May 3, 1688. Several of the 5 Nations taken Prisoners by the French at Canada and ed [sic] by King James 2, they having Submitted to his Government and thereby became Subjects.

May 12, 1688. Council advise the Governor to dissolve the Assembly then sitting for refusing to repeal the Act against Planting after the last of June.¹

¹By Act VII, October, 1686, the Assembly had directed that no tobacco be planted or replanted after the 1st of June, under penalty of a fine of 10,000 pounds of tobacco. (Hening, IV, 35.) At the session of September, 1696, this act was repealed. (Ib., 142.)
Governor and Council supplicate his Majesty to Signify what fee should be allowed to the Governor upon the Seal.²

Lord Howard informed the Board that Colo. Charles Scarborough,⁴ among other discourses said to him that his Majesty wou'd wear out the Church of England and upon his Lordship’s asking how he said when there is any Vacancy he fills up the Place with Men of another Persuasion for which he reproved him, for what Major Scarborough was Ordered to appear the 2d day of next Court to answer what shall be objected against him.

The Order about N. Kent Court revoked.

⁵ This entry shows how widespread was the discontent with the government of James II. Col. Charles Scarborough, of Accomac county, was son of Col. Edmund Scarborough, long a leading figure on the Eastern Shore of Virginia, and nephew of the distinguished English physician, Sir Charles Scarborough (see this Magazine, IV, 316-318). He received a number of large grants of land, was arrested during Bacon's Rebellion for “uttering divers slanderous and mutinous words” in regard to Governor Berkeley, but escaped with a fine of £40 sterling; was a member of the House of Burgesses for Accomac at the session of June, 1680; April, 1684; April, 1688; April, 1691, and April, 1692 (Colonial Virginia Register, and Va. Mag. of Hist. and Biog., X, 237; XIII, 94; XV, 320, 438). His opposition to King James evidently did not hurt him with the government of William and Mary, for in 1691 he was appointed to the Council, and in 1692 was Collector of the Eastern Shore, Naval Officer of the same, Commander-in-Chief of Accomac and presiding justice of that county. He died about 1703. He probably married more than once; but one of his wives was a daughter of Governor Richard Bennett.
They Order the Old Seal which was small to be used until Parchment and Wax can be provided fit for the New One.

Nath'l Bacon being first in the List of the Council, named President tho' Spencer still Living which Bacon seemed to decline.

King William by his Letter dated 21 Feb., 1688, Commands the Old Seal to be made use of till he should Order another. Lord Howard writes to the Governor to North Carolina Complaining that some Officers of his Government had taken the goods of sundry Inhabitants of this Colony by distress towards defraying the Charge of that Government under pretence that their Lands which were granted to them by the King were within their Bounds and desiring that they be not hereafter disturbed.

April 16, 1689. Nath'l Bacon sits in Council President. Scarburgh appears and says he told the Lord Howard he heard another Person speak the words charged thereupon. So this prosecution is remitted and he discharged from his bond.

April 20. President and Council upon the Petition of Robert Thomas complaining that the County Court of Isle of Wight had made several Orders against him in the time of his Sickness and Executions issued on those Orders, order that the Clerk transcribe all those Orders and return them to the General Court.

John Waugh, Clerk. Berr [Burr] Harrison and John West ordered to be taken into Custody by the Sherif of Stafford

6 Nathaniel Bacon (1620–1692), of York county, Va., son of Rev. James Bacon, Rector of Burgate, Suffolk, Eng., and grandson of Sir James Bacon, of Friston Hall, came to Virginia about 1650, was several times in the House of Burgesses, appointed to the Council, 1660, Auditor General, 1675–1687, President of the Council, and, as such, acting Governor in 1689. He married Elizabeth, daughter of Richard Kingsmill, but had no issue. See a notice of his life and family in this Magazine, II, 125–129.

6 Rev. John Waugh was for many years minister of a parish in Stafford county, where he was living as early as 1666. At the time of the depo-and convey'd on board the King's Ketch the Deptford Capt. Berry Com'r that they may with better Security be removed to Nominy there to be Examin'd by Secretary Spencer and Rich'd Lee Esq'r touching a Commotion raised by them and Spreading abroad a Rumour that the Papists and Indians had made a Plot to cut the throats of the Protestants and if they found Cause to transport them to Northampton—or otherwise to take Bond for their Appearance on the 4th day of the next General Court. And George Mason7 being suspected to have countenanced these Factious reports turn'd out of the Commission of Peace and removed from his Command in the Militia. Other People take Arms in the upper parts of Rappahannock on Account of the same Plot to defend themselves against Indians and Papists and 3 of the Council dispatched to take them and Examine them. A Committee of 3 Councillors appointed to meet in Cases requiring a speedy Meeting of the Council.

situation of James II, Virginia, like England, was agitated by rumors of "Popish plots." John Waugh greatly inflamed the people of Stafford by his harangues on this subject. Mr. Waugh was elected to the House of Burgesses for the session of April, 1699, but was declared ineligible as a clergyman. He died in 1706, leaving a widow, Christian, and sons Joseph, John, Alexander and David. See William and Mary Quarterly, XV, 190, 191; XVII, 68, 69.

John West was at one time clerk of Stafford county, and was ancestor of the Wests of Loudoun, Fairfax, &c. (William and Mary Quarterly, X, 68, 69; Richmond Critic III, 47; though the earlier generations in the Critic genealogy are incorrect.) Burr Harrison was son of Cuthbert Harrison, and was baptized at St. Margaret's, Westminster, December 28, 1637. He emigrated to Virginia and was a prominent man in Stafford county. He was ancestor of the Harrisons of Northern Virginia.

1Col. George Mason, of Stafford county, second of the name, was, like his father, County Lieutenant of Stafford, and was a Burgess for that county at the sessions of April, 1688; April, 1691; October, 1693; April, 1695; September, 1696; April and October, 1697; September, 1698; April, 1699; August, 1701, and May and June, 1702. (Va. Mag. of Hist. and Biog., XIII, 94; XV, 439, 441, 442; Colonial Virginia Register.) He married three times, and died in 1716. The eminent George Mason of the Revolutionary period was his grandson. See Miss Rowland's George Mason, I, 16–39, 373–375.
April 26, 1689. President and Council appoint the 23 of May following for Proclaiming King Wm. and Queen Mary.

April 30. President and Council suspend the Judgments and Executions against Robert Thomas and Order the whole Affair to be settled and the matter referred back to Isle of Wight and Colo. Lear ordered to be present.

Edward Davis, Lionel Delewafer and John Hinson were by Cap. Simon Row Commander of his Majesty's Ship Dun seized

8 In Virginia the old loyalty to the Stuarts was dead, and nowhere was the accession of William and Mary more heartily welcomed. Williamsburg, William and Mary College, King William, King and Queen and Orange counties are memorials of Virginia's regard for her new rulers. Throughout the colony, at Jamestown and at the county courthouses, they were proclaimed amid great rejoicing. An extract from the records of Henrico will give an example:

"A meeting held at Varina, May 23rd, 1689."

Present the commissioned officers of the county, civil and military, the settled militia thereof and other inhabitants.

This day "Theire Royall Ma'isies William and Mary" were proclaimed, which proclamation was made with "fireing of guns, beat of drum, sound of trumpet and ye universall Shouts and Huzzahs of ye people assembled."

At the same time the following were recorded and doubtless read to the people:

(2) Proclamation for Virginia from the Royal Council.

(3) Proclamation by the King and Queen.

9 These three pirates were probably entitled to the benefits of the royal proclamation, but they had too many valuable possessions for the freebooting naval officers of the time to let them off lightly. They were taken to England, and on March 10, 1691-2, the Privy Council ordered their release and pardon on condition (a condition proposed by the pirates) that £300 of their money then in England, and one-fourth of what was in the hands of one Captain Rowe, should be given to William and Mary College about to be chartered. This "deal" was the handiwork of that shrewd Scotchman, Rev. Dr. James Blair. See the order of the Privy Council, William and Mary Quarterly, VII, 165.
and Secured at the Mouth of James River, 1688, upon suspicion of being Pirates having a Considerable Quantity of Plate and Money with some other things according to an Inventory thereof taken, and were brought before the Governor (Lord Howard) then in Council and upon their Examination they declared they had been trading and had come from Bermudas to Pensylvania, from Pensylvania to Maryland and from Maryland in a Shallop down the Bay with Intention to go to Lynhaven in this Colony there to set themselves down and Produced Passes under the hand of two Justices of Peace in those Provinces. The Governor suspected the Plate, Money & Goods to be piratical, therefore secured them and Committed the Persons to James City Goal there to remain till the Matter be represented unto his Majesty and his Majesty’s Pleasure: But the 16 of August these Persons Petitioned the Governor and pray’d the Benefit of the King’s Proclamation for the more Effectual reducing Pirates and Privateers upon which they affirmed they came in and the Proclamation being Published the 6 of August they apprehended themselves to be within it. The Governor told them the matter lay before the King and that he could not proceed until his Majesty’s Pleasure signified. On the 18 of April they again Petitioned the President and Council setting forth their whole case and praying to be enlarged and their Plate &c restored, upon which the Council advised and for answer returned that his Majesty by the Lord Sunderland’s Letter was pleased to Signifie that they or any other persons who shall be apprehended for Piracy be prosecuted according to Law at such time & in such Manner as Sir Robert Holmes or his Agent shall desire And Capt. Berry being Sir Robert’s Deputy was to be acquainted with the Petition before any Proceeding could be had they Petition’d again the 23 April to which the Council answered that Capt. Berry was expected soon in Town and it was necessary to know what Orders he had received from Sir Robert Holmes and Capt. Berry was afterwards acquainted with this Petition and he answered that according to his direction from Sir Robert he could not Proceed to trial until the Plate &c. were deliver’d to him. Which considered by the Council they were of Opinion it was not consistent with the Present Case that the Money &c. should be removed until the Case was fully heard and determined. The 29 April they petition again to the same Effect as before upon which the Council resolve that as they came in Voluntarily and Capt. Berry refused to proceed to trial of them that the Money should remain where it was lodged by his Excellency and that they giving Security for their good Behaviour should be permitted to take a Voyage to England in Order to receive his Majesty's Pardon or be proceeded Against according to Law and they are allowed 30£ apiece out of their Money to defray their Charges and Wm. Edwards, Clerk of Council ordered to take out of the Chest in presence of Ralph Wormeley and Christopher Wormeley Esq'rs and ordered that a further sum be paid out of it to Geo. Marable and another to Nich Spencer.

President Bacon, 18 October, 1689, appoints Wm. Cole,10 Secretary in the Room of Nich. Spencer then lately deceased according to the form of other Commission for that Office and gives him a power to appoint County Court's Clerks.

Duke of Shrewsbury by his Letter dated February 15th, 1689, Notifies to the Governor of Virginia the Preparations which were making for a speedy War with France and that his Majesty intended to send forth a considerable Squadron of Ships into the West Indies for Securing the Plantations and directs the Governor to put every thing within his Government in a Posture of Defence and Opposing any Attempt of the French upon his Majesty's Colony of Virginia and by another 19 April acquaints him that War was declar'd against France.

At the Court at Hampton Court, 9 September, 1689, the King makes an Order in Council to this Effect:

10 Col. William Cole (1638–1694), of Warwick county, was appointed to the Council March 1, 1674-5, and Secretary of State in 1689. In 1680 he was commander-in-chief of Warwick county. His tomb, with his arms, remains at "Bolthorpe" or "Boldrop," Warwick county. He has many descendants.
Upon Reading a Report of the Right Hon'ble Lords of the Committee for Trade and foreign Plantations that in Obedience to his Majesty's commands of the 18 of March they had considered the Petition of Philip Ludwell\textsuperscript{11} with the Address of the House of Burgesses in Virginia to late King James 2d touching several Matters which with their Opinions are as follows:

1st. Whereas, a Proclamation had been issued in Virginia by the Lord Howard Governor in chief in pursuance of Instructions from his late Majesty King Cha. 2. declaring an Act Passed in Virginia November, 1682,\textsuperscript{12} for repealing the 6th Act of Assembly made in June, 1680, about Attorneys to be void and thereby reviving the said Act of June, 1680, The House of Burgesses conceive the said Proclamation unwarrantable and of ill consequence and therefore pray the same be made void. The Lordships consulted the Attorney and Solicitor General who reported their Opinion that the Act of 1680 by the King's disallowing the Act of Repeal was revived. Yet in as much as the said Act of Assembly is represented as inconvenient and prejudicial to that Colony they humbly offer their Opinion that the same be repealed.

2dly. Whereas, they complain that a fee of 200l. of Tobacco and Cash lately received by the Lord Howard for the use of \textsuperscript{11}At a session held in the fall of 1688 the House of Burgesses sent Philip Ludwell to England to lay the grievances of the country before the King. This was done on March 28, 1689, and after some consideration a decision was rendered by the English Government which was, in the main, favorable to the petition. For a notice of Philip Ludwell see this Magazine, I, 174-178.

\textsuperscript{12}Chapter VI of the Acts of the Virginia Assembly, session of June, 1680, was "An Act imposing and ascertaining attorney's fees," (Hening II, 475). By Chapter VI, of the Acts of November, 1682 (Hening II, 498), the former act was repealed. Lord Howard issued a proclamation in pursuance to instructions from England, repealing the act of 1682, and held that this revived the act of 1680. The House of Burgesses protested against this construction, but on September 9, 1689, the English Privy Council sustained it. That body, however, advised the King to declare the 1680 act void by a later proclamation. the Seal they find that that fee upon complaint thereof was not disallowed or thought unreasonable by the Council of Virginia. Yet in as much as the same had not been Established by the said Council as by the Lord Howard's Commission is requisite and the same being also represented as burdensome and uneasy to the Colony they Offer their Opinion that it be discontinued as also the fee of 30l. Tobacco demanded by the Secretary of that Colony for recording Surveys of Lands. But as to the fee of five Pounds Sterling received by every Escheator for every Office found whereof Complaint is also made they are of Opinion that the same is Legal and fit to be continued as being an Antient and Customary fee and paid only by such as receive a considerable benefit thereby.

Lastly, as to the Complaint made that the fines and Forfeitures in Virginia are not applyed to such Purposes as by the said Representation is particularly set forth and desire. They represent that the said Fines and Forfeitures having by Letters Patents being granted by King Charles 2d to the Lord Culpeper and others were repurchased by the late King for Divers considerable sums of Money actually paid to the said Lord Culpeper and a further Pension of 600£ per annum payable for 21 Years and now Charged upon the Establishment of his Majesty's Army so that the said Fines and forfeitures are become wholly at the Disposal of the Crown as they were before the Purchase of the Property of the said Patentees. Yet upon Examination they find that since the said Purchase no part of the said Revenue has been employed or disposed of otherwise than for the better support of the Government of Virginia to which use they are of Opinion it may be applied in such Manner as his Majesty should direct from time to time and not otherwise, the same being not in any manner appropriated to any Particular use or purpose which report his Majesty approved.

GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA TO THE PRIVY COUNCIL, 1670.

(Copy.)

[Col. Papers, Vol. 26.]

A Lett'r from the Govern'r of Virginia to the Com'tee about the business of Scarborough.

My most Honor'd and reveared Lords

I receaved the Honor of your Lords'pps com'ands in a business that concerned one farvax of London Merchant, and one Scarborough A Planter in this Colony and truly my lords I gave as spedy an issue to the just complaynt of farvax as the value of such causes would permit, for Scarborough Alleaged divers causes in Equity to lessen the sum due to farvax by Bond w'ch the Court would not permit ther being none to answere for farvax in Equity or Chancery so that Scarborough was adjudged to pay in three yeares Eight hundred and fourty pounds sterling and this was done in October last as by the order of Court wil appeare to your Lords'ps.

But my most honor'd Lords the Beginning of this Present March I receav'd comands from his Royal Highnesse to review Scarborough's cause assuring me that he had more Equity in his cause then I could know of and his Royal Highnesse was pleased to descent to this Particular that to his Highnesse knowledge a shipp sent by Scarborough to farvax to pay this debt was taken by his comission.
Now my lords I could not give a new and an other hearing unto Scarborough nor would my Duty suffer me to let his Royal Highnesse mediation be altogether ineffectual being the first that ever I receav’d from his Royal Highnesse of this nature.

I therfore tooke this Temper I superseded the Execution ready to be issued out on Scarborough’s first sayling for one Yeare that if in that time S’r Charles Scarborough could produce anything to your Lordships that might Alleviate his brother’s debt in Equity he should transmit it to me, otherwise I bid Scarborough be assured he should pay the two Annual sumes he was adjudged to pay in one Yeare and this donne it can be no great Damage to farvax.

My most Honor’d Lords I hope this retarding of Execution wil not be too severely censured by your Lordshipps or if it be; that your Lordsh’ps wil looke w’th an eye of comissionation on the condition of a poore man who durst not denye Justice; nor could in Duty denye what was Equitable, to the Mediation of so great and reverenced a person as his Royal Highnesse.

My most honor’d Lords I am confident you have heard very few complainys of me and if I ’scape the severity of your Dreaded censure for this you shal never heare an other of me.

My most honor’d Lords in al things that is possible for my greatest Diligence and meane abilities to performe I shal ever strive and study to shew my selfe my Lords.

Your Lordsh’pps most humble, most faithful and most obedient servant, [signed] WILL BERKELEY.

March 12, 1670(71), Virginia.

Rec’d ye 12th. Shewed his Roy’ll Highness 17 May, 1671

GOVERNOR BERKELEY TO ———, 1671.

(Copy.)

My most Honor’d Lord

Since my last to your Lordsh’pp whirin I gave you an Account of what I did on his Royal Highnesses comands in favour of Scarborough the sayde Scarborough is Deade but I doe assure your lordshipp that I have secure the Estate of Scarborough for fairefax and he wil now sooner have his debt then if Scarborough had beene living.

But my most Honor'd Lord this is not the occasion of this hasty letter But to desire your Lordships favor in the behalfe of a Brother¹ of my Deare Wives to whome I have promised the Place of Surveighor General of Virginia w'ch I formerly gave to Coll. Scarborough and was confirmed by his Sacred Ma'tie w'ch I humbly begg may be now also confirmed to my Brother. He wil very sodainely after this personally kisse your Lordshipps hands and amongst many other things informe your Lordshipp of our great and Hopeful progresse in Silke. But my Lord I had no knowleg of this ships Departure but as I rise from the Court and was returning to it to dispatch many publique businesse[s] this is only to desire your lordsh'ps fa-vour to my Brother my Lord I am

Your Lordsh'ps most humble and obedient servant,

S'r Wm. Berkeley. May 23, 1671. Scarborough lately dead but his estate secured for fairefax's satisfaction. Desires his brother Culpeper may be confirmed Survey'r G'nall of Virginia void by ye s'd Scarborough's death.

¹Captain Alexander Culpeper, whose father lost his "life, liberty and state in the King's service (according to Berkeley) was appointed Surveyor-General of Virginia, November 17, 1672, and again in the first year of James II. In the Diary of Mrs. Thornton (Surtees Society) are notices of the marriage, about 1650 in Virginia, of the heir of the Danby family, of Yorkshire, to a Miss Culpeper. The editor of the Diary states that she was a niece of the first Lord Culpeper. It seems there can be no doubt that she was a sister of Frances Culpeper, who married first Samuel Stephens; secondly, in 1670, Sir William Berkeley, and thirdly Philip Ludwell. Alexander Culpeper was a brother of Lady Berkeley.
My most Honor'd Lords

In Obedience to your Lordsh'ps com'ands I have sent an Answer to your Lordsh'ps Enquiries Dated the 29 of Sept., 1670. But not receaved til Jan. the 11th, the Answers are most True in Every Particular and I have sent them by my Brother Culpeper who is able to enforme your Lordsh'ps of divers other Particulars not yet mentioned by your Lordsh'ps. Especially of that our now great hopes and concernement Silke: of w'ch I have now sent your Lordsh'ps a Patterne as we now make it, and when the rest is woond (for it is but newly made) wil present his ma'tie w'th 60ty or 70 pounds made in my owne house this yeare. But my Lords had we some skilful men from Sicily or Naples or Marsellies that could enstruct us a neerer and better way then yet we know: I speake it confidently in ten or fifteen yeares we might make and send for England five hundred Bayles Yearly of silke: But my Lords poore men who can hardly maintaine themselves in coarse cloathes w'th their utmost Industry in what they know, and are accustomed too wil w'th difficulty be brought to adventure on more hopeful (if they are also hazardous) designes w'thout skill or some experimented assurance, in, and from themselves, or others.

This is that w'ch has so long retarded this hopeful and Honorable comodity, silke; But my Lords had we skilful men from those places who have laboured some ages in the making it we should then w'th cherfullnesse lend the most of our Endeavours that way and my most honor'd Lords ther wil want nothing to effect this but a Royal com'and to the several Consuls of those places for wil defray al other charges of their transportation and wages.

My most honor'd Lords if you lay any other comand uppon me this next shipping they shal be most Dutifully and Carefully observ'd and Executed, by

Your Lordsh'ps most humble and obedient servant,

William Sherwood to Joseph Williamson, 1671.

Lower Chip-okes in James River, Virginia, June 17, 1671.

Wm. Sherwood to Joseph Williamson, Secretary, to Lord Arlington, Principal Secretary of State. The past three years of his time he must attribute to his (Williamsons) worthy donation. Acknowledges the great debt he owes him & cannot without shame look upon the foul act which was the cause of his being in that Country, yet he can say without ostentation that he has found good out of evil. Sends this by Capt. Culpeper a gentleman of this Country, that he may not be blackened with ingratitude.

*William Sherwood was a native of the parish of White Chapel, London. He appears to have been bred to the bar, and to have served as a clerk in the office of Sir Joseph Williamson, Secretary to Lord Arlington, who was Secretary of State of England. Sherwood attempted to rob Williamson, but though the circumstances are unknown, they were evidently such as to induce Williamson to procure his pardon. In 1668 Sherwood, no doubt aided by Williamson, came to Virginia, and for thirty years lived a useful and honorable life. He was attorney-general of the colony 1678-80, and a member of the House of Burgesses. Several of his letters to Williamson have been printed (this Magazine, I), and show a deep feeling of penitence and gratitude, and he directed in his will that his tomb, still at Jamestown, should state that he was "a great sinner waiting for a joyful resurrection." For a notice of Sherwood and a copy of his will see William and Mary Quarterly, XVII, 268-273.

Gentlemen

As the London Gazette has promulged the severe Loss of your Colony in the Death of your late noble Govern. we must give Credit to it, tho' his Nephew the Duke of Beaufort or any of his Lordship's Agents or Servants have never received the least Intelligence of so distressing an Event.

I am now to inform you that his Majesty has removed Lord Dunmore from New York as his Successor; Gov. Tryon goes to New York & a Mr. Martin from hence is appointed for North Carolina.

I wish I could say any Thing with Certainty as to the State of Publack Affairs, but we still continue in a State of Doubt whether War or Peace is to prevail. All we are told is That a Negotiation is carrying on.

I have the Honor to be, Gentl'n,

Y'r most obed't humble Serv't,

PETITION OF FRANCIS JACKSON, SOLDIER.

[Endorsement]

Pet'n of Fran's Jackson a wounded Soldier 13th Nov'r, '64 reason & £40 & £56 Amt.
To the hon'ble the Speaker & Gent of the House of Burgesses.

Francis Jackson

Humbly sheweth, That he was a Volunteer in Capt. Charles Lewis's Company of Militia stationed at Fort Dinwiddie in the County of Augusta last Summer and in an Engagement with the Enemy in the Month of May he received a Wound in his Back through his Sholder which has cost him a considerable Sum to a Doctor in Endeavouring to cure him but hitherto without Success whereby he is rendered unable to support himself by Labor. He therefore prays the Consideration of this Hon'ble House and such Relief under his Misfortune as shall be thought reasonable.

⁸ Phetiplace Clause settled in Virginia before 1619; was Burgess for Mulberry Island, October, 1629, and for "From Denbigh to Water's Creek," in 1629. On December 2, 1626, he was granted, as his first personal dividend, 100 acres on the east side of Warwicksqueake River. Said land was granted in lieu of 100 acres on the upper part of James River, granted him in May, 1619, and resigned "in regard of the great danger of planting the same."

⁴ In January, 1624, Anthony Barham and his wife Elizabeth were living at Mulberry Island. He was Burgess for that place in March, 1629–30. An abstract of his will, proved September 13, 1641, in given in Waters' Gleanings. He probably married a sister of Richard Bennett. A bequest to his "loving friend, Mr. Edward Aldey, minister of St. Andrews in Canterbury," makes it seem probable that Anthony Barham was of the old Kentish stock to which the author of The Ingoldsby Legends belonged. could reclame her, and thinketh yt by her lyinge in the woods some tymes 8 or 10 days together was the occasion of her death

Daniell Watkins sworne and Examined sayeth yt he never saw ye said wench Corected nor did ever see her bodie but knoweth yt she hath divers tymes run awaye & hath layne in the woods some tymes 8 or 10 days together And whether she was pardoned or corected she would run away againe—

Ann Wood sworne and Examined sayeth yt she did about 2 moenthe ago [see] 2 boys whip the said wench, the one named Will the other John Skinner each of them havinge a whip of smale corde and caused her body to bleed downe to her waste and further sayeth yt M Procter once Called her to looke vpon the wenches thighs, wch she sayeth had one great sore but how it should com shee knoweth nott

And further sayeth yt in respect ye wench had Complayned that she had been grevously beaten therefore Mrs Procter requested this Exa'nate to Come and vew the bodie of her wch she did and found one great sore in her thigh wch this Examinat rather thinketh to come by beinge owt in the woods than by any Corectiones

William Bullock sworne and Examined sayeth yt he was in the ground at worke where he saw M Procter beate Elyas wth a Rake and gave him some 12 or 16 blowes but w[t] hurte he had this Examinat doth not knowe and after Cominge into M Procters howse he hurde Mr. Smiths man aske the said Elias how he did and he said he was very ill and y his m[r] had so beaten him y[t] he shuld dye and y[t] he wold lay his death to his m[r] if he did die

John Skynner aged 16 years servant to M Procter beinge Examined sayeth that once himself and M procters boy
Will did whip the said wench their m[']r standing by at wch tyme he sayeth that both gave her about 100 stripes vntill she did blede—

M Thomas Bun⁵ Chirurgiane sworne and Examined sayeth that M Procter sent for him to come over and to see A sore y[t] the wench had in her foote & wch he did, and lct thinkgs for to dress it wth and further sayeth that M Procter many tymes sent for this exam to Com over to looke to his servants when any of them were sick and desease And that m Procter was always very Carefull for the p'servinge of his servants healths, and yt he hath had 3 or 4 of his servants at tymes 4 or 5 days together and at that present hath one of his his men at his howse in Cure—

Will m Proctors boy aged 16 years Examined sayeth that he hath whipt the said wench some six tymes' by the Appoyntment of his m[']r and once he thinketh he gave her about 200 stripes and some tymes less, but yt his mr did never appoynt him how many strokes he should give her and yt one tyme his mr bidd him should whip her from the waist to the hand wrists & fleeing her or ells his m'r wold flog him

Robert Sweete⁶ gent sworne and Examined sayeth yt Capt Nathaniel Butler was very vrgent and importunate wth this Examine at two severall tymes to sett downe vnder his hands all such grevances and misbehavieurs might anywyse have in his oune p'ticular or of any other injuryes or injustice done by M[r] George Sandys Threasurer, Providinge this Examine

⁶Robert Sweete's statement was evidently taken when the Virginia government was preparing its reply to Nathaniel Butler's Unmasked Face of Virginia.
that ye there were any such things he wold remedy it in England or else this Examinat should Accompt him A very villain—

And further this Examinat sayeth that the said Captain Butler hath urged M John Baynard to the like as he hath hurde m[r] Baynard reporte

*Alice Boyse was the wife of Luke Boyse, who came to Virginia on the Edwin in May, 1619. She came in the Bona Nova in 1622. In 1625 they were living at Neck of Land in the Corporation of Charles City. He was a member of the House of Burgesses, 1623-24, and died before 1635. His widow, Alice, married Matthew Edloe. A characteristic of the seventeenth century, familiar to all students of local, particularly of court records, is the irresponsibility and recklessness in regard to truth so frequently found among the mass of the people. A man, or more frequently a woman, who is angry with another, makes the most injurious and insulting accusations against another. These charges are very frequently entirely disproved, and then the slanderer, quite calmly and as a matter of course, admits that he has lied, says he does not know what induced him to do so, and begs the pardon of the offended person. It is a state of mind impossible and almost incomprehensible at the present day. One good done by the study of the minutiae of the past, often apparently trifling in themselves, is that it helps to produce in the student the profound impression that there has continually been a evolution to higher and better things.

9"Captain Clement Dilke" patented 100 acres in the plantation of Accomac on December 12, 1627. It was his first dividend in right of his wife Elizabeth, who came in the George in 1622. On May 4, 1623, "Mr. Dilke and his associates" were granted lands by the Virginia Company on condition of settling 100 people in Virginia, and on June 25, 1623, a patent to Clement Dilke was signed. He was a Burgess 1623-24. It would seem that he might have been a son of Sir Thomas Dilke of Maxtoke Castle, Warwickshire, and his wife Ann, daughter of Sir Clement Fisher of Packington; but Burke gives them only two sons, Thomas and Fisher. For further notices of the Dilkes in Virginia see this Magazine, III, 276, &c.

10Richard Frisbie, aged 34 in 1624, and who came in the Jonathan in 1619, is included among the servants to the "Muster" of Sargeant William Barry, 1624-25.

11Lieutenant Francis Mason, who was aged 40 in 1624-25, came in the James & Francis in 1613, was living at Elizabeth City (probably in which is now Norfolk county) in 1624, with his wife Alice, aged 26, who came in the Margot & John 1622, and his son Francis born in Virginia. He had five servants, one of whom Henrie Gany, came in the Dulie in 1619. Mason had been accompanied to Virginia by a wife Anne (who 14Samuel Jordan of "Jordan's Journey" or "Beggars Bush," was a member for Charles City in the Assembly of 1619. He held his house safely during the great massacre of 1622, and immediately afterwards it was one of the few outlying places which the Government decided should not be abandoned. He was one of the leaders in the early settlement period. At his death he left a widow Cicely. William Farrar, afterwards member of the Council, lived in Samuel Jordan's house, and were one of the contestants for the hand of the widow, a case which caused a great stir at the time.

9. Revolutionary army orders for the main army under Washington, May 3—June 3, January 20-26, March 13—May 1, June

An orderly book, somewhat fragmentary, for Muhlenberg's brigade, which at this time consisted of the 1st, 6th and 10th Virginia Continental Line, Gist's Continental regiment (Virginians) and the 1st and 2d Virginia State Line. Indexes for the many names mentioned are to be found in the general indexes of the magazine.

Virginia regimental officers on p. 17*, showing what officers were at Valley Forge. Though not grouped, the regiment of each officer is given.

11. A pay-roll for a detachment of different regiments on their march to headquarters under com'd of Capt. Burnley and Lieut. Gill, April 14, 1778 (Virginia Magazine of History and Biography, October 1893. v. 1, p. 204-05.)

Fifty-eight names, with rank; regiment not given; not alphabetical.

In Division of Manuscripts, Library of Congress.
1st-11th Continental Line and 1st-2d State Line. The date at end, 5 July 1777, is clearly an error.

In Division of Manuscripts, Library of Congress.
First, field officers, by rank, with lineal order, regiment and date of commission; then prisoners and supernumeraries "recommended" and "not recommended", followed by a list of surgeons and surgeons' mates. Finally, regimental lists of commissioned officers with dates of commission, 1st to 11th regiments, including prisoners and supernumeraries, under each regiment.

1st to 11th regiments, with lists of supernumeraries.

16. The Ramapaugh re-arrangement, September 23, 1779. Including “Commissions wanted” for each regiment, Proceedings of the board of officers, and Rank roll of the field officers and captains.

Following the Chesterfield re-arrangement, February 12, 1781.

18. Arrangement of the Virginia Line, January 1, 1781: officers and dates of commission for 1st to 6th regiments. (Calendar of Virginia State papers and other manuscripts. Richmond, 1875. v. 1, p. 410–413.)

In order of rank, under each regiment. Gives date of commission. “January 1, 1781” seems to be an error; the roll as given, is apparently that decided on at the Chesterfield re-arrangement February, 1781.

In order of rank, under each regiment; also locates each man, as “prisoner”, “on furlough”, etc.

By rank; gives cause of each becoming supernumerary and mentions regiment in some cases. Does not agree entirely with preceding list.

22. A list of officers of the State Line that are entitled to half pay, taken from the lists that were returned to the Executive by the Board of field officers that sat in Richmond on February 2, 1782, and April 13, 1782. (22d Congress, 1st session. House report 191, p. 53-57.) Doc. ser. no. 224.

Arranged by regiment. Does not include the Navy or Crockett's regiment.

23. A list of the officers of the Virginia Line who have been killed, invalidated, resigned, superseded, &c., since the Chesterfield arrangement in February, 1781, and not included in a late rearrangement at Cumberland, May, 1782. Dated September 2, 1782. (26th Congress, 1st session. House report 436, p. 102-103.) Doc. ser. no. 371.

In Division of Manuscripts, Library of Congress.

Contents: Proceedings.—Arrangement of 1st Virginia regiment.—Arrangement of 2d Virginia regiment (2 companies).—Arrangement of 1st regiment artillery (Harrison's).—Numerical list of officers of the Virginia Line who wish to retire.—Numerical list of redundant officers of each grade.—Numerical list of redundant officers of 1st regiment of artillery.—Numerical list of officers who are prisoners of war.—Arrangement of the Virginia Line in case officers, who have signified their wishes, are permitted to retire.

Section III.
Regiments of the Virginia Continental Line.

1st Regiment, 1776-1782.

This organization was authorized by the Virginia Convention July 17, 1775, as a State regiment, consisting originally of 8 companies, 544 privates, with the usual regimental officers.

The same month the officers received their commissions, Patrick Henry, as colonel of this regiment, being commander-in-chief of all Virginia troops raised for the war. December 1, 1775, the Convention added two more companies of 60 men each to the regiment.

February 15, 1776, it was accepted by the Continental Congress as part of Virginia's quota in the new Army of the colonies, the officers receiving new commissions bearing that date. Colonel Henry, however, had resigned, owing to resentment at the failure of the colonial Committee of Safety to recognize his rank as commander-in-chief; and his displeasure at the preference of subordinate officers by Congress—notably the promotion to the brigadier-generalship of Andrew Lewis, of Virginia, and Robert Howe, of North Carolina.

August 16, 1776, the regiment left Williamsburg to join the army under Washington, and in October it formed part of a brigade commanded by Col. Weedon, of the 3d Virginia; at that time reporting 87 officers and 576 men on the rolls.

In December, 1776, it had 31 commissioned officers and 154 enlisted men present, with 329 enlisted men sick, on extra duty or on furlough. It was at that time in Lord Stirling's brigade, taking part in the battle of Trenton under the command of that officer. At Princeton, January, 1777, it served under the lamented Brigadier-General Hugh Mercer. Not a single field officer was present at the last-named battle, the regiment behaving with conspicuous gallantry under command of its senior captain, John Fleming, who also fell there.

Col. Muhlenberg of the 8th regiment was advanced to the brigadier-generalship in February, 1777, and when a new brigade was organized for him in April, the 1st regiment was attached to it, and apparently continued under his command throughout the remainder of the war.

In June, 1778, so many officers of this brigade were absent in Virginia on recruiting service that the 1st, 5th and 9th regiments were temporarily consolidated as one, under Colonel Parker of the 1st, Lieut.-Colonel Ball of the 9th, and Major Dickinson of the 1st. And again in September, 1778, at the White Plains rearrangement, the ranks had become so depleted through casualties and expiration of service that the 9th was definitely merged into the 1st regiment.

The following May the 1st and 10th regiments were temporarily united under one command, reporting only 397 men, from both, present for duty.

With the rest of the Virginia troops it was sent South to aid in the defence of Charleston; and fell into the enemy's hands on the fall of that city, May 12, 1780. Individuals were absent on duty or wounded, and some, at least of the captives regained liberty before the close of the war, but as a regiment the 1st Virginia was not again in service, as far as we have been able to learn. It was formally disbanded January 1, 1783.

For historical material on the regiment see Section II, Nos. 3, 5, 9. For lists of regimental officers at various dates, see Section II, Nos. 1, 2, 7, 10, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 22, 50.

VIRGINIA GLEANINGS IN ENGLAND.

Communicated by Mr. Lothrop Withington, 30 Little Russell street, W. C., London (including "Gleanings" by Mr. H. F. Waters, not before printed).

Mathewe Stone, late of St. Pancrasse in Soaper Lane, London, Haberdasher, about 4 April 1629 last past made his will noncupative. To his cousin Mrs. Margaret Hall a piece of plate value £8. His brother Henry Stone owed him £180 and should only have to pay £80, and his brother John Stone owed him money for a long time and should only pay the principal. His wife's sister Margaret Cheshire, then dwelling with him, should be well dealt with. Amdinistration 21 April 1629 to Ellen Stone relict of deceased, Andrew Stone, John Warner, and Margaret, Cheshire witnessing the truth of above.

Ridley, 28.

[In an article on the ancestry of William Stone, of Accomac county, Va., and afterwards Governor of Maryland, in the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, XLIX, 314, 315, it is shown that he was a nephew of Thomas Stone, merchant and haberdasher of London, whose eldest brother was John Stone, Esq., of Carr House, in Much Hoole parish, Lancashire. The Visitation of London, 1633-5, shows that Thomas Stone also had brothers Henry, Andrew, Robert and Mathew. The will above is evidently that of the brother Mathew. Governor Stone must have been a son of one of the other brothers. The connection, if any, of "Mathey Stowne" (below) is unknown.]

Mathey Stowne [of Reach in Parish of Leighton Buzzard, Bed.—Probate Act Book. Stonn at foot of will and Stone in probate act]. Will 23 November 1629; proved 2 April 1630. To my mother £40. To Brother George £4. To Brother John Weles £8. To Uncle Sanderstone £3. To Sister Wells a sheep and to each of her children. To Brother Hendere children a sheep each. To Brother George rest of sheep. Witnesses: William Lawley, Bennet Sharpe. [Proved by his mother Agnes Stone.]

Samuel Each of Lymehouse in County Middlesex, maryner. Will 13 November 1618; proved 21 April 1623. [In a letter from the Virginia Company, June 10, 1622, to the Governour and Council of Virginia, it is stated that Captain Samuel Each, master of the ship Abigail, had contracted, in consideration of 60,000 pounds of tobacco, to erect a block house on the oyster banks at Blunt Point on James River, as a fortification for the river. On the voyage a desperate "distemper" broke out on the ship, and the master, with most of his men, died, so nothing was done on the proposed fortification. See also this Magazine, XIX, 118. Captain Each owned land at Martin's Brandon.]

Sir Richard Morison of Tooley Parke, county Leicester, Knight. Will proved 30 December 1625. His estate has been impaired because of the stopping of the entertainment by his Majesty when serving him in England and Ireland, but he is confident that when his services to Queen Elizabeth and his present Majesty are put before his Majesty by his noble friends, His Majesty will recuperate him. The manor of Bushopps fee conveyed to Sir Thomas Coventry and Sir Robert Heath, H. M. Attorney General and Solicitor General, is to be redeemed, also his office of Lieutenant of the ordinance which I have for my own life and the life of Sir William Harrington to be sold. My wife to have any estate for the upbringing of my younger children. I have already provided for my eldest son and propose to turn over in company to him if I can obtain favour of his Matie &c. Executors: William, Earle of Pembrooke, Sir John Jephson, and my brothers in law Sir Benjamin Rudyard, Sir William Harrington, and George Alington Esq., and my brother Fynes Morrison Esquire. No witnesses. Codicil dated 29 August 1625. Left a will made by Mr. Anthony Loe in a boxe in my study at the Minories to stand good. I desire Earle of Rutland and Sir Thomas Savadge to join with my good Lo: the Lo: Chamberlayne, in seeing it executed because they both are witnesses of what is agreed between my Lo: grace of Buckingham and me I shall have in respect of my surrender of the Presidency of Munster to Sir Edward Vyllyars now lo: president.

[Sir Richard Moryson, or Morrison, of Tooley Park, Liecestershire, was a distinguished soldier. He married Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Henry Harrington, and had issue: (1) Sir Henry, d. sp., a friend of Ben Jonson; (2) Major Richard, emigrated to Virginia; (3) Col. Francis, Governor of Virginia 1661–62; (4) Captain Robert, emigrated to Virginia; (5) Letitia, who married the celebrated Lucius Cary, Viscount Falkland. Fynes Moryson was brother of Sir Richard and a noted traveller. He published an "Itinerary" in 1617. See this Magazine, II, 383–385, and lives in the Dictionary of Natural Biography. In a letter, 1665, from Francis Moryson to Lord Clarendon, he claims compensation for the office of lieutenantship of the Ordnance, purchased by his father from Sir Edward Villiers.]

Hele, 120.

[While it seems practically certain that Richard Kemp, Secretary of State of Virginia, and his nephew Edmond Kemp, of Lancaster (afterwards Middlesex) county, were of the family Kemp, of Gissing or Gessing, absolute proof has not yet been produced. It is hoped that this may yet be done. Richard Kemp was Secretary of State of Virginia, 1635-1649 (in a letter he states that he obtained the office through the influence of the Duke of Lennox and the Earl of Pembroke), and was Governor of the colony from June, 1644, to June, 1645. He died in 1656. In his will, proved in London, December 6, 1656 (of which a copy was printed in this Magazine, II, 174-176), he makes bequests to his brother Edward Kemp and his nephew Edmond Kemp. The latter was evidently in Virginia. Edmond Kemp was J. P. for Lancaster county, Va., in 1655. In 1656 he recorded in that county a power of attorney to him from Sir Robert Kemp, Knight. Edmond Kemp died about 1660. For a notice of the family in Virginia see this Magazine, III, 40-42.

From Mr. F. H. Kemp's extensive work on the English Kemps it appears that Robert Kemp, Esq., of Gissing and Flordon, was baptized at Hampstead 1567, and buried at Gissing 1612. He married Dorothy, daughter of Arthur Harris, of Cricksea, Essex. Her will is given above. From another source was received, a number of years ago, an abstract of the will of Robert Kemp, Esq., just referred to.

"Will of Robert Kempe, of Gissinge, Norfolk, Esq., dated November 20, 1611; proved by Dorothy, his relict, May 5, 1613. To be buried in the chapel at Gissinge. Various gifts to the poor of Disse, Dulburth, Burston, East Ruston, Shelpager, and to the churchwardens of the town of Flordon £3.6.8 for a silver communion cup. To Robert Kemp, his eldest son, all lands, &c., in Gissinge, Tibuar, Tinotshall, Burston and Shemplinge and also all in Flordon, Broken and Hopton and all in East Ruston, namely the manor of Burrells and all in Shelpanger in the occupation of Fultter. To second son John Kempe, £40 a year out of John Fultter's farm in Shelpanger. To Richard Kemp, third son £40 a year issuing out of the manor of Burrells in East Ruston. To Arthur, fourth son £40 a year out of Burrells. To Edmond, fifth son, £40 a year out of the farm of William Tibrum in Gissinge. To Edward, sixth son, £40 a year out of the manor of Dallines. To Thomas, seventh son, £40 a year out of the manor of Dallines. Until the sons are 21 years of age his wife is to have the use of their annuities for their education and bringing up. To daughter Dorothy 1,000 marks at the age of 18. To daughter Elizabeth 1,000 marks at 18. To wife two-thirds of the land in until son Robert is 24. To son Robert the hangings in the great parlor, Norfolk the parlor chamber, and the hall chamber; the bason and ewes of silver gilt "which was my grandfather's," "my own armour and my library of books." To father-in-law [evidently stepfather] Edmond Polie, Esq., my best gelding. To mother, Mrs. Alice Poley, my gold ring."

Richard, third son of Robert Kemp, was baptized at Gissing in 1600, and Arthur, fourth son, in 1601.

Edmond Kemp, son of Robert Kemp, matriculated at Magdalen Hall, Oxford, April 16, 1624, aged eighteen years.

Mr. F. H. Kemp states that letters of administration on the estate of Edmund Kemp, of Middlesex, England, was granted in 1649. He believes that this was Edmund, son of Robert Kemp, and states that Edmund, eldest son of Edmund, and grandson of Robert, was the emigrant to Virginia.

An abstract of the will of Arthur Kemp, son of Robert, was received a number of years ago from the same person who kindly sent the will of the father. It is as follows:

Unless the writer of the letter to be mentioned was in error, there was a third emigration of the Kemps of Gissing to Virginia. There is in existence a letter, dated 1730, from Dorothy Seaton, of Panketank [Gloucester county], Va., addressed to the third Kemp baronet (Robert, brother of Richard, Arthur, &c., was the first), in a piteous manner, stating she was a widow with several children and in reduced circumstances. She claimed to be the eldest and only surviving daughter of Peter Kemp, a brother of the second baronet.

The will of Sir Robert Kemp, 2d baronet, was dated May 3, 1704, and proved in the Consistory Court of Suffolk, 1710. In it were legacies to Thomas and Peter, sons of his deceased brother Mathew Kemp. The names Peter and Mathew appear repeatedly in the Gloucester county, Va., family, and it is possible that Mrs. Seaton’s father, Peter, was not a brother of the second baronet, but his nephew. The whole connection requires, however, farther proofs, though there can be little or no doubt that Richard Kemp, of Virginia, was son of Robert Kemp, Esq., of Gissing, and Edmond Kemp of Virginia, a grandson of the same person.

Alchin, 158.

[The testator was evidently an ardent Puritan. Thomas Stegg, Jr., was afterwards Auditor-General of Virginia. Thomas Boler was, no doubt, Thomas Bowler, afterwards of Rappahannock county, who was appointed to the Council in 1675 and died in 1679. The reference to Yorktown is a very early appearance of the name. Probably the old "York Plantation" was now called Yorktown.]

NOTES AND QUERIES.

HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL NOTES AND QUERIES.

BARKSDALE, Sydnor.—From "Geneology of Barksdale Family in America," by Sarah Donelson Hubert: In the beginning of 1700 came Barksdale from England and married Collier, of Virginia. They had two sons, Nathaniel and Collier. My ancestor, Nathaniel, married Mourning Dickerson. Among their sons, Peter married Elizabeth Wathngton in 1782. Their daughter, Susan Barksdale, married William Sydnor. Their daughter, Elizabeth Armistead Sydnor, married William Penick, of Virginia.

Now, what I want to know is what part they played in the Colonies, &c., also in the Revolution.

PrincE Edward County Card Index.

The county of Prince Edward has just installed a card index to its earlier deed books, from 1754 to 1850. Hitherto there has been no general index to Prince Edward deeds before 1850. The work has been done rather exhaustively, and the information so desired and made accessible should be found of great interest in many ways. The deed book everywhere perhaps contains a greater variety of fact than any other specific collection of formal county documents. For instance, in the work recently completed for Prince Edward county, attention was given to the style of record as regards currency, and the surprising fact was established that the phase "current money of Virginia" was in use to the end of the period under review. Several reasons might be assigned—tradition, political enthusiasm of the party drawing the instrument, the form book at hand, &c. Whatever the explanation, it is of interest to know that "Virginia currency" was a term not seldom used in Prince Edward deeds as late as the year 1850.

The method followed in indexing this century (very nearly) of deeds was one by which as much local information as possible could be taken out and preserved in the card encyclopedia. So far as the records cast light upon Thomas, Richard and Henry, the endeavor has been made to bring it to a focus—as if the cards were a prism to show something of the characteristic in the respective parties now gone to the stars. Prince Edward county, in other words, has now a pretty thorough card index, on which much of its intimate early history lies spread.

The cards used are the standard medium weight, 5x3, punched, white and buff. The buff cards show transfers of personal property, the dis-

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY

In the lower space, above the punch, there appears first Location, reference being generally to some stream, but the location is further particularized by stating, whenever given, two or three of the adjoining properties. In the lower left-hand corner is given the acreage—the purchase price standing in the opposite corner. With some judgment and care much may be brought together on a card of this size and arrangement, certainly more than would be possible by any book system not unduly cumbersome. Indeed, these cards are almost abstracts, and, should they survive the original records, would be taken as very adequate substitutes.

The classification of the cards within the name has been strictly by chronological sequence, so that Thomas, William and Henry may be traced orderly by their dealings on assemblage, the results to be had by this simple method are plainly of great interest. Granted that history is of value beyond its satisfaction of curiosity and its guarantee of title, a card index of this character is a very important adjunct in the life of the community.

ENGLISH RECORDS IN VIRGINIA.

(From Reports of the Royal Historical Manuscripts Commission. The Manuscripts of the Earl of Dartmouth, Vol. III.)

1672, Oct. 12, to 1673, June 1.—A Journal of James Jenifer, Captain of the Sandades, of a voyage from London to Lisbon. * * * After this follows a description of the Factories in Portugal. * * * Of English there are about one hundred, whereof 25 are housekeepers, the rest factors and attendants; the most principal whereof are by name as followeth:—* * *
Mr. William Colston, treasurer; Mr. John Pargiter and Mr. William Bird, partners; Mr. Robert Cock, a decayed but remarkable merchant, in the year 1649 for his kindness to Prince Rupert. A list of those merchants that have gone off with estates since his Majesty's restoration. Mr. William Bird, Mr. Thomas Bird, Mr. William Peachey, Mr. Edward Colson. These one with another are judged to go off worth 100,000 crowns apiece.

Proceedings of the Commissioners at Tangier, 1683.

"An Alphabet of the persons names, first interested by purchase or lease, after his Majesty's possession of Tangier, in various houses and tenements."

David Condon, Mr. Izard, Captain Norwood, Margaret Beverley, George Mercer.

[The persons whose names are given in these two papers may have been related to the Virginia families of the name. A David Condon lived in York county, Va., in the latter part of the seventeenth century.]

1664-5, January 18.—Col. Henry Norwood to Col. Legge.
1664-5, January 18. Tangiers.—Col. Henry Norwood to Col. W. Legge [telling him he dislikes his stay there.]

1667, June 3-15.—Tangiers. Col. Henry Norwood to Col. Will Legge. As it is decreed that the care of Tangier shall no longer be in him, he can truly say that it has do other thing in his fortune than to put him upon soliciting the Exchequer for the recovery of his estate laid out in payment of the garrison here.

1667, December 4.—Tangiers. Col. H. Norwood to Col. Legge.

1668, August 28.—The same to the same. Refers to Lord Middleton's [the new commander] coming and his hope for leave to come home.

There are three other letters from Col. Norwood, dated from Tangier, September ——, September 20 and November 10, in this year.

[Col. Henry Norwood, an officer in the royal army during the Civil Wars, came to Virginia in 1649, but was sent by Berkeley to Charles II in 1650. He was for many years treasurer of the Colony, and, though resident in England, was closely associated with Virginians and Virginia affairs. His account of his voyage to Virginia is well known.]
VIRGINIA HISTORICAL MAGAZINE.

"I shall first take leave to congratulate your new access of honor, so justly due to your merit and services, and then acquaint you that long before the receipt of your letter I had in effect done what you desired," put another in the place of Mr. Welldon as sheriff. Reports the state of the stores and the narrow escape of the powder barrels from explosion by a fire in the adjacent woods, thanks to the desperate valour of the sergeant and soldiers. "I thank God things have succeeded beyond my hopes, and by mine to Mr. Secretary Jenkins you will receive the beginning of a yet more comfortable account I hope to give by the aid of our general court; that is the middle of May. The greatest difficulty I have had hath been to rectify Sir Henry Chichely's weaknesses, or rather nothings; but his death on the 5th of February last hath eased this place from all future mal-administrations. Tobacco now bears a good price, and will be of tolerable value all next year, if not longer. I shall in April make an example of some plant-cutters now indicted for treason, for terror to others, if their juries find them guilty. The greatest rogue of all was pardoned by Sir Henry Chichely on condition to build a useful bridge near his house, for performance thereof his son in law, being one of his Majesty's Council also, and Mr. Beverley were security. The next greatest rogue was let out on bail. I have issued out a proclamation under the seal of the Colony for him to deliver himself up by a day for trial, and am now suing the bail; and Sir Henry pardoned the Lord knows who, all that were in the field without taking a list of them which so embarrasses me that the lot of severity will fall on the least guilty or least malicious." Wishes to return to England for a short time to prepare certain things of great consequence in the future, which cannot be well understood by letter. (p. 80)

[This letter refers to the "plant-cutting" often referred to in this Magazine. Chicheley's "son-in-law" was his stepson Ralph Wormley.]

Petition addressed to Lord Dartmouth as Governor of Tangiers.

"Other petitions are from * * * George Mercer, clerk and school-master." (p. 104)

(December 11, 1688. Lord Culpeper was one of a council of lords, spiritual and temporal, who assembled in London on this date, and, on information of the flight of James II, took temporary charge of the government.) (p. 229)
1774, August 9.—Extracts from a letter of Major McDonald an officer in one of the Virginia Militia regiments to Major Connolly, an officer acting under the Earl of Dunmore at Pittsburg. (Enclosed in a letter from Thomas Walpole to the Earl of Dartmouth of October 27, q. v.)

"On the 2nd instant I and my party attacked the Upper Shawnessé Towns; I destroyed their corn fields, burnt their cabins, took three scalps and made one prisoner; I had two men killed and six wounded. Simon Girty being returned from Wheeling to Pittsburgh gives the following information the 11th August 1774: That he met David Owens and twelve men upon Captina, on their return from attacking the upper Shawnesse Towns, where they had been with Major McDonald, who told him that the day before the pilots (Owens being one) had reached Wackitomika; they came across an Indian coming towards them at whom Owens fired but missed him, then the guides found a horse with some baggage on him. And upon their arrival at Wackitomika, they were informed by a prisoner (afterwards taken) that this Indian was going for bears' oil at some adjacent encampment.

That they encamped that night and the next morning proceeded on their march when three men (pilots or spies) being forward they heard a kind of noise, like a cough on the path before them which alarming them, they saw an Indian coming up towards them on the road, at whom they fired but missed him, advancing a little further they perceived where the Indians had made blinds on the path side to waylay the party who they expected to be coming against them. After proceeding a little further they were fired upon by a party of Indians by which five white men were wounded and two killed, and one Indian supposed to be a Delaware also killed, but how many Indians was wounded is unknown but they suspected there were some more either killed or wounded.

Leaving 25 men to guard the wounded, they pursued the Indians into the Snakes' Town, and the advanced party observing an Indian making from the water up the bank, whom they suspected to be in the preceding battle, fired and wounded him, the main body then coming to the opposite side of the river to the said town Joseph Nicholson called over to the Indians and told them that he was one of the six Nations; the Indians reply and asked if he was Simon Girty; Nicholson answered that he was not Simon Girty for that he was at Fort Pitt upon which four of the Indians came over.

Major McDonald then gave it out in orders that no white man should attempt to come near them or molest them. A council then commenc ing between Major McDonald and these Indians one of his men fired across the river and killed an Indian. The Indians after receiving orders from Major McDonald to bring over two white women they had prisoners, which they promised to obey, were dismissed however more of them returned but one Indian an Onondaga but without the prisoners and him they detained as a prisoner.
They then crossed the river and attacked the Snakes' Town, where they found some Indians on whom they fired, killed one, and one of their own men was wounded, last of all they proceeded on through the several upper towns, destroying them all and all the corn they found standing as likewise between three and four hundred bushels of corn."

(P. 359)

[Angus McDonald is said by family tradition (on what authority is not known) to have been grandson of the Chief of Glengary who fought at Killiecrankie, and himself to have served the Pretender in 1745, escaped from Scotland the next year, spent several years in France with his uncle Aeneas McDonald, came to America about 1750, and settled near Winchester, Va. He served as a captain in the Virginia forces in the French and Indian War, and in 1774 served first as major and afterwards as lieutenant colonel in "Dunmore's War" against the Shawnee Indians. The expedition described was against Indian towns of the Muskingum, and was made in July and August. Col. McDonald died in 1779, leaving three sons and one daughter. Only one of his sons married. This was Angus McDonald, who served in the War of 1812, as lieutenant, 12th Infantry (March, 1812), captain, June 24, 1814, and died in service October 29, 1814. Captain Angus McDonald had, with others (1) Angus W., born February 22, 1799, graduated at West Point, 3d lieutenant artillery, July 17, 1817; 2d lieutenant, 7th Infantry, February 13, 1818; 1st lieutenant, April 1, 1818, resigned January 31, 1819, was a brigadier-general of Virginia Militia, 1840–61; studied law and became a distinguished lawyer; at the outbreak of the Civil War was appointed Colonel, 7th Virginia Cavalry, C. S. A., and served until his health gave way; married — Naylor. One account states that he died January, 1865, and another that he died December 1, 1864, at the residence of his son-in-law, Thomas Claiborne Green, in Richmond, Va. (2) Edward C., said to have been at West Point, but resigned; lived at Hannibal, Mo., until 1849, when he went to California; returned to Virginia in 1861, entered C. S. A., and died January, 1862, aged fifty-nine.

Col. Angus W. McDonald had, with others (1) E. H., Colonel of Virginia militia and Major C. S. A.; (2) Col. Marshall, afterwards United States Fish Commissioner; (3) Angus W., Jr., adjutant, 7th Virginia Cavalry, C. S. A.; (4) Captain Wood, C. S. A., killed during the Seven Days' Battles near Richmond; (5) Harry.

For notice of Col. Angus McDonald and his Indian Campaign see Dunmore's War (Wis. Historical Society, 151-155, 395 &c. Major Connelly, the Virginia commander at Fort Dunmore, formerly Fort Pitt, and later Pittsburgh, was later notorious for his attempt to enlist the Indians against the colonists at the beginning of the Revolution.)

1774, August 10, Pittsburgh.—Extract of a letter from Colonel George Croghan (enclosed is a letter of October 27, from Thomas Walpole to the Earl of Dartmouth): * * * The Six Nations and the Delawares, have given the strongest proofs of their desire for peace and have taken great pains to stop the war now finally carrying on between the Virginians and the Shawnesse, but at the same time they observe that they are greatly surprised that whilst their brother Sir William Johnson (in behalf of their Father the Great King) and myself are talking to them of peace, giving them peace belts and assuring them of the friendly disposition of the King's subjects, that at the same time the great man of Virginia is putting guns into his peoples hands and sending them to destroy their brothers, the Shawnesse and their houses, their corn, &c. * * *

[1775] Virginia.—Despatches from the Earl of Dunmore. Owing to the hostile temper of the people the Governor has judged it proper to remove some gun-powder from a magazine at Williamsburg, which step had given great umbrage, and the Mayor demanded restitution thereof. The Governor refused to comply, and to check further violence threatened them with liberating the negroes in case they proceeded to any acts of hostility; he requests a small re-enforcement of troops and a quantity of arms and ammunition, with which, and the assistance of the ships of war he undertakes soon to reduce the factions of the Colony to obedience. In a subsequent letter Lord Dunmore states that he has been advised to shut himself up and make a garrison of his house, as he finds the violence of the people increasing. All the Colony was in a state of anarchy; a party headed by Patrick Henry, a man in desperate circumstances, extorted from the Receiver General 300l., part of the King's revenue under the pretence of indemnifying the people for the loss of the gun-powder.

In a despatch from Lord Dartmouth to Lord Dunmore he states that he had entrusted 3,000 stand of arms and ammunition to proportion to Captain Dodsworth to be delivered to Lord Dunmore.

A battalion of Highlanders is to be raised in the province of North Carolina.

In a further despatch it appears that Lord Dunmore found it necessary to seek refuge on board His Majesty's ship Trowey and he says that he cannot entertain the most distant hope of accomodation with the Colonists.

A letter from Lord Dartmouth follows, enclosing the King's license for Lord Dunmore's return to England.

Railey, Bullock, Anderson.—Elizabeth Randolph married John Railey, of Chesterfield county, Virginia, and their daughter Elizabeth, born April 26, 1757, married John Bullock, Jr., born April 16, 1752, their daughter Jane Railey Bullock, married David Anderson, and their son was Thomas L. Anderson. The Andersons are the only descendants of John Bullock, Jr., and Elizabeth Railey his wife. They had three daughters, Jane Railey, who married David Anderson, Elizabeth Randolph married Dr. Jo. Crockett, and Maria Patterson who married her cousin, George Railey. None of them have descendants living but Jane Railey Bullock, who married David Anderson. They had three sons, Thomas L., Albert Gallatine and David Thompson, who died unmarried.

In the old Bible I find the births of Agnes Bullock, born April 13, 1750, and John Bullock, Jr., born April 16, 1752. John Bullock, Jr., and Elizabeth Railey were married September 9, 1786.

This is all we know of John Bullock, Jr. I feel quite anxious to know more of the Bullock family.

In an autobiography of Thomas L. Anderson he says, "my grandmother was a first cousin of Thomas Jefferson, and my grandfather, John Bullock, Jr., a captain in the Revolutionary war."

(P. 325). Sir Jonothan Jennings of Rapon, knighted at Whitehall, November 18, 1677. There was a grant of arms May 26, 1641, from Sir John Borough, Garter, to ——— Jennings of Silsden, Yorkshire. Sir Jonothan Jennings was son of Jonothan Jennings of Ripon, who died August 24, 1647, and his wife, Elizabeth, daughter of Giles Parker of Newby.

[See this Magazine, XII, 307-310. Governor Edmund Jennings was of this family.]

[In notes in this Magazine, I, 83, and in the present number, under “Randolph Manuscript” are references to Frances Culpeper, wife of Sir William Berkeley and her brother Capt. Alexander Culpeper of Vir-
VIRGINIA HISTORICAL MAGAZINE.

VIRGINIA. Lady Berkeley was at the time of her marriage to the Governor, widow of Samuel Stephens of Virginia, and the "Diary of Mrs. Thornton" (Surtees Society) states that the Danby-Culpeper marriage took place in Virginia. There can be no reasonable doubt that Ann Culpeper was a sister of Alexander and Frances. On November 20, 1703, administration was granted to the Probate Court of Canterbury, on the estate of Thomas Goodrich, late of Virginia, infant, to Sir Abstroupus Danby, Knight, uncle on the mother's side and next of kin. In a deed from Benjamin Goodrich of James City county, Va., dated December 1, 1703, and recorded in Essex county, it is stated that Col. Thomas Goodrich of Rappahannock county, Va., left a tract of land to his son Joseph Goodrich, who in turn devised it to his son Danby Goodrich, who died in his minority, when the land reverted to Benjamin Goodrich, party to the deed, another son of Joseph. It is evident that Joseph Goodrich married a daughter of Christopher Dauby, (above). Abstroupus Danby must have been only next of kin, in England to his nephew Thomas Goodrich. An Abraham Moon settled in Lancaster county, Va., and died in 1655.]

As Col. Blackwell was 58 years old when he married Mary Waddy Brent (1803), she must have been the grand-daughter of Capt. William Brent (or Hugh?), born probably about the same time as Col. Blackwell (1755), and Hannah Neale. Their children were Thomas and George who both married Peyton's; John who married Lucy Page Baylor, William, Nancy, Betsy, Hannah who married Mr. Hampton ———. It seems most likely that Mary Waddy Brent was a daughter of one of these three sons.

Col. Joseph Blackwell and wife Mary Waddy Brent had Alexander Christopher, Sallie Innes and Mary Waddy Brent. Alexander Christopher born 1813 married Eliza Ann, daughter of Perry and Loraine (Stucky) Farrickson and had Mary Laura Blackwell married William M. Eads, and had among other children, Eliza Ann Eads, wife of John M. Harrison, St. Louis.

Charles R. Brent married Hannah Innes built a handsome mansion on the Potomac, above Acquia creek, which was burned by Lord Dunmore, 1776. They had children, Charles, Hugh, William, George, Mrs. Mary Lewis, Mrs. Wrenn and Mrs. Nancy Atwell. One of their sons, Hugh or (William?) married Hannah Neale of Fauquier county, Va.,

Anselm Bugg, Mecklenberg County, Va.—On April 3, 1765, one Anselm Bugg took the oath of Lieutenant of Colonial militia.

On May 10, 1771, Anselm Bugg took the oath of Captain of same.

July 8, 1771, Anselm Bugg was appointed Justice of the Peace.

June 8, 1772, Joice Bugg, widow of Anselm Bugg, qualified administratrix.

In deed book 9, page 23, I find deed from Anselm Bugg to John Allen made 1794, and in same book, page 56, I find that his wife by name, Lucy, in 1796, who was then-in Person county, N. C., relinquished her dower in land conveyed in above deed under a commission from this county court. This is all to be found.

You see there were two Anselm Bugg's. One Anselm was Captain of Colonial militia before the Revolution, and lived to about 1815. He had four daughters, one married and lived in Halifax county, wife of Hosea Fuller, my grandfather, another married Major James Wesley Jones, of Person county, N. C. Lucy Bugg (wife of Anselm Bugg), came out to Tennessee. This Anselm's wife's name was Lucy, not Joice. The Anselm Bugg that died in 1772 and left his wife Joice administratrix may also have been Justice of the Peace.

G., Nashville, Tenn.

John Allen.—Both Collier's History and Green's "Spanish Conspiracy" say that he reached the grade of Major and was for a while commissary of subsistence. His widow drew a monthly pension of fifty dollars. A recent communication from the Commissioner of Pensions says he volunteered in a troop of cavalry in James City county, and that he also served two years as commissary at Albemarle Barracks.

We know that he was born in James City county in 1749, and married Jane Tandy, daughter of William Tandy, in Albemarle county, in 1781. They removed to Kentucky in 1786. The names of his children were in order of birth: Thomas Ottoway, born 1782; William Savage, born 1784; Granville (my grandfather), born 1786; Sterling, born 1788; Tandy, born 1790; Francis Jones, Caroline Amelia, Julia Ann, Jane Quarles, Gabriel Tandy and two others.

Portraits of the Brent Family and Connections.

The most interesting of the existing portraits is that of Catherine Douglas by Sir Henry Raeburn. She was the daughter of George Brent and Catherine Trimmingham and the great-grand daughter of George Brent of Woodstock, the first of that name in Virginia. There was also a miniature of her daughter, Mrs. Catherine Pye Douglas, and a miniature of her son, Col. Archibald Douglas of the British Army. Miss Ellen B. Daingerfield has portraits of William Brent, of Richland (her great grandfather), and his wife. She also has interesting portraits of Henry Darnall and other members of that family.

A portrait of Daniel Brent, Chief Clerk of the Department of State, is in the possession of the Brent family of Pensacola, Fla., who also have a portrait of Catherine Johnson Brent, first wife of Col. William Brent, of Washington, D. C. Of Col. William Brent there is a portrait in oil by John Cranch and a crayon head and small engraving by St. Memin. There are engravings by St. Memin of Richard Brent, United States Senator from Virginia, and of Thomas L. L. Brent, both of the Richland branch of the family.

There are also portraits of Robert Brent, first Mayor of Washington, and of John Carroll Brent and Francis N. Brent, sons of Col. William Brent before mentioned.
GEENEALOGY.

Georgetown University has a portrait of Eleanor Darnall, the mother of Archbishop Carroll of Baltimore and of Eleanor Carroll, who married William Brent of Richland, and Anne, who married Robert Brent of Woodstock.

Of Archbishop Carroll several portraits are in existence. Georgetown University has a portrait by Stuart, presented to that institution by Judge Ord. Another portrait, by Nagle, is in the possession of Mrs. Henry B. Goodfellow, and a third, by Paul, has been reproduced by an excellent engraving. St. Memin also made a crayon portrait and engraving of Daniel Carroll Brent of Richland. A miniature of this gentleman is in the possession of Mr. Douglas Simms, of Georgetown.

A miniature of Robert Carroll Brent, the last owner of the Woodstock place, is understood to be in the possession of Mrs. Dr. Lewis, of Alexandria.

Several very fine early portraits of the Digges family are in possession of descendants of that family. One of these, that of Sir Dudley Digges Master of the Rolls, is by Van Dyck, and another by Sir Joshua Reynolds.

An excellent portrait of Daniel Carroll of Duddington, by Healy, is owned by his grand-daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Burritt of Washington.

Portraits of Robert Brent and his wife Susannah (Seymour of Bermuda) were in possession of the family of Col. William Brent, but were stolen from their house many years ago.

THE BROOKE FAMILY.

As the publication of that part of the Brooke genealogy which was due to the minute and comprehensive investigation of Professor St. George T. Brooke, has been concluded, it has been thought that the continuing instalments could not begin better than by giving a condensed genealogy of the family, with references to volumes and pages of the Magazine, which contain Professor Brookes' notices of the various individuals.

The pedigree here given will give few details, but along with each name will appear, in parentheses, the references to the various portions of the already published accounts, which gives wills, dates and various details.

THE CHILES FAMILY IN VIRGINIA.

(CONCLUDED.)

RICHARD CHILES 4 (Henry 3, J 3, W 5, W 6).

Lived in Spotsylvania county in 1740. Purchased 100 acres from Bartholomew Wood and Charity his wife, of Prince William county, on June 3, 1740. He sold this land in 1749 to Nicholas Seward of Spotsylvania county; also to same party 50 acres formerly purchased of Anthony Thornton, gent. In this deed name is several times written Childs. (Spotsylvania Records, 180.)

FIFTH GENERATION.

WALTER CHILES 5 (Henry 4, J 3, W 5, W 6).

Land grant in Fayette county, Ky., of 500 acres, 1786. (L. O., W-363.) Land Office warrant No. 529, dated 1779.
Issue: Susannah, m. William Day; Ann, m. A. P. Thomas; William Carr Chiles, m. Eleanor C. Carter, daughter of Farley Carter of Culpeper county, and Bettie his wife, née Lewis; Agnes, m. Thomas Wallace; Thomas, m. Mary Dorsey; Sarah, m. John Bradshaw; Elizabeth, m. Thomas Davis; Huldah, m. David William Standeford; Phebe, m. Joseph Whitaker; Walter Carr Chiles, m. Phebe Sutton.

In sale of the Baylor tract, his father, Henry, is mentioned (1778).
Married Agnes White, daughter of Thomas White, of Spotsylvania county. (S. R.)

Issue: William, m. Elizabeth Cauthorne, 1801; Fendall, m. Martha Beadle; Bettie, who married Joel Lipscomb (1781); Agnes, m. Samuel Newton (1781). (St. James Parish Register.)

James Chiles (Henry, J, W, W).

Lived in St. George's parish, Spotsylvania county.
Married Jemima Graves, daughter of John Graves, of said parish. In 1764 he and Jemima sold 168 acres in St. George's parish, said land "having been devised to said Jemima by her father, John Graves, dec'd," as by his will, dated March 30, 1747. (S. R., 244.) Jemima was appointed guardian of Dabney Chiles, son of William Chiles, deceased, 1778.

Note.—If Dabney was son of William Chiles, brother of James, the land grant to him was made through heirs, it being dated 1779-1786.

In 1769 (November 6th) he and wife sold Thomas Lipscomb, of Albemarle county, 244 acres in Spotsylvania county, "devised to said James Chiles by his father, Henry Chiles, dec'd."

Issue: James, m. Susannah Graves, had Jeanne, (William and Mary Quarterly, XV, 251); John Graves Chiles.

John Graves Chiles, served in Captain Estes' Company, 8th Regiment, Brigadier John H. Cocke commanding, in the War of 1812.

Henry Chiles (Henry, J, W, W).

Willed the home tract, in Spotsylvania county, by his father.
Married Sarah Hargrave, daughter of Samuel Hargrave, Sr. He was a Quaker. Affirmed to a deed from Edmund Pendleton and Peter Lyons, gents, administrators of John Robinson, Esq., deceased to George Tribble, Sen., (1778). To a deed from the same parties to Francis Hodges.
He and wife were plaintiffs in chancery against Jacob, James and Micaiah Clark for $169.00 due for the use of negroes, Charles, Susan and Sam, December, 1804. Verdict for plaintiffs. (Caroline Records.) It was unusual for Quakers to hold slaves or to sue in court, but this proves the exception.

Henry and Sarah, his wife, are mentioned in the records of Cedar Creek meeting-house a number of times. These records give quite a number of marriages in which they were witnesses, and mention among them the marriages of members of the Chiles, Terrell, Moorman, Douglass and Chew families. Full record of this would only be interesting to this branch of the Chiles family, and can be easily obtained from the above-mentioned records; therefore the writer deems them too voluminous for this compilation.

It may be of interest to mention that in one of the marriages the contracting parties were first cousins, which was against the rule of the society, and it is recorded they afterwards expressed sincere regret and were forgiven. This elicits the query: Why were they sorry?

Henry Chiles died prior to June, 1805. On that date his widow, Sarah, entered suit in chancery against Tarleton W. Chiles and Fleming Chiles, administrators of Henry Chiles, deceased. In the suit the following children were mentioned, viz: Lucy Chiles, Sarah Hargrave Chiles, Polly Chiles, Elizabeth Chiles, Edna Chiles infants (Sarah Chiles, guardian). Judith Smith, nee Chiles, m. Meriwether Smith, and Nancy Coleman, nee Chiles, m. George Coleman.

Louisa Record Book, pp. 374–76, mentions his purchase of land from Anthony Thornton and Mary, his wife, of Caroline, December 9, 1799.

He had a son Henry, who lived in Louisa, who had a son John. The will of this John, dated March 22, 1824, mentions his father and the following brothers and sisters: Mary Chiles, m. Sandy Kennon; Thomas; Tarleton was the T. W. C. above mentioned (?); William, m. Louise Fletcher (1801); Elizabeth, m. George Carnal (1810); their daughter, Elizabeth, m. Albert Johnson, April 19, 1829, and Nancy, m. Mathew White (1823). It appears that Henry Chiles was married first to the mother of Henry and Fleming, and Sarah Hargrave was his second wife.

Tarlton Chiles was commissioner of the revenue in Caroline county, 1804.

John Chiles (Henry, J, W, W).

Lived in Spotsylvania county. Deed of gift made him by his father in 1756. (S. R., 201.) Married Elizabeth Graves, daughter of John Graves. He was a Quaker.

Purchased 120 acres in Spotsylvania county, October 9, 1769, from George Humphries, of Orange county, and Edward Graves, of Culpeper county. Witnesses: Henry and James Chiles.

Owned slaves in Spotsylvania county in 1783. Recorded as affirming to a number of deeds in the same county.
Assigned by Reuben Vass, two military warrants, Nos. 548-9, for 1,000 acres, issued in 1763. Granted the land in Fayette county, Ky., 1785, by Patric Henry, Governor of Virginia. (L. O., S-560). Assigned land, by William Henry, in Fayette county, Ky., 1783, 2,000 acres. (Book 14, p. 147.)

Benjamin Chiles⁵ (Henry⁴, J³, W², W¹).
Settled in Fluvanna county. Married Milicent Stanley.

Thomas Carr Chiles⁵ (Henry⁴, J³, W², W¹).
Lived in Caroline county. Appointed, May, 1778, with Christopher Terrell, Charles Terrell and Joseph Magee, to appraise the estate of George Cheadle, deceased.
On Caroline Road Survey Commission, 1779. (Caroline Records.)
His son, Thomas⁶, married Lucy F. Hargrave December 21, 1815 (Caroline Records), and was a member of the light infantry commanded by Capt. William Jackson, 7th Regiment, 4th Brigade, from August, 1814, to February, 1815, when the company was mustered out of service.

Elizabeth Chiles⁵ (Henry⁴, J³, W², W¹).
Married Moorman Johnson, of Bedford county, Va.
Issue: Thomas Chiles Johnson, born December 8, 1774; James Johnson, born November 11, 1790. For other children see Quaker Friends, Bell, p. 32.

John Chiles⁶ (William⁴, J³, W², W¹).
Administered under the provisions of his father's will, 1778.
In 1782 he is mentioned as a boatswain in the Continental Navy, and is recorded as receiving pay on February 7th of that year. (Rev. Sol. MSS., Virginia State Library). In 1789, appointed one of the trustees for the "Improving of Navigation of the Pamunky River, from Hanover Town as far up as found best," &c. (Hening, XIII, 173.)
In 1793, with Edmund Pendleton and others, he was authorized to establish the town of Oxford at a place called Cook's Ford, on the Pamunky. Land issue belonging to Samuel Hargrave. (Hening, XIV, 368.)
His wife was Polly Hargrave, daughter of Samuel Hargrave. He and wife make deed to his brother, William, Jr., in 1804. Richard K. Tyler, witness, (Caroline Records). Issue.

William Chiles⁶ (William⁴, J³, W², W¹).
Lived in Caroline county. Married Virginia Elliott. Chosen guardian of brothers Overton and Samuel. In 1779 was private in the Vir-Genealogy.

Sarah Bibb Chiles, m. Holman DuVal.

William Bibb Chiles, m. William Rogers (namesake of grandfather's), died unmarried, age twenty-one.

Elliott Ryland, died unmarried, age twenty.

Luther Rice, m. first, Mattie Walker. Issue: George Edwin, m. Eva Fanshaw, of Princess Anne county; second, Florence Morrisette, of Chesterfield. He was a surgeon in the Confederate service, a prominent physician, first mayor of Manchester, Va., and State Senator.

Virginia Chiles, m. Weir Goodwin.

Samuel Chiles (William, J5, W3, W1).

"Sam'l Chiles & Sarah, his wife, & Catherine Rogers, of Caroline Co., to John Rogers, now of Fayette Co., Ky.:

"Whereas s'd John Rogers did by hisIndenture convey to Thos. Polland, of Fairfax Co., gent., 645 acres in Spottsylvanla Co., & whereas the s'd Sam'l Chiles & Sarah, his wife, & Catherine Rogers (which s'd Sarah & Catherine are daughters of Wm. Rogers, late of Spottsylvania Co., dec'd) have a right to a part thereof, etc.; therefore the s'd Sam'l Chiles & wife & Catherine Rogers, for love and affection they bear & the sum of $25.00 to each in hand paid, hereby convey their right thereto to s'd Jno. Rogers, etc. Witness: John Chiles, John Sutton, Ann Coleman et als. (S. R., 426.)"

His son, Samuel, took oath in Caroline Court, June, 1805, of a captain to a company of artillery, 2nd Regiment, 2nd Division, State Militia. (Caroline Records.)

Dabney Chiles (William, J5, W3, W1).

Lived in Caroline county in 1805, as evidenced by suit against Thomas Butler. (Caroline Records.)
Francis Chiles⁵ (Micajah⁴).

Lived in Pittsylvania county in 1773. (William and Mary Quarterly, XVI, 286.) See Micajah⁴.

Henry Chiles⁶ (Henry⁴, H³, W³, W¹).

Lived in Bedford county, Va., and will recorded there (dated October 9, 1757), November 27, 1758.

He died without issue, mentioning as devisees his "well beloved mother, Ann Chiles, of the County of Halifax; well beloved brother, John Chiles, of Prince Edward Co., Planter," and his sister Ann Ward. Executors: John Chiles, John Ward and Ann Chiles. (William and Mary Quarterly, XVI, 285.)

Paul Chiles⁴ (Henry⁴, H³, W², W¹).

Lived in Halifax and Albemarle counties. Inherited 770 acres in Amelia and Albemarle counties from his father. Patented 400 acres in Lunenburg county, 1748, 80 acres in Albemarle, 1755, and 43 acres in Bedford county, 1760. Several grants on Mayo River and Butterham Creek in 1759. (L. O. Book, 34, 346-7-8.) His will, recorded in Halifax county, 1761, names as executors his wife, Anne Chiles; his brother, John Chiles; brother-in-law, John Ward. Will provides for sons Henry, Paul and Rowland; daughters Elizabeth and Frances. (William and Mary Quarterly, XVI, 285.)

John Chiles⁵ (Henry⁴, H³, W³, W¹).

Lived in Pittsylvania county, where he died in 1778. Inherited 678 acres in Albemarle county from his father. His wife was Elizabeth ——. John⁶, his son, emigrated to Kentucky in 1784, and was living in Jassee mine county, that State, in 1804-5. John⁷ (John⁶) was Captain in Wear's Regiment, Tennessee Militia; Capt. (Col.?) Brown's Regiment from January to May, 1814; Major of East Tennessee Mounted Volunteers, in Coffee's Brigade, 20th of September, 1814, to May 1, 1815.

David⁸ (John⁷) was Brigadier-General, Kentucky Volunteers, Mounted Gunmen, August 31, 1813. Commanded brigade in the Battle of the Thames, U. C., 5th of October, 1813. Reported from Tennessee.

Henry Chiles⁸ (John⁷ or David⁸). Ensign in Gentry's Missouri Regiment in the Florida War. Entered October 7, 1837. Accidently shot, and died November 12, 1837.

Henry Chiles ( ?, ? W², W¹).

Lived in Lunenburg county. Will dated March 6, 1756, and recorded in Will Book No. 1, P-156. Have not been able to place him. Unforuuately he mentions his mother and wife without giving names. Makes mention of grandmother, Mary Howl, and daughter Elizabeth. (William and Mary Quarterly, XVIII, 106.)

This concludes extracts from notes taken from the original county records as found after personal examination, and care has been taken to eliminate, as far as possible, any catalogue of doubtful line of descent.
This has necessitated my omitting a number of names, where I have record only in part, as illustrated in the last-mentioned Henry.

It would be impossible for the Virginia Historical Magazine to give space for publication of the family of the present generation, though this may be published later in book form. Information assisting in this compilation, so that the records may be brought to date, will be welcomed by the undersigned.

W. B. Cridlin.

Information obtained from the William and Mary Quarterly, Virginia Historical Magazine and County Record Publications of William Armstrong Crozier has been of inestimable value.

BOOK REVIEWS.

James Branch Cabell, the well-known writer of fiction, occasionally turns to the soberer paths of antiquity and family history. Several years ago he published "Branchiana," a carefully studied account of his maternal ancestors. The Branch family descended from Christopher Branch who settled in Virginia early in the seventeenth century. In this first work he made various conjectures as to the English ancestry of Christopher Branch, (which, it may be added, have turned out to be incorrect).

The noted genealogist, J. Henry Lea, fortunately stumbled upon an English chancery suit in which Christopher Branch, the emigrant, endeavored to recover certain property in Abingdon, Berkshire. Mr. Lea followed the clue and was enabled to establish the line of ancestry for several generations. This instance shows what a vast and fertile field for American genealogists the English Chancery records are.

Last summer Mr. Cabell visited England, and his personal investigations at Abingdon, and in various record and probate offices, have borne good fruit. He has been able, from wills, registers, &c., to elaborate Mr. Lea's pedigree, and to add the ancestral lines of various other English families from whom the Branches descend. The most important of these is Bostock, through whom a royal descent is shown.

The family of Branch was prominent and prosperous at Abingdon from about the year 1500. They were mayors and burgesses, but probably their prominence in the town is best shown by the fact that two of them, Richard and William, were masters of the Fraternity of the Holy Cross. Mr. Cabell gives many interesting details in regard to this old Guild. He is also able to go beyond the bare details of genealogy and to present numerous incidents in the lives of the Branches, their relations and friends.

This handsome volume is well illustrated with views of places in and about Abingdon, and with a fac-simile of a page of the cartulary of the Fraternity of the Holy Cross. Foremost of all, from the view-point of scientific genealogy, is that the account of the Branch family is proved throughout by record evidence.
Mr. Cabell's book will be of great interest to all of the almost innumerable descendants of Christopher Branch and to collectors of Virginia genealogy. The edition is so small that it will soon become a very rare book. It is presumed that copies may be obtained through the printers.

A diary not kept with the view to publication, and especially the diary of a woman of social standing and cultivation, who lived in New Orleans during the years 1862–1863, must be of great interest. The journal of Julia Le Grand, afterwards Mrs. Waitz, does not disappoint expectations. It begins on December 1, 1861, just before the capture of New Orleans by the Federal forces, and one of the most striking things in it is the way it shows the indignation of the brave women of the city at the surrender. It is impossible here to go into the innumerable details, of deep interest, of the life of the people who were unable to leave New Orleans, and whose hearts were so intensely with their husbands, relatives and sweethearts who were in the Confederate army. The difficulty of communicating with their friends added greatly to the sufferings of the imprisoned people.

The editors have given all needed information in a preface and notes, and have made this fragment of a diary (recovered by accident) a valuable and deeply interesting addition to our war literature.

PROCEEDINGS

OF THE

Virginia Historical Society

ANNUAL MEETING

HELD IN THE

ON

WILLIAM ELLIS JONES' SONS, INC., PRINTERS TO THE SOCIETY,
RICHMOND, VA.
The Annual Meeting (which had been necessarily postponed) was held at the Society's House, 707 East Franklin Street, on Saturday, January 27, 1912.

The meeting was called to order at 4:30 P. M. with President McCabe in the chair.

President McCabe had accepted an invitation from the Executive Committee to deliver the annual address, but it had been decided that the address should be delivered at some later date.

The first business was reading the President's Report.

To the Members of the Virginia Historical Society:

I have the honor to submit the following report, giving a résumé of the work of the Society and a detailed statement of its financial condition for the year ending November 30th, 1911, which report has been duly examined, verified, and unanimously approved by the Executive Committee.
While it is true that no specially noteworthy developments have marked the history of the Society during the year, it must prove most gratifying to our members to learn that much work of permanent historical value has been successfully accomplished, that our membership, notwithstanding an appalling death-roll, has grown to 758, an increase of nine since our last Annual Report, and that the year has been in many directions a most prosperous one.

To the mournful losses caused by death must be added those of delinquents, who, in accordance with the wise, if drastic, policy of your "Executive Committee," have been dropped from our rolls. The Society has been long suffering in respect to these delinquents, and none of them can deny that they have been treated with the greatest consideration and most delicate forbearance.

We Virginians are very old-fashioned folk, ever ready to give generous consideration to any reasonable—nay, even plausible—excuse for non-payment of dues, but the ugly fact remains that we have patiently borne upon our rolls for the past four to five years no small number of people, otherwise regarded as reputable, who, with cool complacency, have accepted our valuable publications, yet who, quite as complacently, have utterly ignored the modest bills for dues sent to them at regular intervals.

There are a few of these names still left on our rolls, because of their vague, yet eager, promises to pay at an early day, but your Executive Committee, wearied out by their shameless lack of sense of obligation (to employ the most euphemistic term), has resolved to give no more warnings, but to thoroughly purge our rolls of these pseudo 'lovers of our Old Dominion.'

It is extremely distasteful to have thus, for the third time, to draw public attention to these delinquents who apparently take no shame in disregarding their honest debts; but it is only proper that the whole Society shall know the facts of the case. Such offenders cannot plead ignorance, for they know quite as well as any of us that our publications are everywhere, at home and abroad, recognized as of prime authority, that money must be found for copying, printing, and for the salaries of our faithful and hard-worked officials, yet who manifest an unblushing readiness to accept these publications without payment of their annual dues, on which this Society is, in chief measure, dependent for its present support and future success.
It is pleasant to report, after this rather mortifying statement touching these delinquents, that the payment of annual dues has been much prompter this year than it was in 1910, and that the “Permanent Fund” has been increased $500. The financial condition of the Society is, therefore, at present very satisfactory, though additional generosity to our “Permanent Fund” would be most welcome. It is the most earnest desire of your Executive Committee to secure for the Society an endowment large enough to make it independent of fluctuations of membership, and to enable it, through an assured income, to broaden and improve its work in many directions.

The Treasurer’s Report, in detail, is as follows:

In accordance with an order of the Executive Committee, the Treasurer presents the following Tabulated Statement, showing the sources from which the Permanent Fund is derived. What is termed the "Society's Fund" comprises the amount which the Committee has been able to save each year out of the ordinary revenues of the Society:

The Virginia Sturdivant McCabe Fund, given by the President of the Society in memory of his grand-daughter, Virginia Sturdivant McCabe, born February 1st, 1906, died August 11th, 1909 ........................................ $  500.00

Society's Fund ..................................  6,300.00

Total ........................................... $11,100.00

To which must always be added the gift of the house, 707 East Franklin Street, the War-Time Home of General R. E. Lee, by the heirs of the late John Stewart, Esq., of Brook Hill, Henrico county, Va. The Permanent Fund is reported as it was at the date of the President's report. Since the close of the fiscal year $1,000 has been taken from the Current Account and invested for the Permanent Fund in a 3% certificate of deposit.

It is expected that at an early date this amount will be invested in a more profitable way.
The additions to the Library in books and pamphlets number five hundred and thirty-five. First in importance may be named the valuable publications issued by the different departments of the United States Government, and, second, those of various Historical and Genealogical Societies at home and abroad, that come to us by "exchange." To these, we have been enabled to add, through purchase or by gift, no inconsiderable number of books of permanent value, all dealing with history, biography, genealogy, and cognate subjects.

able Artillery Company” of Boston (Mass.), the General Committee of the Protestant Episcopal Church, the “Bunker Hill Monument Association,” the “Confederate Memorial Literary Society” of Richmond, the University of Harvard, and the “Society of Colonial Dames in the State of Virginia.”

These books and pamphlets have been catalogued and arranged as well as our meager unoccupied space will admit. But though, owing to our steadily increasing annual additions, we are sadly in need of adequate room for the proper disposition of these valuable accessions, every book and pamphlet (through our system of minute card-catalogues) is readily accessible, and can within a few minutes be put into the hands of the general reader or of the more determined student. Thus far, the only marked inconvenience experienced from this lack of space, has been in regard to our bound files of newspapers, which have perforce, to be arranged in piles wherever room can be found for them. Even in this case, all that is required on the part of readers is a somewhat more patient waiting in order to gain access to them.

The placing of miscellaneous pamphlets in “magazine binders” has been carried on as heretofore. At the time of our last Annual Report, there were 223 of these “binders” on our shelves. Since then, there has been an increase of twenty, containing between 150 and 200 pamphlets. Of course, some of the miscellaneous publications that come to us are too large for the “binders,” and have to be suitably bound. Almost all of our historical and genealogical “exchanges” are regularly bound in cloth, as each volume is completed.

Gifts.

The most notable gift of the year has been a large collection of topographical maps (chiefly of counties in Virginia) made in 1862-1864 by Confederate engineer officers under the direction and supervision of Major-General J. F. Gilmore, Chief of the Engineer Corps of the Confederate States, reckoned both in the Federal and Confederate armies as one of the ablest military engineers in either service. These maps, sixty-five in number, all exquisitely executed, were munificently presented to the Society by Mrs. Louisa Gilmore Minis, of Savannah, Georgia, a lady of rare culture and ardent patriotism, who, having declined a large sum offered for them by the United States Government, donated them to our Society as a memorial of her gallant and distinguished father.

Map-cases have been ordered for these veritable treasures, which are of prime importance to all present and future military students, so great has been the change in the topographical aspects of Virginia during the half century that has elapsed since "the War between the States."

One of the handsomest of these maps will be appropriately framed and hung upon the walls of the "Society House."

The gift ranking next in value is a life-size portrait in oils of General Zachary Taylor ("Old Rough and Ready"), hero of the "Black Hawk," "Seminole," and "Mexican" Wars, a native of Orange county in this State and perfervid Virginian, presented to the Society by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nelson, of this city. It was taken from life, and some of us are old enough to pronounce it a "speaking likeness" of the sturdy old soldier, though the name of the artist is unknown to us at present.

Other gifts worthy of special mention are: (1) a photograph of the noble recumbent statue of Lee in the chapel at Lexington, executed by Edward V. Valentine, one of our Vice-Presidents, and donated by Fairfax C. Jones; (2) the original of a letter from Richard Henry Lee to Patrick Henry, dated May 13th, 1777, and the reply of Henry to Lee (also an original), dated May 28th, 1777, together with a contemporary copy of Henry's receipt for money paid for the gunpowder taken from the royal magazine at Williamsburg—all three given to us by Henry's great-grand-daughter, Mrs. Matthews Bland Harrison, of "Red Hill," the ancestral seat of the Henrys in the county of Charlotte, where "the forest-born Demosthenes" (as Byron termed the great tribune of the people) so long lived, and where he finally fell on sleep.
Publication Committee.

(1) Volume XIX of our "Magazine" was begun and completed in 1911, and, in adherence to the settled purpose of your Committee, its contents consisted almost entirely of unpublished original documents bearing on Virginia history.

In the April number was begun the publication of the "Minutes of the Council and General Court of Virginia," commencing from 1623. For years it has been our keen desire to publish this record from the original manuscripts in the Library of Congress. But various hindrances (dwelt upon in former Annual Reports) have hitherto prevented the fruition of our cherished hopes. This year, however, through the courtesy of Mr. Herbert Putnam, Chief Librarian, and of Mr. Gaillard Hunt, Custodian of Archives, of the Library of Congress, as well as through the generous services of Mr. Lothrop Withington, of London, we have been enabled to enter upon our long-deferred undertaking.

To all of these gentlemen named above the Society begs to tender its most grateful acknowledgments.

These "Minutes" constitute, probably, the oldest record in America that originated in any of the colonies, and are certainly the most ancient record of the proceedings of the Virginia Court or Council. Much of the original was written within the palisades of Jamestown, when the scribe plied his "grey-goose-quill," while his trusty matchlock lay within easy reach, in case of any sudden attack by wily savage. The whole is a veritable "human document" in its graphic touches, that portray so simply and yet so vividly contemporary events, and we may not impertinently add that our presentation of it follows with notable exactitude the original, and has been annotated in very thorough and minute fashion.

(2) The printing of the "Randolph MS. (a compilation of Seventeenth Century records destroyed long years ago), has gone on steadily, and will probably not be completed until the end of 1912 or later. This most valuable historical compilation has now reached the latter part of the XVII century, and among its contents for this year (1911) may be found: (1) Memoranda from the Proceedings of the Council for 1684-1688; (2) a Commission to the General Court; and (3) two sets of elaborate instructions to Governor Lord Howard of Effingham.

(3) The series of "Miscellaneous Colonial Documents," containing papers dealing with various periods of our colonial history and copied from certain archives in the State Library (which had been unaccountably mislaid and which were only discovered after the printed "Calendar of State Papers" had been issued) has been continued throughout the year, and include, among other items of historical value, (1) some most interesting letters written to the Governor and Council by Nathaniel Blackiston, who was, during the years 1705-1709, the "Virginia Agent" in London; (2) a memorial of the Directors controlling the erection of a lighthouse at Cape Henry in 1775; (3) two papers relating to the Transylvania Company; (4) instructions of the Fairfax County Committee to their delegates to the Virginia Convention of 1775; (5) a most interesting petition to the same Convention from the citizens of Frederick county; (6) a paper regarding the Indian War in the Carolinas (1712); (7) a list of Indian words, with their English equivalents (of about 1708); (8) a letter from John Page to William Lee in regard to the official Seal of Virginia (1777).

(4) The fourth series (comprising not only the "Abstracts" of the English Public Records made by the late W. N. Sainsbury, but full copies, as well, of the original papers from which these "Abstracts" were made, together with copies of documents embraced in the "McDonald" and other "Collections" of transcripts now in the State Library) has been regularly continued. The period covered is from 1665 to 1670, and as accurate information touching Virginia affairs during this very period has heretofore been lacking, the historical signification of this first-hand documentary material can scarcely be exaggerated.

The very valuable series of "General Orders" issued from Washington's headquarters during the campaigns of 1777-1778 that have been published in each number of the Magazine, contains much historical data of prime moment to students of our Revolutionary era and continues to excite great interest on the part of the general reader.

Another important contribution to our Revolutionary history (begun in the October number) is a careful bibliography of the Muster and Pay Rolls, together with the Regimental Histories, of Virginia Revolutionary troops, compiled not only from printed works, but from MSS and minutely annotated by Messrs. C. A. Flagg and W. O. Waters, both of the Library of Congress. The first instalment of this work (to which is prefixed an admirable introduction) has been done with the trained skill that one expects from such expert bibliographers, and your Committee desires to make proper record on the pages of our "Minutes" of the gratitude entertained by the Society for this signal token of generosity on the part of these two distinguished gentlemen.

Our faithful friend, Mr. Lothrop Withington, of London, has continued during the year his intensely interesting "Virginia Gleanings in England," extracted with scholarly accuracy from old English wills, and generously contributed to the Magazine by this accomplished antiquarian, who has declined to be reimbursed even for the expense necessarily incurred by him for clerical transcription. These "Gleanings" still constitute not merely delightful reading for even the idlest "skimmer," but shed most important side-lights on the social life of our early colonial era. Among the wills presented in this year's "Gleanings" are those of Dr. Lawrence Bohune, Physician-General of Virginia in 1620, whose heroic utterance, as he fell mortally wounded on the deck of Capt. Chester's ship, as she valiantly engaged two Spanish men-of-war in the West Indies, is almost identical with that of Sir Richard Grenville, immortalized by Tennyson in his stirring ballad of "The Revenge;" (2) the will of Governor Robert Dinwiddie, and (3) those of such well-known colonial "worthies" as Philip Ludwell (third), John Dixon, and Brett Randolph.

Outside the various series already mentioned, other contributions worthy of note made to the Magazine during the year are: (1) A Diary of a journey made to Kentucky and Ohio by Henry Bartlett, of Frederick county, Virginia, in 1805; (2) Extracts from Sir Wm. Johnson's Papers, 1750 (now on file in the office of the State Archivist, Albany, N. Y.), contributed by G. A. Taylor, of London, England; (3) the Report of Col. Edmund Scarborough, touching his efforts to suppress the Quakers on the Eastern Shore (1663), in which the long-vexed contest as to the boundary line between Virginia and Maryland is dwelt upon, contributed by Mr. Thos. B. Robertson; (4) a partial list (to be completed in our next volume) of Sussex county (Va.) wills; and (5) an exceedingly able letter written in 1756 by Rev. James Maury to Philip Ludwell, of His Majesty's Council in regard to the defense of the frontiers of Virginia against the attacks of the Indians (whom he terms "those bloody instruments of French policy"), contributed by the distinguished antiquarian and historian, Worthington C. Ford, of the "Massachusetts Historical Society."

The departments of Notes and Queries, Genealogy, and the reviews of new books have maintained their long-established high standard.

It may be pertinent to mention just here that most of the series of historical documents to which we have drawn your attention above (including the "General Orders," "Revolutionary Muster Rolls," and "Virginia Gleanings in England"), will be continued during the coming year, while the Minutes of the Council and General Court" will certainly require two, and perhaps three, years for completion. There is a chance that the "Randolph Manuscript" may be brought to a conclusion in 1912, but it is more probable that it will not be completed until some time in 1913.

The "Miscellaneous Colonial Documents" (at least, those of which we have transcripts) will, no doubt, be all printed during the next two years. When this shall have been done (and the "Minutes" concluded), we shall have printed practically all the important records dealing with Virginia affairs during the XVIIth century, with the exception of the "Legislative and Council Journals," which our State Library proposes to publish.

When these "Miscellaneous Colonial Documents" have been finished, we shall resume the publication of "Virginia Legislative Papers," which consisting, as they do, of "Petitions," "Remonstrances," letters, reports, and certain "intercepted communications" (sent direct to the Virginia Legislature or communicated to that body by the Governor) have proved (so far as we have published them) of the highest moment to historical students.

The "Abstracts" and the full copies of documents from the "English Public Records Office" will more than cover the period from 1670 to 1675, as presented in our next volume. As we have already published practically all the documents relating to "Bacon's Rebellion," we shall be able, because of the material now readily accessible in print, to skip over to 1677, and then go on steadily to the end of the XVIIth century. It needs no argument to impress upon the members of this Society that it is a matter of the highest importance to the true history of Virginia that all of the XVIIth century documentary evidence as to her genesis and development should be made readily accessible in print to students of that heroic time.

After the fulfillment of this patriotic purpose, we look forward to publishing a number of other Virginia documents touching the early colonial period, of which the Library of Congress has obtained accurate transcripts within the last few years.

It would be not only unseemly, but ungrateful, on our part to close this report without expressing our most sincere gratitude for contributions of exceptional value and interest where-with they have enriched the pages of our Magazine, to Messrs. A. J. Morrison, Lothrop Withington, J. T. McAllister, G. A. Taylor, Thos. B. Robertson, W. B. Cridlin, C. A. Flagg, W. O. Waters, Beverley W. Bond, Jr., General W. H. Carter, U. S. A., W. B. Chilton, St. George T. Brooke, H. J. Eckenrode, Gerald Fothergill, Prof. J. F. Jameson, Rev. A. H. Hord, W. W. Fon-tain, Wm. B. Morrison, N. S. Barratt, C. B. Bryant, Mrs. N. E. Clement, and Miss Lucie P. Stone.

Our sister societies deserve, too, a special word of congratulation on the good work they continue to do in historical and antiquarian fields. Especially worthy of mention is the happy culmination of the persistent struggle that the "Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities" has been making for years to secure possession of the "John Marshall House" in this city. Success has finally crowned their strenuous efforts, and it is the purpose of these patriotic Virginia women to restore the inside of the building exactly as it was, when, for so many years it was the home of "the great Chief Justice," and to establish there a museum of Virginia antiquities. It is also worthy of note that on the 31st day of last May the "Society of Colonial Dames in the State of Virginia" unveiled, with appropriate ceremonies, an impressive granite shaft (erected at their expense) to mark the site of "Henricopolis." (So called in honor of Prince Henry, son of James I, the first "Patron" of the "Virginia Company"), and to commemorate that on that spot a beginning had been made to establish the first university in the western world—a noble enterprise, that had surely succeeded but for the frightful "Massacre of 1622."

NECROLOGY.

"This fell-sergeant, Death," as Shakespeare tells us, "is strict in his arrest," and every year, we, especially the older of us, scan with ever-deepening sorrow and tender wistfulness of remembrance, the list of those whom we have "loved long since and lost awhile."

The list last year was of tragic length, but this year it is even more appalling. It is as follows:

Life Members.

CHAPMAN JOHNSON LEIGH, New York City.

BYAM KERBY STEVENS, New York City.
Annual Members.

Richard H. Baker, Norfolk, Virginia.
Theodore M. Banta, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Franklin R. Carpenter, Denver, Colorado (died 1910).
W. G. Darris, New York City.
Hon. Charles J. Hughes, Jr., Denver, Colorado.
J. F. Hunnewell, Charlestown, Massachusetts.
Herbert M. Nash, M. D., Norfolk, Virginia.
Capt. Wm. W. Old, Norfolk, Virginia.
George P. Raney, Tallahassee, Fla.
William O. Skelton, Richmond, Virginia.
Judge Beverly R. Wellford, Richmond, Virginia.
John G. Williams, Orange, Virginia.
Charles B. Wingo, Richmond, Virginia.
Mrs. S. R. Cargill, Mason City, Illinois.
Mrs. Wm. W. Gordon, Richmond, Virginia.

It has been customary during recent years for the President to make some mention of each of our deceased members, but this year, so long is the mournful list, it is manifestly impossible to do so. In any event, this could not be done in a number of cases, because of lack of personal knowledge, and an expression of perfunctory grief is usually nothing but repulsive hypocrisy. Some of these, unknown to us, were yet men of national reputation, as Stephen B. Elkins, United States Senator and Secretary of War in Harrison's Cabinet, and Charles J. Hughes (an alumnus, as was Elkins, of the University of Missouri), who rose through many offices of public trust and responsibility, to become United States Senator from Colorado. Even more distinguished in the eyes of men-of-letters was James Frothingham Hunnewell, whose literary achievement (antiquarian and historical) it would be impertinent to dwell upon in this presence.

Of the three "Life Members," we can at least speak briefly, and of two of them, as Hamlet hath it, "by the card."
Chapman Johnson Leigh, though he spent but few years of his life in Virginia after he grew to manhood, was born and educated in the “Old Dominion,” and ever cherished for his mother-State that passionate devotion and fealty which God seems to have implanted in the breasts of all Virginians “to the manner born” that belonged to his generation. What a host of memories of the time, which many still hold to have been Virginia’s “Golden Age,” his mere name evokes! For in that name were blended those of two “Virginia Worthies” of the highest and noblest type. Some of us here, though a scant score of years his juniors, still recall him as he was in the full flush of attractive manhood—somewhat grave, with a certain aloofness due to shyness, yet gracious with an old-fashioned politeness that has been swept away by “the shabby tide of Progress.” Some few, indeed, of us were present at his wedding, when he married the radiant beauty of “Lowland Virginia,” Anne Carter, of “Shirley,” on the James—and surely none of those few can ever forget that brilliant assemblage of courtly squires and high-bred women who gathered that night under the hospitable roof-tree of her father, filling with jocund mirth and happy laughter the stately drawing-rooms, from whose panelled walls looked down upon us a brave array of gallants in doublets of crimson and gold and smiling beauties with powder on hair and a patch on chin (not a few “Lelys” and “Sir Godfreys” among them), and then a sudden hush, as the young couple entered, and standing before the parson, plighted troth in the very room, where nigh seventy years ago, another fair Anne Carter (great aunt of the bride), had wed dashing “Light Horse Harry” Lee, little dreaming that she was destined to become the mother of the foremost soldier of English-speaking folk.

Chapman Leigh was, as you all know, son of the brilliant Benjamin Watkins Leigh, once United States Senator from this Commonwealth, and reckoned, though young in years, as, perhaps, in many ways the best-equipped representative in the famous “Virginia Convention of 1829-30.” His fame as an orator and keen debater had been already won, but he was destined to find in that Convention, in the person of Chapman Johnson, his old college-mate at Williamsburg "a foeman worthy of his steel." Sharply and often that steel rang out in the heated debates, for they were the conspicuous leaders of the two opposing factions, and many looked for a severance of their long friendship; but the intimacy that had sprung up in what Shakespeake calls "the May-morn of their youth," was never dimmed for a moment, and Leigh, at a later time, put the seal upon that long friendship by naming his son for his old antagonist.

Certainly, if there be aught in a name, Chapman Johnson Leigh should have been a conspicuous figure in Virginia public life, but his tastes were all opposed to a political career, and, though a man of fine judgment and of marked acumen in business affairs, he preferred to lead the life of a quiet gentleman, "far from the madding crowd," and, having achieved a comfortable fortune, devoted himself to his books and to foreign travel.

He rounded out his four-score, but to the very end his love for his mother-State, her history, and traditions, knew no shadow of turning.

Quite the reverse in his tastes as to mingling with "all sorts and conditions of men," was the Rt. Rev. Augustine Van de Vyver, Catholic Bishop of the Diocese of Virginia. He possessed, indeed, a real "genius for friendship," and when merely a poor parish-priest, might have claimed with "noble Timon"—"You mistake my fortunes; I am wealthy in my friends." Those who were not members of his communion, yet who admired him and had much talk with him, were struck chiefly by his breadth of view and fairness ("the sweet reasonableness and light" of Matthew Arnold) and by his charming deference to his adversaries in all matters of discussion. There, he never claimed the authority or protection of dogma, nor hid himself behind "priestly petticoats," but stepped out into the broad arena and more than held his own with rare dialectical skill. As for "heat of argument," no adversary could even withstand his mellow laughter and the twinkle of his kindly eyes. There was in him indeed, a delightful blending of the simple, jovial curé of some village in his native Belgium, knowing little beyond his well-thumbed Breviary and the names and needs of every member of his flock (so delightfully portrayed by the magic pencil of Daudet), and of the highly-educated ecclesiastic, who had at his finger-tips the whole history of the tenets of the ancient communion that claimed his devotion and single-minded faith. He was blessed beyond most Episcopal dignitaries with a saving sense of humor, loved a good story, and was a delightful raconteur himself, his French accent, which he never altogether overcame, adding a nameless piquancy to his bright and easy talk. Even in graver discussion, he seemed to have learned instinctively that persuading is of far deeper moment than merely convincing.

Those here to-night who witnessed only a few months ago the imposing pageant of his obsequies, where were gathered in and about the Cathedral a vast array of "the lofty and the lowly," who had come to do honor not so much to the prelate as to the man, could harbor, no doubt, that one who could compel such a passion of personal grief, must have knit these men and women, aye, even children, to him by intimate ties that could only have been wrought by years of generous beneficences, tender sympathies, and unselfish ministrations, and must have felt assured that his "anointment" was not alone that of pious human hands, but, in old Isaiah's phrase, "the anointment of the Spirit of the Lord to preach good tidings to the poor," to serve God humbly, and, as the Good Book elsewhere tells us, to find pure religion and undefiled in visiting the fatherless and the widows and in binding up the wounds of the broken hearted.

In the contemplation of a life so nobly spent in deeds of pious service and of unaffected self-abnegation, all differences as to creeds must needs be forgotten, and, whether Protestant or Jew or Catholic, we can all breathe over the bier of this Vicar of God and devout Christian the words of the "Mass for the Dead," contained in his own stately and ancient ritual:
"Requiem aeternam dona ei, Domine; et lux perpetua luceat ei. In memoria aeterna erit justus."

Of Byam K. Stevens, the third of our "Life Members," who, on the 12th of December, 1911,

Passed into a clearer day
Than our poor twilight dawn on earth, there is not much that we can say, owing to lack of personal knowledge. Yet he is one whom we, at least, should ever hold in grateful remembrance, he having been for years past an unostentatious, yet liberal, benefactor of this Society.

Why this was so, unless, indeed, because of his enthusiastic interest in antiquarian research, has never been known to any one of us. Blessed with an ample fortune, achieved by his own sagacity as a man of affairs, he retired nearly thirty years ago and spent the evening of his life in travel and in fostering charitable and philanthropic work of every kind. He was also a keen antiquarian and took a prominent part in the activities of our sister association, the "New York Historical Society."

So far as can be ascertained, he never saw, nor was ever seen by, a single officer or member of our Society, yet regularly, with each recurring year, he sent us, with a few kindly words, a most welcome reminder, in the shape of a liberal cheque, of his keen interest in our work, which amounts have always been carried over to our "Permanent Fund." The impression conveyed by his letters was that he was one of those unobtrusive men, who prefer to "do good by stealth," and who, in the spirit of the true antiquarian and scholar, knew no degrees of latitude or longitude in his liberal benefactions to further genuine historical investigation.

Of the others, both time and the limits of this report (already too extended) forbid more than briefest mention, even in the case of the few (out of the many) well known to us.

But all of you must have noted the fact that our sister city of Norfolk has been specially stricken in the loss, since our last meeting, of three of her most distinguished citizens, all graduates of the University of Virginia—Richard H. Baker, for above forty years a steadfast friend of this Society—a simple, modest gentleman, whose native kindliness of heart and gracious manners of "the old school" won for him the respect and affection of the whole community in which he was born and bred, and who, in his long judicial career, maintained the highest and best traditions of the Virginia bar; William W. Old, a Master of Arts of the University, who immediately on attaining his degree in June of 1861, went to "the front" and, though several times desperately wounded, served to the very end of our momentous struggle for independence. At the close of the war, he became the law partner of Capt. Richard Walke, Jr., (also a Master of Arts of the University and one of the most superb young artillery officers of A. P. Hill's Corps, of the "Army of Northern Virginia," as he was also one of the most acute and learned lawyers of his time)—the partnership subsisting until the tragic death of the latter at sea some fifteen years ago.

Many positions of civic honor came to Capt. Old while he continued in the full practice of his profession, and it is only simple truth to declare that his was the good fortune to be equal, in fullest measure, to every responsibility imposed upon him by his fellow-citizens. He was, at the same time, conspicuous in well nigh every undertaking of the communion to which he belonged, and his practical suggestions and ripe judgment will long be missed in the "Councils" of the Diocese of Southern Virginia.

Yet another to be mourned of the denizens of "the City by the Sea" is Dr. Herbert M. Nash, known throughout "Tidewater" Virginia (like Dr. Elliotson, to whom Thackeray dedicated "Pendennis") as "the good physician." He, too, was a fine soldier, as well as a most skillful surgeon, and followed to the end the fortunes of the thrice-glorious army to which he belonged. Like Capt. Old, he was active in all church work, and was long a vestryman of old "St. Paul's," Norfolk. For forty years he enjoyed a large and lucrative practice, and in all that time, when called upon to attend patients on Sunday, he invariably paid over all his fees into the "Poor Fund." And beyond all else, let it be set down here that, in addition to never sending a bill for attending the poorer classes in his community, he had the happy tactfulness, which only a thoroughly kind heart could possess, of making the recipient of his free service feel that there was no question of obligation, but that it was to him a genuine privilege to minister to their needs.

Of two others, citizens of Richmond, would I fain speak, did time allow—one gone to his rest, full of years, blessed to the very end by "that which should accompany old age, as honor, love, obedience, troops of friends," Judge Beverly R. Wellford, the finest type of the old Virginia gentleman, with his courtly manners and delicious prejudices, in which many of us heartily shared; the other, struck down in the very heydey of his young manhood, William O. Skelton, who was "the life" of every party wherever he chanced to be, and who never forgot, in all the hurry of our modern so-called "civilization," the "noblesse oblige" of race and rearing, and whose winning smile, high-bred courtesy and humorous sallies will long be remembered and missed in the clubs and drawing-rooms of Richmond.

So ends these halting tributes to some of our dead for 1911.

In conclusion, reviewing dispassionately what has been accomplished during the year, even the coldest must allow to us a legitimate pride in the solid achievement that has been ours. That the achievement has been fully up to any that has gone before, will not be questioned by those who know the history of the Society during all the years of its existence.

As bibliophiles well know, the earliest of our separate publications, and later on, our "COLLECTIONS," fetch in all the book-marts of English-speaking folk prices ranging from double to, in many cases, ten-fold the amount at which they were originally published. But our more recent publications are far more scientifically presented, and it is no exaggeration to declare that, if we had nothing else to show in the way of permanent achievement than the nineteen volumes of our "Virginia Magazine of History and Biography," those volumes in themselves would be reckoned by historical students of "the modern school” as more than a fair equivalent for all the zeal, time, and money expended in maintaining the Society at a high level from its establishment, nearly eighty years ago, under John Marshall as its first President.”

To all the officials of the Society your Committee desires to express its deep appreciation of their single-minded zeal and fidelity in the performance of their duties, and, in an especial degree, are our obligations due to our accomplished Corresponding Secretary, whose untiring activity, joined to his profound learning touching the history of Virginia in all its phases from her foundation to the beginning of the present century, has been the chief cause that our “Magazine” holds to-day an assured rank among the foremost publications in its special field.

The chief thing lacking to us now is an adequate “Permanent Fund,” which some of our richer citizens of high public spirit may yet enable us to secure.

At any rate, we approach another year of strenuous endeavour with the ascription for our Society of a great English poet: “May her future copy fair her past.”

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. GORDON McCABE, President.

January 27th, 1912.

At the conclusion of the report a vote of thanks was tendered the President and, as usual, the report was ordered to be printed in the Magazine.

The Corresponding Secretary stated that shortly before the Society had convened in annual meeting, a portrait of the late Conway Robinson, Esq., had been received from his family.

On motion, the thanks of the Society were ordered to be sent to the donors of the portrait of a gentleman who long held such a leading position in the Society and who did so much for Virginia history.
The President then stated that the next business was the election of officers.

It was moved that a Nominating Committee be appointed.

The motion being adopted, the President appointed Mr. Morgan P. Robinson and Dr. H. J. Eckenrode a committee.

The Committee retired, and when they returned the Chairman, Mr. Robinson, stated that his Committee recommended that all the officers and members of the Executive Committee be renominated.

The officers and members of the Committee were nominated as follows and were unanimously re-elected:

President,—W. Gordon McCabe.

Vice-Presidents,—Archer Anderson, Edward V. Valentine and Lyon G. Tyler.

Corresponding Secretary and Librarian,—William G. Standard.

Recording Secretary,—David C. Richardson.

Treasurer,—Robert A. Lancaster, Jr.

There being no further business, on motion, the meeting adjourned.

3Andrew Hamilton was one of the most eminent lawyers of the colonial period. Little or nothing is known of his origin, though he was, no
North Part of his Majesty's Plantations and Colonies by Sir Robert Cotton, and Thomas Frankland Post Master General of the Kingdom of England appoint Peter Heyman his Deputy by his deed dated 18 April, 1692.

21 April. The Ketch Crane running a Shore at the Mouth of Nancemond some of her goods were taken out and put on board a Sloop, for which she was Condemned, and the Master Wm. Pennil petitions the Council for favour, and she was delivered upon his giving Security to pay the King's 3d Part and a 6th Part to the Governor unless he could obtain a grant of those Parts.

Resolved, that the best way of selling Quit Rents was by way of Publick Sale at the General Court House door.

Ordered that all Persons who have any Lands granted to them in the Northern Neck as Escheat should deliver the Copies thereof to the Sheriffs.

His Excellency Francis Lord Howard of Effingham their Majesty's Lieut. and Governor General of Virginia, having sent three Letters to the Right hon'ble Francis Nicholson Esqr. their Majesties Lieut. Governor of Virginia dated November 28, December 12 and december 26, 1691, his Honour caused them to be read and being in the said Letters taxed for doing several things which he ought not to have done proposed to us their Majesty's Council of Virginia aforesaid whose doubt, a native of Scotland. He settled first in the latter part of the seventeenth century in Northampton county, Va., where he married, March 6, 1706, Ann, widow of Joseph Preeson and daughter of Thomas Browne of the same county. He removed, about 1716, to Philadelphia and his public life belongs entirely to Pennsylvania. His name not infrequently appears in the records of Northampton county. There is a record there, a deed, dated March 13, 1713, from "Andrew Hamilton late of Northampton Co., Va.,” to Col. William Waters, conveying, for £200 sterling, all the plantation, containing 500 acres, on the north side of the mouth of Hungar's Creek which said Hamilton had purchased. And also another, dated 1721, from Andrew Hamilton of Pennsylvania and Ann his wife, conveying land which Thomas Browne had given to his daughter Anne Preeson now Hamilton. Andrew Hamilton died August 4, 1741.
Names are Subscribed the Several Questions following and desired we would faithfully and Truly resolve and answer the Same, viz.:

Question, Whether since he came to this Government he had ever Acted anything of Moment without the Council's advice?

Answer. Not that is known to us but hath very often called us together for their Majesties, and this Country's Service and therefore hope his Excellency &c. will mind his Promise of getting our Salary made 500£ Sterling.

Q. Whether ever the Council heard or understood that at the last General Assembly he used any Clandestine or private Means with the House of Burgesses to accomplish any designs?

A. We never heard or understood he did.

Q. Whether (if there were occasion) he had Power to appoint Officers or had ever appointed any but such as well deserved the same?

A. It appearing by his Majesty's Command sent with the Commission and Instructions that his Honour hath the full Power of Executing the said Commission during his Excellency's absence we are of Opinion his Honour hath Sufficient good Power and hath never put any Person into any Office fit for a Councillor but a Councillor where there was one Convenient and was very careful in appointing such Persons Officers as were Judged Properest for their Majesty's Service.

Q. Whether Mr. Henry Hartwell, Mr. Cr. Robinson, Major Charles Scarborough did in the least misbehave themselves in the last Assembly?

A. Not that we know or ever heard.

Q. Whether Mr. ______ Luke should be made Sherif of Stafford County as his Excellency proposed?

A. It is our Opinion that Capt. Geo. Mason the present Sherif hath had the Place but one Year be continued the Ensuing Year.

Q. Whether Mr. Henry Thacker should be added to the Commission of the Peace and made Sherif of Middlesex County as his Excellency proposed?
A. Mr. Robert Dudley the present Sheriffs having had the Profits of the said Place but one Year and officiated three Months for the Widow of another Person it is our Opinion he be continued the ensuing Year and that Mr. Thacker be added to the Commission of the Peace for the said County.

Q. Whether Mr. Auditor Byrd should Audite the Duties arising due by the Imposition on Liquors, Skins & Furs?

A. It is our Opinion that if the Hon'ble Wm. Blathwait Esqr., Auditor General of their Majesties Revenue of this Colony shall impower him so to do he ought to do it, Otherwise not.

Quest. Whether according to his Excellency's proposal, Edmd. Jennings Esqr. should be turned out of his Collector's place if he would not pay the Agreement made with his Excellency for the same and if the said Jennings had misbehaved himself since he was added to the Council?

Answr. We never having heard or understood the said Jennings hath misbehaved himself in the Place of Collector nor since he hath been added to the Council done anything unbecoming the Trust reposed in him and their Majesties' Instructions being considered where it is said the Governor shall not hold any Place by a Deputy It is our Opinion the said Jennings be not displaced from being a Collector.

Q. Whether it was fit Edmund Jennings Esqr. should re-assume his Office of Attorney General or whether he could lay it down without their Majesties' Leave?

A. The said Jennings being added to the Council and not holding the place of Attorney General by Commission from their Majestys It is our Opinion it is not agreeable with the said Jennings' Place of Council to be Attorney General and that he might lay it down without their Majesties' leave as was formerly done by Colo. Peter Jennings and an Account that Mr. Edward Chilton was appointed Attorney General during Pleasure was transmitted for England in the Journal of the Council.

Q. Whether any Method in Ecclesiastical Affairs were used in this Government?
A. None save only that the Reverend Mr. James Blair Acts as Commissary for the Lord Bishop of London.

Q. Whether the Part of the Law for Ports &c. relating to Furs &c. was conceived Necessary?

A. It was proposed as a Means to procure the Confirmation of the Law and the house of Burgesses having proposed higher Rates than is set on them, they were moderated by his Honour and us.

Q. Whether it would have been for their Majesties Service to have opposed Colo. Thomas Milner’s being Speaker of the House of Burgesses?

A. It is our Opinion there was no reason to oppose the said Milners being Speaker, he being a Justice of Peace in Nansemond County and placed first in that Commission by his Excellency.

Q. Whether the duties on Liquors should be disposed of without the Approbation of the House of Burgesses as his Excellency proposed?

A. By Act the said Duty is to be disposed of by Governor Council and Burgesses and we conceive It ought not to be disposed of Otherwise.

April 28, 1692.

Queen Mary sends her Letter to Sir Edmund Andros, dated 26 May, 1692, to this Effect: Whereas, by our Letters Patents under our great Seal of England bearing date the 17 February last We have given unto our Trusty and well beloved Thos. Neal Esqr. his Executors, Administrators or Assigns full Power and Authority to Erect, Establish and settle within the Chief Ports of our several Islands, Colonies and Plantations in America Office or Offices for the Receiving and dispatching of Letters and Packets and to receive and deliver the same under such rates and sums of Money as the Planters shall agree to give or as shall be proportionable to the Rates for the Carriage of Letters ascertained in the Act of Parliament for Erecting and Establishing a Post Office To hold Enjoy the same for the term of 21 Years under the Yearly Rent of Six Shillings and Eight Pence with such Powers and Clauses as are necessary in this behalf And Whereas Sir Robert Cotton and Thomas Frankland Esqr. our Post Master General have at Nomation and Desire of the said Thos. Neal and in pursuance to our said Letters Patents deputed Andrew Hamilton to govern the said Post Office throughout all the Colonies and Plantations on the Continent of N. America and all the Islands lying near the same by Instrument dated 17 February last, We have thought fit at the humble request of the said Thomas Neal hereby to signify our Pleasure that you assist and Countenance him the said Andrew Hamilton his Deputy Agents and Servants in the Management of the said General Post office and in the due Execution of all and Singular the Powers and Authorities contained in our said Letters Patents and that you issue such Orders and directions from time to time as shall be requisite and fit for the better Performance of this Service.

July 5, 1692. Christopher Robinson appointed Secretary.
Nicholson appoints the Collectors, Notary Publics.
Henry Whiting appointed Treasurer of the Duties arising by 2 Acts made 1691 in the Room of Edward Hill appointed by the Assembly who had accepted the Office of Collector of the upper district of James River which rendered him incapable of that Office. By Commission dated 5 July, 1692.

Some Questions proposed to us their Majesties' Council of Virginia by the Right Hon'ble Francis Nicholson their Majesty's Lieut. Governor of Virginia which his Honour desired we would faithfully and Truly Answer and is by us accordingly performed, Viz.:

Q. Whether when his Honour came into the County it was not generally discoursed by the People that they had been under some Arbitrary Proceedings and whether they did not expect King William and Queen Mary would show them great favour?

A. It appears by the Journal of the House of Burgesses they greatly Complained of Arbitrary Proceedings and there was at their present Majesty's Coming to the Crown General Expectations of great Favours from them.

Q. Whether the Council after his Excellency the Lord Effingham &c. was gone was not forced for their Majesties Service and Quiet of the Country to mitigate things and not punish Offenders?

A. It is presumed it was thought for their Majesties Service for it appears by the proceedings that Several things were mitigated and the Inhabitants eased of some things they complained of.

Q. Whether we were not apprehensive if the Lord Effingham had stayed the Country would have been in Trouble?

A. The Country was in a General Dissatisfaction when his Lordship went away and there was great Cause to doubt that some Disturbance would have been if several of those things Complained of by the House of Burgesses had not been moderated.

Q. Whether his Honour's Visiting all the Country several times and Exercising the Militia had not been for their Majesties Service and diverted the People from Melancholy Thoughts?

A. It hath been Judged so by the General Assembly and his Honour hath had their Publick thanks for the same.

Q. Whether his Honour hath not used all Possible Endeavours against false trade and always given the Collectors Strict Charge therein and whether any New Method hath been used in the trial of Ships seized?

A. They have all been tried as was usual in former times according to Laws and his Honour the Lieut. Governor hath always given Strict Charge to the Collectors and being very careful and diligent in Endeavouring to have all false traders discovered both in Direction and his Personal Endeavours and we are humbly of Opinion that if their Majesties be graciously pleased to confirm the Law of Ports it will be a great Means to discover them.

Q. Whether it was not his Honour's constant Practice before the breaking up of Council after he had proposed what he thought for their Majesties Service to ask if any of the Gentlemen of the Council had anything to propose and when he had proposed anything of moment he did not advise them to Consider of it?

A. It was his Honour's constant Practice to ask if any of the Council had anything to propose and to Advise to consider of things of Moment by him Proposed.

Q. Whether what Mr. Blair did was not before done by Others impowered by the Right Reverend Bishop of London?

A. Mr. Temple by Virtue of a Power (as he said) caused the Clergy to meet as Mr. Commissary Blair did and since Mr. Blair went away nothing hath been done.

Virginia, January 22, 1671-2.

Governor Sir Wm. Berkeley to [the Committee of Trade and Plantations.]

Desires his Majesty's commands to the Consuls of Naples and Sicily to send some men skilful in the making of silk into England. We will bear the charge of their transport and annual wages as soon as they arrive in England. If they had but six able men to teach them the right way of feedings worms and winding silk they would in a short time make an unexpected progress in it. Hopes soon to give an account of a happy discovery to the West, but dare not much boast of it until he has been an eye witness of it.

Proposals of Thomas Grantham.¹

(1672, February? After.)

Proposals of Thomas Grantham to the King and Lords Commissioners of Plantations. That Virginia is at present unable to defend itself through want of Ammunition. At his coming away in February last there was not powder enough at Tindall's Point upon York River to charge a piece of ordnance. That by speedy supplies the danger of a surprise may be prevented. If his Maj. will give him protection for a ship and men, he will carry ammunition of all sorts and any despatches the King wishes to send, without charge.

Lett'r from S'r Henry Chichely in Virginia w'th the Petition of ye Govern'r & Councill ab't releif for defence in ye warr. To S'r Tho. Chichley.

Honor'd S'r

This is only duplicats of what sent you formerly by the Olive branch which went from hence at a very dangerous time the Year then durst not send the Originals but coppies which he promised me if in danger to through overboard. Pray god they may come safe, being with Convoy and much better shipps then they for force.

The Governor, and grand Assembly of Virginia have bin pleased to make choyce of me to present there humble desires to his most Sacred Ma'tie in this inclosed petition, wherein is truly manifested the present state, and weake condition of this Country against the invation or attempt of any forraine Enimie, which we may justly feare in this time of Wars, and indeade I may truly say there is noe Country under his Ma'ties dominion, in soe poore a condition for Defence as Virginia for want of both armes and amunition of all sorts, which through our present poverty, we are not able to provide of ourselves.

We have now raised 20 Regiments of foote, and as many troops of horse, without making use of any of our slaves or fewe of our English servants, but such as are almost ffree, yet have not armes for every tenth man, soe that unless his Ma'tie will be gratiously pleased to consider ofoure present condition, and grant us some resonable supply of all sorts of armes and amunition with Canon and bale for our fforts, we must be forced to fly to the mountaine for our security, and leave this Country and our estates a prey to the invaders. I think it canot be denied, but that Virginia doth yearely rayse a greater revenue to the Crowne by our Customes then any one plantation under his Ma'ties dominions, therefore I hope we may most justly implore his Princely Patronage and hope to obtaine a suffitient supply of all sorts of armes, and ammunition ffitting for our defence and safegarde, as well as either Barbadoes or other his Ma'ties Plantations, whoo as we are informed were well furnisht from the Magazines there last yeare, and sent them over at his Ma'ties charge though they are twenty times more able then we to furnish themselves.

S'r I have thus farr acquainted you with our present condition and the cheife cause of our address to his Ma'tie by this petition which is all the hopes we have of obtaining a fitting supply for the defence of this Country which will be carefully preserved here as a standing Magazine by all succeeding Governors as well in times of peace, as those of Warr. I have likewise herewith sent you a letter from our Governor and Grand Assembly to your honor'd selfe wherein you will perceave what hopes they have (by your assistance only) to obtaine there request from his sacred Ma'tie and indeede give me leave to tell you, that this Country hath bin liberall to severall Agents they have imploy'd on severall the like occations, yet hath not answered there expectation, either through the want of Prudent Management or inconsiderableness of the Parties they imploy'd, soe that if by your favorable assistance, there humble request to his Ma'tie may be in some measure answered, I know it will be a greate obligation, and receaved here with Generall satisfaction. I must confess they have in some measure gratified me already and I hope will more fully at the returne of this. Therefore Deare S'r lett me request your best assistance in this affaire, which if it can be effected will redound much to your honor, and my Credit here in the Country. You will find by this inclosed noate, what I conceave is most needefull for us, which you may augment, or lower as you thinke ffitt. S'r I shall either now, or by the next shipps, write more at large to you, and therein fully acquaint you of my concernes with the Marchants. I have now had a full perusall of my accounts here, and find the Alderman hath dealt most unworthyly with me soe that unless he make up the breach with you by at least putting of all former scores to this day, I shall find good cause to complaine of him in the Parliment house, or else at the Councell table, where not only I but all here doe suppose he will be sevearely handled, but not a worde of this till you receive all accounts Authentickely attested from hence under the seale of this Collony.

I shall not consigne any of my tobacco to him this yeare or ever after unless he repair the injury be hath allready done me.

I am, Honor'd S'r,

Your most affectionate brother and most humble servant,

Virginia Fleet attackt by six Dutch men of Warr in 1672.

To the King's Most Excellent Ma'tie and the Lords of yo'r Ma'ties most Hon'ble Privy Councill.

In all Humillity Present

That on Fryday the 11th of this Instant July (which was but foure Dayes before the Fleet was ordered to saile from hence) To our very great Greife and Damage, arrived on our Coast Foure saile of Holland Men of Warr from about thirty to fourty foure Gunns under the Command of Jacob Bincks and as many Flushingers one of six Gunns and three from thirty to fourty six Gunns With one Fire Shipp, under the Command of Cornelius Everson Junior, and on Saturday the 12th anchor'd in Lynhaven Bay Within our Capes; That upon their first Arrivall on Fryday they were discovered by our Centi-nalls on the Coasts, and Speedy advice thereof Given to Capt. Gardner and Capt. Cotterell, Who Comanded yo'r Ma'ties Shipps here, Who pr'sently Comanded Severall Masters of the abler Merchant Shipps in James River on Board, and orderd them to Cleare their Shipps for Fight, and Press'd as many men as they thought fitt out of the Weaker Shipps But may it Please yo' r Ma'tie and yo' r most Hon' ble Councell, before that could be Done Capt. Gardner saw Eight Shipps of Maryland under saile in the Ba[y?] who he judg'd wo'ld fall A prey to the Enemy for want of Advice, and therefore with Capt. Cotterell weighed Anchor, and with them Six Merchant Shippes [ & ] Engage the Enemy thereby to save the Marylanders. But before they came within Reach of Gunn Shott foure of the Merchant Shipps came on Ground, One Stood backe and one Comanded by Capt. Grove in Fighting came on G[round?] soe the two men of Warr were left to encounter Six of their biggest Shipps The two Smaller with the Fire Shipp being not yet come up to them, The Fight continued with Great resolucon about three houres. After which Capt. Gardner supposeing Capt. Grove (who fought well whilest on float) to be Gone of the Ground resolvd not to lose him, and judging that the Enemy (if he Checkt them not) would be in with our Merchant Shipps Riding in James River before they could Gett from them. Hee tackt alone upon them with Exterordnary Courage, and for at least one houre fought them all, Butt findeing himselfe mistaken in the Condicon of Groves his shipp, and the night in hand, it being a Quarter past Eight before the fight ended, Hee with as much Courage and Conduct (and beyond the hopes or expectation of those who saw that brave Action), disingaged himselfe from them, as he had before ingaged them, and brought off all the Marylanders but one and foure of ours which were on Ground, and Gave the rest, which were nere fourty saile almost A Tides way before the Enemy, Which Undoubtedly saved Many who otherwise would have bin lost, Butt haveing all his Great Masts and his Fore top-mast desperately wounded, and most of his Rigging Shott, he was forced with Capt. Cotterell to goe into Elizabeth River to Refitt w'th Roapes & Sailes which brought the Enemy to Anchor, not Dareing to Persue the James River Fleet in a Strange Channell, and Leave yo' r Ma'ties Friggetts behind them. Two and twenty of our Shipps Stood upp James River and the Rest went under the Fort at Nancemond, where the Enemy looked on them five Days but Attempted them not; Five of those which stood upp James River Comeing on Ground, They sent upp three of their smallest shipps to them And Gott of one, and burnt the other foure, The rest Getting above the Fort at James Towne were safe; And here wee expect it will be Objected that had not soe long A Time bene given for the Departure of our Fleet this Misfortune had bin Avoided; To which wee humbly Offer this answer That Capt. Cotterell arriving here neere the 20th of June and representing to us some Dayes after (in pr'sence of all the Masters) that for want of Wood and water and other necessaries, he could not be ready before the 15th of July, Was the Reason for the appointing that Day; Next the Masters of the Yorke Shipps were not ready till then and the Enemy was within our Capes before the most considerable shipps of Maryland came to us, besides Five Saile in Rappahanoocke not Ready and two upp the Bay which in all were two and twenty saile, A Number Too Considerable to be left behind by yo'r Ma'ties Convoy; This may it please yo'r Ma'tie and yo'r most Hon'ble Councell being the true State of our Mistfortune in the pr'sent losse of Eleaven Shipps and Goods (wherein the Inhabitants of James River, bore A very Great Share) Wee thought it our Duty, for the Better Vindication of ourselves from such Injuries as the Mallice of some may indevor to fix on us, by Misrepresenting us and our indevors to yo'r Ma'tie and most Hon'ble Council, To sett forth in this our Declaracon, the true state and Condicon of this Country in Generall and our p'ticular disadvantages and disabilities to entaime A Warr at the time of this Invasion, And therefore doe most humbly beseech yo'r Ma'tie and yo'r most Hon'ble Counsell to consider that though all that Land which now bares the name of Virginia be Reduced to little more then Sixty Miles in breadth towards the sea, Yet that small Tract is intersected by soe many Vast Rivers as makes more Miles to Defend, then wee have men of trust to Defend them, For by our neerest computacon wee leave at our backs as many Servants (besides Negroes as their are freemen to defend the Shoare and on all our Fronteirs the Indians, Both which gives men fearfull apprehentions of the dainger they Leave their Estates and Famelies in, Whilst they are drawne from their houses to defend the Borders, Of which number alsoe at least one third are single freemen (whose labour Will hardly main- taine them) or men much in debt, both which Wee may rea- sonably expect upon any small advantage the Enemy may gaine upon us, wold revolt to them in hopes of bettering their Condicon by shareing the Plunder of the Country with them. Nor can wee keepe any number of Soldiers long together in A Place for Want of Provissions, For the aire being hott & Moist wee could never yett find the way of keeping any sort of Corne A yeare from being eaten out by Vermine, Which hinders our haveing Publique Magazines of Provisions neces- sary for such occasions, and our men (though their has bin Great Care taken in the Exercising them) haveing for Many yeares bene unacquainted with dainger. Wee cannot with much Confidence rely on their Courage against our Enemy better practized in the hazards of Warr; But may it please yo'r most Sacred Ma’tie and yo'r most Hon’ble Councell, Their were many more difficulties from this last attempt, for dis- eases this Winter before haveing destroyed at least fifty thou- sand Cattell and their Owners to pr’serve them haveing given them almost all their Corne. Brought soe great A scarcity of Provision amongst us as men could not have bene kept long together, and the Enemies Arrivall being in A time, when all mens Cropps both of tobacco and Corne lay hardest upon their hands (being much in the weeds by reason of the great Rains which fell some time before.) It Troubled them much to be drawne away from their Worke (though for their Comon defense, Yett notwithstanding these & many more disadvan- tages they appeared so ready in Every place that the Enemy desended not on the Land though they wanted water to great Extremety The losse then being wholy on the Shipps and Loading (except some fugative Servants who escapeing our diligence gott to them and were Carryed away) Our industry for their defence wee humbly hope will appeare in this that their was not A Shipp lost which run not on Ground before she gott within the Protection of one or other of our Forts, Nor did yo'r Ma'ties Shipps or any of the Merchant men want any Assistance wee Could possibly helpe them too, Though in this alsoe their lay very great difficulty, For In these times of warr, the Merchant gives our Inhabitants soe very little for their labour as will not Cloath them and their Famelies, which soe disaffects them as they rather rejoyce at their losse, then show any desire to defend them nor would they have bene brought to appeare for them by any other Motive then the affection they have to the Gentleness and Justice of the Governm't they have soe long lived under, Yett though wee have certainly done our utmost for them to our Very great expence and hazard of our Cropps Wee expect A Complaint against us for not haveing A Fort at Point Comfort, which some suppose wold have pr'vented all this losse though the Considerablest part of it happen'd farr off in the Bay beyond the reach of any Gunn; To which Objection for our Justification Wee doe humbly Offer our Reasons to yo'r most Excellent Ma'tie and most Hon'ble Councell against A Fort there, because it being A direct Chanell and A great Tide A shipp may ride in safety in the Bay till it hath A Good Wind and upon A Tide may runn by A better Fort then all the Wealth and Skill of this Country can build, Especially Considering the distance they may goe from it, which were it but halfe A mile wold be to farr for us to depend Certainly on its defence; Then the time of Loading being five or six Monthes in every River, wee thought it best to build Forts in the most convenient places for their defence, dureing their Stay, Rather then one at Point Comfort, which at best Could but secure James River, Butt by these two losses Receaved the last Warr & now they doe conclude it necessary that Point Comfort were fortedified soe as to secure their Comeing together, and wee doe truely wish soe too. But since we believe the doeing or not doeing of it will something depend upon our advice to yo'r Ma'tie Wee dare not propose a battery of lesse then fourty or fifty dimmy Canon and Culvarine of A Good length, And that will Cost Considering the inconvenience of the place (which affords not soe much as A Foundation to build on, much lesse any Materials) at least fifteene thousand pounds Sterling, which being A some wee have not in our Power, The Publique revenue not Exceeding two and twenty hundred pounds A yeare of which the Governor has twelve hundred, The Counsell two hundred and the rest expended in necessary workes, and the labour of our Inhabitants scarcely Cloathing them, Wee humbly hope Yo'r Ma'tie will not expect it From us, Nor Dare wee propose lesse strength, least a Weaker defence should leave the Shipp (by depending to much upon it) more open to the Attempts of the Enemy then hitherto they have bin; And if yo'r Ma'tie shall be graciously pleased to build such a Fort as wee propose, Wee are not able to maintaine A Garrison in it Unlesse their be such duties laid on Shipp through the whole Countrrey as may support the Charge, For Soldiers will not serve for tobacco, because the Merchants (working on their necessities) give them soe little for it as A Yeares Sallery will hardly Cloth them, And the pr'sent Fort duties are soe small as not to Pay the Gunners finde Powder & repaire them, but Most of that Charge lies upon the Countrey But Wee Doe most Humbly Offer it to yo'r Ma'tie and yo'r most Hon'ble Councells Consideracon, Wether it may not be better to send A Convoy proporconed to such Strength as the Enemy may bring against us, Which may in some Measure be knowne, by advice of their first Setting out, and that the Charge of such Convoy lie upon the Fraight of the Merchant men, And to ease them of part of the Charge every hired man of Warr may be p'mitted to take in two teire of tobacco in the hoald which would serve to ballast them and not hinder their workeing, such A Convoy would secure the shipps and us, who dare not be soe confident in our defence (the dainger of our servants and the Indians Consider'd) as not to give your Ma'tie This State of our pr'sent Condicon and to implore Your Assistance; And haveing thus in all humillity laid our Cause before yo'r Ma'tie and yo'r Most Hon'ble Counsell Wee appeale to yo'r Goodnesse and Justice to Determine of it. Most heartily Praiseing God for his favour to us in giveing Your Ma’tie soe discerning A Judgment and soe tender A heart towards all your subjects And for Assisting you with soe wise a Councell As wee doubt not Will direct all yo’r great and Royall Undertakemgs to A Glorious end, Which is the earnest Desire of

[In the original manuscript in the Library of Congress there is some confusion as to the order of the pages in the beginning of the volume. Through a misnumbering of manuscript pages those on pp. 39-44, printed in our last Magazine are incorrectly numbered, and several pages of the original which should have followed p. 44 (on p. 30 of the Magazine) have been omitted. They are 45-52, inclusive, and are now printed below. The paging of the original as given on p. 39 of the Magazine should be 55, &c., instead of 45, &c., as printed.]

present S'r Francis Wyatt, Knight &c. George Sandys Thresurer, Capt' Roger Smith

Capt. John martin Complayneth y' wheras there were Articles and Covenante drawne betweene him and M' Humphrey Rastell for the Transportinge of the said marten, his servante & other his goodes vnto Virginia. The said m'r Rastell Caried him into new Englane and thare detayned him 9 weekes to his great hurte Coste and hinderance

To wch m'r Rastell replyeth y' his Ship beinge leake and the wynde Contrary he was enforced to goe for new England and detayned Capt martin there no longer, then of necessitie he was Constrayned to doe, And before his owne shipp was redy he hired annother shipp to Cary him to Virginia ¹Words in italics have been erased in the original.

Wm. Holland gent sworne and Examined sayeth that there was a leake sprung in the said shipp, whereby they were in great danger and were forced to heave over board some 40 basketts of bred, wth was spoyled by y° leakinge.

John Crookdeack sworne and Examined sayeth y° the said shipp had a leake sprung whereby ther was some 40 or 50 basketts of bread spoyled and hove overboard And that at theire Cominge owt of England they resolved directly to come for Virgina butt and saved some

Mr. Rastell beinge very desirous to speak wth ye Shipp called the Souchphenix wth then was at new England Directed his Course first thither to see the said shipp, beinge somewhat neere the Coast

And styred theire Course so longe as the wynde served for Virgina, vntil the were past the Islands, and y° shipp beinge leakt and y° Capt desirous to speak wth the South Phoenix directed his course to new England. And also he sayeth that wth in the tyme of 16 dyes the said shipp was made fitt and redy to Come away for Virgina

[46] [pencil 32]

John Smith sworne and Examined sayeth that at the sealinge of the wrightinges betwene Capt Marten & Mr. Rastell, Mr. Rastell promised that one Tewsdy next followinge Capt Martine should have 5 men received aboord and y° Mr. Rastell wold take order for their Dyett and y° they should be receaved abourd wch said 5 men went back but could not be receaved wherupon this Exam. went to Mr. Rastell for A Tickett that those men might be receved abourd, but mr. Rastell said they nede not have A Tickett, for y° he him self would be abourd in the after noone and geve order for them, wherupon the said 5 men went abourde But could not be receaved Then this Exam went againe to Mr. Rastell and told him that he had geven noe order for the receaving of them, whervpon he made Answere w' was 3 or 4 Dyes forbearanc. And about 2 or 3 days after Cap' Marten Did meeate 2 of those 5 men at Tower hill and asked them why they were not abourd, and they said they had bin abourd but y' they could not be receaved, whervpon Cap' marten gaue them xij to goe downe to blackwall abourd the shipp, but at night they retorned againe to Cap' martens howse and said they could not be receved abourde, after w' tyme the said 5 men were nott hurde of Further he sayeth y' after they were past y' Ilands, Thomas Scott one of the quartmasters said yt yf it had beene Capt. Woollistens pleasure to have bent his Course for Virgina y' y' shipp might have been in Virgina very near a month before she could have Arrived in Canada And y' y' M' y' M' mate w' divers more of y' seamen of y' same ship said y' yf it had beene theire pleasure they might have beene in Virgina before they were in Canada.

ye wynde there was a good wynde for Virgina, but the thought y' Cap' meant y' som of them should owtcom there
And when they were arrived at Canada the sea

[47] [pencil 33]

And further this Exam' sayeth y' w' in a fortnight after the arrivall of the said shipp at Canada, she was made fitt and redy for her viage for Virginia, and that m' Rastell gave order to y' m' to have all things in Redines, and swore w' an othe that he would be gone y' monday sennight after 2To the English colonists and seamen of the early seventeenth century, Canada was another name for New England.

And further this Exan' sayeth y' for the space of 6 weeks after there Arivall at Canada, y' said m' Rastell did allow Cap' Martin and his People but A biskett adye, and in y' 6 weekes they had Flessh twice a weeke but very bad and not mans meate, and in that 6 weeks the said Cap' Marten was allowed not aboue 2" of butter but his people had not at all, and in that tyme they had noe beers, but beverage and for one three weeks y' they remained there they had noe Fleshe at all nor fish, vnles he sent his people for it A shore

And forther he sayeth y' when Cap' martin had indorsed the release of his passage in the Vnitie, and had Cancelled the olde bond for p'formance of Covenante and was bout to seale A new bond for p'formance of Covenante Cap' martin demanded A Bond of 400" from m' Rastell in like man' for p'formance of his Covenant w' m' Rastell p'mised to doe, but aft y' Cap' martin had seled beinge Demanded he Denied to Doe it

And further he sayeth y' when mentione was made of indorsinge this release, Cap' martin pwt in this causione y' y' makinge of this release should be noe preijdice against any Article Contayned in the Covenant, sayinge onely for Transportinge him self and goods in the Swan instead of the Vnitie And further saith y' that night the indorsment was sealed Cap' martin told this Exa" y' he wold pay m' Rastell all his Tobacco, and afterwards Attach it vntill such tyme as he Did know w' damage he had sustayned in m' Rastells not p'forminge of his Covenante

Sackford wetherell sworne and Examined sayeth yt by the report of this Exa. the 5 men that he hath hurde m' Rastell p'mise to keepe 5 men of Cap' martins abourde and to give them Ticketts to be receved abourde and of them told this Exa\textsuperscript{m} they had been twyse abourd\e but could not be recerved, and m\textsuperscript{m} Jones told him that she knew them once abourd\e but could not be recerved.

And further sayeth y\textsuperscript{i} he asked m\textsuperscript{r} W\textsuperscript{m} Edwards y\textsuperscript{o} m\textsuperscript{r} mate of the Vnitie \textit{whether} (vppon some reporte formerly had) whether they were to go to Virginia or to new England First, and m\textsuperscript{r} Edwards said that Cap\textsuperscript{i} woolliston\textsuperscript{8} and m\textsuperscript{r} Rastell were indeed to goe to new England First, because they were afraid the Souch Phenix wold begone from Canada.

And sayeth the Vnity was made redy w\textsuperscript{m}in 14 dyes after theire Arivall at Canada, and y\textsuperscript{i} m\textsuperscript{r} Rastell said he wold take in goods and be gone but when the ship was gon' for England, then m\textsuperscript{r} Rastell p'tended many excuses why he could nott goe.

And foorther saieth y\textsuperscript{i} whilst they were at Canada they were allowed but 8 busketts for A ma' a weeke, and they they hadd 4 peces of beefe A weeke to 5 men \textit{except} but some tymes they wanted y\textsuperscript{i} allowance of beefe but how longe he can not tell, besides they wanted their vsuall allowance of ottmeale and butter.

And further he sayeth y\textsuperscript{i} Cap\textsuperscript{i} martin alleging that the Release wold frustate all the Covenante formerly made by m\textsuperscript{r} Rastell, y\textsuperscript{o} said m\textsuperscript{r} Rastell replied no god forbid for it Concerned no more but alteringe the passage owt of the Vnitie into the swan \textit{on}

And further sayeth y\textsuperscript{i} uppon y\textsuperscript{o} redinge of Cap\textsuperscript{i} willuson his Comission y\textsuperscript{o} seafaringe men said the marveled Capt Willison Wold cary Capt Martine to Canada seing y\textsuperscript{o} Comission was to go to Virginia first and this exa\textsuperscript{m} asking how they wold Answere that, they said they were bound by ye Charter ptie to goe.

\(^6\) Robert Poole lived in the Corporation of James City in 1625. On September 28, 1627, he received a grant of 300 acres due in part for his own “personal adventure,” and in part on account of the immigration lived with Apochankene heinge in the time of Sr Tho: Dale his Government, Apochankene shewd this exant' certen trees wherein Certen bulletts had been shott, by Indyans with Capt Jo. Smith did teach to shoute in a small peternell
And after in Sr: Thomas Dales Governm't one Cooss An Indyan was taught to shoote in A peece by Jo: powell servant to Capt' Web and by Capt' Webb his appoyntmt'
And fourther he sayeth that in the tyme of Sr Tho: Dales Government one Chacrow an Indyan livinge with Livt' Skorfe Capt' Wm Powell and Capt' Wm Peerce and livinge with them he did ordinarily shoote in A peece
And fourther he sayeth that Sr Tho Dale gave vnto Kissarourr A peece caled A snaphame wherewth all did often shoote and killed both Fowle and Deere and was Furnished with powder and shott by Sr Tho Dale this Exam' havinge often Caryed it to him
And further he sayeth that in Sr Samuell Argalls tyme there was 6 men slayne by the Indyans and their peeeces powder and shoot carried to Pomunkey where they were vse'd by An Indyan Called morassane and Another Indyan Caled nemetenew And sayeth y' Sr George Yardley after he cam to be Governo' ymployed this Exam' to Pomunkey to steele A wye the feathers of the locks of those peeces, y'thereby they becominge unservicable Apothankine might send them to him to mend and he resolved to keepe them, with peeeces afterwards were sent and they were kept.

of his father, Robert Poole, and brother John Poole, both deceased. One of the Robert Poole's was an interpreter in 1619, and probably lived among the Indians as agent for the colony.

The depositions in regard to use of fire arms by the Indians were probably part of an investigation of the Massacre of 1622. When Samuel Argall arrived at Jamestown, May, 1617, he found the right file of Capt. Yeardley's company lead by an Indian. (Campbell, 124.) Prior to the massacre many Indians seem to have been employed by the whites as hunters.

An Act for the better and more Effectual Improving the Staple of Tobacco.

Whereas Sundry Laws have heretofore been made for the Improving the Staple of Tobacco and for the better discovery of frauds therein but the same have proved ineffectual And it is found by Experience that most of the frauds and Mischiefs w'ch have been complained of in the Tobacco Trade have arisen from the planting on Land not proper for producing good Tobacco and greater Crops than the persons employed therein are able duly to tend And Whereas also the Merchants in Great Britain concerned in the said Trade have given up great Quantities of Tobacco to be burnt by reason of the meaness and bad handling thereof And thereby his Majesties Customs-have been greatly diminished and the people of this Colony impoverished BE IT therefore ENACTED by the Lieut. Govern'r, Council & Burgesses of this present General Assembly And it is hereby Enacted by the Authority of the Same That all labouring Tithable persons within this Colony and Dominions have Liberty to tend Six Thousand plants of Tobacco and no more. And that all Male labouring persons above Ten and under Sixteen Years of Age have Liberty to tend Three Thousand plants of Tobacco and no more upon any plantation or plantations in any one Year during the Continuance of this Act PROVIDED always that all House keepers Male or Female being planters and not having any Tithable Servant or Slave shall for themselves have liberty to tend Ten Thousand plants of Tobacco and for Every Male labouring person between the Age of Ten and Sixteen Years to them belonging the Liberty of tending on his or her plantation Three Thousand plants of Tob'co and no more. AND BE IT further ENACTED by the Authority aforesaid That the Vestry of Every Parish within this Colony shall and do before the last day of June Yearly lay out their respective parishes into precincts and appoint two persons in Each precinct to Examine and inquire of the Names and Number of the persons hereby allowed to tend Tobacco and the Crops of the Several planters within the Said precinct and the Number of plants growing on any and every plantation or plantations within the same some time in the Month of July Yearly Which persons so appointed shall

All labouring persons to tend 6,000 Plants of Tobacco, & no more. Male Persons above ten & under Sixteen to tend 3000.
take an Oath before Some Justice of the peace of the County where in they reside (w'ch Oath the Said Justice is hereby impowered and required to administer) in the Words following vizt.—I, A. B. do Swear that I will carefully diligently and truely examine & inquire of the Names and Numbers of all persons allowed to tend Tob'co within my precinct and truly and faithfully Number and Count the plants growing or that have been tended on every plantation within the Same according to the directions of the Act of Assembly for the better and more Effectual Improving the Staple of Tobacco and that I will duely Execute all the powers and Authorities given me by the said act and make a just and true report of my proceedings herein without favour affection or partiality So help me God—And if any person appointed by the Vestry to View Examine and Number To-

Penalty on the person refusing to take upon him the Office.

Every person so refusing Shall forfeit and pay five hundred pounds of Tobacco or fifty Shillings Currant Money and the Vestry of that parish shall Imediately on Such Refusal Nominate and appoint Some other fit person in the room of him or them so refusing and for the Encouragement of the persons nominated and appointed as aforesaid for Examining and numbering the plants of Tobacco in pursuance of this Act Be it Enacted by the Authority aforesaid that there Shall be levied on the Tithable persons in Each County during the Continuance of this Act four pounds of Tobacco for every Six Thousand plants and proportionably for a lesser or greater quantity which shall be tended within the Said County to be distributed to the respective persons appointed by this Act to view and Number the plants of To-

Allowance for the persons appointed as Examiners.
Said Levy of four pounds of Tobacco the Court of Each County within this Colony is hereby im-powered and required to make and the Sherif or other Collector of the County Levy to pay to the Several persons to whom the Same shall be due in the Parish wherein they respectively reside Unless such person shall consent to take the same in some other parish within the County And for the better direc-tion of the persons appointed for numbering the plants of Tob’co BE IT ENACTED by the Authority aforesaid That the Two persons nominated and Sworn in Each precinct shall Jointly repair to the several plantations and there take the Number of the Tobacco plants either by Counting the Several Hills contained in Each piece of Tobacco Ground Or by numbering four Rows in the length and four rows in the breadth at Such distance as they shall Judge best for discovery of the Truth Then adding the Numbers of the Said four Rows in length into one Sum divide the product by four And the like addition being made of the four Rows in breadth Divide the same like-wise by four and then let the two Quotients of the length and breadth be multiplied into One another And that product shall be accounted the true Contents of the plants in Such piece or field of Tobacco Or else the persons appointed as aforesaid shall pursue Such other Methods and Rules in the Computation of the said To-bacco plants as in their Judgment may best discover the true quantity And if at any time hereafter any more plants of Tob’co than are hereby allowed shall by the persons appointed to view and Number the same as aforesaid be found planted or tended on any plantation or plantations whatsoever The Owner or Overseer of Such plantation Shall Immediately in the presence of the person or persons ap-pointed to Examin and Number the Same Cut up or cause to be Cut up and destroyed So many plants as shall exceed the Number herein before alfusal, the Officer to do it. And in Case the Owner or Overseer of any such Plantation shall refuse and fail so to do the Said persons so appointed to Examine and Number as aforesaid be and are hereby Empowered and required to Cutt up or cause the Same to be cutt up and destroyed And shall have and receive as a Reward for so doing Twenty pounds of Tobacco for Every hundred plants of Tobacco that shall be so cutt up or destroyed by them to be paid by the Owner or Overseer of such plantation where such Offence Shall be Committed and upon due proof thereof made by the Oaths of the persons appointed as aforesaid shall and may be recovered before any Justice of the peace of the County where Such Offence shall be Committed And the persons so to be appointed to Examine and Number as aforesaid are hereby required to make a true report of their proceedings and Number of plants on Each plantation in their respective precincts to the Clerk of the Court of that County where in the said precincts respectively on or before the Tenth day of August Yearly

Vestry Men refusing to do their duty, to forfeit 1,000 Pounds of Tobacco and failing to make such Report of their proceedings as aforesaid shall forfeit and pay One Thousand pounds of Tob'co And that each person so appointed and Sworn to Examine and Number as aforesaid

Examiners not making Rep't of their proceedings, to forfeit 1,000 lb. of Tobacco or tend on his or her plantation any more plants of Tobacco than are herein and hereby before al-
The like penalty for planting on a plant’n more plants of Tobac- co than are allow’d by this Act.

The Clerk of every County Court to set up in the Court House Transcripts of ye Examiners Reports.

AN ACT

For the better and more effectual improving the Staple of Tobacco.

Whereas, the Act lately made for restraining the planting of great quantities of Tobacco plants hath in some measure improved the Staple of Tobacco but by reason of divers misconstructions of the said Act the same hath not had the intended Effect For Remedy whereof

Be it enacted by the Lieutenant Governor Council & Burgesses of this present General Assembly and it is hereby enacted by the Authority of the same That every laboring tithable person and Overseer within this Colony & Dominion have liberty to tend six thousand plants of Tobacco and no more except as is hereafter excepted And that all Male laboring persons above twelve and under sixteen years of age have liberty to tend three thousand plants of Tobacco and no more upon any plantation or plantations in any one year during the continuance of this Act Provided alwaies That all Male persons being House Keepers & Planters and not having any tithable Servant or Slave and all Widows and all and every Feme Sole having Land of Inheritance and being Housekeepers and not having more than one tithable person shall have liberty to tend for themselves Ten thousand plants of Tobacco and for every Male laboring person between twelve and sixteen years of age to them belonging the liberty of tending on his or her Plantation three thousand plants of Tobacco & no more. And for the better explaining what sort of laboring Tithables are intended by this Act to be restrained from making Tobacco

Be it Enacted & declared That no Master of a Family keeping an Overseer and having eight Tithable Servants or Slaves that work in Tobacco Or any Master of a Family having above eight tithable Servants or Slaves that work in Tobacco Or any Servant or Slave being a Tradesman who shall at any time between the first day of April and the First day of September work at his or their Trade or Trades upon the plantation or plantations of his or their Master or Mistress or shall at any time or times whatsoever work at such Trade or Trades upon the plantation or plantations of any other person or persons Or any Servant or Slave who shall at any time between the first day of April and the first day of September be employed as Coachman—Groom—Waiting man—Cook—Dairy maid or in any other Domestic Office or Service in or about the dwelling house of his or her Master or Mistress Or any Female Servant or Slave under the age of Sixteen years shall have liberty to tend any Tobacco whatsoever. And Be it Further Enacted by the Authority afores'd That the Vestry of every Parish within this Colony shall every year during the continuance of this Act upon the Fifteenth day of June if the same be not Sunday and if it shall so happen then on the next day after lay out their respective Parishes into Precincts And appoint two persons in each Precinct to examine and inquire of the names and Number of the People hereby allowed to tend Tobacco and the crops of the several Planters within the said Precinct and the number of plants growing on any and Every Plantation or Plantations within the same in the beginning of the month of July yearly and to cut up or cause to be cut up & destroyed all Stalks, Slips and Suckers within such Precinct. Which persons so appointed are hereby enjoined carefully to review & examine all the several Fields and Places whereon Tobacco shall be tended within their respective Precincts two several times at the least after the plants thereon growing have been by them counted and as often thereafter as they shall judge necessary in order to discover whether any Slips or Suckers shall be turned out or tended from the Stalks whence any tobacco plant hath been before cut and shall take an Oath before some Justice of the peace of the County wherein they reside which Oath the said Justice is hereby impowered to administer in the words following,

"I, A. B., do swear That I will carefully diligently and truly examine and enquire of the names, and number of all persons allowed to tend Tobacco within my Precinct and truly & faithfully number and count the Plants growing or that have been tended on every Plantation within the same And faithfully and diligently will review & examine all the several Fields and places where all such Tobacco plants are tended and cut up and destroy or cause to be cut up & destroyed all Stalks from which any Tobacco shall be cut or taken and all Slips and Suckers growing from or out of the same above the height of nine inches from the Ground which I shall find standing or growing in any of the Fields or places aforesaid according to the directions of the Act of Assembly For the better and more effectual improving the Staple of Tobacco and that I will duly execute all the powers and Authorities given me by the said act and make a just & true report of my proceedings herein without Favor Affection or Partiality and that I will make information of all such persons who shall be guilty of any breach of the said Act in any matter or thing in which a Counter is required to examine & inquire to some Justice of the Peace of the County wherein the Offence shall be committed within one month after it shall come to my knowledge. So help me God."

And if any person appointed by the Vestry of any Parish to view examine and number tobacco plants and to cut up & destroy Tobacco Stalks Slips & Suckers in pursuance of this Act shall refuse to accept the said Office & take the Oath afore-mentioned every person so refusing shall forfeit & pay five hundred pounds of tobacco and upon such Refusal or the Disability of any such person or persons the Vestry of the said Parish shall meet & appoint another fit person in the room of him so refusing or disabled and so from time to time as often as such person shall so refuse or become incapable nominate & appoint another in his stead and every person so nominated & appointed who shall refuse to accept the said Office and take the Oath aforesaid shall forfeit and pay the like quantity of Five hundred pounds of Tobacco and in case the Vestry men of any Parish shall fail to meet on the fifteenth day of June as aforesaid or shall refuse to do his duty at such Vestry, so that there shall not be a sufficient number to hold a Vestry every such Vestryman so failing to meet or refusing to act in the said Vestry shall forfeit & pay the sum of Twenty pounds current money and such Vestry are hereby required to meet for the purposes afores’d on the seventh day after such Failure and every Vestryman who shall then fail to meet or shall refuse to do his Duty at such Vestry so that no Vestry is or can be held shall forfeit and pay the sum of Thirty pounds current money. And to the end the duty of numbering and examining tobacco plants & the other services herein before mentioned may not be neglected thro’ the want of due notice to the persons appointed to perform the same,

Be it Enacted by the Authority afores’d That the Clerk of the Vestry of each Parish shall immediately after the nomination of the persons appointed for examining & numbering the plants of Tobacco deliver to each and every of them a Copy of the order for their appointment and shall then demand whether they will accept of the said Office and if any of the persons so appointed shall refuse the Clerk of the Vestry shall give immediate notice thereof to one of the Church Wardens of the s’d Parish who is hereby directed & required forthwith to call a Vestry to meet on the next Monday following such notice Which Vestry so called are hereby directed to nominate & appoint other fit persons in the room of such as shall refuse the Office of examining and counting the tobacco plants as afores’d and if any of the persons nominated as afores’d shall afterwards become disabled before he hath performed the duty hereby required of him the person joined with him for that Precinct shall give notice of such disability to one of the Church Wardens of the Parish within two daies after the same shall come to his knowledge. And every neglect herein shall be deemed and taken and be liable to the like penalty as a Refusal to accept the Office of numbering & Examining tobacco plants And if upon the refusal or disability of any of the persons appointed in any Parish to examine & number tobacco plants as afores’d the Vestry of such Parish shall fail to meet and appoint others in the room of those so refusing or disabled according to the directions herein before mentioned every Vestry man who shall then fail to meet or refuse to do his Duty at such meeting so as no Vestry can be held shall forfeit and pay the sum of thirty pounds current money Provided alwaies That if any of the Vestry men so failing to meet & attend at either of the times aforementioned shall shew and sufficiently make appear that he or they were incapable of attending at such time or times that then such Vestry man or Vestry men shall not incur the penalty or penalties in this Act mention’d.

And for the encouragement of the persons nominated & appointed as aforesaid for examining & numbering the plants of Tobacco and for cutting up & destroying tobacco stalks Slips & Suckers in pursuance of this Act,

BE IT ENACTED by the authority af’s’d That there shall be levied on the tithable persons in each County during the continuance of this Act Five pounds of Tobacco for every Six thousand plants and proportionably for a lesser or greater quantity which shall be tended and left standing within the said County to be distributed to the respective persons appointed by this Act to view and number the plants of tobacco in proportion to the number of plants viewed and numbered by them in their respective Precincts Which Said levy of Five pounds of Tobacco the Court of each County within this Colony is hereby impowered & required to make and the Sheriff or other Collector of the County Levy to pay to the several persons to whom the same shall be due in the Parish wherein they respectively reside unless such person shall consent to take the same in some other Parish within the County. And for every hundred Tobacco stalks which shall have any Sucker or Slip growing thereon of the height of nine inches from the ground which such person or persons shall so cut up & destroy there shall be paid to him or them by the Owner of such Tobacco stalks or his or her Overseer twenty pounds of tobacco and so proportionably for a lesser quantity to be recovered with Costs before any Justice of the Peace of the County wherein the said Tobacco Stalks shall be so cut up.

And for the better direction of the persons appointed for numbering the plants of Tobacco,

Be it Enacted by the Authority af’s’d That the two persons nominated & sworn in each Precinct shall jointly repair to the several plantations and there take the number of the Tobacco plants by counting the several plants contained in every respective piece of tobacco ground in the best manner by such methods and rules as in their Judgment may best discover the true quantity having regard to regular and irregular pieces of Tobacco ground. And if at any time hereafter any more plants of Tobacco than are hereby allowed shall by the persons appointed to view & number the same as afores’d be found planted or tended on any plantation or plantations whatsoever the Owner or Overseer of such plantation shall immediately in the presence of the person or persons appointed to examine and number the same cut up or cause to be cut up or destroyed so many plants as shall exceed the number herein before allowed in such place or places of the s’d tobacco grounds as the s’d Owner or Overseer shall think fit And in case the Owner or Overseer of such plantation shall refuse and fail so to do the said persons so appointed to examine & number as afores'd be and are hereby empowered & required to cut up or cause the same to be cut up & destroyed and shall have & receive as a reward for so doing twenty pounds of Tobacco for every hundred plants of Tobacco that shall be so cut up or destroy'd by them to be paid by the Owner of Overseer of such plantation where such Offence shall be committed and upon due proof thereof made by the Oathes of the persons appointed as afores'd shall & may be recovered before a Justice of the Peace of the County where such Offence shall be committed. And the persons so to be appointed to examine and number as afores'd are hereby required to make a true Report of their proceedings & number of plants on each plantation in their respective Precincts to the Clerk of the Court of that County wherein the s'd Precincts respectively lie on or before the tenth day of August yearly.

And Be it Further Enacted by the authority afores'd That each person so appointed & sworn to examine & number tobacco plants and to cut up & destroy Stalks Slips & Suckers as afores'd failing to make such report of their proceedings as afores'd shall forfeit & pay One thousand pounds of Tobacco for every such Offence and if the said persons so appointed to examine & number and to cut up & destroy Stalks slips and Suckers as afores'd shall knowingly allow any person whatsoever to plant or tend on his or her plantation any more plants of tobacco than are herein or hereby before allowed or to tend any Seconds Slips or Suckers each person so offending shall forfeit & pay one thousand pounds of Tobacco for every such Offence.

And Be it Further Enacted by the Authority, afores'd and it is hereby Enacted That the Clerk of every County Court shall without Fee or Reward fairly transcribe all such reports as shall be returned to him by the persons appointed in pursuance of this Act for numbering of plants of Tobacco and shall set up the same in the Court house of the s'd County at the two next succeeding Courts after such return so as the same be made three days at least before the Court day & shall also file & keep the Original Reports in his Office, and where it shall so happen that any Parish shall lie in two Counties in such case Return shall be made of the number of plantations and plants in each County to the Clerk of the County wherein such plantations shall lie to be transcribed and set up & filed by the Clerk of such County in manner afores'd and the Clerk of any County failing to do his Duty herein shall forfeit & pay one thousand pounds of Tobacco.

Provided alwaies, That where any Plantation shall lie in two Parishes the Tobacco plants tended thereon shall be accounted & taken to be within that Parish or Precinct where the Servants or Slaves employed thereon do reside or the Quarter for them is situated And the persons appointed within that Precinct where such Quarter stands and no other shall view examine count & make return of the tobacco plants tended on such plantation accordingly.

And for the better discovering the true number of all Male laboring persons above twelve & under sixteen years of age and of all tithable persons for whom no Tobacco by this Act is allowed to be tended Be it Enacted That all Masters of Families and Housekeepers and all Overseers of distant plantations shall return to the Justice or Justices of the Peace appointed to take the list of Tithables yearly when they give an account of their Tithables a true account of the names of every person above twelve & under sixteen years of age for whom any benefit of tending tobacco is allowed by this Act And shall also distinguish in his or her List of Tithables which of the persons therein mentioned are allowed to tend Tobacco as aforesaid And every Master of a Family Housekeeper or Overseer failing so to do shall forfeit and pay five hundred pounds of Tobacco.

And if any person shall list or enter with the s'd Justice any person under sixteen years of age as a tithable or that is under twelve years of age to be above that age or any person as a Laborer in his or her Crop who is not hereby allowed to tend Tobacco in either case the person so offending shall forfeit & pay five hundred pounds of Tobacco for every such person so falsely entred or listed And every Justice of the Peace who shall be hereafter appointed to take the list of Tithables is hereby directed & required to take & make separate Lists of the names of all such persons above twelve & under sixteen years of age And shall return such Lists in the same manner as the list of Tithables are returned and shall make such distinction in the list of Tithables by him returned of the persons not prohibited by this Act to tend Tobacco.

And Be it Further Enacted by the Authority afores'd That each person to be appointed in pursuance of this Act to examine & number plants as afores'd who shall plant & tend more tobacco plants on any plantation or plantations to him belonging than is herein before allowed shall for every such Offence forfeit & pay five hundred pounds of Tobacco for every person above twelve years of age on his plantation that shall be employed in making Tobacco And if any Master Mistress or Overseer shall refuse to give a just & true account or shall deliver a false account of the names of the several persons by this Act allowed to tend Tobacco on their s'd plantation or plantations and to shew all the Tobacco planted thereon or remaining in any Tobacco beds or plant patches to the persons appointed to view the same Every Master Mistress or Overseer so refusing or giving a false account shall forfeit and pay Five hundred pounds of Tobacco for every person above twelve years of age employed in making Tobacco on any such plantation that year.

And Be it Further Enacted by the Authority afores'd That where any suit shall be brought for the penalties in this Act contained for ent'ring or listing any person under sixteen years of age as a Tithable Or that is under twelve years of age to be above that age the age of the person so listed shall be proved & determined by the Parish Register or by the Order of the Court in case the age of such person hath been formerly adjudged there or by the inspection of the Court upon the Trial & not otherwise.
AND BE IT FURTHER ENACTED by the Authority afores'd That no person or persons whatsoever shall transfer or make over to any other person or persons any tobacco plants which he she or they shall have growing on his her or their plantation or plantations above the quantity or quantities allowed by this Act to be tended or shall be allowed to tend for any laboring Tithable or Worker in Tobacco any number of Tobacco plants whatsoever in any other precinct than where such Tithable or Worker in Tobacco was listed.

AND WHEREAS many frauds are committed by false and promiscuous packing and by putting Trash and bad Tobacco into bundles to the great prejudice of the Trade of this Colony For the better explaining what shall be accounted bad or Trash Tobacco and for the further preventing false packing, BE IT FURTHER ENACTED by the Authority afores'd That after the first day of September next all sweet scented Tobacco to be tendred or exposed to Sale shall be tied up in hands or bundles not exceeding six leaves in each hand or bundle and all Oronoko Tobacco so to be tendred or exposed to sale shall be tied up in hands or bundles not exceeding eight leaves in a bundle besides the Tier And the Tier in both cases of sweet scented & Oronoko Tobacco shall be of equal goodness with the rest of the bundle.

AND BE IT FURTHER ENACTED by the Authority afores'd That if any person or persons whatsoever shall after the s'd first day of September tender in payment or expose to sale any hogshead of Tobacco which shall not be tied up according to the directions in this Act or shall not be freed from House-burnt Piebald and frost-bitten Tobacco and all other trash Tobacco Or shall not be sound Or well conditioned the person or persons tendring or exposing the same to sale shall forfeit and pay two hundred pounds of Tobacco to the Officer Receiver or other person to whom the same shall be so tendred or exposed to Sale Which s'd Forfeiture of two hundred pounds of Tobacco shall and may be recovered before any Justice of the Peace of the County wherein such Offence shall be committed which Justice on complaint made to him is hereby directed and required to issue his Warrant to three honest Freeholders who are skilful in Tobacco Who being first sworn truly to report how they shall find the same shall forthwith repair to the place where such hogshead or hogsheads shall lie and shall carefully view the same and their Report or the Report of two of them shall be good evidence in the Trial before such Justice Which said three Freeholders shall be paid for every hogshead of Tobacco they shall so view fifteen pounds of Tobacco each by the person or persons tendring the same in payment or exposing the same to sale if the Justice on such Report shall give Judgment against the person so tendering or exposing Such Tobacco But if such Justice shall acquit such person or persons then the same shall be paid by the County and levied by the Justices in the next County Levy.

Provided alwayes and it is the true intent & meaning of this Act That if the Owner or person tendering in payment or exposing to sale any such Tobacco shall remove or conceal the same so that the persons appointed Viewers cannot perform their duty herein the said Viewers shall certifie the same to the Justice who issued the Warrant for such View and the said Justice shall thereupon give Judgment for the aforesaid Penalty of two hundred pounds of Tobacco and the said Viewers shall be paid by such person so removing or concealing so much Tobacco as is herein before allowed to them as if they had actually viewed the same,

Provided also That an allowance of Five pounds of Tobacco and no more shall be made by the Viewers in each hogshead so to be viewed for Sand Dirt & bad Tobacco (that is to say) such Tobacco as is not passable of itself without better joined with it any thing in this Act contained to the contrary thereof in any wise notwithstanding.

And be it further enacted by the Authority afores'd That all Fines and Forfeitures herein before mentioned and not otherwise appropriated shall be One half to Our Soverain Lord The King his Heirs & Successors to & for the use and for the less'ning the Levy by the Poll of the County wherein such Offence shall be committed And the other half to the person or persons who will inform and sue for the same and may be recovered with Costs in any Court or Courts of Record within this Collony by Action of Debt Bill Plaint or Information Except such Fines & Forfeitures in this Act mentioned as are cognizable before a Justice of the Peace.

And Be it Further Enacted by the Authority afores'd That this Act shall commence from the first day of April next ensuing and be in force for Three years and from thence to the end of the next Session of Assembly.

[Samuel Peachey, emigrant ancestor of a well-known Virginia family, came to Virginia in 1659 with his uncle William Hodgskin, and was son of Robert Peachy, of Mildenhall, Suffolk. Though John Peachie, the testator, was evidently a prosperous yeoman, Samuel Peachey, as his will shows, owned silver plate and seal rings, bearing his arms. See William and Mary Quarterly, III, 111-115.]
Like the 1st regiment the 2d was authorized by the Virginia Convention, July 17, 1775, as a force of regular troops for State defence. It consisted of 7 companies, 476 privates and the usual regimental officers. William Woodford, a veteran of the Indian wars was chosen colonel; and the trust imposed in him by the colonial Committee of Safety as contrasted with their want of confidence in his superior officer, the civilian Patrick Henry, colonel of the 1st, was the cause of some friction, and eventually led to the resignation of the latter and his return to that branch of the public service where his talents were transcendent.

December 1, 1775, the regiment was enlarged by the addition of three companies of 60 men each.

On February 13, 1776, it was accepted by the Continental Congress as part of Virginia's quota in the new army, and the field officers after being elected anew by Congress, received Continental commissions bearing that date.

In 1777 it was in Weedon's brigade; from 1779 to 1780 in Woodford's. In July, 1778, it reported 26 commissioned officers, 4 staff officers and 658 non-commissioned officers and privates. At the White Plains "re-arrangement" September 2, 1778, many of the Virginia regiments had become so small that it was necessary to combine them, the 2d and 6th being consolidated under the former number, Colonel Febiger of the 2d and Lieutenant-Colonel Simms of the 6th retaining those ranks in the new regiment and the other field officers being retired or transferred.
On January 23, 1779, there were 137 men in the regiment enlisted for the war, an unusually large proportion.

May 10, 1779, it had 221 men in the ranks.

Of the commanders of this regiment Colonel Woodford resigned his commission within the year; but sometime later, on February 21, 1777, was commissioned brigadier-general by Congress. That resignation raised some troublesome questions of seniority between Woodford and other brigadiers, who though of junior rank, had been continuously in service. Spotswood, the next colonel, resigned from the Continental service after a few months. The history of the 2d is most closely connected with its third and last colonel, * who was nominally in command till the close of hostilities. But there has been some confusion occasioned by the fact that Colonel Febiger, while retaining command of the 2d Virginia, was also at the head of a light infantry regiment (sometimes denominated the 1st or Febiger's) organized by the commander-in-chief's orders in June, 1779, and consisting of 8 companies. These were raised by levies from the Continental line regiments. (One section or battalion of the regiment, comprising 1 company from Virginia, 2 from Pennsylvania and 1 from Maryland, was commanded by Lieut.-Colonel Fleury, a Frenchman; the other, consisting of 4 companies, all from the Virginia line, by Major Posey of the 7th regiment.) It was this light infantry regiment and not the 2d Virginia that Colonel Febiger led in that splendid charge under Wayne at Stony Point, July 16, 1779.

With the rest of the Virginia Continentals the regiment was sent South to help in the defence of Charleston and fell into the enemy's hands on the surrender of that city, May 12, 1780.

At the Winchester re-arrangement, January 2, 1783, it had practically ceased to exist, and a new 2d regiment, or part of one, was organized.

For historical material on the regiment see Section II, Nos. 3 and 6. For lists of regimental officers at various dates, see Section II, Nos. 2, 7, 10, 12, 15, 18, 19, 50.

Field Officers.

Colonel.—William Woodford, February 13, 1776—September 3, 1776. Resigned, but was promoted to brigadier-general, February 21, 1777.

*It may be doubted if any Virginia field officer had so varied an experience as Christian Febiger. Born in Denmark and trained to arms in youth, the outbreak of our Revolution found him engaged in mercantile pursuits in Massachusetts. Entering service in Colonel Samuel Gerrish's Essex county regiment he led a detachment which rendered good service at Bunker Hill, June 17, 1775. Was next lieutenant and adjutant of Benedict Arnold's column in that awful march through the Maine wilderness the following fall, and was taken prisoner with his comrades at Quebec, December 31. On being exchanged the next September he at once entered Virginia's service.
Colonel.—Alexander Spotswood, February 21, 1777—October 9, 1777. Resigned.
Christian Febiger, September 26, 1777—January 1, 1783. Retired.
Lieutenant-Colonel.—Charles Scott, February 13, 1776—May 7, 1776. Promoted to colonelcy of 5th.
Alexander Spotswood, August 13, 1776—February 21, 1777. Promoted.
Richard Parker, February 10, 1777—February 10, 1778. Promoted to colonelcy of 1st.
Charles Dabney, ? —September 14, 1778. Retired; was later colonel of 2d State line.
Charles Simms, September 14, 1778—December 7, 1779. Resigned.
Gustavus B. Wallace, February 12, 1781. Taken prisoner at Charleston, May 12, 1780, and so remained till retired, January 1, 1783.

John Markham, August 13, 1776—December 23, 1776. Promoted to lieutenant-colonelcy of 8th.
Morgan Alexander, December 23, 1776—March 22, 1777. Transferred to 8th.
Thomas Posey, April 30, 1778—September 14, 1778. Transferred to 7th.
Thomas Massie, September 14, 1778—June 25, 1779. Resigned.
Charles Pelham, June 25, 1779. Prisoner May 12, 1780—January, 1783. Transferred to 7th, February 12, 1781.
Smith Snead,* February 12, 1781—January 1, 1783. Transferred to office of Major-commandant of new 2d.

2D REGIMENT, 1783.

At the Winchester re-arrangement January 1, 1783, it was decided that the Virginia soldiers whose terms had not run out were more than sufficient to make one regiment, so a 2d was formed to be under a major-commandant, consisting of two companies, (1st) those drafted into the legionary corps and artillery (60 men) and (2d) recruits at different points (60 men).

Probably the regiment saw no service and was soon mustered out.

FIELD OFFICER.

Major-commandant.—Smith Snead, January 1, 1783—?
3D Regiment, 1776–1782.

This regiment, consisting of 10 companies with usual complement of officers, was authorized by Virginia December 1, 1775. Its officers were at once commissioned by the State, and February 13, 1776, on its acceptance by Congress, re-elected by that body.

In October, 1776, it formed part of a brigade temporarily commanded by Colonel Weedon of the 3d Virginia, reporting 104 officers and 611 rank and file on its rolls.

At Trenton, December, 1776, it belonged to Lord Stirling’s brigade, reporting 21 commissioned officers and 160 enlisted men present in that month, and 452 enlisted men absent. It was soon transferred to Woodford’s brigade and seems to have so continued through its period of service.

At the White Plains re-arrangement, September, 1778, the 5th regiment was united with the 3d; Colonel Heth of the 3d retaining his rank in the new organization while the other field officers were transferred.

In May, 1779, the 3d and 4th regiments combined reported only 377 men present for duty.

May, 1780, the 3d was captured at the fall of Charleston. January 1, 1783, the regiment having dwindled away to practically nothing, the remaining officers were retired.

For historical material on the regiment, see Section II, No. 3.

For lists of regimental officers at various dates, see Section II, Nos. 1, 2, 7, 10, 12, 15, 18, 19, 50.

Field Officers.

Colonel.—Hugh Mercer, February 13, 1776—June 6, 1776. Promoted to brigadier-general.

George Weedon, August 13, 1776—February 21, 1777. Promoted to brigadier-general.

William Heth, April 30, 1778. Taken prisoner at Charleston, May 12, 1780; on parole and retired February 12, 1781.

Abraham Buford,* February 12, 1781—January 1, 1783. Retired.

*At the Chesterfield re-arrangement February 12, 1781, George Mathews, colonel of the 9th Virginia, who was a prisoner of war, 1777–1781, was assigned originally to the 3d. Buford, a junior colonel, was substituted, but Mathews on regaining liberty, advanced his prior claim.
Lieutenant-Colonel.—William Heth, April 1, 1777—April 30, 1778. Promoted.
Charles Fleming, June 28, 1778—September 14, 1778. Promoted to lieutenant-colonelcy of the 8th.
Thomas Gaskins,* September 14, 1778—January 1, 1783. Retired.

William Taliaferro, August 13, 1776—February 1, 1777. Promoted to lieutenant-colonelcy of 4th.
Charles West, February 1, 1777—July 6, 1778. Resigned.
John Hays, April 23, 1778—Prisoner of war; retired February 12, 1781.
James Lucas, September 14, 1778—In service late as March, 1779; retired January 1, 1783.
William Lewis, February 12, 1781—January 1, 1783. Seems to have been a prisoner of war during this entire period, having been captured at Charleston, March, 1780.

*Richard C. Anderson, major of the 1st Virginia who was retired February 12, 1781, is spoken of as lieutenant-colonel of the 3d. If this is correct it must have been a sort of honorary rank given him on retirement and never exercised.

4TH REGIMENT, 1776-1782.

Like the 3d, this regiment was authorized by Virginia, December 1, 1776, and accepted by the Continental Congress, February 13, 1776.

At the battle of Trenton, December, 1776, it formed part of the brigade of General Adam Stephen, and the same month reported 31 commissioned officers and 198 enlisted men present for duty and 33 men absent.

The 4th regiment seems to have belonged to Scott’s brigade, 1777-1779, and possibly to Woodford’s after that.

In September, 1778, the 8th regiment was merged into the 4th. None of the field officers of the old 4th were retained, Colonel Neville and Major Croghan being transferred to it from the 8th.

May 10, 1779, the 3d and 4th regiments combined, reported 377 men present.

For lists of regimental officers at various dates, see Section II, Nos. 1, 2, 7, 10, 12, 15, 18, 19, 50.

FIELD OFFICERS.

Colonel.—Adam Stephen, February 13, 1776—September 4, 1776. Promoted to brigadier-general.

Thomas Elliott, September 3, 1776—September 28, 1777. Resigned.

Robert Lawson, April 1, 1777—December 17, 1777. Resigned.

John Neville, September 14, 1778. Prisoner at Charleston, May 12, 1780; retired January 1, 1783.

Lieutenant-Colonel.—Isaac Read,* February 13, 1776—August 13, 1776. Promoted to colonelcy of 1st.

*We are of opinion that Heitman has fallen into several errors in regard to Virginia Reads in the Revolution. He states that James Read was colonel of the 1st Virginia, February 13, 1776, and died September 27, 1777, and that Isaac Read was lieutenant-colonel of the 4th, February 13, 1776, colonel of the 9th, August 13, 1776, transferred to the 4th, December 17, 1777, and died September 4, 1778.

Apparently there was no such person as his James Read. Isaac Read was lieutenant-colonel of the 4th, February 13, 1776; and colonel of the 1st, August 13, 1776, (not of the 4th or 9th). He died September 4, 1777. Correction will be made under the 1st regiment later.
Lieutenant-Colonel.—Robert Lawson, August 13, 1776—April 1, 1777.
Promoted.
William Taliaferro, February 21, 1777. Prisoner at Brandywine, September 11, 1776, died February 1, 1778.
Thomas Gaskins, May 16, 1778—September 14, 1778. Transferred to 3d.
Samuel J. Cabell, July 4, 1779. Taken prisoner at Charleston, May 12, 1780, and was on parole to close of war. Transferred to 7th, February 12, 1781.
Richard Campbell, February 12, 1781—September 8, 1781. Killed.

George Gibson, March 22, 1777—June 5, 1777. Resigned; was later colonel of 1st State regiment.
John Brent, October 4, 1777—May 4, 1778. Resigned.
Charles Fleming, ?—June 28, 1777. Promoted to lieutenant-colonelcy of 3d.
William Croghan, September 14, 1778. Prisoner at Charleston, May 12, 1780, and on parole till close of war. Retired January 1, 1783.
Samuel Finley, ——, 1781(?)—January 1, 1783. Transferred to new 1st.

5TH REGIMENT, 1776-1778.

Authorized by Virginia and accepted by Congress on same dates as the 3d and 4th.

It was at Trenton, December, 1776, in General Stephen's brigade; reporting 14 commissioned officers and 115 enlisted men present and 33 men absent. It belonged to Muhlenberg's brigade in 1777. September 14, 1778, owing to the smallness of both regiments it was merged into the 3d.

Includes list of names.

Served as captain in the 5th Virginia at Trenton, Brandywine and Germantown.

5TH REGIMENT, 1778–1782.

This was the old 7th regiment, (before September, 1778) to which reference is made for earlier history. Evidently it had not suffered to the same extent as the other eight regiments of Virginia's first quota, as it alone was not consolidated with another regiment.

It formed a part of Woodford's brigade in 1779. In January of that year the 5th and 11th combined, reported 225 men enlisted for the war, and in May of the same year the same two regiments had 379 men present for duty.

For lists of regimental officers at various dates see Section II, Nos. 15, 18, 19, 50.

FIELD OFFICERS.

Colonel.—William Russell, September 14, 1778— ? Prisoner at Charleston, May 12, 1780; exchanged November, 1780(?). Retired January 1, 1783.

Lieutenant-Colonel.—Holt Richeson, September 14, 1778—May 10, 1779. Resigned.

  Oliver Towles,* February 12, 1781—January 1, 1783. Retired.

  Thomas Hill, July 4, 1779—February 12, 1781. Retired.
  Joseph Crockett, February 12, 1781—January 1, 1783. Retired.

*Formerly major of 6th; commission as lieutenant-colonel dated February 10, 1778.
6th Regiment, 1776-1778.

This was one of the seven new regiments raised by order of the Virginia Convention in December, 1775, consisting of ten companies and the usual complement of officers. It was accepted by Congress for Continental service February 13, 1776, the field officers receiving new commissions bearing that date.

In December, 1776, it reported 25 commissioned officers and 166 enlisted men present for duty and 58 men absent. At Trenton, this same month, it formed part of General Adam Stephen's brigade; 1776-78 it seems to have belonged to Weedon's brigade.

It was with the 9th regiment at the battle of Germantown, October 4, 1777, and also suffered heavily.

At the White Plains re-arrangement September, 1778, it was united with the 2d regiment, Lieutenant-Colonel Simms being transferred to the same position in the 2d.

For historical material on the regiment see Section II, No. 6.

For lists of regimental officers at various dates see Section II, Nos. 1, 2, 7, 10, 12, 50.

Lieutenant-Colonel.—Thomas Elliott, February 13, 1776—September 3, 1776. Promoted to colonelcy of 4th.

James Hendricks, August 13, 1776—September 29, 1777. Promoted to colonelcy of 1st.

Charles Simms,* September 29, 1777—September 14, 1778. Transferred to 2d.

Richard Parker, August 13, 1776—February 10, 1777. Promoted to lieutenant-colonelcy of 2d.

James Johnston, April 1, 1777—August 15, 1777. Resigned.

Oliver Towles, August 15, 1777. Prisoner from December, 1777, till the fall of 1780. Promoted to lieutenant-colonelcy of 5th, February 12, 1781, to rank from February 10, 1778.

Samuel Hopkins, November 29, 1777—June 19, 1778. Promoted to lieutenant-colonelcy of 14th.

Richard C. Anderson, February 10, 1778—September 14, 1778. Transferred to 1st.

This is really the orderly book of the 6th regiment, as shown by the regimental orders interpersed in the text.

By the consolidation of the first nine Virginia regiments into six at the White Plains re-arrangement, September, 1778, the 10th regiment was thenceforth known as the 6th. For its earlier history see the 10th regiment, 1776-1778.

May 10, 1779, it reported 280 men present, and at that time belonged to Muhlenberg's brigade. It was captured by the British at Charleston, May, 1780, and January 1, 1783, was formally mustered out of service.

Lieutenant-Colonel.—Samuel Hawes, September 14, 1778—January 1, 1783. Transferred to new 1st.

Major.—Thomas Ridley, September 14, 1778—February 12, 1781. Retired. Seems to have been again in service later as major of 1st, and finally retired January 1, 1783.

VIRGINIA'S SOLDIERS IN THE REVOLUTION.

7TH REGIMENT, 1776-1778.

This was the fifth of the seven new regiments authorized by the Convention, December, 1775. It was raised largely by William Crawford in the District of West Augusta. It was accepted by Congress, February 29, 1776, and taken on the Continental establishment June 17, 1776. It seems to have been attached to General Woodford's brigade during its entire term of service. The regiment was nearly cut to pieces in the defeat at Brandywine. Evidently it was largely recruited after that date, as at the re-arrangement in September, 1778, the 7th alone of the first nine Virginia regiments maintained its separate existence, not being combined with any other. It was re-numbered the 5th. (See that number for its later history.)

For lists of regimental officers at various dates see Section II, Nos. 2, 7, 50.

FIELD OFFICERS.

Colonel.—William Dangerfield, February 29, 1776—August 13, 1776. Resigned.

William Crawford, August 14, 1776—March 4, 1777. Resigned; later served on the frontier and was captured and killed by Indians, June, 1782.

Alexander McClanachan, October 7, 1776—May 13, 1778. Resigned.

William Nelson, October 7, 1776—October 15, 1777. Promoted to colonelcy of 8th.

Holt Richeson, October 9, 1777—September 14, 1778. Transferred to 5th.

William Davies, ? —February 21, 1777. Promoted to lieutenant-colonelcy of 14th.

John Cropper, January 4, 1777—October 27, 1777. Promoted to lieutenant-colonelcy of 11th.

John Webb, January 26, 1778—September 14, 1778. Transferred to 5th.

TITLE.

Biographical sketch of Crawford, 81-120.
7th Regiment, 1778-1782.

This is the old 11th regiment of October, 1776, renumbered after the White Plains re-arrangement of September, 1778. It had 117 of its rank and file enlisted for the war previous to January 23, 1779, and reported 212 men present for duty in May; forming part of Woodford's brigade.

The last portion of its service was on garrison duty west of the Alleghanies, principally in or near Pittsburg. Those of the soldiers whose terms had not expired were transferred to the new 1st regiment, January 1, 1783.

For lists of regimental officers at various dates see Section II, Nos. 15, 18, 19, 50.

Field Officers.

Colonel.—Daniel Morgan, September 14, 1778—June, 1779. Resigned; was later in Continental service as brigadier-general, October 13, 1780.

John Gibson, February 14, 1781—January 1, 1783. Retired.

Lieutenant-Colonel.—John Cropper, September 14, 1778—August 16, 1779, Resigned.

Samuel J. Cabell, February 12, 1781. Prisoner at Charleston since May 12, 1780; on parole till close of war. Retired January 1, 1783.

Thomas Posey,* September 8, 1781—January 1, 1783. Retired.

Major.—Thomas Posey, September 14, 1778—February 12, 1781. Transferred to 1st.

*In 1782 there was a Virginia battalion in service in the far South under Lieutenant-Colonel Posey. It was known as Posey's Battalion; whether it was this regiment or a special State line or militia organization we are unable to say.

HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL NOTES AND QUERIES.

CLEMENT.—Mrs. Elizabeth Clement came over to Virginia in 1611, in ship George, bringing her two servants, Dorothy Green and Jeffress Hull, and her four children Jeremiah, Ezekiah, Nicholas and Elizabeth. In a muster of the inhabitants of the college lands of Virginia, taken January 23, 1624:

The muster of Capt. Ralph Hamor:
Capt. Ralph Hamor.
Mrs. Elizabeth Hamor.
Jeremy Clement, } her children.
Elizabeth Clement, }

Mr. Jeremie Clement was one of the Burgesses for James City in 1641. Capt. Francis Clement of Surry, married Elizabeth, daughter of Nicholas Meriweather, and was appointed administrator of the estate of Nicholas Meriweather, who died December 18, 1678. Was Capt. Francis Clement of Surry a son of Mr. Jeremie Clement of James City? Did Francis Clement and Elizabeth Meriweather leave children? Are there any James City wills on record?

MRS. N. E. CLEMENT, Chatham, Va.

HUTCHINGS.—Can you tell me where I can find the names of the men composing the 6th Virginia Regiment?
Capt. Thomas Hutchings was the son of Christopher Hutchings and wife Elizabeth, and after the war he removed to Tennesee or Kentucky. Thomas' brothers Moses and Charles also fought in the Revolution.

BURWELL FAMILY.—In the Richmond Land Office there is a list of 47 persons transported by Lewis Burwell, for which he was granted 2,350 acres on June 12, 1648. In this list are the names "Francis Burwell" and "ffra Burwell." In 1680 "Major Ffra Burwell" is one of the military officers of "Gloucester county." Is anything known of him or his descendants? There is strong—but not convincing evidence—that his daughter married John Boykin of Isle of Wight county, who died intestate and whose inventory was filed May 5, 1729.

X, Baltimore.

[There are numerous land grants to Francis Burwell, many of which have been quoted in this Magazine.]

Bray Family.—Col. David Bray, son of Col. James and Angelica
Bray, was born in 1666 and died October 21, 1717, leaving a widow, Judith, and one son David. This wife was ten years older than he. It is known by family records that the first wife of Capt. Henry Baker of “Buckland,” (who died 1738 or 1739) was Angelica Bray. Capt. Baker was born about 1685, and, judging from known facts, this first wife must have been born about 1695, probably before. She called her second son David, her eldest one Henry. Is it possible that she was a daughter of Col. David Bray by a first marriage?

X, Baltimore.

Isham.—I enclose a copy of the report of the case of Langetone vs.
Ysham in the Year Book. It is a translation by the editor of the original record in Norman French. W. de Langetone I suppose to be the Treasurer of England, who was possibly one of the Langtons of Hamptone was evidently Isham’s attorney. Staunton was Hervey de Staunton, one of the judges of the Court of Common Pleas.

Who Ralph de Hoe was I cannot make out, nor more important, who his wife was. I think she was a descendant of one Alexander Saundeville who appears in the twelfth century as a mesne tenant of the manor of Isham. The overlord in Domesday is Guy de Reinbuedcourt who was, Mr. J. H. Round thinks, a Fleming—from him by the female line it descended to the Latimers who certainly were tenants in chief in 1291 or 1296 when a Henry de Isham, probably the same man here imploved accounted for 1 knight’s fee in Isham. The Isham’s manor was certainly held by kt. service. It paid 8s. annually to the guard of Rockingham castle.

The statement of Henry is very interesting. Its value lies partly in his view of his descent, but more in his statement of the tenure which could easily have been controverted, it seems, to me, if he had not spoken the truth. He was no further from Domesday than we are from the men who were living in 1690.

“Henry de Ysham was made to come to acknowledge by what services be held &c. of Ralph de Hoe and his wife &c., which services the aforesaid Ralph and his wife had by fine granted to W. de Langetone; and he came and acknowledged to hold &c. by homage and by the service of one knight’s fee &c.—Stavnton. Ralph and his wife have granted &c. to W. &c.; will you attorn &c.—Hamptone. Yes, Sir; but we must have the like acquittance warranty and defence from W., as we had from Ralph and his wife.—Stavnton. What have you to show that Ralph and his wife were bound to acquit you &c.—Hamptone. We and our ancestors have holden &c. of Ralph's wife and of her ancestors by the services aforesaid since the Conquest.—Stavnton. Then have you nothing else &c. than the homage.—Hampton. No, Sir.—Stavnton. The homage will be the same in the person of W. as it was in the person of Ralph's wife or of her ancestors &c. And he did fealty but not homage, because W. was not there except by attorney who is incapable of taking homage."

Bates.—I would like to inquire about the family of Edward Bates who was the Attorney-General of the Cabinet of President Lincoln, 1861-1865. He lived in St. Louis, but was born in Goochland county, Va., about 1787. The "Dictionary of Biography" says there were thirteen children of the family. The particular member of the family I have in mind was Tarleton Bates, if indeed he was a brother of Edward Bates, of which I am not quite certain. Tarleton Bates was prothonotary of the county of Alleghany, Pennsylvania, in the early part of the last century, and was killed in a duel January, 1866, in this place. This was supposed to be the last duel fought in this State, and (as often was the case) of political origin.

Bedford.—Edwin Walton Bedford born in Murfreesboro, Tenn., December 9, 1804. His wife was Elizabeth Leftwich Burton, born in Lynchburg, Va., July 17, 1819. He was son of Robert Bedford, born in Murfreesboro, Tenn., 1785. His wife was Mary C. Bedford (his cousin), born April 6, 1784. I think she was born in Charlotte county, Va. He was son of Thomas Bedford, Jr., born in Charlotte county, Va., 1751. His wife was Anne Robertson, born in Charlotte county, Va., 1755. He was son of Thomas Bedford, Sr., will probated March 7, 1785, Charlotte county, Va. His wife was Mary Ligon Coleman. He was son of Stephen Bedford, of Southam Parish, in Cumberland county, Va., will probated 28th day of August, 1758, Cumberland county, Va. His wife was Elizabeth Mosby.

Thomas Bedford, Sr., was member of the Committee of Safety for Charlotte county, Va.

Thomas Bedford, Sr., Capt. Rev., through them descendants belong to the S. A. R. and D. A. R.

M., Mexico, Mo.
McRoberts-Bland.—Rev. Archibald McRoberts, who was a Presbyterian minister, and was, I think, one of the charter members of Hampden-Sidney College. According to the family history he married a Miss Bland. He had a son Theodrick Bland McRoberts, who, I think, was either a teacher or a lawyer in Virginia.

[Rev. Archibald McRoberts was ordained in the Church of England in 1763, and was minister of Dale Parish, Chesterfield county, 1773-1776, and perhaps earlier. He was an intimate friend of Devereux Jarrett and left the church in 1779, becoming a Presbyterian. He was at that time minister of a parish in Prince Edward. A correspondent of Bishop Meade states that Mr. McRoberts married a daughter of Robert Munford, of Mecklenburg county (see Meade's Old Churches and Families of Virginia, I, 448-450). Robert Munford married Anna, daughter of Richard Bland, and had one daughter Elizabeth, who must have been Mrs. McRoberts.]

WM. BROWN, REVOLUTION.—In 1846 the State of Virginia granted bounty land to the heirs of William Brown, who served as a Major in the Continental Line from 1777 to the end of the war. The land was granted to Sarah F. Bird, formerly Sarah Frances Stanley, sole heir.

ENGLISH RECORDS RELATING TO VIRGINIA.
(Royal Historical Manuscripts Commission—Manuscripts of S. H. Le Fleming, Esq., of Rydal Hall).
(Pages 16, 17, &c., notices of Dudley family of Cumberland, bearing names of Christopher, &c., similar to Dudleys of Virginia, see index).

March 12, 1666-7.—Newsletter 8th. A frigate of between 30 and 40 guns built in Virginia, looks so fair that it is believed that in a short time they will get the art of building as good frigates there as in England.

August 20, 1667.—Newsletter 14th. Six score horse of the guards have been sent into Gloucestershire to assist the sheriff, some of the justices of the peace being unwilling to obey the order of the Board for destroying tobacco.

[Tobacco was for a time successfully grown in parts of Gloucestershire, but its cultivation was suppressed in the interest of colonial tobacco and the consequent revenue.]

October 15, 1667.—Newsletter, 12th. The Governor and Council of Virginia have made complaint of Lord Baltimore, as usurping the title of an absolute sovereign.
October 27, 1668.—Newsletter. The Governor, Council and Burgesses of Virginia made a present to his Majesty of 300 lbs. of silk, being the first fruits of that commodity. He has ordered it to be wrought into bed furniture for his own use. They hope to settle a trade of flax, hemp, &c.

September 23, 1675.—London. Thirty sail of the Virginia fleet have arrived in the West of England. They report that in June last they were ready to sail, but Evertson, with a squadron of Dutch men-of-war, came in among them in the James river, burning six, making prize of five more, all laden, containing by estimation 5,600 h�ds. of tobacco.

April 18, 1676.—Newsletter. The Indians in New England are still very troublesome. They are disorderly in Virginia also, and have burnt one or two plantations near James river.

October 3, 1676.—London. Sir J. Lowther to D. Fleming. A thousand men are going to Virginia, where one Bacon has headed the people, banished the Governor, imprisoned his deputy, and it is said, put some to death.

October 3, 1676.—Newsletter. From Virginia we hear that the disorders have grown to a great height. Bacon at the head of twelve or fourteen hundred men plays the absolute master. He has imprisoned Sir Henry Chichley, the deputy Governor, and several of the principal planters. The Governor, Sir William Berkeley, had taken advantage of a ship then in the roads and retired to "Neavis." * * An embargo is laid upon the ships bound to Virginia to the end they may be deprived of all necessaries they receive from hence, and may be the easier reduced.

November 20, 1676.—Newsletter. From Virginia we hear that Sir Wm. Berkeley has taken two ships which Bacon had armed, and that 400 men sent by Bacon to bring Sir Henry Chichley prisoner from Jamestown, had turned against Bacon and put themselves under the order of Sir Henry Chichley.

[Of course the rumor as to the desertion of Bacon's men was false.]

November 27, 1676.—Newsletter. The ships for Virginia are now in the Downs.

December 12, 1676.—Newsletter. The merchants hear that Bacon has burnt great part of Jamestown, taken Sir Henry Chichley prisoner again, and forced Sir William to retire to his ships in the roads.
January 4, 1679(-80).—Sir George Fletcher and others to Edward Lowry. Enclosing copy of a letter from the King to the Lord Lieutenants of Cumberland and Westmoreland, recommending them to allow Captain Tonge, of the Coldstream guards, the muster master for their counties, to hold his office on appointing a deputy during his absence in Virginia, whither he is commanded.

May 28, 1692—M. Lady Grymes to Sir Daniel Fleming. I am the cause that Sir Thomas Grimes absented himself. If he had appeared and had refused the oath and been imprisoned it would have been the death of us both. I desire you will give us a pass into Gloucestershire where we are going to stay with Sir William Compton.

May 28, 1692.—Sir Daniel Fleming to [Lady Grymes] * * * Sir Thomas Grymes need not fear anything worse than a fine of 40s. for a first offence, and then he will have three months time for consideration before a second tender can be made him. I cannot grant a pass while this warrant is unsatisfied.

March 21, 1695-6.—A particular account of the Papists and reputed Papists within the county of Westmoreland. * * * Sir Thomas Grymes, Knight and Baronet, and his lady with their servants, are, and have been about a year, lodgers at Kendal. He is ancient, goes very seldom out of the house and has no arms or horses.

[William Grymes, “son of Sir Thomas Grymes, of Peckham,” was living in Virginia in 1694. Whether he was of the same family as that descended from Rev. Charles Grymes is not known.]

April 12, 1750.—London. The Earl of Lonsdale to ——. The bill for encouraging the importation of iron from America had passed the Committæ of the House of Lords before I received your letter. It met with considerable opposition from many sets of people concerned in iron works and woods in different parts of the kingdom. But a general notice prevailing, how well founded I cannot say, that the American iron will answer all or most of the purposes of that from Sweden, the attempts made to defeat or postpone the bill proved fruitless. I suppose you have heard that the importation of American iron is confined to the port of London, where at present no English iron or very little is bought. By this limitation our own iron works will not be immediately effected, but if this attempt has the success that is expected, in all probability they will suffer by it in time.

[This will probably interest members of the Virginia family of Meux, who may be descendants of the persons named.]

ff 63-67.—Similar notes from records, including the evidences of Sir Robert Kemp, bart., respecting the manor of Antingham, Norfolk, and the common there to the time of Charles I.

[These should be valuable for the history of the Kemps of Gissing.]

XXXIV, Miscellanea.

[No. 121-18] pp. 1-124. Numerous pedigrees with arms, &c., including Bardolf, Calthorpe, Gurney, and especially Spelman; epitaphs in various churches on members of the Spelman family; copies of Spelman wills, 1432-1544.

[Members of the families of Spelman and Calthorpe settled in Virginia.]
Extracts from the Records of Caroline County.

[The will and deed books of Caroline county prior to the nineteenth century have been all destroyed. The order books (court proceedings) are preserved; but the condition of several of the volumes is a disgrace to the county. Some of them are so bad that they could with safety be placed only in the hands of expert binders. It is greatly to be regretted that the authorities of a county which has played a prominent part in the history of the State and is the ancestral home of so many well-known families should not take more interest in their records. Following are, of course, only a few extracts.]

Pension Declaration of John Harris.

(Contributed by Mrs. N. E. Clement, Chatham, Va.)

Declaration of John Harris, a resident of Pittsylvania county, aged 77 years. I was drafted and marched from Pittsylvania county, in the State of Virginia, where I resided on the 11th day of June, 1780, in a company of militia under Captain Isaac Clement and Benjamin Dunken, to Hillsboro in the State of North Carolina, where we joined the 3rd Virginia Regiment under Major Henry Conoway and Col. Glenn in General Stephens' brigade. We staid at that place upwards of a month then marched to Cox's Mill on Deep River, from thence to Massey's Ferry on Pedee River. At that place about 200 men were left under Major Conoway, Capt. Daniel, &c., of whom I was one, to guard the saw ferry, secure the boats, &c.; and the main army, under General Stephens, marched on to the South.

We remained at this place until after General Gates was defeated near Camden in the State of South Carolina. Many of the Virginia militia and others retreated and rendezvoused with us at said Massey's Ferry and marched back to Hillsboro where we were stationed some time, then marched under Colonel Faulkner and others to New Garden in county of Guilford, North Carolina, where we staid some time, then marched to Guilford Courthouse, where I was discharged by Captain Daniel in month of September, 1780, having served in this tour three months. My discharge is lost and cannot be found but the service rendered is proven by Nathaniel Gardner and Joseph Hubbard who were soldiers with me in the same service at the same time.

I again entered the service of the United States, being drafted on the 23rd day of October, 1780, and marched from the said county of Pittsylvania, State of Virginia, in a company of militia under Captain James Brewer, crossed Dan River entered the State of North Carolina and again rendezvoused at Hillsboro and remained at that place for some time. I was transferred to Captain Peter Mays in the 3rd Regiment of militia under Major Conoway and Colonel Stublesfield under General Stephens. From Hillsboro we marched to Salisbury where we were stationed some time. I was taken sick and sent to the hospital, after which I was discharged by Colonel Joseph Philips on the 23rd January, 1781, my term of services being three months, having expired on that day. No payment was made to me for services rendered on this tour.

In month of September, 1781, I was again drafted into a militia company under Captain Chas. Hutchings which rendezvoused at Stony Hill in county of Pittsylvania and marched on to Little York. At the time this company left Stony Hill I was not able to march with the company, I was furloughed by Captain Hutchings, with orders to follow on and join the company as soon as I should be able to march.

Sometime in the month of October I left home and was on my way to join my company in Little York, and in the county of Charlotte, met many of same company coming home, who informed me that Lord Cornwallis had surrendered and they had been discharged.

In addition to above service I was several times ordered out to take the field. Sometimes I would be on Dan River a few days. Once met at Peytonsburg in county of Pittsylvania and staid there ten or twelve days. Once ordered to meet General Wayne and join his army in the county of Halifax, we staid in that county ten or twelve days and were informed that General Wayne would not come that way.

mark
I, Thomas Williams, a Justice of the Peace for the county of Pittsylvania and State of Virginia, do hereby certify that Nathaniel Gardner a credible man of said county personally appeared before me and made oath that in the year 1780 he was a soldier in the army of the Revolution attached to Captain Isaac Clements' company of the militia from said county of Pittsylvania. And that John Harris who is an applicant for a pension was also a soldier in the same company under Captain Clement, that we marched to Hillsboro in the State of North Carolina, thence to Cox's Mill on Deep River and from thence to Massey's Ferry on Pee Dee River. At that place the said John Harris was left with Major Conoway and others for a guard, and the rest of us went on to Raghley's Mill, and I was in the battle when General Gates was defeated. The militia retreated and I never met with the said Harris until we were discharged.

Given under my hand and seal this 15th day of December, 1832.

Thomas Williams.

I, John Walters, of county of Pittsylvania, do certify that during the Revolution I held rank of captain and commanded a company of militia in the county of Pittsylvania where I then and now reside; and that John Harris, who is an applicant for a pension, was attached to and mustered in a company under my command, and that he was several times drafted and taken in the army of the Revolution and marched from the said county of Pittsylvania. I recollect distinctly that he went to the South as a militia soldier and that he was ordered to Little York just before Lord Cornwallis surrendered.

John Walters.

This day, Joseph Hubbard, a credible man of the county of Pittsylvania appeared before me, one of the Justices of Peace, and made oath that John Harris to his certain knowledge was a soldier of the Revolution, that he was attached to Captain Isaac Clements company of militia from Pittsylvania, and stationed with me as a soldier at Hillsboro, North Carolina, in the year 1780. We marched from thence to Massey's Ferry on Pee Dee, the said Harris was left a guard at that place and he went on the Rughley's Mill near Camden, in the State of South Carolina. He was in the battle when General Gates was defeated. The militia was ordered to retreat and he met with said Harris at New Garden in Guilford county, North Carolina.

1. Charles Barret was born in England, emigrated to Virginia and died about 1742 or 3 in Louisa county. He married Mary Leigh who was born in England and died about 1746 in St. Martin's Parish, Louisa county. Issue: 2. Rev. Robert Barret.

2. Rev. Robert Barret was born in 1722 in Virginia. He was sent to Oxford, England, and educated for the ministry [an error; his name does not appear in Foster's Alumni Oxonienses.—Ed.], then returned to Virginia. [Robert Barret received the royal bounty to defray his passage to Virginia, December 5, 1737—Fothergill's Emigrant Ministers to America, p. 13.] Therefore he must have been born before 1722.—Ed.] In 1742 he preached at Louisa Courthouse and other places 24 times a year, 320 pounds of tobacco being paid him for every sermon. The vestry book of St. Paul's Church, Hanover county, shows that he presided over St. Martin's Parish from 1754 [and probably earlier] until 1785. In that year he represented that parish in the Convention of the Episcopal Church called for organizing under the new State government after the Revolution. He died 1805 in Albemarle county. He married in 1753 in Hanover county, Va., Elizabeth, daughter of Robert Lewis, of "Belvoir," Albemarle county. She died before September 1, 1757, as Robert Lewis in his will of that date, mentions "my daughter Elizabeth Barret, deceased." Rev. Robert Barret m. 2d, Amie Lee.

Issue: (1st m.) 3. William Barret.

3. William Barret, born in Louisa county, 1756, died November 28, 1815, in Greensburg, Ky., married 1784, in Hanover county, Va., Dorothy Winston, who was born 1765 in Louisa county, Va., and died August 20, 1822. She married (2) —— Gaines in Mercer county, Ky., resided there until her death and is buried there.

4. JAMES WINSTON Barret, born January 1, 1789, in Hanover county, Va., died November 11, 1871, in Springfield, Ill.; married August 12, 1813, in Lexington, Ky., Maria McElroy Allen (born July 31, 1796, in Lexington, Ky., died March 24, 1871, in Springfield, Ill.). She was the daughter of General James Allen, who was born April, 1770, in Albemarle county, Va., and died November 25, 1836, in Greene county, Ky., who married (1st) in 1795, in Howard county, Ky., Elizabeth McElroy, born about 1773, probably in Lexington, Ky., died ——; and married (2nd) Anne, daughter of Capt. William Barret, and sister of J. W. Barret.

Charles and Jane Maria (Barret) Ridgeley had three sons and one daughter (all married), one of the sons Wm. Barret Ridgeley was comptroller of the currency of the United States, 1901–1908.
ENGLISH ANCESTRY OF THE DADE FAMILY OF VIRGINIA.

This account is derived from two English genealogical works: Genealogical Memoranda Relating to the Family of Dade of Suffolk (London, 1888,) and Pedigrees from the Visitation of Kent, 1663-68, edited by J. J. Howard and Robert Hovenden. We are indebted to Miss Idelle Keyes of Georgetown, Mass., for lengthy notes from the former book. Included in these books are pedigrees of Dade from the Visitation of Kent, 1663, Suffolk, 1612 and 1664, numerous extracts from parish registers, copies of epitaphs, &c.

John 1 Dade of Witton, Norfolk, (with whom the Suffolk Visitation of 1612 begins) married the daughter and heir of Pakenham of Shropham, in Norfolk, and had issue:

1. Richard, 2 son and heir.
2. John, 2 married Mary, daughter of Sir Nicholas Appleyard, of Braken Ash, Norfolk, and had issue.
3. William 3 (of whom later).
4. Nicholas, 2
5. Bartholomew, 2
6. Daughter, 2 married Edmund Bohun, of Fressingfield, died 1501.

William 2 Dade, of Witton, Norfolk, gent., married Margery, daughter and heir of Nicholas Godbould of Badingham, Suffolk, gent., and had issue:

1. Thomas 3 (of whom later).

Thomas 4 Dade, Esq., born 1556, died April 13, 1619. He left Witton and removed to Tannington, Suffolk. He married, first, Anne, daughter of Richard Cornwallis of Shotley in the county of Suffolk, Esq.; and second, Anne, daughter of Thomas Haselopp of Trumpington, County Cambridge. Thomas Dade was buried at Tannington, April 14, 1619. His will was dated September 26, 1617, and proved August 4, 1619 (P. C. C. 80 Parker). His funeral certificate, which has, in addition to the arms of his own family, nine others of those from whom he descended, is as follows:

"Thomas Dade of Tannyngton in the County of Suff. gent. departed this life at Tannyngton aforesayd the xiijth of April 1619. Hee was buried in the Chauncell of Tannington Churche with a grauestone vpon him with 4 Scutcheons of Brasse with his Coate of Armes. He was the eldest sonne of William Dade of Witton in the County of Norff. gentleman and of Margery daughter and heire of Nicholas Godbould of Badingarh in the County of Suff gent. He married to his first wife Anne

[A very elaborate genealogy of the earlier generations of the Beverley family of Virginia ran through Vol. II, pp. 405, &c., and Vol. III, pp. 47, &c., 169, &c., 261, &c., 383, &c. On account of lack of space in our pages at the time, this genealogy was discontinued with the intention that it should be resumed at some future time. It is now thought that it is a proper time to conclude it. The account here given is a continuation of the notices of the children of Captain Harry" Beverley, from III, 173-176, 269-271, 383-392.]

18. CATHERINE* BEVERLEY (Harry*), received under her father's will a bequest of 1,000 acres on the Pamunkey River, and a share in his slaves. In or before 1742 she married George Stubblefield, of Spotsylvania county. By deed, dated, Spotsylvania, March 4, 1744, George Cook and wife sold 200 acres in St. George's Parish, Spotsylvania, part of a patent granted to Harry Beverley, deceased, and by him bequeathed to his daughter Catherine, "now the wife of George Stubblefield," and by Stubblefield and wife sold to Cook in 1742. The will of George Stubblefield, gent., was dated September 11, 1751, and proved in Spotsylvania, June 2, 1752. His executors were his brother Thomas Stubblefield, wife Catherine Stubblefield and friend Major Rice Curtis, Jr. Legatees: Son George, land and plantation whereon I now live, which I bought of Edward Herndon, Jr., also 100 acres adjoining which I bought of James Riddle; son Henry, land which I bought of Mr. Joseph Brock; sons Beverley and Robert; wife Catherine and the child she now goes with.

The will of Catharine Stubblefield, widow, was dated April 14, 1778; executors, sons Harry and Robert Stubblefield and Oliver Towles. Legatees: sons George, Harry and Beverley Stubblefield; granddaughter Catherine, daughter of Robert Stubblefield, granddaughter Susanna, daughter of George.

19. JUDITH* BEVERLEY (Harry*) married first (license, Spotsylvania, June 1, 1729-30), Rev. Rodham Kenner. He was probably the person of the name who was a scholar at St. Bee's Grammar School, England, and of whom it is stated in connection with the register there that he was born at Cherry Point, Va., went to Glasgow and afterwards to Virginia as a minister. He was son of Francis Kenner, was born in Northumberland county, Va., September 28, 1707, and in 1720 was recommended to St. George's Parish, Spotsylvania. Dr. James Blair refers to him as “a very good man.” (For an account of the Kenner family, though not of Rodham Kenner’s descendants, see William and Mary Quarterly, XIV, 173-179). At the time of his death he seems to have had a parish in Caroline county. There is on record in Spotsylvania, a deed dated June 3, 1765, from George Kenner, of Caroline county, and Margaret his wife, and John Beverley Roy of Spotsylvania, and Anne his wife, to Frances Jerdone of Louisa county, merchant, for £275 current money, conveying 1,194 acres in Spotsylvania, part of a tract devised by the will of Harry Beverley to his five daughters, Margaret, Judith (&c.), and the said 1,194 acres was allotted to Judith, who intermarried with Rev. Rodham Kenner, by whom she had issue, George Kenner, her eldest son and heir-at-law, and afterwards died intestate. The will books of Caroline county have been destroyed, but the order books show that, in 1735, Judith Kenner proved a nuncupative will of her late husband, Rodham Kenner, clerk, by which he divided his estate between his wife and son. Benjamin Robinson, Catherine Beverley and Anne Savage were the witnesses. Mrs. Judith Kenner married, secondly, Thomas Roy. There was in Caroline in April, 1740, a suit vs. Thomas Roy and Judith his wife, executrix of Rodham, Kenner, Clerk, deceased. In the same year George Kenner, by Howson Kenner, sued Thomas Roy and Judith his wife. The decision was in favor of Mrs. Roy.

Issue of Judith Beverley by second marriage with Thomas Roy: John Beverley Roy (and possibly others).

(22. Anne3 Beverley is an error. She was the same as Susanna.)

23. Margaret Beverley (Harry2) was born March 27, 1704, in Christ Church Parish, Middlesex county, and married (license, Spotsylvania county, June 26, 1729), John Chew of Spotsylvania county. John Chew, gent., was sheriff of Spotsylvania, 1737. The will of John Chew was dated May 11, 1755, and proved in Spotsylvania county, July 6, 1756. Joseph Brock executor. Legatees: Sons Robert and John, daughter Mary Beverley Brock, daughter Hannah Chew; Mr. Harry Beverley guardian to son John Chew; Joseph Brock guardian to daughter Hannah Chew.

H. B. GRIGSBY'S ADDRESS ON HAMPTON SIDNEY COLLEGE. PROPOSED PUBLICATIONS.

In 1876 Mr. Hugh Blair Grigsby, at that time President of the Virginia Historical Society and Chancellor of William and Mary, delivered an address at the Centennial Commencement of Hampton Sidney College. For many years Mr. Grigsby's home had been in Charlotte county, and he had become very familiar with the local history of Southside Virginia. No man living at the time could have been more appropriately chosen to deliver such a commemorative address: Mr. Grigsby not only knew the facts but he knew what was behind the facts. His address took the form of remarks on the lives and characters of the founders, early trustees and presidents of Hampton Sidney College, with much illuminating comment on the general conditions of the region from 1775 to 1840.

This address, as everything done by Mr. Grigsby touching the history of Virginia, is of great value. It was his last important work, and (so far as is known) the only important work done by him which is still unpublished. The material should make about 100 pages octavo. It is proposed to print this address by subscription at $1.00 a copy in strong paper covers. Any profits to be devoted to securing some portrait of Mr. Grigsby for Hampton Sidney College.

Subscribers should address,

SHAKESPEAREAN AND OTHER PAPERS. By John Bell Henneman. Late Professor of English in the University of the South; late Editor of The Sewanee Review. The University Press of Sewanee, Tennessee. 1911. 8vo. pp. xiii, 265.

This is a very interesting volume, not only for the high order of its contents, but for the relation sustained by Dr. Henneman to historical work in the South during the past twenty years. Born in South Carolina in 1864, Henneman graduated (M. A.) at the University of Virginia in 1884, made his doctor's degree at Berlin in 1889, was at once elected Professor of English and History in Hampden Sidney College, Virginia, remained there four years, going in 1893 to the University of Tennessee, from which he was called in 1900 to the University of the South, dying in 1908. During this brief space, Dr. Henneman was alive as few men are: it will be the testimony of every intelligent student who was a member of his classes that as a teacher his force, and ability to arouse the interest and bring about new adjustments in the intellectual machine were extraordinary. There could not well be a finer example of the teacher—the man who gives his life, makes all his interests tell, not only in keeping the flame of learning bright but in making its votaries better men. It is a great task, fitting citizens to meet the demands of the modern world, and Dr. Henneman performed his share of it in a manner so vital that the South should long remember him.

His work lay in the South, with which he was thoroughly in sympathy and able to see the shortcomings. The last sentences of his essay on "Historical Studies in the South since the War" are—"Mr. Froude to the contray, who believes neither in evolution" nor devolution, in progress, science, nor aught else in the historic sphere, and sees only a stage crowded with innumerable figures, ideas do control men and minds and are stronger in a century than any one man or government; and he becomes the transcendant leader to posterity, who seems to have best expressed the primary idea of his day. We do want sympathetic history, but let it be pervaded by a sympathy which is not narrow, but universal, and guided by a true philosophy. The advocate's plea is a distinct contribution and goes to make up history, but it is not history itself. The judge of last resort still suspends sentence. Perhaps in some things we are still but the advocate. Possibly in others the judge. At any rate, our activity should be apparent, and we may at least submit arguments to be weighed in the discussion, if we may not on all questions award the final word of judgment? The reader of these essays cannot fail to be struck with how wide the author's culture was, and how, in the department of history, his grasp of the essential methods was complete. He had been disciplined in severe schools, and never relaxed. It is to be wondered what this man, who had scarcely began to get into his work, would have accomplished in another twenty years. These essays are both an achievement and an augury.

The volume, which has been brought out by Mrs. Henneman, contains ten essays, four of them Shakespearean, and the rest literary and historical studies largely of Southern subjects, e. g., English Studies in the South; Two Pioneers in the Historical Study of English: Thomas Jefferson and Louis F. Klipstein; The National Element in Southern Literature; Historical Studies in the South since the War. The volume is fairly representative of the man, whose life was devoted primarily to the advancement of the study of English in the South, with a very broad construction of the meaning of the study of English. Two quotations will be given in illustration: "What is to be the result in the course of time of all this instruction in English, this endeavor, this straining to get and give an exacter knowledge of the native tongue and literature? It is just as characteristic, too, of England as it is of America. It seems to mean, at least, that the literature of the past will be studied, annotated, edited—no name being too poor for reverence. But will it result in broader views of life, in a conscious criticism, in strengthening the personal attitude, so that it may produce an era of its own, with new sources, new aims, and a new fulfillment?" (p. 185) "All over the South, in every State institution at least, in addition to the instructor in general history, one is needed especially for American and State and local interests; and it ought to prove a patriotic duty to provide this, and where possible even to subdivide the work among several ardent investigators." (p. 240).

Dr. Henneman could give such counsel. During his residence of four years in Virginia, there was not a man in the State who shared a more lively interest in the general and local history of the State. He organized a historical society at Hampden Sidney College, was a contributor to the Virginia Magazine of History and to the newspapers, and in every way open to him worked for the furtherance of literary and historical studies in Virginia and of Virginia. Several years after leaving the State, he sent a remarkable series of articles to the Virginia Magazine of History—work perhaps without parallel anywhere—a close analysis of the labyrinth of family relationship among the Board of Trustees of Hampden Sidney College from 1776 to 1898. Along this and similar lines Dr. Henneman left a large amount of manuscript material, a part of which it is hoped will be published in some form.

This volume is equipped with an excellent portrait, a preface by Professor William P. Trent, and a biographical sketch by Professor James Douglas Bruce. Professor Trent remarks, "I think I may fairly say that it would be difficult for one man to know another better than I knew John Henneman. It would be more difficult to make me believe that a finer spirit than his ever animated a human body."

To the Kings Most Excellent Majestie and the Lords of his Most Hon'ble Privy Councell. Your Ma'ties Councell For the Collony of Virginia.

In all Humillity Present.

That haveing the Hono'r to serve you'r Ma'tie as yo'r Coun-cell for this Place Under the R't Hon'ble Sr. Wm. Berkeley yo'r Ma'ties Governor here and Doubting some ill affected Persons Who are vexed with their losse in this late unhappy Accident¹ may unjustly asperse his Fame and give your Ma'tie ill Impressions of him Wee have thought it our Duty to yo'r Ma'tie and Justice to your Governor here, To give yo'r Ma'tie and your most Hon'ble Councell This true Character and Accompt of him & his Actions, That he hath for neere Thirty years Governd this Collony with that Prudence and Justice which hath gained him both Love & reverence from all the Inhabitants here, which wee looke on as our greatest Strength, For in this very Conjuncture had the People had A Distaste-full Governor they would have hazarded the losse of this Countrey, and the rather because they doe believe their Condicon would not be soe bad Under the Dutch in Point of Traf-fique as it is under the Merchants who now use them hardly (even to extremity) But this Governo'r Oppresseth them not, but on the Contrary spends all his revenue amongst them in Setting up Manufactures to their advantage who will follow his Example; Nor ought wee in gratitude to p'ritermitt the advantage this whole Country hath received from the Conquest of the Indians and the peace Wee have soe long enjoyed; which wee owe to his indefatigable Indeavors and Vigorous Prosecution of that Warr for several years in most of the greatest expeditions whereof he was himselfe in p'son, to the very great hazard of his health and life. Then for his behavio'r in this last Conjuncture Wee due assure yo'r Ma'tie and yo'rmost Hon'ble Councill that it was wonderfelly beyond what could be expected from a man of his age for he exposed his p'son to the greatest Danger of the Enemy by night and Day on the water and on the land Visiting the remoter parts, and with his pr'sence encouraging every one to doe well in their places, and at the same time taking Care for the heart of the Countrey in so much as he scarce eat or slept to the hazard of his health nor did he Leave any part of A Prudent Governo'r or valiant Generall unp'formed but shewed very great Vigour and Conduct on all Occations where he saw it necessary nor, could he be blamed unlesse it were for exposing his p'son too much, and some of us who living neere him are most conversant with him, Doe assure yo'r Ma'tie and most Hon'ble Councill that he spends most of his time and Thoughts in the Contemplation of yo'r Ma'ties Interests and in Contriving which way (on all Occations offered) he may be most Serviceable to your Ma'tie. This being the truth (though farr short of his Merritts) Wee doe pray to God to give him A much longer life and Continue his Strength of body and minde, and that he may Continue long in your Ma'ties favour to which is the very harty Prayer of yo'r Ma'ties Most Loyall and Obedient subjects and servants.

¹The "late unhappy accident" was the destruction or capture by the Dutch in Virginia waters, of so many merchant-men. The English merchants and ship owners had complained bitterly because there was no fort at Point Comfort, and apparently tried to hold Berkeley responsible.

Orders in Regard to Giles Bland. 3
(Abstract.)
September 21, 1674.
Minute of a Grand Assembly held at James City requesting the Governor to issue forth his mandate for the appearance of Giles Bland before the Council of State to answer to an affront offered to this Grand Assembly in the person of Mr. Secretary which is highly resented by the House of Burgessès.
(Colonial Papers, 1 p.)

3 Giles Bland was son of John Bland, an eminent London merchant, and his wife Sarah, daughter of Giles Green, Esq., of Uffington (who was M. P. for Corfe Castle temp. Charles I) and a nephew of Theodorick Bland of Westover, Virginia. John Bland had purchased large landed estates in Virginia, which were managed by his brother Theodorick until the death of the latter in 1671. After his uncle's death Giles Bland came to Virginia to take charge of his father's property and was at the same time appointed one of the collectors of the customs. Soon after his arrival in Virginia, a long suit was commenced, first by John Bland against the widow of Theoderick Bland, and afterwards by Sarah, widow of John Bland against the same defendant, who by that time had become the wife of St. Leger Codd. It is probable that it was something in regard to this suit which caused the quarrel between Bland and Ludwell, and Bland's insulting language in regard to the Governor and Council. Bland was removed from his place as collector and heavily fined. He seems to have been a man of passionate temper and to have intensely resented his treatment. He sided energetically with Bacon and lead an expedition against Berkeley, who had returned to the Eastern Shore; but was himself captured by a party under Philip Ludwell, brother of his former enemy. After trial by court martial he was hung on March 15, 1676-77, at "Bacon's Trench" near Jamestown.

[Col. Papers, Vol. 62.]

Right Honorable and my Most Honord

I had the Honor to receave a letter from you this yeare, concerning the peaceable Admission of the Dutch Shipps in Case any of them either by Winds or other Accidents should be forced into Our Harbours and I beseech you Sr. to beleeve:

6 Richard Lee (2nd of the name) of "Mt. Pleasant," Westmoreland county, was born 1647 and died March 12, 1714. After the accession of William and Mary he refused to take the oaths and for a time was out of the Council; but appears to have reconsidered the matter as he soon became again a member and continued to hold the position until his death. He married Lettice, daughter of Henry Corbin and was grandfather of the two Lee's who signed the Declaration of Independence. Richard Lee's tomb remains at "Mt. Pleasant" with the following epitaph:

"Hic Conditur Corpus Richardi Lee Armigeri, Nati in Virginia, filii Richardi Lee generosi, et antiqua familia, in Merton-Regis, in Comitatu Salopiensi, oriundi. In magistratum obeundo boni publici studiosissimi, in literis Graecis et Latinis et aliis humanioris literaturae disciplinis versatissimi. Deo, quem, summa observantia semper coluit, animam tranquillus reddidit XII mo. die Martii, Anno MDCCXIV, aetatis LXVIII. Hic, juxta, situm est corpus Laetitiae ejusdem uxoris fidae, filiae Henrici Corbyn, generosi; liberorum matris Amantissimae, pietate erga Deum, charitate erga egenos benignitate ergo omnes insignis. Obiit Octob. die vi, MDCCVI, aetatis XLIX."
that I had not had the Honor of first letter from so great a person as you are, if I had had anything fit to importune you who are so Eminent in his Ma'ties greatest neerer and most weighty service But Sr. I have a little Tasted of the trouble of Business and know how unwise and unseasonable it is to persons of great employment to receive letters that signify nothing but the trouble of answering them this Sr. I most humbly beg of you for what is past and to assure you for the future there shall be nothing that may conduce to his most sacred Ma'ties service but you shall have notice of it transmitted to you by your most humble and obedient servant.

And now Sr. that I give you the trouble of a letter I hope it will not be impertinent to give you the relation of our Neighbours as well as of our selves and the more because their Troubles were the Cause and beginning of ours: and first I wil say, that all Inglish planters on the Maine Coast [have (?)] more land then they are safely able to hold from those they have disposed of it This was the cause of the New-England troubles for the Indians Complaining that strangers had left them no land to support and preserve their wives and children from famine the very Governors told them that those y't could not live by them would doe well to depart farther from thence the Indians that had been Schooled by them ask't them if this uncharitable expulsion of them (who admitted them proudly when they might easily have excluded them from seating on their ground) were according to the Charitable doctrines they had learned from their God to w'ch they replyed that God had given [the] land to them and they would hold it adding farther that the Indians were to weake and Ignorant to contend with them This Answer so exasperated the Indians y't they immediately resolved to revenge or dye, the neerer to the Inglish communicated their sufferings to those farther of and told them if they did not Joyne to resist the common Ennimie

the next complaynt would be theirs for the Inglish sayd they founded their oppressions with no other measure then their inability of not being able to doe more but as soone as their strength and numbers increased the more remoter parts should find how farr their Avrice extended to those that hindred the effects of it These and other considerations so much enraged the Indians that presently their were Leagues made with those that were formerly Innimies and on a sodune they assault the Inglish in their Townes and farmes kil many men women and children and an incredible number of horses and cattle and on my faith Sr. I cannot learne that since in the numerous encounters they have had the Inglish have seldom had the better of them but have often lost whole parties (to a man or two) that have been sent out against them what ever the event be (for I have not heard from them thes five weekes at least) The New-England men wil not recover their wealth and Townes they have lost thes twenty coming yeares.

And now Sr. because I sayde the beginning of the New-England troubles were the cause of ours I must proceed to say that when the New-England Indians resolved to attaque the New-England men they sent Emmissaries as far as our parts to enduce our Indians to doe the like and it is almost incredible what intelligence distant Indians hold with one the other most certaine it is that a Nation called the sesquaiannahocks' murdered some people in Maryland, and in our parts Joyning to Maryland but we quickly destroyed most of those that were got into a fort but since that in one night some of the same nation murthered six and thirty weomen and children in one of our frontier plantations and then fled towards the mountains from whence we have heard no more then this from them that they live only on Acornes that they have Rob'd other lesser nations of the Indians of and so made them their Ennemies and we have now such a strength on the frontiers of al our Plantations that we cannot feare them if they were ten times more in number then they are But most honord Sr. as I sayde at first al English planters hold more land then they are able to defend this we al complayne of but no power of ours can redresse because they have this priviledge by his Ma'ties Grant and indeed our Indians have been so often subjected that there has been long, no Evident Cause to feare them nor shal we ever doe it if we can get our merchants to trust us with some considerable quantity of Powder and Amunition which shal faithfully and punctually be repayde them. Right honorable I feare I have trespassed too much in shewing my selfe grateful to you for the favour and hono'r of your letter.

*The Susquenannocks took refuge in an old fort supposed to have been near the present site of the city of Washington. The Virginia forces in this expedition were comanded by John Washington and those of Maryland by Thomas Freeman. Five Indians who had come in as hostages were put to death—an occurrence which caused much discussion and difference of statement as to the responsibility for this barbarous act. The Indian hostilities all along the Virginia frontier at this time were the immediate cause of Bacon's Rebellion. See Campbell's History of Virginia, 284–286.*

April the first 1676.

WILLIAM BERKELEY.

geous termes had beeene proposed to us it had beeene impossible to have perswaded the people to have parted with more Tobb. til a more certaine demonstration had been given them of what is already done I appeasd two mutinies this last yeare raysed by some secret villaines that wisperd amongst the People that there was nothing entended by the fifty pound leavy but the enriching of some few people But this yeare it has beeene cherfully payde by every one though the necessity of a new tax is layde uppon us for the Indians are Generally combind against us in al the northerne parts of America they have destroyed divers Townes in New-England kild more then a thousand fighting men seldom were worsted in any encounter and have made the New-England men desert above a hundred miles of ground of that land w'ch they had divers yeares seated and built Townes on I have heard from thence this fortnight but expect to heare no very good newes when I doe for they either have not or pretend not to have mony to pay their soldiers But what ever the successe be they wil not this next twenty yeares recover what they have lost and expended in this warr they had taken in their last harvest before the Indians enviaded them and declared the warr against them yet now they are in such want of provisions that they have sent us abundance of vessels to buy of us great quantities of al sort as Porke beefe and Corne in so much that I and the Council first and since the General Assembly have beeene forced to promulgate a severe law that no more provisions shall be exported from hence and I thinke al considering men conclude that one yeares want of provision does impoverish kingdomes and states (of al natures) more then seaven yeares Luxury but this is not halfe the New-England mens misery for they have lost al their Beaver trade Halfe at least of their fishing and have nothing to carry to the Barbadoes with whose co-modities they were wont to carry away our Tobb: and other provisions Add to this the new tax of one penny per pound on Tobb w'ch my Officers rigourously exact of them to conclude this if this warr lasts one Yeare longer they in new England will be the poorest miserablest People of al the Plantations of the English in America Indeed I should Pitty them had they deservd it of the King or his Blessed father.

But: Now for what has pas'd with us the Susquasahannocks this last yeare kild two or three of our men in Patomeck and as many in Maryland and then enfor ted themselves in Maryland and we and the Marylanders Joyned our smal forces and tear [or turn] them from their fort since which time some other Party of that barbarous Nation kild about six and thirty men women and children in the freshes of Rappahannock River and since that they kild two men at Mr. Birds's House which I thinke were most foolishly lost more mischiefe I cannot heare they have done to us and to prevent more the Grand Assembly have ordered that five hundred men be immediately raysiaed to defend the heads of al the Rivers so that by God's Assistance I hope we shal heare of little more Hurt done to us if I doe you shal weekly have intelligence from me And now Deare Mr. Secretary consider how indigent we are of your assistance and those Councellors that are with you for since your departure Mr. Diggs Mr. Bennet Mr. Corbin Coll. Aug. Warner are deade Coll Willis gone for England Major General Wood kept to his house by lamenesse and other infirmities Sr. Henry Chicheley and Coll Spencer so remote that they cannot posibl be heare on any Emergency so that al I have left to assist me are Coll. Bacon Mr. Ballard your Brother and Mr. Bray and sometimes Coll. Swann Coll. Bridger and Coll. Cole but know that thes last are either remote or very inconveniently seated to helpe me in Emergencies yet I hope by the Grace of God we shal easily repel the Ennimie if some seditious sperits amangst ourselves hinder not our proceedings who for pretext of their Villiny spread amongst the People the intollerablenesse of this most necessary charge of the Warr I thanke God the Assembly has given me nothing this last three years els that would have been a pretext also but I have weried you: shipps are now weekly going from hence and you shal sud-

Sr. W. Berkeley To Mr. Ludwell. Rec'd 8th June, 1676.

(Copy.)

Whitehall, April 6, 1676.

[Another letter is signed at the same time concerning the omissions in the execution of the Acts of Trade, vizt.]

After our hearty comendations unto you, there hath lately been great Complaints presented unto his Ma'tie about omissions in executing the Act of Navigation made in the Twelfth as also of the Plantation Act made in the 25th Year of His Ma'ties reign as if by connivance or neglect there were permitted such a liberty of Trade in the Foreign Plantations as will prove very pernicious unto this Kingdom. Therefore observing the great dangers and penalties in Law, which the Governors and those that are intrusted do incur, if the proof of any miscarriage of this nature can be brought home & charged upon them and knowing withal that if the Governors of the Plantations did according to the provision of law send home copies of the bonds & lists of ships there laden it would be of great avail to prevent the frauds that are used in carrying the Plantation Commodities to other parts. We have thought it for his Ma'ties service & for your own security to give you advertisement thereof. And the rather because by a late account from the Commissioners of his Ma'ties Customs We find that the bonds which are to be returned twice every year do very sparingly come in. And that scarce any lists of the ships that trade within Your Government, the Commodities which are enumerated by law are sent over which with the bonds should be returned once every year at the least.

Therefore referring You for your better observation of what is expected of you to the said laws in general we yet think fit to put you here in mind that you are to take a strict care not to suffer any ships to trade within that your Government but such as are belonging to the people of England or some of his Ma’ties Plantations and navigated according to law. And that if any vessel shall import into Your government any European commodities from any other place but only such as were actually laden I ship’d in England (except such commodities as are allowed by law) that you cause seizure to be made of all such ships and vessel and all the commodities therein imported. You are also to take care that bonds with sufficient surety be taken of all masters of vessels to bring & unload in some part of England. Wales or Berwick upon Tweed and no other place all the enumerated Plantation Commodities they shall take on board in the respective Plantations, Copies of which bonds are to be returned twice every year as also exact lists of ships, once every year at least together with the bonds as by the law is required. And that any of the said bonds upon forfeiture thereof be put in sure & prosecuted according to Law. And so not doubting of your care & punctual observance in this matter which is of so high importance to his Ma’ties service & so penal to you in the omission thereof we are resolved to be very strict inquisitors & to exact from you a frequent & punctual account.

We bid you heartily farewell.

From the Court at Whitehall this sixth day of April 1676.

MINUTES OF COMMITTEE OF TRADE AND PLANTATIONS.

(Abstract.)

Whitehall, April 10, 1676.

Minutes of a Committee of Trade and Plantations. Letters are prepared to the Governor abroad. To Sir. Wm. Berkeley, Governor of Virginia to give strict account what obedience is paid to the Navigation & Plantation Acts—and another letter sending several Heads of Enquiry to return an account of the Country thereupon which Heads of Enquiry comprised in 30 Articles are entered. An addition is made to Gov. Berkeley's in the 16th Article, in reference to the present state of the silk trade.

G. O. West point, Head Quarter Oct’r 23d ’79.

At a Division Court martial whereof Col’o Guest was president. Held at Ramapough September 24th ’79. Mr. Thornton Taylor Conductor of military stores to Gen’l Woodfords Brigade was Tried 1st for Stricking a Soldier and secondly for taking a false oath. The Court having Considered the Charges the Evidence & Defence; are of an Opinion that Mr. Taylor is Guilty of the 1st Charge, being a breach of the 5th Article 18 Section of the articles of war. They are further of Opinion that he is Guilty of the Second Charge being a Breach of the 21st article, 14 Section of the Articles of War and Sentence him to be Discharged from the Service.

The Commander in Chief utterly Disapproves the Sentence, The Testimony brought to Contradict the facts Say’d to have been Sworn to by Mr. Taylor before the Regimental Court martial is negative and inconclusive and his own Deposition before the Court Ought to have been produced to ascertain what he Really did Swear in stead of which, Testimony Depending on the memory of Witnesses, and in which to the are not precise or uniform, is admitted; This is Contrary to that Rule of Reason or Justice w’ch Dictates that Recourse Shall always be had to the highest Evidence of w’ch the nature of any case is Capable, and more Especially in Charges of so Serious and pernicious a Crime, to say nothing of the Dangerous Consequences which may arise from a practice of Bringing Witnesses to Trial for Perjury on Slight and frivolous Grounds, Mr. Taylor is Released from his Arrest.

D. O. Paramus Wednesday Oct’r 6th ’79.

F. O. Lieut Col’o Allison.

All the Invileids in the Division that are proper Objects for Col’o Nicolas's Corps are to be Reported to the Adj’t and by him are to be sent to Philadelphia—the waggons and Forage Masters are to be very attentive that none of the horses of their Brigade are turned into people's fields of Grain or where the Can do any mischief, The Brigade Q'r M'r will also see to this. Notwithstanding the Repeated Orders Given against keeping horses by persons not intitled to do So by the standing Gen'l Orders of the Army it is Still found that not only many officers but soldiers women and Suttlers have a number of horses that incumber the Army and Occasion a very Considerable Expence to the publick in Forage, The Com'dg officers of the Reg't are Requested to send all Supernumery horses off immediately and upon no pretence whatever to suffer one of them to Return—the Brigade Q. M's are Called upon in a particular manner to attend the Execution of this Order and to take possession of such horses as shall Remain in Contradiction of this Order— and Report them to the Brigadier or Commanding Officer of his Brigade.

The Court of Enquiry whereof Col'o Wood was president held at Ramapough Oct'r 2d 79 Report that it appears to the Court that the Roster kept by Major Cabell Divides the Different Duty's properly and is well Calculated to do equal and impartial Justice to all officers. The Major Gen'l approves of Major Cabells conduct in this Instance, but orders in future that when an officer is absent on Detachm't and his Tour Comes on for other duty it shall be Overslaughed in ye Roster, and shall not be Liable to make it up after his Return.

Accurate returns to be made out immediately of the terms of enlistment of the Soldiery of the Virg'a Division, it being unnecessary to Distinguish the particular terms of Each Individual it will be sufficient to make the numbers whose time will Expire the Spring of 1780 Fall 1780 Spring of 1781 &c. REVOLUTIONARY PENSION DECLARATIONS.

From the Records of Pittsylvania County.

Contribution by Mrs. N. E. Clement, Chatham, Va.

James Hopkins.

On this 17th day of Sept. personally appeared in open Court before the Justices of the Court of Pitts, now sitting, James Hopkins, a resident in the State of Va. in the Co. of Pitts, aged sixty seven years on the 22 day of February 1832 who being first sworn according to law, doth on his oath make the following declaration—

That he entered the service of the U. S. as a Substitute in the place of James Hopkins, Sen., sometime in the Spring 1780, and marched from the County of Amherst & State aforesaid under the Command of Capt. Azarriah Martin, Lieut Wm. Holt, and Ensign Leroy, the place of rendezvous was at Hillsborough in the State of N. Carolina. After our arrival there we were transferred to 4th Reg't Virginia Militia Commanded by Col. Lucas from the County of Mecklenburg, the Brigade was Commanded by Brigadier Gen. Stevens, from the County of Culpeper—After remaining at Hillsborough some time, for the purpose of being disciplined, we were ordered to march to S. Carolina and join Maj. Gn'l H. Gates Commander in Chief of the Southern Army, at a place called Rugeley's Mills on the morning of the 15th August, rested the balance of the day, and at 10 O'Clock at night took up the line of March to Surprize the enemy before day, who were encamped at Campden, who marched at the same hour; the two armies met on the middle ground, a Sharp Skirmish between the advanced guards took place that night, the line was formed and the men stood under arms all night—the next morning the 16th the line was ordered to advance, and a general engagement took place about the rising of the sun, which resulted in a Shameful defeat of the Southern Army;—there was no place designated, in the event of defeat, at which we should rendezvous, we had lost all our baggage, and were destitute of any Clothing, except what little we had on; Seperated from our officers and no means of Subsistance, —under these appalling Circumstances, although Our term of service was nearly expired, a Considerable number of the Company to which I belonged, determined to make the best of their way home; after our return to Amherst County, a Court of inquiry Convened and made an Order that we should all be sent back and serve a tour of eight months under regular Officers,—we were accordingly mustered and put under the Command of Cap't Pamlin who marched us back to Hillsborough, where Gen'l Green's army then lay, and we were transferred to the Command of a Cap't Graves of Co. of Culpeper, who was assigned to take Command of the men sent back from a few Other Counties for the same offence. In a short time the Army was ordered to march to the South, we passed thro' Sallisbury, Charlotte &c and about the 1st of Jan. 1781, we took up winter quarters on North Side of Peedee river, near the Cheraw hills, S. Carolina. Sometime in the month of Feb; if my memory is correct there was a general order issued for all married men belonging to the eight months' Company as they were called, to be discharged, and the young men to be retained till their term of service expired, this reduced the Company very Considerably,—Capt.
Graves was permitted to return home with those men that were discharged, and the balance retained in service were placed under the Command of a Cap't Webb and Lieut. Webb, who I understand came from about Richmond in Virginia. Shortly after this Gen'l Morgan defeated Col. Tarlton at a place called Cowpens, and took a number of prisoners and had to make a rapid retreat to save them from being retaken by the enemy,—as soon as Gen. Greene received the information, he immediately marched off the Army to Cover Morgan's retreat, and left this small Company of eight months' men, some of whom were stationed at mills to guard them and keep them employed in grinding meal and flower for the use of the Army, and some to guard the encampment—finally Capt. Webb received Orders to take charge of eight or ten waggons—loaded with meal and flower, and about four hundred head of Hogs, and to follow on after the army, and we were in fact, in rear of both armies;—when we reached Deep river in N. Carolina intending to go to Guilford C. H. we there received intelligence that Cornwallis was at the place, we then had to change our rout, turned to the right, went thro' Hillsborough & Granville County, and Crossed the Roanoke river at Taylor's Ferry, near which place in the County of Mecklenburg, in State of Va. was a Commissaries Store, where the Capt. delivered the meal, flower Hogs &c which we protected & brought safe through a part of our Country that at that time was literally speaking, in the hands of the British and tories,—by this time our term of service was nearly expired, we were permitted to draw up a Petition, & send it on by express to Gen. Greene, stating our situation, that we were almost naked, almost worn out with fatigue, & praying him to send orders to the Capt. to discharge us, which he did, and we met the express in the County of Halifax, near Banister river in State of Va. where the Company were accordingly discharged, which was about the 1st March, 1781, this discharge has long since been destroyed, he has no documentary evidence to prove his service, he claims to have served in the whole nine months. He hereby relinquishes every claim whatsoever to a pension or annuity except the present, and declares that his name is not on the pension roll of the Agency of any State.

James Hopkins.

James Nance.

James Nance, age 70 yrs, on 17 day of Sept. 1832 made following declaration before open Court of Pitts. Co. Va.—that he was born on 2nd day of Feb. 1762 in the County of Amelia (now Nottoway) Va. according to his Father's Register, which is not in his possession, that he entered the service of the U. S. as a drafted Soldier on the 9th day of February, 1779 under Capt. Wm. Fitzgerald, Lieut. Charles Irby. Ensign Bowling Hall & marched to Halifax town, N. C. where he joined Col. David Mason of Va. & marched from thence to Hillsborough & Salsbury, N. C. & joined General Lincoln at Stone Camp, S. C. & fought a hard Battle with the British on the 20th of June 1779 in which he was engaged from the Commencement to the end, after which he marched back to camp where he remained some time, that he knew Count Pulaski and General Parsons & etc. from thence was marched to Camden, S. C. & discharged in August 1779, after serving a tower of 6 months, that he acted as fifer and was disbanded by Col. Mason, and returned to Amelia, Va. on 10th Aug. 1779. In the year 1780 he served a tower of Duty under Capt. Gray belonging to the United States Army, commanded by Col. White. The fall of same year, he was called on to render service agreeably to drafted numbers & served a tower of 3 months under Capt. Irby, Lieut's name not recollected, was marched to Petersburg, Va., from there to Cabbin point, thence to Markey's Mills, thence to Nance-mund thence to a place not recollected, & returned to Nancy-mun, he then * * [illegible] * * in the Calvary under Charles Irby for * * [illegible] *. * the war upon condition that he could procure a horse, was priviledged to go home & get a horse & return to camp, & in the event he could not get a horse, his absence was to be counted as on furlow; when he got home it being inconvenient to procure a horse & a young man in the neighborhood by the name of Elisha Gunn being called on to join Genl. Greene in opposition to Lord Cornwallis, the said Gunn & himself changed towers, & being organized he marched under Capt. Overstreet and joined headquarters on troublesome Creak, N. C., after various marches they met the British & had a severe Battle at Gilford Court house, after marching to deep river at ramsey’s mills, Chatham County, N. C. he was honorably discharged, by Brigadier General Lawson of the Va. troops, after which he returned to Amelia county, Va. there he remaind until the 5th day of Jan. 1801 at which time he removed to Wake Co. N. C. where he has remained ever since, & being on a visit to friends in Pitts. Co. Va. avails himself of the opportunity to make his declaration, having it more in his power to establish his service here than in N. C. serving as a Militiaman, there was no written discharge given to such.

James X Nance.

William Dews.

On this 20th day of August 1831 personally appeared before the Court of the County of Pittsylvania now sitting, Wm.
Dews, a resident of said Co., aged 80 yrs, who being first duly sworn, according to law, doth on his oath make following declaration—

That he enlisted in the Army of the U. S. in the Month of Feb. 1776 for two yrs. with Lieut. Henderson, in Cap’t Walkers Company then Stationed at Charlottesville in the County of Albemarle, Va. On the 15th day of that Month this Company left Charlottesville & marched direct to Glou-chester Court House Va. & from there they marched to Chesapeake Bay, and went across to the County of Northampton & was there attached to the 9th Reg’t of the Va. line under the Command of Col. George Matthews and Major Ivins, that they were stationed in said Co. of Northampton untill about the 19th or 20th of Dec. 1776 when they were marched from there to Morristown in New Jersey and joined the army under Gen'l George Washington at that place in January 1777 where he had taken up Winter Quarters.

Early in the Spring following a picked Company was made up from the different regiments & placed under the command of Lieut Henderson who acted as Capt. of which he, said Wm. Dews was one.—this Company was put under Col. Daniel Morgan, who commanded a Rifle Choir and was with him in three engagements—On One day, first at Brunswick where the British had wintered, the 2nd and third near the same place, that he continued with Col. Morgan Several months until he was ordered to Albany, that he left Col. Morgan near Summerset C. H. New Jersey, and returned under the Command of Lieut Martin to the said 9th Reg't under Col. Matthews & was stationed at the Cross Roads near Philadelphia when the British arrived at the head of Elk River, he was placed under the Command of Col. Richard Parker & was with him in the Battle of Brandywine on the 11th of September 1777, soon after that he was again transferred to the 9th Regiment with Col'o Matthews & was with him in the Battle of Germantown where his Regiment was defeated by the British & he, said Dews was taken Prisoner on the 4th of October 1777 and carried to Philadelphia and put in Jail, kept there about eight months & was then carried by the British to New York and kept under guard 18 days. Then exchanged at Elizabeth River about the 17th July 1778, then marched to the White Plains in the State of New York and there discharged about the last of the same month, the whole of the service rendered under this enlistment including the time of his being a prisoner with the British is two yrs. and about 6 Months, his discharge was destroyed by the British in the town of Petersburg, Va. soon after he obtained it, but the service rendered is proved by the affidavits of David Street & Dudley Callaway who were regular soldiers with him in the Revolutionary War, that he resided in the County of Albemarle when he entered the service of the U. S. the yr. 1776. After his discharge from said service in yr. 1778 he resided for some time in the town of Petersburg, Va. he now resides & has lived in the Co. of Pittsylvania for about 50 years. He hereby relinquishes every claim whatever to a pension except the present & declares that his name is not on the Pension Roll of any agency of any State.
REVOLUTIONARY PENSION DECLARATIONS.

WILLIAM X Dews.

Dudley Callaway.

I Dudley Callaway of the Town of Lynchburg in the Co. of Campbell & State of Va. do hereby Certify & do Solemnly Swear—that I enlisted a Soldier in the Army of the Revolution in the year 1776 and Served in the 5th Regiment of the Va. line for about 16 mo. when he was detached from said 5th Reg't & put under the Command of Col. Daniel Morgan who commanded a Rifle Choir & Served with said Morgan, that he then became acquainted with Wm. Dews of Pitts. Co. Va. who was a regular Soldier in the 9th Reg't under Col. Matthews, that he the said Wm. Dews was also detached from 9th Reg't & was put under Col. Morgan & served with me under said Morgan several Months, when he was put back with said Col. Matthews of the said 9th Regiment—and I was informed that said Dews was in Battle of Germantown & taken prisoner by the British & kept several months—that I believe the said Wm. Dews enlisted for two years & served faithfully as soldier in the Army of the Revolution, Given under my hand & seal this 14th day of August 1832.

Dudley Callaway. [seal].

William M. Nance.

William M. Nance, aged 72 years, Sept. 17, 1832 personally appeared in open Court in Pitts Co. & made following declaration—

That he was born on the 18 January 1760 in County of Amelia, now Nottoway, Va. according to his father's register which is not in his possession, that he entered the service of the U. S. as a substitute for Wm. Mitchel in the year 1777 under Capt. Gabriel Fowlds, Jno. Knight Lieut. & Wm. Brookin Ensign at the Court House of Amelia Co. Va.— and marched to Williamsburg & joined the Regiment under the Command of Col. Vivian Brookin and after remaining there he joined the army under the Command of General Tho's Nelson where he served several months, the particular not recollected but think it was less than 3 months and was disbanded by Col. Brookin at Hampton without any regular discharge and returned home where he remained until early in the month of Feb. 1779 when he was drafted and marched under Capt. Wm. Fitzgerald, Lieut. Charles Irby to Halifax Town, North Carolina where he joined Col. David Mason & marched thro' Hillsborough, Salsbury N. Carolina & joined Gen. Lincoln at Stone Camp South Carolina & fought a hard Battle with the British on the 20th of June 1779 in which he was engaged from the Commencement to the end after which he marched back to Camp where he remained some time, knew Count Pulaski, Genl. Parsons & etc., & from thence was marched to Camden, S. Carolina & disbanded in August 1779, after serving a tour of 6 months, during which time he was orderly sergeant & was disbanded by Col. Mason, returned to Amelia, Va. where remained till Dec. 1780 when he removed to County of Pitts, where he has resided ever since, and in the year 1781 he was drafted & marched from the county afo'd under Capt. Chas Williams, Lieut. Dix or Hunt he does not recollect which, to York Town, Va. where he was regularly engaged in the seige until the Surrender, 2 days after which he with the other sick of th Troops of Pitts was discharged by General Stephens which discharge is lost or mislaid.

8TH REGIMENT, 1776-1778.

The original 8th regiment, authorized December 1, 1775, was largely a German organization, raised in the Shenandoah Valley, with at least one company from about Pittsburg. Its first commander, the "fighting parson" Muhlenberg, found no difficulty in filling his ranks, and in March, 1776, the regiment was ordered to Suffolk. It was the first Virginia regiment sent out of the State, being ordered to South Carolina under General Charles Lee, June, 1776, where it participated in the battle of Sullivan's Island. In July it was sent to Savannah, and two month's later, back to Virginia.

There was at first some uncertainty regarding its acceptance by Congress, but finally it was taken on the roll of the Continental army from May 27, 1776. Was in Muhlenberg's brigade 1777 and later in Weedon's.

In September, 1778, it was consolidated with the 4th.

8TH REGIMENT, 1778-1782.

This was the old 12th regiment before September, 1778. May 10, 1779, it formed part of Woodford's brigade, reporting 276 men present.

January 23, 1779, there were 193 men on its rolls who had enlisted for the war.

Captured by the British at Charleston, May 12, 1780, with the rest of the Virginia Continental line. Four officers of the regiment were reported captured, but the rank and file seem to have been merged in the 1st or 2d "Virginia Detachment," as there is no separate mention of the 8th.

FIELD OFFICERS.

Colonel.—James Wood, September 14, 1778—January 1, 1783. Transferred to new 1st.

Lieutenant-Colonel.—Charles Fleming, September 14, 1778—December 15, 1778. Resigned.

Samuel J. Cabell, December 15, 1778—May 12, 1779. Transferred to 5th.

Jonathan Clark, May 10, 1779. Prisoner at Charlestone, May 12, 1780; retired January 1, 1783.

Major.—Jonathan Clark, September 14, 1778—May 10, 1779. Promoted.

Andrew Waggoner, May 10, 1779. Prisoner at Charleston,
May 12, 1780; retired February 12, 1781.

John Poulson*, February 12, 1781—January 1, 1783. Retired.

9TH REGIMENT, 1776-1778.

This, the last of the seven Virginia regiments of December 1, 1775, was originally raised in and designed for the defence of the Eastern Shore of Virginia. It consisted of but seven companies; five from Accomack county and two from Northampton; instead of ten, as in the other regiments. Later three additional companies

*Was prisoner of war October, 1777—November, 1780, as captain of the 9th; commission as major dated May 12, 1779.
were added from the mainland and the regiment as a whole accepted by the Continental Congress, May, 1776. In the fall of 1776 it marched to join the Northern army, and was soon attached to Muhlenberg's brigade. At the disastrous battle of Germantown the regiment won splendid laurels; all who were not killed were taken prisoners and the regiment was thus annihilated. The 1st State line regiment was sent on from Virginia to take its place, but apparently the 9th was speedily recruited, as the organization was kept up. It was ordered to Fort Pitt (Pittsburg), June, 1778. September, 1778, it was merged in the 1st, Lieutenant-Colonel Ball holding the same rank in the consolidated regiment.

9TH Regiment, 1778-1781.

This was the old 13th regiment which became the 9th at the White Plains re-arrangement, September, 1778. Was in service west of the Alleghanies in the spring of 1779, reporting one colonel, one lieutenant-colonel, five captains and 275 rank and file on April 3d of that year.

That assignment explains why 9th alone of the Virginia Continental line was not captured at Charleston, May, 1780.

On the reduction and consolidation of Virginia's regiments from eleven to eight in February, 1781, it ceased to exist as a separate organization, officers and men being transferred to other commands, apparently the detachment still serving in the West was transferred to the 7th.

For lists of regimental officers at various dates see Section II, Nos. 15, 50.

FIELD OFFICERS.

Colonel.—John Gibson, September 14, 1778—February 12, 1781. Transferred to 7th.

Lieutenant-Colonel.—Richard Campbell, September 14, 1778—February 12, 1781. Transferred to 4th.

Major.—Richard Taylor, September 14, 1778—December 7, 1779. Promoted to lieutenant-colonelcy of 2d.

10TH REGIMENT, 1776–1778.

This was the first of the six regiments authorized by the first Virginia General Assembly, October, 1776, for Continental service. It was placed in General Weedon's brigade. September, 1778, it was re-numbered the 6th.

For lists of regimental officers at various dates see Section II, Nos. 6, 7, 10, 12, 50.

FIELD OFFICERS.

Colonel.—Edward Stevens, November 12, 1776—January 31, 1778. Resigned.

10TH REGIMENT, 1778–1781.

This was the old 14th, renumbered the 10th, September, 1778. It was attached to Muhlenberg's brigade, 1778-79, and later to Scott's. Temporarily joined to the 1st on May 10, 1779, the two reported 397 men, all told. It formed part of the Virginia Continental line surrendered at Charleston, May 12, 1780, but while 9 officers are enumerated, there is no separate mention of rank and file who had evidently been merged in the 1st or 2nd "Virginia Detachments." February, 1781, it ceased to exist as a regiment, on the reduction of the Virginia regiments to eight. Officers and men still on the rolls were transferred to other organizations.

For regimental officers at various dates see Section II, Nos. 15, 50.
Field Officers.

Colonel.—William Davies, September 14, 1778—February 12, 1781. Transferred to 1st.

Volume in Division of Manuscripts, Library of Congress.

Gives considerable sketch of the 11th regiment.

Names and rank of the field, staff and other commissioned officers and privates of Col. Daniel Morgan’s 11th and 15th Virginia regiment, incorporated, as they stood from May 31, 1777 to November 30, 1778. (Records of the Revolutionary war . . . By W. T. R. Saffell. 3d ed. Baltimore, 1894. p. 256-267.)

11th Regiment, 1778-1781.

This was originally the 15th regiment, renumbered the 11th, September, 1778. It belonged to Gen. Woodford’s brigade. May 10, 1779, the 5th and 11th regiments combined reported 379 men present. It seems to have been assumed that this regiment was not in Charleston at the surrender to the British, May 12, 1780; but that it constituted the force, under its commander, Col. Buford, which was cut to pieces by Tarleton at Waxhaws, May 29th.

This turns out to be an error. The 11th, or such remnant of it as was still in service was doubtless incorporated with the 1st or 2d “Virginia Detachment,” which with the 1st, 2d and 3rd regiments made up the roll of Virginia organizations at the Charleston surrender, according to the records. 6 officers of the 11th regiment were certainly captured by the British at Charleston.

The three or four hundred men under Buford were recruits or furloughed men from Virginia on their way to reinforce the Virginia boys in Charleston. Not having entered the city before the surrender occurred the detachment was returning to Virginia when the massacre took place.

February, 1781, the 11th formally ceased to exit when the number of Virginia regiments was reduced to eight. Officers and men still on the rolls were transferred to other organizations.

12th Regiment, 1776-1778.

This was the third of the six regiments of October, 1776. Was a part of Gen. Scott's brigade, and September 1778, was renumbered, the 8th.

For lists of regimental officers at various dates, see Section II, Nos. 7, 12, 50.

Field Officers.

Colonel.—James Wood, November 12, 1776—September 14, 1778. Transferred to 8th.

Lieutenant-Colonel.—James Neville, November 12, 1776—December 11, 1777. Promoted to colonelcy of 8th.

Levin Joynes, December 11, 1777—September 14, 1778. Was prisoner in March, 1779. Retired February, 1781, as a lieutenant-colonel commandant.

Major.—Charles Simms, November 12, 1776—September 26, 1777. Promoted to lieutenant-colonelcy of 6th.

George Slaughter, October 9, 1777—November 4, 1777. Resigned.

Jonathan Clark, January 10, 1778—September 14, 1778. Transferred to 8th.

13th Regiment, 1776-1778.

The fourth of the six regiments of October, 1776. It was raised in West Augusta District, and largely through the efforts of Col. William Crawford of the 7th. It formed part of Muhlenberg's brigade, and September 1778, was renumbered the 9th.

NOTES ON CONTINENTAL SERVICE.

It may not be out of place here to say a few words about the officers of the Continental army, their commissions, promotions, retirement, etc. The regiments making up the Continental line from the various States, were raised by State law, and turned over to Congress with full complements of officers. Early in the war Congress went through the formality of electing field officers; but as for as known, in no cases were the State regimental officers rejected. They merely received new commissions dated from the acceptance of their particular regiments into Continental service. So also, at first, officers resigned their commissions to Congress direct.

But as the war advanced all those details became too burdensome. While retaining all matters relating to general officers, Congress delegated the commissioning, promotion and disciplining of officers of lower rank to the Commander-in-chief, or to the Board of war.

And Washington, in turn, in matters of promotion in each States Continental line and retirement of officers, was accustomed to rely on the advice of the brigadier-generals or of boards of officers.

The details of the various rearrangements, whereby depleted regiments were consolidated and supernumerary officers retired, were in charge of such boards. Their recommendations were regularly followed.

At the beginning of the war the usage in many of the States, was to promote officers "regimentally"; that is, a vacancy would be filled by promotion from below in the same regiment. It will be noted in the lists given here that early Virginia promotions were made by that rule. Congress, however, soon decided that officers above captain should rise "in the line" of each State. In other words, if a Virginia colonel should die or resign, he would be succeeded, not necessarily by his own lieutenant-colonel, but by that lieutenant-colonel in the Virginia Continental line whose commission bore the earliest date.

Officers were "retired," when at the various "rearrangements," there were found to be more officers in service than vacancies of their grade.

For example, if there were only eight regiments, and ten officers bore the commission of major, two would of necessity be retired. In case the eight holding oldest commissions desired to remain in service, the two youngest would be "retired for juniority." But any one of the eight might be "retired from choice"; leaving his place to be filled by the inclusion of the ninth on the list.

To cite an instance: The Chesterfield rearrangement, February, 1781, which reduced the 11 Virginia regiments to 8, found 10 colonels on the active list: 1, Wood; 2, Russell; 3, Matthews; 4, Febiger; 5, Gibson; 6, Neville; 7, Green; 8, Davies; 9, Heth; 10, Buford. Of these, Russell, Matthews, Neville and Heth seem to have been prisoners of war at the time. This fact however was disregarded, and the original plan was, apparently, to retire the juniors, Heth and Buford. But it was later agreed to substitute Col. Buford for Matthews in command of the 3d regiment, a change which led to a controversy between the two officers when Matthews regained liberty later in the same year. It was apparently decided in favor of Matthews, but by that time hostilities were over and the regiment practically out of service, though not formally disband ded till January 1, 1783.

Officers were, of course, often absent from their commands on account of illness, wounds or while on recruiting service; but such absence was for limited periods—if likely to be prolonged, resignation was the rule. But prisoners of war formed another class. Congress attempted to formulate some rules governing the procedure—in their case, but apparently there was never complete uniformity. As the Middlebrook rearrangement in March, 1779, it was decided that in future Virginia officers, held as prisoners by the enemy, should retain their rank; and on their release, should occupy the same relative rank as if had continued in active service, going back into service at the first vacancy. In the meantime their places should be filled as soon as possible, by promotions from below. But there are several instances of officers being appointed to regimental vacancies when, at the time of appointment and during the whole period of service, they were prisoners of war. These cases were doubtless explainable if we had all the details—possibly the officers were expecting immediate exchange, or the rank and file of the regiments themselves so largely in the enemy's hands that the officers were actually supernumerary though not technically so.

In some cases, as will be noted, two field officers seem to have held the same rank in a regiment. This may be accounted for in one of two ways: It was not uncommon to pre-date a commission, as a special honor, thus causing an officer to rank above the juniors in his grade (where this pre-dating has been known to us, and has been for a considerable period, we have noted it); or it may be a simple error in the records. We have used our best efforts, but authorities are absolutely contradictory in some cases, and doubtful in others.

FIELD OFFICERS, 1ST REGIMENT, 1776-1782.

Revising list printed on pages 66-67 of January number.

Colonel.—Patrick Henry, February 13, 1776. Declined commission, February 28, 1776.

William Christian, March 18, 1776. Resigned, July, 1776, to command expedition against the Cherokees.

James Hendricks, September 27, 1777. Died, February 10, 1778.

William Davies, February 12, 1781. Retired, January 1, 1783.

Francis Eppes, March 18, 1776. Mortally wounded at Long Island August 27, 1776. Died December 20, 1776.

John Green, March 22, 1777. Promoted to colonelcy of 10th regiment, January 26, 1777.

Robert Ballard, October 14, 1777. Transferred to 4th regiment, September 14, 1778.

Burgess Ball, September 14, 1778. Captured at Charleston, May 12, 1780; paroled. Retired February 12, 1781.
Lieutenant-Colonel.—Samuel Hopkins, February 12, 1781. Retired, January 1, 1783.

Major.—Francis Eppes, February 13, 1776. Promoted March 18, 1776.
Andrew Leitch, March 18, 1776. Mortally wounded at Harlem Plains, September 14, 1776. Died October 1, 1776.
John Green, August 13, 1776. Promoted March 22, 1777.
Robert Ballard, March 22, 1777. Promoted October 14, 1777.
Thomas Posey, February 12, 1781. Promoted to lieutenant-colonelcy of the 7th regiment September 8, 1781.
Thomas Ridley. Had previously served as major of the 6th, and was retired at Chesterfield rearrangement February 12, 1781. But was again in service, and finally retired as Major of the 1st, January 1, 1783.

Irby, 46.

[The brother, John Crabbe, settled in Westmoreland county, Va., and married, about August, 1675, Temperence, daughter of Dr. Thos. Gerrard, of Westmoreland, and widow of Daniel Hutt, of the same county. The family has been resident in Westmoreland to the present day. An examination of the records of the county would doubtless produce much information. The inventory of the personal estate of Osman Crabbe, deceased (no doubt a son of John), was recorded in Westmoreland February 24, 1719.]

JOHN HARRIS, Saint Stephens parish in the County of Northumberland and Collony of Virginia. Will 20 September 1718; proved 12 September 1723. Proved by relict Hannah Crabbe als Harris wife of Thomas Crabbe.

Richmond, 190.

[This will was also proved in Northumberland county, Va., May 20, 1719. An abstract of the Northumberland copy, in possession of the writer, shows that the will also contains legacies to "my father Joseph Harris" and "my brother Christopher Harris." The Harrises of Hayne were an old and prominent Devonshire family. The uncle William referred to was William Harris, of Hayne, M. P. for St. Ives and Oakhampton in several parliaments in the reigns of William and Mary and Anne. Accounts of the family can be found in Burk's Extinct Baronetage, and Commoners.]
Thomas Horsemanden, Doctor of Divinity and Rector of Purleigh, county Essex. Will 25 April 1630; proved 17 February 1632. To Poor of Purleigh 5 pounds. To my curate my gown. To John Streater of Gouthurst in Kent 20s. My perpetual advowson of Purleigh to be sold. Residuary legatees and executors: Wife Jane and son Richard. No witnesses.

Russell, 15.

[Thomas Horsmanden was fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge, March 18, 1596; incorporated D. D., Oxford, July 12, 1614; Canon of Lincoln, 1608; Vicar of Gondhurst, Kent, 1613; Canon of Canterbury, 1618, and Rector of Purleigh, Essex, 1624–1632. In 1632 his widow, Jane, presented Lawrence Washington to the benefice. At Purleigh his sons, John and Lawrence Washington, the emigrants to Virginia, spent their childhood.

Rev. Daniel Horsmanden, D. D., the brother of the testator, was rector of Ulcombe, Kent, 1627–1643, when he was evicted for his loyalty. He married Ursula, daughter of Sir Warham St. Leger of Ulcombe, and their son, Warham Horsmanden, named in the will, came to Virginia and has many descendants. See this Magazine, XV, 314–317.]
LETTERS FROM G. W. P. CUSTIS TO GEORGE WASHINGTON, 1797-1798.

(From the Originals in the Collection of the Virginia Historical Society.)

[The following letters are part of a large and valuable collection of papers given to this Society by General G. W. C. Lee. The letters of one of Washington's family to him must always be of interest, and this interest is heightened by the fact that the writer was the father of Mrs. Robert E. Lee. Mrs. Washington's only son, John Parke Custis, married Eleanor, daughter of Benedict Calvert, of "Mt. Airy," Prince George county, Md., and died November 5, 1781, of disease contracted during the siege of Yorktown. He left four children: Elizabeth Parke, who married Thomas Law; Martha, who married Thomas Peter; Eleanor Parke, who married, February 22, 1799, Lawrence Lewis, and George Washington Parke. The two youngest children were adopted by Washington. G. W. P. Custis was born April 30, 1781, so was only sixteen or seventeen years old when these letters were written. About the time this series of letters began young Custis had evidently been guilty of some sort of schoolboy indiscretion which only required a letter of reproof from Washington to stop. The correspondence shows the conduct of both parties to it in a most honorable and engaging light. It shows, too, that Washington, statue-like as the biographers have made him, could win the sincere love of the members of his family. Mr. Custis' love and reverence for Washington was his ruling passion throughout life. He lived at Mt. Vernon until Mrs. Washington's death in 1802 and then built Arlington, where he spent the remainder of his life. He owned a great landed estate and many slaves (whom he freed), was greatly interested in the improvement of agriculture, and dispensed a most generous hospitality at Arlington. His Recollections of Washington, published by] his daughter in 1860, are well known. He married in 1806, Mary Lee, daughter of William Fitzhugh, of "Chatham," Stafford county, and had an only child who survived infancy. This was Mary Anne Randolph Custis, who married Robert E. Lee.

Cassius Lee, referred to in the letters, died at Princeton July 8, 1798, in his nineteenth year.

In 1798 young Custis removed from Princeton to St. John’s College, Annapolis.]

Nassau Hall, March 25 [1797].

Dearest Sir:

A letter from my sister this morning informed me of your safe arrival at Mt. Vernon, which has hitherto prevented me from writing. I congratulate you on a thing so evidently wished for by all those interested in your welfare. The marks of approbation and esteem manifested in the manners of the different States through which you passed must have been highly gratifying and satisfactory, and the pleasure received on reaching the destined haven must have rendered your happiness consummate.

The different studies I have passed through during the winter I am now reviewing, and the evident good effects resulting from an attention to them at first are now conspicuous; the examination will come on in a fortnight, and immediately after the vacation will commence. The money you were so kind as to transmit for the bearing of my expenses I shall receive at my departure, and keep regular accounts of all expenditures. I shall set off the next day and pass through Philadelphia without stopping, by which means I shall have about twenty days to stay at home, my anxiety to attain which will preponderate against all other considerations. The Roman History I have finished, reviewed and am perfect, translating French has become pretty familiar, and the great deal of writing attending which has probably improved my hand. I have read a great many good authors this winter and have paid particular attention to Hume, have obtained a tolerable idea of geography, and sir, in justice to myself and my own endeavors, I think I have spent my time in nowise to be complained.
Arithmetic, I must confess, I have not made as much progress in as could be expected, owing to a variety of circumstances, and the superficial manner in which I first imbibed the principles, but the ensuing summer shall make up the deficiency and then I hope I shall have no cause to complain of myself. If, sir, my staying in Philadelphia I could do anything you might wish, I will do it, or anything else, with pleasure. As for myself I have no desire to delay a moment.

I now conclude by wishing you health and happiness. Remember me to all the family, and believe me,

Sincerely yours,

G. W. P. Custis.

Geo. Washington, Esqr.

Nassau Hall, 29th May [1797].

Dearest Sir:

Words cannot express my present sensations, a heart overflowing with joy at the success of conscience over disposition is all I have to give. Dearest sir, did you but know the effect your letter has produced it would give you as consummate pleasure as my former one did pain. My very soul tortured in the sting of conscience at length called to reason to its aid and happy for me triumphed, the conflict was long doubtful till at length I obtained the victory over myself and now return like the prodigal son a sincere penitent. That I shall ever recompense again for the trouble I have occasioned is beyond my hope, however I will now make the grand exertion, I will now shew all is not lost, and that your grandson shall once more deserve your favour. Could you but see how happy I now am, you would soon forget all that is past and let my future conduct prove the truth of my assertions. Good God, how just your letter, but alas we are poor, weak and never believe till we feel. Ah—could I but believe this would again restore your peace of mind, my happiness would be compleat, my time appears now to me full short, I shall seize the present moment, and may God grant I may be a pleasure to my friends, family, and self. I cannot say too much on this subject. I wait for your letter, which I can almost read all ready. That I have abused such goodness is shocking; that I shall ever do so again I will risk my life, and confiding, dearest sir, in your equity and hitherto kind affection, I subscribe myself with the sincerest and most heartfelt joy,

G. W. P. Custis.

[Endorsed] From Mr. G. Wash'n Custis, 29th May, 1787.

Nassau Hall, June 8 [1797].

Dearest Sir:

With a heart overflowing with gratitude, love and joy, I return you thanks for your favour of the 4th ultimo, and could my words do justice to my feelings, I would paint their lightest tints, but words communicate ideas not sensations! Your letter, fraught with what reason, prudence and affection only can dictate, is engraved on my mind and takes root in a soil which I shall cultivate and which I hope in God may become fruitful; and, dearest sir, while I look up to that Providence which has preserved me in the late contest with the passions, and which has enabled me to do that which will redound to my honour, permit me to make this humble confession, sanctioned by reason and mature deliberation, viz: That if in any way or by any means I depart from your direction or guardianship, let me suffer as I and such an imprudent act deserve. Unfortunately man never will believe until convinced (perhaps too late) by his own situation. That your letter and the directions therein contained were merely from the purest motives I cannot admit a doubt from one unto whom I have looked up for support on earth and from whom I have experienced unbounded generosity. These things I am aware of, and let my endeavours to recompense be as great as yours to serve is all I can hope for, and what my conscience tells me I shall attain.

During my recess from college I was by no means idle, having with Doctor Smith completely studied the use of the globes, and got a pretty tolerable insight into geography. The course he means to pursue this summer privately I do not know except Priestley's elements of natural history, which I shall begin immediately with Smith's Constitutions.

I have at length obtained a room to myself and shall take a room mate, a Mr. Cassius Lee, son of Richard Henry, a young man lately arrived from the eastward, where he has been pursuing his studies privately; he is of an amiable disposition and very well informed. I shall have an opportunity of giving you better information concerning him when he has resided with me some time, as yet he is perfectly agreeable and very engaging. The Roman history my class are now studying, and as I am very well acquainted with it from having previously studied it with the Doctor, of course have some time for reading, which I shall employ accordingly.

Accept, sir, my sincere thanks for not having revealed my situation to my family; no doubt it was most prudent. I had written to Mr. Law and given him some idea of the thing, supposing he might have gotten wind of it, and will in future endeavour to obliterate it from the memory of every one.

The things with which you commissioned me to obtain I accordingly provided, and suppose you have the account now for adjustment. They are perfectly suitable and reasonable I hope. I am now in perfect health, though the summer is more disagreeable for everything. I shall take particular care in eating fruit and drinking water, as I have seen so many fatal instances of intemperance in both. June passes now very pleasantly, as the Country affords many inducements to agreeable recreation.

I now conclude with expressing what I all ways have held nearest my heart, a desire of your esteem, and be assured naught shall be wanting on my part for the obtaining of the same, and may That great Parent of the Universe prolong your days is the sincere prayer of your ever affectionate

George Washington, Esqr.

[Endorsed] From Mr. G. W. P. Custis, 8th June, 1797.

Nassau Hall, July 1st [1797].

Since my last, nothing material has occurred, the weather is exceedingly sultry, the thermometer being generally at 98 degrees, which makes study and confinement very disagreeable. We sometimes go to a shade, but the attractions to take up your attention almost exceed the coolness of the thing itself; my studies with the class are by no means difficult, chiefly consisting in ancient history which I studied with the Doctor last winter, of course I have much time to read, which I shall accordingly do.—I am at present studying Priestley's Lectures on History with the Doctor and read Smollett and Hume by myself.

We shall begin Geography in about the middle of this month and devote the remainder of the session to that alone. I have studied the use of the globes and a good deal of maps with the Doctor during my recess from College in the first of the session.

I have written to Mr. Zachariah Lewis, my old private tutor, to solicit his correspondence, and have received a letter from him expressing his approbation of the measure.

The 4th July will be celebrated with all possible magnificence, the College will be illuminated, and cannon fired, a ball will be held at the tavern in the evening, which I shall not attend, as I do not think it consistent with propriety.

Mr. Cassius Lee, the gentleman I informed you I had taken in as a room mate, is a remarkable moral, modest and clever young man, and I have no doubt that we shall live happy, he is a son of Richard Henry Lee and brother to Ludwell. My room is fitted up very neat and comfortable, altho when the Senior Class leave College I may almost have the choice.

Mr. Burwell called on me on his way to Boston and informed me you were not very well. I sincerely hope it proceeded merely from cold or fatigue and will not produce disagreeable consequences.

I now conclude with wishing you health and all the happiness this world can afford, and be assured I remain

Sincerely your most affectionate

G. W. P. Custis.
P. S.—Mr. Lee’s respectfull compliments wait on you, sir; he is happy to inform you he left your nephew well at Andover, Massachusetts.

George Washington, Esqr.

Nassau Hall, July 14 [1797].

Most Honoured Sir:

I have just received your kind favour of the 10th ultimo, together with the enclosed, for all of which accept my thanks. I congratulate you on the enjoyment of your health and prospects of future felicity, which that you may attain and experience is my fervent prayer.

The gentlemen whose correspondence I have submitted to your inspection, and if you should think necessary would immediately discard; are Messrs. Lewis, Law, Lear and Doctor Stuart. With respect to the apprehensions entertained concerning Lewis’ advice on particular subjects which materially effect myself I own they are perfectly just and proper and am happy you have suggested them as they will put me on my guard against attempts of that kind from any of them, our letters are generally on topics which occasion remarks on both sides, and are improving to me alone, as they tend to correct style and give fluency to expression, and likewise peculiarity, confined to rule. I am studying the principles and uses of history in general, with the Doctor in a course of lectures by Priestley and shall be able to apply them to any course so as to make it easy to be understood and entertaining. I have considerable leisure for reading, as the Class are studying Roman Antiquities, which I have previously studied with the Doctor, and, of course, only require a revisal. I apply my spare time wholly to reading, as I am confident it furnishes a fund of information serviceable in Society. Smollett and Hume I have nearly finished, altho Hume I have read last winter. I hope to evince by my knowledge of these authors that I have not merely read them for amusement.
LETTERS FROM CUSTIS TO WASHINGTON.

The fourth July was celebrated here with all possible magnificence. We fire 3 times 16 rounds from a six-pounder and had public exhibitions of speaking; at night, the whole college was beautifully illuminated and had a very pleasing effect, the ball was instituted by the students and principally attended by them. My ideas of impropriety proceeded from a distaste of such things during a recess from them, as I was confident all relish for study would be lost, after such enjoyment, for, there is a difference in the minds being entirely taken off an object, to which it can return with increased vigour and a momentary relapse without anything more than whetting the appetite when it cannot be satiated. Our thermometer exposed to the rays of the sun rose to 110 degrees, and has been at 98 degrees almost ever since. We mostly go with slight clothing and are permitted to wear morning gowns. I am at present not in want of anything and perfectly well. With my kind remembrance to my friends and family I conclude with wishing you health, peace and happiness, the only blessings this world can bestow and Man enjoy, and subscribe myself with

Sincere affection and duty your

G. W. P. Custis.

George Washington, Esqr.

[Endorsed] From Mr. G. Washington Custis, 14th July, 1797.

Nassau Hall, July 30th [1797].

Dear Sir:

It is with pleasure I acknowledge the receipt of your obliging favour of the 23d instant, and must congratulate you on the enjoyment of your health, the preservation of which should always be a principal aim in all men, and I have no doubt that as long as you are able to take your accustomed exercise that you will enjoy perfect health.

Mr. Z. Lewis has kept up the correspondence I mentioned in my last pretty constant, and his letters have generally contained commonplace remarks on different subjects, his plans, were he to suggest any, would have little weight with me and would not tend to counteract those of Doctor Smith, I assure you, as to the other gentlemen, I am well convinced they would merely suggest and not pretend to influence me in any pursuit previously pointed out.

With respect to the study of Geography I had forgotten that you were unacquainted with the studies of the Class or I should have mentioned it particularly.

We are at present engaged in Geography and English Grammar, both of which we shall nearly conclude this session, the Senior Class will leave College in about a fortnight, when we shall become Junior or second class in College, in station, though not in studies, as we do not begin the Mathematics until next session, the time I must confess appears to pass away allmost imperceptibly as this session wants but eight weeks of being out.

It was with heartfelt satisfaction I read that Buonaparte had sued for the liberation of the Marquis. I sincerely hope poor Mr. Lafayette may have had some authentic accounts concerning the same which will no doubt afford him great relief in his present state of suspense.

The weather here has become much more moderate when I last gave a statement of it I did not mention that the thermometer was considerably exposed to the rays of the sun, having nothing more than a thin silk over it. I have no news to tell except that Greenleaf is in jail and likely to remain there on suits of his creditors. Messrs. Morris and Nicholson are much embarrassed, the latter is reported to have gone to Europe, the authenticity of the said I do not much doubt as I had it of a gentlemen from Philadelphia.

Present my love to the family and be assured, dearest sir, that bound by ties indissoluble in themselves and sacred to me I remain

Yours dutiful and affectionate,

G. W. P. Custis.

Please to forward the enclosed by any opportunity that may occur.
Dearest Sir:

I arrived here in due season after a very agreeable journey, I found all my relations well and Annapolis a very pleasant place. I visited the principle inhabitants while the Doctor was here and found them all very kind. Mr. McDowell is a very good and agreeable man, he has examined me and I am now pursuing Natural Philosophy and hope to distinguish myself in that branch as well as others. Arithmetic I have likewise reviewed and shall enter immediately on the French language with the Professor here. I was so fortunate as to get in with a Mrs. Brice, a remarkable clever woman, with whom I live very well and contented. There are several very clever young men boarding in this house, with whom I associate and who are very friendly and agreeable. The mail is going and I have only to add that I have constantly in mind your virtuous precepts, which I hope to benefit by, and

Am most sincerely and affectionately your dutifull

G. W. P. Custis.

Annapolis, March 12 [1798].

Dearest Sir:

Your letter arrived by the ordinary course of the mail which goes by Baltimore and gave me sincere pleasure in hearing that you were in good health and likewise the family.

I was somewhat unwell for some time after coming here owing to the water, but that is entirely removed and I am very well again.
I am going on the college with the class and likewise the French master who is I believe very competent to the task. We likewise write dissertations on various subjects every week, which are both amusing and instructive and which create emulation laudable in everything.

I am very happily situated, perhaps better than many, and could a repetition of those sentiments which I have allways avowed express my gratitude and obligations to you, freely should they be exercised, but it is sufficient that they are indelibly grounded on my mind, and can never be erased while the principles on which they are founded exist.

Those principles animate. It is them which elevate the soul and prompt us to good works. I conceive that misfortunes are intended as an awfull example for us to profit by and are proportionate to the degree of prevalence which the passions have over us. What, then, could have been a greater misfortune to me than your displeasure. What a greater happiness than your confidence?

I find that young Mr. Carroll has been at Mount Vernon and report says addressing my sister, it may be well to subjoin an opinion which I believe is general in this place, viz: that he is a young man of the strictest probity and morals, discreet without closeness, temperate without excess and modest without vanity, possessed of those amiable qualities of benevolence and friendship which are so commendable in any one, and with as few vices as the age will admit of, this may be excused as I am acting on hypothesis and supposition. In short, I think it a desirable thing and wish that it may take place with all my heart.

I have received every kindness from the citizens of Annapolis and could anything heighten my opinion of you and your character it would be their expressions of esteem and regard.

Adieu, dearest sir, and believe me,

Sincerely and affectionately yours,

G. W. P. Custis.

Annapolis, May 5th, 1798.

Dearest Sir:

Colonel Fitzgerald arrived here about an hour ago and has politely offered to convey a letter to you. Nothing material has occurred since my last letter, only that we now attend College at six in the morning, which is by no means disagreeable, and conduces to health.

With respect to what I mentioned of Mr. Carroll in my last I had no other foundation but report, which has been since contradicted. All the families in this town in which I visit express the highest esteem and veneration for your character, which conduces in great measure to the satisfaction I feel in their company.

All is well at present, I have found no inconvenience lately from the water which affected me at first. I attend College regularly and am determined that nothing shall alienate my attention.

Adieu, dearest sir, may Heaven proportion her reward to your merit, and the sincere and ardent prayer of

G. W. P. Custis.

P. S.—I would thank you to inform to whom I am to apply for money in case I want.—G. C.

Annapolis, May 26, 1798.

Dearest Sir:

Your last letter arrived by the ordinary course of the mail and conveyed the pleasing tidings of your health, a theme always acceptable to my grateful heart.
With respect to my expenses I did not mean to insinuate that I was entirely in want, but thought that you had lodged money in some one's hands to whom I was to apply. I have opened accounts with a shoemaker, tailor and other persons of whom I might want occasional articles which shall be all transmitted when offered. I took a couple of pieces of Nankin for summer breeches and a gingham coat which together with a hat are the necessary articles I wanted. My hat might have lasted much longer had it not been a most worthless one and broke, tho not from ill usage. I have been very careful of my clothes and frequently revise them myself.

I enter on a subject which I will endeavour to make plain. Far from being addicted to frequent taverns I am not fond of such sociability and assure you I have not spent a farthing in that way. Tis true that I am fond, when among friends at my own time, to enter into a little superfluities, such as toddy, etc., but farther I sacredly deny any dissipation.

I visit of an evening when invited, among some families, but never drive out except on a Sunday. I have received that attention from the inhabitants of this town which claims my sincere regard, and I shall endeavour by my conduct to merit their esteem. General Stone's politeness to me has been particular and in short have contributed to my pleasure and satisfaction.

Nothing material has occurred since my last, I attend French constantly, with a very good linguist and hope to acquire the proper pronunciation. Adieu, dearest sir, and believe me, love,

Dutifully and intrinsically yours,

Geo. W. P. Custis.

Geo. Washington, Esqr.

Annapolis, June 11, 1798.

[First of line gone] transmitted my last letter to you by the way of a gentleman who was going to Baltimore that it might arrive a little sooner and quiet your mind on the subject which you mentioned in yours preceding and is on the subject of expense, if however it did not arrive I will in my next if you please transmit the same detail.

The Class which I joined have at length finished their course of Collegiate studies and I have read with them Browning's Natural Philosophy twice, Bley's Moral Ethics and Watts' Logic together with Geography and am now reading Euclid as directed by Papa.

I have lately heard from an intimate friend and confidant of young Mr. Carroll's (tho' without the least enquiry or hint on my part) that he meant to address my sister shortly; this I only communicate as a piece of information perhaps worth knowing.

Nothing has transpired since my last. I conclude therefore with wishing you all health, happiness and prosperity and am sincerely and affectionately yours,

George W. P. Custis.

Annapolis, July 12, 1798.

Dearest Sir:

My not receiving any favour from you in answer to my last and having received one from Doctor Stuart subsequent to that in which he mentions but little respecting the affair (which you expressed a desire of becoming acquainted with) has given me hopes to believe that my confession of both the circumstance of the case and my error has obliterated from your mind all unfavourable impressions.

Confiding in this assurance I again submit myself to your confidence and assure you that tho' by imprudence urged I was by duty governed. That duty which I shall hold sacred in all my various walks of life and let the goodness of my heart but cover the imprudence of my actions and I am contented.

My peace of mind, my consciousness of rectitude will all-ways be to me a sufficient plea for my actions and be assured, dearest sir, nothing can contribute more to both than your favour.
I have nearly finished the six books of Euclid and expect that College will adjourn in a fortnight. I can collect and forward all accounts as soon as you shall think fit to call for the same and I hope that their reasonableness will be acceptable to you.

I need not congratulate you on an appointment which was allways designed by the Creator for one so fully capable of fulfilling it. Let an admiring world again behold a Cincinnatus springing up from rural retirement to the conquest of nations and the future historian in erasing so great a name insert that of the Father of His Country.

Remember me to all and believe me sincerely,

Dutifully and affectionately,

G. W. P. Custis.

[Endorsed] From Mr. G. W. P. Custis, 12th July 1798.

Annapols, July 21, 1798.

By the returning mail I heartily acknowledge your last favour and am sincerely happy in having given you full satisfaction in an affair so interest and mutually effecting to both my friends and myself.

I this day finish the six books of Euclid and with that the course marked out for me while in Annapolis. College breaks up Monday next, the 30th, and I shall allways be ready when you may send for me. I shall enclose my accounts by next post so as to be ready to leave this as soon as convenient. I would thank you to inform me whether I leave it entirely or not, so that I may pack up accordingly. With sincere affection to all friends I bid you

Sincerely adieu,

Geo. W. P. Custis.

Dearest Sir:

Since my last I have collected all my accounts which I transmit for your perusal, the only article I apologize for is an umbrella which I was unavoidably obliged to procure as I lost one belonging to a gentleman.

College breaks up on Saturday and I shall be ready at any time that you may send. I will look over everything belonging to me and have them adjusted.

I am very well and at variance with no one so that I shall leave this place just as I first entered it. Believe me, dearest sir,

Sincerely and affectionately yours,

Geo. W. P. Custis.

HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL NOTES AND QUERIES.

RICHARD CLOUGH ANDERSON.

On page 186, Virginia Historical Magazine, Vol. XX, No. 2, there appears the following foot-note:

"Richard C. Anderson, Major of the 1st Virginia Regiment, who was retired February 12, 1781, is spoken of as Lieutenant-Colonel of the 3d. If this is correct, it must have been a sort of honorary rank given him on retirement and never exercised."

I cannot understand how there should be any question regarding my grandfather's rank and great services. The records in Washington City must be very imperfect.

I. We have the original certificate of the Society of the Cincinnati in which he appears as Lieutenant-Colonel.

II. In Niles Register of officers who served through the Revolutionary War (page 292) his name is the first of the Lieutenant-Colonels.

III. Upon his monument at Soldiers' Retreat, Jefferson county, Kentucky, it is stated that he served as aide-de-camp during the Yorktown campaign to the Marquis de Lafayette.

IV. In Collins' History of Kentucky (page 37) it is stated that Colonel Anderson served throughout the war, at the conclusion of which he was Lieutenant-Colonel.

V. The committee appointed by the Governor of Kentucky to receive La Fayette on his visit to that State (1825), wrote that "knowing the public relation in which you stood to him (La Fayette), as one of the aides de camp of that illustrious man," etc., etc. (original autograph letters in Cincinnati Museum).

VI. In 1875, the late J. F. D. Lanier, the banker of New York, wrote me that he saw the meeting between General Richard C. Anderson and the Marquis in 1825, and that the Marquis and his former "aid" rushed into each other's arms and kissed each other.

VII. In the Cincinnati Museum is an autograph letter from the Marquis to "Colonel Anderson" signed "Affectionately your old brother soldier, La Fayeté."

VIII. After the close of the War of Independence the deputation of the officers of the Continental Line (Generals Charles Scott, Daniel Morgan, Colonel William Heth, Lieutenant-Colonel Benjamin Temple and Captain Mayo Carrington) elected Colonel R. C. Anderson Surveyor in Chief of the lands reserved to pay the Continental Line for services; an office which he held to the time of his death in 1826 (McDonald's Sketches, pages 23 and 24).

IX. Up to 1826, and for many years thereafter, there was hardly a man or woman, white or black, in the State of Kentucky, who did not know that Lieutenant-Colonel Richard Clough Anderson had served throughout the Revolutionary War, that he had been aide to the Marquis de La Fayette during the Virginia Campaign, and that when Governor Nelson called out the Virginia Militia, just before the fall of Yorktown, he had served as Brigadier-General of that force in mobilizing the citizen soldiery.

Larz Anderson, of Washington City, now Minister to Belgium, has the original certificate of the Cincinnati, as well as thousands of letters addressed to Colonel Anderson, many of them from the most distinguished men of his day. The military commissions were given to Colonel Anderson's younger sons. I do not remember who holds them now.

Edward L. Anderson,
309 E. 4th Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

[Messrs. Flagg and Waters give, in the list of regimental officers they are preparing, the ranks they find in the remaining Revolutionary records. Unfortunately these are imperfect and incomplete. There is no doubt that R. C. Anderson was a Lieutenant-Colonel at the close of the war, though apparently he had a staff position. In the Virginia Calendar of State Papers, II, page 357, is a letter dated August 25, 1781, from "Major Richard Anderson," then with La Fayette. In the same work, IV, 477, when acting as representative of Virginia officers in having their boundary lands surveyed, he is styled "Lieutenant-Colonel Richard C. Anderson."—Ed].

The Virginia Yazoo Company.

A number of powers of attorney from Georgia are to be found on the Deed Books of Prince Edward county before 1790. Immediately after the Revolution, and before it, emigration from Prince Edward county seems to have been more active to Georgia than to the Kentucky country. It is therefore not altogether surprising that from evidence recently come to light the Virginia Yazoo Company appears to have been very much a Prince Edward county enterprise. Two pages of the debit and credit of the accounts of that company are given below, taken from a small volume of miscellaneous accounts [entries from 1778 to 1793] kept by Francis Watkins, deputy clerk and clerk of Prince Edward county court from 1767 to 1825. Mr. Watkins was treasurer of the Virginia Yazoo Company of Prince Edward county. The manuscript has been presented by Judge A. D. Watkins, a great grandson, to the Library of Hampden Sidney College.

NOTES AND QUERIES. 315

There are some 20 pages of these accounts in the manuscript, entries running from 1789 to 1791. Additional names appearing are:

Robert Watkins, Martin Smith, Joel Watkins, Willis Wilson, the Hon. Paul Carrington, Richard N. Venable and Adam Calhoun. Of this list of stockholders, nine were from Prince Edward county, viz:

Patrick Henry (living in the county from 1786 to 1792), John Watts (possibly from Buckingham), Francis Watkins, Abraham B. Venable, Robert Watkins, Martin Smith, John B. Scott (agent of the Company), Richard N. Venable and Adam Calhoun. Cowan was from Lunenburg, Wilson from Cumberland, and Joel Watkins and Carrington from Charlotte, these counties adjoining Prince Edward.

In further proceedings of the company see* American State Papers [Gales and Seaton], Public Lands, Vol. I, pages 197-203, especially pages 200 and 202, the latter "Proceedings, July 25, 1795." At a meeting of the Virginia Yazoo Company, present, Francis Watkins (Director), Patrick Henry, John Watts, Abraham B. Venable, William Call [of Richmond], John B. Scott and David Ross [of Richmond], for himself and as attorney in fact, for Wade Hampton, Esq., in virtue of a power of attorney produced and delivered to the Director at the house of Francis Watkins, Esq., in Prince Edward county... A copy transmitted to Messrs. Morris and Greenleaf." Messrs. Morris and Greenleaf were already very much interested in the development of the District of Columbia.

ROBINSON FAMILY.

Respecting what is said in the April, 1910, number of the Virginia Magazine of History and Biography, page 228 (as to the suit of "Grymes vs. Robinson" referring not to the estate of Peter Robinson, Sr., but to that of Peter Robinson, Jr.), I assume that Peter Robinson, Jr., referred to in the April, 1909, number of the Magazine, page 208, is the Peter Robinson, Sr.

Of him, it is said (on page 208), that his will was dated June, 1765, and proved in King William in that year; that his legatees were: his daughters Judith, Lucy and Sarah, all under age, whom he placed under the guardianship of his brothers Christopher, John and William Robinson, and his sons, Christopher and Peter, both also under age, whom he placed under the guardianship of his friend, Philip Whitehead Claiborne.

Now, this suit, which is recorded at Williamsburg (and which I take to be the one alluded to above as "Grymes vs. Robinson"), is marked on the back by Mr. Tyler, I imagine, as "Robinson vs. Grymes, Executor" in pencil, and is endorsed "Grymes vs. Robinson, Executor of Grymes, June 13, 1791."

In it the complainants are Benjamin Grymes and Sally, his wife, Thomas Robinson, administrator of all the goods, &c., of Lucy Robinson, his late wife, and Judith Robinson, spinster; and they set forth that Peter Robinson, late of King William county, deceased, the father of the said Sally, Lucy and Judith, published his last will and testament bearing date the ——— day of ——— in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and sixty ———, appointing John Robinson to be Executor, who by virtue of his office possessed himself of the lands, slaves, etc., and maintained the complainants who were infants.

Then they go on to complain that they could never get an account of the executorship from John Robinson, or from Philip Ludwell Grymes, his executor, and pray that the latter may be directed to furnish this.

Then, further papers show that Grymes et al. put in an answer in 1792. That in "July Rules, 1793, the case was set for hearing by Defendants Counsel."

"May term, 1794, Accont" is endorsed, the acknowledgment however was made oath to apparently in August, 1792, and May term 1797, leave was given to the plaintiffs to amend their bill and so the cause remained on the docket the first day of February, 1802.

The answer of Philip L. Grymes, put on in 1792, was to the effect that he had been informed that the said Peter Robinson had appointed the said John Robinson and Philip Whitehead Claiborne, his executors, and that the latter was the principal Executor. That he had always understood that Peter Robinson had died insolvent, and that his estate was sold and the proceeds applied to the payment of his debts and believing they were inadequate thereto.

That he does not know that his testator (i.e. John Robinson) ever took possession or sold any portion of the personal estate of the said Peter or ever sold any part, or received any money arising from such.

Here the paper is mutilated but these words come in:

"Mother of Sally, Lucy and Judith in the bill ——— seized of lands which after the death of the ——— became entitled to. John Robinson, the testator ——— orator was then guardian, and as guardian ——— their estate for some time. It appears from the ———."

That it appears from papers in the Respondent's possession that he paid over sums of money for their board and education which in the Respondent's opinion would exceed the profits from the estate.

But he is ready to give in as accurate an account of his testator as is in his power, denies combination, and prays to be dismissed.

The account put in by the respondent, P. L. Grymes, extends through the years 1766 (before that) to 1776, and it is stated that the Respondent made oath to its correctness as far as his knowledge was concerned before Ralph Wormely, Magistrate, on August 29, 1792.

In the amended bill which the complainants were permitted to put in, they admit many errors in their first bill, due to their tender age at their father's death, ignorance of business matters, etc., and because owing to the destruction of the office of the Court of King William, they had had no power of obtaining a copy of the Testament of their father, that they had believed that John Robinson was the only executor, etc., etc.

That they now believe the truth to be that their father, Peter Robinson, departed this life some time in the year 1765, having first duly published his will, and appointed John Robinson and Philip Whitehead Claiborne, executors: that the latter died in 1770, leaving John Robinson sole Executor and appointed the Hon. Peter Lyons to his (Claiborne's) Executor, who was the only living Executor now. They therefore pray that Peter Lyons may be made a party to this suit and directed to give an account, etc.

They also state that they have been informed and believe that their mother, who departed this life in the lifetime of their father, was in her own rights entitled to certain goods and chattels in which their said father, deceased, had no further or other title than that —— state for his own natural life.

That no account of this estate had been given to them and they pray it may be ordered, etc., etc.

The above papers show that the Complainants had not seen the will of Peter Robinson, their father, who died 1765, and that it was understood to have been burnt with other documents in the fire at the courthouse. No doubt the various papers had not at that time been sorted thoroughly after the fire, but it also proved clearly that this particular will had not been destroyed. I obtained a certified copy of it at the courthouse in 1875.

The will contains what is said on page 208, April number of the Virginia Magazine of History and Biography of 1909. It mentions his sons Christopher and Peter, and the three daughters, Judith, Lucy and Sally.

He alludes to his daughters having a claim on certain negroes by "virtue of an entail." With this exception he leaves everything to his sons, but they are out of the estate to pay all his just debts, and to his three daughters all the money due to them by virtue of a decree of the General Court that he has received, or his estate should be subject to the payment of.

He appoints his three brothers, Christopher, John and William, and P. W. Claiborne, his executors, and appoints his three brothers guardians of his daughters, and P. W. Claiborne guardian of his sons.

GENEALOGY.

BRENT FAMILY—ADDENDA.

(Compiled by W. B. Chilton, Washington, D. C.)

[After the Brent genealogy was completed Mr. Chilton collected information in regard to various members of the family and its connections, which would add to the interest and value of the genealogy. He has also made various corrections. These additions and corrections will be printed in the next two or three issues of the Magazine.]

Additional Notes Concerning The Brent Family.

Bermuda Connections.

The first wife of George Brent of Woodstock was Elizabeth Greene, daughter of Captain William Greene of Bermuda by his second wife, Mary, who was the eldest daughter of Sir William Layton. The name Elizabeth Greene occurs in a Virginia land grant to George Brent, dated November 7, 1677, and the name Elizabeth Brent occurs in one dated December 14th of the same year. This latter grant also mentions Mary Brent and Ann Brent, supposed to have been sisters of George Brent. The land described in this grant was on Little Hunting Creek (near the present site of Alexandria), and adjoined a grant to James Clifton, probably the same person who became the brother-in-law of George Brent, by marriage with his sister Ann, as it appears elsewhere.

If this Elizabeth Greene and Elizabeth Brent were, as would seem probable, the same person, George Brent and Elizabeth Greene were married between November 7th and December 14, 1677, and this seems to accord fairly well with the dates on the tombstones at Acquia.

William Greene, the father of Elizabeth (Greene) Brent, married first a Miss Wilson of Worcestershire, by whom he had a son, William. William Greene, the younger, made his will August 15, 1692, as recorded in Vol. III, Book of Wills, at Hamilton, Bermuda. This will was probated October 27, 1792.

William Greene had a life interest in his father's estate, after which it went to his half sister Elizabeth.

William Greene in his will mentions his half sister, Elizabeth, wife of Captain George Brent, his nephew George Brent, his nephew Nicholas Brent, his nephew Robert Brent and his niece Elizabeth Brent. To his brother-in-law, George Brent, he leaves his law books, his gold shirt buttons and his silver shoe buckles. He mentions also his half sister, Ann Roberts (wife of John Roberts, a broker in London), their son Mark Roberts, and their other children not named; his cousin, Mary Chamberlain; his mother-in-law (step-mother), Mary Greene; cousins William and John Hunt, brothers of Mary Chamberlain; cousins Isabel and Susan Greene (daughters of his uncle Anthony Greene of Canterbury); cousin Elizabeth Edwards of London (wife of William Edwards); cousin Ann Haggera of Acton (wife of ———- Haggera), and daughter of his uncle William Wilson; children of his uncle George Wilson of the city of Worcester; and his wife's brothers William and John Watlington.

William Greene married Mary, daughter of Francis Watlington, but had no children. Mary (Watlington) Greene's will was dated April 6, 1715, and probated May 6th, following. The Watlingtons' are a numerous and influential family in Bermuda.

A large portion of the land which originally belonged to William Greene's estate is now in possession of the Trimmingham family. The Trimminghams were connected with the Seymours, elsewhere referred to, and were also connected by marriage with the Brents. George Brent, the son of Robert and grandson of George Brent of Woodstock, married Catherine Trimmingham. A Mrs. McCaul living in New York in recent years, and a descendant of the Trimminghams, was named Araminta Francis Brent.

In connection with the settlement of William Greene's estate, Robert, son of George Brent of Woodstock, having received a power of attorney from his brother Nicholas Brent to enable him to attend to the interests of the latter in this property, went to Bermuda in 1701. He was present in court at St. George, Bermuda, on January 23, 1702, with his relative, Thomas Clifton, probably his first cousin and the son of his aunt, Ann Clifton.

On May 8, 1702, Robert Brent was married to Susannah, daughter of Captain Daniel Seymour, son of the Governor of that island. William Seymour, great grandfather of Captain Daniel Seymour, was the first of the family to emigrate to Bermuda in 1617. There is a tradition on the island that he was obliged to flee from England on account of his connection with some political plot which miscarried and in consequence of which one of his less fortunate companions went to the scaffold. His name appears as foreman of the grand jury of the Assize Court. In 1619, he was Sergeant Major under Governor Nathaniel Butler. He is last officially noticed in 1629. Captain William Seymour, his son, was Councillor of State in 1638, and commander of Paget Fort in 1653. He is last mentioned May 4, 1653, at the trial of John Middleton, for witchcraft. He died about 1655. His son, Florentius Seymour, Councillor of State and Captain of Southampton Fort in 1661, was Governor General of the island from 1663 to 1665; reappointed 1681, and died in the same year. Daniel Seymour, his son (father of the wife of Robert Brent), in 1681 signed a petition to Charles II against the abolition of the Bermuda Company. In 1686, he was commander of Paget Fort. In 1893 his only descendant in England was said to be a Miss Caroline Seymour living in Warwick. His will and that of his father were not found.
Daniel Seymour, thought to be the nephew, or possibly the brother, of Susannah Seymour, made his will June 5, 1735. His wife was Martha, daughter of John Vose of the parish of Lidbury, County Hereford, England. He left a minor son, John Vose Seymour.

ENGLISH ANCESTRY OF THE DADE FAMILY OF VIRGINIA.

(CONCLUDED.)

William^4 Dade, Esq. (Thomas^4), of Tannington, Suffolk, was born 1579, and died February 22, 1659 and was buried in Tannington Church. He married first, in 1612, Mary, daughter of Henry Wingfield, Esq., of Crofield, Suffolk. She died February 3, 1624, and he married, secondly, Elizabeth, daughter of John Revett, Esq., of Brandeston.

In the chancel of Tannington Church is a stone with the following inscription:

"Here lyeth the Body of William Dade Esq.
He died the 22th day of February 1659 aged 80 years."

On a brass plate in the chancel is the epitaph of Mary Wingfield, first wife of William Dade. There were formerly four shields of arms on the tomb, two still remain. One of them, bearing Dade and Wingfield impaled, is copied in the annexed cut. The inscription is as follows:

"HERE LYETH YE BODIE OF MARIE DADE
THE WIFE OF WILLIAM DADE ESQR WHO WAS THE DAUGHTER OF HENRY WINGFIELD OF CROFIELD ESQ. WHO DIED YE THIRD DAY OF FEBRuary ANo D'ni 1624."

There is also in the chancel a stone with the following epitaph:

"Here lyeth Buried Elizabeth Daughter of John Reuett of Brandeston Esq. & second Wife to William Dade Esq. shee died 24 Febr. 1656."

William Dade and Mary Wingfield, his first wife, had issue:

1. Thomas^8 Dade, Esq., of Tannington; died September 15, 1685, aged 70. He married Elizabeth, daughter of John Acton, Esq., of Bramford, Suffolk, and had several children. In the chancel of Tannington is a stone with the Dade arms: On a fesse between three garbs, a crescent, for difference, and his epitaph, as follows:
"Memorizæ et Manibus Sacrum

The tomb of his wife, who died in 1666, is nearby.
Against the north wall of the chancel is a mural monument of black and white marble, bearing on two black tablets separated by a pilaster, a long inscription commemorating this Thomas Dade, his grandfather, Thomas; his father, William, and son William. Above the inscription is a large shield with the Dade arms: Guies, a chevron between three garbs or, in chief a crescent sable for difference. Crest: A garb or, enfiled with a ducal coronet per pale gules and azure. And on the three pilasters are numerons shields of the Dades and allied families.

The will of Thomas* Dade was dated July 30, 1684, and proved December 18, 1685.

2. William* was buried at Tannington March 1, 1680. He died without issue. His will was dated February 20, 1680, and proved March 21, 1680.

3. Henry,* married Jane Blower; probably the "Mr. Henrie Dade of Ipswich," stated in the Tannington register to have been buried there on April 30, 1678.
GENEALOGY.

5. Robert, devisee, 1651, in the will of his uncle Henry.
6. Francis, devisee, 1651, in the will of his uncle Henry; "married Bethelin Bernard a native of Virginia." "Beticklin Berney in Virginia." (Blois MSS.) See later.
7. Charles, baptized at Tannington January 24, 1624.
8. Mary, born August 7, 1615, married at Tannington, May 26, 1635, John Sone or Sones, and died January 12, 1685.

In the church of Urbeston, Suffolk, are mural monuments to John Sone and his wife, Mary Dade. They have shields with the arms of Sone and Dade, and her epitaph is as follows:

"Mary the Wife of Sr Robert Kemp Baronett erecteth this Monument to the Memory of her dear Mother Mrs Mary Sone, Relict of John Sone Gent: and eldest daughter of William Dade Esq. She was born the 7th of August 1615 and died ye 10th of June 1685 after she had lived a Widow about 44 years."

9. Anne, married first, April 25, 1639, John Vere, of Henley, Suffolk, gent., and secondly, George Gosnall, of Ipswich, merchant. At Henley Church is her tomb, with the arms of Vere impaling Dade, and the inscription:

"HERE LYETH INTERRED ANN
FIRST THE WIFE OF JOHN VERE
OF GEORGE GOSNELL OF IPSWICH IN THIS COUNTY MERCHANT, TO BOTH HER HUSBANDS. SHE WAS A FAITHFUL & LOVING WIFE, TO HER

CHRISTIAN EXEMPLAR
OF JANUARY 1682."

10. Elizabeth.
11. Frances, baptized at Tannington November 28, 1622.
12. Martha, baptized at Tannington January 15, 1623-4, and died June 23, 1652; buried at Hadleigh.
13. Audrey\(^6\) (twin with Charles), baptized at Tannington January 24, 1624-5; married first, Robert Neale, of Langham, and secondly, —— Brooke, of Burgate.

It is fortunate that Francis\(^5\) Dade, the emigrant (son of William Dade, of Tannington), married a wife with the unusual Christian name of Beheathland, for he came to Virginia calling himself “Major John Smith,” and did not resume his true name until near the close of his life. A descendant, Judge W. A. G. Dade, carefully examined county and General Court records, but could find nothing which might have caused this change of name. As he died at sea in 1662, on his return from a trip to England, and was then calling himself Francis Dade, it seems that there could have been no charges against him in his native country. The most probable solution of his change of name is that he had been engaged in some royalist plot and had to fly from England. After the Restoration he could safely reassume his name.

From a record in one of the few books remaining at Stafford Court House it appears that on June 11, 1690, William Fitzhugh sued Francis Dade for a tract of land, part of a larger tract in Upper Machodick Neck, Stafford county, which Gervas Dodson had sold by deed dated August 17, 1658, to John Smith, which deed had been acknowledged by Dodson's attorney in Northumberland county. On July 15, 1659, “John Smith of Westmoreland County” sold this land to Hugh Dowding, and on June 12, 1667, Mrs. Beheathland Gilson, “by name of the late relict of Major John Smith,” relinquished her interest Fitzhugh claimed by conveyances from Dowding. Francis Dade, the defendant, stated that he was lawful son and heir of Major John Smith, but claimed that the deed to Dowding had not been legally executed. He also stated that when an escheat patent had been applied for in May, 1664, to acquire possessiou of certain land which had been granted to his father, John Smith, he had been only about four years and six months old (so he was born about October, 1659).

Judge W. A. G. Dade, in his notes on the family, preserved memoranda of several deeds, &c., from records now destroyed. There was a grant to Major John Smith, in 1662, of 600 acres on Machodick, which was afterwards sold by Francis Dade, the son, to John Harvey, and in the assignment he states that the said John Smith was Francis Dade, who had assumed the name of Smith. Griffith's patent of 1,000 acres at the mouth of Upper Machodick Creek was assigned, December 29, 1664, to Francis Dade, son of Major Francis Dade, who died at sea, as by his nuncupative will appeared, and in case of the death of said Francis, the son, to Beheathland, widow of the said Major Francis Dade. Mrs. Dade married, secondly, Andrew Gilson, of Stafford county.

The unusual name Beheathland was represented in Virginia as early as 1607 by Robert Beheathland, gent., who was living in 1620, and was then styled captain. John Beheathland, of St. Endillion, Cornwall, grandson of Mr. Richard Beheathland, deceased, made his will when he was "about to go to my mother in Virginia," and died before October 22, 1639 (Va. Mag. Hist. and Biog., XI, 363).

Mrs. Beheathland (Bernard) Dade was most probably the daughter of Captain Thomas Bernard, of Warwick county, Burgess for that county 1644, &c. The records of that county were destroyed by Federal troops during the Civil War, so no evidence can be obtained on the subject.

According to a MS. of Judge W. A. G. Dade, quoted by Hayden (p. 831), the nuncupative will of Francis Dade was probated in Northumberland county. It was also proved in Maryland, as follows:

"2 Septr. 1663. William Storke aged 39 yeares or thereabouts Sworne this first day of May 1663. Sayth upon Oath. That Mr. Dade coming out of England this last shipping in ye Maryland Merchant, whereof is Master Capt. Miles Cooke & falling sick at sea. In time of his sicknes hee called for this Depon't. W'ch will was only Verball or nuncupative in these words (as neare as hee this Depon't can remem-ber, or to ye very same effect) vizt. That hee gave all his whole Estate to his Wife. And yt his Wife should have the Tuition of his children 'till they came to age. And yt shee should give to his children their several portions, whenas they should attaine to one & Twenty yeares of age, according to her discretion as shee should think fitt. After yt Mr. Dade had declared thus much this Depon't called Capt. Miles Cooke unto him. And then ye sd Mr. Dade repeated the same words (or to yt effect) over againe in both tneir hearings & further this deponent sayth not.

Sworne before me
William Bretton.

Capt. Miles Cooke Sworne ye same day sayth That Mr. Storke called him to Mr. Dade Lying sick. And that Mr. Dade made his nuncupative will in ye same words (or to ye same effect) as is above sett downe in Mr. Storke's Oath. & further Sayth not.

Miles Cooke.

Sworne before mee
Will'm Bretton."

Record Prov'l Court, Lib. B. B., fol. 44.

Francis and Beheathland (Bernard) Dade had a son:

Francis Dade, of Stafford county, who was born about 1659, and died 1698. There is in Stafford the record of a suit begun September 6, 1690, by Francis Dade and Frances, his wife, one of the daughters and co-heirs of Robert Townshend, of the same county, deceased.

ADDENDA—CORNWALLIS AND WINGFIELD.

The father and grandfather of Francis Dade, the emigrant, married into families of high distinction. The family of Cornwallis (from which came that "Lord Cornwallis" best known of English peers to American school children) was founded by Thomas Cornwallis, sheriff of London in 1378, who died in 1384. His son John, who was knight of the shire for Suffolk in two parliaments in the reign of Richard II and died in 1436, acquired the estate of Broome in Suffolk. Thomas Cornwallis, grandson of John, was also knight of the shire for Suffolk, and died leaving four sons, the three eldest of whom died without issue. William, the youngest son, eventually succeeded to the estate, married Elizabeth, daughter and co-heir of John Stanford, Esq., and died in 1519. He was buried at Ockley, and Collins gives a copy of his epitaph there.

Sir John Cornwallis (eldest son and heir of William) was knighted for his gallantry at the storming of Morlaix in Brittany, and about 1538 was appointed steward of the household to Prince Edward, afterwards Edward VI, holding that office until his death in 1544. Collins describes the "noble tomb" in the church of Broome to his memory and that of his wife, Mary, daughter of Edward Sulyard, Esq., of Otes in Sussex. They had a number of children. The eldest son, Sir Thomas Cornwallis, was a privy counsellor and a man of great influence during the reign of Mary, but on the accession of Elizabeth retired to Broome, where he and his wife were buried and were commemorated by a fine marble tomb.

Richard Cornwallis, Esq., third son of Sir John, and brother of Sir Thomas just referred to, married Margaret, daughter of Lionel Lowthe, Esq., of Sawtry-Beaumys in the county of Huntingdon, and was father of Anne, who married Thomas Dade, of Tannington.

The family of Wingfield was of greater note, and was one of the most numerous and wide-spread in England.

Sir John^1 Wingfield, of Letheringham, Suffolk, married Elizabeth, daughter of Sir John Fitz Iewis, and had issue: (1) Sir John^2, of whom later; (2) Sir Humphrey,^3 Speaker of the House of Commons 1533, died 1545; (3) Sir Richard^4 (1469?-1515), of Kimbolton Castle, Knight of the Garter. Edward Maria Wingfield, of Virginia, was his great grandson; (4) Sir Robert^5 (1464?-1539), a noted diplomat of the time.

Sir John^6 Wingfield, of Letheringham, was sheriff of Norfolk and Suffolk in 1483, and was attainted in that year; but was restored by Henry VII in 1485, and again served as sheriff in 1497. He married Anne, daughter of John Touchet, sixth Lord Audley, and had a son:

Sir Anthony^7 Wingfield (1495?-1552), Comptroller of the Household, who was made Knight of the Garter in 1541. He married Elizabeth, daughter of Sir George Vere, and sister of John de Vere, thirteenth Earl of Oxford. He had issue (with others):

Richard^8 Wingfield, 3d son, of Wantisden, Suffolk, who married Mary, daughter and co-heir of John Hardwick, of Hardwick, Derbyshire, and sister of the famous "Bess of Hardwick," Countess of Shrewsbury. Richard Wingfield had (besides Sir John, a distinguished soldier, killed at Cadiz 1596, and Anthony, Greek reader to Queen Elizabeth) a son:

Henry Wingfield, of Crofield or Crotfield, Suffolk, who married Elizabeth, daughter and co-heir of John Risby by Jane, daughter and heir of John Harbottel, and was the father of:

Mary Wingfield, who married William Dade, of Tannington, and was mother of Francis Dade, the emigrant.

17. Edmund* Brooke, of "Stepney" and Georgetown, D. C., was 2nd lieutenant, 1st Continental artillery, February, 1781, resigned October 3, 1781, and died June 2, 1835. He married Harriet (born April 7, 1771), daughter of Henry Whiting, of Prince William county. For issue see XII, 108.

28. Francis Taliaferro* Brooke, of "St. Julien" Spotsylvania county, was born in 1763, and died April 3, 1851. He served in the Revolution as lieutenant in Harrison's Artillery, Continental Line, and is stated to have been promoted to a captaincy, but the record given in Heitman to "Francis John Brooke," evidently intended for him, states that on February 1, 1781 he was commissioned a lieutenant and quartermaster, 1st Continental Artillery, and was retired with that rank in 1783. He was a member of the House of Delegates for Essex county, 1794-5; appointed Brigadier-General of Militia in 1802; Speaker of the State Senate, 1804, appointed Judge of the General Court, January 12, 1804, and promoted to the Court of Appeals, January 30, 1811. He married, first, Mary Randolph, daughter of General Alexander Spotswood, and secondly, Mary Champe, daughter of Edward Carter, of "Blenheim" Albemarle county.

29. John Taliaferro* Brooke, of Stafford county, entered the Revolutionary army as a lieutenant in Harrisons artillery and was promoted to the rank of major. He was several times a member of the House of Delegates between 1792 and 1806; married Ann Cary, daughter of Samuel Selden of "Sallington," Stafford county, and died April, 1821.

(TO BE CONCLUDED.)
24. Robert^4 Beverley (William^3) of "Blandfield," Essex county, was born ——— and died 1800. When a boy he was sent, as were many other young Virginians, to a then celebrated school at Leeds, Yorkshire, England. It is possible that he also studied at Cambridge, as his eldest son, William was educated there. On his return to the colony he led a quiet life, being, apparently without the political ambitions common to most Virginians of large estates. The only office he appears to have held was that of one of the magistrates of his county, a position to which he was appointed in 1774. During the Revolution his sympathies were strongly with England, and though he committed no overt act, his unpopular opinions were well known. In 1775 he declined to accept a position as member of the County Committee of Safety, and declared that he would take no part in public business during the war. In 1780 he was, as Spencer Roane said later in a bitter letter, "in the infatuation of the county of Essex," elected to the Legislature, but did not take his seat. In 1787 the County Court of Essex recommended that Mr. Beverley be again placed on the bench. This created quite a stir, as Spencer Roane, on September 3, 1787, wrote a letter to the Governor vigorously opposing Beverley's reappointment.

The will of Robert Beverley of Blandfield, dated March 9, 1793, and proved in Essex, April 21, 1800. He gave his wife Maria, for her life, all his lands, houses and mills in Essex called Blandfield, Grays, Forest or Camberwell plantations, also the lands called Stokes and the land purchased from Jackson and Hackley, also 100 acres purchased from Thomas Waring. His wife is to choose out of his slaves in Essex twenty-two men and twenty-two women for agricultural purposes, and as many children under fifteen years of age as will make the whole number ninety four. Also lends her during life the stocks of horses, cattle, &c., and implements of husbandry on said plantations. To son William £6,000 sterling, or so much as should remain unpaid to him at the testators death with an interest of 6 per cent. on such balance. Executors are authorized to sell lands in King and Queen county, 3,000 acres land near Chester's Gap in Culpeper called Wakefield, containing about 4,000 acres; lands at the Thoroughfare Mountain called Stockwell, containing about 3,000 acres; all the land on the lower side of the road leading from Isaac Himn's to Norman's Ford, and all land in Caroline county not devised to sons Peter and McKenzie Beverley, supposed to contain 6,000 acres; also all lots in the town of Staunton, and the tenements adjoining said town leased to Long and Brown, also all stocks of horses, cattle, &c., and crops on his Park plantation in King and Queen county, to be employed in discharging his debts and legacies. Has given his son Robert 1,050 acres out of his Elkwood plantation and sixty negroes, and now gives him 500 acres more. To his son Robert his lots in Tappahannock and the reversion of all lands, &c., left his mother. To son Carter, when twenty-one years old, part of the Elkwood tract; To son Byrd, 2,438 acres, part of Elkwood, and also the tract of land in Culpeper called Heri, containing 808 acres. To son Munford, when twenty-one, 700 acres part of Elkwood, and also all his lands in the little fork of Culpeper, part of Elkwood contained in his Ursulana and Elkwood patents. To sons Peter Randolph and McKenzie Beverley, when twenty-one, 7,000 acres in the upper part of his Chase tract in Caroline county, and also his lot on Fort Royal. To son Robert reversion of slaves left wife. Has already paid his daughters, Maria and Lucy Randolph their marriage portion. To daughters Anna Munford, Everlyne Byrd, Jane Bradshaw and Harriett Beverley, twenty-eight negroes each, sons Carter, Byrd, Munford, Peter R. and McKenzie Beverley forty slaves each, and remainder of slaves to be divided between his five sons. Slaves left to wife, and their increase, to go after her death to sons Robert, Carter, Byrd, Munford, P. R. and McKenzie. Stock, &c., on plantations given sons to go to said sons.

Codicil. September 1, 1795. As he has given son Carter part of Elkwood, with thirty slaves, stocks, &c., these to be considered part of his legacy.

Codicil. Februrary 17, 1796. As daughter Ann Munford has married Francis Corbin and he has given her twenty-eight slaves he declares this shall be all she is entitled to.

Codicil. January 4, 1798. As he has given son Byrd part of Elkwood and 30 slaves, this to be considered part of his legacy.

Codicil. As daughter Evelyn Byrd has married George Lee, and he has given her part of the slaves destined for her, his executors are to make out the number, provided George Lee repays to the executors the money testator advanced to him. As testator has paid £5,000 of the £6,000 promised to his son William, directs the remainder be paid him. Daughters Jane and Harriet to receive £1,500 each in lieu of negroes or anything else devised them. Gives his park lands in King and Queen county to his sons Munford, Peter and McKenzie.

Codicil. November 18, 1799. Having given the use of his Park land to his wife he cancels the last codicil.

Codicil. Frees Harry, son of Milly, who has attended him for twenty years, and gives him seventy acres in Essex. Executors to provide him with suitable implements.

Robert Beverley married Maria, daughter of Landon Carter of “Sabine Hall,” Richmond county.

BOOK REVIEWS.

Dr. McIlwaine, the State Librarian of Virginia, has issued another volume of this now well-known series of Journals, in the same handsome shape as the former ones. It is well edited and the introduction and summaries of the work of the separate sessions are valuable contributions to the history of the time.

The journals of the ten sessions here given are printed for the first time and thus are now first made available for students in this country. Though nothing of very vital importance occurred during this period the journals contain much matter of great interest, for during this time the colonial organization as it was when the disputes with England began, was gradually taking form. Of course there is throughout a quantity of material invaluable for the local historian and the genealogist.

Hampden Sidney College, founded by Presbyterians in 1774, has had a long and brilliant life and is still as full of vigor as in its youth and doing as good work. No better plan of giving the history of the college could have been devised than by the publication of this calendar of the minutes of its board of trustees. It is a documentary history covering one hundred years. Mr. Morrison, who is deeply learned in the story of the life of Hampden Sidney, has made his abstracts and extracts with great accuracy and good judgement. The value of his work is increased by the very interesting collection of portraits of men prominently connected with the college.

Stith's is by far the most valuable of the early histories of Virginia. He was a man of education and judgment, and as a native of the colony was thoroughly acquainted with the Virginia people. He made use of manuscript sources in a manner very unusual at the time.
BOOK REVIEWS.

The lack of an index has always been an obstacle to the free use of the work by students and this want has now been filled in a very remarkable way. Mr. Morgan Poitiaux Robinson, a graduate of the University of Virginia and a practising attorney of this city, has prepared an index which is almost unparalleled—certainly no book about Virginia has ever had such a one.

The Virginia State Library recognizing the great value of Mr. Robinson's work made arrangements with him for its publication as a bulletin. The compiler says in his preface, "the usefulness of an index is limited only by its scope, and by the accuracy with which its work is done." Tested in either way this most remarkable and valuable index meets every demand. There is a bibliography of the various editions of Stith and what is even more important, there is a table which makes the index available for all editions.

This, like other State Library bulletins, is not for sale, but is distributed by the Library.

It is a remarkable exposition of the valuable work which the Virginia State Library is now doing for our history that we can notice at the end of one quarter, the appearance of three contributions to the subject—all of high class.

Two of them have been described above. The third, which is the most generally useful, is the list of Revolutionary officers and soldiers whose names appear in any Virginia record. Dr. Eckenrode has done this work with his usual thoroughness and good judgment. He states that his work is necessarily only a beginning, but it is a most extensive and valuable one. Dr. Eckenrode prefaces the list with an introduction which contains much matter of interest. Thousands of pages of manuscript have been examined and the names of thousands of men are given which appear in none of the lists commonly consulted.

The list is absolutely indispensible to any one who desires information in regard to Virginia's Revolutionary Army. It also shows in a way never done before, how many men Virginia contributed to that army.

Of course, in such a work, the Chief of the Department of Archives had the energetic and intelligent assistance of other members of the Library staff.

George R.

Our Will and Pleasure is that you prepare a Bill for our Royal Signature to pass our great Seal of Great Britain in the Words or to the Effect following.

George by the Grace of God of great Britain, France and Ireland King Defender of the Faith &c to our right Well beloved Cousin George Earl of Orkney, Greeting, We reposing Special Trust and confidence in the Prudence, Courage and Loyalty of you the said Earl of Orkney of our Special Grace Certain Knowledge and Meer Motion have thought fit to constitute and appoint. And by these Presents do constitute and Appoint you the said Earl of Orkney to be our Lieutenant and Governor Genll of our Colony and Dominion of Virginia in America with all the rights Members & Appurtenances whatsoever thereunto belonging, and we do hereby require & Command you to do and Execute all things in due Manner that shall belong unto your said Command & the Trust we have repos’d in you According to the Several Powers and Directions granted & Appointed you by the Present Commission, And the Instructions & Authority herewith given You Or by such further Powers Instructions & Authoritys as shall at any time hereafter be granted or appointed you under our Signet and Sign Manual or by our Order in our Privy Council and according to such reasonable Laws & Statutes as are now in force or hereafter Shall be made and agreed upon by you with the \(^1\)George Hamilton (1666-1737), Earl of Orkney, was son of William, Duke of Hamilton, and was created Earl of Orkney, January 16, 1696. His title was secured, no doubt, in part by his worth and public services, but also, very probably, by his marriage with Elizabeth Villiers, former mistress of William of Orange. Orkney was a lieutenant-general in the English army, and saw much hard service, being distinguished in almost every great battle from the Boyne to Malplaquet. He was appointed Governor of Virginia, December 17, 1714, and held the position until his death on January 29, 1737. The actual governors in the colony were his deputies.

Advice & Consent of our Council and Assembly of our said Colony under Your Government in such form as is hereafter Express'd.

And Our Will and Pleasure is That you the said George Earl of Orkney (after the Publication of these our Letters Patents) do in the first Place take the Oaths appointed by Act of Parliament to be taken instead of the Oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy & the Oaths mention'd in an Act pass'd in the Sixth Year of her late Majesty's Reign Intitul'd an Act for the Security of her Majesty's Person & Government & of the Succession to the Crown of Great Britain in the Protestant Line, As also that you make and Subscribe the Declaration mention'd in an Act of Parliament made in the 25 Year of the Reign of King Charles the Second, Entituled an Act for Preventing Dangers which may happen from Popish Recusants And likewise that you take the usall Oath for the due Execution of the Office and Trust of Our Lieuten't and Governor Generall of our said Colony & Dominion for the due and Impartial Administration of Justice, and further that you take the Oath required to be taken by Governors of Plantations to do their utmost that the Several Laws relating to Trade and the Plantations be observ'd, which said Oaths & Declaration our Council in our said Colony or any three of the Members thereof have hereby full Power and Authority and are required to tender and Administer unto you, & in your Absence to our Lieut Governor if there be any upon the Place all which being duly perform'd you shall Administer unto each of the Members of our said Council as also to our Lieut Governor if there be any upon the Place the Oaths appointed by Law, to be taken instead of the Oaths of Allegiance & Supremacy, And the Oath mention'd in the said Act, Entituled an Act for the Security of her Majesty's Person & Govern'mt and of the Succession to the Crown of Great Britain in the Protestant Line, As also to Cause them to make and Subscribe the afore-mention'd Declaration, And to Administer unto them the Oath for the due Execution of their Places & Trusts And we do hereby give and grant unto you full Power and Authority to suspend any of the Members of our said Council from Sitting,
VIRGINIA HISTORICAL MAGAZINE.

Voting & Assisting therein if you shall find just Cause for so doing, And if it shall at any time happen that by the Death, Departure out of our said Colony, Suspension of any of our said Councillors, or otherwise there shall be a Vacancy in Our said Council any three whereof we do hereby appoint to be a Quorum. Our Will and Pleasure is, That you Signify the Same unto us by the first Opportunity, that we may under our Signet & Sign Manual Constitute & Appoint Others in their Stead—But that our Affairs may not Suffer (for want of a due Number of Councillors) at that distance if ever it shall happen that there be less than Nine of them residing in our said Colony—We do hereby give & grant unto you the said George Earl of Orkney full Power and Authority to chuse as many Persons out of the principal freeholders Inhabitants thereof As will make up the full Number of our said Council to be Nine & no more, which Persons so chosen & appointed by you, shall be to all intents and Purposes Councillors in our said Colony untill either they shall be confirmed by us, or that by the Nomination of others by us under our Sign Manual & Signet, our said Council shall have Nine or more Persons in it, and we do hereby give and grant unto you full Power and Authority with the advice and consent of our said Council from time to time as need shall require to Summon & call General Assemblies of the said freeholders & Planters within Your Government according to the Usage of our Colony and Dominion of Virginia, Our Will and Pleasure is, That the Persons thereupon duly Elected by the Major Part of the Freeholders of the respective Countys and Places, and so return’d shall before their Sitting take the Oaths appointed by Act of Parliament to be taken instead of the Oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy, and the Oaths mention’d in the foresaid Act Entitled An Act for the Security of her Majesty’s Person & Government and of the Succession to the Crown of Great Britain in the Protestant Line, As also make and Subscribe the foremention’d Declaration (Which Oaths & Declaration you shall Commissionate fit Persons under our Seal of Virginia to tender and Administer the same unto them, and untill the Same shall be so taken and Subscrib’d No Person shall be capable of Sitting tho' Elected) And we do hereby declare that the Persons so Elected & Qualify'd Shall be call'd & Deem'd the General Assembly of that Our Colony & Dominion. And that you the said George Earl of Orkney with the Consent of our said Council & Assembly or the Major Part of them respectively shall have full Power & Authority to make, Constitute, and Ordain Laws, Statutes, and Ordinances for the Publick Peace Welfare & good Government of our said Colony, & of the People and Inhabitants thereof, and such others who shall resort thereunto, and for the benefit of us our Heirs & Successors—Which said Laws Statutes & Ordinances are not to be repugnant but as near as may be agreeable to the Laws and Statutes of this our Kingdom of Great Britain—Provided that all such Laws Statutes & Ordinances of what Nature or duration soever be within three Months or Sooner after the making thereof, transmitted unto us under our Seal of Virginia for our Approbation or disallowance of the Same, as also duplicates thereof by the next Conveyance. And in Case any or all of the said Laws Statutes & Ordinances not before confirm'd by us, shall at any time be disapprov'd & not allow'd, & so signify'd by Us our heirs and Successors, under our or their Sign Manual or Signet, or by Order of our or their Privy Council unto you the said George Earl of Orkney, or to the Commander in Chief of our said Colony for the time being then such and so many of the said Laws Statutes & Ordinances as shall be so disallow'd and disapprov'd, shall from thenceforth Cease determine and become utterly void, and of None Effect, anything to the Contrary thereof Notwithstanding.

And to the End that nothing may be pass'd or done by our said Council or Assembly to the Prejudice of us our Heirs & Successors, We will & Ordain that you the said George Earl of Orkney shall have & enjoy a Negative Voice in making & passing all Laws Statutes & Ordinances as aforesaid.

And you shall & may likewise from time to time as you shall Judge it Necessary Adjourn Prorogue & Dissolve all General Assemblies as aforesaid. Our farther Will & Pleasure is, That you shall and may keep and Use the Publick Seal of our Colony of Virginia for Sealing all things whatsoever that pass the great Seal of our said Colony of Virginia. And we do further give & Grant unto you the said George Earl of Orkney from time to time and at any time hereafter by your self or by any other to be Authorized by you in that behalf to Administer & give the Oaths appointed by Act of Parliament to be taken instead of the Oaths of Allegiance & Supremacy to all and every such Person or Persons as you shall think fit, who shall at any time or times pass into our said Colony or shall be resident or abiding there. And we do by these presents give & and grant unto you the said George Earl of Orkney full Power & Authority with the Advice & Consent of our said Council to erect Constitute & Establish such & so many Courts of Judicature & Publick Justice within our said Colony & Dominion, as you & they shall think fitt & Necessary for the hearing & Determining of all Causes as well Criminal as Civil according to Law & Equity & for awarding of Execution thereupon with all reasonable & Necessary Powers & Authorities, fees, & Privileges belonging thereunto. As also to Appoint & Commissionate fit Persons in the Several Parts of your Government to Administer the Oaths appointed by Act of Parliament to be taken instead of the Oaths of Allegiance & Supremacy & the Oaths mention'd in the foresaid Act Entitled An Act for the Security of her Majestys Person & Government, and of the Succession to the Crown of Great Britain in the Protestant Line. And also to tender & Administer the aforesaid Declaration unto Such Persons belonging to the said Courts as shall be oblig'd to take the Same. And we do hereby Authorize & empower you to Constitute and Appoint Judges. And in Cases requisite Commissioners of Oyer & Terminer Justices of the Peace & other Necessary Officers & Ministers in our said Colony for the better administration of Justice & putting the Laws in Execution And to Administer or Cause to be Administer'd unto them Such Oath or Oaths as are usually given for the due Execution & Performance of Officers & Places, and for the Clearing of truth in Judicial Cases. And we do hereby give & grant unto you full Power & Authority where you shall see Cause or shall Judge any Offender or Offenders in Criminal Matters or for any fines or forfeitures due unto us, fit Objects of our Mercy to Pardon all such Offenders, and to remit all such Offences fines & forfeitures, Treason & Wilful Murder only Excepted, in which Cases you shall likewise have Power upon Extraordinary Occasions to grant Reprieves to the Offenders untill & to the Intent our Royal Pleasure may be known therein. And we do by these Presents Authorize & Impower you to Collate any Person or Persons to any Churches, Chappells, or any other Ecclesiastical Benefices within Our said Colony as often as any of them shall happen to be void, And we do hereby give & grant unto you the said George Earl of Orkney by Your Self or by your Captains & Commanders by you to be Authorized full Power & Authority to Levy, Arm, Muster, Command & Employ all Persons whatsoever residing within our said Colony & Dominion of Virginia, And as Occasion shall Serve to march from one Place to another, and to Embark them for the resisting & with standing of all Enemys, Pirates, & Rebels both at Sea & Land, And to Transport such Forces to any of our Plantations in America if Necessity shall require for the Defense of the same against the Invasion or Attempt of any of our Enemies, And such Enemies Pirates & Rebels (if there shall be Occasion) to Pursue & Prosecute in or out of the Limits Of our said Colony & Plantations or any of them. And if it shall Please God them to Vanquish Apprehend & take, & being taken according to Law to put to Death, or keep & preserve alive at your Discretion. And to Execute Martial Law in time of Invasion, Insurrection, or War. And to do & Execute all & every other thing & things, which to our Lieutenant & Governor General doth or ought of right to belong. And we do hereby give & grant unto you full Power & Authority by & with the Consent & Advice of our said Council of Virginia to erect raise & build in our said Colony & Dominion Such & so many Forts & Platforms, Castles, Cities, Burroughs, Towns & Fortifications as you by the Advice aforesaid shall Judge Necessary, And the same or any of them to Fortifie & furnish with Ordnance, Ammunition & all Sorts of Arms, fit & Necessary for the Security & Defence of our said Colony.
And by the Advice aforesaid the same again or any of them to demolish or dismantle as may be most Convenient.

And forasmuch as divers Mutinies & disorders may happen by Persons Ship't & employ'd at Sea during the time of War. And to the End that Such as are Shipped & Employ'd at Sea during the time of War, may be better Govern'd & Order'd, we do hereby give & grant unto you the said George Earl of Orkney full Power & Authority, to Constiute and appoint Captains, Lieutenants, Masters of Ships and other Commanders and Officers. And to grant to such Captains, Lieut's, Masters of Ships and other Commanders & Officers, Commissions to Execute the Law Martial during the time of War. And to the Use such Proceedings, Authorities, Punishments, Corrections & Executions upon any Offender or Offenders, who shall be Mutinous, Seditious, disorderly, or unruly either at Sea, or during the time of their abode or residence in any of the Ports, Harbors, or Bays of our said Colony and Dominion as the Cause shall be found to require according to Martial Law during the time of War as aforesaid Provided that nothing herein contained shall be Construed to the Enabling you or any by Your Authority to hold Plea or have any Jurisdiction of any Offence, Cause, Matter, or thing Committed or done upon the high Seas or within any of the Havens, Rivers or Creeks of our said Colony and Dominion under your Government by any Captain, Commander, Lieut, Master, Officer, Seaman, Soldier or Person whatsoever, who shall be in Actual Service and Pay in or on board any of our Ships of War or other Vessels Acting by immediate Commission or Warrant from our Commissioners for Executing the Office of our high Admiral, or from Our high Admiral of Great Britain for the time being under the Seal of our Admiralty But that such Captain, Commander, Lieut, Master, Officer, Seaman, Soldier, or other Person so Offending shall be left to be proceeded against & try'd as their Offences shall require, either by Commission under our great Seal of Great Britain as the Statute of the 28th of Henry the 8th directs, or by Commission from our said Commissioners for Executing the Office of our high Admiral, or from our high Admiral of Great Britain for the time being, According to the Act of Parliament passed in the 13th Year of the Reign of King Charles the Second Entitled an Act for the Establishing Articles & Orders for the Regulating & better Government of his Majesty's Navys, Ships of War & forces by Sea and not otherwise. Provided Nevertheless that all Misdemeanors & disorders committed on Shore by any Capt., Commander, Lieut, Master, Officer, Seaman, Soldier or other Person whatsoever, belonging to our Ships of War or other Vessels Acting by immediate Commission or Warrant from our Commissioners for Executing the Office of high Admirall, or from our high Admiral of Great Britain for the time being, under our Seal of our Admiralty, may be try'd and Punished according to the Law of the Place where any such Disorders, Offences or Misdemeanors shall be committed on Shore Notwithstanding such Offender be in our Actual Service and Born in our Pay, on board any such our Ships of War, or other Vessels Acting by immediate Commission or Warrant from our Commissioners for Executing the Office of high Admiral, or from our high Admiral of great Britain for the time being as aforesaid, So as he shall not receive any Protection for the avoiding of Justice for such Offences Committed on Shore, from any Pretence of his being employ'd in our Service at Sea, And our further Will and Pleasure is, That all Publick Moneys rais'd or which shall be rais'd by any Act hereafter to be made within our said Colony be issued out by Warrant from You by and with the Advice and Consent of the Council and disposed of by you for the Support of the Government, And not otherwise And we do likewise give & grant unto you full Power and Authority, by and with the Advice & consent of our said Council to Settle and Agree with the Inhabitants of our Colony & Dominion aforesaid for such Lands Tenements & Hereditaments as now are, or hereafter shall be in our Power to dispose of And them to grant to any such Person or Persons, & upon such terms, & under such Moderate Quitrents, Services & Acknowledgments to be thereupon reserv'd unto us, as you by & with the Advice aforesaid shall think fit, which said Grants are to pass and be Seal'd with our Seal of Virginia, And being entered on Record by such Officer or Officers as shall be Appointed thereunto, shall be good & Effectual in Law against us our heirs & Successors And we do hereby Give unto you the said George Earl of Orkney full Power to Order & appoint Fairs, Marts, & Markets, as also such & so many Ports, harbors, Bays, Havens, & other Places for Conveniency & Security of Shipping, and for the better loading & unloading of Goods & Merchandize, as you with the Advice & Consent of the said Council shall think fit & Necessary.

(Copy.)

After our very hearty commendations unto you, His Ma'ry having in his wisdom thought fit to supersede the Commission by which his Council of Trade & Foreign Plantations lately acted & thereby restoring all the business of that nature to its accustomed Channel of a Committee of this Privy Council.

\(^1\)A similar series of questions, though not so comprehensive, was sent to Berkeley in 1670 and answered by him in 1671. They are printed in Hening, II, 511-517. It is probable that the troubles of the "Rebellion" prevented any reply.
And his Ma’ty having more especially committed to a select number of the Board whereof we are, the care & management of things relating to his Plantations. We have therefore thought it convenient to give you advertisement thereof.

And because we find no among the Books & Papers of the late Council any fresher account of things under Your Government, than what you represented in Your Narrative of the 21st June 1671 but do consider that the condition of Colonies is subject to many changes & alterations therefore it is that we send unto You here annext, the same Heads of Enquiry which formerly you had and the addition of some other points that you may with all convenient speed return us all transactions and passages since your former account together with the present state & condition of that place and enlarge your representation in the other particulars which are also recommended to you.

And so not doubting of yo’r care to advise us in these and, from time to time, in all other matters that may conduce to His Ma’ties service & our better discharge of the trust reposed in us, we bid you very heartily farewell.

From the Council Chamber at Whitehall this fourteenth day of April 1676. Your very loving friends, James Town Aprill the 28th 1676.

May it please yo'r Hon'r.

I may believe it is not unknowne to yo'r Hon'r that I am employed heree by his Ma'tie as Collect'r of his Ma'ties Customes, in which service I have suffered many hardships and Discouragements, and performed the Part of our industrious and Trustie Person, as I have made it appeare, by the full Accounts I have given from time to time of my Continuall Proceedings, to the Commissioners of his Ma'ties Customes from whom I received my Instructions. But being heere in his Ma'ties service, and knowing well yo'r Hon'rs Qualitie, and yo'r desire to informe you'r selfe of any of his Ma'ties Concernments, and the Interests of State at home and abroade, I doe presume most humbly to represent to yo'r Hon'r the Condition of affaires, as I have observed them; whilst my Business hath led me into an Inspection of the state of Things heere, Which I finde to be in a verie distracted Posture; and which will require the immediate applications of his ma'tie and his Councells; not only as this is a Collonie of English Men, subject to his Ma'ties Government but as it affords more then a hundred thousands pounds of yearely Revnue to his Ma'tie, which must of Necessarie Consequence cease or abate verie much if timely Remedies shall not be found out, to Establish this Place in Peace, and securitie, not only from their Enimies, but from the Pressures and discontents, which (they Imagine at leaste) they receive from the Government, which allreadie hath soe little Reverence Paide them, that a considerable Bodie of the Countrie have Armed themselves without Commission against their Enimies, and for Redress of their Grievances, as is more Largely set downe in the inclosed Paper, w'ch is collected from the advice of several Prudent Persons of which yo'r Hon'r may make such use as in yo'r wisdome you shall think fitt, for his Ma'ties service and the Peace of this People.

I may farther add, that heere is a ffrench shipp run aground whither Purposely or accidentally, or upon what other Pretences I am not sufficiently informed, which is seiz'd on, and is to bee formally Condemn'd in October next: her Lading which was of Cloath of Tissue, silke Ribbands, heere is said to be worth 13 or 14000lb pounds which is soe much Imbezz'ld as that she is not now vallued at above 3 or 4000lb pounds.

I wish to yo'r Hon'r all Prosperitie and subscribe my selfe

Yo'r Hon'rs Most Obedient servant

Sr. Joseph Williamson.
Virginia is at this point of time under the greatest Distractions, y’t it hath felt since the yeare 1622, when the Indians in one Night Murthered soe many, that they left not 500 alive in ye whole Collony. At this time the Indians seeme to have conspired, as the other have done neare New England. And ye present danger of this place is the greater, because of their Discontents among themselves, which are grown to soe great a Height, for the defence of ye Country against the Indians, a Body of about 500 are in Armes, without the Commission of the Governor (who denied one to them) setting forth a Declaration of their Dangers and their Grievances; and taking noe Notice of the proclamation sent from the Governor to forbidd and suppress them. They are headed and Ledd by persons of quality there, which was wanting to them in 1674 when they were suppressed by a Proclamation, and ye advice of some discreet persons that had then an Influence upon them: which is now much otherwise; for they are at this time Conducted by Mr. Nathaniel Bacon, lately sworne one of ye Councell, and many other Gentlemen of good Condition; soe that it may be fear’d that the Enemie will make a great advantage of these Disorders in the Government, which already want that Reverence that should enable it to protect itself and the publike. The Heads of the Declaration, the names of the persons engaged and the Journall of their proceedings are heere omitted, be-

To ascertain how far the statements made in this paper are true, false or exaggerated would be a good piece of collegiate work in Virginia history. The records of the counties of Northampton, Accomac, Lower Norfolk, York, Surry, Old Rappahannock, Middlesex, Lancaster, Northumberland and Westmoreland, all of which go back to this period, would give much valuable information.
cause surely those Gentlemen who are Employed as Com'rs from ye Governor and Councell to his Ma'tie, will bee able to represent all ye perticulahs of these unhappy proceedings which may bee the Ruine of the most beneficiall Plantation that belongs to his Ma'ties Crowne, if ye good Providence of God shall not prevent it, by reuniting this People, and reinforcing the Government, which is principally charged to bee ye occasion of this Defection, by the Discontented party, who perhaps are much the greatest number. They complaine that great Taxes are Imposed upon them every yeare, by the Poll, whereby ye poorer sort are in the hardest Condition, who haveing nothing but their labour to maintaine themselves, wives and children, pay as deeply to ye publike, as Hee that hath 20000 Acres One principall occasion of these levyes is said to bee the often meeting of ye Assemblies and ye very great allowances to them that serve in it as Members of it, every Burgess being allowed 150 pounds of Tobacco a day from the time they goe from home, besides allowances for their Man and Horse, ffor which they commonly charge ye County with 100 pound of Tobacco more whereby the charge of every Country amount to 500 pound of Tobacco dayly for their 2 Burgesses. Though many of the Counties are soe small, that they have not above 500 titheables in them, and some not soe many. And as a greater weight to this Burthen, they farther Complaine that their Burgesses do give to ye Governor and others great guilts, w'ch are also Levied by the Poll: Besides what is Laid upon ye people by ye Assembly by the name of ye publike Levy. And ye Justice of ye Peace for each County (by some sort of Authority they pretend to) Laid an Arbitrary Taxe, w'ch commonly exceeds the Publike Levy. For which causes (as it is said before) ye people began to Mutinie in 1674. At this time Discontents are grown stronger, and the parties discontented are more numerous, and much more considerable, soe that the most prudent Councells and applications are most Necessary at this time. But it seems heere to bee very unlikely that ye Authority and power, Lodged in ye Aged Governor, and his divided Councell, are able to appease and settle things seasonably and effectually, without the gratious assistance of his Ma'tie and his Councells, w'ch perhaps may bee opertunely done, whilst those persons are attending his Ma'tie who were employed hence by ye Governor. Some Sober men heere are of opinion that his Ma'tie may easily doe things, w'ch will certainly tend to ye quiet and satisfaction of his people, by a few Concessions and Directions.

1. By confirming every man's Propriety to the present possessors and their Heires, by a power under ye Broad Scale.

2. By inlarging their Liberty, in declareing that all such as are born there shall bee free borne Subjects of England to all intents and purposes.

3. That ye Act for the wages of Burgesses be made to extend noe farther then the Statute doth in England, for the parliament there.

4. That ye Tax of 2s upon every Hogg'shead of Tobacco, bee closely applied to publike charges, it being supposed sufficient to discharge also the wages of the Assembly men, and other necessary expenses of the Government, the Laws expressly provideing & appointing that after the Governor is paid his Sallary, the remaining part is to bee Employed to other uses of ye Publicke, and noe allowance is given by that Law, that any part of it shall bee given away. And if at any time it shall appeare that ye Necessary charge of the Governem't shall exceed the Tax of 2s p Hogg'shead, That then it bee Levyed by a Land Tax, w'ch seems to bee the most equall Imposition and will generally take off the Complaints of the People. Although perhaps some of the richest sort will not like it, who hold greater proportions of Land then they actually plant, who may then (by an Expedient very beneficial to the Country) lay downe part of their Land to bee taken up by such as will Employ it. By which means the Country will bee better inhabited, and the Kings Customes increased. And the people liveing nearer together, will bee better enabled in their Defence ag'st their Common Enimy the Indians. Such Considerations as these, are amongst many sober men heere, and may perhaps bee worth the Considering by such as have the care of his Ma'ties Interests in England. Because his Ma'ties Revenue from hence w'ch is estimated at more then a hundred thousand pounds yearly, must hold [?], or bee diminished according to ye Security, Peace and Prosperity of this place, from whence soe bountifull a Cropp is to proceed and flow into his Ma'ties Treasury.

That I have not yett made my humble addresses to you, hath arisen from my just contemplation of the multitude of businesse w'ch doth continually presse you w'ch made mee reasonably feare, that on accompt of the occurrencies of this country might bee too troublesome an interruption of your more waighty affaires, especially coming from a person who never deserved nor had the Honnor to be knowne to you; but since I have receaved advice from some of my ffreinds y't it is a duty expected from me (as his Ma'ties secre'y of this Col-

An "Act for building a towne" was passed at the December, 1662, session of the General Assembly. It provided that thirty-two brick houses should be built at Jamestown, each to be forty by twenty feet, with walls eighteen feet high and roofs of fifteen foot pitch, to be covered with slate or tile. Evidently the houses had two low-pitched stories and a half. The houses were to be "regularly placed one by another in a square or such other forme as the honorable Sir William Berkeley shall appoint." (Hening, II, 172, &c.) The five houses, including the State House, whose foundations were discovered by Mr. S. H. Yonge, and excavated by the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, are beyond doubt houses built under this act. They form a connected block 280 feet long, and are among the most interesting remainis at Jamestown.

*The bug-bear of the Virginia planter at this period of the seventeenth century was over-production of tobacco, and what was believed to be the panacea for the evils of hard times was a cessation from planting. If the supply was limited the price must go up. It was of course useless for Virginia to attempt this alone, while the adjoining colonies continued to grow tobacco, so many efforts were made to obtain their co-operation. The Virginia Assembly at the session of June, 1666, passed an act for a cessation and appointed commissioners to treat with the other colonies. Lord Baltimore opposed cessation, and influenced by his arguments, and also, doubtless, by fear of loss of revenue, the Privy Council declared that the agreement for a cessation should not go into effect.
of July 1666 Between ye Hon’ble Thomas Ludwell Esq’re Secretary of Virginia. Maj’r Genn’il Rob’t Smith Maj’r Genn’il Richard Bennett Capt. Daniell Parke Capt. Joseph Bridgers & Capt. Young, 112.

Daniel Parke, Jr. (1692), only son of Colonel Daniel Parke, who was also a member of the Council, was born in 1669. He was probably educated in England, but was back in Virginia soon after reaching manhood, and, in 1692, was appointed a member of the King's Council. He was an intimate friend and favorite of Governor Andros, who, besides making him a Councillor, gave him the places of collector and naval officer of Lower James River, escheator for the district between the York and James, and colonel of militia.

The accounts of Col. Parke's character which have come down to the present day show him in a very unfavorable light, but as they are all from sources hostile to him and to his friend, Governor Andros, they should perhaps be accepted with a "grain of salt." The earliest notice of him occurs in a memorial by Commissary Blair, attacking the administration of Andros. He says: "There is a handsome young man of that Country [Virginia] one Mr. Daniel Parke, who to all the other accomplishments that make a complete sparkish Gentleman has added one upon which he infinitely values himself, that is, a quick resentment of every the least thing that looks like an affront or Injury. He has learned, they say, the art of fencing, and is as ready at giving a challenge, especially before Company, as the greatest Hector in the Town." Dr. Blair adds the charge that Parke is a tool of Andros, who has advanced him to the Council and made him a Colonel. He says that there was no way by which Parke could so readily win the Governor's good will as by opposing Governor Nicholson, of Maryland. He soon found an excuse to do this. A letter from him, which the Doctor says contained nothing that should not have been read, was shown by Nicholson to Dr. Blair. About September, 1695, Colonel Parke, having a sword much larger than the one with which he commonly travelled, came to Dr. Blair's house where Nicholson was visiting, and said to him: "Captain Nicholson, did you receive a letter which I sent you from New York?" "Yes, I received it," said the Governor of Maryland. "And was it done like a Gentleman," asked Col. Parke, "to send that letter by the hand of a common post, to be read by everybody in Virginia? I look upon it as an affront, and expect satisfaction." "You must go to Pennsylvania, then," replied Governor Nicholson; "my hands are tied up in Virginia, but if you go thither you shall have the satisfaction you desire." Said Parke, "Come out here;" and so putting his hand on his sword went towards the door. "What!" says the Governor of Maryland; "is this your way, Mr. Parke, of giving challenges before so much Company? If you have anything to say to me you know always where to find me. I am often in these parts, and you shall never find that I fly the road from you. I am going this very afternoon to Sir Edmund Andros's. But you shall not catch me making any appointments in Virginia." Upon this Colonel Parke began to insult at a strange rate, and told the Governor of Maryland how he used to huff and hector when he was Lord Governor of Virginia, but now, he had met his match, he had nothing to say. When he spoke of huffing and hectoring, "That's your part, Mr. Parke," says the Governor of Maryland. "But you would say no more if my hands were not tied here; half of these words should do." Then he proffered him, if he would go to Pennsylvania, to furnish him horses and to defray his charge thither. When Parke refused this he whispered him something in his ear which was not too low but that the Company overheard it. It was something to this purport, "that if he would let him know privately at any time he would meet him anywhere but in Virginia or Maryland." Thus ended the affair for a time. Dr. Blair goes on to say that Colonel Parke showed also a violent hatred towards him, and as his cloth prevented a challenge, the Colonel took another method of displaying this feeling. He had ceased to come to Bruton Church because the minister, Mr. Eburne, preached several times against adultery, and Parke, "at this time, and still, doth entertain a Gentleman's Lady, one Mistress Berry, whom he had conveyed away from her husband in London, in 1692, and carried her to Virginia along with him, calling her by the name of his cousin Brown." One Sunday morning, however, Parke came to church where Mrs. Blair was sitting (by invitation) in the pew of Colonel Ludwell, Parke's father-in-law, and violently dragged her out of the pew.
Sometime in 1696 a quarrel arose between Parke and Nicholson at a meeting of the Visitors of William and Mary College, and Parke struck the Governor of Maryland with a horsewhip. Nicholson rushed at him, but the bystanders separated them. Governor Nicholson then challenged his assailant to meet him in Carolina, but, according to Dr. Blair, Parke contrived by letting Governor Andros learn of the affair to have himself arrested. There is, doubtless, substantial truth in Dr. Blair's statements, but he was a man of very strong prejudices, and perhaps exaggerated and misconstrued Parke's conduct to some degree. A letter, written in 1698, from Parke to his daughter, conveys a message to her from her aunts and her “Cousin Brown.” It is hardly probable that an affectionate father, as Parke seems to have been, would have insulted his daughter by mentioning her “Cousin Brown” if Dr. Blair's charges in regard to that lady had been true. There can be little doubt, however, that Colonel Parke, while a man of courage and energy, had the morals, or lack of morals, of the average man of fashion and pleasure of his day.

In 1697 or the year following Parke went to England, and is not known to have ever returned to Virginia. It would seem from some letters that have been preserved that he and his wife did not live happily together, and that may have had something to do with his long stay abroad. His wife and daughters remained in Virginia during his absence, and Mrs. Lee, in her Memoir of G. W. P. Custis, prefixed to the “Recollections,” refers to the numerous letters to and from Parke preserved at “Arlington.” “The mother,” she tells us, “in many long and urgent letters, implored him to return, pleading the state of her health as rendering her unequal to the task of caring for the family and estate in Virginia.” “She even wrote to his merchant and man of business, Micajah Perry, to use his influence in persuading him to return.”

Mrs. Lee quotes in full several of the letters from Colonel Parke. One of them was to his daughter Fanny, afterwards Mrs. Custis. Here it is:

“St. James, October ye 20.

My Dear Fanny—

I Rec'vd y'r first letter, and be shure you be as good as y'r word and mind writing and everything else you have learnt; and do not learn to Romp, but behave y'rself soberly and like a Gentlewoman. Mind Reading; and carry y'rself so yt Everybody may Respect you. Be Calm and Obligeing to all the servants, and when you speak doe it mildly, Even to the poorest slave; if any of the Servants commit small faults yt are of no consequence, doe you hide them. If you understand of any great faults they commit, acquaint y'r mother, but do not aggravate the fault.

I am well and have sent you everything you desired, and, please God I doe well, I shall see you ere long. Love y'r sister and y'r friends, be dutiful to y'r mother. This, with my blessing, is from y'r lo: father

Daniel Parke.

Give my Duty to y'r Grandfather, and my love to y'r Mother and Sister and serviss to all friends. My Cosen Brown gives you her serviss, and y'r Aunts and Cousins their love."

Mrs. Lee also prints a letter written by Daniel Parke to John Custis in response to an application from Custis in behalf of his son John, who was a suitor for the hand of Frances Parke.

Sir: I received yours relating to your son's desire of marrying my daughter, and your consent if I thought well of it. You may easily inform yourself that my daughter Frances will be heiress of all the land my father left which is not a little nor the worst. My personal estate is not very small in that country, and I have but two daughters, and there is no likelihood of my having any more, as matters are, I being obliged to be on one side of the ocean and my wife on the other. I do not know your young gentleman, nor have you or he thought fit to send an account of his real and personal effects;
however, if my daughter likes him, I will give her upon her marriage with him, half as much as he can make it appear he is worth.

I have no one else to give my estate to but my daughters. This is what I think convenient to write at present. My service to you and all friends in Virginia.

From your humble servant,

Daniel Parke.

To Colonel Custis."

Anderson, in his History of the Colonial Church, says that Col.
Parke's offences compelled him to fly from Virginia to England, where he bought an estate in Hampshire and became a member of Parliament, but was expelled from the House for bribery. At that time as at later periods, both in England and America, political parties were but little scrupulous in turning out members of the opposition, so though Parke may have been guilty of bribery, the fact that he was expelled on this ground is no proof. Anderson's added statement that Col. Parke's offences compelled him to fly to Holland (where he was a volunteer in the army of the Duke of Marlborough), is almost certainly false. He served the campaign of 1701 in Flanders, with Lord Arran, and was again in England the next year, as the following letter to his daughter, formerly preserved at "Arlington," proves:
COL. DANIEL PARKE.
From a portrait at Washington-Lee University.
"St. James, 1702.

My Dear Fanny: I am going a volunteer under the Duke of Marlborough, to Flanders, where I served also the last campaign with my Lord Arran, the Duke of Ormond's brother, and was in every action. God knows if I may ever see you more, but if I do not, I shall take care to leave you and your sister in very happy circumstances, therefore do not throw yourself away on the first idle young man that offers, if you have a mind to marry. I know it is the desire of all young people to be married, and though few are so happy after marriage as before, yet every one is willing to make the experiment at their own expense. Consider who you marry as the greatest concern to you in the world. Be kind and good-natured to all of your servants. It is much better to have them love you than fear you. My heart is in Virginia, and the greatest pleasure I propose to myself is seeing you and your sister happy. That you may be ever so is the earnest desire of your affectionate father,

Daniel Parke.

I got some reputation last summer which I hope I shall not lose this; I am promised the first old regiment that shall fall, being now a Colonel."

Col. Parke served as an aide to the Duke of Marlborough, and with high distinction. At Blenheim he so particularly covered himself with glory, that the Duke accorded him the honor of carrying the first news of the great victory to England, and made him the bearer of the following note to the Duchess, written, in pencil, on a leaf torn from the Duke's notebook. It is still at Blenheim, and a facsimile is to be found in Coxe's Life of Marlborough:

"I have not time to say more, but to beg you will give my duty to the queen, and let her know her army has had a glorious victory. M. Tallard and two other generals are in my Coach and I am following the rest. The bearer, my aide-de-camp, Col. Parke, will give her an account of what has passed. I shall do it in a day or two by another more at large.

Marlborough.

August 13, 1704."

The report of the victory was heard with great enthusiasm throughout England and the English colonies. In the remotest settlements the great news was celebrated, proclamations were issued and addresses of congratulation sent to the Queen, while the number of places in the older colonies, called Blenheim, attest the general feeling of the people. In Virginia an especial pride was taken in the victory, for Governor Nicholson (past quarrels now apparently forgotten) calls attention to the fact that the good tidings were brought to England by "Col. Parke, a gentleman and native of this colony."

It was at that time the custom in England to give the bearer of the first news of a victory a gratuity of £500, but Col. Parke begged that, instead, he might have the Queen's picture. His gallantry (in both senses of the word), fine appearance and handsome bearing pleased Queen Anne, and being patronized by the Churchills, he was, on April 25; 1704, appointed chief governor of the Leeward Islands. The government of these islands had been very lax, the settlers were inclined to be rebellious, and like those of the other West Indian Colonies had among them many desperate and lawless characters. The appointment of Parke was unpopular from the first, and the policy which he adopted in his administration, instead of wiping away the prejudice against him, wrought his complete undoing.

Having repelled the French who had plundered the islands of St. Christopher and Nevis, Governor Parke endeavored to carry out some much needed reforms, and being sure of support at home, he aroused the displeasure of the colonists by disregarding the articles of a formal complaint against him drawn up by them, and made a somewhat ostentatious display of the small military force placed at his command. At least this is the account given by Parke's friends, particularly by George French who published the whole story in England, while on the other hand, the colonists claimed that their Governor's oppressions drove them to revolt. The savage cruelty, however, with which they treated him, would incline us to give judgment against them. Whatever the cause, a violent insurrection broke out in 1710, at Antigua, the seat of government. Col. Parke made a gallant resistance, and with his own hand killed Captain John Piggott, one of the leaders of the insurrection, but finally overpowered by numbers, and made helpless by a shot in the thigh, he fell into the hands of the rioters. "They had now an opportunity of sending him away to what place and in what manner they think fit," says French's account, "but instead thereof they use him with the utmost contempt and inhumanity. They strip him of his clothes, kick, spurn at, and beat him with the buts of their muskets, by which means at last they break his back. They drag him into the streets by a leg and arm, and his head trails and beats from step to step of the stone stairs at the entrance of the house, and he is dragged on the coarse gravelly street, which raked the skin from his bones. These cruelties and tortures force tears from his eyes, and in this condition he is left expiring, exposed to the scorching sun, out of the heat of which he begs to be removed. The good-natured woman, who, at his request, brought him water to quench his thirst is threatened by one Samuel Watkins to have a sword passed through her for her humanity, and the water is dashed out of her hands. He is insulted and reviled by every scoundrel, in the agonies of death, but makes no other return but these mild expressions, 'Gentlemen, you have no sense of honor left, pray have some of humanity.' He gratefully owns the kindness of friends, and prays God to reward those who stood by him that day. At last he was removed to the house of one Mr. John Wright, near the place where he lay, and there, recommending his soul to God, with some pious ejaculations, he pays the great debt of nature, and death, less cruel than his enemies, put an end to his sufferings.

After they had surfeited themselves with cruelties, they plundered the General's house and broke open his store-houses, so that his estate must have suffered by that day in money, plate, jewels, clothes, and household goods, by the most moderate computation, five thousand pounds sterling, for which his executors have obtained no satisfaction to this day. Thus died Colonel Parke, whose brave end shows him sufficiently deserving of the commission he bore, and his death acquired an honor to his memory, which the base aspersions of his enemies could not overthrow."

The date of this shocking tragedy was December 7, 1710.

Mrs. Lee, in the memoir already quoted, says: "Colonel Parke's will, in which he devised all of his fortune in the Leeward Islands to an illegitimate daughter, on condition that she should take his name and coat-of-arms, naturally gave great offence to his children, and a tedious law-suit was the consequence. His legal descendents are still in possession of much of this property in Virginia, and part of the handsome service of plate presented to him by Queen Anne."

Among the old family papers at Arlington House, have been found many amusing and interesting letters written by Colonel William Byrd, of Westover, who, as we have observed, married a daughter of Colonel Parke, and was for a long time in London after the death of his father-in-law, attending to the settlement of that gentleman's estate. The following letter, in which reference is made of Colonel Parke, was written in Virginia two years before the tragedy occurred in Antigua:

"October, 1709.

I have lately been favored with an unusual pleasure from Antigua, in which I find we are not altogether forgotten. Father Parke says his time was very short and he could not write to you then, but is much in charity with us all. I give you joy of the blessing you have had of a daughter, and hope she will be an ornament to the sex and a happiness to her parents. Our son sends you his dutiful respects, and I may venture to say as much for Miss Evelyn, who has grown a great romp and enjoys very robust health. How is Madam
Dunn* for there goes a prophecy about, that in the eastern parts of Virginia a parson’s wife will, in the year of our Lord 1710, have four children at a birth, one of which will be an admiral, and another Archbishop of Canterbury; what the other two will prove the sybil cannot positively say, but doubtless they all will be something extraordinary.

My choicest compliments to Mrs. Custis, and if Mrs. Dunn be not too demure a prude, now she is related to the Church, I would send her my salutes in the best form.

Your most affectionate humble servant,

W. Byrd,

Col. Daniel Parke married Jane, daughter of Philip Ludwell, of “Richneck” and “Greenspring,” James City county, Virginia, and left two daughters: Frances, who married Col. John Custis, of “Arlington,” Northampton county, and Lucy, who married Col. William Byrd, of “Westover,” Charles City county. On December 18, 1716, Col. Byrd wrote from London to Col. Custis, announcing the death of his wife, Mrs. Lucy Byrd, from smallpox, “the very same cruel distemper that destroyed her sister,” adding, “Gracious God what pains did she take to make a voyage hither to seek a grave. No stranger ever met with more respect in a strange country than she had done here, from many persons of distinction, who all pronounced her an honor to Virginia. Also how proud I was of her and how severely I am punished for it.”

There are two fine portraits of Col. Parke, by Kneller, preserved in Virginia; one at “Brandon,” which was formerly at “Westover,” and the other the property of General G. W. C. Lee, which was formerly at “Arlington,” Fairfax county, and is now at Washington and Lee University. Each of these portraits shows on the breast the miniature of Queen Anne, which at Col. Parke’s request, she presented to him after Blenheim, instead of the usual gratuity of money.

A letter from Micajah Perry, the London merchant, to Col. Byrd, with which was enclosed a copy of this will, expresses great astonishment, sorrow and disgust at the character of the bequests made by Col. Parke. Says Perry: “He drew from thence so much, and then placed (as we are told) £2,000 to entitle it upon that which leaves a stain behind it, and tie all of his legacies and debts upon the estates in Virginia and England left to his heirs.” The writer states that Lucy Chester and Julius Caesar Parke were illegitimate children of Col. Parke. He also gives an account of Parke’s debts in England (and Col. Byrd adds that many more were afterwards brought to light) which were: to Messrs. Perry (“in dry money”) £2,400, Ann Humphreys, Rebecca Goodart and Mrs. Berry, £500 each; a mortgage on his estate at White Church, with interest, £2,230. According to Perry, the White Church estate could have been sold for £4,000.

So much for the eventful career, the wayward character and the unsavory memory of the handsome and dashing Col. Daniel Parke.

LETTERS FROM AND TO GEORGE HUME OF VIRGINIA, FORMERLY OF WEDDERBURN, SCOTLAND.

[The Hume Pedigree begins with Sir David Hume, of Wedderburn, Berwickshire, Scotland, named in a charter of 1450.

The table given in the second volume of Drummond's "Noble British Families" extends the line far beyond Sir David of Wedderburn, fixing its source in Patrick Hume, second son of Gospatrick, the fourth Earl of Dunbar and March, who died in the year 1166. It relates to the three families of Dunbar, Hume, and Dundas; the former being the elder family and the two latter derived from it. For particulars of the line these tables may be consulted.

George Hume, the then head of the House of Wedderburn, died in 1720. He had married, October 4, 1695, Margaret, daughter of Sir Patrick Hume, of Lumsden, and of this marriage there survived him six sons, viz: David, who succeeded him as Laird, and died without issue in 1764; George, Patrick, Francis, John, and James; and two daughters, viz: Margaret, who married Ninian Home, of Jardensfield, and Jane, who married Rev. John Todd, minister of "Lady Kirk."

George, the second of the six sons above named, is the progenitor of the family in America. He was born at Wedderburn Castle, Berwickshire, Scotland, May 30, 1697; came to Spotsylvania county, Va., and settled in the county of Culpeper, Virginia, in 1721; engaged in land surveying as an occupation, the bond given at that time now of record at Orange Courthouse, Va.; married Elizabeth Proctor, of Fredericksburg, Va., 1728, and died in Culpeper in 1760, leaving six children, all sons, viz: George, Francis, John, William, James, and Charles.

The first two letters from George Hume are from some printed pages in the Virginia State Library. These pages are evidently part of some Parliamentary paper, and are no doubt a part of evidence before the House of Lords in the cases of claims made for the Earldom of Marchmont, formerly in the Home family.

The other letters were contributed by the late Frank Hume, Esq., of Washington City and Alexandria county, Va., who was a descendant of George Home or Hume, the emigrant.

Francis Hume or Home, uncle of George Hume who came to Virginia, took part in the Rebellion of 1715, and was one of the Jacobite prisoners sold in Virginia in 1716. He became a factor for Governor Spotswood and his nephew, in the first letter, refers to his death.

It is very unusual to find such an extended correspondence between an emigrant to Virginia and his family at home. It has been, therefore, deemed advisable to print the whole. Occasional explanatory words have been added in brackets by the editor.

Patrick, Francis, John and James Hume, brothers of the emigrant, were all in the English Navy.

I have ye pleasure to acquaint you that we arrived here on Tuesday last. I had some thoughts before we arrived to have done myself the pleasure of waiting on you but am obliged to give over that thought at present for we have had a long passage & ye ship wants a good dale of overhauling amongst the rigging & it is impossible for me to be spared & Capt'n Dandridge being the Senior Capt'n, is in great hurry to have us out again. We are to relieve ye St. Sea. Castle & to be stationed here some time. if it suits with your conveniency I should be glad to have ye happiness of seeing you here. There's no news of particular worth mentioning till we have the pleasure of meeting, any further than all friends are well. Jno. excepted but he is much the better of going to Scotland.

LETTERS FROM AND TO GEORGE HUME.

P. S. if you should write to me direct to Lieut. of his Maj’st Ship Hastings York. We have brought a very good prize with us.

Hastings York River, June 30th, 1743.

D’r B’r

I wrote to you the 25th of this month at our arrival here but since I herd you had moved from where you lived before and meeting with this oppertunity I did not care to let this slip in case the other should not come to hand. I directed it to the care of Mr. Eleot Benger at Fredericksburg. We shall go out on a cruize in a bout a fortnight or three weeks. If it suits with your conveniency should be glad to have ye happiness of seeing you before we sail, but we are to be stationed here some time. Our prize was condemned on Monday last, & I am

Your Most Aff’t Broths

Jas. Hume.

P. S. If you have any oppertunity of writing direct to our Leiut’n of his Maj’st Ship Hastings, to be left at the Swan, York. I have wrote one of the same date by Mr. Waler, Williamsburg.

Jas. Hume.

P. S. Jno is very well and likes ye ship.
D'r Broth'r

I have ye pleasure to aquent you we arrd. here from Antegua ye 13th inst. in 15 days passage. I have some thoughts of being in Williamsburg soon but if I should not have an opportunity I shall be glad to see you abd. Youll heare when you come to the Court whether we are gone a cruize or not. I have nothing particular any farther than we had not the good fortune to meet w'th anything since our departure from this place. Jack is well and desires his duty to you all.

I am Your Most Aff't Broth'r

Jas. Hume.

P. S. I have herd nothing of the bear skin you sent to Mr. Dixon, he being in ye country. I desire when you come down youll bring ye Ginsang and different sorts of Snake roots. If we should be gone out send them to Mr. Charles at York.

Hastings, Hampton Road.

June ye 24th 1744.

D'r Broth'r

I recd. yours of ye 13th instant. The ship is going up to Norfolk to heave done, but theres a sloop fitting out for a privateer to guard ye coast till ye ship come down again and she is to be manned out of our ships Company & I believe I shall command her but I intend to leave Jno. ab'd in order to go to school at Norfolk w'ch I think is much better than going to sea in a small vessell w'th me. If you can have a good opportunity you may send ye snake roots and Ginsang. If not bring it yourself, as you promised Lord Banff some, lett it be put up from mine & if you should come down & I may be gone to sea in ye sloop youll be sure to see Jno. at Norfolk & Likewise the rest of ye gentlemen who will be glad to see you & leave what snake root & ginsang you intend for me at Mrs. Bordlands in Hampton as I shall be once a month or five weeks there. The gentlemen of the mess desires their Comp'ts to you. John desires his duty to you & Mother and love to his Brothers.

I am Your Most Aff't Broth'r

This sloop is to fitted out at the expense of the colony but manned & victualed by the King.

BANFF SLOOP, HAMPTON ROAD.

Sep. ye 4th 1744.

D'r Broth'r

The last cruize I was out I had ye misfortune to spring my mast w'ch occasioned my coming in for a new one and I am now going on another cruize but shall be in again in about three weeks, hence at w'ch time we expect ye ship will be down from Norfolk. Jack is at school at Norfolk and makes great progress in his arithmetick. We expect the London fleet here every day w'th one Capt'n Dugles in the Mairmaid, a ship of 40 guns to relieve us. If it suits with your convaniency I should be glad to see you about three or four weeks hence & I am

Your Most Aff't Broth'r

Aug. ye 13th 1747.

D'r Broth'r

I was favoured with yours by Jas. Hunter at our arrivel from the Meditaranian where we passed last Winter and one about eighteen months agoe but we have been almost constantly at sea ever since this ship have been commissioned that I never had the opportunity of meeting with a ship bound your way or otherwise I should have wrote often to you. When we came home in the Hastings we was paid off at Chatham. I took a trip to Scotland where I found every bodie well but had not been long their before Lord Banff had the command of this ship. I being appointed his first Lieutenant was obliged to leave it before I had seen all my Relatives & indeed much sooner than I intended—if ther had been a possibility of helping of it. As to your son Jack I can scarce give you any acct. of him nor do I well know what to do w'th him. When I first come home I put him to school & since he has been with me here and had the advantage of a school master and take to nothing neither his books nor of being a seaman that in all this 3 years he can not work a common case of plain sailing, nor does he know how many points theres in ye compass so that he never will be fitt for anything but to drive hoggs in the woods.

As soon as we gett to England again from convoying the fleet we now have in charge the Tilberg is to be fitted for the East Indies but I shall not go out in her if theres a possibility of getting clear of her. However I shall write more particular to you next oppertunity. I was in London about three weeks agoe. James Hunter was there in town but did not see him. I have had promises of being made a Capt'n ever since I came from Virginia but the parlament interest goes so far as present that them who wants it must go wiout being provided for ill it be over and in short the Scots interest at this time goes but a very little way. Theres some other things I could mention more particularly with regard to you, but dont care to do it at this distance or at least at this time & I am Erdram, April 7th 1751.

Dear Brother,

I a long time agoe red yours and can make no further excuse than that I was for four years rooming in Edinbrought for the edication of my young family and mind it nothing else. I do ashore you a coraspondence would be most acceptable to me so often as I could have it. Youll see I have so far taken your last advice that a God Almighty was pleased to deprive me of the one brother I had the other at my devotions who I do ashore you proves a cind and loving husband. His son has procured a small fortune as much as makes a very comfortabell life though Mr. Home of Billie left his son of the second marriage 10000 pounds Stirling fortune & all his younger children good porshun but he was never reconciled to his son my husband who is the only one alive of the first marriage upon acct. of myself against Sister Peggy’s marriage and his. It were useless to tell you the situation of a few when the bearer hereof Ninian Home my eldest son can inform you ever particular. It was useless to write you the situation of his business. Ask him & than I hope you will act the part of a parent in a strange country to give him your countenance and best advice. Youll find him but a young boye, a stranger to the world and willing to take the advice of the best of his friends. I will expect to hear from you by the return of the ship though he proposes not to return so soon, providing he ceapt his health in the climet. I beg you will advise him & yeous him as your own & also would let me know if I can serve or be of any yeous to you in this place. The same ship we expect will return to Virginy next year at this time. You have also letter from your brother which will gave you account of their affairs if not Miria can. Sister Jeans husband does every thing that may be disagreeable to her family and my Mr. Home did every thing that might be agreeable to mine which was the only thing brought us into reconcilement—all other things I refer you to the bearer who I hope shall befor him, with my cincer good wishes to you & all your family from

Dear Brother,

I can make no appologe for so seldom a coraspondance but that we lay out of the way of knowing when ships went off and sometimes could not find a direction. I recd a letter from you some months agoe but as my son want for your country some months before and was strongly recommended to enquire for you on his first arrivel he having letter from us & his uncles recommending him to your care and advice and at receipt of yours as you had not seen him I thought it needlice to write till I herd from him, which I have frequently done but he never has spoak wan word of you nor of any bodie else that his uncle the Capt’n gave him letters to. His pappa has wrot him to let us know about you. the last we had he told us he never had recd a letter from this country so we must suspend our thoughts a little longer in hopes by this time you have mett. I lifft to give you a full account of the situation of friends and acquintances when you receive this I will expect to hear from you by the first opportunity and also would be sattisfied to hear more frequently and also where in or what it lay in my power to serve you in this place. I should be redy & glad of an oppertunity. My Mother ceaps her health verie well and looks as well as I ever remember her. Lives verie comfortably with her three sons. The doctor is very conveniant I may say fallen off verie fast. The Lord, seems to have no inclination for marrage tho mad a handsome fortune. I do not doubt but you have had the account from some of your brothers of the misfortune of your sister Lady Billies Sath her eldest son is still abroad att his travels who seemingly makes a good appearance. She has three sons and three daughters more verie well left by their father. As for your Sister Jean I think her varie unhappy—It is just as they think themselves he is a good preacher but a mighty mad wan. I go to see her sometimes but he never allows her to come & see me. When I made my first step Mr. Home did ever thing that he thought would be agreeable to my relations and Todd does ever thing that he thinks disagreeable. She has five fine children. I would give you a fuller account but as I can not think my son Ninian will leave the countray without enquiring for you he can inform you better than I can. I writ I did not doubt but the assistance of your advice might ben of yeous to him in his way. Direct for me Mrs. Home of Jardinfield att Porankston near Dunnebarre (Dunbar) which is a small purchase Mr. Home has mead in East Lothian—about 5 Pounds per for the convenience of Dwelling house. He is inclining not to build and Jardinfield would not lodge his family. Its about 10 miles from Duns so will expect to hear more particular from you. I have Ninians letter sometime in Cornswick. My family heare is all well. You see not the best of them when you see my Ninian tho he is my favorit for his thorough good temper. My compliments to you and your family & I ever am

Deat Brother

About five months agoe I had the pleasure of receiving yours from the hands of my son and was glad to hear the good accounts he gave of you all. Was verie hard on him why he had spent so little of his time by you. Could find no excuse but that his astay in the country was shorter than he expect it and his business would not allow him. His ship is out against July first how he is to be disposed of than is not yet determant. Am in the mind it will be thought proper for him once more to come to your countray which if he do you will know. His father will gave him a small start but he gave it out that the money can not so esyly be made by trade as formerly. Traders being so increased in every countray. I wrote you some months agoe direct it to Ninian but he was left the countray before it could come to hand but supposing you may have got yours wherein I gave you a small account of the news of our countray. As to the melancolly account of Lady Bily's death Ninian would tell you in what great good circumstamces she was left by her husband. She lived with her six children 3 sons & 3 daughters sometimes in the town & sometimes in the countray. She was in the countray August 51 (1751) her own man servant lodge himself below her bed till under night when he ent her days. She hearing spoke, upon which as the wretch took a knife and cut her throat. She lived about 3 days but spoke little. In the January after he was hanged between Leith and Edinbro & thar hung in chains. He had brought her a sum of money from her father a few days befor. Her eldest son was and still is a broad, she and hirs lived in all fullness. It was but a verie small share that my husband got tho he is the only child alive by the first marage, however we are verie happie and has as much with good management as may put our children in a way to gain their bread, and happiness do not consist in riches. I beg you will take evry oppertunity to let me hear how you are and what your young folks is doing & would be glad to know if I could serve you in any thing att such a distance, and I expect you will let me hear from you. Direct your letters to John Hunters care in Dunce (Duns) this Porankston my letter is direct from is to be my place of resedence. It is a small purchas Mr. Home has made in east Lothian—It is about ten miles from Duns. Before I end I must tell you my Mother ceapts her health very well. The Doctor for some time was in a verie bad way but has got his health a little better. The Captain holds out well this Winter. The Laird lives still a bacheller—Thats the way the Mother and the three sons. My daughter is the only young bodie in the familly. Mr. Home sends his love to you and your familly.

Dear Brother,

I had yours dated the 30th July 1759 which gave me great pleasure to hear from you. I wrote you in Marst last w'ch by this time may have come to hand but I, finding this oppertunity by a brother of Jas. Hunters will give you a small account of your few relations. My Mother looks & is as well as ever I remember her only she can not walk without the help of two staves which misfortune she mett with four years agoe by a fall. The Laird is still going about in his old way—pretty much bad for his years and the Doctor is a man just hanging together with ease & good ceaping—that is just the way—how hear with a daughter of mine attending them wan after the other. As to their worldly affairs no body knows anything about. our two dear brothers left considerable which is sup-posed to fall to the Doctor which was right & just to do as he was always as a father to them and did for them when they went first abroad—how he desires to dispose of his none of us knows nor do we use the freedom to ask. The Doctor is a verie good man & does a great many charitable things to pour people but carries himself at such a distance that no bodie dare ask any questions. I spoke to him wance to send a litle but came to no particulars. He has you verie much at heart. I think you should ask what you think convenient—he is a most tender hearted man as ever lived as for Sister Jean I wrot you a long time agoe she was marrat to a Minister living at Lady Kirk on Twitsed six miles from Wedderburn—my Mother knows. The Lord has never seen her. He was the man that tacht Mr. Home of Billys children. She has 3 sons & 2 daughters & lives but loan. Soe the Laird of Billy lives at the rate of a great fortune—He is rely uncind to his brothers & his 3 sisters which is verie fine young Ladays—He has 2 brothers in the army. I myself is as happy with my small fortune as they may be with their large ones and I am afraid you will be went with reding of this. when my daughters write you it will be better spelled. The reding & spelling being taught in a quat different way than in my time. I shall write you again soon & shall be glad to hear from you with oppertunity ther is now but few—

Dear Sir

I had the pleasure of yours long agoe, was disappointed by John Hunter who neglected to acquent us when he wrote his Broyrs. You have this by my son Ninian who is come to Virginia for a season to keep his Masters store to whom I refer you for one account of all friends here. Am confident of your regards for your sister and family & shall make it my constant studdy to cultivat a friendship with my relations and especially with him who was so agreeable to my brother. Have got at last a small competency which with frugality and industry will enable me to educat and put my children to Imployment the expense of a family &—being double when you was here—It is needless for me to defer you to give Ninian your countenance and advise being confident you will use him as your own child—he is recommended to one Mr. Maitland a Merch’t in York river—have nothing further to ad but that I am Edrom 24th Febr. 1752.

Sir,

I have the pleasure of yours of ye 15th Sept. last. I wrote you in my last by son Ninian who is at Hastings in York river as did the Captn. Doctor and my wife but he has neither acknowledged his delivering the letters nor of his seeing you tho he had strict charges to do it. It is a great pleasure to hear from my friends—shall embrace every oppertunity of writing and hearing from them. Friends here are all well. make my compliments to my cousin and tell him his sister was married four years agoe to a Mr. Taylor who died about 3 years agoe and left her two daughters one of which is in the grades Hospital, the other is with her. She is verie industrious. Was supported by my Father who at his death ordered her fiftee pound Stirling & recommended her to his wife and son. Since Lady Billys death both has ordered to give her some small thing from time to time as she needs it. I suppose you have herd of the manner of Lady Billys death. It was thus. She had rec’d some cash before the 2nd of Aug. last—70 Pound Str. Her ffast man on that night concealed him self in her bedchamber when she had gone to take a walk as she usually did before bedtime when at Lent hill. When she liad fallen a sleep he attacted her & cut her throat with a case kniffe—upon receiving the—scaf—at once started up & got hold of his hair and struggled considerably—our lady did alarm the servants—upon their coming up he made his scape at the window—was taken next day and upon the 5th of March, was executed at Edin’r—the 10th of Jan last—having his right hand first cut off and nailed to the top of the gallows—then hanged—& hung in chains—betwist Leith & Edin’r. When you write again please direct for me at Branxton to the care of the Post Master of Dunbar, East Lothian. I am BRAXNTON Janry. 30th 1759.

Dear Sir,

I have the pleasure of both your letters—one of Augt. 1757. I read a year after ye date. Am sorry to tell you that James was killed in Spring last engaging a French letter of Marque Ship in the bay of Biscay. it was hard to be killed in his first cruize and just when life became tolerable to him. I am sure he dearly earned what he got and think he merited a better fate but that now a days is too little minded—poor man he is gone & I hope is happy. Your brother the Capt’n who had been long afflicted with the gout died 30th of Aug last. Can not inform you how they settled their affairs as none of your brothers spoke to me of it. Lady Wedderburn looks as well as she has some twenteen years past—walks upon crutches, occasioned by a fall she got about three years agoe. The Laird has been dangerously ill of a fever—is now seemingly well, but recovers his strength slowly—the Doctor is but tender keeps his health pretty well by care and regular living. This is a melancholy subject—must give you concern which I sincerely sympathize with you in. I delivered my cousins letter to his sister which she has answered. My family I hope are all well, but dispersed. Ninian has been settled in St. Christophers these three years past. George is following out his business as a writer, have got him appointed commisar of Lander tho of small profit may be a means to bring him into business. My oldest daughter has been with her Grandmother this four years past—Have ye young boy Frank and two daughters at home—
I regret your situation in time of war but hope you are now safe & if the next campaign be as successful as the last I hope the French will be driven out of America—at least will be confined within very narrow limits. All your friends at Edinbr.
well. My two youngest brothers David & Tom have been very luckee—the first have been but about three or four years in the army and has now a Troop in the Scots Grays now in Germany. The other is a Leftenant in the Scots fusilers at Gibraltar. The Doctor rec'd yours of Aug. 1757 and I hear honoured your Draught. You are no higher taxed than we are in this country than we are. Fourteen millions here to be raised for the service of the current year. My wife would have wrote by this oppertunity but delayed it until a-nother. Shall always be glad to hear of your and familys well being.

I am Your Most ob't Serv't.

Not having heard anything of you so many years till John came home last year. I intended then to have writ to you but going out again to Constantinople and not knowing when we might return I deferred it. We were paid off about ten days agoe. As there is but little prospect of any business for some time in my way intends to go to Scotland for the Winter not having seen my Moth'r these twelve years as it is probable I may not go abroad all next year. Should be glad to hear from you. When at Cap. Fear about four years ago I writ to you and once afterwards from Carolina but never herd from you. May write safely directed to the Golden Boot in dukes Court, St. Martins Lane, London & it will find me where ever I am. Could write more largely, but will not till I hear from you. Am determined to write to you every 3 months for at least 3 or 4 times if I hear not from you and am

Dear B'r.

Rec'd yours of the 17th May 1737 and likewise that of the 7th June which was directed to Mr. Humes in Dukes Court who sent them to me being then at Carolina second time from w'ch place I writ you several times but has not herd from you since. We came to England again last winter. Ld. Delorain who was my Capt'n dying soon after. Am at _____ in the Suffolk where I met with the oppertunity of this ship now in Tor bay. there being about 25 sail of us lying ready for a wind to go down channel Commanded by Sir John Norris—we believe to look for the Spanish or French fleet in the bay of Biscay. Jno is still in the west Indies the Roebuck being expected home every day. All in Scotland are in the same way as when I last writ. We do not expect to be long out & if a peace is made soon it is possible I may not go abroad again—intending to pay our old Moth'r as long a visit as I have been now absent if it please. God we both live so long—intending to write you frequently & shall be still in some hopes of a further correspon- dence.

WEDDERBURN, 22nd March 1747.

Rec'd yours of May 1745 some time ago and likewise of 8th Fbr. 1746 by Jas. Hunter. I saw your son at Portsmouth last winter w'th James where I was surgeon of the Sandwich under Jno's command for about three weeks. I only took her with an intention to quit again as I thought myself not fit to go to sea since last west India voyage which was in 1741—been for the most part in this country since I got superannate. When I left the Sandwich and given over all thoughts of Business having still a lameness in my hands I thank God otherwise in a very good health as I often wisht for a quiet country life when I was obliged to bustle about the world I think have now fallen into if but idleness I do abhor. Have therefore turned planter by taking a little farm of our Brother where I plant, soe and build Dikes which affords me constant employment—what little I got together have laid out on two small farms in the neighborhood which pays my rent and the overplus is mostly laid out in improving my farm—Our Moth' r is in tolerable health for one in her years. Jno has been in the Sandwich about a year and a half—a guard ship but soon to be paid off as he so lame in his leggs w'th the Gout & therefore not fitt for a cruizing ship. I believe he will come to Scotland unless he get anoth'r Guard Ship. Jas. went to the Meddittaranea some months agoe—all your friends here are well & am

I writ to you in June last year by Jas. Hunters B'r. which I hope you rec'd since that, we are much as we were here. The Capt is very infirm of the Gout—in both hands and feet. The Lord & I have both had it this winter. This comes by a son of Jardinfields who was Mr. Ninians eldest son by his first wife and marryd our sister Isabell. As to anything else he can give you an act. of us hear & am

D'r. B'r.

Rec'd yours of the 16th of June with bill and have paid it according to James Hunters directions—am perfectly content you should do the same yearly at least whilst things continues in such a precarious situation in your neighborhood. This last Summer we have met with the loss of two of our Brothers. John died here in Aug. James was killed comd'r of the Pluto fire ship the first cruize he went out after he got the command, by a French man of war in April last so that you see I am the only one left of four of us that went to sea. As to myself I am not in a good state of health but I think better this last year than for some years past. I hope to be able to answer the demand as above whilst I live and you have occasion for it. What may happen after that God only knows. The Laird has had a very severe fit of illness at Edinb’g. I was in with him about a month—is perfectly recovered but not yet got to the countray. Our Moth’r is in very good health but from a paroletick fit she had some years agoe can not walk without crutches. All are tolerable well & am

Your Most Affec’t B’r. Pat Hume.

This was written without the knowledge that George, his brother, was dead, having died in 1760:

Wedderburn 28th April 1761.

Dear Bro’r.

Rec’d yours of the 2nd of April 1760 have paid the bill of twenty pounds to John Hunter, Br. to James—were likewise given John Hunter a bill for 100 Pounds to be paid you in shares by his brother Jas. which bill I shall pay as soon as they produce me a receipt under your hand that you have received the value—I hope you will put it to the best use you can. I have been worse than usual for some weeks past—not being able to ride on horse back as usual but I still go out in the chaise. Have settled matters so that whatever comes of me the 100 Pounds will be paid you—Your Moth’r and all hear are tolerably well & am

Your affect B’r. Pat Hume.

The following are copies of letters written by George Hume of Virginia to his brothers and sisters in Scotland:

[To Ninian Home.]

Rappahannock River,

June 20th 1723

Sir:—

We had no sooner landed in this country but I was taken immediately w’th all ye most common distampers y’t attend it but y't most violent of all was a severe flux of w'ch my uncle died being the governour's factor at a place called Germawna in the upper parts of ye Colony whom he berried there and put pails about his berrial place w'ch is not very common in ys. country. I went and saw it as soon as I was able to ride. Yt distemper brought me so low in a very short time yt I was scarcely able to walk however I was oblished to tend ye store for all my being so ill till we had done purchasing tobacco for ye ships loading w'ch took me about six weeks when I was so much out of order yt I was oblished to go to Williamsburg by water where I met w'th Dr. Brown who I suppose gave you an account last year of my condition. He declared to myself after he had almost cured me of the flux yt he did not expect I should have lived. I waited on ye governour ye day after I went to town & delivered ye Spotsewoods letter. He was seemingly very kind to me and talked to me very friendly but he told me it was out of his power to do anything for me he being put out of his place and he had so many w'th ym that he was oblished to put away some of ym whom he could best spare --then qt to do I could not tell however I advised w'th Dr. Brown who was of ye opinion I should return home as soon as I could.

What little money I had I was oblished to spend it at Wms Burg the time I was their sick w'ch was about five weeks indeed ye Dr. took nothing for my druggs. All that comes to this country have ordinarily sickness at first w'ch they call a season-ing of w'ch I shall assure you I had a most severe one when I went to town.

I got but very little for my store keeping for all yt went to paying passage for whenever my cose'n John Watson at Port Glasgow told the merchants there yt you had written to him was the occasion of my going away so hastily they would not allow me to go but to come home again and they sent to Whit-haven (because we were driven in there by stress of wather) to desire our Captain to send me home but he proved so much my friend when he saw me so fond of going (for he was always very kind to me) that he got me into another ship and I was to keep ye store for my passage of w'ch I was very glad and accepted of it so yt you may know by yt. I could be but very poor in purse & I did not know qt hand to turne myself to for I could get no bussiness for unlesse one have very good recommendation there is no sort of bussinesse to be got in ys Indian country. Wherefore I could have traveled farer when I was informed I would have been better if I could have got any money but ys is ye worst place for yt I could have pitched for there is so little in ye country yt I believe a great many of ym does not know it if they saw it only. They make a parcell of tobacco w’ch they make to buy themselves cloathes and makes it to go from one to another instead of money and that is all they seek after here so yt if nothing fall out better for me next year if it be possible for me to get a little money and cloathes together I design for farrer abroad either to Jamaica or the West Indies whichever of them I can get ye best accounts of I thought to have gone to New York little after I came here when I found so little encouragment here w’ch is not far from ys place but I could never be worth so much as to carry me it being very dear traveling yt way I hear my brother Patrick is there Surgeon of ye Gray hound Man of War lying on yt station.

Mr. Petter Chambers has been very kind to me in ys place in assisting me w’th severall necessaries which I could not want and which it had been very hard for me to get unless he had assisted me such as shoes and stokins for ever since I came into ye country I have never gained anything for myselfe unless it be sometimes a small parcell of tobacco w’ch I get for writting. Everything of cloathing is most unreasonably dear it being three times as dear as in Scotland so yt yt is ye greats strait I am all.

I have not had my health very well in ys country as yet but however I have it much better than I had it last year only I am now and then troubled w’th ye fever & ague w’ch is a very violent distemper here. This place is only good for doctors and ministers who have very good encouragem’t here. I must own I think it the hight of impudence for me to write to you w’ch was the occasion of my not writting last year but having in crotched so far on your good nature formerly and still have found you my very well wisher I hope you will excoose me for tho at time I did not adhere to you very good advice yet now
I see my folly and I wish to God I had given more ear to you and less to some others. It had been better for me and many a time now it makes me melancholy to think of my follies and despising my best of friends advice while you have always been wherefore dear sr. let this be my excuse I designed to have written to my mother but after I had bethought with my self how much I had disobliged and how far I had been out of the way to her who I may now say (if I had considered it right at that time) was the best of mothers to me for which I pray God and she may both forgive me which as long as I am on this side of time I am obliged to pray for and it makes me that I shall never forget the verse which I remember I learned long agoe which was

"O mihi praeteritos referat si Jupitis Annos."

Neither can I have the impudence to send my duty to her unless you will be pleased to give it and to intercede for me but you have interceded there for me so oftne that I can scarce desire it now and if I were to serve you on my knees while I lived it would scarce be a recompense forr such favours which I have received from you. I have yet another favour to ask of you which is that you will be pleased to let me hear from you how you and all friends are.

I stay in the upper part of Essex County on Rappahannock River. If you please to write let it be directed to Mr. Chambers care who will forward it to me. He lives on the same river but further down. I desire you will be pleased to give my duty to all your family to my grandmother, my aunt to Mrs. Home and all my brothers.

And I am and allways shall think myselfe D'r Sir You most humbled and Obliged Servant to—

G. HOME.

Virginia, June 20, 1723.
To Mr. Ninian Home of Billie att his Lodging forgainst the Magdalene Chaple in the Cougate, Edinburgh.

[To James Home.]

Dear Jammie: I would have written to you last year but I always delay'd till I saw if I could get any business w'ch made me delay it so long till all ye shipping were gone & besides yt having so very highly disoblidge your father who I find now to have been my best of friends I could not write to any unless to him w'ch I could not have the confidence to do tho I have taken it upon me ys year for I cannot let myself thinke but he is still my very well wisher & if I had taken more of his advice then I did it had been more to my advantage then I can mention I find that there is nothing to be got here without very good recommendation. Tho mine was good yet it did me no manner of service because just as I came into ye country ye Go: lost his place and another came in not long after but I thank God I made a shift to live and that is all. I cannot get a pint of good to pany here to drink you healths for all we drink here is water & sometimes rum but yt is very dear and very little money to buy it. Cloathes and linin are very dear in ye Indian Country yea I truly think them three times as dear as at home tobacco is all ye commodity here I have had but very ordinary health in ys country as yet especially last summer and fall but I begin to take a little better with ye place which I suppose you will hear from your father for I have given a full account of it. I believe indeed I should have died if Dr. Brown had not stood my friend at Williamsburgh from which place I am now at a great distance above one hundred miles. I hope I shall hear from you with the first shipping and direct for me to ye care of Mr. Peter Chambers on Rappahannock River Virginia. I desire you will give my service to my friend Henry Scrimsiour and Dickson Mrs. Helen & Mary Rentons and all other friends and I am Dr. Jamie

I desire you may not forget to give my service to Mr. George Home and tell him I shall be very glad to hear from him. To Mr. James Home son of Mr. Ninian Home of Billy ate Edin-

Dear Brother David,

I have wrote to you so often without ever receiving an answer y't I am almost hopeless of writing to you any more.
Whether it is you do not receive my letters or will not write or have any correspondence with me I can not tell however, have this safe opportunity by James Hunter I take it to let you know I am still alive and well and hope to hear from you when you receive this—how you are and all ye rest of my Brothers y't. You may happen to see as also My Mother and sisters. You may be sure it will be very great joy and satisfaction for me to hear how you all are at so long absence. You can not but know where to find me. if you direct for me in Orange County to the care of Mr. William Hunter merchant, Fredericksburg Rap'n River Virginia, I shall be sure to receive them. I shall add no more at present till I hear from you w'ch I earnestly beg I may do with ye first opportunity & not only once but shall beg you will give yourself ye trouble of letting me hear from you often, and pray give my duty to my Mother with my love to my sisters and their husbands not forgetting to remember me to my old fellow traveller and brother sufferer Alex'dr Home of Manderstone and should be heartily glad to hear from him.

Broth'r James.

I wrote to you ye 15th of A'pr—but never had any return from you since the letter you wrote me from Hampton road Janr. ye 19th 1744 (or 45 can't read) after you were removed and having now this time & as I think opportunity by James Hunter son to James Hume in Duns I take it to write you hoping you will receive it because I dare say if you are in London or in Scotland he will see you if possible. I have likewise wrote by him to Brothers David Patt & Jno. whom I hope will all hear from. you may believe it would be one of comfort & satisfaction that possibly could ——— with you all at such a distance & pray let me hear how my sone does and how he behaves& if he likes London or Fredericksburg best. I have had a very hard spell of sickness for several months by reason of a grievous cold I caught at our last winter but I thank God & now bravely recovered and intend to give over taking long tedious journeys of where we are obliged to go perhaps several months without seeing a house, and living altogether on wilde meat and to content myself with what little business I can get about home or at least in ye Inhabited places. I still am surveyor of orange County—it is of little benefit now for ye Ld. Fairfax has almost got all our back lands from Ye King y’t we y’t are Kings—has now but very little business for his Lordships agents here—w’th whome I have no acquaintance. I did not much expect being so much troublesome to you. would lend me the wach and saddle you promised but now I hope we shall have better news & if you can meet w’th James Hunter you can not get a safer hand. I beg you will not fail to let me hear from you & as often as you can & may.

G. Hume.

Dear Sister Isabell,

I had the favour of a letter from you by James Hunter dated ye 22nd of March 1747—I sent you an answer but has had not received none from you since—You can not but have opportunities enough and should be glad to hear from you how you are as also all enqr. friends—am glad to hear you are so well settled at home & w’ch I hope will be your satisfaction & I imagine by this time our Broth’r Jno is also settled at home and also glad to hear our Mother is so well who I am certain must be old & infirm by ys time. The County I live in was divided last assembly & ye part I live in is called Culpeper County ye other of Orange still. Wherefore direct for me living in ye fork of Rappahannock River Culpepper County Virginia. I am very well and in good health however I find myself fail and not able to walk the mountains as I have done—I have had so much cold and endured so much hardship over our mountains it will make old whether I will or not. pray remember me to all friends as enquire after me.

April ye 8th 1748.

Broth’r Pat,

Rec’d yours from Wedderburn dated 22nd Mar. 1747—am glad to hear all is so well, and especially our Moth’r who must now by old age be very in-firm—I had a letter from James on board the Gilberg or (Tilberg) at sea dated ye 13th of August last he does not tell me where he is but can not be very far off his letter had such a quick passage—it was not wrote two months till I got it. he was then well. Your lameness in your hands continues to hinder you from your business but glad you are so well settled & so content. I have nothing to write to you. Our Gov'n'r gives no by receiving wares & goods so very dear it is almost impossible to buy. I got such a cold at ye mountains that I expected it would have killed me—I have been there two years past. I could never go out to work but I thanked God. I hope am now perfectly recovered and I think as well as ever and able now again to walk ye mountains. I hope you will not fail to let me hear from you often—as you may on the oppertunity from Jas. Hunter to send to their Broth'r. Wm. who lives in Fredericksburg town within 20 miles.

Your aft. Broth'r.

G. Hume.

Dear Broth'r Jno.

I have wrote to you several times since you left this nation but you promised to let me hear from you often. I never have had ye pleasure of one letter from you. the last time I wrote to you was in April 1745 & now having this good oppertunity by James Hunter' son to Jas. Hunter in Duns I send you this by him w'th hope will go safe if he gets safe home. I am sure he will care to deliver it according to ye directions which I hope you will get & pray let me beg to hear from you & where I shall direct to you. You may assure your self it would be a very great satisfaction and pleasure for me to hear from you often how you are & in what place. Direct for me either by ye old direction as you had when was in the country or to the care of Wm. Hunter March't in Fredericksburg Rappahannock River Virginia—the plantation I lived at when you was here was both too low and too publick a place for my business wherefore I sold it & bought another where I live at now about 18 miles higher in orange Co. of which County I am still Surveyor of but very little business & to go to the mountains or over them
I can not agree to y't. I think not to go any higher though it is now but a poor county. I must be content pray do not fail to let me hear from you.

G. Hume.

Sir,

I was favoured with a letter from your spouse by James Hunter dated in March 1747 and should take it as a very great favor if you would be so good as to let me hear from you—how all affairs are in our native country, in which there are great changes since I was here. in ye year 1721 I left the country since which time have had very little correspondence. I hope ye friendship as was between your brother James & I besides ye relations may also create a correspondence between us which I assure you will not only be a pleasure but a very great satisfaction to me at such a distance. I am heartily glad to hear that all are well with you hoping it will continue. You may always have an oppertunity to send me from John Hunter in Duns & Broy'r James seeing often. Pray remember my love to my sister, your spouse also to my sisters Peggy & Jenny and my young nephews and neices though unknown with me. My service to all enq'r friends who enquire after me especially Alex'ʃ

Dear Brother,

I understand by Willie Hunter you wrote by him last year to me but he not knowing who I was and ye letter being directed to me living on Rap'n Gave it to ye ——— who carried it around to ——— y't after all ye inquiry I could not make out nor hear of it though should have been heartily glad to have heard from you. May you let me hear from you by ye first oppertunity & pray let me know how all was at home, and if our old Mother is alive and how all affairs stand which would be of a very great satisfaction to me at such a distance. I have no news to write to you only I am hoping this will find you & all my Broth'rs & sisters in ye same condition, very well. Still travelling about in ye back woods over our great country and it increases so fast I still find some business. Ye Kings business were over very Slack most of ye lands as belongs to ye Crown being surveyed but have got into ye Lord Fairfax business—being proprietors of ye N. Neck of Virginia and being now in ye country himself which I hope will hold by. You will let me hear from you by ye first oppertunity & send your letters for me to Mr. Jno. Hunter in Duns—directed to the care of Mr.
Wm. and James Hunters' merchants in Fredericksburg Rap'n River Virg'a & I shall be sure of them. I shall add no more at present only—hoping you will let me hear from you soon as possible and remember my duty to my Mother if alive—

Dear Sister,
I have never received but one letter from you & y't was by James Hunter dated Mar. 25th 1747 since w'ch time I wrote both you and your husband about Aug. 1749 and once since but no answer though you may believe it would a very great pleasure besides satisfaction for me to hear from you as also ye rest of my brothers and sisters though I sometimes hear from some of my Brth'rs. but seldom. Am surprised that you according to your promise do not write to me oftener. You can never want an oppertunity by Jno. Hunter in Duns when he writes to his uncle Wm. & Broth'r Jas. w'ch is often. I would have them direct for me living in Culpepper Co. Rap'n R. Virg'a. to ye care of Wm. or Jas. Hunter Merchants in Fredericksburg Rap'n River Virg'a and I shall be sure to get them for they are all my ———. I have heard of a great many deaths in our family both from my Broth'r Jno. and James and some word from you who is always on ye spot would not be amiss & give me very great satisfaction & as perhaps one sheet of paper would not hold it all might give me some in one & some in another for you may every now & then have opportuntys by Jno Hunter in Duns. I should rely your husband would not spare writing to me to give you an act. of all ye transactions of my life and hardships I have endured since I left Scotland. is not a quire of paper would not hold it but I must tell you we are all well hoping this will find you & family in the same condition. I have business & our country America is so fast settling y't we have now got to the branches of Misossippy w'ch is 3 or 4 hundred miles from where I have been living—but too far for me growing now old to go, but though ye land as ye King holds in ye country is almost all surveyed and my business it may fail. I have got in ye Ld. Proprietor of ye North'n N. in Virg'a. I do not go above 100 miles from home to work & as my eyes within ye 2 or 3 yrs. has failed me very much I thank God I have now got a son who does my business for me and when he leaves me I hope I have another ready. I have 6 sons. There can be no greater satisfaction to me in ye world y'n to hear from you all & especially to hear that Ninians deth has rid my dear sister out of all her trouble—I shall say no more at present only I remain

I had the happiness of receiving a letter from your spouse my sister from James Hunter dated the year 1747 Since w'ch time I have wrote both to you and her but has never received any answer. I should take it as a particular favour besides the great pleasure & satisfaction I should have to hear from you every year or at least as often as you can conveniently being at such a distance—to hear how all friends are & how affairs goes at home especially w'th all my Brothers & sisters. When your brother James died I may say I lost my good friend and best correspondent however I hope you will be the same and you may always send to me by way of Mr. Jno. Hunter at Duns directing to me in Culpepper Co. Rap’n River Virg’a to ye care of Mr. William or James Hunter merchants in Freder’b’g. Rap’n River Va. You have a cousin Alex’r Home, son to James Home your Uncle who was Dixon (Dean?) of the Tay-lors in Edinbrugh who lives about 3 miles of my house who desires me to remember him to you & would be glad to hear how you all did especially what has become of his sister if alive or dead or what condition are all. hoping this will find you & your spouse in the same condition—I wrote to you last in Aug. 1749 but never had any ans. I likewise write now to your spouse hoping to hear from you both as soon as possible— I may remember my love to your sister your spouse & my sister Peggy & Jenny not forgetting my service to Alex’r Home of Manderstone. I shall add no more at present—only beg you will let me hear from you as often as you can conveniently which will be a very great pleasure to me.

Feb. ye 23rd 1753.

Dear Sister,

I received yours from Edrom dated June 16th 1752—am glad to hear you & family are all well. I wrote to you a short time afterwards but am sensible it did not come to hand because the messenger I sent it by I hear is now in Carolina & do not imagine went home & heartily glad to hear our relations are well more especially y’t our Mother keeps her health so well and by what I hear from you she holds out better than her sons for I find the Capt’n is very crazy also ye Doctor & for my part I have held it out amongst our mountains beyond expectations and has in my time been one of the last as ever went into my business lying in far of our own mountains & I am being so dim sighted I can not see ye back woods but soon it is over. I begin to be almost ashamed so since my Mother keeps in so good health but to be very crazy by ye hardships I have endured in lying out in our back woods but now I must give out tho very much ag’st my will. Am sorry to hear our sister Jean is so unhappily matched tho if she is contented in ye world depending entirely on contentment. Contentment with a small living must certainly be better than great riches with discontent. I likewise rec'd a letter from Branxton dated Feb'r 12th 1753. I think dear Sister, Ninian gives you a true state of trade in this country. I must tell you how it is. I do not know, but our factory as come in —— ways is more than I am acquainted with but by that time they can have 2 or 3 years—they get estates to themselves some of their owners that will. They take care of themselves & it is impossible They & ye owners at home both can get estates & to mention so many fine fellows here all bedaubed with gold & silver lace fine times money flying & in 2 or 3 years fine estates in land & negroes surely that must come out of ye owners pockets & it is impossible them & ye owners both can thrive so fast that trade must sink & indeed they are innumerable. The goods always were most extravagantly dear but now therefore got ye parties so much in debt to ye merchants then they might be able to pay this money in years if ever y't. Now they have what they please for their goods & will give almost nothing for Tob'. for they are sure of it being owing to them & if a man offers to you buy them where they are perhaps to get a little price, yn the poor mans estate is sold to pay ye Merch't both land & negroes & y't is ye end of y't poor planter & ye Merchant gets his estate for a small matter, but I do not imagine ye owners at home are ye better of it though it comes out of their pockets & I imagine it is what makes ye —— at home (as we hear) break. This is a true state of ye trade in our country at ys time & really they will. Goods are become so dear ye country being so much in debt to ye merch'yt we shall scarcely be able to get ourselves shirts & oy'r necessaries. I must tell you a piece of news w'ch no doubt you have heard of—perhaps not ye circumstances. We live in a very large country ye extent I believe as yet not known being settled several hundred miles back since I came to it in 1721. We have now got on ye branches of Misissippi river so nigh ye French yt they do not like our coming so nigh to y'm—I do not hear they do any mischief to our back settlers only build forts very night to us to stop us—till we took up arms against ym to defend our King's rights & to guard our back settlers on Ohio river a branch of Misossippy besides that river which lies all to ye west ward of us. We had a fort built there by a company of gent'n who has taken up great quantities of land on ohio but as soon as done ye French made bold to possess it without blood shed—There was a great noise in ye country ye French were coming upon us several young men listed themselves & then beat up for volunteers to fight ye French and I believe got about 400 in Virg'a who went out. Ye French raised men also & some time about ye end of May last a party of our soldiers met with a party of ye French. I am in formed by French Prisoners w'ch I saw there were 35 of ym & 32 of our men besides some of our indians. They had a skirmish & understand our men killed 7 of ye French—one got away & ye rest sent down to Williamsburg prisoners & only lost one man—we built a fort on ye same river ohio as ye French at some distance where our men lay & I hear intended to ly by for more recruits being so far in ferior to ye French. We had I believe 200—come from New York—200 & 2 or 3 hundred from Carolina which were to go under ye command of Col. Ennis a scotsman who was to be chief commander who came from Carolina but before they got up to ye fort ye French lit on our men & has quite beat y'm with a very great slaughter on both sides. our men behaved nobly but so far in ferior in number ye French being as was supposed about 900 & we only between 3 & 400 y't we were obliged to quit ye field make peace for one year and none of us to go over ye alligany mountains w'ch they say is ye King of Frances' land for in ye time what y't will turn out I can not tell. The head officers are gone to consult w'th ye Governor, but what is to be done or if we are to keep ye peace or go on again w'rh recruits is not yet known though in a few days I am in hopes we shall know. I have this day wrote to your husband & shall again in a little time as soon as I hear more news. My family are all well & remember their love to you & yours hoping you are ye like—w'ch is all at present from

To Mrs. Isabell Home at Branxton near Dunbar in East Lothian.

Dear Broth’r.

I take ye oppertunity to let you know we are all well only I am grown so crazy [weak] no more fit to go in the back woods. Our country is so far back settled that we are obliged to go above 100 miles before I can come to work. I am so broke by ye hardships I have indured in lying in ye backwoods that we are obliged to go also have lost my sight so far that without spectacles scarce discern ye degrees of my compass y’t it kills me to travel so far and over such mountains as you know we have & of late have been very much afflicted by old colds and lying out so much w’ch now begins to come upon me. When James was in ye country I was always telling him I used to go to ye Branches of Misossippy to survey land there & he used to laugh at me thinking it impossible as I believe however it has now proved true for we have at least met w’th ye French a parcel of Gentlemen who have got a grant from ye King for a great deal of land in this a branch of Misossippy—last spring built a fort on this river. Ye French let y’m alone till finished then come & took possession without bloodshed but before that I do understand any damage to our back settlers only built forts I suppose to stop us from coming any nearer we thinking the land belong to us and they think it belong to y’m. And there was a great noise went about the French were coming upon us—Several young men enlisted themselves beat up for volunteers and I believe got about or near 400 in Virg’a who went out against ye French & at the same time raised an army also and some time since about ye end of May last a party of our soldiers met with a party of the French. I am informed by ye French prisoners who I saw, there were 35 of y’m and 32 of our men besides some of our indians had a skirmish & I understand our men killed 9 of ye French—one got way and ye rest they took prisoners and sent down to Williamsburg & we only lost one man. Our men built a fort on ye same river Ohio as the French & some distance from theirs wherein our men lay & I imagine intended to ly by for some more recruits being far inferior in number to ye French. we had I believe some come from New York & 2 or 3 hundred from Carolina who were to go under the command of one Coll. Ernes [Innes] a scotsman from Carolina who was to be chief commander but before they got out to our army ye French lit on ours & has quite beat ym with a great slaughter on both sides. our men behaved very well but being so far inferior in number to ye French they being —— to be good ——— and but between 3 & 400 men were obliged to yield, quit ye field make peace for one year & none of us to go over ye Alligany mountains which they say belongs to ye King of France. Since what will be ye event I know not yet that I am obliged to give out going so far & content myself with a little business about home unless I were to move 2 or 3 hundred miles further back it would not be worth my while to move & y’t is what I can not think of doing if I can make any other shift. I have taken your advice about my sons. I have two now of age. Geo. and Francis. Geo. follows my business however he is very careful & industrious but unless he goes 3 or 400 miles back it will not be worth his while, tho he works now for me & am in hopes he will do well. Francis is the planter & I am in hopes he will do well. As for John I am in hopes he may do well enough, but I could never persuade him to go in a merchant ship though he never will & the Capt’n as brought him in offered him his mates place if he would go home again w’t him but he would not go & still wants to be in a Kings Ship. I have 3 younger sons who I intend God willing to bind to good trades y’t they may know how to get their living—no daughters, am glad to hear our Moth’r holds it so well pray give my duty to her with my respects to ye Doctor & Laird I am

To Capt’n Jno Hume at Wedderburn Politeness to the care of Mr. John Hunter Merchant in Duns.

P. S. Should be glad to hear from James or in what place or nation he is in.
Our assembly are soon sitting I believe chiefly on y't occurrence. if we shall soon hear. I have no ay't news to tell you—money is so scarce it is a rare thing to see a dollar and at publick places where great monied men must be on Cock fighters, horse races &c ye noise is not now as it use to be—one pistol to 2 or 3 pistoles to one—it is now common cry 2 cows & calves to one or 3 to one or sometimes 4 hogshead tob'r. to one & y't gives no price, so I do not know how we shall maintain a war ye French having very much ye advantage of us.

G. H.

Sir—

I take ye oppertunity of letting you know we are all well in y's country but very much oppressed w'th ye wars as we have had—here some years. I do not doubt you have heard of the bad success we had last year when Gen’rl Braddock commanded, we lost as I am informed by waggoners there present about 12 or 13 hundred men and I do not understand they can give any act. of any damage as our men did for. the indians did not themselves only lay in ambush as the wolves for our army as they were passing and I do not understand there were above 500 of ym & they did not show themselves. The indians has done a great deal of damage—has cut off a great many people and still continues. They have murdered & slayed sev- eral hundred besides carried away a great many prisoners— they murder a great many of us & we get but few of them & am very much afraid without some speedy help they will do a great deal more mischief for almost every day we hear of some one or other being murdered by ym. they have now got above 100 miles down among our back inhabitants and still comes lower and lower. I am heartily glad my Mother holds out so well & by what I can find out better than her sons for by what I understand ye Doctor & ye Capt’n have failed for many years— yet I find ye contrary as for the Laird & I think nothing of him for I do not suppose he ever has indured ye hardships both night & day as any of us has. I want to hear very much where James is. I have not herd from him this great while or if he has got a ship or not. My family & I am in good health. & remember our love to you all. Pray remember me to my cousins, Peggy's children & all enq'r friends which is all at present from

I rec'd yours dated from Edrom ye 24 Fbr. 175—[torn off] & wrote to you some time after as also my sister by a young man y't was going home but I hear since he has come back from Carolina w'th our soldiers so I am afraid he has never been home or sent ye letters. I showed your cousins Sanders [Alexander] what you had wrote me about his sister w'ch was very great satisfaction to him. he & his family are well & lives within a few miles of me so I have ye happiness of seeing him very often. we are all well here—I have no news only we have got wars amongst us w'th ye French. our country increases so much & so fast by reason of so many dutch & so many irish [Germans and Scotch-Irish] coming in every year that since I came in ye year 1721 we have gone back to ye west ward several hundred miles & now got on ye branches of Misosippy River where I understand ye French are settled & I imagine they do not like our coming so nigh them tho I do not hear of any damage they do our back settlers only build forts to stop us, we suppose & think it belongs to us & they to them & seems to be very intent. Early last Spring a Company has a got a grant for a great deal of land on ohio a branch of Misossippy River, built a fort on ye ohio—a distance from ye French w'ch as I understand when finished ye French took possession of without blood shed—then there was a great noise about ye French were coming upon us—several young men listed themselves up for volunteers & likewise got about or near 400 men in Va who went out. Ye French at ye same time raised an army also & some time after about ye end of May last a party of our soldiers met w'th a party of the French. I understand it is a very large fine country if we can keep it w’ch I am in hopes we are able to do. We are settled so far back & my business lies at such a distance I begin to grow very crazy being very much exposed by lying out so much in ye nights & induring so much hardships both from hunger & cold y’t I am obliged to give out & take up with a small business about home not being able to endure ye hardships any longer besides my eyes begin to fail me y’t I cannot well see ye degrees of my compass without spectables unless I will move 2 or 300 miles further back w’ch as yet I have have no thought of—I am

Letter from James Hume, Jr. 1810.

Dear Sir—

I rec’d your letter some time since w’ch was dated the 29th of Dec. last. I am happy to inform you that I & my family enjoy a great share of health at this time. My Mother is just getting out of a long spell of sickness—My father lies very ill but hope there is no danger. Your friends in this part of the country that I have seen or heard of are all well. I am happy to hear of your well fare & that of your family tho certainly sorry to hear of our old uncle Williams death you wrote me to inform you how our affairs stood respecting the Estates of Wedderburn & Marchmont. It has been out of my power to give you such satisfactory an answer as you would wish until of late. I will now inform you everything I know—Last fall a Mr. Alex'r Dick came to Fredericksburg, a scotsh & Brittish agent from Edinburg near the estate of Wedderburn & is well acquainted with the estate. I was recommended by Mr. Rob't Patton & other friends to make a friend of Mr. Dick. I have done so & directed him to make every inquiry about the estate & to give me the earliest information which he has done—about 2 months past he complied with his promise. I rec'd his letter directed to R. Patton & then to me. He informs me he has made every inquiry & has searched all the records for the intale but he cant find the entale nor any one that has any title to the estate. So much as the claims from this country which Mr. Dick verily believes from the papers I have shown him that we are the heirs at law & that we only have any rights to the estates of Wedderburn & Marchmont. He writes me a Leftenant Home holds the estate in possession at this time. After the death of the last heir in that country there was no one to take the estates in possession—Parliament took charge of it until the right owner should come. This Leftenant Brought in a claim against the estate as a great creditor and was suffering for his money. Parliament put the estates in his possession if no better claim should come. Mr. Dick also informs me the Leftenant will stand a suit before he will give it up—but appears willing providing ourselves to be the right heirs, he is willing to come to a settlement and divide, which Mr. Dick recommends me to do for we nor our great grand children if we sue for it will never see the end of it. As to the estate of Marchmont he believes they will give that up. The man who holds it in possession is dead, & his widow now holds it and said if the right owners come she is willing to give it up. All the above is now for your consideration & give me an answer to this letter what I am to do & how to proceed. I have taken all the affidavits but three which I shall take in 10 days from this time—when taking these affidavits I saw the power of atty you made my Father before my counsel and Magistrate & it wont do—It only extends in the U. S. and no farther—If you think proper for me to transact this business any further you must make another power to me. Stating the state you live in & County & what part of the U. S. your age &c and have the County seal to it, well witnessed & identified before 2 magistrates. If you think proper to get an attorney to do it get the best you can get for every hole will be pushed out before they will give up. Mr. Dick wishes if we think proper for him to do the business for us—he will do it & leave it to us to give him any part we please out of what is obtained and he will do for us as if he were doing for himself. I wish to send him a true copy of all the affidavits & a copy of the power of atty also. The original I shall hold until I get an answer from him after he receives them which will be next spring if he can send on this fall as I wish to do. all my papers are sent through Robt. Patton & all I receive is through him or a friend—Nothing more at this time until I can get further information & hear from you. Maj'r Charles Barnes has promised to deliver this to you or send it by a safe hand.

I subscribe myself your friend & well wisher & at command

ANDREW HAMILTON.—In the note on page 118 of the April, 1912, number a mistake was made in identifying Andrew Hamilton, the Post- Master General, with Andrew Hamilton, the great lawyer. The former was Governor of Jersey, and died April 26, 1703. The note is correct as to Andrew Hamilton, the lawyer. If they were related the fact is not known. We are indebted to a member of the Society in Pennsylvania for the correction.

MERRY.—Recently, in looking over the records of Bourbon County Court, Kentucky, I saw record of the will of Prettyman Merry of Bucking- ham county, and, knowing that the Buckingham records have been destroyed, I made a note of it which I am sending you.

Will of Prettyman Merry, dated 23d April, 1817.
Probated in Buckingham County 8th December, 1817.
Daughters Elizabeth, Ann, Jemima, Catherine, Mildred—after Mil- dred reaches 21.
Daughter Fanny Moore—Land in Barren Co., Kentucky.
Sons John, James, Samuel.
I find also among the same records:
Deed Book "L," p. 221.
Deed dated 26 July, 1815 by Prettyman Merry of Buckingham county, Virginia, to Thomas Merry, of Warren county, Kentucky.
Recital.—On 17 March, 1788, Prettyman Merry covenanted with Thomas Merry to give to him and his children 600 acres on the western waters for his part of the slaves formerly belonging to Thomas Merry, deceased, then in possession of Elizabeth Daniel of Orange county and held by her as part of her dower of the estate of Thomas Merry, de- ceased.
Conveyance in following proportions—
To said Thomas Merry 100 acres.
To Prettyman Merry, son of above, 200 acres.
To Elizabeth Goodall, dau. of Thomas, 200 acres.
To Milley Merry, daughter of Thomas and married to Philip Dothage, 100 acres.

WILLIAM SMITH, OF KING AND QUEEN COUNTY.

1683, April 29-30.—Deed of Lease and Release, of this date, William Penn to James Claypool, grant of one thousand acres of land. Location not given. Recorded 7 December, 1731.

1693, June 26.—By deed of this date, recorded 6 December, 1731, (Deed Book F. 5, fo. 349), James Claypool, of London, merchant, conveys to William Smith, ship-wright, of Middlesex (shire), for £1,000 acres of land, to be set out, &c., when and where, &c.

1714, November 16.—"William Smith, of St. Stephen's Parish, King and Queen Co., Va., shipwright," by deed of this date, conveys to William Chadwick, Gent., of the same parish and county, in Virginia, for £60, 1,000 acres of land in Penna., bought as above with deed quoted. (Deed Bk. F 5, pp. 351, 353, Phila.) The said William Smith at the same time, by the same deed, conveys to said Chadwick his dwelling house and lot on which it stands, located in Nightingale Lane, in Lime House, nigh London, and also three other houses, two being wooden houses and one of bricks, situated near the second bridge, at the place afore-said, called Nightingale Lane, which said dwelling is in the tenure of the said William Smith's sons-in-law, either George Wright or Thomas Mishwyell, and the three houses in possession of his daughter, Rebecca Smith. Deed acknowledged in the Court of King and Queen county, Va., 22 November, 1714, by the said William Smith, and recorded at Philaelpbia on 6 December, 1731.

By deed, dated 13 December 1718, William Chadwick, Gent., afore-said, conveyed this 1,000 acres right to William Allen and Thomas Shute, both of Philadelphia.

KENNERLY (Va. Mag. Hist. & Biog., April, 1912, pp. 219-20).—I am exceedingly anxious to learn more of the Kennerly family, as I am a descendant of Catharine Kennerly, sister of said James, and she married Jeremiah Strother, (Jeremiah, William) prior to 1746. I want to find the dates and marriage of both James and Catharine, and date of death of each. As the date of birth of Elizabeth James Kennerly is given, I thought it barely possible that this was obtained from the Kennerly Bible. I have quite a good bit of Kennerly data, but only had the name of Elizabeth, as a daughter of "Capt. James Kennerly"; I did not know her history. She had a brother James, born August 13, 1734, and died in 1829. Four of his sons were Methodist preachers. His family Bible is now in the possession of J. Blair Kennerly, of Philadelphia, Pa., a descendant. The historian of the Kennerlys is Miss Annie Kennerly, of Louisburg, Ky., but she is not able to give me the dates I want. Any assistance will be thankfully received and duly appreciated.

ENGLISH MARRIAGES OF EMIGRANTS TO VIRGINIA.—In Vol. XIV of the Hampshire (England) Parish Registers, just issued by Phillimore & Co., of London, to subscribers, there are entries which may be of interest to your Society, if it has not already a note of them.

The Register is that of Newport (Isle of Wight) MARRIAGES FROM 1541 TO 1837.

On page 32 there are the following marriage entries, all on the 11th of February, 1620-21, with a note under them, "all which last fyve coupple were for Virgenia;" meaning, I take it, they were married on their departure for Virginia: Henry Bushell and Alice Crocker, Christopher Cradock and Alice Cooke, Edward Marshall and Mary Michell, Walter Beare and Ann Greene, Robert Gullever and Joan Pie.

[Edward Marshall, who came in the Abigail in 1621, was a servant of Sergeant Wm. Barry at Elizabeth City, 1624-5, and was then aged 26. At the same time Walter Beare, aged 28, who also came in the Abigail, was one of Dr. Potts' men at The Main, James City.]

TARVER.—Benjamin Tarver came from Wales or England to Lawrenceville, Brunswick county, Va. Had sons—Andrew, William, John or James, Robert, Thomas, Jacob, Benjamin and Samuel. It is a family tradition that all of these sons served in the Revolution. Can any one give me proof for the statement? The son Thomas marrird Sarah Little.

A Samuel Tarver served and drew a pension. He was born 1759; married Charlotte Goff. Was he the son Samuel mentioned above? Any information on the Tarver family will be acceptable.

BROWN.—Edward Brown, born in Wales, came to Virginia; married Miss Brown; had William, Samuel, John, Henry, Benjamin, Beverly and Robert.

John Brown, above, married Mary Tarver; Benjamin married Sarah Tarver; John died in Dobbs county, now Green, N. C.

John, who married Mary Tarver, died a few years after 1776 in Green county, N. C., then Dobbs. Had John, Thomas; Robert Tarver, b. 1776, m. Catherine Valle; Rebecca, William, Mary. The mother, when a widow, removed to Roane county, Tenn., where she died. Did this John, William, Edward serve in the Revolution? Any information on this Brown family will be acceptable.

Mr. McRobert was a Scotchman who came to Virginia as a minister of the Church of England. He was first settled in Dale parish, Chesterfield county, where his outspoken American sympathies got him into trouble about 1774. In 1777 he became the minister of St. Patrick's parish, Prince Edward county, succeeding the Rev. James Garden, of the family (perhaps a brother) of the celebrated Dr. Alexander Garden of South Carolina. Mr. McRobert had been a great friend of the evangelical Devereux Jarratt. He went farther than Jarratt, separating himself and his two churches, in Prince Edward county, from the Establishment about 1779. The community in which he was placed was becoming strongly Presbyterian, but he did not formally come over to the Presbyterian church until 1787. He took with him Walker's church, then in Prince Edward county, now in Appomattox county—a church which many years later was supplied by Dr. Joseph R. Wilson, father of Governor Woodrow Wilson. These church affiliations in midland Virginia, just before and after the Revolution, offer a very interesting subject of research.

Mr. McRobert was a charter trustee of Hampden Sidney College in 1775, and continued a trustee for some twenty years, very often presiding at the meetings of the board. Bishop Meade gives a very amusing account of the fate of the old St. Patrick's parish church, Sandy river. Another of Mr. McRobert's churches—French's chapel, where a Glasgow firm had a factor stationed for many years—was chosen, after Yorktown, as one of the places so billet the troops from France. It is related that seventy of these soldiers died of smallpox and were buried in the French's chapel churchyard. This churchward may still be traced. It got its name from Andrew French, its factor, and not from the troops.

Mr. McRobert died in 1807. Mrs. George Thompson of Fort Worth, Texas, is a lineal descendant.

A. J. Morrison.
Further Notes Relating to the Maryland Descendants.

Robert Brent of Maryland, son of Robert Brent and Susannah Seymour, by his marriage with Anna Maria Parnham became brother-in-law to John Parnham 2nd, who died previous to July, 1748, as appears by renunciation of administration by his widow Jane, in favor of his brother, Dr. Francis Parnham.

The marriage of Robert Brent and Mary Wharton in 1729 is recorded in Durham Church, Trinity Parish, Charles county, Maryland, and their children were baptized there. Their eldest daughter, Mary, became a Camelite nun, and her brother bequeathed money to the nunnery in case of her death.

The death of Robert Brent, husband of Mary Wharton, is recorded in the family Bible in possession of the family of the late Judge George Brent of Maryland. Robert Brent's will, dated February 3, 1750, and proved April, 1751, Book D. D. 7, p. 73, makes devises of slaves and other property to Mary, his wife; directs that certain slaves in Virginia should be sold to raise £100 sterling for his wife, and leaves the remainder of the estate to his son Robert.

The dates of birth and death of Robert Brent, of Charles county, are taken from the record begun by him in the Bible afterwards in the possession of the family of the late Judge George Brent. He is also mentioned in the records of Durham Church and in Hansen's "Old Kent."

Robert Brent, of "Brentfield," married Dorothy Leigh, and the fact that she was the daughter of William Leigh appears by the deed of a tract of land called St. Bernard's (Brentfield) by William Leigh to Robert Brent; the will of Robert Brent of Brentfield, proved September 16, 1810, whereby he requires Anna Maria, his daughter, to release her rights to said tract, derived from her mother; and by the further fact that in 1805-6 the said Robert purchased from his son William Leigh Brent all his right in said land (Charles county records), and thus the said Robert was enabled to devise St. Bernard's (Brentfield) to his son George Brent.

George Brent, the second son of Robert Brent and Dorothy Leigh, was the father of Judge George Brent.
William Leigh Brent was a lawyer. He went to Louisiana just after his marriage, being commissioned by President Madison as Deputy-Attorney General for the Western District of the Territory of Orleans. He practiced law successfully in the Attakapas, and in 1822 was elected as the representative of Louisiana in Congress, that State being then entitled to only one Congressman. He was re-elected in 1824 and 1826. He remained in Maryland and the District of Columbia practicing law and educating his children from 1826 to 1844, when he returned to Louisiana. He died at St. Martinsville, La., July 3, 1848. His country residence, called "Pomonky," was on the Potomac, just above Indian Head. Pomonky had been, by will dated January, 1771, proved April 1, 1771, of James Cole, son of Edward Cole 3rd, and half brother to Sarah Taney, who married Ignatius Fenwick, Jr., devised to his nephew, James Fenwick, after his mother Sarah's death. James Fenwick, by will proved October 14, 1823, devised Pomonky to William Leigh Brent and wife Maria Fenwick Brent for life and then to Robert James Brent.

Robert James Brent was a lawyer of great industry and ability. The Reports of the Supreme Court of the United States and of the Court of Appeals of Maryland show the large number of cases that he argued before those tribunals. He was the last of the Attorney Generals of Maryland under the old Constitution, when the appointment was for life and when the office carried large powers of appointment of deputies in the several counties and also large emoluments by way of fees. He was appointed Attorney General of Maryland February 12, 1851, and was a member of the Constitutional Convention of that year, and being opposed to the large power reposed in the hands of one man in the person of the Attorney General under the then law, and also to the system of fees by which that officer was paid, he voted to abolish the office, and thus with great civic virtue legislated himself out of office. THE BEVERLEY FAMILY.

29. Harry Beverley (Robert), of "Hazlewood," Caroline county, was born ——, and died in 1774. He entered William and Mary College in 1756 (though his father directed in his will that his son's guardians, who were his mother and his cousin, William Beverley, of "Blandfield," should send him to England to school at the age of ten, and that he should be sent to college there, and if necessary kept there until he was twenty, and that while there he should be taught everything "necessary for a gentleman to learn.") An act of assembly was passed October, 1765 (Hening, VIII, 166), reciting that Robert Beverley, formerly of Spotsylvania, Esq., was seized in fee-simple of a tract called Octonia, containing 24,000 acres, in the parish of St. Thomas, Orange county [now largely in Green county], and was also seized of other lands in fee-taille, and by his will, dated May 12, 1733, devised the residue of his Octonia tract, containing 14,829 acres, to his only son, Harry Beverley; that the said Harry Beverley was also seized in fee-taille, "under donations of other ancestors, of large quantities of lands," but had few slaves; therefore the entail was docked in 9,908 acres of the Octonia land, and they were authorized to be sold and the proceeds laid out in the purchase of slaves. Another act, passed November, 1766 (Hening, VIII, 280), recites again the ownership of Octonia by Robert Beverley, of Spotsylvania, Esq., and states that he also owned in fee-simple a valuable tract of land in Spotsylvania, where he lived, called Newland, containing 3,600 acres, and another valuable tract of land at Portobago, in Essex, containing 2,700 acres, and that his son, Harry Beverley, was seized under other donations in taille of a tract of land.
containing 1,400 acres on the Rappahannock river, in Caroline county, where he had "built a large brick house and made other considerable and lasting improvements which will descend therewith to his eldest son," and had incurred a debt of about £1,500, current money; therefore the entail of the remainder of the Octonia land was docked, and it was authorized to be sold. The land where the brick house was built was "Hazlewood." The house built by Harry Beverley was destroyed, but there is still a handsome dwelling on the place. As the records of Caroline county have been to a great degree destroyed, but few details of the life of Harry can be obtained; but he does not appear in any office and his life was, no doubt, simply that of a wealthy county gentleman. He married Jane Wiley—whether Wiley was her last name or middle name is uncertain—and had issue:

42. Robert Gaines; 43. Jane Wiley; 44. Ann Hazlewood, married — Dudley; 45. Harry Stanard, of Fredericksburg, whose will was dated February 26, 1794, and proved April, 1794. He appointed his brother, Robert Gaines Beverley, and Larkin Stanard executors. Legatees: to nephew Robert Hazlewood Beverley, lot in Fredericksburg purchased of John May; to nephew Harry Stanard Beverley, lot in Port Royal; to mother, to sister, Jane Willy Beverley; to sister, Ann Hazlewood Dudley; to godson, Charles Champe Stanard, son of William Stanard; to sister, Jane Willy Beverley, his land in Orange county; to brother, Robert Gaines Beverley; to Larkin Stanard and Colin Reddick.

THE TURNER FAMILY OF KING GEORGE COUNTY, &c.

According to family tradition and the account given by Bishop Meade in his Old Churches and Families of Virginia, the immigrant ancestor of the Turners, and the father of Thomas Turner, of King George county, was a Dr. Richard Turner, who settled in the Northern Neck between 1650 and 1660. In no branch of the family, however, is there now any written record of this Richard Turner, nor can any notice of him be found, after a careful search in the land grants, the colonial records at the State Capitol, or in the records of the counties of old Rappahannock, Westmoreland, Richmond or King George. The non-appearance of his name would suggest that the tradition in regard to Dr. Richard Turner is incorrect. Still it is possible that the account may be true. The earliest will-book of King George county (extending from 1722 to 1774), which was carried off by the Federal soldiers (and which there is reason to believe is still in existence somewhere in the North), may have contained notice of him, or the family register in a very old Bible, which still exists, may have given the descent from him. The leaves containing this register became loose many years ago and were taken out and put away for security, but were unfortunately lost.
TURNER ARMS.
From a Bookplate.
Whatever the facts may be with regard to Dr. Richard Turner, the genealogy of the family is thoroughly authentic from the first Thomas Turner, of King George county.

In 1714 a license was granted in Richmond county for the marriage of Thomas Turner, of Essex county, and Martha Taliaferro. On January 4th, 1715, Thomas Turner, of Richmond county (with Nicholas Smith and John Lomax, securities), gave bond as administrators of Richard Taliaferro. He was the father of Mrs. Turner. On May 19, 1721, the will of Richard Taliaferro (who was probably her brother), was admitted to probate in King George on the petition of Thomas Turner and Martha, his wife. His will was in the missing volume. Thomas Turner was clerk of King George from 1723 to 1742, and in 1742 was appointed a justice of the county court, he to have his former place in the commission (Council Journal). He was a vestryman of Hanover parish, King George, 1723, and a member of the House of Burgesses for that county at the sessions of August, 1736; November, 1738; May, 1740; August, 1740; February, 1752; November, 1753; February, 1754; August, 1754; October, 1754; May, 1755; August, 1755, and October, 1755. He lived at "Walsingham," a plantation on the Rappahannock now, or until recently, owned by his descendants, and is stated to have been buried in a vault yet remaining on the "Woodlawn" estate. The following is an abstract of his will, dated February 19, 1757, and proved in King George May 4, 1758:

Gives to his son-in-law, Captain Edward Dixon, two lots in Port Royal, Caroline county, for life, and then to the said Edward's sons, Harry and Turner Dixon; to the said Captain Dixon the land "I bought of Col. John Martin and his son George," lying in Caroline, on the Mattaponi river, containing 2,818 acres, with all the negroes, stock, &c., on it, to him for life and then to Harry Dixon; to the said Captain Dixon, also, 2,970 acres in Caroline, with all the negroes, stock, &c., on it, for life, and then to Harry Dixon; to the said Captain Dixon the land "I bought of Benjamin Williams and Rose Taliaferro," being 843 acres in Caroline, with all the negroes, stock, &c., on it, for life, and then to Turner Dixon; to grandson, Turner Dixon, "my Colber Mountain tract," containing upwards of 3,000 acres, also 368 acres on a branch of Deep Run, also a tract of land in Fairfax county containing 1,025 acres, also all the negroes, stock, &c., on the Elk Run plantation in Prince William county, also a negro carpenter and the negro "housewench" Judy; to grandson, Thomas Turner, the Elk Run tract, 562 acres, and the reversion of all legacies to Harry and Turner Dixon, in case of their death without issue. In case of death of grandson Thomas Turner, without issue, reversion of all legacies to grandson Harry Turner. A legacy to granddaughter, Sally Turner; gives his niece, Ann Wrenn (wife of John Wrenn), and her children £50; states that whereas his son, Harry Turner, in his will directed that his (Harry's) son Thomas should have the best education to be gotten in Virginia, the testator now directs that all of his grandsons should have the same, at the cost of his estate, and by the same tutor, and that no expense should be regarded in giving them a finished education. He orders that all his grandsons and his niece Anne Wrenn's son John, should be placed together; "the house on the top of the hill near where Anne Marshall lives" to be finished and furnished for them, and four negroes selected to wait on them; directs that his daughter, Mary Turner, shall have a home in his dwelling house; appoints Captain Edward Dixon, Thomas Jett and Joseph Murdock executors. In a codicil he gives to his grandson, Harry Turner (then under age), his Westmoreland land, and the land in Prince William called Marsh Quarter, with negroes, stock, &c.

It would appear from this will that the valuable landed estates in King George owned by the testator, and which were inherited by Captain Harry Turner's descendants, were either conveyed to Harry Turner by deed from his father, or was entailed. If they were entailed, then Thomas Turner was not the first purchaser or grantee.

THE POINDEXTER FAMILY.

[This instalment of data in regard to the Poindexters was a part of some interesting material furnished us by Rev. J. E. Poindexter, of Richmond, Va., whose recent death is so much lamented. What is now printed is apparently part of a series of papers on old Louisa county families, probably once published in a county newspaper. Record evidence already printed in this Magazine shows that the Poindexters were not Frenchmen by nationality, but only of the French speaking people of the English Channel islands. As the tradition given below is entirely incorrect on this point, it is probably as equally incorrect as to the marriage.]

SKETCHES OF LOUISA IN OLDEN TIMES.

(By the late Judge E. H. Lane.)

JOHN POINDEXTER.

Of his early history nothing is known. He resided in this county at the time of its formation, on or near Gold Mine creek, a small stream emptying into the North Anna river about eight or nine miles northeast of Louisa Courthouse. He owned large landed estates, and was one of the most prominent men at that time in the county, both in church and county matters; was one of the first vestrymen of Frederickville parish, taking the oath of allegiance, the oath of abjuration, and against transubstantiation. It is evident from the oaths required at that time that great fears of Popery were entertained in this country as well as in Great Britain. He was one of the most punctual attendants on the sittings of the court, and it is evident he was held in high esteem by that body, as fully appears from the proceedings of the court appointing him to attend to roads, bridges, etc. He died in this county in 1753, leaving a will which was admitted to record in this court on the 29th of May, 1753, his widow, Christian Poindexter, qualifying as his executrix. Besides daughters, he left five sons, viz: Thomas, John, William, Richard and Joseph Poindexter. These five sons, or at least most of them, resided in this county at the time of the death of John Poindexter. What became of the descendants of all these sons, except Thomas, I have been unable to find out with any degree of accuracy. It is, however, certain that the descendants of some of them reside at this time in this county.

Thomas Poindexter, son of John, resided in this county and died here between 1765 and 1776. The precise date of his death does not appear on the records. He left at least one daughter (perhaps others) and the following sons, viz: John, Robert, James, Thomas, Richard, Gabriel and George Poindexter. John, eldest son of Thomas, was clerk of the County Court of Louisa from 1790 to 1820, to whom I shall have occasion to again refer in connection with the county at the period of his clerkship. This much I will say of him in this place for a reason at once seen from what follows. Besides being clerk of the court, he was a prominent minister of the Baptist church, and a biographical sketch is given of him in the "Virginia Baptist Ministers," written by the late Dr. James B. Taylor, from which I make the following extract for the purpose of showing that the writer of the "Virginia Baptist Ministers" has fallen into an error in reference to the Poindexter family. Says Dr. Taylor: "The ancestry of (Elder) John Poindexter were highly respectable. His grandfather was a French Protestant, whose adherence to religious principles compelled him to leave his native land and seek shelter from Papal oppression on the Island of Great Britain. At this time he was the head of a large family. Shortly after his arrival in England one of his sons, Thomas Poindexter, became attached to a young lady, whom he had addressed, and who reciprocated his affections. As there was considerable disparity in their circumstances, the father of Thomas was much displeased and expressly forbade the connection. More effectually to prevent it, he gave his son a handsome estate and sent him to Virginia. This being made known to the young lady, she determined to follow in search of her intended husband, and for this purpose indentured herself as a servant for four years. She succeeded in reaching the shores of Virginia. The young Frenchman having heard that a vessel with several servants had arrived, and desiring to obtain one, made application, when, on examining, he discovered his once intended spouse. He paid the stipulated price, and she became his wife. From these sprang all the Poindexters known in America. One of their sons was the subject of this memoir" (Elder John Poindexter).
In reference to the foregoing statement I remark, first, that John Poindexter, the grandfather of Elder John Poindexter, was a citizen of Louisa county as far back as 1742. And secondly, that at the time of his death, in 1753, he left four sons in this county besides his son Thomas, the father of Elder John Poindexter. Some of these sons left descendants—perhaps all of them. In addition to this, I have before me a statement in the handwriting of Elder John Poindexter, in which, speaking of himself, he says: "John Poindexter was the eldest son of Thomas Poindexter, of Louisa county and State of Virginia. Said Thomas was married to Lucy Jones, of Culpeper county." Not one word is here said about the said Thomas ever marrying the "Indented girl." He does, however, say that the Poindexter family originated from a French Protestant who fled from France, to avoid the cruelties of persecution, to Great Britain, and that old Monsieur Poindexter sent one of his sons to Virginia with a handsome patrimony, and that from that Frenchman all of the Poindexters in America descended. It is very evident from what I have said that it was not Thomas Poindexter, the father of elder John Poindexter, from whom sprang the Poindexter family in America, as stated in the "Virginia Baptist Ministers." It may, however, have been John Poindexter.

In my last it was said that something would be said in reference to the brothers of Elder John Poindexter. He had six brothers, all of whom were born in this county, viz: James, Thomas, Richard, Robert, Gabriel and George Poindexter. James Poindexter was a farmer of this county and resided for a great number of years in the southern portion of the county, not far from the Goochland and Fluvanna lines, on a place now owned by Mr. Thomas Jones. A few years before his death he removed to Charlottesville and resided with his son, where he died about 1843 or 1844. He was married twice. His first wife was a Miss Wyatt, by whom no children. His second wife was a Miss West, by whom he had only one child, Dr. James W. Poindexter, of Charlottesville, at this time one of the most eminent and successful physicians of that place. For many years James Poindexter was a justice of the peace of this county and a prominent member of the Baptist church of the "old-fashioned school." Thomas Poindexter was a farmer of this county, residing on the edge of what is known as the "Green Springs," about twelve miles southwest of the courthouse. He was a man of strong, vigorous intellect. He married the sister of the late William Ragland, who survived him many years, and by whom he had eight sons and six daughters, all of whom are now dead. His sons were James, Thomas, William R., George, Samuel R., Henry and Edward Poindexter; daughters: Lucy, who died unmarried; Polly P., married Collin Johnson; Ann P., married William Smelt Winston; Sally, married Nathaniel Perkins; Patsy, married Garland Lilly, and Louisa, died unmarried. The husbands of all the daughters are now dead. Thomas Poindexter has left a large number of grand and great-grandchildren scattered all over the country. Richard Jones Poindexter removed from this county to the State of North Carolina many years ago, where he married a Miss Frances Maer. He died in this State years ago, leaving only one son, the late Elder Abram M. Poindexter, one of the most distinguished Baptist ministers in all the South. The latter died a few years ago in Orange county, Va., leaving as his only descendants two grandchildren. Gabriel Poindexter removed West, where he died many years ago. If he left any descendants they are unknown. George Poindexter removed from this county to the State of Mississippi, while a young man, and became one of the most distinguished men of that State. At one time he was in the Senate of the United States, and at another governor of his State. His history is so well known it is unnecessary to say anything as to him.

BOOK REVIEWS.

Professor Alvord states, correctly, in his preface to this very valuable and interesting book, "it is remarkable that a new chapter in the history of the exploration of North America has remained so long unwritten; yet the story of the discovery of the Trans-Alleghany region by the Virginians is here first told in its entirety." A most striking story it is. As it was to remain so long untold, it is most fortunate that the publication which has come at last is under such learned and careful supervision as Professors Alvord and Bidgood have given it.

The book begins with two strikingly contrasted pictures. One, in June, 1671, at Sault St. Marie, of Frenchmen, with considerable state and ceremony, taking possession of the country for the King of France, and the other, a few months later, of a few travel-stained Virginians, standing on the banks of New River at what is now Peter's Falls, in Virginia, making a similar claim for King George. The great battle for the West had begun.
After a carefully studied and very interesting summary of the early explorations of the Trans-Alleghany region, follow the documents which constitute the substance of the book. There are reprints of Edward Bland's "Discovery of New Brittaine" (1650) and of Lederer's "Discoveries," followed by careful copies from the original manuscripts of Batte and Fallam's Journal of 1671, and of Wood's letter describing the trips of Needham and Arthur in 1673.

These accounts are not only valuable as important additions to colonial history, and to our knowledge of the Indians, but are equally as interesting as tales of adventure. Many names appear which are well worthy of mention—Edward Bland, Sackford Brewster, Thomas Batte, Robert Fallam, Gabriel Arthur, James Needham, and others; but above all that of Major-General Abraham Wood, who, from his frontier home at Fort Henry, on the present site of Petersburg, sent out and supported most of these hardy explorers. We read of the trip of Bland and his party to the present site of Clarksville, Va.; of the much more important explorations of Batte and Fallam, who, leaving all white settlements behind them at Fort Henry, passed the site of the present city of Roanoke, visited a great Indian town between that place and the present Salem, and finally on waters flowing into the Ohio, on New River at Peter's Falls, made their farthest West, and claimed the Mississippi Valley for England. And farther still was the adventurous trip of Needham and Arthur, who probably reached the French Broad or the Little Tennessee.

The editors have done their work admirably, and their notes and maps help to make many difficulties clear. A reader finishes the book with a sense of gratitude to the editors (and, indeed, authors of the preliminary historical sketch), and also with a feeling that such a man as Abraham Wood should be properly commemorated by a suitable monument. Petersburg would be the place for a statue of the old pioneer.

A few things have been noted for corrections or additions. On page 31 it is stated that the settlement at Fort Henry was generally known as "Wood," and reference is made to Herman's map as authority. The editors apparently did not recall that the names which, in Virginia colonial maps, are sprinkled along the rivers, are those of names of owners of plantations, and not of places. It is not believed that Fort Henry was ever called "Wood." The statement on page 44 as to the marriage of Mary, daughter of General Wood, is without foundation, so far as Virginia genealogist are aware, except as to Thomas Chamberlayne. There is positive evidence that he married Mary, daughter of Abraham Wood, but none as to the other two marriages.

Of more importance is the addition which can be made to the information in regard to James Needham or Nedham. In the "English Gleanings," published in this Magazine (Vol. XI, 77), is the administration, dated January 14, 1677, on the estate of "James Nedham, lately in parts of Virginia, overseas, bachelor, deceased," granted to his brother, George Nedham, Esq., as to goods unadministered by his mother, Barbara Ned-

Some time ago Mr. G. C. Greer, then a clerk in the Virginia State Land Office, announced his intention of preparing and publishing a list of all "head rights" to land grants from 1623 to 1666. The idea was an admirable one and was soon afterwards heartily commended by this Magazine. Though the Land Office had no official connection with the work, Mr. Greer's position gave him great facilities for doing it properly, and there was every reason to believe that the work would be done thoroughly and accurately. The book is now out, and the manner in which it really has been done is such as not only to cause keen disappointment but great astonishment.

In the preface the compiler says: "The search has been systematic and thorough, and every name from 1623 (when the records began) down to 1666 has been noted, with date of appearance."

What must the reader think when he finds between 1623 and 1634 (inclusive) but two entries, though there are (as the abstracts of patents published in the early volumes of this Magazine show) about 150 head-rights given during this period? And his surprise will be more profound when he finds that from 1656 to 1666 (when there are hundreds of head-rights in the original patents) not a single name appears.

These revelations naturally produce a desire to know how thoroughly Mr. Greer had done his work on the patents he used at all.

It was, of course, not practical or necessary that a reviewer should, do Mr. Greer's work over again and examine all the patents. Eighty-five patents (most of them in consecutive order) were examined. Part of this comparison with the originals was done by the writer alone and part with the assistance of Mr. Morgan P. Robinson, whose thoroughness and accuracy has recently been so well shown by his index to Stith's History of Virginia. In these eighty-five patents there are 215 names of head-rights entirely omitted. In addition to these there are some thirty names misplaced, misspelled, or misunderstood.

A large and liberal allowance should be given for misspelling or misreading names in these ancient books; but Degges for Digges, McWilliam Stone for Mr. William Stone, Corke for Cocke, Broras for Brocas, Rich. Hooe for Rice Hooe, Vectoris Christmas for Doctoris Christmas, Chelsman for Cheesman, Carlton for Charlton, Spake for Speke, Washington for Washington (though this is a pardonable error, as the H and W are much alike); Thomas Hampton Clarke for Thomas Hampton, Clarke, Geo for Yeo, Heires for Eyres, Hoodhouse for Woodhouse, and similar errors would not have been made had there been proper care and knowledge.

Any farther comment or criticism is unnecessary. The facts speak for themselves.

By John Preston McConnell, M. A., Ph. D.; 126 pp.; Smith & Brothers, Pulaski, Va. [1910.]

The negro race in America has certainly not lacked for literary interpretation, though for economic and social treatment the Far South has attracted more writers than Virginia. For this latter reason Dr. McConnell's book is a timely contribution to the literature of the subject.

He has chosen the momentous three years—1865-1867—when Virginia was changing from ante-bellum conditions to the modern era as the field of his study. The contribution, dealing with the negro from almost every point of view and in every important circumstance of his life, is of value. A clear picture is given of the negro's environment, of the forces influencing him, and especially of the nature of the treatment he received at the hands of his old masters. Dr. McConnell shows convincingly that the freemen, so far from being the victims of injustice, were treated with consideration and even with a degree of forbearance by the Virginia people in the hour of their bitter disappointment over the failure of the Confederacy. "The relation of the whites and blacks was during that period about as cordial as could have been expected." As the work is intended as a part of a general history of Virginia since the Civil War, Dr. McConnell will have an opportunity to extend the range of his research and determine whether the conclusions he has reached, apparently with good judgment, will stand the test of a minute examination of the evidence bearing on conditions in the whole State.

After many years' indecision as to the fate of the Chalkley abstracts of the records of Augusta county, Va., the National Society, D. A. R., at its last session, declined to publish them, but most fortunately gave them to Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood, of Washington, D. C., with permission to print them. Of course, to the great number of people who have long been anxious to see these valuable abstracts printed, it is a matter of indifference as to who publishes them, provided they are published in full and with correctness. It may be said, with emphasis, that this has now been done, and the thanks of students of history and genealogy are due to Mrs. Lockwood for her appreciation of the value of these abstracts and her courage in undertaking the very considerable work of printing them. The work is sold by subscription, and Mrs. Lockwood's address is "The Columbia," Washington, D. C.

But few criticisms can be made. The title-page is misleading to those who do not know the character of the book, which is properly described on the cover as "Abstracts from the Records of Augusta County, Virginia." There are several mistakes in the list of persons who aided in the publication; Dr. "Reems" of Savannah should be "Rains"; J. C. Quisenbery, should be A. C.; G. T. McAllister, J. T., and William H. Kemper, Charles H. On page 358 "Archibald is brother of Archibald," should evidently be "of Walter," and on page 501 "head and samp black" should be "lead and lamp black." These are, in such a vast number of names, trifles not worth mentioning except as an evidence that the book has been carefully examined. There are doubtless other errors in Judge Chalkley's transcripts or in printing; but that both transcribing and printing is, with very few exceptions, so correct, is a tribute to the excellence of both. "Scotch-Irish" in the title is entirely too narrow for the scope of the book. In addition to innumerable English names, those of Alemback, Argenbright, Armentrout, Puffenbarger, Bumgardner, Bowman, Coffman, Coiner, Fudge, Funk, and many other German names show how numerous people of that race were in old Augusta.

Like all such works, this must be a selection from the original records. Perhaps no two people would make exactly the same selection; but one who, like Judge Chalkley, was familiar with the records, the history and the people of the place, would be much better qualified to make a selection which would be generally useful than a person who was not so familiar with either. To this writer the selection seems so well done that, though he had expected much from the book, he finds it far more valuable than he had anticipated.

The first 292 pages of the book comprise abstracts of the "order books" (court proceedings) 1745-1799. It is impossible to describe the great variety of topics contained in these books. There are civil and criminal cases, orders for opening roads, which cover a territory extending from the Monongahela to the Holston, and, of especial interest, the many appointments of civil and military offices. From 293 to 428 are "Court Judgments," being abstracts of original papers on file. These, in numerous instances, give the former residence, in Pennsylvania and elsewhere, of residents of Augusta county, and contain a great mass of family history. From 430 to the end are original petitions, &c., more county court judgments, orders, &c., district court records, and various miscellaneous papers on file.
The petitions for roads, at dates prior to the Revolution, give the location in which many persons lived, and also (as do various suits, orders, &c.), give hundreds of references to military service. Among the numerous topics treated, we can only refer to two: the constant watchfulness of the County Court for the welfare of children, and the boldness of the Tory element in the population.

The index contains 82 pages, and appears to be very complete and accurate. It will give some idea of the contents of the book when it is stated that there are 77 references to Alexander, 212 to Bell, 37 to Kennerly, 115 to Buchanan, 280 to Campbell, 97 to Trimble, and many others in like proportion.

It is hoped that Mrs. Lockwood will receive prompt and ample appreciation of the good work she has done in bringing out in such shape Judge Chalkley’s most valuable collection.

Judge Wright has for years past been doing a most admirable work in inducing the people of the counties of his circuit to place portraits, tablets, and other memorials in their court-houses to the memory of their distinguished men. Now in the publication of several noteworthy historical addresses, of various documents relating to the history of Westmoreland and its noted sons, and other papers of historic interest, he has added to the debt Virginia owes him.

To state that Westmoreland was the birth-place of Washington, the Lees, Monroe, and others of eminence, is to repeat a well-known commonplace. There has been no history of the county, and this book helps to fill a real need.
