioned that the King found his soldiers four new shirts & a good suit of clothes & paid for their washing & 3s.6 sterl'g p. week pay free Quarters & advised them to goe to the Governor that they might get a free passage, but did not say how That forty thousand Troops were to be sent here Hanoverians Russians & others. That many others of s'd Company were on board that day & the next morning when the Company generally app'd uneasy declaring if they were not supplied with money they would club their Musquets & return home—this deponent believes it proceeded from the conversa. they had with the Prisoners & that the desertion of one of the men proceeded from the same cause, having behaved quietly before that time. The said Richard Partridge having been sworn & heard this deposition read declared that the same is true.

CHARLES DUNCAN* TO THE CONVENTION 1775.

To the Honorable the President & the other Members of the Convention.

The Memorial of Charles Duncan of the Town of Blanford in the County of Prince George.

Humbly Sheweth

That your Memorialist who has long carried on business as a merchant in this Colony that for some years had a store in the County of Brunswick on account of himself & divers others his Partners which has for some time past been under the care and management of one Thomas Crawford who has always been in the esteem and good opinion of his Customers and acquaintances, and has ever since the present unhappy dispute with great Britain began endeavoured to conduct himself in such manner, as to avoid all cause of offence towards any of the inhabitants of the Colony, & has also endeavored as far as in his lay to conform to the regulations laid down, and recomended by the Honorable Congress and Convention of this Colony by acceding to the General Association, and by a cheerful submission, and conformity to the Terms thereof. Under these circumstances your Memorialist, as well as his Partners Factors and servant hoped they should have been permitted to transact their business and conduct their own affairs in quiet and security without being called upon or compelled by any set of men under an assumed authority either to enlist as soldiers or take part in any Military regulation other than they are bound to adopt either by the Laws of the Colony or the recommendation of the Convention.

But such is the unhappy situation as well of your Memorialist, as his Partner & servants in the County of Brunswick that they have been called upon by the Gentleman who commands the Voluntier Company in the said County to enlist as Soldiers therein, under pain of incurring the displeasure of the said Company, and of being treated as enemies to the Country and exposed to all the violences that may happen from the mistaken zeal of men heated by Passion & prejudice and who treat with disregard the peaceable remonstrances of your Memorialists with no other alternative left them than either to desert the property and Interest which they have in the said County, or remain therein to protect their property at the hazard of all that is dear and Valuable to Freemen & good Citizens.

Your memorialist presumes humbly to hope that this Convention will take this matter into consideration and so provide for the safety and protection of this Factors and assistance afore-mentioned and others under like circumstances as to them in their wisdom shall seem meet.

And your memorialist as in duty bound will ever pray &c.

Charles Duncan.
CHESTERFIELD PETITION, 1775.

To the Honorable the delegates of the several Counties and Corporations of the Colony and Dominion of Virginia met in Convention at Richmond.

The memorial of the Committee of and for the County of Chesterfield.

Sheweth

That it hath been doubted whether the Company of Volunteers raised for the defense of the Colony in the several Counties are under the command of the officers of the Militia and if they are not, it is to be feared that many inconveniences may follow not only from the distinct powers of the two orders, but from one of them assuming an authority independent of any Military controul by Law established and that your memorialists have the more reason to apprehend some such inconveniences from a late transaction in this County, where a dispute of this kind produced some disorderly behaviour in a muster field.

Your memorialists therefore hope that this Convention will take the matter into consideration and make such regulations therein as to them in their wisdom shall seem meet.

Signed by order and in behalf of the Committee for the County of Chesterfield.

[We are indebted to Col. Wm. Winston Fontaine, of Austin, Texas, for the copy of this table, taken from a printed collection of Virginia laws. It should be noted here, as it does not appear in this table, that an Assembly was convened on October 1, 1685, and on the same day was prorogued to the 2d of November following. It met on the day appointed and sat some time, but none of the bills offered met with the governor's approval. William Kendall was speaker. The volume, now in Col. Fontaine's possession, from which the above list was copied, has lost the title page, but is otherwise complete. It contains xxii, 482 pages. The first page begins [1] A Table Of all the Public Acts of Assembly | In Force and Use | January 1, 1758.]
THE FAMILY OF NATHANIEL BACON, THE "REBEL."

AS SHOWN BY THE PAPERS IN THE CASE OF JARVIS VS. JASON.

[It has been frequently claimed that Nathaniel Bacon, "the Rebel," left descendants in this country, and that the family of Bacon later well known could be traced to him. In the absence of any positive proof the adherents of this theory have pointed to the brief summary given in Vernon's Reports, I, 284, of the case here referred to. The summary refers to "children," which gave some color to the claim. Last summer Captain W. Gordon McCabe, former President of this Society, was in England and investigated at the Public Record Office the original papers in this suit. At his suggestion the Society had copies made.]

[George Menifie came to Virginia in 1625, was Burgess for James City County, 1629, and member of the Council, 1635-1646. He was one of the wealthiest men of his day in the Colony, and was probably the leading merchant. In 1634 he lived at "Littleton," or "Littletown," not far below Jamestown. His large garden here "contained fruits of Holland and Roses of Provence." His orchard was planted with apple, pear and cherry trees, and he cultivated here the first peach trees introduced into America. Around the house grew, in the fashion of the times, rosemary, thyme, and marjoram. He took a prominent part in the deposition of Governor Harvey. Later he removed to "Buckland," an estate of 8,000 acres in Charles City County. His only child, Elizabeth, married Captain Henry Perry of Charles City County, member of the Council. They left two daughters and co-heiresses: Elizabeth, who married John Coggs, gent., of Rainslip, Middlesex, Esq., and Mary, who married Thomas Mercer, stationer, of London.

The site of old Westover Church, near the house at "Westover," still contains a number of tombs formerly in or near the old building. The name John James supplies information as to one of the early ministers of the parish. John Bishop was an early resident of Charles City County, as was Walter Aston. Sequestration of Estates.

Those who took the part of the King in the great rebellion or who professed the Roman Catholic Religion were termed delinquents and were fined in accordance with delinquency. The estates of those who fled the country were forfeited. Delinquents were required to make a confession of delinquency; a pledge of adherence to the present government, and a full account on oath of their possessions real and personal.

A Commission for compounding with delinquents was created in 1644 and remained in existence until 1657.
25 January, 1654-5, Order for search to be made in the old books as to the sequestration of the manor of Larkstoke co. Gloucester, for the recusancy of Richard Brent the elder, deceased, or of Foulk Brent, Richard Brent the younger, Edward Brent, George Brent, Anne Brent and Jane Brent, children of the said Richard Brent the elder.

Ibid, p. 263.

The petition of Lady Katherine Brook, dowager to her husband Robert, late Lord Brooke, deceased (Dec. 1651). About 22 years since the executors of Fulk late Lord Brooke deceased bought of Richard Brent esquire the manor of Admington, co. Gloucester, which then stood (and still stands) charged with two annuities of £20 each therefor granted by William Brent, grandfather of the said Richard, to his daughter’s son Richard Hawthen, esq., yet living. Owing to sequestration for the recusancy of Richard Brent complications have arisen re the annuities, etc., etc.

Petition by the said Lady Brooke (1652) shewing that in July 1650 she bought for £2834 from Fulke Brent esq. certain enclosures in Lark Stoke, co. Gloucester (of which a fine and recovery were levied and suffered) for the term of 50 years. The premises have been sequestrated, etc., etc.

Report in the case of the said Lady Brooke 22 Oct. 1652. Two thirds of all the estate of Richard Brent the elder of Larkstoke, co. Gloucester, deceased, were sequestered in 1644 for his recusancy; two years since the commissioners were informed that he had conveyed part of his lands to his children Foulke, Edward, George (not Richard), Anne Brent and Jane Brent, now the wife of Thomas Cassey, a recusant, and that the children were recusants; the oath was tendered to them by the commissioners, but they refused to take it, so the commissioners sequestered two thirds of the said children’s lands.

The petition of George Brent, Anne Brent & Jane Brent. In 1640 the petitioner’s late father Richard Brent, esqr. demised certain parcels of land in Hitcott Bertram, co. Gloucester, to the petitioners for 30 years, at a peppercorn rent. Two thirds have been sequestered for their father’s recusancy; he is since dead; they pray the sequestration may be discharged.

The names of the parcels of land of Mr. Richard Brent and his children, in Larkstoke co. Gloucester. When his children were summoned by the commissioners to take the oath there appeared only Mrs. Anne Brent and she refused to take it. The estate was therefore continued under sequestration, all of them being known papists. Dated at Gloucester 10 May, 1653.

ROBERT BRENT OF LARKSTOE, GLOUCESTER.

Robert Brent was of the legal profession, a magistrate of Gloucestershire and Middlesex (Luttrell's "Diary" I, 388), and much employed by the government in the reign of James II, as appears by his correspondence with Lords Yarmouth, Middleton and Preston ("Hist., M. S. S. Com.") A reward of £200 was offered for his apprehension in 1689 ("Lut. i, 506), while his wife Catherine was actually thrown into prison (Ibid, 2, 110). Dying on Dec. 18, 1706, she was buried at St. Pancras, Middlesex (Cansicks "Epitaphs of Middlesex"), as also were her daughters, Mary (ob. Sept. 1724, aet. 63), Margaret (ob. Nov. 26, 1737 (? aet. 78), whose Derby register see, and Elizabeth, the widow of Charles Conquest M. D. (ob. March 29, 1743 aet. 78). This Doctor Conquest was perhaps a son of Ric. Conquest, of Houghton-Conquest, Co. Beds. by Eliz. Thimelby (Foley's "Records S. J." v. 598), is described as of St. Paul's, Covent Garden ("Close Roll" 1, Geo. I; Pt. 1-24), and was one of the six physicians returned as "Papists" by the Coll. of Physicians to the House of Lords July 1, 1689, (Oliver's "Western County Coll." 70). He died at Bath September 20, 1693, of a fever induced by drinking strong wine immediately after the use of the hot baths, and is entered in the burial register of the Abbey Church as "a stranger (Communicated). Frances Brent of p. of St. Geo. the Martyr, Red Lion Fields, in her will dated Oct. 28, 1738, bequeaths £200 to her "much honored friend, Richard Challoner" (the bishop evidently) and among others mentions her deceased brother Falcutius Brent, her nephew Robert Brent Lytcott, her cousins Ric. Canning, father of Mary Canning, Anne and Mary Fleetwood, Bartlett Mitchell, son of Thomas Mitchell, &c., (Close Roll 13, Geo. II, Pt. 5-14) Catherine another daughter of Robert Brent appears to have married Thomas Bartlett a brother of Robert Bartlett of Hillend [Nash's Worcestershire, ii, 110.] In 1694 Robert Brent received commissions to destroy ships belonging to England, Scotland or Ireland (Calendar of Stuart Papers, Vol. I, pp. 93, 94, 106).

The five daughters of Robert Brent and sisters of Falcutius, last in possession of Stoke, namely Elizabeth Conquest, Margaret Brent, Mary Brent and Dame Ann Lytcott were among the English Catholic non-jurors of 1715 and paid fines on property in Hungerford (Berks), Water Stratford (Bucks), Histon (Camb.), Larkstoke (Gloucester), Weendon, Weston, &c. (Northamts), Illmington (Warwicks), Weston (Oxon) and Treadington (Worcestershire).

Estate at Ashbourne, Derby, to which she is "entitled in equity as devisee, and residuary legatee of Gilbert Whitehall, late of Yeldersley, gent., d.c." £88 3s. 4d. For the Brent family see Gloucestershire register, Gilbert Whitehall of London, goldsmith, by will dated Dec. 6, 1709, left Yeldersley Hall estate in trust for the only daughter of his nephew Boydon, and for his niece Anne Harris; Margaret Brent being residuary legatee "as a testimony of the sincere love and affection which he had professed to her for above twenty years." Both of them and others of the Brents, lie in the same tomb at St. Pancras, Middlesex. Possibly he was a brother of Charles Whitehall, of Yeldersley, who married Catherine Coyney [Burke's Commoners, ii, 43] Foley, Records S. J. v 471, takes the following extract from State Papers P. R. O. Dom. Eliz. vol. ccxi, n. 14: "At Mr. Whitall's house, neare Ashbourne, iiiij miles fom Awkmonton, lieth one Robert Showell, a semye priest, with a bald head, having one leg bigger than the other, and at the buttrye doore, they go up a paire of staires straight to the chamber where they say Masse."

Proved 24 Oct. 1695 by the executors Gilbert Whitehall and Edward Burdett, with power reserved.

4 May 1741, power granted to Elizabeth Conquest, widow, sister and administratrix of Falcatius Brent, bachelor, deceased, residuary legatee of above named Robert Brent, to administer the goods left unadministered by the two executors proving the will, the other executors having died before taking upon them the execution.

13 May 1743 power granted to Robert Brent Lytcott Esqr. nephew by the sister of the said Falcatius Brent, Esq., Elizabeth Conquest, daughter of the said Robert, being likewise deceased.

26 May 1747 Ad. granted to Francis Clayton, Esq'r., to attend in a cause brought by John Yate against the executors and administrators above named, & against Edward John Perrott, Adam and Edward Piggott, Francis Loggin, Chas. Bouchier, John Lucas, John Warren, Warren Bartlott Mitchell, Bartlett Mitchell, Mary Mitchell, John Yate the younger, and others.

Note.—It appears from the foregoing document that Falcatius son of Robert Brent, was the last of the male line to inherit the estate of Lark Stoke: that he died prior to May 4, 1741, and that his sister Elizabeth Conquest was appointed to administer his estates, and that upon her death before May 13, 1743, her nephew Robert Brent Lytcott was appointed administrator. Wm. Brent, grandson of Giles Brent, went to England in 1709, it is stated, with the object of recovering these estates, but if so he could not have been aware that Falcatius Brent was alive, and the latter, it seems, survived him by many years.

* * * * *

Sometime in the summer of 1781 Lord Cornwallis evacuated the town of Portsmouth, which he had occupied for some time, and took a position of observation and annoyance in Hampton Roads. During his stay there he ravaged all the country round about for provisions for his army which was then on board some vessels of war and many transports, in a fleet.

On one of these occasions a Captain Brown, a marine officer, with about 40 men under him proceeded up the river, along its banks to Warwick County on a foraging and plundering expedition, when the lookout militia discovered the party very early in the morning and gave us an alarm. Immediately a very dashing officer on our side, Captain Edward Mallory, assembled a company of mounted volunteers and went off with all speed in pursuit of the enemy. Of this party our young naval officer was one, and the greatest part of it were the young gentlemen of the town and country round about.

The volunteers found the enemy about seven miles above Newport News Point just coming out from the farm of a Mr. Thomas, on the bank of James River to the Main Road half a mile off when Captain Brown, the marine officer, on perceiving the American party immediately filed to an open field on his right or lower down the river and then displayed his front to receive his gallant opponents as they came on, at the same time keeping the carts loaded with plunder on the river side of his men in order to protect them. Captain Mallory seeing this movement ordered about one half of his troops who had the best guns to dismount and the rest who had the best horses, armed with swords and pistols, to remain on horseback; thus forming them into two squads. In this order the attack was made by the Americans, the cavalry charging the British in front, and the foot firing on the British flank who began to move down the river towards the Point.

At the same time apprehending that the American party, which did not then exceed thirty men, might be reinforced, they quickened their march and gained the main road, receiving the fire of the Americans from either side of the road as the ground induced the latter to occupy it, and thus the action continued until both parties reached a large field near the station where the British had left their boats. Here the gallant Captain Brown received a ball and was found too badly wounded to be moved. He therefore ordered his men to take him to the rear and keep up their fire on the foe; but as the Americans took best aim, the British lost more men and Captain Brown perceiving this directed his Lieutenant to leave him with the rest of the wounded to the mercy of the enemy and make a push for the boats. Our volunteers pursued the British to the water's edge, but the steady discipline of the latter enabled them to get off and the former returned to attend to the wants of their prisoners and to unload the carts, which they had captured, of their plunder (among which some of the party recognized sundry articles of their property) and which was soon restored to its proper owners.

During the closing scene of this action on the field at Newport News, young Barron distinguished himself in a remarkable and gallant style. He rode up directly in front of the British line and discharged both his pistols, one after the other, in their faces, receiving their whole fire at once but providentially without hurt. His fine horse, however, was wounded in one of his legs which made him rear and plunge at such a rate, that had the enemy been quick in reloading their pieces our bold youth must have lost his life; but as it was he got off without a wound.
Several of the Americans were badly hurt and a very fine young man by the name of John Smith was killed. The English took off all their killed and wounded except Captain B, so that the amount of their loss was never ascertained; though it was no doubt greater than that on our side. I may add here that Captain B. was taken to Hampton and lodged in the house of Dr. Brodie, where he received all the care and attention from the doctor's family and the town's people that his case required, and which he acknowledged with grateful thanks. A flag of truce also came from the fleet with articles of comfort and refreshment for him, and a request for permission to take him off which was readily granted; but he was never in a condition to be moved, and after lingering two months he died.

COLONEL MALLORY.

Hampton, Nov. 19, 1850.

Dear Sir:

According to promise, I send you a brief notice of Colonel Francis Mallory of this county, whose gallant bearing and noble death in our Revolutionary war are still freshly remembered in this part of the country, though they have not yet found their way into any history of our State.

Of the family of Colonel Mallory it is unnecessary to speak, as the subject could interest but few of your readers. His ancestors emigrated from England at an early period and settled in this county. A rather free indulgence in politics in the old country (a passion not wanting, I believe, in some of their descendants in the new) led to this change of residence. Nothing is known of them except as "Justices," "Vestry Men," etc., until the breaking out of the Revolutionary war, when we find Francis Mallory and his brother Edward serving as officers in the regiment raised for the defense of the county.

Elizabeth City, from its exposed situation, suffered much from the attacks of the enemy, some of whose ships were almost always lying in Hampton Roads and the other estuaries of the Chesapeake. The county, you know, forms a narrow neck of land jutting into the bay, and is besides indented by several navigable streams of easy access to an enemy commanding the water. The lands being for the most part rich and the people wealthy, a strong temptation was thus held out, and scarcely a week passed without a visit from some hostile party. The farms were plundered of slaves, cattle, and produce, and the good people kept in such a state of alarm that many families removed to the upper country.

In these skirmishes Colonel Mallory bore an active part, for the troops chiefly relied on for defense were the militia of the adjacent country.
To defend their own homesteads from the marauders, was their first duty, and while their performances were not on a scale sufficient to attract much notice abroad, the service exacted was not the less dangerous or difficult.

Near the close of the war Colonel Mallory was taken prisoner and closely confined for several weeks on board a British ship lying in Hampton Roads. He was threatened with a trip to England for trial, and harshly treated. His brother, Captain Edward Mallory, of whom mention is made in the memoir of Comm. Samuel Barron, which appeared in the last number of the Historical Register, was untiring in his efforts to procure Colonel Mallory's release, and it was not until the capture of Captain Brown, as detailed in the Register, that the Colonel was set at liberty. The flag of truce which came from the fleet with surgeons to attend Brown effected an exchange of the two officers, but Brown's situation did not admit of removal, and after lingering about two months he died. On his death bed Brown gave to Captain Edward Mallory a sword, which is, I believe, now in possession of his grandson.

When leaving the ship Colonel Mallory was advised by the Admiral to keep quiet, for if found again in arms and in their power, his life would pay the forfeit. This threat, however, Colonel Mallory did not regard, and an opportunity offering in a few days, he was once more at his old work with his zeal somewhat quickened by his harsh imprisonment. News came to the county that a large body of English troops under the command of Colonel Dundas had landed in the lower part of York County, and were making their way down with the plunder taken from the neighboring farms. Colonel Mallory's knowledge of certain movements among the shipping, while a prisoner, enabled him to divine their object and to judge of the route they would take to regain the fleet. His plans were at once formed, and placing himself at the head of a company of militia quartered in the neighborhood, he marched out to intercept the enemy. A bridge, known at that day as "Tompkin's," connects the counties of York and Elizabeth City; on both sides of the road leading to which is a dense forest. The plan was to destroy this bridge and post his men in the wood to await the coming of Dundas and his forces which were known greatly to outnumber the Americans. In the meanwhile two mounted men were sent ahead to reconnoitre and bring back information of their proceedings, but coming suddenly up with the advance guards of the British, the Americans were so hotly pursued that they dashed into the woods and escaped, leaving their friends in total ignorance of the near approach of Dundas. At the turn of the road, some half a mile from the bridge, our troops found themselves confronted by the enemy, and nothing remained but to retreat or fight. The road here ran through an old field, and in this position forty militia encountered between three and four hundred disciplined soldiers. From the disparity of the forces engaged, the British expected a feeble resistance, but in this they were disappointed. The Americans bravely maintained the unequal conflict, and resolutely stood their ground. Captain Stewart and Lieutenant Salisbury were killed, and two other British officers severely wounded. Six privates of our party were killed. The enemy became much exasperated and made a desperate charge. It was evident that our men must be defeated, and our little band began to waver. At this juncture a cavalier of the old stamp, Mr. Jacob Wray, who had been out hunting and had been drawn to the spot by the firing, rode up to Colonel Mallory and begged him to mount behind him and save his life. This Colonel Mallory refused. At this moment the British Dragoons charged—when Wray put spurs to his steed, which was fleet of foot, and by leaping a fence and double ditch, succeeded in effecting his escape. Colonel Mallory with a few men still kept up the fight, and no sooner was he recognized by the enemy, than the order was given to shoot him down. This was promptly executed, and he fell covered with wounds. Not satisfied with this, his body was horribly mangled by the hoofs of the horses and the swords and bayonets of their savage riders. His widow could scarcely recognize his person, and his buff vest, long preserved in the family, was marked with eleven bayonet holes.

Colonel Mallory was about forty years old when killed, was tall and well made, and altogether remarkably handsome. He was three times married, twice before he was twenty-one, and once just after. His last wife was Mary King, sister of Miles King, Sr., of Hampton, afterwards of Norfolk. He left one son and three daughters. Colonel Mallory and his wife's nephew, Henry King, who also fell by his side, were buried in the same grave, about a mile from the scene of action, near the mansion of the late George Wythe.

Clinton-Cornwallis Controversy

Growing out of The Campaign in Virginia 1781—2 volumes—(with biographical notices in a copious index.)

London 1888.

Extracts of a letter from Brigadier General Arnold to Sir Henry Clinton, dated Portsmouth March 8th 1781.

"On the 6th I received information that my Lord Cornwallis had not penetrated further than the Dan or Roanoke Rivers, and that in consequence of the Misinformation (sent to the Rebel Army by Express as mentioned in my last) being contradicted, their Detachment had returned to their Army at Suffolk as well as Mr. Gregory to the Northwest Bridge. Their Force at the former Place 3000 Men, at the latter 500.
On this Change of Affairs, The troops under the orders of Colonel Dundas, who were designed up the James River, were countermanded; but as they were on board Ship, and a favorable opportunity offering to attack the Enemy's Post at the halfway House between Hampton and York, twelve Miles from the former, Lieut. Col. Dundas being joined by Thirty dismounted dragoons of the Queen's Rangers, proceeded in Boats on the Night of the 7th to the back River, thirty Miles from his Ships on the Chesapeake Bay, where he landed at 4 O'Clock about 200 Men, Two Boats with a part of his Detachment having parted with him in a thick Fog and heavy Squall of Wind and Rain. He marched three Miles to the Enemies Post, which he found had been evacuated three Nights before. He however destroyed a small Magazine of about One hundred Stands of Arms, some Provision and Ammunition, and on his way to New-Port-News fell in with a Party of Forty of the Enemy; a Skirmish ensued, in which, fourteen of the Enemy were left dead on the Field and Seventeen made Prisoners. Among the former was a Colonel Mallory, and a Colonel Curl among the latter.

Lieut. Stewart of the 80th Regiment was killed in the action. Lieut. Salisbury of the Romulus and two Privates slightly wounded. Lieut Col. Dundas had his horse shot under him, and upon this, as well as every other occasion, has behaved with great Bravery.

THE BROOKE FAMILY OF VIRGINIA.

(By Prof. St. George Tucker Brooke, Morgantown, W. Va.)

III. George Brooke of Mantapike, King and Queen Co., Va., was b. before 28 Sept., 1728, and died in Richmond, Va., 7 April, 1782. See his will this Mag. July & Oct., 1903. See his public service this Mag., Jan., 1904, p. 338. “Last Sunday morning (7 April 1782) died in this town of an apoplectic fit George Brooke, Esquire, late Treasurer of this Commonwealth, in which office he had acted upwards of two years. As a man he was in every respect truly valuable. In private life he was amiable. In public employment he acquired the confidence and applause of his country." (Hayes Virginia Gazette, Richmond, 13 April, 1782.)

Copies of the wills of George Brooke and of his son William, with a statement as to the descendants of Col. Geo. Brooke, made to the court of King and Queen, 14 April, 1834, are filed in the Land Office in Richmond, Va., among the Revolutionary claims, packet No. 8005. From these documents and from the papers in two chancery suits of 1800 and 1808 (Campbell vs. Price et al., and Price vs. Brooke) in the Clerk's Office in Williamsburg, Va., the following deduction is made, except where otherwise indicated.

George Brooke m. in 1749, Hannah (d. before 1781), dau. of Col. Richard Tunstall, who was appointed Clerk of the Committee of Propositions and Grievances of the House of Burgesses, 1744, and subsequently Clerk of King and Queen County until 1766; a member of the House of Burgesses 1766-1769; member of the King and Queen Committee of Safety 1774-1775, and in Jan., 1775, was chosen Chairman (Journals; Legislative Lists; Gazette, 4 March, 1775; Wm. and Mary Quar. V, 105.)

"Memorandum made by Lucy Tunstall Williams, of Warren County, N. C., May 30th, 1849. Richard Tunstall lived in King William County, Va., in a beautiful place on the Rappahannock (Mattapony), served in the Legislature for many years and was highly approved of. He had large possessions and was much loved. My grandfather (the said Richard Tunstall) had five sons and five daughters; their names were, Richard, Leonard, Thomas, John and my beloved father William; the daughters were, Elizabeth, Catherine, Anne, Hester, and Aunt Brooke."

(Note.—This statement by Mrs. Williams, made when she was an old woman, with regard to her uncles and aunts would seem to dispose of a later statement that Col. George Brooke married Anna, daughter of Col. Wm. Tunstall, instead of Hannah, daughter of Col. Richard Tunstall.—C. W. Coleman.) (Nevertheless in a deed by George Brooke, 1757, he speaks of his wife "Anna." See this Mag. April, 1903, p. 445.—St. G. T. B.)

Issue of Col. George Brooke (Hannah Tunstall) Brooke: I, Elizabeth; II, Hannah; III, Catherine; IV, Mary; V, William; VI, Richard.

In 1808 he brought suit in the Chancery court against his uncle Richard Brooke, executor of William Brooke, to compel execution of a provision of the latter's will. He married and left issue, a. Wm. Price, M. D.; b. Mary Price, m. before 1834 Samuel Goode; c. Elizabeth Price. All living April 14, 1834. ii. Catherine Price, m. before 1800 her first cousin, Rev. James Price, son of Rev. Thomas and Mary (Bowles) Price of Gloucester Co., Va., and died before 1834, leaving an only child, Catherine Price. iii. Ann Price m. Philamon Bird and died before 1834, leaving an only child, Elizabeth Bird, who m. before 1834 John W. Robinson. iv. Elizabeth Price, d. unmarried. v. Maria Price, under age, 1800, d. unmarried after 1834.

Richard Tunstall, Jr., was a member of the King and Queen Committee of Safety, 1774-5; Clerk of King & Queen, 1777-1784; d. before 1800, at which date Catherine (Brooke) Tunstall appears as guardian of her children. April 8, 1843, m. 27th April, 1876, Annie D. McIntosh, dau.

*Dr. Alexander Tunstall, who died at his late residence on Friday night, November 10th, was the son of the late Dr. Robert B. Tunstall and Elizabeth W. Tunstall, and was born in Norfolk on April 8, 1843. At the breaking out of the Civil War he was attending William and Mary College in Williamsburg, which he left to join Company F, of the Sixth Virginia Regiment, then commanded by Colonel Mahone. In turn he was made sergeant-major and adjutant of the regiment, in which position he served throughout the entire war, surrendering at Appomattox.

At the close of the war he started the study of medicine in the office of his father, and subsequently was in Bellevue Hospital and the Nursery Hospital in New York city, returning to Norfolk in 1870. Here he became associated in practice with his father and so continued until the death of the latter in 1883. He subsequently practiced alone until the latter part of 1899, when he retired from practice. Since that time Dr. Tunstall has been in failing health, leading up finally to his last illness, which lasted a little less than two weeks.

Dr. Tunstall married on April 27, 1876, Miss Annie Dornin McIntosh of Norfolk, the daughter of the late Commodore Charles F. McIntosh and Isabella D. McIntosh. Three children of this marriage died at an early age, but four survive: Mrs. Junius R. Willcox, Mr. Charles Mcl. Tunstall, Mr. Richard Tunstall and Miss Ruth Tunstall. He was a brother of Mr. Richard B. Tunstall, of Norfolk; Professor Robert W. Tunstall, of the Tonne Institute, Maryland; Mr. William Brooke Tunstall, of Baltimore; Mrs. Alfred P. Thom and Mrs. J. Frank Hunter.

Dr. Tunstall was a man of scrupulous integrity, of unswerving and devoted loyalty, of great charity and high Christian character. He was a consistent and devoted communicant of the Protestant Episcopal Church. Identified for many years with St. Luke's congregation, he gave much of his time and thoughts to its interests. As a member of the building committee which had charge of the erection of the present church, he contributed largely, through his judgment and untiring labors, to the accomplishment of the undertaking, which made large demands upon the liberality and zeal of the congregation. His faith was shown not only by his work for God's Church, but by his consistent following in his life, of the ideals of the Christ whom he served.

In the home and in the circle of his friends, as a soldier and a citizen, in his profession and his church, he was always the same, true to principle, faithful to duty and ready for any good work.

Funeral services will be conducted over the remains of Dr. Tunstall Monday afternoon at twelve thirty o'clock, and the interment will be private.

The Norfolk Medical Society, at a meeting yesterday afternoon, took suitable action on the death of Dr. Tunstall, and decided to attend the obsequies in a body Monday.—Norfolk Landmark, Sunday, November 12, 1905

HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL NOTES AND QUERIES.

Epitaphs of Virginians.

From transcripts sent me in 1887 by the then Bishop of Natchez, Miss., Rt. Rev. Dr. Janssens, I extract these items of Virginia interest:

Mrs. Harriet Sophia Linton, of Dumfries, Virginia, aged 26, died August 27, 1819. A marble tomb, made in Philadelphia, was erected over her remains in the Catholic graveyard. The tomb became broken and defaced, but was repaired by Bishop Van de Velde.

William Meroney Luckett, of Virginia, soldier at Tippecanoe and in Jackson's campaigns, died 18th April, 1814, and was buried in the Catholic graveyard at Natchez, Miss.

Rich'd Oliver Jun'r to whom admon was gr. on 13 June 1698. In a chancery suit it is stated that testator owned adventures debts & plantations "beyond the seas." One of his ships The George being disabled in Virginia, was sold there. Casks of tobacco are also referred to.

Hon. Col. Richard Oliver M. of H. M. Council of Antigua (a nephew of the above) was living in Bristol in 1684 but "beyond the seas" in 1688, & of Antigua in 1689, d. May 1716 & by his will dat. 3 Dec. 1714 & sworn 22 June, 1716, directed that his Ex'ors might sell "my plantation and negroes in Virginia" & by an Indenture of 28 Oct. 1725 it was recited that Rich'd Oliver s. & h. of testator had sold the plantation in Virginia.

I wish to ascertain if the plantations 'beyond the seas belonging to Rich'd O. of 1676 were identical with the plantation in Virginia of Col. Rich'd O. of Antigua. Copies of any records relating to the family are required.

Tunstall Family.

In the October number of the Virginia Magazine on page 124, there is a note on the subject of the Tunstalls.

I have all the data I believe in this note and some of the information which I have leads me to believe, in fact, convinces me, that there is a mistake in the list of issue of Jno. Tunstall and his wife, née Temple.
This note says that Richard Tunstall who married Catherine Brooke, daughter of Col. Geo. Brooke, was the son of Jno. Tunstall. This is a mistake. The Richard Tunstall who married Catherine Brooke was the same Richard, Jr. (who died prior to 1792) which the note gives as the first child of Col. Richard Tunstall and his wife, Anne Hill. Richard Tunstall and Catherine, his wife, were my great grand parents, their son Alexander having been my grandfather.

I have the original of an old deed of indenture, dated February 2, 1797, wherein Joseph Tunstall and Jane, his wife, Jno Bell and Ann, his wife, Jno. Rogers and Sarah, his wife, and Elizabeth Tunstall conveyed unto Humphrey Temple the tract of land in St. Stephen’s Parish, King and Queen county, of two hundred acres. (The 200 acres conveyed by this deed, I am very confident, is a part of the large farm or plantation owned by Col. Richard Tunstall on the Mattaponi a few miles south of Walkerton). This deed recites that Jno. Tunstall had sold this tract in his life time to Humphrey Temple, but had not given a deed of conveyance for it. It is a deed with general warranty, and therefore it is well nigh certain that Joseph Tunstall, Ann Bell, Sarah Rogers and Elizabeth Tunstall were the sole heirs of Jno. Tunstall.

I had this deed recorded again for preservation on August 27th, 1897, in Deed Book 11, pp. 312-13-14.

From the tax lists in the Auditor’s office in Richmond I have gathered the information that Richard Tunstall, Jr., was the son of Col. Richard Tunstall, for immediately after Col. Richard Tunstall’s death, about 1781, a part of the land assessed to him became assessed to Richard Tunstall, Jr., and so continued until Richard Tunstall, J’s death about 1791.

I think this is pretty conclusive upon the fact that Richard Tunstall, Jr., who married Catherine Brooke, was not the son of Jno. Tunstall.
Joseph Tunstall, who was the oldest son of Jno. Tunstall, married Jane Pearce and had a large family. He moved to Kentucky about the beginning of the seventeenth century and I have letters from him. His descendants are living in Kentucky, Mississippi, some in Texas and one or more in California.

THE THROCKMORTON FAMILY OF VIRGINIA.

More than one article has appeared in your interesting magazine on the above subject, will you kindly allow me to give a very brief résumé of evidence which has lately come to light while investigating various records in the interest of Mr. C. W. Throckmorton of New York, with the view of clearing up certain doubtful questions.

The maiden name of the first wife of Robert Throckmorton of Ellington, Stow, and Offord Cluny, Hunts and also of Virginia, was one of the points to be settled; this is specially interesting as Robert and his wife were the first of the family to settle in Virginia, and the progenitors of a large number of Virginians.

In making this investigation there were certain facts to go upon. (1). The visitation of 1684 is said to give the wife as (. . . dr of . . . . Char . . . .) not having seen this visitation I am unable to say whether this statement is correct or not, but if so the wife’s name might be Charlton, Charter or any other name beginning with “Char.” (2). The estate of Anne Throckmorton, late of Long Stowe, was administered by her husband Rob. Throckmorton, 1655. (3.) Rob. Throckmorton in his will mentions my daughters in law (i. e. step-daughters) Anne Dorrington and Elenor Winte, which suggests that his wife had been either Mrs. Dorrington or Mrs. Winte. (4.) The eldest son of Robert and his wife was named Albion, this is a remarkable name, not previously found in the family, and suggests that Mrs. Throckmorton had a near relative of that name; also, John is the name of one son, a common name, but not in this branch of the Throckmorton family, where Gabriel and Robert were the favorites.

BOOK REVIEWS.

Edited by John Pendleton Kennedy. [Published by the Virginia State Library]. Richmond, Virginia, MCMVI, pp. xlv, 372.

The late receipt of this most interesting instalment of the series of Journals of the House of Burgesses, which the State Library is issuing, prevents such extended notice as otherwise it would receive. In appearance and in editing the high standard set by the former issues is maintained, and in intrinsic interest of contents, this volume probably surpasses either of the others. The period covered was the time which fixed, beyond dispute, the attitude which Virginia would assume in regard to taxation by the English Parliament. Throughout the three years the General Assembly had to consider matters of the gravest importance. In November, 1766, the enormous defalcation of John Robinson, late speaker and treasurer came to light, and brought with it the widest differences of opinion, in regard to the action which should be taken.

The repeal of the Stamp Act, the imposition of the famous tea tax, and the measures of the English government against Massachusetts all brought forth vigorous action from the House of Burgesses.
BOOK REVIEWS.

Great additional value is added to this volume by the fact that the Journals of 1766, 1767 and 1768, have never before been in print, and indeed the existence of the manuscript copies were only made known during a search in the British Public Record Office which was authorized by the State Library.

The preface, as in the other volumes, contains many valuable documents relating to the history of the period, and an especially full examination of the Robinson defalcation, which threatened such serious results to the Colony. There is a strange error, however, on page vii. The Duke of Cumberland is referred to as prime minister. The duke of that name at the time was Henry Frederick, brother to George III, was then only twenty-one years of age, and, as a royal duke, could by no possibility have been in the ministry.

This volume of the Journals can be most highly commended as a very valuable addition to the materials for Virginia history.

THE CRADLE OF THE REPUBLIC, JAMESTOWN AND JAMES RIVER.

The first edition of President Tyler's well-known work ran out of print several years ago. The edition of 1900 impressed itself on the public as a unique and valuable book—one of those which fill a long felt want. This edition has been greatly enlarged and improved, and in profusion of illustrations alone, is quite different from the well illustrated volume first issued. It is impossible to more than summarize a book which is, in fact, a condensed encyclopaedia of information relating to the historic events, the places and the people, from the Virginia Capes and Norfolk up James River to Richmond. There are also well studied chapters on the New Foundland and Roanoke Colonies, and on the London and Plymouth Companies. The remaining chapters are III, The Indians along James River; IV, The Island of Jamestown; V, The English at Jamestown; VI, The Fort; VII, The Church; VIII, Block Houses; IX, The Glass House; X, The Governor's House; XI, The State House; XII, Social Condition; XIII, Political Conditions; XIV, Origin and History of places along James River. Appendix.

There are 99 illustrations, portraits, fac-similes of autographs, and other manuscripts, views, restorations, &c.—all worth while. It should have been stated, however, that the views of Jamestown (frontispiece) and the picture of the massacre, are the creation of a Dutch illustration at the end of the seventeenth century, and have no claim to reality.

In the important chapter on Jamestown, Mr. Tyler frankly abandons his former belief in regard to topography, and accepts the results of Mr. Yonge's remarkable study in "The Site of Old James Town." Mr. Tyler's own investigations and his study of the Ambler Manuscripts in the Congressional Library, have confirmed him in his confidence in Mr. Yonge's statements.

The Hill Family of Virginia. Compiled by Mrs. Giles C. Courtney [Richmond] Richmond, Va., 1905.

This little pamphlet should rather have been called "A Hill Family," for it is an account of the descendants of Colonel Humphrey Hill, of King and Queen county. Numerous lines of descendants, through daughters, as well as sons, are given.

IN THE PRESS.

The Site of Old "James Towne," 1607-1698. A brief historical and topographical sketch of the first American metropolis. Illustrated with original maps, drawings and photographs. By Samuel H. Yonge [Richmond, Va.]

Mr. Yonge's remarkable monograph on Jamestown, which changed its former vagueness to an authentically mapped territory, is now, in the possible exception of half a dozen copies, out of print. Its value was instantly recognized, and the book received many complimentary notices. It is to be reissued with additional matter, more illustrations, and additional information in the maps.

For first hand information as to what Jamestown was, and how the many interesting discoveries in regard to it were made, Mr. Yonge's book is indispensible.

Descendants of Matthias St. John, of Dorchester, Mass., 1634, Windsor, Conn., 1640, Wethersfield, Conn., 1643-1645, and Norwalk, Conn., 1650 By Orline St. John Alexander. Only 500 numbered copies, square 8vo, cloth, illustrated, about 600 pages.

Price before publication, $9.00 net (carriage twenty-five cents). The Grafton Press, Genealogical Publishers, New York, MCMVI.

Mrs. Alexander has been engaged for a number of years on this work, which is most thoroughly and carefully done. This family of St. John is scattered widely through the United States.
