NOTICE.

The Executive Committee of this Society deems it desirable that the publication of a volume of the Magazine shall coincide with the calendar year.

Therefore the numbers for July and October, 1908, have been made a separate volume, No. XVI. All future volumes will, as usual, contain four numbers.

This change will in no way affect the number of magazines received by members or subscribing libraries for the payment of the usual dues or subscription.

\(^1\)There are among the Virginia manuscripts in the Library of Congress two sets of copies of letters of the Virginia Company. One of these was evidently recorded in the Council books at the time the letters were received. The other is a later copy of the original copies, made at a time when the somewhat difficult writing of the old copies was not very familiar to the later writers. All of these letters are to be printed by the Library of Congress in the supplementary volume to the Records of the London Company, and no doubt the earlier and more accurate copies will be the ones used.

July 23d 1623. Several commissions to go against the Indians3 viz: To Captain William Pierce against Chickahominies. Samuel Mathews against Taux Powhatan. Nathaniel West against Apamatox and Taux Weyanox, and Captain Tucker on the Nansemuns and Wariscoyacks, all which fell upon them the same day July 23d, 1623. A Week after Captain Isaac Madison marched against the great Weyanocks and Captain Tucker the Second time to Nansemum.

November 18, 23. The Governor being going to settle a Trade with the Savages in the Bay comissionates the Council to execute all his Authorities.

Rates of Wages of handy craftsmen for 21 and 22. Four 3These were the campaigns of retaliation against the Indians, following the massacre of 1622. The “Taux Powhatans” were at the falls of James River. “Taux Weyanoke” was at the present Weyanoke, Charles City county. The attack by Captain Tucker was on the Indians in the present counties of Isle of Wight and Nansemond. “Great Weyanoke” was on the south side of James river and included nearly the whole of the present county of Prince George. As the Chickahominies were, doubtless, regarded as including all the Indians on York, Mattapony and Pamunkey rivers, it will be seen that the whole circuit of hostile natives was assailed.

Proclamations against Drunkenness, Swearing, Stealing of Boats &c. and Oars and against Ingrossing Comodities June 21, 22.

Two Proclamations to plant Sufficient Corn and be careful of the Indian's Treachery, 1623.

*This proclamation was caused by the conduct of the widow, Cicely Jordan, in promising to marry both the Rev. Greville Pooley, and Mr. William Farrar. An account of this affair, with the text of the proclamation, may be found in Brown's First Republic, 563-565. The unpublished minutes of Council in the Library of Congress, show that later Mr. Pooley by a formal document which was put on record, resigned any claims he had or might have had to the fair widow.*
what the privy Council wrote, touching the Comission we have nothing, the proceedings therein not having yet come to any conclusion that we know of. We don't doubt but it will conduce to the advancement of the plantation according to the Royal Intention of his Majesty declared in the Institution thereof. We are deeply touched with the Mortality scarcity and uncomfortable-ness among you of which we had notice from the Lords of the Privy Council for the relief of Scarcity his Majesty was very Sollicitous, where upon we got a Subscription of 700 Pounds to be sent in meal (other Commodities you have even to a Superfluity) for which meal we expect a just retribution. Tobacco clears here but 2od. per pound which we desire all may know that we may be freed from the unjust taxations of oppressions in selling Meal in Virginia at 30s. per Bushel that is 10 pounds Tobacco and we are certain our Meal cost us 12s. per Bushel. We desire your care in seeing us paid as soon as possible for our former supplies. We are 2000 Pounds Sterling behind which is a great discouragement. The adventurers of the maids desire our recommendation of that business desiring their pay. The fur Adventurers by the wickedness of the Captain and Mariners are quite overthrown wherefore desire your care in the Glass and Shipwrights (which last was the most expensive we ever undertook) and to make quick retribution Except you fall upon other commodities than Tobacco you may not expect a Subsistence. We hope you have got a good Entrance into Silk and Vines and expect some returns or it will be a discredit to us and you and give room to the Maligners of the plantations. Encourage the French men to stay if not for ever till they have taught our People their Skill in Silk and Vines. Nine Persons are sent to make Iron by a Blomery are to be assisted by private persons who shall have shares or if they wont, by the Company's Tenants Seat them at Martin's hundred or some more Commodious place and choose a director for them the passengers had been more but for a disparagement to the Plantation therefore take good care of these. We approve of Driving away your Enemies by a Lawful and just Policy, send no more sasafras, proceed in the fort, don't think it long ere we send Governor's and Treasurer's Tenants its difficult to do but hope to accomplish it next spring let the profits of the Tenants belonging to Captain Nuce's place be to his virtuous

5[Recommendation of Capt. John Martin.]
A Recommendation of Capt. John Martin to the Governor and Council (because it seems they did not like him), 19 December 1623 from Company.

Another recommendation wherein they say that they have given him an ample Patent for his Land and forgiven his opposition to the Company in regard to his antient and continued services to the plantation both in Body and Purse, that they must examine into the injuries done him by Sir George Yeardley and others and send proceedings therein. February the 4, 1623.

An Extract of all the Titles and Estates of Land6 sent to the 5See "The Case of Captain John Martin," by Alexander Brown, contributed to this Magazine, VII, 268 275. Mr. Brown has taken a more favorable view of Martin than have most other students of the time.

6This list is printed in Burk's History of Virginia, Vol. I, appendix; privey Council by Sir Francis Wyatt when he returned according to their Order in their Letter dated at Salisbury May 15, 1625. In which there is the Names of the Corporations or Plantations. Persons that have patents and quantity of Land. Persons that have no Patents and quantity of Land. The Company's Land, University land, College Land, Treasurer's Land, Governor's Land, and Secretary's Tenants seated on the Eastern Shore but Land not yet laid out.

but as that work is inaccessible to most of those of our readers who will be especially interested in the list, it is deemed proper to reprint it. The arrangement in Burk is somewhat different from that in the Randolph Manuscript, and probably was derived from another source. It should be stated that the use of the word "planted" is not entirely clear. If taken in its ordinary acceptance it would imply that only the lands so marked were occupied by the owners; but the census of 1624-5, printed in Hotten's Emigrants, shows that very many people whose lands are not described as "planted" were living in the corporations or boroughs where their lands were situated. For lists of the people of Virginia about this time see also "Lists of the Living and Dead in Virginia, Feb. 16, 1625" printed in Colonial Records of Virginia, Senate Document, (Extra), Richmond, 1874.

No better account can be given of the four "Great Corporations," which were formed in 1619, than in the words of President Lyon G. Tyler, in his valuable Cradle of the Republic:

"I. The corporation of Elizabeth City, (capitol, Elizabeth City), extending from the bay up the river, on the south side, to about Chuckatuck creek, and on the north side, to about Newport News.

"II. The corporation of James City, (capitol, Jamestown), extending on the south side, from about Nansemond river to upper Chippokes creek, and on the north side, from Newport News to the Chickahominy river.

"III. The corporation of Charles City, (capitol, Charles City, at the present City Point), extending on the south side, from upper Chippokes creek to the beginning of the pale run by Dale, between the Appomatox and James rivers, so as to include Bermuda Hundred and Jones' Neck, and on the north side to Farrar's Island.

"IV. The corporation of Henrico, (capitol, Henrico, on Farrar's Island), extending from Charles City corporation to the Falls." Each corporation was subdivided into boroughs. In 1634 the corporation system was abandoned, and the colony divided into eight shires or counties."
The Corporation of Henrico.

On the Northerly side of James River from the Falls down to Henrico containing ten miles in length are the publick Lands reserved and laid out whereof Ten Thousand Acres for the University Lands three Thousand Acres for the Companys Land with other Lands belonging to the College the common Lands for that Corporation fifteen hundred Acres.

On the Southerly side beginning from the fall there are these patents granted, Vizt:

Upon reading the Representation and Complaint of the Vestry of North Farnham parish ag't the Rev'd Mr. Blewit the Minister of the said parish for Drunkenness and profain Swearing and other Immoralities and Misdemeanours in his Function as Minister. Upon the Examination of diverse Witnesses on the behalf of the Vestry and hearing the defense of Mr. Blewit, It is the Opinion of the board that the Charges in the said Complaint are fully proved, that he is a Scandal to his Function, and do therefore recommend it to Mr. Comissary as matter within his Jurisdiction, to Deprive the s'd Blewit and turn him out of his parish and desire the Governor will be pleased to Appoint another in his room.

October 25th.

Colonel Byrd acquainted the Board that the Governor design'd to Appoint Ralph Womeley Esq'r Naval Officer of York District, And he was approved on by the Council.

1 Ralph Womeley of "Rosegill," Middlesex county, was born October 5, 1715, and died August 19, 1790. He was not a member of the Council, as has frequently been stated, but was a member of the House of Burgesses for Middlesex at the sessions of May 1742, September 1744, February 1745, July 1746, March 1747, October 1748, April 1749, February 1752, November 1753, February 1754, August 1754, October 1754, May 1755, August 1755, October 1755, March 1756, September 1756, April 1757, March 1758, September 1758, November 1758, February 1759, November 1759, March 1760, May 1760, October 1760, March 1761, November 1761, January 1762, March 1762, November 1762, May 1763 and January 1764, when he vacated his seat by accepting a place of profit.

He was twice married, first on November 4, 1736, to Sally, daughter of Col. Edmund Berkeley of "Barn Elms," Middlesex, who is stated to have died in 1741. The Virginia Gazette of November 19, 1736, contains the following notice of the marriage: "Yesterday, was Fortnight, Ralph Wormeley, of Middlesex County, Esq., a young Gentleman of fine Estate, was married to the celebrated Miss Salley Berkeley, a young Lady of great Beauty, and Fortune." By this marriage there appears to have been but one child, Elizabeth, born September 3d, 1737, who married on July 14, 1760, Dudley Digges of York county, afterwards member of the State Council.

Ralph Wormeley married secondly, (it is stated in a published genealogy, which is, however, not very complete or accurate), Jane, daughter of Geoffrey Bolles. It is believed, however, that no such person as Geoffrey Bolles existed, but that the father of Mrs. Jane Wormeley was James Bowles of St. Mary's county, Md. The children by this marriage were: 2, Ralph, afterwards of "Rosegill," born 1744, died January 19, 1806; 3, James; 4, John; 5, Judith, married, (marriage bond, Middlesex, May 29, 1773), Philip Ludwell Grymes, of "Brandon," Middlesex.

5 Thomas Nelson, son of Thomas and Margaret (Read) Nelson of Yorktown, Va., was born at that place in 1716, and died there in 1784. He was a member of the House of Burgesses for York county at the sessions of February, 1745, (when he was elected in place of his brother William, appointed to the Council), July 1746, March 1747, October 1748, April 1749; was appointed to the Council in 1749 and remained a member of that body until the Revolution. Upon the death of his brother William Nelson in 1772, he became President of the Council, and at the end of the Royal Government in 1775, was acting in that capacity, (see the Virginia Gazette). He married Lucy, daughter of Henry Armistead. He was brought out of Yorktown under a flag of truce during the siege, and described cheerfully, to the American and French officers the damage the bombardment was doing to his own houses and those of others in the town. See Nelson genealogy in Page's Page Family.

6 Though more has been written of others the foremost man in Augusta county during the early settlement period appears to have been James Patton. He is stated to have been a native of the town Newton Limaddy, Ireland, where he was born in 1692; to have married Mrs. Osborn of Whitehaven, England, and to have served as an officer in the Royal Navy. As master and owner of a merchant ship he brought many settlers to Virginia. He qualified as colonel of the Augusta militia May 27, 1742, and as the county lieutenant was non-resident he commanded the county; his name stood at the head of the first commissioner of the peace for Augusta county, October 30, 1745, and at the same time was commissioned its first sheriff. He was county lieutenant from the beginning of the French and Indian war and the burden of providing for the defence of his great county fell upon him until he was killed by the Indians on July 30, 1755. See this Magazine, XIII, 12, 145.
Upon a full hearing of the several Parties Complaining and Colonel Pattons defence, It is the Opinion of this Board, that Col. Patton has done his Duty, and that the said Complaints are frivolous and groundless.

It is therefore Ordered that Petition be Dismist.

Upon reading the Petition of several of the Inhabitants of Frederica' County praying that the County of Frederica may take place and be divided from Orange County in regard to the great distance that the Inhabitants of Frederica live from Orange Court house and the great difficulty and delay in obtaining justice.

The first court of Frederick county was held November 11, 1743. The justices present were Morgan Morgan, David Vance, Marquis Calmes, Thomas Rutherford, William McMahon, Meredith Helm, Geo. Hoge and John White. James Wood was county clerk. Frederick was first represented in the House of Burgesses at the session of May 1742, by Samuel Earl. At the session of September 1744, Samuel Earl and Mr. Campbell were the representatives. This was, no doubt Andrew Campbell, one of the first justices.
The following persons were recommended to be justices for the said County when it shall take place.

Morgan Morgan
Ben: Burden
James Wood
Tho: Chester
David Vanc
Andrew Cambell
Marquis Calmees
Tho: Rutherford
Wm. McMachen
Lewis Neal
John White
Thos: Little
Meredith Helm
Geo. Hoge
Tho: Swearingham.

The Board taking this mre into consideration, are of opinion that in case there be not any Opposition from any other the Inhabitants that the said County of Frederica shall take place in October next and if no reasonable objections appear the above mentioned persons to be justices for the said County.

Note of Papers to be signed by the King: amongst them a Warrant to Sir Francis Wyatt late Governor in Virginia of liberty to import 10,000 weight of tobacco custom free.
(Charles I. Vol. 34, No. 15.)

Petition of John Preen.
(Abstract.)

Petition of John Preen, Captain of the Peter & John bound for Virginia to the Privy Council. That he has lately received a Commission to carry letters of importance from their Lordships to the Governor there and likewise ten barrels of powder for the defence of the Plantation and 110 passengers with their goods and other necessary provisions for the planters. That in the great scarcity of powder, none is to be had in the City for any money—Prays to be allowed to purchase fifteen barrels of powder out of his Maj. store for defence of his ship.
(Charles I. Vol. 34, No. 15.)

Order in regard to Powder.
(Abstract.)

Sept. 15, 1626.

Warrant from the Privy Council to the Earl of Totnes
To
deliver to Captain Preen who is bound to Virginia & carries with him directions & provisions for the plantation there, fifteen barrels of powder out of his Maj. store, he paying ready money for the same.

Proclamation Touching Tobacco.

(abstract.)

Proclamation touching Tobacco.

Confirming previous proclamations of 29 Sept. 1624 and 2 March 1625 prohibiting the importation and use of all tobacco not of the growth of Virginia and the Somers Islands but because of the immoderate desire of taking tobacco which "prevailed throughout the Kingdom and the difference or at least the opinion of difference" between Spanish or Foreign tobacco and that of the plantations of Virginia—allowing the importation of 50,000 (lbs.) weight per annum of the former to the Kings "own particular use."

Answer of the Planters and Adventurers of Virginia and the Somers Islands.

(Abtract.)

Answer of the Planters and Adventurers of Virginia and the Company of Somers Islands.

Being called together at Sir John Wolstenholme's house where the order of Lords of the Privy Council was declared unto them, both for the quantity (of tobacco) that they should bring into England & also for the price that the King will give them, their approbations and consents were required. Both which with one joint and full consent were refused, alleging the quantity and price not to be sufficient to maintain so many people as were in both those plantations. The King's pleasure signified too late, & after the Ships arrived here—if this offer had been tendered unto them sooner (as being an offer too much under value to be accepted of) they would have disposed of their ships for Holland and Ireland, where they should have had better prices and better markets than in England. Desire that if the King will not give them a valuable price, that they might freely carry their tobacco away without paying any duties.

May ? 1627.

Petition of John Preen, Captain of the Samuel of Newcastle and of a Pinnace, the Endeavour of London, now bound to Virginia, to the Lords of the Privy Council—Whereas he is now presently to transport both people and provisions for strengthening the Plantation, prays for a commission for government of all passengers, mariners and sailors during the voyage as their Lordships vouchsafed him about twelve months ago.

Proclamation in regard to Tobacco.
(Abstract.)

Windsor, Aug. 9, 1627.

Proclamation for the ordering of tobacco.—The growth of tobacco in England and the importation of Spanish tobacco are strictly prohibited without the King's special commission—No tobacco of the growth of Virginia, the Somers Islands or any other English Colony shall be imported without license under the Great Seal and when imported shall be sold to Royal Commiss'rs appointed in that behalf, from whom only tobacco may be brought.

The King to the Governor and Council of Virginia.
(Abstract.)

Nov. ? 1627.

The King to the Governor and Council of Virginia—Our care for the welfare of our Colony in Virginia and of our people who have transplanted themselves thither doth much trouble us when we call to mind how many years are now spent since it began to be first planted and how little account can be given of any solid or substantial commodities which in all this time have been raised there, but to our dishonour and the shame (of) our people, it is and may be truly said that this Plantation is wholly built upon smoke, tobacco being the only means it hath produced, and that so easy to be turned into air, if either Spanish tobacco or the tobacco of England should be admitted by us, as we cannot but wonder that the planters or adventurers will put any confidence therein.

These considerations have moved us not only to recommend unto you but to command you to take especial care of these things which are probable to be of moment if with industry they shall be followed. First the making of pitch and tar of which you have plentiful means by the multitude of Pine trees in those parts. 2. The making of soap ashes & pot ashes to supply us here; of pipe staves barrel board and clapboard; of iron; searching & trying for rich mines, planting of vines; and making of Bay salt. The Bearer William Capps is appointed to confer with them about those things, to whom is committed specially the salt to make a full experiment thereof—to send "a convenient quantity of all sorts" for better information of the value of the mines that his Maj. may have them exactly tried—For tobacco, our desire is, not that it should be abandoned but be well ordered and the quantity moderated, and our desire is to take it into our hands as our own merchandise and to give such a price for it as all the planters will hold to be reasonable viz: 3s. per lb. delivered at the Port of London—They are to advertise the King of all those particulars by the next ships: & to assist Wm. Capps who having had long experience in Virginia, industrious & of good ability to do the King service, is to be sworn a councillor. 2 pp. Certified copy by Robt. Barrington, Cler.

Attorney General Heath to Governor Yeardley.

(Abstract.)

Nov. ? 1627.

Attorney General Sir Robt. Heath to Sir George Yeardley the Governor and the Council and Burgesses in Virginia. Since the King's letters he writes by his Maj. further directions these instructions following concerning tobacco:—none to be shipped but such as by the oath of sufficient men appointed Tryers, be good and merchantable—to be consigned to the Lord Treasurer, Chancellor of the Excheq'r or Attorney General and landed in the port of London—that for the years to come each plant, throughout the whole Country be set four foot asunder and no plant to have above six leaves on a plant, and that upon such penalty as no man shall dare to break—the stalks of the tobacco to be taken out that the King may have ware and not stalks for his money which doth discredit the tobacco. That the quantity may be moderated, the Governor & Council proportion it so, that no Master of a family be allowed to plant for above 200 of tobacco and no servant above 125—the same rules are also prescribed for the Somers Islands—Also directions for iron, salt, pitch & tar, pipestaves, Potashes & rich mines.

GOVERNOR WEST AND COUNCIL TO THE PRIVY COUNCIL.
(Abstract.)

James City, Dec. 20, 1627.

Governor Francis West and the Council of Virginia to the Lords of the Privy Council.

Upon so great an alteration happening in this Colony as the death of the Governor Sir George Yeardley have thought it their duty to certify the same by the first departure of these ships—Hope that the loss sustained by his decease, as being a main pillar of this their building and therefore a weakening to the whole body, will in good time be repaired, both in full setting of their affairs in many points uncertain and ambiguous and by a 4Sir George Yeardley died in November, 1627. It is known that he was buried at Jamestown, and it has been conjectured that the tomb within the foundations of the old church there, which once contained brasses, was that of Yeardley. The channels in the stone appear to show the helmet and other conventional insignia of a knight. It is hardly probable that a brass was used for memorial purposes in Virginia later than 1650, and Governor Sir George Yeardley is the only person of his rank, who was buried there before 1650.

supply of soldiers or some other means from his Majesty—Have according to his Maj. Instructions elected and chosen Capt. Francis West to succeed the deceased Governor—the present difficulties and doubtful occurrences of the Colony increasing daily upon them add a heavier press unto the burden & charge of the place—the public charges in times of war cannot be defrayed without a greater supply relieving them than their inabilities and fortunes can bear, they therefore desire a favorable construction in the superintending of their affairs. In that one particular of the expulsion of the Savages wherein last summer they had so far endeavoured, even beyond their strength, in a general march upon all their habitations and in cutting down great quantities of their corn as had they not been disabled by a common scarcity of shot, they had brought them to so great a famine & misery as would have much tended to their utter ruin and extirpation—Return their humblest thanks to his Maj. for his gracious inclination to their complaints and petitions against that project or contract upon their tobacco intended last year, And in the fear of succeeding misery solicit their Lordships to be a means to his Maj. that no contract or monopoly be granted upon their tobacco without their consent.

Sir,—As I am obliged by the arrival of the Enemy to repair to North Carolina, and am not less prompted by my zeal and affection for this Province, than obliged by my duty to take every precaution for its safety before my departure: on this principle I beg [Illegible].

2dly. Without delay to order able Pilots of every River to examine accurately, the narrow part of the Channel of each River—what is the of the shoals which form these channels? whether they are sand gravel or rock? what is the distance of the nearest part of the Channel from either shore? what is the nature of the shores? whether it is high or low? 3dly. As these purposes cannot be effected without a large body of Carpenters, Smiths & Artificers of every sort, to establish some Companies of them subject to the Military laws, as without a coercive power, it is difficult in this part of the world to prevail upon 'em to work.

West Augusta, May 15th, 1776.

To the president of the Committee of Safety.

Sir:

Three days ago two reputable Gentlemen arrived in this Neighborhood from the Caintuck [Kentucky] who says that on the night of the 2nd of April last Mr. Willias Lee, Mr. Silass McCragan, both of this Colony and Mr. Joseph Lindsey of Pennsylvania was fired upon in their Camp about Eight miles from the falls of the Ohio by a party of Indians. Mr. Lee was killed Mr. McCragan wounded supposed mortally, being shott in near the nipple of the left breast, and out at the point of the right shoulder. Lindsey not hurt, they both run, McCragan being chocked with Blood fell about two hundred yards from the camp. Lindsey supposing him to be dead run to the settlements about 50 miles. A few days after McCragan came in, and said that the next morning after he was wounded he went to the Camp to get something to wrap about him, he found the Camp stripted and Everything taken away Except Lindsey's Gun (which was a heavy German piece) was broke, the lock of which with a little powder he found in Mr. Lee's horn he made fire on his march in, he 4 Dorsey Pentecost, a native of Virginia, was long an active militia officer and magistrate in that part of the Colony which was in dispute with Pennsylvania. In 1778 he was county lieutenant.

Willis Lee, son of Hancock Lee and Mary Willis his wife, went to Kentucky in 1774 with his brother Hancock Lee, his cousin Hancock Taylor and other surveyors. In July of that year they were attacked by the Indians and Hancock Taylor mortally and Willis Lee dangerously wounded. In 1775 the brothers were again engaged as surveyors in Kentucky, and were returning to Virginia when the party was again attacked and Willis Lee killed.
also says that Mr. Lee was neither sculped nor stripted, yet a good deal mangled, the Informers say that the day before they Left the Caintuck a party went to Bury Lee, Denouncing vengeance against all Indians they should meet with. They also say that they think the Indians ware justly Irritated by Treatment they received from Colo. Henderson and party of Men who a few days before had been at the falls, and they not being able for his party fell on this weak and Innocent Camp,

DR. ALEXANDER SKINNER to BRIG. GEN’L. ANDREW LEWIS
IN REGARD TO PAY OF ARMY SURGEONS.

Sir:

It now becomes absolutely necessary That something

5The surgeons in the Virginia Continental Line for whose services land bounty had been granted before 1836 were George D. Alexander, Archibold Alexander, Cornelius Baldwin, William Brown, Mace Clements, Thomas Christie, William Carter, Sr., James Craik, Joseph Davis, Edward Duff, George Draper, Daniel De Benneville, George Evans, Humphrey
Fullerton, Patrick Galt, David Griffith, Charles Greer, John M. Galt, Samuel Gay, David Holmes, Matthew Irvine, George Monroe, William McMehen, Basset Middleton, William Pelham, Robert Rose, John Ramsey, Samuel Smith, Alexander Skinner, Augustine Slaughter, Frederick Seigle, John Trezvant, James Wallace, Daniel Brown, Joseph Brown,
Anthony Dixon, David Gould, Charles Green, Robert Macky, Shuball
Pratt, Valentine Peyton, Joseph Quinlan, William Rumney, Charles Taylor, John Julian.

The surgeons mates (assistant surgeons) in the same list were John Brownley, Jonathan Calvert, John Knight, Miles King, Joseph McAdams, Nathan Smith, Joseph Savage, Claiborne Vaughan, George Yates, Robert Farish, William Johnston and Hugh Martin.

The surgeons of the State Line who had received land were Lodovick should be done Respecting the pay of the Surgeons & Mates. Tho Congress I am told has made no provision for the latter unless they mean the Mates & Surgeons should have like wages, even should that be the Case Mates are not to be had in this Colony for 25 Dollars p month without Rations or for-age and as to Surgeons, that is men of Education and abili-ties I think I may confidently Affirm not one in Virginia will think of accepting a truly a pitiable sum. No Man has the Welfare of the Country at heart would wish to make a fortune on the service. But it woud be infinitely Rediculous for any man to invoke himself in Debts during these difficult times for the good of the Public when the Public is so much more able to bear it than any Individual. The allowance which the Colony made for Surgeons & Mates was as little as they could accept of to Go through the disagreeable drudges of their Office. At the same time it was such as they might with Economy live decently upon—Hitherto I have attended & provided necessaries for the Hospital as well as Going on

The surgeons mates were Jonathan Calvert (also Continental) and Thomas Kemp.

The surgeons in the State Navy who had received land were: Benjamin Chaplain, Charles Grear, George Hunter, Justice Livingstone, Walter McClurg, John Pitt, John Swoope, John Sharpless, Robert Snead, Joseph S. Pell, David Brown, William Smith Bell, William Christie, William Carter, Thomas Cheeseman, Corbin Griffin, Simon Harris, William Johnston, John McNichal, John Reynolds, James Russell, George Riddle.

Surgeons mates were John Britain, James Banks, Robert Dobson, Robert Ferguson, John Gibson, Cary Hansford, John Jennings, Janifer Marshall, David Murray, William Roe, William White, Thomas Landrum, John Lyons, William Chowning.

There were certainly other surgeons whose land bounty had not been granted up to 1836. For instance in 1776 Congress appointed Dr. William Rickman physician and director general of the Continental hospital in Williamsburg. Dr. Robert Nicolson's heirs also received bounty land.
Sundry expeditions quite out of the Line of my Duty. But the Army is now too large and the Sick too numerous for me to think of attending the General Hospital without Receiving some Consideration for the extraordinary Trouble. Besides Surgeons a Physician will be highly necessary for a General Hospital, Doctor McClurg has lately been Kind enough to do the Duties of one in expectation that some appointment of that Kind would come from the Congress. One of my Mates has already left me & the other two will undoubtedly Leave me unless the wages are Rais'd. In short sir there are not two Mates & not a single Surgeon in the Service that will continue in it upon the continental Establishment. The sooner you can Get this Matter settled the better and if it is not done shortly the Sick I am afraid will be left in a pitiable condition. I am Sir Respectfully

Your very H'ble serv't,

ALEX' R SKINNER.

P. S. The Congress has not thought of a purveyor for the Hospital, the necessity of such an Officer will I dare say Readily occur to you Mr. Lindsey has provided most of the necessaries is only wanting & I have an order of the Committee of Safety to take the College—

To Brigadier General Lewis.

PAPERS RELATING TO JOHN GOODRICH.
Eastwood's Deposition.

James Eastwood sworn saith:
That he was Master of a Vessell belonging to John Goodrich who being on Board, intended to St. Eustatia from a place called South Key where they had taken in Naval Stores: That in the month of November last on their way out, they were met at Ocrecock Bay, by a Pilot Boat with these officers in the British service, which much alarmed the Deponent, who proposed hawling up Anchor and carrying the Vessell from them, but he was told by the said Goodrich not to be uneasy, for that he did not come there with his Fingers in his Mouth. That the officers boarded their Vessell and the said Goodrich, on his producing, as he said, a pass from Lord Dunmore, that he was an old Rascal and the pass was forged, for Lord Dunmore would not grant such an one; and they were immediately put down the hole with Guards set over them, and Orders given, that they should not have any thing to eat or drink and were also threatened with Irons; that the said Goodrich being then very wet desired the Officer would let him have a change of cloaths and also his Bed with him in the Hole, which was refused. That three or four days afterwards, the said Goodrich was sent round to Norfolk in his own Vessell and the Deponent requested the officer he might be sent with him which he refused he said for want of Irons: about three weeks afterwards the Deponent was carried to Norfolk in a Tender, where he found the said Goodrich released on his Parole and the Deponent was immediately called upon to give Testimony concerning an Information lodged by the said Goodrich against Capt. Jones, for the manner in which he was treated when taken.
That soon afterwards the said Goodrich went on his Parole and the Deponent discharged and set on shore. The Deponent being interrogated saith, that the Vessell was made a prize and stript of all her sail and Rigging. That while the Vessell lay at Ocrecock Bar, the Deponent, was going on shore to procure a pilot to carry her out, but on the way met with one and a Midshipman coming to the Vessell; that as soon as they returned on Board, the Pilot asked the said Goodrich where he would have the Vessell carried, who replied into Teachy's Hole. That the Vessell was used by Capt. Montagu as a Tender. That they kept a strickt look out for Tenders, and those which took the Vessell, were so disguised that they came very near them, before they were discovered to be an Enemy.

At a Court of Enquiry Held May 3, 1776.

Present:

Captain Davies pres't.
Capt. Stevenson, Capt. Clarke,
Lieut. Lewis, Ens'n. Stubbs.

George Oldner was brought before the Court charged with trading with the enemy, furnishing them with provision and attempting to encourage desertion among the troops of the continental army. The court being well informed that the above facts can be proved against him by the oaths of Wm. Bickerdick, Wm. Jamieson and a Soldier in Capt. Markham's company and another in Capt. Matthew's, who are all at present out of town, the trial is deferred.

Levi Whitehurst, taken by scouting party was examined but nothing appeared against him, he is discharged.

Charles Henly for aiding and assisting the enemy was bro't the court but alleging that his witnesses were not ready, his trial is put off.

John Jones for drunkenness was examined and upon promise of good behavior in future he is discharged.

William Bliss (formerly belonging to Capt. Picket's Company, but lately come to this place as escaped from the fleet, where he says he was taken prisoner) was examined upon suspicion of desertion, and being unable to give any account of the fleet and the Court having reason to believe he has forged a tale for his purpose they are of opinion that he be sent to W'msburg for evidence to be obtained from Capt. Picket and his company.

David Ramsey taken by scouting party was examined. It appears that he is mate to the prisoner's vessel in the fleet; that he has been uncommonly kind to them; that he was ready at all hours and in all weathers to turn out to procure fresh provisions for them, that he has several passes from them, all of them expressing in the highest terms his great services to them; that he has also a pass from the Captain of the Crany Island guard for the purpose of getting provisions for the prisoners; that at the time of his being taken he had Col. Lawson's pass to return to the prisoners vessel, with a small basket of greens and a few eggs, which was all that was found upon him. The prisoner says he was always desirous to go up the country but being a poor man and a person owing him money he has staid in expectation of getting it; that he is very willing to go into the continental naval service, but would be glad to have leave to send or go for his cloaths. The court recommend him to the favor of the commanding officer.

⁶For many years a dispute existed between Virginia and Pennsylvania as to the ownership of the territory embraced in the northern part of the present West Virginia, and western Pennsylvania. This dispute was not infrequently accompanied by violence. On June 15, 1776, the Virginia Convention proposed a temporary dividing line. The matter was finally decided by commissioners appointed by the two states: Rev. James Madison and Robert Andrews on the part of Virginia, and George Bryan, John Ewing and David Rittenhouse for Pennsylvania. In 1779 they reached an agreement, which was confirmed by the two states. The final report, however, of the commissioners appointed to run the line was not made until August 23, 1785. Exercising their authority in one and the same place neither can be Inforced. Good order and Government of course is Destroyed & Anarchy & Confusion set up, a disunity is already taken place, and I wish it may not grow into an In-vetered Hatred & Implacable malice, the neighborhood that I live in (which a few weeks ago were in perfect unity & peace) are now in the utmost Confusion, which these new Created officers, Faithfully labour to Continue & consent. Besides these Evils the Insults offered to this Colony is as unpardonable as they are unjust. I would wish to be cautious in my Behaviour Towards these people and therefore hath conceived it my duty to Lay these matters before your Honorable Assembly, though perhaps it might come more Properly before the Convention, but as I am not certain of the Convention's being convened hope it will not be amiss to advise you thereof and await your Orders. 7Henry Dudley was a captain in a Virginia State Regiment from 1778 to 1781.
8On June 7, 1776, the Virginia Convention received a letter from Brig-
Engineer, on a view of having such pay and allowance towards executing this Duty, as is common in the Army. Namely the pay not to be under 10 shill'gs per Day Virginia Currency and all travelling Expenses to be allowed, that may exceed those ten shillings. A Theodolite and chain to be furnished by the public together with a Servant and one Horse for the Purpose of carrying those Instruments.

That his Rations be equal to those of a Captain in the Service and that Forage be allowed for two Horses. The above mentioned pay to commence from the 4th Day of May being the Time I entered upon Duty, and to continue together with the other Requisites above mentioned without abatement wherever the service may require my attendance.

[Adier General Andrew Lewis, stating the necessity of retaining Mr. John Stadler, an engineer in the Continental Army, in the service, and that this could only be done by an increase of pay. Accordingly it was ordered that he be paid ten shillings per day (including his allowance from Congress), and all travelling expenses, together with a servant and horse to carry his instruments, and that his rations should be those of a captain, with forage for two horses.

⁹ The note in regard to Dorsey Pentecost in Dunmore's War, pp. 101-102, is entirely misleading.

It states that "In 1777 he removed to Youghiogheny River, and for several years was a judge for Washington county. In 1778 he aided as county lieutenant in gathering troops for Clark's Illinois expedition."

The reader would naturally infer that Col. Pentecost was the commanding officer of Washington county, Pa., and that as such he raised men in Pennsylvania to assist Clark. This would be an entirely erroneous impression. By a commission from the Virginia Government he was county lieutenant of the Virginia county of Yohogania. He was soon released from this imprisonment.
Sir,—A few days ago I was applied to by a person for a Process against a certain Thomas Scott of this Neighborhood for Issuing Executors against a Number of Persons & particular the Complaint I accordingly Issued a process calling him before me, he defended himself against the officers but Told him he would meet him at my House on a Certain day at which Time he appeared & after him the Sheriff of Westmoreland County in Pennsylvania with a Large Body of armed men, seized on my person & brought me to this place, where surety was Deman’d of me to appear before the next court of said County to answer to such misdemens as should then be objected against me, thereby acknowledging myself to be amenable to the Jurisdiction of Pennsylvania which I conceived not to be consistent with my duty & the honor of the Colony, I therefore refused to comply with the aforesaid Requisition, in consequence of which I was committed to confinement, where I shall continue until I shall receive yours, or other orders from the Colony which I have the Honor of Serving.

John Carmount to the Convention of Safety.

To the Honourable Gentlemen in Convention Assembled.

Virginia,

Gentlemen:

Being convinced that Justice regulates all your proceedings I am induced to make application to you in my present unhappy situation.

I would therefore inform you that I was taken prisoner 4 Months ago, without any accusation being brought against me to this present time: tis true I did come from on board a Vessell in Norfolk harbour and did not doubt but I should have been tried by the County Committee as were many others, but that privilege was denied me, & march'd up here before ever I was heard: upwards of a Month ago I was call'd before the Committee of Safety (where it was resolv'd as I am told) that I must return back for trial to the Committee for the County of Norfolk, nevertheless I am still detain'd in Confinement & your honours cannot be insensible of the hardships a person must suffer in that time, without a change of

Linnen money or any other necessary, besides the singular treatment I have met with from the officers in the Army which would be too long to insert here as I do not wish to be troublesome; but would be glad to be called before your honourable house to receive my sentence, as it must be allow'd that if there is any evidence against me there has been time enough to produce them since I was sent here prisoner; if you should judge proper to return me to the County Committee I doubt not but you will be pleas'd at same time to make provision for the Expences I have been at up and down, I am,

Gentlemen, your most

John Nevill to the President of the Committee of Safety.

Fort Pitt, June 13th, 1776.

Sir,—Conceiving it to be my Duty at this Time of public

12 John Nevill was born in Virginia, (probably in that part of Prince William county afterwards Fauquier), July 26, 1721, and died at Montours Island, Alleghany county, Pa., July 29, 1803. He served in the French and Indian War, and afterwards removed to Frederick county. Later he removed to the neighborhood of Fort Pitt (Pittsburg), and was chosen member of the convention of March, 1775, for West Augusta. By resolution adopted in the Virginia convention on August 7, 1775, John Nevill was directed to march with his company of one hundred men and take possession of Fort Pitt. He remained in command here until June, 1777. He was commissioned Lieutenant Colonel 12th Virginia regiment Nov. 12, 1776; Colonel 8th Virginia Dec. 11, 1777; transferred to 4th Virginia Sept. 14, 1778, and served to the close of the war; brevet Brigadier General Sept. 30, 1783. From 1777 he was under Washington, and was with his regiment at Valley Forge. After the war he returned to Pittsburgh, and was for many years a prominent citizen of Pennsylvania. He married August 4, 1754, Winifred, daughter of John Oldham of Westmoreland county Va. General Nevill was son of George Nevill and Ann Burroughs, his wife. Among George Nevill's other children were Presley Nevill, who was major and aid-de-camp to Lafayette in 1778; commissioned brevet Lt. Col. Oct. 27, 1778, cap-
Danger to acquaint you with every Circumstance (tho was so trivial) relative to the common safety of the Colonies. I have done myself the Honor to inform you of the present situation of affairs in this Country.

Mr. James O'Hara, (a Gentleman whose veracity may be depended on, who was employed by Mr. Jno. Campbell to purchase Powder at Sanduski agreeable to Mr. Campbell's Instructions from the Committee of Safety) having just return'd brings the following Intelligence (viz):

That there are now in Detroit one hundred Regulars, that there are encamped around the Fort Seven hundred Indians, consisting of Hurons, Kikepoo's Tawas, Miamis, Powtowatomies, & Wiahthonies that there are in the Fort two Pieces of Brass, & fifty Iron Cannon, that there are in the River the Gage of 26 Guns, & the Dunmore of Twenty four, with several other small armed Vessels that some of the Inhabitants (who are French) have been press'd to man those Vessels, that others for fear of meeting the same Treatment, have abandoned their Houses and Plantations, that Provisions are very scarce and consequently dear at Detroit: Beef being 18d per pound, and Flour allmost unattainable at any Price, so that we apprehend the Indians will shortly be necessitated thro want to disperse, that they had for some part expected an Army would be sent against them from Virg'a, who they heard were on their March, he likewise informs us that six Mingoes have gone out to war against some part of Virg'a and I daily expect to hear of some mischief being done either on the Kaintucky or Great Kanhaway. I am sorry to inform you that some of our leading men in this Quarter are strongly suspected of Disaffection to the common Cause, as a certain

Geo. Girty, who came to this place a few days ago informs us, that he met a certain Paul Long (who hath been long connected with Colo. Geo. Chroghan, and Capt. Alex'r McKee) Between Kuskuskie & Vinangs on his way to Niagara with ten Letters; what the Purport of them may be or from whom I cannot say however certain it is he is gone to that Place, and that in a very secret manner. But Mr. Jno. Campbell, Capt. Gipson and myself shall use every Endeavor to intercept him on his Return and by his answers find out his Business. There has been a Petition to the Congress privately set on Foot and carried on by some of our first men to have this the West Side of the Allegeny struck off into a new and seperate Government; what may be their Intent I cannot suggest; but Mr. Jno. Campbell who will either accompany or follow shortly after this Letter will present you with a Copy of it; the same Gentleman, Capt. Gibson and myself have with some difficulty got it suppressed for the present, but how soon it will revive is uncertain.

I informed you by Mr. Harvey that the time my Company listed for was nearly expired, the most of them have given me Notice that they intend serving no longer. I should be glad of having your Directions how to proceed by the earliest opportunity.

I am, S.rs your very Humb. Serv't,

JOHN NEVILL.

VIRGINIA GLEANINGS IN ENGLAND.

Communicated by Mr. Lothrop Withington, 30 Little Russell street, W. C., London (including "Gleanings" by Mr. H. F. Waters, not before printed).

Elizabeth Gronous of St. Clement Danes, county Middlesex, Spinster, surviving daughter and Heir at Law of James Gronous, late of same parish and county, and sole surviving executrix of his Will. Will 14 August 1749; proved 6 June 1750. To be buried in Bunhill Fields by my said father, and that his name and name of second wife Theodosia Gronous be inscribed. All freeholds in county Radnor, my farm at Norton excepted, in occupation of Thomas Partridge, to my brother in law Edward Branston of London, Sugar Refiner, and Edward Lewis of Copthal Court, gent, in Trust for sale. To my cousin Sir Charles Peyton, Bart., £100. To my cousin Mary Peyton £3000. To my cousin Elizabeth Peyton £100. To my cousin William Probert of Potome River, county Worcester in Virginia, £300. If said William die before me, then to his children. To my cousin Richard Barnet £100. To cousin John Barnet £150. To cousin Margaret Rogers of Kington, county Hereford, £250. To cousin Ann Gronous and to Mrs. Mary Davis, niece to said Edward Lewis, £50 apeece. To cousin Anne Roberts £20. To John and Mary Taylor, son and daughter of John Taylor, late Button Seller, £10 apeece. To all the children of said Anna Roberts sums hereafter mentioned, viz: To Philip Bodham Roberts, her eldest son, £100. To Charles, Elizabeth, Anna, and Martha Roberts £200 apeece. To William Smallwood, St. Clement Danes, Button seller, £10. To each of my servants £10. To my aunt Frances Probart £18 yearly. To Mary Pritchard of Clyro, county Radnor, annuity of one guinea. Whereas Edward Gronous, first cousin to my said father, claims some right to said farm at Norton, I direct my executors to lay the Writings before two eminent Counsel, and, if said Counsel be of opinion that said Edward has good right, to put him into immediate possession. If said Counsel are against his right, I give said Edward an annuity of £6, and I give said farm to my right heirs. To Samuel and Martha Collins, son and daughter of my late cousin Mary Smith, £500 apeece. To my cousins Margaret, wife of William Gregory, Mary, wife of Francis Tett, and to Ann, wife of Richard Purnell, £500 apeece. To Howell Thomas, son of said Margaret Gregory, £500. To Mrs. Mary Wilson of St. Clement Danes her sister’s pictures. To Mr. John Lowe of Park Hall, county Derby, his brother’s picture. To said Howell Thomas my father’s picture. To Edward Barnston and Edward Lewis, executors, £100 apeece, and to them in trust £1600 to make good any breach of Trust my father, as a Trustee named in Will of my Uncle Philip Bodham, may have been guilty of. After settlement of claims, residue of said £1600 to Robert Crowe and Francis Dalton, executors of Edward Bodham, executor of said Philip Bodham. Residue of my estate to said William Probart or to his children, and to said Elizabeth Peyton, Richard Barnet, John Barnet, and Margaret Rogers equally, provided that my estate does not fall short, to pay all debts, annuities, and legacies. Witnesses: Thomas Tyrill, Thomas Marth, Paul Porter, all of Richmond, Surrey.

Greenly, 198.

[The testator was probably of a Welsh family. A Thomas Gronows, of London, Esquire, was sheriff of Radnorshire in 1733. Sir Charles Peyton, who is referred to, succeeded to the baronetcy (held under a mistaken claim) on the death, in 1748, of his uncle Sir Yelverton Peyton, a naval officer, who was long in service on the Virginia station. Sir Charles died in 1760. He was a son of Bladwell Peyton, who married Mary, daughter of William Probert, Esq., of Cant Evengewenge, Radnorshire. Baldwell Peyton was a son of Charles Peyton, a younger brother of Major Robert Peyton, of Virginia. When the elder line failed, the baronetcy was assumed, in the belief that Robert Peyton had left no issue, by the descendants of this younger brother Charles.

There is of course, no county of Worcester, in Virginia, and the Maryland county of the name is not on the Potomac, so it is uncertain whether the testator has mistaken in writing “Potomac,” or intended to say Westmoreland county, Virginia. The family of Probert seems to have been of some consequence. Among the sheriffs of Radnorshire, were William Probert, of Llanddwei, 1675; Henry Probert, Esq., of Llowes, 1689, and William Probert, Esq., of Llanddwei, 1691. Marshall states that there is a pedigree of Probert in Dwinn’s Visitations of Wales, I, 267]

THOMAS BROOKS of Plaistow, county Essex, gent. Will 10 September 1744; proved 27 January 1745–6. The lease of house on Stepney Causeway, furniture, plate, coach, chariot, horses, to my wife. All the rest of property to be sold, and the money invested in some public stock, and of the produce two thirds to my wife during widowhood, the other third to education of my daughter Elizabeth, paid to my wife for that purpose. If said daughter should marry, then wife to have whole Estate, paying to daughter £1000 for Portion. If said daughter survives said wife, then whole estate to said daughter, and after her decease to her children, share and share as they arrive at the age of 21.
If daughter dies without issue, then to my cousin Thomas Brooks of Ratcliff, Ship Chandler, £500. To each of my executors £21. To said executors £600 in trust to remit the produce thereof to my sister Ann Dawson, wife of Ben Dawson in Virginia, in such goods as she shall require or order (notwithstanding her Coverture). After her decease Stock of £600 to be sold and divided between children of said Ann Dawson. To the children of my cousin Dorothy, eldest daughter of my late sister Johanna Edwards, which children she had by her late husband Joseph Gregory, £150 equally between them. To the children of my cousin Anna, second daughter of my late sister Johanna, £150 to be divided between them. To the children of my cousin Elizabeth, third daughter of my late sister Johanna, which she had by her late husband Joseph Brookes, £150. To Mildred, daughter of my late brother Joseph Brookes, £20. To the children of my half brother Jonathan Brookes £400. To the children of my half sister Elizabeth Dawson £250. To my said half sister Elizabeth Dawson the interest of £100 to be remitted to her in such goods as she shall desire. After her death, said sum to be divided amongst her children. To the Brethren of the Corporation of the Trinity House £100 for the use of their poor. To my executors £100 in trust to pay the interest to the Society of Masters of Ships held at the Bell Tavern in Eastcheap, London, for benefit of their widows, so long as said Society shall pay at least £6 per annum to each widow and no longer. Residue to my brother in law Sir Robert Willmott, Knight and Alderman of London, and heirs for ever, and appoint him sole executor and guardian to my daughter Elizabeth. [Signed Thomas Brookes, and unwitnessed.] [On the 25th of January, 1745-6, James Spear and Thomas Anderson make oath that they are well acquainted with the Testator's handwriting and that they declare their belief in the authenticity of the signiture.]

Bence, 55.

[Charles Roane, the son of the testator, came to Virginia as early as 1664, and Settled in Gloucester county, where some of his descendants still remain. The following grants to him appear in the Land Books:

(1) Charles Roane, 200 acres in Gloucester, adjoining Col. Lee's land, Pianketank Swamp, Rappahannock Road, &c., Sept. 13, 1664.

(2) Charles Roane, 100 acres in Gloucester on the branches of Pianketank River, adjoining Col. Warner's land, Dec. 6, 1665.

(3) Mr. Charles Roane, 401 acres in Charles City county on Kittewan Creek (north side). The "Oystershell landing on Mapsco Creek," mentioned as one of the boundary marks, August 7, 1667.

(4) Mr. Charles Roane, 50 acres of marsh land on the south side of Kittewan Creek, beginning at the lowermost end of Weyanock on James River, August 7, 1667.]

(6) Charles Roane, 700 acres in Gloucester, on Dragon Swamp, adjoining the lands of James Reynolds, Thomas Dawkins and Richard Holloway, and those of Roger Shackleford and Mr. John Carver (formerly Samuel Partridge's). Dawkin's land formerly belonged to Edward Ross. John Whittmore's land also adjoined, April 23, 1681.

(7) Mr. Charles Roane of Gloucester county, 797 acres, part in New Kent [new King and Queen] and part in Gloucester. Five hundred acres thereof was bought by Mr. Roane from Edward Ross and Samue Partridge, being part of a patent of 5,380 acres granted to Col. Cuthbert Potter, June 20, 1659 and by said Potter sold to said Ross and Partridge. The remainder, 297 acres, now first taken up. Beginning at a branch called Hanks Folly in sight of Charles Roane and Hanks, his old plantation; adjoining George Martin's and John Kelly's plantations and Dragon Swamp. Oct. 20, 1688.

(9) Mr. Charles Roane, 278 acres in Petsoe [Petsworth] Gloucester, adjoining Cole's branch, the swamp of Poropotanck Creek, the land of Col. Richard Lee, the main road to the Dragon Swamp, and "Mr. Brooking's land, Oct. 20, 1908.

In the report made of the loyalist sufferers in Bacon's Rebellion it is stated that one of them was "Mr. Charles Roane one that had his dwelling House and other Houses Burnt downe to the ground, and most part of his goods and provisions destroyed and carried away by a party of the Rebells Commanded [by] Gregory Walkate after Bacon's death."

On account of the destruction of the records of Gloucester county, and of the register of Petsworth parish, there is at present no positive information as to the children of Charles Roane; but there can be no doubt that William Roane, "of Petsworth Parish, Gloucester County," who in June, 1726, bought land in Essex county, was one of his sons. A short time after this purchase, William Roane removed to Essex and was ancestor of Judge Spencer Roane, and other prominent men of the name.

From Manning & Bray's History of Surrey County, England, vol. 2, p. 445 (Psh. of Chaldon). In the Parish Church, "on a stone in the middle aisle: 'Here lieth the body of Mr. Thomas Roane, of this Parish, gentleman, who departed this life the 28th of July, 1689, aged 39 years. Arms: 3 bucks horned trippant, impaling 3 gloves.'"

On another stone: "Here lieth the body of Mrs. Elizabeth, wife of Mr. Robert Roane, ctitson of London, and daughter of Henry Bartelot, Esq., who departed this life the 10th of August, 1701, in the 30th year of her age. Arms same as before."
Vol. 2, page 446, states that "Robert Roane, Gent, of the Parish of Chaldon, by will decimo die mensis Maii, amm Dom. Millesimo sex-centessimo Septuagesimo secundo" vested one pound in money in the Minister of parish for the relief of the poor of the parish.

(The above is all that is given about people named Roane under Chaldon psh. which is treated in Vol. 2, pp.440-447 incl).

Thomas and Robert Roane, named in these epitaphs were sons of the testator and brothers of the emigrant to Virginia.

The psh. of Merstham adjoins Chaldon on the West, and is treated in this work on pp. 252-265, incl. There is no reference whatever to the name Roane under this parish, nor elsewhere in the 3 vols. of Manning & Bray's History of Surrey, except what has been given above from the parish. of Chaldon.]

WILLIAM LOCKLEY [not William Locksley] of Prince George County, Virginia, merchant. Will 4 February 1738; proved 8 June 1745. To my two children Elizabeth and Ann Lockley, and their heirs, my freehold and Meeting House with ground and appurtenances in poor Jury Lane als Crutched Fryars, parish St. Katherine Cree Church and Christ Church in London, in occupation of Solomon Gosfright, Philip Sanderson, and John Glover, expectant on the death of my mother Elizabeth Studley, wife of Joseph Studley of Nicholas Lane, London, gentleman. [Edward Maria Wingfield, sometime President of Virginia, was born about 1560, and could hardly have been the man who died in the Fleet in 1661. Neill in his Virginia Vetustia, p. 9, quotes an order of Parliament authorizing the sale by Edward Maria Wingfield of Keston in the county of Huntingdon, of part of his estate. Mr. Brown, (Genesis, II, 1054), thinks that this was one of the Kimbolton branch of the family and not the Virginian. No doubt the man who died in the Fleet was the same person referred to by Neill].

Tobias Handford, late of Parish of Ware in the Countie of Gloucester in Virginia, gent, nowe of London, gent. Will 14 April, 1677; proved 22 December, 1677. One third of estate in Virginia to wife Elizabeth Handford for life, and other two thirds to sonn Tobias Handford and daughters Elizabeth and Mary Handford. To son Tobias wife's third at her decease. Goods in Virginia to wife Elizabeth Handford, son Tobias Handford, and daughters Elizabeth and Mary Handford. If son Tobias become possessed of Manor of Shobden, County Hereford, in England, his legacy of personal estate in Virginia to be void, and he to maintain wife Elizabeth Handford and two daughters, Elizabeth and Mary till 21 or marriage. DRAFT OF PROCLAMATION FOR A FAST,¹ 1711.

A Proclamation for a Fast.

Whereas Our Most Gracious Sovereign out of her Pious Zeal to propagate the Protestant Religion & extirpate Popish Superstition and Idolatry, as out of a just honour of the Rapperies & Murders daily committed on her People by the French & Indian Salvages in their interest; & as well for Restoring the Crown of Great Britain to its Ancient Rights in North America, as for Setling Quiet & Happiness to all her Subjects on this Continent: has thought fitting to send a very Considerable part of Her Fleets & Armys on an Expedition to Reduce Canada.

And whereas Her Most Sacred Majesty has commanded that about the time when Her said Forces shall proceed on this important Expedition, a Day of publick Fasting & Humiliation be kept in her several Dominions on this Continent to implore the Blessing & Mercy of Almighty God in protecting Her Arms employ’d in this just & necessary undertaking & giving them success therein.

I have therefore, with the Advice of Her Maty’s Council of this Colony Thought fitt to issue this Proclamation Appointing [Date left blank].

¹This proclamation was doubtless issued early in the summer of 1711 when the English fleet under Sir Hovenden Walker with its accompanying land forces under General Hill was at Boston preparing for a campaign against Quebec. As is well known it proved an utter failure. The “Rapperies and murders” referred to were committed during the bloody incursions of the French and Indians into New England.
[Endorsed] Procl’n for a day of Fasting & humiliation & to pray for Success of the expedition against Canada.

PETITION OF THE VISITORS AND OF WILLIAM AND MARY COLLEGE TO GOVERNOR JENNINGS.
To the hon'ble Edmund Jennings Esq'r. President and the hon'ble Council of State.
The Visitors and Governors of the College of William and Mary humbly Represent

That whereas the Gen'll Assembly thought fitt to grant to the said College an Imposition on all Skins and furrs exported out of this Colony which Imposition is one of the most Con-sid'ble branches of the Revenue of the said College & arises by a trade for many years carried on by the Southern and Western Indians. The said Trustees have with equal grief and surprise received information that the Government of Carolina have lately taken upon them to interrupt that Trade first by seizing the effects of the Traders and now by laying heavy dutys equal to a prohibition on their Commoditys under pretence that the Indians with whom we Trade live within the bounds of their Charter.

The said Visitors and Governors think themselves obliged to rep'sent to ye Hon'rs that the Indians with whom the said Trade is carried on are not under the Government of Caro-lina. That consequently they have no power to impose dutys on Commoditys carried thither or from thene. That the lay-ing dutys on European Commoditys exported through any plantation to another hath never been encouraged and we hope will not in this Case. That the goods vended in this Trade being Course Cloaths, Guns, hatchets beads powder and shott and other European Commoditys which the Inhabitants of this Colony import directly from England, the Consumption of those kind of Merchandize will be considerably lessened if our Trade be interrupted and Carolina permitted to engross all since tis well known they have a constant Clandestine . . . . Currasoa & St. Thomas and import European goods from thence besides they have not such Convenience of shiping from England as the Inhabitants of this Colony have to furnish them with Supplys by which means it is that they neither ex-port from England such quantitys nor can afford to sell them so Cheap And since it is the interest of Brittain to encourage that Trade which exports most of the british Manufactures. The said Trustees humbly hope that by Yo'rs honourable Representation of this Trade to the Lords Comm'rs for Trade, the unwarrantable encroachments of the Government. . . . . a Check and that the Indians Trade so much for the interest of England and beneficial for this Country, and so necessary for the support of the College will be encouraged and left open to all the Inhabitants of this Colony as hath been usual heretofore.

\(^5\) George Walker of Elizabeth City county, had married Anne, daughter of the celebrated George Keith, at a time when she, like her father, was a Quaker. As is well known George Keith became a minister of the established church, a missionary from the society for the propagation of the Gospel, and a bitter antagonist of his old faith. His daughter changed with him, but George Walker, less changeable in his beliefs, remained a Quaker. See William & Mary Quarterly, IX 127, 128, for extracts from the Council Journal in regard to this matter, from the Journals of George Keith and Samuel Bownas, and a notice of the Walker family. George Wythe, signer of the Declaration of Independence, was a grandson of George and Anne Walker.
Coming Before y'r Honors, or wheather She will Be willing to Submit to the Substance of Such a Judgment as I Dout not but y'r Honers will Be willing to Give in this afair the Substance of which I have Drawn up Redy to produce to y'r Honers the method and form I frely Submit to y'r Honers of the S'd Judgment which I hope y'r Honers when Considered will willingly Grant and if She Excepts the Said Judgment and will abide By it what Ever is past I will forgit and Remember No more and tho I Canot forward her in the Religion I am not of my Self yet I will never Hinder her from Exerciseing it her Selfe in w't nature. She please: and if She had Rather take the troble to Be farther Heard Before y'r Honers I Shall Be Redy and willing to apear according to the S'd order I am advised of. This Day was Exibited to us in Councell a petition which S'd petition we take to Be from yo and accordingly we have had y'r husband this Day Before us in Councell to answare the Said petition upon hereing of which he only Desiers to have that athisarety over his Childr. that properly Belongs to Every Christian man: that is to Bring up his Childr. in whatever Christian Religion he may Be of that is priveliged
By our Christian Laws: and it Seems to be hard that any person w't ever Shall Indever or undertake to prevart or persuad any Mans Children against the Instructions and admonitions of the father: y'r husband Seems to Be very Willing to Give yo all manner of Liberty to Injoy y'r Religion provided yo Leave the Instruction of all his Children to him and that yo will Not Cause them to Read any Books Exept the Scripture but Such as he alows of and that yo forbare to Incense and persuad any of his Children against his Religion as Long as he professes to Be a Christian and Continews in the Exercise of it and also forbare to Interprat or Expound any part or portian of Scripture to any of his Children without his Leave or advice if he be willing to Expound Such portions as may hapen to Com in Dispute or that any of his Children may Desier to Be Informed in: We therefore as y'r freinds Not Being Willing to Give further troble: if y'r husband will Give yo Liberty to Injoy y'r Religion without Interuption: he ought to have all the Liberty above Desiered: But if yo Can prove that he is Not a Christian and So Consequently Not within the virge of our Christian Laws then we are willing to heare yo on Wens-

1 At the session of October 1705 the General Assembly directed that a brick house, fifty-four feet in length, and forty-eight in breadth, inside measurement, two stories with a cellar, should be built as a residence for the Governors. Henry Cary was appointed overseer of the work (Hening III 285.) At the session of Oct. 1710 as the house had not been finished, another appropriation was made, with provision for gardens and house furniture, and Henry Cary again made overseer (Ib. III, 482.)

HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL NOTES AND QUERIES.

ENGLISH RECORDS RELATING TO VIRGINIA.*

It has been deemed useful to collect some of the abstracts and notices of papers relating to Virginia which are scattered through the numerous volumes of the reports of the English Historical Manuscripts Commission. Their entries not only give valuable facts; but show the student where documents are. From report on the manuscripts of the Earl of Dartmouth, Vol. II, London, 1895. The pages given are those of the reports. The notes are by the Editor of this magazine.

VIRGINIA.

[1676] Paper endorsed: Copy of the 6th Article of Additional Instructions to the Commissioners of Virginia: “You shall declare void and null all the proceedings of the late Assembly wherein the said Nathaniel Bacon and his Accomplices were pardoned and force and violence offered to the Assembly.”

[The Assembly referred to was that held under Bacon’s influence in June, 1676.]

of the Inhabitants of Virginia, respecting a new charter "That there shall be no Tax or Imposition laid on the People of Virginia but by their own consent."

[The clause here quoted from the charter asked for by the Virginia agents in 1675-6, was actually included in a draft to which the English government had given its consent, but was omitted from the charter granted after the news of Bacon's Rebellion was received. This charter seems to have been entirely ignored by Virginia.]

The Church of England in America.

Endorsed: The case of Members of the Church of England in America.

An American Episcopate was frequently a subject of discussion among the friends of the English Church. As early as the reign of Charles II. there was an abortive attempt to send a bishop to Virginia and it is stated that at sometime in Clarendon's administration one Alexander Murray was even nominated, but the scheme fell through (Anderson's Colonial Church, II, 569). In 1709, Dean Swift had hopes of becoming Bishop of Virginia (ib. III, 127.) The violent controversy which was caused throughout the colonies about 1771, by a proposition for an American bishop is well known.

Virginia laying a duty on imported Slaves and appointing a treasurer.

"The first Act of this kind which met with an opposition from the Merchants of Great Britain was passed in the year 1723, and laid the same duty 40s. a head upon all Negroes imported into Virginia." Its effect upon the trade of Virginia. Two reasons why the Act is not fit to be passed into a law.

Endorsed: Copy of Mr. Fane's Report upon an Act passed in Virginia, 30th March, 1728, for laying a duty upon Slaves imported, &c. (No. 1).

[Francis Fane was a commissioner for trade. It has been sometimes stated that the colonial legislature of Virginia passed many acts—twenty-three has been specified as the number—attempting to check the slave trade by a high duty on imported slaves, and that, through the influence of English merchants with the home government all of these praiseworthy attempts had proved futile. This statement except as regards the last five or six years of English rule in America is entirely incorrect. No doubt the merchants opposed these Acts; but there is equally no doubt but that until 1769 they were allowed.

The Act made in May, 1723, laying a duty on imported slaves appears only by the title in Hening IV., 118. At the session of Assembly begun Feb. 1st, 1727-8, a similar act was passed, and this too has been only preserved in the title (Hening IV., 182.) This is the act which was under Fane's consideration. In May, 1732, a third law imposing a duty on slaves was enacted (ib. IV., 317.) It would appear from the preamble to this act that the King had instructed the governors not to pass any such law unless the duty was paid by the buyer. This last act was evidently approved by the English government for it was continued by another passed in 1734 (ib. IV, 394), and again with alterations, in 1736 (ib. IV, 469.) Similar acts were passed in 1738 (ib. V, 28); 1740 (ib. V, 92); 1742 (ib. V, 160); 1745 (ib. V, 318); 1752 (ib. VI, 217); 1753 (ib. VI, 353); 1755 (ib. VI, 466.) In 1759, the duty on slaves is referred to as still in effect (ib. VII, 388.) The duty was continued by acts passed in 1766 (ib. VIII, 190), and 1769 (ib. VIII, 336.) It would appear that the duty had usually been five per cent. ad valorem; but during the French and Indian war and later, additional duties were laid by other acts for raising a revenue until at one time they reached twenty per cent. At last the efforts of the English merchants interested in the slave trade were successful. The act of 1769 was vetoed by the King and instructions were sent to the governors not to pass any more. Professor S. C. Mitchell, of Richmond College, who a year or two ago, examined the original act of 1769 in the Public Record Office, states that it bears an endorsement recommending that it be disapproved on account of the opposition of the Bristol merchants. In spite of the royal disapproval the Virginia Assembly continued to pass similar acts in hope that there might be a change of opinion on the part of the English government. The Assembly was now also awake to the cruelty of the slave trade and to the danger to the Colony and the damage to its interests which would be caused by the introduction of great numbers of slaves. The act of 1772 (Hening VIII, 530), was undoubtedly intended to check importation as it laid the heavy duty of £5 per capita. The object of the House of Burgesses was shown by the resolution adopted March 20th, of that year, expressing the feeling of the House in regard to the inhumanity of the slave trade, and the great danger of allowing the number of negroes in the Colony to increase. A committee composed of Benjamin Harrison, Archibald Cary, Edmund Pendleton, R. H. Lee, R. C. Nicholas, and Richard Bland, was appointed to draw up an address to the King setting forth the views expressed in the resolution and praying that he would consent to laws which would check "So very pernicious a commerce" as the slave trade. This address was reported in the 31st and appears in the journal under that date. The address was read before the King in Council, January 23d, 1773; but the request so earnestly made was not granted.

RANK AND PRECEDENCE IN AMERICA.

1760, December 17. St. James's. Copy of Royal Warrant for settling the Rank and Precedence in America Per W. Pitt.

2 3-4 pages

[This warrant was probably published in America at the time, but no instance of it has been seen. After the arrival of Lady Dunmore, in Virginia, in 1774, it seemed to be desired that society should have more regular form, so there was published in the Virginia Gazette of May 26th, the following: "RULES OF PRECEDENCY, COMPARED AND ADJUSTED FROM THE SEVERAL ACTS AND STATUTES MADE AND PROVIDED IN ENGLAND FOR THE SETTLEMENT OF THE PRECEDENCY OF MEN AND WOMEN IN AMERICA, BY JOSEPH EDDMSON, MOVRAY HERALD.

Virginia.

[1765, June 18.] "A gentleman in Philadelphia to his friend in this town [Newport], dated last Tuesday, 18 June, 1765." Newspaper cutting, being an item quoted from the "Newport Mercury," 24 June, 1765, encloses the Resolves of the Virginia Assembly on debating the Stamp Act. Gives six Resolutions relative to taxation of the Colony, which being so extraordinary, the Governor, on hearing of them, dissolved the Assembly. [Three of the resolutions quoted in this letter are the same as those entered above.]

[The six resolutions which were generally published in American newspapers were those offered by Henry. As is well known, only] four were finally adopted by House. Campbell (History of Virginia, p. 541, note) states that the two resolutions which did not pass were not offered by Henry.

[Rev. Isaac William Giberne was minister of Lunenburg parish Richmond Co., from 1762, until he was incapacitated by old age. From an inscription in a prayer-book, once his property, it appears that he was the nephew of a Bishop of Durham. He is stated to have been a man of learning and of great goodness of heart and Christian benevolence. His social talents made his home “Belleville,” near Warsaw, Richmond Co., a most attractive place. (Meade’s Old Churches, &c., II, 179-180.) He married a daughter of Moore Fauntleroy, of the same county but left no issue. Two of his letters, one bearing his armorial seal, are in the collection of this Society.]

II. James Gregory2 was born on the 10th of March, 1752. He married Mary Wynns, the daughter of Col. Benjamin Wynns, and Margaret Pugh, and lived in Gates County, N. C. Mary Wynns was born on the 8th day of November, 1775. Her mother, Margaret Pugh, was the daughter of Col. Francis Pugh and Pherebee Savage, of Bertie, Col. Francis Pugh, of Bertie, left a will dated July 5th, 1733, which was probated in May court, 1736, and is of record in the office of the Secretary of the State of North Carolina, at Raleigh. He left surviving him his wife, son John, son Thomas and son Francis in esse, and daughters Margaret and Mary. Margaret married, as stated above, Col. Benjamin Wynns; his daughter Mary married James Luten on the 31st May, 1730. His son, Thomas, was the distinguished Col. Thomas Pugh of the Revolution. He was appointed Lieutenant Col. by the Assembly which met at Hillsboro, in 1775; and was also a delegate from Bertie to the State Congress that assembled at Halifax on the 12th of November, 1776, which formed the State Constitution. Pherebee Pugh, the mother of Margaret Pugh, and the widow of Francis Pugh, married Thomas Barker, of Edenton, a distinguished lawyer and a man of great wealth and prominence, and had by him one child, Elizabeth Barker, who married Col. William Tunstall, of Pittsylvania County, Virginia. Peyton Randolph, of Williamsburg, Virginia, was the guardian of this Elizabeth Barker; and it is supposed that through her mother she was related to the Randolfs of Virginia. See what is said by Mr. Hathaway in the North Carolina Historical and Genealogical Register, Vo. 2, No. 3, page 477. Thomas Barker afterwards married Mrs. Penelope Hodgson, nee Pagett, but had no issue by her. He left a will. Col. Thomas Pugh, mentioned above, and his son William Pugh and Samuel Johnson were his executors, and his will was witnessed by Blake Baker, Thomas Iredell and Will Blair.

Col. Benjamin Wynns had by his wife, Margaret Pugh, another child, Thomas Wynns; of him, Wheeler, in his history of North Carolina, page 209, says: "General Thomas Wynns was born, lived and died in Hertford county. He was a planter by profession, of active, energetic mind, unspotted integrity, and of great personal worth. He lived near Winston at the ferry called Barfield. As early as 1787, he was a member of the House of Commons, and for many years after a member of the Senate. He was elected, in 1802, a member of Congress from Edenton District, in which capacity he served until 1807." He married Susan Maney, daughter of ——— Maney and Elizabeth Baker, daughter of Henry Baker³ and Caty Booth and sister of Lawrence Baker, but left no children.

Col. Benjamin Wynns, after the death of his wife, Margaret Pugh, married a Miss Baker, a daughter of Henry Baker,³ and Caty Booth, a sister of Col. Lawrence Baker, and had by her one child, William Wynns, whose descendants are shown by another paper which I have.

Benjamin Wynns was appointed Colonel by the North Carolina Congress, which met at Halifax, April 4th, 1776.

James Gregory² was senator from Gates County in the General Assembly of North Carolina in 1780 and 1781. He died in 1802, leaving surviving him his wife, Mary, and the following children:

1st. Ann Gregory, born March 3rd, 1782, who married Dr. Charles W. Harvey on October 28th, 1800, and died on the 28th of May, 1805, leaving surviving an only child, James Gregory Harvey, who married Ann Woolford, and left issue.

2nd. Margaret Gregory, born January 1st, 1785, who married Joseph Dickerson, of Winston, N. C., and afterward Dr. Isaac Pipkin. She had no children by her first husband, but had by her last, one child, Eleanor, who married William Muse, of U. S. N., and had by him one child, William, who died young, unmarried.

3rd. Mary Wynns Gregory, born March 17th, 1787, married Dr. John Burgess Baker, son of Lawrence Baker and Maria Baker, daughter of Rev. Thomas Burgess, of Halifax County, and had the following children: William James Baker, Annie Mary Baker, Richard B. Baker, Susan Jane Baker and Lawrence Simmons Baker. Major William J. Baker married Sarah F. Collins, a sister of Ann Lucretia Collins, who married my uncle, Dr. Andrew Boykin Woodley, of Four Square, Isle of Wight County, mother of Dr. Joseph R. Woodley, and who subsequently married John Nash. Major W. J. Baker and his wife are deceased, leaving issue. Annie M. Baker married Dr. Edward Neal. Dr. Neal is dead, but his wife is still living and has children. Dr. Richard B. Baker married Nannie Taylor Johnson: is still living and has issue. Susan J. Baker married Thomas Newsom Myrick, and is living and has issue. General Lawrence Simmons Baker married Lizzie Earl Henderson, both living, and on the 13th of March, 1905, celebrated their golden wedding. They have three children, Alexander, Stuart and Lizzie, living. Their oldest son, William T. Baker, married Susan Green Hodges, daughter of W. Henry Harrison Hodges and Mary A. Griswald. They are both dead, leaving two boys, their only children, William Hodges Baker and Lawrence Simmons Baker, Jr.

4th. Josiah Gregory, son of James and Mary Gregory, was born on the 27th of April, 1791, and married Catherine Spencer, and left the following children: Margaret Ann, who married Thomas Garrison, Mary Elizabeth, who married William Goodman, and Jane Adelaide, who married James Clark, all of whom have left issue.

5th. Jane Adelaide Gregory, daughter of James and Mary Gregory, was born in Gates County, N. C., on the 11th of January, 1794. She married first, Dr. Richard Baynham Gregory, of Gloucester County, Virginia, and had by him three children: Richard John Gregory, who married Martha Ann Griswald and had one child, Richard Baynham Gregory, who died without issue; Mary Ann Gregory, who married Rev. Thomas Hume and left issue; and Francis Elizabeth Gregory, who married Dr. William Collins and has left issue. Mr. Jane Adelaide Gregory married second, General John Hodges, of Hodges Ferry, Norfolk County, Virginia, and had by him three children; James Gregory Hodges, Emma Adelaide Hodges and Margaret Jane Hodges. Dr. James Gregory Hodges married Sallie A. F. Wilson, daughter of W. H. Wilson and Ellen Keeling. He was Colonel of the 14th Virginia Infantry and was killed at the stone fence in Pickett's charge, on the 3rd day of July, 1863, in the battle of Gettysburg. He left surviving him, his wife and two young boys, William Wilson Hodges and John Nelson Hodges, both have since died after arriving to manhood, unmarried. His widow is still living. Emma Adelaide Hodges is still living. Margaret Jane Hodges, on the 28th of June 1866, married the writer; only one child was born unto them, James Gregory Crocker, born on the 19th of February, 1868, and died on the 12th of August, 1868. She departed this life on the 25th of July, 1896. Her mother died June 17th, 1873.

6th. Thomas Wynns Gregory, son of James and Mary Gregory, was born February 21st, 1796. Dr. Thomas Wynns Gregory married, on the 18th of November, 1829, Mary Eure, whose maiden name was Mary Tillery. He died in Halifax County, N. C., on the 4th of December, 1869, leaving issue. As to his descendants, see letter of his son, John T. Gregory, dated May 2nd, 1896, among my papers.

Corbin.—In the Church at Malvern, Worcestershire, Eng., is a tomb with the following epitaph: "Margaret late wife of William

Mrs. Lygon was descended from the elder brother of Henry Corbyn, ancestor of the Virginia family.

Folliott.—Nash's History of Worcestershire, II, 258 &c., gives a pedigree of the family of Folliott of Pirton, in that county, from which the following is extracted: Francis Folliott 16 (16th in descent) married Avis, daughter of Thomas Tracey, of North Piddle, and had a son John, who married Eleanor, daughter and heir of John More, of Duncient, and had a son Thomas, of Pirton, who married Katherine, daughter of Sir William Lygon, of Madresfield, and had a son Sir John Folliott, Knight, who married Elizabeth, daughter of John Aylmer, Bishop of London.

Fosters Oxford Matriculations, shows that Edward Folliott, son of John of Naunton, Worcester, militis matriculated at Hart Hall, Oxford, April 13, 1632, aged 22; B. C. L. Nov. 24, 1632, incorporated at Cambridge 1632, rector of Alderton, Northants, 1634, until sequestered by the Parliamentary Committee. His father was knighted June 10, 1603. Henry Folliott, brother to this Sir John, was created in 1619, Baron Folliott of Ballyshannon Co. Donegal, Ireland.

There can be no doubt it seems, that the Rev. Edward Folliott here referred to, was the same as the one who was the minister of York Parish, Virginia, from 1652 to 1690. He left two daughters: 1, Elizabeth, who married first Josias Moody or Mode, and secondly Capt. Charles Hansford; 2, Mary, married first Dr. Henry Power, secondly John Seal. See William & Mary Quarterly, IV, 125, 127; VII, 61. They have many descendants.

Sir John, the father of Rev. Edward, was Sir John, of the pedigree from Nash.

Owen.—Wanted information of David Owen, the name of his wife and names of parents. He lived in Halifax county, Va., during the American Revolution. He had two sons, who were in the army. His daughter Elizabeth married Joseph Martin. I want also to learn the parentage of Joseph Martin. He moved to Illinois in 1820, and died the following year. He was accounted the richest man who came to Wayne county in early days, and he was greatly respected.

Jurat. cora Gou'r.

The following extract from the Mercer Land Book, published in the William and Mary College Quarterly, January, 1905, shows that Giles Brent died in 1671, and that he made a will which was proved in the same year:

"Marlborough in Potomac Neck—

Col. Giles Brent, land granted him by patent, 26 Nov. 1654; part of land granted him by patent 20th Aug., 1651, which said patent the sd Giles Brent after the restoration of King Charles the second, procured to be renewed in his said Majesty's name by patent bearing date 20th November 1662. And the said Giles Brent dying in the year 1671, and having by his will bearing date the last day of August and duly proved and recorded the 15th February in the same year (O. S.) devised to his son and heir, Giles Brent, etc. all of his lands, rights unto Lands, and reversion and Reversions of Lands any way due to him in either England, Virginia or Maryland and for want of such heirs then to his own right heirs, etc., to the right heirs of his honored Father, Richard Brent Esqr., deceased, anciently Lord of the Manor of Admington and Larkstoke in the County of Gloucestershire in England. By virtue of which devise the sd. Giles Brent, the son and his Issue has severally been seised of the sd. Neck of Land as tenants in Tail until the sd. William Brent, party to these presents to whom the same descended,’’ &c.

From papers in the possession of the Virginia Historical Society it appears that one John Brook or Brock patented 300 acres of land in York County in 1637, and that by several conveyances this land had come to Mr. Jeremiah Harrison of York County, who by his will devised it to his wife Frances, who afterwards married Capt. Giles Brent, ‘‘lately deceased,’’ and that by a conveyance from the said Frances before marriage the land was vested in the said Giles Brent. The petitioners stated that as the first patentee John Brock was an alien he could convey no title and so the land should escheat, and they asked the Governor to issue an order that the question of escheat should be tried. They stated that they did not wish to prejudice any ones title and accordingly had purchased the right of Giles Brent, Jr., son and heir of the said Capt. Brent on Nov. 20, 1674. Governor Berkely ordered the case to be tried which was done on Jan. 9th, 1674.

From one of the land grants it appears that Giles Brent and Frances (his second wife) had no issue.

In 1654 Mrs. Frances Harrison widow patented 1000 acres in Westmoreland Co., Va. * * * About the same time John Harrison patented 1000 acres in Westmoreland, which he leaves failing heirs to his sister Mrs. Frances Harrison, and failing her heirs to Giles Brent of "Peace" in Westmoreland Co., Va. (All this from the Virginia land books.) According to Burke’s "Landed Gentry" Frances Harrison above mentioned, was sister of Thomas Whitgreaves of Moseley in Stafford County, England, who saved the life of Charles II after the battle of Worcester in 1651. (William and Mary College Quarterly, Vol. III, No. 11, July, 1903).

THE WILL OF GILES BRENT.

In the Name of God Amen. Brent Mary Brent and Richard Brent or such of them as are living at the time of my death the Executors of this my last Will and Testament.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 26th day of December, Anno Domini, 1663.

Giles Brent, son of Lieutenant Governor Giles Brent and his wife
Mary, was born in Virginia about 1652 and died in Middlesex county Sept. 2, 1679. He married Mary, the daughter of George Brent and Marianna Peyton and sister of George Brent of Woodstock.

He received a commission from Nathaniel Bacon and accompanied him during his first expedition against the Indians, but upon Bacon being declared a traitor by Governor Berkeley raised a force of men to oppose him. His men deserted him, however, before any actual conlict took place and the expedition resulted in failure.

This Capt. [or Colonel] Brent is alluded to in a paper called "Our late Troubles in Virginia written in 1676 by Mrs. Ann Cotton of Q Creeke."

"Which Flagrant and Flagitious Act performed, he (Bacon) draws his men out of town and marcheth them over York River, at Tindell's Point, to find out Colonel Brent, who was advancing fast upon him from Potomack at the head of 1200 men, (as he was informed) with a design to raise Bacon's siege, from before the towne, or other ways to fight him, as he saw cause."

In a narative of the Indian and Civil Wars in Virginia in the years 1675 & 1676, Col. Brent is again mentioned "While he (Bacon) was sedulously contriving this affaire, one Capt. Potter arrives in post haste from Rappahannock, with news that Coll Brent was advancing fast upon him (with a resolution to fight him) at the head of 1000 men, what horses what foot, if he durst slay the commencement."

His men being ready and eager to fight the account goes on to state that: "Bacon had not marched above 2 or 3 days journey (and those but short ones too, as being loth to tire his labourers before they came to their worke) but he meets news in post hast, that Brent's men (not shoulders) were all running away, and left him to shift for himself—For they having heard that Bacon had beat the Governor out of the towne, they began to be afeard (if they should come within his reach) that he might beat them out of their lives, and so resolved not to come nere him."

Colonel Brent "was mightily astonished at the departure of his followers, saying that they had forsaken the stoutest man and ruined the fairest estate in Virginia; which was by their cowardize or disaffection exposed to the mercy of the Baconians. But they being (as they thought) more obliged to looke after their own concerns and lives, than to take notice either of his vallour or estate, or of their own credits, were not be rought upon by anything he could do or say, contrary to their own fancies."

"This business of Brent's having (like the hoggs the devil sheared) produced more noyse than wool Bacon according to summons meets the Gloster men at the Court House."

William Brent's Lessee Against Benjamin Tasker.

Ejectment of a Tract of Land lying in the Isle of Kent in Queen Anne's County.

It appears from the special verdict found in the case, that the land in question was, on the 7th Sept., 1640, patented to Giles Brent, and from him descended to his son and heir Giles Brent who was during all the time of his life, an inhabitant and resident in the Colony of Virginia. That after his death the land descended to his son and heir Giles Brent, who always afterward was an inhabitant and resident in the same Colony, and there at about the age of 30 years, died intestate and without issue, whereby the land descended to his heir-at-law, William Brent, an infant of the age of 16 years, who then was and continued to be an inhabitant and resident in the said Colony of Virginia until he attained the age of 25 years, when he departed from thence and went to Great Britain, where he died intestate and without issue born, leaving his wife privily with child of William Brent, the lessor of the plaintiff, who was born three months after the death of his father, to-wit on the 6th March 1709. That the same William, from the time of his birth, has always been an inhabitant and resident of the Kingdom of Great Britain and the Colony of Virginia.

Judg't for Plff. Deft finally appealed to the King in Council.

In September, 1744, the Virginia Assembly passed an Act authorizing Peter Hedgman, Executor of the younger William Brent, to pay out of the rents and profits of his estate £300 sterling and interest which had been borrowed by the said Wm. Brent to prosecute an appeal before the Privy Council of England (which had been decided in his favor) for a large parcel of land in the Province* of Maryland.

Her maiden name was Sarah Gibbons. Her first husband William Brent was the son of Giles Brent (son of Lieutenant Governor Giles Brent) and his wife Mary, who was the sister of the first George Brent of Woodstock.

Between 1840 and 1850 the Richland estates passed from William Brent Junior to the Fitzhughs and afterwards from the Fitzhughs to the Lees. The house with a thousand acres of the original land was sold some years ago by General Fitzugh Lee to Mr. Alfred J. Pyke, an English gentleman, the present owner, who has improved the house and added a private chapel.

The original house was burned by the British fleet under Lord Dunmore during the Revolution. It has been several times rebuilt, and the present house which stands on the same site as the older ones is a comfortable modern structure. It is quite near the Potomac River, and about a quarter of a mile from Widewater station on the Richmond and Fredericksburg Railroad. There is a tradition in the neighborhood that Martin Van Buren, in a coach drawn by four white horses with footmen in livery, once drove up to the Richland house to pay his addresses to its fair mistress, a member of the Fitzugh family. The lady it is said declined to receive him, and he drove off in his magnificent equipage never to return.

The Woodstock place, sold by Robert Carroll Brent, son of George Brent about 1832, is now owned by Mr. Robert Ford. The present house is not a very old one. It stands upon a high hill about a mile from Aquia Creek. The original house was much nearer the creek, on low ground in a field adjoining the old Aquia burying ground, and about three quarters of a mile from the site of the now entirely extinct town of Aquia.

THE TEMPLE, GWATHMEY, BAYLOR, BROOKE, DOSWELL FAMILY CONNECTION.

Ben Arnold, a German, married and died, left one son, and a daughter and Ann. Ann married Joseph Temple. They had five sons and five daughters. One of the sons, Benjamin, married Mollie Baylor. One of the daughters, Hannah, married Owen Gwathmey.

Dr. Robert Baylor, son of Col. Robert Baylor, and his wife, Hannah Gregory, daughter of Richard Gregory, an Englishman, and his wife, Mary (or Ann) Whiting, married Mollie Brooke, who was the daughter of Humphrey Brooke, Sr., of King William Co., and his wife, Elizabeth Braxton.

Dr. Robert Baylor and Mollie Brooke Baylor had four children, one son, John, and three daughters, Mollie, Ann and Frances.

Mollie married Col. Ben Temple.

Ann married Temple Gwathmey, a nephew of her sister Mollie's husband.

Frances married Col. Edward Hill, a son of Dr. Robert Baylor's sister Frances, and Col. Humphrey Hill.

John Baylor, son of Dr. Robert Baylor and Mollie Brooke, was in 1777, a lieutenant, and in 1780, a captain in Col. George Baylor's Regiment of Horse, otherwise known as the Third Continental Dragoons. Heitman says he served to the end of the Revolutionary War, but the family tradition is that he died or was killed before its close. It is not known that he ever married.

Col. Ben Temple and Mollie Baylor had two sons, Robert, of Amphill, in Chesterfield Co., Va., and Benjamin, of Kentucky, a Methodist minister, and three daughters, Polly (Mrs. Williamson), Betsey (Mrs. Taylor), and Nancy (Mrs. Barrett). They all left families.

The descendants of Frances Baylor and Col. Edward Hill, are fully set forth in the "Hill Family of Va., by Mrs. Giles C. Courtney." Col. Hill's brother, Baylor, married Mary Brooke, of Mantapike, a first cousin of his wife. Mrs. Frances Baylor Hill was born in 1748, and died April 10th, 1802.

Owen Gwathmey emigrated from Wales and settled in Gloucester Co., Virginia. He had two sons, Richard and Owen. Owen died young. Richard married Diana Moore, by whom he had one son, Owen, and six daughters, one of whom was named Philadelphia. She married Wm. Dabney and had seven sons and three daughters. One of these daughters, Lucy, married Col. Robert Brooke, son of Humphrey Brooke, Sr., and Elizabeth Braxton. (Their descendants are set forth in "The Brooke Family of Va.,” by Prof. St. Geo. T. Brooke). Owen, son of Richard and Diana Moore Gwathmey, married Hannah Temple and settled at Canterbury, in King and Queen Co., Va. They had seven sons and five daughters.

Temple Gwathmey, third son of Owen and Hannah, of Canterbury, married Ann Baylor, daughter of Dr. Robert Baylor and Mollie Brooke, his wife. They had six sons and seven daughters.

Owen married Mary G. Hill, and left one son and one daughter. (See “Hill Family of Va.”)

Robert, second son, married Miss Margaret Nicholson. One son, George, had sons.

Temple, fourth son, married Ann M. Watts, and then Mrs. Caroline Welch. He left two sons.

George, fifth son, married Ann Irvine. He had no son. One of his daughters married Bishop Doggett of the Methodist Church.

Humphrey Brooke, sixth son, married Frances F. Lewis. Two sons and four daughters. Nearly all had families.

John Baylor, third son, never married.

Mary, first daughter, died single, and Ann, second, and Lucy, third, daughters, died young.

Eliza Brooke, fourth daughter, married W. O. Harris.

Fanny, fifth daughter, married Paul T. Doswell.

Hannah Temple, sixth daughter, married Rev. W. T. Hatchett.

Lucy Ann, seventh daughter, was burned to death in theatre at Richmond, while there at school, in 1811.

THE ROBINSON FAMILY, OF MIDDLESEX, &c.

The only members of the family of John Robinson, of Cleasby, and Elizabeth Potter, his wife, who need be again named are his two sons:

1. Christopher (of whom hereafter).

2. John (of whom hereafter).

2. John Robinson was born at Cleasby, near Darlington, November 5, 1650. He matriculated at Brasenose College, Oxford, March 24, 1670, obtained his B. A. in 1673, M. A. in 1674, and was a fellow of Oriel from 1675 to 1686. About 1680 he was sent as Chaplain to the English Embassy at the Court of Sweden. He remained there for over a quarter of a century, and was regarded by successive governments as an industrious and capable political agent. During the absence of the envoy he filled the posts, first of resident and then of envoy extraordinary. In 1692 he confirmed Charles XI in the English Alliance. In 1697, in token of his approbation, William III procured for him the benefice of Lastington, in Yorkshire, which he held until 1709, and on the 26th of March of the same year he became a prebend of Canterbury. In January, 1700, he was instrumental in obtaining the renewal of the treaty of the Hague. Shortly afterwards he accompanied Charles XII, of Sweden, with whom he was in high favor, to Narva, and also effected the recognition of free navigation of the North Sea. By favor of and as a compliment to the Swedish monarch, he assumed as his motto the "Runic" words: "Madr er neldur auki" (paraphrased as "As for man, his flesh is grass"). He wrote an "Account of Sweden together with an extract of the History of that Kingdom," which was published in London in 1695 and went through several editions.

In 1707 Robinson assisted Marlborough in his negotiations with Sweden, and in 1708 was sent on a special commercial mission to Hamburg.

In July, 1709, he refused the bishopric of Chichester, and a few months later returned to England, and was on November 21, 1709, granted the deanship of Windsor.

On November 19, 1710, he was appointed Bishop of Bristol. Bishop Robinson was such a favorite with Harley that there is no doubt that if the latter had retained power, Robinson would have succeeded Tennison as Archbishop of Canterbury. He was appointed governor of the Charterhouse, dean of the Chapel Royal, and a commissioner for building Churches in London. On August 30, 1711, he was made Lord Privy Seal. In 1712 he was first English plenipotentiary at the treaty of Utrecht. On August 8, 1713, he was nominated to the See of London, and his election was confirmed March 13, 1714. In September, 1714 he was appointed a member of the Privy Council. He was eminently liberal in his benefactions. He built and endowed a free school, and rebuilt the church and parsonage at Cleasby, where he several times visited his father's cottage. He gave Oriel College £750 for building, and £2,500 for three exhibitioners, presented an advowson to Balliol, and greatly improved the property at the see of Fulham.

Bishop Robinson died at Hampstead April 11, 1723, and was buried in the churchyard at Fulham. He married first Mary, daughter of William Langton, and secondly Emma, widow of Sir Francis Cornwallis and daughter of Sir Job Charlton, Speaker of the House of Commons. He had no children, and bequeathed his manor of Hawick-upon-Bridge, near Ripon, Yorkshire, to his nephew, Christopher Robinson, of Virginia (see Dictionary of National Biography). Bishop Robinson, though for so many years absent from England, kept up a friendly intercourse with his Virginia relations. There is in Middlesex county a power of attorney, dated October 20, 1693, from John Robinson to his sister, Mrs. Frances Shepard, of Middlesex, authorizing her to act as his "substitute as executor of the will of my brother Xtopher Robinson, of Virginia," being himself prevented "by reason of my being employed by their Majesteys King William and Queen Mary (whome God preserve) at the Court of Sweden." His nephew John Robinson (afterwards President of the Council of Virginia) was with him in England in 1713, when Governor Spotswood recommended his appointment to the Council (Spotswood Letters, II, 61). In this collection are a number of letters from Spotswood to the Bishop of London, which are not referred to in the index. They will be found in Vol. II, pp. 63, 64, 88, 137, 158, 253.

It will be remembered that the Church in Virginia was under the jurisdiction of the Bishop of London, and from the Governor's letters it would seem that the Bishop was careful as to the character of ministers who came to the Colony.

The portrait given is from one at Fulham. We are indebted to General Charles W. Robinson, Beverley House, Eaton Rise, Ealing, Eng., for the photograph.

Virginia was not only ecclesiastically under the jurisdiction of the See of London during the Colonial period, but there has been a more personal connection in several cases. The case of Bishop Robinson has been given. Bishop Juxon had kinsmen of his name here, while both of the parents of Bishop Porteus were natives of Virginia. No descent or kinship, clannish as Virginians are, could give the present Bishop of London a higher place than he already holds in the estimation of our people.

1. Christopher Robinson was born at Cleasby in 1645, and came to Virginia about 1666 and settled in what is now Middlesex county. His name frequently appears in the records of that county. He was clerk of Middlesex from December, 1675, to September 3rd, 1688, when he resigned; was a member of the House of Burgesses at the sessions of September, 1685, October, 1686, April, 1688, April, 1691, and April, 1692. He was appointed to the Council, 1691 (Sainsbury Abstracts), though he evidently did not take his seat until after the last session of the House of which he was a member, and on January 16, 1691-92, was appointed Secretary of State of the Colony (Hotten, 166.)

There is recorded in Middlesex a deed dated March 31, 1683, from Christopher Robinson, Gent., and his wife Agatha, one of the daughters of Bertram Obert, of Middlesex. Also a deed dated Jan. 10, 1688, from Gawin Corbin and Roger Borough, of London, conveying to Christopher Robinson, Gent., a tract of land in Middlesex, called "The Grange." Christopher Robinson died February 13th, 1692-93. (Sainsbury Abstracts). He married (1st) Agatha, daughter of Bertram Obert, of Middlesex county. She died on January 25th, 1685-86, and was buried January 27th (Register).* His father, who is stated in a petition of Christopher Robinson, to have been "an alien born," left his estate to his son Chichester Obert, (who died unmarried), and to his two daughters Agatha and Elizabeth. On Robinson's petition the heirs were allowed to inherit, instead of the lands escheating as the property of an alien; (2d) "Mr. Christopher Robinson and Madame Katherine Beverly were married 17th of gbr 1687." She was the widow of Maj. Robert Beverley of Middlesex, (and his second wife.) Maj'r Robert Robert Beverley and "Mrs. Katherine Hone were married in Gloster March 28, 1679." It has been generally stated that she was a daughter of Theophilus Hone. From the fact that both Robert Beverley and Christopher Robinson style Col. John Armistead of Gloucester county "brother," in their wills, it might be possible that Katherine Hone was her sister and widow of Theophilus Hone; but as one of her Robinson children was named Theophilus, and at her marriage to Beverley it is called "Mrs." (then the title of an unmarried woman), it is probable that she was a daughter of Theophilus Hone. "Madam Katherine Robinson, the wife of Mr. Christopher Robinson departed this life 23th of April, 1692."

Christopher Robinson's will was dated January 27, 1697½, and proved in Middlesex March 6, 1698½. It was printed in full in this Magazine, VII, 17-23.

The inventory of his personal estate showed a total appraisment of £1,558. 15sh., charges against the estate £1,307. 12sh. 6¾d. There was another (additional) inventory amounting to £1,385. 5s. 3½d. Issue of Christopher Robinson:

1. From first marriage,
2. From second marriage,
3. Clara, married Dr. John Hay, of Middlesex county. There is recorded in Middlesex a deed, dated April 2, 1707, from Christopher Robinson, Gent., in consideration of love and affection for his sister Ann, wife of John Hay. On June 6th, 1710, Ann Hay gave bond in £1,000 as administratix of John Hay. See also this Magazine, III, 4-5.
4. John, (see hereafter).
5. Christopher, (see hereafter).
6. Elizabeth, "from 18th of Aug't just at night & bapt'z at home 20th Aug't, 1688," (Register). She died in 1695.
8. Theophilus baptized Jan. 1st, 1690-1. He was buried April 14, 1691 (Register).

BOOK REVIEWS.

Dr. Miller, formerly a student of Columbia, came to the study of the legislative history of the Colony of Virginia (for province is not a word usually applied to it), without any preconceived theories; but with an earnest desire to make a full and careful investigation of the sources and to give what he found to be the truth. He has done his work well and has prepared a valuable book.

Perhaps the chief criticism which may be made is that he too often hesitates to form a positive opinion where there is really no ground for hesitation, and has wasted some time on writers who are of no authority on the subjects treated of. Though the author disagrees with them it was really labor lost to consult Story and Hamilton as to Colonial Virginia History. The extracts given show that they were quite ignorant in regard to the subject.

The book begins with an introduction treating of the form of government in Virginia, before 1619. Chapter I is devoted to the beginning of legislation under the London Company. The next four chapters are detailed studies of the House of Burgesses—apportionment of members, length of term, qualifications, suffrage, elections, qualifications of members, the organization and procedure of the House, its officers, salaries and method of conducting business. Chapter VI gives an account of "The Governor as a Part of the Legislature." Chapter VII is an especially valuable examination of the Council as part of the legislature,—the "upper house," and the final chapter describes the features of the legislature as a whole. This is followed by a bibliography.

The author has used practically all sources accessible in America, and though there may be difference of opinion in regard to some of his views and some details may hereafter be more fully worked out, it seems that the material was abundant for his purpose.

Though Robert Beverley, who stated that the two houses ceased to occupy a common hall in 1680, should have known, it is evident that he did not. Perhaps the two houses of Assembly still occasionally sat together until that year; but it is evident that long before they held separate sessions. By a resolution of the House of Burgesses, adopted at the session of March, 1657-8, it was determined that all propositions and laws from committee should first be considered by that house alone and not in the presence of the Governor and Council (Hening I, 407), and on March 8, 1658-9, there is an entry which shows that the Governor was not in the House (ib. 509). On the same day when the letter from the Lord Protector was to be considered the “Governor and Council” departed (ib. 511). In the rules of the House of Burgesses (ib. 507, 508), there is no reference to the presence of Governor or Council.

On March 13, 1658-9, a message was sent from the Burgesses to the Governor and Council, asking their assent to a bill (ib. 314). It is evident that as early as 1658, the two houses were sitting apart during most of the session.

On page 54 it is said that it was customary for some years for planters to borrow from the public treasury. This is not correct as stated. John Robinson, the treasurer, as a matter of personal favor from himself, allowed his friends to borrow from the treasury. That he, with good reason, expected that these loans would be fully repaid, did not less constitute it a breach of law. It was not a custom; but a loan from the treasury for which he was personally liable and which his estate ultimately paid.

In regard to Burgesses holding other offices it should be stated that a member could also be a county clerk, but on receiving such an appointment vacated his seat, and had to stand again for election.

Lynhaven parish (p. 45), was not co-extensive with the county in which it lay.

To the reference to naturalization (p. 50), may be added an order of Assembly dated 1656, which declared that Nicholas Martian, who had been naturalized in England, was capable of holding any office in Virginia.

During the period when a freehold was a prerequisite for voting (see p. 60), in the State of Virginia (and no doubt during the colonial period also), a man could vote wherever he had a freehold. There was one well known instance not very many years before the Civil War, of a man who prided himself on voting in four counties. He kept on election day several relays of horses at the various county seats where he voted.

It was hardly necessary (p. 81), to even express doubt as to the existence of speakers between 1719 and 1646. The House of Burgesses was modelled after the House of Commons, it had a speaker in 1619, and of course had one at every session. As a matter of fact there are two mentioned between the dates named. Thomas Stegg, in 1642, and Edward Hill in 1644. If the records were fuller we should have the names of all.

The offices of speaker and treasurer (p. 82), were frequently united long before 1738. Robert Carter held both offices in 1699 (Hening III, 198, 199); Benjamin Harrison, in 1705 (ib. 477, 481); Peter Beverley, 1710-14 (ib. III, 495, &c.); John Holloway, 1723-34 (ib. IV; 135, 150, 316, 438).

The Governor (p. 83), never had a share in the election of speaker. The form of presenting a speaker to the Governor for his approval was the same as that in England. In the case cited, the only one recorded where there was any suggestion of interference, the person first proposed for speaker was deeply interested in a business matter which was to come before the House.

There does not appear to be any authority for the statement (p. 135), that there was no separate journal of the upper house kept before 1680. There is no evidence either way.

Dinwiddie (p. 136), was not governor in 1742. He was surveyor general of the customs and had from the King a general commission to be a member of the Council of all of the Colonies of his district.

The statement (p. 137), in regard to the number of members of the Council who had been servants is erroneous. There were none after the early period, and these seem to have been technically so. Richard Townshend, who is given as a “servant,” to Dr. Pott, made a complaint to the Council that he had been apprenticed to the doctor to learn physic and surgery and that Dr. Pott had neglected his teaching.

Adam Thoroughgood, also styled “servant,” received, when he came of age, a grant of more than five thousand acres “at the special order of the Privy Council of England,” doubtless through the influence of his brother, Sir John Thoroughgood, who was one of Buckingham’s attendants.

Of the origin of Abraham Wood, the other member of the Council who had been a “servant,” nothing is known.

A few typographical errors have been noted. In the note on p. 37, “grand” is misprinted “grant;” on p. 40, for “East Shore” read “Eastern Shore;” p. 82, for “Chile” read “Chiles;” p. 89, for “Williams-town” read “Williamsburg;” p. 95, for “Proser” read “Prosser.”
BOOK REVIEWS.

The lack of an index is to a considerable extent supplied by a very full table of contents.

Dr. Miller has prepared a valuable book which will be of much use to students of Virginia history.

The Revolution on the Upper Ohio, 1775-1777. Compiled from the Draper Manuscripts in the Library of the Wisconsin Historical Society and published at the charge of the Wisconsin Society of the Sons of the American Revolution. Edited by Reuben Gold Thwaites, LL. D., Secretary of the Society, and Louise Phelps Kellogg, Ph. D., Editorial Assistant on the Society's Staff. Wisconsin Historical Society, Madison, 1908, pp. 275, with a map and nine portraits.

The praiseworthy public spirit and patriotism of the Wisconsin Society Sons of the American Revolution has again enabled the Historical Society of that State to print a portion of its famous Draper Collection. Taking up the history of the West at the time when its former publication, "Dunmore's War" ended, a series of important documents has been published coming down to the Spring of 1777. The term "Upper Ohio" has been widely interpreted, and events along the course of the river from the falls (Louisville) to Fort Pitt, have been included. The important treaty of Fort Pitt, 1775 is given at length, as is Col. James Wood's diary of his western trip made with the purpose of inviting the Indians to attend.

The other documents consist largely of unpublished letters of pioneers and officers holding commands on the frontier. This book is indispensable for a proper knowledge of the relations of the middle States with the Indians during the early years of the Revolution. As almost all of the writers were Virginians, and as Virginia then claimed almost all of the frontier then threatened with attack, this latest of the valuable publications of the Wisconsin Historical Society is particularly interesting to students of Virginia history.

Dr. Slaughter in his time did good work for the history of his Church and State, but it is no detraction from the gratitude we owe him and Bishop Meade to say that neither of them ever wrote so good a parish history as this. New knowledge of materials and new methods for their use would of course make a difference in such history from any written in Virginia twenty years ago; but this is not all. The old Diocese of Virginia has never had a student of its past so well equipped as the present historiographer. His zeal for his work is only equalled by his industry in study of the sources and in the sound judgment and broadminded way in which he uses them.

Truro, the home parish of Washington and Mason, deserved a chronicle and it has been presented in the book before us in admirable fashion. The description of the work of the vestry shows how these eminent men received their early training in public business and the account of the building of Pohick church gives the details of Colonial church construction more fully than they have ever before been presented. There are also numerous biographical sketches of the prominent men of the parish.

It is to be hoped that Mr. Goodwin will continue his good work and present the history of other parishes of the Diocese.

The history of the oldest Lutheran congregation in the South is full of interest, and its pastor has done good work in telling its story. He has studied carefully the records in manuscript or print, and has made thoughtful and judicious use of his sources. The colony of Germans is traced from its settlement near Germanna, in 1717, until its removal to the beautiful valley of the Robinson River, then on the extreme frontier, about 1725. How they made the wilderness bloom, built a church, still standing, established a school (at least as early as 1748), and grew in numbers as they increased in prosperity, is well told. The later history of the congregation is brought down to the present day. The illustrations, showing the Robinson valley, the church, the communion service, organ, &c., are of interest.

Mr. Huddle's work can be heartily commended as a needed addition to our history.

[Between May 6, 1743, and March 4th, 1760, no journals or even rough minutes of the Virginia Council in Executive Sessions exist in the State Archives. Those of dates later than March 4, 1760, which remain, are all printed in this instalment. As will be seen these remaining minutes are very incomplete, with numerous dates missing, and appear to be, in the main, only rough draughts. The period 1743-1760 was an important one in the history of Virginia and it is to be regretted that the Council records for the time have been destroyed. Fortunately this loss can be repaired from the English Public Record Office.]

At a Council held March 4th 1760.

Present:

His Excell'cy Gen'l Amherst's 1 Com'on app'g him Gov'r in Chief dated 25th Septem'r in ye 33d y'r in ye Reign was produced & read.

Tuesday the 8th of April app'd a Day of public Thanksgiving 2 for the signal success of his Maj's Arms &c Or'd y't a Proclaim. issue for ye Purpose.

1 Jeffrey Amherst (1717-1797), a soldier from boyhood, sent to America in 1758 as major general, appointed governor general of the English colonies in 1760, and in 1763 governor of Virginia. He never actually held the latter office. He was created Lord Amherst in 1776.

2 This thanksgiving must have been for the triumphs of England in the "Annus Mirabilis," 1759—including Minden, Quebec, Quiberon, Bay, etc.
Gov'\textsuperscript{r} com'd a L'r from Lord Colville\textsuperscript{3} signifying he had writ an Order for Cap't Faulkner of the Mercury [man-of-War] now at Boston to repair to Virg'a to take under Convoy all the homeward bound Trade—dated the 9th of Decem'r w'ch was order'd to be advertized.

Or'd That a Proclaim. issue for apprehending Thomas Baker offering £20 Reward for taking him.

Gov'\textsuperscript{r} com'd a L'r from Col Byrd\textsuperscript{4} dated New York Feb'y 21st recom'g ye Continuance of the Virg'a Reg't till Xmas next.

Also a L'r from Gen'l Amherst dated New York Feb'y 21st inclosing a L'r from Mr. Secretary Pitt dated Jan'y 7th & enforcing the same.

May 24th 1760.

Gov'\textsuperscript{r} desired ye Opinion of the Council in regard to granting Commissions for ye Expedition for ye Relief of Fort Loudoun\textsuperscript{5} in ye Cherokee, whether those Gentlemen who had ap-

He was at this time in command of the Halifax station. In May, 1760, the fleet under his command relieved Quebec then besieged by the French.

\textsuperscript{4}William Byrd, 3rd, of Westover, Pa., colonel of the 2nd Virginia regiment in the French and Indian War. General Forbes writing to Pitt, July 10, 1758, states that the retention of any Cherokees in the English service "is owing in a great degree to Mr. Byrd, of Virginia, to whom I should do a great injustice if I was silent upon the occasion. As he has a very large and opulent fortune in Virginia, he joined the Earl of London early after his arrival in America. He accompany'd the Army to Halifax last year and sett a noble example to all the gentlemen of the Continent who had either Inclination or ability to serve the King and their country."—\textit{Correspondence of William Pitt} (N. Y., 1906), I, 295.

Upon w’ch it was the Opinion of the Council, that it w’d be more for ye Service to give Com’ons to those who raised ye greatest Number of men, those who had served taking Rank above those who had not.

His Honor also produced to ye Board a L’r to Gov’r Bull informing him w’t ye Ass’y had done, & w’t he proposed in Consequence thereof.

Also a Copy of his Instructions to ye County L’ts of [Blank]

Both w’ch were approved of.

Octo’r 6th 1760.

Gov’r com’d a L’r from Gen’l Amherst dated Camp of Montreal Sep’r 9th signifying the surrender of Montreal, with the Articles of Capitulation by w’ch the french Troops are all to lay down their Arms, are not to serve during the Continuance of the present War, & are to be sent back to old France, as are also the Governors & principal Officers of the Legislature of the whole Country, w’ch he informs, is entirely yielded to the Dom. of his Maj’y.

Gov’r com’d a L’r from Col. Byrd dated Camp at Sayers Crow’s Creek on the Little Tennessee, but in June retreated without relieving Fort Loudon.

Col. Byrd with 600 men from Virginia attempted its relief. He advanced as far as the Long Island of Holston where he spent the winter of 1769, and though he was there joined by a party of North Carolinians, nothing further was done to save Fort Loudon, which surrendered on August 8, 1760. Most of the garrison was massacred by the Indians. Byrd’s failure to save the fort caused great dissatisfaction and he resigned. He was succeeded by Col. Adam Stephen.

"After the capture of Fort Loudon, Attahullahulla, “king or emperor of the Cherokees” generally called by the whites, Little Carpenter, saved Captain Stuart from massacre. Haywood’s History of Tennessee, states that by a stratagem the Little Carpenter after the surrender got Captain Stuart and two soldiers away from the presence of the other Indians and hastened towards the English settlements, Septem'r 19th sig'g that Major Lewis return'd the Sunday before, and brought in the Little Carpenter & 3 more Indians, Cap't Stuart & 3 more Prisoners, besides 2 squaws, that he is convinced by the Conferences he has had w'th the Carpenter that he is well inclin'd informing of the designs, which he learnt from him the Enemy had ag't Fort Prince George. Also that the Cherokees are in general desirous of peace, in consequence of w'ch he has sent a letter (of w'ch a Copy was inclos'd) to the Warriors by one of ye Indians and the Carpenter has sent to summon all the Chiefs to meet him at Chotte at the new moon of Octo'r that by him, who goes in a few days he shall send them his terms of peace, a Copy whereof was inclosed, that the Carpenter is to be back at all events by the full moon of Octo'r and promises, if they accept the offers of peace to bring in the heads of each town, all our prisoners, & the Offenders; if not, to bring in his own friends & as many of our people as he can—desiring to know his Honor's pleasure on w't he has done, & purposes further to do herein—if he is to proceed in his scheme requests that Indian Goods mentioned in an Invoice may be sent forthwith. Also a letter from him of the 24th desiring to know if the Reg't is to be compleated, & how the Detachm't is to be disposed of this winter, & recom'g Mr. Christian to have the Cloathing of ye Reg't. The Consideration of w'ch Letters was postponed to a fuller Council.

Octo'r 10th 1760.

Gov'r com'd two Letters from Gov'r Bull dated July 26th & Septem'r 21st signifying the Answer he rec'd from Col. Montgomery to his L'r, desiring him to continue for ye p'tection of So. Carolina &c.

Advice of the Council that his Honor w'd send down ye s'd I's to H. B. [House of Burgesses.]

and that after a week or more fell in with a party of 300 men sent out by Col. Byrd in a final attempt to relieve Fort Loudon. This force must have been commanded by Andrew Lewis.
Octo’r 16th.

Gov’r produced a L’r he proposed to send to Col. Byrd in answer to his last w’ch was approved of.

Decem’r 11th 1760.

Gov’r com’d a L’r from Col. Byrd, another from L’t Col. Stephen.

Also a L’r from Gov’r Dobbs—and a L’r from Gov’r Bull. Littlebury Robinson’s Pet. for Land granted.

Depositions in support of the Complaint ag’t ye Inspectors in Westmoreland were read this day—the Complaint was dismiss’d as frivolous.

Also a L’r from Col. Byrd dated Novem’r 22d.

Adam Stephen, a native of Scotland, is stated to have been born about 1730, and to have been educated as a physician. He removed to Virginia and settled in what is now Berkeley county. He was a man of great strength and courage and was actively engaged in military service throughout the French and Indian War. His own statement, when applying for land bounty under the Proclamation of 1763, is the best summary of his services. It is to be found among the land bounty vouchers in the Virginia Land Office. After the usual careful consideration of all the evidence the governor and council directed that the land warrant be issued. The certificate is as follows:

“At a Court held for Frederick County the 8th of March, 1780.

“Adam Stephen, Esq., personally appeared in Court and deposed on the Holy Evangelists of Almighty God, that in the year 1754 he was appointed Eldest Captain in the Corps raised and commanded by Colo. Fry: That upon the Death of Colo. Fry he was promoted to the rank of Major or Lieutenant Colonel in the Said Corps and Served therein during the period for which said corps was raised.

That he was appointed paymaster to the Troops raised in Winter 1754 and spring 1755 and acted as such until superseded by the appointment of Mr. Boyd in April. That under the command of General Braddock he acted as Capt. Commandant and eldest officer at that time in the Virginia Service upon the sd. Braddock’s expedition. Also a L'r from Gov'r Dobbs dat. Jan'y 29th informing that it will be impracticable to give his Honor any assistance from ye Province in ye p'rsent Situation of affairs.

Also two L'rs from Gov'r Bull dated Jan'y 21st signifying w't was determ'd in regard to ye Motion of ye Troops ag't the Enemy, the No. of Forces, that they propose that they sh'd reach Fort Prince George on ye 1st of May—that he sends the Express to acq't him with the time that their Army will reach Kiowee—that if possible he may contrive the Motions of the Army from this Province so as to reach Chote

Col. Stephen was an ardent advocate of American rights, and though he had acted as second in command to the Governor in Dunmore's war, became one of his most active opponents. He was member of the Va. Conventions of March, and July, 1775. He was commissioned colonel 4th Va. regiment February 1, 1776; brigadier general in the Continental army September 4, 1770, and major general February 19, 1777. He served with distinction at Princeton, Trenton, and Brandywine. Though a skillful and gallant officer his military career was ruined by habits of intoxication. His blunders at Germantown, due to this cause, were so great that he was cashiered on November 20, 1777. He then retired to his home in Virginia. He was several times in the State Legislature, and was a member of the Convention of 1788. He died in Martinsburg, November, 1791. General Stephen had an only child Ann, who married, first, Captain Alexander Spotswood Dandridge, of the Revolutionary army, and secondly, Moses Hunter.
as near as possible at ye same time. Also advice concern'g a late Behaviour of the Cherokees.

Also a L'r from Col. Byrd\textsuperscript{8} dated Phil'a Feb. 6, signifying Gen'l Amherst has been pleas'd to insist that he shall serve ye next Campaign provided Col. Grant does not bring ye Cherokees to the hard terms of peace he has proposed—that the Gen'l intends to form a little army to march to the Over Hills Cherokee by the Rout his Honor intended last Summer—w'ch he is to have the honor to comand—that as soon as the Gen'l has determ'd on his Plan & honor'd him with his Instructions he shall make ye best of his way to W'msg.

Also a L'r from Brig'a Gen'l Monckton dat. Phil'a Dec'r 18th, '60, that he has sent Orders for such of the Virginians as can be immed'y spared to march to Winc'r, that the Rem'r will follow as soon as he can get a part of Col. Vaughan's Reg't up to relieve them.

Also a L'r from Gen'l Amherst dat. New York Jan'y 1st, signifying that the services w'ch still remain to be put into Ex'on for compleating the great Object of the War in America will require the further Aid & Assistance of his Maj's American Subjects—desiring he'd be prepared for a Compliance with [Blank.]

A Pet. of Justices of Amelia pray'g that ye County Court may be adjourn'd & held for ye future on the Land of Peter Beasley, was read & ye Consideration thereof postponed to the day after ye Court of Oyer & Terminer in June.

Or'd that the Cl'k acq't the Cl'k of Amelia thereof, requiring him to notify the same to all Persons interested therein, by affixing an Advertiz't at ye C't House Door.

the K's Requisition for such a No. of men from his Col'y as shall be thought requisite by his Maj'y to answer the proposed End of promoting a good & lasting Peace.

\textsuperscript{8}This letter would indicate that General Amherst did not consider that Byrd had shown incompetence in his futile campaign against the Cherokees in 1760.
Also a L'r from his Exc'y dat. New York Oc'r 28th [?] signifying he has been occupied in assembling & embarking for So. Carol'a a Body of Troops intended and (in Conjunction w'th the Provincial Forces w'ch L't Gov'r Bull inform'd him were to be furnish'd by the two Carolinas & Virg'a) he trusts ev'ry way capable to chastize the Cherokee Indians—and acq'g w't Troops that Body consists of.

Also a L'r from Cap't Bullitt in consequence of Mr. Fleming's to him respecting the Cherokees &c. Also Indian Talks.

The Gov'r read his answers to the above L'rs w'ch were approved of.

Peter Randolph* Esq'r took the Oaths &c.

Gov'r com'd also two L'rs more from Gen'l Amherst, dat. New York Jan'y 19th & 21, signifying his Honor's application in behalf of the Inhabitants of the Colony for Debts due to them from ye Crown has all the weight with him that it possibly can have, & that he shall write to S'r John St. Clair to know his reasons for deferring the settlement of y'r accompts, & w'n he receives his answer, he'll transmitt the same to his Honor. That of ye 21st signifying he is firmly persuaded if Virg'a continues ye old Reg't of a thous'd men, by acting agreeably to the Plan laid down of attacking the upper Cherokee Towns, whilst L't Col. Grant with the Body of Regulars, & the provincial Troops of So. Carolina, attack the lower ones, he is firmly persuaded that the Indians must soon be reduc'd to the greatest Extremities & be incapacitated from renewing Hostilities.

And that it is not in his power from the present disposition of his Maj's forces to send any more powerful Succour than w't he has already assisted them with.

All w'ch he intreats his Honor to lay before ye Ass'y & back with all his influence.

Gov'r com'd a L'r from Mr. Charles Stewart11 proposing

11In November, 1762, Don Pedro Bermudez second in command of the sea service at Havanna, was shipwrecked and was brought to Norfolk with his family and others. Popular prejudice became in some way excited against them, and a riot ensued in which several Spaniards were killed and wounded. Charles Steuart, or Stewart, then a prominent merchant of Norfolk, protected Don Pedro Bermudez and his family, and received the commendations of the English government for so doing. It appears from the Calendar of the Dartmouth Manuscripts (Vol. II, p. 70) that an account of this riot is preserved in that collection. Charles Steuart was born in Orkney in 1725, came to Virginia in 1741, and was long a merchant in Norfolk. Later he was successively Surveyor General and Receiver General of the Customs in North America. He returned to England in 1769. He was a kind master. A negro, named Somerset, whom he took with him to England, became so vicious, indolent and insulting, that Mr. Steuart determined to send him to the West Indies. The negro however, was to victual the Spaniards & furnish them with firewood, & other necessaries at the rate 0'd a man p. day, also signifying that Cap't Longbottom thinks it will be necessary for his justification that a Survey sh'd be made of the Provisions put on board the Transport for the Passage of the Spaniards to Cadiz.

The Council approved of Mr. Stewart's Proposals, & recom'd to Gov'r to issue his Warrant to such Persons he sh'd judge proper to inspect the Provisions.

\(^{14}\)Henry Bouquet, a native of Switzerland, after service in the armies of Holland and Sardinia, entered that of England in 1756 as lieutenant colonel, was promoted to the rank of colonel in 1762, and brigadier general in 1765. He saw much active service in the French and Indian War. In 1763 when the new rising of the Indians was instigated by Pontiac, he was in command at Philadelphia, and marched to the relief of Fort Pitt. On August 5th he defeated the Indians in a long and stubborn contest at Bushy Run. Four days later he reached Fort Pitt. Bouquet's force consisted of Highlanders and Pennsylvania militia, but as many of the latter deserted he wrote to Andrew Lewis in Virginia for reinforcements for a campaign he was planning for 1764. Two companies of one hundred men each were raised, commanded by Charles Lewis and Alexander McLennahan, of Augusta county. They found Bouquet at Fort Pitt, and early in October, 1764, the march to the westward was begun with a force of 1,500 men. Parkman says that the woodmen of Virginia, veteran hunters and

Petition of the Inhabitants of Kentucky to the Virginia Convention.

To the Honorable the Convention of Virginia.

The Humble Petition of the Inhabitants of Kentucke (or Louisa) River on the Western parts of Fincastle County.

Humbly Sheweth that many of your Petitioners became Adventurers in this part of the Colony in the year 1774, in

This, and the succeeding paper are fundamental documents in the history of Kentucky. That section of country had been practically a no-man's-land used as a hunting ground by many tribes. At the treaty of Fort Stanwix in 1768, the Six Nations had ceded to the English government the land south of the Ohio. Virginia claimed this territory under its charter, and the Cherokees made some vague and ill-founded pretensions to it.

It suited the purposes of a land company, organized by Richard Henderson and others, of North Carolina, to recognize the claims of the Cherokees, and on March 11, 1775, this tribe sold Kentucky to the Henderson Company. This company immediately opened a land office, and in the same year a convention of eighteen delegates convened at Boonsboro, acknowledged the rights of the Henderson Company, and proceeded to organize a government. These actions caused great discontent among many of the settlers, and in June, 1776, another meeting was held at Harrodsburg, which declared its opposition to the Henderson movement, gave allegiance to Virginia, and elected John Gabriel Jones and George Rogers Clark, delegates to the Virginia Convention of 1776. Clark's account of his connection with these proceedings and of the feeling of the people, which he gave afterwards in his memoirs, has been followed by most writers on the subject, but is exceedingly inaccurate. Butterfield's George Rogers Clark's Conquest of the Illinois, is the only work which appears to give any accurate and judicious account of Clark's life at this time and of the events connected with it. In spite of a crude style and confused arrangement, Butterfield knew (as none of the other writers on Clark order to provide a subsistence for themselves and their Posterity; but were soon obliged by our Savage Enemy to abandon their Enterprize and in the year Following, after the Country had been discovered and explored; many more became adventurers, some of whom claimed Land by Virtue of warrant [Illegible.]

Royal Proclamation in the year 1763, and others by Pre-occupancy agreeable to the Entry Laws of Virginia. And in the mean time a Company of men from North Carolina purchased or Pretended to Purchase from the Cherokee Indians, all that track of Land from the Southernmost waters of Cumberland River to the Banks of Louisa or Kentucke River, including also the Lands on the which inhabitants live in Powells Valley. By virtue of which Purchase they stile themselves the true and absolute Proprietors of the New Independant Province (as they call Transylvania) they are indeavourhave known) the Virginia records, and had sense enough to make a proper use of them. It should be mentioned, by the way, that when this valuable book appeared it received an airy and condescending notice in the American Historical Review, which was evidently written by some one who had not read the book, or was very ignorant of the subject.

Jones and Clark reached Virginia after the convention adjourned. On hearing of this, Mr. Jones joined the force under Col. Christian, which was about to march against the Cherokees, while Clark went on to Williamsburg.

After consultation with the governor and council he procured an order for five hundred pounds of gunpowder for the use of the people of Kentucky. When the Assembly met in the fall, Clark and Jones laid the Kentucky petition before it, and in December, 1776, an act was passed establishing the county of Kentucky. (Hening, IX, 257, 258.)

The Virginia government declared the Henderson purchase void; but in 1778, as a recompense for the trouble and expense of the members, gave them a large tract of land on Ohio and Green rivers.

The acknowledgment which the settlers make, that the occupation of Kentucky was made possible by the battle of Point Pleasant is of interest.

As a farther step in the winning of the West, it may be stated that Clark's conquest of the Northwest was made possible by the occupation of Kentucky.
ing to Erect, And in consequence of their Usurped authority, Officers both Civil and Military are appointed, Writs of Election issued, Assemblys Convened, A Land Office opened, Conveyances made, Lands sold at an Exorbitant Price, and a System of Policy introduced which does not at all Harmonize with that lately adopted by the United Colonies. But on the Contrary for ought yet appears this Fertile Country will afford a safe Asylum to those, whose principles are Inimical to American Freedom. But your Petitioners have the greatest Reason to question the Validity of those mens purchase being well informed that the Cherokees never extended their Claims North of Cumberland River, nor would warrant any Lands on the other side. Besides its now well known, that the Indians of the six Nations Claimed and ceded those very Lands to the Crown of Great Brittain at a Treaty held at Fort Stanwix in November 1768. We therefore are not willing to obey those men, or the authority they have assumed or indeed to acknowledge any power or perogative, which is not derived from the Convention of Virginia whose subjects we desire to be considered.

Virginia, we conceive, can claim this Country with the greatest justice and propriety, its within the Limits of their Charter. They Fought and bled for it. And had it not been for the memorable Battle, at the Great Kanaway those vast Regions had yet continued inaccessible. Nor can we conceive, how it is practicable for those men who stile themselves Absolute proprietors, to settle this Country at so great a Distance from all the Colonies, and in the Neighbourhood of some Enemy Indians.

But should our Infant settlement become the object of your Deliberations, and be taken under your protection and Direction unto, whom we justly conceive to Belong, Every obstacle would be Removed, Population increase and of consequence a Barrier to the interior parts of Virginia from the Indians. A new source of wealth would then be opened, as Trade and Navigation under the auspices of Virginia would Flourish, in the Western world. And therefore willing to acquit our conscience and not entail Slavery upon our posterity by submitting to the pretentions and impositions of the pretended proprietors, We the Inhabitants of the North and South sides of Kentucke River, having assembled together after preparatory notice on the Eighth day of June 1776 and continued to poll till 7th of said Instant, [Illegible.] a Majority was chosen Captain John Gabriel Jones, and Captain George Rodgers Clark, and hope ye Honorable the Convention will receive them as our Delegates from this the Western parts of Fincastle County. And as we sincerely concur in the measures established by the Continental Congress and Colony of Virginia, And willing to the utmost of our abilities to support the present laudable cause, by Raising our Quota of men, and bear a proportionable share of Expence that will necessarily accrue in the support of our Common Liberty. And that good order may be observed we proceeded to Elect a Committee consisting of Twenty one members, already some in West Augusta and which precedent we rely upon to justify our Proceedings to the World, for without Law or authority, Vice here could take its full scope having no Laws to Restrain or Power to Controul. Upon the whole we Cheerfully submit to the authority and jurisdiction of this house, not doubting but you will take us under your protection, and give us such direction by our Representatives, as you, in your great Wisdom may think Best. And your petitioners as in Duty Bound &c.

Herodsburg, June 7-15th, 1776.

Signed by order of the Inhabitants,

Abraham Hite, Jr.,
Clerk.

Representation from Fincastle, 1776.

Petition of the Committee of West Fincastle to the Colony [Convention?] of Virginia.

To the Honourable the Convention of Virginia:

The Humble Petition of the Committee of West Fincastle

The Inhabitants of this Frontier part of Virginia who are equally desirous of contributing to the utmost of their power to the support of the present laudable cause of American Freedom, and willing to convince and prove to the World that tho' they live so remote from the seat of Government, that they Feel in the most sensible manner for their suffering Brethren; and that they most ardently desire to be looked upon as a part of this Colony, notwithstanding the Base proceedings of a Detestible, Wicked, and Corrupt Ministry, to prevent any more Counties to be laid off, without the Inhabitants would be so pusilanimous as to give up their right of appointing proper persons to represent them (in Assembly or) in Convention: And as we Further conceive that as the Proclamation of his Majesty for not setting on the Western parts of this Colony, is not founded upon Law, it cannot have any Force, And if we submit to that Proclamation, and Continue not to lay off new Counties on the Frontiers that they may send Representatives to the Convention, its leaving an opening to the wicked and Diabolical designs of the Ministry, as then this immense and Fertile Country would afford a safe Assylum to those whose Principles are inimical to American Liberty. And if new Counties are not laid off, as Fincastle County now Reaches and already settled upwards of Three Hundred Miles from East to West it is impossible that two delegates can be sufficient to Represent & such a respectable Body of People, or that such a number of Inhabitants should be bound to obey without being heard. And as those very people would most Cheerfully Co-operate in every measure tending to the Publick Peace, and American Freedom, they have delegated two Gentlemen, who was Chosen by the Free Voice of the people, and which Election was held for Eight Days at Harrodsburg (on the Western Waters of Fincastle on Kentucke) after the preparatory Notice of Five Weeks given to the Inhabitants and on the poll being closed Captain John Gabriel Jones and Captain George Rodgers Clark, having the majority were chosen, and not doubting the acceptance of them as our Representatives, by the Honourable the Convention, to serve in that capacity; as we conceive the precedent Establish'd in West Augusta will justify our Proceeding; And we cannot but observe how impolitical it would be to suffer such a Respectable body of prime Rifle men, to remain (even) in a state of Neutrality. When at this time, a Certain set of men from North Carolina, stiling themselves proprietors and claiming an absolute right to these very Lands, taking upon themselves the Legislative Authority, Commissioning Officers, both Civil, and Military having also opened a Land Office, Surveyors General and Deputys appointed and act, Conveyances made and Land sold at an exorbitant Prices many other Unconstitutional practices, tending to disturb the minds of those, who are well disposed to the wholesome Government of Virginia, and creating Factions, and Divisions amongst ourselves, as we have no hitherto been Represented in Convention: And as at this time of General danger we cannot take too much Precaution to prevent the Inroads of the Savages, and prevent the Effusion of Innocent Blood. We the Committee, after receiving a message from the Chiefs of the Delaware's who are now settled near the mouth of the Waubash, informing us that a Treaty was to be held at Opost, by the English and Kiccapoos Indians, and that they would attend to know the purport of the same, and if their Brothers the Long Knives would send a man they could rely on, they would, on their return inform 'em of the same, as they were apprehensive the Kiccapoos would strike their Brothers the Long Knives, therefore we thought it most prudent, and shall send immediately a Certain James Herrod and Garret Vendergrass, so converse with them on the same. And as its the Request of the Inhabitants that we should point out a number of men capable and most acquainted with the Laws of this Colony to act as Civil Magistrates, a list of the same we have inclosed. And for other matters relative to this Country we Conceive that Captain Jones and Captain Clark our Delegates will be able to inform the Honourable the Convention, not doubting but they will listen to our just petition and take us under their Jurisdiction. And your petitioners as in Duty Bound &c.

Letter from Van Bibber² and Harrison to the Virginia Committee of Safety, 1776.

St. Eustatia, June 14th, 1776.

We take the liberty of addressing a few lines to your honourable Body, to inform you, that in order to render our services more extensively useful to our Country & Friends, we have this day entered into a Copartnership, which we propose to carry on under the firm of Van Bibber and Harrison. The former will reside here, the latter at St. Pierri, Martinque. Should you find occasion, therefore, for any assistance at either of those places, we should esteem ourselves honoured.

²During the Revolutionary War the Dutch Island of St. Eustatia was to the new-born United States what Nassau was to the Confederate States during the Civil War. The letters from Van-Bibber and Harrison, which follow, as well as those printed in Vol. XV., of this Magazine, show the great importance of the military and other supplies which the Americans obtained from this source. It is difficult to see how the contest could have been carried on without them. In 1781 the English admiral, Rodney, captured St. Eustatia and confiscated goods in the hands of merchants of many nationalities of immense value. It was thought that this would be a severe blow to the United States; but as most of the confiscated goods were sold by auction, it is stated that they were eventually obtained by the Americans at lower rates than they could have been if the trade with St. Eustatia had not been interrupted.
by your Command, and beg leave to assure you, that we will execute them with more pleasure, Zeal and Fidelity.

The Islands at this time, will, between them, afford all you want; and on tolerable good terms. The more important article, we have reason to believe, will be yet in greater abundance.

 Produce of all kinds sell high. But Tobacco is the most profitable Article at present.

 Goods are generally cheapest here. But Martinique (or its neighbour St. Lucia) is by far the safest place to send your Vessells to.

 Should this Information prove of any advantage to you, it will produce no less satisfaction to us, who have the Honour of being very respectfully,

Yours Hon's & the Public's most obed't and most h'ble Servants

Ab'm Van Bibber,
R'd. Harrison.

Inclosing Bills of Lading for——Powder.

St. Eustatius, July 25, 1776.

To the Honourable the Council of Safety for the Colony of Virginia,

Gentlemen:—

Your very much esteemed favours of 25th April & 13th May came safe to hand are now before whose contents I note; They have served to answer the desired Effect and I find myself under every obligation to your Honourable House for your favourable opinion of my conduct. The Vessels mentioned address'd to my care are not arrived, if any of them should be fortunate enough you may depend they will have quick dispatch. I wrote you the 24th May by Capt. Isaac Caton in a Ten Gun Sloop bound to Charles Town So.
Carolina by whom shipped you fourteen thousand three hundred w't of Gun Powder. I likewise wrote you the 13th June by Captain Martin & shipped sixteen thousand three hundred w't of Powder this Martin is in a ten Gun Brigantine and has a very considerable cargo on board for the Province of Maryland dayly hope & expect to hear of his arrival I have debeted Mess's Lux & Bowly to your Colony's Cr for £1015—by advice from them & have received a Bill from Mr. John Dixon or Mr. Webb for 600 Dollars but not heard of its exceptance. I intend to give you a state of your acct with me, by the next opportunity and shall pay the ball'nce to Van Bibber & Harrison who all have already informed you had enter'd into a Partnership in order to strenghten our Credit that we may be more enabled to comply with and Facilitate the commands of our Country and supply their many wants, therefore in future beg you'd direct your favours for either of us to V. B. & H. S. Pier's Martinque. I intend continuing here, but think it not so safe for Vessels to get into as this other Place mentioned. I am

Gentlemen with profound Resp.,

Your most Obed't. Hum' Serv't.,

St. Eustatius, July 25, 1776.

Gentlemen:—

The preceding is a Letter our A. V. B. acknowledging the Receipt of your several favours. We now embrace this opportunity by Capt. John Pasture in a very fine Boat belonging to your Colony to ship on account and Risque of said Colony seven thousand five hundred pounds Gun Powder and ninety stand of Arms for which you have inclos'd & Bill of Lading. We also intend to ship on board a fine Bermuda built Boat Capt. Davis four thousand pounds Gun Powder and ninety stands of Arms the whole of which sincerely wish safe to hand. We have assured Capt. Pasture that if he should be fortunate enough to arrive safe and deliver his cargo in good order he would be generously treated by your honourable House to encourage him to exert himself. Our R. H. is at Martinique where I understand some Vessels from Virginia and other Provinces are arrived. With due Respect we Remain

VAN BIBBER & HARRISON.
Saint Pierre, Martinique, Aug. 15, 1776.

Gentlemen:—

We did ourselves the Honour of writing you from St. Eustatia on the 14th of June, acquainting you of our Connection, & making a tender of our services, w'ch we hope got to hand, being accompanied with a considerable Quantity of Powder shipp'd you by our A. V. B. in the Brig'e Friendship Capt. Martin.

The present serves to cover Invoices of two parcels of Gun Powder & Arms shipped you the 25th ulto in the Boat Molly Capt. John Pasture, & Pluto, Capt. Thomas Davis, in consequence of what you wrote our A. V. B. We hope it will all be safely landed before you see this.

These Goods are part of a large purchase made by us in June for which we are to pay by the middle of the ensuing Month, or be accountable for an Interest of 8 p. ct from that period. Should your remittances therefore not get to hand within the limited time, we think proper to mention that you, as well as our other Friends, will be liable for your proportion of this additional charge. The publick Good alone induced us into the Engagement, had our views been otherwise, abundant opportunities have offered by which we could have benefitted ourselves 50 p. ct.

The article of Powder has got up again to near 4s. in Statier and 3s. at this place; we do not however imagine these prices can be supported long. Dry goods, particularly Linnens, are plenty and may be purchased tolerably cheap.

There are certain times when very good Bargains may be had. If you should therefore think proper to entrust us with the purchase of anything further, we would advise you to transmit any our orders by the first opportunity, that we may have it in our power to execute them as those favourable Junctures occur, and it at any time, by the mis-carriage of your Vessels or otherwise, our credit can be of use to you, you may depend Gent. we will most cheerfully strain it to the extent.

Cap. Calender sailed from this port about the 18th of May and took with him the proceeds of his own, the Capt. Saunders' & Capt. Markums Cargoes, consisting of Powder and Arms, in the pilot Boat sent out for the purpose. We should be very sorry to hear of his mis-carrying with so valuable a Vessell.

Wishing Virginia all the prosperity & Happiness to which her noble spirited & exemplary conduct so justly entitles her, we are and shall remain with much respect.

St. Pierre, Martinique,
Aug. 15th, 1776.

Gentlemen:—

I did myself the Honour of writing you the 20th ulto, when I fully reply'd by four different Vessels to your fav'r of the 1st June.

Since then nothing has occurred worth communicating except the visit we have had from Capt. Lambert Wickes in the Continental ship reprisal. I need not mention the particulars of his Engagement with the Kings Ship Shark, off this Harbour, this Victory—you will undoubtedly have received them. But as a matter more interesting, & which will serve to confirm the account I gave you of the friendly disposition of the French, I cannot omit informing you that he has experienced here every civillity Honour & distinction due to a first rate. His Treatment indeed has far exceeded my most sanguine wishes.

A few days after being moor'd Admiral Young dispatched a Frigate to demand him as a pirate (the softest appellation these tools of depotism deign now to afford good men engaged in the best of causes) but she was obliged to return with a short pithy answer that, I fancy will not be very well relished, tho' it must go down I suppose.

This affair was of a very delicate nature, & must have embarrass'd Government much had not a Frigate luckily arrived from France a day or two before, with Instructions to the General, openly to countenance all our Vessells; and in this case they were, I am well convinced complied with in the most extensive Sense. I leave you to draw your conclusions from this and other occurrences of a similar nature, & to judge whether they might not be improved to the advantage of America.

I refer you to the letter of V. B. & H. of this date for mercantile matters and am most respectfully.

Sirs
Your ob’t. h’ble Serv’t.

COL. WILLIAM CHRISTIAN3 TO BRIG. GENL. RUTHERFORD OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Botetourt County Virginia,
August 18th, 1776.

Sir:—

The Lieutenant Governor and Council of Virginia, have been pleased to order me to take the Command of the Forces that are to march against the Overhill Cherokees.

3Instigated by John Stuart and other English Indian agents, the Cherokees took up the hatchet in 1775, and began raids in the border. The defeat of the British at Charleston disconcerted the plans for a savage invasion of Georgia, but western North Carolina and south-western Virginia were attacked. Attacks by the Indians on Fort Lee, on the Watauga, and Heaton's Station, at Long Island, of Holston, were defeated but the Indians broke up into small parties and ravaged the country as far as the present Abingdon, Va.

In July, 1776, the Virginia government received information that an expedition from the two Carolinas would proceed against the Cherokee lower towns, and at once it was determined that a force should march from Virginia to the upper town known as Over Hill. Col. Charles Lewis (of Albemarle county) with his batallion of minute men was ordered on the service, but on receipt of news of the ravages in Clinch Valley, the force was increased, and Col. William Christian made commander-in-chief. At the Long Island of Holston, the Virginia troops were joined by three or four hundred North Carolinians under Therefore your letter of the 5th of this Month is this moment delivered to me. On the 15th Instant I wrote a letter to the Commanding officer of the South Carolina Army; the express I gave the letters to, I am just told, has not yet left his own house which is about 25 miles from me on the way

Colonels Joseph Williams, Love, and Major Winston. The combined force pushed forward into the Indian country, and though several thousand warriors had gathered they did not venture to make a stand, but retired into the mountains. Christian then destroyed their towns and laid waste their fields. The Cherokees, hopeless of making a defence, asked for peace, and early in 1777 a treaty was made which was finally confirmed on June 26th. This campaign was known as the "Cherokee Expedition."

Col. William Christian, who was born in Augusta county in 1743, was killed by the Indians, April 9, 1786. He was a member of the House of Burgesses for Fincastle at the sessions of March, 1773, May, 1774, and June, 1775, and of the Conventions of March and July, 1775. In 1775 he was appointed lieutenant colonel of the 1st Virginia regiment, and in 1776, colonel of the 1st Virginia battalion of minute men and commander of the expedition against the Cherokees. In 1780 he commanded another expedition against the Cherokees. In 1785 he removed to Kentucky and settled near Louisville. In the next year, he, with a party of settlers, pursued some hostile Indians across the Ohio, and near the present Jeffersonville, Indiana, he was shot and killed.

The Calendar of Virginia State Papers contains a number of letters from him in regard to the defence of the West, and from others expressing great grief at his death. He was one of the ablest and best-loved men of the border.

Col. Christian made a number of reports during the "Cherokee Expedition," which will be published in proper order.

Col. Charles Lewis, who commanded the other battalion of minute men in this campaign, was son of Robert Lewis, of Belvoir, Albemarle county. He was captain of the first volunteer company raised in the county at the beginning of the Revolution, and after commanding in the minute men during the "Cherokee Expedition," he was on November 12, 1776, commissioned colonel of the 14th Virginia regiment. He served for a time in Washington's army; but resigned March 28, 1778. He was then given command of the regiment guarding British prisoners at Charlottesville, and died while performing this duty, in 1779.
to Carolina, so that I will send after him and desire him to take this also to you.

It was not, until I received your letter, that I understood the Cherokees were to be attacked at three different places; indeed I was doubtful that the way from North Carolina to the Valley Towns was so mountainous and rugged that it could not be well done that way. But good men can surmount all difficulties, and the plan is undoubtedly an excellent one.

The letter the Express has for the Commanding Officer in South Carolina, you will be pleased to open, and send it forward, or not as you may think necessary. I should think that the Express had better return from you to me, as you can no doubt give me any intelligence necessary respecting the South Carolina Army. I shall desire the Express to call on Lieutenant Colonel Williams, as he goes to you from whom I wish to know how soon he can be in Fincastle County.

The number of effective men allotted to be under my Command are 1450 besides those from your Province. They are now gathering with all possible dispatch and will begin to march in less than two weeks from the different Counties in which they are to be raised. I have appointed the General Rendezvous to be held at the Big Island on Holstons river on the 20th day of Sep. the Island is in the Enemys Country and within 130 miles of the principal overhill Towns. I shall endeavour to march in a day or two after the Rendezvous, and loose no time afterwards but hurry on as quick as possible. I hope to take with me Fifty days provisions. The Flour I will have in Waggons and will open a Waggon road as I go. When I wrote on the 15th Instant to South Carolina I imagined that it would be betwixt the 10th & 15th of October before I could be at the Towns. But now I conclude I may be there about the 5th. I have no doubt of marching ten miles each day. I know of nothing that can delay me except repeated Skirmishes, or broad river its being high. I am now near the center of the Country which will furnish the provisions & men for the Expedition, therefore I shall wait here; if nothing new occurs, about ten days longer and then begin to move towards the place of Rendezvous which is 190 miles from here; in order to be there eight or ten days beforehand.

After the Bearer returns, should you think it necessary to send to me again in a short time it will be best to direct your messenger to come by Fort Chiswell in Fincastle County, at which place he may be informed where I shall be. Would it not be well for us to keep messengers constantly passing and repassing, as many unforeseen events may happen to either of us necessary to be known by the other, will it be possible for you sir to proceed to the overhill Towns after you drive off the Valley people or will the South Carolina Army do it, or is it intended that either shall.

I shall think myself happy in co-operating with you, or any other officer of the United States, for the interest of them or either of them, and I know the state whose Servant I have the Honour to be, will rejoice at our harmony and unanimity. May we then go on with speed and success to crush our Savage Enemies; and in a short time be ready to turn our Victorious Arms to meet our more then savage abettors wherever they may appear to disturb the repose of our American Brethren.

From the last Accounts I have had from the Northward, nothing considerable has happened; but as General Howe was in Staten Island with odds of Twenty thousand men it is probable that some Manoeuvre will soon be made by him or General Washington,

I am Sir

Aug.—18.

REVOLUTIONARY PENSION DECLARATIONS:
FROM PITTSYLVANIA COUNTY, VA.
(From Copies on File at Pittsylvania C. H., Chatham, VA.)

JOSEPH SMITH.
State of Virginia,
Pittsylvania County.

On this 17th day of Sept. 1832, Personally appeared in open Court before Stephen Coleman, Thom. Shelton, Jno. D. Adams, & Wm. M. Williams, the court of Pitts. now sitting, Joseph Smith a resident of the County of Pitts. & state afore-said, aged Sixty-nine years, who on his Oath made the following declaration:

That he entered the service of the United States early in the month of January 1781 as a Substitute for Harmon Miller and marched from the County of Halifax in the State of Virginia in a Company of drafted Militia which was Commanded by Capt. Charles Wall and Lieut. Bates & Ensign Daniel Wilson, Crossed Staunton River at Bibbs Ferry & went thro' the Counties of Charlotte, Lunenburg, Notoway and Dinwiddie by the Long Ordinary and thro' the Town of Petersburg to Cabin Point on the James River, there joined the Regiment under the Command of Major Pennell [Pannill?] & Col Holcombe ¹ & was stationed at that place about 6 weeks, then marched down the country & joined Genl. Mullenburg's Brigade near Portsmouth, Va. & remained with him until his term of service, being three months, expired. He was discharged by Ensign Wilson about the 1st of April 1781, that his discharge is lost & cannot be found & that he does not know a person living that served with him but has been proved by Capt. John Walters who lived a close neighbor to him.

² Col. John Holcombe, of Prince Edward county. This campaign was that of Arnold’s first invasion of Virginia.

Soon after he returned home from the above described town he again entered the service of the U. S. as a Substitute for his Father, James Smith & marched from the said County of Halifax sometime in the month of April 1781, in a Company of drafted Militia which was Commanded by Capt. William Clark to Point of fork on James River, at that place he joined the Regiment Commanded by Col. Tucker in Genl. Lawson's Brigade & continued under the said Officers marching in Various directions untill he arrived at Morben Hills below Richmond & remained at that place until his term of service expired, being upwards of three months, he was discharged at that place by Col'o Priddy the 28th day of July 1781. That Identical discharge is now in his possession & herewith presented to the Court.

He was born in the State of Maryland he supposes in the year 1763, has no record of his age. He lived in the County of Halifax, State of Va. when he entered the service of the United States. He lived in the County of Halifax five years after the War ended, then moved to the County of Pittsylvania, Virginia, & has lived in this County ever since. Sworn to & subscribed this day & year aforesaid.  JOSPEH SMITH.

WILLIAM DOVE.

State of Virginia. Pittsylvania County.

On the 22nd day of August 1832, personally appeared in open Court before Wm. L. Pannill, Daniel Coleman, Coleman D. Bennett, & David H. Clark, the Court of Pittsylvania County now sitting, William Dove, a resident of Camden Parish, in the County of Pittsylvania & state of Virginia, aged 74, who on his oath made the following declaration.

That he was born in Charles County Maryland the 27th Nov. 1758, and moved to Fairfax County, Va., when quite young with his parents.

That in Aug. 1777 when the British landed, at the head of Elk River and marched toward Philadelphia, an express arrived at Fairfax County, Va., when he volunteered under Capt. Thomas Pollard, (the name of the Lieut. he forgets); Col. Rumley of Alexandria was commandant of the Reg't, and Seal and Dennis Ramsey were Captains in the same; the name of the Major he forgets; that in a few days after he volunteered he marched from Alexandria (the place of Rendezvous) thro' Georgetown, Frederick Town, Md. and York town about the line of Maryland & Pennsylvania to Lancaster in Pa.; that there he remained about a week when an express arrived for the troops to join Genl. Washington at Head Quarters, but on the march he was taken with Small Pox & had to lie by for a few days & during his confinement heard the roar of the cannon at the battle of Germantown. After his recovery he regained his company at Genl. Washington's Head Quarters and there remained until his 3 months expired.

That in September 1778 he enlisted as a Marine on board a ship called the Genl. Washington at Alexandria, which was destined to carry despatches to France. Francis Speake, Capt. and Sam'l. Walker Lieut. of the ship, William Sandford Capt. and Wm. Pearson Lieut. of the Marines, and Doctor Wm. Ramsey Surgeon The same month he enlisted he sailed, and arrived in France in unusually short passage of 18 days (which was said to be the quickest passage that ever then had been made). That they remained at a small town called Painbeouf, about 15 miles below Nantes the whole winter. In March they sailed to Brest & joined the French fleet & in April sailed out from Brest in company with about ninety vessels of various nations which were conveyed by the French ships of War out to sea. After getting clear of the coast of France, & leaving the French ships, the Genl. Washington cruised on the coasts of Spain awhile, and returning home, near Cape Henry fell in with and took a British Privateer & brought her into Alexandria the last of June 1779.

That in March 1780 he enlisted on the same vessel as seaman, Sam'l Walker, Capt. and —— Flagg, Lieut. (no Marines) and sailed for Amsterdam in Holland, conveying some merchant vessels out of the Chesapeake Bay. On the passage the Genl. Washington fell in with & took a large British Merchantman. That he with 7 others was detached to take command of the prize and brought her and 4 prisoners into Philadelphia in July 1780, when she was sold but he never received a cent of the prize money. He then returned home by water to Baltimore & then by land home.

In July 1781 he volunteered under & was appointed Corporal by his old Captain Thomas Pollard; that he forgets the name of his Lieut.; that he marched to the Mobbie [Malvern] Hills below Richmond Va. and his company was there attached to the Command of Col. Merewether & Major Hardy. Thence they marched to a place called Springfield below Williamsburg, Va. & there he was employed with a guard the most of the time in guarding Burwell's large house\(^5\) on York River which was in sight of the British shipping; that his 3 months then expired & he returned home with his Captain in October (he thinks early) in 1781. That he never received any discharges having always returned with his officers and he does not think it was customary with any of his Captains to give discharges. He was well acquainted with Col'o Hooe, Lawyer Simmes, Capt. Ramsey, Capt. Wm. Ellsey, the Fitzhughs, Masons, & Co'o Broadwater all of whom then lived in Alexandria which was then in Fairfax County.

That he emigrated to Pittsylvania County in 1783 where he has resided ever since and in this section of country is well acquainted with the Hon. Nathaniel H. Claibourn, Member of Congress, William Tunstall, Clerk of Pitts. County, Walter Coles, Esq. a Capt. in the regular Army in the late War & many others to whom he refers respectfully.

WILLIAM DIXON.

State of Virginia,
Pittsylvania County.

On the 22nd day of August 1832 personally appeared before the Court of the County, William Dixon, a resident of said county & state aforesaid, aged 70 years, and made the following declaration.

That he enlisted for three years in the army of the United States in the year 1780 (shortly after the defeat of Genl. Gates) with one Wheatly a recruiting officer and served in Col. Litterell's Regiment of the Continental Line, under the following officers. First Col. Litterell, who having been killed at Lindley's mills was succeeded in command by Col. Read, Major Douglass, Captain Richeson and lastly Capt. Trowton, were the officers under whom he served until peace was declared. He belonged to the Cavalry. At the time of his enlistment he resided near Hillsboro, in Orange County & state of North Carolina, after which he was taken to Litterell's Barracks near Salisbury in the county of Rowan & state aforesaid, where he passed the winter of 1780-81. He was frequently detached with his company to suppress & put down the tories, and on one occasion was led to the Cheraw Hills in South Carolina, thence up the Pedee & Yadkin Rivers to the Island ford, where a part of Col. Read's force had a brush with the enemy. A few days before the battle of Guilford he was detached together with the rest of his company to repair to Hillsboro for the purpose of preventing the enemy from taking possession of the ammunition.

After the object of their trip was effected they returned & reached the Main Army at a place called the troublesome iron works in guilford county and state of North Carolina, the first or second night after the battle of Guilford, to which place the Army retreated, it became necessary to destroy or sink the boats & canoes on Dan River between Perkins' & Dix's ferry, he with others was detached for this purpose, being piloted by Dr. Bryant. When peace was declared he returned home. He does not know whether he received a written discharge or not, but recollects well that he received a paper (the contents of which he did not know as he could not read), which he afterwards sold for some money & property. He begs leave to refer to some additional evidence of his claim, now filed in the Treasury department, but which will be transferred to the department of War.

David Wray.

State of Virginia,
Pittsylvania County.

On the 17th day of September 1832 personally appeared before the County Court of said County David Wray a resident of said County aged 81, who on his oath made the following declaration.

That he volunteered in April or May 1778 during the Revolutionary War on an expedition against the Indians in the Western part of Virginia on the borders of New River. He went under Capt. Jno. Donlison,\(^6\) that while on said service he was usually stationed at Lucas's Fort when not in active service. That there were other companies of Militia stationed at different points along said river & adjacent country, each company separate from the others and there was no officer above the grade of captain, the object being to guard the frontier against the Indians.

That said tour was three months & on leaving there he was discharged. That two years thereafter he volunteered in a Militia company from this county then called Henry county, commanded by Capt. Wm. Witcher\(^7\). That in said company he marched first to Salisbury in N. C. thence to Stone River in South Carolina was there attached to Col. David Mason's\(^8\) Regiment, Genl. Lincoln's Brigade. That he performed service there for 5 months & was sick at the time a battle was fought on said river. That he never received any written discharge from that place because Col. Mason authorized Capt. Witcher to give said discharge to all his company and it was neglected as they all lived in said county & neighborhood. That he was afterwards called on to guard five hundred prisoners, who were taken by Genl. Morgan at the Battle of the Cow Pens, which said prisoners were guarded from county to county by the militia of each county, and he aided in Guarding them to Bedford county, Virginia, that as soon as he returned home he was ordered out to Gilford County North Carolina, under Capt. James Brewer, he was stationed near Gilford Court House & during the battle of Gilford he was a waggon guard, that in this tour he served only seven weeks. That his discharge from said service was written all in one with the others of said company & was taken by a man by the name of Hunt, one of said company.

He was commissioned Colonel 15th Virginia regiment November 12, 1776, and resigned July 31, 1778, but as is shown by this declaration, commanded later a volunteer or militia regiment in the Southern Army.

He further states that he was never in any battle, that he cannot now state the day, month, or year in which he entered the service at the different times mentioned or the precise times he left the same. That there were continental troops at Stone in S. C. to the number of 30,000 [3,000?] the different companies or Regiments he cannot specify. That he can now only remember the names of Genls. Green, Lincoln, & Moultrie in the South. That he was born in Brunswick Co. Virginia, date not remembered.

WILLIAM JEFFRESS.

On the 17th day of Sept. 1832 personally appeared in open court before Stephen Colemán, Jno. D. Adams, Vincent Witcher & Wm. M. Williams, the Court of Pittsylvania now sitting, William Jeffress a resident of said County, of state of Va, aged 74 years, who being duly sworn made the following declaration.

That he enlisted in the Army of the United States early in the year 1777 with Samuel Colston in the County of Rich-mond, in the State of Virginia for two years, he was attached to Capt. Jeffres' Company of the Va. State line & marched with him to Alexandria, his men were vaccinated at that place for the Small Pox and remained there about two months, then marched thro' Georgetown to Baltimore & staid there about four weeks, then marched thro' Lancaster to the Valley forge in the State of Pennsylvania, at that place they joined the 15th Regiment under the Command of Major Mercer, in Gen’l Scott’s Brigade. He was then put under Lieut. Burtler, who soon became Captain in the said 15th Regiment of the Virginia Line, they remained at the said Valley forge during the Winter of 1778, early in the Spring the Army marched to Stone Chimney, on its march he was taken sick, & was sent to the Hospital about five miles from the Valley forge. He was confined there untill the month of June when he joined the said company again in the Main Army at the White plains in the State of New York and remained there until the fall, the British then not far off, the American Army persued them from place to place & had an engagement with them at Brandywine, the American Army was forced to retreat & went to White Marsh, thence it was principally marching in different directions until it took up Winter quarters at.

That in the Spring following he was discharged having served two years under that enlistment and then returned home in the year 1779—his discharge is lost or mislaid and cannot be found. He does not know a person now living that was in that Service with him.

In the year 1780 he moved from Richmond County to Pittsylvania County, Virginia, in the Winter of 1781 the British were in the State of North Carolina. He volunteered in a Company of Militia and marched from the County of Pittsyl-vana under Capt. Joshua Stone to Boyd’s Ferry on Dan River, from there into the State of North Carolina, marching in various directions until he arrived at the high Rock, Rockingham County, N. C. He was there discharged by Captain Stone in the month of March 1781, the whole time of Service rendered on this tour was 8 or 9 weeks, his discharge is lost and cannot be found and he does not know a person living that was in Service with him at that time.

About the first of August 1781 he was drafted in a Company of Militia and marched from the County of Pittsylvania under Capt. Wm. Dix and Lieut. David Hunt and Ensign Clement McDaniel to Little York and was stationed there in Col Merryweathers' Regiment until LordCornwallis Surrendered himself and his Army to Genl. George Washington in the month of Oct. 1781. He was then ordered to march with Capt. Chas. Williams and Lieut. David Hunt to guard the British prisoners taken at Little York to Nolands ferry on the Potomac River. He was discharged verbally by Capt. Charles Williams at the said Noland's ferry, in the month of November 1781, the whole time of service rendered on this tour including the time of traveling home being upwards of four months, the service rendered is proved by Isham Farmer and Lewis Haley who were Soldiers with him in the same Company.

He was born in the County of Richmond, State of Virginia, he supposes in the year 1758, he has no record of his age, he lived in the County of Richmond when he enlisted in the Army of the Revolution in the year 1777.

He lived in the County of Pittsylvania when the War ended and lived in the said County 16 years, then moved to the County of Halifax in the State of Virginia, and lived in that County 15 years, then removed to the County of Pittsylvania and has lived in that County ever since.

REVOLUTIONARY ARMY ORDERS

For the Main Army under Washington. 1778-1779.

(From Originals in the Collection in the Virginia Historical Society.)

Ap'1 23, 1778.

Brigadier Genl. to-morrow Poor f. O. Lt. Col. Bassett and Major Haws, Brigade Major Seely.

The Inspector from Gen. Muhlenburgs. A most scandelous performance has made its appearance in the evening post of the 3d of this Month bearing all the marks of a genuine act of Congress setting forth that those brave men who have enlist ed or have bin drafted to serve in Continental Aarmy for any limited time are never the less to be detained during the War between these United States and Great Britain. The Commander in Chief ashores the Army that this Publication is as false as it is wicked and intended to name those who have allready inlisted or have been drafted to desert and to int imidate others from engaging with the service of their Country. Our Enemies finding themselves unable to reduce us by the force of their Arms are now practiseing every insiduous art to gain time and disunite us, but the Genl. hopes that men that have struggled with every difficulty and encountered every dajnner are not to be Conquered by artifices which is so easily exposed. It is necessary to give warning to such weak men that might otherwise be deluded by tracherous promises of the Enemy (and under pretence of sending Deserters from this Army passage free to Great Britain or Ireland, there to be set at large) they Confine them on Ship Board with a view eithor to force them into their Service as Seamen or transport them as Recruits to some Garrison. The Medicine Chests from Poors and Glovers Brigades are to be sent to Mr. Cuttus Apothecary Genl. of the Yellow Springs Immediately to be refilled, from the 1st and 2nd Pennsylvania Brigades next Saturday. A flag will go to Philadelphia on the 28th instant whatever articles are to be sent into our Prisoners they must be left with the deputy Commissary Genl. of Prisoners at David Stewards previous to that time.

The Sentence against Thom’s Rush and Thomas Fitzgerald mentioned in Orders of the 18 Instant are Commited into one Months constant fatigue each. The Commanding Officers of Regiments are desired to prevent their men from straglin that they may be ready to turn out at the shortest notice, it is expected that the several Brigades will be Completed as soon as possible with 40 Rounds p. Man. The B. Q. M. will make out Returns immediately for that purpose. They must be signed by the Command'g Officers of Brigades.

B. O. At a Brigade Court Martial whereof L’t Colonel Brent was President April 27 Frederick Carles of the German Battilion, Tried for attempting to desert to the Enemy, found Guilty of Charge exhibited against him being a breach of the 1st Article 6 Section of the articles of War and Sentence him to Receive one hundred Lashes on his bare back at the head of the Brigade. The Brigadier approves the Sentence and Orders it to be put in execution as soon as possible, but in Consideration of the severe fit of sickness the Prisoner has lately undergone the Brigadier thinks proper to remit one half of his punishment. As several Soldiers belonging to the Brig’e are Seized with perotred fevers the Brig’r wishes to have them seperated from the other Sick, to prevent the Infection from spreading, he therefore Orders a fatigue Party of 20 Men to Parade on Brig’e Parade to morrow morning at 8 O Clock with axes & to erect a Hospital in the Rear of the incampment and to Continue on the fatigue untill the whole is finished, if Waggons are wanted the Brigadiers Waggon can be employed as one.

VIRGINIA GLEANINGS IN ENGLAND.

Communicated by Mr. Lothrop Withington, 30 Little Russell street, W. C., London (including "Gleanings" by Mr. H. F. Waters, not before printed).

ROBERT TERRELL of the City of London, Merchant. Will 20 October 1677; proved 23 November 1677. To Cosen William Terrell, sonn of brother William Terrell, £10. To Cosen —— Terrell, daughter of ditto, £5. To Cosen Mary Alpen £10. To Cosen John Alpen £5. To friend Mr. Robert Vaulx, Merchant, £10. To brother Richmond Terrell 10s for ring. To friend Mrs. Elizabeth Wickens the elder £10. Executor not to be charged with legacies till accounts with Mr. Johnson and others in Virginia shall be settled. To sister Mary Mew bigger silver Cupp. Executor to deliver to brother Richmond Terrell small silver Cupp and Three silver spoones I now have Hale, 120.

[Though the testator was a member of the Fishmonger's Company, it is evident that his business was that of Virginia merchant. Many years before the date of the will he appears to have resided in Virginia. Robert Terrell was a witness to a deed in York Co., January 24, 1647. There is on record in York a power of attorney from John Wiskers (or Wiskens) and John Robinson, merchants of London, to Robert Terrell, citizen and fishmonger of London, authorizing him to collect all debts due them in Virginia. In the same county is a power of attorney from Robert Terrell, citizen and fishmonger of London, intending to take a voyage to England, appointing Thomas Williamson his attorney in Virginia.

Although the will does not specifically say so there can be no doubt that the brothers William and Richmond Terrell lived in Virginia. There is among the manuscripts of this Society a deed dated April 29, 1670, from Richmond Terrell of New Kent county to Henry Wyatt, conveying 600 acres. The deed reserves "100 acres formerly given unto my brother William Terrell and since by him sold to Francis Waring."

On account of the destruction of the records of New Kent, King and Queen, King William and in part of Hanover, it has never been possible to prepare more than a fragmentary account of the Terrells. The descendants of Richmond Terrell lived in Louisa, Hanover, &c., and some notices of them are given in the William and Mary Quarterly XIII, 263-265. The register of St. Peters parish, New Kent, contains only two early Terrell entries; the baptisms of two sons of Timothy Terrell, viz: Robert on December 25, 1697 and Joseph December 31, 1699. Timothy Terrell was probably a son of Richmond. The name Timothy suggests a possible relationship to the family of Tyrrell of Thornton and Oakley, Bucks, England.

The descendants of William Terrell are much more numerous than those of Richmond and more has been published in regard to them; but the early generations which have been given are not supported by any reference to authorities and are evidently entirely traditional. Most of the members of this branch of the family became Quakers, and from the admirable records kept by the Society of Friends, much information can be obtained in regard to these Terrells from a date as early as 1735. See Bell's Our Quaker Friends.

Following are abstracts of early land grants to the Terrells: (1) "Mr.
Richmond Terrell, 640 acres in New Kent on the S. W. side of York River, November 28, 1658; (2) Richmond Terrell, 600 acres on Chickahominy River in New Kent, February 8, 1670; (3) Robert Terrell, 170 acres in St. Stephens parish, New Kent, on the north side of Mattapony River, April 20, 1682; (4) Mrs. Elizabeth Terrell and Thomas Correll, 720 acres in New Kent on the south side of York River, November 20, 1683; (5) Robert Terrell, 63 acres in Middlesex on a branch of Parrott's Creek, October 24, 1701; (6) William Terrell, 300 acres on the S. E. side of Pole Cat Swamp, King William county, June 16, 1714; (7) William Terrell, 100 acres on the north side of Pamunkey in King William county, March 22, 1715; (8) William Terrell, 400 acres on a fork of Pole Cat Swamp, October 31, 1716; (9) William Terrell and Robert Chandler, 300 acres on a fork of Pole Cat Swamp, April 1, 1717; (10) William Terrell and his son William Terrell, 400 acres on Pole Cat Swamp, King William Co., March 18, 1718; (11) William Tyrrell, Jr., 174 acres on Pole Cat Swamp, King William, July 12, 1718; (12) William Terrell of New Kent Co., 400 acres on Pole Cat Swamp, King William Co., January 22, 1718; (13) Joel Terrell of King William, 400 acres in St. Margaret's parish, King William, July 9, 1724; (14) William Terrell, Sr., of New Kent, 220 acres on Pole Cat Swamp, King William Co., January 22, 1718; (15) William Terrell of King William, 237 acres on Pole Cat Swamp, St. Margaret's parish, King William, February 22, 1724; (16) Joseph Terrell of New Kent, 400 acres in Hanover county, September 7, 1729; (17) John Terrell of Caroline county, 400 acres in Spotsylvania county, on the north side of Rapidan River, September 28, 1730; (18) Richmond Terrell, 450 acres in Hanover, April 12, 1732.

Robert Vaulx the "overseer" was a prominent merchant of London and Virginia, and Anthony Horsmanden, one of the witnesses, was brother of Warham Horsmanden of Virginia.

Pile, 26.

John Beauchamp, Saint Giles without Cripplegate, London, Merchant. Will 30 November 1668; proved 17 September 1668. To friend Gilbert Platt, my three brothers and sister and her husband, my Vncle Mr. James Jauncy, and Samuel Fisher, and Mr. Jennings, and John Taylor and his wife, mourning rings, and ditto to Mr. William Fisher in Virginia, and ditto also to friends Mr. Thomas Walton, Mr. Crewes, Collonell Stagge, and Mr. George Jorden. Rest of estate, goods, lands, in Virginia and England, in fower parts, three parts to brother Richard, and Abell Beauchamp, and sister Mary Sampson, and of other part £100 to uncle Mr. James Jauncy, and residue to brother William Beauchamp, and said brother William in regard to being named as an executor, not to take advantage of satisfying himself before brother Richard, and Abell, and sister Mary. Executors: Vncle Mr. James Jauncy and brother William Beauchamp. Witnesses: Vincent Phillipps, Elizabeth Proudman, Widd, Tho. Pounsett, scr.

Hene, 152.

[John Beauchamp, a London merchant trading with Virginia, lived for a time in the colony in Henrico county. By deed recorded in Henrico in February, 1681, William Beauchamp, citizen and vintner of London, heir to his brother John Beauchamp, late of James River, deceased, sold to John Pleasants the plantation in Henrico, formerly owned by John Beauchamp, named Borrow and containing 630 acres.

Gilbert Platt, who is styled "gentleman" in a deed of 1679, died in Henrico where his will was proved in June, 1692. James Crews also lived in Henrico, and was executed for taking part in Bacon's Rebellion, (see this Magazine, IV, 122, 123). Thomas Walton lived, it is believed, in Isle of Wight county. Col. Thomas Stagge was Auditor-General of Virginia, and George Jordan at one time Attorney General.

This is another of the numerous instances in which London merchants whose trade was with Virginia, owned land and occasionally lived in the colony. This was, of course, bound to strengthen the tie between Virginia and her mother city.]

Meade, 88.

[Mrs. Mary Robinson was the widow of John Robinson, chief searcher of the customs at London and a member of the Virginia Company, who died in December, 1609. He had children by a former marriage. She was the daughter of William Ramsey of London, grocer. Her first husband, John Wanton of London, gentleman, died August, 1592, and she married John Robinson on February 26, 1593. She was buried by her two husbands in St. Olaves, Hart Street, London, October 13, 1618. She was a niece of Sir William Ramsey, Lord Mayor of London, who, with his wife Mary, daughter of William Dale, merchant of Bristol, was a great benefactor to many charities. Mrs. Robinson's bequest was used to found a church in Smith's (afterwards known as Southampton) Hundred in Virginia, a great tract of land along the Chickahominy. When the Smith's Hundred Company was dissolved, "Mrs. Mary Robinson's Church" was probably abandoned. In 1619 a person unknown gave to the Virginia Company a communion cup for this church. At some unknown time the cup passed to Hampton (or Elizabeth City) parish and is now the property of St. John's Church, Hampton, Va. This cup and a small paten (also owned by St. John's) bear the date mark 1618-19. The cup is inscribed "The Communion Cupp For S'nt Mary's Church in Smith's Hundred in Virginia," and the paten: "If any man eats of this Bread he shall live for ever. Jno. Vlth." These pieces were used at the opening service of the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Richmond, Va., in 1907. They are the oldest pieces of communion silver which have come down from the colonial period in the United States.

Mrs. Robinson's will gives a fine example of the broad and wise liberality of the old citizens of London. Nicholas Farrer was the well known member of the Virginia Company and the father of Nicholas and John, who were still more prominent in its affairs. Sir John Wolstenholme was also long and actively interested in Virginia. For all of these see Brown's Genesis. George Tucker of Gravesend, also a member of the Virginia Company, was a brother of Daniel Tucker, who lived some years in Virginia, and was afterwards Governor of Bermuda, and father of Henry Tucker, who emigrated to Bermuda and has many descendants there, in the United States and in England.]

[To John, Lord Berkeley, of Stratton.]

My Dearest Brother

Our Secretary [Thos. Ludwell] will give you this letter w'ch is only to desire you to assist him in procuring a patent for a very deserving friend of mine whom I have made Auditor in the place of Mr. Digges lately dec'd. [This was Nathaniel Bacon, Sr.] The gentleman I have given it to is a most worthy person and of a very good family in England, His name is Bacon. Deare Brother shew me al the Kindnesse you can in assisting this my friend. About a fortnight hence I shall write more at large, but this occasion met me at a wedding.

Your most affectionate and most humble servant

March 18, 1674-5

Will. Berkeley

Virg: for the Right honorable the Lord John Berkeley of Stratton one of the Lords of his Ma'ties Private Council.
Sir,—I am so overwearied with riding into all parts of this Country to stop this violent rebellion that I am not able to support myselfe at this Age six months longer and therefore on my knees I beg his sacred Majesty would send a more vigorous Governor.

From on board Sir John Berry's ship.

Feb. 2, 1676-7

Bacon entered the Town, burned five houses of mine and twenty of other gentleman's, and a very Commodous Church. They say he set too with his owne sacraligious hands. But within three weeks after, the justice and judgement of God overtooke him. His usual oath was here sworn (at least 1000 times a day was God damme my blood) and Gode soe infested his blood, that it bred lice in incredible numbers, so that for twenty days he never washt his shirts, but burned them. To this God added the bloody flux, and an honest minister wrote this epitaph upon him:

Bacon's dead. I am sorry at my heart
That lice and flux should act the hangman's part.

ISHAM.—Mrs. Katharine Isham (relict of Col. Henry Isham), of Henrico county, Va., died 1686. Her maiden name was Katharine Banks and her first husband was Joseph Royall. By her second marriage she was mother of Mary Isham, wife of Col. William Randolph, of Turkey Island. The Isham and Randolph families have been traced backward for several centuries. I am seeking the ancestry of this Mrs. Katharine (Banks) Isham. There is a Banks family of considerable note and antiquity in England.

GRANVILLE GOODLOE,
Arkadelphia, Arkansas.

[A pedigree of the Ishams, preserved in England, styles Katharine Banks "of Canterbury."]

RHODES.—I should like to get into correspondence with some one who is acquainted with the history of the Rhodes family in Virginia or North Carolina, either before or after the American Revolution. I shall be obliged to you to include this in your next issue.

Sincerely,

MOFFETT RHODES,

Petition from Lord Culpeper to the King, July 14, 1682.

(As had before happened in 1679, Lord Culpeper had evidently, in 1682, received a severe rebuke for not returning to Virginia. He was given positive orders to sail on the 15th of July. See Cal. State Papers Col., 168-85, p. 266. We are indebted to Miss Edith Elliot, Elmhurst, Camberley, Surrey, Eng., for the copy of the petition here printed.)

To the King's most Excellent Maj'ly.

The petition of Thomas, Lord Culpeper, Gouvernour of Virginia most humbly sheweth.

That he is extremely amazed & dejected at the Ressentment your Maj'ly expressed yesterday, in a matter wherein He was soe farre from having any Designe to displease you, that till the whole thing was completed, He Had not thought within Himselfe or notice otherwise of hav- ing committed the least offence, especially considering former transac- tions in a businesse of the like Nature, and the small time He had for hearings being ready to sett sayle to His government tomorrow.

That since your Ma'ty doth thinke it to be soe great a one, He doth without further Expostulation cast himselfe at your feet, and implore your pardon.

That as farre as He was able, your petitioner was ready to performe your commands, and is still soe If your Maj'ly require it, By Depositing the one Halfe of what He received, and assigning the other on mor'ges supply due to your petitioner from your Ma'ty. Being soe assured of the merits of His cause, that He doth not in the least doubt of gaining the same. And Attesting His Rights against all other pretenders whatsoever that your petitioner is ready tomorrow or with all possible Haste to Repaire to Virgini, having been at great expenses in preparing and fitting himselfe for the voyage.

Your petitioner therefore Humbly implores yout Ma'tys pardon, & that He may not receive such publck demonstracon of your Disfavour. But that He may proceed in His voyage to Virginia where & in all other places, He will continue to doe the Best service He possibly can. And your petitioner shall ever pray, etc.

Tho. Culpeper.

State Papers Domestic, Car. 2, No. 419 Petition of Lord Culpeper.

Gregory Family, &c.

III. William Gregory, son of James Gregory and Patience Godwin, married Sarah Moore, of Perquimans County, N. C., who was the daughter of Maj Charles Moore, of the Revolution, and of Sarah Hunter. Their daughter Elizabeth married Robert Hardy Smith, whose descendants are given in another paper in my possession, by Gregory L. Smith of Mobile Alabama, their grandson.

IV. Thomas Gregory, son of James Gregory and Patience Godwin, married Mary Benton on July 4th, 1767, and left one son and two daughters.

See following wills recorded in the Superior Court of Gates county, N. C.; will of Ann Grenbery, daughter of James Gregory and Patience Godwin, dated July 30th, 1836; will of Jacob Godron, dated September 22nd, 1817; will of Issac Hunter, dated October 15th, 1816; will of Mary Hunter, dated January 23rd, 1838; will of George A. Harvey, dated August 20th, 1820.

WHERE THE GREGORIES LIVED.

Since writing the above I have examined copies of the Vestry book of the Suffolk Parish and of the Vestry book of Upper Parish of Nansemond county, hitherto mentioned, and now filed in the Clerk's Office of said county. From the books it appears that Nansemond county was divided into two parishes known as Suffolk Parish and Upper Parish and each embraced territory on both sides of the Nansemond River. By the Act of the General Assembly of September, 1744, that part of the Upper Parish which was below the following lines was added to the Suffolk Parish, to-wit: "beginning at the head of Duke's Creek" (now known as Brewers Creek and which is about three and one half miles down the river from Suffolk town) "thence running down the said creek to Nansemond River, thence down said river to the mouth of the Western Branch, thence up the said Western Branch its several courses, till it intersects Isle of Wight county line." The said Duke Creek was on the east side of Nansemond River. It appears from the vestry book that Maj. John Gregorie, James Gregory and his two sons John Gregory and Thomas Gregory lived in that part of the county on the east side of the Nansemond River which was thus taken from the Upper Parish and added to the Suffolk Parish. The fact that they lived in the same sub-division of the Suffolk Parish, indicates their relation to each other as of kindred families. And I am of the opinion that the said Maj. John Gregorie was the father of James Gregory (1). Maj. John Gregorie last attended the vestry on the 17th November, 1757, and his resignation was accepted on the 2nd November, 1758. It is reasonable to conclude that his failure to attend the meetings of the vestry and his resignation were due to old age and feebleness. He and James Gregory (1) both died before the date of the will of Mary Gregory. It will be remembered that in her will she gave legacies to the children of her brother James Gregory (1) and commended his son James Gregory (2) to the care of her brother-in-law, Rev. Daniel Earl. In her will she directs, "my body to a decent burial at the feet of my father," thus indicating, as I construe it, a fresh grief over her fathers recent death.

[We are indebted to Mr. M. Ray Sanborn, of Yale University Library, for the following notes from Hearne's Remarks and Collections. The J. Barnes mentioned was of course Joshua Barnes, the famous Greek scholar. He was the son of a London tradesman, was sizar Emmanuel College, Cambridge December 11, 1671, B. A. 1675, M. A. 1679, regius professor of Greek 1695. He died August 3d, 1712, and was buried at Hemingford, Hunts. See Dictionary of Natural Biography.

On April 2, 1687, Jacob Barnes, "liver in ye Isle of Wight county," received a grant of 250 acres near the head of the Southern Branch o the Elizabeth River, Lower Norfolk county, Va, adjoining his own land.—Land Office Records.]

[Hearne., Thomas, Remarks and Collections, pub. by the Oxford Hist. Soc., 1885———; V. 2, p. 167.]

J. Barnes writes to T. Hearne, Feb. 8, 1709, that "he is at Hemingford to meet his only brother Jacob, who after 32 years' absence, made a voyage from Virginia, where his wife and children are, only to see the writer."

[do., do., V. 1, p. ———.]

Among a few scattered notes copied from MSS of J. Barnes relating to persons of the name of Barnes, is the following: "Edward Barnes, who marry'd first wife Anne Cock, by whom he had 8 children, Eliz. & John, &c, both whom dy'd of ye Great Plague 1664, w' th all their children. His second wife Mary Mills, Daughter of John Mills, attorney of ye City of Salisbury, whose Brother was Mayor of Salisbury. Of her he had 13 children, Mary, now living, married to William Meredith, a Cheshire man, a Baker, Jacob, now living in Virginia, &c. Martha, wife of Felix Rhymes an Oxford man, by whom one Daughter Mary, married to Richard Millard, who has two sons, Rob. & Rich. both living, and a Daughter dead. Another Daughter Martha, born 1705, Nov.
Joshua Barnes I, who dyed a 7 aetat. Abrahams, two, both dead, Isaac, Daniel, Sarah and Joshua, II, now 50 years old, 1704.'

The above seems somewhat involved and difficult, so is copied litter-atum.

WM. HARWAR PARKER.—"I do Certify that Lieut. Wm. Harwar Parker served as Lieutenant in the State Navy from the 22nd of Sept. 1777 until the Navy was discharged in November, 1781."

Epitaph of Edwin Wiatt.

Inspection on the north side of the Chancel of Boxley Church at Boxley, near Maidstone, County Kent, England.

"Edwin Wiatt, Sargeant-at-law, son and heire male of Sir Francis Wiat of Boxley Abbey, and Margaret, his wife, was at one time justice of the peace of this county, recorder of Canterbury, and recorder and burgess in parliament for the Corporation of Maidstone; one of the council of the Court before the president and council in the Marches of Wales, and chiefe Justice of the grand sessions for the counties of Carmarthen, Pembroke and Cordigan. He married Frances second daughter and cohere of Thomas Crisp, of Quex in Thanet, Esq., by whom he had Thomas and other sons, and Margareta and other daughters, buried in this chancell, and hath Edwin, Francis and Richard liveing; and erected this monument in 1702. To the memory of Sir Henry Wiat, of Alington Castle, Knight banneret, descended of that ancient family, who was imprisoned and tortured in the Tower, in the reign of King Richard the third, kept in the dungeon, where fed and preserved by a cat. He married Ann, daughter of Thomas Skinner, Esq., of Surrey, was of the privy council to King Henry the Seventh and King Henry the Eighth, and left one son, Sir Thomas Wiatt of Alington Castle, who was esquire of the body to King Henry the Eighth, and married Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Brooke lord Cobham, and well known for learning and embassys in the reign of that King. Sir Thomas Wiatt of Alington Castle, his only son, married Jane, youngest daughter of Sir William Hawt, of this county, and was beheaded in the reign of Queen Mary, leaving George Wiatt, his only son who lived to age, who married Jane, daughter of Sir Thomas Finch of Eastwell and Katherine his wife, restored in blood by act of parliament of the 13th of queen Elizabeth, and leaving only two daughters, Anna, who married Roger Twisden of Royden Hall, esq., and Jane who married Thomas Scot, esq. George Wiatt was succeeded by his eldest son, Sir Frances Wiatt, twice governor of Virginia, and married Margaret daughter of Sir Samuel Sandys of Ombersley in Worcestershire. George Wiat left also Hawt Wiat, who died vicar of this parish, and hath issue living in Virginia; and left also Elionora, married to Sir John Finch, baron of Forditch. Sir Francis Wiat by his wife Margaret, had issue the said Edwin Wiat, and also Elizabeth, who married Thomas Basville of Little Note, Hinsford, esq, and by him hath Margaretta, his only daughter and heire, who is married to Sir Robert Marsham, of the Mote in Maidstone, Knight and baronet."

(The Wiat quarterings are given on the Monument.)

Note.—Hawt Wiat is now spelled Hawte Wyatt, and Alington Castle usually has two l's.

Hanna Records.

Contributed by Edward A. Claypool, Genealogist, Chicago, Vice-President of Old Northwest Genealogical Society for Illinois.

John Hanna, son of Robert Hanna of Galloway, Scotland married about 1742 Mary Ervin of English family. He lived at Buffles Church, Prince Edward county, Virginia and died before August 30, 1765, at which date his widow Mary, son Robert and daughter Jane received a letter of withdrawal from the church as shown by the following:

"Certificate
That Mary Hanna, widow, her son Robert and her daughter Jane, were for some years orderly members of this congregation, have behaved honestly, soberly, Christianly, are free from any scandal or church censure. They have been admitted to sealing ordinances with us, and are now recommended to Christian communion wherever Providence may order their lot. Is certified at Buffles, Prince Edward County, Virginia, August 30, 1765.

By Me Rich'd Sanky, R. D. M."

[See The House of Hanna, by Sarah A. Hanna.]

Robert and Mary (Parks) Hanna removed in 1801 to Waynes Purchase in the Northwest Territory and in 1804 settled in the Whitewater Valley near what is now the town of Brookville, Indiana, hence the following records which are not included in the above named book are worthy of preservation.

In the Sim's Cemetery, Brookville, Indiana, are the following epitaphs:

Robert Hanna—Who was born Dec. 10, 1744 and departed this life the 24th of January, 1821. He was a brave defender of his country's Rights—and lived and died an honest man.

Mary Parks Hanna—Who was born the 10th of April, 1748 and departed this life the 1st day of June, 1834.
Birth register of the children of Robert Hanna and his wife Mary Parks Hanna, from the Bible given by Mary Parks Hanna to her daughter Katherine Hanna Hitch in 1803.

[All born in Laurens District, S. C.]

Description of William and Mary College, 1765.

(From The Hawtrey Family, by F. M. Hawtrey, Vol. I, p. 146.)

The next letter, dated a year later than the last, is from my grand-father to his brother Edward [Hawtrey], then a young man of twenty-four. It seems there was a Mastership vacant in a school in America, which Edward might get. His brother sends him information about it.

"Brick Court, 26th March 1765.

"Dear Ned,—Since you left London, I called at the Virginia Coffee House to endeavour to find out Mr. Small, but could learn no Tidings of him, therefore left a note for him desiring him to let me know where I might see him; in consequence of this, he called on me a few days since, and gave me what particulars he knew relating to the College. He is a polite, well-bred man, and said he should be glad to give you any information in his power in regard to the College.

"As well as I can remember his account is this: The College was founded by Mr. Blair in Wm. and Mary's time, who granted a Charter to a Rector and twenty Visitors of that place, with power to appoint a president and 6 professors, one of which you are appointed, tho' they have given it the name of Grammar School Master. These Visitors have also a power by their Charter to make Statutes for the good Government of the College. Your Salary is £150 Sterling, paid as regularly as if at the Bank of England. Every boy pays a pistole Entrance money and 20s. Sterling per annum, out of which you pay the first Usher (there being two) 5s. Tho' I said that every boy pays this sum, it would be speaking more properly to say they ought to pay it, for they are very irregular in their payments of that, and unless you look sharp after it and insist upon your right you may stand a chance of not receiving above one fourth.

"You have two rooms—by no means elegant, tho' equal in goodness to any in the College—unfurnished, and will salute your eyes on your entrance with bare plaster walls. However, Mr. Small assures me they are what the rest of the Professors have, and are very well satisfied with the homeliness of their appearance, tho' at first sight rather disgusting. He thinks you will not chuse to lay out any money on them.

"You may buy Furniture there, all except bedding and blankets, which you must carry over; chairs and tables rather cheaper than in England. He says his Furniture consists of 6 chairs, a Table, grate, Bed and Bedstead, and that is as much as you'll want.

* * * * * *

"He says you must have one Suit of handsome full-dressed Silk cloaths to wear on the King's birthday at the Governor's, the only time you will have to appear fine in the whole year, but then it is expected that all English Gentlemen attend and pay their respects. However, you'll have no occasion for them this year, as you'll be hardly got there before the 4th of June. As to the rest of your Wearing apparel, you may dress as you please, for the fashions don't change, and you may wear the same Coat 3 years.

"Your passage at the outside won't cost you thirty pounds to defray which expence the Visitors have or will order some Merchant in London to pay you twenty pounds, the same as was paid Mr. Small when he first went over, so you may be certain you will have the same.

"You will have much confinement. They break up" (in summer)

"for a month, and twice in the year besides, for a fortnight each time. As to laying in your provisions for the Voyage, he advises you ag'in it, as you will find it very troublesome. Only agree with the Captain to give him a certain sum for your passage and board, that is, breakfast, dinner, and supper, and wine twice a day, for which he says you won't pay above twenty guineas. Shoes and Stockings are very dear articles. Thread Stockings are worn chiefly. I shall go to Eton this week; if you want to know anything further write me word, tho' I don't believe I have omitted anything.

"I hope you found all well at Exeter; my Duty and Love to all.—Believe me, Dr. Ned, Yours most sincerely, Steph. Hawtrey."

* * * Ultimately I conclude that the Virginian School scheme fell through, or possibly Edward went there, but remained only for a short time, for in little more than a year after the above letter was written, another is addressed to him by his brother John." (From wh. it seems he was going to be a master at Eton.)
NOTES FROM THE VIRGINIA COURT RECORDS RESPECTING GILES BRENT, HIS SON GILES AND OTHERS.

Northumberland County, Nov. 25, 1672, Captain Giles Brent, Esqr., was appointed administrator of the estate of John Rookwood, deceased.

Deed, dated April 17, 1654, from Giles Brent of Peace in the County of Westmoreland Esqr. to his sister Mrs. Mary Brent of the same place—conveying the whole of his personal estate in Virginia and Maryland, in trust to educate his children decently and Christianly and to allow maintenance to Mary wife of the said Brent. The said Giles Brent is about to go to England.

3. Christopher* Robinson (Christopher*) was born (Register) in 1681, and died February 20, 1726-7. He inherited in childhood his father's home plantation and other property in Middlesex county, and on the death of his uncle, Bishop Robinson, in 1723, received from him the bequest of the manor of Hewick or Hawick in Yorkshire, England. The William and Mary College Catalogue shows that he was educated at that institution. He was a member of the House of Burgesses for Middlesex at the sessions beginning Oct. 25, 1710, Nov. 16, 1714, and probably other years, as the records are imperfect. The inventory of the personal estate of Christopher Robinson in Middlesex was recorded in the court of that county March 28, 1727. Its total value was £1,063.10.3, and among the articles included were a watch, a silver seal, "a picture of the Bishop of London," 16 books, "a parcel of old books" (valued at 10 sh.), and articles at "Gordon's Store," and the "lower burnt house."

Christopher Robinson married, October 12, 1703 (Register), Judith, widow of William Beverley, and before of Corbin Griffin, and daughter of Col. Christopher Wormeley, of Middlesex Co., member of the Council. The parish register has the following entry of her birth: "Judith Wormeley ye Daughter of Collo. Christoph'ër Wormeley & Frances Wormeley his wife was born ye 25th of May & baptized At home 7th June 1683." Her will was dated Nov. 15, and proved in Middlesex Dec. 6, 1720. She gave her husband, Christopher Robinson, all of her estate, including all of her lands in Middlesex, James City and Essex counties, They had issue:

11. Judith,7 died aged about 5 years.
13. Benjamin,7 born about 1707 (Chart) and died Aug. 23, 1723 (Register).
14. Judith,7 born about 1711 (Chart). She was probably the Judith Robinson who died Nov. 18, 1720 (Register).
15. Frances,7 born Oct. 8, 1714 (Register).
17. Peter,7 (of whom hereafter).

5. JOHN6 ROBINSON (Christopher5) was born in 1683 (Chart) and died Aug. 24, 1749 (Chart). His father, in 1693, bequeathed £50 towards keeping him at school in England, and he no doubt was under the charge of his uncle, the Bishop, while there. His father bequeathed him 1,100 acres on the Piankethank river, Middlesex county, and he doubtless lived on this plantation when he returned to Virginia, as he represented Middlesex county in the House of Burgesses in the sessions beginning Nov. 7, 1711, and Nov. 16, 1714. In a letter from Governor Spotswood to the Lords of Trade, March 9, 1713, he recommended to fill a possible vacancy in the Council, “Mr. John Robinson Nephew of ye present Bishop of London. He is now with his Uncle, and if he return hither, (which is yet uncertain,) I hope y'r Lo'ps will afford him ye hon'r of serving her Maj'ty in a Station he is well qualified for.” In a letter to Bishop Robinson, dated March 13 of the same year, the Governor writes: “A Vacancy happening in the Council here I am very desirous it should be supplied by one of y'r Lo'p's Family, assuring my Self y't such having always before their Eyes y'r Lo'p's Example will be true to ye Interests of ye Church and of ye State. I offer'd this fact to Mr. Christopher Robinson, but found him unwilling to quit on y't Acc't of the Naval Officer's place. Upon w'ch I have now recommended to be added to ye Council Mr. John Robinson, one whose qualifications for that Trust, (I'm persuad'ed) are not inferior to any other in this Country. I should have been loath to loose him out of our House of Burgesses (where he has done remarkable service,) were it not to give him an opportunity of serving her Maj'tie in a more hon'ble Station, and as I hope your Lo'p will not only approve, but encourage his accepting thereof, w'ch is the more necessary in regard he is not related to any of ye present Council, of which are two [too] many Already of one Kindred [the Burwell-Ludwell-Harrison connection]; And that he may with greater ease, support that Character I have reserv'd for him an Agency of Considerable profite, which is lately erected at the Town where he lives [Urbanna?].” He also states that he is arranging to obtain a county clerkship for the younger brother, Benjamin.

Notwithstanding the Governor's good wishes, John Robinson did not become a member of the Council until 1720. He retained his seat until the end of his life, becoming president of the body. On June 20, 1749, on the departure of Governor Gooch for England, Robinson became acting Governor of Virginia; but his tenure of office was ended by his death a few months later.

John Robinson lived first in Middlesex and afterwards at "Piscataway" or "Piscataqua," in Essex. He married first, about 1701, Katherine, daughter of Major Robert Beverley, of Middlesex. (The second wife of Christopher Robinson, the emigrant, was step-mother alike of John Robinson and of his wife, Katherine Beverley.) John Robinson married secondly Mary, widow of Thomas Welch and before of Francis Merriweather, and daughter of Lancelot Bathurst, of New Kent county. There is on record in Essex the marriage settlement, dated Jan. 5, 1731, between Hon. John Robinson, of Spotsylvania Co., (where he seems to have lived a short time), and Mrs. Mary Welch, of Essex, widow. In addition to personal property, valued at upwards of £750, she owned 65 negroes. There was no issue by this marriage.

John and Catherine Robinson had issue:

18. Christopher. His birth on July 1st, 1703, is recorded as "Sone of Mr. John Robinson and Madam Catherine his wife" (Register). Foster's Oxford Matriculations has the following: "Robinson, Christopher, son of John, of Middlesex, Virginia, gent., Oriel Coll., matric. 12 July, 1721, aged 18. B. A., 1724; M. A., 1729; fellow at his death 20 April, 1738."

19. Mary, born Jan. 3, 1706-7 (Register).
22. Robert, born Oct. 20, 1711 (Register), Captain of an East Indian (the Cataract); buried at Gravesend.
23. Katherine, born Feb. 23d, 1715 (Register). The Virginia Gazette, July 13-20, 1739, contains a notice of her marriage: "On Thursday the 5th inst. at Piscataqua, in Essex County, Mr. Peter Wagener, Attorney at Law, only son of the Reverend and Worshipful Peter Wagener, Esq.; of the County of Essex in England, was married to Miss Katy Robinson, only Daughter of the Honorable John Robinson, Esq., one of his Majesty's Council, a Young Lady of very amiable qualifications." In Miss Lindsay's Lindsays of America it is stated that Peter Wagener, who married Catherine Robinson, was born at Sisted, Essex, Eng., April 5, 1717, his father being rector of that place. There are numerous descendants of this marriage.

24. Henry (of whom hereafter).

THE ENGLISH DESCENT OF JOHN PLEASANTS (1645-1668),
OF HENRICO COUNTY, VIRGINIA.

By J. Hall Pleasants, Baltimore, Md.

The descendants of John Pleasants, the emigrant, who settled in Virginia about 1665, are sufficiently numerous to make the unravelling of his English descent a matter of some little interest. In tracing this descent in England two factors have been of great help; a knowledge of the birth place of the emigrant and the fact that the name is sufficiently uncommon to readily establish the question of identity.

We are indebted to the Quaker "memorials" of John Pleasants and his wife, Jane Pleasants, for many facts in regard to their lives. About thirty years ago these "memorials" were published in "The Friend," and the numerous references to the emigrant which have since appeared in various published Virginia genealogies apparently owe their origin to these. Here we find the statement that John Pleasants was born in Norwich, England, settled in Virginia in 1665, when about twenty-one years of age. and established himself at Curles, Henrico county. He married Jane, the widow of Capt. Samuel Tucker, of Bristol. He is said to have become converted to Quakerism after he came to Virginia. Although bearing every evidence of truth, it has been a matter of considerable difficulty to trace the origin and authenticity of these "memorials." They were not to be found among the records of the Baltimore yearly meetings where the original Virginia Quaker records are deposited. They were finally traced to Philadelphia, where they were found in the Ridgway Library among the original "Smith Manuscripts," bearing the date 1747 to 1760. They agree in all respects with later published versions, except that in the original, the age of the emigrant is not given. We are concerned here, however, less with the emigrant than with his English ancestry, so only a brief reference will be made to a few important facts in his life. The earliest land patent to John Pleasants is dated Oct. 1, 1679 (Book 7, p. 12), and is for "548 acres lying in Henrico Co., north side of James River and Four Mile Creek adjoining land of Capt. Matthews." In Feb., 1682 (Henrico Co. Court Records 1682, p. 135—O. B.), complaint was entered against "John Pleasants and Jane Tucker als. Larcome als Pleasants (quakers) defend'ls have shewed that the sd. two p'sons doe unlawfully accompany themselves together as man and wife without legall marriage, and also that they have made a breach of three penall lawes of this Country Viz't . . . absence from the Church . . . refuseing to have their children Baptized . . . for haveling and suffering a Conventicle at or near their house . . and as being pr'sent and members of the sd. Conventicle," Judgment in their favor was entered on the first charge of not being legally married, but they were found guilty of the last three charges and fined. An appeal was entered, and we learn later that the question was carried to England and brought before the Lords of Trade and Plantations. In the "Calendar of State Papers, America and West Indies," 1681-1685, p. 497, a letter from Lord Culpepper, dated Sep. 20, 1683, states that "Pursuant to instructions for liberty of conscience I stopped execution against a Quaker John Pleasance who was indicted for not attending church, pending signification of the King's pleasure." In the Journal of Lords of Trade and Plantations, under date of Sep. 22, 1683 (Ibid, p. 503), we find "an instruction to be added for further respite of sentence on John Pleasants," and later "Additional instructions to Lord Howard of Effingham to continue to stay execution against the Quaker, John Pleasants already stayed by Lord Culpeper."*

It is unnecessary to add that persecution of the Quakers in Virginia was at its height about this time. The Quaker marriage ceremony was an especial object of attack, but even the prejudiced provincial courts refused to countenance these attempts to upset its validity.

John Pleasants died in 1698. His will, dated "27th of 7'ber 1690," was filed in the Henrico county court by the testator in person, Oct. 3, 1690. The will is a lengthy one, but we are interested here with a few of its provisions. Bequests are made to "my Brother Sam'el Pleasants and to his heirs for ever and for each of such Issue unto my Brother Benjam'n Pleasants and to the heirs of his Body for Ever, and for each of such Issue unto my Brother Thomas Pleasants." Further reference is made to "my Brothers and Sisters in England," and a bequest of twenty pounds is given to "my Dear and Loving mother—if living." A codicil dated May 11, 1697, and recorded by "the prayer of Mrs. Jane Pleasants June 1 1698," indicates that John Pleasants probably died about the latter date.

Jane Pleasants, the widow, died in 1708—9. Her will, dated Jan. 2, 1708, and proved in ——, 1709, is also recorded in Henrico county. John and Jane Pleasants left three children: (1) John, who married Dorothy Cary, daughter of Thomas Cary; (2) Joseph, who married —— Cocke; (3) Elizabeth, who married James Cocke.

For investigating the descent of John Pleasants in England the following established facts in regard to the emigrant were available: that he was born in Norwich, England, about 1645; that he had at least three brothers living in 1690—Samuel, Benjamin and Thomas; that these and certain unmarried sisters, as well as his mother, were living in England in 1690. With these data the pedigree of the emigrant for four preced-

BOOK REVIEWS.

The preface and introduction of this tasteful volume constitute in themselves the best review that can be written of the book. It is a republication in handsome and enduring form of the "History Reports" prepared for the Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans of Virginia; the main purpose of them being to prevent the poisoning of the minds of the youth of the South by a protest against the use of sectional and partisan so-called histories in the public and private schools of Virginia and the South.

The protest was timely, the need of it urgent and the effect salutary—though not as complete as may be desired.

Dr. Smith's introduction, in the temperate and judicial tone which characterizes all his writings, is admirable and constitutes a fitting "foreword" to the Reports which follow. In these strenuous days many parents are too much engrossed with the problem of subsistence to have time to supervise the text books of their children; and had it not been for the recurring Confederate Re-unions and an occasional monument to the Confederate heroes, the Cause so dear to the memories of those who do remember, would have been accepted as a "Rebellion" in fact, if not actual "treason," by many of the younger generations. We had "school marm's" from "over the border," occasionally, in addition to the insidious "histories" that were used in the schools—and the revolt on the part of the Confederates against such teachings through the action of their "Camps" came none too soon.

While we can not endorse all the strictures on John Fiske's historical writings, it can not be gainsaid that on the whole, these "Reports" are temperate and conservative and have effected wholesome and patriotic results.

Judge Christian's vindication of the part Virginia played in the war, rendered almost necessary by the too much vaunting of a bordering state, is wholly conclusive and highly gratifying; and Dr. McGuire's two papers on Stonewall Jackson are beyond praise. No old Confederate, no loyal child of any old Confederate can read them without emotions of pride—though the tears fall while the heart swells.

The book ought to be in the home of every family which cherishes the memories of Virginia at her best for the "Reports," taken as a whole, thoroughly vindicates both the cause and the conduct of the war on the part of the South.

As is well known, Dr. McGuire was the Medical Director of Jackson's Corps, and the confidential friend and physician of his great chieftain, whom he attended in his last hours; and Judge Christian was a gallant officer in that immortal army that so long carried the fortunes of the Confederacy on its bayonets.

Statements from them are words of truth and sobriety, and carry conviction in their utterance; yet they have not failed to verify them by the official records.

It would be most appropriate for the "Sons" and "Daughters of the Confederacy" to constitute themselves general agents for the wide distribution of this book.

Forty Years of Active Service. Being Some History of the War between the Confederacy and the Union and of the Events Leading up to it, with Reminiscences of the Struggle and Accounts of the Author's Experiences of Four Years from Private to Lieutenant-Colonel and Acting Colonel of the Army of Northern Virginia. Also Much of the History of Virginia and the Nation in Which the

These straightforward stories of honorable lives do not require elaborate analysis or criticism. Instead of attempting this in regard to any one of them, it is deemed that the space at our disposal would be better filled by giving our readers a group of Virginia biographies published in the last few years, and which have not been before noticed here. It is a list of names of pure and high minded men, who have in their respective walks of life deserved well of the State and have served it with distinction. The characters of the men and their careers were varied, and the merit of the lives is unequal, but there is no need for invidious comparisons here. The life stories were, in the main, worth telling, and all of the lives are worth reading. From the point of view of a historical society the amount of valuable material gathered in these works for the future historian is of especial interest. Withers, McIlwaine, Dabney, Goode, Mason, Broadus and O’Ferrall, during their distinguished careers, touched almost every phase of public and private life in Virginia, and what they tell of themselves, or is told of them, is bound to be worth knowing by those who wish to know Virginia during the last half of the Nineteenth Century.

Among the American families of Bowles, this book gives considerable space to the names in Virginia.

The total destruction of the records of King and Queen county is, of course, a very great impediment in the way of any historical work in regard to the county, and Dr. Bagby’s book has suffered on this account. It also shows lack of experience in historical and genealogical investigations. The author, however, has labored earnestly to do the best with his materials, and has collected much which will interest King and Queen people and their descendants. The successive chapters treat of the geographical location of the county and its origin, resources, climate, &c., George Rogers Clark, churches and old homes, Civil War annals, King and Queen poems, life on the old plantation, colored people of King and Queen, genealogies and miscellaneous matters. The "Civil War Annals," with its account of the capture of Dahlgren, and a number of war time diaries, letters, rosters, &c., is of especial interest.

This book, which is as carefully prepared and as handsomely published as Mr. Leach's work always is, treats of the name of Tree in England, and of the family descended from Captain Lambert Tree, who settled in Pennsylvania in the latter half of the Eighteenth Century. We notice one error, in which it is stated that Hog Island, represented by Richard Tree in the Virginia Assembly in 1629, was in Northampton county. It is really on James river, not far from Jamestown, and is in Surry county.

Makemie Land. An Address Delivered May 14, 1908, at the Unveiling, &c., of the Monument at Holden's Creek, Accomack County, Virginia, to the Rev. Francis Makemie, Founder of the Organized Presbyterian Church in America. By John Stevenson McMaster, pp. 16.

Epitome of the Life of "Ossawatomie" John Brown, Including the Story of His Attack on Harpers Ferry and His Capture, Trial and Execution, as Related by Cleon Moore, Esq., of Charles Town, W. Va. Mrs. Livia Simpson Poffenbarger, Editor and Publisher, Point Pleasant, W. Va. 1907, pp. 22.

All of these pamphlets are readable and interesting but the one which will attract most general attention is Mr. McMaster's address on the occasion of the erection of a monument at the grave of Makemie. The Presbyterian Historical Society has done good work in recovering the burying ground from desecration and in erecting this memorial.
