AUTHOR'S PREFACE.

A book without a preface would not only be considered incomplete but informal. It is not purposed that this volume of the "Watson Genealogy" shall form an exception to the rule.

In my earlier life, with some taste in this line, I began to write articles for the home newspapers also to clip articles, happenings concerning any member of the Watson family, and file them carefully away in scrap books, solely for the purpose and satisfaction of the Watson family.

The kindred subjects have been grouped together in chapters in as appropriate connection as could well be done.

One of my purposes was to gather together and put in shape material for a local history of the family as I saw with regret how rapidly information of this kind was being lost by the death of aged persons whose minds were charged with not only what they had seen and experienced but much that they acquired as tradition from their ancestors and acquaintances.

These writings involve more or less investigation but it was of an agreeable character.

Such a work cannot be completed at any time because of future and continual changes; for this reason it is most earnestly desired that some member of the family will continue to add to the history from year to year and that an enlarged edition may be published at some future time.

A family history becomes more and more interesting as time passes on. In years to come, this work will be appreciated more than now. To this end we insist on it being carefully continued.

It is proper in this connection to acknowledge the important information from Christopher Watson, youngest and last surviving child of Joseph and Christian Watson, Hull, Iowa; Miss Maggie Watson, Edison, Ohio; Mrs. Margaret Watson, Iola Kansas; Miss Anna Carl, Keyser, W. V.; Mr. Frank A. Smith, 221 Erie St., Galion, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Farner.
Big Spring, Pa.; Mr. Jacob Householder, Plainfield Pa., and others. Our thanks are due to all who so kindly aided in this work.

It is to be regretted that we are not able to trace this history beyond the year 1760; however, in what we have done we have endeavored to be just as well as truthful. No criticism of character was necessary in the entire Watson history. The Watson's of 1760 and the Watson's of the present generation, I am glad I can report as honest and honorable, kind hearted and ready to respond to the call for help.

In christian faith, we find the Watsons principally Lutherans and Methodists; in politics, Republican.

And in the choice of occupation, principally farmers choosing the most ancient and honorable of all professions as well as the most necessary to human life and happiness. The patriarchs and prophets lived quiet lives on the plains and in the rich valleys of their country. Through nature they looked up to nature's God and read His glory in the drifting clouds and the speaking winds.

CHAPTER I.

A BRIEF SKETCH OF JOSEPH WATSON.

I commence this lineage with Joseph (1) Watson who was born in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, about the year 1760 and where his early boyhood days were spent. Joseph's ancestor, a Scotchman emigrated and settled in Pennsylvania, year unknown.

About the year 1797, we learn of Joseph Watson married to Anna Maria Coke living in Adams County, Pennsylvania, then York County, where his wife died leaving three daughters, Susanna, Harriet and Eliza. These three children were christened in the Lutheran church at Newville, Pennsylvania, the parents being members of that religious denomination.

About the year 1803, Joseph (1) Watson again married, his second wife being Christian Ressler, daughter of George and Susanna Ressler, of Lancaster County, Pa.

Their first child Jehu (2) Watson, was born in Adams County, Pennsylvania, November 17, 1804. In 1805 Joseph (1) moved his family from Adams County to Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, on a farm two miles north of Plainfield in Frankford township. This farm was owned by Samuel Buckwalter and is now owned by Mr. Nailor. His nearest neighbor was John Householder. Here Joseph and wife raised their family of thirteen children.

Joseph (1) and his wife both spoke the German language or "Pennsylvania Dutch" as it is locally termed. Joseph (1) and his daughter Christian (2) died of typhoid fever in the year 1836 and are buried in the graveyard adjoining the Frankford Township Stone Church. This church was built in the year 1820 by the Lutheran and Reformed congregations who both continue to worship there. The first burial in the cemetery according to the inscription was in 1807.
Joseph's (1) wife died about the year 1855 and is buried in the Newville Presbyterian cemetery.

The pen is more than willing to contribute something in loving memory of our ancestors who were greatly respected for their worthy character.

Their union was blessed with the following children of the second generation: Susanna, Harriet, Eliza, Jehu, Joseph, Louise, James, Catherine, John, Christian, Elizabeth, Christopher and Samuel.

W. C. (4) Batdorf here gives some experience of his grandmother Styner's early pioneer life in Minnesota. He has heard her relate that the first year they lived in Minnesota there was a scourge of grasshoppers that did so much damage. Also before the Indian out-break, there were a number of friendly Indians in the neighborhood who quite often came to the Styner home on begging expeditions. Margaret was firm but kind to them. During the Indian massacre Margaret told with what anxiety she would listen night and day dreading every sound for fear it was the Indians. This can be better appreciated when you remember that the husband and about all the other men of the community were enlisted in the service of their country and Charles the oldest son only a young boy at home. Margaret had many experiences in the early history of Minnesota. The following children of the fourth gen.:

CHAPTER V.

Jehu (2), fourth child of Joseph (1) Watson b. in Adams county, Pennsylvania, November 17, 1804. Before he was one year old his parents moved to Cumberland county, Pennsylvania, where his entire lifetime was spent.

On March 18, 1830, Jehu (2) Watson married Mary Anna Myers of Berks county, Pennsylvania, January 9, 1809. She was of German descent, could read the German language, but spoke the English language with little if any, German accent.

They went to housekeeping in Frankford township, one mile north of the old Diller mill, where they lived until 1843, when they bought the home adjoining his sister Harriet’s home, in Plainfield, Pennsylvania. Here they spent their remaining days.

Grandfather (2) kept a grocery store, also did huckstering. He was always a good provider and was kind to every person around him. He was incapacitated for physical labor because of an accident with which he met in his younger days. While cutting a tree down the axe glanced and inflicted a wound in the bone of his limb, between the knee and ankle, which never entirely healed.

His death occurred November 10, 1876, at the age of 71 years, 11 months and 23 days, after which, there being no children at home to care for the widow, her daughter, Sarah Carl, and her family moved into the Watson homestead, which she bought, and cared for her mother for twenty-two years until her death, February 2, 1898, at the age of 89 years and 23 days.

Both Jehu (2) Watson and Mary Anna, his wife, died of the infirmities due to old age. They are buried side by side in the Plainfield cemetery.

Grandfather (2) had a good practical education, was well informed on the subjects of the day and was an excellent conversationalist. He was a good bible student.

Their union was blessed with the following children of the third generation:

ELIZABETH (3) WATSON (daughter of Jehu and Mary Anna Watson), b. February 7, 1831, d. May 7, 1833 and was buried in the graveyard one-half mile west of Plainfield.

JOSEPH (3) WATSON, my father (son of Jehu and Mary Anna Watson), b. June 3, 1833. He received a good education, taught school probably eight or ten years in West Penns­boro township.

The family have in their possession two certificates dated by Co. Supt. Daniel Shelp of Carlisle, Pa., (August 16, 1854 and August 13, 1858). They read Joseph Watson has passed a thorough examination in Orthography, Reading, Writing, English, Grammar, Geography, Arithmetic and in the art of Teaching.

On January 3, 1854, he married Susan Kerns, daughter of Henry and Elizabeth Welch Kerns, of Shremanstown, Perry County, Pennsylvania. They were married in Carlisle by Rev. George Showmaker, and went to housekeeping in a property owned by George Drawbaugh, two miles northeast of Plainfield. Near this place Father taught school. James and Ellen Rebecca were born while they lived at this place.

They then removed to Frankford township where Mr. Philip Ziegler, bought a farm about one and one-half miles east of where my parents resided. Mr. Zeigler moved on his farm in the Spring of 1855. The two families always being very intimate and there being a dwelling on this farm for rent, my parents moved there in the Spring of 1859. At this home I was born in November, 1860.

Early in the year 1862 father received employment on the Pennsylvania railroad on a freight train running from Harrisburg to Pittsburg. Before leaving to take up his new work, he removed his family from the Zeigler property to a dwelling one mile east of Plainfield. At this home, Alta Josephine was born who so soon passed to the Great Beyond.

Father met his death October 27, 1862, aged 29 years, 4 months and 22 days. Here I will quote from the Newville Enterprise of Newville, Pa.; "Mr. Joseph Watson was employed as conductor of a freight train on the Pennsylvania railroad. As the train was passing over the eastern slope of the Allegheny mountains, October 27, a ledge of rocks of some forty tons or more fell on the train smashing ten cars and instantly killing Mr. Watson. Next day he was brought home to his young distressed family. His wife was ill with typhoid fever. Mr. Watson expected to come home the following day to see his sick wife. Mr. Watson was a school teacher in West Penns­boro township for a number of years. He was a man much respected, was a kind and loving husband and father, honest and upright in all his dealings and ways.”

After father’s death, mother moved to Plainfield into the house of her brother, Isaac Kerns, where she lived two years. She then moved one mile west of Plainfield to West Hill. She was a tailoress and sewed for the merchant at that place, Mr. Daniel Burkholder, and looked after the wants of her children as best she could.

Father was buried in the Heikes’ graveyard at West Hill.

After mother was a widow eleven years, she married John W. Sauer of West Hill, Pennsylvania. Mother was born June 2, 1832. John W. Sauer was born October 15, 1840. They were married in Carlisle at the parsonage of the First Lutheran church by Rev. C. S. Albert, March 6, 1873. The following month, we moved to Greason, one mile south of Painfield and a few years later to Plainfield where mother purchased a property from Mr. Philip Bear at the east end of the main street. This property is still owned by her only son James (4) Watson.

In February 1886 mother took a heavy cold which developed into tuberculosis. She was confined to her room from the 17th. day of March until the last day of July. Following is an extract from our home paper on the death of my mother: “Mrs. J. W. Sauer was called to her Eternal Home Saturday morning July 31, 1886. The many friends who visited her home knew well her hospitality and how kindly she presided. Her patience and resignation were remarkable and when relieved by death her spirit triumphantly took its flight to her heavenly home.”

She was aged 54 years, 1 month and 29 days. The funeral took place Monday afternoon and interment in the graveyard adjoining the Lutheran church, services being conducted by Rev. Jacob Lehman of the New Mennonite church of Chambersburg, Pa..

John W. Sauer remained with our family until 1895. He located in Kansas where his brothers and sisters live. They were formerly from Cumberland County, Pennsylvania. Joseph and Susan Watson's union was blessed with the following children of the fourth generation:

JAMES CALVIN (4) WATSON, my brother (son of Joseph and Susan Watson), b. June 10, 1856. After father's death, James (4) spent the greater part of his time with our grandparents in Plainfield until he was eleven years of age. He was then hired out on a farm to work for his board and clothing until he was thirteen years of age. After that period he continued mostly at farm work for wages until the age of twenty. In the meantime, he received a good common school education.

In the Spring of 1877 James went to Cisna Run, Perry County, Pennsylvania, to learn wagon making under A. K. Bryner. After finishing his trade, he returned to his home in Plainfield where he worked at his trade with Silas Strohm for a couple years then went to Waynesboro, Pennsylvania, where he secured employment with the Geiser Manufacturing Company in their pattern making department. He remained there one year, returning to Plainfield early in 1883 and leased the saw mill plant belonging to Silas Strohm. This was his start in business for himself and on his own act later during the year Silas Strohm's brother David, became his partner and together they continued to operate this small mill until October when this plant was given up. Brother then bought a one-half interest in a much larger saw-mill plant of which David Strohm owned a one-half interest. This plant was located near Cisna Run, Perry County, Pennsylvania being the place where James learned his wagon making trade.

This plant was operated under the name of Watson and Strohm from October 15 until early in 1884 when Mr. Strohm sold his interest in the saw mill to William H. Loy of Cisna Run, Perry County, Pennsylvania, a man of sterling worth and integrity. The name of the firm was early in 1884 changed to Watson and Campany and still continues the same to this time, 1909, without any change or discord.

After the change, being desirous of going on a larger scale, Brother accompanied by A. R. Bryner at that time superintendent of their saw mill made a trip to West Virginia, April 22, 1884. Later in the same year Brother and Mr. Loy together made a couple trips to the same locality and finding the conditions that would warrant success along this line they returned to West Virginia on May 11, 1886, locating eight miles southwest of Piedmont where they purchased several hundred acres of timber lands, located in Mineral County, West Virginia, and Garrett County, Maryland; the two tracts being divided by the North Branch of the Potomac river where the West Virginia Central and Pittsburg railroad, now the Western Maryland railroad follows close by the river bank.

Watson and Company set a large mill, on the West Virginia side of the Potomac river, the nearest house to the saw mill being located up the mountain side about one mile and it being a dilapidated building, unoccupied and owned by the New Creek Company, Watson and Company had the house remodeled for the use of their employees until a boarding house was built near the saw mill. They built several dwellings and a store house and conducted a successful business and secured for themselves a large trade in hard wood lumber making a reputation for honesty and square dealing. They also built a bridge across the Potomac river in order to bring timber over from Maryland. This bridge was also a great convenience to the public. In fact, Watson and Company built the village of Barnum. This sawmill town was called Barnum by the officials of the railroad company, even before the village of Barnum was established, they having named their station in this neighborhood by this name. After Watson and Company built the village the railroad company moved their station one mile south to the village retaining the same name.

Watson and Company continued in the lumber business until 1896 when they turned their attention to the mining of bituminous coal with which mineral their lands in Maryland were underlaid. They opened up both the four and six foot vein of coal, being among the first in this section to operate the small veins of coal and in a few years they had established a well equipped plant and a prosperous little mining town. They remained in business at Barnum until June, 1902, when they sold out their entire plant to Weston, Dodson and Company, of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

James moving to his new residence in Keyser, West Virginia, February, 1903; then interested himself with others in the operating of coal mines at Hampshire, W. Va., three miles south-west of Piedmont, the company being known as the Masteller Coal Company. His brother-in-law, M. Masteller being president and James vice president and treasurer. This company have their headquarters in Keyser, West Virginia. George M. Loy son of James's partner has been secretary since 1890, and Anna Carl since 1901 has also filled a secretaryship in Watson & Co.'s office.

James is also interested in operating the Royal Glen Mills near Petersburg, West Virginia and seeing after his maplewood farm at Claysville, W. Va.

James C. Watson married Naomi K. Trout (daughter of Abram and Elizabeth Trout). They were married April 9, 1893 at the Longnecker Reformed Mennonite Church, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. The marriage ceremony was performed according to the custom of the New Mennonite denomination, of which they both are members, by their pastor Rev. Eli Hershey followed with a very able discourse by same, assisted by Rev. Henry Fisher.

James went to housekeeping at Barnum, West Virginia. Their union was blessed with one son, of the fifth generation, Martin Loy Watson, b. July 21, 1894. Martin was rather delicate until he was about 12 years of age at which time he underwent an operation on the throat since which he has been well. At present he is strong and robust and shows promise of being a large man.

Address, James C. Watson, 116 Alice street, Keyser, West Virginia.

Ellen Rebecca Watson, my sister (daughter of Joseph and Susan Watson), b. December 15, 1858. When about eight years of age, she went to Hoguestown, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. John Miller and remained with them until she was eighteen years old.
She attended the Pennsylvania State Normal School at Millersville, Pennsylvania, and prepared herself for the vocation of teaching. During the illness of our mother in 1886, Ella was a great comfort to her. One year after mother's death, we closed our home at Plainfield and came to Barnum, West Virginia, to make our home with our brother.

On April 15, 1891, Ellen (4) married Michael Masteller, (son of William Masteller and wife, of Columbia County, Pennsylvania). The marriage ceremony took place at the home of Henry Carl, Plainfield, Pennsylvania, by her pastor, Rev. William L. Leisher, of the Lutheran church. In May, they returned to Barnum, Va., to their newly furnished home where they resided until their new residence in the central part of Barnum was completed, where they moved December 15, 1902.

Through the influence of William H. Loy, and son, George, my sister and others, and the Author succeeded in having erected at Barnum, West Virginia, Harmony Chapel, a union church occupied and used for worship by the Lutheran and Methodist Episcopal, South congregations. M. Masteller was elected County Commissioner for Mineral County, W. Va., November, 1891, serving six years. On April 1, 1909, M. Masteller takes charge as Superintendent of the Potomac, Fredericksburg and Piedmont Railroad. Address, Fredericksburg, Virginia.

Martha Zeigler (4) Watson, (daughter of Joseph and Susan Watson). I now approach the most reluctant part of this work. It is always unpleasant to write or speak of self even for private purposes. I first want to say, I am in "single blessedness" and expect to end my days so as many more of my relatives have done. I have a kind brother and sister who care for me.

At the time of my birth, November 13, 1860, my parents lived in a dwelling owned by Mr. Philip Zeigler (who married Miss Martha Bender of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania), for whom I was named.

On account of whooping cough and measles, I was left very delicate when only a few months old from which weakness I never entirely recovered before the age of 27. Since coming to West Virginia my health has been greatly improved. I have my home with my sister, Mrs. Ellen (4) Masteller.
Alta Josephine (4) Watson, (daughter of Joseph and Susan Watson), b. May 20, 1862, d. November 20, 1862, aged six months. She was buried by the side of our father in the Heikes' graveyard at West Hill.

William (3) Watson, (son of Jehu and Mary Anna Watson), b. July 18, 1835, d. August 17, 1862, aged 27 years and 30 days. He, like his brother Joseph was a school teacher until the War of the Rebellion when he enlisted in service for his country. Here I will quote an article on his death taken from his home newspaper: "The deceased was a member of Company H, First Pennsylvania Res. Volunteer Corps, wounded before Richmond on the 30th day of June, 1862, fell into the hands of the rebels, lay suffering on the fields three days, was nineteen days with the enemy and then paroled and sent north to the hospital on David's Island. He wrote to his parents at Plainfield, Pennsylvania, of his condition and his brother Joseph immediately went to see him but he was not allowed to remain with him or bring him home.

After he was dead and buried the chaplain wrote a letter to his parents stating that his general frame of mind was calm and peaceful. His thoughts and words were often of the dear ones at home. William's departure from this life was that of one who had attended to the one thing needful.

He was buried at Cypress Hills a beautiful spot on Long Island where all who die at this point are buried.
The autumn winds around his tomb with mournful cadence fell.
The story of this soldier's death that in the battle fell.

On Richmond's bloody fields he lay.
   Amidst the deadly strife,
The life-blood oozing from his wounds,
   That took away his life.

No friends were near to close his eyes,
   Or ease his dying pain,
But Heaven will be his resting place,
   And with the Saviour reign.

Then weep not for the noble dead,
   That fill the hero's grave,
Their lives they freely offered up,
   Our noble land to save.

Their noble deeds with fondest care,
   Enbalm on memory's shrine,
Thou soldier of the Union Hosts,
   Eternal praise be thine."
Rebecca (3) Watson (daughter of Jehu and Mary Anna Watson), b. February 22, 1837. She m. Henry Eichelberger of Silver Spring Township, Cumberland county, Pennsylvania in 1864.

Henry Eichelberger was born September, 1835. They went to housekeeping in their own home, three miles southwest of Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania.

Rebecca (3) departed from this life November 28, 1904. She was buried in the Silver Spring township cemetery one and one-half miles north of their home.

The deceased in life was kind in her disposition and took but little share in the world's pleasures for her pleasures were at home.

After the sudden death of her daughter May in 1901, she was rather nervous, never fully recovering from the shock. She seemed to be patiently waiting for the Master's call.

Her husband, Henry Eichelberger served in the War of the Rebellion.

Their union was blessed with the following children of the fourth generation:

Edward J. (4) Eichelberger (son of Rebecca and Henry Eichelberger), b. September 8, 1870, unmarried and lives on the home place with his father. Their address is Allen, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania.

Annie Elizabeth (4) Eichelberger, b. July 7, 1872, d. September 16, 1872. She never thrived and so soon left us.

Gertrude Florence (4) Eichelberger (daughter of Rebecca and Henry Eichelberger), b. December 23, 1873.
trude m. Jacob Strine of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, in 1900. Mr. Strine is a freight conductor on the Pennsylvania Railroad at present running from Harrisburg to Altoona. They have no family.

BERTIE MAY (4) Eichelberger (daughter of Rebecca and Henry Eichelberger), b. May 24, 1881, she departed from this life September 1, 1901. In the midst of life she was suddenly called away by heart failure. Just after retiring on the night of her death, she was suddenly startled by what she supposed was a rap on the door. While explaining same to her sister Gertrude (4), May (4) suddenly ceased breathing and all was over for one who brought sunshine in the home and wherever she was for she was jovial of disposition. She was buried in the Silver Spring Township cemetery.

SARAH ANN (3) Watson (daughter of Jehu and Mary Anna Watson), b. May 13, 1841. Sarah m. Henry Carl, of Perry county, Pennsylvania, on February 23, 1860, the marriage ceremony being performed by Rev. G. W. Coulter, of Carlisle, Pa.
They went to housekeeping two miles east of Plainfield, on a farm where they resided for ten years.

Henry Carl, son of John Carl, was born April 14, 1836. He preceded his wife to the Great Beyond, Sunday, April 28, 1901, aged 65 years. He suffered for one year with the dread disease, consumption.

In the spring of 1870 he moved his family to Plainfield. From that time until his last illness he followed his occupation of contracting and building. He and his wife were both members of the Church of God. His death was particularly sad because of the illness of his son Edwin, who in one week followed his father to the grave.

After the death of Henry Carl, Sarah Carl and daughter Anna, being in their home alone, moved to Barnum, W. Va., in the fall of 1901. Here they continued housekeeping, first at Barnum and then at Keyser, W. Va., until August 22, 1905, at which time the death messenger called away William Carl's wife, Sybilla, of Pittsburg, Pa., leaving to mourn her loss her husband and son Harry W. Carl, aged 13 years. In this hour of sadness Sarah (3) Carl became their comfort, closing up her home in Keyser and going to preside over the home of her son.

Sarah (3) Carl was called to her eternal home Thursday night, March 7, 1907, aged 65 years. She took her bed Monday and passed away the following Thursday as a result of bronchial pneumonia. She was affectionate and devoted to her children and kind and thoughtful for all. She was loyal to the church and to the sacred truth. Her own well-kept home was her comfort and joy and her children the chief purpose of her life.

She was buried by the side of her husband March 12, 1907, in the cemetery at Plainfield, Pa. Their union was blessed with the following children of the fourth generation:

Charles Edwin (4) Carl (son of Sarah and Henry Carl), b. December 6, 1860. Edwin (4) received a good common school education and also took a course at the Poughkeepsie Business College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; however, his health was such that he was obliged to give up his chosen work. He spent a few years at Barnum, W. Va., as manager of the Watson & Co. store, but on account of the state of his health he preferred a more active outdoor life. Returning to Plainfield, Pa., he became a partner with his father as Builders and Contractors, they remaining together in this partnership until death claimed them, but a few days apart.

Charles Edwin (4) Carl m. Ratie A. Cooper, February 23, 1893, at her home in Moorefield, Pa. They went to housekeeping in their own home in Plainfield. They resided here until the year 1898, when Charles Edwin bought the Finkinbinder property one mile east of Plainfield. Here they resided until May 6, 1901, when the death angel entered the home, claiming the husband. During his entire lifetime he was a sufferer, but bore his sufferings without a murmur. His last illness was of four weeks' duration.

Charles Edwin (4) served four years as postmaster at Plainfield. He was a consistent member of the Church of God. He was laid to rest in the cemetery at Plainfield, Pa.

William Watson (4) Carl (son of Sarah and Henry Carl), b. May 5, 1862. At the age of seventeen years William, desirous of launching out for himself, in company with several young men, left his parental roof, going to Pittsburgh, Pa., where he secured employment in one of the many structural iron shops of that city. By honesty and integrity and strict attention to business he has been able to hold and fill important positions in his chosen occupation.

William (4) Carl, m. Sybilla Duey, of Plainfield, Pa., March 1, 1887. They went to housekeeping in Pittsburg, Pa. Their union was blessed with one child of the fifth gen., Harry Watson Carl, b. September 10, 1892.

CHRISTOPHER (3) WATSON (son of Jehu and Mary Anna Watson), b. March 16, 1844. He left his parental roof in 1877 to seek his fortune in New Mexico. An extract from the Kingston Advocate, New Mexico, tells of his death, which occurred August 2, 1897:

"On Monday last at Tierra Blanca, N. M., after a lingering illness of la grippe for six months, Christopher Watson passed to the Great Beyond at his home on the 'Hornet Mine,' where he and his two partners were operating, namely, J. M. Webster and J. H. Robb.

"'Chris,' (3') as he was familiarly called, came to Hillsboro, New Mexico in 1877 and has ever since been in the Black Range. He was one of the original locators of the famous Lake Valley silver mines and in all respects a typical miner and prospector with an experience as varied and romantic as the danger of early Western life ever afforded. In disposition congenial, in principle honorable, and in intention he knew no wrong. A friend he was to every person. The announcement of his death occasioned the gathering of a large assemblage of friends at Hillsboro on the 2nd inst., where his remains were interred. The services at the court house and the scene at the grave could but impress one with the kindly motive of all to pay a last tribute of respect to the memory of a manly man. There was scarcely a miner who did not take a day off to do the last honor to an old-time prospector who had struck many a fortune in his time.

"Christopher (3), was a native of Plainfield, Pa. He had served in a Pennsylvania regiment during the war. He was a thorough miner and prospector.

"Had 'Chris' (3) been a king the earth clods could not have been dropped more softly and with more kindly hands as they were upon the coffin of honest 'Christ.'"

Christopher Watson sold his interest in the Lake Valley mines for $12,500.00, which he spent in prospecting and developing other mining property.

JAMES (3) WATSON, son of Jehu and Mary Anna Watson, b. April 17, 1844. James, at the age of seventeen, went to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania where he found employment in one of the structural iron shops in that city. The last account we have of him was about the year 1877 when, through the efforts of his nephew William Watson (4) Carl, he was located at Birmingham, Alabama. Always of a kind and generous nature but of a roving disposition that led him away from home and friends.

SAMUEL (3) WATSON (son of Jehu and Mary Anna Watson), b. October 2, 1849. Samuel, the youngest son, having an ambition to see some of his own country, left his father's home at about the age of 18 and after a good deal of traveling finally located in Leavenworth county, Kan.

During the latter part of February and the early part of March in the year 1887 Samuel visited his old home in Plainfield, Pa., being his first visit in about twenty years.

CHAPTER VI.

JOSEPH (2) WATSON of the second generation (son of Joseph and Christian Watson.) A brief sketch of his family and descendants.

(Margaret (4) Watson daughter of Joseph (3) Watson of Edison, Morrow County, Ohio, and granddaughter of the above Joseph Watson sent the author the history of this branch of the family. In this connection I wish to add that Margaret has contributed very largely in the work of this history whereby the work has been made possible.

It is our pleasure to thus recognize her valuable assistance.) Joseph (2) Watson who bears his father’s name, b. June 30, 1806 in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania.
Joseph married Barbara Bender January 10, 1828, and lived near Plainfield, Pa., until the weeks old they moved to Ohio and settled in Richland County.

After spending five years there they moved to Marion County, now Morrow County. They lived on a rented farm two and place seven years, they then moved to Canaan township in 1850

Joseph bought and shipped stock. He is credited with hauling the first printing press to Mt. Gilead. Joseph, like the majority of the Watsons, possessed a fine sense of humor, and thoroughly enjoyed a joke on others as well as on himself. Joseph enjoyed helping slaves on their way to freedom; at one time in the western reserve, where Joseph had gone to buy stock, he had with him a rather dark complexioned man, Mr. Spalding. While there Joseph intimated that this was his runaway slave, whom he was taking back to Kentucky; soon a number of strangers were after Joseph, in hopes he would release the supposed slave. Excitement was high when Spalding came to Joseph’s rescue by telling them they were not master and slave, but friends. The family was known for their generous hospitality, were industrious prosperous and rigidly honest. Joseph (2) d. July 25, 1865. He was 59 years and 25 days old.

July 31, 1838, in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, and was only six weeks old when his parents and others started in wagons to move from Pennsylvania to Ohio. Joseph lived at home until he was 17 years old. He worked by the month, two years, when in Spring of 1858 he went to Kansas. A few months later he went with a wagon train from Fort Leavenworth hauling supplies to the soldiers at Fort Union, New Mexico. The buffaloes were so numerous that they had to stop their train for an hour once to avoid being run over by a large drove of buffalo. At that time the Indians and buffalo were so numerous that it seemed as if they would forever hold that country, but now the buffalo are extinct and the Indians are placed on Reservations.

Joseph returned to Shawnee County, Kan., and in 1859 his first vote was cast in favor of the Free State Topeka Constitution, returning to Ohio in June, 1860. Two weeks later he went to California via New York and Panama and lived near Yreka until the fall of 1868. In the winter of 1862 or '63, Joseph was in his cabin writing letters when neighbors accompanied by a stranger came in. While in conversation the stranger asked Joseph if he had any relatives by the name of Watson on Pacific coast. Joseph answered by saying none, only my brother, David, who is my partner, then Joseph thinking of his uncle Samuel, whom they had not heard from for so long, told of...
him. The stranger replied that this Samuel Watson and I are partners in Jacksonville, Oregon. Two days later David Watson accompanied the stranger home, walking sixty-five miles to see his uncle whom he had not seen for 20 years. Samuel said, "well, this is what a fellow gets for not corresponding with his friends. He will be surprised sometimes." Joseph was engaged in teaming charcoal and lumber business, when he came home again living with his mother and farming the place. After his mother's death, March 21, 1872, he bought the home farm near Edison, Ohio, April 25, 1872. Joseph married Catharine A. Shewman, daughter of Jonas and Hannah Bender Shewman, of Akron, Ind. Their union was blessed with the following children of the fourth generation:

Maggie Belle Watson (daughter of Joseph and Catherine Watson), b. June 24, 1874, about one mile north of Edison. She is her father's house-keeper. Before her mother's death she went to school and also taught a few terms. As the father is growing old at their pleasant home he has his two daughters, Maggie and Eva, whose parental duties and responsibilities they cheerfully discharge. Maggie was the one most important to the author in making history a success.

Mary Eva Watson, daughter of Joseph and Catharine Watson, b. February 27, 1886. Eva works at the millinery trade. She is at home where she cheerfully assists her sister Maggie in home duties.

Barbara (3) Watson (daughter of Joseph and Barbara Watson), (Barbara has the name of her mother) b. near Lexington, Richland County, Ohio, June 29, 1840. When she was three years old her parents moved to a farm two miles north of Mt. Gilead, Ohio, and a few years later moved to Canaan township in the same county. When she was fourteen, owing to the marriage of her elder sister, Christian, and her mother being in poor health she was taken out of school as she was needed in the household. She united with the M. E. church at the age of thirteen and has ever been a firm and consistent member of that denomination with a helping hand always ready for all good works towards the sick or needy within reach of her. A lover of all good company, she has always been noted for her hospitality.

On January 23, 1861, she m. John Nelson Smith, son of Jefferson and Catharine (Aph.) Smith, who was b. in Canaan township Marion, (now Morrow) County, Ohio, December 18, 1840. The family lived on a farm on which the village of Climax now stands. His father had removed to the same a few years previous from Ross County, Ohio, and entered the land from the U. S. Government so that 1840 was yet "the early days" in that part of Ohio. His father, Jefferson Smith was a son of Benjamin Smith and he was born in Hampshire County, Virginia, now West Virginia, in 1806 and his parents removed to Ross County, Ohio, when he was six weeks old. Benjamin Smith was born in Monmouth County, New Jersey. His mother's maiden name was Crossley. Several members of the Smith and Crossley families were soldiers in the Continental Army. His mother Abigail Crossley Smith lived to near the century mark and related that her father and some of her brothers and her husband were in the battle of Monmouth and that from her home she could hear the roar of the battle all day. Benjamin Smith was a soldier in the war of 1812. John Nelson Smith lived on the farm with his parents, attended the district school and led the ordinary life of the farmer boy of those times until his marriage to Barbara Watson. They began housekeeping in a log cabin in the same neighborhood in 1863. He enlisted as a private in Co. I, 88th O. V. I. and, lacking two days, served two years or until the close of the war. The most of the time his regiment was stationed at Camp Chase, near Columbus, Ohio, guarding Confederate prisoners so that he was not in any of the battles of the war. He had four brothers, all except the youngest who was too young, were in the Union army. One died in a Tennessee hospital.

After returning from the war, he farmed his father's farm for several years, then in 1869 bought a farm of seventy acres adjoining that of his father's and lived on it until the spring of 1876 when he bought a farm of two hundred acres in Troy township, Morrow County on which he lived until his death on January 2, 1900. He was a consistent member of the M. E. church having united with same when eighteen years of age. A strict temperance man so much so that he was noted for his prohibition sentiments. He did not use tobacco in any form and was a clean upright and useful citizen. Physically he appeared to be perfect and never was sick a day until his fiftieth year when he broke down with a fully developed case of diabetes which terminated his life nine years later. He did not appear to realize that he should save himself physically and would work in all kinds of rough weather and this exposure was, no doubt, largely the cause of his final breakdown in health.

He and his wife were noted for their hospitality and days when there was "no company" at their home were the exception and not the rule. There were born to them five sons and one daughter of the third generation. Barbara is now a widow and lives on the home farm in Troy township with her son, J. W. Smith. May her years on earth yet be many as she richly deserves them.

Clara Arminta Logan, daughter of Wilson and Elizabeth Barrick Logan of Troy township, Morrow county, Ohio, and they began housekeeping in Upper Sandusky, Ohio, when he had arranged to enter the insurance and real estate business in which he has been successful and in which he is still engaged. In 1903 he was nominated as the democratic candidate for member of the Ohio House of Representatives and was elected the ensuing fall. Two years later was re-elected and owing to the change in the election laws giving him three years on the second term, he is yet the member from Wyandot County. Clara Arminta, b. February 26, 1870. In 1890 he entered into partnership with his brother in the insurance and real estate business at Upper Sandusky, O., but shortly after, his health failing, they dissolved partnership and he returned home. In 1892 he opened an insurance and real estate office in Galion, Ohio. In 1899 he became interested in the manufacturing of carriages and in the fall of 1900 sold his insurance business to become secretary of The Central Ohio Buggy Company, and removed to Upper Sandusky, Ohio. He held that position for five years, when in 1905 the Buggy Company having sustained heavy losses through the failure of a number of its dealers, it was forced to suspend business. He then secured a position with the Stein Double Cushion Tire Company, of Akron, Ohio, as its Eastern representative, with which he is now connected. He has never married. His address is 221 Erie street, Galion, Ohio.

In the spring of 1867, he went to California, locating near Yreka. In '70 and '71 he was prospecting in Nevada. Returning to Yreka fall of 1871. When the Modoc war began he was on his way to Susanville in northeast California, riding one horse and leading another, packed with food, and blankets etc.: when he suddenly rode into the Indian camp, where the Indians held him a prisoner a few hours only when one Indian, Bogus Charlie, whom he (Samuel) had known well in Yreka, and whom he had befriended by giving him (the Indian) tobacco, interceded for Samuel and thus saved his life, but he had to return to Yreka, where he and Eugene Hovey at once hired to the government with their teams. They were hauling supplies to General Canby and his army near the lava beds. They were sent without escort. Some Indians had gotten in the rear of our army and in ambush on the side of the mountain fired on them, killing Eugene Hovey and one of his horses. Samuel thought he could secure Hovey's body, but the Indians charged on him. He ran, the Indians firing but he escaped unhurt, leaving his team, etc. He soon came to the army and a few soldiers went back with him for Hovey's body and took it to Yreka. Samuel purchased another team and did teaming for the government. At the surrender of the Modocs, he hauled the murderers of Conby to Fort Klamath, where they were executed. CHAPTER XIII.

THE WATSON-BENDER REUNION OF OHIO.

A number of years ago several different people thought a reunion of the Watsons and Benders would be a very pleasant affair. These same people spoke of the reunion each year until death called some home. Nothing more than talk was done until July 15, 1903, at the home of Mrs. Barbara (Watson) Smith, four miles west of Lexington in the company of Mrs. Smith, her children, Ross and Mollie, James Bender and his children Clark and Maud, Dollie Smith of Holgate, Ohio, and Maggie Watson of Edison, decided to have a reunion of the relatives of Joseph and Barbara (Bender) Watson at the homes of James Bender, August 27, 1903.

These people sent notices to all the relatives they knew and told each one notified to do the same.

At last the great day came and eighty-eight relatives were present with well-filled baskets. At noon, the feast was spread to which all did ample justice. The banquet over, the assembly was called to order by M. Bruce LeFever of Mt. Gilead. A motion was made and carried that this be made a permanent society so the following officers were elected: President, W. G. LeFever, Edison, Ohio. Secretary, Maggie Watson, Edison, Ohio. Treasurer, J. Ross Smith, Lexington, Ohio. Historian, W. S. Bender, Shelby, Ohio.

August 18, 1904. The second reunion was held at the farm of Joseph Watson, one mile north of Edison. This farm was formerly owned by Joseph and Barbara Bender Watson, and where both died. One hundred and one relatives were present.

The sixth reunion was held in Seccaium Park on the traction line between Galion and Bucyrus, August 22, 1908, where eighty-eight relatives had an enjoyable day. The next reunion for the year 1909 will be held in the same park.
CHAPTER XIV.

General remarks concerning relatives of Joseph (1) Watson of whom we have no definite information.

Joseph (1) had a sister Susanna (1), other sister or sisters and a number of brothers.

A nephew of Joseph (1) by the name of Joseph Watson about 1800, when a young man went to Ohio, m. and from last reports had three children.

George Rittner of Pittsburg, also was a nephew.

Of these people we have failed to find any definite knowledge.

Joseph (1) Watson's ancestor a Scotchman, located in England, thence coming to America. What year he came or where he first located we have no definite information, prior to about 1760 when Joseph (1) was born in Pennsylvania.

The surname Watson is evidently from "Wat" the nickname of "Walter" with the termination son which together signify "Son of Walter."

If at any time in the future further information is ascertained concerning Joseph (1) Watson's parents etc., note will be made of it, and benefit of same given those possessing the family history. The above has caused the delay in the printing of the book.

Investigation has been made at the Historical Library Building, corner of Locust and Thirteenth streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and elsewhere, by Mr. F. A. Smith of 221 Erie tret, Galion, Ohio, and others. No positive facts could be found as to the proper names of Joseph (1) and Susanna's parents (Susanna's report is never m.), or remaining members of the family names. F. A. Smith writes there is an Ohio-Watson branch may be of our family, James Watson was b. 1746, he m. and had 12 children. H's son James, b. 1796, m. May Campbell, 1818. They had 11 children, their second son, John) Campbell Watson, was b. in Washington County, Pennsylvania, 1821, and when he was about 10 years of age his parents moved to Ohio. John C. Watson married. His son Frank C. Watson is a Groceryman at Cambridge, Ohio. James Watson was a soldier in the Continental Army.

James, Elizabeth, John, Robert, Josiah, Andrew, Sarah, and Wm. Henry who was a Naval Officer.

James Watson, b. 1772, m. Elizabeth Coats Love of Fairfax County, Virginia, in 1796. One of their daughters, Jane Love Watson, m. Wm. George Graham. Their daughter Jennie Brent Graham, m. Captain Henry K. Davenport, of the U. S. N. Their son R. G. Davenport, Washington, D. C., is Comodore of the U. S. N.

Their son Edward Home Watson, m. a daughter of John C. Tritten- den of Kentucky. Their son is Rear Admiral, J. C. Watson, U. S. N.

Correspondence with Mrs. Mary Watson Moderwell DeBolt and Miss Elizabeth Watson of Fairmont, W. Va. We learn their ancestor, a Scotchman who also was located in England (like our Joseph (1)), came to this country in 1740, etc., as will be read in Chapter 15 of this book, the three Brothers names who came with James Watson as yet are unknown, some of these Brothers served in the Revolutionary Army.

We hope in the future some member of James, Joseph Watson families will unravel the mystery, and enlarge the Watson History.
Just before going to press it was decided to publish pictures of same at expense of their friends. Orders for books have been coming in rather slow. We hope for better results. And while the copies last, they may be procured at any time from the Author, Martha Watson, 116 Alice St., Keyser, West Virginia, at $1.50 per copy.

From the records of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, we learn of George Ressler, father of Christina Ressler, second wife of Joseph (1) Watson, his wife Susanna and children, John, Peter, George, Barbara, Judith, Elizabeth and Christina. George Ressler was located in Brecknock Township, and is presumably the ancestor of Christina Watson.
So much of the early history of our part of the Watson family is traditional that the writer inserts this chapter in order to authenticate, as far as possible, our early line by comparison with other branches of the family.

James Watson was born in Scotland (or England?), came to this country with three brothers about 1740, settling in St. Marys’ County, Maryland.

James Watson married Mary Greene, and the following children were born:
